3. In the broadest sense, divine good fulfills God's sovereign purposes for us; not our own purposes. Unless you make them the end-all of your life, and that makes them deceptive wages.
4. Divine good is rewardable by God in eternity. It reflects His grace and not our own effort. Many do charitable works in order to be recognized. God rewards the believer because it reflects his grace, not our own effort.
5. Human good is excluded from the plan of God. Whatever is not motivated from doctrinal orientation is excluded from the plan of God. The plan of God is quite narrow. There is only one way to live it. Anything else is deceptive wages. There may be momentary satisfaction, depending upon the motive of the giver. But the satisfaction is fleeting without grace orientation. So even charity is ultimately empty and meaningless; futile. It is continuous reward that will not be forthcoming at the Judgment Seat of Christ.
6. The production of divine good is the only reward that is not deceptive in its results. It lives up to expectation. When you are advancing in the spiritual life, then what you do is, you understand, based on your understanding of motivation. It is not about us. It is about what we are involved in, regarding our spiritual life before the Lord. That is fulfilling.
7. Divine good does not glorify self or personal accomplishments. A politician is asked about giving to charity. This is because a favorable politician gives. What does it take to get ahead in life? I need to do something good, so people will like me. The right attitude is, I am going to do the right thing, and fulfill the plan of God, come what may. There is nothing deceptive about that.
8. Divine good glorifies God by the attitude of grace orientation and the execution of the spiritual life. The advantage here is plain and it is clear. Material things are not the main goal of the Christian life. When that is understood, then guess what you have in life? You cannot help but have a relaxed mental attitude in life about your working life. Minimum wage or massive wage.

What will be judged at the Judgment Seat of Christ; will be human good. It will be judged and condemned. The fundamental question at the end of life is, did you accept the grace of God. Did you believe in His Son.

Deceptive wages. How good do you have to be to gain the merit of God? Or to lose it? You can never be good enough to meet the standards. You can never be bad enough to lose His grace.

Wages

1. Higher wages may improve the quality of life; better shelter, better clothes; but they are not the source of happiness. Bob used to always say repetition.
2. Lower wages are not misery. Not getting minimum wage does not mean misery or disappointment when living the spiritual life.
3. Those are wages that are not deceptive. Your life does not depend upon getting minimum wage or all the wages in the world. It all depends upon our service to the Lord and how we do it.

He who sows righteousness gets a true reward.

A True Reward

1. The believer who gets a true reward.
2. Only divine good receives recognition and reward from God in heaven. Human good does not meet God's standards.
3. When all Church Age believers are evaluated at the Judgment Seat of Christ, the Bema seat, when we all stand before the Lord, and He says, "What did you do in your spiritual life?" These deeds will be tested by fire. Wood hay and straw. The means of salvation and spiritual life. While divine good will survive; gold, silver and precious stones. They will qualify the believer for eternal rewards. 1Cor. 3:12-14 we all understand these as being desirable. When we have the money to purchase those metals and gems. Here, we understand rewards illustrated by these metals and gems that are so much greater, simply by the production of divine good.
4. Divine good also has rewards during our lifetime. It is an expression of a life motivated by grace orientation. That is the way that we are mandated to live in this life. Totally different than how most people have lived. And as a witness to the unbeliever of God's grace. That is the greatest witness of all.
5. Other types of blessings are also in line for divine good. This production makes it possible to serve God in a way that meets divine standards. That is our obligation as believers. We are already justified; we are righteous before God. We can only meet the standards in living is utilizing the spiritual life, having grace and doctrinal orientation.

7. Human good is much better than human evil. But it does not meet God's standards for absolute good. We are obligated as a believer in Jesus Christ to meet God's standards.
8. Producing divine good, every Christian has the privilege of glorifying God in thoughts, motivations and actions. Col. 1:10 Titus 2:7

Proverbs 11:18 The wicked earns deceptive wages, but one who sows righteousness gets a sure reward.

Coming up is a principle of spiritual growth in our lives and only we know or not. Whether we have victory over the sin nature or not. What are your motives in life? What is in your soul?

Proverbs 11:19 Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die.

Lesson #0189                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT    2/10/2021    Wednesday

The verse is the principle of victory over the sin nature. We might call the sin nature the very essence of man. It is the side of mankind which is dark. The sin nature is a major part of the anthropology.

Proverbs 11:19a Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live,...

A basic indicator of spiritual growth. Without mastering the sin nature to some degree, spiritual growth is impossible. On the other side of the coin, the sin nature is the way to master...

We need to sort out what life and death is, in this context. Every action has an effect; a cause and effect, which brings a definitive result in life. In this context, the activity carries a life and death consequence. What causes either result of those two things. A lot of writing tonite.

Experientially Righteousness and the Spiritual Life

1. In the first line, righteousness is experiential righteousness. It is the cause which brings the result; it is the cause with an effect. Experiential righteousness is the spiritual life and advancing in the spiritual life. No one is perfectly righteous. We have God's righteousness imputed to us at salvation. This is a progress of righteousness. An advance in the spiritual life.
2. Experiential righteousness is demonstrated, the result is life. That helps us to understand the meaning of life.
3. Life, therefore, must refer to the spiritual life. A life whose further result is spiritual maturity.
4. Experiential righteousness is attaining to life.

5. The connection; experiential righteousness is connected to divine good.
6. When the spiritual life is manifested, especially by the maturing or mature believer. The sin nature is suppressed. Never will it be entirely defeated. They redefine what sin it; and we continue to sin. Some try to define sin as a known violation of God's will. This is an absolutely distortion.
7. Maximum production of divine good as manifested through the mature spiritual life.
8. Life, is a very popular word in the Hebrew language, then and now. Sometimes, we see those wearing the first letter of chaim, which is a reference to life. They are speaking of a life of prosperity and good.
9. In this context, this does not refer to a material prosperous life, or even...it is all about the spiritual life. This is the most important life of all.
10. Thus life in this context is the epitome of the spiritual life. The results of eternal reward and eternal life.

Then there is a conjunction of contrast that introduces the second half of Prov. 11:19.

Proverbs 11:19b ...but he who pursues evil will die.

Death in Context Is in Opposition to Spiritual Life

1. Death provides the contrast.
2. In context, death must be related to the spiritual life.
3. The first line refers to an operational spiritual life.
4. Therefore, the second line concerning death also refers to the spiritual life, but a non-operable spiritual life.
5. So both life and death refer to believers and believers only and to their spiritual life or the lack of.
6. Death is the interruption or ceasing of the operational spiritual life.
7. Interruption or ceasing of the spiritual life means the believer is under the control of the sin nature. In other words, the believer pursues evil or human good. Both are the production of the sin nature.

A professor of Bobby's says that death is just separation. For the unbeliever, death is separation forever from God. No matter which way you think of death, it is just a separation. Life has an end; life ends at some point. Death is the greatest fear in life. Death is the beginning of eternal life or eternal condemnation. Now you have a good definition for death. When your body is separated from your soul, that is death.

The separation is only temporary. When you are a believer in Jesus Christ, you will be reunited; it will be a reunion. But for the rest of humanity, death is fear and it is the unknown. Believer or unbeliever, the soul lasts forever. Death for the unbeliever is unthinkable.

A friend of Bobby came to a service; and he said, "He scared me into becoming a believer."

We are on the subject of the sin nature, which brings in operational death. The key to the meaning of death lies in the contrast of the spiritual life.

Death here represents the death of the believer; operational spiritual death. This is the carnal believer who fails to rebound. He operates no differently than a believer with no experientially righteousness. He produces dead works or evil.

So this verse is a reference to the production of divine good in righteousness; as opposed to operational death.

Proverbs 11:19 Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die.

Let's understand the workings of the sin nature in your life. This is about the defeat or the victory over the sin nature, our internal enemy. How does it operate and what must be do to control it.

The Doctrine of the Sin Nature

This is very misunderstood by the human race; especially those who think that man is basically good.

1. The sin nature is the inherent corruption and center of rebellion against God.
2. The sin nature is present in every member of the human race, with the exception of Jesus Christ. Rom. 5:12, 19 2Cor. 5:21
3. The sin nature is the source of temptation to commit personal sin.
4. The sin nature is the source of temptation; but our volition is the source of sin. The sin nature is not the source of sin, but the source of temptation. We make the choice. Succumbing to the sin nature is the result of volition. We are removed from fellowship from God until we rebound. It is volition all the way. We choose to sin when we do so.
5. The sin nature is attracted to the cosmic system in its many forms. So we get to pick our own poison.
6. Some Biblical nomenclature. Pursuing evil (); the flesh (Gal. 5:16); the old man (Eph. 4:22 Col. 3:9).
7. The source of spiritual death in the unbeliever is the inherited sin nature from Adam. That means every human being has a sin nature. In Adam, all die. We are seminally in Adam, meaning that we are all descendants of Adam.

The Sin Nature—sub points from above.

1. Since we are all descendants of Adam, his nature is why we acquired a sin nature.
2. When Adam fell, he ate the forbidden fruit; Adam fell by eating the forbidden fruit. He died and was separated from God by sin.
3. God could not have a relationship with Adam or the woman because they were both now sinners having a sin nature. That is who we are. One side of us. That is a side that we cannot escape.

4. The acquired fallen nature of Adam is transmitted to us through the male (through Adam). Everyone of us acquires a sin nature. Adam is the one who passes it along. We are not excluded from this. No exceptions. Hence the importance of the virgin birth. Jesus was not dead in Adam. Mary had a sin nature; she was not immaculate.
5. The genetics of every other human being, conceived through human procreation, therefore has a sin nature. This is found in the various Rom. 6:6 8:3–6
6. The sin nature is perpetuated in the human race through human birth.
7. This genetically formed sin nature is the home for the sin nature and for Adam's original sin in imputed to us, imputed to that sin nature.
8. The sin nature and Adam's original sin together the equal spiritual death. Rom. 5:12–17 7:–23

What about being new creatures in Christ. What does that mean? The sin nature is not removed; the sin nature cannot be removed in our lifetime. For us, there is a counter to it. Rebound and spiritual growth. We have that opportunity. An unbeliever cannot be filled with the Holy Spirit; and he cannot have a spiritual life.

Human good is also from the sin nature.

Back to the Main Points:

8. Only rebound can correct the out of fellowship status.
9. What is the essence of the sin nature? Well, we don't know what it looks like

The Sin Nature Structure

1. We have a proclivity to sin. Rom. 7:8
2. The believer can generate any of 3 categories of sin. It is simply the sin that we do. We are tempted in our area of weakness.
3. We have an area of strength. This is a component of the sin nature that generates human good and this is called c. They can be benevolent; they can do good deeds. This strength area; they become operational when they choose to sin. The believer can produce human good, just as the unbeliever does. They function according to the flesh, another name for the sin nature.
4. There is a lust pattern in the sin nature. The illicit and often insatiable desire that motivates sin, whether Eph. 4:22 unfulfilled lust intensifies desires; fulfilled lust weakens the resistance to sin. No different from that of the unbeliever. Power lust, approbation lust, social lust (you cannot stand to be alone); pleasure lust, sexual lust. These things do have a place; and we are allowed this. In the confines of marriage, sexual lust is just fine. The Bible defines what the limits are. Crusader lust, and we see a lot of this. It happens in the streets all the time. Chemical lust; monetary lust; revenge or cruelty lust (some are just cruel and they enjoy doing it).
5. There are two trends; one toward legalism and the other toward lasciviousness.

- a. Legalism is the trend to self-righteousness; might be moral; might be human works, self denial, ritual. We can justify anything; and we might judge others, engage in hypocrisy, extreme self-deprecation. Manifested by the production of human good.
- b. The other trend is the one towards antinomianism. Self-gratification. No morality or self-restraints. Self-justifying and self-absorbed. A relative set of standards.
- 6. No person has one trend to the exclusion of all others. We are not all just antinomian. They can have a sort of legalism and they judge others who have another lust.

Proverbs 11:19 Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die.

Our solution is rebound and keep moving. We don't have to satisfy lusts in life in order to be happy. We can have a great life without these things. Giving in is a self-absorbed type of life.

Lesson #0190                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT                      2/11/2021 Thursday

v. 19 describes a war that every believer must fight in this lifetime. This is a fight to the end. You can capitulate, but that is not our mission.

Proverbs 11:19 He who is steadfast in righteousness [in experiential righteousness] will live [or, advance in the spiritual life], but he who pursues evil [choosing the spiritually bankrupt death] will die [operationally].

We can operate in the spiritual life or we can live under the sin nature. The believer can reside under the filling of the Spirit. The filling of the Holy Spirit defeats the sin nature. The more that we maintain the filling of the Holy Spirit, the more that we grow; and the more that we are able to defeat the sin nature.

The sin nature tempts the believer to sin. That is its job, but the believer chooses to sin and he can live the non-operational life. Rebound is how we reinstate the spiritual life. Only the believer can live the spiritual life.

The unbeliever and even believer out of fellowship can appear to live the spiritual life; or appear to be living a good life. But none of it is genuine. It is still human good and it does not meet the standards of God.

This is the review of the basic elements of the sin nature. The sin nature has basic components. Bobby shared a diagram that goes back to about 1954; possibly one of his oldest diagrams.

The Sin Nature

1. We have an area of weakness; a standard problem for all believers. This tempts us to sin. When we choose to sin, it short circuits our spiritual life.
2. There is an area of strength. This is the commission of good works or good deeds, but which do not meet the standards of God's resources in the spiritual life. There is no empowerment that the believer has in his or her life. The spiritual life is a supernatural way of life, empowered by the Holy Spirit. This is the best the sin nature can do; but we can do better. It may seem strange to say that good deeds are generated by the sin nature. The sin nature is not good, but it can produce good. Things that appear to be. The sin nature is the center of rebellion and deceit. This area of strength can never be a part of the spiritual life.
3. We all have lust patterns which push us towards the key trends of the sin nature. These are polar trends on opposite sides of the diamond. There is the legalistic or side; and there is self-righteousness here. Unbelievers can demonstrate the exact same qualities. Nothing worse than a believer with this trend. Morality is great; but it is not the spiritual life. Nothing wrong with morality; but we have much more. It is part of the production of the sin nature. The second trend is toward antinomianism. Disregards authority and divine establishment and self-restraint. It violates any and all moral codes. No matter which trend is dominant; we all have both of these trends; but they can kick in at any time. The legalist can have a hidden antinomian bend as well; and vice versa.
4. No matter which motivates the most, there is nothing that can be done to remove the sin nature in this temporal life. It can only be controlled by spiritual advance.

Humanism does not understand or subscribe to the sin nature of mankind and be a humanist.

The Humanist Solution

1. Basic tenet of humanism is that mankind is inherently good. They have to define the sin nature right out of the person.
2. To the humanist, the only thing that man faces is external. Racism, homophobia, etc.
3. Their solution is to remove these problems, and then the problems of mankind will be solved. The road to utopia. It is all about environment, utopia, human equality. And it will never work.
4. This is the basic fallacy of humanism. All of those problems are inherent to the sin nature. Poverty, inequality, injustice...these are all built-in. The sin nature of man causes the problems of them.
5. The sin nature is the greatest enemy of the humanist because they cannot ever overcome it.
6. They should know that by the activity of their own natures, that their ideology is false. Who among them is without sin? Who amongst them lacks flaws.
7. What the humanist overlooks is his own nature in the drive to control other people. The humanist must control others in order to cause all of these changes. They must consider others to be inferior and they must bring them up along side.

8. These ideologies are flawed as they rely upon good intentions. The good intentions of the sin nature is always relegated to what the sin nature is. It is the great flaw of the human race.
9. The only solution is threefold. There is the cross where sin is forgiven. Then, for the believer, rebound, filling of the Holy Spirit, and spiritual growth. That is the only way that is can be controlled or overcome. Finally, resurrection. The sin nature is not found in the resurrection body.

If a believer consistently pursues evil or human good without recovery from the sin nature control in the spiritual life, then...

What Happens When the Sin Nature Is Chosen over the Spiritual Life?

1. He or she will continue down the road of reversionism until they reach the point of the sin unto death. That is administered by God.
2. The sin unto death is physical death, due to unconfessed and prolonged carnality. We are given another chance and God directs circumstances to guide us. We are time and time again delivered from dangerous circumstances.
3. The sin unto death is the final and most intensive stage of divine discipline. That unchecked reversionism.
4. Any believer who has completely succumbed to the temptations of the sin nature and the cosmic system...the sin nature attempts. The cosmic system appears to have many wonderful qualities which are appealing. Every area of life, the cosmic system has appealing delights. Satan offers the pleasures and materialism that people seek. Therefore, those who completely succumb to that, for that life of carnality, the sting of death is never pleasant.
5. A manner in which the negative believer is removed from this life is described two ways in the Scripture. The sin leading to death or the sin face to face with death. That is the ultimate divine discipline.
6. This dying discipline is administered by God; it is God's discipline. There is capital punishment in God's discipline. Only after a period of long and unchecked carnality. God has them. There are criterion. It is real. Bob probably knows 3 people who have died the sin unto death. At least, they were great candidates for it. It is not laughing matter. Believers check out of this world under the sin unto death.
7. The believer has declined from one stage of reversionism to another. The downward trend. This information is all found in the book called reversionism. There is a downward slope of reversionism; a slippery slope, through the valley of the shadow of death.
8. God can no longer use you to fulfill His plan. So this person is taken home before the allotted or the appointed time; and in a very miserable way. Add to that divine discipline and you have a miserable existence. Even though the temptations of the cosmic system look so good. The person is so locked into negative volition. God has no choice but to take this believer home. He might even keep others from fulfilling God's plan.

9. Fear, mental anguish and often physical pain accompany the reversionist in that final road.
10. The sin unto death is God's greatest and last expression of God's punishment.
11. The sting of the sin unto death does not extend beyond the grave. Once you are dead, it is all over. You might not have any rewards coming, but it is far better than that other place.
12. There can be illness, economic depression, criminal violence, military disaster. It can be a sudden and instantaneous disaster of death.

During the exodus, the Exodus generation was probably the greatest generation of complainers. God was gracious to His people and He made a promise to Abraham, and He would keep that promise. But He sent snakes in Num. 21:6–8 and Psalm 78; and many died the painful death of the cobra bite. You might as well just lay down and die, unless you have the cobra venom serum.

Examples

1. King Saul rejected God's Word, God's plan, God's man; and he embraced the occult. The occult was spiritism; and a substitute for the spiritual life. Demons are involved in such things.
2. The believers who partook of the Lord's table while drunk and out of fellowship. Drunkenness was direct disrespect for the Lord's work.
3. The Laodician believers who turned away from doctrine in their arrogance. The Lord said that He would vomit them out of His mouth. That is not a good sign. Those He called lukewarm. To whom much is given, much is expected. They are just not interested. They have it but they reject it. The hot ones reject it; the cold ones...lukewarm ones have no interest at all. Hear a little and you are back on a tangent for awhile. That is a leader to the sin unto death. Rev. 3:15–16 Lukewarm means negative.
4. In addition, Scripture records believers who return to the Lord. They confess their sins and they recover from the final stages of divine discipline. David faced it Psalm 118:17–18. There was Hezekiah. Isa. 38. The incestuous Corinthian. 2Cor. 7:8–11.

V. 19 is the difference between the believer who is growing in the spiritual life; and the believer who pursues something other than the spiritual life.

Proverbs 11:19 Whoever is steadfast in righteousness will live, but he who pursues evil will die.

This line of thinking is continued in the next verse, between what the Lord detests and what He delights in. The brainless in their walk.

Immorality of all types. Pursues the various trends of the sin nature. Perverted in heart.

Proverbs 11:20 Those of crooked heart are an abomination to the LORD, but those of blameless ways are His delight.

The perverse heart is the result of prolonged reversionism. That perversity is an abomination to the Lord. We should connect that to the sin unto death. Abomination is what the Lord detests; and he will administer divine discipline. Vv. 19–20 fit together.

On the other hand is the blameless walk in His delight. People have all kinds of idea on how they can please God. The problem with their thinking is, they try to figure out how they can please God. God's delight is for us to utilize all of the resources that God has given us.

As a young believer, he was told to go out with the rest of them and pass out tracts and witness. He was young, but this seemed wrong to him. He went out and did something, but he came back at the appointed time. The guy asked him, how many did you witness to. It got somewhat competitive. They got to Rick and asked him, and he said, "None." He did not last with that organization very long. A right thing done in a wrong way does not please God.

If you are advancing, then you are not depending upon the sin nature; and this clears out the past garbage which is resident in the human soul. The have all succumbed to temptations; we have all had trends. We all bring this garbage with us. When we are not controlled by the sin nature, the more that the garbage has more control. But when you advance, you stink less and you begin to please the Lord. God is not impressed with what is not His design. It is just His plan and His resources, and that's it.

We also need to understand that, when we advance in the spiritual life; that does not mean that adversity suddenly disappears in life. The believer has the resources to deal with anything. God leaves these things. The believer glorifies God at the same time.

Divine establishment, morality, divine institutions. Also the production of divine good. Therefore, adversity often gives the greatest opportunity to delight the Lord. The spiritual life is more real. Adversity being solved by the spiritual life is spiritual growth. These are the basics for the spiritual life for any believer. In whatever spiritual gift and in whatever circumstance.

Proverbs 11:20 Those of crooked heart are an abomination to the LORD, but those of blameless ways are His delight.

This line of thinking continues in v. 21.

Lesson #0191

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

2/14/2021 Sunday

Communion Observance February 14, 2021

The Holy Spirit applies the work of Jesus Christ to anyone who believes in Him. Faith alone in Christ alone is the only way of salvation. The result is a new birth; and the person becomes trichotomus. He saved us, not on the basis of the deeds which we have done, but by the washing of regeneration and the renewing of the Holy Spirit.

The source of our spiritual death is the sin nature inherited from Adam. In Adam, all die. But there is a solution. So in Christ will all be made alive. The reception of spiritual life, where there was none before. A person becomes a Christian not by natural generation but by a supernatural regeneration. Physical birth, ideally followed by a spiritual birth. The Holy Spirit instantaneously makes our faith effective for salvation. Our faith does not in itself save us, but the Holy Spirit takes care of this. The Holy Spirit creates a human spirit within the person of man. What Adam lost, the born again person regains. As a regenerate human being, the person becomes a son of God, a new creation.

John 1:12–13 But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God, who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God.

We have the means to live in a new way, to live the Christian way of life. It is so-called because we live by means of the filling of the Spirit. This is possible due to the work of Christ, paying for our sins.

In the Lord's well-known dialogue with Nicodemus, Truly, truly, unless one is born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God. Pharisees were uncompromising religious legalists. A big difference between religion and Christianity.

By grace are you saved, through faith...it is a gift of God, not of works, lest anyone should boast.

Luke 18: Jesus describes two men who go to the Temple to pray. The pharisee thanks for being so far above everyone else. He talks about all that he has done. The tax collector next to him said, "O God, be merciful to me, a sinner."

Religion and legalism are antithetical to grace. The religious publically gave money to the poor, so that all could see. Their faces had a look of utter holiness, and their personal deeds are out for everyone to see.

God is not a part of any legalistic exchange. Jesus would have none of it. This was Nicodemus; this is who he was. He was religious, but unsaved. He was born physically alive, but spiritually dead. He was lost and all of his religious trappings and good works could not save him, or give him eternal life.

Jesus knew that this man was seeking the truth. Jesus would help Nicodemus see the importance of the right kind of church. John 3:6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

When anyone believes in Jesus, he or she is born of the Spirit. We go from being dead to a new regenerate person.

John 3:7 Do not marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born again.' Herein, Jesus would address the religious legalist. He was a spiritual teacher of others. Human respect and religious achievement could not affect this person's spiritual condition.

The heart of all mankind is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked. Sin and the sin nature have brought about the overwhelming deficiency of all mankind.

Whoever believes, in him, he will have eternal life.

People turn over a new leaf; they reform themselves from evil. This does not make a person regenerate. The moment the sinner believes in Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit is breathed into him and eternal life cloaks that person.

At salvation, our sin nature is not removed. It continues to indwell the cell structure of the human body. We do not become sinless at the moment of regeneration. We continue to have a sin nature; but we have something that is new. A spiritual transformation is effected. We have a conviction of having eternal life forever. By regeneration, we are positioned to live that new life.

Our regeneration grants to us all that we need to live the Christian life. We receive all of this by the Holy Spirit at regeneration. The new birth provides us the means to inculcate this ἐπίγνωσις doctrine into our human spirit.

First time that every county of Texas is under a severe cold alert. Not sure about Wednesday and Thursday. Maybe it will be cancelled.

Sunday will not be cancelled. Church will be 10 am.

Bobby feels like he is short-changing us. Now, we only have a few moments to concentrate. This is our obligation for communion.

Proverbs 11:21 Be assured, an evil person will not go unpunished, but the offspring of the righteous will be delivered.

The first and second phrase provide us some comfort. The righteous are the experiential righteous. God's just retribution for evil people is a certainty.

Proverbs 11:21 Be assured, an evil person will not go unpunished,...

We all have thoughts as to what we might do to our enemies; but acting on it is way out of line. All the evil men and all of the conspiracies that we have heard about, they are all known to God. Everything which has happened in Washington and Texas and in Harris county in the past few months, is all known to God. He knows all of the real facts. Whatever conspiracy theory or actual conspiracy has gotten your attention, and has caused a number of mental attitude sins; or has caused us to lose a night's sleep or more. Ease up. Apply some Bible doctrine. We need to apply Bible doctrine to this situation. Doctrine provides stability for us; even in circumstances which we think are unimaginable, because they are so bad.

Stand still and watch the Lord's deliverance. He is not just observing things and letting them run amuck, He is the deliverer of the just. If a relaxed mental attitude escapes you, you are not making doctrinal application. You are not using the wisdom that you have learned. Maybe you should stop focusing on the news and focus on Bible doctrine. Evil will not go unpunished by God. God will not be mocked; and His truth and divine establishment will not be undermined. God's justice is the punisher. It is not social justice; it is true justice. He is the deliverer of the believer from the cosmic system.

God does use people all of the time; but He is the One Who initiates. He understands the circumstances. He places the right people in the right place. This is what God does. The circumstances are always telling. We need to watch them and relax.

The believer under the sin nature control; and fails to apply Bible doctrine, or fails to be relaxed. Divine discipline will be forthcoming. It is always done in love. What lovely Valentine's day message. The idea is to correct course.

Divine Discipline

1. Divine discipline is for believers only. There is punishment for unbelievers, those causing a client nation to fall. Now we are talking about for us.
2. The discipline is based upon God's unfailing love for the believer. Heb. 12:6
3. Discipline never indicates or means a loss of salvation. Gal. 3:26 what a misunderstanding that is. Divine discipline is directed towards the believer. It does not mean a loss of salvation.
4. Do not forget; discipline is removed by rebound. Rebound cleanses from all unrighteousness. It also removes divine discipline. 1Cor. 11:31
5. Wait a minute, I just rebounded, but I am in the same circumstances as before. If difficulties occur after rebound, then these difficulties continue to accelerate your advance. You are refocused on the wisdom that you have. That is the ticket of rebound, utilizing the spiritual life. Job 5:17-18
6. All discipline is confined to a believer's time on earth. No discipline in eternity. Discipline is over when we leave this life. Rewards may be missing.
7. Discipline can be from God; but it can also be self-induced. Or both. A double-doze of discipline. That is often the mental attitude of the believer in carnality. On top of divine discipline, you are definitely hurting. But again, this is for your own good. God's discipline is for your own good. This lifts you out of self-induced misery. You begin to think with the correct mental attitude, then self-induced misery is removed as well. It is about how you think and how you apply Bible doctrine.

8. Discipline relates to sins of the immediate past. If you suspect that your suffering is caused by discipline. Why is this happening? Why am I going through this? Look for something that is near at hand.
9. God's discipline can come upon a believer quickly in order to get the believer back to the spiritually right track. We will study Acts 5 in the future; and there is a quick set of divine discipline for both of them. He punishes before reversionism takes hold and the damage is more difficult to repair and the garbage builds up in your soul. Keep short accounts and be consistent in your growth. Divine discipline is connected to a lack of spiritual growth.
10. Adversity is not necessarily divine discipline. It can be for acceleration growth through the application of doctrine. Never a better time to apply doctrine than when you need it most. When adversity strikes, where do you go?
11. Problem solving devices come from doctrinal orientation. Sharing the happiness of God and being occupied with the Person of Jesus Christ. It all comes down to living your spiritual life. If divine discipline happens, it is for your benefit.

Audience of one. So many people who are still suffering the repercussions of the weather. A lot without water. So class was cancelled. The annual business meeting cancelled. It will be announced probably the 14th of March.

Proverbs 11:21 Be assured, an evil person will not go unpunished, but the offspring of the righteous will be delivered.

The wake up calls for the United States have begun in earnest. Beware with the humanists, who are at war with divine establishment and with Bible doctrine.

Humanists are absolutely convinced that only green energy will save the planet. It could not even save the city of Houston from power outages. Politics seem to be ruling the day.

For us, believers in Jesus Christ, the future is always warm and cozy. The descendants of the righteous will be delivered. We are delivered by grace in time and eternity. Catastrophe. He and his wife huddled in front of a gas fireplace for 80 hours.

The humanist can never say that, because he can only depend upon mankind for deliverance.

The Justice of God and Humanism

1. Evil people of all persuasions, Christians or not, do not get away with anything. Bobby thought that the justice of God might be at work.
2. He did not think that the justice of God was aimed at him. No one escapes it.
3. The cosmic system is under sentence to God's justice.
4. There is always the self-induced misery and repercussions involved. 28% of our power comes from the windmills.
5. The justice of God is always right there; otherwise, the cosmic system would rule everything.
6. Because of that, the doctrine of God's justice should be an immediate rationale of the faith rest drill.

The cycles of discipline are in view here. The cycles of discipline on Israel; but this is true of any client nation. Included in the repertoire from the justice of God.

The discipline of Israel, when they abandoned the Lord, it came in 5 progressive judgments from God. Leviticus 26 has this list. The once mighty nation is destroyed by military attack and internal collapse. Deut. 28 provides a graphic description. Barbarism. If we were without food for any longer, like a week or a month, we would see barbarism. We would see roving gangs after food to survive. We received a warning. A taste of a cycle of discipline.

This national suffering is administered by God Himself. Ever more creeping socialism; government is more and more involved with our lives every day. The deliverance promised by v. 22b. If you were in this arctic freeze, you should have been thinking v. 22b.

Many times when the cycles of discipline were in evidence, we could see.

The Cycles of Discipline and Israel

1. Upon the founding of Israel, God revealed to His people progressively intensified forms of discipline that they would experience as the rejected or ingored the Lord.
2. They experienced this same discipline in the desert; and the first generation did not even enter into the land.
3. Through the prophet Hosea, God warned about the destruction coming to them, for their lack of knowledge and forgetting our God.
4. The destruction of the northern kingdom under the hand of Assyria.
5. Jer. 7:24

6. Their destruction took place later for the southern kingdom.
7. The final fifth cycle of discipline took place in A.D. 70. Decadent and reversionist Israel fell to Titus after a long siege. They were the sons and daughters of the generation who rejected their Messiah.
8. This diaspora is still in effect today. As a client nation, Israel will not be regathered until the Millennium and the Tribulation.

While the precepts of Leviticus were given to the original client nation, the principle applies to any client nation today; even to the United States.

There are penalties for national disobedience.

We will look at these 5 cycles.

Five Cycles

1. First cycle: lost of health, decline of agricultural prosperity; escalation in crime, terror and fear; and a decline in patriotism as the people lose the will to defend the nation.
2. Cycles of recession and even depression. We had a revival of our economy under the previous administration.
3. The third cycle: violence and the breakdown of law and order; and reduced travel. Leviticus. 26:21–22 the population is reduced by violence and natural calamity. The lesson is there; the 3rd cycle of discipline is there.
4. Military invasion and partial defeat; then disease, rationing, beginning of starvation. What have you noticed in these 4 cycles? There are elements of everything going on today in all 4 cycles.
5. The 5th cycle is characterized by total conquest and destruction of the client nation. Destruction of morality; to the point of cannibalism. No food on the shelves. The people are taken into slavery by their victorious enemies. This includes internal enemies.
6. These cycles are not hard and fast in their divisions. The fifth cycle of discipline can contain all aspects of the other cycles, but more intense.

There were many external enemies for Israel. Are we in danger of conquest by external enemies. The internal enemies are rampant. That is also a collapse.

Our Country and the Cycles of Discipline

1. Missed it
2. Our country's survival depends upon spiritual revival. It is not the silliness of green energy. It is regeneration; evangelism and doctrine.
3. We need the application of Bible doctrine amongst believers. That is where the pivot comes in.
4. If God's people will humble themselves before Him, confess their sins, and pray and seek His Word; He will hear their cry and heal their land.

5. Any nation that experiences the fifth cycle of discipline has failed to heed the warnings of the previous cycles. Will we pay attention to what God is providing for us by way of discipline. Remember the 2nd half of Prov. 11;21 the descendants; the seed of the righteous. Who are these?

More Points

1. This seed refers to a whole classification of people.
2. They are the offspring, the posterity, not of evil doers, but of the righteous. Isa. 1:4 they provide deliverance.
3. In every generation, there are believers who are advancing; true in this generation. Even though we look at this generation and think, what a lost generation. Those listening in remote areas.
4. They have a decided affect on the client nation.
5. They are the ones who escape the divine discipline. We are in the middle of the discipline. We are in the middle of it. Here is the promise that we all must remember.

We are delivered and blessed in our experiential righteousness, through advancing in the spiritual life. We keep advancing. We suffer. But we understand that we will be delivered. The inner life is extremely important. The spiritual life, both individually and for the larger group. As go the believers, so goes the nation.

Proverbs 11:21 Be assured, an evil person will not go unpunished, but the offspring of the righteous will be delivered.

The writers of proverbs uses an illustration of beauty. The woman; something that everyone understands. The author understands that most women like to display outward beauty, if their hair and makeup are not just right. Without a doubt, men want women to look beautiful. It is the nature of the beast.

Proverbs 11:22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman without discretion.

Our society defines the beauty of a woman; and Bobby loves beautiful woman. But none of this defines the actual beauty of a woman. We like the outward stuff. This verse, is unequivocal of the importance of inner beauty. Let's put the notions of the legalists behind us. Legalists say, so not look too seductive; do not wear makeup, etc. This indicates that discretion and character are much more important than outer beauty.

Beautiful imagery of ugliness; and it makes this point with a flourish. Bobby is going to simply read this verse. It is too good and it needs to be taken in one gulp. Something beautiful in a pig's snout; compared to a woman without discretion. Just contemplating this is exactly the image of the woman without discretion. We will see this in every aspect.

Bobby will tell us right now, that most beautiful woman is the one with inner beauty. Bobby has found it to be true. The woman who may not appear to be as beautiful as her cousins, may turn out to be far more beautiful as you come to know her.

This is true of believers as well. You could substitute in, a handsome man. He is like a ring of gold in a pig's snout, if he lacks discretion. This will be a fascinating verse; one that we must spend some time in.

It looks like Bobby is going to cover this all in one fell swoop in Wednesday.

Lesson #0193                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT   2/24/2021 Wednesday

A subject which will always be a topic of conversation, is the back of a beautiful woman. Especially among men. Men will speak with open admiration. Women might as well. Physical beauty is always in the eye of the beholder.

Some might agree on flawless figures and beautiful bodies; like the super models of our time. They make the big bucks based upon how they look.

There is another type of beauty, attested to by our passage in Proverbs.

Every woman can have such beauty. It is an inner beauty that radiates outward. This verse reveals it by using a beautiful image of ugliness.

Proverbs 11:22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman without discretion.

There is a lot to unpack in this verse. The first line is the principle taught in the second. The first line is the illustration; the second is the principle. The beautiful ring of gold will never make a pig look better.

Bobby finds a pretty ugly pig; and finds something even uglier. Pigs don't know that is the case; and they do not know that they stink. Rick picked up Bobby to hunt pigs with bows and arrows. Bobby was put up in a tree in a blind. The area was obviously populated by pigs, because you could smell them.

The Arkansas Razorbacks had the call, Souwee pig.

Regarding this ring of gold. They did something like this to lead a hog around by the nose. It would not have been a gold ring, of course.

The Parallels

1. The gold ring is analogous. A woman with a semblance of outer beauty. Personal beauty is not a thing to be despised or jealous of.
2. If beauty is merely superficial, it may become an object of disgust.

3. Here, the swine's snout represents an ugliness that is coupled with the outer beauty of the gold ring. The beauty of the ring against the ugly snout.
4. The ring does not hide the outer ugliness of the pig.
5. This picture is an analogy to a different type of ugliness that is not exterior. We will all agree, there is nothing uglier than that. They are not pretty.
6. Since the subject of the second line is no discretion, which is an inner thought process discretion, the ugliness of the pig must then represent an inner ugliness; coupled with an outer beauty.
7. The outer beauty of the ring only slightly covers the ugliness. In this case, the inner ugliness. You might focus on that ring; and it is lovely and gold.
8. It will not take you very long before you see the outer ugliness. It will outshine the luster of the ring. Occupational hazard of men is seeing the ring, but not the rest of the package.

What this is about

1. This same beautiful golden ringed woman is one without inner beauty. The inner beauty is what makes the woman truly admirable.
2. The woman with great beauty may show off this gold ring, but inside, she is disgusting. A disgusting soul. Anyone with much experience with women, we have known this type. Those men with discretion will give such a woman a wide berth. This is true of men as well.
3. The woman who lacks discretion is like the pig. She might be inordinately competitive.
4. She may have great hair, makeup; but it cannot hide ugliness of attitude.
5. The attitude is the real person, beautiful or not. Most of us understand this principle. With divine viewpoint, you cannot help but be beautiful.

Beauty is skin deep. If the woman's beauty is on the outside, that is just not enough. The inner beauty of such a woman. Even if her exterior is not as impressive as another woman.

A further principle; a woman with inner beauty becomes increasingly more beautiful on the outside, as relationships continue and blossom. Her inner beauty radiates outside. Bobby has known women who did not seem to be very beautiful at first; but their inner beauty shone through. It made the difference in how Bobby observed them. An inner soul. It does not matter how they look. What a novel idea that is.

Supermodels can also be a pig's snout. Bobby has known some, and their beauty can be breathtaking. But some are so arrogant, that you cannot stand to be in the same room with them. That is where outer beauty becomes a pig's snout. If a man wants a great relationship with a woman, inner beauty should be the first criterion. Older skin does wrinkle. We are not as handsome as we once were as we age. A beautiful soul never changes. Some of the most beautiful women Bobby knew were very old. May Walker's soul radiated beauty. Bobby misses her cherry pies as well. What makes beauty last is inner beauty. A good mother should tell her son, beware of being tripped and caught up by a woman's beauty. The reverse is also true. Don't get offended.

This is all true of the handsome player who loves them and leaves them.

Bobby loves this illustration. The illustration of skin-deep beauty has such depth to it; and yet, it is such a simple concept.

Outer Beauty and Inner Deformity

1. This is the union of the outer beauty of a person connected to a deformed mind.
2. It is outer beauty displaying an inner ugliness that then becomes outer ugliness. It does not take long, sometimes. If you are married to that, you will testify to it.
3. When a lousy character is clothed in a beautiful body, it is truly the spirit of darkness appearing as an angel of light.
4. It is not a bad analogy to Satan himself. He appears as an angel of light, but he is filled with evil on the inside. What are you looking at? Very easy to look at the exterior. It takes awhile to discover that. Everyone has their defenses and their walls. They can hide that until it is too late. Take your time. Look for what is truly there. If you have mated with a beautiful soul, then you know what Bobby is talking about.

The first line is very visual in these days of female piercing and nose rings. We have all seen many piercing. The piercing adornment, by itself, might be, by itself, beautiful. Some people, mostly younger, may think that it enhances their allure. However, it is more likely that the piercing reflects the thinking of the woman; a pierced soul. Often an anti-establishment soul; often a counter-culture soul. Sometimes, you can see the interior.

The rest is getting to know them well. Bobby also put tattoos in that same category.

Bible Doctrine in the Soul of a Woman

1. There is no question, that the inner piercing of Bible doctrine wisdom, that is the epitome of beauty in the soul of a woman.
2. It is true that some women are more beautiful than others at birth; but put that aside. Don't compare that here.
3. God has taken something where there are great differences, all of us.
4. A woman with discretion has beauty; this is a whole different animal. Women have become uglier, even though there are many more aides to beauty.
5. Discretion is cosmetics for the soul. A great enhancement of inner beauty.
6. Those cosmetics are applied through the spiritual life and continued through spiritual advance. When you get up in the morning and put on your makeup and do your hair, what do you do for your soul? That is even more important. Bible doctrine is more important than makeup. What you are doing right now is more important than all the makeup that you use. Make certain that you understand the discretion.

Discretion is taam in the Hebrew.

Ta'am

1. It literally means pace/paste?
2. It can mean acumen.
3. Mental judgment. Abigail, David's first wife.
4. Psalm 119:66 teach me good discretion and knowledge.
5. So here, discernment and knowledge are linked to the mentality of the soul; the commandments of God.
6. The commandments of God are His doctrines, which are taught and metabolized. Then discernment and knowledge are gained. This is then divine wisdom for application. Intellectual acumen; and spiritual acumen as well.
7. The woman lacking establishment understanding and lacks Bible doctrine. How important are good decisions. Without discernment, you cannot make good decisions.

She is compared to a pig's snout with an attractive ornament. When you have an ugly soul with a body that is beautiful, it is ugly ultimately. You cannot call a person a pig without this being taken as an insult. You might demand an apology for this.

Bobby thought about this. There is a group called PETA; and here, Bobby has insulted a pig, and they would call him on it. Demeaning a woman's right to look as she wants to look; you are stereotyping her. In reality, this should be embraced. The true feminist does not want to be extolled for how she looks, but for who she is. This verse confirms a feminist principle to a point. They will not embrace this passage, because many of them are humanists. Beauty comes from the inside; not the outside.

When a woman has that true inner beauty, that makes her outward appearance much more attractive.

Here Is a Practical Principle of How this Is Fulfilled

1. An outwardly beautiful woman ruins her beauty with mental attitude sins. Anger, jealousy, hatred.
2. Her beauty can be ruined with a pseudo type love, wanting to possess the details of life. That woman is a user.
3. Desiring to have an outwardly handsome man, but she wants one with no ability to discern.
4. The woman herself can scarcely recognize good character. A woman like that desires outward beauty. As such, it is a mutually exclusive understanding. She cannot discern a beautiful soul. She sees the gold ring, but misses the snout.
5. For her, it is the superficial things in life which take priority. Beauty is only skin deep, but the soul goes all the way through.

6. The mental attitude sins of the woman produce self-induced misery and an inner ugliness which, eventually radiates outwardly. She cannot help it. She has volition. It is ugly and it always will be. No matter who she associates with. Some put up with her simply for the outer beauty.
7. No one escapes the evil actions generated. That is ironically when desire and objective if the pig snout woman is unreached and unreachable, with that kind of a soul. She can get a lot of things with a beautiful body. She will always wonder why she is miserable. Nothing more miserable than a movie star who has everything.

The general smell comes from the direction of the pig pen. Whenever you find such things, you really are dealing with an ugly soul. Tread carefully.

Proverbs 11:22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman without discretion.

Lesson #0194                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT                      2/25/2021 Thursday

One more time with the verse:

Proverbs 11:22 [Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman without discretion \[or, discernment\].](#)

Bobby was sent the best picture of a pig. Found one with a gold ring in the pig's snout. Nothing could improve the look of this pig. This is looking at an ugly soul. No beautiful exterior can completely hide an ugly soul.

Final Lessons of this Verse

1. A beautiful woman, who merely strives for the details of life, can only contrive a sham love; a phony love; a pretended affection. The soul cannot produce true love; only a pseudo love.
2. Her soul is empty of doctrine. Therefore, she has no capacity for love. An ugly soul.
3. Her love is of herself, and if all she can gain using her outward beauty. There is the real look. That is an occupational hazard for attractive women.
4. Thus, her outer beauty is neutralized because she lacks a capacity for love. If she has no capacity for love, that appreciation will fade. Ultimately it becomes quite ugly.
5. The pseudo love distorts the soul.
6. The self consciousness of the soul is dominated by her ego.
7. The mentality of the ugly soul is completely human viewpoint and humanism, with an emphasis upon the details of life.
8. Emotion becomes the criterion for all happiness, and that is a fleeting way to understand happiness.
- 9.

10. The conscience produces guilt; or it is just numb to sin and evil.
11. The sin nature produces human good or evil, which is compatible with the lust pattern and fits perfectly with the ugly soul.

To review the analogy, this is not something we would embrace or want to emulate. But people want to embrace the beauty. This is pertinent to any man as well. This reveals the folly of the ugly soul.

1. Do not be fooled by outer beauty that hides the ugliness of soul. The picture is ultimately ugly. We know what to look for.
2. Don't become fascinated by a worthless heart, because it is covered by a fair skin. You will end up with a pig with a gold ring in its snout.

Women who have outer beauty, above the average, need to be very careful as to how they cultivate that beauty, as they will receive a lot of attention and flattery. This can give the woman an inflated ego. The arrogance of beauty becomes arrogance of soul. They want to believe it, it is what they feed off of.

The Ugly Soul and Beautiful Exterior

1. Women are a jewel of gold. Don't admire that gold in a swine's snout.
2. This misapplication will
3. Sometimes, a very handsome husband and wife produce ugly children. But you determine what your soul looks like.
4. The incongruity of inner ugliness and outer beauty will become repulsive to all who value integrity. It does not reflect the experiential righteousness of the growing believer.

There is nothing more wonderful than a grace oriented woman; a woman with spiritual self esteem; who is not bothered by all of the adversities in life. Is a leader in the home; is a teacher. All of those are wonderful qualities.

The incongruity of ugly soul and an outer beauty.

Inner and Outer Beauty

1. The man or woman who cultivates experiential righteousness, carry a beauty far beyond what can be cultivated by cultivating external beauty. Exterior beauty can be enhanced in many ways. But those things cannot enhance the soul. An ugly soul does not enhance beauty.
2. There is nothing greater than inner beauty of a woman, in the human realm.
3. Beauty in the soul is the greatest power in the life of the woman. Not physical beauty. We see beautiful women on television and in advertising; but beauty in the soul is the greatest power of any woman. It is like warming your hands in front of a fire on a very cold night.

4. If a woman is going to be truly beautiful, she must have the qualities associated with inner beauty. The exterior beauty is enhanced or detracted from by the soul.
5. One quality of inner beauty is authority-orientation. This is a quality in a woman that we should understand. The woman is mandated to be a responder; she is told to respect her husband. This is authority-orientation. It is a most beautiful woman who responds. That is how God designed her. Impersonal love toward many others; and that is a beautiful quality in anybody. A woman with impersonal love is an exquisite quality.
6. She is also reasonable. Men think, that is a quality I want to see. She has sound and reasonable judgment. There are times that you might disagree with your husband. A woman out of control is not pretty. Pig-headed, unfair, unreasonable, you can't talk to her. Keep a straight face. Men have a different problem. Reasonableness is the great quality of a beautiful soul.

God provided a great gift for the man and the woman. God introduced something that we all know and love, sex. A great sexual relationship is the rapport of two beautiful souls. Not just the bodies. The more beautiful the soul, the more fantastic that kind of relationship. The sexual relationship is just a small part of the relationship.

Every Christian woman can have those qualities of , honor, .

Proverbs 11:22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman without discretion.

Now, we will leave that verse behind.

Proverbs 11:23 The desire of the righteous ends only in good; the expectation of the wicked in wrath.

Desire Is Ta'avah

1. Something
2. Positive volition in the soul of the righteous person.
3. Such a person not only desires doctrine but they delight in doctrine. It is their life. That is what we delight in. We have come to the point in our spiritual life because we truly delight in the wisdom of Bible doctrine.
4. You appreciate the results when you acquire a beautiful soul. You appreciate that gain. That is a beautiful soul. Wisdom first; and then you can discern and make good decisions.
5. The righteous are desirous of advancing in experiential righteousness.
6. Such a righteous believer desires Bible doctrine and divine wisdom above all things. There are many great things in life, many details in life. Above all of those delightful things in life is Bible doctrine and all that comes with it. Everything else falls into place. When divine wisdom through Bible doctrine, and your soul is beautiful, it makes everything right, even under adversity. We are able to have the right perspective in adversity. Have any of you seen the advantages in the adversity of last week. These are individual as well.

7. This is the person who experiences the delight of divine blessing for production in the spiritual life. So many people think that blessing comes when the details of life come.

Psalm 37:4 Delight yourself in the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart.

There is danger there. People think that, if they are good, they get the details of life. To delight yourself, that is a great deal of pleasure. A great sense of pleasure in knowing the Lord through doctrine. When the righteous have desires which derive from the Lord's will; when the growing believer...the Lord will provide the fulfillment of those desires. You have knowledge of Him.

First and foremost, the experiential righteousness leads to experiential victory and a renewed dependence on the Lord. When the wicked seem to prosper, they do not. In the end, they can expect only one thing. When the details of life is the final thing, or when the believer is in reversionism, all they can expect is wrath. The judgment on them, leading to the justice of God enforcing discipline. It is a terrible thing to fall under the wrath of God. When the unbeliever is fulfilling their desire for the details of life, at the end of the story, there is only wrath. The judgment of God and the final end of the Lake of Fire.

Psalm 37:5 Commit your way to the LORD; trust in Him, and He will act.

This is God's action. He will do it. Roll your problems onto the Lord, and then you can trust Him. It is to the delight of your soul to watch the Lord work. The promises that you need to apply wisdom. Then sit down and trust Him. That trust is never misplaced. That is to the delight of your soul to watch the Lord work. God cannot fail. He is incapable of failing. His Word is His bond.

Proverbs 11:23 The desire of the righteous ends only in good; the expectation of the wicked in wrath.

The result of delighting yourself in the Lord is only good. Morality is for believers and unbelievers alike. Morality is not the only thing involved in the life of the believer.

Only Good

1. It is the delight of producing divine good. The good is not just morality. The delight is in producing divine good in the spiritual life. That is the only way to produce it.
2. The encompasses the desire to produce; and the delight in the results in producing divine good. You are doing the plan of God and have eternal results.
3. That is the good which is beyond morality; and beyond anything the unbeliever can produce. Morality is a good thing. But without the filling of the Holy Spirit, that is...
4. There is no way that the unbeliever can produce divine good.

5. Delight in human good may be gratifying, but it is fleeting. There is nothing lasting in it.
6. Without a doubt, experiential righteousness includes morality, but that is not all.
7. It also includes the greater good of intrinsic value as it is observed by the Lord. Good of intrinsic value as the Lord observes it.
8. That is the delight of the believer, who is advancing in righteousness. We desire and we delight in advancing in spiritual righteousness.

The second half of the verse, and there is a counterpart. Tikvah, expectation, anticipation, hope. What do the wicked anticipate in the second line. They can only anticipate wrath. What a grim outlook on life. They may not see it that way. There can be no delight in it. The wicked, the experientially unrighteous, whose only production comes, will have an expectation of wrath.

When we are carnal; or when we are in reversionism, the Lord does not leave us alone. There is something missing. The believer in Jesus Christ has no mercy; that is, the Lord does not leave us alone to wallow in reversionism. The wrath of God is upon us. When we receive it, we may think that God is unfair. How can a loving God let this happen to me?

The Expectation of Wickedness

1. The expectation of wickedness is always wrath. It is never pleasant. Designed to bring us back into line.
2. This includes any actions when out of fellowship. The longer we stay out of fellowship, the worst things become. Check the book reversionism.
3. God's wrath falls upon such believers who fail to advance in experiential righteousness. That is the only thing that we can look forward to.
4. God rejects legalism; and He even rejects human good and morality as the basis for restoring His favor and salvation. Those things don't meet the perfect standards of divine good.
5. Only the imputed righteousness include...and only experiential righteousness can meet His standards. If we reject Him, then God must judge and then discipline.

The wrath of God is always a part of His love for us.

Proverbs 11:23 The desire of the righteous ends only in good; the expectation of the wicked in wrath.

Let's connect this with the previous verse. The experientially righteous, growing believer, learns doctrine, has wisdom, and gains discernment. He gains capacity for love. Response in a woman, the responder; the great qualities. Reasonableness and authority-orientation. The wicked believer lives in constant expectation of divine discipline. Exemplified by the woman, as the pig's snout with the gold ring in it.

We have been studying truth.

Proverbs 11:24 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.

The paradox is the increase and decrease. This sounds like an economic concept; but this is a grace principle, given in terms that we can all understand. This analogy brings grace to a sharper focus. One must give in order to gain.

Large investments can bring large returns; but also, it can bring large losses.

This verse is primarily a beautiful metaphor of grace and generosity and giving under those conditions.

Bobby came across a simple epigram. There is a distribution that enriches the soul of the distributor, and a loss suffered by the one who withholds. One who gives, increases; one who hoards, declines.

This is by grace orientation that a person might deliver a blow against parsimoniousness and stinginess. Grace action brings a temporal and eternal reward. Generosity often determines...

A mistake to think, if I give greatly, God will reward me greatly. The bounty could be time and service given; and the return that we get for that. There is great reward; there is reaping bountifully.

Most churches will use this passage wrongly. They will focus on monetary reward for monetary giving. They say that financial prosperity will be the result of you giving. It is grace orientation which is the motive, and that motive is blessed by God. This is the realm of the spiritual life. Let the Scripture inform as to why grace orientation and generosity bring prosperity in all other areas in life.

Psalm 112:9 He has distributed [or, given] freely; he has given to the poor; his [experiential] righteousness endures forever; his horn is exalted in honor.

Horn Being Exalted

1. Horn is a symbol of power in the Bible.
2. And when used of the spiritual life of the believer, it means a certain prominence before the Lord, which is how it is used here.
3. This is not necessarily prominence with mankind, even though people want to use it that way. That is not why; that is not the point.
4. Believers are certainly looking to enhance their position with God. That is the #1 aspect of your life. This is one way to do it. This is the way to do it.

5. This would be through living the spiritual life. That is how you enhance your position with God. The exalted honor also acknowledges to you and for you a lasting sense of self-worth for you. That is a state in which you experience a legitimate self confidence.

People have fleeting confidence; they are confident one minute and none the next. This is not an inflated ego or the love of your own personality. That is human self-esteem. One moment you have this and the next you don't. Offices of psychiatrists are filled with people who lack human self-esteem. We get our psychological training in Bible class. There is no comparison between your gains through Bible doctrine and simple human gains.

Spiritual Cognitive Self-confidence

1. Spiritual cognitive self-confidence. You understand that you are worth something; or you have done something well; you understand the accolades that you are getting. One comes from doctrine in the soul.
2. What you gain from that is the realization of your union and destiny and Jesus Christ. That is your success. You are a smashing success in life the moment that you believe in Jesus Christ. As you do that, you become more and more grace oriented.
3. You understand your limitless and eternal relationship with the Lord. Otherwise, you understand that your relationships are limited; and you think everything depends upon you.
4. Your confidence is in the Lord and His plan. What is your confidence when it is based upon what you do? In spiritual self esteem, it is the plan of God. How easy is that? You can continue to grow. You will execute the plan of God. You stay in fellowship for greater and greater lengths of time.
5. Even if you fail in life, you cannot lose. For so many people, it is all about what God does for us, not what we do for God. They are supposed to be doing things for God and they are failing. We do fail; we fail in the spiritual life. But God has given us rebound and faith rest and there spiritual life. Who is in charge and what does our spiritual life consist of?
6. Exalted honor always reflects divine accomplishment. This is always divine good production in the spiritual life. All consistent with grace orientation and doctrinal orientation and the advance.

2Corinthians 9:6–7 The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.

This is a paraphrase of our passage; no doubt Paul took this right from our passage. The quid pro quo concept of blessing. I do great things for God and He will do great things for me. But it is not that way.

The simple agricultural analogy. The principle of scattering to increase. Most of us are not farmers. This is a farmers' example. Scattering corn seed is the only way to increase it. There is a kind of faith in the scattering of seed. He believes that it will grow and produce a large harvest. We must sow to reap bountifully. The direct design is to increase the volume of corn. His faith is rewarded by a multiplied return. If a portion of the seed is withheld, then there is a smaller crop and it lends itself to poverty. That results in little or no return. That is a very simple understanding of increase and decrease.

To distribute portions of our substance and wealth, in acts of kindness and philanthropy is like casting seed into the ground. It will spring forth in secret. We don't see crops grow, but they do. The satisfaction of service.

Sowing or disseminating Bible doctrine; and for no other reason.

Bobby went to a memorial service some years ago in a very large liberal church and the place was packed with well over 1000 people. The pastor stood up and the main part of the eulogy was the amount of money he gave to the church. The name of Jesus, never mentioned; the grace of God, never mentioned. Where the man was? Never mentioned. The upshot is, give money and you will be well thought of, after death. Bobby has never forgotten this; that is never the message to come from this pulpit. Such service to the church is not grace giving. Under compulsion, like, I want to be well-thought of. God is pleased with one thing; grace orientation in one thing. Don't think that you are blessed for giving money to the church. But whatever realm the stingy person with the self-centered attitude gives, he or she gets nothing in return. They have failed to scatter. The person who withholds of their bounty, fails to invest. Their life counts for little, beyond the narrow confines of their own existence.

This is no different from the spiritual realm.

Proper Giving from the Soul

1. From the analogy of this verse, the one who scatters liberally is the grace oriented giver; unrelated to the amount given. You may give one cent which can be more important than the one who gives a hundred thousand.
2. He gives based upon who and what he is, as an expression of what is in his or her soul. The thought process of the soul.
3. The bounty received from such sowing is the satisfaction of seeing the truth of God's Word spread. That is the true result; that is what many times is called the harvest in the Bible.
4. Grace oriented motivation. Seeing unbelievers to respond to the gospel; that is a great satisfaction in life. You present the gospel and they respond to it. You have given them a ticket to heaven. You have given them the message, and this is your job. They respond to the gospel with faith alone in Christ alone.
5. To see the obvious spiritual results in the lives of believers, what you sow liberally is returned in the grace orientation that you see in other people. You have become like minded with that person. You see it reflected in their actions and attitudes in life.

6. Giving to the church should never be done in expectation of some sort of physical blessing or monetary return from God. That is the quid pro quo. I given enough money and God gives me more. You have become a broken with God. Never give under pressure as well. Churches often do this: Brother so-and-so gave this amount, can you match it?
7. Giving to the church or whatever spiritual organization, then you must follow Biblical principles. You must provide for your family first. He has denied the faith and he is worse than an unbeliever. A right thing done in a wrong way is wrong. Do not give if it deprives your family. That is a non-grace oriented gift.
8. Giving when it deprives your family is forbidden. Giving of your scanty resources is no increase. Dire consequences to families when this happens.

The liberal giving is in distinction to v. 24b. He withholds what is to be given to the Lord. This is what is due to the Lord as service to Him. This person is lacking in the spiritual life because there is no grace orientation. Any giving would be under compulsion. It is being withheld.

Proverbs 11:24 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.

The upshot of this is, carefully examine your motives in giving before you give. Before you write the check or drop some money into the place, examine your motives. If your motives are wrong, then go to the church office and get your money back. Wrong motivation results in pseudo giving. That is the parsimonious one. Because of the lack of grace orientation, your giving is worthless. That person is just like the most famous parsimonious couple in the Bible, Ananias and Saphira. They are the poster children for grace disorientation; and the results for them are dire.

We will cover the passage in Acts 5 on Wednesday.

Acts 5:1 But a man named Ananias, with his wife Sapphira, sold a piece of property,...
Acts 5:2 ...and with his wife's knowledge he kept back for himself some of the proceeds and brought only a part of it and laid it at the apostles' feet.

Proverbs 11:24 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.

Lesson #0196                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT    3/3/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 11:24 One scatters, yet increases all the more; another withholds what he should give, and yet it result in only want.

Parsimony in giving; the motive in that. The one who scatters liberally is the one who is grace oriented. He gives based upon who and what she is; based upon what she has learned as an expression of grace orientation. There is no expectation of material return. There is a return for grace giving, which may be a material return, but that is not the focus of this verse. The increase is the believer who grows in grace and becomes grace oriented. He sees the truth of the Word of God disseminated, in the church, in the community, in the nation and in missions. Seeing the unbeliever who responds to the gospel. There is great satisfaction in seeing that. There are rewards in heaven. That is a future increase. The spiritual reality; the increase of spiritual growth.

The grace giver of the first line is distinct from the second line. What is due is service to the Lord. The person in the second line is lacking in the spiritual life. There is no grace and no doctrinal orientation. Any giving would be done grudgingly and of necessity. The well-motivated giver never gives in that way.

Proverbs 11:24 One scatters, yet increases all the more; another withholds what he should give, and yet it result in only want.

The great illustration of this is in Acts 5.

Acts 5:1 But a man named Ananias, with his wife Sapphira, sold a piece of property,...

That is the basic circumstance.

Acts 5:2 ...and with his wife's knowledge he kept back for himself some of the proceeds and brought only a part of it and laid it at the apostles' feet.

There is nothing wrong with what he has done. Selling property is a real estate deal and believers make money doing this. They give as they have purposed in their own souls. Giving money to the church is acceptable as divine good. All of this, which seems so innocuous to us. The objective of this sale of land will not be increased.

They had a motive, and that was to outdo Barnabas who gave a large amount of money to the church in Jerusalem. He had received great praise for what he did. These two have entered into a system of arrogance, and the mental attitude sins of approbation, approbation lust and jealousy.

Barnabas also sold his land and gave all of the proceeds to the Jerusalem church. He apparently received tremendous praise. However, it was not his purpose to get this praise. Nor was he a socialist who wanted to redistribute his wealth. This was not a gift that was grudging or of necessity. He gave the money with the right attitude in the service to the Lord. Barnabas had a special reason for giving this money. He was about to embark on a great missionary journey with Paul. Paul accept Barnabas as a companion. He knew that he did not need the money that he got (or the land), so he gave it all.

Barnabas knew that Paul would be the recipient of logistical grace. It was a great, well-known fact that Paul preached all of the time. Many of these churches supported Paul. These people in Jerusalem need this money badly; and I do not. This demonstrated the grace orientation of Barnabas. Everyone in the church needed to see this. We may call this sewing bountifully; and he reaped bountifully.

There was a further reason for this. Those who saw what God would do for Paul and Barnabas, they would see this grace and they would better understand the grace of God. Barnabas became a grace model to the church.

This money would contribute to the ministry in Jerusalem, to disseminate the gospel and Bible doctrine. He gave for the dissemination of doctrine and to be a real life lesson for those in Jerusalem.

Barnabas sold the land that would be put to good use.

Paul preached grace wherever he went. He became the Apostle to the gentiles; but he taught grace to the legalistic Jews in Jerusalem. Paul preached grace and Barnabas revealed grace.

This is exactly what we do in Berachah Church. We try to reflect this in all that the church does. This is what grace giving is all about.

Barnabas reminds Bobby of his own grandfather, who was the pastor of the 1st Baptist church of Tucson AZ. He was a great man of doctrine; he was a great man of grace. His church grew to the largest in AZ. He received very little from the church; he had 5 children. He received just barely enough.

This is a perfect example of what Barnabas did. Bobby's uncle wrote a book on his grandfather, as the modern Barnabas. Barnabas expected God to take care of him.

But Ananias and Saphira hoped to receive greater praise than Barnabas. They were not hoping to spread the work of the church, but they were expecting to be recognized and admired. They knew what Barnabas gave and they were going to give more. They had land, they had money. They presented only a portion of the proceeds to the Apostles. This is good; they gave a large amount to the church. However, they lied. They misrepresented that they gave all of the proceeds, but they had not. They gave only a portion.

Peter was fully aware of what they were doing.

There was nothing wrong with what they did; until they lied about what they did.

Acts 5:3 But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep back for yourself part of the proceeds of the land?"

Why did Peter call them out? Ananias and Saphira could have given any part of this sale (or none of it). They were doing a right thing in a wrong way. A right thing done with wrong motivation. This is the opposite of grace orientation. Grace was needed to be understood and this was entirely anti-grace. Peter could not allow them to mock the grace of God. This ambitious couple were not satisfied with their wealth and property. They wanted great notoriety. This was self-glorification.

The Problematic Motivations of Ananias and Saphira

1. Prov. 7:4, jealousy, the motive of Ananias and Saphira, is the most dangerous of mental attitude sins.
2. Jealousy is part of a complex of sins, related to arrogance and emotion. You think very highly of yourself. You get jealous of anyone who challenges you or seems to be better than you.
3. Jealousy always involves self-centeredness. Self-centeredness fear of someone being better or having more influence. Jealousy over relationships. Jealousy can even lead to murder. Murder is over money, jealousy, love or sex. Jealousy is a powerful motivation. They have lied to the Apostles to receive approbation from the church.
4. Jealousy quickly takes on anger. That is when things start to get nasty. It also takes on self-righteousness. It can become vindictive. Jealous people are inordinately competitive. Men and women do some very silly things with this motivation. Prov. 6:34 James 3:6, 16 4:2
5. Jealousy stimulates legalism.
6. Jealousy motivates the desire to destroy others; physically or their reputation. Gen. 7:5 37:23–28 Acts 7:9 Dan. 3:12–15 6:6–13

Destroying the principle of grace giving and replacing it with inordinate competition. We are the body of Christ operating together. No one of us can spend time competing with the other. Once you get competitive in the church, they will divide the church with their competitiveness with Barnabas. Barnabas was motivated by grace orientation and doctrinal orientation. He will be going on one of the great missionary journeys of all time. Paul was spreading doctrine to places which had never heard it before. Barnabas was overjoyed to join Paul. That is the right motivation.

Ananias and Saphira looked at this and decided that they would be even bigger. They used their monetary gift to manipulate others. People manipulate in order to control others and circumstances. Someone who says, "I will commit suicide unless you do what I want." Regardless, it is about control. These people wanted control in their church. This is not an uncommon motive today.

The friend of Bobby's who gave a lot of money. Christ and grace were not mentioned in his eulogy. People there thought that you live the Christian life by giving money to a church. Berachah Church is unique in many ways. A grace understanding of giving.

In the early 80's. Dan Quayle, his parents were avid tapers; and Marilyn, his wife were also tapers. The press found out about this and they wanted to influence the election. And they came and set up in Berachah Church. What struck these people. They interviewed Bob in his office. How do you get money for this operation? They expected that it would be through the usual con jobs. They were looking for that angle. Bob said, "We don't ask for money." "Everybody asks for money." Bob explained grace giving. This was a great rendition of what Barnabas did right here. This church has survived on grace giving. This is a grace oriented church.

Ananias and Saphira were subverting grace. They attempted to deceive the Apostle Peter. They only deceived themselves. There is nothing about percentages. Maybe they kept back 70% of the sale. That means that 30% was given and it seemed like a lot. This seemed like a great thing to those who were destitute.

The Sin of Ananias and Saphira

1. Ananias and Saphira were self-justifying.
2. This came with self-deception. They lied to themselves.
3. They deceived themselves, they lied to themselves, and they convincingly lied to everyone else.
4. Lying to self is a quality of an arrogant, self-centered person. An arrogance person thinks more highly of themselves than they ought to.
5. Often lying to self is a means of covering up inadequacy or perpetuating self-indulgence. Several were true o Ananias and Saphira.
6. This lying becomes a cover for wrongdoing. It can be very effective in covering one's tracks with other people. Such people become very adept at lying. Bobby's mother would look at him and say, "Be sure your lies with find you out." To survive, the liar must continue in self-deception. People caught in a boldface lie continue to maintain the falsity of their testimony.
7. When there is no rebound or recovery, it is because the Holy Spirit is being quenched and grieved. The carnality and reversionism continues. This is where they run into the repercussions of their actions.

Lesson #0197

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

3/4/2021 Thursday

Scattering in order to increase; withhold resulting in want.

Ananias and Saphira were withholding. Barnabas gave all that he had, which demonstrated grace. Grace orientation is always accompanied by an increase, an advance in the spiritual life.

The problem with Ananias and Saphira was not withholding some of the profits. What was due to the Lord is the grace orientation of grace giving. Ananias and Saphira went an entirely different direction. The produced human good with the wrong motives. Barnabas illustrated grace giving and Ananias and Saphira were focused on recognition and approbation.

Don't think more highly of yourself than you ought to think. They gave a large sum of money, probably larger than Barnabas; but they claimed that what they gave was the entire amount of their profits.

Acts 5:1 But a man named Ananias, with his wife Sapphira, sold a piece of property,...

Acts 5:2 ...and with his wife's knowledge he kept back for himself some of the proceeds and brought only a part of it and laid it at the apostles' feet.

Acts 5:3 But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep back for yourself part of the proceeds of the land?"

They were under no obligation to give all or even a part of the sale. There was no such requirement that they were under. God requires an attitude. In the end, they experienced serious want; the ultimate want. Spiritual collapse and severe discipline. Their collapse was first indicated by their jealousy of Barnabas. It leads to so many other problems. They became bitter; and their escalating jealousy and their anger at Barnabas formed in the ingredients of a greater evil.

Paul was beginning his ministry. There is more writing from Paul more than any of the other Apostles. Paul taught grace. Paul, Peter and Barnabas were all teaching grace in Jerusalem; but

The Acts of Ananias and Saphira

1. Ananias and Sapphira used their gift to manipulate, to deceive the public opinion of the church in their favor. They are manipulators.
2. But worse, they attempted to deceive God. People figure, no one can see what they are thinking; only what they are doing. But God is not deceived.
3. In order to lie to all of these people, they had to lie to themselves. Self-justification. They justified their actions. They were important people. They wanted to show themselves as important to the church. This was to elevate their importance.
4. This lying and self-justifying turned to a maximum self-absorption. They turned inward.
5. In self-absorption, they create a false impression of themselves first to themselves and then to others. Everything revolves around me.
6. That is always the reason for lying to self and to others...to see yourself in a favorable light, to protect yourself from criticism, to deceive others, to give a wrong impression about yourself. Self-absorption is self-promoting. That is that they were doing.
7. In the case of Ananias and Sapphira, entering into self-absorption, lying to the Apostles was tantamount to lying to the Holy Spirit. Lying to themselves, and to Peter, followed by their self-absorption bathed in approbation lust...lying to the Holy Spirit is the combination of these things.
8. Peter's rebuke is, "You have not lied to men, but to God."

Acts 5:3 But Peter said, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep back for yourself part of the proceeds of the land?"

The heart should be filled with doctrine, not with lies or approbation lust. The problem solving device are activated by Bible doctrine; the spiritual life is under construction and operating. But when the believer does not rebound, then come the lies to self and to others; and the web of lies continues.

The Wrongdoing of Ananias and Saphira

1. In the mode of mental attitude sins and sins of the tongue (jealousy first and then lies), coupled with wrongful Christian service, they entered into lying to the Holy Spirit. That is not a good thing.
2. This is the picture of a satanic filling of the heart; the doctrine of demons. This is picture of doctrine being suppressed and the cosmic system circulating in the souls of Ananias and Saphira.
3. Satan severely influenced these people; the life of the reversionistic believer. The gift of Barnabas was based upon grace orientation in the soul.

Now Peter asks a series of questions which gets to the very heart of Ananias and Saphira.

Acts 5:4 While it remained unsold, did it not remain your own? And after it was sold, was it not at your disposal? Why is it that you have contrived this deed in your heart? You have not lied to man but to God."

"The land was yours, right; you could do whatever you wanted with it. And after selling it, was not the money under your control? You were responsible for the land, could you not sell it? They could have given a whole or a part of the profits without there being any sin involved. The grace oriented gift is always of a benefit to the church. This is what the church lives on. What was their reason? Self-centeredness; arrogance; approbation lust.

Peter knew the motivation of Ananias and Saphira. They put the Spirit of the Lord to the test. That was deadly for Ananias and Saphira. They doggedly held to their lies and reversionism.

People on the witness stand, caught in a lie, often double down on that lie. They were both outside the plan of God and had remained there the entire incident. They were a very bad influence in the church. When Bobby speaks of giving, he tells us to give with the right motivation. Grace orientation and motivation is production of divine good. That is what giving is all about. Grace giving is a service to the Lord. Here, it was reduced to a lie; and that is where the big problem came from. They carried out this scheme hoping to deceive God the Holy Spirit. As if the Holy Spirit did not already know all about these two. God cannot allow the distortion of His grace. This attacks the very foundation of His dealings with us. Grace cannot be denigrated. It cannot be exposed to ridicule; it cannot be mocked or lied about or distorted. It is critical. It is the means of salvation. The grace of God. It cannot go without being recompensed by God when grace is distorted.

After Peter denounced Ananias for what he did, then Ananias died. He died to the Holy Spirit. This effected the entire church in Jerusalem. Ananias died because he was opposed to the very reason that Jesus Christ came.

Acts 5:5 When Ananias heard these words, he fell down and breathed his last. And great fear came upon all who heard of it.

Amazingly enough, Saphira also died, because she continued with the lie. Self-justification and self-absorption of these two.

Connection to Proverbs 11:24

1. This is an illustration of what Prov. 11:24b calls want. To withhold what is justly due and it results in want.
2. What is justly due is what one purpose, to give in his or her own heart. What you purpose to give from your own heart.
3. Giving with the right motivation under the filling of the Holy Spirit.
4. Ananias and Saphira represent believers who withhold what is justly due to the Lord. We are unable to execute the spiritual life. Basically, Bobby is talking about our service to the Lord.

The largest percentage of born-again believers are daily practicing self-deception and self-absorption. Believers are right there with everyone else in society. This is why we are moving toward national punishment. Believers have a wrong motivation for and a wrong understanding of their spiritual lives. We are under liability to the fifth cycle of discipline, which could destroy us as a nation. A national sin unto death. This is the same principle as those individuals who lie to God the Holy Spirit. Maybe we could understand when we see it with those two.

Bobby has noted many times the problems in our nation. Much of our problems come from reversionistic believers, they lie to the Holy Spirit and they lack the spiritual maturity they ought to have. This may be why we are witnessing the current state of affairs in this nation. The Lord may purge this nation. It may get worse before it gets better. Those believers who are continuing to grow and advance and use the problem solving devices, God will deliver them. We always look to the Lord.

Acts 5:6 The young men rose and wrapped him up and carried him out and buried him.

Acts 5:7 After an interval of about three hours his wife came in, not knowing what had happened.

Acts 5:8 And Peter said to her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much." And she said, "Yes, for so much."

Acts 5:9 But Peter said to her, "How is it that you have agreed together to test the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

Acts 5:10 Immediately she fell down at his feet and breathed her last. When the young men came in they found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her beside her husband.

Acts 5:11 And great fear came upon the whole church and upon all who heard of these things.

Do's and Don't's Regarding Giving

1. Giving grudgingly reflects a bad spiritual mental attitude. Their problem was their motive. When they are grace disoriented, that is a failing spiritual life.
2. Giving does not depend upon what you have on your bank account, on the sale of land like Ananias and Saphira. It does not depend upon your financial status at all. It depends upon grace giving. Too many think that the amount that they give is what is important.
3. Giving requires a thought pattern that reflects the right motivation that reflects the right motivation of grace orientation. How critical is grace orientation when it comes to divine good. The motivation for producing divine good comes from grace orientation.
4. A comparison of giving with love.
  - a. The believer who is stingy in giving money is stingy in giving love. That is love towards God, personal and impersonal; and ultimately towards people.
  - b. Capacity for love is lacking without right motivation of grace and doctrinal orientation. Love is an important thing in this world. Lacking or non-existent.
  - c. Just so, giving with the right attitude depends on an individual's capacity to love the Lord. Why do we love the Lord? He is worthy of love. We know how God operates in grace. We are motivated because we gain a capacity to love. We are motivated by the same grace orientation to give.
  - d. Giving with the right attitude means that you love those to whom the giving benefits. In other words, the church, the body of Christ. Too many give for their own self-centered reasons.
  - e. Well-motivated giving is an expression of virtue love.
5. The greater the capacity for love, the more generous the giver. This does not mean the big bucks. What you have is given in the right way. That is more generous than someone who gives a million dollars.
  - a. You cannot fake capacity to love. You have it or you don't. You cannot cover it with a lie. It does not take long to find out that it is a lie.
  - b. Generous giving does not always reflect a capacity to love; or grace orientation. Ananias and Saphira demonstrated this. They gave generously, but their love was towards themselves.
  - c. When the capacity for love is there, the motivation for grace giving is also present. Those two things are intimately connected.
  - d. Scripture says that God loves the cheerful or well-motivated believer.

6. The more love one has, the more love one is capable of giving. Hence the meaning of increase in v. 24. To add to, to gain, to grow in grace. In capacity to love.
7. Giving that is dependant on the inner resources of doctrine and grace and personal love for God, can never exceed the grace and doctrine residing in your soul. That is what it is dependant upon.
8. That is why spiritual growth is dependant upon...
9. It does not matter the amount that is given; what matters is the motivation of grace and the capacity to love in which is it given.

Some who come to Christ, you might not even like. Ananias and Saphira were the poster children for grace disorientation. There is a great example of this giving of the widow giving a penny.

Eucharist March 14, 2021

The cross was a direct fulfillment of what God said would come to pass.

Jesus was accused many times of blasphemy. This is why the Jews picked up stones to stone Him. They believed that they were directed to do this by the Mosaic Law.

Isa. 53:5

Psalm 22:16c

This is a psalm of David, when he was in great anguish. This is a Messianic Psalm which foreshadows the cross of Christ. Almost everything that Jesus says is alluded to in Psalm 22. These are not words of a human martyr, but the calculated, thoughtful purpose which Jesus had. There are 7 things which Jesus says. Matthew records 1, Luke records 3 and John records 3.

3 of these are spoken in the first 3 hours. 3 after the darkness; and 1 during the darkest.

3 had to do with the interest of others. Father forgive them, for they do not know what they do. Then to the thief, "You will be with Me in paradise today." And finally, to John, "Behold, your mother."

"I thirst" declaring the needs of His human body.

"It is finished." The status of the mentality of His soul. As a result of the anguish of His soul, He will see it and be satisfied. My Righteous One will bear the iniquities. From Isaiah.

"Father, into Your hands, I commit My Spirit."

All of these words have great meanings to us. As we do, we can look into the very thinking and actions of our Savior as He hung on the cross. He was beaten and put on the cross.

Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." There were great injustices perpetrated against Jesus; and yet, on His mind was forgiveness. He did not react sinfully. But then, He would not be an acceptable sacrifice. There is no bitterness in Him; no desire to see men destroyed. A prayer of benediction and not malediction. He was calling for clemency for those who plotted against Him.

If ever His character was better revealed, it is by these words.

Eph. 1:7 In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace,

Acts 13:38–39

Our sins are forgiven and forgotten.

Romans 5:8 while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Breadth and depth of forgiveness from Jesus.

On each side was a thief. One man ridiculed Jesus. The other appealed to Him.

Luke 23:42 And he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom."

Luke 23:43 And he said to him, "Truly, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise."

The thief saw a King on the way to His Kingdom; He saw a sovereign Who was God. This man thought Jesus might survive the experience of the cross, in some way. And the thief wanted to participate in whatever this was. He wanted eternal life; and the thief wanted this eternal life.

If anyone who thinks that death is the end, hear those words of Jesus. There is a paradise for the believer after this life ends. There is an assurance of this paradise. There is no good work that this thief had done; yet he asked for eternal life.

Third thing Jesus said. Looking through the anguish of these moments, Jesus saw His mother and His disciple John and He said to them, "Behold, your son; behold your mother."

Jesus, despite His situation, He was thinking of His mother and care for her.

Jesus came to save others. Many people become bitter and things just do not go right for them. They curse God because of their circumstances. Even in His suffering and death, there is no justification to think that Jesus would do anything for us other than the best.

In the dark hours of the cross, Jesus screamed, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" God the Father turned His back on Jesus and imputed our sins to Him. Jesus understood what He was doing, sacrificing Himself for us.

Jesus Christ came into this world and went to the cross in order to save us.

"I am a worm and not a man," is prophecy from the psalms.

Jesus sacrificed for our sins; His separation is our union. Our union is based upon faith alone in Christ alone.

The 5th utterance, was in the fever of suffering. "I thirst." Volumes of theology has been written on this. The Lord's body endured this incredible pain; and we can see through this the humanity of your Savior. Jesus died as a man. Jesus became a man in order to die for our sins. It took God to mediate between God and man.

Heb. 2:14–17 Since therefore the children share in flesh and blood, he himself likewise partook of the same things, that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and deliver all those who through fear of death were subject to lifelong slavery. For surely it is not angels that he helps, but he helps the offspring of Abraham. Therefore he had to be made like his brothers in every respect, so that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people.

Jesus request for water, and He was given vinegar. This was the last thing offered to Jesus for His last request. He gave many water; and He gave Living Water.

“It is finished” is the 6th declaration. In the Lord’s mind, there is a completion which has taken place. All of the righteous claims of God had been met. All through the years, lambs, goats and bullocks were offered. But at the end, He died for our sins and the massive curtain in the Temple was torn in half.

Jesus has conquered death for all of us. Unbelief cannot reduce it; nor can human merit add to it. His Own work was sufficient.

“Father, into Your hands, I commit My Spirit.” Then he bowed His head and He dismissed His Spirit. Jesus had complete control of His life. He laid down His Own life of Himself. He could do so because He is God. Death acts upon us; but here, Jesus acts here. His death is the greatest act of His life. Death could not hold back eternal life.

These 7 sentences are the thoughts of Jesus Christ.

Bobby is going to remind us of where we were previously. Rick always receives great reception from Berachah Church. Our subject was Prov. 11:24 it was about giving and grace. Giving is one of the most misunderstood doctrines of Christianity. It has been misapplied and distorted in so many ways.

Prov. 11:24 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.

Giving is all about the mental attitude. The example that we examined was Ananias and Saphira. They gave with dishonesty. They both died the sin unto death. The example of the grace oriented giver.

Mar 12:42 And a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which make a penny.

Mar 12:43 And he called his disciples to him and said to them, "Truly, I say to you, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the offering box.

Mar 12:44 For they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, all she had to live on."

The Thinking and Motivation of the Widow Who Gave Two Mites

1. In her giving, she did not bring hardship to anyone else. One who neglects his family is worse than an unbeliever.
2. Her inner resources were still there. She did not lose, she increased.
3. She understood grace; logistical grace. She understood that the Lord was at work.

We will continue this Wednesday.

Business Meeting March 14, 2021

10 telephone hookup groups and 10 live stream groups.

Requirement to have a quorum.

Minutes of 2020 meeting; and it is waived.

Letter from Bobby; mentions of COVID and Bobby's marriage. An appreciation for those who make the church work.

Two important deaths this year, David Stuart and Roger Lewis (I think).

A letter from the guy speaking: Incredible changes this year. This was an opportunity to apply doctrine and to stand back and watch the deliverance of the Lord. Because the doctrine that we have been taught, we have learned this principles. The Lord came through and He will always come through.

Security issues; all kinds of problems; and apparently they erected a perimeter fence around Berachah. There were difficult decisions regarding opening up the prep school. Not everyone agreed upon all of the protocols.

One thing that has come from this, we have a video hookup for anyone who is uncomfortable with coming directly to church.

The missionary committee has some large expenditures. Tim Donohoe has taken this over. The ushers have had to do all kinds of extra work.

Now to the financial statement. It is amazing the logistical grace of our Lord toward this church. Contributions of $2.2 million, down from $2.7 million. As we entered December, we were a half million in the red. This was not published to a lot of people. People using grace and the Lord's benevolence, December ended up in the black.

For expenditures. Committees have been very circumspect. Missionaries all over the world with issues that needed to be addressed. They could help a little bit more.

Our church conditions are incredibly good. Very conservative investments. We have almost 2 acres of land in Berachah? The appraised value was $9.1 million (now, before?). This is probably the most valuable land in Houston; and Bob got it when this was a dirt road off of a two lane Westheimer.

There is a lot of work being done in the Spanish language. There is great positive volition all over South America and Mexico and Central America. R. B. Thieme, Jr. Bible dictionary, which they think will be out soon.

New publications and audio specials. A number in Spanish. About half a million audio and video downloads.

R. B. Thieme, Jr. financial condition is incredible. About a $15 million balance there. This is due to giving; and there have been some significant gifts over the past 2 years. This will go on past many of our lifetimes. Such a legacy to Col. Thieme.

Other churches do not understand what we do. They are sending out envelopes and holding various meetings to get money.

Board of deacons introduced.

An amendment.

Words from Bobby. Bobby runs a looser ship than Bob. He head of the board of deacons has given Bobby sage advice, to keep him out of trouble.

Good things have come from COVID, like streaming video to many. Many from distant lands are listening.

What stands out is grace.

Lesson #0199

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT 3/17/2021 Wednesday

The believer scatters and grows all the more prosperous. She gave everything that she had.

The widow certainly fit the description of a woman without any means. How can someone like this increase all the more? How does that work?

How Does the Destitute Woman Increase?

1. This is a spiritual increase
2. She had inner resources which never deserted her.
3. She understood this principle of grace; particularly logistical grace. She gave as a demonstration of God's grace.
4. She demonstrated grace orientation; especially dependency upon the Lord.
5. She did not lose. She increased. She advanced in the application of grace orientation. What she did was grace oriented; and this required her to have a great deal of faith in the Lord.
6. She was also an example to all who saw this sacrificial gift. She is an example of what grace really means and how the Lord provides in logistical grace. No doubt, this woman did not starve. There is nothing more said about her in Scripture.

Mar 12:42 And a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which make a penny.

Mar 12:43 And he called his disciples to him and said to them, "Truly, I say to you, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the offering box.

Mar 12:44 For they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, all she had to live on."

This woman's penny is a very distorted passage. Especially confused in modern times. One must understand grace giving to understand this. If a poor widow could give everything; then you can afford to tithe and give even more. And if you are rich, you should give much, much more. That is the incorrect application. This is a guilt trip put on people every day. It is a wrong thing done in a wrong way. This is typically done by churches and other organizations. God does not love those who give grudgingly. Or prodded out of guilt. There is no increase in that. You are giving with the wrong motive. The conclusion that we do not make, these evil rich were shorting the church, and that was the problem.

Ananias and Saphira died the sin unto death because they lied to the Holy Spirit. This was in the context of giving. Their motive of grace orientation. It was not about financials or about financials. Do not act against grace. Give with the right motives, to disseminate the gospel. That is the only reason to do it. If you don't give for that reason, you are perverting the grace of God.

The anti-capitalist and the socialist love to say that Jesus was a socialist. And they do this to justify their political views. They do not understand anything about grace giving. What Jesus did was not socialist. Jesus did not come to this earth to promote socialistic, welfare schemes. He came to provide salvation for mankind; not to redistribute wealth.

Socialism demands money for the purpose of redistribution. The humanist thinks nothing of distorting the Bible. They could care less about what the Bible really teaches. They will promote any socialist program. They have no idea what the Bible says. Proof texting.

The humanist and even the religious will quote this. They want the wealth to help the children or the poor. "We will support her; vote for us." If this woman can give all, so should you give liberally; now hand it over. That is a gimmick of giving. We have a great book on Giving. The humanist assumes that the widow is poverty stricken. Not because anything related to environment or injustice or the system being stacked against her. That is yanking this out of context. But this woman is a part of Scripture because of her grace orientation. We don't know what happens to her after Scripture. No doubt, she looked to the logistical grace of God. She was not of the attitude, "Now I have given and now I will die."

this passage is not about welfare or charity or how to give in the church. This is about grace oriented. The woman gave of her own free will. There was no inducement for her to give. There is no trade-out here. No promises to take care of her. She had a grace motive which the humanist cannot understand. She is not trying to put others on a guilt trip. She gave a grace oriented example; and this is not understood by most people. Not by the humanist and not by the church. How to get money; how to get money in politics; how to get money in church programs. But not forced giving of money which encourages indolence and economic stagnation. The Bible demands that people work for a living. Gen. 3:17 Deut. 5:13. We are not supposed to sit on our butts and draw welfare. You may not get paid what you think you are worth.

People lose jobs and some are out of work. Some do not want food stamps; they don't want to draw unemployment. You don't stop working because you can make more money on welfare than on a job. We cannot ignore what the Scriptures tell us. We cannot ignore logistical grace. What a great example of the motivation that we live by. This world does not live on grace. Too often, we think, what can we get from someone else for nothing?

Some try to make the lesson of this passage, this woman gives from her soul. People cannot believe that we have not asked for a dime in Berachah Church. We increased and we have scattered the Word of God. We give willingly being grace oriented. We reap in the same way. There is always a spiritual increase.

We like to scatter by investing money and we like a return on that investment. For church, we scatter money to support the dissemination of the gospel. Even the maintenance of the building.

The church will approve of your big offering, regardless of your motivation. Competitive giving; like an auction. Some pastors can really bark about this or that. They are often more attached to money than grace.

If you want to know how a church operates, walk in and listen to how they ask for money.

Bob was connected to Dan Quayle years ago; and the press wanted to know how Berachah got its money. They were shocked that we did not ask for money. Grace orientation.

The Real Point

1. The point that Jesus makes about the widow is an attitude for giving. It is never about how much.
2. He also made the point of faith and the plan of God. Logistical grace. We are not told what happened to her. We scattered and we increased.
3. Confidence in God's care. Some of us have been in constant financial crisis. Grace orientation is the solution. Just stick with grace.
4. We saw in Acts 4:36 that Barnabas gave from grace orientation.

Proverbs 11:24 One gives freely, yet grows all the richer; another withholds what he should give, and only suffers want.

Scatter is the proper motivation for giving; increase is grace orientation in the soul. The more you utilize grace, the more it manifests itself in your soul. Money comes and goes. Many have been in poverty. Many have lived in deficit spending. But true poverty is poverty of the soul. If you are not grace oriented, then you are mocking the plan of God. We are not to give grudgingly or of necessity. Legalism leads to a poverty of soul. If you think you will get something from God for giving out a lot of money. Straighten out your motive.

People were amazed; they did not think that Bob would just shut the doors without money coming in. Bob knew there was positive volition in Houston and people were growing. If you don't give with the right motivation, then get your money back.

Bob was often called the pastor of grace. He taught this principle from here.

Proverbs 11:25 Whoever brings blessing will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered.

Some Points on V. 25

1. The one who gives liberally will be enriched.
2. This is not simply a promise of monetary returns; it may be true for some. Large monetary returns may be less than lucrative.
3. This is a promise of a spiritual return; spiritual prosperity.
4. The generous person, who is the grace oriented person, will always prosper; spiritually. When you understand this, it demonstrates that you are a maturing believer. When you understand grace, you are a maturing believer. You understand how the plan of God works. What God does for you is up to Him; it is not up to us. God directs us in His plan. God never fails to do that.
5. Grace giving multiplies grace. There is a grace return; a return in your soul. The more motive the grace you have, the more grace in your soul.
6. Remember James 4:6 God makes war on the arrogant; but He gives grace to the humble. Arrogance is not grace orientation.
7. Missed

8. God gives people wealth; but that is with a purpose. The plan of God is for everyone to stay in that plan. We are blessed with certain things. Grace orientation was a difficult subject for the Jews then; because they were very legalistic.
9. The blessing of God's grace is the reaping that results. Arrogance today is applauded by people in general. It is reverse as self-confidence. Loud self-promotion is often the means. The louder you are, the greater you are.

Grace Orientation in Thinking

1. Grace is the thinking of the grace oriented believer. The person who sees himself in the light of God's grace. He understands what God has provided.
2. Humility is the attitude for success and promotion in the plan of God. God makes war on the arrogant. God gives grace to the humble.
3. God promotes those who develop the humility of grace orientation. The promotion is in God's plan, whatever position that might be. God does not necessarily move us to the position that we want.
4. Those who are grace oriented are the ones God exalts. The ones who do not exalt themselves. They are humble. The Lord comes first. Self-centeredness is a terrible way to live.
5. You are not exalted until God promotes you. It does not matter how high you go. In whatever situation that you are in. The plan of God is what matters.
6. Humble yourself under the mighty hand of God, that He might exalt you at the proper time. The grace oriented man or woman who God can prosper. Then and only then, God can promote you in His plan.

It comes down to a plant analogy. If we are not watering, we are withering. Lots to say about this next line.

Proverbs 11:25 Whoever brings blessing will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered.

Lesson #0200                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT                      3/18/2021 Thursday

The first line is easy, and we studied that last night. We will cover that first half first.

Proverbs 11:25 Whoever brings blessing will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered.

The Generous Man

1. This literally means, the soul of blessing, the person of blessing.
2. Blessing in the Bible describes a present, a gift, a special favor.
3. This special favor among advancing believers occurs in the inner life.

4. This is the believer with a soul filled with doctrine. Through Bible doctrine, we gain wisdom. The books of wisdom literature are filled with wisdom; behind that is the fundamental doctrines of the Bible.
5. The generous person has true capacity for love. This one with true capacity is the one who is grace oriented.
6. The favor is an expression of grace orientation in two ways: in giving of self or in of material resources.
7. This is the person who dispenses kindness of benevolence. Kindness and benevolence, who has that same attitude as the poor widow that we studied last night, who depended upon logistical grace. She bestowed that favor on others and she received a grace blessing from it. She was a generous woman.

The generous person will be prosperous. That is not what this really means. Dashen is the verb. Means, to be made fat, to be made greasy; to be well-fed, well-nourished. Prosperous means to be made completely satisfied; to be happy. The grace mental attitude provides a great inner happiness. Contentment and satisfaction with your life. People are not satisfied with the conditions of their life. So many people, whether wealthy, poor, middle-class, and they are not satisfied. Nothing to do with materialism. That attitude is grace orientation. What you have and the condition that you are in are in the hands of God; that means the God is in charge. The more satisfied you are. This is a happiness that most unbelievers and some believers do not have. Some are only oriented to what they attain or what they wish to attain.

Contentment and satisfaction are by-products of inner happiness.

Second line: he who waters will himself be watered. Water can be associated with growth and blessing. When we water a plant. Here, the plant is other people. When we water, not only are others watered, but we too are watered. This does not mean that we turn the hose on ourselves. How are we watered when we do the watering?

The second line is synonymous with the first line. This means, this watering is exhibiting kind and generous conduct towards others. To generously provide for others and, in doing so, for yourself.

The Second Line of V. 25

1. This means to provide water for the thirsty. Metaphor. By generously giving to those who are in need of it.
2. The generous person is the one who waters others, both spiritually as well as materially. Primarily, spiritually. That begins to make more sense, when you look at the metaphor.
3. The watering is done by the mature believer. Exhibiting grace and doctrinal orientation. That is the person doing the watering.
4. It concludes that grace oriented believer, who is the one who waters, is also being watered by his or her own grace orientation.

Exhibiting, producing, also has a wonderful result to us as the waterer. In the context of giving to the church, this watering means to give. How God leads a believer's soul to give. Watering others with the resources. Bringing water to others for a good purpose. This brings that great result. That generous person will be watered. There is a return of water from water given.

When a flowering plant is watered, it returns with growth and abundance. Metaphorically, believers are watering others. They receive a return of being watered. The waterer who waters the plant, the plant grows, and it produces something for the one doing the watering. A plant outside produced a gardenia; and the return is that flower blooming.

Seeing other believers grow who are watered who are blessed with grace orientation. Also to see others around you grow. The water of the Word does this for all of us.

How Does this Work in the Spiritual Life?

1. On one level, Jesus gave us water, the water of salvation. John 3:5 4:10, 14–15 we call that water the gospel. So we are watered with the gospel.
2. We as believers who have responded to the gospel, are used by Christ in saving others. That is what we do in witnessing. We are watering them with the gospel of Jesus Christ. That is the meaning and wisdom of a passage Prov. 11:30a
3. On the other hand, for the believer, providing water also waters us.
4. We are being watered by the application of grace and doctrinal orientation. We get the return of spiritual growth and maturity. We are the waterer and we are being watered as well.
5. We become the generous person, who lives by grace, who waters with grace orientation.
6. In that maturity, that grace orientation, we represent to others, what spiritual advance can do in our lives. There is no greater testimony than the spiritual advance in our lives. Nothing more wonderful than the grace oriented believer; functioning in grace orientation. We are prosperous in our soul. We are a waterer.
7. Thus, others are being watered and we ourselves are being watered all by Bible doctrine. That is essentially the water by which we water others.
8. By advancing in the spiritual life, being watered, the mature believer becomes an example of grace and doctrinal orientation. That has a tremendous impact in this world. Others are watered by that impact.
9. So we benefit from being watered by doctrine, as do others. We see the benefits of grace and are watered by the grace orientation of the mature believer.

Once you understand, the metaphor is quite simple.

There are some principles that can be taken from this verse.

The Grace Oriented Person

1. The grace oriented person is the generous person. The unbeliever can be generous; and we are often, here, talking about material prosperity.
2. But, the generosity of grace never exhausts the resources of grace in grace orientation. Grace is never exhausted. They never run out. It is infinite.
3. Grace orientation is never finished. It continues to grow. Just as doctrinal orientation continues to grow.
4. Grace can be seen as an investment. It can be expressed physically. What is in us comes out of us. We are what we think. It comes out a grace in action.
5. The profit is based upon the advance of the inner resources of the grace oriented believer. That refers to a spiritual advance. Everything revolves around spiritual advance; we are watering with doctrine. We are then prosperous. That gives a return in our own growth.
6. Therefore, giving from the motivation of love and grace is grace in action in the soul. That is the action of the mature believer.
7. Something else to remember, grace orientation never exhausts the capacity to love. Intimately connected to grace orientation. Grace orientation focuses away from yourself and onto someone else. This life is not about us but about what God does for us. Our capacity to love becomes greater. Love is not expressed when you are self-centered. You may express a certain love, but you are what you think and you are what is inside of you. You had better check your spiritual life.
8. Capacity to love is increased by grace orientation and grace oriented giving.
9. The decrease of love, the lack of capacity to love comes from legalism. It is all about me and all about what I do. It is all about what people think of me. Stinginess of soul.
10. The result of such grace oriented watering, the watering of kindness and generosity always receives a grace return from the Lord, as per James 4:6. This is the other side of that coin. We get a return when we water others. Now we are talking about a grace return from the Lord. Humility is a result of grace orientation.

As a pastor, Bobby knows the abundant return, the satisfaction of watering this congregation with the Word of God. He hopes that we are getting soaked and saturated. This is great satisfaction to him. That is what his life is all about. It is certainly sweet employment indeed to be the waterer of a withered soul. This is the experience of any pastor who teaches the Word of God. When he studies and teaches, we are watered and Bobby is watered as well. In both cases, Bobby is a generous person, and we water one another.

Proverbs 11:25 Whoever brings blessing will be enriched, and one who waters will himself be watered.

V. 26 changes subjects.

Proverbs 11:26 The people curse him who holds back grain, but a blessing is on the head of him who sells it.

Some Points

1. Grain represents a necessity. Needed for society to eat and survive.
2. This is an allusion to holding back grain in order to sell it at a higher price. Price gouging of a food product; withholding for more profit.
3. This has a parallel with the freezing week that we had. Selling a bottle of water for an exorbitant price for those who had none. That is withholding something which is indispensable. There is an element of extortion in this. $20 for a 17 oz. bottle of water. But there may be no other choice. It happened. This person is called a profiteer. Not a good word. Charging a ridiculous for necessities for something that would be, in normal times, much less expensive.

Our passage speaks of withholding grain; but this is like withholding water. Those who withholding are disliked. This was well-known among the Jews. Known in financial centers. The targum produced in Aramaic when Hebrew was declining. Hebrew to day is not ancient Hebrew. No one speaks Biblical Hebrew; same for Latin. The targum began to be written when Hebrew began to die out and this is done in Aramaic. There is some interpretation done in the targums.

The one who withholds corn will be abandoned to his enemies. The Jews understood this perfectly. Profiteers might be turned over to their enemies.

Just as everyone else, particularly merchants, need to have a social conscience, they need to have some integrity and some honesty, particularly in times of adversity. Profits are legitimate. Profiteering is condemned by the Bible. Not profit. It is worth noting because this is still a problem today. A problem in Houston a few weeks ago. This is not going to change. The government cannot legislate against it. Whenever there is an opportunity, something like this will take place.

This law of blessing and cursing, does not emanate from the ruling class of the nation. It is not legislated. Nor is this an edict of government. This is a general statement of wisdom for all the populace to follow. This is a matter of volition and ethical practices. We don't get wisdom from those who tell us how to live. Personal ethics is necessary; and doctrinal orientation gives us orientation to life. It is a matter of volition and not imposition to fulfill v. 26.

Closing Points for the Night

1. There is a balance between the wealthy few and the needy many. Both need something. Those who sell should make a profit. Those who buy need that item.
2. This is speaking of the classes of society. The wealthy, the middle class, the poorer classes. Either class possesses its own brand of power.
3. One is the power of wealth and influence. The other is sheer numbers and the pressure that can generate. We have the wealthy, the influential, and we have everyone else. We see this in Wall Street and on the street. Royalty used to be the upper classes. This is called class warfare. We are looking for a balance; and that is what we find in v. 26. Class warfare can be very divisive.

4. The dominance of any part over the other is tyranny.
5. Tyranny springs from self-interest over society's best interest. Tyranny springs from self interest over society's best interest.
6. Liberty lies in the balance of everyone's interest. It is a balance from the economic viewpoint.
7. This proverb refers to what is just for all; not social justice for some. Today, the so-called cancel culture is the epitome of class warfare; an ideological class warfare. They would withhold rights of certain groups and act as tyrannical profiteers and they will be cursed for it. They do not have society's best interests at heart. They are cursed by the society, when freedom is missing. When wisdom is violated, there is self-induced misery and divine discipline.

Proverbs 11:26 The people curse him who holds back grain, but a blessing is on the head of him who sells it.

Lesson #0201

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

3/21/2021 Sunday

Road might be closed

Proverbs 11:26 The people curse him who holds back grain, but a blessing is on the head of him who sells it.

It is very easy to take this verse and go wild with application. We must understand the context before we make these applications. The first half refers to a simple extortion by a seller of a food product. Grain was used in almost everything. This product was a necessity for society as a whole. But the seller holds back that grain, that necessity. Held back during that famine, blight or whatever. He does this in order to gouge the people. He has people trapped between survival and financial ruin. He is a profiteer; a black marketer; he has no integrity, no honesty; it is all about making money at the expense of others.

This is certainly a buyer and seller type market. So we can place this under the heading of capitalism. This person is reviled by the people who he squeezes. He is headed for great, great trouble. Any gain will be loss. People despise such a person and people will hold this against him for a long time.

There is an opposite side to this. It is the honest and trustworthy person. Blessing will be on the head of him who sells or does not withhold for an exorbitant price. He sells at a price that the market will bear, without cheating or gouging. People can buy their needs without overtaxing their resources. Such a person is a blessing to the public.

No rule in this verse is given about when the seller must sell and at what price he must sell. This is not promoting government control or socialism. It simply says that there is a backlash on the profiteer; and that there are consequences on him beyond what is legal.

We see the good and bad side of capitalism. The warning allows for the freedom of supply and demand; and a warning against the abuse by the public. This verse clearly indicates that there are times in a capitalistic market where the seller over-extends the value of his product, all for self-interest rather than for public interest. This is both divisive and destructive. This kind of activity breeds class warfare. It often promotes socialism to fix it.

Imagine the outcry where goods like water became scarce; and imagine that HEB or similar market withheld food that is already in stock. The public only sees empty shelves. Suddenly, these items appear at 3x the normal price. There would be protests, anger, unrest in the streets. But people would have to pay to get the necessities.

On the worse side, there might be mobs savaging or worse. This is the harbinger of the 4th cycle of discipline.

The Unscrupulous Acts Wrongly

1. The circumstances of want and need greatly matter in the decision of the seller.
2. It is not just about making money, although that is a legitimate motive. The profit motive is legitimate. Someone who has an idea, who has the means of production, who puts a good product on the market, there is nothing wrong with that.
3. There is another part to this, a critical principle: responsibility to others and to the society as a whole. That is personal and it cannot be legislated. You cannot legislate morality or integrity. This is a personal thing; it is a part of the soul of the individual. With immoral thinking, this takes place.
4. The seller must not take advantage of people in distress and hardship.
5. The consequences are not named here; but it guarantees that there will be. It is the evil in the soul which causes this.
6. The Bible commends charity; and compassion in such difficult times.
7. The Bible does not promote socialism for all times. Socialism punishes the wealthy and the owners by alleging that they are immoral. That just is not true. Socialism, when it is instituted for those reasons, begins the tyranny of the mob. We have such a tyranny today.

Wealth disappears; greater poverty and want under socialism. The hungry are not to be left without a protecting law.

Black market is just as bad or even worse under socialism. This happened in the old Soviet Union. Venezuela today. It is a nightmare today. There are riots and they are put down. That is what socialism does.

How this Works in Today's Society

1. This protective law of society is a great, self-acting, honest divine establishment principle of economics. These cannot be denied. Integrity in business. The great handshake principle. Very little of that today. Even with contracts, things get dicey. Courts are filled with such disagreements.

2. That is the true spirit of capitalism as a blessing to the society as a whole. The great, self-acting principle of economics. It requires personal integrity. That is the protection. Personal integrity protects divine establishment. One of them is honesty in business.
3. There is a societal arrangement or compact that exhibits and extends integrity and honesty on both sides.
4. On the one hand, the person holds back important products, and this person is despised by the people. One consequence is regarding business.
5. On the other hand, he who sells at a fair price, from a conscience that supercedes greed is loved and blessed.
6. But when this self-acting honest and divine establishment principle of economics is in effect, all classes of people are benefitted.
7. There is a caveat: the wealthy need humility and conscience to be loved and blessed; and to profit. Greed and gouging people do not last. Honesty and integrity bring profits that continue for a long time.
8. Those without wealth must not blame capitalism for dishonesty. The dishonesty comes from the souls of those who do wrong. There should be no embracing of socialism or class warfare.
9. The distress, the non-wealthy need equitable treatment in order not to curse the wealthy. When they curse the wealthy, this brings down the society.
10. When it is the principle of self-acting, honesty and integrity in economics, it results in a balance which makes for a society of mutual benefits. This is why every economic system has its flaws. Marxism and socialism and flawed. Capitalism is the best system for prosperity.

More Points

1. In this verse, the specific results of the blessing and cursing are not given. They don't say what is going to happen.
2. But, the evildoer is left under a divine penalty of cursing. A divine penalty, like the cycles of discipline cannot be halted or abated by the solutions of man. Divine penalty cannot be changed.
3. This is a statement of blessing and cursing that fulfills and reenforces the reality of the divine principle of societal balance; not class warfare. This is a prohibition of class warfare, which rips a nation to pieces. We have seen this for 50 or 60 years in our society.
4. No ruler or government can interfere with such a providential arrangement and solve the problems of class warfare. They do that simply to grab power.
5. The solution is the pivot and divine establishment in a nation.
6. Solutions do not come from the triumph of one part of society over another. Like the proletariat crushing the rich.

7. Solutions of equal benefit to all parts of society come from divine providence, and integrity within the population, and the application of divine establishment. A strong middle and working class.

Let profit and wealth be made; and let labor share in those profits. Let the product be reasonably sold to those who need or want it. One lifted over the rest is not the solution. This must be accepted without interference of manipulation by government. Government compounds the problem. Government often will overreach and indulge their own desires. It is all about power and money.

Good case in point. Green energy. It is the rage today. We all hear about it. It is presented as the solution for all of our problems. Thus brings the Green New Deal from Otasio-Cortez. There is much money to be made by this by some. They gouge the public.

Capitalism at its best reaches an unsigned agreement between buyer and seller. Things are sold at reasonable prices; and the best product rules in the marketplace. That is the atmosphere of a client nation that adheres to the principles of v. 26. This requires honesty and integrity on both sides.

This blessing that Bobby is speaking of and it has been true of our nation for hundreds of years. Our blessing is based upon capitalism with integrity. No matter what we do, the poor will always exist. We have enjoyed great blessing more than all other nations in history. The tyranny of socialism does not let go. Those who embrace it remain in abject poverty.

Closing out this Verse

1. This is a great illustration of grace in action. Capitalism at its best represents grace in action.
2. Grace seeks to preserve those who are undeserving. The Lords looks at us as undeserving, but His grace abounds towards us.
3. No one deserves anything from God. If we deserve better treatment from God, we are wrong in that thinking. This grace is provided for us.
4. We have a practical case of grace in this verse. The seller must exhibit a gracious attitude toward his customers; he should not be simply a profiteer. Graciousness does not preclude profit. It does preclude the welfare of those who are buying.
5. Fairness demonstrated towards all, even the undeserving. Yet, they too can enjoy the blessings of capitalism, even when they denigrate it. People rioting in the streets while talking on their cell phones.
6. Profits are greatest when the seller is grace oriented towards his customers. That means service. The entire society is benefitted. That is what happens when a nation fulfills this verse.

Proverbs 11:26 The people curse him who holds back grain, but a blessing is on the head of him who sells it.

V. 27 appears to be so general that it requires no discussion.

Proverbs 11:27 Whoever diligently seeks good seeks favor, but evil comes to him who searches for it.

The decisions that we make determine the life that we lead.

Lesson #0202                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT   3/24/2021 Wednesday

Bobby's picked the next chapter already.

Proverbs 11:27 Whoever diligently seeks good seeks favor, but evil comes to him who searches for it.

One generally receives the consequences of the kind of life a person pursues. The decisions that we make determines the life that we lead. This is very definitive about those kinds of decisions.

Good and evil don't always appear to be so clear. But this verse makes them very clear. An evil person can continue in their evil ways for years.

2 observations, v. 27 is always true. There is no mistaking the truth here. We look at what we consider evil, and we wonder why God lets this go on. You would think that lightning bolts would be raining down upon us.

That evil might not be destroyed when we think it should. Evil is evil; and God's justice is aligned against it. Don't worry; God has it all under control. There is something else here. We can never know all of the circumstances in an evil person's life. What we can see is not enough. There are always unseen pressures, fears, dissatisfactions, guilt, etc, none of which we may not see. There are all kinds of things which can be used by God against evil people. Evil people always produce self-induced misery. When you see evil people who seem to be doing well, they are not doing well. All of these things can be present in the souls of humanists, atheists, agnostics, off-the-deep-end politically. All of those who seem to be in power, who seem to be wealthy, who seem to be doing everything right; if you could look into their souls, self-induced misery is rampant.

Bobby had a friend who had problems with another person. Don't worry about that person doing well. They are miserable and you cannot make them more miserable. They are as miserable as they can be with no help from another person. This is the idea of taking matters into your own hands, to fix what the justice of God is not doing (in your opinion).

The justice of God in punishing evil, which no person can escape; conversely, the grace of God, in rewarding divine good that only believers can produce.

Diligently seeking is a different verb than the second one in the second phrase. This is shachar. It means, to diligently seek (divine good). The believer ought to seek out divine good and should do so diligently. We do it under the motive of very positive volition. Positive volition is a seeking quality. When you are diligently seeking, you have positive volition at work. You know what divine good is and you pursue it.

What is being sought is found in this same verse.

Two Verbs

1. Bachah means to strive for [favor].
2. In the Church Age, one strives for favor.
3. Striving for that which is the product of divine good. This verse is directly related to you as a believer in Jesus Christ. You diligently seek divine good. You also strive for favor.
4. Make good decisions in striving for favor in applying maximum doctrine.
5. The believer produces divine good that pleases God. All the good deeds in the world do not please God unless they are divine good. There are good things done which benefit other human beings; but that is not necessarily divine good.
6. Therefore, the believer is striving for favor through producing divine good. That is what that verse means.
7. This favor is a grace benefit from God. We cannot produce divine good without the filling of the Holy Spirit. This is a grace benefit for eternity.
  - a. Producing divine good is a product of divine resources, like the filling of the Holy Spirit and the application of Bible doctrine to experience.
  - b. There is blessing associated with the production of divine good. We seek the favor of God through and there is blessing associated with the production of that divine good. But that is not our only motivation; we do this to glorify God. We are blessed in doing divine good.
  - c. This blessing is the blessing of advancing the living the spiritual life, which is entirely provided for believers by the grace of God. The spiritual life is a grace provision. We cannot live it without the grace of God. God has given us the resources to produce divine good. We produce it and we receive favor from God.
  - d. Striving for that favor means that the believer is pursuing the spiritual life above all else. That is striving for the favor of God.

Next a conjunction of contrast. It introduces the second line of this antithetical distich; but we now have a third verb. Darash, as we see on the board. There is a nuance of meaning.

Darash

1. This means to resort to or to seek the place of.
2. Resorting to evil or looking to the place where evil might be done.
3. This means actively searching for evil and succumbing to it.
4. That place of evil is always under the auspices of the sin nature.

5. This verb indicates a very strong desire to find something that is evil; you are looking for it.

Whichever way we translate this verb, it refers to that evil which is produced by the sin nature. Many times we tacitly fall into the patterns of the sin nature. This is not that way; this is seeking for it, looking for it, finding the place where it is. We may resort to it when controlled by the sin nature. Carnality leading to reversionism.

Two Meanings of Darash

1. Both connotations of darash are present when it is understood that the carnal believer frequents the sin nature's control. This when we resort to evil and seek the place where evil is done. This presents a great picture of the sin nature.
2. It is the place a person resides and produces evil and, under the control of the sin nature, that evil finds him.
3. Evil will come to that person; evil will descend upon that person. That is a way of life for that person. The cosmic system way of life.
4. And evil will be sought with great vigor; the reversionist seeks it out; he likes it, it is the way of his life. The person seeking to do divine good is seeking the face of God.
5. For the unbeliever, misery in time and eternal punishment.

There are no vagaries here. This is a simple dichotomy between good and evil. There are no hazy areas around good and evil. People seeking deeds of evil; pursuing that as a way of life. There are times when that is so obvious. Like the recent mass murders. That is evil no matter how you look at it. Often evil is much more subtle and come be in the guise of doing something good. How many politicians claim to have the solution to all of these problems. Sounds good, but it is all about power. Good deeds with evil motives is evil. Satan is the master of deception. He parades as an angel of light, pretending to be good when he is pure evil. We must not mistake that face that wil does reside in the heart of man.

It is not always just about that person's environment. That is the incomplete understanding of evil; or the denial of evil. There are evil people with evil motivations. Fallen nature of humanity; we all have it. It begins in Adam.

They think that, if this guy did not have a gun or if he had counseling, then he would not have done it. They do not understand the problem of the sin nature. The problems of mankind is within. The only sure change is to change that which is inside. What changes their thinking? A real change in thinking. For the believer, it is growing in grace. That is a renovation of the soul.

A person can seek diligently. The life a person leads is determined by a choice and the following actions of that choice.

V. 27 is quite definitive; and this is how the believer is set apart.

Proverbs 11:27 Whoever diligently seeks good seeks favor, but evil comes to him who searches for it.

In v. 28, it is trusting in wealth rather than trusting in the Lord.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Money buys a lot of details of life. This is not saying that riches are evil. But to make the detail of life to be the driving factor of your life, the details are just that. But when the details of life become all-important; become the priority, temporal success. Details of life can be innocuous in themselves. But where the believer is involved and he ignores the spiritual life and he ignores spiritual advance, then the details of life become the only means and the only means of happiness and contentment; and their lack, discontent. It is the production of divine good or evil. Thus the emphasis in life is misplaced. The scale of values of such a believer; and these details become much more than just details. They become the most important thing in life. The wrong emphasis. The produces self-induced misery and it destroys capacity for love. These people are users of others; they are unappreciative, ungracious. Nothing wrong with pleasure, health, friends and all materialistic things, unless they supercede the Christian life.

One of the biggest details of life for so many people is wealth.

What this Verse Says

1. Making riches a priority and trusting in it for security is to fall.
2. Falling here is an image. Falling is dangerous. Falling can be fatal to an older person. Bobby thinks of falling as jumping out of an airplane without a parachute. In this case, it is the fall that is deadly.
3. The image of falling is ruination of a life. So many think that money is only the thing you should pursue.
- 4.
5. Ruin is an ever downward spiral.
6. An obsession with making money is the road to ruin. This is also the road to self-induced misery. Today more than ever. We see everything that money can buy; the homes, the yachts, the cars. Money can't buy happiness. Some people with money are very unhappy; they are afraid that they are going to lose it. It becomes an all absorbing pursuit. Making money can be the roughest and most cutthroat of sports. This is why there courts are filled with civil suits. They don't want to part with it and they do not want to be cheated out of it.

Bobby is coming around to the 17th year as the pastor. Several people left church over this verse. 1Cor. 6:7 it is already a defeat to you that you have lawsuits against one another. Paul says, why not rather be wrong? Why not rather be defrauded? The courts are better than pistols at dawn.

Bobby's wife is a court reporter and she can tell you that it is not true. We have a change of thinking. You do not resolve problems; money problems, in court. It is not just that you will lose the money; you leave it in the hands of the Lord. Many people have been cheated and God took up the slack.

Those obsessed with wealth often want to get whatever they can in any way that they can. When people get money from others, they don't like it; then they end up in court. Others see the courts as just a way to make money. There are so many cases where a person is looking to make money from insurance. People sue for all sorts of reasons. It is to make money; and often there is a mental attitude sins involved, and it is bitterness. Some don't care how much money they lose. It costs a lot of money to sue; and you will get more than you could possibly make. It is a good way to solve problems; but not for believers with other believers. The ruin of the soul.

Bobby is not saying that making money is evil; but the obsession with it, that is evil; the prioritizing of it is.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Lesson #0203                      Proverbs 11:28 Wisdom in the OT    3/25/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Contrary to socialist ideology, capitalism is not the fundamental evil. Obtaining money and working are not sins. It does not bring a person or a society to a fall. The key phrase is, to trust in riches (as opposed to trusting in the Lord),

There are just as many difficulties and just as many problems to those who have money as those who do not. Trusting in wealth is the source of all kinds of evil. It is a headlong fall into evil. Trusting in wealth is just a headlong fall into reversionism.

Marxism proposes to remove greed by removing wealth and possessions. The socialist demands trusting in the government for sustenance and wealth and security. As if the government is never greedy.

A new definition of socialism. It comes from a word that is coined. Inept-ocracy. We have heard of so many types of government. Ineptocracy is a system of government where the least capable to lead are elected to lead by the least capable of producing, and those least likely to solve their own problems receive the greatest benefits. People will fall just as hard when they trust in government over trusting in wealth. The unbeliever has nothing like the believer has. So they most often trust in the details of life. Why have they succeeded in things which are considered to be successful, and yet they do not really feel successful.

Why do people strive to make money above all? A better life? More pleasure? Approval, admiration, self-worth, self-esteem. Understand again, there is nothing wrong with making money and lots of it. There is nothing wrong with enjoying the fruits of one's labor. But it must always be put into perspective with the spiritual life. The spiritual life cannot be compromised for the sake of making money.

It is a fact that sometimes the money maker does not even know why he or she pursues it so diligently. It is just what he or she does. The world calls that success. The mere act of making money or achieving wealth that makes it happen. Often the neglect of family or the spiritual life are associated with this wealth accumulation. What might you do with all of that money? Make more money. That is a form of obsession; hence the vicious cycle of making and still chasing ever more wealth. Measuring one's success by the amount that is accumulated. For that success-driven person, there is never enough. The person who thinks and acts like this, who is usually miserly and cheap, they are preoccupied with self and they use wealth strictly for their own self-gratification. They may keep trying to satisfy their opulent lifestyle, but without being satisfied. They get X, so then they need to get Y. They do something, that gets old, so they go after something else.

Chasing money is a series of chasing something that never really fulfills. Bobby knows nothing about us and does not care; whether we have much or little, we have far more than the richest people in the world.

Wealth can be a very cruel master and a terrible distraction. Trust in wealth is a terrible distraction. The true wealth in our lives. All else for us as believers is a road to ruin of the soul, as we bypass spiritual growth and service to the Lord. Service to ourselves is not our primary objective in life.

Sadly, many believers put accumulation of the details of life before spiritual growth. They do not actually know what the spiritual life is. Churches are filled with people who yell loudly, speak in tongues, sing loudly; but they have no idea what the spiritual life is. They give lip service to the Christian life while placing their trust in things which are not doctrinally oriented. Including the all-encompassing preoccupation with wealth. The emphasis is on the money, but not on grace orientation. Such believers fail to acquire experientially righteousness. They are too busy pursuing wealth and power. The believer in this condition will find himself or herself in a pursuit that never satisfies. It is aimless; it is empty. It is no different than what an unbeliever pursues. What did you trust in before becoming a believer? What did you pursue to make you happy? There is something wrong when that is the priority.

Wealth, fame and power is the highest achievement for some people; it is the best they can do.

Chasing after the Wrong Things

1. The believer have a way out of the downward spiral. It is trusting in the grace of God. A spiritual life of contentment, happiness, sharing the happiness of God. Whatever details of life that you have or don't have. Fulfilling the plan of God for your life. That glorifies God and not yourself. Trust in money and the inordinate pursuit of money is a dead end.

2. Humility is the order of the day. If you are arrogance or pursuing things for yourself, that means discipline.
3. To glorify self goes hand in hand with changing the details of life. They are two sides of the same coin.
4. Pursuing the details of life like wealth, to the exclusion of the spiritual life, is self glorification and self gratification.
5. It is true, it produces person notoriety, power, influence, comfort, pleasure for self, wealth will do that; but that is a basic problem.
6. It is exclusively seeking the details of life that is the production of the sin nature.
7. The sin nature always provides the temptation to glorify self. Succumbing to the temptation of the sin nature, the longer the fall and the harder the fall. The details of life take precedence of the spiritual life.
8. The pursuit of the details of life, glorifying self, encourages the basic sin of mankind, which is arrogance.
9. The fall is your own arrogance; trusting anything but the Lord is glorifying self.

More Points on Wealth and the Spiritual Life

1. Trusting in wealth represents a pursuit of the cosmic system.
2. This does not mean that you cannot pursue money or make money.
3. The plan of God can be further by the use of the wealth commodity. Trusting in money is a problem; using money with the right priorities is a part of the plan of God.
4. Divine good can be produced through wealth. Supporting missions, evangelism, the dissemination of Bible doctrine, or helping others in need; when done in the filling of the Spirit and under doctrinal orientation.

Philippians 4:11–12 Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need.

It does not matter what the circumstances are. Paul says, “I have learned to be content.” He is content in the spiritual life. He pursues this above and beyond all other pursuits in life. You just need to keep things in priority.

Paul knew how to live when in prosperity; and he knew how to live when being very poor. He had a great life as a pharisee. At times, he was flush; but it did not interrupt his mission in life. In any circumstance in life, I have learned the secret of being filled and going hungry. Circumstances are not primary. They do not have to drive your life; the spiritual life is your priority. That counters the idea of trusting in wealth. We can easily make abundance the priority. Spiritual self esteem rather than human self-esteem. When people have money, they think that they have self-esteem. But plenty of them commit suicide. So any Hollywood people are unhappy. They have it all. And so many commit suicide or are miserable. They have everything that life has to offer and it is not enough. Circumstances drive their happiness or unhappiness. We have the secret to contentment, to happiness. We have what everyone seeks, but do not have. We have the secret.

Having the priority of seeking wealth means no happiness. No spiritual advance. You either advance spiritually and you know how to live in this world; or you do not have a relaxed mental attitude. People with money their greatest fear is losing it.

The Pursuit of Wealth in Life

1. The pursuit of wealth must be kept in proper perspective in the believer's life. You know how to live in abundance and in nothing.
2. The plan of God must come first; whether this includes wealth or any other details of life. It is not the issue. People make it the issue. They want it to be the issue.
3. The believer knows how to be content in whatever the circumstances. Not every believer knows how to do this. Those who grow spiritually, those who renovate their thinking. Those who place their trust in the Lord rather than in the details of life; they know how to be content.
4. Pursuing the plan of God is the greatest wealth and blessing that comes to any believer. Pursuing the details of life above all else brings the ruin of self-induced misery. God will redirect our thinking. One of the greatest punishments of such a lifestyle is self-induced misery. But God is also able to apply pressure through discipline as well. The details of life do not live up to the hype. When you trust in money, you must continue to pursue it. You are worried about losing it, that is fear. That is what drives the stock market, fear and greed.

Have you known a believer who puts wealth over all else; and if they lost their wealth, they could not tell you what they would do. 1929 when the stock market crashed; people lost everything. Suicide was the only answer. That cannot be the perspective of the mature believer. You may have wealth some day; but at least you will know how to live with it. Divine discipline will be piled on top of self-induced misery to return you to the spiritual life.

Wealth could depart tomorrow; especially under socialism. The middle class could disappear suddenly. We, as middle class, have more wealth than the rest of the world. Yet we complain, "I don't have enough money." We have more goods and services at our finger tips than in any society before; and yet, we want more.

Can you imagine a world without cell phones. Circumstances regarding the spiritual life do not matter.

3 Basic Principles

1. Real prosperity and wealth are determined by the object of faith. What is your prosperity and wealth determined by? Your dependence upon money or your dependence upon the Lord?

2. To trust in riches and money is ruin. This one line negates all of their arguments.
3. To trust in the spiritual life of experiential righteousness is success and true prosperity.

Paul knows that success and true prosperity have nothing to do with our spiritual life and spiritual growth. Those who trust in riches will fall; the righteous will flourish like the green leaf.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Second half next time.

Lesson #0204          Proverbs 11:28–29   Wisdom in the OT   3/28/2021   Sunday

Bobby is a living testimony to the grace of God. Some know Bobby and know that he certainly should not have been there. This pulpit was not his choice or his 2nd or 3rd choice. From his own life, the plan of God moves forward. We will end up exactly where God wants us to be. He is thanking everyone for the 17 years.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

This is a warning that we need. We are in the most affluent society of all human history. Riches, if you trust in them, is ruin; those who trust in them will fall. Chasing after wealth is a meaningless chase. This is always less than we think it should be. When the details of life do not live up to the hype of possessing wealth, if you trust in riches as the center of your life.

There is nothing wrong with gaining, investing and maintaining wealth. It is not frowned upon by God; but it is not your first priority. For the believer, the first priority is advancing in the spiritual life. That has been the focus of Bobby's teaching. That is success and true prosperity. Regardless of whether one possesses wealth or not.

This is confirmed by the second phrase:

Proverbs 11:28b ...but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Those who trust in the Lord, not in wealth and riches, will flourish. What does it mean, to flourish?

Parak = to Flourish

1. This prospering is in distinction to prospering in the details of life.
2. This is experiential righteousness; advancing to spiritual maturity. We have positional righteousness from faith alone in Christ alone. There is something which comes after. We still have a sin nature. It is not cut out of the cell structure of our bodies.

3. There is a progression in the spiritual life. We stay in fellowship for longer periods of time. We are better able to apply doctrine. That is what prosperity is.
4. Living the spiritual life is prospering or flourishing. The renovation or blossoming of the soul of the believer. When you trust in that wealth. Your trust is never displaced.
5. This is the green leaf of the second line.
6. The image of the green leaf is indicative of prosperity and fertility, true then in the near east.
7. It represents a believer who puts the spiritual life first. We are a green leaf that will grow and flourish.

This is so apropos for this period of time. We have many brown and dead plants. But we keep an eye out that our own landscaping might survive. We might want to detect any green bud that comes out. We hope to see things flourish once again. Bobby has mentioned the gardenia bush in front of Berachah Church. It really looks bad now. There is no sign of life in that bush. The person who chopped away could see a tiny sprig of green; so it may flourish and produce gardenias as never before. We see this happening everywhere.

Circumstances do not matter. We have problem solving devices; which includes sharing the happiness of God, regardless of circumstances. One is a pseudo happiness which usually ends in ruin. The other is the contentment of the relaxed mental attitude of the believer. This is how we can live and flourish. This has been a tough year for many of us. Some have struggled to make ends meet; some have kept moving on through.

It is all about soul prosperity.

3 Summary Points

1. This verse is not disparaging the refinements and prosperity of a society. It does not say that wealth is ruin; it is all about trusting in wealth.
2. This verse is speaking of the flourishing of the soul, of the experiential righteous.
3. We flourish in the midst of the temptation to pursue human luxury and abundance. That seems to be the highest good in our society. Many of us chase this, especially those with no spiritual life.

Jealousy of affluence is a terrible temptation for those who do not have what others have. That is soul ruin, both for a person's soul and the soul of a nation. Jealousy of others can be a national malady, and we are seeing that in this country. Those who are jealous of the wealth of others, it becomes an obsession. They either want it or they want to destroy it. Similar to the obsession of a man who wants a woman and kills her so that no one else has her (Bobby watches Forensic Files).

We are in a time of class warfare, and that is the basis for revolution. We don't have titles; but today, being wealthy is considered being in the upper class, whether they have no class at all. This classification is superficial. Politicians use this class divide all of the time to garner votes. They embrace socialism, which is the ultimate in class warfare. Racism is used to further class warfare. Those who lead this class warfare believe that the ends justify the means. Socialism seeks to redistribute wealth to the have-nots. By taxing the wealthy or just confiscating wealth. The goal is a classless society. As if distinctions between people can be eradicated. Bureaucracy becomes the middle class and government becomes the upper class in society. Everyone else becomes the under class, and that is our equality. People trust in wealth or in the equality promised by government is a fall.

Bobby gave us a definition on Thursday, ineptocracy, which is what he have today. A system of government where the least capable to lead are elected by the least capable of producing. The members of society least likely to sustain themselves or to succeed and rewarded by goods and services, confiscated from those who produce it. This is the outcome of humanism and it solves nothing. There is no classless society. Others are jealous of their looks, wealth and success. Socialism strips people of their wealth. And you will be trusting in wealth when it is gone.

The only true classless society are members of the royal family of God. This is truly a classless society. We are not divided by race, by gender or by social status. We know how to live in prosperity or how to live in want, with contentment and without class struggle. We know what the solution is, which is why we find class struggle to be appalling. We do not trust anyone who divides the society in order to unify the society. They have nothing to cling to.

Destructiveness of Class Warfare

1. Any class warfare is destructive to a society and divisive.
2. Socialism is destructive to equal opportunity. In the confiscation of wealth and the redistribution of it, they are not looking to let people gain advancing by their own hard work. They destroy upward mobility, which is promised by our society. Many in our society have come from nothing and have gained a lot. But this is not to be where we place our trust.
3. Experiential righteous believers in a society preserve our society. The humanist says we can have a utopian society, if we can just level the playing field and eliminate things we don't like (like racism). What they do foments jealousy and promotes jealousy.
4. There is the opportunity for others to fend for themselves and to build wealth, where there is freedom. The believer in Jesus Christ is not trying to redistribute wealth. Those who want the opportunity to better themselves. Experiential righteousness precludes this in the advancing believer.
5. That is capitalism at its best. When the wealthy become greedy and poor covet their wealth, the system fails. Even capitalism fails. It is ripe for government subversion. National ruin for a client nation. There is envy of wealth; and everyone wants to steal to get it; Ponzi schemes, bank robberies, and will do anything to get wealth, short of working for it themselves. Taking away guns does not remove the sin nature. Their solutions never take into consideration the sin nature of man.

When you hear that cry that we want change, we want to remake America, those are the Marxists who will utilize racism in any way that they can to take power. Don't be fooled by the promises of socialism or the new green deal. Only Bible doctrine is the road to the production of contentment of the new green leaf.

All the prosperity that we see in our nation is the new green leaf.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a green leaf.

Brand new subject, and v. 29 is not as easy as v. 28.

Proverbs 11:29 Whoever troubles his own household will inherit the wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

Can you apply this to life in this moment?

The 3rd divine institution is family; and this is about family, as we have the word house. Family is the backbone of a society; it is the strength of societal fabric. This is why it is under attack. Family is where people should be certain of one another. People ought to be able to find stability and peace within their family. Love and tenderness pour out without awkwardness or ridicule.

According to this verse, it can be a place of great trouble; they can break the trust; their thoughts and words are calculated to control or manipulate. Some will use their words to breakup the family itself, in order to get their way.

Bobby was very fortunate to have a family where there was peace, encouragement and teaching. He has seen the other side of the fence. Those who are the closest can be the most vile to one another. They can build scenes with all sorts of mental attitude sins. Instead of a place of rest, and love and harmony.

What can leap out can be one who troubles his own house. He gains nothing but heartache under his or her own roof. They inherit the wind. The wind can't be held, it cannot be seen, it blows through and departs.

Inheriting the wind is soul poverty. You attain nothing; you retain nothing. You inherit reversionism and disharmony. You have no metabolized doctrine. The priority of the spiritual life is never reached.

In all the Bobby has taught about trusting in wealth, that is inheriting the wind. Poverty of soul without trusting the Lord. We believers do not reside in the hurricane. We reside in the house the stands, not in turmoil, not in constant arguments or abuse. Those are families who inherit the wind. Those who suffer are children. Families today are broken. It is no longer something to be preserved. We hear that it is oka not to hav father in the household.

There is a poverty of soul; this is a huge problem in this country; and here it is in this one line. The troublemaker causes trouble in their own house and he inherits the wind.

Proverbs 11:29 Whoever troubles his own household will inherit the wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

Lesson #0205                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT    3/31/2021    Wednesday

Proverbs 11:29 Whoever troubles his own household will inherit the wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

This is the negative side of family life and what not to do within a family. Way too many absentee fathers today who have not taken responsibility for the children they have sired. God designed a father and a mother to raise children. One perspective only is a problem.

Despite what feminism pushes today, fathers are indispensible. A father who is drunken, abusive or gone; or a wife is irascible or angry; if a child is uncontrollable and disobedient, the nation is in trouble. The nation degenerates as these things occur. If the parents do not know how to love and/or lack capacity for love, the children are negatively impacted. This is so evident in our own society. We have gotten worse generation by generation, reaping what we have sown. We have confusion, gang members, criminality, all sorts of problems of children who grow up without standards, no family guidance, no stability.

The individual reaps non-benefits; and he reaps heartache as a result. The person inherits nothing. You cannot grab wind. It blows through our hair and past us.

There may be physical poverty from inheriting wind; worse, it is soul-emptiness. That is inheriting wind. For the believer, this means little or no spiritual life. There is only misery and pain. No impact for Christ among believers.

Proverbs 11:29b ...and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

End Result of the Destruction of the Household

1. Broken household might include constant bickering and fighting among parents; lack of control and discipline of children; that is trouble.
2. Children become insecure and frightened seeing discord and anger in the home between their parents. We have all seen that, parents who constantly fight. Bloody wars in front of their children. They don't know what to do or where to go.
3. When children have no family structure, they become anti-authority and rebellious. They become the troubled ones who have no values. Bobby did not see this at Berachah, but in college, it was a whole different story. There was a family problem for all of them. Don't trust anyone over 30, and look at what we have today. The children of the children of the children of that generation. They will live in frustration and opposition to authority.

4. They may want more from life, but they cannot find it.
5. Open ended parental brawls are a road to this kind of instability and failure in a family. Fighting parents breed later problems for the children, going into the teen years and leading into adulthood. Parents should never fight in front of their children .
6. Peace in the family requires parental coordination and love from the parents. Love includes discipline. Whom the Lord loves, He disciplines. Not abusive discipline and not discipline where the reason is unclear; no smacking a kid in the face or using a closed fist, not scaring them, not going after them in anger. Discipline for children must always be explained. You discipline a child to teach the child purposes. It makes the point that, if they don't like it; and you tell them why and you give them the lesson, you demonstrate to them love. If you were disciplined by your parents and you realize that they are right now, you stopped rebelling against them, you have learned the lesson about gaining norms and standards in this life. For success in the family, it requires love and coordination. We have all been children, and we want our way; we learn to work parents against one another. Parents must be on the same page with the same standards. It is not a seat-of-the-pants operation; it requires coordination.
7. That requires something from parents; self-control, for believing parents, impersonal love and grace orientation. Bobby learned grace orientation in the home; he saw it every day. No one was more grace oriented than his parents. Grace and graciousness is learned. It is reinforced when you begin to understand the grace of God. It is taught by love and discipline in the home.
8. Without self-control from humility, anger and fear rule the day. You must approach your family circumstances with self-control. That includes between husband and wife. That is a major part of marriage. Virtue marriage must be there. A troubled household is one without Bible doctrine.
9. Impersonal love must be taught to children as they grow within the family. We teach doctrine early in the home. Bobby got that very early in the home. Bobby's mother was an excellent teacher in the home. She brought it down to Bobby's level the teaching from the church. So a child is trained up in the way that he should go. Even in trouble, when the child begins to grow to young adulthood, they can fall back on what they have learned and know works.
10. Trouble may be the parents mismanage family accounts and debts. The person guilty of this economic folly becomes a servant, a slave to his or her own foolishness. Finances are very important in a family. How many over-extend their finances and put their family in trouble.

In the time that this was written, slavery existed among the Jews in the New Testament. Today, we talk about slavery. There are still slaves in this country, coming over the boarder and functioning as sex slaves. Slavery in the Old Testament was a continuing situation. Israel knew it well; they were slaves more than once. Slaves in Egypt; the Babylonians also took the southern kingdom into slavery. They were slaves to the Chaldeans. Do not forget the Romans who leveled Jerusalem and took them all slaves. They Jews understood physical slavery very well.

There is much more to slavery than how we think of it. Humanism is slavery to the foolishness of mankind; God is the Author of freedom. God is the Author of our freedom, even when we don't have freedom. Humanism is a dead end, whose goals are unreachable and forced upon people; and then comprise tyranny in the nation. Also dependancy, which is a form of slavery. Depending upon the government for everything. Telling us what we can and cannot do. Many people want this. They want total dependence upon government. Family failure causes soul slavery in the children and in the parents whose family fails.

Proverbs 11:29b ...and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

The neglect or abuse of one's own family is said to be the sign of a foolish person.

The fool facilitates family destruction. When parents say one thing and do another, then the children follow what the parents do. Self-centered parents do not care what they do in front of their children and they will fight for it with their spouse in front of the children. They children learn how to be self-centered, how to get your way.

The fool inherits wind. That is nothing. It has no meaning at all. The fool gratifies his vanity, self-centeredness and personal appetites. Bobby is amazed about how much crime comes out of an affair and the other spouse finds out about it. The ego is tripped and the anger is monumental. That is extreme. Bad things happen. The parent gratifies himself and his own appetites. But nothing lasting comes of it, apart from destruction of the family. That is the breakup of a family. Sometimes there is reconciliation, but rarely is it the same. Only mature believers can move past such a thing.

People do not think that way; they think about themselves and what they want. They think that the children will figure it out for themselves, but they won't. The entire country becomes divided, anti-establishment, anti-authority. Destruction of the government by rebellion in the nation.

Even our revolution did not overturn our actual government. The desired results are never brought. Just greater tyranny. It does not even need to be a Marxist revolution. The Iranian revolution against the Shah of Iran. He was not a democratic ruler or a freedom-loving monarch; but see what took his place.

Those people in Iran are freedom-loving, but they got a Muslim theocracy. Nothing is worse.

Finally, the fools will be the servants of a certain group, of the wise-hearted.

Who Inherits the Wind?

1. The fools are destined to live lives of misery, pain and subordination. When you have no standards, you are subordinate.
2. Since they reject divine establishment and divine institutions, those who trouble their families, they lose any sense of responsibility to others. If they feel no responsibility to their family, how do they feel any responsibility to a larger group?
3. The troubled ones become entirely self-centered and self-indulgent and they produce serious self-induced misery.
4. The wise-hearted who have made good decisions are their betters. Superior in every meaningful way. If the fools become slaves, the wise-hearted are superior to them.
5. The wise-hearted have kept their families intact, even in the midst of turmoil and even in hard times. Family under attack like never before. Good parents train their children, giving them proper norms and standards. This is our obligation, norms and standards and Bible doctrine; rejected by the society at large.
6. The wise-hearted cling to divine establishment and Bible doctrine with the results that they apply wisdom to their own lives and to that of their families. Nothing is more important than the function of wisdom. Maybe your home should be a spiritual Leave it to Beaver.
7. They become superior to the fools if they follow your guidance. Those in revolt see themselves as being superior. They want to control society and tell the rest of us how to live, when their own lives are foolishness. You recognize this when you have the norms and standards of divine wisdom. Who are the superior ones? The wise-hearted.
8. Freedom is forfeited and people become enslaved to their foolishness. To their sin natures and bad decisions. You narrow your future options and capabilities. Families that make bad decisions spawn children who make bad decisions. Perpetuated enslavement.
9. National disintegration of society is to embrace the folly of humanism. That depends upon mankind for solutions and for a utopian society. You are enslaved to foolishness.
10. Those kinds of souls will spend their lives filled with...they become rebellious and want to tear it all down. They are unteachable, unreachable and irrational.
11. Servanthood is the result of ideological humanism and national revolution.

What if your children fail? What if they depart from your teaching? Your responsibility is teaching them which way to go. Your children have volition and they will act on it. They may go against your teaching. You can remind them and pray for them. But you cannot nag them. You are leaders even now. How do you handle children departing from good norms and standards; they will be unhappy. They will see self-induced misery. And they will see your happiness in the home. That is your hope for them to turn back to the norms and standards that they learned in the home.

We have truth and truth makes us free. We have freedom in our souls. None of us are completely free and without responsibility. True freedom means that we shoulder our responsibility.

People who are enslaved recognize their own inferiority in that bad decisions.

Those who inherit wind will take a place of dishonor in the Christian life. They are anti-authority and they are lawless. They have failed to maintain the pivot of a client nation. They are trouble makers, reversionists, and they have ruined their families, the backbone of society.

Principle

1. The self-induced misery of the fool disorients to the plan of God.
2. This causes them to take a back seat in life; one disaster after another. They are inferior because they are fools with no standards and no doctrine.
3. They have a life of spiritual futility. It is empty of service to the Lord and to their own families. The opposites are the wise-hearted. They have doctrine in the right lobes of their souls. They keep their families together and they train their children in the way that they should go. Those are the wise-hearted.

You will know the truth and the truth will make you free. Becoming grace and/or doctrinally oriented, developing a relaxed mental attitude for stability, are the ones who serve the Lord to the maximum, because of their wisdom. No racial reason; no gender reason, no financial reason; it is based upon what is in their souls.

Proverbs 11:29 Whoever troubles his own household will inherit the wind, and the fool will be servant to the wise of heart.

The important of witnessing as the production of the wise-hearted. We are all witnesses for the Lord Jesus Christ. He who is wise wins souls.

Lesson #0206

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

4/1/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

Ratio of good deeds to bad deeds? That is how many people, when it come to righteousness. They think of it in relative terms. Righteousness comes and goes if defined merely by the good works done by a person. That is the opposite of what this passage is teaching. Our righteousnesses are as filthy rags to God. This is a rather complex subject, a theological subject.

The Concept of Righteous and Righteousness.

1. We understand through previous verses that the righteous person is more than just a good person who does good deeds.

2. The righteous refers to the believer in Jesus Christ, who is justified. Or declared righteous by God. That is an entirely different righteousness than a human work. This is provided for us by God. We are not righteous. We are totally depraved. In justification, we are given the righteousness of God. That is the only righteousness which is acceptable to God. Which one of us deserves the accolade of God?
3. We grow to spiritual maturity, after we are justified.
4. We produce the fruit of that righteousness. That is what this verse is talking about. There is an imputed righteousness; and there is experiential righteousness which occurs as we grow spiritually; and then we have the fruit of righteousness.
5. It all depends upon the grace of God. Growth in the spiritual life also comes from the grace of God. We have no capability of living the spiritual life. We are filled with God the Holy Spirit, and He empowers our spiritual life.
6. This is the same principle of justification and spiritual growth as found in Prov. 11:28b (the righteous will flourish like the green leaf). How does the believer prosper? He advances in experiential righteousness.
7. Bobby has given us the overall view of the Christian life.

The flourishing one is the prospering one, he or she has a true righteousness of condition. That is the production of the spiritual life. It is witnessing for Jesus Christ. That is the fruit produced.

Righteous Production

1. Righteous encompasses justification in a believer. That is the first half of the righteousness for us. The moment of regeneration. Justification is one of the things which we receive.
2. This is a permanent righteousness; we cannot lose it. It is permanent, despite getting out of fellowship and staying there. Abraham believed and it was credited to him as righteousness. We have that same righteousness as believers.
3. This righteousness cannot be lost, despite the lack of good deeds done by the believer.
4. This theological truth eliminates good deeds as a part of the Christian life. The nice things that people do are better than the evil that they do, in Bobby's opinion.
5. We know how this takes place, the creation of righteousness. We are empowered to produce the fruit being spoken of.
6. From that experiential righteousness derives fruit production and what that means.
7. In experiential righteousness, works matter, and what you think.
8. But these are not works produced by mere human effort to do good things. That is relative. Not part of the production of the fruit of the spiritual life.
9. Human effort falls short of the righteous fruit produced when in fellowship with God and under the power of the Holy Spirit.
10. The righteous believer produces the fruit of righteousness, witnessing, of the tree of eternal life. We are witnesses of eternal life and how to have it.

We need to understand this fruit and tree analogy in a very literal sense. When the tree is healthy and growing, it produces good fruit. When it is not healthy or growing, then it produces bad fruit.

The Tree of Life and Righteous Production

1. The tree of life is a metaphor based upon this literal fruit-producing tree.
2. The tree of life is the believer with imputed righteousness, the justified believer with eternal life.
3. The believer then produces healthy fruit, acceptable truth, from a tree of life. The tree of eternal life.
4. The fruit of experiential righteousness in the believer; or the result of experiential righteousness.
5. Divine good in the life of the maturing believer. The divine good in the spiritual life. The production of that fruit is the believer witnessing of Jesus Christ.

Proverbs 11:30a The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life,...

The Metaphor Is Cultivating Growth in the Spiritual Life.

1. The tree of life always begins with Christ.
2. The one who believes in Jesus Christ receives eternal life and then is ready to grow and to produce fruit from the tree of life. We bring the tree of life to the world and produce fruit from that tree.
3. The tree must be healthy; the spiritual life must be healthy. Growing in grace. We should be aware of all this information.
4. Thus the growth of good fruit, which is divine good, will be the production of the growing tree of life.

What exactly is this good fruit? It is the fruit of righteousness produced by the believer, with the filling of the Holy Spirit. Only the believer can produce such fruit. The more the growth of the believer to maturity. The tree of life is growing in growth, growing in knowledge.

The Growing Believer Producing Divine Good

1. From the tree of life, Jesus Christ provides for us. From it springs eternal life and justification and all that comes through faith alone in Christ alone. The tree of life grows out from eternal life provided from the tree of life.
2. The believer then becomes this tree of life by projecting the life of Christ. Jesus showed us how to live that life. We can live a facsimile of His life.
3. Only then can the growing believer produce the fruit of divine good, which springs out of the tree of life.

Caution. What Bobby has given us is rather simple soteriology. There is always confusion about what righteousness is and what it means.

The Caution of Bobby

1. This production is important but it is not required as a demonstration of whether or not someone is justified as a believer. That is where we run into a problem.
2. What is sometimes taught by some legalistic pastors, if you don't produce good works, if you do not live a good life, you are not saved, you are not justified. You must produce fruit to prove that you are saved.
3. Others become your fruit inspectors. Saved or not saved. They inspect the fruit that you produce.
4. If this is true, righteousness, imputed and experiential, becomes dependent upon human good works alone.
5. For them, salvation depends upon a relative righteousness.
6. Why? Because the perception of good works by others, your works, become the sign of justification or the sign of imputed righteousness at the moment of faith. The rub is, if you don't produce fruit, maybe you were not justified in the first place. That is pure legalism.

They teach, if you produce the fruit, then you are saved. If you don't produce the fruit, then you are not saved. Wait just a minute here! Identifying good works is the same as faith+. Faith+works is the means to identify a Christian. That person may be justified, but he must produce. That is totally wrong. Faith+works is never proof of salvation. There is nothing that can be seen on the outside. Fruit production is probably a believer out of fellowship.

In the view of the faith+ pastors, it takes faith+works to guarantee salvation. A person must produce fruit in order to be saved. This thinking takes you to fear for your own salvation. People spend their entire Christian life trying to figure out whether or not they are saved. They are stuck in the mud of salvation. Bobby has had untold arguments about this in seminary. They have a hard time with those who do not show it.

Bobby was in a graduate course of 10 people, and the teacher said, "You all heard what he said in chapel." Dr. Brown asks Bobby to explain why he believed what Zane Hodges (from Dallas Theological Seminary) taught in chapel that day. The teacher was a fine Christian man, but they disagreed on this point.

The righteous here is an already justified person. Producing fruit, divine good, as a result of divine righteousness. This is a production that only believers can do. Unbelievers can produce a facsimile of fruit.

Works Are Not a Proof

1. The fruit of righteousness is an expression of what is in the soul of the believer and what follows by way of service to the Lord.
2. This is a believer whose life is filled with the production of divine good. That is the fruit of righteousness.
3. Always remember, this fruit of the righteous is not a proof which must be present so that a believer shows himself to be truly justified.

4. Nor is this necessary to prove that a person has true faith.
5. Production of fruit is not proof of justification.
6. Faith does not need works to be true faith. Faith is a moment of belief. Faith must have an object, Who is Christ. He died and He took our place.
7. Then Jesus Christ was resurrected. We are guaranteed to have the same life as He does. That is the content of our faith. This is an historical fact. It has been identified. People saw it; people witnessed it. There are many other objects of faith which have no concrete basis. Saving faith is found the moment of believing. The subsequent result makes a person permanently righteous.

Their contention is, the believer will eventually produce fruit. Otherwise they are suspect. Bobby knows people who have produced no fruit even yet. They have not produced even an acorn. Divine good production will not be awarded to them.

The tree of life is a healthy tree; the growing believer is the healthy believer. The reversionist has salvation; but they produce nothing.

Proverbs 11:30b ...and whoever captures souls is wise.

The believer who knows the gospel, can produce fruit, simply from witnessing. Someone else can believe in Jesus Christ as a result. This is the greatest message that the world has ever heard.

Who Is the Believer Who Wins Souls

1. This is the believer who witnesses for Christ. Then, this was a believer who represented the Lord.
2. That is a wise person who follows divine instruction. You are wise if you win souls. This is also the fruit of righteousness.
3. Any witnessing of Christ requires a thorough and accurate witnessing; an accurate account. You had better know it. That is one fruit of righteousness. If you are wise, you do it.
4. Witnessing is the application of Bible doctrine in the accurate presentation of the gospel.
5. The Bible is the absolute norm for truth and the revelation of salvation. The Bible is the mind of Christ. The Bible tells us what our objectives in the Christian life are. This is one objective that we cannot miss. We are stupid if we miss it.
6. The gospel message has divine power. It is the message of grace. It is the message of God's work for us through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ as unique among world religions.

Bobby read a story tonite about a divinity professor at theological school at Duke University. He tweeted that evangelical Christians are the most dangerous people on earth. Then he has the gall to say, "I am a follower of Jesus Christ."

Humanists do not believe that Jesus is our salvation. Jesus cannot be a good man and be a liar. He is our Savior or a charlatan.

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

Lesson #0001

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

4/4/2021 Sunday

Communion Sunday:

How do you make Communion meaningful? You must think with the mind of Jesus Christ, which is Bible doctrine in the soul. We must remember who Jesus is and what He has accomplished for us. We will discover 2 Old Testament heroes, Joseph, Jacob and also the Messiah. How are they all connected? They are connected in proof of life. Joseph proved to his father that he was still alive. He was very much alive and prospering in Egypt. Just as Jesus gave us proof of His death and resurrection after the cross.

Gen 45:25 So they went up out of Egypt and came to the land of Canaan to their father Jacob.

Gen 45:26 And they told him, "Joseph is still alive, and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt." And his heart became numb, for he did not believe them.

Gen 45:27 But when they told him all the words of Joseph, which he had said to them, and when he saw the wagons that Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of their father Jacob revived.

Jesus is found in many people throughout the Scriptures. We see the triumph of the eternal plan of God, and the divine destiny of Israel. And we have the certainty of the resurrected Christ.

The plot begins when Jacob sends Joseph on a mission of mercy, but his brothers sell him into slavery. Jacob only see the blood on Joseph's coat. He is inconsolable. God has a plan for the missing Joseph. Joseph would again rise in the eyes of his father. In the course of the years, after Jacob lost his son. He sent his 10 sons to Egypt in order to buy grain because of a famine in the land of Canaan.

While the brothers were in Egypt, a strange thing occurred. Joseph knew his brothers, but they did not know him. Joseph became a prince in Egypt. He arranged to cause his family to be accused of spying. The brothers, because supplies ran low, had to return; and they knew that they could not return without their youngest son. With great reluctance, Jacob allowed his youngest son to go with them.

They all return and his sons tell Jacob that Joseph is still alive and they received forgiveness. Here was a resurrected son that Jacob thought had died long ago. Did Jacob break down? Did he think that this was a cruel joke? It was just the opposite. This was the greatest news that he had ever heard. How could Jacob be sure? Jacob's 11 sons bore witness to Joseph being alive, and they brought unmistakable evidence. Outside Jacob's residence were Egyptian wagons. Joseph would receive his father and give him a place in a new land. How does Joseph's story parallel that of Jesus?

1. Joseph was greatly beloved by his father as Jesus was by His Father.
2. No sin was recorded about Joseph.
3. Joseph was rejected by his brothers and sold as a slave.
4. Joseph was falsely accused and unjustly condemned.
5. Joseph was delivered and exalted by the power of God. He was delivered from death and was exalted by Jesus Christ, resurrected by the power of God.
6. Joseph received a gentile bride during the time of his rejection.
7. After Joseph was received by his brothers, so will Jesus be received by His brothers in the future.
8. False witnesses spoke against Joseph, as was done.
9. Joseph would be buried in Egypt.
10. Jesus claimed that He would rise up again from His death. A great stone sealed the tomb and Roman soldiers were placed in front of it, to keep the disciples from stealing the Lord's body.

No power could have held Jesus to the grave. Millions have proclaimed His resurrection and have proclaimed that God's Son lives. Does He still live? What are the evidences of His resurrection?

No doctrine is more hated than Jesus' resurrection from the dead. Thomas said he would not believe until he saw the Lord for himself. In skepticism, some explain away Jesus' actual resurrection, as a spiritual resurrection, so that His Spirit still lives on today. When a great person passes away, they leave behind them their work and their reputations behind them. They speak to us from such writings. It is almost as if they are not dead.

There are those among us who do not reject Christianity, but speak of Jesus as a great holy man, a great teacher, Who left a great mark. But He does not now literally live. They cannot envision a personal relationship as if He were still alive and lives among us. He is no different to them than any other expired benefactor.

Believers know that Jesus has been resurrected from the dead; and is bodily alive.

Acts 1:3 He presented himself alive to them after his suffering by many proofs, appearing to them during forty days and speaking about the kingdom of God.

Paul wrote in 1Cor. 15:3-8 For I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one untimely born, he appeared also to me.

How can anyone else be convinced today?

Mat 16:15 He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?"

Mat 16:16 Simon Peter replied, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God."

Mat 16:17–19 And Jesus answered him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven. And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Many have tried over the centuries to destroy the church and to destroy the Word of God. Daily evidence of His continued existence.

After the Lord was crucified, the disciples returned to their old lives, working as they had before. A new world dawned upon them, when Jesus revealed Himself to them.

Jesus revealed Himself to them, and they went throughout the world teaching about Jesus. People would have never gathered for a message about a man who had died; but they gathered to find eternal life through the Lord. Constant speaking about the resurrection and the ascension. Through the centuries of time since then, the doctrine of the resurrection has kept us moving onward. We are partakers of a heavenly calling. Without the message of the resurrection, there is no Christianity; there is no salvation.

If Christ had not been raised, our preaching would be vain and empty. No eternal life without the bodily resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The continued existence of the Bible itself. If Jesus had not risen, the Scriptures would have been set aside. If the Bible is untrue; if any part of it is false, then how can we depend upon it? The Bible must be a record of the truth of God and a lack of error.

The 4 gospels describe Jesus as He was; the epistles describe Jesus as He is. He fulfills the plan of God for us. The gospels do provide the event of the resurrection.

Why would anyone want to devote their lives to a fictitious proposition with no foundation in fact. The Bible has lived through centuries because the subject of the Bible lives.

2Cor. 5:17 Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old has passed away; behold, the new has come.

There is no faith in a great former hero; it is our faith in a Living Savior. When He lives, we live.

Mary Magdalen's greatest sorrow appeared to come upon her when she saw that the Lord was not in the grave. We have so much to be thankful for on this resurrection day.

We approached the resurrection along with the cross. You cannot have one without the other. Together, they are the most important events in history. The resurrection was a real and literal event. Much more than a spiritual one to inspire us. The God-man died on the cross. His human body died; Deity cannot die.

We seem to think that the greatest thing the world can do to us is death. There is the risen Savior. "I am the way, the truth, and the life."

Jesus is the only sacrifice propitious to God. Jesus sacrificed Himself for us. Although this event has the highest impact on the world. Some see it as a great spiritual event and an Easter egg hunt. It has a most significant meaning to believers. Through salvation, we are placed into union with Christ. We can share death, but we are unable to share life. But Jesus has eternal life. As Christ was resurrected, so believers would be resurrected to eternal life. This is the basis for our confidence in the face of death. The greatest fear of mankind is death. People have all sorts of ideas. They conjure up various ends; but the Bible promises our future. It is not a disembodied soul but a physical resurrection. An immortal body.

Beginning with Old Testament Israel, this was all prophesied. The doctrine of resurrection was present. Certain circumstances demand one. Ezek. 37:12 Therefore prophesy, and say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will open your graves and raise you from your graves, O my people. And I will bring you into the land of Israel. And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves, and raise you from your graves, O my people. And I will put my Spirit within you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. Then you shall know that I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will do it, declares the LORD."

The church will undergo the exit resurrection. John 5:28–29 Do not marvel at this, for an hour is coming when all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have done evil to the resurrection of judgment.

1Cor. 15 gives all of the details. Peter ties our confidence in the new birth; our body will be restored to life.

Jesus' resurrection is an indispensable part of the gospel. If Christ has not been raised, then your faith and our preaching are in vain. We are found to be false witnesses of God. If the dead have not been raised, your faith is worthless. Paul understood this not to be true. Without the resurrection, our faith would be placed in a God Who is dead, but that is not the case. Jesus is the firstfruits from the dead. We are next in our time. The resurrection is the supreme fact of human history.

Lesson #0207

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT 4/7/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

What is the connections between these two lines? Often, there is a synonymous parallelism. The first line is metaphorical and the second is straightforward.

Witnessing is one of those activities that the righteous believer does in order to produce fruit. The justified person; the one who brings the tree of life to the unbeliever.

The Synonymous Parallelism

1. The believer produces the fruit of righteousness, by witnessing of the tree of eternal life, which is Christ. That is how they fit together.
2. The tree of life grows out of Christ, from Whom all eternal and spiritual life springs.
3. The unbeliever who believes in Jesus Christ, the gospel message, receives eternal life, which is the life of Christ. The unbeliever who expresses faith alone in Christ alone partakes of the tree of life.
4. The believer who witnesses reflects the tree of life in speaking of Jesus. We are revealing the tree of life to the unbeliever.
5. By taking part in that tree of life, experiential righteousness, developing righteousness in the soul, the mature believer becomes the greatest witness to Christ; and, produces the fruit of the righteous. That is how it all fits together.
6. We understand the first line by the straightforward meaning of the second line.

The second line is about the believer who produces fruit, which is divine good. Producing fruit. Whatever the Lord mandates or requires of us is divine good, and it is rewardable in heaven. Bearing fruit or producing fruit; fitting well with the metaphor of the tree of life. This metaphor is defined in the second line. He or she is the wise one who wins souls and produces the fruit, divine good.

The Second Line

1. Wisdom is demonstrated; the wise one wins souls. The activity of witnessing; you are wise if you do it.
2. This requires a certain amount of knowledge and love of this knowledge to win souls.
3. The activity of producing divine good is winning souls. That is our job. We are wise if we do so. We are wise because we know how to do it and because we are following instructions.
4. Souls here refers to all unbelievers. In relation to divine good, winning these souls is divine good. Fruit production is divine good.

5. Divine good is the fruit production by the righteous believer in fellowship and growing to spiritual maturity. This is how wisdom fits into that equation.
6. It is the wise person who is applying wisdom by following divine instructions. Where do we get divine instructions? It is not whispered in our ear; or received through some mystical experience; it comes from the Word of God. You must hear and learn the instructions. That is wisdom. By wisdom, you make good decisions to follow those instructions. That is being taught right here.
7. The wise person follows divine instructions; by witnessing to the tree of life to the world. This requires a thorough understanding of the gospel. When presented the opportunity, we can present accurate information to the unbeliever. We must know the instructions to follow the instructions.
8. Witnessing is following the teaching of Bible doctrine and teaching it to someone else. You should know the various salvation terms...something about them. The Bible is the absolute norm for truth and the revelation of salvation. Its message carries divine power. When you speak the gospel, you are speaking the power of God. It is the unique message. It is unique among all world religions.

Grace and the Gospel of Jesus Christ

1. Grace is the bedrock of our presentation of the gospel. This sets apart Christianity as non-religious. Religion rejects the grace of God. You earn your salvation. Christianity that preaches salvation by works is not the unique message of the gospel.
2. Religion requires human good works. What do you do to please God? That is religion.
3. Those works are irrelevant to God. He could care less.
4. Our only hope of righteousness is through the grace of God. Gal. 5:5
5. Only the gracious work of Christ on our behalf provides righteousness for us. Only the work of Christ. This is the heart of our salvation. Winning souls simply means that people find out how to get to heaven.
6. The only thing acceptable to God is the work of Jesus Christ. Rom. 4:3 tells us exactly how Abraham was saved.
7. Once the person accepts Christ by faith alone, production of divine good is also acceptable to God.
8. When you speaks the words of God in the gospel to someone else, that is the power of God, greater than any nuclear weapon.

Grace works are very different from man's works.

When you make a presentation of the gospel, that word never returns void. Isa. 55:11
 ...so shall my word be that goes out from my mouth; it shall not return to me empty, but it shall accomplish that which I purpose, and shall succeed in the thing for which I sent it.

The gospel is always sent out in order to win souls. This is the power of a divine presentation. The words of salvation to be accepted or rejected. Accepting the gospel produces a new spiritual life among His creatures. The gospel is the power of God unto salvation. 1Cor. 1:18. This is the power of God for the Christian life. This knowledge impels us to do something. Personal evangelism.

We must not clutter up the presentation of the gospel of Jesus Christ. This is our service. If you go before an audience, so you have no idea in your head? It does not take much to know the gospel. Write it down and/or memorize it. Jesus Christ brings the greatest message. Your job is winning souls for Christ.

Some people have the gift of evangelism. Rick Hughes can do this with a mass audience. You must be ready to make that presentation. It may take you awhile.

In this congregation, you are prepared to spread the gospel through your clear and concise presentation. Bobby gives the invitation after the first service. He presents the Person and the work of Christ and His substitutionary death.

Bobby does not know how you think about this. But we should know that this is an obligation; and this is one of the highest positions that you can enjoy. There is nothing like it, to make a presentation of the gospel, and you can see that someone is interested.

A soul won is a luminous and triumphant...it also suggests a dark counterpart. We know the ailment of the lost and the cure for it. The cure is accepting the Lord's salvation work on the cross. We must have a sense of loss of the horror of a person who dies without Christ, resulting in eternal residence in the Lake of Fire. So many cannot understand that God would do this. But God does not lie. This indicates that we should witness. We must have a compassion for the lost. We could walk out these doors and already you could be gone. Bobby thinks that he may have scared people into believing in Christ during a memorial service. We don't hold their unrighteousness or their political views or even if they hate and mock us. Jesus did not mind this. "Forgive them; they do not know what they do." Redemption from the slave market of sin is the fundamental message.

The reality of lost souls results in the impetus to get the message of salvation to others. We bring the most important message to all. Eternal life in heaven is unparalleled. But we must bring that message of the tree of life to save the lost. We are not responsible for a person accepting or rejecting the gospel. The decision is left in the hands of the Holy Spirit and the volition of the person.

Some lost souls refuse the message, sometimes viciously. We may wilt before strong opposition. Hatred, mocking retaliation; it could all happen. We can read the difficulties faced by the great men of the Bible who evangelize; who have faced such overwhelming hardship to bring the gospel.

There is incredible pleasure in presenting the gospel; but also hardship. To win an immortal soul, with the option to move into experiential righteousness. It is honorable but not without difficulty. It is work for wise believers, not ignorant ones. Those who need wisdom and desire to use it, will get the ability if they ask for it. The message of the gospel is the foundation of Christianity. It is the message of God's grace; it is never focused upon the human being. If a person thinks that they are a Christian because they do good works and read the Bible. Their own works can never save them from eternal salvation. How much do you have to do to please God? How many sins does it take to displease Him? Where is the line in the sand? What if you have not done enough good works? How are you to know?

We Cannot Be Saved by Works

1. All sin displeases God. In case they don't know, they have sinned.
2. No one can please God by their own works. We are all inherently unrighteous.
3. We are born without any way to please God.
4. No one can ever be good enough to meet God's standards.
5. No one can be bad enough to escape God's grace. Jesus told the career criminal, you will be with Me in heaven.
6. Pleasing God is based upon accepting His Son's work on our behalf. That is the way of grace; not works.

Never before has there been a greater need in our nation to win souls for Christ. Injustice is inherent in this world. We should spread the message of salvation. Then the impetus for learning Bible doctrine; wisdom in the soul.

Our spiritual life is also a part of our witness. Do not delay in presenting the gospel. Don't wait for another opportunity. Immediately tell the whole truth to the lost soul, lest he be did when you return. None who try to win can be lazy. We should throw the might of the gospel into the conflict for souls.

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and whoever captures souls is wise.

Lesson #0208

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

4/8/2021 Thursday

If the lesser is true, then the greater is true.

Proverbs 11:31 [If the righteous is repaid \[or, rewarded, recompensed\] on earth, how much more the wicked and the sinner!](#)

Introduction to this Parallelism

1. This is a progressive parallelism.
2. The first line is the lesser; the second line is the greater.
3. To progress from the lesser to the greater, means that both lines must refer to the same subject. Is it reward?
4. The subject in the second line is clear; it is the result of wickedness and sin; so it cannot be a reward.

5. The first line, in order to go from the lesser to the greater, the same subject must be there.
6. Retribution is the subject of the second line; wouldn't the righteous be rewarded and the sinner face retribution.
7. Retribution for the righteous is the lesser.
8. Retribution for the sinner is many times worse. There is the logic. This is true where the justice of God is present. We are dealing with justice and with retribution. What is emphasized is his judgment. What type of retribution and what type of person is involved.

The righteous refers to the justified. You would think that they would escape any punishment in eternity. But there is a reward/recompense for the righteous on the earth. The Hebrew verb shalem. shâlêm ( שָׁלַם [pronounced shaw-LAME] and it means to recompense, to repay, to restore, to complete, to make perfect, to requite. Strong's #7999 BDB #1022.

Experiencing suffering appears to be what is going on for the righteous. The righteous do not appear to be deserving of such things.

Suffering, Pain and the Believer

1. In this life, believers do suffer. Personal sins, failures, bad choices, etc.
2. That means that they can suffer recompense, which is divine discipline. As we know believers can receive divine discipline.
3. The believer cannot escape God's notice where the plan of God is being ignored or rejected. Many believers ignore or reject the plan of God. That is what we are looking at here.
4. Believers can also suffer from the rejection of Bible doctrine.
5. They are recompensed by self-induced misery from bad decisions. In that sense, God just allows that which naturally comes with bad decisions. We bring on our own recompense.
6. Believers can suffer from bad or evil circumstances. Yet they are unforeseen and undeserved in life. That is not what is being spoken of here.
7. Ironically, believers also suffer to accelerate spiritual growth. That is good suffering; suffering for blessing; but not recompense.

Suffering is used to bring the believer back in line. In that sense, recompense is good. This is why it is translated rewarded.

More Points

1. In this context, we know the meaning of reward.
2. This is payback for the believer's sin and failure on this earth. It is a reward because it does bring us back. That is the lesser recompense.

3. It is a recompense to the believer for failing to grow spiritually; to become grace and doctrinally orientated. This is the other side of the fence of blessing. When we get to the real other side of the fence...
4. There is blessing for the service of divine good. But that is not the point of the logic here.
5. In conclusion, the sin and failures of believer receive a divine recompense on this earth. The justice of God is operating on this earth.
6. It is much less and for a better reason than for what the unrighteous will suffer. That is a whole different ball game.
7. A fortiori logic here. How much suffering can there be?

Eternal reward and punishment not in view here.

The a Fortiori Logic

1. If God punishes the righteous, then how much more will He punish the sins of the unrighteous? The unjustified? Those who utterly reject Him and the gospel. The logic is very clear here. What will the suffering be like for the unbeliever?
2. The answer is, much, much worse. They will be greatly punished on this earth.
3. This punishment will take many forms during the lifetime of that person. Sometimes it brings people to the offer of God.

For the unbeliever, there is self-induced misery through bad decisions. Their bad decisions begin with the rejection of Jesus Christ. They must embrace humanism if they do not have Christ.

Socialism now seems to be one of the better examples of humanism and human viewpoint today. The unbeliever has no faith rest to use. No lasting peace. No relaxed mental attitude for the unbeliever.

The unbeliever can have some humanistic resources.

The fear demonstrated today in this COVID pandemic. Fear knocked at the door of our country and it has overwhelmed so many of us. That is no way to live, living in fear all of the time. The recompense is designed to bring us back. Embracing humanism rather than Jesus Christ. The humanist has no future beyond an aimless and unfulfilled life. The unbeliever has nothing apart from some moments.

All is vanity or emptiness, Solomon tells us. That is a recompense. Then comes death; the greatest fear of the unbeliever. It always looms large in our eyes. Death is not a recompense to the believer; it is to be anticipated at just the right moment. We have an unimaginable and fantastic future.

Another example that is obvious today. The political left today, with all their desire to bring in a secular utopian world. This is what they want to do; and they want the power to do that. They want to fundamentally change America.. Ultimately and ironically, building up a socialistic system.

This Is Recompense for the Unbeliever

1. These people are never satisfied with the results of their policies or their activities, because it never brings the result that they intend. Their utopia eludes their grasp and it always will. That is recompense for embracing humanism.
2. There are always circumstances that are outside and beyond their control. Even with this power, they cannot accomplish what they want to accomplish. The problems at the border were not intended.
3. They are always striving for something more, something which works to make the world better, but it does not get better.
4. They are battling that which cannot be overcome by humanism; the sin nature of mankind. It will not change. It is not about environment or economy. No matter what our race, we are all sinners. We have the righteousness of God; it is imputed to us. We can receive recompense. But it is way less than what they get.
5. Only regeneration and spiritual growth can truly change the thinking of mankind; and nullify and defeat the sin nature. The sin nature continues to operate; but we can control it for periods of time.
6. In the course of futility and failure, the humanist implements more environmental change; more economic change. They hope to reach the unreachable goals. That which they want can never happen. There will always be injustice in this world because we are unjust. There is justice, which is rule of law. The rule of law is in effect and this is the only thing which will resolve the problem. We pray that the court of public opinion will not make this decision. The social justice being sought is an unreachable goal. That they cannot reach it is recompense for their humanism.
7. What the humanist Marxist/socialist try will not work. Capitalism can provide the greatest good for the greatest number, something that socialism claims to do. Humanism does not understand that poverty will continue. Socialism always brings more inequality.
8. No socialist and no humanist corners the market on virtue. They think they have the greater virtue and should impose their goals, but they cannot seem to stuff all of the arms and legs into the jack-in-the-box. It is misery for them.
9. They cannot manufacture virtue in people, by political or dictatorial means. The recompense does not have to reach us.
10. Humanism always fails, although there may be some minor and temporary victories won. Realize that is the greatest frustration to the humanist. The victories are short-lived, and often cause unintended consequences. What they think will reach their goal doesn't.
11. It is the constant failure and defeat that is recompensed for rejection of God in this world. Frustration, anger, fear, dissatisfaction, followed by a fearful, hopeless death.

12. Humanists will never understand that, without salvation and spiritual growth, their humanism is evil, straight from the pit of hell. Much great recompense from God than we will ever see.
13. They reap the recompense in their own mental attitude. They never are satisfied with real meaning or real accomplishment.

Humanists always choose unattainable goals.

More Points on the Humanist

1. Their mental attitude and frustration is certainly self-induced.
2. God Himself will work against them and their cosmic system goals. That is a devastating part of their recompense for evil. If God is for us, who can be against us. If God is against us, who can be for us.
3. On a personal level, the humanist will be plagued with all sorts of maladies, all sorts of circumstances that they cannot overcome or handle.
4. On a national level, the cycles of discipline will be forthcoming. The fate of Sodom is even the fate of some humanists. We know the truth and it makes us free. Even with national recompense, there is no recompense for us. The unbeliever needs us; otherwise they face nothing but horrendous recompense. We can know one thing about the unrighteous; they receive recompense. We don't want any part of that.

We should remember, do not envy those humanist programs which seem to be very altruistic and do not hate the humanist for destroying society. Do not lose your relaxed mental attitude because you are in fear and loathing. Many Christians. Better to be a believer with doctrine than a billionaire anytime. They will ultimately fail, never seeing any of the success of their pursuits.

V. 31 is a great verse to end our study of Prov. 11 with. If we face difficulties in this world; how much more the unbeliever.

Proverbs 11:31 If the righteous is repaid [or, rewarded, recompensed] on earth, how much more the wicked and the sinner!

Where is Bobby going next? He is going to continue moving straight ahead into Proverbs 12. This is filled with wisdom that we desperately need in this time. He cannot pass it up.

Lesson #0209

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

4/11/2021 Sunday

We might get out of fellowship with the material that is being covered today in class.

We are going right into Proverbs 12.

Few people are willing to speak about why we are in the situation that we are in. Offending anyone appears to be one of the greatest sins in this world. The cry of racism can be exaggerated. Lives can be ruined for expressing the truth.

The truth of God's Word has a way of offending people. It offends those who oppose it. It even offends those who adhere to it. We still must speak truth, no matter what. We may be hated or reviled for speaking truth and the gospel. Marxism and socialism repudiate Christianity.

People do not like absolute standards. They do not like laws which interfere with the desires or pleasures. Divine standards challenge the secular belief system. When you offend someone with the truth from Scripture, you open yourself to criticism, severe criticism. We are in the cancel culture; which wants to cancel the standards of the Bible. They have no regard for the freedoms of those they oppose. Those people must be removed from the public forum. That is when real tyranny begins. The final solution of the wokes is blackmail, intimidation, boycott, street violence, and even incarceration of those who oppose. The elimination of opposition. Bobby is a student of world history 1919 to 1945. Nazism and Marxism use the same techniques. When you remove the truth of the Bible from the national conscience, when you remove it from the public marketplace, from the public forum and from the churches, it is nearly impossible to define good and evil in terms that are clear and concise. What was good is now evil; and what was evil is now good. That is relativism permeating society; and it has even crept into Christianity. Evil becomes whatever a group rejects; and good is what a group likes. That is the viewpoint promoted in the US for the past 60 years. We have denigrated the basis for our law in the Constitution of the United States. One of our national leaders said that the amendments of the Constitution are not absolute, so they can be reinterpreted and tweaked.

This is just a means of gaining power and this is the road to tyranny. Most recently our standards of law have been based upon diversity, a completely relative idea. A diversity of cultural standards and morality; which always includes the reduction of divine establishment viewpoint and Bible doctrine. That is the advance of secular humanism. We are frogs coming to a slow boil in a pot of water.

When it comes to individuals, the righteous and the evil are hard to distinguish between. The police are attacked and denigrated. The humanist think that they can control the depravity of mankind by legalizing so many things. We can beat it, so let it be legalistic.

Holding to standards of right and wrong are considered wrong and immoral by the humanists. No matter what, they will say, if it feels good, do it. Whatever evil is blamed on environment or political necessity. This becomes the slippery slope of a degenerating society. This happened many times in Israel's society. God could not allow proliferation of evil in client nation Israel. When God disciplines a nation, this is for the good of the nation.

Absolute standards become evil to these people. Bobby could be labeled a hate speech. Homosexuality and lesbianism are sins; they are degeneracy. This is defined in absolute standards by the Bible; but our society defines that as good. Discipline for this country, absolutely.

They say, "Everyone should do their own thing." It sounds like freedom. But it reflects degeneration from relativism. They define morality in terms of what they are doing or not doing. There are no standards there. It is based upon what people want to do. No set standards. We have no set standards in so many areas today. Whatever the political agenda is, that will be considered good.

On a personal level, morality and integrity are based upon what you like or don't like. You just look the other way. That is called freedom, but it is freedom without responsibility to others or to the nation. Many are willing to compromise with standards of evil in order to have their desires met. Relative standards.

This chapter specifically defines the righteous and the wicked. Absolute delineations of good and evil. That is what this makes this chapter so important in the time that we live. In this chapter, it is really very distinct.

Bobby is going to teach this chapter, because it reveals absolute standards that are so reviled in this chapter. What is divine wisdom? When you eschew standards like this, then you lose freedom.

There will be a distinct line drawn between the righteous and the wicked. Many clear applications of the actions which divide those two groups, which can be applied to our times and circumstances.

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

The key word here is discipline. The keyword is mûwçâr (מוּצָר) [pronounced moo-SAWR].

Musar

1. This means discipline, chastening.
2. It also means instruction. That is how it is used here.
3. This first line might be, he who loves instruction loves knowledge.
4. Or, he who eagerly acquires instruction shows love for knowledge.
5. Nuance. In this context, that puts a different spin on the concept of discipline and instruction.
6. No doubt, this line refers to a disciplined instruction.
7. Disciplined instruction is enforced with correction and reproof. It is the kind of education which we used to have in this country.
8. Disciplined instruction is training that requires obeying a standard of conduct and a code of behavior. Why? In order to better focus the pupil on learning. A love of knowledge.
9. This disciplined instruction is the best way to learn and to gain knowledge.

10. This speaks to a disciplined attitude which means you are teachable. Then you absorb knowledge. You love knowledge and you respect its importance. Disciplined instruction. Many students do not respond well to disciplined instruction. Parents and students and educators reject it.

People wonder why it is so quiet in Berachah. Why can't you get up and go to the bathroom? Why can't you bring food into the auditorium? This is disciplined instruction. You don't have to listen; you don't have to accept. That is the option. That is the best way for you to learn.

Bob made examples of people. Reproof and correction. You have no right in this auditorium to disturb others. If that does not suit you, then you should not be here. We have all been in classrooms where no discipline was in place. You cannot force knowledge on anyone. You cannot have such instruction today in most schools.

Line one is the person who loves knowledge. He accepts disciplined instruction in order to gain that knowledge. Even when it comes through instruction and reproof. Bobby has been in Berachah for a long, long time. He has listened to disciplined instruction. As a teen, Bobby has gotten some disciplined instruction. Sometimes, he did not want to hear it. Bobby has metabolized enough doctrine to teach us doctrine. It all came from doctrine that he was, at times, enforced to hear. Bobby wants us to have the love of knowledge. It is the best way to live. You don't compromise with evil. Using wisdom pleasing to the Lord. Isn't that our obligation to be pleasing to the Lord? Should we not be salt and light and present the truth to the world, because they need it.

The old prophets would speak wisdom and the people would reject it and God would step in and punish and correct and reprove. We have absolute truth when we have the wisdom of doctrine in the soul.

This verse is the person who loves to learn. We have the most well-mannered group on this earth. This is paradise. Bobby appreciates it. This is disciplined instruction. Enforced humility. Even when that instruction comes through correction and reproof. That is how we understand instruction and Bible doctrine.

2Tim. 3:16 is something that we should be intimately familiar with. This is the Word of God and disciplined instruction. It is profitable for teaching, for disciplined teaching in righteousness, for reproof, for correction, for training, for training in righteousness, so that the man of God might be adequately equipped for every good work in service to the Lord.

The fact that we have the Word of God is the grace of God. If you are not here for disciplined instruction. You can find emotional relief in many other churches. When the churches no longer teach Bible doctrine, when they ignore it.

Conclusion

1. This acceptance of instruction through reproof indicates a person who is authority oriented. Authority is a bad word in many quarters.
2. Clearly, authority-orientation is necessary in order to gain a maximum amount of knowledge, and coming to love that knowledge. There are people who cannot get enough Bible doctrine. They love knowledge. They are willing to accept disciplined instruction. Scripture corrects us.
3. Authority-orientation accepts reprimands and makes corrections and learns from it. This is teachability. You are not teachable unless you are authority oriented.
4. This is why children are disciplined. It is a time of teaching; not just punishment. Discipline should always be about teaching. Sometimes children need reenforced standards. It is a learning moment. Do not punish a child without letting them know why they are being disciplined.
5. A love for knowledge is enhanced. That is the meaning of this first line.

Authority-orientation is one of the most important doctrines of our time.

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Lesson #0210                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT   4/14/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Antithetical parallelism. Who hates reproof is stupid. Rejection of discipline and rejection of authority and rejection of divine institutions. Discipline is musar and there are nuances to it. Musar means discipline, chastening; instruction. This is a disciplined instruction.

Disciplined Instruction

1. Disciplined instruction is a formal type of instruction which is controlled and enforced, by correction and reproof. That is the disciplined part. People learn in various ways. Rarely is this way talked about.
2. This is training that requires obeying a standard of conduct, a code of behavior. When Bobby started college, there would be 300 people in a classroom, and people talked, smoked, came and went. They let a lot of people into the school; about half of them dropped out that first year.
3. Training in order to better focus the pupil on learning from an authority. From someone who knows what they are talking about. People don't want to learn because they think they know it all. They think that they are an authority on the subject.
4. Submitting to that disciplined instruction, reflects a desire of knowledge; a love of it, if you will.
5. One comes to love disciplined instruction as the best way to acquire knowledge. The instruction must sometimes be enforced in order for people to learn and to gain knowledge.

6. In the believer, a love of knowledge reflects in the love of consistent, disciplined instruction in Bible doctrine. That has been required in this church 70 years. People have left Berea with knowledge and a love of knowledge. It is learned by disciplined instruction.
7. Disciplined instruction is the quickest way to spiritual maturity. You are able to think with the mind of Christ. You are able to rebound and to use the faith rest drill and claim the promises of God. You can use all of the problem solving devices. You have learned them.

The whole realm of doctrine is vast. Bobby has never learned the whole realm of doctrine. He can't learn it all. He knows enough to live the Christian life. We continue to do so. It is the instruction that is demanding, with the ability to use that doctrine, that wisdom. The more you use that wisdom and you see the results. The better that you like it. You love what it does for you. This requires you to willingly pursue that instruction. You must maintain that positive volition. That means enduring discipline and reproof. Some do not like to be corrected. They don't like to be wrong. Doctrine does that. It gives us reproof.

Disciplined Instruction Part ii

1. The acceptance of disciplined instruction indicates a person who is authority oriented. That is a critical quality in every area of life.
2. Love of disciplined instruction requires authority-orientation. This means, you are humble. Without that, you will rebel in your soul against it.
3. Authority-orientation accepts reprimands and learns from it and make corrections. If you cannot accept that kind of instruction, then you have an arrogance problem. Many people have lost out in life because they have no love of knowledge.
4. Disciplined instruction always provides a good result. You have to be listening; and that requires a discipline.

There are many examples; Bobby will use disciplined training in the military. You begin with your own type of learning. The military is unique. Its reproof and correct are legendary. People arrive on a bus knowing virtually nothing. They have no idea what is about to happen to them. It is designed to be basic training. It is designed to train a raw recruit to be a soldier. This is the school of the soldier. In order to be successful as a soldier, they must be open to the information given them. They must love that knowledge and want more. What the soldier learns is very basic. Salute, marching, physical training, how to function as a unit, as a team. Firing and maintaining of various weapons. Critical is authority-orientation to those in command. The ones who issue orders and instructions. These cannot be overemphasized. Following orders is a necessity.

Ranger school is legendary; but so are the Seals and other similar units. This is over and above what the ordinary soldier is involved in. Much of this has been watered-down. More sweat in training means less blood in combat.

This is the epitome of disciplined instruction. The tried-and-true way for a soldier to learn. And the soldier should desire to know it even if he does not like the process. He can only perform his duties if he learns. They might be said to love knowledge because it has a critical purpose.

It is not different in the spiritual life. We began as a believer in basic training. You learn more about soteriology and righteousness and the 39 things which God gives us; then we learn the basics of the Christian life from metabolized doctrine. We began with the sincere milk of the Word; and then you begin to put them all together. That brings wisdom in the spiritual life. You are able to apply that wisdom to circumstances; and you see these results and you don't want to live any other way. This basic knowledge and more advanced knowledge is what holds it all together.

That doctrine going out in many places is holding many people together in many difficult times. Some write and say, "I'd fall apart based upon what is happening."

musar means instruction, discipline, correction and reproof. Bobby does not have to do near as much today. Bobby did not have much trouble in the military because he began with strong discipline.

Doctrine is helpful because we learn something and then we have to go out and use it. With disciplined training comes the best results in the shortest amount of time. In the spiritual life, the mind is being trained to use doctrine and to apply it. You see the result and you love it. You love disciplined instruction because you love the knowledge that comes with it. We are all soldiers; we live in the combat of the Angelic Conflict. We can see the war all around us. We can see when our nation begins to degenerate.

In the spiritual life, you have that instruction. Those who wish to improve themselves must learn to accept and even love reproof and disciplined. Without authority-orientation a person is truly ill-equipped to face life.

Bob used to encourage people going into the military in the Vietnam era. This prepares you for life. Bobby's drill sergeant told him, "By the way, there is no one in charge out there."

Contrary to popular opinion... The mistaken notion that authority is evil.

The cancel culture will not follow any authority, but they want their authority obeyed. The humanist rejects divine standards. They wish to remove absolute standards from every area of life. That understanding is absolutely wrong, according to Prov. 1:8.

Practical Wisdom

1. Authority-orientation is anti-self-centeredness and anti-relativism. The latter is, anything goes.
2. Authority-orientation is entirely opposed to just doing your own thing. Living life answering only to yourself. So many people live only according to their own wants and desires.

3. Without authority in society, relativism morphs into anarchy. Don't trust anyone over 30 was the beginning of anti-authority. The police and law for causes which are entirely dubious.
4. Authority-orientation is indispensable for success in life.

Lack of authority-orientation leads to tyranny of all sorts. Freedom without authority is anarchy. Authority without freedom is tyranny. Both of these things are true of Marxist radicals. The socialist will use anything to gain an advantage. Political correctness, cancel culture simply impose their requirements and demands on everyone else.

The humanists are hypocrites. The revolt against authority and yet, they impose their own. As a believer, you will not accept the disciplined instruction in order to live the Christian life. How many times have believers said, "I don't accept that." Most of the time, that interferes with their ideas or with what they want to do.

The Doctrine of Authority-orientation

1. Definition:
  - a. First authority is defined as the power to command, to judge, or to act for and with other persons.
  - b. It applies to persons who have legal power to make and to enforce a law; to make policy, or to make decisions for others. That is leadership. To be an entirely effective leader, you must have disciplined instruction. When you see how it works, you will be glad to have that instruction.
  - c. Authority is an accepted source of teaching and information. The example of the pastor-teacher. Bobby's authority is to provide Bible doctrine; not to tell us what to do, day by day.
  - d. Under the laws of divine establishment, authority is that legal power delegated by God whereby certain persons have jurisdiction and responsibility for others. The 4th divine institution is under attack today. Bobby was a little panicked over taxes today.
2. Illegitimate authority is illegal. It is unlawful authority. Established by an unlawful or illegal force, which is done to attain power without the lawful right to possess power. This is what happens in a coup, toppling a government and another group comes to power. That is the objective of the socialist Marxist today. Making the demands of fools.
  - a. Illegitimate authority is established by Satan. He is the ultimate in rebellion rebelling against God in His Own throne room. This includes so much. Socialism and Marxism is a satanic ideology. They are antithetical to Bible doctrine and to divine establishment.
  - b. Illegitimate authority is evidenced by the erroneous seizure of power. It is happening right now. The rise of dictators right now. It is still a governing authority. It can be tyrannical or free. We cannot all live independently. We need a government. That is fundamental. The Roman government killed Christians; but the Christians did not band together to overthrow Rome.

Before all things were over, Rome was Christianized. Many Christians died so that empire could have the gospel spread over it. Rome kept order; and Christianity has increased exponentially.

- c. Illegitimate authority is delegated by Satan, through tyranny, false doctrine and power struggles. All of those are present in the US today.
3. Authority is essential for the function of this world. The NT also lays down the precepts and laws for the Church Age, which is our authority. We have no higher authority in life than the Word of God. God also has authority over nature and nature obeys God. The natural world is run by the laws of the Creator. Angels are subject to authorities as well, as are believers to the Word of God. National government has authority over its people to protect the sanctity of their freedom, property and lives.

Today, we have one of the most unstable societies ever. People hate the husband having authority over the wife; and parents have authority over their children. Without parental authority, children will find an authority. Today, often, this is in a gang.

Teachers and coaches have authority; but that is being undermined today. Neh.4:13–15. The pastor-teacher and church officers have authority in the local church, derived from the Bible. All legitimate authority in life is delegated by God. Today, the erosion of authority-orientation in most of these areas. Arrogance have replaced the humility of authority-orientation. Authority has been the issue from the very beginning of the human race.

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Lesson #0211                      Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT                      4/15/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Disciplined instruction is what takes place at Berachah. This is instruction that includes maximum concentration being present, in terms of gaining and loving knowledge. The one who accepts disciplined instruction gains the optimum knowledge in the least amount of time. We have a long ways to go when we are saved. The one who learns from the disciplined instruction, that person learns to love the process of learning. It comes from the grace of God. Described as Operation Z. We have the Holy Spirit Who teaches us the doctrine that we hear. Doctrine that is knowledge, which becomes useable doctrine. That is the process of learning. That is disciplined instruction. There is also the knowledge gained. There are excellent results and the knowledge which is gained.

We see the results through the process and we see the results as believers in Jesus Christ. Disciplined instruction is the best way to learn any subject. The classroom is a controlled environment. At times it is reenforced by correction and reproof. Obeying a standard of conduct; and respect for the teacher. This is all part of disciplined instruction.

If the subject does not matter, then we won't get anything from it. Bible doctrine is the most important subject for us. Bobby can do correction and reproof. We really get our reproof from God in divine discipline.

When we don't grow, we revert; we go backwards. The acceptance of disciplined instruction reflects a willingness to learn. The student who listens and learns is a student who is authority oriented. We are in the middle of studying the doctrine of authority orientation. If you have no authority orientation, you have no disciplined instruction. Authority is essential for the authority of life in this world.

People require structure. This is why we give children structure in the home. We need it. We cannot operate without designated boundaries and without authority that provides the parameters of structure. The structure and parameters of the spiritual life. We learn His Word.

When will there be deliverance for our country? God can work any circumstances in any way that brings the Angelic Conflict into line with victory on it. God has designated government to have authority over people and nations. That is the structure of our society. One of the great attacks on that structure is the internationalism that we see today. Our borders are disintegrating, which means the nation is disintegrating.

God provides for nations and He always will. The world is a smaller place. Nations in Europe are under one government and it is a mess. We are moving in that direction. Why would the United States, having the greatest country on earth, why would we want to revert to Europe and end up with less freedom and prosperity.

The government of the United States is now under great attack. "We want to fundamentally change America." We still have a structure; we still do have law.

We need to accept authority. When a people become authority disoriented, there is a disintegration of society. The laws break down and the whole thing collapses.

Authority Is a Fundamental Issue

1. Authority has been an issue since the beginning of the human race.
2. The fall of mankind is a simple rejection of divine authority. The man and the woman were forbidden that fruit in the garden. Eve rejected the authority of her RM.
3. Adam became disoriented to authority, abdicating to the woman's authority. They both sinned and were separated from God.
4. Authority-orientation is the fundamental issue.
5. Response or authority-orientation is a function of human volition. People must accept it or not.
  - a. Function of authority is an individual decision.
  - b. The acceptability of authority in this life is dependent upon positive human volition.
  - c. Positive volition in accepting authority is authority-orientation.

- d. Human freedom has the option of accepting or rejecting authority in life.
  - e. Human freedom is the 1st divine institution.
  - f. While God has designated legitimate authority in life, which is defined in Scripture and in Law, these authorities are usually do not accept that authority.
  - g. Our laws were designed for human freedom. But there is less and less freedom in our land. Freedom is lost. The decision for freedom is based upon authority-orientation. Do you respond to the laws of divine establishment or to individuals who want power. That is the basic question today. Is it the rabble in the streets or is it diva.
  - h. Human consent makes authority work. The consent of the governed. That is a quality of authority-orientation.
6. Authority can be misused and abused easily. Small groups like Marxists and Nazis have surrendered to their authority. Hitler was elected people the people in 1933. His brown shirts beat up people and intimidated many others. Germany voted for Hitler and they paid a price for it.
  7. Evil people often use difficulties in life in order to gain authority. Intimidate, violence and murder, and anti-law and anti-authority.
  8. Like divine establishment, evil has no authority apart from human consent.

Are we in line for judgment because we orient to evil authority. That remains to be seen. Whatever happens in this country, to whomever they consent to give authority, we always remain in the hands of the Lord. Even evil tyrannical governments provide structure.

Bob does not surrender his authority to something that is illegitimate or illegal. We live by the Constitution. The Congress will make laws against the 2nd amendment. They want to deliver of the this...

We have an easier time making our decisions because we have Bible doctrine.

When laws begin to infringe upon our ability to evangelize or to teach, and it will be wrong. We stand for the truth and we let God handle the repercussions.

A debated topic: who is abusing authority? That distinction gets blurred by the voices of confusion. We have seen the accusations of abuse of power of President Trump; when all of the abuse of power was occurring on the other side.

The weakness is straight human viewpoint. They will obey evil leaders with disastrous decisions and results. All illegitimate authority in life is based upon the function of human arrogance.

1. Illegitimate authority is perpetuated lies and propaganda and persuasion for the cosmic system.
2. Power lust is one of the motivating factors in such arrogance. This is why do many politicians are the way that they are.

3. Legitimate authority is replaced by your own authority. The more degenerate the society is, the...
4. The rule of law, Bible doctrine, and divine establishment. Bible doctrine presents and reveals divine opinion.
5. The rejection of such authority for personal power is self-centered an authority disoriented.
6. Rejection of legitimate authority causes people to regenerate. It can happen through legalistic or immoral. Self-centered anti-authority thinking. Rejecting legitimate authority.

Another example, one that Bobby often uses. The example is the wife who rejects the authority of her husband. She becomes self-centered and strident in her views. Feminism is the great rebellion against divine authority. The evil rejection of the Biblical view of man and woman in marriage. The woman may reject her husband and become promiscuous; and she discovers that she is being used. The problem with the Me too movement. This is a sure pathway for woman to be used by men.

In revolt, she may espouse the idea that fathers are unnecessary in a family. This is often against the advice of family or friends and marries a man who is a jerk, who is wrong for her.

when a person does not consider the excellent advice for those who know you best. They know your personality, your aptitudes and what is suitable to you. When you only respond to your own authority, you don't listen.

We make bad decisions in who we choose and why we choose them. We don't listen and are not thoughtful of the decision. Thoughtfulness is important in this choice. Thinking with the mind of Christ means that you submit to the mind of Christ. Eph. 5 tells us what marriage is all about. If you don't respect that person, then don't marry them.

Anti-authority in one area often means being anti-authority in other areas. We find unbelievers in that condition; developing more and more over the past 50 years. The kids learned no authority-orientation in the schools, athletics or at home. In colleges, the athletes are running the show. Coaches can be gotten rid of; or transferred. The athletes consider their authority to be themselves. They are often just their own authority.

We see several generations today who are authority disoriented.

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Lesson #0212

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

4/18/2021 Sunday

They are thinking about going to two services.

Proverbs 12:1a Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge,...

Disciplined instruction is the best way to gain knowledge. This is so that we might understand God and all the important subjects that have such a great impact on our life and how we live it.

Proverbs 12:1b ...but he who hates reproof is stupid.

Without the disciplined instruction, they are going to be without knowledge. Those who lack authority-orientation are stupid. Authority-orientation reflects humility in the soul. To learn to love knowledge is discipline in the soul.

The person who does not understand this is stupid. And that person is always disadvantaged in life. The person who is with this is adjusted to life and adjusted to the authorities in life; authorities that some do not appreciate or even want.

The main example is the believer responding to God and the disciplined instruction of Bible doctrine. That instruction is for gaining knowledge of Bible doctrine. You learn to love God through Bible doctrine. This can happen in marriage. You think you have fallen in love, but you don't really know that person. If you marry too quickly, you can find out the hard way that you did not know them.

It is okay to read your Bible, particularly a Bible annotated with good notes. But submitting to the authority of a pastor-teacher is critical in all of this. You have no authority orientation when it comes to simply reading the Word of God.

We accept the authority of Bobby because he teaches the Word of God; and we accept this. This is our response to the Word of God. Once you do that, the doctrine that we metabolize provides correction and reproof in our lives. The Word of God is taught in a disciplined manner in the local church. You love the knowledge that you receive and you are learning to love the Lord more and more. This is so that we can apply divine wisdom to all of life. Otherwise, you're stupid. If you cannot apply divine wisdom, then you are stupid. Bobby can say this because it comes directly out of the Word of God.

There are many other examples in life. The necessity of the authority of government and law due to groups of people. Everyone exists under the law; nevertheless, government is sanctioned by God. This includes divine establishment and divine establishment principles. It also includes law and its enforcement. When you hear, defund the police, that is authority disorientation. There are abuses in every facet of life. Authority-orientation is the best way to deal with that. Great authority-orientation comes from the mature spiritual life.

When someone says, abolish the police, they are not abolishing all forms of authority; they are simply choosing to be the authority instead of the police. Teacher over student, coach over athlete, management over labor, etc. There are senior subordinate relationships. There must be authority in order for groups to function together. To reject authority is a demonstration of arrogance and self-centeredness. Another example of authority-orientation is husband over the wife. Our society has come to think that the wife is autonomous or that she ought to have the authority. This is not the Biblical view of man and woman in marriage. The husband provides the leadership in marriage, which carries with it inherent authority. The husbands are to love the wives as Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it. Christ is the head of the church and He loved us to the point of death. He is our leader and we follow Him through knowing Him. So it is for the husband and wife. After I do, there is leadership and response from the man. It is not the role of man and woman in marriage...

Another area of critical authority-orientation is parents over children in the divine institution of family. The most awful and destructive mistake that people make is the rejection of the authority of parents. There is always a battle there. The parents must be authority oriented, and this begins to guide the child. Without authority-orientation, a person has a lifetime of misery. This breeds social misfits and rebels. Massive authority disorientation, which degenerates into relativism and evil ideologies. It is much tougher to learn if you are authority disoriented right from the beginning. The nation will deteriorate and anti-authority actions become the norm and even accepted. We see this in the halls of Congress to the streets of our cities. Good parenting, authority and structure in the home are all key. Parents who think that their children will grow up by themselves have abdicated their role as parents. This is especially for doctrinal instruction for believers.

There is a prep school at Berachah; but that is not enough. That is groundwork. We have a much greater responsibility. There are many ways to do that. Figure it out. That is parental leadership; that is your obligation to your children. They need knowledge by which to make good decisions in the future. The great regret of a parent is raising kids who get their standards from their friends.

A further problem for children is the rejection of the authority of teachers and coaches which occurs outside of the home. What Bobby did not learn in the home, he learned on the athletic field and in the classroom. There was discipline in the classroom then. However, teachers today have less and less authority; so there is not much learning which takes place. Authority-orientation is critical to every area of life. Such children develop an anti-authority attitude in life. Uncorrected, this will limit and destroy the lives of children who grow up without any authority-orientation. Parents must learn the gravity of authority-orientation. They cannot overlook it or ignore it.

In reproof and discipline. We all understand what punishment means, although we might not be able to properly apply it. It must be applied with justice and never in anger. There must be an explanation before punishment. Some send children to a corner and tell them to shut up. Bad parenting. There must be time devoted to explaining. Otherwise what they do will make the child anti-authority. This means spending time in explanation and in discipline. People do not understand this sort of thing today. They don't want to do that sort of thing.

Those who are authority disoriented make everyone around them miserable. The nation pays a steep price for such parents. Those children are anti-authority. They turn into rebellious adults who teach their children to be anti-authority. They continue. They use their free will to ruin their lives. Bad decisions destroy a person's future options. This particularly continues through the teenage years. Children who make bad decisions and they have children at age 15 or 16. For the rest of their lives, that limits their future. There is no thought process here. It is just about me and what I want right now. We see the results in society and it is everywhere. Disciplined instruction gives them the best chance in life.

Rejecting all the above authorities means that the child has the potential of becoming a criminal. The extreme of arrogance anti-authority-orientation. In times of national upheaval, especially in the Tribulation, people will choose to follow the authority of an alleged or apparent strong man. That will be true in the Tribulation; and this has happened many times in the past. The nation may tolerate crime, violence in the streets, civil war, anarchy. All of this comes from the manifestation of the rejection of authority. This also leads to person irresponsibility. That results in a lifetime of mistakes and disaster.

Authority Disorientation

1. While God has delegated authority in life to government, parents, teachers, police, judges, management, this authority is useless apart from human consent. It must be accepted. The authority is inherent. It must be accepted.
2. People can be bullied into accepting authority. That can happen with destructive results for freedom. Authority with responsibility is freedom. But without any responsibility, without authority-orientation, becomes tyranny.
3. People can be struck with fear by the rule of dictatorial authority. The authority is imposed; that is tyranny. This is what Marxism does. It imposes the fear of authority.
4. These tyrannical authorities are, in themselves, self-centered.
5. No one can supercede their authority on pain of punishment. We see this in our own government.
6. Anti-authority actions always foment the reaction of authority disorientation. The acceptance of tyranny. Accepting the wrong authority. Hitler, along with his own police force, enforced his own authority. His own nation accepted him and elected him. They voluntarily accepted the authority of tyranny.
7. That is why disciplined instruction in children is so important in building true authority-orientation. This is an authority oriented society.
8. What makes authority work is the affirmative response to those who carry authority. That is the concept of the consent of the governed. Rational human beings understand the importance of the authority of law. It does not matter if they like the personality or not.

The husband has legitimate authority over the wife. His authority is hotly disputed by feminism and society as a whole. His authority is unacceptable in much of society today. Women have been programmed to be anti-authority by the teaching they have received. This results in broken marriages and raising anti-authority children. Bible doctrine and feminism are directly in opposition in this point.

A woman cannot be bullied into authority-orientation.

Authority in Marriage

1. Regardless of whether a woman or wife is motivated by respect or love or something else, she is obligated to accept the husband's authority. Bobby can see who is wincing or snarling. This is what he knows to be true from the Scriptures.
2. Respect for the man is the #1 quality for a good marriage. Not how they look or how funny they are or how they look.
3. If you cannot respect the husband, then you do not love him.
4. If you do not respect and love him, then you will not accept his authority. Men must have a character to respect, which begins with humility.

Eph. 5:22–24 Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. For the husband is the head [or the leader] of the wife even as Christ is the Head of the church, His body, and is Himself its Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands.

As the church is subject to Christ, the wife is to be under the authority of the husband. Can he exercise his authority? That is what is key.

Eph. 5:25–27 Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her, that He might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, so that He might present the church to himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish.

The leader and the follower are both to be the best that they can be. Love and respect. This is the love structure of the divine institution of marriage. That is how it works. Almost everything today regarding having a good marriage does not have this in the mix.

Many have had marriages on the rocks, and they get with Bible doctrine, and they have a great marriage.

Lesson #0213

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 4/21/2021 Wednesday

Authority orientation is an extremely important and universal concept. This must be learned, beginning in childhood. This is the job of parents. This is the job of parents when their children are growing up. Without this, people become self-centered and arrogant in life. They become a law unto themselves. This is what many people are today who are out on the streets.

Bobby has seen authority disrespected, beginning when he was in college. We were given a lesson in the law, which took precedence over street justice. This trial took place nearly a year after the incident, which included tons of lawlessness. America was braced for more rioting if the verdict was not guilty. We were collectively saying, please don't hurt us any more. On the one hand, the justice system worked. On the other hand, the anti-authority attitudes were on full display. We have a significant number of people in this country who have no respect for any authority other than their own. It is exemplified today in the divine institution of marriage. Authority orientation is necessary to function as God designed it; the husband is the legitimate authority over the wife.

1Cor. 11:3 But I want you to understand that the head of every man is Christ, the head of a wife is her husband, and the head of Christ is God.

There is authority, delegated authority, and ultimate authority (in that order). The passage which follows is all about authority. It uses the example of marriage. Paul uses the illustration of the husband and wife, as well as God and Christ. Jesus was subordinate to God the Father. We are subordinate to Christ. There should be no confusion about the lines of authority.

What is parallel to this verse.

Eph. 5:22–24 Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. For the husband is the head [or the leader] of the wife even as Christ is the Head of the church, His body, and is Himself its Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit in everything to their husbands.

The wife must respect the authority of the husband; just as Christ is the head of the church. What an illustration of authority-orientation. Couched between those two authorities is husband and wife. But the husband must love the wife as Christ loved the church. The one with authority must demonstrate good leadership.

It is not just about authority. It is about authority-orientation. The leader (husband) must have some leadership skills. Christ leads us by Bible doctrine; and He completely submitted to the authority of God the Father. The Father and the Son are the ultimate in authority.

The believing husband must be oriented to doctrine and oriented to grace. He must have personal love and impersonal love. This is how he loves his wife. The wife sees to it that she respects the husband.

Respect, Personal Love and Authority-orientation

1. Respect, personal love, and authority-orientation coincide.
2. Respect for authority (which is authority-orientation), is the demonstration of authority-orientation. Christ did that towards God the Father; the church does that towards Christ; and the wife to the husband.
3. Authority-orientation towards any person demonstrates the character trait of humility.
4. Humility is the quality required for capacity. The love of the wife by the husband means that you put her first; and she does not take advantage of that. It is a mutual respect, but it comes from other directions. The wife respects the husband, oriented to doctrine and responding to his love. It trickles down to family. Who has the authority? Husband and wife. Children, too often, are running the show.

5. Humility operates by placing the object of personal love ahead of self. That is what a good leader does. Military leadership trains you to do that. Secondly comes the troops. They must perform for the leader and for one another. A good leader brings the troops together. Sometimes they must be dedicated enough to die.
6. The church moves ahead, even though we have different jobs within it. Bobby sits at his desk every day so that he can lead the congregation in doctrine. We respect him and respond to the doctrine.
7. A self-centered person, male or female, is not a person who has capacity for love. Self-centered people love themselves far more than they love anyone else.
8. A self-centered person respect self above all others and does not respect anyone else. Know this for choosing a wife; and you have to check yourself.
9. Develop some humility from doctrine before you make a decision. You gain your capacity for love with doctrine and authority-orientation.
10. When an arrogant person does not accept authority, they forfeit capacity for love. One of the great things in life is capacity for love.
11. Arrogance demands compliance. Despotism is not the attitude of personal love or of leadership. Personal love is a voluntary acceptance of divine authority and an understanding of the proper authority in marriage.

When humility and authority-orientation is in place, both...

Personal Love and Authority Orientation

1. Personal love no longer depends or is sustained by the object of love fulfilling all expectations. I love you because you fulfill all my expectations. A lack of capacity for love. Demanding; arrogance.
2. Remain humble, not judgmental, and you do not lose personal love.
3. Humility and authority-orientation are also critical for gaining impersonal love toward all mankind. That is a major component of capacity for love. Love is not always smooth; impersonal love must take up the slack. You cannot love a marriage on impersonal love alone. Capacity for love must be there.
4. The rejection of divine establishment and Bible doctrine kills capacity for personal and impersonal love. This is so easy to happen. Arrogance abuses authority. Arrogance says, "I am really important." Like the petty bureaucrat who gets too much power and wields it badly. When a person demands a certain amount of attitude to others, demands respect without anything to respect, humility and authority orientation die. This ends many marriages.

This is what is happening in the nation today. Unreasonable demands are placed on spouses and on institutions today. Instead of demanding the right person, be the right person. Bulling, threats and despotism do not gain respect for love. Many think in this country that, if you bully, if you threaten, if you rum amuck in the streets, that that will change America; but it further divides.

Next Set of Points

1. This humility and capacity for love all begins in the home with the parents. It can be learned later in life.
2. Parents display the qualities of love and authority-orientation to their children. You display it.
3. This is a home that works.
4. While parents have authority in the home, this authority is useless apart from its proper use in training and discipline. If you don't train your children, you are not showing leadership or love. You have to teach your children the rules for life; the discipline. If you want to see someone who wanders or drifts through life? That is a person without authority-orientation.
5. This eventuates in the child accepting the parent's authority. The child has to accept the authority. That includes the development of self-centeredness. If authority is tyrannical or no love...
6. Early in life, children must be taught to recognize authority in life. That is the response of discipline and correction. Discipline that is done in love and explained.
7. Punishment is good training for authority-orientation; but not tyranny or cruelty.
8. Punishment should never be done in anger. Take a deep breath; think. Give a moment. Consider. Calmly explain the problem and then tell them why they are being punished; and they will not respond to authority. Then they become authority disoriented.
9. Do not abdicate instruction and discipline to others, as a parent. Don't turn it over to the schools, coaches and peripheral family. Teaching and discipline from parents has the most impact. Drill them until they get it. Once they understand salvation, then given them essential doctrines. There are ways as parents to be a leader. Teach them doctrine. Read them a story with a doctrinal meaning. Do something, but implant some doctrine in their souls. That gives them standards. Even if they reject doctrine later on, they will continue to carry these standards. At the right time and place, they just might use those standards.
10. As a result of discipline and teaching in the home, the child will develop love and respect for his parents as time passes; and orient to other authorities in life. Some parents are worried that their children may not like them or may voice something like that. But when discipline is taught, and authority-orientation, they will, eventually, understand.
11. If the child accepts the authority of parents, still the; if the child rejects the authority of parents, the child will grow up to be a misfit. Even unjust authority, with which this world is filled. Therefore, legitimate authority is most effective where there is freedom. Freedom is the best place for people to accept authority. Every person is a product of their own decisions. Decisions early in life affect later in life. When believers gravitate to the teaching of God, they use their own volition to accept legitimate authorities in life, like the Word of God. One who has this has divine blessing as they become authority oriented believers.

Without authority-orientation, they think that everything is free or ought to be free. They need to be oriented to something greater than themselves.

Good decisions from the position of authority oriented strength; good decisions and accepting authority in life.

Rejecting authority brings dire consequences to life. We are seeing it now in our nation. The unpleasant outcome of the law of volitional responsibility. People hate to blame their lives on their own decisions. Gal. 6:7 Col. 3:25 all mandate authority-orientation and the law of volitional responsibility when there is none.

Prov. 22:8 Whoever sows injustice will reap calamity, and the rod of his fury will fail.

In history, disaster is the result of anti-authority decisions. Have you noticed how anti-authority our society has become.

Bobby watched the verdict of the Chauvin trial. What struck Bobby was the heavy presence of police. The whole place might explode. Bad decisions from an anti-authority mindset.

Those institutions represent the rule of law. Tearing them down make things worse, not better. The believer is both protected and blessed.

You cannot progress if you are anti-Bible doctrine. You must be open to God's directive will. That leads the believer to authority-orientation. This is the manufacture of invisible heroes in this life. Destruction of the authority of God in life is a guarantee of a disastrous life, and a plethora of bad decisions. This is one of the most critical concepts of doctrine, when it comes to living life successfully.

Proverbs 12:1b ...but he who hates reproof [or, refuse correction] is stupid.

Lesson #0214                      Proverbs 12:1 Wisdom in the OT                      4/22/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:1a Whoever loves discipline loves knowledge,...

Proverbs 12:1b ...but he who hates reproof is stupid.

the second line confirms the problem of authority disorientation. Those who refuse correction are stupid.

Those Who Hate/refuse Correction

1. Refuse means to reject authority. Those who will burn, loot and even kill in the name of justice, are examples.
2. Refuse rejects any correction or reproof that comes authority in life.

3. A self-centered arrogant person will reject good advice and wisdom because they are rebellious in their souls. Rebellion is a way of life for them. Rebellion is every single direction that we look. They believe that they have a great movement, a great point of view; and that their actions take us toward a better way.
4. Injustice can come from any direction, any race, any gender. This comes from anywhere. People with power often become corrupt. It trickles down to all of us.
5. Those who refuse authority are stupid.
6. Anti-authority arrogance cannot accept any thinking apart from their own. They reject every other idea and every other authority; they accept only their own.
7. This will destroy the life any believer. The believer refuses to accept correction from the source of correction. When we refuse it and ignore it, we are anti-authority. That is refusing the authority of God. Refuse the authority of God's Word means you refuse His authority.

The anti-authority believer's continual ignorance extends to all forms of other things. Believers can be criminals. No believer can function properly in the plan of God without correction. We become doctrinally and grace oriented. We must accept the Scripture as our authority. Grace orientation and doctrinal orientation go hand in hand. The believer who will not accept the authority over him will not advance. That is the mode for living the spiritual life to the maximum.

Authority orientation in the home is where it should begin. If this does not happen in the home, young people who are believers will have great problems with authority-orientation later in life. It is called reversionism. What is important is we are authority oriented to Bible doctrine. The stupid are constantly tripped up and their fail in life. Especially in the plan of God as a believer. That is the favorable condition for the downward plunge in life. It encompasses a lack of Bible doctrine; it encompasses the inability to move forward in the spiritual life. Such a confused and self-centered person sees doctrine as a hindrance to their life. It is a grace benefit. Without grace orientation, that is the hardening of the soul; the very definition of reversionism. This is a downward spiral. Essentially, basically, that is how it happens. The arrogant loves flattery. They refuse correction because it deflates their ego. They know they are right and no one can change their minds. There is so much arrogance on the streets. No one knows better than those who reject the authority of law and reject the authority of those who are over us, no matter how bad they are. They are charged to keep the law and to keep order. They do not understand authority. If we let you be anti-authority and let you be on the streets, maybe it will all go away. But nothing is going to stop it other than the rule of law.

We as believers are right in the middle of it. What are we going to do? We are prepared for anything. It may seem new to us, because we have lived under the rule of law for 200 years. But we are beginning to live in the way the much of the world lives. We are losing these freedoms and it worries many of us. No matter what, we are not to be worried. We have the solution. We start in our own souls and we move forward in whatever way the Lord want.

We have no right as a believer to fall apart over all of this. Reading everything that there is the read about politics is not the solution. It requires rebound. Do not lose sight of the One Whose hands you are in. We are still standing for one reason. Whoever thinks that they can defeat us will never win; because of the God that we know. God cannot be mocked; but we are being mocked by those who are anti authority. For them, all correction is mocked and it is unacceptable. No one speaks to me like that! When you cannot be corrected by the Word of God, that does not fit with your goals. That does not fit with pleasure. Then you have the absolute correction for the Christian life.

What do you think the spiritual life is about? Bobby has as much fun as the next person, but he is able to function within the rule of law. Some people thinks that their life is incomplete without sex, drugs and rock'n'roll. Authority is a part of that life. But don't get upset when you see all of that anti-authority all around you.

Cosmic system schemes and the trends of the old sin nature. Human viewpoint thinking to depend upon elections or counter demonstrations. Bobby is not saying, don't become involved in government. No matter what, there will be disappointments, corruption and injustice. No matter. Why? You know why. We have a sin nature, as does every other person on this earth.

Our personal responsibilities lie first with the Lord, which means putting your trust in Him. We can't get worked up over this article. "I am going to change your thinking by having you read this article." If you don't have the maturity to handle it, where is your trust? You can enjoy reading those articles to see what is going on and to apply doctrine, great. But if you great wrapped up in those things and you want to get out there and change the world, you are stupid. You are not fulfilling the plan of God for your life. Do not refuse correction by the Word of God. Do not lose sight, even in the times that we live. It will get worse. Some of you are sweating that. Don't. This is just more opportunity to apply the doctrine that you have. Bible doctrine is your first and only line of defense.

Those who are the most anti-authority appear to be getting the most benefit from it. We should understand that this nation cannot stand with anti-authority government. God does not allow us to run anti-authority. When LGBTQ runs rampant in society, God will handle it. He will handle it when it becomes pervasive in a society.

Unfortunately, Christians have refused the correction of the Scriptures. Don't worry; God will not be mocked.

Legalism is trusting in self rather than trusting in God. That is what much of religion is. But that is me and what I... The sin nature can involve one in antinomian activities. They seek pleasure and trusting things like wealth. There is nothing wrong with wealth; but depending upon it. We should be able to differentiate now. We should be able to recognize anti-authority and anti-establishment thinking. Rather than think, where in the world can I go to have freedom? It is not about moving to Australia. What you carry in your soul is what matters.

Proverbs 12:1b ...but he who hates reproof is stupid.

ba'ar (בָּעַר) [pronounced BAH-ġahr]. If the shoe fits, wear it. If you have humility, you can recognize your own stupidity. No need to call anyone else stupid. Just call yourself stupid if necessary. Senseless, stupid, brutish. Applicable to a dumb animal. Animals are without the ability of having complex thought. Animals live on instinct. They live on the patterns laid out. Some can be trained. Dogs can be taught great tricks. Some people at the office taught Bobby's dog some tricks. No matter how much they learn. Bobby's dog was well-known at the office. He came up with Bobby to the office. He was very crafty when it came to finding and consuming food. He would walk into T&P and the dog's nose would go right up. This was his instinct. He would look up on the desk where the food was. He would get to a roller chair to the right position to leap up onto the chair and onto the table. One of the saddest days of his life. Bobby put them on his desk, stupidly. Trapped on a desk with 6 cupcakes. Chocolate paws all over.

Although driven by food, he never knew how to shop and make food. He would listen to Bobby speak; but he could not understand them. Bobby talks to himself when studying. He speaks it to see how it sounds. BJ would lie under his desk and he heard plenty of doctrine; but doctrine did not change his thinking. Animals do not have the capacity to learn as we do.

We know that we can learn complex thoughts through the use of language. We can be like animals, refusing correction, refusing to learn. The love of knowledge is about believers receiving correction and guidance. Doctrine is complex thought; and only the believer is able to capable of thinking it. They can understand the words, but they cannot metabolize it and use it, as a part of their lives and souls. Doctrine can change the life of a believer; but this is not possible for the brutish animal, the unbeliever, or the brutish believer. The believer has the capacity to learn by instruction and reproof. The one who refuses to learn is brutish. The stupid believer is compared here to a beast. No teachability; no love of knowledge. The perfect description. Ironically that a beast responds better to correction more than the recalcitrant believer.

The believer who gains instruction and doctrine; learns and benefits from it. No Bible doctrine, rejection of reproof is absolute stupidity. As once was said in a movie, stupid is as stupid does. In knowledge, stolid, irrational, intractable, immoveable in life; cannot go from cosmic thinking to the mind of Christ.

The Brutish Behavior Leads to a Self-centered Life

1. A life based upon self-justification. Rationalizing your own flaws and sinful behavior. Convinced that you are right and others are wrong, never analyzing yourself.
2. Secondly, there is self-deception. Described as such:
  - a. Unable to admit fault in self.
  - b. In order to justify self, he must lie to himself or to herself.
  - c. In a state of denial, you often project your own flaws onto other people. That is how you see yourself as not stupid.

d. You see exaggerated qualities of greatness. You are deceiving yourself as to who and what you are.

3. Finally, you are self-absorbed: hypersensitivity, extreme self-centeredness. Self-absorbed husbands and wives have no thought to the other.

This takes us to v. 2, which is a contrast.

Lesson #0215

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

4/25/2021 Sunday

Rebound simply means recovery of the spiritual life. Naming your sins to God means recovery. There are no visible demonstrations of this. What the Holy Spirit does is aid and metabolize the doctrine that we believe.

We have spent a long time on authority-orientation. This takes us to v. 2.

V. 1 describes the wise person who loves Bible doctrine. Contrasted with the brutish person. V. 2 is, how the Lord sees the knowledgeable. Good here simply means obtaining favor from the Lord, the highest goal of the believer's life.

Proverbs 12:2 A good man obtains favor from the LORD, but a man of evil devices he condemns.

Isa. 64:6 For all of us become like one who is unclean, and all of our righteous deeds are like monstrous rags. We all wither like a leaf; and our iniquities carry us away. This is all about the total depravity of man.

Authority-orientation resulting in humility in the soul. This is what pleases God. It is entirely a grace operation from the resources provided by God for spiritual growth. The power needed for this all comes from God.

James 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you. God exalts those who please Him.

Humility is the modest sense of one's own importance (or not) in life. In the believer, it is bowing to the plan of God in all things. That is what is important. Humble yourselves in His presence. "I have to submit to this book and I don't agree with much of it." There are many verses which contrast with what society says is right and good today.

The humility of authority-orientation is critical. God's favor is always a reflection of God's grace and our grace orientation. It is God Who supplies what is necessary to please Him. What a novel concept! We please God by utilizing what He has done for us. The world does not understand this because they are not grace oriented. Humility is the product of authority-orientation and of grace orientation. The fact that we are teachable. We do not place ourselves above or over anyone else. This love is what we need. Authority and grace orientation are things which must be in our souls.

The use of man in the Scriptures is thought by some to be sexist. This is the generic use of the term. Women do not escape this.

Our society today is offended over everything. If we get nothing else today, God does not bestow favor upon self-centered arrogance. Virtue and integrity require us to use the spiritual skills. They must be developed. Executing the plan of God in every phase of life. All of this is from the grace of God. What pleases God is what He gives us to use. It is not in our own strength or power; it is what He gives us. The virtue derived from executing the plan of God engenders the favor of God.

James 4:6 But he gives more grace. Therefore it says, "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble."

This is the spiritual life; gaining the favor of God; greater grace. It is humility from authority that gains divine favor.

James 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you.

Humility and the Christian Life

1. Humility is the greatest virtue in the Christian life. It is the basic attitude; the attitude of grace orientation and authority-orientation. All of these are necessary to please God and gain the favor of God.
2. Humility does not make an issue of self or self-consciousness.
3. The good person of v. 2 is the believer who orients to something great than himself.
4. Therefore, to be a good person, as v. 2 says, requires humility, authority and grace orientation and teachability.
5. God and His Word are the highest authority to be followed without reservations. We should never question the authority of God's Word. It is God's Word. Do you question the authority of God Himself? God's greater grace to the humble.
6. Authority-orientation always places the plan of God before self. That is speaking of humility as well. These are synonyms. A characteristic and the means to that characteristic.
7. That is how the believer humbles himself in the presence of the Lord. We are always in the presence of God. So we must always be authority oriented.
8. This is why God exalts his great favor.
9. It is not about what we do, but it is all about what we think. What is derived from the Word of God; what is the mind of Christ.
10. Once the attitude is one of humility and the plan of God, then the believer produces divine good, which is pleasing to the Lord. We know what we do. Then we have the great believer of v. 2a.

Moses is one of the greatest examples. He is related by teachability and humility and adherence to the plan of God.

Numbers 12:3 Now the man Moses was very meek, more than all people who were on the face of the earth.

He has to put up with the complainers, the whiners. He learned to follow God's directives in spite of all directives. Moses has plenty of obstacles in his life. His humility was the zenith of his genius. Nothing compared to the humility that he had.

Exodus 33:17 And the LORD said to Moses, "This very thing that you have spoken I will do, for you have found favor in my sight, and I know you by name."

That is the grace of God being bestowed upon the one who followed God's guidance. We may think, well, God told Moses exactly what to do; so how do I know? If you are interested in how you are guided by the Lord, see Divine Guidance book. This is quite informative regarding God's directive will. It was not that Moses was great in human terms by earning God's respect by his accomplishments. In human terms, he was an outstanding human being. Moses used his talents and abilities for accomplishing God's plan and not his. That is divine favor based upon authority-orientation. That is the goal of every believer.

David is a great example; Noah is also one said to follow the directive will of God. He was clueless concerning the full impact of what God wanted him to do. They were all spared from the flood that came. Noah obeyed God's will, even though he was ridiculed for what he was doing. Noah survived the greatest cataclysmic event in earth's human history.

We get distracted in life. There is so much going on. There is no divine favor in that. True blessing is for the good man who executes God's plan above all. Don't forget His course in our lives.

The best person to model is the Lord Jesus Christ. Philip. 2:8 Being found in appearance to be a man, He humbled Himself by become obedient to the point of death, even death on the cross. That is the ultimate humility.

God the Father favored Jesus as He followed God's will. "My favor is bestowed upon Him. This is My Son in Whom I am well-pleased." Humility; authority orientation. He followed the plan of God, even though it cost Him everything. Christ brought authority-orientation to everyone. We have the grace of God through that one act.

Jesus Set the Pattern of Humility for Our Spiritual Lives

1. We can live the same spiritual life that the Lord lived here on earth. We have the mind of Christ, we can grow to spiritual maturity.
2. This requires our acquisition of humility, authority, grace orientation to live the Christian life. All of those are based upon what God has provided for us.
3. With teachability, we understand God's plan. The less humility that we have, the less teachable that we are.

4. That is the maturing process which defines the advance in the spiritual life. Grace and doctrinal orientation.
5. Then the wisdom of spiritual maturity is applied in life. Hence we are now equipped to serve the Lord. We are so equipped because He equips us.
6. We gain His favor through what He accomplishes in and through us, hence the believer understands the spiritual life, using problem solving devices, all depend upon divine power. Not on human excellence.

There is the opposite of humility, and that brings consequences to us.

Proverbs 12:2 A good man obtains favor from the LORD, but a man of evil devices he condemns.

Lesson #0216                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT    4/28/2021    Wednesday

No Bible class next week.

Proverbs 12:2a A good man obtains favor from the LORD,...

What Is a Good Man?

1. A good man is one who gains and who loves Bible doctrine.
2. To be a good believer, that requires teachability under authority. You cannot learn unless you accept the authority of one who is teaching. This is so true in church as anywhere else. Bobby makes every effort to get the Scriptures right, even though he can make a mistake. If you don't believe it, you are not going to learn it. Doesn't matter if you like or dislike what Bobby is teaching. That means you are not teachable.
3. God's Word is our primary authority to which we must orient. Believers who reject authority and reject knowledge. The Word of God rejected means they just follow their own authority.
4. Authority-orientation is the necessary discipline to always place God's Word above one's self and to learn it. Bobby assumes that we came not to critique him but to learn. You are putting the Word of God above yourself. You can only get so much if you try to get it on your own. There is a Christian vocabulary out there, doing this or that for the Lord. Unfortunately, that is not what Christians should be learning. They are not being grace oriented. Authority-orientation is so critical. Your primary authority is the Word of God. Bobby carries authority because he teaches the Word of God.
5. The good person is the one who orients to something greater than self. That demonstrates something that you must have, the all-important quality of humility.
6. In the Christian life, humility springs from an orientation to authority and to grace. If you are anti-authority, you cannot be grace oriented. No humility in that. You don't put yourself first. That is humility. God is worthy of everything. The number 1 characteristic of the Christian life. Humility is the by-product.
7. With those characteristics, the believer submits to the plan of God.

8. Therefore, learning and executing the plan of God is derived from 4 things. Authority-orientation, grace orientation, teachability, and doctrinal orientation. That is learning and executing the plan of God.
9. In turn, engenders the favor of God. Favor it extended to the believer who matures spiritually. He maximizes those qualities and advances in the spiritual life.

There is the opposite to this which brings consequences, found in the second line.

Proverbs 12:2b ...but a man of evil devices he condemns.

Conclusion

1. Just at divine favor is dependent upon authority-orientation, and humility in this life
2. Condemnation is for those who lack authority-orientation and humility.
3. Hence condemnation is a lack of favor from God. This is not saying we lose our salvation. 1Peter 5:5 Likewise, you who are younger, be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble." How do you shed the arrogance which is destructive to the spiritual life.

Self-confidence is not the same as arrogance. Arrogance is where you put yourself before everything else in life. Today, we have a nation who put themselves before everyone else. I am out for what I can get; to hell with everyone else. Given a nice coating of claims of justice. The very authority of the street is the police officer; and the justice crowd are as anti-authority as they can be. The extreme of anti-authority is everyone doing whatever they want to do.

War with God is the opposite of authority-orientation, grace orientation, and doctrinal orientation. When a nation goes to war with God, it does not work out very well for that nation.

There is corporate arrogance. When it is so widespread among individuals and groups, it can mean punishment in the cycles of discipline and even the destruction of the entire national entity. God does not let arrogance run wild. God's judgments has been witnessed many times in history. Evil can be rampant. There comes a time when it must be stopped. Especially Biblical history, because we see what God did. Destruction of the entire earth with a flood; or Sodom. The fifth cycle of discipline applied to the northern kingdom and then the southern kingdom.

We are on the brink of serious discipline. Wholeheartedly embracing humanism, we are there. We can see it happening right in front of our eyes. The communications are unlike anything we have seen before.

History, Humanism and Evil

1. History teaches us—and history is all about the sin nature of man—we should not be surprised by what is happening. The cosmic system and human arrogance will destroy the human race.
2. God will not allow such overwhelming evil.
3. God will create a new heaven and a new earth for the eternal state. Total destruction is not in the offing.
4. God condemns and punishes in time those who devise such destructive evil, the kind of evil that we see today. We do have, as human beings, the ability to destroy ourselves. It is possible for us to have nuclear wars to destroy the planet. But we will not destroy ourselves. Evil is a problem.
5. God destroys the source of evil; but He will not condemn all mankind. He will preserve us. Even in a nuclear war, God will preserve us.

Bobby and the Cuban missile crisis; Kennedy stared down the Cubans and Russians. We used to have drills where students got under their desks. We never have to fear that. There are nuclear weapons pointed towards Houston right now. So what. God punishes, but He also preserves. He preserves believers for His purposes.

Who is the person who devises evil? He or she would be a schemer; a crafty person; a designer of evil, who promotes it in any way possible. Humanistic propaganda. We have such incredible communications today, getting more incredible every day. Bobby can also stream the Word of God into the world. The counter play between evil and the Word of God. Bible doctrine always prevails. History teaches us that as well. Israel has been persecuted relentlessly throughout its history. Those who persecuted are not. It may look bad; we may look to be in real trouble. But we are always the winner. And when it is all over, we have eternity. We as believers cannot be eaten?

Someone who is crafty and promoting evil is someone who uses deceitful bait. Devisers of evil are those who do that. Such men are always convincing liars. Bobby could go way off on deceitful speech and lying. One of the worst of them may be speaking right now. You can never trust a person with their humanistic thinking, because they live a lie. Don't develop intimate friendships with them; don't go into business with them (unless you are well covered with all kinds of contracts). For heaven sakes, do not marry a sneaky liar. To avoid such bad decisions, avoid such. They are sneaky. If you are a sneak and a liar, then you are likely to gravitate towards the same ilk. While learning to despise the lies and subterfuge of that person, you learn to despise yourself.

The most crafty liar, the serpent. God made Lucifer as the perfect angelic being; the most beautiful creature ever created. His anti-authority attitudes and actions. In his heart, he wanted to be like the Most High. Satan led a revolution in heaven to take it by force. God defeated and condemned him. Matt. 25:41. “Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels.”

Satan's only argument was to impugn God's love. That is absolute evil. But Satan rebelled; anti-authority became the deviser of evil. Satan was the inventor of the cosmic system. He started small and he expanded. In so doing, he was more skillful and more ingenious, a greater liar than anyone else. 1Peter 5:8 Be sober-minded; be watchful. Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. See what is going on, all around you. Be on alert. Your adversary, the devil, the cosmic system is after us.

Satan's evil, at times, appears to be good. He is an angel of light, in appearance, but he is total evil; the essence of darkness. Good becomes evil; and evil becomes good. He is a master sneak and liar. How easily people forget who Satan is. The woman was entrapped by Satan's seduction. Our only defense against the greatest deceiver who is, and only defense, is the love of knowledge, humility, grace orientation, teachability, doctrinal orientation. So God not only condemns Satan; He also condemned the man and the woman. Adam was the focus of God's condemnation. Adam willingly made a bad decision. We all have sin natures. In turn, we have all become very adept at devising evil. Even in a better environment, we are not getting better.

Humanism thinks that if we could just fix the environment, that things would be fixed. Environment does not change the sin nature. We have the greatest comforts and greatest things that we could hope; the ability to make money, like never before. The sin nature still devises schemes constantly. Burning coal or using solar energy will not change our lives. Total lie of Satan; it will not change anything. We have become great devisers of evil. Our first line of defense is the Lord and His Word. His doctrines define evil and the depravity of mankind, so that we can recognize evil and even avoid it. Even when evil is packaged as good. Bobby began this study so that we can recognize and avoid evil. We won't be fooled by the ideology of socialism and Marxism.

You can lead others to the truth of Bible doctrine, but you can't make them drink. Devisers of evil are already condemned.

One is not a good person when he falls for cosmic system deceit. Don't get herd-bound. Yet now we are hearing, everything that is divine institution is evil. The believer with spiritual maturity can withstand the entrapments of evil. So God combats and provides a means for us, to turn away from such evil and the temptations and the deceit and lies.

Judgement on this nation may preserve us; what is happening now may be a wake up call. God will not let evil run rampant in this world. When it is time to stop it, God will stop it.

Proverbs 12:2b ...but a man of evil devices he condemns.

Lesson #0217                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      4/29/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:2b ...but a man of evil devices he condemns.

The cosmic system is the opposite of what the mind of Christ is. The cosmic system is the brainchild of Satan. It appears that it will benefit the human race, but it does not. Corrupt humanity is the epicenter of the cosmic system. But the cosmic system cannot prevail.

God will inevitably shut that down. God will shut down the cosmic system eventually. Man does have a sin nature; but there will come a point where the devisers of evil must be stopped. In Gen. 6, all of the polluted members of the human race had to be removed.

The flood destroyed them. We understood the situation with Sodom. God's people, Israel, were against God. God disciplined them very severely. Kingdom of Judah was destroyed in 586 B.C. But the Jews were brought back 70 years later. God does not let evil proliferate past a certain point. He will not allow evil to rule the earth. There will always be a client nation to God; or, at the very least, a client people. God protects the believer from the cosmic system. One of the greatest protections is the doctrine in our souls. The things which we see appear to be, on the surface, something which is beneficial. If they leave God out of the equation. They will be ultimately evil. With the mind of Christ, you can discern evil and you can see where it is going. Today, we can see the political winds and where they are blowing. They are not good today; they are deadly humanism. God protects us through knowledge of the truth.

Remember, the love of divine knowledge must be present. We must have positive volition towards the truth. We have all been sucker-punched by what is thought to be good.

Example from Bobby: the attraction stage of a relationship between a man and a woman. The man, we might call him a player, and he will use whatever lines are necessary to impress and elicit a satisfactory response. Women are able to say the right things to hide their true intentions.

One or more of the spouses cannot be trusted. If they lie in the beginning, they will lie in the middle and they will lie in the end. Marriage does not have to be a lie. Without honor and integrity of soul from Bible doctrine, it will not. Wisdom must be applied. The deceitful person must be rejected as marriage material. That takes some wisdom. It can be very easy to be deceived. Many mistakes done when we were young and stupid. No wisdom to make discerning decisions about the opposite gender. A good decision must be made with wisdom regarding a marriage partner. Male with male and female with female can never be right. This defies the divine institution of marriage.

Divine truth and wisdom of every area of life. Psalm 5:12 For you bless the righteous, O LORD; you cover him with favor as with a shield.

Remember, never denigrate or dismiss God's judgment of evil. That judgment is for our benefit. It is protection; it is a cleansing of evil, if it goes too far. We understand that the cosmic system is in high gear. The people in this country often have no wisdom; how far does that go? How far will God let it go? God does apply the stages of discipline.

Do not be a bleeding heart over the destruction of those who are evil, even if they appear to have some redeeming value from a human viewpoint position. Even if this includes our own humanistic, reversionistic nation. We don't know why God intervenes in some cases; we don't worry about it.

Bobby could name dozens of things which are problematic, but Psalm 5:12 is a promise. God still gives grace to the grace oriented believer.

When the nation has hard times, we often do as well. We have the problem solving devices and the guaranteed shield of protection.

God and Discipline of a People or Nation

1. We do not know what form of discipline that God may apply against a degenerate client nation. When a degenerate client nation devises the kinds of evil in terms of idolatry, etc. The loss of the mind of Christ. Then He will condemn. We do know some of His statements. We do know that He is working.
2. History is filled with God's various methods of discipline and the results. Many nations have fallen. The rise has to do with the client nation status.
3. It may be an obvious destruction in the condemnation that God brings upon some. That has happened to many nations and people in the past. There are 10 places where our military could have problems in the future. It seems like we are going back to a policy of appeasement in Iran.
4. Divine judgment may be more subtle.
5. We may not notice the problem at first. Sleep heating until be boil. We may not even understand what is coming.
6. It may seem like an inconvenience to us that continues to escalate to untenable levels. Situations like over taxation, a slowing economy, a pandemic.
7. Discipline may be an incremental downturn of society. God letting the bad decisions of people and nations play out.
8. This downturn of society will be true with a loss of standards of morality or divine establishment and divine institution rejection. If this does not sound familiar to you, you need to keep on growing.
9. Also true of a creeping recession or depression. You don't know. God could bring our economy to a screeching halt. Another form of discipline. Discipline could be a slow erosion of freedoms, the undermining of institutions, power grabs by politicians, resulting in slavery to one's own government or even to a foreign power. All of these possibilities are revealed in the 5 cycles of disciple. How far does it go? We are holding the line as the pivot of mature believers. If the discipline comes, we have the wall of protection of Psalm 5:12.

The Old Testament is a history of Israel's triumphs and Israel's defeats. It all is based upon how they view their God. God punishes human arrogance. Humility, teachability. One of the great illustrations in the Old Testament is Elijah versus Ahab and Jezebel. Ahab brought Israel to a new low. Baal worship is ubiquitous.

The problems of Elijah found in God the Holy Spirit versus the sin nature.

1Kings 16:29 In the thirty-eighth year of Asa king of Judah, Ahab the son of Omri began to reign over Israel, and Ahab the son of Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years.

1Kings 16:30 And Ahab the son of Omri did evil in the sight of the LORD, more than all who were before him.

1Kings 16:31 And as if it had been a light thing for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, he took for his wife Jezebel the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians, and went and served Baal and worshiped him.

1Kings 16:32 He erected an altar for Baal in the house of Baal, which he built in Samaria.

1Kings 16:33 And Ahab made an Asherah. Ahab did more to provoke the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger than all the kings of Israel who were before him.

The story of Elijah and the altar and the Baal prophets. God executed the priests of Baal. That is how God punished. Jezebel got mad and chased Elijah several hundred miles to kill him.

The evil arrogance demonstrated is condemned; always condemned by God. When condemned by God, it always fails. He preserves His people from the consequences of the personal and national arrogance.

People Devising Evil Within a Nation

1. The root of the evil devised by man is self-centered arrogance and anti authority orientation. That is how Israel looked at God at this time.
2. Anything that opposes God or His Word opposes Bible doctrine, is unwise and the ultimate in anti-authority arrogance. Either-or; no in between.
3. That evil never passes unscathed. That should be of comfort to us. There are results to it. Natural results.
4. It also receives all of God's justice and retribution.
5. The person who devises evil is a servant of the cosmic system and, as v. 2a says, is condemned or considered guilty by God.
6. He or she receives appropriate retribution, and that retribution is from God. Don't join an activist group; just get out of His way. We may be at the end of the line as client nation USA.
7. No one can escape or defeat the justice of God.

Proverbs 12:2b ...but a man of evil devices he condemns.

V. 3 carries on with the evil of mankind.

Proverbs 12:3 No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved.

Wickedness brings punish and judgment. The wicked are insecure. These people in high places are very very insecure, and they prove it every day. Who screams the loudest, the ones in power. The machinations will fail; they always have.

The righteous, the humble and authority-orientated, bring security. That is what establishes a client nation. The word to focus on is....

To Establish

1. To establish is key.
2. On the one hand, one is not established by wickedness. The righteous will not be moved; they will be established.
3. The righteous will be permanently established based on their experiential righteousness. Stability versus instability; security vs. insecurity. These are the basic thought-patterns of all human beings.

Many of those of a leftist persuasion spend more often in counseling than anyone else. There is instability there. We have absolute permanence; we have eternal life. We have a future in the plan of God. That is permanence and stability. We have found it.

Will not be moved is very powerful.

Psalm 125:1 Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abides forever.

God's promises to Israel are temporarily set apart for us in the Church Age. But there are 7 more years to go.

Psalm 46:1 God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

Giant sequoias in CA; and no trees are as stable as those. They tower over all others. They can be 350 ft. tall. Just like that, we stand in the midst of storms and disasters that will destroy others. We cannot be moved. That is the stability provided by the mature Christian life.

We need stability in prosperity as much as we do in adversity. We can also enjoy emotions to the maximum when we are stabilized by Bible doctrine. Mental stability always puts doctrine before experience. That is the stabilized mental attitude from Rom. 12:2-3 Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect. For by the grace given to me I say to everyone among you not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith that God has assigned.

Proverbs 12:3 No one is established by wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved.

Lesson #0218

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

5/2/2021 Sunday

Bobby told us that this study would be very practical. Today will be one of the most practical of subjects. Most of you will have an interest in this information.

The subject today is the relationship between a wife and husband. Sometimes this is trial and error; or major and minor adjustments, and learning to live with someone that you will spend the rest of your life with.

If you have problems while single, you will double those with marriage. Love sometimes deteriorates; and it is not always about love. Capacity to love has to be developed before marriage because once you are in it, it gets harder. It is a much tougher road. Objectives and goals in life change. Many problems can come with those married. Sometimes fighting, dissension and even divorce. The Bible has a lot to say regarding the success of marriage.

Authority-orientation and leadership are critical for any marriage.

Proverbs 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

The wife can be the crown of her husband; but she can also be the rotteness of her husband's bones.

The one who accepts authority orientation and leadership is the one who is the crown of her husband. Accepting the authority of the husband is the most critical aspect of a marriage. This verse states that either attitude has an affect. The wife has everything to do with the status of the household. This verse is about success and failure in the relationship. This is not Bobby talking; but the Bible.

Proverbs 12:4a An excellent wife is the crown of her husband,...

The feminist dominance of the conversation today. The bad and immoral decisions of women are often ignored. In such feminism we find the problem with authority-orientation. A greater affect that she has on her husband. The wife holds a huge key to the success of any home, husband and children. The one who shames her husband and her household affects the subsequent generations.

Women of noble character in relation to the character. Most of the time, we study women and their actions as separate from the husband. But here, they relate directly to the husband and to his life. In so doing, she is the crown jewel of the relationship. A crown is the symbol of renown.

We have studied humility very carefully. The practical nature of humility is going to become very clear. The noble wife is known in her own right and for her own accomplishments. This refers to character traits of an excellent and noble wife.

Many people think that this chapter is an impossible standard for a woman; but they reckon this without considering spiritual maturity. The most sparkling of all, this dissertation. And she teaches her children. Children learn from their parents; and they learn not just by what you say, but by what you do.

Bobby's mother was a fantastic mother; 58% of the credit for Bobby's young life. We all know what Bob was doing. This verse refers to the character traits of an excellent noble wife. Is that it? I am just going to be a housewife and nothing more?

The wife's actions and character reflect on the husband's leadership. This verse limits the woman's excellence to marriage. This is something that only she brings. This precludes male-male or female-female marriage. That is not the divine design. No redefinition by a movement can change the Biblical description of marriage.

The Scriptures also tell us that the wife is, by divine design, under the authority of the husband. You may not like that, but that is because society tells you not to believe this. The husband sees his wife as a partner in life; she is not someone to kick around and say, "I am in charge." The husband's authority is based upon his ability to lead.

There is no question that the woman is the crown of her husband in marriage. She secures, by this, an exalted place in society. Women who are ungracious, pushy, demanding-of-respect, etc. are not crowns.

Prov. 11:16 A gracious woman gets honor, and violent men get riches.

Men can be ruthless to reach the objective of attaining riches; but this drive can lead to corruption. Although women certain can attain the same level of corruption.

The singular crown in this case is the opposite. She is beautiful in character; a woman gracious and regal in bearing, authority-orientated, and who respects her husband. In this mode, she attains respect in her house. A link to authority and grace orientation. This are important qualities for any believer, male or female. Such a woman is beautiful inside and out.

One very critical caveat. This is not a one-sided relationship; nor is the marriage the sole responsibility of the wife.

The husband must lead and love the wife. Jesus died for us and we are to love our wives as Jesus loved the church. A husband must offer a sacrificial and protected love for his wife. He must be a leader, not a boy. He gives constant encouragement of, deference to and care for his wife. A husband is only capable of this by spiritual maturity.

Let's look at the husband and his qualities and skills.

Qualities of Leadership (In Marriage and Elsewhere)

1. The first quality of a good leader is maturity; no boys allowed. Boys are usually arrogant, thinking only of themselves; not able to love. Ability to make wise decisions in the best interests of him and his wife. The husband must have some wisdom. Maturity must be manifested also in the wife.

2. A husband needs self-discipline; he fulfills his duty to his wife in every way and is not distracted elsewhere. Self-discipline. This does not mean that wives get 100% of his attention.
3. Flexibility. Making timely and appropriate changes in thinking, plans if she has a good suggestion. Listen to her. Stubbornness in a man is the exact opposite. This is part of her being a crown to her husband. Ask for directions.
4. Endurance—the fortitude to carry on through difficult times. Emotional and through conflict with the wife.
5. Poise under stress especially. Confident control of emotions under and circumstance. Bobby has known husband who have lost their jobs and curl up on a couch and the wife must take over.
6. Decisiveness; sound judgment; judgment that the wife can trust. Based upon doctrine and wisdom in the soul. Making definitive decisions. We must be able to make a decision. In the military, you have to make a decision, whether right or wrong.
7. Graciousness, including meeting the needs of the wife with kindness and gentleness. 1Peter 3:7 the woman is called the weaker vessel. She is a responder to the husband's leadership. She does not need to be slapped around, metaphorically or physically. Such a man is a fool and a criminal.
8. The husband must have justice in his soul. Fair treatment, regardless of disagreement or conflict. Not a tyrant. This goes right along with listening. It goes right along with humility.
9. Assertiveness. Taking charge when necessary. With any leader, the buck stops with him. If you do not assert authority, the wife will take it from you. Gen. 3:16 This is the desire of the woman for the authority of the man. This does not mean brutal, unkind or ungracious. It must all balance out.
10. Along with assertiveness goes compassion. Sensitivity to the feelings, values and interests of the well-being of your wife.
11. A sense of humor. Not taking yourself too seriously. A little laughter in the home is great; it is good medicine. Have some fun. Make it so.
12. Humility. This is something at every believer should have and develop. Critical for the believer. It means correcting weaknesses. Correcting imperfections in your character. Requires knowledge and skills. Even-handed; not getting emotional; you don't get down, you don't get upset. All of those things developed with spiritual maturity.
13. If those qualities and more. Bobby learned leadership in the military. Very different between dealing with a wife and with a platoon. A good leader can lead a platoon; but they won't follow you out of the latrine with a bad leader. Same for a wife.
14. This is the environment for a wife to respond. She appreciates the man's authority and then she becomes his crown. She becomes the envy of other couples.

Today, these male-female roles are denied and they are mocked. But this is God's design for the marriage. When a woman is, when a wife is the crown of her husband, then they have a great marriage. They are partners in life.

Marriage today is on the rocks; the whole institution. People do not understand this. They do not understand leadership or response to it. They do not understand Eph. 5. The wife responding to the authority of her husband.

Bobby has given us the big secret to a good marriage. Those with a bad marriage will look elsewhere. The pasture is not greener on the other side of the fence. This is because we are the problem.

Bobby will continue with this next time.

Proverbs 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rottenness in his bones.

Communion May 9, 2021

We are following the instructions of our Lord. The memorial takes place in our souls.

Matt. 17:2, 3, 8

Matt. 17:1 And after six days Jesus took with him Peter and James, and John his brother, and led them up a high mountain by themselves.

Matt. 17:2 And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became white as light.

Matt. 17:3 And behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elijah, talking with him.

What an incredible view of the Lord that these men had. Moses and Elijah are identified, who have returned. This tells us that, after our death, we are not dead nor are we asleep.

Peter has a great idea:

Matt. 17:4 And Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good that we are here. If you wish, I will make three tents here, one for you and one for Moses and one for Elijah."

Peter recognized that this was the tent where Moses met with God. Exodus 33:9 When Moses entered the tent, the pillar of cloud would descend and stand at the entrance of the tent, and the LORD would speak with Moses.

Moses and the transfigured Christ were conversing just as they had done before. All that was missing was a tabernacle or a tent. He decided that building a tent was exactly what needed to happen. A brilliant cloud overshadowed them all.

Matt. 17:5 He was still speaking when, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to Him."

This was a spectacular sight and it should have been enough for anyone.

Moses and Elijah then slip away so that they are not to be noticed. Only the Person of Jesus Christ remains. This picture for us is, all other companionships and friends and relationships can be forfeited, as long as we have the Savior. It does not matter with the shifting friendships. This is true of the events which surround us even today.

Heb. 13:5 Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have, for he has said, "I will never leave you nor forsake you."

On the mount of Transfiguration that Jesus stood alone between the Old and New Testament Saints; and on the cross, He was crucified between two men.

Jesus is the one supreme mediator Who stands between man and God.

If we read the first chapter of Genesis, these are the works of Jesus Christ.

In these last days, God has spoken to us through His Son.

The second Person of the Trinity was the God of Noah and Joseph.

John's gospel reveals Jesus in the most uncompromising way.

John 1:29 The next day he [John] saw Jesus coming toward him, and said, "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!"

We should not try to carry the load of our own sins.

John brings us the ministry of Jesus Christ. If the whole world is not saved, it is not the fault of the Savior. The Lord's universal call is, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved.

John 4:42 They said to the woman, "It is no longer because of what you said that we believe, for we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is indeed the Savior of the world."

We have heard many times that there are many religions which lead us to God. Jesus is the difference between Christianity and all other religions. It is one thing to show someone the way; it is quite another to be the way. No other religious figure can be the Mediator between God and man.

Consider the effect of the experience of the Mount of Transfiguration on the disciples. They faced an urgency that they had not faced before.

For the Christian, even though we did not witness this transformation, their witness is good enough. When a believer grows spiritually, he or she becomes more and more occupied with the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. This occupation reveals a maximum love for Christ. When you are in love, you think of them constantly. You think about their features, the way that they walk and think and talk and conduct themselves. You recall their characteristics of honor and integrity. The One for whom you have a deep love.

Occupation with Christ is no different from the witness of these 3 disciples. His plan for your life and His provision for your eternity. He is truly the One who should be the focus for your love. Your life centers on Him and you are dedicated to Him.

Search the world over and you would never find a believer who is occupation with Christ and you will not find a believer who is indifferent to Him or to serving Him or to Bible doctrine. The reason that any believer falls out of love, becoming a reversionist, someone else fills up his vision other than the Lord Jesus Christ.

How many times have believers begun with great zeal and excitement. But they can make no time for Him and spiritual growth. This is the believer who allows other things to take precedence of Jesus Christ.

Since Christ also suffered for you, we follow in all of our lives, in prosperity or in difficulties. Our lives are not patterned after great human heroes or after persons of great accomplishment. Christ is our only model, a life lived in the power of God the Holy Spirit with the thinking of Christ, which is the Scriptures. We have no power in ourselves to live as He lived, He never requires of us without providing the means to accomplish it. He extends to us the same Holy Spirit that empowered His life on earth. He gives to us His same resources and the means to hear His Word and to apply His Word.

Going back to the Mount of Transfiguration.

Matt. 17:5 He was still speaking when, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them, and a voice from the cloud said, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him."

Many paintings and pictures of the Last Supper. Jesus is the central figure and His disciples are looking to Him.

Let us thank God that we do not have to depend or be occupied with mankind. He alone brings stability. Christ alone enables us to endure suffering, as the next few years progress. In all this, we worship Christ alone.

Prov. 12:4 an excellent wife is the crown of her husband.

That says something about their relationship

Prov. 10:10–31 is a great Mother's Day message. Trustworthy, resourceful, industrious, wise speech, generosity, domestic and business skills, critical fear or respect of the Lord. The Bible elevates women to a very high place in society to a position unknown in other religions. The idea that the women are just slaves, but this is not true.

We view the woman in the field of marriage.

The Mother

1. As a wife she brings only what a woman can bring. Prov. 12:4 excellence.
2. Kiel means a wife of noble character. But there are other things as well.
3. A number of shades of meaning.
4. Physical strength, Num. 24:18 she has plenty of physical strength.
5. Wealth in Job 20:15, suggesting we
6. Wealth attained by one's own drive and ability.
7. Integrity or strength of character.
8. Her strong self-assured and purposeful actions as on display in her home, especially within her home.

The wife is, by divine design, subordinate to the authority of the husband. The woman is the crown jewel of the husband. The husband is to love the wife as Christ loved the church. She responds to her husband and she enhances her husband's life. This is the way that God intended things to go from the very first marriage in the garden.

Also, in the garden, the woman abandoned her traditional role, as Adam followed her in sin. There is no question that she is the crown of marriage; and she secures her exalted place in marriage. Recognize that nobility of character makes a great mother. That comes only from the Word of God, the mind of Christ.

Lesson #0220

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 5/12/2021 Wednesday

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

The wife is elevated; she is the crown, as a jewel. She is exalted she is elevated and she is important. She is a crown which compliments her husband. That requires something on her part. That crown is placed on his head. Prov. 31 will be covered in the future.

The wife, as a crown, is placed on if she is excellent. She must be chayil, a person of noble character. This narrows the subject considerably. Expanded Prov. 11:16a A gracious woman gets honor,...

Grace is chên, it means grace, favor.

The Woman as the Crown of Her Husband

1. In the context, this is a woman of graciousness, because she has a soul filled with divine wisdom. That makes her gracious.
2. From that wisdom comes forth authority orientation. An entire doctrine on that not long ago. That is critical in the crown of her husband.
3. Because she is authority orientated, she is the crown of her husband. Their beauty differs. Regardless of how her exterior is evaluated can be beautiful based upon her soul.

The Main Verb Is Tamak

1. This means to gain, to hold fast.
2. It means a woman who has metabolized Bible doctrine and retained it in the memory center of her soul. She stores this in the mentality of her soul. It is circulating. It is a maturing process.
3. It circulates through her soul and when it does, she develops a quality that every believer must have, and this must include humility, which is the characteristic of authority orientation.
4. This becomes the characteristic of her soul. She holds fast; she does not let it go, no matter what.
5. She applies that humility in the form of grace and authority orientation. That makes her something that every man should look for.
6. That forms the beauty of her responsiveness to her husband.

She has glory, honor, splendor, wealth. She has a wealth in her soul. She is beneficial to all. It is typified by her graciousness. In contrast to the drive for material drive of the ruthless man. He is attuned only to his own desires, achievements, accomplishments. Extremely self-centered and extremely materialistic. She cannot respect a man like that.

Even if she is a gold-digger, she will come to hate such a man. He only has a ruthless gaining of material things. He often attracts a gold digger, or someone of that ilk.

The honorable woman has true humility; and the glory about her is very attractive.

The Woman as the Crown Jewel

1. This woman of great nobility has such a positive effect on her husband's enjoyment of life and fulfillment of life. In term, she is fulfilled.
2. She makes his life a pleasure. She is his crown.
3. She in turn receives all of the importance and position and deference that is due a queen.
4. Man is incomplete without such a woman with honor.
5. Man was made for the throne of this world, which is authority. He was created as such by God. The man was found unfit for the investiture until he got a woman as his help.
6. God took the measure of man's need and constituted woman as a suitable compliment. Not just a compliment but more.
7. She is the completion of his capacity and his title. It is not complete without her.
8. The woman is the jewel in the crown; she is the luster. Every man should seek the help meet for him. This is why so many men jump the gun.
9. That is the highest and most fulfilling aspect. This is God's design.
10. In her own rule, as being under authority, her potential almost has no limit.
11. She can serve her home and her husband, as well as outside of the home.
12. She is a leader in her own right; but she needs these characteristics.

Develop wisdom, honor and graciousness. Do not waste this on those do not appreciate it.

So often the woman in the home is denigrated. Any woman has as much effect or greater through raising her children. Don't ever think that she does not have tremendous influence.

Outside of her role, the woman's weakness. Bobby already talked about the man; but what about the woman? What is her weakness. Authority disorientation. She has not developed a gracious attitude.

Today the woman is promoted to be exactly that, the dominant gender. She is seen as the most powerful genders. She is the only one who has the capacity for compassion and peace. Wonder Woman leaves out the authority orientation.

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

The woman who spreads poison in her own home. All you need to hear is some female talk shows. All based upon anti-authority and the rebellious attitude. This does not mean that a man can't be a disgrace, a fool or worse. But the woman is the subject here. This woman can alter her husband's attitude for the worst. She can undermine her husband in the home; and she can lower his esteem and lower him among otherness.

A man with rottenness in his bones will be known to be a fool.

The woman is now bone of my bones, which brings the image of her rotting the man's bones. And flesh of my flesh; she will be called woman for she was taken out of man.

The Woman Taken out of the Man

1. Something is missing from Adam's body. A rib.
2. God took an integral part of Adam's body and let that...
3. The woman was created second, but not inferior. She was someone like him, but distinctly only. Only two genders. The divine institution of marriage is always one man and one woman.
4. The man and the woman, by divine creation were perfectly suited for one another.
5. The woman formed from part of Adam completed Adam.
6. The man is incomplete without the woman; that is the beauty of marriage.
7. That is the greatest relationship that there is in life. It can also be the worst.
8. The wife can be an integral part of the marriage.
9. A wife who is such a part of her husband but she shames him with her anti-authority approach? Competitiveness. Rebellion does not work.

Someone must have the final decision-making ability. The woman has many things worth listening to. A man who does not is a fool. It works both ways. The woman brings something to a marriage that no one else can bring. Clashing personalities and clashing sin natures with two men or two women.

The rotten wife always infects the husband in a rotten way. She mistakes her marital relationship. The marital relationship suffers and dies. It takes two to tango and two to divide.

Bobby could point out a number of women who fit that mold. The squad of women in Congress, one from Michigan, NY and Minnesota. They are shrill, combative, anti-establishment; they are power mad, but they are not the only ones.

One wants to do away with police. Another says the United States is rotten.

What about criminality? It does not just go away. Defunding police is not the bottom line. It is replacing the police who they run. It is to fulfill a vacuum with men of their own choosing. They want to be the authority. That is the same rot on a national scale.

The simple question is, what about criminality? These people cannot change the nature of man or their own sin nature. But they think they can bring a utopia through their own appeal. They assume power and they are just as corrupt as any male.

They over-estimate their power and value. Their shrill cries are just a means to gain power. Their ideas will not change America for the better. They reflect national decay. America, no matter what anyone claims, is not an evil nation. The US provides freedom and freedom of opportunity. Why do people flood over the border; this is the land of opportunity. The founder of BLM is an anti-authority Marxist female. The results show that in the divisiveness, hatred, anarchy that organization stands for. It is not about racism; it is all about power. This woman is buying a several million dollar home. She uses the money donated to the cause by unwitting people. Her rot translates rot to the nation. Every Marxist uses power for their own.

The socialists who cheat, lie and steal and use power to gain for themselves. They propagandize the people and take advantage for themselves. Their own self-centered goals. That is the rotten woman individually and corporately.

A biblical description of the anti-authority person. When unleashed is anti-authority. That woman is always competitive with the man. That is always revealed in a marriage.

Lesson #0221                      Proverbs 12:4 Wisdom in the OT                      5/13/2021 Thursday

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rottenness in his bones.

We are looking at the latter half of this verse. Women often do not like this. The first line, the wife is presented as the crown of her husband. Wisdom of Bible doctrine in her soul makes her a great woman. She makes his life complete. God designed her to be a compliment to her husband. A partner, never a slave. What are the roles of men and women in life. She is subordinate to him, to his loving leadership. A wife who is shrill, pushy, belligerent, anti-authority, ungracious, is the rotten wife of the second half. She has a rotten influence on her husband and children. Men can obviously do the same thing.

This verse says that she is shameful; she brings shame to her husband and to her household. How does she do this? The woman can alter the husband's world. She becomes a partner in that, competitively undermining his position in the home, lowering his self-esteem; and his only protection is his own spiritual growth.

Her own children are similarly affected. It is when a woman assumes an independent place, independent of place, or when she becomes a rival to her husband. She abuses her partnership with her husband. She has a great affect on all of that. In her anti-authority mode, she becomes a blight on all those around her; especially those in her own home.

The Biblical description of the anti authority wife is found in Gen. 3:16b.

Gen 3:16b Your desire shall be contrary to your husband, but he shall rule over you.”

This is a curse from the fall.

Explaining Genesis 3:16b

1. Desire is sometimes misinterpreted as sexual desire.
2. The Hebrew word is teshuquah means desire to rule, desire to control.
3. Teshuquah as a desire to rule specifically refers to a woman's strong inclination to resist the man's authority in leadership in marriage.
4. To usurp that authority to take it away; this understanding is apparent.
5. This is a parallelism here. Psalms and Proverbs are nothing but parallelism. That parallelism is critical in understanding what the woman's rottenness actually is.

More on Genesis 3:16b

1. The second line deals with the subject of authority. The husband has the authority in marriage.
2. The second line defines it for us. The husband would rule over her; and this offsets the curse on the woman.
3. The wife as a different objective. Both phrases have the same subject, which is authority. In other words, who has the authority in marriage.
4. She looks to take the leadership role. That is not God's design.
5. Recall that we are talking about the first man and the first woman. God designed the man and the woman in a certain way. They compliment each other.
6. The woman's desire is not for sex but to rule over him. This is an innate desire in every woman.
7. These are an antithetical parallelism. The man's role in authority; the man will ruin what God designed.
8. Husband and wife are in a battle or competition.

This is absolutely rejected by society today. This is exactly what the Scripture teaches. The cosmic system will distort anything which has to do with Bible doctrine. This is how marriages are attacked and how the family is attacked as well.

The henpecked husband is the one who is at a loss in the marriage. The rottenness of his marriage is a shame by all those who observe it. He will become a user and a cheater; and he might become brutal towards her and towards other. This is a constant tension and a constant source of discontent.

God designated the husband as the leader.

A second lieutenant is appointed to lead enlisted men. He is the leader by presidential appointment. The question is, will the troops under the 2nd lieutenant follow him? They will follow if the 2nd lieutenant has leadership skills. Without these skills, the sergeants will fill the void of leadership and the lieutenant will lose control of his troops. The troops lose respect for their leader. The woman will appropriate the husband's role and it will be the rottenness in his bones.

The Woman's Desire to Her Man

1. Because of the fall and the sin nature of the woman, an anti-authority attitude is the bane of the woman.
2. The woman's overarching tendency is to be in authority. To be anti-authority. Also with the inherent attitude in society in general.
3. Satan is well aware of this fact. He was there. He perpetrated it. He launched it. He was also cursed for this.
4. Radical feminism today.

The second phrase is the man holds the leadership in marriage by divine commission, by divine appointment. The wife who understands. The man having authority is one thing; using it is quite another. If the man does not use his authority properly, or the woman will rebel and take it away. Whether she exercises her authority or not depends on the development of leadership skills as a...

A Good Leader Is the Authority

1. The man must exhibit the love and care from Eph. 5. How does he do that? People say, "I love you," but what does it mean if they have no capacity for love? The husband is to love as Christ loved the church, with His thinking and His actions. The sacrificial type...
2. The second aspect of this is to take care of the wife. Leadership demands that the leader is out front. He should take care of the troops first.
3. The troops need to know the mission needs to be accomplished. Leadership in the military is very similar. Do it because it is the right thing to do.
4. That is a fundamental trait of the husband's leadership, the love and care mandated towards his wife.
5. That love is the motivating factor of his wife's response. The woman will respect the man's leadership and she will accept it. She can love him back if she respects him. She learns to trust his leadership. All of this depends upon the man's skill in a loving leadership.
6. The wife develops authority orientation through spiritual growth. This is why spiritual growth with the husband and wife in tandem.

These marital roles will work, if the husband and wife work together at it.

Today, Satan has so blinded the minds of people today, people equate the authority in marriage.

1. Both husband and wife are content in marriage with the right understanding of the Christian way of life.
2. Their relationship becomes stronger and stronger over time. As long as it falls under the divine design for marriage.
3. It is a blessing for both when they adhere to God's design.
4. For the believer, the husband and wife become a corporate witness for the Lord.

The woman usurped the authority of the man at the foo....

1. God gave the anti-authority women a fitting and just sentence.
2. Her curse was her own anti-authority nature.
3. God said that her natural trend is to become the initiator rather than follower.
4. She listened to the serpent. She has the lust to follow God's design.
5. Thus will it ever be, will that curse stand until the sin nature we continue with a sin nature. The woman's natural inclination The woman's sin nature tempts her to usurp the authority of her husband. Her rebellious pride, aroused by Satan's flattery. It aroused her anti-authority. Satan has exploited this weakness ever since.

1. Revolt was the woman's curse.
2. Within her designated role as responder is the woman's role to respond to the husband.
3. The cursing of obeying her husband became the blessing in the divine design. The woman has the opportunity to make amends, so to speak.
4. In pronouncing this just punishment on the woman, God also provides the solution. We must know the doctrine and apply it. For a married man, it is leadership; for the married woman, it is accepting the authority.
5. That is how marriage works; that is the divine design.
6. The pronouncement of the just punishment on the woman....
7. And God once against rebellion was found in Satan. God's justice required a sentence to be leveled. Right here in the institution of marriage, God's justice and love are compat....

There are many questions from our society; we have been so deluded in so many ways. Some of these questions will be answered on Sunday.

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

You men think about whether you can fulfill those mandates.

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

A verse that some would like to ban. Like that in Rom. 1. Neither fits into the modern culture. Some of the most leftist of movie stars are coming out against the cancel culture. It is the farthest thing from freedom.

Gen 3:16 To the woman he said, "I will surely multiply your pain in childbearing; in pain you shall bring forth children. Your desire shall be contrary to your husband, but he shall rule over you."

Prov. 12:4b ...but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

A rotten wife rots the bones of her husband.

Gen 3:16b Your desire shall be contrary to your husband, but he shall rule over you."

The role of the leader and the subordinate. By rebellion against this shames the husband. Submissive husbands are the most pathetic of creatures. He is henpecked. He lives in a perpetual state of being henpecked. In reaction to the wife being the head, the man may become disillusioned with regards to his wife and to women in general. The man might become a cheater or an abuser. The role of a woman is very important.

By today's standards, this happens all of the time. Isn't it the ruthless man who does the shaming? Both genders are capable of corruption. Marital corruption is the violation of God's design. Who is the leader and who is the subordinate.

Rotten sounds a bit harsh when used of a woman. But that is intended here. Gen. 3:16b deals with that fundamental problem. Her anti-authority desire; the rebellion of the wife in the marriage. This is the overarching trend in the sin nature of any woman. This first occurred at the fall with the first woman. She demanded that he take and eat the fruit. He ate the fruit and ceded his role as leader. So Adam received the curse of God.

What about the Woman?

1. God gave the woman a fitting and just sentence. She violated God's mandate. After that, she took charge and tempted her husband to eat.
2. Her curse is her anti-authority nature.
3. God's curse on her coincided with her natural trend, even before she sinned in the garden. Her curse, her anti-authority nature, is the curse that God pronounced.
4. It was the desire to become the leader, the initiator rather than to be the responder. That was the problem.
5. It was the lust to oppose God's design for the husband who would rule or be the leader over the woman. It was the lust of the woman to oppose God's design for him.

The Judgment of the Woman

1. God once again defined the role of man and woman in the divine design. "Here is what I expect. You have fallen, you have sinned; what do we do about it?"
2. Revolt is the woman's curse.
3. In love, God provided deliverance for the woman in this life from the curse.
4. Within the woman's designated role as responder was the woman's renewed opportunity to fulfill the plan of God for her life. "You made this mistake, and you were involved. Here is your other opportunity." Marriage is critical for society; the basic unit for society.
5. The cursing of desire for her husband became the blessing of submitting to God and to His divine design. The curse is not slavery to her husband; the curse is her nature. It is following God's divine design for marriage.
6. In her role as the responder to her husband, it was something that she failed to do in the garden with disastrous results. She has a chance now to change course.
7. In pronouncing this just punishment of the woman, God also provided the solution, which He always does. Authority orientation as a necessary quality for humility, which makes for a great woman and a great wife. Man too must be authority oriented. There is a role for the man as well; he also failed in the garden.

Feminists call this a form of slavery and they think they are the dominant gender. In their contentions, they display the curse of the first woman. Their desire to control, to elevate themselves over God's design. The feminists are revisiting the same temptation. God did not design the woman to be a slave, but the queen, not the king.

Authority Orientation and the Woman

1. Authority orientation toward a husband is strength for the woman, not weakness nor is it demeaning. It can't be.
2. Without it, she naturally takes on the man's role, which does not become her. Woman do not make good men or vice versa.
3. She, under those conditions, becomes vulnerable to deceit and seduction, as Eve was in the garden. She was seduced in her soul. This is something that God did not design for her.
4. The man's authority, his leadership, when accepted, actually protects the woman. He protects the woman who would o/therwise have a problem with seduction.
5. Without authority orientation and the protection of leadership, she responds, but to the wrong stimulus, the lust for power.
6. This is how Satan attacks the woman in the Angelic Conflict. He repeats this approach many times.
7. The woman is to have authority orientation towards her husband and, before that, to Bible doctrine.
8. What the woman might think is happiness and independence, turns into misery and slavery to the wrong person and to the wrong ideas.

9. This is the consequence of refusing to orient to divine authority. The woman in the garden fell because she disregarded divine authority. The woman became the disaster to those two. We fell when Adam fell. In Adam, all die.

The Woman and God's Plan

1. Injustice and unfair are not a part of God's plan. God is absolute justice. He cannot be unfair.
2. Cursing is turned to magnificent blessing when man and woman submit to God's plan. It is the greatest blessing. It is the way to live life because it is God's design. It is confusion and instability outside of God's plan.
3. Subordination to the husband's leadership is embracing God's plan?
4. That is the key to a content secure stable and beautiful woman in her soul.
5. That is the solution to the woman's problem. She is the rib of Adam. Taken out of Adam and returned to him. Gen. 2:18 Then the LORD God said, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper fit for him."

There are two authorities in the woman's life: Bible doctrine and her husband. This makes both husband and wife happy. They are partners in life, each fulfilling the role and design that God gave them.

"My husband can not lead himself out of a paper bag." This is not an excuse; but you need Bible doctrine and impersonal love. You are the witness to him. He needs it if he does not know how to lead.

So many marriages are outside of God's design, based on everything but God's design.

God's Purpose in Creating the Woman

1. God created a help for the man.
2. She is more than just his assistant. Much more.
3. The word denotes correlation, association, fulfillment; one fulfills the other inside the roles of God's design.
4. By nature of the woman's distinct design, she is complimentary to her man.
5. She is the part that corresponds and responds; she is the opposite number that fits him specifically.
6. The woman is man's partner in life. She has the same soul composition; the same spiritual opportunities. A different role in God's plan. Unfortunately, many women reject that role. This is not an inferior role. The woman is the trooper who gets things done. She wins the medal of honor for those.

The woman has a place to grow inside the plan of God.

The man has 51% of the marriage responsibility; and some men have nothing going for them with regards to leadership ability.

The greatest title a man can have; a gentleman. This reflects his attitude towards his wife and to others. We are mandated to love our wives as Christ loved the church. It is our mandate. It is God's design for us.

Contrary to human viewpoint contentions. This is not a status of inferiority; nor is this forceful servitude. In following God's purpose, the man submits to her husband's authority. The woman's mandate from God is to respect towards her husband.

The natural inclination of the woman is to rebel against the authority of the man. Responding to the husband's authority is an acquired skill, through our advance in the spiritual life. You do not have to be a believer to be a man who can be respected. The woman must learn to respect the authority of both God and her husband. At the same time, the husband must show a character to respect. Otherwise, the woman's anti-authority thinking will emerge with a vengeance.

The Response of the Woman

1. The choice to rebel at the fall glorifies the cosmic system and Satan's seduction system.
2. But the authority oriented woman can bear witness against Satan. That is half of the corporate witness of the wife.
3. She originally undermined God's authority structure; yet she can be beautiful in her response to Bible doctrine and to her husband's loving leadership. The greatness of a woman is her response to her husband. Proverbs is based upon the divine design of God. What is God's design. That is where we must reside, in that plan.

The man can be shamed by his own inadequacy and ineptitude as the leader of his household. Both men and women have responsibility. You may have a marriage that works, but it works much better under the divine design. There needs to be the wisdom instilled of Bible doctrine.

So ends Mother's week.

Prov. 12:4 An excellent wife is the crown of her husband, but she who brings shame is like rotteness in his bones.

Lesson #0223

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 5/19/2021 Wednesday

Bobby found a particular article which illustrates what he has been teaching. Someone sent him this article. It is the speaking of a man who is black, who is an evangelical (which is a broad brush designation). This is really a book report, an example of humanism vs. Christianity. We should be able to pick out the evil in one.

Why Christianity and Critical Race Theory Cannot Coexist, by Delano Swarez (?).

Critical race theory is a humanistic approach. Its supporters believe that this is a tool to root out systematic racism; and detractors believe it to teach racism.

Pastor and dean who addresses the social justice movement. Evangelical is often used to designate people politically. He will use this for those who believe in the inerrancy of the Bible. This includes people of all colors and ethnic backgrounds. Many of those who profess to be Christians think that Jesus was a revolutionary.

The world is divided between oppressors and the oppressed. This is the exact language of Marxism. It substitutes race for social class. This understanding informs the language of anti-racism and intersectionality. This is not simply a set of beliefs, but it is a way of viewing the world which is based upon assumptions of humanity, evil and justice.

The theories in Faultlines is building a wall on Marx, Derrick Bell's legal studies, and two others. A struggle between social classes competing for fixed resources. The institutions support the...

The Bible has Jesus as the foundation of the church; a Christian worldview uses Scripture as its basis. CRT in contrast to the Scriptures. All men are fallen under Christianity. Competing worldviews is a central theme of this book.

A dangerous new religion. Americans have become very familiar with the core tenets of CRT, even if they have never taken a course on it. Systemic racism is a tenet of CRT. Meritocracy perpetuates existing power structures. These developments are a source of great frustration to Americans who love their country. Attempt to syncretize the new religion of anti-racism. If anti-racism is a new religion, Ethan... is its priest. Racism is death and anti-racism is life.

On the first day, white people created whiteness. Racism is original sin. Bacham? White Christians examining their lives and seeing how they have benefitted by racism and privilege.

A new lens by which to understand the Bible. How do you see the world? Through the lens of Scripture or through this new humanistic religion? One prominent theologian said he is leaving white evangelical spaces due to white evangelical support of Donald Trump. A lead loud movement.

A center for anti-racist research. Such is the nature of the war. The NT is filled with warnings against false and misleading teachings. This can cause the believer to leave the fundamentals of Scripture.

Some very weird names, and someone who told a mostly white women audience, it is time to divest from whiteness and their privilege.

Resistance to reparations goes back to Cain and Abel?

Every aspect of CRT seeks to undermine the Bible (Bobby's comment); sinister and pervasive.

The worldview is colonizing at its core. It only knows...

Faultlines shows that the weapons needed by Christians are spiritual. What it looks like to have unity across all races. We honor God...

The sin of racism, which is hate and anger, is a problem of the human heart or mind. Its solution is the gospel of Jesus Christ, not the work of anti-racism.

All of CRT relies upon holding us responsible for the real or perceived sins of our forefathers. He quotes Deuteronomy. You are all one in Christ Jesus.

That is the difference between the humanism which is attacking the churches today. People are unprepared to understand what is going on around them.

This leads us into v. 5.

Proverbs 12:5 The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

Thought defines the person. Speech and actions reflect that thought or maybe a lack of thought or hides the thinking, via hypocrisy.

As He Thinks Within Himself, So He Is.

1. Thoughts are the foundation of human life.
2. From them spring the ideas, motives and actions of life.
3. Thought contains the factors of integrity or not.
4. Outward appearances, speech and the actions of a person can hide the true person; can hide the inner thoughts of a person. Speech and actions may not coincide with one's thinking.
5. These thoughts are the true person.
6. The thoughts of the righteous are right, virtuous and reflect the integrity of thinking. In our case, reflects the thinking of Bible doctrine. When you think with the mind of Christ, you have the greatest virtue.
7. True righteous is the greatest thought process. That wisdom is the very heart or the right lobe of the believer and the counter to humanism. Only the spiritual life is the counter to humanism. It is not about the rule of law. It is about the inequity of race. It further divides this country.
8. Justice and integrity will reflect in speech and actions when the thoughts are just and correct and right. The thoughts of the wicked are false thoughts; they cannot help but have false thoughts. They are creatures of fiction. Illusion and fiction. There is not truth in them. Religious leaders of rejected Jesus Christ, and He says, "You are of your father, the devil; and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning. He does not stand in the truth. There is no truth in him. There is no truth in humanism, because it leaves God out of it. We are their enemies because we believe the truth. CRT is false because it makes an issue of race constantly. The congregation comes from different places, we are of different races, but we are all one in Christ. CRT is part of the cosmic system. "Whenever he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own nature, for he is a liar and is the father of lies." The thoughts of the wicked are the thoughts of the cosmic system. They reflect the thoughts of absolute evil.

The thoughts of the wicked are filled with altruistic speech and altruistic actions, which looks to... The evil of mental attitude sins can be hidden by overt actions. Sooner or later, their mental attitude will reveal who they are. For us to discern, for us to understand the speech,...

The thoughts of the righteous are found in v. 5a.

Proverbs 12:5a The thoughts of the righteous are just;...

Their thoughts are righteous and just. They stand for the truth, which is not relative truth. People call truth all sorts of things. That is not truth. There is only one truth in this world, which is Bible doctrine, the mind of Christ. There is not truth in Satan; there is no truth in his wicked system.

Evangelical Christians are trying to reconcile racial problems and being one in Christ. If you have a problem with another race, you are out of line. You cannot stereotype any race. It was done with Blacks and now being done with whites. They stand for truth and they do the right thing by applying that truth. Moral courage. The greatest moral courage comes from the truth of God's Word.

They do not use lies to gain advantages or to misrepresent themselves.

Such righteousness is a character trait that seems to be at a premium in today's world. We are speech is the instrument by which thought does its work among people and society. Words are vehicles of communication; but these can also be used as weapons. Simple justice and truth. Not social justice or CRT; but a lot of Christianity is going in that direction.

The words of the wicked are mischievous; is pernicious, detrimental, malicious. It begins with malicious thoughts and it continues with malicious deeds.

A good example of weaponized speech is propaganda, which can be used for great evil when it is an absolute lie. It is of a bias and a misleading nature. Journalism has degenerated into a propaganda mill. Propaganda was very important tool to help Hitler rise to power. Goebbels was his minister of propaganda. He presented the Jews as the most evil of people. That is a CRT. The problems are all blamed on a particular race. Just as CRT blames the problems of the world on white people. Their solution is, Jews must be eradicated from the world. It will boil down to eradicating people, because you cannot stop thinking. This is from the playbook of Satan himself. Heavy Christian population in Germany. Some put into concentration camps; some got themselves into line. The end result was WWII and the holocaust. And the holocaust was real and it was a fact.

To think that holocaust was not real is falling into the same pattern as German propaganda thinking. That was the epitome of satanic thinking. Bobby has been shocked by people who were Christians and antisemitic. The problems of the world are related to each one of us and our sin natures. No CRT or social justice will change the heart of man. Bible doctrine wisdom and the application of it. It is light versus dark.

There are many who understand what is happening. We have seen the same sort of speech happening in our own country.

All kinds of people have fallen into the idea the Black Lives Matter is a good organization. Many groups are sending millions of dollars to them; including Christian organizations. There are riots in NY city by antisemites. Black Lives Matter joined them. To stereotype every individual of a group is the speech of evil and it is never true. One race is never all evil. We have seen this activity today by classifying all police as ignorant. The shooting is categorized as racist whether or not it was. The idea that racism permeates all police forces and all white society. The police officer is presented as evil rather than the crime committed by the criminal. It is illogical and wrong to project such a charge.

Even the president of the United States made such a statement in the Derrick Chauvin case, and a Congresswoman encouraged rioting if the jury did not convict. Malicious speech painting all men and woman and all white males as evil. That is the assumption that is wrong. There are some rogue police or one race as evil is the worst form of propaganda. Defunding the police will create a power vacuum that the Marxists will be glad to fill. There is no difference. These are the people calling their enemies Nazis.

The Wicket Propaganda of the Wicked

1. Wicked speech is used by people, organizations and government, for the purpose of gaining and maintaining power.
2. The power is for evil.
3. They speak evil falsehoods. We hear it even from the media.
4. When the speech is deceitful, the cause is unjust. If you have to lie, it is unjust because the real purpose is hidden.
5. The result of such lying propaganda is always evil, whether written or spoken.
6. Deceivers are very insecure, because their causes are unjust. Social justice is not justice. It is a bias and deception that can turn against the perpetrators. They know that they are liars. They are insecure because they see no results as they expect. No utopia. No betterment of society. Their hopes and purposes are all doomed. As part of the cosmic system, it will be defeated in the end. Psalm 37:35–36 I have seen a wicked violent man spreading himself like a luxuriant tree in soil. Lo, he passed away and he is no more. Humanism always defeats itself.

Don't sweat it. What we see is insidious, but the solution is simple.

Proverbs 12:5 The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

This is the epitome of antithetical parallelism. It is so obvious. The thoughts of the righteous are just. There is a subject, and objects of the prepositional and a predicate nominative. The same things are found in the second line. Thoughts/speech are the subjects. The direct objects are righteous/wicked. Then we have just/deceitful.

Honesty and Truth

1. The Bible tells us what a critical verse this is for anthropology, so that we can know exactly who we are. We are what we think, not what we say.
2. But, when your speech accurately reflects your thinking, then you are an honest person, even if your thinking is wrong. You can be thinking and speaking wrong.
3. The honesty is the continuity between one's thoughts and one's tongue. People can think in humanism terms and speak the same; but the problem is, humanism is often very deceitful.
4. Dishonest is when words hide your thoughts. When the thinking and verbal communication do not match. Verbal communication reflects the same integrity and virtue of the soul. When a believer thinks with the mind of Christ from metabolized doctrine in the soul, that person has wisdom in the soul. It is reflected by their advancing spiritual life. The spiritual language. The doctrine that we speak reflects the wisdom in our soul. That is honesty and truth. The absolute honesty of absolute truth.
5. Justice and integrity will reflect in speech and actions, where thoughts are just and truthful.

A courtroom can be a difficult place to find truth. Lawyers simply try to win a case. Bobby's wife is a court reporter, and has to have a transcript back to both parties. Bobby listened to some of this on steaming video. The viewpoints and conclusions on each side, for something that happened a long time ago. Same set of facts, but presented from completely different viewpoints.

The believer needs to be honest in his speech and actions. A person's actions cannot always reflect in what he and she says. People can think one way, but talk in another way. A person who cannot stand you, but makes nice to you. Their thinking does not match his speech. They think one way about standards, applying one set to themselves and a different set to others.

A Christian can be very hypocritical and very self-effacing. That is so true in politics today.

The self righteous demands by the hypocrite does not reflect his or her standard placed on himself. The evil of dishonesty and deception. The dishonest mind shows very sneaky genius when it comes to accumulating money. We run into incredible scams all of the time. You wonder if these people come up with these scams. It is deception. The righteous thinking puts honesty before accumulating wealth. A good name is more important than material gain. That is a strange thing to hear in our society today.

Proverbs 22:1 A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches, and favor is better than silver or gold.

Divine favor is the best commodity in life.

A good name and reputation is the best for a believer. Beware of business ventures working with those who lack honesty and integrity. Good judgement and good discernment of deceptions must be exercised. Reputation must be fundamental in all of this. Greed can often precede integrity. The deceptive part is to cover that greed with, I've got a good deal for you. Their ultimate aim is to relieve a person of their money. Those who believe such lies are gullible or... You have to get to the bottom of how people think. We don't always understand how people think before we jump into something financial with them. We understand what they are saying, but we often jump into it emotionally before we find out who they really are. If you want to find out how a person thinks, play golf with them. With some people, you need to take a wide berth from business dealings.

Finding such people takes discernment. Deceit is a tricky, tricky matter. It is best to do plenty of background work. This is good to know before any business relationship and before marriage. It is just wisdom when it comes to relationships. How a person thinks is much more important than what they say.

Bobby could point out many people who do not know anything about the person they married; and then, they wake up and say, "Who is this person that I married?" But when it comes right to it, they were self-centered and only interested about what they could get out of it.

You may find out they have no integrity and no capacity for love. Be careful of Christians and be careful of people that you know, even thoughts who talk doctrine. If the right questions are asked, the deceiver will be revealed eventually. Business or dating or marriage.

This is why you must listen very carefully to their words and ask questions and evaluate what they say. Don't rush to an emotional decision without thinking. Take your time and use your wisdom. Trust it. Do not superimpose emotions over it. Emotions rise quickly, but they will settle. This is practical wisdom which comes right out of this proverb.

Do not automatically a Christian with a great business deal. Ask probating questions. Do not immediately assume honesty.

Bobby has a dear friend who was relieved of a tremendous amount of money. She told this person that she was very sick and she lifted hundreds of thousands of dollars in a scheme. A rule of thumb for us. Do not risk what you do not have. Or what you cannot afford to lose. And do not put your family at risk for some great deal. You get a great return, then be careful and verify. Christians can be as crooked as any unbeliever.

Someone that Bobby knew very closely, and he did the same thing to Bobby. This was originally a very trustworthy person. But the greed of a great score was put before them. Beware of the reversionist who thinks with human viewpoint. And beware of those who have the language. Just because a person goes to church, that does not determine the pattern of thinking. You have to discriminate. The more you know a person, the more certain that you can be of their integrity and their mature spiritual life.

Evaluating People and Deals

1. Listen very carefully to their counsel and observe what they say and do.
2. Look at their track record. Go slow. Learn how they think. If your thinking is crooked, you are crooked. That goes from the personal level to the corporate level. What they say is not what they think.
3. Do not fall for the use of spiritual language as a means to convince you of a good deal. They sure talk the talk. How do you know? Likemindedness is often not the case, even if the speech sounds good.
4. You need information about the deal, not spiritual deception. You need actual financial information.
5. Any unbeliever could tell you this: always research, investigate and tread very carefully.
6. Above all, remember, a Christian is what he or she thinks. It is not what they say.
7. The righteous think doctrine and they live it. They don't just speak it. People will reveal themselves; just give them time. If they think wickedly, that facade will come off.

People in this church and tapers have been defrauded by Christian Ponzi schemes. In more than one case, it has been a disaster for some.

There was a man in this church. He listened to doctrine daily. Later busted on a hundred million dollar Ponzi scheme. We rapidly returned it. He knew the language. But he had greed in his soul. Don't ever assume that people are honest. Believers have been defrauded. It is quite a shock when they turn out to be very different. Always use good financial principles. If there is any doubt, then don't do it. Good men deal fairly. Sooner or later it will come out. No authority-orientation. Nor do they bow to the rule of law. They are a law unto themselves.

Proverbs 12:5 The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

If you think v. 5 has a lot to tell us, v. 6 is even more vivid.

Proverbs 12:6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.

The cosmic system has a great draw for some like this. We can be more gullible than the unbeliever. We want people to think nice things and we want to believe them. We understand the sin nature much better than the humanist does.

The Wicked Wait for Blood

1. These wicked wait for blood. They are the assassins, the spiders, they live for it, they feed off of it. They are active; they are not passive.
2. Waiting for blood is a metaphor for the work of the destruction of the righteous.
3. In this case, the destruction is not literal physical death; we are not watching someone bleed out.
4. The blood refers to false accusations and they undermine truth and they are hurtful in the extreme. Those who wait for blood are those who want to take the...
5. These are also the lies that promote evil ideologies and promote cosmic system thinking. They lie in wait for the vulnerable who have no discernment.
6. Arrogance in the believer who provides the opportunity. We are mandated to have humility. This brings great objectivity. We do not think while arrogant; but we do think when we are humble.
7. Blood is the metaphor for such destruction for evil speech or evil overt actions. We see organizations and people who are filled with hate and anger and they lie in wait to destroy their opposition. They want to destroy the police, the church, the divine institutions which make up our nation. We could turn into an antisemitic nation. They are liars and deceivers for the purpose of imposing evil ideology. You gain illegitimate power for various... They denigrate and attack Christianity. Christianity will continue to be under attack. We stand against Marxism and CRT and social justice.

Humility allows you to see life and others for what they are.

There are tremendous challenges in the future for Biblical Christianity. We will have to give us Christian principles in order to get along. We cannot turn in our divine wisdom for human wisdom, which is not wisdom.

Prov. 12:6 is our watchword of wisdom in the time in which we live. Those who lie in wait for blood. They involve the use of the very effective weapon of words. Propaganda of all types of subjects. Verbal and physical attacks. We see this in our streets consistently in the last year. COVID presented the right environment for this stuff. We as believers in Jesus Christ must see through these deceptions. We must continue not to fall for what they are selling. There is neither Jew nor Gree, male or female; we are all one in Christ.

There are national economic problems; there are racial problems. We are being deceived about all of this. There are problems at our border. We must see the deceptions and we must understand the truth. Otherwise, this client nation does not have a chance.

Proverbs 12:6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.

Lesson #0225

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

5/23/2021 Sunday

Proverbs 12:5 The thoughts of the righteous are just; the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

Proverbs 12:6 The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.

Essentially synonymous passages.

Trap for the vulnerable believers who are ignorant or have rejected Bible doctrine. They are so easily distracted or entangled. No discernment for avoiding the web of the wicked. Some cannot escape because they don't have the wisdom to do so. Lying in wait for blood, the wicked employ lies and false accusations, using the effective weapon of words, called propaganda. They use all types of media for this. Falsely educating students. Intimidation of those who dissent. The violent protests. Destruction of property; threats of people. We have seen all of this in the streets of our country in the past year. Threatening people, all of it.

Phoney Russian collusion charge against the previous president. Anyone who opposes Black Lives Matter are often classified as white supremacists. Corruption of courts with social justice. These wicked are so adept at convincing, fooling gullible people. They are of their father the devil, as per John 8:44. Today, these people seem to be winning. Forcing capitulation by their demands, any opposition; and usurping authority for themselves and their radical anti-freedom agenda. Such are the socialists, race-baiters, social justice warriors. Equity is what they want, which is imbalance. They denigrate and called for defunding the police; and crime increases in those places where the police have been defunded.

Social justice is just favoritism of one group or another; or stomping out a straw man, like systemic racism, which is not a society-wide problem. There are incidents of racism; but this is not something built into the various systems. Same trumped-up evil intent. Their contentions are flat out false; especially regarding believers in Jesus Christ. We are all one in Christ; there is no race in the church; there is no racism. We are all reaching for the same goal. We are all of like mind, as our society deteriorates. There is not deterioration. There is no such thing in any congregation where spiritual growth is fundamental. There is no gender, there is no race. Not when it comes to being in Christ.

If you tell a lie long enough, people are often intimidated and silenced. We, as believers in Jesus Christ, stand for the truth. No matter what persecution you face... Christianity is the #1 group accused of racism and similar things.

The wicked must denigrate a group, race, etc. They indict the current group, charging them with the same sins as their forefathers. Every generation needs to stand on its own deeds. There were problems. Most of the population would like to see a true equality; but equity does not do that. There is monumental injustice in social injustice. Placing blame or trying and convicting without any true facts. Social justice propaganda. This is how the humanist waits for blood. Their lies defy the rule of law. They heighten injustice and they further divide the nation. We have never been more divided in this country. Race has become the new battle cry.

The proletariat and the wealthy class were the two classes at odds in original Marxism. We have seen what has happened in Russia and China. Now they have changed the dialectic. It is one race against another. A Marxist ploy.

The work today of the cancel culture, to remove those who express the wrong ideas. The guarantees of the Constitution are no longer valid; no longer sacred in the eyes of the cancel culture. The charge of racism is the most feared, even if it is untrue.

The cancel culture sucks the blood of a group, like blaming the entire police force for the actions of a few. Justice is best delivered by a function of a set code of laws fairly applied. Our code is improperly applied by the cancel culture.

The Rule of Law and God's Law

1. The rule of law is sanctioned by God, Who is absolute justice. The rule of law is sanctioned by absolute justice.
2. God ruled Israel through His Law, which we understand to be a theocracy. He set the precedent by His Own Law, the Torah, which governed Israel. There is a religious group today who still want us to be ruled over by God. It is not the theocracy that they propose in Islam.
3. God's justice is always perfectly impartial. God does not see one group as greater than another. His justice is equal for all. Rom. 2:11
4. Partiality is injustice by definition. This makes Marxism injustice; socialism is injustice.
5. No partiality is the intent of God's rule of law.
6. The rule of law is a fundamental principle of divine establishment. Divine establishment does not work without the rule of law.
7. To be impartial, regardless of race, reflects God's impartial law, and Christian ethics and wisdom.

Law in the human realm is not always impartial. Not always an impartial courtroom. The mob, the liars, are never impartial. They make no such attempt. Our courts make this attempt and often they are. If you follow the rule of law, you have the greatest impartiality. Otherwise, it is just partiality. The neo-racists are prejudicial.

1. Mankind is best served by the rule of law; not by the rule of the strongest, the loudest, or the vogue ideology.
2. Therefore, when the rule of law is circumvented, denigrated or denied, by any group, a nation is ripe for chaos and tyranny.
3. When the rule of law is set aside for the rule of the mob, that is the proverbial spilling of blood found in Prov. 12:6.
4. The real physical spilling of blood is not far behind; that is revolution. Many are calling for this. That is the death of the rule of law.

In any classical revolution, you can see it. 1789 in France, the overthrow of the monarchy, which was bad; and it got worse. It started with the monarchy, but then was anyone who opposed them. Any rule of law was removed for a worse rule. It always happens that way. China was a mess, but they had a system of the rule of law. It became the rule of Mao. Then the revolution, and it was a nightmare. The cultural elite and the Marxist elite.

Anti-authority, anti-law, anti-law. All humanism is anti-God. They depend on mankind completely. Marxism does exactly that. This is why they oppose Christianity so vociferously.

Lest you feel grim, and leave with your face low, there is always hope for those who are the targets of the blood letters, in the second line of Prov. 12:6. The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.

The upright are the experientially righteous. They could avoid the ambushes of humanism. Many who are completely fooled in this country. Some think they are supporting Christianity, but it is humanity that they are supporting. We change the world through our spiritual life, not through any other method. The mouth of the upright delivers; the Word of God, the understanding of Bible doctrine in the soul. The deceivers and the cosmic system debate. They can be overcome.

Impact of Proverbs 12:6

1. Those who think with Bible doctrine project a deliver powerful, even against great powerful cosmic conspiracies. We have souls filled with doctrine. We have the truth in our own thinking.
2. These conspiracies are devised by Satan himself. He is the master deceiver of God. All humanism is a conspiracy against God. If you are paying attention, if you use Bible doctrine to think, you can see it. If you have Bible doctrine, you understood it immediately.
3. These conspiracies are communicated in this world by humanists. Opposed God in every way. It is diabolical; it is good. Don't we want to wipe out racism? There is nothing wrong with that objective. But they can't using their methods. We are one in Christ. A spiritual solution; not a human one.

4. Only divine truth brings these lines into sharp focus. Then can be counteracted in the soul. We are not fooled by all of this. Nor are we divided in their anger. Nor do we begin to hate a race more or at all, for seeing them as the problem. The problem is always the sin nature. We can see sin natures in operation in every race. We have a sin nature and it is operating. As an unbeliever, our counteraction is divine establishment. That is being undermined today. We don't hate such people, we recognize what is happening. It is harder to say, "I am going to sit back and watch the Lord work. I will choose to grow spiritually."
5. It is the believer with the knowledge of Bible doctrine who has the resources and the wisdom needed. Gossipers and slanderers lie in wait for blood.
6. That is the deliverance for wisdom found here. It is not your job to change the minds of the recalcitrant. The solution is in the soul.
7. There is encouragement in the imparting of wisdom when the hours are darkest. Light shines brighter in the darkness. We have the means of delivery, which is implanted in our souls.

Equitable law is necessary for all races.

Believers Who Have the Solution

1. Believers troubled by the direction of our country have the resources to alleviate discouragement and fear. Fear is rampant right now. Freedoms are disappearing. You have to wear a mask, you must be educated in a certain way.
2. It is of course the scriptures which provide the solution, the spiritual solution. It is an individual thing. God is still on His thorn; He still has our best interests at heart. That is as close as recalling pertinent Bible doctrine.
3. Remembering the promises of God. Heard and metabolized by those who teach the truth. There is a reason for us to assemble together. Encouragement and like-mindedness. You are among those who are growing spiritually right along with you. That is important for all of us. There is a reason why we come together as believers. As we saw in Heb. 10:25, there is encouragement.
4. Wicket speech of the unjust is countered by truth. We can understand exactly what it means, why it is a lie; but we don't have to get upset about it. The truth makes you free.
5. However, it must be heard and metabolized.

Bobby will continue for the streaming video. They love it. And he cannot take this away. An entitlement that they won't give up.

V. 7 takes this one step further:

Proverbs 12:7 The wicked are overthrown and are no more, but the house of the righteous will stand.

Next week is a conference in Dallas.

Proverbs 12:7 The wicked are overthrown and are no more, but the house of the righteous will stand.

This is a synthetic parallel. The wicked will be removed with the result that the righteous are delivered. The second statement is built upon the first. This is a very encouraging verse.

The history of the church is not just the progression of doctrine, it is the history of God; it is amazing. God has delivered His people through all persecution and those who would do away with the church. The picture of Christianity; the wicked want to destroy the church. Overthrown in death, they are no more. The annihilation is no more. There is always some kind of scheme, aberrant theology that a group picks up and runs with. Schemes not Biblically based often go the route of humanism.

The word of the Lord abides forever. He never leaves or forsakes us. This is something that we should remember always. When is it going to happen here?

Proverbs 12:7 The wicked are overthrown and are no more, but the house of the righteous will stand.

We will stand. We will stand on the doctrine which we have received.

Wiping out the Evil

1. Don't be disheartened that the wicked are not destroyed in one or even several generations, when we want to see them wiped out. Why doesn't the Lord simply remove them? Many people are anti-God and anti-Christ. We want them gone.
2. The degeneration and final destruction of the wicked is a process. Degeneration of a society takes place over several generations. It can be traced.
3. It is a series of step downs that progressively moves away from God; and for unbelievers, away from the establishment; a series of divine removes.
- 4.
5. Thus evil builds under those circumstances to a top-heavy structure, then it divides and it falls. The divisions will continue to widen. Party members of facing off with one another, in the same party.
6. Evil cannot stand its own success, and one evil turns against another. This is so true in revolution. In revolution, those who are revolutionaries never last. They are the first ones to go in a revolution. When the revolution is consolidated, those who brought about the revolution are liquidated very quickly. They do not want another revolution. It happened in Russia and in China. Great purges after the revolution. Evil cannot stand its own success.
7. That is always the end product of the cosmic system. It turns against itself.

8. Satan's kingdom is a divided kingdom. It may start in solidarity, but it won't last. Satan is a revolutionary. He is the most deceptive of all.
9. The kingdom of believers has only one road to travel, the thinking of Bible doctrine. We should be traveling in the same direction. We are a body and we move in conjunction. One road to walk. Evil turns against itself. Our nation was not suddenly permeated with evil; it was a process. During that time, during Bobby's lifetime, God has given a client nation a chance to correct its course. The disasters and the cycles of discipline. How does the nation respond to such discipline. We pray that the fifth cycle of discipline does not happen. God does not allow evil to become dominant in this world. God will protect believers. He will see that evil is no more.

God has a hand in discipline, but He ultimately defeats evil. Psalm 37:35–36 I have seen a wicked man in great power and spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil. But I passed by, and behold, he was not. Yes, I sought him, but he could not be found. Everything is coming out green in the Spring. Wicked, violent men. We are seeing the spread of evil going crazy. People don't go downtown Portland any more. It is spreading. This is the temporary victory of wicked people. The time of evil is limited; and their purposes are always judged by God and they are found wanting. Humanism always defeats itself because it is anti-God. When things get too difficult for God's people, He has no problem stepping in and dealing with it. The evil precipitate their evil choices. Prov. 1:18 ...and these lay wait for their own blood. They lurk secretly for their own lives. They want blood, but it turns out to be their own. They ambush their own lives. They want to shed the blood of others, but it is their blood which is shed. Wanting to shed the blood of others is for their own benefit, their own power and/or their own ideology. False accusations which undermine...

Since we have divine wisdom, we should be able to evaluate what is happening. These types would particularly want to target believers. The best targets for the cosmic system. If believers do not stand on the tenets of Bible doctrine, they will fall for humanism. They see the goals of human good and they cannot discern the difference.

If you take blood as a metaphor, then you have the speech. If you take it literally, then there is the actual physical destruction of others. Millions have been imprisoned and executed in order to push their ideology. They perpetrated the greatest misery imaginable. North Korean communism is the poster child for the pure evil of communism. They lie in wait for our blood, but the blood they discover is their own.

Muslim countries call us the great Satan, but they kill their own people. All Marxism ends in vicious bloodletting of the population. This is in order to maintain power for a few. Curbing individual liberty never improves a society. That is what socialism is.

Prov. 1:18b ...they set an ambush for their own lives.

CRT is an underlying Marxist theory. These people are caught in an ambush for fools without discernment. They entrap themselves in their own evil schemes. They will end up in the trash heap of history. They are being entrapped as we speak.

How many times did the pharisees try to entrap the Lord Jesus Christ? He always defeated them. John 8:6–9. Then these legalistic fanatics were no more. The pharisees and sadducees ceased to exist after A.D. 70. They are gone.

The Boomerang Effect of Evil

1. The irony of this boomerang effect, on evil falling into the trap of evil is most evident in the history of the church. There are very good books on this. We are in this auditorium with the truth, with the New Testament in front of us, and it is great history how we got here.
2. The very thing that the wicked desire is that which will destroy them. What do they desire most of all? To persecute and annihilate Christianity. Anything which is anti-God is the enemy of Christianity. Satan is opposed to us completely.
3. When they do not achieve their aims, the evil ones, the wicked ones, the implode and they turn on one another. That is the history of Marxism.
4. The evil promotion of humanism always ends in failure, the failure of their flawed systems. Some people really think that Marxism would succeed in the US, since everything else has. It is a flawed system. It does not take into account the sin nature.
5. No matter the cosmic system genius in propaganda and strength in numbers (we are always outnumbered), their goals are unattainable and this always frustrates them. They always... Then they are at each other's throats. Evil does not succeed. But evil does eat its young.
6. Their evil schemes collapse and they divide in disarray. Those who push the revolution are consumed by those who follow. Power is consolidated by eliminating the revolutionists, those who put them into power. The French revolution is a perfect example. The charging of the bastille. They rounded up the aristocracy and they began to chop off their heads. They systematically did that. Who was the big man in the revolution? Robespierre. He was guillotined. They bankrupted France and never recovered for years. Once powerful nation no more.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we have the solutions for mankind. We renovate our thinking. The only way to truly renovate the thinking of mankind. It is thinking entirely different from the rest of the world. Bible doctrine is the Word of God; it is the wisdom of God. Every other idea and every other power that has come along, and it is now on the trash heap of history. We will survive always. God always looks out after us. We will survive. We will thrive. Our thinking is renovated. We are the unusual ones in this world. We have the truth.

Chinese communism is another great example. It is all coming back. It is cyclical. It is the same thing that Bob spoke of. Mao did this in 1949. It seems unassailable at this point. God can remove them as a threat through any number of unseen circumstances.

Soviet Russia is no longer a threat. Russia still is; but the soviet empire is over. Marxism is not invulnerable from being overthrown by God. People just need to open their eyes to see it. Satan only has humanistic ideology, but we have the truth, the discernment.

Communism is a threat today. This is divine discipline. They outnumber the US Navy in ships. Our current administration is favoring China. Chinese communism may be used to discipline those Marxists in our own country.

Destruction and Discipline.

1. God uses evil to destroy itself.
2. God does not sanction evil in any way; but it can fit into His plan to bring His people back to Him. A good pack of troubles to make people turn back.
3. Old Testament Israel is a prime example.
4. Israel was disciplined by evil empires. Chaldea, Assyria, Rome.
5. In the end, God restored His people, and those kingdoms are no more. The southern kingdom returned to the land. They remained in the land until A.D. 70, when Rome crushed Israel and they suffered the great diaspora. We still must support them. If our country goes antisemitic, the client nation will crumbled.

We pray that Marxism is exposed for what it is; that believers will get with Bible doctrine and progress to spiritual maturity. We also know that there may be discipline along the way. We will persevere. We will survive. We are the only ones guaranteed to survive. Some of us will have some very difficult times and some even die the sin unto death. But as a body, Christianity will always survive. We are the chosen people. Israel is the chosen nation, temporarily set aside. The people of Israel will be regathered during the Tribulation. We as a nation must learn out lessons. We have had many chances to gain insight to observe the evil of a failed system like Marxism. We had that opportunity after the Cold War and after the Korean War. We have seen this all over in various Marxist nations all over. The leftists have gained strength, promoting socialism. Now Russia is rising again, bent on world domination, while we embrace their former failed system of government. It is true; God uses such evil nations to punish client nations which have gotten to the point of no return. The faithful, the righteous, will stand. That is the promise of Prov. 12:7.

Lesson #0224

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

5/27/2021 Thursday

Not all believers are clued in to rebound.

We have made racism the cardinal of all sins. Humanists say, if we do away with racism, mankind's problems will be solved. That is the real problem in this world. They promote this idea; they have made one race at fault for all racism.

Marxism has replaced the dialectic of the owners verses proletariat to racists vs. races. In selling this, they have furthered racism. It is more divided now more than ever than we were since the civil war. That is the plan, divide and conquer, and fill the power vacuum in the chaos.

We have all of those assets that no one else has other than other believers. Their sin natures are unchecked; ours are, when we are in fellowship and we are growing spiritually. That is the only way that problems like this can be solved. Humanists have ignored this and many churches have embraced these ideas for a variety of reasons. Christianity and humanism will never synch up.

Violence has increased exponentially; crime has greatly increased. Their solution is to defund police and somehow fund a vague group who will act as woke activists. But people in trouble don't want activists, they want police. All crime are rapidly rising.

We have lost the power of logical reasoning, and it is replaced by ideological silliness. What the law has to face is becoming more and more difficult. Through it all, believers growing spiritually have the greatest comfort and greatest encouragement. It is divine wisdom.

Proverbs 12:7 The wicked are overthrown and are no more, but the house of the righteous will stand.

These wicked will be overthrown. We have those promises from the eternal Word of God, which are eternally true and cannot fail. The wicked, in whatever ideology, will be defeated and believers will ultimately be victorious.

Our Rationale in All of All this Chaos

1. Humanism is anything that leaves God out of the picture. Everything around us is humanism; the Marxism, the ideology. Not so obvious, the aberrations of Christianity. That which is subtle. Nevertheless, it is humanism when the solutions involved involve human solutions and human ability. Whatever schemes are proposed without God is humanism. God is the ultimate problem solver and His Word is the ultimate problem-solving document. What humans propose have many unexpected consequences. Humanism cannot succeed because it is anti-God. Humanism may look good for awhile, but humanism is of the devil. He is very good at deception. His schemes will always fail.
2. The cosmic system and humanism are always doomed. They will not succeed. God promises that they will be no more. When? That is not our problem. Ultimately, it will be gone. When it threatens us, those who are believers in Jesus Christ, then God must step in and protect us.
3. The power sought by Satan to rule this world through his unnumerable plot (and we don't know everything that he is plotting). Satan is not after us, but the cosmic system is. Satan can never overcome the power of God; and he cannot overcome God's protection. There is no guarantee of survival. Our plan continues as long as God chooses for it to occur. Does He promise a rose garden? He does not. See reality for what it is. The Word of God is reality because it is truth.
4. God's power, justice and righteousness, will destroy the wicked, without question. They will destroy the wicked.

5. It may not happen as quickly as we desire. The timing is always in God's hands. It is for maximum effect on His plan. To preserve, to further His plan.
6. He affects the deliverance of His people.
7. God teaches the lessons to be learned concerning the lives and the stupidity of humanism. The wicked ideology and propaganda, with which we must content, it will run its course; and the nation will suffer. We can see and determine the trends of history. God does allow such evil because He uses it to further His purposes. God uses the evil to further His plan. To demonstrate God's absolute authority and the ultimate defeat of authority. He has total authority. He also demonstrates the deliverance and preservation of His people through it.
8. When we understand God's purposes and His plan, we have stability, as Psalm 31:3 says: For you are my rock and my fortress; and for your name's sake you lead me and guide me;... Psalm 62:6 For God alone, O my soul, wait in silence, for my hope is from him. Human strength can fail; even the strongest. Faith rest never fails. God never fails.

People who are honest often say, my word is my bond. Who do you trust? One of our passages in Prov. 12. It is fine to trust and verify. With God, just trust. When it is in His Word, it is truth.

We stand like a rock in a storm. Psalm 55:8 I would hurry to find a shelter from the raging wind and tempest." Bobby has always been fascinated with the power of the ocean. He has seen 50' waves smash the shore, but when it broke on rock it was gone. The worst storms can move sand, but not rock. God does not promise calm seas and an easy life. God does not promise that He will take it away. We may be caught in the midst of...

God promises refuge in His guidance, care. We are impregnable in His Word. We retreat to His fortress. We watch the Lord's deliverance, as one of the great moments of life. It takes the terrible moments of life and makes them fascinating to watch. When you are helpless to save yourself, in a hopeless situation. Moses at the Red Sea. They were dead. They knew it. "Do not fear." Fear makes cowards of us. Cowardice is when fear takes over. Fear gets in our way. Fear debilitates us. We cannot claim promises. "Stand by and see the deliverance of the Lord, which He will accomplish for you today." God will accomplish what is necessary for us. The results might not be so miraculous as the parting of the sea. God is working, whether it is visible or not.

What can you do? Stand still and watch what happens. We want to take hold of our problems and fix them. Sometimes we can; sometimes we can't. Sometimes we lock ourselves into some very bad circumstances through bad decisions. When you cannot solve the problem, take it easy. Relax. No believer has the option to be a coward. Do not fear, no matter what.

Hasten to the place of refuge. By using the resources of problem solving devices. The onslaughts of the wicked, especially those in high places. The righteous will not be moved or defeated. A man will not be established by wickedness. That will not give us stability. Will not be moved because the wicked are no more.

Humanism Is Opposed to the Plan of God

1. Humanism is wicked and will never stand the test of time. Time removes it. God is a part of that timing. It gets top heavy; it falls on itself. God also uses evil to punish believers who are under divine discipline. What is behind all of this? I made a terrible decision the other day. We can fall into any mental attitude sins that we can think of; but our thought is, what will God do in this situation. You become doctrinally oriented. You claim it; you cling to it. It is your rock and fortress that you can live by. Then stand still and see what happens. Bobby can attest to it.
2. Humanism is opposed to God and it is doomed. Prov. 12:3
3. In the meantime, with that understanding, you will not be moved. We are the rock within the rock. The rock of deliverance.
4. You are in God's permanent fortress that surrounds us and protects us.
5. Make no mistake, we will be attacked; we will be besieged.
6. Depend always on our divine defenses. Only we can remove ourselves from God's protection. What we will miss it the solution to the problem. The solution to circumstances beyond our control. The circumstances in this nation are beyond our control. We can vote. How much good did that do? Much of our lives are not under our own control. It is in this church; he hears it and he gets emails about it. Bobby hates to see what is going on in this country, because we love this country. Try to get citizenship in Australia. Wait and see how the enemy implodes; or how they eat their young. Watch the cosmic system fail, again and again.

Bobby has this verse on a magnet. Psalm 27:1 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

We should not be afraid of Congress, Antifa, Black Lives Matter, communism.

Bobby thinks about WWI often. Never a worse time in history. At the beginning; in fact the day that it began, the British foreign secretary remarked to a friend, "The lamps are going out all over Europe and we will not see them go back on during our lifetime." We are still be affected by that war. When the light goes out, we still have the light of our deliverance. We can shine our own light in the darkness. Proverbs 4:18. The full day is the defeat...

Evil is like a cockroach, and it scurries when we shine a light on it.

Adversity and the Wicked

1. The adversity brought by the wicked is the time when the Lord is nearest. This is when we sense He is the nearest. It is a great time.
2. We seek Him through His Word and through prayer and he always finds us. He is not oblivious to us. He knows everything about us. The good, the bad, the indifferent.

3. God protects like nothing and no one else ever could. The armies of the United States cannot protect us like the Rock of the Lord.
4. Another promise. Psalm 119:119 All the wicked of the earth you discard like dross, therefore I love your testimonies.
5. This is the guarantee
6. We have that knowledge that God has given us for our benefit.
7. God is always the ultimate victor over those who lie in wait for our blood.
8. We can say, "I love Your testimonies." Because we are in the rock of our Deliverer.

The Lord is my rock and my deliverance, my shield and my stronghold. Why should you fear with that promise in place. We may stand in the shower and decide who we would like to get rid of this or that person. Save yourselves the mental anguish and the mental attitude sins. Focus on the Lord and how He will deliver.

We have matchless security and this is His promise to us. This is where the believer stands firm. So, blow the trumpet of victory, because we cannot lose. Prov. 12:7 the wicked will be overthrown.

Lesson #0225

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

5/30/2021 Sunday1

Col. Ralph Puckett a citation for a distinguished service cross. Normally, such a person has this knocked down from the medal of honor. Served in the 8th Ranger company. Nov. 1950 in Korea. Led his company over 800 open yards and a great deal of small gun fire. They captured the objective. Wounded in the right shoulder, and continued to direct his company in several counterattacks. He repeatedly exposed himself to repeated fire. He ordered his men to leave him behind, to avoid being overrun. He was carried out of there.

Puckett had handpicked these Rangers and they became the first Ranger company since WWII. Limited supplies; limited clothing for freezing weather. President Biden awarded the medal after so much time. Outnumbered nearly 10 to 1. He is one of the most decorated soldiers in our military. He was inducted into the Ranger hall of fame 1992.

He is still alive, but in poor health in his 90s.

Proverbs 12:8 A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised.

A Man Will Be Praised According to His Thinking

1. Notice that this is all about thinking.
2. This is correct or clear thinking that proceeds right actions. People must have clear thinking, like Puckett, to respond to such dire circumstances. To put themselves in a position to live and sometimes to die. Clear thinking in that moment.

3. Thinking straight for us requires the wisdom of divine viewpoint. That is a mind or right lobe filled with Bible doctrine. This requires clear thinking and divine viewpoint as to what we should be thinking and how we should respond.
4. The second line about the perverse mind is the evil thinking of the cosmic system. This is evil thinking. This includes the schemes of the devil to defeat the Lord and the believers. Those with a perverse mind follow his lead.
5. A perverse mind is a warped mind, filled with confusion and warped thinking. Distracted and deceived by what sounds so good to uncritical thinking.
6. The warped mind lacks the ability to see things as they really are from the divine perspective. Clarity of thinking and discernment of thinking is the exact opposite of the perverse mind. They look the other way when it comes to the...
7. They fall for the schemes of perverse thinking and they make bad choices and they act like a fool. If you have this discernment, you may wonder, how can people make such bad decisions in life, individual and corporate? How can they not see the end-product of their choices? If I do this, what is going to happen? How do they not understand cause and effect? This takes discernment. A perverse mind cannot think through this.

The basis of the bad decisions made by perverse thinking; lack of discernment, lack of foresight. Not understanding the consequences for their own future. They decide to limit their future options. Their thought process betrays them.

Many examples, but we have something in this country that happens a lot, a young girl becoming a parent without a husband. No prospects for the future; those few moments put them in a situation which will effect the rest of their lives. Whatever feels good, do it. The future is narrowed for this girl to economic subsistence, welfare or worse. She becomes a burden on society more than a contributor to society. The child is also in a bad situation as well. Perverse minds; bad decisions.

On a national level, the perverse mind does not understand how voting for socialism limits freedom. Freedom of choice sometimes scares people; and some people desire some sort of human security. No government can supply total security; especially economic security. Socialism promises a guaranteed income; you will not have to worry because the government will take care of everything; and you will be better off for it.

The result is no individual freedom. Marxist organizations like Antifa and Black Lives Matter; there are riots in the streets, appeasement is their solution; and defunding the police. Crime increases exponentially. Cause and effect. They do not understand the old sin nature. They think that if we are nice to everyone, then there will be no problems.

There are terrible immigration policies, which are anti-nationalism. Terrible economic policies; and the left seems to be taking control. Perverse minds. No standards of divine wisdom. Their thinking is a total dead end; and the options will be limited severely. This is true of reversionistic Christians as well. Unbelievers can have divine establishment and divine institution thinking. Believers who are reversionistic can be the worst of all.

Acts 20:30 from your own selves, men will arise, speaking perverse things.

Perverse minds will teach false doctrine. It will draw disciples away. Perverse thinking is contagious and it is destructive. No discernment means that you will fall for perverse thinking. Satan is anti-God and anti-freedom.

It is amazing when people have no standards in their souls. They think that Marxism is good and will bring in a utopia. Today, the dialectic of race is used. It is divisive and it is a cause; and they say that society will be better. What is the effect? It is divisive like never before.

Today we celebrate those who have died for freedom; what an important day that this is. The cause, men and women willing to die on the battlefield. In Marxism, the cause is to empower certain people to speak for all of us. The effect is tyranny. The believer must appreciate the clear thinking that divine wisdom brings. We must facilitate it in our own thinking.

Praise Coming to a Person According to His Insight

1. V. 8 says, praise comes to a person in proportion; or, according to one's insight. That is having a wise thought process. God honors those who think doctrine and He honors wisdom.
2. Insight is a critical word in understanding power; thinking and divine wisdom. Insight knows what happens. It understands cause and effect.
3. Even the power of thinking by the unbeliever regarding divine establishment is praiseworthy.
4. Insight, that important word, is the Hebrew word sekol. A very critical work.
5. It means, discretion, good sense, prudence, intelligence.
6. This is not intelligence simply in terms of human I.Q. We are not talking about those who have maxed out their SATs.
7. This is insight; good sense; and intelligence. Even the lowest human IQ can appreciate.
8. 1Sam. 25:3 sekol is thinking straight and thinking justly. So many people have no common sense. No idea what to do, so they just wing it. Every moment in life has a purpose. We are alert in that sense. We have insight in the way that we are going. We know what decisions do for us and to us.

Bobby knew Laura Kay Tapping and she worked in R. B. Thieme, Jr. ministries. She was a mature believer. She could apply doctrine like few people could. Her thinking was pure because it was uncluttered by so many other things. Through all of that, she went all the way through high school with ridicule. She never felt sorry for herself. She was a remarkable person and a testimony to what a person with Bible doctrine can do. A transcript of her memorial service by R. B. Thieme, Jr. in that booklet.

There are others who have had difficulties in a mental comprehension sense, but they were able to take in doctrine and they were able to take in Bible doctrine and apply it.

Proverbs 12:8 A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised.

Lesson #0225

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

5/30/2021 Sunday2

The fog of war means, once the shooting starts, things become unclear. There is panic, there is noise, there is the wounded, but no one knows all of the circumstances. Those in the military know that plans do go awry. Some have an uncanny insight.

Two citations for medals of honor who understand the battlefield; they know the moment and what is happening.

Lt. Col. Rogers near the Cambodian border in Vietnam. Defense of a forward fire. Human wave ground offense that penetrated the line. He saw what was happened and he knew what had to be done. He directed the first towards the invading enemy. Led a small counterattack against an enemy element. He pressed the attack, killing many enemies and knocking them back. As a second human wave attack was launched, he directed armillary fire against them. He moved from position to position to give encouragement to his men. He faced a third attack. He was too severely wounded to lead his men, he was still able to give them orders and guidance. They defeated a numerically superior force.

James w. Robinson, Jr. Vietnam 1966. Company C involved in fierce combat. Moved among his men. The enemies in trees, and saw an effective one, he used a grenade launcher and took him out. Dragged some to safety and gave them first aid that saved their lives.

He removed a considerable enemy threat. Despite his painful wounds, he dragged two others to safety. Saw a machine gun of the enemies, he charged this weapon, hit again, setting his clothing on fire, and he continued, and he got within grenade range, and he hurled 2 grenades before falling dead on the battlefield. He took out the machine gun and the infantry moved forward to defeat a numerically superior force.

Proverbs 12:8 A man is commended according to his good sense, but one of twisted mind is despised.

1Samuel 25:3 Now the name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail. The woman was discerning and beautiful, but the man was harsh and badly behaved; he was a Calebite.

Nabal was a descendant of Caleb, but he fell far, far from the tree. There were many Calebites who owned a lot of land, including Nabal.

Abigail is beautiful, but she has insight. She has discretion, good sense; spiritual intelligence. Nabal was unable to understand what his thinking would lead to.

1Samuel 25:4 David heard in the wilderness that Nabal was shearing his sheep.

1Samuel 25:5 So David sent ten young men. And David said to the young men, "Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal and greet him in my name.

1Samuel 25:6 And thus you shall greet him: 'Peace be to you, and peace be to your house, and peace be to all that you have.

1Samuel 25:7 I hear that you have shearers. Now your shepherds have been with us, and we did them no harm, and they missed nothing all the time they were in Carmel.

1Samuel 25:8 Ask your young men, and they will tell you. Therefore let my young men find favor in your eyes, for we come on a feast day. Please give whatever you have at hand to your servants and to your son David."

1Samuel 25:9 When David's young men came, they said all this to Nabal in the name of David, and then they waited.

1Samuel 25:10 And Nabal answered David's servants, "Who is David? Who is the son of Jesse? There are many servants these days who are breaking away from their masters.

1Samuel 25:11 Shall I take my bread and my water and my meat that I have killed for my shearers and give it to men who come from I do not know where?"

1Samuel 25:12 So David's young men turned away and came back and told him all this.

1Samuel 25:13 And David said to his men, "Every man strap on his sword!" And every man of them strapped on his sword. David also strapped on his sword. And about four hundred men went up after David, while two hundred remained with the baggage.

1Samuel 25:14 But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, "Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to greet our master, and he railed at them.

1Samuel 25:15 Yet the men were very good to us, and we suffered no harm, and we did not miss anything when we were in the fields, as long as we went with them.

1Samuel 25:16 They were a wall to us both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep.

1Samuel 25:17 Now therefore know this and consider what you should do, for harm is determined against our master and against all his house, and he is such a worthless man that one cannot speak to him."

1Samuel 25:18 Then Abigail made haste and took two hundred loaves and two skins of wine and five sheep already prepared and five seahs of parched grain and a hundred clusters of raisins and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on donkeys.

1Samuel 25:19 And she said to her young men, "Go on before me; behold, I come after you." But she did not tell her husband Nabal.

1Samuel 25:20 And as she rode on the donkey and came down under cover of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down toward her, and she met them.

1Samuel 25:21 Now David had said, "Surely in vain have I guarded all that this fellow has in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that belonged to him, and he has returned me evil for good.

1Samuel 25:22 God do so to the enemies of David and more also, if by morning I leave so much as one male of all who belong to him."

1Samuel 25:23 When Abigail saw David, she hurried and got down from the donkey and fell before David on her face and bowed to the ground.

1Samuel 25:24 She fell at his feet and said, "On me alone, my lord, be the guilt. Please let your servant speak in your ears, and hear the words of your servant.

She describes her husband.

1Samuel 25:25 Let not my lord regard this worthless fellow, Nabal, for as his name is, so is he. Nabal is his name, and folly is with him. But I your servant did not see the young men of my lord, whom you sent.

Marriage counseling was not going to save this marriage. She is fully aware of her husband's foolishness, his perverse mind. She must have discretion, foresight, spiritual intelligence.

Nabal was quite perverse in his thinking. His folly was illustrated in his attitude towards David. Nabal was a very wealthy man. As such, we understand why he did this to David. Nabal was very impressed with who he was. You would not want him as a business partner. He would cheat you down to your socks.

Nabal prepared a banquet for himself and for some selected friends. He is simply competitive with his neighbors and with David himself. He treated David with great disrespect.

David and his men had been working for Nabal. They were in between things and they helped Nabal out. David humbly asked for consideration from Nabal for his work. He was protection for Nabal's property and wealth.

Nabal would not even feed them. He knew that David and his men were going hungry, and he had this huge banquet. He made bad decisions regarding David. Food should have been the least consideration. Vv. 7, 16

How easy this decision should have been. He had the food, but he did not invite David to this banquet. He rejected David's request in vv. 5–11. Isa. 32:6 For the fool speaks folly, and his heart is busy with iniquity, to practice ungodliness, to utter error concerning the LORD, to leave the craving of the hungry unsatisfied, and to deprive the thirsty of drink.

Given the choice, Nabal would practice unrighteousness every time. Nabal was totally self-centered. Impressed with himself, beyond what anyone could possibly think of him.

David got mad, very mad. He could not get provisions for his own men. He decided to take vengeance on Nabal. Nabal was so stupid as not to know who he was betraying.

The woman came out to David with enough food for everyone. She had insight, foresight. She knew what was about to happen and she covered for her self-centered fool husband.

Vv. 18–25 she talked David out of killing her husband. She had insight. She was a wise woman; and these were wise actions.

Proverbs 20:22 Do not say, "I will repay evil"; wait for the LORD, and he will deliver you.

She knows what a jerk her husband is and she admits this to David. This keeps David from making a very bad decision.

Psalm 18:47–48 ...the God who gave me vengeance and subdued peoples under me, who delivered me from my enemies; yes, you exalted me above those who rose against me; you rescued me from the man of violence.

We would like to destroy all of those looking to destroy our nation; but we need to simmer down and we need to rely on the Lord's control of history.

Nabal is a very convincing fool who had rejected God and God's plan.

Psalm 14:1 The fool says in his heart, "There is no God." They are corrupt, they do abominable deeds, there is none who does good.

Nabal had plenty to fear from God's wrath. The fool does not have enough sense to fear God's rebuke.

The bottom line is sekel, where Nabal had no capacity to see beyond himself. He could have gained the favor of the next king; but he defied David instead. He had a warped mind unable to see things as they really were.

We have every connection with reality. We have divine wisdom. You wonder why others cannot see it. They have no insight; no divine wisdom. They do not have a renovated mind; their thinking is perverse.

Nabal failed to recognize anyone in God's plan; he made all of the wrong choices of a fool. Conversely, Abigail abounded in insight and wisdom. She commanded respect from everyone who knew her.

1Samuel 25:26 Now then, my lord, as the LORD lives, and as your soul lives, because the LORD has restrained you from bloodguilt and from saving with your own hand, now then let your enemies and those who seek to do evil to my lord be as Nabal.

1Samuel 25:27 And now let this present that your servant has brought to my lord be given to the young men who follow my lord.

1Samuel 25:28 Please forgive the trespass of your servant. For the LORD will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord is fighting the battles of the LORD, and evil shall not be found in you so long as you live.

1Samuel 25:29 If men rise up to pursue you and to seek your life, the life of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of the living in the care of the LORD your God. And the lives of your enemies he shall sling out as from the hollow of a sling.

1Samuel 25:30 And when the LORD has done to my lord according to all the good that he has spoken concerning you and has appointed you prince over Israel,

1Samuel 25:31 my lord shall have no cause of grief or pangs of conscience for having shed blood without cause or for my lord working salvation himself. And when the LORD has dealt well with my lord, then remember your servant."

1Samuel 25:32 And David said to Abigail, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who sent you this day to meet me!

1Samuel 25:33 Blessed be your discretion, and blessed be you, who have kept me this day from bloodguilt and from working salvation with my own hand!

1Samuel 25:34 For as surely as the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, who has restrained me from hurting you, unless you had hurried and come to meet me, truly by morning there had not been left to Nabal so much as one male."

1Samuel 25:35 Then David received from her hand what she had brought him. And he said to her, "Go up in peace to your house. See, I have obeyed your voice, and I have granted your petition."

1Samuel 25:36 And Abigail came to Nabal, and behold, he was holding a feast in his house, like the feast of a king. And Nabal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunk. So she told him nothing at all until the morning light.

1Samuel 25:37–38 In the morning, when the wine had gone out of Nabal, his wife told him these things, and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone. And about ten days later the LORD struck Nabal, and he died.

Nabal suddenly realized his folly. About 10 days later, God struck Nabal and then he died. Probably two heart attacks, all divinely induced. No insight, a perverse mind.

What a contrast between the sekel woman and the fool.

1Samuel 25:39 When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, "Blessed be the LORD who has avenged the insult I received at the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from wrongdoing. The LORD has returned the evil of Nabal on his own head." Then David sent and spoke to Abigail, to take her as his wife.

1Samuel 25:40 When the servants of David came to Abigail at Carmel, they said to her, "David has sent us to you to take you to him as his wife."

1Samuel 25:41 And she rose and bowed with her face to the ground and said, "Behold, your handmaid is a servant to wash the feet of the servants of my lord."

1Samuel 25:42 And Abigail hurried and rose and mounted a donkey, and her five young women attended her. She followed the messengers of David and became his wife.

1Samuel 25:43 David also took Ahinoam of Jezreel, and both of them became his wives.

1Samuel 25:44 Saul had given Michal his daughter, David's wife, to Palti the son of Laish, who was of Gallim.

Sekel is what a person looks for, a sound mind, renovated thinking, discriminating. Such a person commands respect. Such a person does not demand respect.

Those who demand respect are often fools. Those who do not command it, but get it, those are men who have great wisdom.

Abigail deserves someone greater than Nabal. She got it later with David. She had no respect for the perverse mind of her husband. Probably those at the banquet could not stand to be around Nabal at the banquet. But, it was free food.

Insight or the perverse mind? Abigail had tremendous insight and she had spiritual intelligence. This is what we have as believers in Jesus Christ. We understand where we are going. We understand where we are going.

Lesson #0226                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      6/6/2021 Sunday1

D-Day 77 years ago. Bobby has stood on Omaha Beach where there are 10,000 crosses for the Americans who died there. This was the beginning of the end of one of the most evil empires in human history.

Prov. 12:9 Better to be lowly and have a servant than to play the great man and lack bread.

Prov. 12:9a Better to be lowly and have a servant...

Being a servant is voluntary. People who don't want to work might reveal a socialist mentality. Servanthood or slavery was a universal practice. Slavery was not a modern invention. This was not a practice predicated on race. Slaves in the ancient world were the spoils of a foreign conquest. Some had to work their way out of debt, and became slaves in order to do that.

There were household and farming duties. The ancient records of Mesopotamia, a reasonably wealthy person might own 2 or 3 slaves.

Abraham had a tremendous number of slaves. This number would be quite unusual. The servant in the house of any family indicated the prosperity of the owner of a house.

The man with a servant lived within his means and lived very well. He had a very comfortable life. People of great wealth today have nannies, butlers, drivers, etc. No one is born into such a job today; they choose it.

Such a person in this passage is lightly esteemed.

Meaning of Lightly Esteemed

1. He does not seek a high reputation. It is about how others see him.
2. This man has no vanity that presses him to be a social climber. Quite often those who gain wealth have a desire to climb the social ladder. Some want the status.

3. This man does not seek the limelight. He is one of the upper class, one of the wealthy in society.
4. He does not attempt to impress by affecting a greater importance or merit than he actually possesses, even though he may possess the qualities which merit respect. Today, it is a huge issue, respect. People demand it, even when there is nothing to respect. He is worthy but has no demands.
5. This man has the great quality of humility.
6. He is self-contained; he has self-esteem; and he is satisfied with his place in life. That is not something just for the wealthy, but it can be more important for those who are not wealthy. For some, there is never enough. Satisfaction in life does not come from circumstances, from being wealthy or poor. It is based upon what is in your soul. That is what the believer's life must reflect. There are many things in this life today that would mitigate against a relaxed mental attitude. Some people are in a constant state of agitation. You see what is going on and it violates standards in your soul. You see deterioration in the military, in politics. It is easy to be agitated by what is happening in the US. But that is not our life. What matters is, what is in your soul.
7. This verse would represent the believer who places the plan of God first in his life. He has a relaxed mental attitude. He enjoys life. Most of us do not enjoy great wealth. It is not as easy to hang onto wealth as it is to make wealth. People may come after you all of the time to invest. Would should I do with my money? I am going to worry about this. There is no rest in the soul from being financially comfortable.

If you have made it, flaunt it.

More Points

1. This man has the respect of his family and true friends. His humility is real; it is not a facade.
2. According to this passage, that is a wonderful circumstance in life. People seek respect and approbation; but that is not the circumstance in life which makes a person happy, relaxed or enjoyment in life.
3. Circumstance can bring some enjoyment; but this man is content with what he has. He is oriented to the grace of God. God gives lucrative living to some and not to others. Once that becomes real in your soul, then you are not chasing reputation or approbation. You are not worried that people think you are great or not. Those who are close to you, those who are of like mind, recognize the greatness in you. He was the esteem of his family and those close to him.
4. He is not driven by what other people think of him or her. Only what the Lord and his household think of him.
5. And so, by way of inference, by way of application to the believer, what matters is what the Lord thinks of us.

The doctrinal rationale for the believer is stated in Heb. 13:5a Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have,... The believer is not promoted unless God promotes him. Wherever we are, we want to be promoted to the next highest level. Whatever your station is in life, recognize that you are in the right place in this world; the place that is designed for you to be. Whether you are the CEO of a company or the person sweeping out the warehouse.

He backstab, we climb over the bodies of others to get ahead; but that is not our life.

In this context, this person is free of boasting of a financial status in order to self-promote. If God promotes you, you don't have to worry about your reputation. When you are relaxed, when you have a good attitude, when you get the job done; then God will move you if that is His plan. Instead of wasting the produce of this man's labor.

Remember Nabal who put on the big banquet to show off his wealth and prestige. Glitzy self-pursuits. He wanted to show everybody. Our life may include a wealthy lifestyle, with which, there is nothing wrong. Something else is very important. You must teach your children principles so that they do not become arrogant in their lifestyle.

Prov. 12:9b ...than to play the great man and lack bread.

The person in the second line is the pretentious one.

There are those who spend all of their money preserving their status. Then they end up begging bread, asking others for food and sustenance.

This happens in sports all of the time, who have great wealth and, suddenly, it is gone. There are stage mothers who forsake home for showy appearances for fame and fortune.

With proper training, a child can grow up with a good mental attitude. Pushing decisions on children can be very problematic. If your children have talent, make certain that they have good training to guide them. This showy puffed up raw ambition can become an obsession with status. It can result in falsehood and hypocrisy.

The wealthy becomes entitled; they put on a front of self-centered arrogance. There used to be a British sitcom that Bobby found funny. It revolved around a self-promoting wife, always putting on airs, who exuded self-importance. She was, in the meantime, constantly trying to manage her husband and relatives who were anything but pretentious. Her family was happy where they were. Bobby's favorite was the drunk slob of a brother who loved to watch television in a wife beater tee shirt.

Bobby would love to find reruns of this show. It has the message of this verse.

Humility and Being Self-centered

1. We can title this verse, humility is always better than pretension or hypocrisy. Our society does not see it that way. We strive for pretension.

2. It is better to have comfort without show than show without comfort. Condition of the former is much better than the latter.
3. It is actually immoral and reversionistic for the believer to make outward grandeur the grand aim of life. There are churches where people go to show their wealth. You are seen by others as a prominent citizen.
4. Vanity is the inspiring motive of the self-centered. Isa. 49:4a

It is more of a crime to be more concerned with one's clothing and accessories, than with the soul. Do not promote self while neglecting spiritual growth.

Next verse is going to be for animal lovers.

Lesson #0227

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/6/2021 Sunday2

Although this is about the treatment of animals, this is more about the character of the animal owner.

The first line builds the second line. This is about cruelty or lack of cruelty. The animals here are incidental; they are an illustration.

The unrighteous person is all about character. The person who is cruel to an animal is a wicked person. Animal cruelty is a mirror to a person's wickedness and darkness.

Introductory Points

1. What makes this passage impressive is, it compares the cruelty of animals to the cruelty of people.
2. Cruelty itself; a fundamental understanding of this. There is a lot of it in this world. The world has always had cruelty. It has not touched us as much as it has lately.
3. In fact, this passage says, even some people have a compassion which is cruel. That is profound.
4. That is a very pervasive cruelty hidden by a facade of compassion. Phony compassion.

The way a person treats animals is a very proper way to see into a person's soul.

The animal is allowed for food and this is not cruelty. There is no prohibition to hunting animals. There is guidance when it comes to cruelty to another's person's animal. This would support the SPCA or it would not support PETA.

Why this Does Not Support PETA

1. If you know anything about the doctrines of PETA, they put animals on the same level as people.

2. This is no distinction to them between people created in the image of God; and animals who are not. We are a unique species. Evolution is, we are all the same; so that all creatures belong in the same category.
3. And yet, animals are still God's creatures; His creation. We have a soul. We are made in the image of God. Animals do not have that and they will never evolve into that.

Bobby has a very hard time watching television commercials about animals who are treated cruelly by their owners. The poor things are in cages, starving and beaten. Dogs and cats are abandoned all the time. Left in apartment houses, tied up at a shopping center, chained out in the backyard suffering in silence. People walk away from their homes and from their animals. Owners who abandon their pets need to realize that their pets cannot fend for themselves. They will die slow, miserable deaths. There are Satanists who use animals for animal sacrifice; or dogs used for fighting.

The ironic part, people who murder are sentence to light sentences and are viciously cruel to people, and still given a light sentence.

We see the advertisements. When we see this, we really want to find the person and harm them. We cannot do this, of course. All of this animal abuse is classified as cruelty. These things fall under the prohibitions of this passage. This is one of the signs of degeneracy.

Animals with Biological Life

1. The word in the first line, life, living being refers to the total experience of the animal's life.
2. The animal as a living being shares the biological life of mankind. They experience the same things that we do. Pain, hunger, anguish, happiness.
3. But they are not on a par with mankind. Man has a living soul. This makes us different.
4. God breathed into man His life, making us the image of Him. We are made living beings with soul life.
5. This cannot be said of other creation. That is the distinctive factor. Nevertheless, we must have regard for other creatures.

There were animals killed for food and animals which were humanely sacrificed. These were mandated by God for Israel. The sacrifice of a lamb revealed the sacrifice of the Lamb of God. This sacrifice was done millions of times Who Jesus was. The pharisees hated the Lord.

There are reasons for doing this. Other important doctrines for Israel to learn. That mandate also places animals as a lower creation than man. When Israel did this. This does not negate Prov. 12:10.

Old Testament Israel was an agrarian economy. Many Jews were shepherds and they constantly watched over and protected their animals. These animals were their wealth and their survival. They provided wool. We know that Jesus used this very analogy for caring for His people. He called Himself the Good Shepherd Who lays down His life for His sheep.

What greater care could there be than Jesus laying down His life for our salvation. It is an unequivocal fact that animals depend upon us for their care.

Treatment of Animals

1. This verse also says something about people in relation to the treatment of animals.
2. Treatment of animals defines the character of people. A righteous man is defined here by their treatment of their animals.
3. Compassion for an animal defines one's own character. How do you treat your dog, your cat or your animals.
4. The righteous are kind to all of God's creatures. Treat them with high regard and respect. They are created for our use and our pleasure. Bobby will put his foot down on a roach. But we are really talking about the higher lower animals.
- 5.
6. We know that God created animals for a purpose. Even a cockroach has a purpose. It does relate to our lives and our character. If you have a neighbor who hates your dog and tries to poison it, you know what that person is like. Or if a person drops off their animal in your neighborhood...that person has a screw loose. If you have done that, you need some doctrine.
7. The analogy, the treatment of people is reflected in the treatment of animals. If you are unmarried, watch how a person treats their pet or others. Beware if they are cruel or unkind; because they will be cruel or unkind to you under the right circumstances. Similar if you are looking for pets.
8. If the animals are to be respected, how much more should human lives be protected. Today, life is cheap. You see 13 and 14 year olds try to kill police; or youngsters try to kill their parents. One manifestation of this is, how cheap animal life is to them. People who torture animals for fun.
9. If a society is cruel, animals are generally treated badly. The opposite is also true. Client nations treat their animals well.

Thus we are obliged to study this world of irrational beasts to understand their habits, their instincts, so that we might appreciate their value. Who is more loyal or protective and loving than a dog? A cat is highly entertaining when you watch them play. And they are actually affectionate. These animals give us pleasure in our lives. Animals are created for us.

Adam's first task in the garden was to name the animals. This revealed Adam's authority; and it revealed His use for the animals. So we should care for these noble creatures under our charge and for our protection. We fulfill the first line of this verse.

Like children, they do exactly the things that we don't want them to do.

People do such cruel things to children; how much more to their animals. It works both ways.

Bobby's mother loved animals of all kinds. She studied animals; and she loved birds. Bobby had a pellet gun and he was go bird hunting. He could never hit anything. One day he hit a meadowlark and he brought it home and his mother did not appreciate this at all. She loved animals and she studied them, reading animal stories to Bobby as well as Bible stories.

Bobby gained knowledge and respect for the lives of animals; and linked this to the teaching of Scripture. Bobby learned responsibility by having an animal. Learning to treat animals well. Bobby learned about these animals and their characteristics as well. This is a matter of training just as Bible doctrine is a matter of training. People miss out on a picture of love. Love which is unconditional. Even dogs which are kicked will come back and show affection. Unbelievers might not learn love in any other way except by means of an animal. We eat animals, unless you are a vegan. They are wonderful creatures from God's hand. We have the beauty and majesty of the mountains and the trees.

Bobby seeing a bird in the tree reminds him of his mother. He appreciates things that he can observe in animals. There are so many lessons to learn. So many things to observe. Animals are not impersonal beasts. They have personalities and they adapt and their own form of capacity for love. They even have impersonal love towards masters who mistreat them.

If you put your dog and your wife in the trunk of your car, when you open it up later, which one will be happy to see you?

Cruel people never appreciate this. It shows, and it shows towards other people. There is some capacity missing.

Bobby lost his dog and he gave a message on BJ's legacy. It was a real grief process for him. There was also a lesson. That is what animals do is teach us things that we might not learn in any other way.

Someone in Dallas told Bobby that he heard that message just at a time when he needed it. Your children learn as well. They need to learn how to feed the animal, how to groom it, how to feed it. The righteous know how to treat their animals.

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

Many of us have a soft spot for domestic animals. This is a reference more to domestic animals than animals in general.

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

Most of us have had pets which we have loved dearly. So we fit the definition of the righteous person in this analogy.

Bob was certainly an animal lover, and Sassy was his favorite. To be a Thieme dog, said the vet, is to be treated better than any dog in the world. Bob gave his dogs a royal treatment.

Domestic animals cannot understand cruelty, rejection or abuse, they suffer and they do not understand why and there is no recourse.

It has been wrongly alleged that people who love animals are unable to love on a human level. A relationship works best if both people have a love for animals. If one hates animals and another loves them, that is certainly an area of incompatibility.

We are mandated by God to love people. You will love your neighbor. Animals should be the recipient of care, protection, etc. And there should never be jealousy over a pet. However, this sometimes occurs. If the person actually does treat an animal better than a loved one, that person is lacking in virtue love. It is easy to have the capacity to love an animal. They are very loveable. Unless you have a cruel streak anyway. Then you won't treat animals or people very well.

It might help a person to understand love by the way a pet loves its owner. This would be a great lesson in capacity to love. The animal's capacity to love us is a thing to behold. No backtalk. And animals do give unconditional love. You must remember what we owe to other...

Animals have a great capacity to love. Their love is not human love. Nor can a relationship with an animal replace love and companionship with another human being. That is a distortion even when people are very difficult to love.

Bobby used to love to come back from a conference. Someone in the office would watch BJ. He would give a lick on Bobby's ear. Then he would turn his back on Bobby for a few minutes, just to let Bobby know that he was hurt. Then things were back to normal. He did the same time every time.

Summation of So Far

1. The treatment of animals reveals a person's character.
2. Compassion for animals indicates capacity for love and care. When we decide on what kind of a relationship we want with a person, we examine some of the things that they do. We want to know character, as that can be veiled. You can be faked out. We have all gotten into relationships we regret. Character makes a difference. A handsome or beautiful person loses their attractiveness when you see their terrible character is. Watch how a person treats animals.

3. The righteous person is kind of all of God's creatures. He treats them with high regards and respect. A person who walks in and kicks a dog, you know that is not a person to be around.
4. The righteous regard know that these lower animals are a part of God's creation. God created the animals.
5. Why is this important? God created them for a purpose which relates to us. They were created for our benefit. This is why we should remember that these are God's creatures.
6. The treatment of people is reflected in the treatment of animals. If you want to know what a person thinks about animals, take them to the zoo. It is a great way to get to know someone. The other way is to play golf with them.
7. If the lives of animals are respected, so will be the lives of people. Life is cheap in this country; and so it the life of animals as well. Animal shelters have never been fuller than they are now. People have just dumped their animals on the street. They don't feed them or take care of them very well. This is how they will treat people.
8. If a society is cruel, animals are generally treated very badly.

What about hunting and using animals for food? Some people can never bring themselves to hunt, it is not a sin to go hunting. The Bible is filled with references to the use of animals for food and clothing. Carnivores hunt other animals and this is necessary for their survival. In most sport hunting, the kill is used for food. The hunter will eat it or they will give it to someone else.

Sometimes hunting is done to thin out a herd. We are very judicious in the types and number of species which are hunted. The same is true of fishermen. Rick Hughes simply likes catching fish, but not eating them.

In other places, an animal is poached, killed for just a body part (like elephants killed for their ivory). That is not being a good steward of God's creatures. Cruelty is to slaughter something in a barbaric way, for the sake of killing. A blood lust. A hunter never leaves a wounded animal on the field. This is a callousness towards animals.

Many people go to Africa, and they follow the rules; others will go and just kill any kind of animal. Behind them, they leave a lot of bloody and wounded animals for no good reason. This is disrespect and cruelty.

We find the same attitude in the souls of murderers of human beings. Blood lust; utter disregard for human life. The motivation is the same, the attitude is the same. We have found humane ways to raise and slaughter animals for food. We have a legitimate practice to feed people; and some of us don't want to know how they are raised. Like dairy calves raised for veal.

Animals for food are a part of God's grace and His logistical grace. We as human beings have authority over animals. God told Adam to name the animals. That was his job. That is authority over the animal. Authority over anything means responsibility; it never means cruelty or abuse. We have authority over our own pets. Those who are cruel or abusive to animals or fail to take care of them reveal themselves to have a cruel and abusive character. They will manifest this towards people in one way or another.

Animals and Their Place in the World

1. There is a Biblical balance in humane treatment and human needs. People today, there are organizations who do not want animals raised for food or furs. There is a Biblical balance.
2. Animals were created, in part, to satisfy human needs.
3. But animals are not equivalent to or greater than people as friends and companions. If you prefer animals to people, that is understandable. We truly learn capacity for love for doctrine in our souls.
4. They do not have the souls created by God for human beings. Bobby used to discuss with theology professor. He said, "My cat has a soul!" He really had a problem with how some treated animals. They talked about man being made in the image of God; and lower animals are never said to be that. The breath of life; and they discussed the characteristics of the soul.
5. When you assign human characteristics to animals, they are not human beings. We love to assign human characteristics to animals.
6. People are created in the image of God. Animals were created for our benefit; and we have a right to take the lives of animals for our use, but in a humane way.
7. Lower animals are not said to be created in God's image.
8. Animals don't fall under the same categories in God's world.
9. Biblical laws are applicable to man's actions and thoughts.
10. Killing an animal is not homicide.
11. Their decent care is compelling and important to us in expressing our humanity. This treatment tells us what is happening in our souls. It is a good gauge. We sometimes do not do as well with human beings.
12. Lower animals are created for the benefit of humanity. Lower animals are a blessing to us, in many ways.

Bobby has a bit of a passion about this. He does not like people who treat animals badly. SPCA can be a very sad place to go. Bobby wants to take them all home with him.

BJ's death was just at the right time. Bobby dealt with his dog's suffering on exactly the right day. He could get into the vet. Day before was heavy rain; day after, the streets were a parking lot.

This verse, using animals is effective as a character study. Especially believers, both the righteous and the wicked. The Bible clearly legislates our contact regarding this divinely created beasts. There are many Old Testament verses on animals and their use. Animals sacrifices were required and that is a tough one for Bobby. The lamb being slaughtered was a graphic representation of the death of Jesus Christ.

Closing Points

1. Animals are dependent upon the kindness of strangers.
2. Kindness and respect toward them is a Biblical principle. It is a part of our growing in grace.
3. A hallmark of a client nation is their humane treatment of animals. We are beginning to see horrendous treatment of animals in this country.
4. That indicates a righteous population.

How much more important is the life of a person with a soul. Our laws regarding animals reflects our thinking and humanity.

We should also be aware of the fifth cycle of discipline being related to animals. Therefore the land mourns. The destruction of a client nation in decline.

War Horse was very tough for Bobby to see. Mules were used extensively and horses used in the cavalry.

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

Lesson #0229

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/10/2021 Thursday

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

For the believer, we receive the righteousness of God and we are acceptable to God at salvation; and that is known as justification. We are righteous because we are acceptable to God.

Progressive righteousness happens from spiritual growth. We grow in doctrine, we grow in righteousness. This is done by the filling of the Holy Spirit, staying in fellowship, and increasing the time that we are in fellowship.

There is also the righteous person who is the unbeliever. A righteous unbeliever has knowledge of divine establishment principles and he adheres to the rule of law and lives within the divine institutions. All of those are defined in the Scriptures as being righteous. This can be for the believer as well as the unbeliever. Even in the life of a person who lives apart from God.

In v. 10, we have a righteous man. In this context, this person can be a believer or an unbeliever. The treatment of animals is an indicator of character. Having regard for the animal, the person is righteous. It is a quality that a believer and an unbeliever can both have. They can have love and compassion.

One indicator of a healthy client nation is their human treatment of animals. A righteous population...but that does not mean that everyone is that way. If this is done in general, that is a righteous society. When there is respect for animal life; they respect human life. The number of senseless murders in our country are increasing exponentially. Along with those who want the police defunded.

Having a beef with someone who fired you does not mean that you have the right to go back there and kill the person.

The treatment of animals is often indicative of the society's righteousness. When the climate goes bad, everyone who lives on the land has difficulties. The people in that land languish. Along with the beasts of the field, the birds of the sky and the fish of the sea. They disappear. People suffer and so do animals.

When a nation goes down, this affects the domestic animals. All of those things that we eat or those who are pets and give us great pleasure. Natural disaster. Animals are intimately connected to people. We are interconnected completely. When you look at this passage, you recognize this.

Bobby drove through West Texas and he saw forests of giant windmills generating energy. Did not work very well. A lot of them turn out there. The blades indiscriminately kill animals life; thousands of birds. So ironic that those who are saving the planet with green energy are killing lots and lot of the environment, including birds. The solution of those who think they can preserve the planet through humanism, they are also destroying thousands of animals at the same time. The futility of humanism is exposed.

When a society tolerates this, this is a downward trend of the society. We see all of these downward trends everywhere. People leave their animals chained in the backyard, they fail to feed them, they use them for fighting. Animals are even used for cultic sacrifice.

The citizens of a nation are living in a state of misery and discontent, indicated by their callous cruelty towards animals. Animal abuse may be a warning sign for human abuse. There is a link between animal abuse, child abuse and domestic violence. It was found that almost 3 in 10 animals abusers hurt people. They most often harmed their children and spouses. 9 out of 10 who are cruel towards animals are men. This is a warning sign; the precursor to violence against human beings.

Animal cruelty is characteristic of the wicked in general. If this continues to grow and spread, this reflects a sick and degenerate society. When you see an animal without food or with mange, that is a degenerate owner.

A great indicator of cruelty. Human beings can harm animals who cannot understand and they cannot complain. All sorts of animals are dependent upon people. We are most concerned about people and how they are treated; but the animals being mistreated is indicative of cruelty in general.

Animals and Cruelty

1. When a person is kind to animals, they will be kind to people and they will respect the rights of people. There is a natural law insofar as cruelty is concerned. A natural law like taking care of animals
2. Consistent kindness to God's creatures by which a kind and merciful person is identified.
3. It is also the mark of a moral and divine establishment nation. One of the kindest persons that Bobby knows is his vet, who is also a member of the board of deacons. If you don't have these qualities, don't become a vet. Bobby has had a callous vet before.

The counterpart darkness is the realm of a horrible cruelty. Bobby is not an adopt-a-pet sermon.

Prov. 12:10b ...but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

This covers both animals and people. Clearly, cruelty begins as a mental attitude. This line does not mean that the wicked and the cruel have some element of compassion. Cruelty may be present in the mental attitude even when it is not manifested outwardly. Sooner or later, it will manifest itself.

Oxymoron and Paradoxes

1. This line employs an oxymoron.
2. An oxymoron is a figure of speech that contains two contradictory terms. Those terms together express a startling paradox.
3. A paradox appears to be contradictory but contains a basis of truth that reconciles the seeming opposites. It contains a basis of truth.
4. The oxymoron is cruel/compassion. How can anyone be cruel and compassionate? But they may act compassionately, even though their nature and thinking is inherently cruel.

The Compassion of the Wicked

1. This context is for the wicked.
2. Wickedness is the overarching subject of this oxymoron.
3. We can say about this line what appears to be compassionate is not and it never is in the wicked.
4. That is the truth contained in this paradox.
5. You understand that the wicked has a facade of compassion.

Compassion, Cruelty and the Wicked

1. Compassion is used here as a word-play. We don't think of compassion as wicked.
2. In that sense, even the kindness treatment can be connected to cruelty itself. It is the very definition of someone who is unrighteous.
3. Even though the wicked may be moved to compassion, they often manifest this in a cruel way. Cruelty is what they truly are. That is their nature.
4. So this a wicked person whose qualities are seemingly righteous. That is the compassionate side of it. Yet entirely wicked.

Bobby's example. There are people who seem sensitive to the feelings of others; but their actions leave behind a train of problems everywhere. They have superficial sensitivity, but what they do is very cruel.

We know anger. This is an attitude that may be hidden behind a deceptive appearance of compassion. When a person is crossed, it brings out compassion and cruelty. When the fuse is lit, the facade is gone. The real person appears. We all get angry from time to time. But how does this anger play out. In the cruel person, the anger plays out in a more violent way (not necessarily physical). Angry attacked to cruelty.

Sometimes they beat their animals or whip them. The flash of anger reveals the inner person. Sometimes when parents get angry with their children, they lash out, because they have an inherent cruel nature. There has been tremendous cruelty to children, because they cry to much or for whatever reason. This strikes fear and resentment in children.

Self-centered and arrogant. No regard for anyone else's circumstances; and no regard for the pain they may cause others. It is the evil desire to hurt others. That comes out against the one object of one's love or one's hatred. Cruelty is not respecter of persons. Cruelty happens all of the time. It often manifests itself when there is frustration in a person's life. So when anyone crosses them, throws a roadblock in their path, whether a loved-one or an enemy, the cruel anger of retaliation and vengeance can even manifest itself with killings and shootings. That is the characteristic of a cruel person.

A remedy is a believer who metabolizes Bible doctrine.

A great example of cruel compassion comes to mind with Adolf Hitler. He was terribly wicked. But he was the owner of a beautiful German Shepherd that he named blonde and he was treated very well. Eva Braun had two Scottish terriers. The shepherd was portrayed in a way to make Hitler seem like a compassionate man. Many photographs of the feurer with his dog. All of what happened during the bombing and shelling and the chaos at that time.

Hitler did not want the Russians to take him alive. He decided to poison himself with a cyanide capsule. He had to get one. He had paranoia. He did not trust the cyanide pill given him by Himmler (?). At this point, he showed his true cruelty. He used his dog as an experiment to see if the cyanide would work. This was not unusual for a man who agreed to millions of horrendous things. Hitler was an angry and cruel man from his youth. He is said to have been inconsolable over the loss of his dog. Yet, at the same time, he sanctioned the killing of millions of Jews with gas.

The sin nature is cruel. The cruelty can be curbed in the believer. We are compassionate people; kind people; people with the capacity to love. We have impersonal love during the times that we might be having problems.

Socialists who claim that they will make the society better and there is nothing but cruelty there. Humanism is cruel. Only the believer in Jesus Christ can say, we are not compassionate cruel.

Lesson #0230

Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/13/2021 1Sunday

Communion Service June 13, 2021:

Jesus opened the door for our salvation. Our topic for communion is death. The Lord's crucifixion has made it possible for us to enjoy the bright side of death.

You will behold Me, because I live. You also will live.

“Let not your heart be troubled; you have believed in God; believe also in Me.”

The dark side is very...

The Lord's half-brothers did not believe His words, at first. “My time is not yet at hand; but your time is always ready.” Death is always at our doorstep, ready to take us.

Speculations among men are useless. We cannot wish it away; science cannot remove it. John 8:24 You will die in your sins, if you believe not that I am the Savior, then you will die in your sins.

Paul calls death the sting. Luke 16:23 is a man who dies in his sin. In Hades, he lifted up his eyes, being in torment. This man cried out, “Father Abraham, have mercy on me and send Lazarus that he might put a little water on my tongue.” Abraham could not save this man. Only Christ could do that. The deeper we look at the dark side of death, the darker it becomes. John 8:29 Those who committed the evil to a resurrection of judgment, when they are resurrected, it will be for judgment and nothing else.

The undying worm indicates that the destruction beyond the grave continues. The person who goes into the grave will live in flames forever. It is a terrifying thing to fall into the hands of a Living God. This is too terrible to think on.

There is the bright side of death to the believer. Jesus told the thief, "Today, you will be with Me in paradise." Jesus referred to physical death as sleep. Sleep is a temporary condition. Someday, the sleeping body will be awakened and changed. "Behold, I tell you a mystery; we will not all sleep, but we will all be changed."

The dead in Christ will rise first. That change is into an incorruptible body. Yet the unbeliever will also be raised to a greater darkness than oblivion. The sea gave up the dead which were in it and they were judged, every one of them.

Death grows brighter by the day for believers. "For me to live is Christ and to die is profit."

Philip. 1:23 I am hard pressed between the two. My desire is to depart and be with Christ, for that is far better.

John 11: 43–44a When he had said these things, he cried out with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out." The man who had died came out, his hands and feet bound with linen strips, and his face wrapped with a cloth.

At the consummation of the ages, He has put away sin... (Hebrews)

Rom. 6:6 Knowing this, that our old self has been crucified with Him, and that our body of sin might be done away with. Our sin nature no longer oppresses us.

While the sin nature is dead by virtue of the cross, the activities of sin must also be dealt with.

Eph. 1:7 In Him, we have redemption. We have redemption through His blood.

Unforgiven sin is the sting of death. Salvation provided for all those who accept His sacrifice for sin. Death no longer holds a person in its darkness. When we receive Christ as Savior, His righteousness becomes ours. We are pronounced righteous and we are acceptable to God. Our future is in the light of eternal life.

The darkness in this world is revealed in the devil. Satan is utterly powerless insofar as our salvation is concerned. Christ became flesh and dwelt among us. Through death, to render the devil powerless.

Jesus became man to exercise power over the devil. Satan, the demon of death, is vanquished. The visayan darkness of the grave.

Acts 2:24 God raised him up, loosing the pangs of death, because it was not possible for him to be held by it.

The hour is coming when the graves of all believers will be empty. Corruption will be raised in incorruption. "Oh death, where is your victory, O death, where is your sting?"

Whatever victory the grave seems to have is only temporary.

2Tim. 1:9–10 ...who saved us and called us to a holy calling, not because of our works but because of his own purpose and grace, which he gave us in Christ Jesus before the ages began, and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel,...

No paralyzing fear should grip the soul of any believer. 2Tim. 4:6–8 For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.

Lesson #0231

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/13/2021 2Sunday

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

Paradoxical language found in cruel compassion. How can someone have a cruel character and have compassion at the same time? One excludes the other.

The idea is, even their compassion becomes cruelty. We can say that a certain compassion exists in the actions of anyone, even in the cruel at certain times. However, their cruelty remains. Sooner or later, their cruelty will be revealed. Our cruelty is in our genetic structure and we will not evolve out of it. We are all have a sinful nature. We can cover it; we can put up a facade, but it is still there. A person can appear compassionate for awhile, but, at some point, it will be clear that there is cruelty in the man.

Cruelty and the Sin Nature

1. The sin nature is a cruel nation.
2. Man's attitude toward man is one of great cruelty. If you understand history at all and what man is capable of, you recognize the cruelty which is inherent in the human race. We are a nation sheltered from this sort of thing in our country.
3. Cruelty may be interspersed with times of compassion. Especially where divine institutions are accepted and followed; and the laws of divine establishment. We as believers in Jesus Christ have the curb of Bible doctrine and the filling of the Holy Spirit. The unbeliever can still have the concepts of morality from the laws of divine establishment.

4. The sin nature will always manifest cruelty in the human race without the ultimate curb of Bible doctrine. Even the best person will be cruel and wicked. People always want to find some redeeming quality in all people, even in the worst. We are lettering people out of jail who should not be let out. There are some who are getting Bible doctrine in church from some of our Bible ministries. An essential quality of mankind is the sin nature. The sin nature manifests itself cruelly.
5. A real change may be wrought in the soul of the believer through metabolizing the soul of the believer. When you inculcate the mind of Christ, you think with the mind of Christ...even toward enemies. We are not perfect as the Lord was. The more we gain with impersonal love, the more it is possible. The more we are able to curb our own cruel nature. The self-centered wicked person is ultimately cruel because they have no brakes on the sin nature. There is no renovation of thinking of such a person. There is no true capacity for love.

Impersonal love for mankind is not there except for the believer. Such a person can have true compassion, even when they are being maltreated. Death, martyrdom, being chased all over the countryside; but we have much more freedom than that in the United States. War after war after war chased protestant believers all over until they came to the United States. This is everywhere, but we do not realize that.

The Roman empire was a golden age, but Christians were persecuted. They were cannon-fodder for the mob. We don't know that; we don't study that. It is not long before the devil and his world find a way to try to stop it. We have the understanding that the world is cruel.

Many illustrations even in our country. People become older and more helpless, they are often treated with great cruelty; in places designed for kindness. Assisted living places and these can be very cruel place. Sometimes short-tempered impatience. The governor of NY and the cruelty he exhibited.

This is also very true of the world's view of Christianity. Cruel compassion. Another example from our time, the cruelty of a mob which is said to be protesting for the rights of others. A mob is always thoughtless and cruel. It has no overriding compassion. The phony claim it is all about free speech while torching buildings. The compassion of the wicked is cruelty. Mobs in the streets today are supposedly demonstrating for the rights of the downtrodden, while they destroy the property of the people they claim they are there to represent. Ultimately the application of cruelty to the entire population.

The cruelty of Marxism; it is inherently cruel. Millions are killed in the name of Marxism. Far more oppressive than even the treatment of slaves in the old south. Mao and Stalin killed hundreds of millions of people in the name of Marxism. They claim that is the compassion, but underneath there is cruelty.

Marxism lives under the maxim, you must be cruel in order to save and change the world. Even their supposed kindness is cruelty. They persecute and kill people for what they deem is better. The whole principle is, it is always cruelty. At the end of the day, it is all the evil explained in Prov. 12:10.

Prov. 12:10 Whoever is righteous has regard for the life of his beast, but the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

Proverbs 12:11 Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits lacks sense.

All people seek bread, which is the better life. How do they do it? How do they define prosperity. The answer is to till the land. We do not have to become a farmer to fulfill this verse. Farming was the prevalent system; and hard work puts bread on the table.

The earth provides what the lower creatures require for sustenance. We are endowed with those capabilities to work hard for what we get. Part of the curse is the tilling of the soil in order to produce food.

“Because you have listened to the voice of your wife and have eaten from the truth that I commanded you not to eat.” The woman has a lot of power and she knows how to use it. “In toil, you will eat from it all the days of your life. By the sweat of your face, you will eat bread.”

When man was created, God gave to man all that was necessary for him to survive. God does not need to give us what we are able to make on our own. Work is the tried and true method of prosperity. Especially hard work. This is not an exclusive domain of farming. The example is agriculture; but that was the one major industry at that time. A person secures steady income from hard work, applying one’s talents, abilities and strengths.

The other side of the coin. One line is antithetical to the first line. We are taught to toil; that is what we should be doing. That is not what the last couple generations have done. The mandate is, work hard by whatever you do. You are an idiot if you don’t.

The pursuit of req, which means empty, vain; fantasies. Do your work. Do not spend your time chasing after the big score, the big win. This does not mean that dreaming is necessarily a bad thing. An entrepreneur can dream; but it requires hard work. Thought, study, investment. Hard work is mental work. Bobby does not do much manual labor any more. We often don’t think of study as being hard work; but it pays off only in the sense that he can teach us. It requires hours of study. Laziness is not a part of the Christian life.

The speculator, of course, throw money into wild schemes for quick profits. More often than not, they lack good sense in doing so. Quite often, they get wiped out. Bob has had one good experience with that. Someone Bobby knew wanted to speculate with his money and the dishonest spectator speculates with the money of others.

Some claims to have that they have a great deal. There have been Ponzi schemes in Berachah. When you are offered a great return, or something for nothing. Even in Berachah Church. Sometimes, we learn the hard way.

The up and coming generation wants to find the perfect circumstance for themselves, and they are living off man and dad. You have to get out there and get with it. Even a low-paying job, you do something.

When you start at the bottom and you work hard, people recognize that you have the right attitude. And they know that such a person can be promoted. You follow instructions and they do what they do. Whatever we do, we do under the Lord. The Lord expects from us hard work.

There are many applications of this.

Proverbs 12:11 Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits lacks sense.

Lesson #0232                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT    6/16/2021 Wednesday

It is a normal desire to improve one's position in life, to advance in life. The drug addict and the homeless are not looking for advancement. Their driving movement is another hit of whatever it is they are taking. That is their prosperity. The mentally ill who are on the streets surviving. There are others who want to be taken care of by others. That is their good life, despite the dependency. How do most people achieve prosperity? Some do this by any way possible. Some will do illegal things to gain a profit.

Anything to avoid honest work. The sad part of it, it is still working. It is working at dishonesty. You wonder, what if they put their minds toward doing something which is honest. Others seek a better life through geography. Who can blame them? That is what this country has represented for the last 200 years and people around the world know this. People who have arrived from other destitute nations.

We are being told that this is a evil country, filled with capitalists, racists, and colonialists. If we are that, why do so many other races try to get here? This is not an evil nation and it never has been. There is opportunity for all, in spite of what we hear about supremacist oppression. Some work hard to advance. People are promoted in various professions all of the time. Others just get an idea. They decide that they may be a great lucrative idea. Some know that they need a plan, a goal, and a subject to develop. That is when the hard work begins. Prosperity depends upon hard work; and many work hard simply to put food on the table. The overriding principle is hard work. The one who tills his land will have plenty of bread.

Proverbs 12:11a Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread,...

This has been true since the first man in the garden. Hard work pays off, according to Prov. 12:11a. Mankind is made to work. We are built to work. It is also a part of a mental health to work. People become indolent and lazy who refuse to work. They become a burden upon others.

Proverbs 12:11 ...but he who follows worthless pursuits lacks sense.

It is counterproductive to pursue req. rēq (רֶק) [pronounced rake] means empty, vain, worthless. Strong's #7386 BDB #938. This is pursuing fantasies. This is instead of chasing after the big score or the big profit. That is prohibited here. Plenty of people don't do anything today, because they can make money doing nothing. Right now, it is hard to find employees. There are those who cannot decide what to do. They are in a state of inertia. They fantasize about doing something. Others are content to be leeches upon society. There seem to be a whole generation of young people who are drifting, uncertain and unemployed. In that condition, socialism becomes very attractive to them. Notice it is those who are under 30 who vote for socialists. They are indolent, unhappy people; often those who get involved in crime, violence, and political statement.

Society degenerates and is unproductive. The land mourns and everyone who lives in it languishes. The first two cycles are involved in here. Sickness, hunger; escalation of fear; decline in patriotism. People lose the will to defend their nation. Leviticus 26:14–17. That is the beginning of a nation in degeneracy. Economic recession and depression. Leviticus 26:18–20. A society must be industrious to avoid such economic failure. The economy depends upon employment; and the capitalism that goes along with it.

When a Person Does Not Advance in Work

1. The person who hangs on others for support or simply refuses to work is what is called a fool. This is one definition of a fool.
2. Why? Human beings are designed to work. God demands that they work. We are to toil for the bread that we receive. That is part of the curse of Adam. God does not provide for us when we can provide for ourselves.
3. The parasite sacrifices self-respect and limits future options. The older that a person gets, the fewer options that they have. The less that they can be employed. They have never done anything. Good jobs come when you have done a good job elsewhere. Those who do not work do not appear to have much advancement in the work force.
4. That person exposes himself in idleness to evil pursuits.
5. He or she will be subject to loss of expectations. There is a depression for those who do not work. No respect from others. Finally, poverty. Poverty of soul as well as a poverty of pocket.

There is no excuse for anyone in this nation to shun or to reject work. Excuses abound. There are many. Injustice, unfairness, I can't get the job that I want. So I won't take any job. That is destructive arrogance. Most people start at entry level. You may not be living in the style that you want to become accustomed. People who shun a job because it is not just right for them. Sometimes you end up with a job that is not really to your liking. But the plan of God puts us in the place where we need to be. You get started in life; you work hard; and you let the Lord do the promoting. Sooner or later the Lord will put you in the position where you ought to be.

Bobby when he got out of college did not know what he wanted to do. So he went into the military. He can still remember deciding to go to seminary. He did not lay around saying, I hope my ship comes in. It is not God's plan for us to do nothing in life. Many people want to start at the top. They do not understand to advance through hard work. People wait for just the right opportunity. You are wasting your time fantasizing. Opportunity arises out of hard work.

"I don't like the minimum wage; I can't live on that."

Working

1. Hard work is the means to advancement.
2. The one who waits for prosperity and refuses to work lacks sense. No discernment. Stupid. Lacks sense, as the passage says. They never consider the repercussions of what they are doing.
3. To neglect or to reject work while thinking about other fun things, things which do not require too much time, shows a marked lack of judgment. This leads to depression and a defeated life.
4. Crime is a result of a lack of judgment of the one who waits for prosperity. Today, there is a lot of opportunity in crime, whether home invasion or selling drugs. There is money in it. They have nothing else to do.
5. It is not crime because of bad environment. Crime is a matter of volition. It is the result of bad decisions because of a lack of good sense and wisdom. They know nothing else. They have nothing in their souls. No divine institutions, no Bible doctrine.
6. Work is the divine design for mankind; hard work. Clearly from this passage and many others in Scripture; not welfare.

Bobby read an article about the young people in Great Britain. Many of them do nothing. They are a depressed and defeated group of young people. Britain has a lot of trouble with that age group. They care about nothing but themselves and what the next day might bring. This illustrates this passage.

People have been helped by money from outside circumstances. But if you have to have that, you need to get off of it as soon as possible.

Proverbs 12:11 Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits lacks sense.

The next verse is difficult; and there are many different viewpoints and different readings. Every passage can be interpreted. The translation of the first line. It surveys all of the good readings and makes sense in the context.

Proverbs 12:12 Whoever is wicked covets the spoil of evildoers, but the root of the righteous bears fruit.

We have a contrast here between the crafty wicked lying person and the honest righteous person. There are similarities to the previous verse. It is a desire to acquire things that other evil people have already acquired. That is considered to be the easy way to prosperity. That acquisition of booty; and this will happen by the same means. Gaining loot by devious falsehoods because it has worked before. This is the copycat principle of evil.

The Meaning of Booty

1. The Hebrew is a net. Matsud
2. The people are on a hunt.
3. The desire is to generally hunt evil.
4. Better to also snare what other evil men have snared by evil means. Quite a similarity here.

Plotting to Do Evil

1. These crafty men are plotting to be dishonest as the most cunning of other evil people who have already succeeded in their evil.
2. These are copy cat dishonest. Dishonesty in economic gain.
3. They repeat the activities of evil that they have observed to be effective. The easiest place to see this in the movies or on tv. Hollywood tries to make the evil people into the heroes. Bobby first saw this in the Godfather. We took to the old boy and to his son; but they were evil people.
4. The evil ones are their mentors. Evil success begets evil. The wicked will use these same techniques.
5. In evil thinking and actions, there is nothing new under the sun. There is nothing new under the sun when it comes to evil.
6. So, the profitable goals of these wicked are obtained by scheming, by intrigue, by fabrication, by prevarication, by perjury. Those all techniques of the wicked which are learned. You have to learn how to be a con man or a con person.
7. These are tried and true methods for ill-begotten gain.
8. They have the successful history of evil persons to back it up and to motivate them to use it. When a society finds that evil gets more money than working hard, they will follow that pattern. That is what this verse is saying.

The honesty of the righteous needs to scheming, no perjury, it has a ring of truth to it. Honest thinking breeds honest words and actions. Speaking the truth is easy to maintain because truth does not have to be manipulated or reconsidered or recalled to keep from being caught up in a lie. Hard to be consistent in your lying. The truth is so much easier. The truth simply needs to be repeated to maintain consistency. You do not stumble because you already know that it is true.

A witness in a trial has no problem testifying when he or she sticks to the truth. It is clear facts. Especially as the testimony moves along. The liar easily contradicts his own testimony. A good witness simply tells the truth. There is a truism; honesty cannot be hypocritical. It can't. They are diametrically opposed. A person does not think dishonestly and be able to consistently act in an honest manner. A facade of truth can be seen through. Show them to be inconsistent.

The Characteristics of a Wicked Person

1. Any wicked liar must be hypocritical.
2. They must think one thing, but say or do another in order to reach a nefarious goal. That is the definition of a lie. Right away it is a facade.
3. The person has to cover evil designs and desires with a bodyguard of lies.
4. We can say craftiness, deviousness, deceptiveness, is the instinct of the wicked; it is the direction that they go, because they cannot reveal themselves.
5. It is their fallback position. The truth is not in them.
6. Ultimately they will use that means to get the results which they desire.

Lesson #0233

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/17/2021 Thursday

A long time since there has been a testimony from the Berachah pulpit. It went on sometimes for several hours. Some liked to outdo others. Occasionally, there were testimonies...Bobby was called several times to give his testimony.

Occasionally people write letters to Bobby. A description of the power of Bible doctrine in the life of this person. Someone who lost their father. A roller coaster of doing things this person never expected to do before. This was done during COVID, disintegration of personal friendships. Time and space given to listening to Bible doctrine. She had always been committed to doctrine, but did not have a regimented daily intake. Many unpleasant circumstances, but the person was ready to handle them. Was ready to do things she did not consider possible (I am assuming that this is a female). Her father was very dedicated to doctrine, all about doing the right thing. On numerous occasions, she saw her father disadvantage himself to others, including those who wronged him. They inquired how could he do this. From her study of Romans, she could see how he was living the spiritual life. Great to see someone living and applying Bible doctrine.

She has seen patience on the part of her father. Biblical lessons on living the Christian life. Sparked her to moving to the high ground. God honors His Word and the flow of truth that comes out of Berachah Church. Doctrine works. Bobby gets a number of letters and he reads them all.

This is a testimony to the efficacy of God's Word. This is also a letter to us.

Proverbs 12:12 Whoever is wicked covets the spoil of evildoers, but the root of the righteous bears fruit.

There is the one wicked man, who wants to acquire what other evil men have acquired. What is the difference between a wicked man and evil men. There are different terms in the Hebrew. The wicked are the criminals; those who are dishonest. The evil are just bad; these two get along just fine, as they are of the same mind.

The Wicked Man and the Wicked Men

1. The wicked man follows the evil men in their wickedness.
2. The wicked man copies the evil of those who have been successful at using evil methods.
3. The wicked are copying the evil in the best way in order to acquire this Hebrew word, matsowd. Translated booty. It means a hunting implement or a net; something to ensnare someone else.
4. The wicked are on a hunt to snare something.
5. They are using the implements, the nets, the snares of the evil men who have come before. They grab what other evil men have gained by evil means.

NIV is a very readable translation. Rendered plunder there. What the wicked man hunts is the plunder taken by the wicked men. To raid, to ravage, to pillage. The evil men take what they can get by whatever dishonest means are necessary to do so.

Evil Man Following Evil Men

1. This booty is what has been commandeered by an evil man.
2. He is following the cunning of other bad men. The criminal has the opportunity to observe and copy.
3. The crafty wicked man is dishonest and dishonorable. That is a part of the pattern. Hard work and entrepreneurship. The person needs a goal and a product to develop. How to be wicked and plunder those who are there to plunder.
4. The wicked man repeats the methods and... A lot of ways evil is perpetrated. Many illustrations. They see how something is done.
5. The evil ones are the criminal's mentor. They may not even know their mentor. They know what they have done and how they've done it.
6. Their evil success begets the use of more evil. Evil piles on more evil.
7. Thus the profitable goal of the wicked man is obtained in the same way. By scheming, lying, perjury, deviant behavior, fabrications. All tried and true methods of ill-begotten gain.
8. The wicked man has a successful history of evil men to spur him on.
9. Evil continues and escalates from one generation to the next.

The evil is a mark of a wicked person. It reveals how he thinks and that is who he is. They know how to be sneaky so not as to exposed. Disgrace and dishonor involved. That thwarts their evil goals.

Marxism is the opposite of wisdom and it is alive and well today. Wicked men who are following the pattern of evil men. This has gone on for a long time. Marx wrote Das Kapital in the 19th century and it has been going on going back to WWI. The war itself curbed it.

Joseph Stalin, after Lenin died, became one of the worst dictators in world history. This is the bottom line. The ultimate methods of Marxism are too brutal to be overtly disclosed. Their thinking is starting to be manifested. Antifa and the brutality and evil of Marxism is happening right now. They are intolerant, brutal, criminal and they are anti-freedom. The first amendment is invalidated by Marxism. That is what the cancel culture is all about.

Evil Lying

1. Those who look to gain by lying are inherently dishonest. It is just a part of who they are. When they go into the lying mode, it is one which continues.
2. Ultimately, that dishonestly will show in their actions. When you think dishonestly, you will act dishonestly.
3. One lie must lead to another lie to cover them.
4. Lies are a trap that is only released by discovery. Lies are similar to a Ponzi scheme; you invest money that belongs to someone else, and you then pay them off with a new person. The process has to continue. It is one big lie. Someone got into this cycle of 10 years and now they are in prison. A lie snowballs and it is a trap.
5. The first lie has to be covered by many future lies.
6. That deceit must be carefully guarded to maintain the continuity of lies. People lie and contradict previous lies. It is the actions of the dishonest that will reveal them.
7. The lies become so numerous that contradictions become inevitable. That is a part of the discovery. The liars own lying tongue betrays him or her. Many liars think that they will never be uncovered. Many people find out in court that they can be discovered.

The first lie a witness tells must be defended by a second lie which must be defended by a third lie. If they have not confessed to a crime, they must tell the truth. As the line of testimony grows, it grows in weakness. The witnesses apprehension increase with every new question. They are compelled at every question. What is the truth I must present, and then imitate it with lies. No matter how accomplished a liar is, they are always tripped up somewhere. Now, what did I say about my past testimony? Before long, the witness is crisscrossing his own path.

Many times, a witness comes to believe their own lies. They stubbornly maintain their own testimony. Even after it has been shown to be false. That is the mindset of inherent dishonesty. They refuse to admit to a lie. Dishonesty and inherent lies. Honesty is to be avoided at all cost. Liars cover bad deeds; they cover their own criminality.

The Point Is...

1. Lying and deception becomes a never-ending cycle of dishonesty that must be carefully maintained. It is stressful to maintain a lie; to maintain a string of lies. Tell one person a lie and another person a lie; and often these lies contradict themselves.
2. Once the truth is left behind, it becomes a matter of strained recall to keep up a pretense of innocence and honesty. The pretense itself is a lie.

3. That is a lot of hard work for not a good return. Hard work to be a liar. Much better to do hard work honestly, and to gain the rewards??
4. The crooked path of falsehood is fraught with continual traps. This is a reason why some have psychological problems. They cannot maintain a facade in public. Some of the greatest liars there are go to bars and talk to women. Most of the things you hear from guys in a bar are probably not true. Especially when they talk about themselves in glowing terms. How many times have those lies worked?

If the dishonest purposes of a prominent person, like a government official, if they were to be fully revealed, many in the populace would be appalled at the subterfuge. These lies told in politics. Marxism and socialism of examples of such subterfuge of lies.

Political Ideology

1. The overall lie of these ideologies is this: we will bring equity to all mankind. We will institute a humanist utopia, on our own, if we can just get our way, if we can just be our way. If we can just have power. This is what all tyrants promise. They claim to have no poverty, no racism, no hatred, etc.
2. The ideology devises such humanistic schemes as economic prosperity through government control. Only the government can give people the most prosperity and distribute the wealth among all people.
3. They must confiscate the wealth from some to give to others. Through oppressive environmentalism.
4. They want to renovate the thinking of the populace by several methods: multiculturalism, behavior legislation, education.
5. They also propose world peace through internationalism.
6. They say they will eliminate injustice and inequality through social justice and social crusades; and if that does not work, revolution. These are lies falsehood in the human race. Marxism fails everywhere it has been tried. It is a flawed system which is antisemitic, anti-Christian, anti divine establishment. This is all these humanists can offer up. They must cover up Marxism with lies. The goals of Marxism are a joke. They can only be a lie because they are unreachable. To say that they are reachable. To gain the power to implement their lying schemes. The whole thing is a lie. Lying justifies where they want to go. What happens, for them to meet their goals, there is imprisonment and executions in order to achieve utopia. The Soviet union, China, North Korea, they have gulags. Alexander Solzhenitsyn wrote a book about the gulags in Russia.

This is a perfect example of this verse.

Proponents of Marxism have lies to cover. Seductive fictions. They cannot produce equity. Their equity is equal impoverishment in society, except for themselves. They hold the power and garner the rewards of that power. At the expense of the people and the nation; at the expense of everything that we hold dear. They can make a utopia if they can just get rid of the people that disagree with them. The North Korean leader is quite heavy, but everywhere around him is starving. When they are exposed, they accuse the opposition of lying. Turn the lies on their opposition. They assign to them the nefarious purposes which they hold themselves. It is all a lie; they are all dishonest.

It only takes a few revolutionaries to take over. True in every Marxist takeover. It is truly demonic and it is the epitome of lies. We are a nation full of liars. Those liars are calling their opposition liars. If you don't agree with us, you should be cancelled. Right now, that just means to shout someone down or to shame them.

Believers in Jesus Christ cannot compromise with lies, particularly when those lies are anti-Christian, when those lies are against God. We are the enemy of Marxists. We oppose the lie and therefore, the lie must attack. We are the buttress of this country because of that. We in this country have enjoyed great freedom; but historically, man has not enjoyed such great freedom.

We are beginning to see it now because the lies are taking over. This is just one means of projecting the lies of Satan in this world since the beginning of the world. We are the ones who know the truth; and the truth conquers the lies.

Lies like this have never been so powerful in our country before.

Go home and recognize that we know the truth and the truth will make us free. The truth is the only thing that matters. We know the solution and we have it. This is why we must continue to grow spiritually.

Lesson #0234

Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT

6/20/2021 1Sunday

What is happening in the United States today is quite distressing; and Rick Hughes has a Sunday morning program.

If you must look at the news, then we have rebound.

There are leaders, some who are good at what they do are emulated; and they set templates for others to follow them and they succeed. Some do this when it comes to keeping in shape. Diets, what to eat and not to eat. All of this is following someone else in what they do. There is a dark side to this...crimes are committed in imitation to others. Plagiarism in stealing other people's property. There are a number of pastors utilize what comes from R. B. Thieme, Jr. Some won't even admit it. Use the doctrine that is taught there; and Bobby feels the same way. When there is something that is good that is found, do not use it in a way that is criminal.

Con men who ape other con men. Many of the mass shootings which take place are copy cats. That is exactly what Prov. 12:12a confirms.

Proverbs 12:12a Whoever is wicked covets the spoil of evildoers,...

The wicked follow the patterns set up by other evil men from the past. This applies to men and women. Gender-neutral here. The wicked person is dishonest by following the dishonesty of another in order to gain what another such person has. Criminality to gain whatever monetary advantages that they cannot get in any other way. The wicked person schemes, lies, perjures, prevaricates to attain the booty that he or she desire. They are inherently dishonest liars. They are following the same pattern. This is evident in crooked politics.

We have Marxism today or neo-Marxism which fits this pattern very well. They are dishonest about their intentions, goals, etc. This has happened all over the world. Their methods and goals are truly demonic. These purveyors of Marxist evil are as dishonest and calculating as Satan himself. They exemplify the lies of Satan. To institute the evils of the cosmic system among mankind. This is Satan's formula for victory. Marxists contribute to it.

Ultimately, Satan will institute his own power over the earth during the Tribulation. The 7 years prophesied in the Old Testament, which occurs after the rapture of the church. We will not be there for this period of time. They will follow a pattern of evil all over the earth; and maybe Marxism will be a part of this. It is certainly a great deception which people want to follow to the loss of their freedom.

The lies of the cosmic system are so discernable, if you have some doctrine. We have Marxism in our midst and the past failures of Marxism reveals their lies. They cannot fulfill the utopia that they promise. They cannot cure the ills of mankind without God cannot bring in any utopia at any time at any moment in history. Only Jesus Christ and Bible doctrine can do this. This is ultimately take place after the Tribulation. The humanist lies are the result of the function of the sin nature. Humanists believe that they have an ability of thought which is above those who do not agree with them. They refuse to see the evil in the world today. The workers' paradise. Get rid of the capitalists and this will result in the workers' paradise. There will be forced compliance. This is seen today. Suppressing God, suppressing divine establishment, suppressing Christianity. They are blind to their own sin nature. They use them as strengths.

Sin is ever cunning; and wicked people follow the evil one. Satan is the great deceiver. Without any counter to it, we will fall for it. They will deceive anyone who is indiscriminating. Satan can present evil as good and vice versa. Perfect deception by Satan in what he does. 2Cor. 11:14. The devil's policies will not usher in peace and prosperity will reap nothing but havoc and destruction in the world. This is true in every era of history except where Christianity has the dominating influence.

Satan's Lies and His False Gospel

1. The worst lie is how Satan blinds the minds to the gospel and to Bible doctrine. That is what his minions do. Marxism opposes Christianity in every way.

2. Galatians 1 warns of those who distort the gospel of Jesus Christ with a different gospel. The Satanic distortion have different good news. They present a deception. Gal. 1:6–7
3. They preach a counterfeit gospel that obscures the good news of grace. What can man do for man. The great utopia of what man can bring in.
4. The unbeliever is blinded by a message that exalts human works and that excludes God's grace in Jesus Christ. The great delusion and great lie that humanity has bought.
5. Or they are blinded by a message, a gospel, that adds to the work of Jesus Christ. They add human good works; commitments; and the false issues of personal sins. The idea that we must get our sins under control in order to please God (without having faith in Jesus Christ). The gospel of humanism make sins an issue. "You've got to fix them."
6. One example is the gospel of social improvement. Good news from the liars. Rampant today. A manifestation of self righteous arrogance. It seeks to whitewash the devil's world with Marxism, socialism, social justice, certain racial theories which are racist. They cannot correct the world; this ideas divide and conquer.
7. The claim that the unbeliever must believe in Christ but then also make Christ Lord. This is more subtle. They are wrapped around the issue of pleasing the Lord and you are always worried about your eternal security. The grace of God is always enough. These false doctrines appeal to mankind's pride. They promote legalism and idolatry. Paul makes it clear that if anyone preaches a false gospel,...

Notice the attack today on certain portions of the Bible which are politically incorrect. The Bible is truth and cosmic system thinking is not. The doctrines derived from the Bible reflect His revelation to us. All truth must be measured b this. The source of our honesty and integrity in this world. All of this offsets the sin nature. No humanistic scheme can do this.

This which departs from divine wisdom is what leads astray. The lie is so subtle and it is so good. Nothing to counter this without Bible doctrine. The lie is our great enemy.

Proverbs 12:12b ...but the root of the righteous bears fruit.

What was the previous line? The previous line was about the false gospel. So we have the fruit born from the experientially righteous. To carry the metaphor a little further. The opposite of lies and deceptions.

What about the Root?

1. The root refers to the source of honesty.
2. The root is the experiential righteousness. Based on divine establishment and spiritual growth.
3. The root lives and thrives by its own growth. It must grow. It must bear fruit. What it produces in this metaphor is a fruit from which comes honesty.

4. Therefore, the root is the basic thinking and the characteristic of honesty in the soul. The root yields wisdom. It is fundamentally honesty. Only with this can we perceive dishonesty and the lies.
5. As the root of wisdom grows, so wisdom takes hold of the thinking and brings forth the words and actions of honesty. We have this honesty in our souls. The dishonesty of the crass liar and the honesty of the believer with doctrine. The difference is how two people think. From that thinking is the honesty and the dishonesty. The ability for us to discern. With an understanding of life. This is critical for us to understand. Wisdom is the truth; but we must be able to understand the lie. We cannot mix lies with truth. Lies will pollute the truth.

The yield carries a great reward in time and eternity.

Proverbs 12:12 Whoever is wicked covets the spoil of evildoers, but the root of the righteous bears fruit.

Lesson #0235

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

6//2021 2Sunday

Bible doctrine is wisdom. The application of Bible doctrine is wisdom. Wisdom, truth and honesty is the best policy when it comes to the spiritual life.

Honesty can be very difficult sometimes; it may involve trouble. The righteous person can get into trouble by being honest. You can speak honestly and trouble may follow. Sometimes, honesty can extricate you from some situations. Honesty, Bible doctrine and truth are all a part of the same package when it comes to the spiritual life. Don't compromise with dishonesty. Honesty is the fruit of wisdom. Honesty requires moral courage to maintain. These often go together. The truth works out its own deliverance. Stick to honesty; apply the principle of divine truth bringing a person to the proper course of action.

We live in a dishonest world; and dishonesty is the mode of speaking. Many people cannot speak honestly because this would expose them. We as believers in Jesus Christ are honest if we are growing spiritually because we speak the truth.

We come now to v. 13.

Proverbs 12:13 An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous escapes from trouble.

This is essentially what Bobby has just said that. Watch your mouth. A loose mouth is a perpetrator of a number of things. Prov. 22a lying lips are an abomination to the Lord. Prov. 10:18b the one spreading slander is a fool.

Loose lips sink ships was a maxim from WWII.

The reality by how we think. Ensnared by the stupidity that we think. What we say is a result from what we think; or it reveals a lack of thinking. By speaking lies and deceit, our character is exposed. People discern it, whether it is spoken of or not.

Rebellion on the Lips

1. Pesha means rebellion that is spoken.
2. This comes from the lips. Anti-authority
3. No better demonstration is there than the verbal rebellion that child show towards their parents. Times when this gets way out of hand.
4. Rebellious words are the communication of a rebellious mentality of the soul. Higher greater scale. These words of transgression can be considered and calculated on that scale. Rebellious words are often propaganda.

The lies we hear today are obviously used to further a nefarious cause. The squad and thing things that they say. They are so wrong and so off the wall. Dishonest facts that have a ring of truth. Their pontificating are distortions of the truth or outright lies. Even a ring of truth means that it is still untrue.

Emotional Speech

1. A reaction, emotional position.
2. This emotional revolt is what is behind the speech of rebellion.
3. Thus emotional words mindless imprudent tactless insensitive words are transgressions which ensnare.
4. Evil people who use such words and ensnared or trapped by their impulses and impetuous words. They are trapped by them. There is no way out once they are spoken.
5. Words so emotionally charge and unthinking may have long-lasting effects on those who are the target.

Proverbs 12:13 An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous escapes from trouble.

Emotions in the Life

1. Emotion is what is experienced as opposed to cognitive and volitional consciousness.
2. Emotion is basically an appreciator a responder or a reactor to words or circumstances in this life.
3. Emotion brings joy, laughter even tears. You can enjoy an automobile, art, people and you can appreciate Bible doctrine with great exhilaration. Healthy emotion to respond to a death of a loved one, even a pet.

The Spiritual Life

1. The spiritual life is in your soul first; then you speak and live it.
2. As a result of metabolizing Bible doctrine, the believer responds with an appreciation of God. That is the #1 appreciation of our life.
3. Thus emotion is in the right place. Emotion is a great thing when it is in the right place.
4. The person appreciates the things of life. Capacity and a good and true emotional response is expressed. You see them for what they are. You see the reality in it. When you see the good things in life. Or bad things, you recognize them and apply Bible doctrine instead.
5. The believer verbally reflects that appreciation from the soul.
6. Even good emotion is a response that does not supercede the principles from God's Word. What comes first, the chicken or the egg? Without Bible doctrine, emotion is out of control. We have experienced how we let emotion controls our life. That is why Bible doctrine requires consistency, so emotions do not supercede what you know to be true. That is basically your life: respond to doctrine or react to emotion. Great emotion is responding to life without getting crazy. Bad decisions when you emote before you think.

The believer responding to doctrine always overrides emotion. Too many people hope for an emotional experience from church, as opposed to getting Bible doctrine into the soul. They want to be entertained or they want to feel good. They are not interested for spiritual growth.

What do you do all week? You operate in humanism and you must offset this. An hour a day of Bible doctrine is enough. Concentrating is what we must do in order to grow. Some don't like that. Like minds helps for people to develop relationships.

When we appreciate what God has done for us; when we appreciate the wisdom from Bible doctrine, we know that can be a great feeling. It is not just based on a great experience but it is based upon what we know.

We often have difficult times in life, and we need to know the wisdom and good decisions which are to be followed. Even though difficult circumstances, we appreciate them. It is okay to grieve in circumstances which are lost. Some cannot get over things; they cannot get over grief. When you lose someone who is a believer, there is grief, but there is not the grief of those who have no hope. You may lose some material thing that you like. There is a reason even for bad decisions and bad outcomes. As long as we are alive, we have a great purpose. When emotion becomes the criterion, it is fleeting and it is deceptive. Some think the spiritual life is just their emotional life. Some go to church for these emotional moments. They feel close to God; tongues, a healing service, or a rock band. "I feel good; this must be a good thing." It lasts for about 20 minutes. Or they think about other things, and it does not last. Emotion does not carry you. They want to feel in the presence of God. Especially if the experience is mystical. Experience itself can be deceptive. We draw our own conclusions from them. Experience means this; it feels good. There is only one stead influence in this world, and it is not experience. What you experience may be a result of what you know. That is the definition of the application of Bible doctrine in the spiritual life. It is applying doctrine to your experience. We all come to the same conclusions. That is doctrine that drives the experiences of your life. When emotion replaces the doctrine in your soul, then that person is in a state of spiritual irrationality and emotionalism. That is never good. Only intermittently does such a person apply Bible doctrine. There is no root to produce fruit. Reaction and revolt mode to the circumstances of life.

Bobby has no idea what our lives are like, whether we are on top of the world or not. Doctrine in the soul means that you see yourself as you really are. We know what it all means. We have no illusions about this life or about other people. We have no problem with how other people stand. You trust in the only truth and wisdom in this world. Then your emotions are true and they are great appreciatory. The fruit of the spirit. What you get.

One day you feel good, then you don't. That is not the spiritual life.

Proverbs 12:13 An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous escapes from trouble.

Lesson #0236                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT    6/23/2021    Wednesday

Our words, what we say and how we say it is how we are understood. In whatever circumstance or situation that we live in, words reflect who we are and what we do. People listen; all kinds of people listen. The deeds which accompany your words are also important. Words are critical to everything that we do. For example, two words whose difference has never been adequately explained. A competition in London, best and most well-known grammarians. What is the difference between complete and finished? Sandar Balgoban was the clear winner of this question and he received a standing ovation. How do you explain the difference that is easy to understand. When you marry the right woman you are complete, when you marry the wrong woman you are finished, and when the right one finds you with the wrong one, you are completely finished.

We sometimes speak without thinking. Mindless thoughtless blathering, some things that we say and shouldn't. Sometimes the results are things that we do not intend. Sometimes, we fire off some retaliatory response.

Proverbs 12:13a An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips,...

This is a man of evil intent. He does not misspeak. Transgression is pesha, which means transgression. In this context, it is better translated rebellion.

Proverbs 12:13a An evil man is ensnared by the rebellion of his lips,...

This is the emotional revolt of the soul. The rebellion that comes from the lips. This emotional speech is the snare of evil people, trapped by their evil, self-serving words. It is distinguished from cognitive and volitional...

When emotion takes over the soul and is in rebellion, then the thought process is subsumed by the emotional process. Emotionalism comes out as evil, as this verse says. The spiritual life is first cognitive and applicable to life. We apply doctrine from our thinking. As a result of this perception, the emotion fits into the right place. Emotion is operating as designed. The appreciator of the soul. Emotion as a leader is a traitor. It gives us ways that are not helpful; they are destructive. God and His Word are things that we should be emotional about.

Doctrine and Emotional Revolt

1. Responding to doctrine always overrides a corrupting emotionalism. By definition, emotions are corrupting when they are in control.
2. When emotion becomes the criterion for faith and practice, it is fleeting and it is deceptive. There are so many in churches today...the charismatics put emotion first. They go to these churches to be emotional. The experience itself becomes their spiritual life. It is deceptive and it is fleeting. What is the experience of God? Since God is not seen, heard, touched, we only know Him through His Word. That is the objective way to know Him. Emotion is a traitor. God must somehow be connected with my feelings, the person thinks. The person who feels God does not know Him. They think the filling of the Holy Spirit to be an experience. Bobby thinks of the Blues Brothers and that one scene in a church. Entertaining but meaningless. That is what goes on in many churches today. It is purely emotional.
3. When emotion replaces thoughtfulness, consideration, good decision-making from doctrine (thinking and applying Bible doctrine from the mentality of the soul). Emotionalism has a hard time showing...
4. Spiritual irrationality. Less doctrine and to be entertained and to feel a closeness to God. People talk about how great it was to be there. People speaking in tongues and they feel good; but they leave and the world around them beats them down. There is nothing in their thought process.
5. Only intermittently if at all, can such a believer apply wisdom to circumstance. There is no root.
6. Thus they easily fall apart in reaction and in revolt mode, the circumstances of life.
7. Bible doctrine can be applied to any situation. We think of it in the face of adversity; but recognize that there is the other side, that prosperity. The application of doctrine, because everything is going great. Then, you still need to apply Bible doctrine to your situation. Then you have lost the momentum of your spiritual life. The spiritual life covers every aspect of your life. In the spiritual life, it is never indifferent.

Bob spoke to a friend, a gal who does not go to Berachah regularly. She knows that Bobby thinks this way, since he feels great. She is a young gal that Bobby has known for years. Without doctrine, there are just the experiences of life. Life is always good, whether it is good situationally or not. For the believer, it indicates a time when the believer is out of fellowship. That is when emotionalism becomes terribly...

Without the filling of the Holy Spirit, emotionalism is destructive. The filling of the Holy Spirit is not emotionalism, but it constrains emotionalism. The criterion for the doctrine is the spiritual life. Emotionalism always leads to bad or sinful decisions. The sin nature is out of control. The doctrine is needed to control the sin nature.

Unending out-of-control grief. Whether you lose a loved one, a friend, a pet; you grieve. But this cannot be unending out of control grief. It can be debilitating. In life, this makes up inert. Likewise, anger can explode from a mental attitude sins to angry emotional words. Angry persons who express anger in revolt. Make someone mad. We have all done this. If you are a guy, make a woman mad. A woman who has a penchant for emotionalism, and see where her emotion takes her. Everyone gets anger and we all have different reactions to that. When emotional anger overrides all other things; things can be said that cannot be forgiven. People have a hard time with that one. In rebound, there is forgiveness. Legalists think, God will forgive us but not forget. We might hear what someone really thinks of us. Believers forgive and move on. When you get out of fellowship, there are times when you can't forgive some words. Or a grain of mistrust occurs that you cannot let go of. In anger, people reveal what they really think.

Emotionalism is easy to spot, especially when it is anger. It is not very attractive when they see it. This truth, which is revealed in anger, ensnares a person in their words. It cannot be taken back. Many marriages can be broken up by a few words said in anger. Friendships have been broken up in that way. It is tough. We as believers have the ability to move past that. What is that ability to forgive and forget. It is called impersonal love. So what if someone thinks about you in a certain way. There are people who have problems with us. Somebody just blurted it out to us because they get angry.

That is a manifestation of impersonal love in your life. One of the most hurtful things is what people say to us. Worse when you are with them all of the time. This is why the spiritual life and impersonal love are so critical. We are all emotional and critical. That is what happens in emotionalism. Like throwing up on someone.

This is where the believer needs to apply impersonal love and then move on. We hear about rebound for keep moving. You keep moving by the spiritual life. You give them the benefit of the doubt. You move on without holding a grudge, without retaliation. Forget it. Impersonal love. You move on. Forgetting what has happened in the past. Forgetting the things which are behind. That overrides emotionalism. We can return their emotionalism which is known as retaliation. Our soul is in rebellion. If we have been wronged, take time before speaking. Take time to calm down. Don't say anything. Get your emotions under control. Speak on the principles of doctrine after calming down. Save yourself a lot of problems. If you are about ready to explode, back off. There are words and deeds which can take place that you cannot take back with a child.

Paddings can be very helpful. Don't do it in public and don't beat. Your response should always be Bible doctrine. Not an emotional reaction. Nothing reveals a person faster than something a person says and how they say it. If they hide the real intent of a person, actions will sound off loud and clear. In the end, a person is caught, trapped by their speech.

Any malicious speech that comes from a person's mouth that slanders, denigrates, insults, etc. traps the person who is speaking. This entraps the person speaking. Vindictive, gossip or confrontations can make enemies, all of it. Exposes oneself to more conflict and even to legal problems. Don't react to circumstances. That is emotionalism. Respond to doctrine in the circumstances.

If you can keep your emotions out of control, then you go to v. 13b:

Proverbs 12:13b ...but the righteous escapes from trouble.

They will escape trouble when they keep their emotions in check. People are one of the greatest tests in life and greatest tests of your emotional reaction. They are the real test of emotional reaction. The believer who shows control, kindness, compassion and understanding, and not hypersensitive reactions, and not a response of vicious slander, the righteous escapes trouble in good responses from doctrine. Good decisions. We have all been in circumstances that are so volatile. That is the real test of whether we can apply doctrine or fall into emotionalism. Ask yourself how you responded. That is a good indicator of where you are spiritually. As you grow spiritually, you are better able to control your tongue. Believers who are righteous, spiritually mature, do not get themselves into emotional and verbal binds.

Proverbs 12:13 An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous escapes from trouble.

Proverbs 12:14 From the fruit of his mouth a man is satisfied with good, and the work of a man's hand comes back to him.

The second phrase depends upon the first. Words and deeds are connected. The basic meaning of this verse:

Summary Statement on Proverbs 12:14

1. Proper words in the first line and diligent work in the second line result in mostly good things. Here it is called fruit.
2. The fruit from one's lips are his words. Fruit is good.
3. His speaking brings good things to him, by the fruit of his words. We are seeing the upside here. This is what you get.
4. This is also a veiled declaration that every person must take the consequences of his or her words or deeds. Whether beneficial or not. What a critical principle this is. No one wants to take responsibility for their words and deeds. Some obfuscate.

Out of context. There are other sides to this as well. Not only we don't take the consequences of our words, but we want to blame someone else for their thoughts and words. It is their fault, not mine. Nothing but obfuscation. This is a veiled consequences.

The believer in Jesus Christ takes responsibility for what he says and does. We do not blame someone else. As a believer, we have the way to control our thoughts and deeds.

Proverbs 12:14 From the fruit of his mouth a man is satisfied with good, and the work of a man's hand comes back to him.

Lesson #0237                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      6/24/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:14a From the fruit of his mouth a man is satisfied with good,...

The first line is difficult; it is a string of prepositional phrases. The key is the verb to be satisfied. Good is elliptical; so we can call it good things.

Explaining V. 14a

1. The man here is an experientially righteous person because he speaks good things. The good things which he speaks are fruitful or they bear fruit which are satisfying. They are satisfying to him.
2. There comes a result of those words, which are...
3. Good things comes to him by the fruit of his lips, his words. In everything that we do, our thoughts are revealed by our words. There are certainly hypocrites and liars; they may not be revealed by their words, but certainly by their deeds.
4. The fruit of his lips is blessing...to him and to others.
5. The fruit of blessing benefits himself because of his good words. This is rather complex as to its meaning.
6. It is certainly a benefit to others, because of the beneficial nature of the words that he speaks.
7. In other words, when he speaks good things, good things come in return. There is great satisfaction in using words that bear fruit.
8. He will be content with those good things because it reflects his own righteousness and is of benefit to others. The benefit may also be a tangible recompense. It parallels the meaning of the second line.

They type of return he receives for.

What is that fruit; what makes them satisfied, being good?

1. The words from his lips must be genuine. They correspond exactly to what is good in his mind. Truth is a reflection of what one thinks when one thinks truth, he speaks truth. If the words are lies, that does not necessarily reflect what they think. The one who thinks and speaks the words of doctrine speaks absolute truth. That can only be found in doctrine. If there is a disconnect, the words ring hollow. Hypocritical lying words?

2. A second fruit or blessing: his words must also be truthful, not based on truth or lies. Under the truthful fruit, his words must agree with the facts or to the realities to which they refer. Truthful words from a mind of truth. The reflection of the thinking.
3. If words do not match reality from a mind with truth, they ring false and they are false.
4. Lying may come across as sincere. People lie very sincerely and very convincingly. A good liar can be very convincing; but it lacks truthfulness. The truth of words cannot be found in lies.
5. Words may correspond truthfully to what is being thought, but what is in the mind may not correspond to good things.
6. The truthful words will be misleading, even deceptive in its intent, results or both. The evil words may not correspond to good things.
7. When a mind is filled with lies and propaganda, but accurately reflects what the evil person is thinking, then the words are evil. If one is a liar and a purveyor of propaganda, that person is thinking evil.
8. There is irony here, because this person's accurate truthful words actually reflect the lies and propaganda in his mind. They cannot be truthful, even though they are truthful.
9. That is not good speech and it is not fit the category of truth.

There is a paradox here concerning truth and lies. This is a moral dilemma that many of us wrestle with. At times, does a lie benefit someone? When a person dies or is killed under dishonorable circumstances, the family may be spared the bad details. The intent is good, but a lie by omission. Bobby thinks about someone being killed in the military who did not die under good circumstances, but the truth is massaged for the family.

The question is, is the benefit to the loved ones and to the family worth the lie. This is a question that many people wrestle with. When a lie is spoken to self, it is never a benefit.

Telling a lie is not to anyone's benefit. The truth may hurt or be to a personal disadvantage, for the speaker and for the audience. A family should know the details.

3. Genuine words must also be benevolent. Here we can say your words should reflect what you have in your soul, the fruit of the spirit. Gal. 5:23 or so When a person thinks with fruits of the spirit, their words reflect the fruits of the spirit.

Many times, what is just covered, difficult circumstances to spare people the pain, seems like a good idea, and this is a moral dilemma for many. Bobby had this and he did lie by omission. His company clerk was murdered by one of the soldiers in Bobby's company. Apparently a Black woman was raped and killed by a white guy. Bobby was there and he did not mention how she died. It would have been easy to say what happened; and he never lost a moment's peace. The family knew that she had been murdered, but they did not know how or why.

1. If one's conversation is wise, intelligent and honorable to God and others, then they are fruitful words which bring blessing.
2. Those good words, the blessing will be satisfying to the person. Genuineness, truthfulness, benevolence.

The central word to understand this first section is sabaa; it means to be satiated or to have something in abundance or in excess. How will the speech satisfy for fulfill a person in its usage.

1. In its actions on one's own mind. There is pleasure of speaking the truth or having the reputation for doing so; and standing up for what is right and correct. There is a higher fulfillment in the knowledge for taking a correct and right position. To speak the truth of Christianity sometimes puts you in harm's way. The Scripture is filled with those men who spoke the truth and they paid a price for it. Regardless of the consequences, there is the satisfaction to know that we have the truth. Speaking the gospel; when you speak those words to someone, you are their best friend, even if you cannot stand them. You have presented the way of salvation. First if they believe in Christ; but even if they don't, you have provided the information that God the Holy Spirit can use. It is tremendously satisfying to do that.
2. There is fulfillment in the effect that good words have upon others. Especially words of divine establishment and doctrine spoken by a believer to another person. A person who may be in distress. Giving them the lift of something that they need just as that moment. To hear the truth. Leadership in good speech. Pushing others to fulfillment, especially with the greatest words of all. Salvation or words that help a person to move towards maturity. Bobby has great satisfaction. He has the greatest job in the world. He has words of truth and he knows how we respond to them. He is honored to be able to represent them to us. That is the fruit of words; the fruit of Bible doctrine. Bobby sees that every night. There is a brightness; a light, that comes from speaking the truth. Seeing us with positive volition and the words that he receives by letter etc. is a great privilege.
3. The third fruit is a sweet aroma to the Lord by words that are pleasing to Him. We pray, we witness, we serve Him, with our witness as well as our words and deeds.

Now the second line. All of our actions bring something to us in return.

Proverbs 12:14b ...and the work of a man's hand comes back to him.

Compensation or retaliation or loss. There is recompense or retribution. Hand is a metaphor, which stands for the whole conduct of a person's life. All of the deeds plus also the words that make up the whole of your life. The opening and the closing of the options of our life.

We should receive the rewards of the works of our life. According to this line, we will in one way or another.

1. The laws of cause and effect. We are the result of our actions yesterday.
  2. We are the cause of our conduct tomorrow. What we say, think or do, produce all the results of our life. Some good and some not so good. What you think in the past is what you will be in the present. Whether it is blessing or retribution.
1. Bad decisions in the past continue to limit future options tomorrow.
  2. Bad decisions and activities in the past but good decisions and actions today, begin opening options. Bad decisions close options; good decisions result in good returns, now and in the future. That is why we should always be encouraged by doctrine. Many of us have made bad decisions in our past. We can also look at the repercussions in our life. That is the wonder of doctrine. The more that we take in, the more that our options open up. When we are in the plan of God, our options open up. Doctrine brings good decisions to our mind and to our life.
  3. Good decisions and activities in the past and continuing always open up more options and good returns, now and in the future. This is applicable to all of life. If you think and act like an unbeliever, you...
  4. The past is the result of day-to-day decisions and activities.
  5. They play out on a daily basis which is the sum total that determines the course of your life. Every day, every day-to-day decision, every word that we say, plays out. The total determination and decision of our life.

Summary: We are today the results of our decisions and actions from yesterday. This includes how we think. What we are today is the cause of our decisions and actions tomorrow. Hence, everything comes true. They are good things, and we are satisfied with them.

Today, people want to blame others and circumstances for anything that is bad in their life. But, if it is something good, they want to take credit for that. They want to take credit for what happens that is beneficial for them and others.

Looking back on our lives, we understand that we are the products of our own thinking, our own choices and our own actions. We must always look to ourselves. It is on us.

Proverbs 12:14 From the fruit of his mouth a man is satisfied with good, and the work of a man's hand comes back to him.

We get to v. 15, and Bobby loves it. It is dedicated to guys who will not ask directions when he gets lost.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

Bobby thought that he needed to get something together for the 4th of July. Then he realized that he was a week off, so he had to go back and prepare the original lesson.

This verse is dedicated to the husband who won't stop to get directions.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

It takes discernment to choose the right counsel and to know when to listen to them. In every case, we want to be the wise.

The Wise Person and the Fool

1. But the first line has the fool, so we need him to be understood. The stupidly opinionated person who listens only to himself.
2. The other is wise to listen to others and contemplates what they say.
3. The wise will take advice when it is beneficial. It requires wisdom to determine when to accept a person's counsel.
4. In the consideration of any advice, one always must take into account the source of that advice. Are they wise or not?
5. Trust is involved with listening. Listening is the wise thing to do. If you trust the person, then you will listen to the advice.

Proverbs 12:15a The way of a fool is right in his own eyes,...

The self-centered opinionated person is classified as a fool because he is always right in his own eyes. An oversized ego; not the same as self-confidence. An inflated self-important ego is something else.

The Ego and Self-image of the Fool

1. For the fool, alternative opinions or contrary facts cannot be considered as valid. This is whenever they contradict or jeopardize the ego self-image.
2. To the fool, his opinions are not just opinions, they are facts; no matter how good the counter arguments might be. They cannot be challenged.
3. The fool takes the attitude says, "Don't confuse me with the facts" when their viewpoint is challenged.
4. Any violation of this person's preconceptions or convictions of himself are a menace to his human self-esteem. Oversized gigantic ego gets their self-esteem from being right all the time.
5. To be found deficient is devastating to such a person's ego.

6. The egotistical person gets frustrated and angry if others do not bow down to their views. This can occur between friends, spouses, acquaintances, co-workers, even a corporate level.
7. That is the side of the fool. If you cannot evaluate yourself, then that is really dangerous.

The fool has such a high opinion of himself that his thoughts, theories, etc. stand in his own eyes, despite the true facts presented to him. Example of this, just look to the Congress. See facts presented that are true, but they are out of hand rejected. They don't fit the narrative of those who reject the facts. A perfect example of a fool.

The opinionated person in the realm of Bible doctrine. There are those who are opinionated people who examine the Bible. One has their own criteria, without regard to truth. How is the Bible accepted? How is it viewed? Where is the authority. They are impressed with their own interpretations. They reject that the Bible is God's revelation to us. The Bible has only one intended meaning in every line, chapter, verse, book has one meaning. That is the meaning that God intends us to know. The Bible is not open to speculations, conjecture, subjective. "My interpretation of the Bible is just as good as anyone else's." That denigrates the Bible.

Christians who read the Bible operation in just this way. They do not need some pastor to tell them what the Bible says or means. They can get it for themselves. They might read a few commentators. It boils down to, what is my opinion of this passage?

The worst fools are the humanists and the atheists. This is gaining great traction today. It used to be that these types simply allowed you to believe this. They want to disprove and discredit the Bible. The cosmic system is ever the enemy of the Word of God. That cosmic system and that opposition to the Word of God is becoming more and more virile in our country. They are hoping to deny Christianity throughout the world. They do not believe in live-and-let-live. Anyone else is under attack.

There are not similar challenges made to Muslim beliefs. The Supreme Court made a decision between religious liberty and LGBTQ. This is what we are seeing today. Those making these attacks will not stop.

The coexist bumper sticker. They reject God and His revelation to mankind. The fool said in his heart, there is no God. They are corrupt and they have committed abominable deeds. There is no one who does good. Those who hold to the truth of the Bible holds to divine wisdom. This is why there is only one intended meaning for us. It is the only true divine revelation to us. The fool's rejects this very premise upon which we stand as believers.

The Bible is the Word of God; and this is the only way that we can know the plan of God. It is the only way that we can understand the spiritual life and true grace and real love and capacity for it. This is the only way that we can share the happiness of God. This is how we can understand peace of the soul. People do not have divine establishment principles and they do not have doctrinal principles. They will accept any humanist idea that tickles their fancy. "I think this. What I think is what I am, what I will do and what I will say." The more you think this way, the fewer brakes you have on your life.

Therefore, taking a stand for the truth of doctrine, being bullheaded about the truth and divine establishment principles. This is not holding to one's own opinion.

How many times have you heard people say, "The Bible can be interpreted in many different ways"? How do you know that you have the right way? The rejecter is right in one way. No humanist has the correct interpretation. The Bible cannot be interpreted by proof texting, . None of those way provide the correct interpretation of Scripture. They arrogantly say, "My interpretation is just as good as yours." But they do not care if it is God's meaning. If this is truly the revelation of God.

2Peter 1:20 ...knowing this first of all, that no prophecy of Scripture comes from someone's own interpretation.

2Peter 1:21 For no prophecy was ever produced by the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

Your opinion is your own origin. No portion of the Scripture came about by anyone's act of human will. Scripture comes from the Holy Spirit. We must handle this text as the gold that it is. This is why it is called a sacred text.

The Sacred Scriptures

1. This describes the origin of Scripture.
2. The Holy Spirit chose men to be writers who recorded thoughts given to them by the Holy Spirit.
3. Those thoughts are God's thoughts; that makes the Bible infallible.
4. The correct interpretation is critical.
5. God reveals what would otherwise be unknown or speculative.
6. The Scripture was given to us to understand God's thinking.
7. This is why the Bible has only one interpretation. God's intended meaning for us.
8. No mortal can offer his thoughts over God's thoughts; and this is exactly what humanism does.

Rick Hughes went to a bait shop. A man spoke to him about a question in the Bible. He picked up the phone and called a friend over. They recognized the truth of it.

How does the person who understands it know the truth of it?

The Bible can be unraveled. God wants us to understand His thinking. This is a very basic verse in why we are here and what we listen to. The Bible is not the opinion of man.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

The Bible is the infallible Word of God; and God has provided us the means by which we can understand Scripture. God never intended for a plethora meanings to be conjured from human speculation. Individual conjecture or faulty methodology was not intended.

One of the common mistakes today, is how to handle figures of speech in the Bible. These are words and phrases which compare to other objects. This is where literature often comes into question.

We read Moby Dick and the imagery and metaphors in that book are rich. You realize that everyone has a different opinion as to what those metaphors mean.

Interpreting Scripture

1. There are many figures of speech. We are not interpreting novels and literature that we have read; we are interpreting the Bible whose message is divine. There are human authors who are involved. Divine inspiration. There is no human author of any other book in this world that is written by divine inspiration. This is why literature can be interpreted in any way the reader wants.
2. The reading God intended for us.
3. The interpreter should be concerned with the metaphors in the text.
4. To accurately present what the divinely inspired writer originally intended.
6. This is a literal interpretation, distinguished from a figurative interpretation. It is finding the plain meaning of the text. Bobby's job is to reveal from Scripture the plan of God to all of us. For us individually and for this world. It is difficult to find the literal meaning of Scripture. Psalms and Proverbs are all poetry; and we have to decide, how are these figures of speech all used? Bobby has to dig the meaning out; it is a meaning for all of us from God.

Why should we spend this time understanding this figurative language? Literal language does not always get the job done. Sometimes metaphors do a better job. They draw a picture for us. That is what this means. That articulates ideas better than literal language. The figures of speech do have a literal meaning.

Billy is a dog describes perhaps a characteristic of Billy. What characteristics are being talked about? You have to find the literal meaning of dog, which is used as a metaphor. We must never forget that it has a literal meaning. This must be interpreted with accurate precision. We need to consider it as presented in the time frame during which these words were written.

Figurative language does not give license to go off into literary interpretation. This does not open up the freedom to go crazy.

Many of us have had to interpret a play written by Shakespear. He used a plethora of metaphors regarding what Shakespear wrote. Mostly, these are just what people think about what Shakespear wrote. The object is to try to figure out what he meant originally. Then our own interpretation can be made.

The Bible is far different from that. We decide what the metaphor means, and we take it one step further. Determining the author's original intent in using the metaphor.

Figurative Interpretations of the Bible

1. A figurative interpretation means, the interpreter decides what the metaphor means to him as a figurative interpretation; rather than what the writer intended.
2. A figurative interpretation arises from one's own experiences. We superimpose our own experiences over what we are reading. This is how we often get meaning from novels and literature.
3. That method is subjected to a variety of explanations. Not the way for the Bible to be handled.
4. A figurative interpretation is, what does this verse mean according to my own experience? That is a very subjective interpretation. What does it mean to the author who wrote this. The Bible was not to be considered a piece of human literature.
5. When the Bible is treated as human literature, it is opened up to any and all possibilities that can go very far afield. Not the method of Biblical interpretations. There are many denominations in Christianity. How do you know which is right? The answer is, what do they do with Scripture? The further you get from a literal interpretation, the further you get from Christianity. Many of these denominations do not teach the Bible at all. Too often homilies about being good, loving, taking care of other people, etc. etc. What about these other denominations. Biblical Christianity is Christianity. Everything else is not. When you don't deal with the Bible as God's inspired Word, then you are bound for falsehood.

You have to explore what figures of speech mean in that time period according to that author in that context. The greatest problem for Biblical doctrine among Christians is bad theological interpretations. Where Christians and teachers get into interpretation trouble, and it does not accurately reflect the context. Preconceived theological notions.

The 1000 year reign of Jesus Christ is sometimes taken metaphorically as a long period of time. No reason to take this metaphorically. When they get post-millennial that is false, they look at where we are now, they say, there is no definitive time schedule for the church, why should there be for the Millennium? Falsehoods can come from the simplest things. Making this metaphorical is a falsehood. Worse some get crazy about numerology found in the Bible; things that were never intended.

The misunderstanding of the blood of Christ can totally distort the Lord's work on the cross. Figurative interpretation cannot provide certainty, regarding God's exact meaning. God is never vague. The interpreter must utilize the correct procedure and correct Biblical interpretation. There is a science here. That is called in theology called hermanuetics, without using the procedures of hermeneutics.

There are great pastors from Berachah who have never had formal training. Bobby can name 3 or 4 pastors who have taken Bob's teachings verbatim. They are dependent upon the interpretation that they themselves might not be qualified to draw out the meaning for themselves. This meaning must be taught without deviation. The interpreter must not contradict other passages and other doctrines. They may not be aware of the entire spectrum of Scripture; and they are ill-equipped to deal with it. God gives the gift of pastor-teacher to some men; the gift of evangelism. Bobby has heard a number of evangelists who cannot accurately give the gospel; and pastors who could not teach the Bible. Others who can. They look for the truth, they find the truth, and they teach the truth.

Bob was imminently qualified and he taught for 53 years. The Bible is not a product of man's literary intentions. The Bible is not a history or science textbook. What do you mean a great flood, what about the earth standing still for 24 hours? The history in the Bible has never been disproven by any historical facts that have come to light or according to any archeological discovery.

It is Bible studies by unqualified teachers, and hence faulty wisdom mixed with humanism. Do we listen to scientists to lawyers to teachers to anyone who is supposed to be an expert in a field and not accept with some respect with what they say? How do we take the Bible and accept what unqualified people have to say about it and accept that as true?

What we have in front of us is everything that we need to know about the Christian life, about solving problems in life, about death, about God's grace. Everything in life is there. It is true like nothing else. Absolute truth.

Lesson #0240

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 6/30/2021 Wednesday

The Scriptures define what a fool is. They think that they are right, but they only see this from their own way of thinking.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

Introductory Points

1. This is a person unwilling to accept any other opinion or even fact for his reality. He has no use for listening.
2. Opinionated is one way to describe them, but it is much worse than that.
3. They are pig-headed, prejudice,
4. In short, these are people who are unyielding, unbending, uncompromising, in their own beliefs or feelings. Especially in their self-centered convictions.

Believers cannot compromise Bible doctrine; they cannot compromise the cosmic system. The pressure is on the cosmic system, from Marxist socialists, from LGBTQ advocates, social justice warriors, to want people to reject Christian thinking. This is rampant today. We have targets on our backs. Because we stand against the standard thinking of the humanist and those who are alive and well today, increasing constantly. We have no choice in this matter. We cannot concede to their demands or their persecutions.

The 3 Arguments

There are 3 main arguments that these people who hate Christianity that they make to discredit the Bible.

1. The Bible is not the Word of God; it is the writing of human authors. They reject divine inspiration. This is the only book with divine inspiration. Influenced and given to these human authors.
2. The Bible is culturally driven. The doctrines found in the Bible are antiquated and not valid for today's society. Written thousands of years ago. Different culture and a different time. We have found out so much more scientifically. But the Bible is absolute truth. It is not a science book or a history book, but its science and history are accurate. What is antiquated is all of these humanist schemes.
3. Who can know the correct interpretation of the Bible. Everyone disagrees on this. These false interpretations are a departure from Scripture. When you stick to the Scriptures, you are more likely to perceive truth. Going astray brings in apostasy. If you combine these 3 objections to the Bible; you will hear all sorts of interpretations which will dispute the truths as put forth in the Bible.

An LGBTQ advocate disputed the prohibitive passages about homosexuality. They claim that promiscuity is wrong, but a monogamous relationship between two homosexuals is okay. Marriage is always presented as one man and one woman. From the beginning Adam and Eve, throughout the Bible. No two men or two women.

This advocate is proof texting, camping out on one passage. These things cannot be justified by the Bible.

How can we be certain that our interpretations are what God intended. That is the true criteria for Biblical interpretation. The answer is simple. The interpreter must utilize the correct procedure, the science of Biblical interpretation, also known as hermeneutics. Every seminary has a class in this, if they are worth anything. Those who are being trained need to know how to interpret the Bible. Without using the tried and true steps of hermeneutics, the end result is simply an opinion. The hermeneutical principle of ICE, as R. B. Thieme, Jr. taught.

What Are These Hermeneutical Principles?

1. Isagogics is an examining of the text within the context of its historical setting. The naysayers claim that this is why the Bible is antiquated. Customs and the author's intended audience. Identification of the context. To ID the context. Who was it written to, why was it written, what is the background. All of this has a bearing. What the divinely inspired author meant.
2. Categories.
  - a. Biblical doctrines according to subject matter.
  - b. Subjects like God, Christ, salvation, the spiritual life, anthropology, angelology, ecclesiology, eschatology.
  - c. That determines the theological context. Cultural, historical and theological context. This keeps you from going too far afield and launching into anything. If the context is salvation, you don't wander into prophecy.
  - d. Scriptures must be compared to other Scriptures. That was the problem with that LGBTQ interpretation. No connection to the rest of Scripture.
  - e. Dispensational differences need to be taken into consideration.
  - f. Bobby does not want to be a fool, listening only to his own voice. This keeps the pastor-teacher from doing that.
  - g. Categorical analysis takes the doctrine in a passage, and then relates it to other passages dealing with the same subject. This keeps you from going too far afield. You don't define a doctrine simply by itself. Failing to utilize categories is where people go astray.
3. Exegesis:
  - a. A grammatical, etymological study. When you see that word in a sentence, which meaning fits. That is where context and categories comes in. You must look at the etymology and the contextual analysis of Scripture, done from the original language. People fall down because they do not know how to go back to the original language.
  - b. The genre must be considered. Is it prose, narrative, prophecy, poetry. When there are two lines, what sort of parallelism is involved. One line helps to interpret the other.
  - c. Every verse must be correctly translated. All of this comes from the etymology and the syntax and its context.

This is how anyone who deals with the Bible correctly interprets the Bible. And it works. There is just one meaning that you have to find. You can get help in determining that. Bobby looks at other things besides just the etymology and the context. Eventually, the exegete needs to interpret it. The intended meaning of God as closely as possible.

What about this denomination, the Catholics, the Baptists, etc. Handling the Scripture differently. Departing from the Scriptures. You have to handle the Scriptures from the understanding of dispensation.

Dispensational theology knows that Israel has a future; and the Scriptures are interpreted in that way. Bobby has dealt with many different theologies. Truth is in the Bible. In some cases it is not as clear and it is not as informative. It must be truth in order to be metabolized. The real problem is, they do not handle the Scriptures anymore.

Bobby mentions politics as an application or an example. Bobby prays constantly that we do not get caught up in political solutions or changing the world through all sorts of activism. The fear that comes from the loss of freedoms that we hold dear. What matters is our dependence upon the Lord.

Bobby uses this to show us by way of illustration what is happening.

A typical modus operandi of Bible studies. So many teachers do not utilize the methodology that Bobby mentions. Mostly, they don't have the training, the interest, or the qualification. That is only a sideline. It is not their job and they are not so trained exegetically. The leader of the study often asks the group, what do they think about this verse. The teacher, with this question, is admitting that they are unsure of the meaning of that passage. They are not qualified to teach any such Bible class. Soliciting opinions? What is the point? We must learn what God wants us to know. That is when the Bible serves its true purpose for our lives; to be enlightened about His plan; and how the truth is applied to our lives. Doctrine first and then application. People who are hungry to know Bible doctrine wanting to grow are not growing on that type of subjective Bible study. They may feel good about it and they might develop a Christian vocabulary; but it is inherently unqualified.

During the course of such a class, those present might suggest their own opinions. The doctrine is unclear or distorted as a result. That is not a Bible study. Most Christians attend Bible studies to learn the truth of the Word of God. They learn little or nothing from such meetings. Those who listen are fools; because they are listening to themselves. There is not faith and practice.

So many have told Bobby that they were looking for the truth, and then they heard Bob teach, and they understood this to be the truth. Bobby knows what it means for your life and future and comfort and encouragement. There is no substitute. People are hungry for this.

Rick Hughes has a radio program, the FLOT line. People are flocking to hear that because this is truth. It is Bible doctrine. Then Rick directs them to a qualified pastor. This is where the truth is.

Rick is not necessarily a qualified exegete, but he has learned over the years. This is how Joe Griffin learned, Tad Boyle, Pete ????. Some learned directly from Bob's ministry.

When a person's opinion is simply given, you cannot grow from that. The meaning of any Scripture is what God intended to be revealed.

There is also the communication of the Word, accurately. That is what a pastor-teacher has; a gift of communication. Takes a qualified person. Teach the word, Paul tells Timothy.

We don't listen to a scientist or to a mathematician or a lawyer who is not prepared. We will be led astray. Why should we listen to an unqualified person in the most important of all subjects. The believer does not advance without a good teacher. What is critical is knowing what the Bible says.

Bobby will use the humanist, the socialist, the Marxist; they have the complete assurance of the righteousness of their position or cause. They have more dedication than most believers. That precludes any opposition. They are unyielding and arrogant in their approach to it. Hence they want to control your life with their opinion. The act with the understanding that their opinions are solid. They assume ignorance or inferiority of anyone who departs from their ideology.

The difference is we want to present people the truth; but they can accept or reject it. We are responsible for our own lives, not for the lives of others.

The Marxist attitude of superiority may be unspoken, but you can see it in the streets today. It is not about first amendment rights. It is tearing down a nation and raising it up a model. They cannot be wrong; that is intolerable and it defeats their single-minded purpose. That is their arrogant thinking.

"I am always right" person is insufferable. He thinks much more highly of himself than anyone.

Sound judgment is to bow to the teaching of Bible doctrine. That is a recognition and demonstration of humility. No humility in Marxism. They want to enforce their ideology on everyone else. Arrogant persons already have their minds made up, so they do not listen to anyone. They leap to faulty conclusions. If only kids would listen to their parents wiser opinions; especially those parents with doctrine. They have wisdom in matters of life that kids do not have.

These kids with doctrinal parents have it in their souls and they will listen to them. Secular parents give their children no wisdom to recognize. Immature people rejecting all prior decisions and experience cannot make good decisions. Those who reject Bible doctrine will make bad decisions. It is our obligation to teach. This does not mean that you ram it down their throats. You have to teach them. Teach them with care, compassion, love and understanding. And you have many prior experiences in life. Those kids are going to face the same situations that we did. Give them wisdom from your experience.

Don't make fools out of your children or out of yourself.

Proverbs 12:15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice.

Lesson #0241

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/1/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:15a The way of a fool is right in his own eyes,...

Unwilling to accept any other facts other than his own. The fool. They lack humility. They are unable to see themselves as others see them. You can evaluate yourself in objective terms. They see themselves as right in their own eyes. There are no problems to them. They cannot accept their own failures and shortcomings. They cover their own problems; they use bluster, domination, and they run over anyone who is in their way. Today the overly-opinionated person can be found everywhere.

Marriage is a great example. In marriage where one person does the demanded in the other person is expected to unequivocally listen and obey. This is not the divinely designed marriage. This is not for the leader or for the wife, the helper. The person who does that in marriage sees themselves as right in their own eyes. It is often the husband who is overbearing and even brutal. How can the wife be seen as a wise counselor if she is never listened to. The one who sees himself as always right. He cannot lead if he is portrayed as stupid and incompetent by the woman. The woman is often portrayed as the one with wisdom; and the husband is seen as incapable, inefficient, silly; it is almost a beat down. The woman's curse fits v. 15a.

The fool must always win the argument, every time. Therefore, self-centered arrogance wins; and friendships deteriorate. What happens to impersonal love under those circumstances. An argument is never settled by a beat down of the other person. There should be a give and take where the best position is understood and accepted.

People who can only see their own opinion; they rapidly lose acquaintances. At times, wisdom demands that a person stands his ground in an argument, but without anger or holding a grudge. Someone realizes that they are wrong, but they refuse to admit it. They cannot forgive that they have been slighted. Impersonal love must rule, or there is no resolution to conflict, whether marriage, friendship, in the workplace.

Put yourself in this place. If you are wrong and you know it, and we have all been there. You think you are right and suddenly you realize, that you are not. Accepting a better idea or a position simply means that you have humility. That is the greatest quality of a believer who has advanced to spiritual maturity.

Humility recognizes when you are right or wrong. You have the humility to listen. Not everything is perfectly right and correct. You have the good sense to recognize that another person's choices and ideas may be better.

If you hold a leadership position, you must take cognizance of other opinions and ideas when it involves decision-making. After hearing the options, make a decision and follow it through. This is why you must listen to others. When you make a decision, as a leader, then you go with it. You cannot vaccinate. You must recognize when you have gone in the wrong direction.

This is the same with a military operation. You take everything into consideration, and you make plans and follow through, depending upon the best possible information. When it comes to the fog of war, you must then be flexible, as change might be necessary.

The less uninformed and snap decisions, the better counsel to yourself and to others. Then it is all about what is right in the Lord's eyes. It is not about what is right in your own eyes.

Thus we come to v. 15b:

Proverbs 12:15b ...but a wise man listens to advice.

This is where you are able to listen to others. A wise man will not get himself into a bind by what he says. So many people blurt things out, and they say something which is ridiculous. Words spoken must be guarded, not . One of the greatest traps in life is to have a snappy comeback to something someone else says. How many times does a person say that without thinking. Guard your speech, especially when... Bobby's mother said, "Listen before you leap." She would smile at this moment. She truly loved the Proverbs; read them all of the time.

The babbling fool passes on unfounded rumors and gossip; and others listen to the wrong things. That is just as foolish. No discernment. Who do you listen to? If you listen to the fool, you will also be the fool. You must be able to discern between foolishness and wisdom. Just recognize wise counsel. How many times have you received counsel from a person who is a fool? Good decisions begin with wise discernment in your soul.

Others do listen to wrong things; those who hear bad advice. The person who has wisdom can better distinguish between foolish words and wise words. Especially the believer with Bible doctrine.

There are distortions of Bible doctrine. Some hear only what they want to hear. When they give advice, their doctrine is distorted. Some discernment is needed with such people. Who do you listen to? The most important person to listen to, the pastor-teacher who teaches the whole realm of doctrine. Bobby has no control over what we hear; he controls only what he says. This is why concentration is so important. Some people hear one thing, but not another.

There is the believer with wisdom, who will come along side. One who cares about you and knows you and can give you good doctrinal sound advice when you need it. If you have parents who are doctrinally oriented, you take their advice.

About a thousand hits on each message now. If your parents have doctrinal wisdom, listen to them. You will avoid a lot of stupid mistakes. The person who knows you best is your mother and father. Children are the primary violators of v. 15a.

Summary Points

1. It is wise to listen before speaking; simple principle.
2. The wise person's ears are always open to intelligent speech, recognizing wise speech, recognizing doctrinal principles coming from someone else.
3. That speech can be priceless sentences of truth. That is what you are listening for. Some of the great lines are epigrams; and if they contain doctrine, they are wise. Don't oversell it.
4. Otherwise the fool deprives himself of other people's intelligence and wisdom. Sometimes you listen and you hear doctrinal wisdom. This would mean a high spiritual IQ.
5. A person who just likes to hear himself or herself talk. Bobby hated meetings, where things must be discussed. Inevitably they would go to a meeting so that a person could simply hear himself talk. They usually have little to say that is important.
6. People should learn by the knowledge which others have gained through study, observation, and experience. The application of doctrine to experience. Doctrine always works when it is in your soul and it is applied.
7. The past should be regarded as a teacher of the present. That is why the study of history is critical to wisdom in the soul. The arrogant person shuts out all of the light of wisdom from the past. "I am only interested in what I am doing now." The trends of history are repeated. The fool does not listen or learn from what they could observe from history, good and bad decisions. We can learn the repetition of events and decisions, good and bad. Personal decisions, biographies, great people. Why do you think that Marxist education revises history or they don't teach it. They do not want children to learn the obvious lessons of the past.

Learning the past

1. Those without understanding the past speak with ignorance about the present.
2. They never learn that history repeats itself.
3. That cosmic thinking that failed in the past will not succeed in the future. There is nothing new under the sun, Solomon wrote. How do you know what was under the sun before? You learn history. Satan has no new ideas; nor does anyone else. These are nuances of the same old thing. You read the trends of history and you know where they are going. Unfortunately, we have people who learn nothing from the past. They are empty from that wisdom. Some don't see the bad decisions from the past or even from a few days ago. We can trace the history of our country over the past 50 years. There is always God in the equation. God can overrule the foolishness of the past and we can depend upon Him for everything. We also must put God into that equation. He has. This is one thing that we learn from history. Jesus Christ controls history. God intervenes for history. We have no reason to be discouraged. We simply learn what is happening. We can see how God worked in the past. The history of Israel is the most fascinating study. We cannot study the Old Testament without getting that information. God intervened for His people; and we are, in the Church Age, God's people. There is nothing new under the sun.

God's plan always wins. Those who do not read the trends of history, who know nothing about what happened in the past or have no concept of what happened then. Bad counsel just blows away.

The Fool

1. The fool is one who cannot hear or think or communicate divine wisdom.
2. The fool is arrogant, he refuses instruction or correction.
3. The fool lives entirely on his own viewpoint, never entertaining the wisdom of God or others who have it.
4. The fool is intolerant of other people's faults. The speech of the foolish opens wounds.

The Wise Man

1. The wise man is in every way in contrast to the fool.
2. He listens, he thinks, and makes good decisions.
3. The wise person is hardest on himself.
4. The wise person humbly understands that he is not always the wisest person in the room. Others may be wiser. There are others who can impart wisdom. The real friends are the ones with wisdom.
5. The wise person readily accepts good advice from wise counselors.
6. The wise person is ready to support others rather than spreading their troubles around to anyone who will listen. He consults books; he educates himself in various subjects, he listens to the counsel of wise people. The wise grow in the counsel of divine wisdom.

The believer can communicate wisdom to others. Wisdom is communicated with words, thoughtfully chosen to attain the best results. It is wisdom to know when not to speak or to reserve one's words for when they are most effective. In making arguments, timing is everything. Timing is everything in presenting wise counsel. Wise speech increases one's power to influence for good. Such an advisor begins with the teaching of a pastor-teacher. We are severely lacking in the country where the wisdom of Bible doctrine is not always sought. The wisdom of the pivot. This can be a personal level or a national level. The wise person constantly adds to his or her stock when he opens his mouth to speak to others.

Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/4/2021 1Sunday

We have wonderful freedom in the United States. People want to come here. Bobby cannot blame people for want to come here. Freedom rings throughout the world and those who want it come here.

This day in 1776 the Declaration of Independence was signed on that day. The effect was that the states in America were united, free and independent states. Making this declaration was a process. This was a worthless process apart from the 6.5 year war which followed, the tyranny of the British army. The freedom through military victory was achieved. Freedom is paid for in blood, those who sacrificed their lives for it.

84 years after the close for independence, another war broke out a civil war, brother against brother. In part, this war was over slavery. A new declaration of freedom was signed by Abraham Lincoln. Jan 1, 1863, all enslaved people in the slave states would be forever free. This did not free any enslaved people. It required two more years of war to recognize this proclamation of freedom.

The full reality was realized on June 19, 1865; where federal troops arrived in Galveston, TX. General order #3 was read. "The people of Texas are informed....all slaves are free." This was 2.5 years after the emancipation proclamation. There is a freedom connection between the 4th of July and Juneteenth, 1865. Just as a long, bloody war was fought for the freedom of the United States; and there was a war fought between the north and south. July 1–3 1865 in Gettysburg, the carnage was appalling. 15,000 casualties more than ten years fought in Vietnam. Bloodiest battle fought in the United States. The high tide of the confederacy began to recede. What then is the connection between Juneteenth in Texas and that bloody 4th of July. Without that union victory and others, the emancipation declaration and Juneteenth would have never happened.

Lincoln gave one of the greatest and shortest speeches. One cannot dispute the meaning of freedom as defined in this great speech, freedom through military victory. They were spoken on that battlefield over innumerable graves, dedicating that field as sacred ground.

"Fourscore and seven years ago, our fathers brought...all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war testing whether that nation...so conceived can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war...gave their lives that this nation might live...in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, this ground....those who died here did...the world will long forget what was said here, but they will remember what was done here...from these honored dead we take...these dead will not have died in vain, that this nation will have a new birth of freedom."

June 1, 1865, Charles Sumner spoke of this speech in his eulogy to the assassinated president, calling this a monumented act. He said that Lincoln was mistaken, and that the world noted what Lincoln said.

People have many concepts of what these holidays mean. Some revere documents or persons; others see events, speeches, marches, protests, even street violence as representing freedom. What should be at the core is the price of freedom paid on the battlefields. We may stand in front of statues and we may gaze at them and we may have picnics and enjoy fireworks today. If we want to celebrate the true meaning of freedom, this speech at Gettysburg is at the top of the list.

Proverbs 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

Proverbs 12:16 A fool's anger is known at once, but a prudent man conceals dishonor.

How do we understand speech and distinguish between good and evil. We hear all sorts of speeches. We can always distinguish between evil and good speech.

The speech proceeds from anger in the soul. He reveals his anger in a very public way. When you see public anger, wrath and hate; that person is a fool. When you see someone speaking in that way, they are fools. A disturbing circumstance that sends someone into a paroxysm of anger and belligerence. They have a plethora of ideas of how to bring equity to the United States. They believe that they should receive the equity built up by others. Marxism and socialism are anti-freedom. We can see this in every place where this has been tried. Most people have no idea what happened with Marxism.

This can even turn to physical violence as well as verbal. Street violence and crimes of passion come out of this.

The Prudent Person

1. The prudent man is a quiet person, a circumspect person, who does not reveal his disgust at a world of sin. You can get angry almost every day at sin almost anywhere today. Easy to get upset and angry at all of that. The circumspect man does not reveal that disgust.
  - a. A person does not reveal this because that would be hypocritical.
  - b. A person has the spiritual life, to reconcile one's life with...
2. He shows care to the impact of his words, something that we do not see much of today. The senators and congressmen do not seem to care what affect their words have in the future; because it is all about their power.
3. When this person speaks, the prudent person, in especially difficult circumstances, his words are calming on others. There are plenty of people who can work up a crowd and get them angry and manipulate that crowd. The wise prudent person calms others with his speech.
4. His speech is not inflammatory. Very few calming voices today; or voices of freedom. They want to use other people and causes to get what they want now.
5. The prudent person does not provoke the passions and anger of others. They use thoughtful words.
6. The prudent person does not retaliate with his or her ill-advised words. Do not retaliate. Wise people do not retaliate, because this escalates the problems.

a. Bobby had a friend who immediately got angry at any slight; and the escalated the situation. We have all seen this. Prudent people do not do this.

b. That ego and arrogance is handled by the mature spiritual life.

7. Condemns thoughtless verbal attacks and delivers poise and composure. Poise is a great quality. Bob was such a proponent of poise. He coached Bobby's little league team. All the parents came to Berachah and he met with them. "All of your sons may not play or they may not start. But what I want to teach them is to be men, to grow up. It is never too early to teach them how to be a man." When you are a kid and you strike out, and you throw your helmet and bat and you say a lot of angry things. Bob would not let this person play again for that game.

8. The prudent person is a man of poise.

We are enjoined not to be irritated or provoked. The key to understanding this prudent man is, he conceals dishonor. That is a problematic phrase. That is the good size of this verse, but he conceals dishonor. It suggests a cover-up of wrongdoing. Covering dishonor is dishonorable. This has a very important meaning for the prudent person and how they think and speak.

Proverbs 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

Lesson #0243

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/4/2021 2Sunday

There was a movie that Bobby saw made in the mid 30's, Ruggles of Red Gap, sort of a comedy, but with an amazing message. Bobby had no idea where it was going. A butler who was indentured to an aristocratic family for 3 generations or more. He was a slave, but not in the way that we think of it. He did whatever his master told him to. One day he lost him in a poker game to some folks in Montana. Proper English servant, and Montana was less settled. He slowly learns what it means to be a free American. He was Charles Laughton, and he quoted the Gettysburg address in the movie. The very ending is all about learning how to be free in a nation that is free. The declaration of independence and all that it means.

Many have had friends, like Bobby, who died in Vietnam and elsewhere. Go to a battlefield like Gettysburg, where veterans are buried. These are not grim places; they speak of freedom.

If you know a person, like a spouse, you can tell when they are angry at you. You know what anger looks like. If it is a spouse, not a good idea to call her a fool. Volatile anger and inflammatory, people say things that they should not say in a moment. That is the fool. If you have regrets later, you know that you have been foolish.

Proverbs 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

Proverbs 12:16 A fool's anger is instantly known, but a prudent man conceals shame. (MLV, 2020)

Concealed means to cover. But should dishonor be covered up? This originates in one's thinking. We think dishonorably; and it becomes evident in our words and actions. If you are hiding dishonor, why be dishonorable. To those who have discernment, they will recognize actions as being dishonorable. What does it mean to hide and what does the prudent man do hiding dishonor.

Interpreting Proverbs 12:16b

1. The Hebrew for dishonor is qâlôwn (קָלוּן) [pronounced kaw-LOHN], which means shame; ignominy (of nation); dishonour, disgrace (personal). Strong's #7036 BDB #885.
2. It does mean, dishonor, ignominy, shame, disgrace. Those definitions don't fit here.
3. In this context, this refers to what has been spoken to the prudent person. The direct anger being spoken to the prudent person.
4. This person has been dishonored or shamed by the angry fool. He has been verbally attacked. The anger is directed toward the prudent person.
5. Therefore qualon is better translated, insult. This takes on a whole new perspective.
6. So what does conceal really mean here, when it refers to an insult. kâçâh (כָּסָה) [pronounced kaw-SAWH] and it means to cover, to clothe, to hide, to conceal. In the context of Psalm 78:53, engulf is a good rendering. The Piel meanings are to cover, to clothe, to spread over, to overwhelm, to engulf. Strong's #3680 BDB #491.
7. It simply means to overlook it; to pay no attention to the insult; to overlook it. We have all been insulted before, to one degree or another.
8. The prudent man overlooks insults.
9. Furthermore, the prudent man bears no malice.

(BSB) A fool's anger is known at once, but a prudent man overlooks an insult.

"I want an apology!" When a person's ego is challenged; "You have made me look small and I don't like it." We know who we are, so how can anyone insult us?

When you walk away from something like this, God takes care of it. We show wisdom and the Lord takes up the slack. Those who you walk away from often face God's dealings. That is what makes this wise.

Our model should be God in rebound. He does not harbor a grudge; He does not retaliate. This is a sign of a mature believer; he de-escalates. Worst thing that we can do is react to insults. We do not make a resolution to pay someone back. We let the Lord handle it. The second thing that you need is impersonal love.

Not reacting is poise. The fool displays outward signs of severe distress, which happens with a wounded animal. They show distress. A hunter should never allow a wounded animal to get away. That wound in the insulted person is immediately recognizable as such. The enemy knows that they have been struck and wounded, and moved in for the metaphorical kill. We are a wounded animal. They see it and smell it. The wise man does not give the angry person that satisfaction.

There are people in this world who simply want to see you react. They insult, you react, and they win. Poise, impersonal love, humility. We have the spiritual assets to sidestep all of this. This is a relaxed mental attitude. The mature believer keeps a calm exterior going all of the time, giving nothing away, overlooking and forgetting what was said. The principle is obvious. Words cannot hurt if they have no power to harm the prudent person.

Something Else That We Should Understand That Further Clarifies this

1. This line is not the same principle as non-resistance or as turning the other cheek, found in Matt. 5.
2. It does not condemn personal self-defense when physically attacked.
3. It does not condone wrongdoing, slander. You are overlooking a personal insult and...
4. It does not condemn absence of speech or cowardice. This does not mean that you cannot speak up. You are not retaliatory. You are not tit-for-tat. Wisdom demands that you don't speak, in many cases. You need the discernment when or when not. Sometimes words in return can calm things. As a mature believer, you will know when and what to do.
5. Nor does this command reticence regarding one's own feelings, as long as the verbalizing does not engage and reverse the insult; as long as you are not being retaliatory.
6. This line, this last line of v. 16, simply commends calmness, circumspection, poise, composure and not retaliatory or vengeful words or actions.

This is not suppressing or repressing anger. It is all about, how do you handle insults.

(CEV) Losing your temper is foolish; ignoring an insult is smart.

(GNB) When a fool is annoyed, he quickly lets it be known. Smart people will ignore an insult.

Proverbs 12:16 The vexation of a fool is known at once, but the prudent ignores an insult.

Next verse, words of truth; this is for lawyers and witnesses in a courtroom.

Proverbs 12:17 Whoever speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit.

This is a courtroom analogy. The one speaking truth is a truthful witness. This is a witness to be believed by those who hear them.

Some Final Points Dedicated to Attorneys and Witnesses

1. There is no condoning or justification for leading lives; for perjury. Straight from the Scripture.
2. What is spoken by the witness must be the simple facts that must be available to him or her.
3. Facts without bias, without embellishment, anger or self-righteousness.
4. Truth requires answering questions honestly and forthrightly, even if it conflicts with someone else's testimony.
5. A true witness affirms the right facts. Sgt. Friday, "Just the facts, ma'am."
6. This person does not make an issue of himself on the stand.

Proverbs 12:17 Whoever speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit.

Lesson #0244

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/7/2021 Wednesday

The question, what is truth? And, who has the truth?

Truth

1. We know that the absolute truth is in God and only in God and in His Word, which is the Bible, and all that it contains. John 17:17b God's essence includes truth.
2. Nothing that comes from the mouth of God is untruth. Every word that the Lord spoke was truth in the 1st advent. Jesus introduced a new dispensation and left behind another. God has provided for us His Word; the words of Scripture are the words of God.
3. God is, therefore, the only source for absolute truth for mankind. Legitimately, what is the truth? The unbeliever does not know what the truth is. He must be relative in truth.
4. His truth can never be diminished or compromise or corrupted, as He is the origin of all truth. John 6:32
5. His communication to us reflects the veracity of His character.
6. That is the reason for the certainty that we have of the infallibility of the divinely inspired Scripture. It is truth. God the Holy Spirit brings nothing but truth. It is the mouth of God. What we hold in our hand is truth. The Bible we have is a translation from the original text. We have a very accurate interpretation of the truth. We know all of the truth from Scriptures, about God, about salvation, about the spiritual life, about everything that we need to know.

Clearly, mankind has trouble with truth. Lying is a way of life for everyone. Sometimes, we are in trouble all of the time, so we lie to minimize the problems. Some people lie all the time. Proverbs 12:17 speaks to this problem

Proverbs 12:17 Whoever speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness [utters] deceit.

Everyday truth is what we know has happened; or reflects accurately about what we think. Truth is what you think and express. It may not be good; if you express what is in your mind, you are telling truth, which is not absolute truth. When you have Bible doctrine in your soul, you have more truth than anyone else. The more you are able to see untruth and more able you are to speak the truth.

The truth telling in this verse is a more formal situation. It is not just general truth telling. This is an analogy of a witness speaking the truth. He is a truthful witness in court; a witness who is to be believed. Justice is best accomplished through the...

The true witness confirms the correct facts. He does not make them up; confirms what he or she knows. The truthful witness is a righteous person, bringing straightforward truthful testimony. This does not mean to speak our conceptions, imaginations, our wishful thinking (we want a certain outcome and we testify in that direction), our preconceptions, prejudices all cause untruthful testimony. It is interpretive testimony, not factual. When an interpretation of facts is asked for...a body is dissected in the coroner's office and they give an opinion as to what happened. There are expert witnesses on the other side who are hired to give the other point of view.

Truthful Witnesses

1. The truthful witness answers the questions which are asked.
2. Thus revealing circumstances that most adheres to the facts. Answers the question, revealing what he knows to be truth.
3. That is truth that corresponds to the nature of things as observed. That the essence of courtroom testimony that is truthful.

There is legal terminology that judges may render judicial opinions; and those opinions are binding when they are made. They should like they are not based upon facts. The judges opinion is usually written by a judge to solve a legal appeal, an opinion leading to a dispute. The previous testimony is taken into account; and further based upon an analysis of the law used to arrive at a decision. The judge must follow the law, even if he might disagree with it. The more truthful and honest the facts available, the better to render a judicial decision. Justice may not always be done; but this is the best system of the truthfulness of law. False witnesses are not good.

The lawyer tries to win the case for their client with favorable testimony. But a lawyer can go too far and suborn perjury.

Telling what is right involves truthful factors. It involves truthful observations. Witnesses only know some of the facts, and only from their perspective. The court must decide what is more factual; which one is more believable. The principle still holds true, you tell as a witness what you observe. What is objective, concerning those events.

The Mosaic Law was the rule of law; the Ten Commandments are not the embodiment of the Mosaic Law. Some amplification is contained in some of the prophetic books. Israel was a theocracy. Islamic nations claim this, but that is a false law. The Mosaic Law is the most truthful law, as it is God's law.

Exodus 23:1 You will not bear a false report. Two people are not to join hands to bring false testimony.

The Scripture condemns this everywhere. The Mosaic Law required 2 or 3 witnesses. False testimony is a sin of the tongue. The Mosaic Law is justice for all. Social justice is specified or directed justice, to make up for injustices of that past. Our justice system is administered by human beings. Still, the rule of law is God's divine establishment rule. Even imperfect, it is the best system.

We have people today trying to change the justice system from the ground up. Being a false witness is right up there with adultery and murder and stealing. Jesus reiterates those sins (I think when speaking to the rich young ruler).

The pharisees brought false witnesses into the trials of Christ. They used them to condemn the Lord. They used these to discredit the Lord. They always used some sort of false witness.

Stephen was martyred on the basis of false witnesses. "This man incessantly speaks against the Law and the Temple." But the religious types were the ones who distorted the Law; and they corrupted the Temple.

God is a God of justice. This is why we have a law to live by. What does deceit actually mean? The general definition of lying and perjury.

Mirmah Is the Hebrew Word for Deceit

1. It means deceit or treachery; in courtroom, it means injustice.
2. A false or deceitful verdict that is unjust based upon a false witness.
3. Testimony in a court of law is public affirmation of justice and good order, the rule of law. False witness perverts the rule of law.
4. Or, of the opposite where injustice rules based upon lies and falsehood.
5. When testimony is false, biased, prejudicial, political, ideological, or racially motivated, as in social justice, the society at large is harmed. That too is a false testimony.
6. The rule of law breaks down, replaced by the rule of the loudest and most dishonest and ultimately the most powerful.

Who gains the most power; they rule. The breakdown of existing order and injustice. They want to reconstruct the United States in a socialist model. This is why we are filled with so many lies.

Bearing False Witness

1. Bearing false witness violates the social contract.
2. A false witness is decidedly anti-freedom. Anti-divine establishment and certainly, in lying, anti authority-orientated. This is a disfunction of society. Nothing happens that anyone can agree on. Why would you agree with a false witness?
3. A false witness also subverts confidence in the court system. Unfortunately, the crime of perjury is very common, but not always prosecuted. It impedes or negates the course of justice.
4. Perjury is inherently unjust, and hence fatal to justice.

This passage is critical as to how to run a justice system in a society. When courts become dishonest and political, they are complicit in tyranny. These courts are political and religious courts simply condemn those because they disagree with those in power. They may use trumped up charges and false witnesses.

There are many classic cases in this. The classic case of a judge, Roman Flifer, who was a state secretary for the Germans, and early apologist for Naziism. He influenced the courts for Naziism. The people's court usually has something to do with injustice. Noted political crimes, for which he became infamous. He would humiliate defendants from the bench, and issued the death penalty for minor infractions. His most infamous case is prosecuting the conspirators of those who tried to kill Hitler. Many military leaders wanted to remove Hitler. Von Staffinberg. Put down a case near Hitler, to explode. Everyone was rounded up who spoke or it, and those who had nothing to do with it. Flifer sentenced them all to death and hung them with piano wire in a basement.

Not the rule of law. This is all based upon false witnesses. This same tactic is true of every Marxist state. China, the Soviet Union, North Korea. By legal injustice, those in power get rid of those who are the enemies. Their courtrooms are an illusion of law.

It is important to know what is going on around you; a corrupt court system. They are used to keep people in power. We have had the greatest court system in the history of mankind. Even in our own country, we are seeing courts issue injunctions based upon ideology. Isn't that the purpose of packing the Supreme Court with leftist judges who will apply the law on political grounds. They will be chosen based upon the purity of their ideological bias. The power-seekers are served very well, using a judicial system to confirm its ideological beliefs. Justice becomes very one-sided, and that is injustice. The greatest crime is to oppose the government.

And Christians will be hauled into courts, courts which are already packed against them. The greatest crimes are being committed by those who are anti-freedom. This is why false witnesses is important to understand. This is why God made a ruling against false witnesses. History gives us many examples of corrupted courts.

Lesson #0245      Proverbs 12:18 Wisdom in the OT      7/8/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:18a There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts,...

Here, the speech is called rash speech. Metaphorically is like a sword struck through the gizzard. Speaking rashly is a simile to the thrust of a sword. Unkind, spiteful or malicious speech is like the sword going through the heart. The words accomplish that very well.

People often have no patience with people that they see as inferior to them. They lash out with words to maim and to cripple (metaphorically speaking). Words are compared to a weapon. They shout; rash unthinking words designed to cause misery and heartache. There are those who cannot speak a kind word. They like to make other people miserable; making others as miserable as they are. These are the thrusts of jabbing. They like to penetrate their own misery into the lives of others. It is important that we understand what the word rash is.

Bata = Rash

1. To speak thoughtless, hastily, recklessly, inadvisedly. It also means, to speak violently, viciously.
2. There is an out-of-control...
3. Unthinking, not-meditated, words just thrown out, splashed against a wall. That means blurting out verbiage without thinking with unintended consequences. This is often done without considering how the hearer might respond. The reaction of one person throwing out words. The unintended consequences can even be worse. Throwing out words in an unthinking manner
4. It is always good to think before you speak.
5. And insensitive words can do just as much damage as the angry, spiteful, malicious speech. Such people who say such things are inconsiderate. They are clueless as to the force and effect of their words. Insensitive. Such people are often very self-centered.
6. Both categories, the angry and the stupid are damaging in their own way.
7. Hence words strike their target with a sharp, pointed effect. These words penetrate to the soul; they rot the soul. Most of us have been the recipients of speech like that. That is what makes rash words so destructive.
8. Sometimes such rash words are designed to strike back, to retaliate, at some perceived or real slight. And now you are the sensitive one. You strike back and rip into them.
9. Those retaliatory words are fired off in a peak of emotional revolt, done without any consideration of the damage that they do.
10. They are often spoken in a moment of bad judgment or stupidity or irrationality or resentment or just insensitivity to anyone else.

Bobby uses the word sensitivity advisedly. It is a dynamite word that often gets a reaction. Some get offended by nearly everything that they hear. They are hypersensitive. They take offense at almost everything that they do not like. This especially occurs in the political arena; I must have an apology for those words! Those words hurt; those words offend. They attempt to silence or gain an offensive. Using words like the thrust of a sword against other people.

Think Before You Speak

1. Think before you speak. Reactive emotional talk is one of the most dangerous things to do. You lay yourself open to all kinds of misrepresentation; and even to all kinds of retaliation by using unthinking words.
2. The speaker should have concerns about the things which are said. This is particularly true when...not alienating them. Good leadership knows how to deal with people with their words rather than alienate them.
3. The speaker is not responsible for assuaging the feelings of the hypersensitive. The hypersensitive have their ears up, ready to drop, at any perceived slight. This sort of thing is used in politics all of the time.
4. This goes too far and should not be classified as rash speech. Rash speech can be a problem, but it does not require rash speech to bring the hypersensitive person to an emotional reaction. Rash words fall like a hammer; reckless words are the speech of the arrogant and the self-centered. However, they are offended. Rash words care not for the feelings of others. Once the tongue speaks thoughtless, reckless, hasty words, they cannot be taken back; they cannot be erased. They are out there floating in the air.

Bobby is amazed by those who are in trouble and they record this on their computer. You cannot get rid of it. It is the same with reckless words that go out there. You cannot erase them; they cannot be deleted. This is particularly true of friends to whom you are the closest or your spouse. So you don't guard your words. It is easier to get irritated with and angry with those with whom you are the closest. The damage is both hurtful and lasting. Those you are supposed to care about the most are the recipients of your worst language. Be careful not to come out with words which are damaging.

Some let the words out, without thinking, and never consider it. But those who receive those words may develop a festering wound as a result. That festering wound should not happen in a maturing believer's soul. Anger, hatred, all of those mental attitude sins, who form as a wound in your soul. But the believer maturing rebounds, recovers, moves on, forgetting what is behind. He can also apply grace orientation, impersonal love.

Unthinking, Rash Words

1. No believer should live with past, festering wounds in their souls. Fast way to get this is those insensitive words spoken by someone who is close. The circumspection we think before speaking, even though we may want to let it rip. The repercussions can last a long time.

2. Those wounds can undermine the spiritual life and the maintaining of the filling of the Spirit.
3. Those festering wounds can destroy relationships which are worthwhile. It is often unintended, but it is reactive. The mature believer controls the tongue. He is able to handle the sword thrust of the tongue.
4. He uses the spiritual skills, impersonal love, grace orientation, etc. Without using them, there will be residual affects. Words, rash words, like a sword, stay with you.
5. It also causes a severance. There is a great reason for a divorce. Verbal abuse is just as difficult and just as damaging as the thrust of a sword.

David frequently got this from many of his enemies. Many verbal sword thrusts; calculated to be destructive words. Psalm 57:4 My soul is in the midst of lions; I lie down amid fiery beasts— the children of man, whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are sharp swords. Bobby saw this many times, verbal attacks against his father. Verbal assassination; too many to count. Many left this church after hearing such attacks. He was attacked with rumors that were spread, but those who assigned to him missteps in the ministry or personally; character assassination. Verbal attacks from antagonists did not end well for them. Such attacks were often handled by the Lord.

One case was a man who ran him down viciously and left the church and took people with him. A month later, he had a heart attack and died. Remember, God's man for leadership falls under God's protection. Bobby has no idea of things have been said about him. He doesn't care. God deals with it. Where those words fall, Bobby has no idea. The Lord protects Bobby because he is in God's service. Public servants are also a target for attacks.

Those who make the verbal attacks. If the person gets out of line and reacts. As a pastor, Bobby can't get out of line, he will get double discipline. If he reacts or any pastor reacts to verbal attacks, the problems begin for him. Bobby cannot afford to get out of line; that affects a great many people. He must teach the word.

The point is, let God handle the punishment. Don't get in the way. Don't verbally assault. Remember what happens to the lying tongue or to the gossip. Psalm 57:4 My soul is in the midst of lions; I lie down amid fiery beasts— the children of man, whose teeth are spears and arrows, whose tongues are sharp swords. David is talking about verbal attacks from his enemies.

David and Vindictive Words of His Enemies.

1. These are angry, vindictive, power-hungry enemies. They are barking rabid dogs, baring their teeth and biting.
2. Their tongues are vicious, described here metaphorically is fiery tongues.
3. David always seems to be surrounded by these kind of brutal enemies. Some attacked him verbally; some physically.

4. Spears, arrows, the sword; all of these are metaphors for the fierce words of hate. There again, you see the danger.
5. He reproaches him who tramples upon me. David did not need to worry. This proved true, time after time. Verbal and physical attacks; the arrows of his enemies. Of course, we also know that God disciplined David severely for going outside of his plan. He had a war going on with his own family. The future Messiah would come from him.

Psalm 64:3 ...who whet their tongues like swords, who aim bitter words like arrows,...

Their objective is to discredit and to remove David from power. But the maligners are the ones who are removed. Even his own son Absalom, who attacked David verbally and physically.

The Lord will revile such people, those whose bitter speech is like an arrow, and who sharpen their tongue like a sword. None of those are good if you revile such a person. That is how evil and dangerous the rash tongue is.

There is a link with Proverbs 25:18 A man who bears false witness against his neighbor is like a war club, or a sword, or a sharp arrow.

The False Witness from Last Night

1. The false witness spreads deceit and lies.
2. It is intentional. He flings the arrows and thrust the sword.
3. He fires flaming arrows of lies; his words smash like a club. Gossip and maligning.
4. These are all metaphors for evil words, deliberate, purposeful, deliberate deceit.

Link these metaphors and 3 verses. Once again, we see the problem with lies with weapons that wound.

Proverbs 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

There are times when a well-meaning person accuses another; or makes an ignorant or misunderstood statement. He did not realize who his unthinking, accidental words might be perceived. This might be due to hypersensitivity to the injured person. But the arrows and swords of accusation still bear false witness. Nevertheless, you must let perceived or other accusations fall harmlessly around you to the ground and let the Lord handle those shooters and thrusters.

A false witness can make a true statement, but with the intent with the intent of deceiving. This can be done intentionally or unintentionally. Propaganda is all around us; this is intentional. True facts with verbal intent of liars, false witnesses. The words of the propagandists are arrows. Media who use facts which are falsely interpreted, they are false witnesses who fit the metaphor of this passage. Deceit that bring all of these come to the surface. Is there an intent to deceive? Your application, the use of indiscriminate words, walk lightly when it comes to charging someone else with wrong intent. The club of distortion; evil words, all of those arrows fired at us. What do we have? Impersonal love. You cannot use it unless you have it. Prov. 28:18 open the door to our application of deterring the false words of attack against us. We are all the objects of inadvertent speech. We must always fight against that with what is in your soul by means of Bible doctrine. David turned it over to the Lord. Pay no attention. Let the Lord handle it. Even if it is untrue. Let the Lord take over.

Bob is a witness to Bobby. Don't worry about the verbal attacks and some of them were vicious. This is a great passage of application. Words are damaging; words can destroy.

Lesson #0246

Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/11/2021 1Sunday

Communion Sunday

Jesus said, "Do this in remembrance of Me."

He is always present among us; and the mind of Christ is present wherever His Word is taught. "Where two or three are gathered in My Name, there I am in their midst."

Christ in you, the confidence of glory.

What would Jesus say; what would He teach us? Without a doubt, we would pay rapt attention if He would be our permanent pastor. There is a general answer to this. We have a record of one message in Luke 4. The story of Jesus in the synagogue.

Luke 4:16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up. And as was his custom, he went to the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and he stood up to read.

Luke 4:17–19 And the scroll of the prophet Isaiah was given to him. He unrolled the scroll and found the place where it was written, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to proclaim good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."

This has been very misunderstood. Jesus selected a passage to read about Himself?

The gospel to the poor, but not in the way that we understand the poor. We think that Christians are to lift mankind out of their poverty. Take them out of the streets or out of their terrible apartment complex.

After years of a war on poverty, the number of poor continues to increase. The Lord had great compassion for the poor; and Jesus often was gifted with the common things of life in order to teach what was necessary.

Jesus could have fed and clothed all of the poor. He chose not to do this. Instead, Jesus said, "You will always have the poor with you, but you will not always have Me."

Today, soup, soap and self-respect are put first before the Lord.

The regeneration of mankind was the focus of the Lord. In the spiritual sense all mankind was poor, because we lack the ability to commune with God.

The gospel that Jesus spoke, revealing the grace of God, completely met the need of mankind. It is the only lasting remedy. God's grace would mean even more. The poor were much more in their needs.

Jesus proclaimed the gospel to the poor, which includes all of the poor. The gospel did not originate from the mind of man. It is a revelation from God; and it is the Bible which reveals this basic fact.

Not only did Paul receive the gospel, but He proclaimed it. Jesus was crucified, buried and raised on the 3rd day. The gospel is the good news about Jesus Christ. He is the deliverer who died and rose again. This is the only thing that will save man from his inherent poverty. Matt. 16:26 what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world but loses his soul?

Jesus provides a eternal residence and rescue from a life of hopelessness. Jesus is a cure from all human poverty.

He was sent to heal the broken-hearted. He healed many people of physical defects, restoring senses or limbs; Jesus healed what no one else could heal. He healed the soul; the broken hearted. His gospel will cure the malady.

Let not your heart be troubled; you believe in God; believe also in Me. There was no merit in the function of faith. Placing faith is that message of the gospel; faith perception for the believer. This is the cure for discouragement and despondency of soul.

To proclaim release to the captives. People who think that Christianity depends upon works; but all the Jesus did in His ministry always took a backseat to what He said. It was not His deeds, but His words that would remain with us. We still have His words.

Captives are those under the control of something or someone else. All humanity is born into the slave market of sin. Many are unconscious of their condition. They imagine that they are free, but they are not. We all need to be emancipated. "You will know the truth and the truth will make you free.” The spiritual redemption that Christ brings is freedom. Man is purchased from the slave market of sin and released to the freedom of God’s grace. The problem of the barrier between man and God is solved by all of the captives. Our sins are no longer a barrier. The message of the gospel, faith in Christ, which frees the captives. It is that nature which blinds men and makes them hopeless. Jesus knows exactly what man needs.

What work is man capable of to attain such freedom? How can man gain freedom? He has nothing that he can offer up to God.

Jesus came to give the recovery of sight to the blind. A miracle. Of all the afflictions which we face, none can be much worse than this. All of the images around us are completely unknown. They cannot understand the things that we take of granted.

Some people, in spiritual matters, are just as blind as those who are spiritually blind. We cannot see the light and we need the true light. The true light which enlightens every man. “I am the light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in darkness.” We do not have to walk in despondency and death. Jesus illuminates the darkness in the souls of man. John 1:4 In Him was life, and that life was the life of men.

Just as Jesus healed the physically blind, this was a demonstration of the healing of the spiritually blind.

Jesus reminded the people that He appeared among them to set free the oppressed. Oppression is endemic in this world. Tyranny on every level. Satan uses his ace trump, religion. Man is beaten and disillusioned. To remove the tyrannical hold of Satan’s world. Jesus Christ set us free, freeing the oppressed. This is a messianic reference. Christ came to the world to set His people free.

Some rejected the offer of the grace kingdom. Mankind must come to the cross and the freedom which it offers to the soul. Freed from such oppression, man acquires a relationship with God that can be understood in no other way.

The final statement, is Jesus came to proclaim the favorable year of the Lord, the year of Jubilee. Slaves given their freedom, all debt cancelled, and all land returned. That is exactly what Jesus offered: a new start for all who responded to His message.

Jesus spoke to those that day who qualified as the poor, the broken hearted, the blind, and the oppressed.

Jesus read this passage and He is the fulfillment of it.

Proverbs 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

Rash speech and thrust of a sword is a simile. This is a simple comparison of unlike objects, using like or as. This phrase indicates a wounding or maiming type of speech. This is exactly what rash is. Batah, which means thoughtless, hasty, recckless, inadvisable speech; to speak with vicious and violent intent. Rash words can be vicious and premeditated, with an evil consequence. Easy to understand from this sword metaphor. An element of an unpremeditated, throwing out insensitive words that hurt as well. Regardless, words which have an evil intent.

Proverbs 25:18 A man who bears false witness against his neighbor is like a war club, or a sword, or a sharp arrow.

This relates to lying, lying courtroom testimony. The false witness perpetrates deceit or lies. Words that smash like a club. All descriptive of evil speech. This is a wounding of premeditated speech; damaging one who is a defendant. You can see how premeditated this is. Such charges are made without a regard to the consequences. To injure, harm. Rash charges thrown like mud against a person to see what might stick.

This can be a domestic quarrel which happens in any marriage or among friends. One spouse may decide to call the police and make charges that are overblown, even to jail the other party. Sometimes done for vengeful purposes; the retaliatory arrows of a false witness. This is not said to discourage calling the police when needed.

This is a dreaded call, and they are forced to become arbiters and even the objects of ire after a point. False witnesses can do severe damage, not just against the person they are mad at, but also against those that they are testifying against in a court of law. This is injustice in general. A distorting tongue. The arrows and the swords and clubs of a false witness, can bring great disaster on a national entity as well. We have many examples of this in our own nation at this time. Reckless words designed to discredit opponents. Not news but propaganda. That will pass into the trash heap of history.

There are many examples from this period of time. The example of the poisonous tongue intent and destroying a nation.

The background to this passage is the fifth cycle of discipline with dooms a nation. We might fit this particular background. In the devastation of Nebuchadnezzar's conquest, the walls of the palace and the Temple were destroyed; and the people were slaughtered. The Jews lost their freedom and their national autonomy. They even lost their national sanctuary. The center of Y<sup>e</sup>howah worship.

The people had to march hundreds of miles to Babylon for 70 years of captivity. The book of Daniel comes from this period of time.

Babylon fell to the Persian empire, the handwriting on the wall, the Persians marched in and destroyed Babylon (538 B.C.). Cyrus said that 50,000 could return to Judæa, under Zerubbabel. He led the first expedition. That is the focal point of the nation, which is Y<sup>e</sup>howah. Now a return was provided where the people could rebuild the Temple in 516 B.C. Ezra was the next man to return, about Ezra 10. He was a priest.

Jerusalem was defenseless, and they were surrounded by many local enemies, none of whom wanted the Jews back in the land. This is because they are opposed by the cosmic system. This was very much like Arab states surrounding Israel today. For this reason, Israel required a surrounding wall in order to defend themselves. This would preserve their Temple worship. Then Nehemiah comes onto the scene. He is there to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

Nehemiah was appointed as a young man to the position of cup bearer. Implicit trust of the royal family and unimpeachable loyalty. He would taste the wine of the monarch to make certain that the wine had not been poisoned. His position required a very intimate and prolonged contact with the Persian royal family. Similar to the secret service today protecting the President and his family.

Such a close association allowed Nehemiah to obtain a commission to return to the land. He had the authority to reconstruct the walls. This was truly God at work for His people. Rebuilding the defenses of Jerusalem did not go unopposed by their enemies.

They come with a sharpened tongue like a sword. This is the poison of lies and propaganda against the legitimate leader of the nation. 4 neighboring tribes were threatened by the return of the Jews. They opposed the reestablishment of a Jewish state. Sanballat was the leader of the Samaritans who opposed a Jewish state. This is how far back the animosity goes between the Jews and the Samaritans.

Sanballat had a plan. He was going to use the flaming arrows of the tongue. They were very crafty in their plan and propaganda.

Nehemiah 6:2 Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, "Come and let us meet together at Hakkephirim in the plain of Ono." But they intended to do me harm.

There was going to be a personal and verbal attack, as Sanballat did not have the strength to defeat Nehemiah. First plan was to meet with Nehemiah for a peace conference and to kill him there. Nehemiah saw through this plan.

Another ploy to draw Nehemiah out of Jerusalem. He slanders Nehemiah.

Nehemiah 6:5 In the same way Sanballat for the fifth time sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand.

There had been many exchanges between them.

Nehemiah 6:6 In it was written, "It is reported among the nations, and Geshem also says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel; that is why you are building the wall. And according to these reports you wish to become their king.

The claim is that the Jews were about to revolt against their masters. Alleged that they were planning to overthrow their masters. "We have unknown sources which tell us that this is the plot. You also have prophets to proclaim that there is a king in Judah."

Sanballat knew the prophecies of Israel. He claimed that Nehemiah was planning to rebel as the messiah. It was Cyrus and now it is Artaxerxes would take care of the rest.

Sanballat and these other tribes did not want to go to war. A war could involve Cyrus (actually Artaxerxes) against Sanballat.

Now this was presented in such a way to make it sound as if Sanballat was trying to protect Nehemiah and the Jews, but they were doing exactly the opposite.

The letter may have contained an element of believability; otherwise, it is not effective.

How many attacks have we seen boldface attacks against a legitimate leader; and it is still going. They do not know who to attack now. They protect their man and go after the others. This propaganda is effective.

How did Nehemiah deal with this? He depended upon the Lord. That is the first line of offense against any pack of lies.

You tell a lie long enough, some people are going to believe it.

Nehemiah 6:7 And you have also set up prophets to proclaim concerning you in Jerusalem, 'There is a king in Judah.' And now the king will hear of these reports. So now come and let us take counsel together."

Nehemiah's solution. He says, "This is propaganda. You are lying."

Nehemiah 6:8 Then I sent to him, saying, "No such things as you say have been done, for you are inventing them out of your own mind."

Nehemiah did not want to tangle with Artaxerxes or with Sanballat.

Nehemiah 6:9 For they all wanted to frighten us, thinking, "Their hands will drop from the work, and it will not be done." But now, O God, strengthen my hands.

Nehemiah calls upon God to strengthen him. God brought them back to the land and guided the building of the Temple.

Hitler took over Germany with propaganda and by using his thugs to beat some people up.

Israel survived and won whenever they depended upon the Lord. And if they did not, national discipline and disaster.

We, in the United States, have the same option; the only option.

The tongue is the strongest muscle in the body. It forms words; it forms speech. The speech was originally designed by God to be a blessing to mankind. We are aware that lower animals communicate basic sounds with some meanings. Bobby often wished to have a conversation with his dog. He no doubt had a great sense of humor and insight (particularly about Bobby). The best he could do is muster a bark or a whine.

The human tongue was designed to proclaim thought; doctrinal wisdom and noble concepts. After the fall of man, it was a different story. The tongue took on another and sinful side. There is both a good and evil side to words.

James 3:10a From the same mouth comes blessing and cursing.

David and Solomon both used the imagery of weapons for the sinful tongue. No one could miss the brutality of the slashing, bashing piercing tongue. It is hard to imagine the blood that flowed in one of the pitched battles. They were devastating in the hands of an expert. We still understand through movies what these weapons bring in close combat.

There is one who speaks rashly, the thrust of a sword. Speech used as a vicious tool to hurt other people.

Proverbs 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

Perjury perpetuates injustice; and some are acquitted of a crime due to perjury. Premeditated lying vituperative speech.

David in his wisdom literature also used this imagery in Psalm 64:3 ...who whet their tongues like swords, who aim bitter words like arrows,...

They would like to usurp his position so that they could gain power. Words in high places can have that effect. Such is the case of Nehemiah which we began last Sunday.

Babylonian captivity in 586 B.C. and Nebuchadnezzar took the Jews captive, removed them from the land. Cyrus had destroyed the Babylonian empire. Cyrus was a believer because of Nehemiah (?). He allowed 50,000 to return to the land (some chose to remain in the Persian culture).

Jews have, for centuries, have integrated themselves into various cultures. They are very aware that they are one of the most persecuted minorities in the world. They thought that they were hidden in Germany. Many Jews fought on the side of the Kaiser; but many of them died in the death camps in 1933 to 1945.

They returned to Jerusalem to rebuild the Temple, which would be the focal point of the national spiritual life. They began again Temple worship and all of the rituals and legal aspects, speak the doctrines of the Lord Jesus Christ, of rebound, of the things that Israel needed to know. The Temple was critical.

Ezra led the second expedition around 458 B.C. The focus was on the spiritual life, the reason that they fell in the first place. They neglect their spiritual life. That is true of any client nation in human history.

The last to make the trek back to the land was Nehemiah in 445 B.C., to build the defensive walls of Jerusalem. The Temple was there. They had many enemies. After they returned, they needed to defend themselves.

Nehemiah 6:5 In the same way Sanballat for the fifth time sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand.

Sanballat was a leader of the Samaritan tribe and they opposed Israel. Judah and the Samaritans did not like each other at all. Sanballat and his henchmen, the men of the other tribes were very subtle and crafty.

Sanballat was a propagandist, equal to those in Nazi Germany or in the Soviet Union.

Nehemiah 6:6 In it was written, "It is reported among the nations, and Geshem also says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel; that is why you are building the wall. And according to these reports you wish to become their king.

These are lying reports that Sanballat reports.

Nehemiah 6:7 And you have also set up prophets to proclaim concerning you in Jerusalem, 'There is a king in Judah.' And now the king will hear of these reports. So now come and let us take counsel together."

He knows about the religious thinking of the Jews. His prophets are prophesying that Nehemiah is the Jewish Messiah. What great propaganda this is.

He was going to go to Artaxerxes and tell him all about this stuff (which is a lie). Artaxerxes would have come down and destroyed them. Sanballat used some mixture of truth and lies.

How many attacks have we seen against a legitimate leader, this hysterical lying about Russian collusion. The media propaganda continues today, but just in a different direction. They think that they are lying, but for a good purpose. To bring in socialism, Marxism.

Nehemiah used the winning formula of trusting in the Lord. He wanted to build a wall in defense; that was his objective. He could not become King of Israel and defeat it.

Nehemiah 6:8 Then I sent to him, saying, "No such things as you say have been done, for you are inventing them out of your own mind."

Nehemiah is refuting the lies. Sanballat knows that it is a lie. "You are inventing them in your own mind." An excellent description of propaganda.

Nehemiah 6:9 For they all wanted to frighten us, thinking, "Their hands will drop from the work, and it will not be done." But now, O God, strengthen my hands.

The threat of invasion is an attempt to frighten the Jews.

Nehemiah could only say the thing that was necessary, "God, strengthen my hands."

They do not even have a way to refute these lies. But this was the approach of David, Moses, and all of the great heroes of the OT. This is our solution even today. This is the fall-back position; and the one that every believer has. This is the way to avoid the sword thrust of the lying tongue. The only way to defer the lies that we see around us; to defer the lies coming at Christians. The only way to defer these attacks on America. Do we take to the streets, stock up on more food? Get more weapons. You can do all of those things if you want.

We just sang, "A Mighty Fortress is our God." Great music and a great song.

Martin Luther was beset with nothing but enemies who wanted to kill him. That was his only defense and he knew it. He wrote much of the Protestant return to Scripture. He was one of the great men of theology in history. He was not totally correct; but he had the main points down.

What do you have in your soul to defer and deflect the enemies around us.

Lesson #0251

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/18/2021 2Sunday

Proverbs 12:18 There is one whose rash words are like sword thrusts, but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

We just looked at the view of the vicious tongue in the previous half of v. 18. Every situation that people will face in life and their solutions. Nehemiah faced propaganda that was very effective. They knew that all these people had to do is go to the King of Persia and this would bring the wrath of the Persian empire against the Jews. All the problems and solutions are found in these historical books.

Proverbs 12:18b ...but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

Introductory Points

1. Healing is the Hebrew noun marpa, which means health. It can also mean soothing, tranquil.
2. It is the opposite of cutting, of irresponsible, insensitive and reckless words, which are found in the first line of v. 18.
3. Healing speech is calming, healing, soothing. "O Lord, strengthen me in the face of these enemies." This is a part of the solution to the difficulties of our lives. The tongue can have a part in the healing.
4. Healing words are always wise words. When we are in trouble or adversity and we are in a situation where we face sins of the tongue from others, there are those who can help you. We encourage ourselves with the words of God. There is encouragement from others and from the Word of God. It revolves around the doctrines of God's Word.
5. These are wise words from Bible doctrine. They are faithful and true and they are kind and uplifting. Doctrine can rake you over the coals; it is alive and powerful and sharper than any two-edged sword. You can always depend upon it.
6. These are words that assuage suffering and aides healing from the injury of injustice. There is a lot of injustice in this world, personal, national, corporate. What humanism uses to correct injustice is also unjust. The only true justice in this world are the healing words of God.
7. These are kind and sympathetic words. They encourage people in healing and in disaster. We all face difficult circumstances. Words can assuage suffering and aid in healing.

The first thing you need, when you are attacked verbally, is your want words of healing. There is the solution for all of this. Any situation that comes along in life. These books and circumstances are your life and your circumstances. The outcomes are the same, always. These words do something else. They diffuse arguments, rather than rash words of v. 18a, which words escalate anger. Reaction to anger towards us is not anger retaliation. So you don't fire back your own arrows and sword-thrusts. Those put you in the same trap of your adversaries. You lose; you have lost. The only tragedy for us as believers is not to use the thinking of Bible doctrine.

Proverbs 12:18b ...but the tongue of the wise brings healing.

This is a tonic of the soul.

Proverbs 16:24 Gracious words are like a honeycomb, sweetness to the soul and health to the body.

Honey was a luxury food, it had healing properties. Those properties provide antibacterial stuff; it maintains a moist environment for a wound; a high viscosity, which helps provides a protective barrier to prevent infection. It is excellent for soothing and healing burns. It is a remedy for coughs and sore throats. Also preventative medicinal properties. It can be used even for a body wash. It has many different uses. That is why it was so valued in the ancient world. The sweet, sugary taste; and the healing powers. A perfect analogy for pleasant words.

Honeycomb Metaphor

1. The honeycomb metaphor refers to pleasant words, which are sweet and healing.
2. The honeycomb is a sweetness of expression.
3. It represents wise words with encouraging properties.
4. They are reconciling and conciliatory words. Sometimes, we have a very difficult time reconciling with people that we do not like. Particularly, those who just want to injure us. A little conciliation and reconciliation with those with evil intent can calm the situation down. They may even feel that they have won. This meeting place is a place which may help your adversary.
5. These words promote tranquility and calmness of life. It is good to avoid people like that. You must have the attitude found in the second half of v. 18. If you feel like you are being walked on, what is real strength in this life? We call on the Lord for our strength; and we handle it with this sort of message...the pleasant words of the tongue. They are calm and not reactionary. It is infectious not to use words that are mean and confrontational.
6. Calm words can have an effect on others. Sometimes you need pleasant words, even if spoken under hard terms.

Jonathan was a great friend of David. Saul hated David. The army of Israel was at war and Jonathan was very hungry. Against his father's specific command against the army and he told them not to eat until they defeated. Saul ordered them not to. Jonathan did not know Saul's order. He ate from a honeycomb. His eyes were brightened when he did so, a picture of renewed strength and vigor. Therefore, he put out, the end of his staff and he put the honeycomb in his mouth and his eyes brightened. If this represents kind and ___ words, then these words are a refreshment to the soul. Do we have the pleasant words of doctrine?

Bobby talks to himself all of the time, sometimes outloud. He is listening to how is sounds to him. It helps him to change or edit what he will say. Those words have an effect, even sitting at his desk. Inspiring words, coming from the Word of God. He speaks pleasant words to the congregation. Nevertheless, it is the Word of God that Bobby teaches. They are all pleasant words, all honeycomb, for our eating, for our refreshment, for out lives. Honey expresses sweetness and physical benefit. Many things have one of those qualities, but not both. That is a marked difference from the honey illustration.

Some poisons are very sweet to the taste. Ethylene glycol, which is the main ingredient in antifreeze and is the #1 poison used in homicides in the United States. It is used because it is sweet. The sweetness is charged with death. No health benefit associated with this chemical. It is like the tongue that speaks sweet words to some and spreads gossip to others.

The words of a politician sound sweet, but they are an absolute lie.

Beneficial Words and Wisdom

1. There is a connection between sweet beneficial words and wisdom.
2. It is the wise use of healing, sweet speech, rather than poisonous words that injure. One quality but not the other.
3. There is no wisdom in injuring other people. Nothing can injure other people like words. Remember words are portrayed here as the thrust of the sword, the club that bashes the head, the arrow through the heart. That is how delatarios these words are.
4. Malice of aforethought and some are said without any aforethought. You speak when you are not thinking. Be careful.
5. The healing tongue of v. 18 is the tongue of the mature believer who exhibits wisdom in all of his or her speech. You cannot speak with a wise tongue without wisdom in your soul. The wisdom books contain all of the wisdom that we need. All of the situations that we might ever face. The continuity between the testaments is certain. Without wisdom in your soul, you do not have pleasant words or speech. You may sound pleasant, but underneath there are mental attitude sins which will break out as sins of the tongue. You present yourself as some great spiritual thing, but you know nothing about Jesus or about Bible doctrine. How can you speak as a believer living the spiritual life. Not talking a good fight but living a good fight. Talk is too hypocritical. Talk covers too much by way of flaws and faults. Lies are discovered.

In v. 19 becomes more wisdom. In the world that we live, lies seem to last forever. They may last for our lifetime; and they can even last for generations. Truthful lips will be established forever, and a lying tongue just for a moment.

Lesson #0254 Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 7/21/2021 Wednesday

Next week, no class.

Proverbs 12:19 Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

Today we deal with all sorts of things which are filled with lies, like humanism. But those lies will disappear in time.

Parallel between a wise tongue (the previous verse) and truthful lips.

Truth and Lies

1. Truth portrays high standards in the soul.
2. Truth is clear-thinking. Truth is connected to integrity, integrity of soul.
3. It is hard to trust a person who has a track record of untruths. When people are dishonest, you don't know when they are true or not, when you are being used or not. There gets to be an overall aura of untruth because of the way that some operate. A track record of untruth.
4. That is an established reputation for lying, and that is very hard to overcome. One you are so classified, it is hard to get beyond that. That catches up to people; and it is a reputation which is hard to change.
5. A rash tongue is reckless speech, vicious and haphazard speech. Likewise, liars are reckless in spouting their untruths. It is a practiced ability to lie. This is how you recognize a person who is untrustworthy.

Don't marry, don't go into business with such people, don't be friends with them.

Liars think that they control the situation by manipulating the narrative. That is the fundamental reason for lying. They are disadvantageous, they are habit forming.

Scripture tells us to forget the things from the past. To lie about them is to dwell on them. The liar is oblivious to the consequences; their lies will catch up with them.

People who are liars only think of the immediate objective.

Reasons for Lying

1. To cover their failures
2. They lie to manipulate circumstances
3. To impress others with the resumes, exploits. We may call this embellishment and exaggeration.

Lying has no staying power in the long run. Sometimes the exaggerations are harmless and at other times they can be extremely damaging. But they lack integrity and humility. The power of the tongue for good and evil.

V. 19 is about the longevity of lies.

Truth Outlives Lies

1. Lies do not survive the test of time.
2. Lies have a shelf life. They may still be around but they are no longer viable.
3. In order for a lie to be maintained, it must be expanded. That becomes a problem.
4. That makes the liar even more vulnerable to discovery. A good lawyer trips up a lying witness and finds a discontinuity in their testimony, invalidating the witness.

testimony. You have to expand a lie or embellish. Many liars think that smarter than everyone else.

5. Lies have a negative effect; they come out sooner or later.
6. Lies can never usurp the truth. The truth will prevail.

Lies are discovered, Lies at a national level.

Good liars understand what others want to hear. That is what is happening in our country today.

How does truth overcome and outlast lies. People lie to win love, the gain influence. Take love, there are bars all over Houston where someone is telling a lie to get love (or whatever). But no great relationship begins with a lie.

Lying is a way of life for some people. We call them players sometimes.

Lies have existed since the fall of man. Satan is the father of lies.

John 8:44 You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks out of his own character [or, from his fundamental nature], for he is a liar and the father of lies.

Many lies are told about Christ. They are being told today. There is no truth in Satan. He is a lie; he is the father of lies. This is everything but Bible doctrine.

When Satan speaks a lie, he speaks from his own fundamental nature. Satan effectively used lies; and he lied to the woman. He lied about what God said.

People blaming one another. You have to take responsibility for your actions.

Humanism is one of the devil's tools, just as religion is. Natural born liars; they follow the father of lies. If you buy into the cosmic system, you are a liar. Those who reject God are a part of the cosmic system; and they live lies. They worship the lie. Individual liars and the lies that they tell take on a life of their own.

Lies told long enough and loud enough are accepted as truth. When politicians tell lies, can you not recognize it. They have no truth, so they cannot see the lies. The lies are what they want to hear. By those who cannot understand the truth. Out of fellowship, we believe lies as well. Being out of fellowship, you become gullible.

National Lies

1. In the political arena, propaganda are believable lies. On a large scale, there is some truth in it, to accept the lie. We see this in our own country.
2. Understand as this verse says, it is momentary. How so, when will it be over?

3. Lies cannot stand the test of time.
4. Political falsehoods and propaganda always lead to greater and greater failure in a nation. When so many believe the lies, a nation begins to fail and the cod kick in.
5. Some people catch on.
6. Notice where the propaganda of Marxism has taken us. It can be packaged in such a way to make it seem like utopia. People who don't have money like the idea that their debts will be forgiven.
  - a. We are one in Christ and there is no gender or racism.
7. We are the laughingstock of the world when we believe this stuff.
8. Believing the lie means that freedom is important. Giving up greatness for nothing.
9. To lie is a very attractive way of speaking in this world. Ultimately, it is a failure in its objectives. Whether the lie is the left or the right; Hitler did some good things. He got Germany out of debt. We know the evil of his system and the evil that they brought to this world. It does not matter what political spectrum that you are in, there are lies everywhere.
10. To lie is a very attractive way of speaking in this world. It is wise to remember what God says about the lying tongue. Prov. 6:16–17a

People are going to have prejudices. Who says they are going to change racism, the worst racists there are. It is a lie; it is propaganda. It is effective, but it is momentary.

Proverbs 6:16 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: haughty eyes, a lying tongue,

God and Truth

1. Lies must be compared to God's infinity.
2. Truth is a part of the divine nature.
3. God is truth and He is eternal.
4. Since God is eternal, His truth is permanent.
5. No lie or liars can overcome or suppress eternal truth. God is absolute veracity.
6. Lies, human and satanic fade and they will die. Political lies get outdated.
7. Like Satan, all lies will be removed from this earthy. No one left
8. God's truth lasts into eternity.

What about truth and lies in our flawed sinful world? Often lying propaganda on a national scale is rampant. Every nation in history has had its liars and its propaganda.

Proverbs 12:19 Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

Lesson #0255

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

7/22/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:19 Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

The subject is lying and this is a universal problem with the human race. In some cases, lying is a way of life and a terrible sin before God. Prov. 6:16–17.

This brings untold treachery and problems with people. Satan is called the father of lies. With a lie, Satan guided man into the fall. The sin nature corrupted mankind at the fall. We have a propensity to lie because that is our nature.

There are national lies to guide whole populations and societies. The modern world first saw a successful deceit from Joseph Goebbels and the promotion of Nazism. Communism in Russia was very adept at the same propaganda. They had many posters and they were everywhere. It is propaganda and it is a lie.

How can truth prevail. It seems easier to fool people than to convince them of the truth. Truthful lips will be established forever.

Talking about Raga

1. Raga.
2. There seems to be continuous; it speaks here only of an instant.
3. It might be better translated in the wink of an eye.
4. The ultimate demise of lying.
5. The fact is, a lie, a falsehood, unsupported and unapproved, speedily passes away.
6. Lies have a limited staying power. They disappear when facts are known.

Proverbs 12:19 Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

Liars may claim science to support them. Evolution is presented as a fact of science, but it is still a theory. It is a very effective lie and it has been around since the 19th century ago. It has been embellished and expanded upon. New discoveries which are lies.

This passage is a metaphor. The truth, in comparison, lasts forever. Lies may last for centuries, but they go away eventually.

It is hard to know what to believe about the pandemic. Let's not forget about all of the unsubstantiated claims about climate change. There are many facts which are overlooked. Is climate change really man-induced, or is it cyclical, as it has always been. "How about a carbon tax, that will fix it." That is a lie. Are the facts objective? There is no doubt. Climate change has become overtly political, which makes it rife with lies.

Conclusions about this topic should be objective, based upon all sources of information. That narrows the ability of this lie being told. Much is left out when science does not agree with the current narrative of the extremists.

The National Oceanic... (NOAA), they often fail to consider all available data in their determinations and their reports to the public are not accurate. They continue to depend upon bias science to lead to a specific predetermined conclusion. The propaganda value of climate change is enormous. The lies and the hypocrisy that is involved in it.

Ultimately, by definition, lies have no validity. This is because they are untrue. What has no validity does not last. Or it is exposed for what it is. Propaganda is only acceptable if it reflects some truth.

There were many movies made in the 1940s designed to gain support by the populace for the war. Here, it was used for a good purpose. Humanism is a lie and anything from it is dishonest. It is a part of the cosmic system.

Satan's lies will disappear; he will be removed. This will all disappear in an instant. Liars count on confusion in the hearers. This is why lies do not stand the test of time. If people are confused by information, they often disregard it.

How many lies and untruths have been repeated on both sides of the COVID pandemic. There is no way of knowing what is a lie and what is the truth. Everyone has an opinion. When science claims, "It must be true because it is a pronouncement of science."

Most of us have heard the various views on COVID. What is a lie and what isn't? What is the truth and what isn't? Thus we become confused. We dismiss many facts that we have heard. There are many pros and cons about the vaccine. They cannot both be true. There may be truth in part and lies in part.

Lies breed confusion; confusion breeds mistrust; dismissal means temporary nature of lies. Marxism is still useful to Satan and the cosmic system. It is worthwhile. Old lies that don't fool anyone, so they are not used.

The Confusion between Lies and Truth

1. Truth perceived as lies can be just as rejected as lies that cover up truth. What happens when people are confused by a Biblical interpretation? They dismiss it; or they find a pastor that they agree with.
2. It takes discernment and patience to discern truth and to identify lies; or at least suspect them. Identifying a lie means suspicion that it is a lie. Then wisdom and truth to verify it. We have had so many lies thrown at us in the past 6 months or so. We can make decisions based upon divine establishment. When you hear lies from Marxism, you recognize it, based upon doctrine in your soul. When good becomes evil and evil becomes good. You are beginning to discern these.
3. Don't jump to a conclusion use your own discernment. People you respect may tell a lie as well. Everyone falls into that category, so lies roll off of our tongues. Sometimes little ones, sometimes great ones. Do not jump to conclusions simply because someone tells you that it is the truth.
4. Bobby teaches the truth and he teaches enough truth to help us grow. Bobby never teaches cosmic system lies. He sticks to the Scripture. Bobby uses politics as examples of what he is teaching so that we can discern truth from lies.

5. Many people have agendas for what they say is right. They may not tell you the truth because it does not fit their agenda. We that with politicians or in the media. They want something to happen. They sometimes like what happens because it supports their lies. The plan of God does not need manipulation or lies to promote it. We can only take truth with us.
6. Many people believe lies because it fits what we want to believe.

When there is no political need for COVID as a tool, then the lies will fade away. Lies are covered up all of the time. Some of the old lies will cease; and new lies will be invented. Short-term advantage to the liar. For an individual, even a lifetime of lies, living a lie, lasts only for the time that they live on this earth. Truth lies forever; lies will die with people; and the great lies which effect world events.

Educating children in the propoganda that they want. Sometimes the big lies that effect many people and nations are resurrected again by others. They are recycled. They take on different subjects and wording to fit the context of the times. They disappear in the same way.

One lie from the pit of hell concerns the Jews. Antisemitism is Satan's attempt to remove Abraham's descendants. If the Jews are destroyed, God cannot keep His promises to the Hebrew people. Antisemitism is anti-God and anti-truth. It hangs on because it is useful in the cosmic system.

Lying and deceit is Satan's primary occupation. Can it last? Not when it is opposed to God. Antisemitism claims are lies. The Jews are blamed for so much.

Antisemitism

1. Antisemitic claims are blanket, stereotypical allegations in history. They are lies.
2. In these lies, the Jews are blamed for the world's problems. That is a massive lie.
3. Therefore, if they are annihilated, the problems will cease. That is the logical conclusion. One of the greatest lies in history.
4. How many persecutions of Jews have been started based upon this.
5. Other false statements:
  - a. Jews can never be trusted in business.
  - b. The Jews monopolize and manipulate the world money market.
  - c. They are seeking world domination in economics. They are taking all of the money. It is a giant conspiracy. That is a ludicrous lie, perpetrated constantly.
  - d. The infamous pamphlet the French Jew. From the hate-filled Catholic writer in 1886. This is a modern lie which started a series of lies about the Jews. People tell lies like this and others want to believe it. They see some aspect of truth in it. He believed that the Jews would dominate France and Europe due to their cunning. This started a lot.

- e. People cite many leftists Jews as problems in this world. Marx was Jewish. There are some evil ones, but we cannot profile every Jew as evil. People want to believe that.

They are not God's people any more. These people are not dispensationalists. They do not understand God's plan. Israel will be reconstituted in the Millennium. Even Christians don't believe this. Bobby has had to separate himself from friends over this. He does not want to be near antisemitic. Drumont laid the foundation upon which others would build antisemitic thinking.

Captain Dreyfuss in 1894, I think. He charged Dreyfuss with treason. They claimed that he was giving information to the Germans, but people believed this lie. Dreyfuss loved France and wanted to serve his country.

Ultimately, anti-Semites disappear. God protects His people. We are protect from lies and all of the things which are told and said about Christians. We oppose lies in our culture.

The Protocols for the Elders of Zion. Czar Nicolas has an almost crazy hatred for the Jews. This appears to be an unknown author. These lies strain the credulity of others. Unlikely this conglomeration... Preposterous, but people want to believe the lie. Nihilist later forged that the documents. Then he claimed that this came from God. Exactly political lies perpetrated today by media and leftist politicians today. This continues even today. This sows the seeds of intense revolution. The White Russians revived the protocols in order to claim that the communist revolution was a Jewish plot. The spread of this forgery all over Europe.

Hitler cited the Protocols in his manifesto Mein Kampf. God's people will never disappear; and the truth is what we have; the lies are set aside; they are only for a moment.

Lesson #0256

Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/25/2021 1Sunday

There are all sorts of lies about the vaccine and the pandemic. The pandemic is a testing ground for our relaxed mental attitude. Can we withstand all of the lies and the fears which are going on today.

Climate change is filled with lies. It is a very emotional argument. The planet is in danger; it is always in an emergency; a man-induced emergency. And we must be the ones to sacrifice to save the planet; but it sill never be enough.

The first earth day conference was all about the coming ice age.

The doomsday clock must be reset time and time again. Sometimes it is hot and sometimes cold, the lie is just called climate change. Billions of dollars will find their way out of the taxpayers' pocket into the hands of the super-liars.

What a fertile subject there is in hoodwinking the nation and the planet.

The greatest satantic lie about the Jews, which is Satan's attempt to destroy the Jews.

We know whatever Satan promotes is filled with lies. But lying is a losing proposition.

Blaming the Jews

1. Antisemitic claims are lies. For example, the protocols of the elders of Zion a complete fabrication of the 19th century. It was a lie that Czar Nicolas asked for it. Adolf Hitler used it.
2. In these lies, the Jews are blamed for the world's problems. This is the ultimate one which has permeated most of human history.
3. The conclusion is, if the Jews are annihilated, then those problems can be made to stop.
4. All the satanic attempts to annihilate the Jews have failed. Bobby has run into Christians who are very antisemitic.
5. The Jews must and will survive until the return of the Lord of the 2nd advent. God's promises must come to fulfillment.

The premise of the white race being responsible for all racism. The ridiculous race theory; whiteness must be mistrusted and renounced.

Our half-black/half-white president, who was twice elected, has assured us that racism is inherent.

Critical race theory has been imposed upon the nation. Being white is synonymous with being racist. Virtually all white people contribute to racism. So whiteness must be suppressed or even eradicated. It always hinges as denigrating one race is the evil one, which is the epitome of profiling and racism.

Christianity is non-racist. Jews and gentiles; there is no race in Christ. CRT pits one race against another. All people have a sin nature. This is the spawning ground for lies and evil. And behind every evil international plot is Satan himself. Regardless of the longevity, the lies are just for a moment. They are for an instant with regards to eternity.

Marxism is an example of being for a moment. It has been around for a century. It will end. Its lies will end. Equality which is not equality. Marxism is just another lying ideology. They blame any group, a race, capitalists, for the ills of this world, promoting their ideology as the solution to world problems. That solution begins in your soul. It is a deception, untrue in its humanistic solutions. Just maximum pain and suffering as a result to those who fall under it.

No lies come to a good end. They cannot last. Hard to watch the news today because of the lies. Everything is spoken from an ideological perspective.

Media Lies

1. Media lies are very destructive.
2. The downfall of the society that it deceives. People are beginning to react to that. Some buy the lies some reject them.
3. The lies will be exposed for their fraudulence. Some will not believe it. They will be uncovered.
4. The media and government lie. They want to promote their narrative. Today a very humanistic anti-God narrative. It is effective because it is laced with some true facts. Lies mixed with truth are still lies.
5. They lie as a means to an end. The end justifies the means. They believe their own lies. Especially ideological lies.
6. This is why they are so ardent. This is why our own nation is affected by so many lies.
7. People are blinded by half-truths, which is the same as believing the lie. Taking something that we believe and bending it.
8. Lies never bring the intended result, no matter how effective they are.

Lesson #0257

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

7/25/2021 2Sunday

Bobby's going to Montana. All of the rivers are running out of water, but they depend upon snow melt. Blaming it on climate change is a lie. A mixture of truth and lies.

A lying tongue as it exists today in our society. Lies, no matter how effective they are, never bring the results that are desired. When a lie disappears, something else takes its place, given the sin nature and the fall world in which we live. Social justice is not justice; it amounts to favoritism. Courts will be based upon ideology and skin color. Where social justice intrudes, that is what happens, in practical terms. Why is it repeated? They claim to correct past abuses, but it is just retribution and injustice. The lie will be exposed, no matter what. God's justice will prevail, no matter what.

Multi-culturalism posits that all cultures are equal, regardless of anything. Heathen cultures are seen as equivalent to Christian cultures, but they are not equal. In the divine history of the world.

Principle

1. Nations which live on lies, die by those same lies, just as people do.
2. Other nations rise on the truth of divine establishment and Bible doctrine. We did that 200 years ago. England did that as well.
3. Thus the rise of client nations to God, based upon truth, not upon lies. Our Constitution was based upon truth, upon divine establishment. But it is under attack. The rise of a client nation to God is based upon truth.
4. Client nations are established upon truth; and on divine establishment, and divine institutions, which define morality and standards, even among unbelievers.

5. God will always maintain a representative on earth where truth is believed and disseminated. Truth will never die on this earth. Truth will overcome lies. It will be found out. With the republic, God's truth marches on and it always will.
6. A class of cultures.

People have believed the lie. God's truth never disappears.

What Truth is

1. Remember what truth is in this world.
2. It is not just a person telling true facts.
3. The truth is the Person of Jesus Christ and His Word. That is truth. That is absolute, never-failing truth.
4. Jesus Christ called Himself the Truth and the Life.
5. He also carries the title Faithful and True, which is a title of His return.
6. His person reflects what truth is.
7. He is the only absolute truth; there are no lies in Jesus Christ.
8. Jesus Christ taught the truth to us, Luke 20:21 when He was on earth.
9. Divinely inspired authors by the Holy Spirit so we can learn the truth. It is the only unadulterated truth in this world. Knowing Bible doctrine is critical for your spiritual advance; and it is critical for you to apply truth. This are examples of truth and lies, so that you can understand .
10. We have His mind and His Word left to us in the Bible. 2Cor. 11:10 Gal. 3:10 1Tim. 2:4, 15
11. We hear it so often, the relative question, what is truth? That is the precursor to saying, there is no truth; it is all simply lies.
12. We have the presence of His truth and we have it always.
13. We must avail ourselves of that truth. The more truth that we have in our soul, this world is a lie; Satan rules this world, and he is the father of lies.

There is a lot to be confused about. Should we wear masks, should... For all flesh is like grass, and all its glory like the flower of the grass, it all withers and the flowers fall off and they disappear. But the Word of the Lord endures forever. His Word cannot be mixed with lies. A purveyor of the truth when implanted and spoken. Does the believer believe a lie from time to time? Yes, we can be confused. But they will not follow the lie. Sometimes it is difficult to discern. Satan is subtle. Satan looks ahead. What can he use to oppose God and God's truth. The empires that serve Satan have disappeared. The truth in us reflects eternal truth. Bible doctrine is absolute truth that lives and endures forever. When it is resident in your soul, it lives and abides forever when it is in us. It abides in us and will be with us forever. That is the forever truth. God's truth is the only thing that we can take with us when we leave. We live with the truth and we take it with us. The truth and the life is our God forever and ever. We never lose it, once it is implanted in our souls.

Satan, the father of lies, will disappear. He is only a liar for a moment regarding eternity. All of the lies, all the multiculturalism, all of the critical race theory, all of the pandemic, will disappear. Satan's lies cannot live. The source of lies in the human race, Satan and the sin nature of mankind, will ultimately be defeated by the truth.

Jesus is coming; we don't know. After this, Jesus will sit on His throne. There will be perfect environment for 1000 years. Not like the land cursed that Adam lived in. All of these liars claim that they can fix the environment and make earth into a utopia. That is the great lie. The lie that fools so many people. Man cannot bring in that only God can provide. Those in the Millennium will rebel against God. They have not changed one bit. And at the end of 1000 years, Satan will be released from the pit and he will lead a rebellion of those who believe the lies.

Lies come and go in the time that we live. Personally and corporately. Lies seem to exist for long periods of time. Antisemitism has existed since Abraham.

Bobby is in Montana.

Lesson #0258                      Psalm 12 Wisdom in the OT                      8/1/2021   1Sunday

There are personal and national lies. We move on to Prov. 12:20

For some people, lies become a way of life; they are extended into a new kind of evil, and that is devising evil, developing evil. Using untruths, deceptions and deceit as a weapon. The antithesis of such a life.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

Mmir<sup>e</sup>mâh (מִמְרֵמָה) [pronounced mir<sup>e</sup>-MAW], which means deceit, deception, duplicity, evil cunning, treachery. Strong's #4820 BDB #941.

This is a scheme of evil. A plot is developed in the mind. It is a thought process which translates to evil actions. What is done from the evil plotting. The idea is to intentionally plot or plan to carry out evil or injustice. This is what characterizes evil people. A mind of evil. There is a lack of truth in their souls. Lies always accompany injustice. Evil devising; thus evil people always tend toward pursuing injustice. We hear a lot about injustice in courts, in high places, regarding race. Where injustice is found, evil is also found. It is plotting evil; the pursuit of injustice.

Injustice and evil are inherit to those who plot evil. The unjust are deceptive. They have to be. They are also perverters of justice. They can come up with incredible ways to call injustice justice. Haters are those who stand in their way. They suppress those who try to remove them. Haters is a buzzword for those who oppose the unjust. The very things that the evil ones do, the accuse others of doing this. That is all a part of the evil divide. We see this evil all around us. It is exemplified in many ways; the false propaganda of much of the media. We hear all sorts of lies about the media today. Including mass media. Anyone can say anything on the internet. We like it and we want to believe it. We may not know what their character is like; or what their purposes are.

A lot about Marxism, critical race theory, gay marriage, etc. Or environmentalism. In large part, they are lies. It is fine to want to preserve certain aspects of our planet and to preserve wildlife and plantlife. But it falls apart when people say, "The planet will die and all human life will die due to climate change." A bald faced lie told in order to gain power. We know that God will fulfill His dispensational plan. We know that there will be a Tribulation; we know that there will be a Millennium. We know that there is a kingdom set up for Israel. The big lie is, the planet is doomed unless we do something.

Reimagining law enforcement is defunding the police, which means to ignore the rule of law. One that gets to Bobby seen at various sports events, denigrating the American flag and wanting to change the national anthem. Those charging that these national symbols are divisive.

Revising history. Calling America an evil country; educating kids to fit that narrative. But most importantly insofar as devising evil goes, are those who leave God completely out of the equation. They attack those who believe in God and in Christ. Leave these out of salvation and life, injustice and lies always follow in its wake. The truth is not in those who exclude God. Truth changes from one day to the next. Only by learning God's truth and understanding His ways can evil be countered. Anything less ends in lies and deceit.

Rom 1:25 because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen.

They worship and serve Satan and they align themselves with Satan's cosmic system. People today worship mankind; that is the greatest lie of all. Satan is the author of humanism. When you mix the truth of divine establishment with humanism, which so many churches and theologies have done, you have a lie. All of that humanism is nothing but evil plots coming from the pit of hell.

The people who do that think that they are good. Good has become evil, and evil good.

There Is Always a Cover Story to All of This.

1. All of this evil devising is for the betterment of mankind. We will solves our problems.

2. Man is the solution to man's problems. We cannot change the fundamental problem of our own nature. We think if we can change a system, we can change man.
3. Only man can fix what is broken. The idea is to bring the world to a utopia. Mankind cannot reach this on his own.

Their ideas are nothing but the plotting of evil. In church, we are implanting God's truth into our souls.

Humanism and Bible doctrine are diametrically opposed. One is truth and the other is a lie. That is what is behind these evil plots. This drives a wedge between the truth of divine establishment standards and humanistic solutions.

Lies and Truth

1. Conspiracies can be true or false. Marxism is very true. The objective of evil plotting is to divide and conquer.
2. The idea is to separate the gullible and the stupid from the wise. The gullible people are to be... The bumper sticker will all religious symbols and coexist.
3. The evil devisers make the truth appear to be lies. The big deception. They are very good at it.
4. The plots are designed to bring bewilderment and upheaval to a society. What is happening in American? Were we founded on racism? People are deluded by lies.
5. Where there was once discerning and rational people, now there is confusion. Where there...
6. In the confusion, what happens? Chaos ensues in a society. Portland is a beautiful city; and the people in the middle of that city live a lie. They use chaos for their own purposes, for the furtherance of their own thinking and plot.
7. This turmoil opens up a vacuum of power. This is when the gullible believe the false statements. Where many Christians believe the humanistic lie, there is confusion. There is a clashing of cultures; and there is a vacuum in their souls. God is being excluded from every aspect of our lives.
8. There are those who will enforce the lie at the expense of those who will not accept it. Where does Christian persecution come from? From those who plot evil, humanism. They cannot coexist with you. They will enforce their ideology on us.

We are the object of hate. Homophobia is a lie. There are some who despise that. Believers don't despise the homosexual; they are people for whom Christ died. We do not support society accepting homosexuality as normal. There is a perfect example of a lie being given as truth. If you won't believe the lie, you will be distressed. Many want to suppress and change your thinking.

We see through plots; we see lies. We cling to our Biblical wisdom.

Summary Points

1. A hoodwinked society opens to any and all perversions, distortions of establishment freedom, immorality, lack of decency, the denigrating of law and order and those who enforce it.
2. And embracing anti-establishment lies, which is nothing more than revolutionary ideology. Change society by revolution, which means violence.
3. The result is escalating violence in the streets.
4. It means increasing persecution of Christians and Jews. We see a rise of antisemitism today.
5. The plot of evil deceits are the weapons, plotting against America today. These points are critical to understanding what is happening around us. Why do people not see what is happening? They fall for evil plots and they have nothing in their souls to counteract.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

Lesson #0259

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/1/2021 2Sunday

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

Devising evil is plotting evil; and lies are always involved in plotting evil.

We lose track of the impact of lies to our lives. Sometimes the lies are even greater. They can have an impact on the nation; and lies from high places can have an impact. Lies affect those who are gullible. The more people who believe the lies, the more the client nation deteriorates. That is what makes Proverbs 12:20 so important. Lies are in the hearts of those who devise evil.

The unjust promote that which is not true; and they mock what is true. There is no argument of what is truth and lies; there is only mocking of the truth. Some are afraid to speak the truth, as they will be mocked for it. The curbing of individual freedom. A violation of the first institution of freedom and volition; and the Constitution of the United States.

Security and Marxism

1. Promising security is a major tenet of Marxism.
2. Freedom is removed in favor of a collective society. The group is what matters.
3. The welfare of that society, the collective benefit to the whole group, supercedes the freedom of individual.
4. The collective welfare is set by Marxist tyrants; true throughout history. They do it based upon a lie; based upon collectivism. Individual freedom is what is important.
5. In a Marxist state, individual freedoms are against the society.

6. There is no dissent by the governed allowed. This is a basis. The assent of the governed means we can assent as well. There is no other alternative in the minds of the Marxists. That is the line that they believe.
7. The Marxist is right and righteous, because he believe that he will institute the humanist, atheist utopia, without God and without Christ. Marxism is a lie. Any lip service given to God is a lie as well. This is just to bring the religious into the fold. The same atheistic society found in all past regimes governed by the communist ideal. Everywhere it has reared its ugly head, Marxism never lives up to its propaganda and to the lies that it spreads. It brings despotism and slavery to the state. Those children who support Marxism today have no idea about its past. They have been blinded. We can rid ourselves of racism and poverty by just following the Marxist lie. These are devisers, plotters of evil.

Examples of the Hearts of Those Who Devise Evil

1. The definition of marriage is distorted to include men with men and women with women. The Bible defines one man and one woman.
2. The devisers of evil promote "it takes a village to raise children," subverting the parental guidance and fundamental nature of the nuclear family...mother, father and children.
3. They promote internationalism over nationalism. Internationalism is a lie. That is what happened at the tower of Babel. That is why God separated people. This lie is exemplified today by uncontrolled illegal immigration and the destruction of borders. Subverting the great American culture that built the United States. The lie is, it is an evil nation, which must be de-constructed and reconstructed into the Marxist image. Multi-culturalism is a buzzword. But it does not unify people. The lie says that it does. It further divides. It degrades society. Gal. 3:28 we are all one in Christ. There is the solution to racism and all the things being brought up today, used as lies to build up the power vacuums.

Multiculturalism

1. Multiculturalism is an internationalism ideal.
2. It is the epitome of atheist relativism.
3. It means that all cultures are of equal values. None should be elevated over others.
4. Multiculturalism will raise up every culture in equality.
5. This is propaganda; another big lie.
6. When two religions are diametrically opposed, one of those must be wrong. God is exclusive and His truth is ultimate and exclusive. John 14:6 this is exclusive of all other ideologies and religions. Christ is Savior and absolute veracity. None but Christ. All other ideologies and religions are a lie. That very much violates the idea of inclusiveness.

More Points

1. Religions that exclude Christ cannot be true. That is a point of discernment. Religion is devised by Satan himself in order to obscure truth. Animism, the worship of creatures. Deism, atheism, Marxism. Bobby has compared these in comparative religion courses. Jesus is the big difference. Satan has used brilliant human beings in the past. Marx was brilliant but a slob and a terrible person. He devised a scheme of evil still in existence today. Mohammed.
2. All religions do not lead to God. All other religions are salvation by works. None of them include the gospel of Jesus Christ.
3. Incorporating all cultures, multiculturalism, is not the road to national success or unity. It is as divisive as it comes.
4. A client nation to God is one where Christianity permeates the society; not multiculturalures or various religions being equal. If God accepted all, evangelism of Jesus Christ, mandated by the Scriptures, would be unnecessary. If these are all God, then what is the difference? Evangelism is mandated because the relationship with God is exclusive. If evangelism is not mandated, the Bible would be wrong. It would be misleading. It would be presenting an essential to Christianity. The evangelism of other cultures, would be, based upon humanism, evil. That lie brings the demise of the client nation.

The humanist substitutes for Christ multiculturalism. It will never succeed because it is anti-God and anti-Biblical. All cultures are equal; bring them all in. A vacuum of power to be filled by those who are anti-God. That is what internationalism is designed to do.

The plotters of evil will promote anarchy and revolution against the rule of law. The rule of law does not exist in cities torn apart by antifa. This brings in the lie. So they defund the police and they put restrictions on police so that they cannot do their jobs. People, as a result, believe the lie.

A society which lacks values are convinced of the validity of propaganda. The lies are rampant, to do just that. To discredit and to remove all opposition. CDC with all of those contradictory information. Bobby is not speaking out against all of it, because it cannot all be true. How do we decide what is true or not? We have to have absolute truth in the soul.

Why don't evil people recognize the evil that they perpetrate? They know that they are deceivers and promoters of injustice. Do you think it is great that cities are being destroyed and people live in fear regarding crime. The evil people know this, but they justify it, in order to bring about justice. Equity in society. Where individuals conform to the needs of the whole society. As justice will emerge out of it. What evolves is the rule of the strongest, which will supplant the rule of law. That is how tyrants and despotism is brought about. The mob rules the streets. Rome was essentially administered by the mob. Whatever they wanted, they God. They simply had to feed the mob. That is the way that great civilizations have ended. Great civilizations last for a few hundred years and then they are gone.

Evil Plotting

1. The reason for all of this evil plotting and scheming is to gain illegitimate power. Revolution is anti divine establishment. God instituted law in this world so that people can live in peace and prosperity. This is the only way that society can be controlled.
2. Take control of that which cannot be legitimately attained.
3. To pursue the ultimate goal of remaking society in their own communistic, anti-God image.
4. To pursue that goal, they must have control. The lie is so that they can control. In order to control the circumstances.
5. The real result is tyranny and dictatorship by the revolutionaries, by the anti-establishment-types. Satan wants to be like the Most High, and he can only gain this by lies and subterfuge. By lies, he elevates himself and his system. What Satan does is promote himself to the ultimate doom to which he has been sentenced.

Jesus speaks to the religious types. "You vipers, you brood of hell." There is no equality; no social improvements or any. That is where the horror of heightened injustice occurs. It is inherently unjust. It takes from people who have earned a living, and gives it to those who do not work. A redistribution of wealth.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

Lesson #0260

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/4/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 12:20a Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil,...

It is as if this verse was just written about the United States for today. These principles are timeless. The same circumstances develop for individuals and for nations. We are filled with deceit and lies and confusion. The evil that men do is a product of succumbing to the sin nature's function. The evil that men do is a product of the sin nature. Sometimes it is inadvertent with unintended results. Sometimes with full knowledge; sometimes evil is executed on a wider scale. It always results in injustice and in tyranny. That is what Prov. 12:20a tells us.

Conspiracies and Taking Power

1. The deceitful heart is a heart or mind that purposely plots evil.
2. It is the scheming mind. We know what that is like on an individual level. It manifests itself in all sorts of controlling ways of controlling other people. The scheming mind is intent on the inventions and perpetration....
3. Sometimes we call such planning and plotting conspiracies, which may be true. They may be; or these may be conspiratorial imaginations. There are plenty of conspiracies out there. In politics and in other areas. Some are greater than you think and some are lesser. That is part of what this verse is dealing with.

4. When the conspiracy is true, the purpose is to gain illegitimate power; or to advance revolutionary ideas.
5. The idea is to take control of what cannot be legitimately attained. The idea is to take control and remake society is a cosmic, humanistic image. There have been enough Christians advancing to maturity in the past; but today, that is in doubt. The ultimate goal or remaking society.
6. Such deceitful hearts and minds are actually the source of incredible amounts of injustice. It is a calculated injustice. There is plenty of injustice happening in American today. All of it is with the ultimate goal of remaking society. They think that they are going to bring on justice.
7. That is a quality and characterization of evil people, always. You cannot tear down society with revolutionary ideas or through the loss of the rule of law.

These things destroy society. It will remake society, but never for the benefit of the people ever. Evil is often presented as something that is really good and altruistic. Where divine wisdom and divine establishment is ignored or reject, that is where good becomes evil. Bobby uses socialism and Marxism as examples. Behind all of their claims is the pure evil of humanism and always with evil results. What is intended can never be realized. Those who plot for it are aware of its historical outcome. Neo-Marxists look back and they see millions who have been killed by Marxism. What happens in those people who are deceivers, they believe that they can do it and it won't happen that way again. It is an evil, flawed system; and the outcomes will not be realized. People still scheme and lie in order to install it.

The Thinking of Marxism

1. The unjust Marxist
2. They hit the streets with signs to mock and tear down every existing institution and they try to tear down that which is true. They go after those who oppose them; especially against Christians and those with divine establishment thinking. It must suppress and destroy Christianity.
3. They actively work to curb individual freedom. Marxism is an atheistic system.
4. Instead they substitute the humanist idea of collective society; the group over the individual.
5. That is a concept without God. Each one of us must make a choice for or against Jesus Christ. But the Marxist is...
6. The welfare of a Marxist society, which simply means the collective benefit to the whole group supercedes the freedom of individual choice and action.
7. The collective welfare is defined by Marxist tyrants. It is a government by dictatorship. That is the only way that it works.

The neo-Marxist today, like antifa and Black Lives Matter, who are destroying the inner cities today, are the schemers of evil. Their ideology they promote indolence, pervasive poverty and violence. They scheme and plan for what they claim is justice, but they always are promoting injustice. They can achieve their goals without police on the street.

60 years of government welfare programs proves the result of socialistic legislation, money for producing children, billions upon billions of dollars invested to better the lot of certain sections of society. It has done much damage to the people who receive it. Criminality is worse than ever, especially in welfare communities. Those who could work often choose not to. They depend upon government to pay them. Bobby came back from a vacation; and hotels and resorts cannot find people to work. Rather than making a living by their ingenuity and hard work, they just collect checks and procreate.

When enough people like this come about, the society fails. The result of 60 years of welfare; government has become our new god, replacing dependence upon God to dependence upon government.

The work ethic that used to define our nature and culture is disappearing. That disappeared when the...

The politics of racism; racism has become a ubiquitous accusation. Anti-racism propaganda does not improve society. It hasn't and it won't. The have nots will not be satisfied. Their circumstances fails to improve. But they blame others for their own bad decisions.

They falsely understand their indolence and poverty promoted by Marxist ideology. So they demanded to take from people who are successful. A bankrupt soul without God. Our country is bankrupt.

We are mandated to charity; but government giveaways is not charity. Charity s necessary by individuals and associations. Government uses...

The antithesis of evil deceiving in the self half of this verse.

Proverbs 12:20 ...but those who plan peace have joy.

Counselors of Peace

1. This refers to social well being; a society at peace. Not at war with itself. We are at war with each other. The schemes of the Marxist are working in that sense; we do not have the unity that we used to.
2. Contentment; doing what is right.
3. Doing what is right is distinct from the injustice of plotting evil, which was referred to in the first line. In distinction from that...and what that means for us.
4. Counselors of peace are those who speak truth as opposed to those who lie.
5. That truth brings unity rather than dissension. That is the unifying factor.

6. The joy or pleasure of seeing positive results in their own lives. Counseling has become a big business. Counselors for those who have a hard time mentally. Christian counselors. Bobby knows one who does a fantastic job, and he uses Biblical principles. His clients only have heard cosmic thinking solutions that do not work.

We have a clash of cultures in this country. We have sections of this country which are entirely of another culture. That is not client nation thinking.

People today have no reason to change their activities or their thinking. Bible doctrine is the only true change in the thinking process of the human being. Otherwise, it is all humanistic garbage that just fills the soul.

We should exhibit a relaxed mental attitude. Are we counselors of peace or are we just one of the problems.

Philip. 4:7 And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

This is God's Own thinking which is beyond anything else. It is beyond all comprehension. Only the believer can understand the peace of God. You must possess peace in order to be a purveyor of peace. That is what guards your mind and it prevents the invasion of anti-doctrinal ideals. The believer focuses on the mind of Christ even during the worst of circumstances. We can understand it. That is the peace that brings joy. Insight into what peace really is. If you have peace in your soul, then you are a counselor of peace. Peace is always the case when Bible doctrine is in the soul of the mature believer. Bible doctrine is the counselor needed to...

In the secular realm, people want to counsel wisdom, to help people make something of their lives, to try to get them over their own messing up. It does not take one dime to sit in the auditorium where we can learn. We share the happiness of God. We present that attitude, that joy that happiness to the world.

Humanism is evil and unhappiness in the soul. Not joy. Humanism never brings peace to the soul of any human being. They are never satisfied with the results of their scheme and ideas. When does the humanist say, "All the problems are solved. It's all done." You will never hear that. Humanism is confusion and turmoil in the soul without God.

The socialist is never satisfied with the results of his utopian struggles. It is always a struggle; it is chaos and turmoil constantly. The best laid plans of the evil plotter always go awry. How anxious and fearful it goes.

Look at a certain section of Congress, and you can see, they are never happy. They always need to do X in order to solve some new problem. They are constantly striving for some new humanist program. It never brings about the intended solution to man's problems ever. That is what we are observing in this world right now. Not even the Olympics are happy any more. Now we have mental illness; all kinds of problems. There is no happiness or joy out there. None. Exception: our souls.

Divine Wisdom and Happiness

1. The application of divine wisdom brings joy to the individual soul. That is a relaxed mental attitude.
2. That joy comes in spite of the treacheries of the sin nature. You can have it in spite of the fact that you have a sin nature. The more mature that you are spiritually, the more relaxed that you are in your soul.
3. Only the filling of the Holy Spirit defeats the tyrannical control of the sin nature of man. There is no other victory. Peace and contentment and a share of the happiness of God. If you have the peace of God, you have a share of the happiness of God. It is the only true happiness that we can have in this life. When the party is over, who are you?
4. That spiritual control and joy is individual in the believer; it is not societal; it is not collective; it is not national. It is all individual. That is the only way that it comes around.

There is no joy in the life of the Marxist who plots and schemes. God has already worked out His plan for us. Why do people drink and take drugs? They are not happy. That relaxed mental attitude reaches all those in your life.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

Lesson #0261

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/5/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, but those who plan peace have joy.

This is a tough verse to leave. It is in contrast with the counselors of peace; those with a relaxed mental attitude and unmitigated happiness in their souls. Happiness is a very misunderstood word. Happiness in the Bible is contentment in the soul, other than whatever circumstances that we find ourselves in. Bad circumstances, unhappy people. But this is not true of the believer. They demonstrate that joy to others in all conditions. Counselors of joy and that is done in their attitude.

Deceit is contrasted with peace.

Summary

1. The divisors of evil who exclude God in a calculated way. We never exclude God in our calculations. Our calculations are all about His plan and how we are guided by His plan. The deceiver has thoughts which specifically exclude God.
2. They never have peace or contentment in their souls.

3. The demonstrate discontent in all that they do. That is what provokes unhappiness in their souls.
4. They are never satisfied with the results of their calculating and manipulating. They plot how to get their way. Their goals are very self-centered. Their goals on a national scale is power.
5. Why are they never satisfied? At the end of the day, the plots never bring the anticipated results. Can you imagine plotting out the future and all of these manipulations, but it never works out.
6. Evil means, it never brings good results. It only looks good for a short time.
7. The result of evil is always evil.
8. There are always unintended, evil consequences, which require new plots, conspiracies, and schemes.
9. The best laid plans of the evil plotter always go awry somewhere. Take what politicians are trying to do today, you can see why they are trying to push for more money and more legislation; because the stuff that they do never works. They are not trying to promote freedom; they are promoting control. Conspiring for control. The best laid plans of the evil plotter always go wrong. Obstacles constantly get in their way. They become more desperate, as they move further away from their desires.
10. Therefore, once they become frustrated and angry and desperate, they reexamine and reset their schemes and they try a new avenue of a conspiracy of lies. Humanism always has to lose. Those who lie have no truth.
11. So they try and try again to reach their unreachable ambitions and designs. They try different schemes over and over again. They try to control others; they have no choice. Why do people think the way that they do? They don't understand why their ideas never move them in the right direction.
12. Things never work out to their satisfaction. They can never rest on their accomplishments, never. They are restless people. Unbelievers without hope. That is the most sorrowful thing in this world. Restless and unsatisfied people. They put their dependence upon man, and man can never accomplish their lofty goals.
13. No peace or joy exists in those souls; always struggling, always fighting; and never succeeding.

That is why things get so difficult in many places for believers. Christians stand in the way of their plans. It frustrates them, because we will never be moved out of the way, no matter what they try to do. Individually, we might be removed; but someone always steps into their place.

It is like the University of Alabama football team. One year graduates and the next year, the new men move up and take their places.

We succeed in our goals as believers over and over again. There is tremendous happiness and fulfillment in what we do. Unbelievers do not have spiritual maturity; they do not think like we do; they do not have the mind of Christ.

In contrast, there is the joy of the believer; the counselors of peace who possess truth in their souls. They have developed what no unbeliever can permanently possess. The believer's joyful counsel of peace, aids the contentment of the believer, and provides joy to others who are around them.

Jesus Christ was the ultimately mature man. We can approach this, because we have His thinking. We have what made Him successful and content in life. The counselor of peace is the Bible doctrine which is in our souls. Everyone seeks that happiness and so few find it. It is impossible to find satisfaction in demonstrating happiness and contentment. That is the ultimate of the counselor of peace. But doctrine has to be in your soul before you can demonstrate it. We understand it; but it is the world that does not understand it. One of the great witnesses of this world is the counselor of peace. People seek this, but they don't know where to find it. They see this demonstrated in us.

So different from the injustice, power grabbing and hatred of the cosmic system. We understand that Christianity is exclusive. He is the only way, truth and life. We have some phobia. When we are charge with a phobia, we are charged with a fear of something. We neither fear nor hate anyone. We don't have to. Fear of homosexuality; hatred of homosexuality? Bobby will get into this in a few classes. Those who charge us with some form of phobic are subject to that phobia themselves. Power, without integrity, is disturbing and it is fraught with anxiety. It always turns to evil. That is what people are seeking. They are filled with anxiety and worry; even though it may be meant for good.

The rule of law? We don't need that. The means of attaining all these great things for the people, is revolution. That is evil.

Proverbs 12:21 No ill befalls the righteous, but the wicked are filled with trouble.

V. 21b confirms v. 20. But wait just a minute here. Do you see a problem with the first line of this verse? No harm befalls the righteous. These are believers in Jesus Christ advancing to spiritual maturity. We know that harm can befall good people, nice people, you. Through no fault of their own. The problems of loss of freedom, as explained in the previous verse. If this country loses individual freedoms, the righteous, the evil, the good and the bad....this will affect everyone, even the righteous and advancing believers. Trouble from the loss of the rule of law. The evil plotters can wreak havoc on the righteous and unrighteous alike. In some cases, they can destroy the lives of those who do not deserve it. They think if they remove those who oppose them, that will be good for the world.

Many Christians died in the death camps of the Germans. They opposed Naziism; they opposed Hitler. And they had to die. That is what happens under these conditions. That is what happens under persecution.

The floor of the coliseum of thick with blood. Thousands of Christians were killed there. By the end of the century, Christianity was the religion of the empire. That is what it takes sometimes.

So how can this proverb be true, when the righteous suffer right along with the unrighteous.

Solving the Conundrum

1. The first half of this verse is a relative truth.
2. This is not to say that this is the same as the relative truth of humanism. The humanist has truth mixed with falsehood; combined with humanistic ideas, or with someone's ideas. Relative humanistic truth is the truth is what I make it. It is what I say it is. And the truth changes when it is expedient for me to do so.
3. That is not truth. It has nothing to do with truth. It has nothing to do with the relative truth of this verse. Harm does come to the righteous. So how is this true?
4. How is it a relative truth? This verse presents divine wisdom which is generally true for individuals who make good decisions.
5. However, this statement is now always unequivocally true, for the reasons just mentioned. Bad things can happen to good people.
6. How does this truth work? No harm befalls the righteous has a wider and deeper connotation than just simply life adversity.
7. Inside the plan of God, God works all things that happen for our benefit. Rom. 8:28 God works all things together for our good. Hence, no harm comes to us, even in adversity. Harm does not come to the righteous. No harm comes to us in the plan of God; it is all to our benefit. Adversity and prosperity.

Another example of a similar Proverb. Proverbs 22:6 Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it. This is generally true, but it is not an iron-clad guarantee. They will always return to it. Training means teach doctrine when they are young. This sets a child apart for future use in God's plan. The child who is trained is given what he or she need for their future in the plan of God. We as believers have a future, and it starts when we become believers.

Parents are first to make sure that their children are saved; and then they look to raise them up properly, so that they have the good options in front of them. They are given what they need for the plan of God for their future. They are set for the righteous options in the plan of God. Without that, they have no idea what to do. Training has with it stimulation. They learn the doctrinal principles that bring guidance and encouragement.

The child's volition cannot be discounted in this verse. There is training and there are choices. They have the option and they have the impetus; and they can return when they leave the fold. The parents give them that option and it is there. This is the main task of parents. If they don't train them in this way, the cosmic system will train them, as we see in our schools and our social media today. They are bombarded with lies. Parents who try to keep their kids cloistered fail and Prov. 22:6. They will hear it and see it, no matter what. But we must trans them.

Bobby's parents were great teaching. Bobby's mother taught home Bible class; it was meant for children. She knew how to present doctrine that was interesting and fascinating. She did it through illustrations; and she did it through stories. Bobby has not always followed in the ways of righteous. But he did return. This requires volition on the part of the child in order for this to be true. Volition is paramount. Parents can lead children to water, but they cannot make them drink. They may choose to depart from the right path as adults. But this person, this former children, has the knowledge to return to the spiritual life. They can move back into it based upon the doctrine provided them.

It is up to the child to advance on the basis of their own volition. The truth is still there; it is a true statement; but it depends on the volition of the child when they become adults.

If a child is not trained, then he has nothing to return to if his life goes awry. A certain harm may come to the righteous who are believers. But this is suffering that can be handled by the spiritual life. The harm occurs without the spiritual life. But also, God allows bad things to happen to good people for His purposes. This means a person can be righteous and remain righteous; but he is simply being tested. There is no harm in that. There is no harm in being tested. There is no harm in God accelerating our growth. In fact, the suffering which may result is for our benefit. When you recognize this, there is nothing but contentment, even in adversity.

Suffering is for our benefit. It cannot be classified as injury, trauma or...

Lesson #0262

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/8/2021 1Sunday

Communion August 8, 2021:

God became man and substituted Himself for us.

Jesus Christ is the same today, yesterday and forever.

The book of Hebrews paints quite a picture of the Lord Jesus Christ. No relic from the past or painting comes close to giving us an understanding and visage of the Lord Jesus Christ. But the book of Hebrews does.

Jesus is revealed in the book of Hebrews, as greater than all of the prophets of the Old Testament and greater than the levitical priesthood. Jesus is the Christ of the eternal ages; He lives without beginning and without end, the alpha and the omega.

Jesus cannot alter Himself. It is no small privilege that we can choose the Lord as our Savior. We would only have a form of morality; only lofty ideals. Only God has such eternal power. Jesus could have no preexistence, if not God. Nor could He have taken part in the creation of the universe. If He were simply another man Who lived a normal lifespan and died, then His life would have no effect upon our lives today. If He is not alive and resurrected, then the eternal Word of God has no forever.

If Bobby could not proclaim such a Christ to us, then his teaching would be mere speculation.

There is a practical side to this verse. If we think that the world around us is too much to bear, and we want to give up in discouragement and despair. Christ sustained, delivered and preserves His people yesterday. What He has done in the past, He will continue to do in the present. Jesus is stability and He is deliverance, past and present.

The times that we live are described as times of peril. Realize this that, in the last days, difficult times will come. (Timothy). We cannot deny that difficult times are upon us. Indeed, all who desire to live in Christ will be persecuted. Evil men and imposters will proceed. What does this ever-worsening condition mean to us? We will not fear as long as we know Jesus is the same as He always has been. With our Savior watching our backs, we can depend upon Him.

Radical change is occurring everywhere in this world, but upon that, we have an unchanging Christ.

Throughout history, change has come very slowly. But in the past 100 years, changes have come upon us at a staggering pace; and lately, it all comes at a blinding speed. People are baffled by the new directions at every corner. People console themselves with the idea that history repeats itself, that it will settle down. But what is coming in these last days has never been experienced before. Yet, through it all, Jesus Christ is the same forever. Manners and civility seem to have been lost forever. Contentment with homelife replaced with materialism and a mad dash to succeed in the workplace. With all the education available, lies and ignorance continue to increase. The failure of evolving progressing society appear to be getting worse.

2Tim. 3:2–5 For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good, treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people.

The very Bible that reveals the solution in Jesus Christ, yet that Bible is reviled by the world as exclusive, racist and hateful. Jesus will never progress, evolve or degenerate.

The writer of Hebrews was in an era of vast change. He was a Hebrew of Hebrews, if it was Paul. The center of Jewish life would be ground to dust in A.D. 70. The nation was about to be scattered, throughout all the earth.

Hebrews 13:9 Don't be carried away by strange doctrines.

Hebrews 13:9 Do not be led away by diverse and strange teachings, for it is good for the heart to be strengthened by grace, not by foods, which have not benefited those devoted to them.

So Jesus Christ is the same today, amidst the changing thoughts and actions of today. Men are not proceeding in the ways of wisdom in the client nation. So revolutionary and new are these ideas coming to us. The old order of things is being discarded. Judging by the current trends, you cannot but wonder about the current outcome.

In the past, there have been plenty of men or women who have rejected Jesus Christ; but the hatred today is almost bewildering. The problems of the total depravity of man are denied and counted as relics of the past. When human thinking breaks down and it cannot be... So many turn to this text, Jesus Christ is the same today...

He said in the Olivet discourse, Matt. 24:5–9 For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will lead many astray. And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places. All these are but the beginning of the birth pains. "Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for my name's sake.

We have the capacity for destruction; we can destroy ourselves; but God will never allow it to go that far. That is His promise.

Jesus is speaking about 7 years of Tribulation, just prior to the set up the millennial kingdom. Coming events will happen. The world cannot expect peace. Without Christ there is no utopia.

Amid all of these disasters of life, Jesus is always the same, today, yesterday and tomorrow. Our faith may falter from time to time, but His Person never fails us.

We may lose out on friendship with those we have known. Christ is not swayed by circumstances or swayed by events. His words and works are unchangeable. With God, there is no variance or shifting of shadow.

Since Christ does the saving, He also does the keeping. God is always faithful in forgiving us, and in providing logistics, logistical grace for the believer; faithful in stabilizing and protecting the believer. God's immutability is stable in all times. No harm will befall the righteous. Nothing is impossible with God. All thanks to the savior with no beginning and no end.

Proverbs 12:21 No ill befalls the righteous, but the wicked are filled with trouble.

Certainly harm befalls the righteous and the unrighteous as well. There must be more here than simple adversity. But the wicked are loaded up with trouble. There is a contrast between the righteous and the wicked when it comes to no harm and trouble.

What Does it Mean, Harm?

1. Harm is aven, which means sorrow, wickedness.
2. The wicked come to harm and trouble, as the second line states. There is no argument here. This happens by way of trouble.
3. The righteous do not suffer this in the same way. No matter what we face, no matter all of those things, no harm will come to us. We have a protection that no one else has. We have problem solving devices that no one else understands; even though life can be difficult.
4. Righteous people, by the very fact of their righteousness (the believer living the spiritual life), don't have the wickedness or the frequent troubles of their own making. The spiritual life and those kinds of troubles are mutually exclusive, even though the circumstances may be similar.
5. The righteous do not experience the type of permanent sorrows that continuously follow the unrighteous. There is no peace, contentment in the souls of the unrighteous. They have no security; they have no idea what will happen in the future. We have no right to be insecure, because we are in the plan of God.
6. The permanent sorrows which continually follow the unrighteous are not ours.

It is not a guarantee of no calamity or harm to ever come upon us, as adversity. Personal righteousness is not an insulation from being out of fellowship. This does not prevent unforeseen circumstances which are. The believer can rebound and keep moving, with the mental attitude that is relaxed, an attitude of contentment. How can harm come to the believer who is living the spiritual life. It cannot. It is all about our attitude in adversity. Nothing can remove us from this life until God so deems that necessary. Everything that happens to you, you know it works together for good for those of you who love God. You cannot love God unless you are advancing to maturity.

People define love in a number of different ways, but those are a result of love. You must know the person; and you must have the capacity to love as well. That is why marriage or a proposal of marriage should come after a few years, so that you can be certain of compatibility with that person. This involves admiration and respect for that person, for personal love. This is related to their attractiveness to you.

In that case, sin can no longer be the source of harm or sorrow or wickedness. When there is unconfessed sin in the life, that is when harm comes in. Then adversity eats at you. You are outside of the plan of God. The righteous advancing believer in fellowship does not make the bad decisions of sin nature origin that bring a lasting wickedness of sorrow to themselves.

Regret is a terrible way to proceed forward in life. Being in fellowship, making bad decisions bring lasting wickedness and sorrow to ourselves. The believer can receive suffering in life, but that for the believer in fellowship, it is for our benefit. The believer in Jesus Christ advancing to spiritual maturity understands that this is simply a test, something that we simply need to pass. Paul had a thorn in his flesh for his entire life, and it did not bother him. He kept his eyes on the Lord. He was in fellowship; he continued to advance. Whatever happens in life, we pick ourselves up and advance. How can things work together for good? You have not lost anything in the plan of God, when you face adversity. This is not the same kind of wickedness or sorrow which is found in the unrighteous. They have no recourse or resources to overcome it. A life of fear and instability. How can harm come upon the believer, when all things work together for good? It cannot.

The mature spiritual life always precludes a life of adversity which harms them. Harm and the spiritual life are mutually exclusive. Now we can better understand the second line:

Proverbs 12:21b ...but the wicked are filled with trouble.

The wicked reversionist or unbeliever make their own suffering. Why do you think we have been studying wisdom as long as we have? This is so that we have discernment. The bad decisions; the things that we do which cause us to go awry.

People who reject Bible doctrine (or salvation), follow into desperation, constantly without peace or joy in their souls, plotting their own evil outcomes. People do not even realize that they are seeking evil outcomes. They do not intend to do that, but trouble fills their life. This is both an inward and an outward trouble. It is harm; that's harm. No one escapes the justice of God, especially the wicked. That is the faith rest rationale. "How can they get away with that?" you may think, but they are filled with trouble. You don't know what kind of turmoil and trouble is in their souls. No one gets away with anything. They are coming to harm; you're not. Judgment will be meted out for those who seek and perpetuate evil. That is the epitome of trouble that no one should seek. Retribution never seems to both those who reject God. They are humanists. Atheists hate Christianity; they hate Bible doctrine. Remember the description of these people and all of their problems? God has a plan for them, and it is not pretty. They will be angry, filled with disappointment. Always seeking their desires, but feeling no ultimate lasting satisfaction at their met goals. They do not understand why they are so upset. Perpetrating evil, schemes to improve the human race, and there is great trouble and suffering in life. Those people can never realize their goals and ideals. They can never be satisfied with their little victories in life. Those who legislate in Congress have unintended consequences, which reveals them to look like idiots. Always something else, never satisfied by what they have done. We can always be satisfied in the plan of God, day after day. But they will never be satisfied by turning the United States into a socialist country. Terrible divisiveness, anger, hatred, everyone pointing a finger at someone else. They blame others for their own problems.

Do you think that is a great way to live? Do you think that people are happy and satisfied under those conditions? They are not. They were fall into the miseries of governing systems the socialism causes. Even the power and success brings them no happiness. They bring maximum suffering to others; and still, it remains in their own souls.

Those without Christ and without hope, it is constant trouble and unhappiness.

Marx's watchword is struggle, and that is all that they have. They face a lifetime of struggle. We face struggles, but that is not our entire life. The life without the perspective of Bible doctrine. One soul won to Christ is greater than all of those little victories. We enjoy a greater accomplishment in life than they will ever know. On a good day in the plan of God, we have greater enjoyment than these others will ever have. How long will we live? Compared to eternity, our time is nothing. That is a great faith rest rationale.

Bobby Bowton (?) coached many years in Florida and just died. A journalist in Atlanta and had a great relationship with him. They were talking about the coaching tree which came out of his system. Mark Ricks came out of his system. This journalism was a commentator who is a believer. He said that one of the greatest things that ever happened is, he brought Mark Ricks to Christ.

Death is not the end for us. It is a beginning for us. That is the perspective of growing believers. As the believer, what is there to fear? Our circumstances, the loss of these things in human life? These are not of the highest importance in our life. What is there to fear? To those who are eternally hopeless? What gain is there to them?

The relaxed mental attitude of the mature believer is a deterrent to sorrow, wickedness and trouble in this life. That is the bottom line for this passage. We live with the unique mind of the greatest Person in the universe. We may be the least successful of all human beings; what you think is what you are, not what you do. This precludes you from harm.

Proverbs 12:21 No ill befalls the righteous, but the wicked are filled with trouble.

Proverbs 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

What else could we add to what we have studied? Solomon appears to have a problem with this particular subject. As we continue to study this potent sin of lying. It causes the breakdown of people and nations. This verse brings the Lord into the picture. Prior verses were simply relational with others.

Here, the word abomination is used. If something is an abomination to the Lord, you don't want any part of it.

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/15/2021 1Sunday

Proverbs 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

Lying lips is simply lying; and the word abomination is very strong. It seems that Solomon has the issue of lying in this chapter. Circumstances have brought this subject to his attention. We continue to study this very important sin. It causes the breakdown of relationships, between people, nations, and with the Lord Himself. This brings the Lord Jesus Christ into the picture.

Abomination is a word that we must clearly understand, as it reflects God's attitude towards lying. There are many people who live by lies. This is what they do. Abomination is relevant to today.

The Word Abomination Is Tôw'êvâh (הַבְּזוּת) [Pronounced To-ğay-vawh]

1. It does mean abomination; but a stronger meaning when used in connection with the Lord.
2. This means, detestable, an object of loathing.
3. This loathing is pure hostility from God; a completely unacceptable condition in His eyes.
4. Few things arouse the Lord's ire more than lying lips; that should tell us how Jesus looks at our lives.
5. God is not only disgusted with lying lips, but He has a very hostile attitude towards all who lie; and to the lie itself; the subject of the lie.
6. This is an attitude that spurs God to action.
7. This brings serious consequences upon the liar. Propaganda is lying; and God is cognizant of that.

This is one of the 7 worst sins.

Prov. 6:16–19 There are six things that the LORD hates, seven that are an abomination to him: haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that devises wicked plans, feet that make haste to run to evil, a false witness who breathes out lies, and one who sows discord among brothers.

Clearly God detests these things. Haughty eyes is arrogance, the basic mental attitude sins. The is the opposite attitude of the mature believer. God is opposed to the proud and gives grace to the humble.

Lying tongue is the #2 on the list. #3 is murder. #4 a heart that devises evil plans. The plotting of the humanists. This can include lying to carry out these evil plans. #5 is feet that run rapidly to evil. They look for trouble to stir up. A sin of action. Like a mob running to a riot. The evil actions of the Marxists in our country today. Stirring up trouble and unrest in our country today. #6 a false witness who utters lies. Another aspect of lying lips. Same as Prov. 12:17. #7 is the one who spreads strife among brothers. Slander, malicious gossip, sins that directly affect other people. Lying lips a tool to divide and separate people.

These sins cover so much territory. Prov. 16:28 A dishonest man spreads strife, and a whisperer separates close friends.

Despicable falsehoods. When you find this sort of thing in a church, this divides the body of Christ. We are of one mind. We are growing spiritually together. Those gossiping, slandering, etc. The unity of the church is divided. This can also divide the nation like the United States. We have been deeply divided in the United States. The lies of humanism, of antifa, or socialism, of Marxism, the lies of climate change.

3 of the 7 sins are verbal sins of the tongue. That makes this very important. That is why the word tôw'êvâh (הַוְּבִיחַ) [pronounced to-gay-VAWH] is used.

Lying Lips

1. God's view of lying lips is obviously that it is evil and that He despises it.
2. Sinful and detestable speech is something that God cannot overlook. He cannot simply overlook this. His righteousness brings a detestable attitude.
3. Lying lips bring severe individual discipline. Also the punishment of the 5 cycles of discipline on a nation. Bobby receives letters about a lesson being discouraging. It is all designed for doctrine to be implanted in your soul. This is an exercise; an exercise in life. Do not be discouraged by what you hear. If this nation is inundated with lying lips, don't get upset. We can already see things going on which are divine discipline in nation USA.
4. Lying lips contribute to propaganda where evil.

God loathes lies.

Rejecting the Rule of Law

1. Violations of the Mosaic Law bring severe discipline to nation Israel. This is basically rejecting God and His Word. Evil religion and idolatry; great repercussions from God. One of the Ten Commandments is against false witness or lying.
2. God loathes those who flaunt and violate His Law.
3. God loathes those who turn the good brought by law into the evil of antinomianism. Against law, against the rule of law.

4. God despises the person who is against the rule of law. They are anti-divine establishment. The Mosaic Law was designed to govern a nation; and these principles are absolute and good for all time.
5. This anti-law person is the one described in Prov. 6:18, the person whose feet run rapidly to evil; or the perverse man who stirs up strife. Those are 2 of the 7 worst sins.
6. Such anti-law, so antinomian persons are always looking for and finding trouble. We have a nation full of this right this moment.

Moving to a subject which should not be controversial; but it is. The subject of homosexuality catalogued. This is a subject of great lies and misinformation. The organization of LGBTQ stir up a great deal of trouble. Today, homosexuality is acceptable but actively and forcefully promoted in this country as normal and natural. Even as a genetic propensity from birth, as if God assigned people to be homosexual from birth. That pro-homosexual support is based upon a lie, according to divine law. That which violates the principles of divine law is a lie. As a lie, is an abomination.

Leviticus. 18:22 You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; it is an abomination.

It is pretty clear. Today, we have many lies to contradict that.

The Bible and Homosexuality

1. Sex between males is called an abomination.
2. This is the same Hebrew noun that we just saw. Loathing. Very strong. Bobby cannot say that homosexuality is normal.
3. There is no doubt how God views sex between men with men and women with women. Bobby cannot renounce these words.
4. Homosexuality and lesbianism is detestable in God's sight.
5. It is a perversion of God's gift to mankind of sexuality between a man and a woman. One of the greatest expressions of love in marriage. When it is perverted or wrong, then it is an abomination. It is blessing turned to cursing. We cannot make an exception to God's laws. We cannot, as believers in Jesus Christ, lend support to the idea of homosexual marriage. This does not legitimize the activity under divine law. This is not just a cultural law only for Israel. God's law, His stated law, His principles of law are normative for all time.

Marriage is defined by a union of one man and one woman. Homosexuality and homosexual marriages are not condoned anywhere in Scripture.

Proverbs 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

Proverbs 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

Lying lips, liars, those who lie and the lies that they tell. V. 22 calls those lies an abomination, which is tôw'êvâh (תּוֹעֵבָה) [pronounced to-gay-VAWH].

An practical illustration of lies that are told in direct contradiction for the laws laid down for national Israel. Clearly, these laws do not govern the United States of America. In those days, the Mosaic Law was the law of Israel. Even though it is not a law for us today, the principles are good for all time. They guide and direct morality for divine establishment today. When we depart from these laws, we go down.

There are a great many lies associated with homosexuality. Marriage between two men (or two women) is not condoned either. Marriage is defined as the union between one man and one woman. The divine institution of marriage does not include homosexuals. There are no loopholes in God's Law. No technicalities to escape this law.

The Biblical institution of marriage was established at creation by God. The Biblical divine institution of marriage is perverted by same-sex unions. It is a lie, therefore. That which is promoted by society is a lie. The whole concept of homosexuality that it is acceptable, natural and admirable, is a lie from lying lips. It is an attempt to naturalize homosexuality. Humanists do not care about violating God's Law. The attacks of those who support homosexuality reveal the true nature of the lie. Lies must be forced and enforced in order to become true in the relative sense. Humanistic propaganda. It is certainly sin and perversity. The general populace has accepted it.

Homosexuality and Lying Lips

1. Those who live it and promote it are guilty of lying lips.
2. One illustration; prevalent. Incredible pressure is put upon society regarding this subject. LGBTQ have tremendous power in the government today. This is not to say that we hate them. It is a lie.
3. They are detestable in the sight of God.
4. They are objects of divine institution loathing.
5. This is God's attitude, not our attitude.
6. The violation of God's Law is punished by God, not by us. There is great misunderstanding here.
7. As Christians, we have no authorization to hate or to loathe anyone, despite the sins that they commit.
8. We may be disgusted by homosexual activities; we may be concerned about its impact on individuals and the nation; and we decry the radicalization and promotion and intimidation of politicized homosexuality. It has become a very political subject. It is no longer behind closed doors.
9. Another very important principle: we must not hate the persons who are involved. We have other problem solving devices to use. We have no okay to hate people who hate us or lie to us. We are mandated for impersonal love. Love your neighbor as yourself. We have no authorization to hate anyone.

10. In fact, they are sinners, according to the Scriptures; and all sinners are souls for whom Christ died. Even the very worst sins. All of these people, Jesus died for. The cruelty in the world. Bobby and his wife watch the Forensic Files. We have a depraved nature. As sinners, we are an abomination to the Lord. We are all sinners and souls for whom Christ died.
11. We do not castigate or judge anyone. We do not intimidate or persecute anyone. They might judge us, intimidate and persecute us. Many secularists will disagree with our beliefs.
12. We are mandated to evangelize. No matter what their sins are. Many people in Berachah are a part of the prison ministry. The recidivism for prisoners ministered to, is very low. It is not to take political action and say, "We are going to fight you bums in the street." We have the right to defend our homes against intruders. We are not to blow up buildings or carry a rifle about. Bobby was a rifleman at one time, and he felt very comfortable with an M16, but for an entirely different reason.

Homosexuality is promoted as a normal lifestyle and we are accused of being homophobic, which is a slur against those who hold the correct position. We are called phobic to discredit Christianity and Christians. We are called anti-gay, anti-minority, anti-Islam, and anti-any victim group. The same holds true. We oppose the evil, lying sinful practices of these groups; but never hate the individuals.

The homophobic slurs are delivered with the intent of shutting down all discussion. Those labels are designed to terrorize and to silence Christians. On college campuses, there are no first amendment rights for homophobes or any hater. These groups express pure hatred, which they accuse us of. They seek to justify what is sin; what is an abomination. Any statement to the contrary is a lie. The entire LGBTQ position is a lie. But let God be the judge of those lying, hateful attacks. Allow God to take care of those individuals. Therefore, we have no excuse, everyone who passes judgment. Leave it alone; leave it to God. Let Him handle any other kinds of lies that you hear.

We can certainly vote; but when it comes right down to it, who will handle these lies and where do the cycles of discipline come from, they come from God. This epithet is just a way to intimidate and separate people; to make the pariahs in society. The idea is to spread strife. Lies and spreading strife, both of which are abominations. In truth, Christians are the least of all people to hold positions of hatred. We do not fear others because they are different. We do not fear them. The lie is, we fear them. We believe in what the Lord tells us. We are the ones accused of hatred; and that is untrue.

We evangelize and we recognize their need for doctrine. The change of thinking is the only thing that makes sense. We can argue with people with great passion; about sins, about our society, about history. But if there is no change of thinking, it does no good. Change comes from the maturing process of the believer.

You may have some things in common; but do not think you will ever be bipartisan with the humanist. We think with the mind of Christ. They think with the mind of humanity. They have no way to change their thinking. They are entrenched in it. It is easy for them to fall back into the same patterns. We sometimes get upset with what we see, but we forget Who is in charge; Who saves us. We wish to bring these people to Christ. They need a change of thinking. Today, there are those who want to counsel homosexuals. Does this change their minds or propensity? What changes the mind? Bible doctrine. We are ambassadors for Jesus Christ. Homosexuals need Jesus Christ; just as all people do. Only God does that. Only God condemns. God punishes for sin and He punishes for perversion. When homosexuality is rampant in society, the fifth cycle of discipline is administered to the nation. What form it takes is God's prerogative.

There is something else here that we should know. The perverse punish themselves with their perversity. Romans 1:24–27 Therefore God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts to impurity, to the dishonoring of their bodies among themselves, because they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever! Amen. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error.

When you are in such violation of divine law, there is no happiness in that. The push of LGBTQ is to bring their beliefs and lifestyles into mainstream America. They feel good about themselves and their practices; and that is what it is designed to do. Their militancy gives them away. There is no peace in their souls. In these conditions, God gives us the ability to see how bad people can become, when we defy the laws of God and fail to develop and grow in the spiritual life of Christianity. Do not be a part of the problem. Do not succumb to fear or humanism. Be a part of the solution with divine thinking. If you are directly addressed, then stand on principle. We need the truth; God's truth.

We have a spiritual code of ministry. So much of what Bob taught is pertinent to what is happening today. Bob on our code of ethics: A pivot of mature believers breaks no laws, sponsors no violence, including assassination, confiscates no property; but turns the world upside down through the invisible force of Bible doctrine through the Royal Family Honor Code.”

Royal Family Honor Code

1. As joint heirs, we are royalty. We are members of an aristocracy which lives by a code, a code of ethics.
2. So we are Church Age believers are given a code of honor by which to live.
3. The code for the royal family requires not just morality and also integrity that the rest of the world does not have. 250 page book on Christian integrity.
4. Christian integrity is our means and way of living and it can only be attained by Bible doctrine and the enabling power of God the Holy Spirit.

5. As the believer advances to spiritual maturity, he or she more and more fully orients to God's absolute eternal essence and is rightly motivated for living the honor code. Rom. 12:2 with renovated thinking.
6. The members of the royal family who live by this code, elevated standards, fulfil the noble obligation to represent Jesus Christ before mankind and before the angels in the Angelic Conflict.

That is the code that we have; that is not living a lie. The illustration of homosexuality is a lie and those who live it, live a lie. It is an abomination. It is detestable to the Lord; and object of loathing to the Lord.

Lesson #0266                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT    8/18/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 12:22a Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD,...

The amazing sins that we see every day. Blame others. Lies are an abomination, not just to other people, but also to the Lord. Abomination must be understood. It drives Bobby crazy to hear all of the lies today. We always have the fall back on the justice of God. What matters is what is God's attitude towards it. tôw'êvâh (הַוְנוֹת) [pronounced to-gay-VAWH]. Lying lips are loathed by the Lord. This gives us a good idea what God thinks of these things. Few things arouse God's anger ire more than lies. Satan is the father of lies; and God detests the lies of Satan. God's view of lying is obvious; it is evil; total evil. One of the 7 worst sins. This sinful and detestable speech. God not only finds it detestable; but He cannot overlook it. Evil become good and good becomes evil. Propaganda; lying lips. When a nation degenerates to massive lies at all levels, it leads to severe discipline. We do not know how far all of this will go.

Bobby had a flashback yesterday when he saw all of the people at Baugram airbase. It reminded him of 1975 and the 14th infantry was sitting on a runway in Hawaii, and they were tasked to securing the airfields in Saigon. They never got off the ground, because they overran it so quickly. A total embarrassment to this country. We are still here. We saw 1975 is a great disaster. 10 years and 50,000 died, and for what? We don't need to ask that question. God allows evil; and He allows evil for our benefit. There are horrors in this world; and this is just beginning in Afghanistan. There is evil in this world. We have the solution. We can be encouraged no matter what. This is why wisdom is so important. It allows us to see, and cut through all of the discouragement, horror and lies. We can see the solution in what God has provided for everyone of us. We have all that we need.

So many great lies being perpetrated in our nation right now. There are lies about climate change and the end of the world. We have to do something immediately. Lies about medical circumstances today; and they cannot all be right. Many are contradictory. Are you worried about that? There are lies about American being an evil country. The lies are designed to discourage. Lies that police, not criminals, are the real problems in the street. We don't need criminals in prison. Lies. Lies about socialism and Marxism. The answer is not humanism; the answer is always spiritual.

Inequality, poverty and misery will always be with us in this world. No one will establish a utopia in this world. Lies today about who is at fault; always lies when things go awry.

There are lies about Christianity and its value to society. Lies about human sexuality and gender dysphoria. Bobby illustrated this lie with homosexuality and lesbianism. These things are not just accepted, but touted and a claim that there is a genetic propensity, as if God assigned some to be homosexual and others to be heterosexual. This is touted by humanists to be a virtuous choice. Even legitimate for marriage. And anyone who disagrees with this is homophobic and hate mongers. The Scripture tells us God's opinion. If it is a lie, then it is an abomination to the Lord.

Leviticus 18 a statute to the Mosaic Law; and it reflects God's standards for people and nations throughout human history. Anything else is a lie. Leviticus 18:22 You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; it is an abomination. Same word for abomination.

Remember, immutable God has not changed His view on this subject to accommodate modern sensibilities and practices. Even some Christians are saying, "That was fine for back them." God does not change; His Word does not change. It was true then and it is true now.

Homosexuality

1. Those who promote homosexuality, they are denying the truth and validity of scripture. That makes it a lie.
2. There is not honor code in these people in promoting sin and abomination. The members of the royal family who live by this elevated code of moral standards, represent Jesus Christ on this earth.
3. Those who promote homosexuality are ignoring the terror of divine loathing. That is a dangerous position to take. Dangerous to ignore. That is why Bobby believes, because of the promotion of LGBTQ and the legislation promoting it, we are seeing tremendous discipline in this country today.
4. Rom. 1:27 God gives them the due penalty of their error. The only recourse that they have to justify themselves is to just deny Scripture for any number of reasons. They accept only what they want to accept; and reject the rest as anachronistic and untrue. Morality for them is relative; changing with the whims of society. This will give rise to suppression by force or persecution if necessary. It is a lie to label the believer is a homophobe. Rom. 1:26–27 defines their abominations and the consequences. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature; and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error. Natural is exchanged for that which is unnatural. The NT confirms what is found in the old. God allows such evil actions, but with very unpleasant consequences, based upon their own bad decisions and activities. God turns them over to their own disgusting acts. There is no happiness in that. Sexuality is a wonderful gift given to us by God. Otherwise, it has many difficult and evil and bad repercussions. The great misery and abomination is the misery that it brings to the perpetrators who choose this path. In their own souls, they are miserable. It is a degradation to them.

These are all lying lips.

Thus we saw the fate of Sodom, the all-pervasive of homosexuality in that city which caused its downfall. Many other justifications are give. Sodom was ignored and no other. This has repercussions on a national level.

Leviticus 18:26–30 But you shall keep My statutes and My rules and do none of these abominations, either the native or the stranger who sojourns among you (for the people of the land, who were before you, did all of these abominations, so that the land became unclean), lest the land vomit you out when you make it unclean, as it vomited out the nation that was before you. For everyone who does any of these abominations, the persons who do them shall be cut off from among their people. So keep My charge never to practice any of these abominable customs that were practiced before you, and never to make yourselves unclean by them: I am the LORD your God."

These are promises made by God. We do not fear homosexuality; but we do fear the wrath of God.

Don't be fooled and please don't be frightened. These things are still in effect today. We are seeing that punishment manifested.

With regard to the destruction of Sodom and also Gomorrah. Do not entertain the argument in defense of homosexuality. They were not destroyed simply for attacking the angelic emissaries for coming to their city. The attack against God and His angelic representatives was a direct result of the perverse attitudes of the men of that city.

Abraham could not even find 10 righteous people in that city. Any resistance by humanity indicates lying lips in action. There will be repercussions to a nation and to individuals. The Scriptures directly contradict all of the propaganda that we hear today.

Lying as the Basic Sin of the Tongue

1. Lying is the total misuse of the unique faculty of speech. No other creature can do what we do.
2. The lips and the tongue that form human speech were designed to proclaim thought.
3. Thought that communicates great divine establishment and doctrinal wisdom and even noble human ideas.
4. But, after the fall of mankind in the garden, the lips and the tongue took on a very sinful, dark side.
5. Lying became a very basic sin of the tongue.

Now, to contrasty, look at v. 22b:

Proverbs 12:22b ...but those who act faithfully are His delight.

The first line is about lying; the second line is about faithfulness to the truth.

Faithful is ʿēmûwnâh (אֱמוּנָה) [pronounced eh-moo-NAWH], which thinking was adopted by the Marines for their slogan. Semper phigelos. Fidelity to the truth without exceptions.

Those who act faithfully are God's delight. râtsôwn (רָצוֹן) [pronounced raw-TSOWN], which means, own will, free will, favour, grace, accepted, acceptable; to be pleased with, to enjoy; desire, pleasure, delight.

God's Favor Towards Truth

1. God's favor is the result of every aspect of our lives. The more we grow, the more than we can do that. This is something that we should all desire. God's favor is His great and greater grace to us. We all have grace in many ways. We have the grace resources that God has given us to live the spiritual life.
2. To get greater grace, we must grow in grace and knowledge.
3. This verse includes fidelity; fidelity to the truth as the means to divine favor. Truth-telling to other people. That can simply mean that we stick to the facts that are known and observed.

There may be attacks and persecution. Accusations of being homophobic or racist. When they cannot argue the truth, they must resort to name-calling. Whenever you are confronted with something like this, stick to the truth of the Bible. "I have to stick to the truth, which is the truth of Scripture." Holding to the truth of the Word of God is always a favorable activity of God. Bible doctrine is the highest and best activity for every believer. It is blessed by God for greater favor. Simply fidelity to the Word of God; fidelity to the truth. We must also be fidelity to the truth of God's Word.

We should know exactly what was drilled into you by the Marine corps, if you are a Marine. The wisdom that we have been studying for the last several years. Lying lips and being faithful to the truth. The first, God despises; the second is God's delight.

Proverbs 12:22 Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who act faithfully are his delight.

Lesson #0267

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/19/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims folly.

The second line takes up the results of misleading and lying lips. The first question to ask is the one, isn't knowledge something that should be learned, understood and passed on.

Not all knowledge is good knowledge. Many things taught in school today would not be understood as good knowledge. Like the propaganda of Marxism. Many people in this country do not know what the principles of Marxism are. There are many other lies that have been passed along. But it is good to be able to identify evil.

The knowledge of truth and Bible doctrine must be learned by the believer. We are quite clear on that. That is what metabolizing Bible doctrine is all about. Hence we grow spiritually. So we should know it, not conceal it.

None of what Bobby has talked about seems to apply.

Concealing Knowledge

1. The context is wisdom being distinguished from folly.
2. In this case, the knowledge would be conversational.
3. It is a personal exchange between people.
4. In other words, personal details being exchanged between people.
5. We can understand what it means to conceal knowledge. It is knowledge of personal details of your life and the personal details of the lives of others. It is about conversing where knowledge is passed on.

The word conceal is kâçâh (כִּסְּוּ) [pronounced kaw-SAWH]. We form thoughts and from that knowledge we speak. Therefore, knowledge cannot always and should not be concealed. In this case, it is a personal knowledge that should be kept. We have to communicate.

Where Do We Go with This?

1. Kaçah is about speaking with discretion. It is not that you say nothing; but what do you say about yourself and others?
2. Keeping your mouth in check instead of blurting out secrets about yourself and others. Have discretion here.
3. Always take into consideration, to whom are you speaking? Who are you talking to? If you are talking to a blabbermouth, then be careful. Maybe don't say anything which is personal. Conceal knowledge. The prudent person conceals this kind of knowledge.
4. To talk without discretion comes back to haunt you. It can be used against you. That is why this is necessary. That is why keeping knowledge to yourself is critical.
5. It may be revealed to still other people? It could be revealed to others who will then spread it around. There is a snowball effect. You say too much. You want to blurt out something that is private. Keep your mouth shut.
6. It is not prudent on the part of the speaker to be indiscreet. Everyone today is indiscrete, especially when they are younger. Not just what they say but what they do. How many times have such things come back to haunt them. Politicians have this sprung on them many times. They said too much when young. They were indiscrete in their speech.

7. So the prudent man or the shrewd man restrains himself from revealing or displaying too much. In an old phrase, he keeps his own counsel. He says little or nothing about his intentions. There are times to give opinions; to let others know your intents. But there are times to conceal such things. Be careful, do not reveal yourself to hostile or competitive people. Be careful about what you are doing and where you are going. Maintain a certain privacy. This verse is about individual privacy, for yourself and others.

We see the relationship to the second line. A fool proclaims folly.

A perfect definition of indiscrete is getting together with others and talking about 3rd parties. We all have a right to have our own lives. We don't need to reveal such things to others. And when you say, "Don't tell anyone about this," almost guaranteed that they will. Watch your talk. It is well to remember. When you get a phone call and they sound like a recording and they want your SS# and your bank account. Don't reveal too much. Some people cannot resist telling all. Mistaking that on the good side, they think they are being honest and forthright. For some who know something, it is an ego burst, to know something that no one else knows.

Discernment/prudence

1. There is prudence, discernment, wisdom in not revealing to others what is given in confidence. Someone reveals something to you in confidence; you must not tell anyone else.
2. You must refrain from providing unnecessary personal details to others. Of your spouse, of your friends. You have an obligation. You are then a prudent, wise person who shows discernment.
3. Such discernment shows care and thought for the future.
4. A prudent person is trustworthy. They can keep a secret and it conceals confidences. Trust is a very important part of ...
5. The prudent person discerns what misplaced and misunderstood words can do. Destruction; destruction of people and reputations. Just a few indiscrete and misunderstood and lying words. Lying is really not in the picture here.
6. This is the value of restraint from loose lips. Loose lips sink ships. This could be heard in the wrong quarters and cause military disasters. We were constantly worried about spies in WWII. No soldier and no airman and no sailor was to speak to anyone outside of an operation about it. This is why it is connected to speech of folly.
7. A prudent person keeps one's own business private and he values privacy for himself and for others. Privacy is greatly at risk about us today. You get some knowledge and you just let it go. It can be indirect and there does not appear to be any repercussions.
8. The prudent person is circumspect and very careful about what he or she says; and careful about their own deeds and thoughts. Things you know that no one else knows.

9. Keep the details of your personal life personal. Do not broadcast them. Some people cannot wait to talk about themselves. Most interesting topic to themselves is themselves. Might not be very interesting to others. Foolish people have no unspoken thoughts. They reveal too many confidential details. It may cause judging, maligning, against them.

You be careful about what you write on the internet about people. It never goes away.

To kiss and tell, and it is much worse than that now. Telling others about your relationship with someone else, with details. These are things that you must consider more and more today. This line is even more important today, more than in the day that this was written.

Being Uncircumspect about Your Speech

1. Too much talk comes back on a person in expected and unhappy ways.
2. Ill-advised talk can be used against a person at another time.
3. Consider the possible impact of words spoken to day on what happens tomorrow. Look before you speak; think before you speak.
4. A thought in the future is a thought of prudence. Do not just live in the here and now. Not to follow this advice, this is fools proclaiming folly.

When you talk to someone else, it better be someone you totally trust. People that you talk to have their own agendas happening as well; and they might be indiscrete.

The people who have the least to say; they are the ones who often speak the most. His faults and his or her sins. Meetings; and they are talk, talk, talk. Meetings are often to spread information, to correct failures, etc. In so many meetings, someone just has to talk; to spout meaningless words. People should only talk in meetings when they have something to say. Some just want to talk and demonstrate their knowledge and wisdom. They reveal their lack of propriety. You find out about people in meetings.

People who just talk often get a reputation. What they say that is indiscrete has exactly the opposite effect of what was intended. Speak when you have something to say.

So many meetings that Bobby attended in the army degenerated into a waste of time. It was frustrating to most and often complained about when these meetings got out of hand. Lieutenant so-and-so just has to tell everyone about what he is doing. An arrogant self-promoter. So many meetings end up in arrogant self-promotion. Meetings gone awry. Knowledge that needed to be concealed. Meetings should be concise, ..., and over. Reveal only what is pertinent and essential. People who promote themselves. A believer in Jesus Christ who does this is completely out of line. Who promotes you? God does; or He does not. That is a person with discrimination or a relaxed mental attitude. They can hold back their tongue and not promote themselves.

Sometimes, God has a plan for us elsewhere. In the meantime, be patient and hold your tongue. Bobby had to use rebound many times during meetings. "I wish that he would just shut up."

Prudent concealment of knowledge glorifies God. Know when to speak and when not to speak. And also to learn from past mistakes in this area. We have all made the mistake, "I wish that I had not said this."

When is the best time to speak. That is when your words have maximum impact and express the most wisdom. Add wisdom to timing and you will have something of value to say. You do not have to speak about everything. Keep it for when something has maximum impact. There are times when you should conceal thoughts.

So many of us have said too much about our personal lives; and this comes back to haunt us. That is indiscrete. When you tell someone personal details, think many times for before revealing that.

Proverbs 12:23 A prudent man conceals knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims folly.

We will spend some time on v. 24.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Bobby will develop a whole subject about work and labor. We can make a living by getting a check from the government. People suddenly discover that they can not work and college more money. Businesses are opening up and cannot find employees. What is the wisdom in all of that? What should we know about these things. This verse is related directly to the doctrine of work.

The diligent rise to the top and the lazy sink to the bottom. That is what we do to make a living. It is all about working; all about having a profession.

Introduction

It is not just ability alone. Diligence is hard work. Diligence is Abraham out your labor and how you do it.

1. It is not just about your ability alone to secure advancement and success.
2. There must be a work ethic; hard work.
3. Otherwise, talent and brilliance counts for very little.
4. The talented and brilliant person might get overconfident, arrogant, or just lazy. They fail to apply themselves to the work at hand. Or they cannot get along with people they view as dull, stupid or beneath them. We must have the work ethic to go with it. We will not rule. We will be put into forced labor. It does not mean exactly what you think it means.
5. Combined diligence, a strong work ethic and talent, brings a person to the top of his or her field. It breeds success. The work ethic is key.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

This verse is as practical as it gets. We have had a lot of isolation, a lot of mask wearing, and many people who have had to work at home or not work at all. There are many businesses now who cannot find someone to work; or someone who wants to work. It is easier to sit at home and receive a check. Work is the subject of v. 24.

What you do to make a living, a profession. What do you do to provide for yourself and for your family. Forced labor sounds like slavery; it sounds like you have no other choice. The upside is, the diligent will rule; they will be successful in whatever work that they do. Important to distinguish between diligence and slackness when it comes to work. What is the divine perspective on work.

It is God's design that men do work. What is the believer's obligation to work? What is our attitude as believers towards work? Should the believer ever retire from all work? Is there a time when work is no longer necessary. All of these questions need to be answered. We will develop a complete doctrine of work in the next few classes. What should our attitude be towards work? What is God's attitude towards work?

The correct attitude falls under the term diligent. This is hard work and ethics regarding work. What is your attitude in a work ethic? Those who would rise to the top must have this diligence, this hard work ethic. Many people have ability in many areas. Ability alone does not cause people to rise to the top. Anyone with ability could rise up. Talent and brilliance count for little if there is little hard work associated with it. The slack, the lazy will not find suggest. And they will work grudgingly and of necessity, hating every minute that they must be at work in menial jobs, in jobs which seem to mean nothing in the whole scope of things. Compare to those with a work ethic and have risen up to their potential. The slack are those who wait for their ship to come in. They cannot seem to get started. Their motivation is weak or nonexistence. They will flounder and stagnate. They will become dependent upon other people or upon government. These types who stagnate, who flounder, cannot seem to choose a work environment; or a career path. They fail to become educated. They have no foresight. They hop from job to job and soon they lose interest or drive for that job. They have a self image. In arrogance, they see themselves on top. No one fulfills their potential or comes to the point of satisfaction, without diligence, without a work ethic, without preparation.

If such a person gets to a top position, and it does happen; leadership and executives, without diligence, they are woefully unprepared for any difficult or demanding task coming to them in that position. If you don't believe that, just look at our national leadership. They are interested in their own agenda; but they are very good at making excuses and blaming others. There is no diligence there; it is merely self-promotion.

Diligence includes on-the-job preparation. You learn at each step in the ladder and learn and well executes that job in which they are currently employed. People get antsy. They want promotion; they want to move up. Diligence demands. You are then qualified for what the Lord has for you. You learn; and you cannot afford to be slack or lazy in a job that you do. The non-diligent are often in a state of constant flux. They never stay in a place long enough to fully learn a job. They are impatient, dissatisfied with the slow progress made in their lives. You must remember, God has a plan for your life. What you do takes up a good portion of your life. God has a plan for that part of your life. You need to do is prepare. When you are diligent in small things, so you are ready to be diligent in greater things. There is a flaw in such thinking. Diligence and self-centeredness. When you are self-centered, you want to find ways out of work. That is a fool. You want the gain but without the work. They want to be the boss; they want to rule. They do not have the drive or competence in leadership. They feel unappreciated and disrespected, when they have never done anything to earn respect.

People are required to work to live, unless they live off of others. Many people do get by, day-to-day, doing as little as possible. They will never fulfill their potential. You do not fulfill the plan of God with that work ethic; or that inflated self-image. This describes many criminals. Lazy, looking for paths to get around work.

The first rule of any HR dept; do not hire arrogance. Hire diligence; hire hard work. This means that you ask the right questions. Use discernment and wisdom in interviewing potential employees. Once you hire a self-centered person, you have hired inertia, incompetence, the weak link; the one who brings down the others, with their bad attitude. It happens in every organization. Always someone who does not have the work ethic; who is not diligent. The self-centered demand respect, but they demand it without any performance. They want success, but without hard work. This is not how you gain respect or gain promotion.

“I am the most unappreciated person in this entire organization. I think I am doing a greater job than them.” Is that the right attitude? No. You work hard and you let God promote you. If you think that you are unappreciated. The only person who knows to properly appreciate you or not who is important, is the Lord.

Proverbs 12:24a The hand of the diligent will rule,...

The diligent show themselves to be productive. Success, satisfaction, glorifying God without that diligent labor. Glorifying God is related to your diligence.

Such a person can fake it, and they often do. They talk about the great job that they do; or they work when someone is watching, but they don't work when no one is looking. They take credit where credit is not due. They will never have the accomplishment of the person who works hard. When all of this non-diligence does not seem to work, they become disgruntled, angry, they blame others for their own circumstances, but it is all of their own making. What in the end do you actually do? Do you work to be praised? Do you work for money? There is more to working than just to make a living. That is what the doctrine of work will be about.

The non-diligent are all over this nation. They are ripe of socialist propaganda. They want immediate success without diligence. They have a great laziness; they have a lack of motivation. We understand that socialism provides for people. It provides for much. That is not a work ethic. Welfare has turned much of our country towards socialism. Remuneration for doing nothing is the essence of socialism.

The first thing that pops into mind, is being a financial success. Finances, wealth; that is not the focus of this verse. It says that they will rule. There is the side in this life and in the afterlife. What you do has something to do with eternity. Producing divine good at your job is God's plan for you. What you do as divine good has eternal value. What does diligence entail?

Proverbs 12:24a The hand of the diligent will rule,...

Eph. 6:6 ...not by the way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but as bondservants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,...

This is our motivation.

Eph 6:7 ...rendering service with a good will as to the Lord and not to man,...

Do your job as unto the Lord. Render service as unto God.

Eph 6:8 ...knowing that whatever good anyone does, this he will receive back from the Lord, whether he is a bondservant or is free.

Whatever good thing that you do, you will receive back from the Lord, whether slave or free. Success, whether wealth or not. We have a service, whatever we do. Even slaves. Slaves were a part of their society. Paul wrote a letter to a slave owner. Whether free or slave, there is one work ethic. It is all about pleasing the Lord. This is not a brief for slavery.

Heb 12:28 Therefore let us be grateful for receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, and thus let us offer to God acceptable worship, with reverence and awe,...

Our attitude for service is reversionism and awe.

Most of us have crossed the bridge into the working world. There is still confusion about laboring. Many people hate their job and they hate work in general. They cannot wait to retire as soon as possible.

Many young people live at home and avoid doing anything. They don't even look for a job; and their parents support them and their indolent lifestyle. Up or out, get with it.

Socialism is going mainstream. 60% of Democrats find socialism as preferable to capitalism. Work ethic is secondary. Every person receives a check from the government whether they work or not. That is being proposed in Congress. The believer does not sit at home and wait for a check.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Lesson #0269

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/22/2021 2Sunday

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule,...

What should our position be on our job and profession? What is our motivation?

Contemporary View of Work

1. Work is burdensome, but it is a means to an end, food, clothing and shelter.
2. Socialism, work is unnecessary. Let someone else take care of you. Tax the wealth; they don't pay their fair share.
3. For some, work fulfills their desire for material gain.

Second idea: The desire to create something. Something that is lasting or wealth-producing; or economic benefit for others. That is pure capitalism. The fruit of that labor is not the only motivation for the believer in Jesus Christ. Our motivation in life is to glorify God. This includes work.

The third idea is, work is a search for dignity. The psychological benefits of a job well done. Individually and societally. To fulfill responsibilities, to support a family. A financial reward and something which is satisfying.

Bobby had no idea what he wanted to do, but he went into the military for 10 years. He did something that was satisfying. What can I do that is of equal importance. The obvious answer is what he is doing now. He was gifted to do so. Bobby knows this is the most satisfying, fulfilling work that he could do. He found it. This doctrine of work is designed so that we will be properly motivated.

People want to make money; they want to be satisfied. Sometimes all of those factors are involved.

General Points on the Doctrine of Work

1. From the beginning of human history, work was ordained by God for mankind, for all humanity. That is an important early part of this doctrine.
2. Work provides order and purpose within God's plan.
3. A world without work without attainment, without economics, is a world in chaos. Socialism is chaos. It is a chaos of attitude and activity. Often there is very little activity.

4. Without work, there is a work of self-centered indolence; and or a fight for survival.
5. It becomes an ego-centric world. A poverty-stricken world. An animalistic type world without work, without an occupation. Work is something to do. It is essential to our lives. Otherwise, survival of the fittest, kill or be killed.
6. A world where prosperous society ceases to exist, where there is no work. Personal improvement and advancement is at a minimum. Every Marxist society is like this.
7. Working is necessary for a people and nation to prosper.

Let's go to Gen. 2:15.

Gen 2:15 The LORD God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to work it and keep it.

This is a fuller expression of...

Gen 1:27 So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them.

Working is a part of the human race, a part of being created in God's image.

God, Creation and Work

1. Part of the reason for the creation of man is to keep the garden which God provided. God gave man something to do. God planted the garden for man's benefit. He gave it to Adam.
2. He gave it to Adam, but not just to sit around and watch it grow.
3. The garden had a purpose in God's economy. Adam was without sin at this point. Everything that God created is for man's benefit.
4. Adam had to cultivate it. Gardens grow on their own, but they need tending.
5. Part of the image of God is for man to do something; not to be idle. Even in the environment of a perfect garden. This will be true in any environment.
6. We know from the Scriptures that even God works. Idleness is not a part of God's being. God does not sit around and do nothing.
7. God worked in His creation. Gen. 2:2 And on the seventh day God finished his work that he had done, and he rested on the seventh day from all his work that he had done.
8. God continued His work in directing His creation. Psalm :34 How many are Your works, Lord in wisdom You make them all. The earth is filled with Your creatures. Psalm 111:6-7 He has shown his people the power of his works, in giving them the inheritance of the nations. The works of his hands are faithful and just; all his precepts are trustworthy;... Joshua took the slaves from Egypt and he trained them for war. But God Himself brought the victory. God was with these people and he fulfilled His promises. God controls history. He controls history for our benefit; that is God's work. The works of His hands are faithful and just.

9. God works faithfully and justly for His people. God is active in His care for His people. God is working right now in care for us. Cast your cares upon Him because He cares for you. God works for our deliverance, for our benefit.
10. Since we are in God's image as His creatures, we have a soul, volition, self consciousness, mentality; with all of those, His working activity is our pattern.
11. Man is given the capacity to create and to work. We can create (not the world, not animals, not life); but we are creative in our own sphere. Just as God does. God's sphere is unlimited.
12. The plan of God demands that we work. At the creation of mankind, God said, "Adam, get out there and cultivate." Later God told Adam to multiply. "Get out there and work and have sex." God made a 7th day for rest. We get some downtime as well. God set the pattern with the Sabbath. Then God blessed the 7th day and sanctified it and made it holy, because in it, He rested from all of His work. He took a break. God put man in this fabulous Garden of Eden; and it was beautiful and marvelous. Plants and trees; made to grow by God. The garden, from the beginning, as a place for Adam to work. Adam worked, even in that perfect environment. It was connected to these fruit-bearing trees. There was a specific occupation for the first man, who resided in the garden. His occupation was service to God.

According to Gen. 2:10–14, several rivers flowed through the garden, the Tigris and the Euphrates. Clearly, the garden was affected by this natural flow of water. God supplied the water. To this person, God mandates that the gardens fed by the rivers be cultivated and kept.

Cultivation of the Garden

1. The Hebrew verb 'âbad (עָבַד) [pronounced gaw<sup>b</sup>-VAHD].
2. This also means to till the soil. It is not easy work.
3. As soon as man was created, God placed him in a perfect environment; but there was work to be done in service to the Lord.
4. The first man was a gardener or a farmer. Whatever was there grew wonderfully.
5. Labor was required to maintain this garden. Shamar. shâmar (שָׁמַר) [pronounced shaw-MAR]
6. What exactly Adam did is vague. He was to cultivate these trees and Adam was a vegan.
7. God had man do work in the garden.
8. Gen. 2:19–20, God gave Adam some other kinds of work. Now out of the ground the LORD God had formed every beast of the field and every bird of the heavens and brought them to the man to see what he would call them. And whatever the man called every living creature, that was its name. The man gave names to all livestock and to the birds of the heavens and to every beast of the field. But for Adam there was not found a helper fit for him. Whatever Adam did, and how much work he did, we don't know. But he had one day of rest. Man gave names to all of these animals. Adam was the first naturalist; the first cataloger. Then Adam realized that this was overwhelming. This was tough work and he needed help to do all of this.

9. God created someone to help him work.

Man Was Not Made to Be a Slacker

1. Man was never meant to be idle; or a sluggard.
2. The sluggard, the slacker of Prov. 12:24, is a man whose land is completely overgrown with weeds and thorny plants.
3. Man who is a slacker does not work his land.
4. Those who do not work, who are called sluggards, are said to lack good sense. They have no wisdom. They are without wisdom. To work is wise. To not work is not wise.
5. It is never wise to be idle in the face of divine instructions.
6. There are repercussions for the slacker. Without diligence, they will not have success.
7. Not to work in God's economy is a bad decision. Wisdom requires work and an ethic of labor, commensurate with God's design.

Work was mandated by God from the beginning. How does this relate to us today?

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Lesson #0270                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT   8/25/2021 Wednesday

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

The diligent is the hard worker with the strong work ethic, which says, you will rule. This means that you will find advancement in this life (not necessarily to a leadership position but maybe that).

Diligence of work in a person's job, vocation. This is a requirement by God. This is wise to be diligent in your work.

Gen. 1:27 So God created man in His Own image, in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them.

That image is in the soul. We have volition, we have free will, we have a conscious, we can think. Our ability to think makes us the highest creature in this world. We receive instructions and guidance from God. We are capable of carrying out God's work. No other creature created by God was created in God's image. Science seems to want to tell us that all animals are the same, just at different levels of advancement.

Our image is a marred image because of the sin nature. We are to work diligently. So, God works. Our first recognition of God's work is the creation of mankind.

God is in constant motion; He works all of the time.

Adam's Responsibilities under perfect environment

1. When Adam was created, he was told, "Go to work." Gen. 2:15
2. That was Adam's charge, to cultivate, to keep or to tend. Those are action verbs. Those are things which Adam was charged to do in the garden.
3. Cultivate is the Hebrew verb Abvad. It means to work, to serve, to till the soil. That is certainly work. There is, in the early stages of mankind's history, work.
4. As soon as man was created, man placed him into perfect environment. We only know the few things told to us in the Scriptures. Perfect in every respect. That was Adam's place of residence. Work to be done for the Lord.
5. The garden required labor to maintain, even in perfect environment. Man was created as a worker, with the expressed purpose of serving God.

Things changed in the garden after man's fall.

God sent Adam out of the Garden of Eden. Adam failed, but he would continue to be a worker.

Gen. 3:17 And to Adam he said, "Because you have listened to the voice of your wife and have eaten of the tree of which I commanded you, 'You shall not eat of it,' cursed is the ground because of you; in pain you shall eat of it all the days of your life;...

Adam knew exactly what he was doing when he ate from the fruit of the tree. He was taking care of that tree; but he was not supposed to eat it.

"Because you did this, Adam, cursed is the ground."

Gen 3:18 thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you; and you shall eat the plants of the field.

Things got worse for Adam.

Work and the Curse of the Earth

1. The curse was not placed directly on the man. There was a curse placed on the woman. The curse of childbearing. It was Adam's volition which caused the curse; he was not left out.
2. The curse was directly upon the earth itself. Adam was already cursed by sin. This curse is connected with earth, with labor.
3. The curse was big trouble for Adam. Gen. 3:19 By the sweat of your face you shall eat bread,... Without planting and reaping, there is no food. Now there will be sweat.
4. The ground was directly cursed and it required work. Since the ground was the means of production. Farming was the basic job. Farming would be tough, tough work; and it still is.

5. The concept of mankind's work took on an entirely new perspective after the fall. The fall affected everything. It affected the very earth that we walk on. One sin of disobedience, and we are all condemned. It is a benefit.
6. Part of the man's curse was hard labor on a cursed uncooperative ground. It was no longer an easy job cultivating. It was a dirty, nasty sweaty job.
7. The earth itself had changed at this point. Everything changed. Cursed is the ground.

Gen 3:18 ...thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you; and you shall eat the plants of the field.

Bobby thinks that there was no cactus, as it is usually found in the desert. You can hardly move in the desert without running into a cactus plant. It is still beauty. Nevertheless, arid ground is not good for farming.

Thorns and Thistles after the Curse.

1. Because of the curse, the ground naturally brings forth thorns and thistles. Leave a vacant lot and it comes up with weeds, not with fruit trees. It often attracts animals like snakes and rats.
2. Thorns and thistles are associated with the curse upon mankind as associated with the earth. Work is more difficult; sweaty.
3. Thorns and thistles are a picture of what the labor of man must overcome. It is what we must overcome. It is illustrative of that. Everything that we do, we must overcome. We must overcome hardships to make a difference. Labor becomes difficult.
4. Thorns are connected to the exhaustion and the enervation that comes from working. Scratching out a living on poor ground to survive in a hostile world. A hostile earth overcome by our labor to make it work for us.
5. Thorns are a picture of what humanity must negotiate in a quest for living. What is your thorn at work? It is something. Think of it as good old Adam.
6. If man does not work, his land is characterized by thorns and thistles. A good description of life without work. It is a thorny work and unproductive. A life of poverty and hunger. This is why labor is mandated for all of us. The lazy man's life will be completely overgrown with thistles, its surface covered with nettles. The land cannot produce its crops and fruit when overgrown with thorns and thistles. Unproductive plants are associated with the curse of the ground. Remember the curse when you work in your garden and are pulling weeds.

Thorns and Thistles Are Related to Economic Recession or Depression.

1. The thorns of recession are associated with the 2nd cycle of discipline. Leviticus. 26. It is part of divine discipline on a national entity. Your strength will be spent in vain.
2. The thorn of depression is the 4th cycle of discipline.

Is the United States under one of these cycles of discipline. Are we in big trouble; are we going to come out of this? Thorns and thistles are springing up all over the land. The loss of 12 marines in Afghanistan. The operation is a fiasco. This is obviously a form of discipline on this country, for many reasons. It is also a wake up call. We have the ability to see a nation in chaos and seeing leadership in chaos. We have the wisdom of Bible doctrine. But there are a lot of people out there, including a lot of Christians, who thought that the worst thing in the world was the previous administration. What we are seeing by way of divine discipline is good for us. Do not be discouraged by what we see on television. Man means it for evil, but God means it for our good. We are in the plan of God. Whatever happens in this country, we have our marching orders. We love our country and we love the freedom that we have and the wonderful blessings that we receive. We enjoy overcoming the thorns and thistles in our jobs. Yet these things seem to be slipping away. Thorns and thistles are growing in our garden here. God is allowing these things to happen for a reason. God's grace is always in operation. God gives us the opportunity to see where we are going. If people wake up and see what is happening, then we will recover. 40% of evangelical Christians do not believe that Christ is the only way. Those are the people to whom these disasters are directed. Believers who do not get it. Do not fret it. Do not worry about it. The chaos is good, because the contrast is so obvious. Marxists love the chaos, the thorns and thistles.

This is God's discipline. God's anger represents His justice. God's anger began at the fall. Our disobedience extends to the curse of the earth.

Jer. 12:13

They have sown wheat and have reaped thorns; they have tired themselves out but profit nothing. They shall be ashamed of their harvests because of the fierce anger of the LORD."

1. God's anger is related to the original curse; a non-productive land. Coupled with national idolatry and human indolence.
2. Idolatrous Jews in Israel believed that the land was endowed with fertility. They believed that it was fertile because Baal made it fertile. Temple prostitution to please the god of fertility.
3. The temple worship of Baal was designed to bless the land. This is what Baal worship was supposed to accomplish. The Israelites took up the Canaanite gods in their reversionism.
4. This was to circumvent the land curse from the fall.
5. The picture of a false god lifting the curse from the earth. It can never accomplish. Baal could never remove the thorns and the thistles.
6. The cosmic system cannot overcome divine justice. It can only accomplish what God can accomplish.
7. No matter how hard the Jews worked, God's justice was in evidence against their idolatry. Their fields were overgrown with weeds; their labor was in vain, since they opposed God and worshiped Baal. Israel was going to work, but they substituted Baal to overcome the curse of Adam. Described here as thorns and thistles.

8. Economic disaster is a sure sign of client nation failure. Thorns and thistles represent a lot in the doctrine of labor.

Their labor was in vain because they opposed God.

Hard work is personal and corporate. It is good for us and the nation. A lazy, nonproductive socialist nation is a nation filled with thorns. Are we becoming a nation filled with thorns. A productive nation which is disobedient to God. Our nation is prosperous at this point. The thorns of socialism, and that seems to be where we are headed. Poverty of soul and thinking.

The lazy person who fails to work. Prov. 19:15 Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep, and an idle person will suffer hunger.

Deep Sleep and Laziness

1. This deep sleep describes a lazy attitude, which means thorns and thistles.
2. Sleep means that those who are lazy, waste time and they squander opportunity. Opportunity passes them by while they are sleeping.
3. God's economy requires us to utilize time in productive ways. None of us have a right to be lazy. None of us have a right to be indolent. We should not have thorns and thistles in our backyards.
4. The sleeping person procrastinates instead of providing for himself and his family. We understand the lazy, idle person goes hungry and always needs help to survive. He is a burden on society.
5. As a result, the man is hungry. You must work to eat; do nothing and die. This applies to the nation as well.

Socialism promotes laziness and breeds a poverty stricken people. Economic poverty and spiritual poverty. It often brings great corruption. The counter to this is hard work, with the right initiative and motivation, drawn from the guidance of Bible doctrine. This is God's design for us. We all have thorns in our life. We have the problem solving devices. We have all that we need to handle these thorns. We are not mandated to give up. We do not wait for someone to take care of us. As believers in Jesus Christ, we have the obligation to work.

Lesson #0271

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/26/2021 Thursday

One summer for Bobby, around age 16. A friend of his asked him to go look for a job together. Bobby had not had a job before. They went to grocery stores, car vallets, car washers. Bobby goofed off all summer. Could not find one. And went home.

Bobby told Bob about it. An incredulous look from Bob. He never heard this from Bobby. Two days later, Bob woke him up. Told him to show up at Portland cement. He had no idea what it meant to work for a living. They loaded 94 pound bags of cement in the hot sun onto trucks. Also loaded them onto box cars. Bobby found out, that was working for a living. Bobby worked with some Black guys there from Louisiana. They looked after him. Bobby still remembers their faces and names. Bobby spent the next 3 summers working at that plant. Someone in the congregation worked with Bobby.

Bobby understood what it meant to work. Bobby did not realize how much work Bob's work was. That experience affects Bobby's thinking today. It was what he had to do. This is true in whatever job, profession. Even in school, it was a work ethic. That was Bobby's first experience. It was unforgettable and it formed a work ethic in his life. It prepared him for Ranger school, and he was not going to quit.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

We continue with the Biblical doctrine of work. Work and labor are mandated in the economy of God, no matter what the job is. In an air conditioned office or out in 95 degree weather.

God placed the man into the garden. Man did not just sit around. After the fall, man still had to work.

Gen 3:17–19 And to Adam he said, "Because you have listened to the voice of your wife and have eaten of the tree of which I commanded you, 'You shall not eat of it,' cursed is the ground because of you; in pain you shall eat of it all the days of your life; thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you; and you shall eat the plants of the field. By the sweat of your face you shall eat bread, till you return to the ground, for out of it you were taken; for you are dust, and to dust you shall return."

God's will in a fallen world is that we labor. How should we view the hard work that we are to do. If this is God's design, we should not hate or despise work. As believers, we have no reason to shirk work. It would help to maintain the correct attitude, if we understood the divine mandate and His viewpoint regarding work. We get the correct attitude from Col. 3:23–24

Col 3:23 Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men,...

You work for the Lord, meaning that you work even harder.

Col 3:24 ...knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ.

You receive reward from the Lord.

Working According to Colossians 3

1. These two verses connect work to working for the Lord.
2. Who is our ultimate boss? The Lord Jesus Christ. We work for Him, whatever we do. We are in service to the Lord. You may want to write this down on your desk.

3. Therefore, we do all things, even labor at a job as unto the Lord. That is how we work.
4. We are motivated to work in the same way that we are motivated to witness for the Lord; or to learn Bible doctrine. We do this as unto the Lord. This is another perspective as to what we do on the job.
5. Doing a job well, to the best of our ability and motivation fulfills His purposes in our lives and glorifies the Lord. Isn't that what we are here to do? We work a good bit of our lives and our days. Work is not separate from everything else. Work is a huge part of your Christian work. The people we meet on the job, we have no idea who they are. But they should know where you stand, what your work ethic is, and they should know what you believe. Besides working hard.
6. This is God's perspective on the believer's attitude for work. Not our perspective; His. This is countered in this world with the curse of Gen. 3.

There is always a distinction in the world. Work is seen as hateful, as drudgery. It is our responsibility to work hard because of the curse. We are to work with a great attitude of service to the Lord. Don't forget that. A fundamental premise of work.

In this startling revelation, having the divine perspective about what we do most in life. We now understand that work should be done with a certain attitude. Working heartily for the Lord. Our work glorifies God, along with being filled with God the Holy Spirit, and displaying the right work ethic. Doctrine in your soul is involved, as the impetus for your work. You display the right work ethic that a believer should have.

Retirement and Work

1. Whatever you do has an impact for the Lord. Not only that, but for your future as well; and for your inheritance as well. Working with the motive of Bible doctrine and being filled with the Holy Spirit means that you are producing divine good. The results of divine good is reward in heaven. That is a large part of your life.
2. This has nothing to do with retirement. You serve the Lord in whatever you do and you serve Him till the end of your days.
3. When you retire or if you retire from one job, and that is up to you. You will know when that time comes. People do retire. Bobby knows his job for the rest of his life. We may realize that this is the end of the line for us. Maybe we are tired or our health is not good. Maybe you are not up to the job anymore. This does not mean that you retire. "I am going to do nothing and love it!" Most people who do this are bored out of their minds. Even if you retire from one job, you don't do nothing.
4. You do not stop being productive. This is our thing. Rick has brought many people to Christ sitting with a fishing pole in his boat. There is always service to be done for the Lord. You simply need to find the niche to serve Him. It is never over in this lifetime. There can be extenuating circumstances, of course.
5. Although the Lord still uses a person in that condition of ill health, of debilitation.

Bobby had difficulty understanding why the Lord put Bob in a place where he could not think or speak. Why, God used Bob even in that circumstance. Bob and Bobby both recognized that someone had to step in. Positive volition was in Berachah Church. Bobby did not want to be there. It is not his ideal job. This is where God wanted Bobby to be. This is true for all of us. You have to remember, we are still in God's plan while we are still alive, no matter what the condition.

God's plan are illustrated by your work ethic. As long at you are breathing.

The Plan of God and Work

1. The plan of God includes your vocation, whatever you do, always. Never think otherwise. How could such a great part of your life not be a part of His plan. Bobby recognizes that his time at Portland Cement was fundamental. The guys there worked for their families. They had a great work ethic. He was there to learn. We always learn, no matter what we do. When we apply doctrine, that is where we grow up. God places us in those circumstances whether they hurt or not. We have to grow up. It is all a part of the doctrine of work.
2. Our work is service to the Lord with the attitude of the spiritually mature believer. Bobby was not spiritually mature when working, but it helped.
3. There is great happiness in fulfillment in working for the Lord. Only with the right attitude and understanding. No matter what you are doing. The attitude that you carry as a mature believer is happiness and fulfillment as a believer. You know who you are working for.

These verses are even more remarkable because of the context of slavery.

Here is the context: Col 3:22 Bondservants, obey in everything those who are your earthly masters, not by way of eye-service, as people-pleasers, but with sincerity of heart, fearing the Lord.

At this time, Paul lived in a master-slave environment. Paul did not call for the destruction of the statues of Cæsar. Paul addressed this in Philemon. Remarkably, Paul is addressing very difficult and detestable labor. "In all things, obey those who are your master." And you do this, even when they are not working. This is addressed to a believer slave, who has an entirely different attitude. Reverence for the Lord that we serve. V. 22 is about the proper attitude, even under the worst circumstances.

Bobby is not referring to prison camps or death camps. The believer should not have an attitude of despair.

Reverence Towards God in Work

1. Working with reverence towards the Lord's doctrines. We must know the Lord.
2. That attitude enhances the dignity of labor, even for a slave. Even for an undignified situation.

3. This establishes a pattern laid out by God for work. Even with God's curse on the earth. The mandate is still there.
4. Paul reveals that believers have a different motivation than the rest of the world.

Lesson #0272      Colossians 3:22–23    Wisdom in the OT 8/29/2021 1Sunday

Col 3:23 Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men,...

Whatever you do, do it with the correct motivation. We work for money for most of us; to make a living. But we also work for promotion, for more money. We might work to please someone for a higher position.

We are not promoting until the Lord promotes us. Who knows what the next step of God's plan is. It might be surprising when you are moved from one increment of your life to another. Even if the Lord doesn't, that does not change your motivation at all. You still work for God rather than men.

Col 3:24 ...knowing that from the Lord you will receive the inheritance as your reward. You are serving the Lord Christ.

We serve the Lord Jesus Christ. These verses define the attitude and the reward for working. This is true, even in the context of a slave. The slave receives no human pay. If this holds true for a slave. How much more true for us. Many slaves still exist in this world. But we are not.

Our call is to work heartily as unto the Lord. Our human boss is not our ultimate authority. Human authority-orientation is important; but it is also important when serving the Lord. It does not matter if you have a problem with your boss, their personality or whatever. Our ultimate boss is the Lord, even though you have that intermediate human boss.

Our witness, our service and glorification of the Lord is all tied to our attitude at work.

Serving as unto God

1. This is a mandate for Christian employees who must consider first and foremost for whom they work. Then you will do a good job in any company at any job. You must be a human boss. You do what you are told to do. It may not be fair; it may not be just.
2. We work heartily as unto the Lord. Write that on your desk. Remember that. Write this in your soul. Tomorrow morning or whenever, you need to remember it.
3. Heartily is the Greek word psyche, which is a common word. It means breath, soul.
4. Whatever we do, we keep functioning from an attitude implanted into our souls. That is where our attitude comes from. What is in your soul is where your attitude comes from.

5. The believer worker will act with an attitude that reflects doctrine in the soul (psuche). That is how you work heartily.
6. The employee will move with alacrity. Get your but in gear. Even when you are out of sight of others. You are serving no human master; you are serving God.
7. We are always in the sight of God. We work in that scope. That helps us to understand what our motivation is.
8. It is the believer's obligation no matter what the circumstances. Remember the context is slavery. Most of us get paid for what we do. It is our obligation, no matter what the circumstances. We do this as an act of obedience. This is based upon the doctrine inculcated into our souls.
9. That is the demonstration of spiritual maturity; and a witness for the Lord. There is no greater place for us as a believer to witness as where we spend so much of our time. You may not know what you are. Believers might not know what they are. They may admire your work ethic; and some might be jealous of you. Those who have respect for you want to get to know you. They see something that they do not have. They see a motivation that you do not have. That is a part of our witness; that is why we have the motivation in the workplace. This is why we are always ready to speak. People may listen to us and they may reject you.

When you present the gospel, many times people reject it or they don't listen to it or you think they don't hear you. When you mention the name of Jesus, they hear you. They may not like it at that point. You are planting a seed that might some day spring up. That is why this is so important. That is why this is a mandate.

Motivation for Work

1. A Christian does not rely upon a person or an organization to provide your motivation as a believer. That motivation comes from your soul.
2. Because you are self-motivated through the application of Bible doctrine. You may have gone to a company retreat to get your emotions stirred up. Our motivation does not come from there. That is not where your motive comes from. There is not greater motivation.
3. No organization can destroy motivation that it did not create in the first place. It cannot destroy the motivation that it did not create.
4. You can destroy your own motivation. Get out of fellowship and stay away from doctrine. Lose your motivation.
5. With personal love towards God and impersonal love toward all mankind, you can work. You will need impersonal love in the workplace. You will deal with someone that you do not get along with. Personal love for God is your motivation; impersonal love towards man is how you interact with others. Spiritually autonomous people can work great, even when treated unfairly.
6. Col. 3:23–24 require the believer to do the best possible job that we are capable of. Unfair criticism, job discrimination, etc. the best job possible.

7. Those problems are never the issue in the good product of work that the believer does. We are not to be motivated to please men, to get justice. We look to glorify God under any circumstance.
8. The true motive for diligent work is from the doctrine found in Col. 3:23–24.

one of the great problems in America today is being treated unfairly and not being able to deal with it. We have the resources to glorify God in the workplace. That is our obligation and motive.

We know that the book of Proverbs gives us great insight into work.

The first wisdom is the divine design for work. This design is found in Prov. 12:11.

Prov. 12:11 Whoever works his land will have plenty of bread, but he who follows worthless pursuits lacks sense.

The necessity of work to provide a living. Necessity in an agrarian society. For Bobby, Portland Cement school and then Ranger school. There was no tilling the land, it was still hard work. This stands for any legitimate and profitable occupation. This also includes great hardship.

Hard Work and the Right Attitude

1. The message is, making a living and profiting comes through the exertion of human industry. That is still true, no matter what your job is.
2. God's design includes a commensurate compensation for what you have done. You may think you are working harder for what you get paid for. "I will not work so hard." That is the wrong attitude and the wrong motivation.
3. An attitude-truism. Especially for the younger believer. Skilled industry is seldom in poverty. A skilled vocationally trained person or an educated one prepares you and rarely will you lack. You may or may not use that skill. It provides you with options that you otherwise would not have. We have so many options in our country. Go to college or go to a vocational school.

In contrast are the worthless things, which is antithetical to tilling the land for bread.

Worthless Approach to Work

1. Worthless things are vain and unprofitable. Those things that you accomplish through arrogance.
2. Worthless things are useless pursuits that contradict hard work for living and profit.
3. Mankind fits the category of worthless when he pursues speculations rather than work. What an attitude that people have. The Bible calls such people worthless. Practical wisdom for mankind. Useless dreams, gambling, the lottery, living off the government dole or off parents. That is not mandated to us from God. Some people get really used to this lifestyle. If you are in that circumstance, it is up or out. God did not design us to sit in the basement and play games. That is not work.

4. Speculations do not include entrepreneurship. Considering or dreaming is not necessarily a bad thing. You must have a plan or an idea. This only happens under capitalism.
5. Idle speculation are get-rich quick schemes. Lost in ponzi schemes or high-risk investments. People have been bilked in Berachah. Big returns from big investments; and they lost their money.
6. Those are empty headed fantasies. Prosperity is everywhere. There are people out there who have money. They worship money and the people who have it. We have a dishonest society and money have become a god. Shortcuts to prosperity.
7. The opportunity for solid achievement is frittered away on worthless pursuits. These do not refer to a lack of energy or idleness on a person's part. Purposeless, unsteady occupation, political practices which steals money from other. These types of people demonstrate the lack of ability to make good decisions. They cannot think straight. A bad or worthless work ethic. We see a lot of this in the country today. So many try to live on someone else's money. That is breeding indolence and laziness. Antithetical to the doctrine of work.

Those who lack good sense will wait for good ideas and they will give excuses for their lack of effort. Work is a stepping stone to bigger and better things.

The First Characteristic of the Wisdom of Work

1. Wishing bread or desiring bread is no substitute for diligence in work.
2. Good sense, hard work win respect, called the one who is praised in Prov. 1:8.
3. But idle speculations are contemptible and fall outside God's plan for us. Those who do not work are not happy. They are empty; they are unfulfilled. They do not understand why life is not to their satisfaction. That is an absolute lie.
- 4.
5. That is divine wisdom regarding mankind's occupation. That is the divine design. From the beginning until now.

In the Millennium, we will continue to work. We will still be doing something. Being a leader is work. Don't think that, at some point in eternity that we are going to sit on a cloud and play a harp.

Lesson #0273

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

8/29/2021 2Sunday

We have laid the groundwork for the doctrine of work (labor, vocation).

We turn back to the book of Proverbs. There is such great insight to the subject of work in the book of Proverbs (pretty much every subject).

We had 5 characteristics of work which stand out .

5 Characteristics of Work

1. God has a design for work. Agricultural reference. He who tills the land will have plenty of bread. This means subsistence. Crops for subsistence, for food. But he who.... Prov. 12:11
- 2.

Obviously, we are developing a doctrine of work. Bobby is presenting the divine viewpoint. Of work. Of course, there is another side of life besides work. We spend a good bit of our time at work.

There Is a Time Not to Work.

People ask, is there a time we don't have to work?

1. It is divinely authorized for us to take time off work. A holiday or a vacation is a good thing. To recharge the battery.
2. What does that mean, to not work? This is a break in the routine of your life. We all have a routine and we all have what we do on a daily basis. Bobby's routine would have us yawning. We all have a routine. Ultimately, we have a routine of work.
3. Routine is a necessity in life.
4. Why? Good work habits require routine. A time schedule; an orderly progression of work. A systematic plan that is carried out. Normally, if you work for living, you normally don't get up and scratch your head and say, "I wonder what I must do." Your routine revolves around that goal every day. There may be distractions, but when you get up in the morning, you have that routine, which gets you out the door. Many routines to start of day of routine. Good work habits require routine. A commencement address at the University of Texas. The president of that university. He told his students, "Make your bed in the morning." That is the beginning of a routine. We are organized. We are ready to continue that routine through the day. Our routine then starts to click.
5. The haphazard person with no schedule, who is chronically late, who lacks concentration during the day, without a routine, is slow and disorganized. Not necessarily a good workman (with a few exceptions). Bobby has known some scatterbrains who do end up accomplishing work. Good work habits. Whether you are really that motivated; but you must work. And hence, a routine is really critical. The military, every morning, the same thing. You do this over and over again and it is great training. Bobby was an area commander, and he had recruiters under him. He could tell the recruits that the army would make them organized.
6. There is a correct balance to establish between work and rest.
7. What is that balance? Too much time at work is not healthy. All work and no play makes for a tired, dull, irritable one-dimensional person.
8. Too much time away from work defeats the purpose of rest. That is what a break in routine should be. That is what rest should be—a break in the routine. We become so stale, so tired, so lethargic.

9. When rest becomes the routine, there is indolence and laziness which result. They make their avocation their routine. They are also out of balance.

God demonstrated in the beginning just what that balance should be.

More on Work and Rest

1. God created in 6 days and rested on the 7th.
2. He presented a pattern for rest; a balance for our lives in proportion.
3. So there must be boundaries between work and rest. God did rest on the 7th day and any other time. He does not sleep or go on vacation. God is always available. He is never off the grid. He never ignores what is happening with us. When He says He rested, he broke the routine. Rest is an anthropomorphism. God does not rest; He does not sleep. That does not mean that we cannot do those things. Some who go off to rest, but they only think about work. That is not rest. That is not the pattern. There are times when you must leave it behind.
4. When God rested, He simply took a break from what He had been doing. There is the pattern of rest versus the pattern of work.
5. That is the purpose of time. Time allows us to have a schedule. God created time and that purpose is for us to have a schedule. So God set up the Sabbath day for Israel. There were festivals, set for rest and worship of the Lord.
6. God invented time in creation, and for just the purpose of routine and then rest. Slavery is not being owned by another person, slavery is work without time. Israel got no time off in Egypt. They worked every day for Pharaoh. Their days were constant work. Pharaoh demanded it. If we work without a break, what is the point for God setting a time schedule for work and rest? It would be unnecessary. But that is not God's plan for our earthly life. This continues throughout the Mosaic Law.
7. God Himself had a routine based upon days of work and a day of rest. This tells us about God's policy and it does not mean that He must rest.
8. Rest is a time... It is the first characteristic of the divine design to work.

Ecclesiastes tells us that there is a time for work and for rest. The break time is of our own choosing. But it takes us away from the everyday routine.

The second characteristic of work is discipline. Prov. 13:18 Poverty and disgrace come to him who ignores instruction, but whoever heeds reproof is honored. Regarding reproof is authority-orientation. There is always a boss. Ultimately our boss is God. We work for Him ultimately. Some of us work independently. We still work for someone; a client or whatever. Bobby works for us and directly for the Lord. We always have a boss and we must be authority oriented to that boss. They are to be honored.

We have an entire nation which is authority disoriented. They are without honor. All of them. The reference here is in the context of commercial success or failure. What is the discipline that may be neglected and may bring poverty and shame.

The Hebrew Noun Muscar.

1. Muscar is better understood as instruction. The discipline involved in learning.
2. Sometimes an academic subject is called a discipline.
3. Because it requires concentration, regemin, practice, intense training to learn.
4. An enforcement of instruction, a command, information that must be inculcated. This is not telling your child to get into the corner.
5. Anti-authority. That person is incorrigible. From force of habit or the roadblock of habit; such a person is unteachable. No new ideas can penetrate. An apparent laziness that is heightened. In business, we think of this as a failure to embrace new technology; or refusing to learn new ways. Same in agriculture or industry. Failure to adapt to changing circumstances.

Adaptability is a quality of good leadership. Having enough information in a discipline to have a wider scope. A wise person keeps up with the times. They think of a better way to do thing. The incorrigible, unteachable person cannot compete in the marketplace. They must keep up with new methods and new techniques and new technologies. Prov.13:18 means the result is poverty and shame. Have a desire for instruction. Be willing to take advice. That brings success in life, including economic success. Function with self-discipline. You cannot escape self-discipline in life. A self-disciplined person has a routine. They are receptive to instruction. Prov. In all labor there is profit.

Talking for a Living

1. You cannot learn while you are talking. Or gossiping; or spending time in idle conversations. This holds true in Berachah Church. We have a code of strict academic discipline. Plenty of people have come into Berachah Church and have not lasted very long. They are unwilling to sit and listen with a self-disciplined attitude. They cannot be quiet. They want to move around.
2. The greater the desire to talk, indicates the disinclination to work. A lot of talking and nothing happens. Bobby's problem is the incessant meeting which wastes time. When you should be working, someone wants to call a meeting. Meetings are fine if they are instructional or provide guidance. When they degenerate into areas with nothing to do with work, where they are worthless palaver. They begin with a necessary subject, but veer far off of that. Some people just like to hear themselves talk. Talk leads to poverty of work; a lack of perseverance; a lack of discipline.
3. When you receive instruction and then use it in your work, there is profit. We can extract a principle in that. The importance of education in your profession. People who drop out of high school, who don't get vocational education, they do not do well in life; unless they are propped up.

What Is Poverty and Shame?

1. These are loosely connected.

2. It is a poverty which springs from circumstances beyond one's control. No self-imposed and, therefore, no cause for shame.
3. A poverty that springs from sacrifice in the cause of duty or service is a virtue, not a vice; and has no connection with shame at all.
4. A poverty that comes from idle talk in indolence rather than instruction and labor is shame. Prov. 14:23 when you talk in Berachah and don't listen, shame on you.
5. That leads to a self-imposed poverty which is disgraceful. Such do not want to accept it. They never look at themselves. There is poverty in that. Self-imposed poverty from a lack of...

1. The spiritual life requires discipline as well. Getting yourself to work is hard, but you have to get there. Bible class is not mandatory, like work. There is discipline and strong desire which is necessary to be in Bible class.
2. The one who neglects the instruction of wisdom and fails to advance is the one with a poverty of soul. That is the worst kind of poverty. Your poverty of soul is the worst.
3. There is the shame of carnality and reversionism in the life of that believer with a poverty of soul. If you walk into Berachah with no self-discipline, you will have a poverty of soul. Soul-poverty begins with what is in your soul (or what you lack in your soul). It all begins sitting in church and learning.
4. There is also the loss of reward in eternity. Even more shame at the Judgment Seat of Christ. Staying out of fellowship and doing whatever you want to do, and we end up being poverty stricken in eternity. There is a poverty there.

The third characteristic, which is found in Prov. 13:24. It is diligence. More to say about this than Bobby said before. We must link it with the doctrine of work. Hard work, and a hard work ethic.

Lesson #0274                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      9/1/2021 Wednesday

I am off by one lesson here

Lesson #0275                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      9/2/2021 Thursday

The Doctrine of Work depends upon 5 characteristics of work.

1. The divine design for work in Prov. 12:11. This began in the garden. At the fall came an intensified mandate to till the soil. But now the ground is cursed. It affected Adam, the woman and the rest of the human race. It does not matter what work that we do. This design means hard work and a hard work ethic. Some people work hard and then they don't work hard. But we need an ethic about how we work and how long that we work; and our motivation for work. This design also warns us against useless pursuits which contradict the divine design.
2. The second characteristic of work is discipline. Prov. 12:18

The Second Characteristic

1. Discipline means instruction, not punishment.
2. An academic subject which is studied is often called a discipline.
3. The one who neglects discipline is unteachable, incorrigible. His work ethic is severely lacking. That person comes to poverty and shame. Discipline means to learn a subject through concentration and a routine. The routine is that you come at the times when the doors are open. There is only one reason to be in Bible class. Metabolizing Bible doctrine, gaining insight from it and applying it.
4. This is the most important discipline that you can conduct in life.
5. An intense desire to be trained how to work.
6. Reproof means to accept correction. Again, this is not the correction of discipline; this is parallel to the previous phrase. You listen and learn and exercise self-discipline. This is the opposite of the unteachable, who lacks discipline. Discipline means that you can hear things that you have not heard before or things which you disagree with, but are able to give them a fair hearing.
7. Accepting discipline and reproof requires being authority oriented. Submitting to those who are in authority. That is part of discipline and reproof.

Bobby watches people come in. He notices the discipline. We represent this characteristic of work. This discipline is necessary in everything in life.

The third characteristic follows the second naturally. The wisdom of work is an obvious one found in Prov. 12:24 (which is where we last left off). The key is diligence.

Pro 21:5 The plans of the diligent lead surely to abundance, but everyone who is hasty comes only to poverty.

It is important to be diligent, which means we need to know what it means.

Diligence Is the Hebrew Word Charits

1. Charits means sharp. Figuratively, it means, diligent.
2. In this context, diligence modifies the noun plans.
3. This is a person who carefully devises plans and then moves those plans forward.
4. The plan must be well-conceived with good, reasonable goals. Something that can be attained.

5. The result is an industrious activity that is effective...effective to completion. You complete your plans. Part of diligence is making these plans and completing them. This requires a number of different attitudes and motivations. You don't go into something to be half-stepping, meaning maybe you reach the goal and maybe not.
6. These plans are certainly connected to learning new methods, techniques and technology.
7. That is to the workman's advantage. In other words, the abundance of return. Plans for your everyday life; personal or spiritual.

Years ago, Bobby went to Ranger school. He learned to persevere and endure. He also learned leadership. He also learned planning. How do you plan an operation. 5 paragraph field order. These were very detailed plans; and they tried to deal with every possible variation. At the time, we had a compass and a map. It was very detailed, to the minute, practically; and they had to be so planned. Bobby learned the concept of detail plans. He had to think where would he end up. What are the options. What is the best way to do it. That is exactly what diligence means here.

Diligence

1. Prov. 21:5 is contrasted to one who makes hasty decisions. Hasty decisions and hasty actions without thinking them through. Opposite of those who carefully plan, which is a part of diligence.
2. Diligence result in profit and advantage. Hasty, rash decisions and plans result in failure and poverty. Again, in that economic context.
3. The hasty one has no plan. He could be just lazy or thoughtless or brainless. Flies by the seat of his pants. That is a good way to set off a market crash. One day this unstable person may work with great enthusiasm. That day he is mightily struggling to gain whatever goal he has. The next day, in a state of collapse. That person does not have hard work before him as a daily discipline. You cannot be on one day and off the next. Same for the spiritual life. That is a roller coaster ride that takes you nowhere. This person gets distracted, by the details of life. What an application this is for the spiritual life. What a privilege it is for Almighty God to have thought a plan for us in the past. God has an individual plan for each one of us. But we must be diligent in executing this plan. Without diligent operation in the spiritual life, without growing in grace and knowledge, you cannot execute that plan. How can you not strive to work God's plan? Sometimes we get kicked in the head and we realize that we need to be diligent again. Hence diligence is an integral part with the wisdom of work.

Bobby has never fired the basic weapon of the military today. You must keep up with these changes.

The fourth characteristic is...

Found in the verse there are 3 results, wealth, honor and life. First, what is humility in this verse? This is our attitude. Our reward comes from humility.

What Is Humility

1. Humility is connected to fear or respect of the Lord. Col. 3:22b
2. Definition of humility: the foundational Christian virtue through which the believer recognizes that he belongs to a plan centered not to himself but to God.
3. To put it simply, we do not think of ourselves more highly than we ought to. We cannot afford to do this in the plan of God. No riches honor, etc. without that humility.
4. True humility is only the product of the mature spiritual life. In it, there is honor. Humility is never a weakness as it may seem in the human realm, but arrogance is weakness in the spiritual life. This is switched in the thinking. Self-effacement and timidity are not humility. Some are so much this that the plan of God just passes them by. Renovating one's thinking is so important in every aspect of life. You have no honor unless you renovate your thinking. The arrogance has no honor in their temporal or their spiritual life.

Prov. 2:11 When pride comes, then comes dishonor.

The real honor is divine good labor. This is the underlying factor in God's design for work.

Our Attitude Towards Work

1. Our attitude towards work honors God; and for it, we receive honor.
2. The greater honor is glorifying God through following His plan diligently with discipline. That is the design. The greater honor is glorifying God and following His plan.
3. Following the divine design for work is a part of that honor.
4. Untold wealth, honor and eternal life in heaven also come to the grace oriented believer who reverences the Lord in life.

The fifth characteristic is a work ethic.

What Really Is a Work Ethic in the Plan of God and the Wisdom of Work.

1. There is a moral code in God's design.
2. That code reflects God's perfect righteousness. God's righteousness is not attainable by believers. Experientially, we cannot attain His righteousness. Part of God's design is in our work.
3. It is a code that, if followed, pleases the Lord. That is important. Pleasing the Lord is honorable.
4. Adhering to the code is the foundation of the outcome of Proverbs 22:4. Riches, honor and life.

In the past, this country was driven by what was called the Protestant work ethic, also called the Calvinist work ethic or the Pilgrim work ethic. It no longer seems to be.

The Protestant Work Ethic

1. This was an ethic which started this country on the road to prosperity. This ethic includes theology, sociology, economics and history. It covers the waterfront. What were the ethics of the past? What were the ethics of Scripture? What does the Scripture tell us about the culture of work.
2. They emphasized diligence, discipline, honor and frugality.
3. This ethic was a result of a person's subscription to the values espoused by their Christian faith. These are the values of our Christian faith. Compare that to the work ethic that we see around us right now.
4. This was the work ethic for a client nation and it was the foundation for capitalism in this nation. That is why the woke people hate it. The work ethic is a very practical subject.

Let's look at the pros and cons in Prov. 11:1

Prov. 11:1 A false balance is an abomination to the LORD, but a just weight is His delight.

1. This is a comparison between corruption and honesty in commerce, in those who run the economy.
2. This doctrine is the Lord's will of work.
3. Honesty in business delights the Lord. That is the Protestant work ethic. It is based upon His Word, His wisdom and His rules. The Mosaic Law was a work ethic for ancient Israel.
4. Whatever is an abomination to the Lord is to be avoided. It is called here a false balance; or dishonesty.
5. Leviticus. 19:35–36 "You shall do no wrong in judgment, in measures of length or weight or quantity. You shall have just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin: I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt. Solomon knew these passages when writing Proverbs. This is related to buying and selling food as related to price. This refers to dishonesty and injustice. The dishonest guy has his foot on the scale to increase the price.

Proverbs 11:1 the Lord abhors dishonest scales but accurate weights are His delight. (corrected translation).

Honesty is fundamental to the Lord's promotion of work. For us in our society is gaining wealth as being the greatest achievement. That is why the courts are so backed up with so many lawsuits; and criminal courts to prosecute the courts to keep their feet off the scales. Everyone today is in a dogfight for wealth. Honesty is absolutely ignored. Another problem for the client nation. The client nation is a business nation. It is an economic powerhouse. Business practices; dishonesty. No work ethic. Where there is dishonesty, there are shortcuts; lack of diligence; lack of routine in life. That is not the divine design. The opposite of this is found in Prov. 21:6. The hasty and lazy road to poverty. The dishonest person is...reserving this for Sunday.

As Christians, we have certain obligations to the Lord. Growing, serving and glorifying Him. We learn that God's grace has supplied us with all of the sources that we need to serve, grow and glorify Him. We cannot fulfill our obligations unless we are grace oriented. It is critical that we are serving Him and not ourselves.

The filling of the Holy Spirit is another of our obligations in this life.

We are also to make a living in our temporal life; to work at a vocation in life. What we do in our daily lives, to earn our bread, it is also a service to God. When our work is an outgrowth of the spiritual life, then it is divine good.

We have been studying the book of Proverbs, and it is filled with wisdom regarding work. We realize that work is a fertile field of serving the Lord through the spiritual life. We are developing this Biblical doctrine of work.

There Are 5 Characteristics of Our Service to the Lord

1. God has a divine design and mandate for us. Prov. 12:11 This obligation began in the Garden of Eden and it continues to this very day.
2. Prov. 13:18 discipline, in terms of taking instruction; an academic approach. This also includes authority-orientation. We must have that in order to do well in any instruction. Discipline requires concentration, routine,
3. Diligence or working hard. We started with this characteristic in Prov. 12:24 21:5 (the plans of the diligent lead surely to advantage)
4. A workman must be honorable. Prov. 22:4 there is a moral and a spiritual code for work. There are standards for work. Standards in the workplace. These are all moral and spiritual codes in the spiritual life. This is all necessary to please the Lord. Our working lives are in honorable service to the Lord. All of our work is to be done unto the Lord; not to ourselves and not to men.
5. A work ethic. This is something that man of us. This is our thinking concerning work. What is our motivation to work and attitude towards work; and our honesty regarding our work?

We must have Biblical standards in order to fulfill these. These standards are necessary to make a living and for the well-being of our nation. 2Tim. 2:15 Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who has no need to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth.

This verse is literally about the work of our spiritual life. It begins with the metabolizing of Bible doctrine and then serving the Lord. If we follow these instructions of diligence. We will not be ashamed. We are then honorable.

This passage is applicable to the workplace. Our work is always as unto the Lord; so we will produce divine good and we will glorify Him.

What is the most opportune time of our lives to glorify God, to accomplish divine good. This would be when we are at work. That is where we spend most of our time. And that is not a wasted period of time as far as our spiritual life is concerned. We use that time to stay in fellowship and to produce divine good.

There is a grace way to produce divine good. We fail there and there will be no rewards. This doctrine of work is all important in understanding that. Without fulfilling these 5 characteristics, we will live in poverty of soul; and we will lack fulfillment in life. Doing our work well, no matter whatever it might be.

Digging ditches and throwing 80# bags of cement onto boxcars. That is producing divine good as long as we remain in fellowship. We make a living and fulfill our obligation of service to God.

The negative side of work; the consequences of laziness. The opposite of this divine good ethic.

Prov. 21:6 The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor and a snare of death.

There are people who have taken in doctrine for years, but went down the wrong road. Acquiring riches with a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor. It is a trap of death. The acquisition of material things. Lives are often the road in business and the road to a quick buck and an ill-gotten gain. There are no standards in that. It is the road often traveled by the hasty person. The one who is focused on the details of life. It is spiritual life death. Materialism that overcomes the importance. Materialism takes over life. This way is crowded with those who are unethical; false advertisers. How many Christian preachers are charlatans. Bobby gets madder watching con men than watching politics. The individuals who con people in the name of Jesus Christ. Corrupt, commercial atmosphere is infected with fallacies. Churches have become commercial enterprises. They do not see themselves in that way; but they are more interested in attracting dollars than in teaching Bible doctrine.

For 65 years, Berachah has never asked for a dime from anyone. If you don't want to ask any money from the church, then you are the well-motivated giver. That is divine good. God has taken care of Berachah Church amply over the years.

When we don't do well, it is not because we are not asking for enough money; but it is a wake up call. If the money is not there; the pastor needs to determine what he is doing and not doing. The marketplace is infected with cheap goods that do not live up to expectations. Shops who do really shoddy work. The phoney, hasty, get-rich schemes, promising a huge reward for little risk. Investment lies. Selling illegal goods. Drugs; fencing stolen items. Lies, robbery and easy money. Dishonesty is now rampant in our nation. Certainly a lying tongue is a prolific business practice. One falsehood produces many other falsehoods. Lies and cheating are habit-forming. Especially if they appear to produce treasure. It is ultimately a ruinous course. Time happens and those who gain wealth by falsehood gain fleeting vapors. Even if these are never discovered, do not ever forget that the justice of God is always in action. No one gets away with anything with God. Do not worry about those who cheat you. We may never know; but you can bet on God's justice. It never fails. Don't lose sleep over the fact of dishonest people in business or in government. Those who get away with murder, literally. The legal theft of public funds through socialism; or graft. We have studied this, but Jesus explained the blowback for dishonesty in Luke 6:38b For with the measure you use it will be measured back to you."

If you are dishonest in your practices and have no standards, you are not living the spiritual life. That is your fulfillment in life. That is your objective in life. Honesty is its own reward. It is also the ticket to a ticket to a successful commercial and business life. That is also a part of you business.

We work as unto the Lord; not unto men or just for ourselves. Honesty and integrity have reward in both realms.

Lesson #0277

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/5/2021 2Sunday

Proverbs 24:30 I passed by the field of a sluggard, by the vineyard of a man lacking sense,

Proverbs 24:31 and behold, it was all overgrown with thorns; the ground was covered with nettles, and its stone wall was broken down.

Unless you tend a garden, something else grows in its place. This is a perfect picture of that. The description; thorns and thistles. It is the result of ignoring God's design for work. Honor, honesty, discipline, diligence.

Pro 24:32 Then I saw and considered it; I looked and received instruction.

Solomon saw this and he reflected on what he was seeing. Sometimes you can learn from observation. In that reflection, Solomon received instruction. There is instruction just by observing what is going on. We are instructed by those things which do not meet our standards. We can see things from television which meet our standards. You learn from this. This is the characteristic of discipline. What did Solomon learn from observing a person ignoring God's design from work.

Proverbs 24:33 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,...

This produces poverty and want.

Proverbs 24:34 ...and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Those who stay in bed rather than going after that work. Their life counts for nothing. They possess poverty of soul. They do nothing of value. In the end, that is the life of a loser. Bob used to use this word about those who did not grow spiritually. People did not want to hear that they are losers. Someone in seminary asked why did Bob call people losers.

We all understand what a loser is. They can be in a mansion or homeless; they can be rich or poverty stricken. They are in a life which means nothing.

Not Accomplishing Anything

1. These realizations come upon a person like a bandit. "My life has not accomplished anything. I have been asleep; I have been a loser."
2. A robbery, which is entirely unexpected, but absconds with valuable things. In the spiritual life, what are things of value? The activities of the spiritual life.
3. The lazy has been robbed, stricken by a our own laziness. Sleep is a good thing. But not when you ought to be working. You will do anything instead of work. Any distraction. These people are piddlers.
4. Without diligence, there is no one else to blame if we don't fulfill honor, integrity; we are to blame no one else. No one takes responsibility for their own actions (like Afghanistan). Especially when you have standards and you choose against the spiritual life...for your own purposes and your own spiritual life. This person in Prov.24 had the land. We all have spiritual wealth at our fingertips; what do we do with it? Do we not till it? That is up to us. We can blame no one else for a spiritual life that does not work. How hard is it to be filled with the Holy Spirit; how hard is it to take in doctrine? It is not hard with positive volition. You do not neglect it, any more than you skip work.
5. Why a loser? They have ignored the divine viewpoint wisdom of work, which always brings ruin. It is ruin in the spiritual life when you don't fulfill your spiritual life; and ruin in your temporal life, to fulfill the doctrine of work. You will never be fulfilled unless you...

When Bobby was at home as a teen. Bob used to called Bobby piddly. Bobby could become distracted by anything. He was a sleeper, a loser at that point.

They lack sense; they are indolent; they are undisciplined. That is what Bob was trying to get across to Bobby. "Stop finding distractions; get your job done." Bobby learned that the hard way. He learned that in college. It was a good thing.

Poverty of material and spiritual things are a result of laziness. The person slept instead of working. The lazy man puts off work until the next day. Putting off work until the next day. But nothing happened or everything was late. Don't be late in your work. Don't produce this late. This reflects on your, your discipline or your work ethic.

The Lazy Man's Way and the Results

1. The longer you postpone what you should be doing, the more unwilling the mind will be to fulfill what they are supposed to do. Bobby watched a lot of football. He noticed that a team jumps out on top, ahead by 2 or 3 touchdowns, but the other team catches up. The first team did not continue their discipline throughout the entire game. The other team lowered the boom on them. Complete what you start.

2. When failure comes, the thorns and thistles are manifested in your life. They grow up; they grow in your field. Life gets a little thorny. It gets unfulfilled. You are the procrastinator; you are the sleeper.
3. When that happens, excuses abound. You have already developed these in your mind. You avoid the responsibility for your failure because you have made an excuse.
4. Personal, financial and spiritual ruin are the result. Inevitably. Certainly spiritual ruin. You can't use faith rest and you cannot take responsibility for your life. You have not developed impersonal love. You cannot stand the person that you work with. You take responsibility for yourself in all circumstances. Even if there are others who seem to be getting in your way. When your health may not be what you want it to be. You hang in there; perseverance, discipline; continue to work. You will be promoted when it is God's time to promote you. God does not promote us until we are ready to be promoted. Wherever you are, that is where you work. Whatever your circumstances, your spiritual life is #1, no matter what job you do. You do not have the right to sleep when you should be working. You do not have the right to sit on your hands and accept what the government gives you. You don't have the right to make a living on someone else. That is not the doctrine of work; that is not the spiritual solution to life. That is why we are going down economically. The indolent, the lazy, the sleeper will be surprised at their demise. They wake up and see, "I have nothing; it's been stolen.
5. If you set your eyes on it, you may not get it. You must have the work ethic and the honor. Don't consider wealth to be the highest attainment. Service to the Lord is an eternal wealth inheritance. 1Peter 1:4-5 to attain an inheritance which is undefiled, imperishable, and will not fade away, reserved in heaven for you. It stays there; it does not fade away. Who are protected by the power of God through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. That is what we have, whether we are wealthy or not.

We have an inordinate desire for wealth in our society, and it does not seem to matter how we gain it, whether criminal activity or no activity. But that is not the divine design for work; nor is it honorable before the Lord. This is not the impetus for work. True wealth is not the product...

One gains nothing if you do nothing of value. Wealth gained by not working is unappreciated. Frequently that breeds a self-centered, indolent arrogant person. Good propaganda for socialism as well.

Prov. 23:4-5 Do not toil to acquire wealth; be discerning enough to desist. When your eyes light on it, it is gone, for suddenly it sprouts wings, flying like an eagle toward heaven.

The great irony today is those who have the great blessings of capitalism are embracing socialism. If wealth is your sole driving force behind your work, then it becomes worthless. Some gain wealth and they find it unrewarding and unsatisfying. They get there and it is not the fulfillment that they thought it might be. They have no honor.

The ranks of the wealthy and famous are filled with unhappy and unfulfilled people. They seem to have everything.

The result of socialism is indolence. We want our results to be the spiritual life. Wealth is often harder to maintain than it is to gain in the first place. Professional athletes are often the worst people in this regard. Wonderful salaries and so many end up with nothing. They cannot handle money. They don't know what to do except spend it.

A friend of Bobby's who was a sports athlete gets calls all of the time for loans.

What do we take with us when we go? Not our wealth; divine good. Production of divine good is pleasing to the Lord and He has a use for it. Many people have made a lot of money; they are wealthy and they realize that the Lord has a reason for that. They support ministries and missionaries. In fellowship, that is divine good. The well-motivated giver, not grudgingly or of necessity. On the other hand, people are increasingly dependent upon others for their existence; on a socialist government. That is in direct violation of hard work and spiritual autonomy. Our border is overrun with people. We are importing thousands from the country that we just left. Some will see this country just to get a share of the wealth; to receive money from the government. They want to share in wealth with no work ethic. This is destructive to the nation. For some new arrivals, work becomes unnecessary. It is too easy to depend upon the government for sustenance and income. This is what a socialist government promotes. That is a sleeping society. How can the government provide such welfare to so many people without bankruptcy. It cannot go on. They obscenely tax the wealth and the middle class, and give this to those who do nothing. Hard work is seen as superfluous. The producers no longer are able to enjoy the fruits of their labor. Wealth is distributed to others who refuse to work. It promotes apathy, lethargy, etc. The populace becomes content to live off of others. It is okay to benefit yourself from work. To benefit from hard work is Biblical. The producers who do produce become discouraged and they join the ranks of the indolent. Thus is built a non-productive society, which is the history of socialism and Marxism.

Lesson #0278

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 9/8/2021 Wednesday

The Biblical doctrine of work will be completed this evening. One of the most important doctrines of this time. Two generations of Americans have largely rejected the work ethic of the past, which goes back to the earliest settlers, through to the greatest generation and even some of the baby boomers.

Many have embraced this, not know what it was. Protestant work ethic, which means to adhere to the divine design. To work diligently in order to succeed, to work honorably, something which is lacking today in many areas of our society. Also working with the concentration to master and complete one's working life. We are always progressing in the spiritual life. True in every aspect of our lives. Especially true in what it takes to make a living. So we must keep learning right to the end and continue in that direction right to the end. We never completely master it. We need to learn to the point where we can innovate in what we are doing. This often results in greater remuneration. We are fulfilled in life in working. It encompasses a great deal of our time. Those things in which we spend the most time, work and family life, are the things that we must work at the most. They should be the most fulfilling. Many people in this country are completely unfulfilled in this life is drudgery. They hate every moment of work. They often do just enough not to get fired, and they get paid just enough to keep them working. So many people do exactly that.

Our national work ethic has changed from those earlier times. We live in the most powerful and prosperous nation the world has ever seen. Yet many people embrace socialism.

Bobby finds it so ironic, the wealthy nation that we are, has now turned toward impoverishing socialism. Hard-work is secondary to what government can provide for us. Wealth, income equality, personal debt forgiveness, horrendous national debt.

People say, capitalism has left people behind. The rich get richer. Some do get left behind. But it is better than leaving everyone behind in socialism, impoverishing the entire nation. Christ said the poor you will have with you always, but we don't want to exacerbate this with even a higher concentration of poor.

The socialist government, obscenely taxes the produces, the wealthy and the middle class; and from those taxes, they provide to others free benefits, welfare benefits, subsistence. For doing nothing. Raise and having children. Refusing employment opportunities; and the government gives you money. Why work when the government gives more money than a lower-paying job?

Socialism, the Work Ethic and the Bible

1. The socialist renders hard work and the work ethic superfluous in the minds of many. That is evil and anti-Biblical.
2. In the socialistic scheme the producers no longer get to enjoy the larger portion of their labor. They are taxed heavily. They do not get to enjoy the greater portion of their labor, which is not Biblical. Prov. 13:11
3. Proverbs wealth obtain by fraud dwindles. The one who gathers by labor increases wealth.
4. What does this mean today? The government attains wealth by fraud under socialism. They take money from those who produce and give it to those who don't. The wealth of the nation dwindles under socialism. That is what is happening to money in this country.
5. The dwindling occurs under heavy taxation. We are due to pay our taxes and our taxes under socialism are exorbitant.
6. This is the plunder of the producer by socialism. We are plundered.

7. Psalm 109:11 such plunder by the government is a curse on people, not a benefit. Let the creditor seize all that he has. This is a curse against the enemies of Israel.
8. In socialism, the government becomes the false creditor of those who labor. The government is actually our creditor at this point.

Government welfare is addictive to those who receive it. It promotes lethargy and apathy. Outside of God's design for man. Don't worry about any of your problems, the government says, we will take care of that. You get to live on the backs of those who have. The producers see no reason to work so hard, if there is no increased benefit to themselves. Socialism never takes into account the sin nature of man. Charity is one thing; government welfare is entirely different and it is not Biblical.

We now understand the importance of working, under bad conditions. It is difficult to work under a socialist system. You do not get the rewards for your hard work. People go bankrupt under those conditions. That is the history and destiny of Marxist socialism. Socialism has become so popular among the younger generation. They do not realize that they will ultimately pay for these benefits.

Ironic that we are such a materialistic society embracing socialism.

Final Concepts of Work

1. Socialism is a direct violation of God's viewpoint of work. Making a living through hard work, being independent, not unemployed.
2. Working for a living is a divine establishment concept. A mandate for living. A doctrinal application that you cannot miss. We are being bombarded with the great socialism.
3. Indolence and laziness perpetuates a lack of self-esteem and self reliance. Freedom demands self reliance; freedom demands responsibility. Socialism relieves you from your freedom and self reliance.
4. Resultant society is oppressive. So is individual indolence. Oppressive and destructive.
5. Christians must adhere to the divine viewpoint of work as a divine mandate, a way of life, and a service to the Lord. What you do as a profession is service to the Lord, if it is done unto the Lord.
6. Whether you are labor, management, independent or an owner, you fall under the principle of hard work as ordained by God.
7. This is a spiritual application for the believer. This principle applies to unbelievers as well. There is no fulfillment in unemployment, dependancy on others. Only fulfillment in life when you are producing, working, doing your job as unto the Lord, as an unbeliever, as a work ethic. A means of fulfillment. Eccles. 2:24 3:13 5;19 9:9

This is the completion of the doctrine of work.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Charats means diligent, sharp, meaning mental sharpness, mental acuity. Drive. The diligent person is first aware of his opportunities and obligations and fulfills them with the focus, concentration and work ethic. That person take advantage of opportunities as God opens the door.

It is a good thing to recognize the opportunity. It is good to recognize an open door. Bobby was not aware what opportunities would open up for him. But you have to walk through the door when it opens. And opportunities if you recognize them. Success is a job well done. It may bring financial rewards; but you might not acquire financial remuneration, even for hard work. A higher position possibly.

Fulfilling the Plan of God

1. Diligence is fulfilling the plan of God in whatever you do, which includes work; but it includes every other area of life as well. In marriage, in family life, in your interaction with others.
2. 1Cor. 10:31 So, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God.
3. That is the ultimate motivation and attitude towards work.
4. And you are promoted to rule when God promotes you. You still have the obligation to fulfill His plan. In your job, vocation. God promotes you to rule when God decides.
5. God knows exactly when you are ready for the next step in His plan. Thus you are prepared for wherever God takes you next. What you are doing one moment can shift 180 degrees in no time at all. But when the door opens, it appears to have nothing to do with where you go next. The military preparation means everything when it has to do with leadership. The one Bobby always likes to mention. A person in the military is willing to give up his life for his country; otherwise, he would not be there. What greater parallel could there be?
6. How you work and to whose glory you work, which is God, is integral to your ruling status. That is hat v. 24 mentions. That is the result of sharpness and diligence. That sharp, hard-working person, who is ethical.

What Does it Mean to Rule?

1. Rule is the Hebrew verb masha. It means, to have dominion, to reign.
2. We can see masha means to reach the pinnacle of one's abilities and talents. That requires you to do so.
3. So it is done through the avenue of planning, paying attention and diligent work. This is the fulfillment of the divine design. The idea is, a sharp, hard-working person will rule. We think of this as a king or someone in a political position. This does not necessarily mean that. When you work and you work hard and you learn what you are supposed to learn, you become competent. Who wants an incompetent ruler. You ask yourself that, and you can see what an incompetent leader is by watching the news. This takes a sharp, hardworking person to do that. Personal accomplishment and wisdom prepares you for service to the Lord and even for public service. By that, we serve the people. Leadership, of paying attention, of diligent work, all of the things that the doctrine of work demands.

4. Maschal certainly means that one will be put in charge of others or carry authority in whatever circumstances that person finds himself. That means, in order to find yourself ruling, you must develop some skills; you must develop some leadership. From laziness, from indolence. One leads to the other. It is the absolute fact of wisdom. You need to prepare yourself through hard work.

A person can be the president of the United States or manage 3 people, a captain of industry or an employee with some authority. No matter how high or low your position, the principles still hold true.

The Believer Work Ethic and Movement in Life

1. Given your abilities and work ethic, best you can achieve is the hand of the diligent.
2. Your diligence may carry you only so far. People get angry if they are not promoted where they should be or not given the remuneration that they deserve. You should never feel that way. Even in your diligence, it will carry you only so far. Where is God taking you; not where are your plans taking you.
3. Sharpness, mental acuity, leadership skills are also necessary to rise to the highest levels. Regardless of what level of leadership you are in.
4. You work hard as unto the Lord at whatever level you achieve. That glorifies God.
5. The doctrine to apply in Philip. 4:11–13 Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. I can do all things through him who strengthens me.
6. Remember the doctrinal principle, your circumstances always include hard work and be content in it and do it as unto the Lord. Might be a terrible job; maybe it is not your final stop. Wherever you are and whatever you do, do it as unto the Lord. Particularly true of unbelievers. Whatever you are doing, be content. There were times in the military and there were times not to be content. That does not preclude you from doing the best job that you can as unto the Lord. Pay attention to detail; leadership is an important skill to learn. Yet diligent labor and hard work does not guarantee great wealth; nor does it guarantee promotion, or prestige. Privates do become general officers. You never know where you will end up. These have all happened to believers. They reach the success to which they are capable. Be all you can be. Diligence makes you all that you can be in God's plan. God knows exactly what you can be.

For some people, they will never grow spiritually. However, this allows for the moderately mature believer to build up some divine good.

You just have to work hard and go through the open door. The plan of God is a great illustration.

Lesson #0279

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/9/2021 Thursday

quercitan

Work ethic and Bobby has bemoaned the disoillusion of this in our country.

“Most people work just hard enough not to get fired and get paid just enough money not to quit,” George Carlin.

Winner of a not-my-job award: must be a visual. Doing only as much as necessary to get by. Apparently laying a stripe on the street.

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Diligent is the mode for work. This includes ot take advantage of opportunity when God opens the door to it. The attitude and motivation to work hard is also a part of diligence, in order to accomplish job. Some people do not want to accomplish anything. It is important to know what it means to rule. Mashal is the word to rule, to have dominion, to be in charge (of something). If you are in charge of anyone, you are in a leadership position. Here, we are talking about being in charge of other people. Knowledge gained at your job, at your profession. You cannot help by gather how to gain knowledge in your job. You are ready to carry authority in whatever work position that you find yourself in. It takes knowledge and training to know how to rule. The idea for the believer is the diligent, hard-working person who has learned the... By sitting in this auditorium, you grow and God uses us for His service. Hard work is our service. The diligent and success that the believer can achieve in this life. Such a believer will rule. It is not a guarantee, but it is an option. Think of how many people are in charge of others and they are completely inept; completely incompetent. We have had teachers who cannot teach, who do not know what they are doing. A believer who understands the doctrine of work. Hence, they are able to lead in their field. The confidence others have in you because you are the most hard-working person there; the perfect person to rule. As a believer in Jesus Christ, when you are put into that position, step into it and do that job. You have something in your soul to communicate by way of doctrine in your work. If people respect you, they will listen to you. The greatest success; the diligent and sharp believer can achieve in the Christian life. You will rule by having influence and impact on others. Your motivation; your attitude.

Bobby has had a boss or two and you can tell, by the look on their face, that the day is going to be bad. Attitude. When you arrive at work with a good attitude all the time, it is because you have grown to spiritual maturity as a believer. You know that every day you have service to render to the Lord. Regardless of who is in charge of you. That is the challenge to you. You become a leader in the work of your life.

At the end of life, such a believer will receive the reward of life including the work of service; especially for the production of divine good. There is a place for service. You present an attitude and a motive that people usually do not see. In that case, you will rule with the Lord over many

Matt. 25:23 His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.'

Paul called himself a slave to the Lord. He was a slave because he served the Lord. This is how we hear good and faithful servant. Faithful means that you were diligent in what you did for the Lord. You were faithful in a few things. God does not put us in a super high position like president.

"I will put you in charge of many things; you will rule, for faithfulness in a few things.

We are talking about our production of divine good in our work ethic. We do this in regards to the Lord. If you have a terrible attitude, take a day off. The conferences give Bobby the break in the routine. Sometimes he takes some days off.

Production of Divine Good in Relationship to Work

1. Our business is to produce divine good.
2. We benefit by hearing, well done, good and faithful slave.
3. Our future is intimately tied to our time on earth. The moment we express faith alone in Christ alone, we have an eternal future. Whatever you do in this life, do it as unto the Lord. It has an impact for eternity.
4. After the accolade, well done, Jesus names our reward.
5. That reward is more than just proportional to our work. It is greater. It does not lessen the necessity of producing.
6. Christ gives us certain duties which are small in comparison to the reward. Faithful in a few things. The doctrine of work is important so that we know how to perform divine good on the job.
7. When we produce with diligence, when we fulfill His plan in that diligence, Jesus Christ is very appreciative.
8. That constitutes our Lord's statement, our eternal promotion of ruling over many.
9. God is so gracious. Those few things that we accomplish, regardless of our position in life, we receive reward way out of proportion to what we do. Our abilities and spiritual maturity matter.
10. What we receive for our diligence during our spiritual life on earth is far beyond our expectations in heaven.
11. What we get is well worth the work which we have done. So the deed performed under those conditions produce a profit for the Lord Jesus Christ. No matter how large or how small.

This diligence is recognized in eternity. What the Lord gives us is much better than gold and silver.

Production During the

1. The one who produces a profit through diligence will receive promotion in Christ's household. You will receive an eternal promotion.
2. The analogy is to the kingdom of the Millennium. The Tribulation precedes that. Matt. 25 is a passage dealing with that subject.
3. This analogy...the Tribulation. There will be many believers who go through those 7 years. We will experience an exit resurrection before the Tribulation.
4. Such believers will rule with the Lord during the Millennial reign.
5. He or she will be promoted to a high circumstance in the coming kingdom. Church Age believers who were resurrected 7 years prior will return with the Lord. We will also receive that kind of promotion, given greater things.
6. You have been faithful to and diligent in fulfilling the plan of God. You have served the Lord in whatever capacity that He requires of you. Don't ever think that this is unrelated to your work.

The person translating this verse inserts the word hand. It is a good addition. This is the personification of the person who works with his hands. That is the work mode in the ancient world. This working person is a slacker. Who is this slack person who does not work.

Slack comes from the Hebrew noun remiyah. It means, idle, lazy, negligence, slothful; the sluggard that we studied previously. He refuses to maintain his fields. He is the lazy one. Prov. 34:31. The results of the sluggard. He does not work his field. Thus he looks crappy. The sluggard is then put into forced labor. That is the opposite of the previous phrase. The diligent person is the vigorous one. The sluggard will be at the bottom of society. He will be at nothing but forced labor. The concept of forced labor conjures up the tyranny of slavery in recent history. During the Nazi occupation of Europe, forced labor camps were opened up all over the continent. People were starved and they were starved and there were medical experiments. Never believe that the holocaust was fake.

These camps are museums now; they are houses of horror. There is the ubiquitous written slogan. It was over every camp that opened in Europe. Work makes free. This was an ironic lie. This was not freedom for Jews or gypsies. The prisoners were often worked to death and then incinerated in camp crematoriums. Those who deny this holocaust are ignorant and their thinking is biased by their hatred for the Jews. Bobby has met some Christians who hate Jews. They will fall under the curse of Gen. 12:3b. Those camps are what forced labor means to us at its worst. The Marxists of the Soviet Union, China, North Korea, did exactly the same thing. Overworking and killing millions in the process. The other image is slavery. Ended in 1865; before that, slaves were bought and sold.

But this is not what forced labor means in this passage. This is not about prison camps, extermination of a people, or the institution of slavery. Slavery still exists today.

What is forced labor?

1. The meaning of forced labor is antithetical to the concept of diligence.
2. Forced labor is the absence of a hard work ethic.
3. It is the result of a lack of motivation found in the sluggard.
4. The diligent are self-motivated and aggressive in work, the sluggard has no motivation and has to be forced to work. Sometimes a useless worker.
5. The slack one will be ruled; the diligent one will be in charge of him or her.
6. With no motivation and a bad attitude, the sluggard must be forced to work by those in authority.
7. He must be supervised closely and corrected constantly because he is undependable.
8. Therefore, the sluggard labors under compulsion.
9. He is forced to labor to make a living. Under the doctrine of work, we are not forced to. We enter into it with a great attitude.

Lesson #0280

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/12/2021 1Sunday

Communion Sunday

We must recall and appreciate what Christ has done and has accomplished for us.

The Bible mentions all kinds of clothing. God clothed Israel for the Exodus and saw that their clothes not get old. Very careful clothing for the priests and high priest. The business of tailoring goes back to Adam and the woman.

Bobby has spent time in tailor shops. He likes to wear and receive a finished suit. Bob would not like a suit made of fig leaves. That is exactly what Adam and the woman wore. God placed the first humans in the garden unclothed. They were unquestioned the best looking people ever. They had bodies of perfection. God cannot create anything which is slightly flawed. Adam and Eve were exceptionally brilliant. They had an exceptional existence. The ecological flawlessness could not be matched. All of it was theirs, except for one tree, the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Only one tree was anti-God. But there was Satan ready to use that tree against God.

They were created without sin. Neither of them had a sin nature. As long as they lived without arrogance, anti-authority they were fine. Then Satan tempted the woman; she ate from the fruit of that forbidden tree. The tragic result was Romans 12. Sin entered into the world, and death spread to all men. All sinned when Adam sinned. We were all present in Adam seminally when Adam sinned. They became aware of human good and evil. Without fellowship with God, Satan controlled their lives and the world.

They concocted a plan to hide their sin from God. Prior to their sin, they had never noticed that they were naked. Their eyes were opened and they knew that they were naked. They had suddenly become conscious of sin. Their newly formed conscience let them know that they were in a fallen state.

Satan wasted no time pointing out their nakedness? Adam and the woman sensed a need to cover up. In an effort to meet their sudden need. In all their brilliance, they had become so dumb and guilt-ridden that they did not go to God with their predicament. They did not own up to their sin. They attempted a solution of their own making. They assumed if they could cover their nakedness and become acceptable to each other, that they would be okay before God. No clothing could shield them from unrighteousness. They needed another covering. They needed another human covering, in the hope that they would meet God's righteous standards.

Some people choose the clothes of morality to cover their sinfulness. They are proud of what they have woven. They are proud of their clean living. But before God, they will discover that they are unrighteous in God's eyes.

Other sinners sew together leaves of reform. They have cleaned up their lives; they have altered their course. They boast that they have a new morality. They have clothed themselves with legalism. They have put on acceptable clothing.

Some try to keep the Law. Because, by the works of the Law, no flesh will be made righteous in His sight. The clothing of legalism only points to sin. The knowledge of human good and evil. The Law does not provide a covering. It makes the need for a covering apparent.

Those emulate the patches of leaves. A phony righteousness hiding sin; not solving it. Man imagines so many kinds of clothes will cover him at the last judgment. We cover ourselves with relative righteousness. God's justice will act against them. To make themselves acceptable to God is evil. The first act, operation fig leaves, was the first act of human good. They could not even approach God. They hid from Him. They heard the Lord walk in the garden in the spiritual time of the day. They hid themselves from the Lord God. They understood their own solution of fig leaves was inadequate and useless.

Gen. 3:21 God clothed them with animal skins. He saw their need and he met it. God promised a redemption solution for them. God provided fallen man and woman with a different cloth to cover their nakedness. The animal provided the skin. The covering of their bodies with the animal skin that made them acceptable to be in the presence of God. It was the death of an animal which made

The Hebrew word for atonement is cover, clothing, covering over. What Adam and the woman produced was not enough. The bloodless exposed guilt could never solve the sin problem.

Wherever there is sin, there must be divine judgment. The animal died so that animal and his wife might have a relationship with God.

Without the shed blood, there is no remission. The shed blood was the first picture, the illustration of atonement. The reason for shed blood. Leviticus. 17:11 for the life of the flesh is in the blood and I have given it to you upon the altar to make atonement for your souls.

The sacrifice of the lambs tells of the substitutionary death of Jesus in the future. God had produced by means of the death of the animal. The skin taken from the death of the dead animal, a new relationship.

Animal sacrifice is just a picture of God's atonement for sin. The only atonement which counts is that of the Lord. How much more the blood of Christ, Who through the eternal spirit offered Himself for the sins of the world.

Sin is no longer the issue. Just as the animal blood was sprinkled over the Ark, so we are covered by the blood of Christ. The blood sacrifices point us toward the spiritual death of Jesus Christ. This opens up a new relationship with God. Jesus is the Lamb of God. Christ died on the cross that we might be acceptable to God. We need to express faith alone in Christ alone; and the covering is complete. Salvation is the result.

The skin garments represented God's righteousness applied to us. God's solution for mankind's sin portrayed by the animal sacrifice was realized in the substitutionary death of Christ.

No Bible class this week. Grand Haven Michigan conference.

Lesson #0281

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/12/2021 2Sunday

Proverbs 12:24 The hand of the diligent will rule, while the slothful will be put to forced labor.

Work is mandated for all mankind. Work requires a number of things; we know from the doctrine of work that it demands discipline, training and knowledge. We must be efficient in what we do. There is a requirement for a work ethic, the right motivation, the right attitude; the believer does their job as unto the Lord. The person will rule. He or she will be remunerated; possibly promoted. As promoted, they will be in charge. A leader having been prepared. Good work habits, the right attitude. Your motive, your attitude, your good work motive. There is one other aspect to this. The believer will rule with Christ in the Millennium as a part of the Millennium for divine good in this life. That production is the most time-consuming part of our lives. This is where we spend a good bit of time on our job. Without our characteristic, the person is called idle, lazy, negligent, slothful, a sluggard. The slack hand will be put in forced labor. This is the opposite of the previous phrase of diligent labor. Forced labor is not prison camps, it is not about being worked to death; nor is this about slavery.

Forced Labor

1. This is simply the result of no hard work ethic. The sluggard has no motivation and therefore must be forced to work.
2. Where the diligent are self motivated and aggressive in work and they will rule, the sluggard has no motivation and has to be forced to work. They are a terrible employee and a useless worker; and they may not even work.
3. The diligent must be in charge of the sluggard. Otherwise, there is no labor from them. They must get motivation from without.
4. Bad attitude, means they must be forced to work by those in authority. Closely supervised; constantly correct; they are watched over for being undependable.
5. The sluggard labors reluctantly. They have to do it because there is no other way to survive. Bad motivation, bad work ethic, bad attitude.
6. The diligent will rise to the top and rule. The sluggard is at the bottom. He is often a trouble maker in the workplace. He is caused to work from necessity. Not from tyranny; not being on a chain gang. He puts himself in a box where there is no other way out rather than to labor out of need.
7. The sluggard has neither wealth, ...he never reaches an altitude above the ground. On a national level, the sluggard loses his or her freedom. Although socialism attempts to alleviate this problem, it cannot alleviate a poverty of soul. Socialism impoverishes society as a whole. There is the removal of individual freedom.

Socialism is the opposite of diligence in the workplace. The doctrine of work counters the consistent move toward socialism in this country. The lazy no longer seek to work. The government destroys the economy by excessive taxation, which impoverishes everyone. The lazy are provided the free ride of everyone. There is no free ride in the design and plan of God. The plan of God is designed to work. Success for the nation itself.

God demands that the human race work diligently, believer and unbeliever. Adam and the woman had to work. He needed a helper to do all of that. After the fall, they had to work even harder. It has been that way ever since. Work is an obligation and a means of production and a means of success and fulfillment for believers and unbelievers alike.

The sluggard will be forced to work even hard to attain even less. The sluggard is a worker characterized by discontent, anxiety, and revolution. Revolution begins by exploiting the lazy; promised bigger and better things by the revolutionaries. They are promised to receive a status over those. He is just another tool; they are cannon fodder for the revolution. If these people succeed, they will not personally succeed. They are merely tools of the Marxist revolution. The tools of Marxism are the first ones to be purged. But they cannot wait to bring about change. They think that revolution will help them.

The American revolution was a fight for freedom. They were not looking to overthrow a government that they did not like. On the larger scale, a vigorous capitalist nation will rule over all other countries. We have thrown millions in foreign aid at other countries and it has not helped them at all. A nation which does not produce is a nation of the slack. The doctrine of work is misunderstood by believers and unbelievers alike. Today we see China beginning to dominate world economics and the US beginning to fall behind economically and militarily. We have gone backwards as of late. We are looking at a monstrous socialist bill in Congress today, to redistribute wealth all over. This will hobble our children and grandchildren with ever more debt. This is the agenda of Marxism for the United States.

How will gigantic tax hikes and abolishing right to work laws and scuttling resources and making it possible for more to sit on the sidelines. It won't. This is an impossible dream of sluggards. After the debacle that we saw in Afghanistan, we have lowered ourselves in the world. We have shown ourselves to be undependable.

Why did I come here this morning to hear this? I am unencouraged by you, pastor. We need to appreciate the fact that we are diligent in understanding. We don't have to be discouraged; we don't have to get down. We don't have to worry about what is going on. The plan of God marches on and cuts right through the cosmic system. So do not fear. Apply Psalm 59:1 (Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; protect me from those who rise up against me;...); a great chapter. This prayer is an immediate rescue. We have plenty of enemies out there, national and personal. Self-defense is justified; but you don't go out and kill those that you disagree with.

We may claim this prayer of David anytime and anywhere. The chapter is one of the great encouragements of deliverance. You will realize that God is for you; therefore, who can be against you?

What makes us great? Diligence, hard work. A maturing spiritual life among believers in Jesus Christ. What brings us down? Sluggards. A nation characterized no work sluggards. A nation when a nation of believers fails to advance to spiritual maturity.

We need this verse to understand what is happening in our country. We are the solution to the problems of our country.

Proverbs 12:24 The diligent of work ethic and activity attain the dominate status over others, while the sluggards are underlings paying tribute, working for and under those who are productive.

Next verse.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

Any fear or anxiety that you have, it already weighs you down. It occupies your thinking. A good word, a single word takes care of all that anxiety? We need to know what that one word is.

The subject of this verse is the product of discouragement in this life. Discouragement and the importance of encouragement. The discouraged person is described metaphorically as a person with a heavy heart; a sad looking person with the weight of the world on their shoulders. An attitude of gloom and despair. We need help. The need of encouragement in times of anxiety. This encouragement comes from a good word. This is to alleviate anxiety, anxiety being the source of our problems. It results in a despondent outlook on life. Anxiety is the source of discouragement and fear. It is a result of that anxiety and fear. A fear of the present and of what might happen. It results in a despondent outlook on life. We as believers have a despondent outlook on this life. Paul wrote to Timothy, we do not have a lifestyle of fear. This good word solution is very different of today's method or clinical depression. This falls under the realm of medicine. Anti-depressants; years of counseling. Or illegal drugs and alcohol to dull the pain. All of this may have an impact or no impact. That is not the view of this verse. This does promote talk. What kind of talk? Humanistic, psychological talk? Mind games. That must be explained to us, so that despondency, fear and anxiety can be handled in life. We all have adversity in this life. When these mental attitude sins overwhelm our souls, the spiritual life is being crushed in our souls. We are overcome by adversity and the pressure gets to us. We do not have that lifestyle. What is this word of encouragement mean?

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

The person here is described as a person with a heavy heart. Circumstances of testing; a sad sack with the weight of the world on his or her shoulders.

Certainly there are people who have done something that they are totally ashamed of. Your self-centered arrogance would be impossible to reach you. Everyone has done something, of which he or she was thoroughly ashamed; and perhaps that activity continues. Some become very discouraged as a result. Believers in Jesus Christ are no exception.

There are a lot of legalists floating around, shaming, encouraging you to be discouraged. Legalists live to grind other believers under their heels. Legalists must have something to eat, and they feed on other believers. If you have failed Jesus in a rather spectacular way, so that you are discouraged as a believer. Remember that you are still alive and you have no right to be a believer in Jesus Christ. There is certain a need for help. Rebound is a help; and relief is found in this verse in the second line. This encouragement comes from a good word. Alleviate anxiety. A fear of the present and of the future, rooted in past experience, resulting in a despondent outlook on life. Relieving anxiety and depression today might involve legal or illegal drugs to dull the pain. It may dull the pain and it might not. This verse promotes talk, but the key is, what sort of talk. Self-examination? Mind games? What is the word found in the second half of this verse?

It is important to understand the Biblical view of anxiety and the word.

Dagh

1. This word means anxious, fear, dread.
2. This is a fear that intrudes and manipulates the thought process.
3. It is fear that inundates the mentality of the soul.
4. It substitutes emotion and reaction for reasoning and objectivity. Objectivity is Bible doctrine in the soul of the believer.
5. Emotionalism and reaction affects and debilitates normal activities in life. It stymies normal effort. This anxiety weighs heavily on a person. This fear and anxiety is a result of two things: an inordinate, internal agitation. Secondly, personal arrogance and self-centeredness. That combination makes a person very vulnerable to emotionalism. Sometimes uncontrollable anger and hysterics, towards any imagined, threatened or real adversity.

Fearful and Anxious People

1. Such a person has real difficulty dealing with adversity and stress.
2. Fear and emotion override logical and rational thinking.
3. There is little or no objectivity or solid perception of reality. It is all about me, is what sort of person this is. That person has a lot of fear in their souls.
4. They inflate circumstances out of all proportion.
5. They over think problems. Constantly thinking about their own problems and reaction with some sort of fear or anxiety.
6. They develop some sort of....
7. Then the problem becomes cyclical. Each new challenge of life. Anxious fearful people never enjoy anything in life. They have no relaxed mental attitude about life. They are always on edge. What are the circumstances that they are in and are these good or bad for them? Fearful anxious people are self-centered people.

There are many things in life which have no fear at all. Areas which strike a fearful cord. Arrogance is an overestimation of one's own value. I am more important than anything else.

Cowards

1. Cowards are always concerned about themselves first and foremost.
2. This self-centered notion drives self-preservation above all things. Cowards make terrible soldiers; they think of themselves first. Soldiers become cowards because they are not trained well enough. Our military is indoctrinated today, rather than training for war and their ability to function under stress or integrity. Training has to be repetitive. Over, over and over again the same things. You recall it quickly. That is objectivity. Self-centered focuses on oneself more than what they have been trained.

3. A coward is a person who can think only of himself in a stressful situation. They cannot complete the mission, the job, the spiritual life.
4. That is when, under pressure, emotion, fear, anxiety and cowardice overwhelm and then drive the actions of that person. One turns pale and runs. We see that beginning in our own country. What resources do you have under persecution. Whatever you do, wherever you go. What do you use; do you back out. Do you have the resources to handle life?
5. These types, these cowards, are more afraid of personal injury, pain or even death than personal injury, honor, responsibility to the Lord for their conduct under pressure. If you utilize divine operating assets.... How fulfilling to accomplish the mission. The believer cannot think under pressure. They cannot recall the good word of Bible doctrine if they do not have it. If they have ignored or rejected the Word, then it is not there for them when they need it. It bores them; they cannot be consistent with it. You cannot be good in anything without consistency. It takes an amazing amount of work and routine to master this or that skill. Then under pressure, you are able to do it.

Some people are in Berachah when the doors are open. Most people are in Berachah because they want to be inculcated with a way of thinking. They need to operate in the spiritual life. A consistent, point by point intake of Bible doctrine. That is the operational manual. If you are not trained in Bible doctrine, you cannot live the Christian life. "God help me! God be with me!" But they have no idea God is all about. Without doctrine, you cannot compensate for that stress in your soul.

There will be a time when we will receive our accolades for being faithful. You have been faithful in a few things; I will make you ruler over many.

Some fight the cowardice all of their lives. The inability to defeat this problem. They have nothing in the soul with which to counter it. Every believer has a counter. As soldiers need training, so the believer needs training in the spiritual life. You beat anxiety and fear by changing your thinking. You can cover it from time to time; but the permanent way is to change your mode of thinking. There is no focus on a substitute unless you focus on doctrine. Then cowardice can be countered. That is why our Lord challenged our fearful disciples. They were even fearful when the greatest events of history, the crucifixion. Peter was a coward at this time, denying the Lord 3x.

"Why are you afraid, you men of little faith?" Jesus speaking to the...

Bible doctrine is the way to alleviate fear and anxiety every time.

The Simple Spiritual Solution

1. The believer in Jesus Christ has that capability.
2. The believer can substitute Bible doctrine that overrides anxiety. It allows them to operate in the spiritual life. For any difficulty. Even if someone is hounding your or bullying you.
3. The Word of God, the mind of Christ, is anxiety-removing. It continues as long as it is applied. Peter and the boys in that boat had some doctrine. Jesus trained them in the spiritual life, and the disciples got their eyes on the water rather than on the Lord. What did it matter if water was coming over and they were sinking. You have the mind of Christ in your soul; that can change the fear and anxiety. So many pressures on our lives and on our person. Whenever fear raises its ugly head, refocus on the doctrine in your soul and on the promises of God that He has given you.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

Lesson #0283

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/19/2021 2Sunday

The verses recited are the solution.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

Psychologists make a great living off of anxiety. Maybe your life itself is fearful. There is always a solution to that problem. When outward circumstances, people problems of personal adversity cannot be resolved or alleviated...

Doctrinal and spiritual growth sometimes give in to anxiety. It is true also when we think about anxiety. Every circumstances that we live in, which is why we must have a counter to it. We must have a way to deal with it. Cowardice is not functioning because of fear; you change your ways because of fear. There are many reasons why fear controls. That is cowardice. You must have a way to overcome that. Without the resolution, fear intervenes and cowardice reigns over your life.

Bumper sticker, no fear. Bobby always thought that it is a ridiculous bumper sticker. "How are you not fearing? What do you do to have no fear?" This may have been a good question in order to open the door.

There is fear in our lives; but we must have a way to counter it. That is the most important thing that we can learn and apply today. Bobby has never seen so much anxiety in the lives of people. There are riots, a debacle in Afghanistan, and who are our leaders, and what about work? And socialism appears to be rearing its head. There are so many crazy ideas that are so far removed from divine establishment. Bobby sees fear in the eyes of some who ought to know better. Fun to talk about how many things are going wrong today. But we lose rational thinking; we lose divine viewpoint of the soul. If you cannot counter all of the pressures inundating you today, what a great indicator or great failure in the spiritual life. As believers in Jesus Christ, we don't like to admit that we are failures, or that things are not going as we want them to go. We don't want to admit that we are afraid to go to work; that we are afraid of our future. Stocking up on ammunition is not the solution. It is fine to protect yourself and your family. Nor is revolution the solution. Taking your guns from your cold, dead hands is fear; that is not the solution.

When things like this happen, doctrine does not work; I am still afraid. Maybe I need some humanism and some counseling. Do not look at the cover of a book and judge until you read it. The reverse substitutes the humanist solution for the spiritual solution. Inevitably, they have rejected or ignored a doctrine that they do not like. Or they reject the personality of the speaker. Find a different speaker that teaches doctrine. That is why God provided a number of doctrinal teachers.

In humanism, anxiety still controls when circumstances dictate. After some things, people engage in self-pity. They blame others, for their failures or cowardly miserable lives. They often try to hold onto whatever they can. Suicide is the ultimate in self-centeredness. Committing suicide as a believer, you will go to heaven; but what a coward. Own up to your failures. Live your life as unto the Lord. Stop being self-centered. Start thinking objectively. Your problems are your problems. We all have problems. The solution is the Word of God. It is the solution that everyone needs. The solution is Bible doctrine. People who are like that say ridiculous things. "Where is God when you need Him? Why does God allow this situation in my life?" They are unable to blame themselves for what is going on. For our national situation, no one admits to their culpability. Integrity and honor demand that you take accountability for your actions. The answer to these statements. Where is God? Why doesn't He fix it? Circumstances may simply not line up with what you desire. God does not follow our instructions. God has our best interests at heart. We do not have a lifestyle of fear every. That is not in our reprotoior.

The reversionist rejects this concept. He wallows in that rejection with self-pity. The bottom line is, this person cannot think divine viewpoint. Sometimes they have great platitudes of I love Jesus, I am on fire for the Lord. These platitudes are ridiculous. They do not use the resources given them and they cannot think divine viewpoint.

God works all things together for good. There is a little caveat. He works everything for those who love God. How do you love God? You get to know Him. Every aspect of your life, adversity or not, God is working. God's purpose marches on until the very last breath of your life. What is the thought when death could occur at any moment. What are you thinking? Just a second away from know what God is like. Where is the fear of death when you can say that? You have refocused on the plan of God, on eternal life; on what God has promised you, rather than upon the fear of death. God has provided promises for everything in your life.

Fear of circumstances and people are inevitable without faith and without trust in the Lord. Without reverse concentration on the Lord, during a difficulty. Apply a promise. Do you know one? You must know something in order ot apply it. That is what the faith rest drill is all about. We must blame or become angry at God. Such a common reaction when God is not doing what we want Him to do. How much easier for us to cast our cares upon Him because He cares for us. That is an anti-fear promise.

If God is for us, who can be against us? The world is against us. We are in the middle of the Angelic Conflict. We have a target on our back. We are hated because we are in the devil's world. Rom. 8:31. Bobby knows friends of his in Vietnam who used this verse. As long as you are still alive, God still has a plan for our lives. It has to be inculcated. It has to be good training. We must learn a few of these promises. We must learn about what the faith rest drill is all about. Anxiety and fear no longer controls our lives. There is a renovation of our thinking. It is a word of encouragement. That is the good word. Divine promises and doctrine.

The Power of the Word of God

1. The believer overcomes the mental attitude sin of fear. When fear controls us, we need to inculcate the Word of God through the power of God the Holy Spirit. We can listen to Bible doctrine for years and never truly inculcated it because they have never believed it or they have not been in fellowship when hearing the Word of God. This is not academic information like any other. The filling of the Holy Spirit brings to mind the stuff that we need when we are under pressure.
2. Solving personal problems and anxiety. You simply grow and reject the temptations of the sin nature. This only happens as the believer continues to mature. It is the way of the Christian warrior. We are more and more able to resist these origins.
3. The temptation to turn life over to fear is gradually replaced by the power of the Word of God. There is no greater power on earth, none. If you have Bible doctrine in your soul, you have the greatest power on earth.
4. This is where doctrine comes in, the good Word of God, which is the same solution proposed by Proverbs 12:25b. Solomon is a wise man. A genius in every sense of the word. He could take in two lines and provide the wisdom of the universe. This is what is amazing by Solomon's writings. Such precise illustrations. What we truly need is a session with Bible doctrine.
5. The good word that satisfies the soul...
6. It calms our attitude and adjusts our thinking under pressure. Those who put their fears aside and accomplish what they need to accomplish. What greater encouragement is there in this life? This is what the believer can fix their attention on.

As a surfer, Bobby developed a great respect for the power of water. It is nothing compared to the power of Bible doctrine in your soul.

Bobby has pretty much covered what anxiety looks like and what the solution is. Now we need to focus on what that means with regards to our everyday life. That is what the second half of this verse is all about.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

The country has so much anxiety; and nothing bring on anxiety like uncertainty. Anxiety is a burden wherever and whenever it occurs. Anxiety and gladness are contrasted in this verse. The message is the application of this great verse.

Anxiety

1. The translation of the Hebrew noun dagan.
2. This means, anxious, fear, dread.
3. This type of fear intrudes and manipulates the thought process. It affects it greatly.
4. It is a fear that paralyzes them mentality of the soul. Emotion is substituted for reasoning and objectivity.
5. Emotionalism and reaction affects and sometimes debilitates normal activities in life. Fear and hold people prisoner. A reaction of fear affects and debilitates normal activities of life.
6. It cause inertia, when there should be action. People are unable to make a decision because of fear. Very true in the military. Deadly results.
7. Fear stymies maximum effort when it is most needed.
8. A person who is anxious and emotional turns inward, becomes subjective and thinks only of self in times of adversity or stress. Cannot get outside of oneself. Cannot look at the problem of objectivity.
9. These people are more afraid of personal injury, of pain, and even of death than personal integrity, honor and responsibility to others. That is particularly true in point 10.
10. For the believer, our responsibility is to the Lord. We are responsible for not using the spiritual life under pressure. A lifestyle of fear.
11. The anxious fearful person cannot think or function under those conditions.
12. Fear turn to cowardice. Fear is in all of us, as we will see. Fear which does not allow us to make good decisions or to be objective. A combination of confused thinking and personal arrogance and self-centeredness. Anxiety appears in the face of any imagined or real adversity. Just the threat or thought of it can bring the fear. Such a person dealing with adverse circumstances.

People can become more calm, and more dependent on the objectivity and the problem solving that must occur to deal with the circumstances. We need to deal with adversity before it becomes stress. That is when we cannot function. That is when fear wins. Hardship, trouble, trusting. It brings total discouragement to people. This problem becomes cyclical. This can affect the overall conduct of a person's life. We are affected when fear rules. Such people cannot enjoy life. They have no relaxed mental attitude in life. For the believer, they have no faith rest in life. They are anxious about today or tomorrow. The project their fear and anxiety into the future. No other way to renovate their thinking. Total discouragement from repeated failure. Fear means self-absorption. Fear makes you think only about yourself.

The second half of this verse provides the solution to the problem. It says, the good word. This is more than one word or an epigram. This means many more words; words that are heard and heeded and a continuation of those words. These words must be true words. They must include truth. Not just sympathy. Not just a hug. Not just platitudes or emotionally charged words. Emotionally charged words have no substance and they soon pass away.

Those true words are what defeat anxiety in life. That is the ultimate that overcomes any difficulty in life. There must be some substance; something a person can really hang onto. How about the promises of God? His promises are our reality; they are the failsafe words. Sympathetic words might be a short-term comfort; but they are all that many people can offer. Also people can muster.

“I am so sorry” carries no real comfort. That is self-centered. This provides nothing to others in grief. “It is not about you. It is not about how sorry you are.” Sympathy will not solve the problems of discouragement or grief. It is a platitude that means nothing.

There is even a greater problem with sympathy as a word of encouragement. Mere sympathy can even increase suffering, when it terminates. An attempt to comfort with inane phrases. “You aren’t alone. I’ve been through this and I survived. Life goes on.” We have all made these kinds of well-meaning and empty statements, to help a person to move on with... Even when one problem may be over, residual fear and anxiety can remain; a fear of the next onslaught of adversity; and then more anxiety.

One problem that many people have at memorial services, what do you say? Bobby named a few that you shouldn’t say. As believers in Jesus Christ should know that the Word of God is a lasting and a complete encourager, particularly for those who are believers. It focuses a believer on God, and God’s unfailing love. That has relevance. It has substance. A simple word of doctrine.

What Bobby says at a memorial service may sound a little rough; but death is moving into a new place in life.

Today, in the humanist realm, years of psychological counseling fail to fully resolve any true anxiety. A friend of Bobby’s is a believer on doctrine, who approaches these problems from a Christian approach. He gives them doctrine. He packages it in a way that they don’t know that it is doctrine. Believers and unbelievers as patients. Many of the people have a part of the doctrinal church there and others are on tapes. He knows as well as most psychologists that neuroses lurk deep into the depths of the mind.

Once again arises the specter of over thinking in life. The old ways of thinking; the old anxieties. That is what humanism offers. Fear must be handled at its root cause. Exclusively for the believer, the true words of doctrine are designed to do just that. We must understand that doctrine does not promise no adversity in life. It does not promise blue skies, smooth sailing and no storms. Anxiety is handled by a renovation of thinking. The only true renovation of thinking is the good word of Bible doctrine.

Secondly, the good words must be suitable words. Words that impact the soul. When you speak to people with grief or anxiety, what impacts them? This should impact the present and the future at the very root cause of grief and anxiety. Exclusively for the believer, the true words of doctrine are designed to do just that. When they are spoken from an attitude of love.

Emotional support is what most people talk about. If we can just get some emotional support. The certainty of speaking the truth is what matters. Not coming along side and putting your arm around someone, and that gives them at best, an emotional life until your arm is removed.

The Word of God has power in it. Not through what we say, but in the word itself. When the Word of God is repeated. When you speak the Word of God to someone, it has power in itself. You have the divine Word of God; use it. That is the scope and the attitude of the good words, for any current and future situation.

Those good words are to be found. What raises a person up when they are stooped by emotion in life. Humanism has many answers and many psychological techniques, but no real lasting solutions.

Think about anxiety for a moment; and this is a part of our sin nature. It is a part of life. Think of 1Peter 5:7 Cast all your cares on anxieties upon the Lord, for He cares for you. Who cares for you, your husband or wife? Your best friends.

For in the day of trouble, God will conceal me in His Tabernacle, in the secret place of His Tent He will hide me. He will lift me up on His rock. When you are afraid, you don't hide from your fear.

Isa. 41:10 Do not fear, for I am with you; do not be anxious; do not anxiously look about you, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and I will help you; surely I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. This defeats fear when you are in the midst of fear. What is your strength when God upholds you.

There are so many more promises that, when applied, make anxiety and discouragement in your life. They are salve to the soul in trouble.

Psalm 56:3 When I am afraid, I put my trust in you. This is David who killed a bear and a lion; who stood up to Goliath; who was chased all over by Saul (and later by his own son). David had this. Through his own power, through his own strength? What did David have? When I am afraid, I will put my trust in you. David was a man of great courage. His life was turmoil in so many ways. He could have trusted his own ability; his own strength, in his own training.

3 men from SEAL team 6. One man brought the other two. Those are men of strength and courage. One has been a SEAL for 19 years. You wonder how they survive these missions. David is a man of courage, but he says, when I am afraid.

Some of them overcame those fears, and as unbelievers. Training, practice, confidence in those on both sides of them. We are weak in comparison to them; but with these promises, we have greater strength than the strongest person. Fear is not your lifestyle. You have fears, but you have promises like this.

One incident from Esther that sticks with Bobby. She was a Jewess who was the queen of Persia, married to Artaxerses. She could not go to him without being summoned. She decides, "If I die, I die." She had a specific mission and that mission was within the plan of God. If I die as part of the plan of God, so be it.

Moses, how many times, did Moses face fearful conditions. He was thrown out of Egypt, as a prince of Egypt. He lived in Midian and then he came back to face off Pharaoh. And he told him to let all of these slaves go. Moses depended upon the Lord.

If you are outside of the plan of God, and you take a fatalistic attitude. Uh uh, wrong application. The entire nation was afraid at the Red Sea; and Moses said, "Stand still and watch the deliverance of God."

Some Closing Points

1. David focused away from circumstances that produced anxiety. David had a lot of things to say. Like, "How does this giant threaten the armies of God?" He refocused his attention on the God of Israel.
2. He focused on God's promises and faithfulness. We only have to fear failing God in the plan of God. We don't have a lifestyle of fear.
3. David spoke of the good word of encouragement. Put your trust in the Lord. Have doctrine in your soul and apply it to the circumstances.
4. The application of the Word of God to the circumstances at hand. You are not depending upon you or the person next to you; but upon God. In the end, it is us and the Lord.
5. So trust in God produces peace and calm and objectivity in the soul. When you have peace and calm and objectivity from trusting in the Lord, then fear will not get in your way.

The trust is found with spiritual growth and maturation. It is the spiritual growth which is key.

2Tim. 1:7 for God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control.

God has given us the power of the Word of God. What about love? It means a trusting faith attitude towards God through the good words of doctrine. It is love for God; which includes love of His Word. Finally a lifestyle of discipline. It means inculcating and maintaining a doctrinal perspective. We are here, night after night. We now have the resources to preclude a lifestyle of fear. The key is hearing and believing the Word of God. Otherwise, we let the troubles of life overcome us. Anytime we take in doctrine, we are being encouraged. The good word is being spoken. Hope, confidence and encouragement for us.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

Lesson #0285                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      9/23/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

We are looking at the second line. A good word pertain to the Christian life. This is the content of Bible doctrine. That is what produces gladness. The pronoun it refers to anxiety. Fear and anxiety turns to gladness, and it all depends upon a good word, or Bible doctrine. This is truly the solution to problems in life.

Everyone has fear and anxiety in life. All of the fears that people have. The greatest fear of mankind death. We shouldn't have that fear. We know that we have an eternal future. We transfer from one place to another. People who are cowards stay as far from death as possible.

Bobby notices that someone ahead of him doesn't move. And Bobby can see his head going back and forth. They don't want to be broadsided by another car. There is a fear that they have that Bobby doesn't. The fear of a momentary death; and that it could happen at any time.

Death is inevitable and it is at hand. If death is a fear to us, then we should reevaluate our spiritual lives. There is this very practical result. We really should understand what glad means, as it contrasts with the anxiety that we might feel.

Sumach means to give joy, to give happiness to. Since this is the result of the good word of Bible doctrine, then the good word that gives happiness, it is the product of the result of the good word, which is spiritual growth. Happiness is the product of spiritual growth. It is basic to the Christian life; it is fundamental to enjoying life in general. The rest of the world does not enjoy life as we do. How you approach life and your mental attitude and your relaxed mental attitude is unavailable to the rest of the world. This line tells us why. As the good word is communicated, so is the development of a certain problem solving device. It is concentrated in the second line, which is sharing the happiness of God. This is the epitome of being glad, happy, joyful. That is what we have for the fearful and for the anxious. What is this sharing of the happiness of God? This is the result of the good word of Bible doctrine.

The Good Word Resulting in Happiness

1. This happiness originated with the Lord Jesus Christ in Hypostatic Union. That means that the Lord Jesus Christ was the originator of this life. He suffered unimaginable agonies on the cross. He was chased all over the countryside by the religious leaders. The events recorded are only minuscule compared to what happened. Heb. 12;2
2. His mental attitude equated adversity with prosperity. To live is Christ; to die is profit. To live with adversity is sharing the happiness of God. We don't need to dwell on death or adversity.
3. Therefore, His happiness did not change, even under difficult circumstances. Like cruelty, torture, unjust treatment. The injustice demonstrated and perpetrated against the Lord Jesus Christ. An injustice as the world has never seen. He did not change.

As a Maturing Believer, Let's Shift to us

1. We have access to this same life.
2. That happiness is a relaxed mental attitude that does not depend upon people, circumstances or the details of life. There are many things for us to be upset about right now. Adversity; and we are stressed up. That is not a relaxed mental attitude.
3. When metabolized Bible doctrine fills our soul, our purpose for being in class, when it renovates our thinking, you will have contentment in the midst of thought, people, system and disaster testing. We all get one or more of these tests. People tests more than any of those. Our own thinking and our own fears. And there is disaster all around us. John 15:11 tells us exactly that. "These things I have spoken to you [here is the good word from the mouth of Jesus Christ Himself] that My joy may be in you and that your joy might be full. In our thought pattern, in our life.
4. This gladness, the happiness of God that we can share, is enduring and it is self sustaining. It does not depend upon all of the circumstances and the people around you. People can depress you, make you unhappy. They can have their ups and downs. People can dislike you. All of those thing affect you. We are not perfect; but we have that facsimile of happiness as we continue to metabolize the good word.
5. When the mind of Christ—that is how He thinks—is implanted in your souls, your spiritual life takes precedence over circumstances, over people, over adversity. We carry God's happiness with us as a constant companion. When our soul is renovated with the good word, we develop this relaxed mental attitude.
6. Your divine inner happiness and spiritual maturity conquer human anxiety or fearful situations.
7. Happiness generate a tremendous capacity for life. What makes life great? Parties are a fleeting moment of enjoyment.
8. Not set of circumstances can defeat you. It is gained through spiritual growth.

That word is communicated through the consistent teaching of the pastor-teacher using Operation Z. This is how we receive the good word.

There is a more personal communication of that good word. This communication only occurs when you have some maturity. It is a good word when you have that anxiety or fear. Then another believer can become a carrier of the good word. A contagious carrier; a purveyor of what another believer needs.

Person-to-person Help

1. Person-to-person a believer can remind another believer of the truth of the Word of God. A good word takes on a personal meaning. It must be metabolized to have. But now, that good word can be communicated person-to-person.
2. That person provides something pertinent to the circumstances being encountered. Some in the midst of difficulties are unable to see what is happening. We have an objectivity in which our doctrine has a circumstance that others cannot see. So there is a good word that is needed.
3. That good word provides comfort through the substance and promises of God's truth. There is nothing more comforting than a promise from God. When God promises, He will deliver.
4. What should that word do? The truth redirects the focus on doctrinal problem solvers. Like faith rest. Doctrinal orientation; the problem shifts to the promise. Orient to what you should be oriented to. A personal sense of destiny. Rather than the self-justification or making excuses.
5. The believer must realize from a good word the spiritual solution is the solution to anxiety. There is not other solution like that. There may be a temporary solution; but the solution is the good word. Instead of focusing on anxiety.
6. We are weak in the flesh. We are weak in our own devices; but with doctrinal encouragement, we become strong.
7. That is what one believer with doctrine can provide for another believer, who is anxious, who is discouraged, and who cannot seem to apply what is necessary. 2Cor. 12:9-10 But He said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities. For when I am weak, then I am strong. This is a call to grace orientation. Power is perfected in weakness. That is not a human solution. Weakness is corrected by power, but weakness is not power. Power is strength. The power of the spiritual life, problem solving devices is greatly affected in times of adversity, in times of discouragement. When we cannot see solutions, when we cannot apply doctrine. Then we can only rely on His power the most. Our strength lies in God. Paul says that he will boast about his weakness. People try to hide those. This is so the power of Christ dwells in me. We are not happy on our own. You don't just say, "I am going to be happy. I will use the power of positive thinking." The power of Christ, the mind of Christ, will dwell with us. Grace orientation; not self-centeredness, not relying on your own power. There is power in weakness. Paul speaks of being content. He shares the happiness of God. Can we be content with weaknesses, with insults. No one got more persecution than Paul besides Jesus; and Paul is content with it. We can have what Paul is writing about here. Paul's description pretty much describes any problem you can have. “When I am weak, then I am strong.” One believer with doctrine who does not live a lifestyle of fear can encourage another with the source of a relaxed mental attitude. We all have friends that we have seen who are in the midst of grief. Can you give them a good word that will give them happiness, a relaxed mental attitude, etc. You’re weak, then you are strong; and you can convey this to another believer. We have problem solving devices, and it begins with these promises and the faith-rest technique.

Now We Get to the Mechanics; the Faith Rest Drill

1. The faith rest drill provides the divine promises and how to use them.
2. We should know them and be able to claim them. Do not concentrate on the anxieties of life. You get fixated on the problem; you are looking at yourself. You need to refocus on something else.
3. In times of discouragement, you the believer recall a promise from the Word of God. That is a good word. 1Peter 5:7 Psalm 36:10 We trust in His Word; we orient to what He has done. We can trust Him; that is what He promises us.
4. Then the believer focuses on what the promise means. It does not mean to cast your care on the Lord.
5. With the promise claimed, the believer realizes that from divine viewpoint, which these promises are, from applying the good word, no situation is hopeless. None of it. The SEALS who were here the other night can talk about hopeless situations. One of them applies it every day of his life. The solution is exactly the same.
6. What do you realize when you claim one of these promises? God is still in control and He always has the believer in His hands.
7. This realization quiets our fears and refocuses us on right actions and courageous actions.
8. The fear producing problems may or may not go away, but faith rest enables us to use Bible doctrine. God loves us and has a plan for us; and we stay in that plan. We can overcome the fear, and stress will be avoided. The reaction to adversity can be stress, and that is where fear and anxiety come in. When you avoid stress are in adversity, you have the capability of sharing the happiness of God.
9. When the promises of God take precedence over the circumstances of life. . Then fear subsides and encouragement ensues. Many people claim promises under adversity; and they do not seem to be able to overcome the fear. Faith rest requires us to know the promises and the doctrine to apply or to rely upon. To take the rationale of the promise and apply it to your circumstances. Like any other training in life, the more you do it, the better you get at it.

Precedence over the difficulties of life is where you want to be. The believer using faith rest needs to move to a point of problem solving device.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

We probably all face anxiety in life. The solution is certainly a good word. It sounds simple. It requires something of us. It requires time, concentration, a persistent positive motivation.

Proverbs 12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs him down, but a good word makes him glad.

We all understand what anxiety can do in our lives. It weighs us down like an anchor and it keeps us from moving ahead. It discourages and depresses a person. It is hearing and heeding, concentration on a good word and persistence in doing so that solves the anxiety problem. A good word is very straightforward. It simply requires the time and concentration and persistence to do so. It requires some contentment as well. This unique and lasting solution is only available to the believer in Jesus Christ. Particularly to the believer who is growing in grace and spiritual maturity. Why just a believer? A good word can mean almost anything.

So many people have a very good view of what problems are, but no view of what solutions might be.

The good word is from Bible doctrine. Everything that proceeds out of the mouth of God is our solution. This is the foundation of the spiritual life of the believer. The spiritual problem solving devices are what are developed with the inculcation of this good word.

We have heard it and then transferred it by faith into our souls. Now it is applicable to you. That is the solution to every problem in life.

When a good word is implanted in the soul of a believer, it facilitates certain things. Grace orientation and doctrinal orientation. It just so happens that these are two of the problem solving devices. Doctrinal orientation is the content of what God does for us. Ultimately, this grace and doctrinal orientation provides a lasting and unassailable happiness. It covers so much of the Christian life when you break it down.

2 problem solving devices stand out which lead us to sharing the happiness of God and sharing the happiness of Jesus Christ. Contentment in the midst of adversity.

Faith rest and the second is a personal sense of destiny. How do believers benefit and overcome anxiety and discouragement by using these two problem solving devices specifically.

Faith rest is the ability to relax under pressure. There is a way to do this. You don't just say, "I am going to stop thinking about my problem and relax." There is this thing called a faith rest drill. Or the faith rest mechanic. It begins with the good word of divine promises. There are hundreds of divine promises in the Bible, some of which we need to become familiar with. What time I am afraid, I will trust in You. In order to utilize this technique, you need to have these in your soul. You need to memorize some of these.

You need this things embedded in your soul. We are promised something from the Lord; we have it, it is ours, we can claim it.

Using this faith rest exercise, we can refocus on what the Lord does for us and not dwell on the anxieties and discouragement of life.

The Faith Rest Drill and Promises

1. In times of discouragement and anxiety, the believer recalls a promise. Too often, the believer can only think of the problem. The believer must refocus on the solution.
2. The believer focuses on what the promise means. When you are in the midst of a problem, it would be good if you had an appropriate promise to apply. Fear and anxiety; you focus away from these.
3. From that promise, you remember and you consider a doctrine and you apply that doctrine. You refocus on the promise; a particular doctrine. The plan of God rationale. Circumstances no longer control your life.
4. Your thinking has shifted from anxiety to a good word; to Bible doctrine. A promise represents a Bible doctrine. A promise brings to mind what you already about a doctrine. It hurls you into the proper realm of doctrine. When your mind has gone blank, you need something to grasp.
5. This doctrinal rationale that we have learned, from persistent study of Bible doctrine. The promise and the doctrine are linked. They are always linked. We need to be in fellowship. What promise can I use on all of this.

There are books with promises in the Bible. What do you claim for this or that problem? God is in control. As always, God has us in His all-powerful and loving hands. He knows us, He has a plan for us. That is comforting; that is encouraging. It encourages recovery of spiritual equilibrium. It begins to move the believer in the right direction. That is the deal with anxiety. The fear-producing problems may never go away. But faith rest enables us to use the Bible doctrine, to overcome the fear in our soul, and be encouraged. We will always have adversity in life. Everyone has a sin nature and some people use them prolifically and against us. We worry about our life, our kids, our spouses, our traffic. There is only one solution to all of it. Even if those problems do no go away.

There are so many anxieties and fears out there, no matter what a person does. The faith rest drill enables us to overcome those fears and anxiety. Those things do not have to become debilitating. When it saps us of our energy, we cannot move ahead spiritually. The promises mean more and more when the doctrine that we associate with the promises and you apply them.

Fear and Anxiety and the Good Word

1. In the face of fear and anxiety, the believer using faith rest begins to realize something. You begin to realize that you have a personal sense of destiny.
2. This is a tangible destiny, a real destiny; that means a confidence in our future.

3. With confidence from the good word, from metabolized doctrine in the soul, the maturing believer begins to live in the light of the plan of God rationale. That is a destiny for us. It makes a difference in the present and in the future as we continue in His plan. We realize that we have a secure future now and in eternity.
4. Fears of the present and future are now minimized; whereas they are often maximized when you do not do this.
5. They fade in the light of God's temporal plan for our life.
6. As your growth progresses, these anxieties are dealt with. New anxieties occur and we set them aside in the same way.
7. Thus, self-confidence—so few people have self-confidence today and spiritual self esteem. These become inseparably united with the Lord's thinking. Every time we open the Scripture, we have the mind of Christ staring right at us. Every believer eternally shares all that Christ has and all that He is. That includes His personal and eternal destiny. We share His destiny.
8. United with Christ and His destiny, the believer can imitate Him. As we grow, we think like Jesus more and more. That is our imitation of Him. We also glorify Him in the same way. Bobby grew exponentially from the study of the gospels. He was chased all over, with attempts to kill Him. And He never lost of anything. Even under the great pain and pressure of the cross, He displayed with attitude in everything that He did. We share His destiny; we share His thinking.
9. The mature believer is assured of accompanying Christ at the second advent and ruling with Him forever. We have a view of our destiny on earth. Nothing on this earth can destroy us or take us out permanently. When we leave this life, we are going to heaven. What a great rationale that is.
10. With the assurance of promises on earth and an eternal destiny, we no longer need to live a lifestyle of fear. We can handle fear when it raises its head in our souls. Fear is a mental attitude sins. We use the doctrine and techniques previously described.
11. So anxiety does not control us or our lives. What is in our thinking controls us.
12. Now, after all of this, we have acquired the sense of our destiny. We have one; we all have one. That is why it is called a personal sense of destiny. Why should we fear with such a destiny in our hands.
13. That personal destiny overrides the anxieties of life. We can see ourselves in a new life. Thinking which frees us. We are now what is called Christo-centered, not self-centered. Where there was fear in the soul, there is gladness, happiness and encouragement. This is understanding the happiness of the Lord learned with the good word. What could be a greater encouragement in life?

When our spiritual life takes precedence over fear and over anxiety, we carry God's thinking with us, wherever we go. Our divine inner happiness and spiritual maturity conquer any human unhappiness or any human discouragement.

Conclusion

1. S

2. This includes the propensity that we have for anxiety and fear.
3. Hence, with the mature spiritual life we are content with our life. Apart from unnatural desires. We see much of that today.
4. We have nothing to fear from the cosmic system with God on His throne and His doctrine in our soul. There it is. Faith rest and a personal sense of destiny.
5. No set of circumstances can defeat us. That is our gladness, our happiness from a good word.

Lesson #0287

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT

9/26/2021 2Sunday

Bobby was thinking how God has such a great sense of humor, even regarding fear and anxiety. He was thinking about his own life. Bobby's greatest fear in life since he was very young was public speaking.

Bobby says this next verse is difficult. There has been a great deal of speculation about this verse, including some very brilliant commentators. Many of them have a number of suggestions on word translations and the subject matter; and the parallelism. How on earth are they connecting?

One commentator said, A satisfactory translation of this couplet can hardly be given.

He then offers up a number of different options. But that is not the way to approach any passage. How about some confidence muted by caution. Bobby wants to be meticulous when it comes to understanding a passage. God is Bobby's boss in that respect. Bobby thoroughly researches each passage. He goes through quite a process for each verse and this verse has stumped many. Choices and decisions have to be made. God did not give us Scripture to be vague or incomprehensible. God's Word has one intended meaning; and that meaning must be recovered through sound exegesis. You must be trained to do that. Many a person has yanked Scripture out of context and made it mean what they want it to mean. This Scripture is difficult, no matter how well-trained you are. The Hebrew is difficult, with the definitions of the words being challenged.

What was written in the Bible was meant to be interpreted and explained. It provides practical wisdom. Bobby believes that he has found the meaning.

Proverbs 12:26 One who is righteous is a guide to his neighbor, but the way of the wicked leads them astray.

A predicate nominative construction means the two nouns are connected by the verb to be. The two words connected, righteous and guide; answers the question as to who the righteous are and what they are doing in this context. At first look, it seems that the righteous are providing some sort of guidance for a neighbor. But is that how we are to understand this? So we must carefully consider the word guide.

A little problem exists. The word guide is disputed.

The Meaning of Guide

1. Guide is the Hiphil imperfect of tur.
2. The basic meaning of tur is to explore or to investigate.
3. It matters as to what stem it is in. In the Hiphil, it means to search out.
4. We might say that the righteous are not guiding anyone, but they are on a reconnaissance. What are they searching out?
5. Since the righteous here are people, and we may take these as maturing believers. They are in the process of reconnoitering. They must be looking for someone or something.
6. Therefore, we can say, the understanding of Tur is the righteous, the maturing believer is investigating.
7. But neighbor here does not mean the person who lives next door or down the street or across the street. It is any person with whom one has an association, whether close or distant. It can even be taken to mean all people. Jesus said, Love your neighbor.

Assessment of a Person

1. What is implied here, especially in relation to the second phrase, the righteous are investigating the character of the persons with whom he or she associates. Who are they; what are they like?
2. The criteria for choosing a close associate or a friend.
3. This investigation requires an evaluation. Not a moral estimation from self-righteousness. Objective evaluation.
4. One must evaluate in the investigation and then make a decision who they choose as a friend, a confidant or an intimate. A decision must be made. The investigation means nothing unless a decision goes with it.
5. That decision is based upon the assessment of the person.

Discernment cannot be made on the basis of arrogance or superiority. Based upon the standards of an objective, experiential evaluation. Do you have a basis for such an evaluation?

Investigation of Another and Standards

1. The investigation of the righteous must be based upon a specific code or standard; the standard of wisdom or Bible doctrine. The unbeliever can also make an evaluation.
2. The righteous code is the standard on which the conduct of another is discerned. We must have a standard in our soul in order to make a decision. What is their character? If you have no standards, how can you discern anything? Many people make such decisions based upon compatibility of old sin natures.

3. The thought patterns of wisdom. Practical standards for everyday life. What standards do we have? Wisdom is by the means that we have standards. Bible doctrine and the standards related to doctrine.
4. Also, divine establishment is part of that thought pattern. The person who is the believer with doctrine applies wise discernment in investigation in investigating someone. Guides the choice in terms of finding intimates. You are discerning whether that person should be an intimate. You should be able to search out based upon the righteousness of such a one, based upon reconnaissance. Bobby has used this word a great deal, as it comes from his Ranger training. It means that you are gathering information. What do I need to find on this objective that the intelligence officer needs to know? In the spiritual life, reconnaissance is a good word. It is what we need to do when it comes to accomplishing our mission.

Heb. 5:14 But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil.

Often time, good solid food refers to advanced doctrine. Solid food is for the maturing believer who needs solid food, for discernment.

Practice is the consistent metabolization of Bible doctrine. That means that discernment is gained. You practice your discernment. You need something to practice with. Because of practice, the mature believer has his senses trained. That goes right along with reconnaissance in the military. We train constantly. An athlete trains constantly. So many areas of life require consistence. It requires perseverance. You have been trained by practice. Your senses are trained to discern. In order to make decisions. You are able to investigate. You are able to discern. You are looking to discern good and evil. Today, good has become evil and evil good. Things are topsy turvy in our world today. People think the weirdest things are good. It takes Biblical standards to make that call.

How important this is to choosing a business partner or choosing a spouse. This does not mean that you shun those who do not meet your standards. You do not just blow people off because you realize that you cannot closely associate with them. Who do you spend all of your time with? You spend a lot of time with the people you work with. Who do you choose to spend leisure time with. We have all made bad decisions in this area. A lot of divorces out there; many business breakups or court cases. Our strength of character is important.

All of this is contained in the second line of this verse.

Comparing Both Halves of V. 26

1. This line stands in contrast to the investigation of the righteous in the first line. The righteous can discern the wicked or wickedness and will not be led astray by bad company. Bad company destroys good morals. Friends, acquaintances. You know what God told Israel not to do. They influence Israel away from the spiritual life. The men were the heads of the homes. Then the house, the family. Israel did not always follow instructions. Off they went. And the cycles of discipline kicked in. This was written during that time. These proverbs are aimed directly at Israel. The results were bad.

2. When the weak and the unrighteous hook up with the wicked, the affect is wickedness. They are led astray with their lack of discernment in their associations. Simply criterion, don't marry an unbeliever. Can you discern whether someone is a Christian or not? Ask them, how do you become a Christian?. Unequally yoked with an unbeliever. There are exceptions to this. Bring the person to the Lord before marriage; not after.
3. That is why the righteous must exercise discernment or be adversely affected. It is either or. It will happen. The main way to be adversely affected is your own character.
4. The way of the wicked can seduce and lead astray the gullible. Those who do not have their senses trained to discern. That means trained by divine establishment principles. Consistent metabolizing of that doctrine. Seminaries have gone down by diluted doctrine. People are led astray by bad character, bad morals, criminality. Let's not forget Marxism and socialism. There are people in Berachah Church who believe in socialism. You need to understand the vil of it so that you can be discerning about it. Discernment is so necessary today.

Social media has overwhelming influence today. It is much harder for young people to discern evil in their social media associations. They buy into what they read and hear. That is a parental concern in the family. They must discern the vil content. Wicked influences facilitate the undoing of friends and associates.

It is not about guiding a neighbor, but understanding a neighbor, how they think. Discernment is key here. All of our problems that we have in life is a lack of discernment, a lack of understanding. A lack of making good decisions.

Proverbs 12:26 One who is righteous is a guide to his neighbor, but the way of the wicked leads them astray.

Lesson #0288

Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT 9/29/2021 Wednesday

Letter about practical wisdom. Animal abuse and criminal behavior are related. A high percentage of people who have committed horrendous acts often start as children harming animals or doing acts of arson. He reminds some disturbing cases which the writer has been involved with. He knows that God will apply justice. An attribute of God is perfect justice. God will dispense justice even when our own will not. This gives the man tranquility of soul. He is able to put things aside and move on in peace. People without doctrine turn into very bitter and angry people. Without a divine perspective, police officers can become stilted because of human behavior that they are involved in. This guy works with a few doctrinal officers there.

He corresponded with David Berkowitz, the son of Sam. He has a prison ministry now; most people have no idea that this culture exists. Some people are a part of prison ministry who come out of Berachah. He thinks about Berkowitz when he considers dispensing his own justice. But that is outside what his responsibilities are. Bible doctrine, when applied correctly, has given this person a great deal of personal peace.

Proverbs 12:27 Whoever is slothful [or, a lazy man] will not roast his game, but the diligent man will get precious wealth.

Some Introductory Points

1. We are returning to the concepts of diligence and laziness. The doctrine of work.
2. We know that diligence leads to success in life, in work and in the spiritual life.
3. The antithesis is the lazy person. He is a person who cannot bring a project to completion. He has a very hard time not finishing what he starts.
4. This is an adjunct to the doctrine of work.

The verb charak, which is a rare verb. This means to scorch, to singe by burning. It is used metaphorically, as one hunts. A hunter who hunts game but never cooks his game. He enjoys hunting game. This is something that he likes to do very much. When the hunt is finished, his interest is spent. He does nothing. He leaves his prey laying on the ground. This sort of hunter gives hunting a very bad name. What an image this is of a very lazy person.

The Hunt and the Slothful Man

1. This man cannot even prepare a meal when he hunts and successfully kills.
2. It is too much word to prepare the animal for cooking. Hunting is great. You have to skin it and butcher it. He won't even start up a cooking fire. These are routine activities, which are not so pleasant.
3. This man is not interested in routine work.
4. He does not value his own work enough to prepare the animal as food. In this era, hunting provided food.
5. This man works at what he likes; if it is fun, he will do it. If it is a great pasttime, it is fine with him. What is routine and boring, he ignores. That is why this is such a great illustration.
6. This is the mental attitude of indolence; it always precludes diligence. That is what is most important from this passage. The lazy man is not diligent. What an illustration; the hunter who does not finish the job.
7. They do what they like, but not what they don't like. In some cases, work is disliked, so that they don't work at all. There was no rifle or blind to sit up in. It is much easier today. There are enough deer in Texas to bring down a deer at will. A woman feeds deer where there are two 10 point bucks who come to her.
8. This lack of completion appears to be a part of our socialist leanings today.

Bobby read an article, about 40% of men are no longer working and no longer looking for a job. There were about 8 or 9 reasons why this is true. A dislike of work; avoiding working and laziness. Not working and don't want to work. Many men are very content to be house husbands. That is a reverse of what our society has been.

How does this man live without preparing the food from the hunt? He can only live off of someone else's labor or cooking. A graphic picture of indolent evil of socialism. Let the government take care of me from cradle to grave. So many don't like work at all.

Taking and cooking one's kill that a man of this era would understand as a necessity for life. Without this, you don't eat. But laziness prevents him from finishing what he has started; which ought to be his obligation in life. He is not doing what is necessary to provide for his family. So many bums in this world. Will not take care of their family. Too lazy and too much indolence.

Example is the father is does not want to be a parent or take care of his kid.

Someone who does this leaves their family in hunger and poverty; because he is a lousy lout. Also a spiritual connotation to all of this.

The Spiritual Connotation

1. He does not metabolize. You have to cook it; you have to chew it. You have made it a part of the fabric of your life. Here is someone who does not complete that process.
2. Thus this person is indolent in using, apply what he or she has heard. You can come to Bible class, you can sleep, you can meet friends here. You do not complete the process of metabolizing doctrine.
3. As a result, you do not complete the maturing process of the spiritual life. It remains undone.
4. All that is completed is the downward spiral into reversionism. It is an open end.

But v. 27b speaks of being diligent. This is a precious possession. This is one who finishes a project which he begins. Sometimes, you are not sure if that is where you want to go. Sometimes this happens in an avocation. Once you are on the road, do you take it all the way, or so you back out. You don't see it through. You are afraid of failure. That fits this verse. Diligence is a precious possession. When you complete projects, you have a precious possession.

Two persons possess assets of exactly the same value. One has gained it by long years or work and investment and has had good returns. The other receives their money by accident, or irrespective of their labor. It could be inherited or win the lottery. The question is, does each person equally appreciate what he or she has. Is there a difference in a value attached to it by these two. There is a difference here. It goes back to a work ethic. One is a hard work accomplishment; and the other is a happenstance. There is a different value added. The conclusion; the completion. The one not working does not put much value on what one has.

Some can inherit and actually make the value increase. That is also something connected to hard work. The socialist denies that inheritance and they believe that these are parasites. But this is not true of all. Bobby knows both kinds.

Bobby spoke to one who has a lot of money but does not do anything. "I couldn't live without that money. I like my lifestyle." This is doing whatever she wants to do. It is open-ended.

When a person is diligent in their work, they seem to acquire more than what they started with. But never be disappointed because you did not get the results that you hoped for if you don't get them. The journey is just as important. Another reward of diligence is to prosper; and an appreciation of what that hard work produces.

This is also true when it comes to civil liberty and freedom. What a valuable possession is freedom. It is the supreme objective. Governments hope to remove that freedom. What a different perspective of those who sacrificed for that freedom on the battlefield. Opposite of freedom won by someone else. We all have freedom courtesy of those who were willing to fight for it. The military and the police on the streets provide this freedom for us.

There are two generations who do not value freedom. Freedom and the military are intertwined and the road to freedom is made by the military.

The prized possessions are greater than material things.

Discipline and Work Ethic

1. Discipline and a work ethic go with diligent labor, in many realms.
2. They are inseparable and to the work ethic, which is a mental attitude motivator of diligence. That is the key.
3. A mental attitude motivator of diligence.
4. A precious possession of diligence is the motivation and attitude that precedes diligence. That is the hunt.
5. It is the motivation and the attitude, by which ....starts.
6. That motivation and attitude is paramount for every endeavor in life.
7. Without that diligence, labor will never be satisfactorily completed.
8. Without diligence, a person's expectations of personal excellence will never be fulfilled. We like to look at ourselves in a good light. Someone who does something well. We may be kidding ourselves. The way to tell, the way to evaluate. Are you willing to work hard and do you complete what you start?
9. The person who is motivated to complete has value to self. They have human self-esteem; something very lacking in society today. If you do not metabolize doctrine, then you have no spiritual self esteem. Inevitably and universally true. If you do not fulfill the doctrine of work, you will not have self esteem. That is a surefire way not to have it. There are times when people simply cannot find work. How many people are in front of psycho-therapists who lack self-esteem? All kinds of psychological ways to attain it.

Some show up for Bible class and they are exhausted. You are completing your spiritual life. Bobby understands. That is why it is such a precious commodity.

This Precious Possession Is...

1. It is a driving force in life. The greatest possession.
2. In approaching a job, the diligent person has a picture in his or her mind of the end of the project; what it will look like when finished.
3. The completion reflects the best work to his or her ability. If you are diligent at it, you can picture what it will be. One way or the other.
4. There is a pride of achievement as well as remuneration. That is a good pride; not arrogance. Payment for a job well done.
5. But payment is not the only motivating factor for good and hard work. Certainly remuneration is necessary. You go on a hunt; but you must cook the hunt.
6. There is also that factor of good and hard work as achievement.
7. There is satisfaction in achievement. Some go to work but they have no satisfaction from it.
8. Without this causative motivation to exhibit diligence and the good results, the work done may be shoddy, too quick, incomplete, cut corners, in and out to get to the next job just to make more money...that person fails to roast his prey. The reputation is sullied. Less jobs, less pay, less job satisfaction. Uncooked meat.

Working is nothing more than a chore, something to get by, to get past. What a way to go through life. Loves to work at nothing all day. Taking care of business is the name of that song. It reminds Bobby sitting in the barracks and that was his motto. He got the first line, but not the second. Taking care of business is fine if you complete it. This can be true in every aspect of life, white or blue collar work, any sort of business. On and on, regardless of the description of the work.

Final Points

1. We can most definitely say that the most precious possession of a believer is the spiritual life. It is the ultimate motivator and the driving force behind all of the Christian life.
2. The spiritual life is our greatest impetus to work since the believer is to do his or her job as unto the Lord. Such a person completes what he is doing. You complete it no matter what.
3. You must serve the Lord in whatever capacity is required in God's plan for your life. The day you depart from this world is the day you complete your work in this life. Bobby read that letter because that is a man who diligently pursues completion of work. There is a great deal of disillusion when they look at people.

4. That is the Biblical doctrine of work. That is the adjunct to the Biblical doctrine of work.
5. God is our boss and He always knows the direction of our own work; and He knows whether we are accomplishing it or not. What we do all day long it is a part of our spiritual life.
6. The Lord is evaluating our work...how? As divine good or as human good. In that sense, lazy or productive. The lazy person in the spiritual life is not producing divine good.
7. The impetus for excellence in His site is the reason for working with diligence. This is to make a living, to provide for yourself or for your family. Ultimately excellence in His sight is the reason. Serving from Bible doctrine is the wisdom of this verse.

Proverbs 12:27 Whoever is slothful will not roast his game, but the diligent man will get precious wealth.

Lesson #0289                      Proverbs 12 Wisdom in the OT                      9/30/2021 Thursday

Proverbs 12:28 In the path of righteousness is life, and in its pathway there is no death.

Bobby will give the negative side first. Some say that this is the way of salvation; and that this is entrance into salvation and into the spiritual life. We have a position in Christ and we share in His righteousness. We are looking at a temporal relationship with Him on earth and an eternal one in heaven. Every believers has an equal opportunity to enter into the plan of God.

But is that the meaning of the way of righteousness here? This is not imputed righteousness. That is not the meaning in this context.

The Way of Righteousness

1. This is the way of or the conduct of righteousness as related to life. As indicated in the first line of the verse. The first line tells us how to understand this.
2. This certainly means a lifestyle of righteousness in distinction from imputed righteousness.
3. The conduct of righteousness means living the spiritual life. This does not refer to eternal life. This is temporal spiritual life. This is the way, the conduct.
4. The way of righteousness, the conduct of righteousness, as a lifestyle, is the way of living a life of righteousness.
5. It is a continuous process an upward progression in this conduct of life. We know that this is related to God the Holy Spirit and His filling ministry and the application of wisdom to our lives.
6. What do we call that? It is experiential righteousness. This is a summary of what has come before. All of this is potential. It is not assured after salvation. Imputed righteousness is assured; but the conduct of righteousness in our life is a progression. The believer must make repeated decisions to learn God's Word. That is the conduct of God's righteousness. Rom. 8:4 12:2

The Way of Righteousness

1. The way of righteousness is the way of wisdom; the spiritual life and the application of Bible doctrine to your life. This is the conduct of righteousness. It is engendered by living the spiritual life. This is the spiritual life verse; not a salvation verse.
2. The way of righteousness is the operational spiritual life, which, in this verse, is the pathway to no death.
3. What does no death mean? It is tempting to say, if you are made righteous through faith in Christ, and seek to live righteously, you are on the way to eternal life; meaning no death. In that sense, the way of righteousness is connected to salvation by works. This is faith plus. This is the way of righteousness; the conduct of the spiritual life. Our conduct depends upon whether we live the spiritual life. Our spiritual life has nothing to do with our salvation. A positional righteousness which cannot be lost.

The interpretation of experiential righteousness leading to salvation is wrong. Salvation does not depend upon the conduct of your life. This interpretation opens the door to a great legalistic confusion. "Brother, are you living the way of righteousness?" If not, you may not be saved. In some people's view, if you don't live the right life, you are not saved, you were never saved, or you have lost your salvation. Bobby argued this many times in seminary.

Proverbs 12:28 In the path of righteousness is life, and in its pathway there is no death.

Seminary professors enjoyed monitoring their students one-on-one. There were very nice and noncontentious arguments like this when in seminary. These people who come to such a conclusion and look at other believers and judge them, that is completely wrong. The believer's life, the spiritual life is between the believer and the Lord. Every believer is accountable to the Lord for our spiritual life. Bobby can tell us how to live the spiritual life, but he is not accountable for us. Our life is between us and the Lord. Do we conduct ourself in the way of righteousness. It is God's prerogative to reward or to discipline us.

What about No Death

1. No death, meaning eternal life, cannot be the interpretation of v. 28b.
2. In connection to a lifestyle, the spiritual life, experiential righteousness, in that context, no death terminology has a different interpretation.
3. The righteousness that we receive is God's imputed righteousness, and that is solid. We are in God's hands; we are in union with Him. The spiritual life, the experiential righteousness has nothing to do with the righteousness being discussed here.
4. Our lifestyle after salvation, the spiritual life. There is such a dichotomy between these two, and people want to mix these two.

More Interpretation

1. No death is not immortality here. That is our eternal future.
2. The parallel antithetical phrase clarifies the meaning and the context.
3. We know that the first line of v. 28 is dealing with life on this earth. Spiritual life, not eternal life.
4. In relationship to life on this earth, no stability...living the spiritual life is experiential righteousness.
5. No death means living and growing to experiential righteousness in the life. This is avoiding the spiritual death of the spiritual life. This is avoiding the sin unto death; this is avoiding operational death.
6. No death also includes the blessings involved in living the pathway of experiential righteousness. This refers completely to this experiential life.

Proverbs 12:28 In the conduct of righteousness is the spiritual life in time; and in its living there is no operational death of that spiritual life in time. (Bobby's corrected translation)

We can kill our spiritual life here on earth. Therefore, we have a dead spiritual life.

Proverbs 12:28 In the path of righteousness is life, and in its pathway there is no death. (ESV)

Moving on to another chapter. Psalm 59.

We all get bummed out by the circumstances of life; and don't let these circumstances get to you. This is why v. 28 is so important. What happens that causes us to put aside our strength in this world. We have strength in our souls. We also have personal problems and personal adversities. Things that crash in on us all of the time.

What Are Some of the Bummers Bobby Has Taught Us?

1. Adversity is the outside pressures of life from our daily experiences. Adversity is what the circumstances of life do to us. We all have adversity; we all have problems.
2. When those things get to us, then we get stressed out. Bobby does not want us to be stressed out.
3. Stress is what we do to ourselves.
4. Adversity is inevitable; we all have suffering and problems. Stress is optional; it is optional to us. For unbelievers, it is just the part of the package of life.
5. Taking on stress depends upon our own negative volition, which lets adversity into our soul. We allow that adversity to pour in and become stress in our soul. The stress controls us.
6. That is what doctrine is designed to preclude; and it does something else as well, to give us a relaxed mental attitude and stability under pressure. This is what Bobby will be presenting to us in Psalm 59.

7. Stress is that inside pressure on the soul that happens when we give in to circumstances and problems, when we dwell on them. When they overtake our consciousness. When we become self-centered and think only of ourselves under adversity rather than refocusing.
8. Circumstances sometimes do get the best of us when it turns to stress in the soul. It always results in the sin nature control of your life, the definition of stress. When stress controls you, the sin nature controls your life. You are no longer in the conduct of the spiritual life.
9. Stress in the soul destroys the spiritual life. We are finding so much evil occurring in our nation. These practical chapters reveal to us the reality taking place. We see divine establishment violated in so many areas of life.

Here Are the Bummers?

1. The lack of trust and faith in the Lord among believers during times of trouble. So many believers today have no resources which they can use to handle adversity. They do not know what it means to love God.
2. The distractions of national and world events. In the past 3 or 4 weeks, we have had loads of those things and our lack of divine establishment response.
3. The forsaking of the Word of God and Bible doctrine for humanistic solutions. This is happening in our churches today. Political solutions to our problems? Violence?
4. The rise of political evils like socialism and Marxism. Such organizations are on the rise.
5. The rise of foreign antagonists dedicated to our decline and destruction. China and Russia.
6. The lies that originate from high places and the media. All of these things are covered in Psalm 59.
7. We see the subverting of the rule of law, starting with riots in the streets, destroying people's lives in order to get social justice. Ubiquitous charges today of real or imagined racism; everywhere that you look. Every problem in this country is racism; and rise of Black Lives Matter and Antifa, which are Marxist organizations.
8. We are shredding the Constitution of this country and denigrating our individual freedoms.
9. The rise of the wokes; the cancel culture. They are dedicated to crushing their opposition and Christianity is in opposition to them.
10. Revolutionaries are demanding that their Marxist agendas are being implemented. Marxism does not remake any country for the better. It promotes the demise of America as a capitalist nation.
11. The hate of America is palpable. We cannot understand that. We recognize the incredible blessings that we have and most of us love our country. It is a palpable hatred rising up today against our own country. This happened also in the time of David.
12. We have leadership failures and corruption at every level. City, county, state. In some parts, there is still some good leadership.

13. There is a lack of divine establishment standards, like the pressure on and the disillusion of families. Or to get rid of crime by decriminalizing it.
14. The moral degeneration of our nation is so evident.
15. The rampant invasion of illegal immigrants and the end of our national borders.
16. The steady increase of government welfare and the taxation to pay for it.
17. The subordinating of our national interest to other nations and other interests. Internationalism and one-worldism. That which was good is now evil and what was evil is not seen as good.

We are seeing the evil trends of history are occurring. The cycles of discipline are being continued. It is no wonder that Christians are being suppressed. To the humanists, we are the enemy. There is nothing new in this. We will survive. They are looking to replace us in the public forum. Everywhere we turn, the enemy is at the gates.

Lesson #0290

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/3/2021 1Sunday

Bobby is introducing Psalm 59; we may get into the first verse or so.

Pastor arrested and arraigneded for not wearing a mask in public and holding unauthorized church services. He has had trouble there for some time now. He fled Poland many years ago as a young man. He reminds us that tyranny is ever-present in this world. He sees it where he is now. He has publically stated that the Canadian government is acting like the oppressive tyrannical communist government that he once lived under. He spoke in many churches and he warned us that the same thing could be coming to us. Many people in this nation would agree with what this pastor has to say. Our own government and people are providing ample proof of his proclamation. There are arising socialism and Marxism in our own government. There have been Draconian measures. Some churches have had conflict with government and the cancellation or even limitation of services. We see the shredding of our constitution. Wokes are dedicated to suppressing freedoms of those who oppose them.

Revolutionaries are demanding that their Marxists agendas be implemented. We see the rise of one-worldism, etc. This list goes on. Bobby is only scratching the surface. There seems to be no solution to it. And so many people are upset by what is taking place in the United States today. Adversity represents the outside pressures of life; that brings on the circumstances to us. It is inevitable. We all have adversity. We have it every day of our lives; every hour.

Stress is internal. It is what we do to ourselves. We choose to be stressed out or not. We dwell on those circumstances and we let them control our lives. We internalize them and we cannot seem to stop thinking about them. Plenty of adversity on the outside; but how do you handle it on the inside? That is what Bible doctrine purports to do. Stability under pressure. Stress in the soul destroys the spiritual life of the believer. This leads to all kinds of sins. It is a springboard for many other sins in life.

Do you want to go to a happy place now? This is church; it is not for us to be stressed out. We do not live a downer, which is why Bobby chose this chapter. Prov. 11–12 gave us many problems and many solutions. There is much to be said about help, deliverance, adversity; the world, the humanist Marxist, cosmic system cannot defeat us, unless we allow it to happen. We have God with us. This chapter is very uplifting. We are still in a world filled with adversity. We have the counter to this. What or who can stand against us?

Jesus said to the Pharisees: “You are from below. I am from above.” Jesus came from heaven. “You are of this world; I am not of this world.” The victory is always the Lord’s. We, in association with Him, cannot be defeated. But we can certainly have adversity. We must utilize the resources that we have; take the wisdom in our soul and apply it.

The enemy is ready to assault us. The enemy here, men who are treacherous. Howling dogs looking for something to eat. That description makes this chapter so relevant to our current situation. The solution is so appropriate for our position in this world. So practical that it must be metabolized.

We can turn to this chapter at any time and find the solution.

Introduction to Psalm 59

1. The triumph of God’s loyal love toward us. Never forget that God loves you. Why isn’t God delivering me? This is God’s unending love. We can be assured of that.
2. God’s continued care; He looks out for our best interest. He always looks out for our best interests. Personal and national. God delivers our nation through us. We need this. He cares for us; He has our best interests at heart. Whatever our problems are, God has made provision for it and He has our best interest he works circumstances in our favor. We can deal with the stress in our souls. So that we can handle this life; this world.
3. His suppression and victory over arrogant adversaries. There is so much arrogance around us; so many egos fighting to be on top. Personal, corporate and national levels of this.

We need to consider the context. Personal or national? Bobby sees both in this psalm. It is a cry for the only solution; it is God’s solution. We have the same opportunities to call for our fortress, our wise and all-powerful God. We have greater resources than the author of this great psalm. How timely it is. This ever-present help that we possess. He does not sleep.

It is not the adversity; it is the stress. Let’s turn our focus upon our God. Heb. 4:16 Let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

We can ask God for deliverance whether we deserve it or not. We can ask after rebounding. And we will find mercy and grace to help in time of need. God looks out for our best interest. But the solution is fool-proof, even though we are fools.

Let's explore something in this psalm. Bobby began it with great expectation. Let's explore the outline and historical background and the author. This is not an easy chapter to categorize. So many questions have arisen in Bobby's mind. Is this applicable on a national scale; for the great events of history which are unfolding? Is this about international turmoil; internal turmoil; or other nations interfering? To where do we direct our application, based upon the application of this psalm.

Deliver Me from My Enemies

Psalm 59 inscription To the choirmaster: according to Do Not Destroy. A Miktam of David, when Saul sent men to watch his house in order to kill him.

This was a psalm set to music; it was sung. The author says, "Put it to music." This psalm focuses on the idea, do not destroy me. In other words, protect and rescue me. Miktam is unknown. Probably means a document or an epigram. It is a miktam of David, who is the human author. The occasion of the psalm is when men were sent to David's house to watch him and kill him.

The Superscription (the Background)

1. This reveals the author and the circumstances of the psalm.
2. David appears to be the author.
3. This superscription places this psalm during the era of Saul, whose henchmen were closely watching David in his own house.
4. They were assigned by Saul to kill David if he left the house. People are outside waiting for David to kill him.
5. This narrative is found in 1 Samuel 19:11–18. David escaped this by climbing out of a window. As we did as teenagers.
6. In the narrative, Mikal, the daughter of Saul, covered David's escape, after David slipped out. She lied. She said that David had threatened her.
7. David's great friend Jonathan. From that hour, Saul's hatred for David never ceased. He became David's avowed enemy. He determined to hunt David down like a wild animal. He had to have David's head. Consistent with David's ways as a poet and an accomplished writer.

But, is this truly the writing of David and is this actually written during this period of time?

What do we know about the context of Psalm 59?

Psalm 59 inscription To the choirmaster: according to Do Not Destroy. A Miktam of David, when Saul sent men to watch his house in order to kill him.

This psalm was set to music; and it had the theme, do not destroy me. Maybe written by David and maybe not. The occasion was when Saul went men to David's house to kill him. Bobby reads a chapter through; reads about what other people had to say; and then he started with v. 1.

Many commentators says that there are elements which do not fit well with 1Samuel 19; which is the historic incident. It does not fit the scene. It seems that the context was in a time when David was not yet king of Israel. That is the setting; but the author of the psalm is presented as a king, who had inside and outside enemies. There are other internal evidences which make this questionable. But Bobby had to answer the questions.

Problems/questions Psalm 59

1. The psalm provides little internal evidence to agree with the superscription.
2. The allusions of vv. 6 & 14 do not seem applicable to Saul's assassins in 1Samuel 19. They are not described as men making their guard rounds every evening, patrolling the city. Howling like dogs to find something to devour.
3. How would the individual destruction of these men, who have surrounded this house, would be evidence that God rules in Israel. And especially, to the ends of the earth, as the psalmist states. How would this prove that? This is a localized event in one city; it was not an international event. David had killed many men in the past in combat. Saul killed his thousands; and David his tens of thousands. This would be David's army. This was a real point of jealousy for Saul. This started with Goliath when David killed him. What are a few more deaths to David to defend himself? How does that impact the world.
4. The allusions to the nations seem to imply that the context considers foreign invaders. But what is described does not sound like foreign invaders. Unquestionably the context includes personal enemies and foreign powers as enemies.
5. Commentators place this as outside to the superscription.

The commentators try to assign this a different period of time than 1Samuel 19. They replace one problem with another problem. They propose Nehemiah's return to the land, which is 444 B.C.; 500 years after David. But what about the internal enemies, who are also found in Psalm 59? The wall appears to match up with Nehemiah.

Some inside the city were opposed to Nehemiah and they fit the description of the internal enemies. In the meantime, the Samaritans, Arabs and others were in the vicinity who threatened Israel's resettlement of the land. Hence the need for the wall. That is why the time of Nehemiah is so attractive. Freedom through military victory covers this passage.

Once again, no evidence exists in the psalm of such an historic background. No definitive background is never mentioned; and Nehemiah is not a king. We are still up in the air regarding the context of Psalm 59.

The rebuilding of the walls is a very improbable setting for this psalm.

What Is Obvious from the Content of this Psalm?

1. Someone wants to kill the author. The crisis; the adversity.
2. The overall theme of the psalm concerns the attempt of bloodthirsty men to slander and to destroy the psalmist. That is the great enemy.
3. The solution is also given in no uncertain terms. Divine intervention. Of that, we can be certain. We have a problem, a crisis, the life of the author is in danger, the people who put his life in danger; and the solution.

If it is not David and not Nehemiah, who might it be? And how do we explain the inscription? Isn't that clear evidence of David's authorship.

Background on the Psalm Authors

1. All of the psalms are divinely inspired.
2. The psalms were not all written by David. Many other authors wrote psalms. Ethan, Heman, Asaph. Solomon followed in his father's footsteps by writing some psalms and Proverbs.
3. Earliest psalms written by Moses. There is the priestly family, sons of Korah, who write for centuries. Deborah writes the song of Deborah; and Hannah wrote psalms. Psalms are being written in the time of Ezra. It was during his time when the psalms were grouped and put into a single book. There was never such a compilation of psalms until 500 years later. The composers of many of the psalms remain anonymous. Some were attributed to David; but not all of them.
4. The superscription, there is a problem. What about the other superscription? These many not have been a part of the psalms originally. They may have been added later by editors to help interpreting these poems at a later day.

This is just one problem. Problems of authorship and historical setting can be vague.

Probably, David's career suggests that he is the best choice as the author.

Some Internal Information

1. The psalm deals with an individual problem of safety. One man is in deadly trouble.
2. But it also refers to a king complaining about certain things, like domestic enemies.
3. Foreign foes who are preparing to attack the nation are mentioned. Foreign foes; what is the context?

4. Thus we can take this as a lament of David. Understood as his role as a civilian, as a soldier; and as a king. David could have written this psalm at any point in his life.
5. David is being attacked by vicious personal and domestic enemies. Also being threatened by foreign foes. So if David, this has to be written in retrospection.

More on the Authorship

1. Many scholars place this in the broad category of a Davidic-authored psalm. Conservative commentators.
2. Historically this is placed in David's career before he became king.
3. It is based on the narrative of 1Samuel 19.
4. Certain verses suggests that this may be written retrospectively by David, while in the palace; but thinking about his past. Maybe he threw in some other things as well. Yet, the psalm is good for any circumstance.
5. The author refers to my people those who are his subjects; and the world-wide repercussions of a defeat of the author's external enemies. Had David been defeated and incorporated into other nations. David had a future and a great kingship at this time. David is a man after God's Own heart.

If Israel were destroyed today, there would be worldwide repercussions. Bobby will propose and explanation of this; but he will give this Wednesday.

Psalm 59 inscription To the choirmaster: according to Do Not Destroy. A Miktam of David, when Saul sent men to watch his house in order to kill him.

Lesson #0292                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT                      10/6/2021 Wednesday

Psalm 59 was a psalm of great impact for Israel. If the king of Israel is writing such a thing, then this is something that we ought to hear and know and metabolize. The psalms were divinely inspired and they had great impact for David and beyond; and these psalms have great relevance for us in the time that we live. Many of the problems which exist for this author exist today; and there are modern-day applications to such a psalm.

We ran into some problems with the superscription.

Psalm 59 inscription To the choirmaster: according to Do Not Destroy. A Miktam of David, when Saul sent men to watch his house in order to kill him.

This superscript reveals the time, the occasion and the authorship of this psalm. This is taking place during Saul's reign. If David attempted to leave the house, the men guarding the house were given the orders to kill him.

1Samuel 19 is the background. The accuracy of this superscription is widely disputed. Many people think that these superscriptions were added after the fact.

Was David the author here and is this psalm truly based on this incident in David's life? Those are the two primary questions which need to be answered.

Some Problems with the Inscription

1. The text goes beyond the narrative of David's conflict with Saul. The psalm deals with an individual problem with the safety of the author. That is certain.
2. But 1Samuel 19 took place before David came to power as king of Israel.
3. Yet the context of the psalm also indicates that the author was a king who complained about several things in the nation. This comes from the perspective of a king.
4. He complains about domestic enemies who attacked him like a pack of wild dogs.
5. Foreign foes were also preparing to attack the nation. They are also mentioned. That also does not fit 1Samuel 19.

Are these things truly a problem? Some have brought this up as a textual problem. Bobby, along with many conservative scholars, accept the superscription as being accurate. The psalm grew out of this experience of David. It is not farfetched that, at that very time, external enemies of Israel, like the Philistines, were harassing the nation in one way or another. Clearly, Saul spent a great deal of time at war with the Philistines. Goliath was a Philistine warrior and David played a prominent role in that narrative.

David would be fully aware of foreign attacks and incursions.

Reconciling the Narrative with Psalm 59

1. David is looking back on his larger career at this point; the larger picture.
2. He considers his own time of distress as recorded in 1Samuel 19.
3. But also, David would be aware of what the nation had experienced at this time. David was well aware of this sort of thing.
4. This thought of external enemies is not heavily developed in Psalm 59. David was more occupied with his own dangerous situation at the moment. It fits very well.
5. But that being true of his personal issues taking precedent at that time, it did not make a man like David indifferent to matters of national importance.
6. It seems that Psalm 59 is a good example of both circumstances: both personal and national, occupying David's mind as he writes.
7. He is writing as the king of Israel looking back at these events.
8. It is mostly personal adversity that we find in Psalm 59. It is for our edification and the solution for any personal problem.

An Explanation to Make the Narrative and Psalm Coincide.

1. The superscription is historically reliable and it accurately depicts a set of actual events.
2. The situation of 1Samuel 19 inspired David to write after the fact.

3. He is writing at the time of his own kingship.
4. Not every line of this poem needs to have direct bearing on this particular escape described.
5. David may have combined incidents in his own mind, yet compose the poem as if it were one incident. Most of it comes from 1 Samuel 19.

We need to give some slack to the writer of poetry. David wrote under divine inspiration. God the Holy Spirit allows the authors of Scripture to use their own abilities and their own thoughts, but in such a way that their writings were divinely inspired. David was a great literary genius.

David wrote under divine inspiration. He uses this incredibly intense adversity of his own life; and this tells us that we can use David's teaching here for our own problems. This is the solution. The elements of this poem may just reflect a general circumstance. Saul threatened David many times. David had to make the application of this psalm many, many times.

Future generations must read this psalm. 3000 years ago; and it is as fresh and as important as it was when David wrote this. It is just as much true for us and just as applicable. He must view it with an eye for our own application in the time that we live.

This is the solution for any adversity that you face in life. We have seen a lot of evil in Prov. 11–12; and Bobby has used many illustrations for our current time. Bobby decided that Psalm 59 was the solution. It is perfect. Understanding the context greatly enhances the scope of application. Individual and nationally.

What Is Clear about this Psalm

1. Psalm 59 is a poem about unshaken trust in God. David understood where he was and he had a mature spiritual life. He was a giant in the realm of faith rest.
2. It does not matter the danger or the hopeless situation being encountered.
3. David prayed to be made safe and secure from his enemies.
4. That is always a valid prayer for us to make. Sometimes, people say, "God knows what is going on, so I don't need to say anything. He's got it all under control." But we are mandated to pray in the ways that God designed for us to pray. This prayer has impact. God answers all of our prayers; sometimes the answer is no.
5. David also prayed for God to humiliate his enemies, which is an imprecatory prayer. We never pray to destroy someone. We may not agree with our political leaders, but we are not supporters of striking people dead. Not a valid prayer. No one condones murder or assassination. David prayed for humiliation of his enemies.
6. This is so that the power of God in Israel might be known. Here is David. He is a focal point; a flashpoint in Israel. They knew David's reputation. The army watched this happen. They also knew about Saul; and they knew Saul's failings. David was well-known. People followed his career. "I asked God to do it and He did it."

7. David wanted everyone to witness God's sovereign control over His own people and their future. We are included here. David knew what God's plan was for him. We have more resources than David did.

We have studied the difference between adversity and stress. All of this is going on today; and it also happened during the time of David. We are approaching a practical psalm, but a psalm of deliverance, with implications for ourselves and for our nation.

We focus like David on the light of deliverance. Likewise to fulfill the destiny in spite of the enemies. Israel has been under attack, then and now, as no other people.

What David Knew and What We Should Know

1. The plan of God always moves forward to the same objective, that objective for us and for the nation.
2. On the world stage of Psalm 59, God would defeat the cosmic system and the enemies of Israel. This is so that the nations and world around them could see God glorified. That nation of 6 million is surrounded by 60 million enemies. God honors His promise to Abraham no matter what. Israel will be, at some point, a nation under God. God protects Abraham's descendants to enter into that national promise. David knew all about the covenant. God had reiterated that covenant. David took the boundaries of Israel to their greatest extent. How? He did this through faith rest and through the deliverance of the Lord. God did not let David off the hook.
3. This psalm will cover David's personal protection and the defeat of his enemies.
4. David never lost sight that his life was in the Lord's hands and he was more than aware of what God could do by way of deliverance. Goliath was delivered into David's hands by God. God honored what David said. The history of David is deliverance. He knew that his life was in the Lord's hands. He was aware of what God could do.
5. He asked for the Lord's deliverance. He then waited and watched for that deliverance. The request is easy; the second part is not so easy. That requires a little patience and a lot of trust in what God can do. The more trust we have the more confidence that we build up. By the time David was king, God has put him through the ringer. He continued with great trouble as a king. David responded to what God provided for him by way of resources and trust. That was his secret. We must realize in a time of such great uncertainty in our own nation. We need to watch the Lord work in ways that we may not expect.

Just think about COVID and how it has affected us. We might think that it is the biggest deal of our lives; but it is not. Consider what is the big deal in taking a vaccine or not. We have all kinds of national problems going on. Do not be afraid of the disease or if this government is conning us. What about China; what about Russia; what about the department of justice today. What about shredding the Constitution. COVID is nothing, if we have faith rest. If we don't decide to have the vaccine, don't make it the major issue of our lives. If we can't do anything about it, then that is when we should be the most trusting.

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/7/2021 Thursday

Bobby cannot think of a religious exemption for the COVID vaccine. The non-policy of Berachah Church.

An outline of Psalm 59

vv. 1–10

vv. 11–17

First Section of Psalm 59 (vv. 1–19)

1. Vv. 1–10 is confidence that the Lord will give His people the victory. We sometimes wonder if there is any victory in this life. David has a great victory
2. David appeals to God to deliver him from fierce enemies; men who like to shed blood. Vv. 1–5 David appeals to God to deliver him from a desperate situation.
3. In vv. 1–4 David calls upon God to deliver him. He confirms that he is not guilty of any crime, or anything worthy of such persecution or execution. This is what he is under at this time.
4. Then in v. 5, David shifts his prayer to a higher level. He asks that God punishes all of the nations which threaten Israel. He has escalated his request and has expanded the scope. We need this.
5. Then these verses are punctuated with selah.
6. Vv. 6–7 David describes his enemies in very graphic terms, as howling dogs, howling mongrel dogs. They have no regard for the Lord (this is a metaphor for David's enemies).
7. Then David expresses confidence in vv. 8–10. He is confident that God, Who mocks his godless enemies and loves David and Israel, will deliver the victory to him.
8. The plan of God for Israel cannot advance without David at this point.
9. In v. 8, God scoffs at His antagonists.
10. In v. 9, David will wait for God, Who is his source of strength. That is when David can do nothing else in his own strength.
11. V. 10, God will allow David to see the demise of those enemies, confirming God's care and planning for David. Very comforting for all of us. To realize that God works in all of our lives in the same way

Second Section 11–17

1. David displays confidence in a most decisive way.

2. In vv. 11–15, David prays for God to destroy the arrogant, lying blasphemers. Not just destroy them, but done so that everyone can see the sovereign power of the ruler of Israel.
3. V. 11 is a prayer for the humiliation of his enemies. David could have done this himself, but he asked God to do this, for himself and others.
4. In vv. 12–13, the request is that God should show their sins to the world. Show the world who they are, so that the world would be aware of something else about God. Here, they would be aware of God's righteousness and justice. What a great prayer for God to show His justice to His enemies.
5. In vv. 14–15 David repeats his lament from v. 6 that describes his enemies once again as dogs, who are fierce and who are destructive. This emphasizes and highlights God ability to deliver. God can deliver from them. Powerful enemies.
6. Vv. 16–17 David confidently anticipates praising the Lord's powerful protection and unfailing love.

We should all look forward to meeting David when we get to heaven. He had his moments of great sin and great failure. But David was a man after God's Own Heart. David depended upon the Lord exclusively. None of you have had your children chase you around the country and attempt to kill you. Or publically rape one of your wives.

This is a man who depends upon the Lord. Psalm 59 is a microcosm of David's attitude. These many not be problems for others; but our problems are ours. This is designed for all the adversity of our lives.

The first section.

Psalm 59:1 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; protect me from those who rise up against me;...

Psalm 59:2 ...deliver me from those who work evil, and save me from bloodthirsty men.

Introductory Remarks about Psalm 59:1–2

1. These two verses are a repeated call on the Lord for action from the Lord. He uses interesting metaphors in this psalm.
2. This is a prayer to the Lord to act on his behalf. That is what we are seeing in these first two verses. He wants to be quickly rescued. His enemies were gathered around his house.
3. These two verses set the tone for this chapter. They give us the idea of what David really needs.
4. There is a keyword, a specific cry for safety; the Hiphil imperative of natsal. It means to deliver, to carry away, to snatch away. Bobby likes the last definition; as it sounds like a Ranger op. That has happened 3 very famous times. A movie made about the rescue of many men taken from Batan for the death march. They were attempted to be freed before the Japanese killed them. The sompay raid, by a legend, a well-rehearsed raid in Vietnam. It was flawless operation; but the prisoners had been moved the week before. The raid under Jimmy Carter, called desert 1, which was designed to take the prisoners of the Muslim Iranians. It was aborted in the desert due to several helicopter crashes. David wants an urgent quick strike to get David out of there.

5. Only God can get David out of there. He is a POW in his own house.
6. To snatch away presents this petition as an urgent one, to protect David from Saul and his henchmen. He knows where it is coming from.
7. David is crying for deliverance. This is a loud voice, in an urgent voice. He also discloses his confidence in God's ability to deliver him. So many are wringing his hands. Bobby watched the news tonite; and what are we going to do? David wants to be snatched out of danger. It must be done in whatever way God plans for it to be right and to be flawless. He still makes an urgent request; and then he waits on God's answer. It will not be long in coming. Our request may feel to be urgent, but it is not as urgent as David's situation.

Prayer will be answered, one way or the other. God may delay your answer or He may simply say, no. David waited for what God would answer. When he got the answer, the open door, then he acted, when that rescue presented itself. He is not sitting on his hands waiting on a miracle. Sometimes we need a miracle for this problem to be solved.

David knows what God has in store for him. David was told what his future was. He was anointed to be king by Samuel. It is valid for David to say, "Okay, you have a plan for me; now what are You going to do." This is a prayer of trust and confidence in the Lord. That is the perspective of a relaxed mental attitude under pressure.

According to David's petition, God needed to act sooner rather than later. He would be loved to be carried away from this disconcerting position. All deliverance are based upon God's timing and His plan.

There were many times in David's life when his life was in danger. David was the focal point of the history of Israel and God's promises at this time. David was in the crosshairs of the angelic conflict at this time.

The soldiers of Saul have surrounded David and are waiting for him.

1Sam. 19:11 Saul sent messengers to David's house to watch him, that he might kill him in the morning. But Michal, David's wife, told him, "If you do not escape with your life tonight, tomorrow you will be killed."

David's Circumstance

1. When David emerged from his home the next morning, he was walking into a death sentence.
2. So his urgency to God was clear.

3. The plan was revealed to David by Michal, his wife, the daughter of Saul.
4. Apparently in association with her father, Michal had information about this plot. She knew something was going down at the house; and then she saw the men surrounding the house.
5. So she tells David and God uses her as a part of His deliverance to David. Otherwise, David could have walked out of the house and gotten killed.
6. David gives the Lord all of the credit.

Before making his exit from the house, he asks God to deliver him at this moment. It is a quick decision that he needs to make. This is a quick prayer. Short prayers are just as effective in times of a crisis.

1Sam. 19:12 So Michal let David down through the window, and he fled away and escaped..

David was discerning as well as a warrior. He could have charged out the front door to fight these men. He understood the time and place in God's plan. This was not the time to take on Saul's men.

God provided the means, not that God...

David had to be delivered, as his Greater Son would be his descendant.

Saul ordered David to marry Michal. Saul thought this would be a good union so that he could keep an eye on David. He hoped that way, David would be in Saul's line.

Michal would be given to another man for 14 years. Saul gave her back to David; but she was a very bitter, angry woman. She was no longer on David's side. For that reason, God made her barren, and no child would occupy the throne of Israel.

God used Micah at this point, even though this would end their close relationship.

These are men who are hitmen for the king. They are very good at what they do. These men going after David puts Saul completely out of the will of God. Therefore, David made a very valid prayer, that God's will be done against these death merchants.

Evil is often stimulating to those who perpetrate it. They like it. That is true of criminals as well.

If you watch the Forensic Files, you see people who like to kill. There are reasons for that. That is the perversion of the serial killer. They come to like what they do.

David is the man who would be king. But it says that these are men of iniquity and bloodshed, intent only on carrying out their mission of assassination.

Bob was a man of his time, and his ministry went far beyond the walls of this church. Bobby runs into many who had great blessing. He was a man that God chose for a great ministry. When such men get opposition, look out if you are the opposition. The things which happened to him and what happened to them. Leave God's men alone. In fact, leave everyone alone. But especially men like David chosen for a specific mission. When we are opposed, people oppose God's plan in us. This should give us confidence.

These are men of iniquity and bloodshed. They are intent on their mission from Saul.

But Saul thinks that he holds David's life in his hands. Saul sees David as a threat and an object of jealousy. As powerful as this man is, he does not stand a chance. David will remember that God is infinitely stronger than Saul. David will pass this test with flying colors. David will pass this test, even when he stands alone.

What Is Coming up in the Future

1. Continuing to speak to God in this situation, he protests that he has done nothing wrong to draw Saul's ire.
2. Hence, deliver me is also a cry for justice against those who perpetrate evil. It is a tacit cry, but nevertheless, a cry for justice.
3. If the cry to deliver is in the plan...
4. God's justice will be manifested in this deliverance. David calls for this.
5. David will be exonerated of any guilt or treason.
6. Saul will pay a heavy price; the loss of his son, Jonathan; the loss of his kingdom; and the loss of his life by suicide.
7. That will only be later after God has used Saul. Saul, because of what he did, drove David to depend upon the Lord and the Lord alone. This was a testing ground of faith and deliverance. Adversity is a testing ground for something greater.

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/10/2021 1Sunday

Communion October 10, 2021

The mandate, this do in remembrance of Me.

Companionship is a human need. But at one time in our lives, we have been isolated. If you have been like that, then understand the Lord's lonely state on this earth.

Psalm 102:6–7 I am like a desert owl of the wilderness, like an owl of the waste places; I lie awake; I am like a lonely sparrow on the housetop.

The psalmist felt deserted, as if God Himself had hidden His face from him.

Psa 102:8 All the day my enemies taunt me; those who deride me use my name for a curse.

Enemies can make life miserable.

Psa 102:10 because of your indignation and anger; for you have taken me up and thrown me down.

Psa 102:12 But you, O LORD, are enthroned forever; you are remembered throughout all generations.

God is never against us; He is always for us.

His lonely existence; His desertion. The exaltation; his accomplishment of salvation. Israel understood the kingly Messiah. They understood that the Savior would deliver them; but they did not see, understand, or accept His suffering. But that is what this psalm reveals. What is most significant of this psalm, is the Messiah should be likened to these lonely birds, images of desolate loneliness. Two of these birds are called uncleaned. They were rejected, despised and shunned in Israel.

This reveals the thinking of the people

The owl and the pelican are unusual birds in the bird kingdom. These are the creatures to which the Lord is likened. Jesus is not compared to an eagle or a cardinal (for its beauty) or a .

The birds were those who lived without companions. No one knows or cares about a single solitary figure. This is one reason for airport blues. Jesus Christ is the most solitary man Who walked the face of the earth. There were crowds with Him everywhere; but He was isolated by misunderstanding and rejection. Seclusion of a man Who was wholly devoted to accomplishing the will of God while He was on earth. Such loneliness is well described by George Bernard Shaw in Joan of Arc. "Yes I am alone on earth...don't think that you can frighten me by telling me that I am alone. What is my loneliness before the loneliness of my country and my God. His friendship will not fail me."

Just as Joan of Arc stood alone for France, so Jesus stood alone as well.

Jesus always appeared to be in the middle of a group. Jesus surrounded Himself with the twelve, but there was always a great gap between Himself and them. They were thick-headed and they failed in their support of Him.

When we think with divine viewpoint in the midst of human viewpoint, we become isolated while surrounded by people who lack understanding. At conferences, some say, "I have no one of a like mind around me."

Mary bore other children by Joseph later in life.

They said, "Is this not the carpenter's son...does His brother stand.

Where Jesus should have found comfort he was met with ostracism, even by His own family.

Another prophecy about the homelife of the Messiah. Psalm 69:7–9 For it is for your sake that I have borne reproach, that dishonor has covered my face. I have become a stranger to my brothers, an alien to my mother's sons. For zeal for your house has consumed me, and the reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me.

Jesus said, "The foxes have their holes, but the Son of Man has no place to lay His head."

Jesus told His disciples of His upcoming suffering and they rejected that.

One of the final incidents of His isolation was in His prayer time. Matt. 26:39 And going a little farther he fell on his face and prayed, saying, "My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as you will."

Matt. 26:40 And he came to the disciples and found them sleeping. And he said to Peter, "So, could you not watch with me one hour? The cross loomed large in the Lord's future.

Jesus accepted the hardship of the human body. We would come to know Him as the Redeemer. No one was more alone in His death.

Isaiah 63:3 "I have trodden the winepress alone, and from the peoples no one was with me; I trod them in my anger and trampled them in my wrath; their lifeblood spattered on my garments, and stained all my apparel.

The Lord's loneliness was apparent on the cross. The time alone was for one purpose; this was for us. The early condition of our Lord is to be remembered.

Lesson #0295

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/10/2021 2Sunday

Psalm 59:1 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; protect me from those who rise up against me;...

Psalm 59:2 ...deliver me from those who work evil, and save me from bloodthirsty men.

These two verses set the whole scene for this entire psalm. This would have been very early in David's career. David wrote this psalm in retrospect, referring back to 1 Samuel 19. This is an urgent request from David from his own house. This is a prayer for deliverance. There are assassins at his door waiting to kill him.

Two Hiphil imperatives. These are commands made from David to God. Imperatives can also be taken as a very strong request. These two verbs set the tone for this chapter.

Natsal; yasha' and they both mean, to deliver. Yasha has the idea of deliverance and saving David's life.

The best definition for natsal means, to snatch away (right now). Men of iniquity and bloodshed. David understood what was going to happen to him as he steps out the door of his own house.

Michal let David down through a window and allowed for him to escape. She lets David out and then she covers for him. Saul later said, "What happened?" She told him, "David threatened me."

In crying for deliverance, David is not panicked. He is confident in God's ability to fully deliver. A situation of life and death. His confidence was clear. His confidence was a faith rest that was sufficient; but the King was out to kill him; and he had many assassins which he could use against David.

David figured the best way to get out of there is to climb down the rope and sneak away. David professes his innocence in vv. 3–4 of this chapter.

Despite the injustice, David does not look to take his revenge against Saul and his allies. We face injustice all of the time; we have many injustices in life. Our first thought is often, I have got to get back at this person. David did not look at this situation as unjust as it was. He would leave room for God's justice to work.

David, later on his life, had a chance to kill Saul, but he chose not to. David was not out for vengeance. He was willing to wait on the justice of God. We have no standing to take revenge and call it justice.

Rom. 12:19a Never take your own revenge, but leave room for the wrath of God.

We can be assured that God's justice stands against injustice which is all around us. The justice of God made Saul pay the ultimate price. He lost a battle, he lost his kingdom, and he committed suicide.

The Lord is at your right hand; He will shatter kings on the day of His wrath.

God can deal with those who are untouchable. We can protest and write letters. How is that going for you? How is that working for you? Leave room for the justice of God. In revelation, there will be a grand bloodbath where the blood rises up to the horse's bridal.

No one today appears to be held accountable for their evil in the courts. We see evil in high places. We don't know how these policies can be made. It is very difficult to understand all of these things; and no one appears to be accountable for their evil. But, not true. The justice of God.

We just studied Prov. 11:23 The desire of the righteous ends only in good; the expectation of the wicked in wrath. No one escapes the evil that they do. Remember that when you turn on the television and you want to throw things at it. There are many things for us to remember. Apply the justice of God rationale.

The human deck was stacked against David. Yet God will set David up on high. David is certain that God will set him inaccessibly high. Upon a fortress; out of reach against those rising against him. The higher they rise; the less likely they are able to get him.

The name of the Lord is a strong tower. The righteous runs into it and they are safe. That is David's assurance.

There is a great history of David in 1&2Samuel and apply the justice of God over and over again. The difficult times are the ones that we remember. They stick in our memory. These are the greatest times. We get to see the Lord work, if we apply the faith rest rationale. We will get to see how the Lord works.

God's protective care is where the power of God has been at work. If you believe in Jesus Christ and you are listening to the Word of God, and metabolizing it. And now you apply it; it is your life. Then you have a tremendous impact; for ourselves, our family and for the nation as well. We have a preserving impact. God is faithful to people. It is true for us as well, no matter what the circumstances are around us. We have nowhere else to turn. We have nowhere else to go. So many times when that is the case. We are anxious; we get fearful. How about relaxing; using a little faith rest. Relax, faith rest, use patience and watch the Lord work. Bobby has been in circumstances where there has been no way out; and God extracted him. Bobby would tell us about some of them, but they are private.

The problem on a national scale; not just a personal level. The problems of Israel were not unlike our own problems today. David faced these problems, especially when he became king. David was a great believer in the Old Testament. Israel was God's people in the Old Testament; and we are in the New.

Principles for All of us

1. No enemy is too great; individual, corporate, national.
2. No believer is so outnumbered or so insignificant. As a believer in Jesus Christ, God pays attention to us. We are no different from the greatest believers in the Old Testament. We hear about people of note, people of power from the Old Testament; but that is not the case in the Church Age. We have what each person in that group as we do.

3. We know our innocence; and so does God. He knows what is just and what is unjust. God always deals with us with love and in grace. We get many blessings that we do not deserve.
4. God's justice operates on that knowledge.
5. So does God's grace and His unfailing love for His Own people.
6. Despite our failures and God still watches over us. Yet God does not desert us.

David made many mistakes in his lifetime; he even murdered, one of the great men of his army. David made many other mistakes in his life. David was a man after God's Own heart. Why? Why was he? He depended upon the Lord, even when he made mistakes. We utilized the faith rest drill. We depended upon God in difficulties and during prosperity. Some people when they are on top of the world abandon God.

David was disciplined for his sin; but his life was...

God uses people in a hospital to testify to His wonderful abundance; and even if they die. Maybe you saw a person die with this assurance.

God's plan had to be fulfilled by David and His beautiful outside. We have a plan and we are a witness as well. David, as great a man as he was; we also find ourselves in the plan of God.

The first two verses:

Psalm 59:1 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; protect me from those who rise up against me;...

Psalm 59:2 ...deliver me from those who work evil, and save me from bloodthirsty men.

These are words spoken by David 3000 years ago and they are just as important to us this day. King Saul has determined to kill David at this point. David had done nothing to cause this situation. Saul was simply jealous of David. David is trapped in his own house and Saul's soldier's are posted outside his home, waiting for him to exit so he can kill them.

David is not, with O my God punctuating or exclaiming something. He is voicing confidence in divine help from God. He prays for deliverance. His attitude under pressure is stated succinctly. What time I am afraid, I will trust in You. What does this mean? We say we trust someone, but we cannot say why. How do we do that? What do these words mean and how are they applied. The salvation of the righteous is from the Lord; He is their strength in time of trouble. Who are the righteous? In many cases, these are mature believers.

We see the word deliver; and this is a call from believers. Many times that believers who call out to God from weakness. They have failed to grow spiritually; this is a prerequisite for trusting the Lord. Under adversity, they demand help and safety from God. All they can think to do is to pray. They do not know faith rest; they do not know how to use it.

If doctrine is not learned, how can the believer find something to depend upon in a time of crisis? All a believer can do in that situation is the cry for help. No doctrine in the soul; little self-assurance in their souls. The promises of God are not stored up in their souls. They have no faith rest drill which has been consistently practiced. Faith rest is a basic function in the Christian life. You must have a way to use every promise of God. There must be some assurance that God will actually act.

It is the right attitude and the spiritual skill when it comes to calling upon the Lord for help. Faith rest is the mechanic of trust. In times of personal inconvenience, plague, difficulty, a person begs to God to rescue them. They only speak to God when they want Him to act on their behalf. As if God is a genie. The petitioner acts as if he is the master. I request and I get it. It is their will that matters. Whatever you wish for, God produces.

When God does not respond immediately, they say, "God is not receptive to my needs." That is a lot of nerve to blame God for anything. Their spiritual life might be weak or nonexistent. Often their own bad decisions have brought people to this or that point. We need to take responsibility for our actions.

As a believer in Jesus Christ, how can you rebound if you have not evaluated yourself? You should recognize your failures. What are you going to do about them? "I haven't sinned; I am a great person." When something hits the wall, they blame someone else; and when God does not deliver them, they then blame God.

David is requesting help from a position of strength. His spiritual life is strong; he has faith rest deep in his soul. David was a man after God's Own heart, despite making many mistakes. Faith rest, when well practiced, handles all of that adversity.

David and His Situation

1. David uses the resources which God has given him. He knows what these resources are. He knows these things.
2. David is most familiar at the throne of grace with his prayer requests.
3. Then David awaits the outcome. He does not pray and fret after. Praying and fretting is not the drill. The plan of God is still there, no matter what is happening. God did not direct David to go out and hack those men to death.
4. David worships the Lord. He is a man of genius; military, leadership, psalmist. And his greater Son is Jesus. An important place in human history.
5. God is the center of David's life. In the midst of a very busy life with lots of ups and downs. Many people thinking drawing money from the government and watching tv all day is the answer. David still worships the Lord. God is still the center of his life.
6. When David calls for help from the Lord, this is from the framework of a mature spiritual life. It is a practiced spiritual life. The more consistent your practice, the better you are when it comes to perform. The more you use it, the more you can use it under pressure. This is not David's first line of defense. His first line of defense is spiritual.

"I am going to be at Bible class, but I just have to take care of this one thing." But if they do it over and over again; life is taking over. It is habitual. This is when adversity gets the best of you.

Do you give God the credit for the good things in your life or does God get the credit? And this is fine, until you no longer can do that thing or do it as well?

Bobby appreciates the FLOT line.

Faith rest and doctrinal orientation. Unbeatable combination. David has the right perspective on all of this. It shows and it works in his life.

A question: do you have David's perspective when you cry, "O God, help now!" David trusts in the Lord and he claims the promises of God. "When I am afraid, I will place my trust in You."

vv. 1-3, David is calling for help.

David and Faith Rest and Fear

1. Fear and anxiety does not preclude the faith rest drill. We all face these things. We can apply doctrine under fear circumstances.
2. The adversity did not stifle the faith rest drill. The trust mechanic. You must have some knowledge of doctrine. You must be able to apply a doctrinal rationale.
3. David relied on the spiritual solution to this life or death situation.
4. Then David acts accordingly. He puts it in the Lord's hands. He acts as the means presents itself. David does not allow emotion to take over.

David did this for the first time in 1Sam. 17:47 (...and that all this assembly may know that the LORD saves not with sword and spear. For the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hand."). This was framed in Bob's office. Bob used it constantly. David determined, whatever happens, the battle is the Lord's. That is the background attitude for all the deliverance that David received from the Lord. In watching the Lord work, Israel learned that God was on their side.

Will Goliath challenge the national Constitution? God has not abandoned His people even today. That is God's promise. David illustrated this to Israel because of his leadership from the spiritual life.

Psalms 59:1–2 Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; protect me from those who rise up against me; deliver me from those who work evil, and save me from bloodthirsty men.

Lesson #0297

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/18/2021 2Sunday

Saul has ordered several assassins to go to David's home, and he would be killed there or brought to the palace and killed.

David had great trust in the Lord. David did not fear. He saw the place of deliverance and that is where he went. David was ready to follow the deliverance of the Lord.

Psalms 26:1 Of David. Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity, and I have trusted in the LORD without wavering.

David does not just want deliverance but he wants to be vindicated. "I have trusted in the Lord without wavering." In other words, I am innocent in all of this, but my antagonists are not.

David was rescued as we have seen in many situations. David's trust and confidence in the Lord. Does he want to feel good about himself? David will be king; and he has this in mind as well. The plan of God rationale. He wants to be vindicated before all of Israel. His integrity is intact. He will be king; he will be a great king. This is his optimistic call for deliverance. Now the justice of God rationale. Confidence in the Lord's will.

Where do we stand in this regard? Trust in the Lord with all your heart. Do not lean on your own understanding.

Proverbs 3:5

1. This is a call to leave on doctrine and not on human viewpoint. Faith rest drill is a drill in recall.
2. Trusting with all your heart is the application of Bible doctrine in the right lobe of the soul. How do you trust? What do you trust? All of this may be part of the solution. First and foremost, you trust in the Lord. Jesus is the solution. We may have a part in that. He had the strength to climb down the rope. He had to get to a place where he could think. Faith rest, in one respect, calms us. It is necessary for us to apply Bible doctrine.

3. Do not lean on or depend upon human viewpoint.
4. Lean on divine viewpoint resident in your soul. That is where you lean; that is what you depend upon. Jesus' mind was doctrine; it was divine viewpoint. The more we know this, the more we can depend upon the Lord.
5. That is the spiritual life way of handling adversity. Unbelievers have many ways of handling adversity. Psychological counseling, strength of character, gutting it out. Most of it is very short-term until the next one.
6. We have the faith-rest technique, which David used so adeptly. His trust was manifested in his actions and mental attitude. Trust is manifested in your assurance of God's help. You can be absolutely assured. David sometimes floundered and then he received divine discipline. So many people wished that they had assurance in life. So little assurance in this life today. Do you wake up in the morning assured in all circumstances? That is the key to adversity not becoming stress in your soul. This is practice in the spiritual life. This could get worse. This could get a lot worse. We have not yet been persecuted, but that could happen. The solution is not in politics or a great leader who will come about and drain the swamp. We must have assurance in something else. We cannot depend in humanity ever.

Faith Rest and Doctrinal Application

1. Deliverance from the Lord begins in the soul.
2. It starts with faith rest and then doctrinal application. Sometimes prosperity is the most dangerous of all. It is in all circumstances and every day is a test and an opportunity. Don't forget that.
3. Thus we are always prepared for the pathway of the plan of God. That is our first consideration. What is the plan of God for me? Often we think, God's plan is out there. God's plan is every day. It works every day. Ultimately it works out to an end game. That is why we must practice this drill. That is why our thinking must be centered on the Lord. Our priority is God-centered.
4. We have the attitude of David after he prayed as he awaited his deliverance, regardless of its twists or turns. It is easy to pray. Sometimes we are practiced at operating with the faith rest drill.
5. Now comes the part where you have to wait. You have to relax and be confident and secure that the Lord is in control. We have the assurance that we are in the hands of the Lord. Sometimes this allows us to think, I wonder what is going to happen tomorrow? How is the Lord going to direct this? Will we ever come back to the great client nation that we have been? Or we can say, how will the Lord handle this? We trust in the Lord in His plan no matter what it might be. Stop being so worried about everything in the nation. Can we return to the nation that we were? Of course we could. But we might have to go to war? Will we have Christmas?

6. God may want to remind us in present circumstances that God is going to use us in the situations which unfold. The people in this nation make a myriad of decisions; but we had better plan for one thing, the plan of God.
7. In these situations, we may be a witness to someone else. This may be the opportunity to use the faith rest drill. We may be a witness to someone else to show to someone else faith rest in the crisis. That is our opportunity in the midst of adversity.
8. Many a mature believer have had the privilege to represent the Lord in a crisis. Paul went to prison many times; he had a great deal of adversity. In death, Stephen comes to mind, stoned to death in front of many people.

People are so concerned whether truckers pick up the containers in LA and get them to us. What are we going to do?

David gives the doctrinal outlook for the crisis which he faces. This way he can present the breadth of God's deliverance; and he does that many times in the psalms. He knew that his life would be forfeit. These are doers of iniquity and he is trapped at home by them. But David had promises to stand upon; and we have more promises than he did. Claim those promises; trust them. David will be delivered from this situation. He will be provide with security from these bloodthirsty murders at the front door.

The first 2 lines of v. 3:

Psalm 59:3 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD,

The description is very apt here. This is an enemy setting a trap. Daggers, sword, a steel death. David may have known some of these people. A successful ambush will bring calamity and bloodshed upon him and others. Death merchants attack and murder the spiritual life. Doctrinal application preserves the spiritual life in a crisis. This means immediate action must be taken to extract oneself from an ambush on the spiritual life.

Why did David use the term ambush. Few more devastating experiences for a military unit to walk right into the middle of an ambush. It is sneaky, unexpected, surprising, and deadly. The craftier the setting of the ambush, the more effective it is. The enemy scouts out the place the best location for attack. There is an avenue of movement. We can set up a linear one, all along the road. Basic ambush. The L-shaped ambush. There is the linear along with blocking off one of the two exits. For an unsuspecting formation, then a prearranged signal goes. The trap is sprung with all the fire power available to the ambusher and maximum casualties are gotten. This infects the enemy morale. Gather intelligence from their dead bodies. It can even be a tacit ambush, like the last 10 years, a hidden IED, where the ambusher is unseen and unknown. It happened in the jungles of Vietnam and in the Middle East. Hit and run. Put fear into the enemy that it could happen at any moment. Produce casualties without any chance to shoot back. When an ambush is used often, to the exclusion of other attacks, this reveals an enemy which is outnumbered and outclassed. The intended outcome is to defeat the enemy's will to resist.

To gain support from others. Some end up with the exact opposite effect. They may not have enough combat power to face this force directly, face to face, unit against unit. So they fall back on these harassing type tactics. Those tactics are just what ISIS and other terrorist organizations depend upon. They hope to affect the morale of their enemy and their will to fight on. An effective tactic over long periods of time. These tactics appear to affect the politicians the most. Continued danger to them. Public opinion is more important than anything else. The war will continue, but on our own soil.

Why am I telling you this? Ambush is a great illustration of the traps set by the cosmic system. David was very familiar with that tactic. He was outclassed and undermanned. He had to fight in a way that he could win. But it is happening to him here; and he is in the kill zone.

Psalm 59:3 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD,

Lesson #0298                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT    10/21/2021   Wednesday

Bobby had to claim Isaiah over the Astros, his nurse had an Astros shirt on.

We do not know whose side Michal is on. She is married to David and she has loyalties to her father.

Psalm 59:3a For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me.

Ambushes are very effective for inflicting damage on the enemy. The cosmic system can produce some devastating unexpected attacks from a number of different directions. The cosmic system cannot ambush a believer who is prepared with doctrine for the subtle attacks which we face. Satan's attacks can only harass us. Believers without doctrine will fall prey to stress because they are unable to make use of the provisions of God.

David is not stressed out in this situation, even after finding out from Michal about the men on the outside who want to kill him. David is not emotional; he is not terrorized. He develops an immediate counter. He has promises which he can apply in a very adverse circumstance. How to be calm in extreme adversity. David is good at faith rest. He has in his soul an immediate action drill. He went right into this drill. The drill was a response to an ambush. It involves firing and maneuvering. Indirect fire to cover this distraction. It became second nature to David.

Reconnaissance platoons are often stuck out by themselves and ambushes were an occupational hazard. They needed to know how to handle it. It needed to be second nature. David had that same immediate action drill.

Application of this Circumstance to Our Own Lives

1. A spiritual immediate action drill is necessary while facing maximum pressure. In this case, the threat of murder. We are facing some kind of adversity. We can get stressed out based upon what is happening in the country today.
2. We must be able to call for fire from the Lord. In the military, we might be calling for indirect fire as well. Get it from God.
3. We must maneuver out of the kill zone; the cosmic system kill zone. We need to use the faith rest drill. We have practiced it so many times that it is second nature to us, so that it is rote. We must have the promises and be able to claim them. We need the calming influence of the faith rest drill. David uses the immediate action drill.
4. David executes this immediate action. He must maneuver out of this ambush, using fire and maneuver; hoping over one another when moving in retrograde. All part of the escape and evasion plan that David applies. We get into the ambush, we get into the action testing. First, we apply rebound. David does not need rebound; he can skip that step. We need it in case we have lost it in the pressure situation. David does not need to rebound in this case. David, one of the immediate action drills, he needed to apply a lot including rebound when it came to dealing with Bathsheba. He committed a number of sins. In that situation, he began with rebound in Psalm 51:4. In this situation, David does not need to rebound. David did not go around and apologize to everyone. Whatever he did was put aside when David used Psalm 51:4. He did this evil in God's sight. But that is not a part of his immediate action drill in this psalm.

Psalm 59:3 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD,

There is no reason why Saul might want him dead. He did not commit a sin which set Saul against them. A request for fire from heaven.

Psalm 59:4 for no fault of mine, they run and make ready. Awake, come to meet me, and see!

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

Saul is continuing this action to kill David. It is happening and it will continue to go on. It is unjust and David takes immediate, effective action. He pleads not guilty before God, and he awaits the verdict (that is, what the Lord will do).

Most guilty criminals will claim to be innocent (and some are actually innocent).

The jurors and listening to facts, but they may be incomplete at times. Whether true or not or misunderstood or not. Bobby has sat in a few cases in civil cases. He cannot understand half the stuff that is going on. But the jury must make a decision based upon the facts they know and understand.

David makes his case

1. God is not confused by anything.
2. He knows the truth of guilt or innocence. He knows David's case completely.
3. David then professes the truth of his innocence. This is his presentation before the supreme court of heaven.
4. David asks God to investigate. Listen, see, and make a verdict.
5. We must recognize that God already knows that David is innocent and that he is being treated unjustly.
6. David is repeating the circumstances of his request, as is part of any prayer. We repeat things which God already knows.

Why do we pray, if God already knows? It is mandated that we pray; and there must have a connection to God's decisions. Prayer is necessary part of the immediate action drill. God expects prayer and He takes into account the request being made. The hard part for us to understand is, all of this was eternally in God's mind. He did not have to formulate anything. God decreed in eternity past. He knew in eternity past. He always knew He knew forever what David did.

God knows everything; but He also takes into account the free will of man. That is a part of what God formulates. David then professes something else. "These men run and they set themselves against me. I am innocent."

David is a military man; and this is military terminology. Setting themselves against him pictures a body of troops ready to attack; to make an assault. The intent is for David to be dead. They set themselves against them as a powerful body of troops. David calls for God to act immediately. "Arouse Yourself," David says. "Wake up!" He told God to get out of bed, essentially.

What Did David Really Mean/do Here

1. Sleep and waking up are anthropomorphisms. These are things that God does not really do or possess. His acts are described in terms that we understand.
2. David equates God's apparent inactivity to His being asleep. His request is immediately.
3. God does not sleep and David knows this.
4. What is David doing? The metaphor is designed to communicate urgency. That is certainly the case here. That is what David is showing us.
5. So the reason for using this anthropomorphism is to highlight the immediacy for God to get involved. Adversity is as bad as it can get.
6. We need to understand that it is okay to call for God's immediate action. David did and it was perfectly okay. This was kind of an "O, God, help!"
7. It is God's prerogative as to how he will respond to this request. This also means to relax under pressure.

8. That phrase, "O God, come to my aid; I am in distress; I need help." This is legitimate when this is part of a practiced immediate action drill. God wants us to use the resources that we have. David uses these faith rest activities in many different circumstances.

It is a whole different story when you say, "O God, help me!" if you have not made use of His resources. This is a most effective prayer for the believer who has been advancing in the spiritual life. So many believers make a cry like this when there is trouble. The believer is very familiar with asking the Lord for immediate help.

David is calling up God that he will receive immediate action. We still go into immediate action; yet we call on God. Our request may not be part of God's plan for us. The mature believer continues the immediate action drill using the faith-rest technique. Sometimes it takes longer to get out of the kill zone than immediately. The mature believer does not hold it against God. Sometimes the immediate action drill requires a little more time on God's part.

Psalm 59:4 for no fault of mine, they run and make ready. Awake, come to meet me, and see!

Why Does David Pray?

1. An anthropomorphism again.
2. God sees all and He knows all.
3. Therefore, God does not need to take a specific view of any one circumstance. So why is David asking Him to look?
4. God has taken every fact into consideration.
5. In David's cry for help, he emphasizes that he knows that God will take action. His prayer makes known his specific request to God; which he is mandated to do.
6. In human terms, David wants God to be fully aware of his dilemma. This is what must be done. This is what we do. In making his request, David is assured that God will take action; and he knows that God will take care of him.

Putting it All Together

1. God waits for the request to be made in order to answer.
2. Hence the necessity of a prayer request to God. We can rest assured that God head this prayer. We know that God will answer in the way that He wants it done.
3. God takes into account the free will of man when requesting help. This is a necessary request. It is our decision to request.
4. The free will of man and his decisions and his requests are always factored into God's actions. That is a part of the immediate action drill. This is not a fruitless exercise to request of God.
5. God knows exactly what He will do if the request is made.
6. God already knows what He will not do if the request is not made.

7. In God's sovereignty, He already knows man's decisions; and he already knows His answer and His course of action. This does not make our decisions any less free.
8. What God knows does not make a request any less important or valid.
9. We have free will and God takes this into account

Muslims: it is Allah's will, no matter what. If I kill someone, that is Allah's will. Their view is very fatalistic.

Now, through David's request, we see just how confident David is in the Lord. He speaks very personally to God. David knows that God will be faithful. He has certainty in the promises of God. Certainty. It is the plan of God rationale which brings confidence to our Christian walk. God allows for our acts and free will decisions. David is our model when how to approach God as our Rock and our Redeemer. Psalm 46:1 God is our refuge and strength; our very present help in all adversity.

Lesson #0299

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/22/2021 Thursday

David seems to be in a trap where he does not have a way out. David was surrounded constantly by adversity. He seemed to make good decisions most of the time. When he made bad decisions, he paid for them.

At this time, David is in his house and he has done nothing wrong. King Saul is his tormentor at this time. Psalm 59:3b-4 is what is happening. None of what is happening is his fault.

Psalm 59:3 For behold, they lie in wait for my life; fierce men stir up strife against me. For no transgression or sin of mine, O LORD,

Psalm 59:4 for no fault of mine, they run and make ready. Awake, come to meet me, and see!

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

These soldiers were told to kill David. He proclaims his innocence to God.

Introductory Points

1. The anthropomorphism of a sleeping God is not a sleeping God but this represents the urgency of David's peril.
2. God is not asleep; He does not need sleep.
3. David's desire is for immediate action by the Lord. "I cannot wait much long."
4. At the same time, David was not falling apart. He was not screaming at his wife or blaming her. David is confident that his request was heard and that... In Iraq and Afghanistan, we could be in a life or death circumstance. David knows something about what God has in store for him. He knows that he is in line to be the next king.

He has the advantage of the plan of God rationale. He knows that he will be king and he knows that it is not time for him to die.

David knew that his strength came from God. God is a very present help when in trouble.

David and His Relationship with God

1. We see how confident that David is in his relationship with the Lord. "He is here with me." David knows who is with him.
2. So David speaks to God very personally, as if he is very familiar with the Lord (and he is). The spiritual life familiarizes us with God. We recognize what kind of relationship it is that we have with God.
3. God is present in this and in all circumstances. David knows this. He lives this, he believes it; and he trusts this. God is not some figment of the imagination. Psalm 46:1 God is present and He exists and He takes an active part in our lives. David is not weak at all. He was brave. He did not need a psychological crutch. He needs the Lord now.

He knows that the Lord is his ever-present help; his help in time of need. David knew where he was going and what would happen. David had that plan of God rationale; and we have the as well. David will die at some point. He knows that he will be king; but he does not know what is going to happen after that. David is practicing here for a future time when he will need faith rest as never before. The fate of his nation will be on his shoulders.

We have more problem solving devices than David could ever think of. David used rebound, a problem solving device for him. He did not have the resources of the spiritual life that we have. David did not know. The sooner that we recognize that we have a destiny with the Lord, the better our life will go. We are firmly in the hand of God. God's grace is always here; it is all for our use.

One More Thing about Psalm 46:1

1. God is not in heaven having nothing to do with us. He is imminent; He is ever-present. God is not
2. Quite often people do not realize that God is intimately involved in our lives. He indwells us. God was present with David; but He was present with David
3. God is present now with us for everything. We carry Him around with us. His mind is available to us.
4. He is our refuge, our shelter for protection during times of adversity.
5. Without question, God is our strength. When we understand that. When our strength fails, God's strength does not fail. God empowers the application of the wisdom that we are learning.
6. God is the source of our power and of our confidence. When everything and everyone else is crumbling around us. There are a lot of people crumbling around us. The see the adversity of our government today. His ever-present help in our time of need. He has proven Himself to David time and time again. He is David's help and hsi rescue. God does for us what we cannot do for ourselves.

God is our strength when we have none. That allows Christians throughout the centuries. Can you imagine being dragged into the collesium and watching your Christian friends being torn apart by animals. Where does the strength come from? From His ever-present help indeed. Think of Stephen, stoned in front of Jews.

Bob just read an article about Denton, TX. A small number of Christians met for an anti-abortion rally. They were surrounded by hundreds of Antifa types, screaming with hatred and anger. Nevertheless, these people stood; they held their ground.

God has proven Himself time and time again for David.

More Points

1. God is the all-sufficient one. He does for us what we cannot do for ourselves. We have universal weaknesses that only God can fix.
2. Stating the phrase, "God is a help" is much more forceful than saying, "God helps people."
3. We help people; but God is help.
4. God is help indicats that He abundantly and appropriately helps His people. He is what help is all about. God is help in every sene of that word. He is our strength, and refuge.
5. Requesting His help is guaranteeing help, even though it may be unseen or unrecognized by us. If we ask for it, God will give us His help. We don't koow how it will be, but God will uice you through those times.
6. God knows exactly what needs to be done in order to help us in every circumstance. God knows all of the facts. He can work things to our advantage. He knows exactly how to do that.

David now continues his requests to God.

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

God asks the God of grace not to be gracious. David requests an adverse action against his enemies. He addresses God with an adversityve.

David calls God the God of hosts and the God of Israel.

Jesus Is the God of Hosts

1. "Host" is the Hebrew masculine plural of tsaba.
2. It means army, war, warfare.

3. The Lord of hosts is the God of the armies. This is not Mars, the Roman God of war. David is calling upon the God of hosts.
4. This means that the Lord of hosts is also the God of Israel.
5. In this title of Lord of hosts, David presents Y<sup>e</sup>howah as the God who is uniquely protective of His people Israel. God is a soldier in order to protect His people, Israel.
6. That protection is likened to the power of an invincible God

David needs a counter-attack from the God of the armies.

The Armies of God

1. God is over the armies of Israel. \
2. God also has all the armies of the earth at His disposal.
3. The leader of the angelic armies.
4. God is also an army of one.
5. He will kill all the enemies of Israel; then He will call Himself the Prince of Peace

God still works things out, even under horrendous circumstances of war. David wants God to be there right now. He can also say, even though he is calling upon the most powerful Person on earth. We can al...

David asks for something and he knows that God will give to him His best. David will ask for God to respond with an immediate response. "I need some help here."

David is looking back. He is writing in his palace, remembering what happened when God delivered him. He is remembering many times when God delivered him. So he calls the armies to destroy the nations. David wants to defeat the oppressors who are arrayed against him and against Israel.

V. 5 is not just about the old days; but what is happening right now.

They are linked here.

Bobby does not know what we think about this country. Will God save us or will we all go down? Evil is gaining traction in this country; and it will remain in many ways. It is the pivot which delivers. When we see the evil all over, will we see them defeated? Not necessarily. If we are going to survive as a nation, how will God do it?

We don't know what God is going to do. But it is going to be interesting to see what is going to happen. David says, "Rescue me, Lord; and rescue the nation." But have some trust in what God will do. Watch and notice what He does. Do not get wrapped around the....

You think that law was violated now? Romans violated the law all of the time. They had no guilt about anything that they did. Kkk the Jews became the dominant power in the middle east; so what are you worried about?

1. Saul and selected men of Saul's army would continue to pursue to try and destroy David.
2. Saul turned the nation against David. He turned his armies against David.
3. David would survive Saul's treacherous plans. The God of Israel protect
4. In retrospect, David had other incidents on his mind of equal or greater national effect.
5. They were focused on the death of the nation. They were going to reflect on other perils.

David takes on the problem of foreign invasions of other people. David asks for the sleeping giant, for the Lord of hosts, to once again awaken.

Final Points

1. David in v. 5 ask for God to awaken and defeat those who are treacherous in iniquity.

Lesson #0300

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/25/2021 1Sunday

There is a big change between v. 4 and 5 in this psalm. David is in a tight spot and he is making an urgent request. It is entirely about David.

Psalm 59:4 for no fault of mine, they run and make ready. Awake, come to meet me, and see!

David is being persecuted, and he claims to be innocent of wrongdoing against anyone at this point. He wants God's justice to kick in at this point. In this case, David does not need to begin his psalm with rebound. David was indwelt with God the Holy Spirit. He was one of the few men who was indwelt by God the Holy Spirit to perform specific tasks. He still rebounds to be in fellowship with God. He said, "Against You and You only have I sinned." But here, there is no mention of rebound.

On a dime, David pivots from his situation to another. This is written in retrospect; he writes this at a later time.

Then he shifts to call for deliverance for his nation.

Bobby has seen this change firmly indicating retrospective nature of Psalm 59. He is not only looking back, a personal peril; but he also addresses a pressing national peril. That is what makes this so pertinent to today.

The Lord of Hosts, the God of Israel. Two titles to address God by.

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

The Lord God of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel. He is also the Lord of the angelic armies in the Angelic Conflict. David is requesting a military operation. He refers to God as his commander and chief. His cry for himself in the past. Mirrored with his call for help in the past. Parallel situations. His cry is desperate. David is desperate for God to punish all nations who stand against Israel. David calls for God to withhold His grace. How can God be a God of love, if He withholds it? What about this? This is an amazing request of God not to be gracious. This will have a great impact on our thinking today.

David calls for God to wake up to punish all the nations. David said this in the past; and he is saying this now in the present. "Wake up quickly and make something happen, in my defense," David said before. And now he asks for God to wake up and make it happen for Israel.

David Called for God to Rise Up/wake up

1. These are different verbs to arouse.
2. The Hebrew word in v. 5 is quits.
3. This is an anthropomorphism. David's request is urgent.
4. There is a specific reason given, not just to wake up and help, as in v. 4. Now David requests help in punishing his enemies. Not just help me get out of this, but wake up and punish these people. This is a very interesting way of praying.
5. There is a military overtone here. He requests the Lord of hosts.
6. Both verbs in vv. 4 and 5 are directed towards God and they have the same essentially anthropomorphic connotation.
7. Awaken essentially means for the God of Israel to intervene, to change the status or the circumstances of David with regards to his personal enemies; and destroying the personal enemies of the nation. Nations here can have a number of connotations here. There are many hostile nations against Israel at this time. David many times fought them and needed God's help to defeat them. David called upon the Lord against Goliath and against many other armies. This is an entire psalm used in order to help us...

Nations

1. Nations means that there are a number of tribes involved.
2. The Philistines are just one of the national entities, but they are very prominent ones.
3. They are characterized by their treacherous wickedness. Constant plotting and fights to annihilate God's people. Someone was always trying to do this. They are no different today. These enemies would be present throughout OT Israel. They would have an impact on the nation, sometimes in the worst way. This is a prayer that should be made for every generation of Israel. They would lead Israel into idolatry. This is why Israelites were generally told not to marry those outside of the nation. Unbelievers lead them astray; in this case, to idolatry. The prominent god at this time would be Baal. These problems exist even today in the state of Israel. God will curse those who curse Israel. But they need to understand that this prayer for the nation is for all time; and it stands for every client nation. God continues to preserve His Own people. We know from prophecy and God will come to the rescue of the people of Israel who are about to be annihilated.

4. V. 5 is the request of a soldier-king. He is calling for some fire from heaven.

The Lord bears two titles, indicating that He is All powerful, Almighty. David felt the necessity to call upon God at this time. This was to include David's personal enemies as well. Fascinating psalm due to the scope of the subject.

God is the God of justice. He sees all and He knows all; and He acts always to further His plan. We are His people and the wicked, treacherous enemies will be defeated. This chapter, rightly so, is directed against the gangsters outside the house. It is normal for David to concentrate on them as the immediate enemy of his person. They would murder David as soon as he exits his house.

Wherever David was sitting and writing this psalm; thinking about the many days when God rescued him. The many times that God preserved David's life as the king. How many times did God deliver David? David is looking back on trouble; he is looking back on problems.

We will remain on this earth to fulfill God's plan. And when it is over, it is over. That is the end-of-life rationale, we might call it. There is a terminal point. But until that time, God has a wonderful plan for us. We have the knowledge that, once it is over, and we will see those who preceded us into heaven. What a wonderful idea that is. The Lord protects and delivers, until He doesn't; and to live is Christ and to die is gain.

David continues his plea in v. 5. Do not be gracious to any...

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

David is not saying to withhold grace from the unbelieving enemies of Israel. David cannot withhold saving grace for those who want to be a part of God's plan. Until an unbeliever dies, salvation is available to him. The grace of God has provided these things of salvation to us and he will not take them away. The meaning here has great pertinence to us today. Enemies of client nation Israel and client nation USA. So we have to fully understand what God is saying here.

The graciousness of God to preserve us one more day and even one more year. Bobby thinks of what God does for him every day.

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

David prays in v. 5 about the enemies who surround Israel and are threatening Israel. Then David says something like, "Do not be gracious." This is not a reference to salvation. The grace of God is extended towards all.

Not Being Gracious

1. Gracious is the Qal imperfect of chanan; but also there is a negative particle.
2. Chan means to show favor, to show grace, to be merciful, to be considering.
3. It should be translated with the negative particle as do not be merciful; do not spare.
  - a. These are the enemies of David who would destroy him.
  - b. This is an imprecatory prayer; the heart of David's call for rescue. To punish or even destroy an enemy.
  - c. He requests for no mercy. He wants God to utterly defeat the enemy.
  - d. So this is a plea by David to insure the destruction of these enemies. That is what this grace means. This should not be ignored by the bleeding heart Christians and those who want to get along with our enemies.

Marxists filled with evil. They are anti-the rule of law. They are anarchists. Anti divine establishment types. The wokes, the cancel culture, who are dedicated to suppressing freedom of speech and the freedom of religion. They are the only ones who get to speak freely.

How do we pray about such enemies?

Limitations on the Believer Today in Prayer

1. We are a client nation in a dire situation; and it is a type of situation that David and Israel are in. We are in the Church Age, and that makes a difference. There are progressions of God's revelation. We must be aware of this. We are not authorized imprecatory prayers in our dispensation? David made many of these.
2. We are not authorized to call for the destruction of individual persons as did David. We cannot even ask the Lord to punish them a little bit. We cannot call for a little divine vengeance.
3. We are mandated in this dispensation to pray for those who spitefully use us. For those who seek to do us harm and hurt, whether they are believers or unbelievers. Luke 6:28, which we studied at length. Bobby has found this tempting to pray. There are a few people we might like to see removed from the scene. We are to interact from a position of impersonal love. This is gained in our spiritual advance. This is our enemy who essentially wants to harm us. The mature believer always places such matters in the Lord's hands in this dispensation, we have the resources to do that. Leave room for the justice of God. That is a mandate. David certainly did that. He did ask for their destruction.

Prayers from Believers in the Church Age

1. We are authorized to pray in certain ways in the Church Age. We are authorized to pray for national leaders. Prayer meetings on Wednesday night; and their prayers are right down the line to pray for the leaders of the United States; for those in positions of authority, right down to the local levels. This includes those you do not necessarily like. Pray that they get some knowledge of divine establishment. That the Lord leads them in that direction.
2. We can also pray for believers to wake up to Bible doctrine. There are so many believers who are entirely ignorant of what is correct for believers to understand. They pay lip service to Christianity and go off in oddball directions.
3. Pray for believers to increase the size of the pivot.
4. Pray for the rescue of the client nation during adverse circumstances. A prayer for deliverance from that is entirely in order. What do we ask for is not to destroy those people. Pray that God will work circumstances that our national leaders understand the true state of things; and work circumstances for us to be victorious over our enemies. We may not even have nothing to do with the defeat of our enemies. God gave Israel grace many times in this regard.
5. Imprecatory prayers are valid for the Old Testament dispensation; but not for us today. Isaiah and Jeremiah lowered the boom on Israel's enemies.
6. Therefore, personal Imprecatory prayers today are not answered by God.

What does God's rescue look like? Should it be that the nation is entirely evangelized or heading toward spiritual maturity? Would it be an elimination of degeneracy. History shows us that nations often do not come back from that sort of degeneracy. Is there any hope at all? Can we expect to be delivered under these circumstances.

The Roman empire in the 1st century was one truly degenerate place; but it became a client nation to God when a few believers began to catch on and grow spiritually. Was there still degeneracy? You bet there was. That is the concept of the pivot. Who knows where our country is going? The country may not change but we can do things as believers.

There may be punishment from time to time. Pray for doctrinal churches rather than rock churches, entertainment churches. Nothing like a good music concert, but that is not Christian growth. If you are overjoyed with Christian music because it reminds you of certain doctrines that you already know.

This plea by David is entirely valid. There are enemies who would destroy Israel, who would overrun Israel; who would annihilate Israel; and they would lead Israel into idolatry. Baal worship in those days was religious tyranny; and Islam is what is happening today. Without God involved, Islam would have a free reign over most nations?

It is a valid prayer for protection and to overthrow the outside threat of deliberate nations who would subjugate us. To remove them to protect us. To this point, we remain a client nation. The light may be more dim. We still have the qualifications for a client nation.

Even under the fifth cycle of discipline, individuals can be preserved. The bottom line is, no one is coming who can destroy us as believers in Jesus Christ. Remember that when we begin to fear what is happening all around us.

Things may be terrible; but how about how great things are? We are the solution; not some political activist thing. God honors our attendance and spiritual growth. Bobby is confident that God can work, even with the worst leadership that the United States has ever seen? Your emails won't help; but your advance to spiritual maturity will.

Pray for other believers and for pastor-teachers; and pray for ourselves as well.

We are in very similar circumstances to David in the United States today. Israel was not always delivered from trouble when they were under divine discipline. God still took care of His people even during callas attacks on our nation.

Will we become like Israel under the fifth cycle of discipline? Or will we be delivered. We have the example of what God will do in either situation. The destruction of the northern kingdom of Israel. Destruction, captivity and restoration of Judah.

We should look at instances of Israel's history and compare it to our own life today.

Bobby is thinking of the book of Jeremiah. What a parallel to our life today? Conditions existed in Jeremiah's day as we find in our nation today. National degeneration and immorality in all of that. Those circumstances characterize both Jeremiah's generation and ours as well. Jeremiah presents the principles; which is similar to what David is facing.

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

Lesson #0302                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT    10/28/2021 Wednesday

Bobby has had a number of questions, apparently about Imprecatory prayer. How does this prayer relate to Church Age believers for our nation? We have many who have prayed for the destruction of certain people. How do our prayers jive with Sunday morning. What about enemy nations? We can certainly pray for their defeat in war. Luke 6:28 should be taken into account. We do not pray for God to strike down those who are our enemies.

What should we pray regarding our nation and the leaders. Obviously, we need to prayer prayers that can reasonably expect to have it answered.

A Prayer for a Nation; which is just a guideline. Bobby prayed this Nov. 9, 2016. We can use this for our own prayer. It is on the Berachah website. Lesson #300 + an attachment there. This prayer should answer some of our questions.

And we now go back to David's Imprecatory prayer. We do and can pray for protection; and we can pray for the defeat of our enemies in war. No personal Imprecatory prayers should be offered in the Church Age.

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

Certainly, this would be an odd prayer to pray, but God's policy is a policy of grace. David has been the recipient of grace on multiple occasions; and he certainly understands grace. The context of v. 5 is not about the removal of grace from the human race. God's grace is always extended to us, offering salvation to many and all believers. God's grace to a fallen human race is unquestionable. God's justice also comes into play against evil and treachery, which is what David is referring to.

We can pray against Marxism, we can pray against riots in the streets, we can pray for law and order. Israel, as a client nation, under God's covenant with Abraham, which no other client nation has ever received. Israel had a covenant with God, reiterated with David as well. Not only was this nation blessed by the Lord, but the son of David would rule over Israel. So Israel must be protected throughout human history. Israel would be ultimately preserved. But we cannot say this about any other nation in human history. Israel still has a future in God's plan. So David is free to make this request in that knowledge. He prays for the punishment of national enemies. David understands Israel's position in the plan of God. David is legitimately requesting the God intercede and defeat this immediate enemies. This is why that prayer is so critical when Israel looked at this prayer long past the period of David. David asked God not to not show mercy under these circumstances. This is a very legitimate prayer in the Age of Israel; but not for the Church Age. That is God's promise in relation to Israel. There are times when God will discipline Israel when she rejects Him. Israel is not a client nation right now. The Jews are still alive; there is still a nation Israel; and they will be regathered. This is a prayer for the Old Testament dispensation of Israel. It is a valid Imprecatory prayer for all time for Israel.

What is our relationship to God as client nation USA. What does God do for us as a client nation. He is our protector personally and he protects us nationally as well. There are times when the client nation.

We are going to look at Jeremiah. What might happen in God's plan?

Some historical background. In the time of Jeremiah, because of a revolt against divine authority, the nation Israel is divided into the northern and southern kingdoms. Judah and Benjamin is in the south; the other 10 tribes are in the north. The north was destroyed by Assyria already.

Jeremiah was the prophet to the southern kingdom, and the southern kingdom was falling into the same pattern was occurred with the northern kingdom. If Judah continued like its sister to the north, it would also suffer the same fate.

No nation will be delivered apart from a pivot of mature believers. We have had that for 2 centuries now. Does Israel still have a pivot?

Jeremiah 12:10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard; they have trampled down my portion; they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

In the KJV, this reads pastors. This can be translated shepherds. It can also mean a different kind of ruler. How ruined is this vineyard. A pleasant field has been made desolate.

Utter desolation; a wasteland. This was a vineyard that was once beautiful. Just cactus and dust. The beautiful vineyard and the desolate place; these are metaphors.

Jeremiah 12:11 They have made it a desolation; desolate, it mourns to me. The whole land is made desolate, but no man lays it to heart.

The whole land has been made desolate. Devastated is even a better translation.

The southern kingdom rejuvenated itself. Now the trampled field describes the downfall of Judah.

Some of the Problems in Israel

1. Shepherds means leaders, rulers, priests. Israel had spiritual leaders in that era. That is an interesting point in the downfall of a nation.
2. Many shepherds have a group contributing to the downfall of a nation.
3. It may refer to secular leaders, rulers, military leadership who have a great part to play in any national downfall. They are not the base cause of the downfall.
4. There is an even more important issue in this context and for us. The spiritual side of the downfall.
- 5.
6. This would be many pastors who have been unfaithful in their teaching of the Word of God.
7. They have embraced forms of humanism or various kinds of activism.

This was understood by Joseph Stalin, who later became the absolute dictator or ruler of Russia and later called the Soviet Union. He declared that the United States could be destroyed without firing a shot. Jer. 12:10 he addressed the neutralization of Christianity in any form and the removal of those who teach Bible doctrine. Almost 100 years later, his Marxist musings have been realized. Many pastors have been compromised by Marxist thinking. The neutralization of the Word of God and the destruction of the divine institutions. When those responsible for spiritual truth neglect or reject the truth, they are the apostate shepherds who shepherd in the beginning of the end. This passage relates to us in the same way.

We think the problem is politics; but the underlying problem and the fundamental problem is spiritual. This has clearly happened in churches and in the over lack of spiritual life in our people. We see a massive number of people not interested in spiritual things. Worse, those who would listen to Bible doctrine are no longer interested. The lack of Bible doctrine in churches today is rampant today. People are leaving the doctrinal churches today. For what? The lazy believers who are undisciplined in their intake of Bible doctrine. Hit and miss. That is a retreat from the spiritual life. There are those who are lazy even in Berachah Church. Some who do not like the discipline or the effort to be in church. They prefer being at home. That too is a part of the problem. It is important for like-minded believers to have fellowship within the church; to not be all alone and not be disciplined in their intake of the Word of God. There are many problems in the spiritual life of this nation. People who really do not care about doctrine. Those who want to be entertained. Have a band; and the pastor will have many people in front and he will think, that they are doing great work. The teach of Bible doctrine must go on. A missionary noticed how small doctrinal churches are. Many people are aging and they are no longer there. There is no one replacing them. No one of the younger generation who is interested. We fall prey to Marxism and socialism. The obvious passages which deal with authority-orientation. These passages are ignored. The passages that deal with the important or marriage and family as well. These are ignored. They are being ignored in the churches.

Why go to church when it is just watered-down humanism. Why aren't there many pathways to God. Some like the idea that they can do anything or think anything. The liberal pastor who teaches these things. They are politically correct and they do not want flack from outside forces. They cater to the society. They thus trample the nation; they trample the beautiful field that was a wonderful place.

The Spiritual Class in Israel

1. There were the prophets and the levitical priesthood. Spiritual leaders of Israel.
2. The prophets were supposed to declare the unwritten word. They were to warn the nation.
3. The priests were responsible for the exegesis and communication of the written word that then existed. The psalms and the Pentateuch then existed.
4. In this particular case, we find the prophets and the priests in the unenviable position of destroying the vineyard, which is Judah. This is a metaphor for the wasteland that Judah had become.
5. The prophets and the priests were the religious leaders. Many of them promoted idolatry. The Pentateuch made it clear what was apostasy.
6. These people were in opposition to Jeremiah. They threatened him. He brought God's Word to Israel and they opposed this.
7. These priests and prophets also disdained the covenant of God that existed for them to keep and to teach. Israel needed to be reminded that they were a client nation who were a part of a covenant with God. They needed to remember who they were.

8. Had they taught the Word, had they reminded Israel of her place in God's plan, it would have restored national prosperity and blessing to Judah. The spiritual class got down in the dirt with idolatry. They forsook God and forsook the client nation.

Jeremiah was commissioned by God to teach the 5th cycle of discipline which was coming to Israel. We know about this thing because we have been warned. Bobby has done his job.

Bobby does not expect the whole nation to change. There probably will not be a massive revival. Bobby has an obligation to continue to our path as the pivot. That makes a difference. The priests and prophets of Israel. Bobby will not be charged with not doing his job. There are still many bright spots in this country. Hopefully, there are enough.

There are some pastors who continue to teach, even if their voices are heard by a small number. It may be enough.

What does God do to honor a pivot? God works circumstances even through evil people. He honors a nation with a pivot. We have some leaders who are indescribable.

Many commentators can outline the problems; but they do not understand the solution. Pray that more do. Pray that the pivot expands. The apostasy reached its peak.

Zedekiah 597–586 the last king of Judah before its devastation. Nebuchadnezzar would come and level the country and take the people into slavery.

There was the Egyptian party and they wanted to band with Egypt. Isa. 31:1 Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help; who rely upon chariots and horsemen.

We cannot even put our trust in the military. Those who seek the Lord; those who listen; those who take in the Word. That is what the prophets and priests of Israel suggested. They were depending upon the strength of military might instead of the power of the Lord. The Lord will deliver them; not Egypt. Jeremiah 17:5 Cursed is the man who trusts in man and make man his arm.

We have the Egyptian party in this country. There are those who would like to change this country into a socialist nation; and they have many allies in high places. But they cannot reckon with us. Do not worry about them; they are fodder to the Lord's cannons. We pull the lanyard.

Jeremiah 12:12 Upon all the bare heights in the desert destroyers have come, for the sword of the LORD devours from one end of the land to the other; no flesh has peace.

Jeremiah 12:13 They have sown wheat and have reaped thorns; they have tired themselves out but profit nothing. They shall be ashamed of their harvests because of the fierce anger of the LORD."

Lesson #0302

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

10/29/2021 Thursday

(I am off by one lesson)

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

David is praying for the punishment of the national enemies of Israel. David has no doubt of divine deliverance. He is well-versed in God's covenant and His promises to the nation. He understands that he may face foreign enemies from time to time. David was a man of great wisdom.

The spiritual problem in the nation, when the nation has turned away from the Lord. This became quite apparent. Israel turned away on a number of occasions. God did not see fit to answer this prayer in other times, as He was disciplining the nation for the fifth cycle of discipline.

Jeremiah reveals the cause for a national crisis. There was a deterioration of the spiritual life of the nation. Any time a client nation begins to deteriorate. This began with Israel, then Rome (which went down in the 4th century). Many of these nations were punished and/or destroyed; and their client nation status was ended.

Jeremiah was the great prophet of the southern kingdom of Israel.

Judah was filled with shepherds. Many sheep in Israel. This would be well understood in this time. These shepherds are the spiritual leaders of the nation. They are said to have ruined Israel. This is clearly one of degeneration by these shepherds. They have made Israel a desolate region. It is a terrible condition. This was the fault of the shepherds who led the nation astray.

The Shepherds

1. The prophets and the priests of Judah in Jeremiah's time.
2. They were to guide Israel in the rituals and the study of the Old Testament Scriptures at the time.
3. They ignored their duty and they promoted idolatry, which was the rejection of Y<sup>e</sup>howah; and they got involved in national politics instead.
4. They were major contributors to the national degeneracy. The same is true of pastors in the United States of America. If the pivot of mature believers is the salvation of the nation; and they are not being taught by the shepherds or pastors, the sheep go down.

5. The primary source of discipline that would be administered would be foreign invaders. The Chaldeans under Nebuchadnezzar.

The failures of pastor to teach the Word is the ruin the client nation. Believers cannot metabolize and act in accordance with doctrine that they do not know. Zedekiah was a problem. He reigned until 586 B.C. He was influenced by the Egyptian party; the prophets and the priests. We might call this church and state today. They had abandoned their responsibilities and advised political solutions. They advised Zedekiah to make a treaty with Egypt, to protect the nation from Chaldea. They would depend upon the Egyptians to protect them. Against the overwhelming power of the Chaldean army.

Nebuchadnezzar had been at the gates of Jerusalem in 605 B.C. He made a deal with Zedekiah. "You are in my back door, and I need you to be on my side." This was a good deal for Judah. It would help to protect a client nation. What is the difference? Why did they not just depend upon God? God works in ways that we do not always know. Israel would be allowed to carry on as an autonomous nation; but what the wrong-thinking Israelites did wanted to align with Egypt. They seek man's deliverance and not God's.

Jeremiah was the leader of the Chaldean party; he gave different advice to Zedekiah. He reminded him that he signed the treaty and he urged him to keep that oath. Zedekiah was a weak man and an opportunist; and he had departed in his spiritual life. He had abandoned the Lord and his covenant with God. He listened to the Egyptian party and broke from Chaldea. He began to revolt against Chaldea. Egypt could not defeat Chaldea. Egypt wanted Israel as their ally, because they stood between Egypt and Chaldea. When is Israel not in a dangerous world. Who is their deliverer?

Jeremiah 12:10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard; they have trampled down my portion; they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

Judah Is Made a Desolation

1. Applies to Jews...
2. The vineyard in this case is a metaphor for the southern kingdom.
3. How does the metaphor work here? The product of any vineyard is the grape. It depicts happiness, joy or something pleasant. That is how Judah was portray.
4. Like all national entities under God's plan were designed to have great happiness and blessing from the Lord. The laws of divine establishment meant to follow the signed agreements. Jer. 12 the shepherds have trampled down my field. They have made my pleasant field a desolate wilderness.

The prophets and priests had been ignoring the spiritual leadership that they were supposed to exercise. "My field" indicates that Judah is the Lord's. The Lord wants that client nation to be blessed. But they have rejected the only means by which they could be blessed.

In the days of David, throughout his life, he pointed Israel in the correct direction. He never lost his compass. He made mistakes. He led Israel. He was a king and a spiritual leader. They were to follow this great king and leader. This is why David has such confidence in his prayer. He knows the Lord is his Rock and he knows who he is and what Israel is. He has assurances. David knew that his dynasty would survive. He understood the overall plan of God. He did not know all of the details.

We do not know the overall plan of God for our life either. But we still have a plan in God's economy just as David did. If we have that, why can we not depend upon the deliverer during a time of national crisis. We have the solution. Do not join Zedekiah and the Egyptian party.

How did these Jewish religious leaders destroy Judah? Jeremiah describes exactly how these shepherds overthrew Judah.

Jeremiah 23:1 "Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture!" declares the LORD.

David stood against such apostasy where Zedekiah did not. Zedekiah is part of the problem who would scatter the sheep from the land.

Jeremiah 23:2 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who care for my people: "You have scattered my flock and have driven them away, and you have not attended to them. Behold, I will attend to you for your evil deeds, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah is a prophet speaking for God. These are the words God has given to him to speak. No client nation wants to hear this. God will discipline a client nation.

"I will attend to you later," you may have heard as a child. In the name of the Lord, false doctrine is presented. The result is inevitable national discipline.

Jeremiah 23:3 Then I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and I will bring them back to their fold, and they shall be fruitful and multiply.

Jeremiah 23:4 I will set shepherds over them who will care for them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:5 "Behold, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land.

Jeremiah 23:6 In his days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell securely. And this is the name by which he will be called: 'The LORD is our righteousness.'

What we see happening in our nation is a very sad thing.

Jeremiah 23:9 Concerning the prophets: My heart is broken within me; all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, like a man overcome by wine, because of the LORD and because of his holy words.

Jeremiah and What He Sees

1. The evil activities of the prophets caused Jeremiah to stagger, as if he were drunk. He saw the failings.
2. When he views their actions in the light of God's plan, he trembles for the nation. When you know the Word of God, you can see the deviations from it.
3. It is not just Jeremiah. He reels in trepidation for the people. They are sheep who have been led astray. They have not led the Israelites in the right direction. He trembles for the sheep who have not been scattered.
4. He alludes to God's justice and righteousness. We can know what is happening is justified in our nation. We can see the tenor of the people and we can see the results.
5. The law was designed for the blessing and the prosperity of the nation. It was God's Law. Our laws are good, in that they reflect God's thinking. The Mosaic Law was given by God.

Jeremiah 23:10 For the land is full of adulterers; because of the curse the land mourns, and the pastures of the wilderness are dried up. Their course is evil, and their might is not right.

Similar prophecy to Hosea. The pastures of the wilderness of dried up. That metaphorical disintegration. Their military is not right; it is in disarray; the people are unprepared. We find parallel circumstances to the United States of America. It is all here. Spiritual degeneration. Evil has become good; and good has become evil. They have ignored and rejected Bible doctrine. The rule of law is replaced by the politicization of justice. Humanistic ideas; imbalanced with social justice. Elected officials do not serve us, they serve themselves. The defunding of police, what sense does that make?

Our military has morphed into a social testing ground for critical race theory and LGBTQ at the expense of combat readiness. It is a seizure of internal power than to provide national defense.

The clergy do not understand or teach military victory. They have sold out to religious inclusiveness.

Jeremiah understood that God must discipline a client nation which is out of line. To whom much is given, much is expected. Jeremiah knew that the plan of God was marching on. It had to happen. The fifth cycle had to happen to these people. What happens to our client nation must happen. God cannot simply allow the people to act like they are. Believers need to understand what their duties are.

What would change if Roe v. Wade ended? Nothing. By way of a client nation, nothing would change, not one thing. Realize where we are and what the solution is.

God's plan for us is not over, even if our client nation is over. We can do nothing about this country except to pray and to grow spiritually. Do not be discouraged or get upset, when you see the evil and false and bad decisions. You realize that there is no spiritual life in so many churches. What has to happen, must happen. It may not but what you want to see happen, but evil must be stopped. It cannot go rampant.

Lesson #0304

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/31/2021 1Sunday

We are celebrating the great celebration that we can, the spiritual life. Bobby has no idea what kids get out of it. It is a holiday which has caught on.

In client nations, up until the Church Age, and there have been many client nations in the history of the world. It began with Israel as the first. Every nation has its ups and downs. This is where leadership and a national spiritual life can go hand in hand. When the spiritual life deteriorates, so does the leadership. Our decline appears to be true of our own nation.

We are mandated to pray and to grow spiritually. These are things which always benefit a client nation. Bobby provided a template for this. Lesson #300. Bobby got a note from South Africa, when a missionary downloaded it; and it was distributed to many pastors. They decided to utilize this prayer for their own nation.

Our prayers, unlike David's prayer in Psalm 59, he is praying an Imprecatory prayer for the destruction of national enemies. Our prayer is not to pray against our personal enemies. A question arises. When is that prayer answered; when is it effective? Will our nation be preserved? Will that prayer be effective is always a question. We have seen the positive side by David in Old Testament Israel.

In the Age of Israel, there was only one client nation, Israel. Throughout its history, Israel was a client nation. There was a connection between the spiritual leadership and the kings of Israel. Often the political leaders had a spiritual impact. Israel was, at that time, a union of church and state (worship of Y<sup>e</sup>howah and state). Client nations of the Church Age are not like that. Client nations of the Church Age are dependent upon the church. The client nation is dependent upon the pivot of mature believers, even if the national leadership is terrible.

Rome is an example of this. They had terrible leadership; yet Bible doctrine was taught in churches all over the land; and the gospel was spread far and wide.

David in his day was a part of the client nation. When he prayed for the defeat of another nation, he prayed as spiritual leader.

David's Confidence

1. David had an unerring confidence in the Lord.
2. David...
3. God's direct covenant to him. Your house and your throne will be established before Me forever. This was a part of the Davidic covenant. Jesus was in the line of David. David's kingdom is established forever and his kingdom will move on into the Lord.
4. David's relationship to the Lord is solid and his spiritual life is unshakeable. That is one of the characteristics of David. He made mistakes. He committed some terrible sins. Yet, he always recovered. Against You and You only have I sinned. Then he moved on.
5. Faith rest is applied in his soul, as he prayed for the future of his nation. He put the future in the hands of the Lord. He put it in God's hands and left it there. Relax and enjoy the ride; see what happens and see how God delivers us. Praying for God to wipe out Congress is tempting, but not a valid prayer. Effective praying for the nation. Prayer and the mature spiritual life.
6. David understood his connection with the client nation and that God would punish the evil nations which would oppose Israel. God takes care of His people. Regardless of the horrors which are around you.

There are times when client nations ignore or reject the Lord. This was true of Israel in its history. A client nation which departed from the Lord. It is the spiritual problem which is in a nation. It brings success to the attack of foreign enemies. It is a spiritual problem. This happened to the northern kingdom of Israel. They entirely turned away from the Lord and the Assyrian empire destroyed them.

In 586 B.C. there was destruction. But prior to this, Jeremiah was the great prophet of God who spoke everywhere. He revealed to Israel the source of their declines.

Jeremiah 12:10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard; they have trampled down my portion; they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

The economy was very dependent upon the sheep economy. This is analogous to the spiritual leaders of Israel; and the same spiritual leaders have destroyed client nation USA.

Jeremiah describes this situation in Jeremiah 23.

Jeremiah 23:1 "Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture!" declares the LORD.

The Lord's pasture is the southern kingdom; and the spiritual leadership is the problem.

Jeremiah 23:2 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who care for my people: "You have scattered my flock and have driven them away, and you have not attended to them. Behold, I will attend to you for your evil deeds, declares the LORD.

We should not be surprised that our nation fits this description. Our preservation as a nation and the Lord's mercy to us. It is only His mercy that can preserve us. Our spiritual lives and our prayers count. Jeremiah describes this situation.

A client nation on the wain is so recognizable.

Jeremiah 23:11–12 "Both prophet and priest are ungodly; even in my house I have found their evil, declares the LORD. Therefore their way shall be to them like slippery paths in the darkness, into which they shall be driven and fall, for I will bring disaster upon them in the year of their punishment, declares the LORD.

The Lord's house is the Temple. They lead the Lord, but the prophets and priests are polluted. Pastors uninterested in teaching the Word. What they taught had nothing to do with the God of Israel.

It began in 605 B.C. when aristocrats like Daniel were taken as hostages. Zedekiah did not listen or follow the treaty which he had made.

This warning could not be any clearer. The prophets and the priests are the problem. They are not teaching doctrine in the places of worship. The spiritual life goes up, and the nation goes up. It is all dependent upon those in spiritual maturity.

The Chaldeans under Nebuchadnezzar conquered Jerusalem in 586 B.C. He knocked down the walls, killed many people and hauled off many as slaves to Babylon. So the beautiful Jerusalem was desolate.

Jeremiah 23:13 In the prophets of Samaria I saw an unsavory thing: they prophesied by Baal and led my people Israel astray.

The idolatry of the period, the prophets of Samaria acted by Baal. Leaders of apostasy; leaders of false religion, who affected the entire nation for evil. This pattern had occurred before in the northern kingdom. Judah should have remembered. But they did not. That is the power of false doctrine and the power of the cosmic system. Why don't they get it? Don't they see the destructive nature of their lifestyle? They do not. The humanist sees bright lights and clarity. They see a bright future, as long as they get their way.

They should have learned the wisdom of David in his psalms, but they did not. The northern kingdom was destroyed and they had false prophets. The same things happened in Judah for the same reasons. It has already happened.

Do we know what has happened in our history? We change our history books so that we do not see the truth. They should have recognized their own history. Their spiritual life was gone.

Jeremiah 23:14 But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery and walk in lies; they strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that no one turns from his evil; all of them have become like Sodom to me, and its inhabitants like Gomorrah."

This is national adultery. This is the moral degeneration of a nation and its spiritual leaders. Baal was worshiped as the extreme fertility god. They had to be worshipped in a specific way. Israel followed these practices in the Baal sanctuaries, in the streets of Jerusalem, and on the rooftops. They burned incense to Baal. Sometimes the priest would slash themselves with knives. And even people were sacrificed. Jeremiah 19:5 These are the horrible things that. There was overwhelming support from the pastors for these evil worship.

Today, Scripture is discredited. Humanism has infiltrated our churches. We should not be subject to cultural imperatives. We worship for sex, power, lawlessness and chaos, curbing freedoms in the nation. The religion of power. No different from Baal worship in Judah.

Lesson #0305

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/31/2021 2Sunday

It is encouraging for Bobby to see the unseen congregation. Also missionaries who go about and they go around to various churches. One missionary who went to many of these churches. There are small congregations and mostly gray hair types. Young people are attracted to entertainment, programs, and other things which have nothing to do with Bible doctrine.

Bobby does see some younger people in these conferences. The younger people are the future for our nation and the church in America. No spiritual life in Israel. They were involved in Baal worship; the people were inundated with idolatry. In the whole scope of things, there are not many pastors teaching Bible doctrine. Many churches teach no doctrine. Jeremiah is one voice who spoke the truth. There were other prophets at other times who spoke the truth. In some cases, they recovered; and in some cases, the fifth cycle of discipline. As long as Bible doctrine is being taught, there is hope for a nation. Those who respond are a part of the solution. Jeremiah's ministry was one of hellfire and damnation. He was an example of telling it like it is.

People say, he is talking about politics too much. There are times when pastors should speak about the things which are a problem. Jeremiah was doing that. "Here is what is wrong and this is what you need."

Jeremiah 23:14 But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery and walk in lies; they strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that no one turns from his evil; all of them have become like Sodom to me, and its inhabitants like Gomorrah."

Adultery was leaving the Lord for false doctrines and idolatry. These are the spiritual leaders who are leading them into destruction; and Jeremiah compares them to Sodom and Gomorrah. Sodom was known for its homosexual activity. The men in Sodom wanted to have sex with the angels. Homosexuality is wrong and a sign of great degeneracy. This heralded inevitable destruction. The people need to wake up because they all understood what was happening to Sodom.

There are churches in America who support the degeneracy of the LGBTQ principles. They oppose the Biblical definition of marriage. Anyone who deviates from this political doctrine or objects to it is immediately attacked. That is the tactic of the suppression of divine institutions. It was no different then. This is destructive to a nation. Some form of destruction, whether economic or military. It may be partial destruction. God does take care of His people, no matter what happens to the nation. We don't know what will happen. Jeremiah was told to get out of Israel and move to Egypt. No matter what destruction occurs all around us. We are at a crossroads in this same circumstance. Degeneracy has become good. We have passed laws to make degeneracy evil. Even if everything that we believe and stand for is suppressed. The persecution of the persecution in Rome exposed the evil of Rome. God even uses our persecution. That can be a part of the rejuvenation and regeneration of United States.

Jeremiah 12:10 it takes many shepherds to destroy a nation. The shepherd is the prophet Jeremiah. Only one shepherd; or a few make a difference. A shepherd of the truth. Not a falsehood. If the people would have listened to him, they would have thrived. No prophet was necessary to interpret the results.

Deuteronomy and Leviticus describe the incremental discipline. National catastrophe. So many chance of spiritual recovery. We still have chance to do it. As things get worse, it is a great opportunity to enjoy the recovery.

Bobby listens to some political commentary; and one channel seems to pinpoint the problem, but they are always looking at the political solution. Nothing wrong with voting and good candidates; but do not put your hope in such people and movements. The solution is all about the spiritual.

In the United States, we are in the spiritual conflict up to our necks. Those who think straight may be led and realize where the solution is. The grace of God always prevails and gives us another chance. In a time of national crisis, the Chaldean invasion under Nebuchadnezzar rolled over nation Israel and destroyed it. They dearly paid for the deafness and degeneracy. Because of God's promise to Israel, many of the Jews survived. The nation was restore under a decree from Cyrus. This is the remnant of Israel, those who survived. What did God provide for them? Deliverance. On several instances, there was a deliverance for the people in exile.

Daniel and Esther are illustrations of God looking out for His people. God's promise to them, in spite of incredible devastation and terrible punishment. God still looked out for His Own. Don't forget Ezra, a priest, that God brought back into the land. Pastors, shepherds; that is what saves a nation. In the time of David, under his leadership, spiritual, and as a king. He was a spiritual leader and his approach to worship Y<sup>e</sup>howah was an example.

When there were other kings who worshipped Baal and other false gods. David's leadership affected the entire nation of Israel for the good.

The greatest kingdom that Israel will ever see until the Millennium. That is what a spiritual life can mean to a client nation. Now. We know our condition. Do not lose hope or confidence in the Lord. Don't look around and say, "What happened to our God?" God delivers His people; but God does not deliver degeneracy. What the end result will look like? Who knows.

Hezekiah lived during a similar national crisis. Same as the time of Zedekiah. Hezekiah was also the king of Judah, the southern kingdom, his leadership was marked by a significant heightened leadership in Judah's history. Two of the worst kings on both sides of him. Manasseh and someone else. Hezekiah in that day is ranked high along with David and Josiah. A spiritually mature and doctrinally oriented. God raised up another voice in that era: Isaiah. Hezekiah had some problems early on. He needed to hear the voice of Isaiah. Zedekiah did not listen, but Hezekiah did. The abandonment of the apostasy. A renewal of the spiritual life.

The days of Elijah before 721 B.C. Baal worship was all over under king and queen, Jezebel and Ahab. God honored the faithfulness and the ministry of Elijah. 400 prophets of Baal were wiped out. The doctrine from one man averted catastrophe.

In order for the desolation process to be reverse, there must be a change in the soul.

Jeremiah 12:11b The whole land is made desolate, but no man lays it to heart.

More literally, no man established Bible doctrine in his heart. The land and the people are desolate. The prophets and the priests are apostate. They are false and apostate. What is established in the heart is the content of the soul. What must be established in the heart to save the nation and to save the people? How do you do this is, renovate your mental attitude and your heart. You must have divine viewpoint in your soul. You must have something on your heart. You must establish this in your heart, so that the land is not desolate. Now we have the prophets and priests who are apostate; then it goes to the individuals who do not have Bible doctrine in their souls; they have no wisdom. When Bible doctrine is established in the souls of believers. What is critical, this heart? The right lobe of the soul. This is all about doctrine being established in the soul.

We will go into the establishment of Bible doctrine in the soul. What are the results that will have an impact. What will it look like? What will the results be? What should be expect? What does it take to grow spiritually? Now comes the solution, the absolute solution, the individual solution.

Lesson #0306

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/3/2021 Wednesday

The election may be an indicator of answered prayer. But before getting too enthused, recognize that those who put their trust in man are cursed. We do not depend upon man or politicians or even upon an electorate. If we lose sight of this, we can get into trouble spiritually. It is all still in God's hands. We continue to pray for our nation and to grow spiritually.

Bobby, while studying, what is it that destroys a client nation to God and the people of that nation? We understand this by the history of the southern kingdom and what happened to Judah over a period of time. They faced the fifth cycle of discipline for desertion of the Lord. However, the Lord does protect His people.

What brings this fifth cycle on any client nation. A lack of a pivot of mature believers is an overwhelming problem. It is clear from Scripture that this is a problem. Hosea 6:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. This is what happens. It is apostasy in the land. It is a failing pivot. My people refers to believers. You have rejected knowledge so I have rejected you from being My priests. Since you have forgotten the Law of your God, I will forget your children.

Israel fell for this very reason. The northern kingdom disappeared from the history of the client nation. Only the southern kingdom was spared. Jeremiah the prophet became the voice for God. He was appointed to be that for the southern kingdom of Judah. The same message. Hosea is a great message of prophecy. Hosea was told to marry a prostitute. He married a woman named Gomer; a perfect illustration. What a fantastic book of the love of God for His people. Bobby almost taught this book a few years back. But that nation was entirely apostate.

Jeremiah and Hosea 12:10 are very closely related. Many shepherds who have led the people away from God and into apostasy. They have made my pleasant field a desert-wilderness. It has been made a desolation, desolate, it mourns before Me. The whole land has been made desolate.

Here Jeremiah is speaking to the southern kingdom and the message is the same. Because no man lays it to heart. That is the reason for a client nation experiencing discipline and destruction. Jeremiah 23:14. Cities which were utterly destroyed because of it. Conversely, if man does lay it to heart, that is the underlying reason for restoration.

What Is Deliverance or Destruction?

1. Hosea tells us that destruction is related to a lack of knowledge in the mind.
2. Jer. 12:2 the Lord is far from their right lobe.
3. The heart is connected with the mind; it represents the mind. The heart is how these people think.
4. They are thinking and acting in a way that makes their nation desolate.
5. This can only mean that they have forsaken God in their knowledge of and actions towards Him. They did not have knowledge in their minds.
6. To be delivered, they must return to the Word of God.

Psalm 27:8 You have said, "Seek my face." My heart says to you, "Your face, LORD, do I seek." That is what the Lord would seek. The knowledge, the heart, the mind.

Psalm 40:8 I delight to do your will, O my God; your law is within my heart."

Thinking the law; thinking doctrine. That is the Lord's will.

Psalm 119:11 I have stored up your word in my heart, that I might not sin against you.

The Word of God in the mind of David. This is what delivers us personally and nationally. This keeps us in doctrine and divine establishment. How do you transform your thinking to fit this mold? Bible doctrine circulating as divine viewpoint in your soul. This is so that the land will not be desolate. So that the client nation will survive. So that our client nation will survive. This takes a number of mature believers thinking Bible doctrine and applying divine viewpoint to their lives. That is what it means to lay it to heart.

We need to stop what we are doing and examine the heart in detail, where deliverance occurs. This is directed to all of us as believers.

The Heart

1. The heart is what we call the right lobe of the soul. That is illustrative terminology. Operation Z. The pastor-teacher teaches the Word of God and it is taught to the human spirit. As believers in Jesus Christ, we have a regenerated human spirit. This is where we understand doctrine. We understand doctrine in relation to our spiritual life. The unbeliever can intellectually understand. The information enters into the left lobe, and when we believe it, this ἐπίγνωσις is transferred to the heart.
2. The spiritual life is a system of thinking that originates in the right lobe of the heart. It is a system of teaching and thinking. We are being taught and we make it our thought process.

Why Is Heart Used Here?

1. This is a spiritual analogy chosen by God. Related to knowledge, the heart is where Bible doctrine resides for our application. That is where it resides.
2. Just as the physical heart circulates blood throughout the body, so the spiritual heart the right lobe of the soul, pumps Bible doctrine through the soul, to all of its apertures.
3. That is what establishes Bible doctrine in the soul so that our nation is not desolate; so that we are not lacking knowledge.
4. The spiritual heart, the right lobe, is where doctrine flows in a stream of consciousness; and that is where thinking is renovated. The stream of consciousness is an illustration, which helps to describe what doctrine does in our soul. This is a mechanic of the spiritual life. It does not exactly happen in this way but it does happen in this way.

5. The stream of consciousness is another illustrative analogy about how Bible doctrine is learned and applied as wisdom. The psalms and proverbs and wisdom being applied for us. These books make application for us.
6. Metabolized doctrine flows in and circulates through this stream of consciousness. The whole analogy is the heart is pumping doctrine through the stream of consciousness. The beginning of this is ἐπίγνωσις which is the end of Operation Z.
7. The renovated soul comes from metabolized doctrine circulating in the stream of consciousness.
8. The stream of consciousness is the place for metabolized doctrine to be applied as wisdom. Now in this illustration does doctrine work, as it flows or is represented by the stream of consciousness. That doctrine needs to circulate in order to come out as wisdom. This is how we go from ἐπίγνωσις doctrine to application of wisdom. We do not sit on our hands. It must become wisdom for us so that we can become discerning based upon divine viewpoint. This is because we have knowledge of Him. We can be a blessing to our nation. That is the pivot.

Bobby has a diagram of Operation Z. ἐπίγνωσις is the product of what takes place in the soul. So we have the stream of consciousness.

This circulation represents the renovated mind. This needs to be a lot of other believers. That is the system.

After doctrine is metabolized, it flows through 7 compartments which make up the stream of consciousness. When that metabolized doctrine flows to the final compartment, we have a mature believer.

The Stream of Consciousness and the Parallel Spiritual Growth

the stream of consciousness is happening to us right now if we are metabolizing doctrine. If we have a mind and take in Bible doctrine, it is happening. The end product is using and applying wisdom.

1. Through the flow of doctrine in these compartments, we can comprehend and use spiritual knowledge. That is the problem with client nations.
2. Through the flow of doctrine, we grow and execute the entire scope of the plan of God for our lives. This is how you do it. You have to do things, don't you? But you need wisdom in order to apply Bible doctrine.
3. Through the stream of consciousness we are also able to solve problems; and there is a connection between doctrine in the soul and problem solving. The problem solving device are continually developed as the doctrine moves through.
4. The stream of consciousness is a description of how Bible doctrine works for us. We are told that many times. How does it work for us for living the spiritual life?
5. When doctrine flows through the stream of consciousness, it is ready to be utilized to the maximum as the foundation for renovated thinking; for building a pivot of mature believers, which benefits the client nation's recovery.

The seven compartments

The Frame of Reference

1. When Bible doctrine is first understood and believed, ἐπίγνωσις residing in the right lobe of the soul, it goes immediately to the frame of reference. When we believe it, it becomes ἐπίγνωσις doctrine. It goes straight to the frame of reference.
2. The precepts of metabolized doctrine accumulate; the accumulate gradually in increments.
3. Truth builds upon truth, one doctrine upon another. The more you hear; the more you build, the more that you store.
4. These doctrines are like a piece of a puzzle, just as we place a piece of a puzzle into the puzzle. This forms the thought process of the spiritual life. This is related to everything that you have learned.
5. Therefore, this frame of reference is the area of retention of metabolized doctrine. It might be seen as the software of the soul; we can pull it up when we need it. It can separate into categories of doctrines and correlates them with previously metabolized doctrine and stored. It is all circulated here and one builds upon another. Pretty soon, you have a pretty good frame of reference for doctrine.

The Second Compartment Is the Memory Center

Doctrine is flowing through these at the same time.

1. The center for the recall of doctrine that is already stored in the frame of reference. This is where you recall it when you need it.
2. Recall is the first step of the application of divine viewpoint to the circumstances of life. From the frame of reference you have doctrine flowing here. The Holy Spirit is involved in this entire process. There is no process if you have quenched the Holy Spirit. The doctrines in your frame of reference goes through the memory center and that is where you can recall it.
3. Through the mentor ship of God the Holy Spirit, pertinent doctrines are summoned from the memory center at the time that the doctrine can be used. It supplies knowledge for spiritual growth and the faith rest drill. The worship of God and the doctrines which we recall. Communion is a memorial to God, and ot have a memorial, you must have a memory.
4. The memory center connects frame of reference to all of the other compartments; they are intimately linked.
5. The memory center is an index to the rate of learning Bible doctrine. If you are hit and miss, the rate of learning is quite slow. It is a trickle. If you are consistent, then your rate of learning increases.
6. The principle is, the rate of learning must always exceed the rate of forgetting. Our memories are fickle, to say the least. Memory is important because the rate of learning must exceed the rate of forgetting. We can forget what we have learned very easily. This speaks to the necessity in order for this to operate correctly.

7. Therefore, the importance of inculcation and repetition of Bible doctrine. Bob used to tell us, repetition. This is Bob's illustration. This is to illustrate just how important Bible doctrine is. Not just for ourselves but also for the client nation as well. We are the key to the client nation. God honors His wisdom being applied.

Vocabulary Storage

1. Vocabulary is the tool for thought and remembering. Bobby hated the vocabulary that he had to learn every day. He hated that. Today, he does not hate it. It is a great exercise and something which we need in our souls. Vocabulary is the tool for thought.
2. The spiritual life is a system of thinking divine viewpoint. No one can think without words to form ideas and thoughts. One word by itself does not form an idea. Bobby puts words together for us to learn.
3. It is the accumulation and conceptualizing words by which we think. We cannot think apart from words. He pull up words in our own minds. We conceptualize ideas from these words. Concepts and real ideas take a vocabulary, take a group of words which have meaning, to communicate precisely. This requires precise definitions. Words can be misunderstood. Understand what you are saying before you say it. Make a presentation in business without a vocabulary. You need words and concepts.
4. For the believer, this vocabulary storage can formulate doctrines in the stream of consciousness by developing a doctrinal vocabulary. That is how we form doctrines in our souls. That is Bobby's job, so teach it so that we can understand it.
5. Without forming a vocabulary, thinking Bible doctrine is impossible.

Now we come into some advanced departments. Tomorrow night.

Lesson #0307

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11//2021 Thursday

Bob used the term epistemology, which confused Bobby and others. A prof at his seminary used that term, which meant, how we know, what we know. Bob used epistemological rehabilitation. He could this term and he build and entire doctrine of how what know what we know of Bible doctrine.

We need to know Bible doctrine; that is the life which Jesus has given to us. The great resource that Jesus has given us. It transformed our thinking to conform to the thinking of Jesus Christ. Rom. 12:2

Paul also wrote 2Cor. 2:14 But thanks be to God, who in Christ always leads us in triumphal procession, and through us spreads the fragrance of the knowledge of him everywhere.

This knowledge must be taught in all places. This cannot be assimilated or applied without the mentorship of God the Holy Spirit. When the Holy Spirit fills us, we can grow. We can lose that. Bobby forgot to tell us to rebound.

When He fills us, we can metabolize Bible doctrine. Operation Z. Bible doctrine is taught to our human spirit. We have a body, we have a soul, and a human spirit. Adam lost the human spirit at the fall for all of us. We are able to understand Bible doctrine in the spiritual sense. The Holy Spirit makes this understandable to the left lobe; then we must believe it to put it into the right lobe. That becomes metabolized doctrine.

You may think, as long as I have metabolized doctrine I am good; and that is a starting point.

We are destroying speculations and every lofty thing raised up against the knowledge of God. Cosmic system intellectual accomplishments, human viewpoint thinking. Paul is destroying them. And we are taking every thought captive to the obedience of Christ.

Eph. 4:13–14 ...until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ, so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro by the waves and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by human cunning, by craftiness in deceitful schemes.

We must continue to learn and implant the mind of Christ. We must be of one mind. We are the body of Christ. Doctrine makes us unified in the faith. The objective of this, is to become a mature person. The objective of knowledge is spiritual maturity.

Many believers insist that the spiritual life is emotion; that it is how we feel about God; or an outward display about piety or religiosity or tongues and healing. In emotion, these people lack something very important. They lack a clear understand of God and His Person and of His Mind. Grace is often excluded. They want the externals but without the knowledge. They do not know the sources which God provides. They want to live on rituals without objective substance.

A believer may feel a certain way, but we should appreciate from the standpoint of knowledge. If you get emotional about a person, you need some true facts to respond to. You have an appreciation of what you have; but you must know what you have first. We see the critical nature of Bible doctrine for the spiritual life.

How is this ἐπίγνωσις established in the soul. It moves through 7 compartments through a stream of consciousness. This is a coined phrase to represent what happens in the spiritual life. How it increases and how it impresses the spiritual life. It goes through this stream of consciousness. It flows. The stream is the epistemology. This is how we are rehabilitated through ἐπίγνωσις doctrine.

These words represent what happens in our minds when Bible doctrine enters into the soul. This is where you take Psalm 59:5 and apply it.

The frame of reference, which is the area of retention of Bible doctrine. This is where you hear doctrine and you store it there. It is a warehouse. The more you hear the more that accumulates. The memory center. Repetition keeps this in our minds. The recall of doctrine already stored in the frame of reference. We need to be able to pull it up. Pertinent doctrines are summoned from the memory center for use. In communion, we must remember the doctrine that we have. We must know Who Christ is and what He did for us. That is worship; that is real worship. It all comes from knowledge. What you have taken in by way of Bible doctrine. The memory center links the frame of reference to all of the other compartments.

Vocabulary Storage

1. Vocabulary is the tool of thought and remembering.
2. You cannot think without words. Words communicate to others and to yourself. You think with words. How does a lawyer in court communicate except by words.
3. Building a vocabulary means the communication and conceptualization of words. We had to learn 20 words out of the dictionary. We would get those once a week; and build a vocabulary. The SAT's required a vocabulary to pass it.
4. The believer who builds a vocabulary can place these things into the stream of consciousness with those words.
5. Without building a vocabulary, thinking doctrine is impossible. Hence the importance of a vocabulary. There is a specialized vocabulary necessary for every academic discipline. A new Christian is a baby and he must learn a vocabulary in order to progress. You need to learn Trinity, rebound, dispensations, Hypostatic Union, and epistemology. These doctrines combine for understanding God and the spiritual life. You build a vocabulary.
6. As the dictionary of the soul, the vocabulary storage compartment accumulates groups of technical, theological words. Bobby is breaking this down each compartment in a logical way, so we can understand epistemology. This happens simultaneously. As the dictionary of the soul, you develop groups of technological vocabulary.
7. All the nomenclature of the vocabulary portrays divine thinking.
8. Also learned are Biblical metaphors. You learn even acronyms.
9. Once terms are learned and mastered, they work together with the frame of reference and the memory center to continuously build an inventory of Biblical categories of knowledge.
10. The advance of learning and applying progresses. Your vocabulary had complete ideas which increase. Rebound is a very simple doctrine, but it increases in complexity for understanding. The integrity of God is very complex; divine decrees also complex.

Categorical Storage

1. This is the classification and retention of Bible doctrine according to subject matter.
2. Categorical storage is essential for thoroughly understanding the mechanics of the spiritual life and living it. Without it, you cannot understand the spiritual life. We have to compile all these doctrines in our souls. So everything becomes more and more complex.

3. This compartment employs a myriad of technical terms and words with organized principles of doctrine from the frame of reference. You cannot bring doctrines like problem solving devices without having these things set up. You must have this to move further along.
4. The spiritual information is classified, based upon the comparison of Scripture with Scripture, doctrine with doctrine. You compare them and put them together.
5. Categories include what is drawn from vocabulary storage.
6. Each doctrinal category augments other categories and then is stored for future use, categorical storage. As part of developing complex spiritual thought and renovation, doctrinal categories are necessary. Divine viewpoint comes from categorical storage. This is where you begin to separate them and under divine viewpoint versus human viewpoint. When we focus on any one category. We lose the balance. So many people, theologians that Bobby saw, camped out on one theology; and so many of them put little emphasis on the free will of man. They mixed up the church and Israel.

We are building and building.

Children begin learning in early childhood. They begin to learn a few words; and then they develop a sentence. Then sentences are combined into paragraphs; more complete thoughts. These are logical thinking. Conversing in complete thoughts. Suddenly as an adult, you can do that.

The more categories that you have stored, the more detailed and more accurate is the thinking and application. You put them altogether as categories and storage and you can speak with spiritual intelligence. Without understanding the full range...

People get into false doctrine, into cults, when thinking draws from Biblical categories. Doctrine becomes the source...

A rowboat may serve to illustrate categorical storage. You need both oars in the water for that boat to move properly. A boat moves straight when there are both oars in the water. Only one oar means the boat moves in circles. One oar in the water is analogous to an aimless spiritual life. Doctrines are not synchronized with other doctrines. You cannot advance without storing vast categories of doctrine and being able to pull from them all. That is how we develop and think with the whole realm of divine viewpoint.

1. Categorical storage keeps us from focusing only upon one oar. We focus on one aspect of doctrine to the exclusion of others. This sends our boat out in a pattern of repetitive circles.
2. Utilizing the Word of God bound together with doctrine categories, keeps us from veering off course. Socialism sounds very Christian to some people. We are going to be charitable and make people equal. Socialism can make things worse. The poor we will have with us always. Many Christians, in their humanism, want to wipe out poverty. When you focus on one doctrine that spins you out of control, and you get to doctrinal confusion. JW's have no categorical storage. They have been fed false doctrine and they don't know the difference.

The Fifth Compartment, the Conscience

1. The conscience dept contains your norms and standards.
2. Your conscience separates right from wrong. How critical is this in this world. We are upside down. We need to be able to differentiate.
3. Your conscience urges you to do what you recognize to be right; and to refrain from doing that which is wrong.
4. This depends upon the flow of doctrine through the previous 4 compartments. We have no Christian conscience without knowledge, without metabolized doctrine.
5. The conscience stores our norms and values and establishes our priorities in life. Our conscience makes that decision for us.
6. You regulate your own life from the guidance of your conscience.
7. It is an active self-awareness in relation to good and evil circumstances and choices. Our conscience is our guide. Our self-awareness of ourselves. We all have a conscience from birth. We become a body and a soul. The conscience of that point has not a single norm or standard.

1. Standards must develop based upon input. Got to fill it up with something.
2. For the believer, the absolute precepts of Bible doctrine are the input which form divine norms and standards in our conscience.
3. All other human sources of norms and standards and all the other things that you hear. Marxists have standards, but they are flawed. They come from humanism. Humans are flawed.
4. Human conscience is marred by the sin nature.
5. Doctrine is the solution that limits the sin nature control and directs the conscience to the right standards.
6. When doctrine flows through the stream of consciousness, awareness of divine norms and standards increase. Now you are getting into the applicaitonal aspect.
7. Gradually, through doctrinal orientation these standards are established and cemented in our conscience.
8. This is because the conscience guides our decisions and our lives.

What is in your conscience determines the kinds of decisions that we are going to make.

All this ends up as wisdom in your soul. This is taking Bible doctrine in point A and making the application for you.

Bobby is about to take a sidebar. Or we are going to embark on an anakaluthen. We are looking right now at the doctrine of Epistemology. This is a term from seminary. This is a word that we need to understand. This is a very descriptive term. This one word encompasses the mechanics of the spiritual life. This word belongs in the church. This is the reason why we attend church.

Epistemology definition:

1. How we know what we know. How is knowledge assimilated and used. It is not a hard concept.
2. Thus epistemology in the spiritual realm is the understand of how we learn and how we apply Bible doctrine as wisdom (which fits right in there with our study).
3. Epistemology is the process of how we learn. This is the process by which our spiritual life operates. We can probably live our spiritual life without knowing this, because it operates as long as we metabolize Bible doctrine. This does help us to understand what we are learning. In order to understand this process, Bobby borrowed an illustration from his father. Bob was a genius in defining the mechanics of the spiritual life. That is what his ministry was actually about. Epistemological rehabilitation.

Bobby worked with a professor and they had academic discussions. Bobby wrote a paper about epistemological rehabilitation, and this stunned the professor. The mechanics are defined by another coined term, which is critical for us to understand.

1. This describes how we change our thinking to a different channel.
2. This is the process of how we learn and what we need to learn in order to change. This is a Rahab. Knowledge of Bible doctrine.
3. This is how epistemological rehabilitation works.
4. Be transformed by the renovation of your mind, that you might operate under the will of God.
5. Epistemological rehabilitation is the will of God for our lives.

Bob came up with 3 terms in this realm. Operation Z, which is at the very heart of epistemological rehabilitation. This is Bobby teaching the Word of God. We receive this information into our human spirit. We had no reason to have a human spirit before believing in Jesus. Now we need this.

The Holy Spirit is teaching the human spirit which we have. This Holy Spirit takes this to the left lobe of the soul. We believe it and it is transferred over to the right lobe. That is Operation Z. We are now ready to apply the doctrine.

We need to know how epignosis in the soul.

The third term is stream of consciousness. If we understand these three terms, we understand how to take in Bible doctrine.

7 compartments in this stream of consciousness through which metabolized doctrine has to flow. You cannot learn it all in 3 classes. People cannot come for 6 months or a year and think they have all that they need.

If you dam up this stream of consciousness, then it no longer flows. A stream requires a constant movement of water. No water means no stream. We have terms stored in the memory center. Pertinent doctrines are summoned from the memory center just when they are needed. When we run into adversity, we need to pull up some doctrine in order to deal with that problem. That is the importance of the memory center. It links the frame of reference to all of the other compartments. The third compartment is vocabulary storage. When we think, we speak with words. Words are used to develop ideas. The accumulation and the conceptualization of words. We can use those words. Learning truth is key. At some point, we will have a dictionary to use with about 900 terms.

Bobby already uses this dictionary. This dictionary of the soul, this is critical. There are single technical terms like Trinity, rebound, Hypostatic Union, etc. which describe whole doctrines to be accumulated. These doctrines combine for an understanding of the spiritual life. There is a continuous build of categories of knowledge. Categorical storage combines singles doctrines with more complex ones. As you grow, you build a more complex inventory of Bible doctrines. You can cross reference doctrines in your soul. You understand the obligations better.

Cultic behavior results from a person camping out of one particular doctrine, without a consideration to others.

Countless doctrines are combined to form a coherent theology. Dispensation doctrine comes from combining many other doctrines in order to get it. The compartment combines a myriad of vocabulary to build advanced knowledge. You can see and know spiritual advance. It flows through the stream and it is having the effect. This is utilizing the Word of God, advancing your spiritual growth.

All 4 of the previous compartments combine to make your conscience, which separates right from wrong; good from bad. This is where all of your norms and standards are.

In the human realm, this can be seen as absolutism. The conscience really functions when you have the absolutes of doctrine stored there. The human conscience for all of us is marred by the sin nature. But doctrine and the Holy Spirit are the solution which limit the sin nature control and corruption over our lives. The longer we stay in carnality, the less Christian life that we have.

When we make bad decisions, why do we make such a decision? This comes straight from our conscience. The doctrinally oriented conscience does not make that decision. If we do not have enough doctrine in the soul, then we cannot make good decisions.

Good Decisions

1. Good decisions reflect what the Word of God say is right. What does the Word of God say is right. Not the fulfilment of our desires. Standards from Bible doctrine must come first. They may clash with what we want. Doctrinal orientation is key here. Decisions made apart from the doctrinal norms and standards.
2. Good decisions are made from divine wisdom; and they do not come from relative cultural standards. They are rampant in this country today and many Christians buy into those standards because there is not enough doctrine in their conscience. Individual believers in the flow of doctrine in the stream of consciousness.
3. That is the exercise of the conscience department. As doctrine flows into it, bringng discernment, it flows outward as good decisions. This is strength. Doctrinal norms and standards are necessary.

1Peter 3:16 [Keep on] having a good conscience, so that, when you are slandered, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame.

1Peter 3:17 For it is better to suffer for doing good, if that should be God's will, than for doing evil.

This is called moral courage. You may suffer for doing right. You're going to suffer anyway; you might as well do it right. It is those decisions that we make which determine the life that we lead.

Believers who do what is wrong receive pointless suffering. They resist God's purpose and plan and they opt instead for temporary gratification. Carnal standards are the basis for bad decisions from a position of weakness.

Bad decisions may result in a guilty conscience. Many pastors teach that you need a guilty conscience in order to correct your behavior.

Lesson #0309

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/7/2021 2Sunday

We have been through Operation Z. Spiritual information is now applicable to your life, if you believe it. There are no compartments exactly like this; these words are representations of what is taking place. How we know what we know = epistemology.

It is important to be consistent with our intake of Bible doctrine. Consciousness is what we know; what is in our head and what is in our minds. Cut off the stream and that cuts off your thinking. This is so true in the spiritual life. You no longer have Bible doctrine to apply at the other end. Cut off the intake of Bible doctrine, and you simply have dripping water.

Conscience. Let your conscience be your guide. We have begun to see how that is true. What is in your conscience? What are you guided by? That is our objective as a believer. As you grow, as your conscience is filled with the standards of Bible doctrine, the better decisions that you make. The less doctrine in your soul, the worse your decisions will be. This is us in reversionism. When you go there, God disciplines us. It is much better to have a conscience filled with Bible doctrine.

Titus 1:15 To the pure, all things are pure, but to the defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their minds and their consciences are defiled.

This is a conscience full of divine standards. If you have that, you understand what is righteous. For those who are defiled, a carnal, guilt-ridden conscience. You can have no conscience; you can have a doctrinal conscience, or you can have a conscience driven by guilt. And unbelieving. Those who reject Bible doctrine. To the unbelieving, nothing is pure. But their minds and conscience are defiled. Their mind is defiled. If the conscience is defiled, then the mind is defiled.

One with little or no active conscience. Guilt itself is a sin that prohibits forgetting and isolating other sins. Filled with guilt means... If you are just responding to guilt, you have a weak, weak conscience. Your conscience is defined by guilt rather than by doctrine. A weak conscience. It may or may not be good. Usually, it is not. A conscience distorted by legalism. Addicted to pleasure. Legalism or antinomianism demonstrates a weak conscience that is restrained by guilt, not by the spiritual life. If you rebound and you still feel guilty, then you lack grace orientation. You are catering to legalism. "If I don't feel bad about something, maybe I won't stop doing it." Apologies are fine. You don't have to feel guilty to make an apologize. You should not rely upon feelings to correct the spiritual life. You simply name your sins to God the Father. If you have a strong conscience filled with doctrine, you know that your sins are forgiven immediately by God. The believer can forget and move on in the spiritual life, with no evil repercussions; no guilty conscience. A guilty conscience impedes your spiritual growth.

When you make decisions from guilty, it is 50-50 that you will make bad decisions. When it drives your conscience. It must be put aside when it drives your conscience. Guilt does nothing to correct the situation. You can forget and move on in the spiritual life; and you will not have any evil repercussions. No flagellation; no making it up to God. Guilt does not solve problems; it exacerbates them. The spiritual life solves problems. Rebound applied from the conscience removes any necessity for guilt. Some people think that guilt is necessary. Some pastors teach that you need to feel guilty about your sins, then those sins will recur. But those sins do repeat.

Guilt and Changing One's Life

1. Without rebound and isolating the sins of guilt, the Christian life bogs down. Guilt makes you turn inward. You concentrate on your emotions. You cannot correct anything unless you feel better. It has nothing to do with how you feel.
2. In guilt, good norms and standards for decision are suppressed or removed. The spiritual life changes all of that; guilt does not. Is there any guilt flowing through the stream of consciousness? Is that what changes things?
3. Guilt is not your guide. If it is, many more bad decisions will be perpetrated.
4. Guilt may sometimes subside or be subdued; but that does not last. When you wallow in guilt, the next problem that comes up with guilt, that guilt will come right back. You must have a way of dealing with sins that affect other people. You rebound and you keep on moving. What corrects the sin in your life? Rebound and growing to spiritual maturity. When you do, you find yourself rebounding less and less. You recognize what God does for you is more important than how you feel in guilt.

5. So when guilt returns, it invades your weak conscience with more guilt. A conscience filled with guilt is a weak conscience. It expands in your conscience.
6. Then a multitude of bad decisions diminishes the options of the spiritual life. The more guilt you have, the more the options of your spiritual life decrease. Your spiritual life is nullified by this kind of guilt. Your norms and standards must be driven by Bible doctrine, not by guilt.
7. A conscience filled with doctrinal norms and standards cannot be defiled. 1Tim.3:9.
8. The believer removes any guilt tendencies. It is a part of the sin nature. We handle wrongdoing with guilt and not by rebound. Self-flagellation, by penance.
9. His options in life continue to increase and to expand. The plan of God unfolds as it was designed to do. Focus on grace orientation and the problem solving devices. We will find application once we get through this.
10. However, this is not a green light for callousness. Do not suppress conviction of wrongdoing under the heading of no sins for guilt. You should evaluate yourself and you should understand how your spiritual life operates, but not through guilt. It comes through doctrinal orientation and what your standards are in your conscience.
11. Therefore, guilt must be handled like any other sin in the Christian life. Rebound, isolate it and forget it and move on. You may have done something that hurts someone else. That is a sin; but you may feel a certain way about what you did; but that is not the key to solving the problem. You might apologize, which you might need to do, is not the means of relieving your guilt. Politicians apologize all over the place and don't feel guilty about anything. Remember what your solution is. Move on. Do not wallow in guilt.
12. Guilt should never be a motive to drive the conscience. Too often it is. That is just emotionalism superimposed over the objectivity of Bible doctrine. Doctrine is objectivity. A believer can have a clear conscience. We all make these mistakes and we all skin.

Heb. 9:14 ... how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God. It is Jesus Who cleanses our conscience by means of doctrinal orientation. What Christ provides to a believer in grace to rebound and to keep moving is a way to cleanse your conscience, in order to serve the living God. That is the spiritual life. That is how you serve the living God.

The Standards of the Conscience

1. An illustration of a conscience that does what is right is found in a person who demonstrates moral courage.
2. People show real moral courage when they do something based upon right values or standards in the conscience. We are specifically talking about your standards from Bible doctrine. That is where the greatest moral courage comes from. This is what makes Bobby think of Martin Luther. He stood before the saxony, in an inquisition, and he was ready to be put to death. They ask him about Scripture and grace. "Here I stand, I can do no other." He stood on the principles of Bible doctrine. It was a good decision and Luther lived to a ripe old age.

3. What a person stands for may not always be to your best interest, in human terms; but from Bible doctrine, it is always in your interest.
4. When a person takes a stand from a conscience filled with doctrine, then moral courage is being exhibited to the highest standard.
5. Moral courage may be exhibited, but for the wrong reasons. That is why a conscience filled with Bible doctrine is always the right reason. Moral courage with Bible doctrine is never misguided. Unbelievers have that problem with relative standards. They view Christian standards with mockery or hatred. They do not like absolutes. Their conscience can be bent to suit whatever they want. Bible doctrine is the foundation of the spiritual life. This is how we make good decisions.

This is a very far-reaching subject.

Bobby will give us an example of a man from the Bible with moral courage. He will become a great man in life and before the Lord.

Lesson #0309

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT 11/10/2021 Wednesday

We are studying the doctrine of epistemological rehabilitation. These words represent everything that we have by way of growing spiritually.

Introductory Points to Epistemological Rehabilitation

1. This is about how you learn what you need to know. It is about how we change our viewpoints. It is not easy for a person to change their world view.
2. In other words to change from human viewpoint to divine viewpoint. From relative human standards to absolute divine standards.
3. According to Romans 12:2, all believers must rehabilitate their thinking to divine standards. That is a mandate. We are commanded to do this.
4. This rehab is done through a process designed for believers. We can be rehabilitated to a viewpoint which is entirely the work of God the Holy Spirit. Unbelievers can academically understand what Bobby is saying, but the application means nothing to them. It means everything to us. We never reach complete spiritual maturity. We see through a glass darkly. We see and know enough to live in this world and to live the spiritual life, and to serve Him, which is our obligation.
5. Your rehab begins in your soul with the metabolization of Bible doctrine. Operation Z is the process of hearing the teaching of doctrine while filled with the Holy Spirit. While we are filled with Him, He does teach the human spirit. He converts Bible doctrine to ἐπίγνωσις.

6. Once it becomes ἐπίγνωσις doctrine, it begins to circulate through that stream of consciousness. This is a coined term.
7. The stream of consciousness is the process by which doctrine brings spiritual growth. It is applied to life as wisdom. That is our study. How do we get from hearing doctrine to applying wisdom? This is the process.

This is the outside for epistemological rehabilitation.

The stream of consciousness, the first four compartments: frame of reference, categorical storage, memory center, vocabulary storage.

All of the arrows is human viewpoint always trying to get into your soul. The more doctrine in the stream, the more mature is the believer. What are your standards? Doctrinal standards is the way that you live the spiritual life. These decisions guide our spiritual life. The decisions that we make determine the life that we lead. We all make bad decisions. Rehab is all about overcoming the bad decisions and making good ones. A guilty conscience is removed from making bad decisions. Now, feeling guilty about what you have done is not necessary.

Bobby's wife is doing a trial involving of a sexual attack victim. She cannot get over what happened to her. But we, as believers, can get over anything. Those things are in the past. They do not need to damage our life or change our life. We are able to make good decisions.

We know that some actions may not seem to be in our own best interest.

Daniel reveals great moral courage. The Apostle Paul had tremendous moral courage. Daniel lived in the 8th century B.C.

Daniel 1:8 But Daniel resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's food, or with the wine that he drank. Therefore he asked the chief of the eunuchs to allow him not to defile himself.

Daniel was in the court, and the commander of the officials. Now, he will have to back up his decision and back it up with moral courage. How many times do we have to exercise moral courage? Daniel was not being self righteous or legalistic. Daniel was standing on doctrinal principle? Why is having a steak and good wine a moral decision? This decision is based upon the principles of the Mosaic Law. This was no minor offense. He is a hostage of Nebuchadnezzar. He was taken as a hostage to keep Israel in line. If the Jews got out of line, these hostages could be killed. The king held the decisions of life and death in his own hand. Daniel had some notoriety in the court. What Daniel was doing is giving a direct insult to the most powerful leader on earth at that time. Daniel had been thoroughly indoctrinated at a young age about the clean and unclean foods. This food was customarily offered to the pagan gods. This was the best food, as it was customarily offered up to the gods.

Daniel's Moral Courage

1. Daniel was ordered to eat and drink food which had been offered up to pagan gods.
2. Partaking of this food constituted defilement. It was sin; it was a bad decision.
3. This sort of eating was forbidden under Jewish dietary laws. Deut. 32:37–38 1Cor. 10: This may seem silly to us today.
4. For the Jews, this was a matter of rejecting idolatry and serving the Lord. This is a critical choice, and Daniel in a heathen kingdom and in a pagan court. He represents Y<sup>e</sup>howah to that court.
5. Our conscience today must reject what humanism demands. That is our modern-day idolatry. The wokes do not like us. They will suppress us and oppress us; and we do not know how far that will go today.
6. Daniel's conscience would not let him overlook God's Word in order to save himself.
7. With great moral courage, he took a stand on doctrinal principles.
8. Daniel left the consequences in the hands of the Lord; and he rested in it. What a fantastic ministry that he had.

He made a decision which appears to us to be irrational. Obedience to God was important in order to allow for God's plan to unfold. His moral courage and his witness for the Lord in this pagan kingdom. A conscience can differentiate between right and wrong. His decision not to eat came from his mature conscience. This urged Daniel to do what was right, and he did it, at no small price.

Daniel's companions in this crisis were unhelpful. Daniel had none of this. He was isolated; but his conscience was with him. He chose his integrity when others would have decided against it. Doctrinal orientation sustained his divine viewpoint and established his moral courage. The Lord honored the doctrinally oriented Daniel.

Daniel 1:9–10 And God gave Daniel favor and compassion in the sight of the chief of the eunuchs, and the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear my lord the king, who assigned your food and your drink; for why should he see that you were in worse condition than the youths who are of your own age? So you would endanger my head with the king."

Metabolized doctrine clarifies the way that Daniel could go. This would set him on the course for the plan of God for his life. We are always in the plan of God. We are being led in the plan of God. That is what Daniel understood. He knew the plan of God. The plan of God never violates the principles of Bible doctrine. Doctrinal orientation in the conscience of Daniel sustained his divine viewpoint. It took this stand to lead Daniel in the right direction.

He demonstrated moral courage in a pagan kingdom. Daniel would rise to become the closest advisor to Nebuchadnezzar and to Darius king of Persia, after Chaldea fell to the Persians. Daniel's sins are never mentioned. But the decisions that he makes keeps him in the plan of God. His conscience combines grace or doctrinal orientation with the faith rest life. He overcame all uncertainty and all fear that might have subverted his conscience. Many hated Daniel. He used Bible doctrine in every difficult crisis.

Making Good Decisions

1. Guilt and justice and injustice are left in the hands of the Supreme Court of Heaven.
2. We do not seek revenge for injustice. That is a slippery slope to go down.
3. You will not desire to blame others or to justify self. You make good decisions; you have norms and standards.
4. We will not wallow in the expediency of bad decisions. "I can bend the rules a little bit; what is the problem?" We must have a conscience which has divine viewpoint in order to make that decision.
5. Bad choices are discerned and avoided. That is what comes from a conscience of divine norms and standards.
6. Right choices are discerned from doctrinal standards and moral courage in the conscience. When it come down to making a right decision, that also requires moral courage. That is the display of good decisions.
7. When the norms and standards of the conscience are formed from Bible doctrine, the believer has a problem solving device related to doctrinal orientation. Doctrinal standards do not mean that you are inflexible.

2Cor. 1:12 For our boast is this, the testimony of our conscience, that we behaved in the world with simplicity and godly sincerity, not by earthly wisdom but by the grace of God, and supremely so toward you.

1Peter 4:19 Therefore let those who suffer according to God's will entrust their souls to a faithful Creator while doing good.

The believer is to submit to establishment authority. It is necessary to be in subjection to governing authorities—not only for wrath but also for conscience sake.

The believer does not refrain from criminal activity simply not to be arrested, but because this is the divine will for our lives.

Lesson #0310

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT 11/11/2021 Thursday

Veterans Day was called Armistice Day, at the end of WWI. For 4 years, there was warfare, shooting on death. 11 am on the 11th day of November. That is when all of the guns ceased. Absolute silence. Congress expanded the notion of this day to include all veterans of all wars. Berachah Church has always appreciated our veterans.

Corporal Maxim is covered for his gallant behavior during the Vietnam war.

Freedom is not bought by marching or rioting in our cities. Freedom is purchased by blood and battles. Bobby wrote a note to a man that he served with nearly 40 years ago. They served for 18 months together. There is a comradery between veterans who have served together.

We are at the momentum department.

Intro

1. This is the domain of spiritual power. The uniting of doctrine metabolized and the power of the Holy Spirit in utilizing that doctrine. This is a strong momentum dept.
2. As a believer advances Bible doctrine continues to move through the stream of consciousness. As they flow through here, the =
3. As these compartments are having doctrine flowing through at the same time, as we grow spiritually. The compartments begin to operate effectively in unison. Tremendous spiritual momentum is generated.
4. We can say that this department energizes spiritual growth. It energizes all the doctrine flowing in the other departments. Spiritual maturity is open ended. We never stop the flow. This is like drinking water and eating food. It is a flow that you need to live the spiritual life. It stimulates the other facets. Your application of doctrine increases; and it will always increase as circumstances derive in your life.
5. This is the final step to mature application. This launches us into mature application.
6. This is the compartment that elevates the believer to the status of spiritual maturity in the Christian life.

Eph 4:13 ...until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ,...

You have a plan, God's plan. Our objective is to attain to the unity of the faith. We are in Berachah Church to learn doctrine in the way that Bobby is describing. As believers in Jesus Christ, we are mandated to assemble ourselves together, to attain to the unity of the faith. Like-minded believers based upon a mature spiritual life. There is not a lot of like-mindedness out there in the world. There is not a lot of this outside of Berachah Church. To isolate yourself from such fellowship. Bobby can guarantee that you cannot get the same from a message as you get from being right there. Human viewpoint is everywhere; divine viewpoint is limited.

Veterans of Berachah Church recognize the comradery that you have here. These are believers that you are like-minded with. You may have comradery in various places.

We are studying epistemological rehabilitation, which is knowledge of the Son of God, to a mature man. Metabolized doctrine which is then applied in our lives. This is the mind of Christ flowing through our souls.

To the measure of the stature of the fullness of Jesus Christ. This verse speaks to the necessary momentum to reach the goal of the pure spiritual life. Applying it to your circumstances.

Spiritual momentum. We are unified in our likemindedness. As such, we become an effective body of Christ, moving in one direction. We are all part of the body, each having individual plans and objectives. It all begins with epistemological rehabilitation. We mutually follow and apply the mind of Christ.

Two categories of spiritual growth. There is normal spiritual growth. This is something happening right here and right now. This is the consistent perception and the metabolization of Bible doctrine. Using rebound and concentrating. This is a slow growth, but an inexorable march toward spiritual maturity. This growth is slow, but it is inexorable.

You do not notice your spiritual growth day by day. The change is slow, and we notice it, perhaps in specific increments. That is how we see that we have matured. How we think and how we solve problems. And how we deal with life in general. It is not noticeable on a day-to-day basis. At some point, we do notice it.

Frequency of rebound is a good example of normal spiritual growth. People have asked, "You know, I rebound constantly; I am always rebounding."

Day by Day Spiritual Growth

1. The necessary times for rebound are not as frequent as previously, as you mature.
2. How does this work? The spiritual life, as we advance, and momentum picks up, the spiritual life is bringing the sin nature under greater control. You spend more time filled with the Holy Spirit.
3. The temptation to sin is better resisted. Doctrine has explained to you, what you really like to do in sin is probably not in your best interest. As a kid, there are things that you do that are not good for you. A smart parent explains why those things are a problem. Temptation to sin is resisted.
4. The other problem solving devices, like faith rest. You know that David is a mature believer because he uses faith rest constantly.
5. All of these things are products of the steady flow of doctrine into the stream of consciousness and elsewhere.

People testing, every day. These problem solving devices, like impersonal love, begin to operate more fully in your life. They can still upset you. You realize more quickly what is involved.

Accelerated Growth

1. The means of growth is exactly the same. The circumstances are different.
2. Expedited growth takes place under adversity for testing. This is why you wish you did not have to face.
3. No believer attains maturity apart from testing. The testing grounds of spiritual advance. If you cannot use doctrine in adversity, then you are not mature. You have not advanced.
4. There is a payoff here. Momentum in the spiritual life accelerates with the passing of testing. Testing is to our benefit and it is better than smooth sailing. We gain more confidence from the results when you can utilize doctrine under adversity. "I just passed a test that I never passed before."
5. Passing the test simply means applying the doctrine circulating in the stream of consciousness. It must flow; it has to have a continuous flow. When you have that happening, you can do that. Adversity is simply a part of life. Adversity testing is important for the believer's momentum.

6. Not to pass the test means failure to use doctrine. That retards our spiritual growth. This is why testing is important.
7. Spiritual growth is accelerated from the application of doctrine to the testing and passing the test.

1. Accelerated growth is when the use of doctrine is obvious and super-beneficial. Stress is avoided. As soon as adversity hits, then so does stress.
2. Adversity may or may not go away when you apply doctrine. The results of applying doctrine are observable in an accelerated growth. That is the desire and the momentum for growth. Testing can be minor; and with that adversity can come distraction. We get distraction, which precipitates a failure to concentrate and to apply. The stream of consciousness and the momentum departments get short-circuited. The believer is motivated to get more doctrine. There will never be a time when there is no testing.

1. Testing allows the believer to advance. We get these tests and those tests are designed to accelerate the normal way.
2. In testing, a full range of doctrine must be recalled. You need some doctrines and some faith rest rationales. We need a full range of doctrine to be recalled from doctrinal storage. The more doctrine that you can apply, the better you can advance from adversity. You can stress out all night long. Bobby has been through problems which last for several years.
3. You recognize the need or more Bible doctrine when in momentum. To have that raw material to produce that application through the momentum that you have.
4. Thus momentum is greatly increased by the recognition by the need for more Bible doctrine. You had momentum when taking in doctrine. If you let the adversity become stress, you become...
5. You get to see the results of the application of doctrine to adversity. It is tangible.

1. Application becomes a rote exercise. Application of doctrine becomes second nature. It is your go-to.
2. It becomes inherent to your thinking processes. It is there; it is useable; it is flowing.
3. The application of this doctrine activates something that you need badly. This alleviates suffering in the soul, whether the adversity is alleviated or not.
4. Thus, you have learned the effectiveness of momentum in the spiritual life. That is a revelation. It results in a heightened mental attitude. The ability to use impersonal love in people testing. That is one of the greatest areas of people testing.
5. Impersonal love is one of the greatest examples of the application of Bible doctrine to the life.

Epistemological rehabilitation essentially covers our entire spiritual life. This is how we live it. Impersonal love is one of those things that you gain as doctrine moves through your stream of consciousness. Here is where your momentum takes off like a rocket.

communion

Lesson #0312

Proverbs 11 Wisdom in the OT

3/14/2021 Sunday

Rehab means change, often improvement, renovation. Epistemological rehabilitation is a change of thinking, a change of thinking. How we know the doctrine that we do know. The entire realm of how we grow spiritually. The spiritual life is how we are mandated to live.

We are studying the stream of consciousness as related to epistemological rehabilitation. We have gotten all of the way to conscience.

Momentum is the domain of spiritual power that launches the believer into the application of doctrine. What is learned and stored and standardized in your conscience. As all the departments begin to advance, momentum increases. When a believer fails to pass the adversity of life. There is a breakdown or a complete halt. Adversity is external; stress in internal. Stress nullifies any operation of the spiritual life.

The hardest test to pass, which occurs all too frequently is people-testing. Most common with those who are close to us. Till you rebound, the flow of doctrine ceases. Faith rest drill and the application of the basic problem solving devices; and that often allows for the use of more advanced problem solving devices.

By failing people testing, the believer fails to apply any problem solving devices. You lose control of your own life and you think about them and deal with them mentally and in other ways.

Impersonal love is a mindset to deal with people-testing. This problem solving device must grow in order for you to pass people-testing. You do not cede control of your life to someone else. Impersonal love accelerates momentum in the spiritual life. When you see the result under spiritual testing, it gives you momentum.

A doctrine within a doctrine. If you take epistemological rehabilitation and impersonal love, you are beginning to understand your spiritual life.

Impersonal Love and the Believer

1. Impersonal love is an unconditional relaxed mental attitude toward the entire human race, friend and foe alike. There are always conditions in life.

2. Impersonal love does not depend upon the worthiness of the object of love. We fall in love or develop a friendship with someone; that is conditional love.
3. Impersonal love requires much more than personal love. Falling in personal love is very easy. When the subject is deserving, then it is easy. Relationships are maintained by impersonal love. In personal love you must have impersonal love. Bob was at a church and people were told to stand up and tell the person behind you that you love them.
- 4.
5. Therefore, impersonal love is the function of the believer's spiritual maturity toward other people. We have all had friends and coworkers that we do not want to interact with, and yet there they are right in front of us. Spiritual growth is worth it.

Personal Love and Impersonal Love

1. Personal love involves attractiveness; impersonal love emphasizes the spiritual virtue and the capacity and virtue of the spiritual realm.
2. Whereas personal love is subjective and involves a small number. Impersonal love is a relaxed and objective mental attitude towards anyone. All are treated without hatred or rancor. Impersonal love does not mean that you will like them. It is toleration. Even if your neighbor is a slob and you do not like them, your testimony does not go anywhere.
3. Likewise, impersonal love solves problems in personal relationships, which are otherwise unsolvable. Psychological counseling is a huge industry. They cannot solve their problems. All it takes is a little impersonal love. Conflict will occur in any personal relationship. Sometimes impersonal love demands separation.
4. The believer with impersonal love can accept all people as they are, not as you want them to be; not as you expect them to be. The wife thinks the husband will change, and he won't; the husband expects his wife not to change and she does.
5. That is, you have impersonal love and you are able to take them as you are, without demanding reciprocation; without reaction or retaliation, without incurring sins of the tongue. Without revenge motives or revenge tactics.
6. Whether encountering love or admiration or hatred and reproach. Our love is stable and enduring. The object of love can be unstable and not enduring.
7. Impersonal love does not rip into someone because of their antagonism towards us. This is a virtue demanded by the Lord Jesus Christ. James 2:8

You never initiate a lawsuit with another believer. Impersonal love does not mean that you cannot defend your home and family.

1. God demands believers to demonstrate virtue and a relaxed mental attitude towards all. Not malice towards some. That includes believers and unbelievers, known and unknown.
2. Impersonal love in the soul is the only way to fulfill the divine mandates to love one another. John 13:34–35. You are not overwhelmed with a desire to retaliate.

The stream of consciousness is a look at what happens in our soul. But this is an illustration. This is all about change.

Think of yourself in this soul, which is immaterial. The drawing illustrates how we know what we know about the spiritual life. This is how we can gain spiritual maturity. We can apply what we learn by way of doctrine. It changes each one of us.

The Process of Renovation

1. This change is what Rom. 12:2 demands of us. It says, be transformed. Metamorphous can be illustrated by the caterpillar and the butterfly which is what it becomes. The soul is the location of our change.
2. This transformation takes place between the metabolizing of doctrine into ἐπίγνωσις. The development of norms and standards in the conscience dept. We metabolize that doctrine, and that change takes place inside.
3. All the storage, frame of reference and vocabulary compartments lead to renovated standards. That is what they become.
4. The norms and standards of the believer how now morphed from human viewpoint to divine viewpoint. When the norms and standards of your soul change, that is the beginning of a change from human viewpoint to divine viewpoint.
5. That means that the believer is now thinking with the mind of Christ. We think with His norms and standards. That is what we change to.
6. This process that Bobby has been defining defines spiritual advance, all the way to spiritual maturity. That is what this illustrates.

Momentum

1. This change of viewpoint picks up speed. A new compartment, momentum. It picks all of this doctrine up and changes our norms and standards. This change from the inside works outwardly. That is the momentum that we get so that doctrine can be applied.
2. The momentum dept where the spiritual power brings a heightened renovation. It energized spiritual growth.
3. This compartment is the final push into a mature application of divine wisdom.
4. We can say that this compartment is an impetus and a motivator. As the renovation process proceeds, there is a change of attitude. Highly important to complete this attitude of impersonal love. We get this momentum launch. This is an attitude that is so important to launch. The function of the believer's spiritual maturity which works outward to the believer's relationship to other people. Doctrine in the right lobe motivates a believer to apply impersonal love to others. Impersonal love is unconditional; love towards all members of the human race. This attitude is what the world sees as impossible.

Impersonal Love

1. Impersonal love does not depend upon the worthiness of the object of our love.
2. Personal love is the domain of the attraction to a person. That is the whole picture. All those things that make a person attractive to you.
3. Personal love is an intense and a subjective attitude towards a very few people. Some more and some less.
4. Impersonal love is a relaxed mental attitude and objective attitude towards everyone. You need impersonal love because all kinds of people cross your path all day long. This spiritual skill is important.
5. No matter how good a relationship is, you need impersonal love.
6. The believer with impersonal love can accept all people as they are, without judging their flaws or faults. That is a much easier way to live. People react to other people. People react to how you are. Personal love precludes reaction for all sorts of reasons.

There are even retaliations which make us feel better, a little dig of the knife. If that is your attitude, you need to tweak that a little bit. This should happen without sins of the tongue and without bitterness, revenge motives and tactics. One of the biggest motives in life, when you have to get along with people who are in your way, you face bitterness or anger. Who wants to be around bitterness. You cannot run away fast enough. How is your soul insofar as bitterness is concerned? You should love your neighbor as yourself.

We have a difficult time sometimes forgiving ourselves. We shock ourselves. We are unworthy. This is an attitude of rebound. Compare that to how you treat others. Neighbor is everyone, not just the person who lives next door. When a person hates you, opposes you, oppresses you. When you hate someone, what are the results for you? The object of your antagonism gains control of your life and your happiness and your joy in life. They take up your time and thinking. They control you, unless you have an active resource of impersonal love to counter it. People affect us in adverse ways without impersonal love. They can get to us the most and the worst.

Bobby has known people who have fallen in love to people who have become negative to doctrine and negative to the teaching at Berachah Church. Even to become antagonistic to Bible doctrine. That is what friendship and impersonal love can do to the spiritual life. It can distract it or stop it.

If you fall in love or have a friend, that person can affect what you think and do. Their thinking and attitudes affect you. If you are not careful, you find yourself following their lead. At least you are thinking. We get led astray so quickly by those who...

This happens in Fx groups, in video hookups. Many have sat in the congregation by themselves and have been positive toward doctrine and have grown spiritually. Then they fall in love, but you lack the discernment to determine the most important thing.

This is why likemindedness is so important to personal love. There are so many views as to what personal love is. Do not get your ideas about personal love from Hollywood; they don't know what it is.

When you make a friend and you fall in love, some things happen. You may become jealous of that person; or possessive of that person. You may hate those who preceded you with the person. You are miserable in love. You become a slave to those people or their circumstances. You manufacture for yourself many more problems.

When you marry, you double up on your problems. You take on all of the problems of the person that you marry. All their financial problems, all their family problems, all their personal problems. This becomes a part of your life.

You can never maintain the kind of personal love relationship that you want unless you have the impersonal love to maintain it. When you love someone personally, you gain some control. Adversity strikes your relationship, and you are unprepared to deal with that problem. You should have fostered momentum and developed impersonal love. If not, you cannot blame anyone else for their antagonisms and their faults. You can only blame your bad decisions, lack of discernment and lack of impersonal love. But you must develop the capability to do so. You have constant conflict. It comes from you just as much as from the other person. If that is the case, you always fail people testing. Doctrine ceases to flow to the

The Power of Impersonal Love

1. Through impersonal love, you control your own life.
2. You maintain control of adverse emotions and personal contentment because people don't get to you. Bobby used the illustration of traffic as momentum and people testing. If they do not control Bobby, how relaxing is that? Transfer that concept to the bigger things. The people testing at work and at home and wherever you are. Do they get to you? Can you relax? It is all about impersonal love. It is about what is in your soul, it is not about what others have done to you. You maintain control of adverse emotions.
3. You keep your relationships, good or bad, in proper perspective. We can get so bent out of shape when someone does something that you do not like, especially if they do it to you.

Application of Impersonal Love

1. With impersonal love, you come to see people differently.
2. No on person can be classified as an enemy. You do not have any enemies. Impersonal love has not enemies. They are souls for whom Christ died, and you think of them as such and you treat them as such.
3. You are mandated to pray for them, for those who wrongfully use you.
4. Here is the relaxing part of impersonal love. Let God's justice handle the rest. They did me wrong; let God handle it. Let the justice of God handle it.

5. God knows where all faults lie, including yours.
6. Impersonal love allows God to take the initiative, the initiative to deal with your antagonists. Even with national enemies, you are relaxed. So easy to get upset in this world. Apply impersonal love to everyone, so that you will have the relaxed mental attitude and the contentment.
7. Objectivity comes with impersonal love. Subjectivity looks at the other person. You have bitterness towards them. This takes precedence over emotions and subjectivity in your relationships. Then, and only then, have you passed people testing. Any disillusionment etc. cannot mar your tranquility of soul. Impersonal love always gets an A when it comes to people testing. Now, from impersonal love, this momentum is moving ahead. When you have people-testing banging into your stream of consciousness, and you have impersonal love towards them, that keeps the stream flowing. That strengthens your capacity and ability to maintain impersonal love.

Love or hatred, romance or disenchantment, friendship or distraction.

Momentum Testing and Impersonal Love

1. Actually, this momentum testing is a grace blessing from God. Especially people testing. That is a fantastic blessing from God.
2. There is blessing that comes from suffering. This is a novel concept everywhere else in this world.
3. Suffering is to be avoided, but for the Christian, it is an opportunity for momentum. That is what it is for us. An opportunity to use what you have learned.
4. Impersonal love is the only way the foolproof method to bring tranquility into your life. A lasting tranquility. To make your relationships wonderful and worthwhile. This enhances our capacity for personal love relationships.
5. Only the fool believer fails to use impersonal love. When you treat others with impersonal love, this calms things down. This keeps revenge motivation in the rear view mirror. When people testing is passed, God becomes the source of your happiness. That is when you use that problem solving device.

Personal Perspective on Impersonal Love

1. When you fall in love, think about how you act and how you change your modus operandi and how you become vulnerable
2. With impersonal love, you have a greater capacity for love without falling into your emotional vulnerabilities and to mental attitude sins.
3. And to objectively evaluate any relationships before they develop too far.
4. This does not sound romantic, but it does not preclude romance either. Real romance has some discernment in it. Who am I? Who is this other person? Are they trustworthy, are they virtuous, what can I live with and not live with. They require wisdom to answer correctly. That is the evaluation necessary to make a good decision about impersonal love and using impersonal love during the hard times.

Accelerated spiritual growth in suffering. This is like the youth who virtually grows up overnight. The physical advance is so conspicuous, that even the one doing the growing notices it. Some grow rapidly and they have the stretch marks to prove it. This is what happens when you get this surge of doctrinal momentum. Passing momentum testing changes your outlook. That is what we call cursing turned to blessing.

The 7th compartment is wisdom, which is what we have been studying all along.

Lesson #0314

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/18/2021 Thursday

Bobby gets letters all of the time and he reads them all. Someone could see Bobby teach and he pointed out all of Bobby's idiosyncracies out to him.

We are to the final compartment, the wisdom compartment. This is who we are, our advance to spiritual maturity. The final compartment is wisdom, and that is the subject of our study. This has been a review of how we get to this wisdom. Every time that we deal with a psalm or proverb we are building wisdom. It eventually reaches its eventual destination, which is wisdom. That is the culmination of doctrine learned and stored. Everything that we have studied has been about our soul. Learning, growing and applying, which is the outward manifestation of what we have learned. In other words, discernment, the ability to discern what life is all about. The ability to continue to grow spiritually and that we continue to grow in wisdom and knowledge. Does the flow ever cease? This is why continuous intake of doctrine is so important.

What happens to a stream when it gets dammed up. Then it stops flowing and we die spiritually. We have eternal life, no matter what; but the execution of spiritual life dries up, which is the definition of reversionism. Application of a very specific type. The use of the knowledge of a very specific type.

Chokmaw

1. This word often means knowledge. Specifically, this is knowledge from metabolized doctrine. That is the specific knowledge.
2. Wisdom in the Bible is always related to knowledge from metabolized doctrine. You cannot separate them. Many people will read the psalms and the proverbs, but they will never get the ἐπίγνωσις if it does not go through Operation Z. The unbeliever can do nothing with it would be academic. People can gain from reading psalms and proverbs, but only we can use it as help in the spiritual growth we need. We have the wisdom of the ages. We have divine wisdom. We have the mind of Christ; and we can utilize it in that sphere. It becomes absolute standards to apply as wisdom.
3. Wisdom results in divine wisdom, divine viewpoint discernment. Unbelievers cannot have that because their standards are relative. We have that knowledge, knowledge that no one else has. Prov. 3:13 Blessed is the one who finds wisdom, and the one who gets understanding, Job 28:28 And He said to man, 'Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to turn away from evil is understanding.'" this is the crux of the Angelic Conflict. Chokmah is the underlying factor of all wisdom. It is that special wisdom where we know the wisdom of the ages. No one else has this. And to depart from evil is understanding. How do you depart from evil? Good decisions from a position of strength is the application of wisdom to experience.

The stream of consciousness is the key to the spiritual life. It mechanically defines the spiritual life.

Absolute Divine Wisdom

1. The Lord is the only source of absolute divine wisdom. It is wisdom if it reflects divine wisdom. But absolute divine wisdom in the souls of mankind is only present in the souls of believers.
2. The mind of Christ is the epitome of all wisdom, through the revelation of Bible doctrine. Always available. Then we have the mind of Christ, which is absolute wisdom.
3. This absolute wisdom becomes the application of divine viewpoint in the believer. Divine wisdom is the way that God thinks; this is His viewpoint. We can have that viewpoint. The Christians world too often uses divine revelation for their own purposes. That is abuse of the greatest resource that we can have in this world.
4. Metabolized doctrine flows from the first 5 compartments; and then is launched by the momentum dept into the 7th compartment wisdom. The doctrine flows, the norms and standards are formed, and it is hurled into the wisdom dept, ready to be used.
5. Wisdom and its application form a direct connection between the stream of consciousness and the formation of how to live the spiritual life. How we handle adversity in the spiritual life. An illustration that we call problem solving devices. They are directly related, directly connected to the stream of consciousness. It moves from ἐπίγνωσις doctrine into wisdom, from which we get the 10 problem solving devices. The wisdom compartment is the final link. That advancing wisdom is the ability to solve problems. A representation, a facsimile of our spiritual life. If you understand that, you understand who you are. All of these other steps are still in operation.

Practical Wisdom for Our Use

1. Wisdom is knowledge that you have metabolized and applied, through the stream of consciousness.
2. It is ready to be directly applied as the discernment needed for good decisions and living the spiritual life.
3. In that case you are putting the stream of consciousness to immediate work. That stuff flows through and we put it to work.

4. It is working for our benefit. That means maximum growth for our spiritual life. We are on the road to spiritual advance and spiritual maturity. These things are there, but they could operate to a great efficiency. What we are studying is an acceleration of our doctrinal application. When we take in doctrine, you have to make some interpolations. You have to put things in your memory center. When we go to wisdom, it is being applied for us? Straight from the mind of Christ. It is amazing to Bobby that he gets a little wisdom application and then he has to use it.

We can go directly from metabolized doctrine to wisdom applied. It is already supplied. That is the great value of Bible doctrine in the soul. It has been beneficial to Bobby and to us. We have to have some doctrine stored. We know the background. The application is circular. We have wisdom and the filling of the Holy Spirit and the faith rest drill, which increases as wisdom increases. The more wisdom we have, the more faith rest drill that we have. Grace and doctrinal orientation. It is constantly going around and around; it is just increasing. But you must have Bible doctrine stored. Norms and standards already stored. How do you use it?

The Command Post

1. When metabolized doctrine circulates in the stream of consciousness and becomes wisdom, not only can that wisdom be applied,...
2. But a solid defense perimeter forms in the soul against all outside attacks of the cosmic system. This in adversity, problem solving devices, also does the same thing. This forms a defense line in the soul. The FLOT line. We have a spiritual defense line in the soul.
3. Wisdom is the command post for this spiritual defense system. The defense falls apart without it.
4. It conducts and controls. That is what it does for our spiritual life. It keeps it operational. It continues to build the defenses.
5. It also provides for good decisions. When the defense line fails; when the enemy the cosmic system infiltrates and adversity becomes stress.
6. The command post activates spiritual defenses in the battle against adversity and stress. One day it is not there; one day it is overwhelming. So we must keep the command post intact, which is wisdom.
7. Problem solving devices are manned as a defense. Our defense turns stress away from our soul. It is the application of doctrine, the cornerstone of our defense line. All of them are important. They are all fed by wisdom, all of it.

What Does Wisdom Do?

1. Wisdom confirms what is right
2. Wisdom is absolute truth ready to be applied. This world considers relative truth.
3. The application makes good judgments and exercises discernment. When Rick spoke here, he spoke about discernment. He uses that phrase about bad decisions limit future options. He teaches basic doctrine to those kids. When we are kids, we make a lot of decisions which affect our life. We continue to do that. We have the greater capacity to love. We have greater friendships. We have the discernment to recognize the plan of God; and we have the relaxed mental attitude to let the Lord take us there. Bobby was going to make the military his career. A little discernment, look at these circumstances and the Lord is directing me in another direction.

4. The wisdom compartment is the launching pad for applying wisdom to the circumstances of life. You cannot separate wisdom from problem solving. One of the greatest solutions for problems in life, is not the resolution of the problem. The greatest solution is to relax in the adversity. To not be concerned or worried about the adversity. Adversity can be suffering for blessing. It can be testing; it can be acceleration for growth. The most important thing is how you handle it. This is why we have a faith rest drill. This is why we have impersonal love.
5. Wisdom does something else as well. It initiates a mirror in the soul. This is an accurate and objective self evaluation. This is really hard for a person to look at himself honestly.
6. Evaluating self means discernment of self. Why is that done? So as to preclude arrogance and self-centeredness. Problem solving devices do that as well. Honest self-evaluation; that is grace orientation. We can evaluate ourselves based upon God's viewpoint.
7. We can see ourselves, our strengths and weaknesses. Many people cannot even figure out what their weaknesses are. They rationalize their weaknesses.
8. This is the road to humility, which is the mandate for our attitude as a believer in Jesus Christ. God gives grace to the humble.
9. Understanding the reality of who we are in relation to God. That is also self-evaluation; but also in relation to circumstances and in relation to other people. Rom 1:7 To all those in Rome who are loved by God and called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The plan of God is contentment for each one of us who is in it.

What happens when the stream of consciousness stops flowing? What about the pitfalls? The importance of taking in doctrine consistently with the filling of the Holy Spirit utilizing rebound and advancing to spiritual maturity. You cannot do that if it dries up.

Lesson #0315

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/21/2021 1Sunday

No class this week.

Most people define themselves in physical terms. But we are what we think. Prov. 23:7 as he thinks within himself, so he is.

Since we can hide what we think, so those on the outside cannot tell what we are. We can demonstrate any set of qualities through our actions; but these outward traits do not necessarily reflect us. They can reflect our thinking; but they may be a cover for a different attitude. We may appear to be sweet, but our thinking is hostile. We may seem courageous, but inside, we are intimidated. Outward appearances can be deceiving.

Beginning Points

1. The ultimate goal of a believer in Jesus Christ is for the inner person to match the outward actions.
2. To attain that harmony of thinking and actions, there must be a change in your mental attitude.
3. That change must come to influence everything that we do. Many things can influence us in this life. We can have circumstantial ethics. Our thinking should match the activities of our lives.
4. This change can only be accomplished in us through Bible doctrine metabolized.
5. Bible doctrine is the ultimate agent of change. There are many ways by which we can change. Many people who do not like themselves can turn to counseling for change. Many are influenced by other people. The ultimate means of change is Bible doctrine. That affects the whole person. This is called epistemological rehabilitation.
6. This is how we live the Christian way of life. This glorifies God.

Hypocrisy is when your thinking and actions do not match. There is no other way to know about God and His plan. His thinking should be our thinking in the spiritual life. This is our guide to faith and to the practice of the spiritual life. Our guide of faith and practice. Along with the empowerment of God the Holy Spirit, Bible doctrine is completely successful in renovating our thinking (as per Rom. 12:2).

Renovated Thinking

1. Not believer can afford to be without the continuous intake of Bible doctrine circulating in the stream of consciousness. Our thinking and actions cannot change apart from Bible doctrine.
2. The resulting norms and standards and wisdom, formed from metabolized doctrine. Should not our thinking and actions be conformed to His will.
3. Now our outward actions reflects the plan of God. This fulfills our obligations to Him.
4. It motivates our upward climb, advancing to ever greater spiritual maturity. That takes us to a renovation of thinking and a conformity to His will. We cannot do this without thinking with His mind.
5. We are arrogant and self-centered; and this impedes our movement.

Legalistic actions hide sinful thinking, which is what hypocrisy is. With renovated thinking, we are able to develop problem solving devices. This is how we can deal with adversity in our life.

Practical divine wisdom is where this starts. The command post of our soul. This is what drives our thinking. We become a wise person in Bible doctrine. When we take on this kind of wisdom, these problem solving devices and this removes much of the humanistic bombardment. This gives us personal love towards God and impersonal love toward all mankind. You cannot live with other people apart from this spiritual skill .

Finally we are occupation with Christ. We know Him and we love Him and we think like Him. This is how we solve problems in Stress is what we do to ourselves when we have no doctrine in our souls. Renovated thinking is when our inner thinking is reflected in our actions. If there is none being metabolized, the flow is stunted, ignored or rejected. All of us believers are so easily distracted from Bible doctrine. We plow through our daily busy lives and we become neglectful of our spiritual lives. The flow becomes slow and muddy. The believer drives up and withers.

What is your priority? Spiritual growth should be your #1 priority. You need wisdom in the command post of the soul. Problem solving devices exist as potential, but they are not activated without doctrine. But stress is activated without Bible doctrine. When all of this stops working, it means that Bible doctrine is no longer flowing through your soul. And all of these get skewed or they do not work at all. When that happens, arrogance becomes a common source of distraction. Arrogance deflects attention from grace and doctrinal orientation to self-orientation.

Self-absorption + legalism generates self-righteousness. That is the epitome of self-centeredness in the Christian. You make excuses for yourself. You deceive yourself. Then the spiritual life is out of kilter and stress becomes a part of your adversity. This all begins with arrogant self-centeredness.

Taking Responsibility

1. Promoting themselves or exonerating themselves.
2. They elevate themselves in success or explain away their deficiencies.
3. Such people hide their flaws and minimize their failures to themselves. Self-absorption.
4. One of the favorite problem solving techniques is to blame everyone else.
5. People get so enamored with their own self-importance that others
6. You must accept responsibility for who you are.

Example of Afghanistan exit, which is to be solved by offering a plethora of excuses or blame others who had nothing to do with it. We see this all around us.

Humility no longer exists for the believer who lacks a flow of Bible doctrine.

In the case of believers, he cannot comply with Paul's demand that he take responsibility. Philip. 3:13 Brothers, I do not consider that I have made it my own. But one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead,...

The Apostle Paul, with all of his doctrine, says, "It is not over yet; I have not attained it yet." It is open-ended; it never ceases. You must advance; you must evaluate your spiritual life.

Paul has to press on to the objective of a higher maturity. You would think that Paul might be arrogant with all of his knowledge. But he is able to evaluate his soul. He makes no excuses for himself. He must continue to advance, yet still seeing his own shortcomings.

In his self-evaluation. One thing that I concentrate on, one thing that I look at more closely, forgetting, setting aside, not focusing on the things which lie behind. He forgets his failures and successes. He does not over think what he had accomplished or what he has not done.

Self-centeredness, you might think about that which is related to you.

Lesson #0316

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/21/2021 2Sunday

We are here to learn about the spiritual life. This is epistemological rehabilitation; we all need a rehab as new believers. We begin to think differently; this is the foundation for our spiritual life. We are what we think. As a man thinks within himself, so he is. We must evaluate ourselves to know who we are. That is the importance of having something that we can evaluate with. Understanding these things. Philip. 3:13 reaching the goal of spiritual maturity.

Bobby has been teaching the stream of consciousness diagram. Bob conjured this up to represent what is taking place with regards to the spiritual life. He put it together in a way the Bobby finds to be remarkable. This is us. How we know what we know. How we advance to spiritual maturity. The results of spiritual maturity. Then we come to wisdom. The problem solving devices that develop in the soul. This how we know what to do in adversity, so that adversity does not become stress in the soul. Adversity is a common malady in the human race.

Self-centeredness is not being able to evaluate yourself objectively.

The Evils of Self-centeredness

1. The evil of self-centeredness allows for little self-objectivity. Finding fault with yourself is unpalatable to the average person. I want to see myself as furthering society; but it is really about furthering oneself.
2. Evaluating self from the mirror of metabolized doctrine is not possible when you are self-centered. James 1:23–24 If you don't have a mirror, you cannot look at yourself. What you see should be exactly what the Lord wants us to be. Your spiritual life must be in operation.
3. This bloated self-image engenders subjectivity, not just about self, but about other people's failures. It is now working outward. We are subjective about other people's failures. You promote your own self-righteousness. Our comparison is not with other people but with Bible doctrine.

4. So based upon some false sense of superiority, a self righteous believer spends a lot of time observing other people around him or her. What do they do? They judge then and spend a lot of time trying to correct them. Correcting them on the basis of their own legalistic standards.
5. This person demonstrates self-righteousness by revealing sins, failures, and flaws about anyone else to anyone who will listen. You reach the point that you have to tell everyone and then feel better about it.
6. The scorn that the self righteous believer pours out on other believers and their sinful trends indicates blindness to his own sins, failures, and sin nature. There we have a basic problem. If you cannot evaluate your own sins, then you fail to rebound and you fail to be filled with the Holy Spirit. You cannot metabolize doctrine and you cannot renovate your thinking. Many Christians cannot escape their own self-righteousness. "They have got it, I don't." Do not compare yourself with other believers or other people. Personal evaluation is always self-evaluation using the standards of Bible doctrine.
7. The believer has substantial self-righteousness for self-evaluation and humility; and he replaces Christian virtue with legalism directed toward others. He sees one set of sins which he sees in others; but is blind to those in himself.
8. Christian virtue can be applied only from wisdom. The discernment from divine viewpoint. Bible doctrine flowing into that wisdom compartment. This is the result of all these classes on this topic. Look at yourself, the norms and standards implanted in your soul. These should be superlative, never comparative. If you are not looking for the superlative, then you are not looking forward. Looking forward to the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

The distraction of a crusader mentality; I am going to fix everyting that is around me.

Crusader Mentality

1. This intensifies the moral superiority, not humility. I am morally superior so I can impose my morality on others.
2. Attempt to superimpose his mores and lifestyle on others.
3. The crusader wants to change the world to fit what his own standards from his own inflated ego through humanistic schemes and methods. Look at our society today; Christians are marching, calling for legislation.
4. The activist crusader imposes his sin nature over the sin nature of others. "I will impose my sin nature over yours." Socialists just know that they are superior to the capitalists; and they think the end result will be a utopia. How do people with sin natures impose utopia on any place? Capitalism has provided us with great material blessing. We have more than any other country on earth. This did not happen by giving everyone else stuff that they don't work for.
5. That changes nothing. No humility, no wisdom, no application of problem solving devices in that sort of humanist activity.

When crusaders take up the self righteous cudgel.

Change Brought on by Political Force

1. Change will be affected by humanistic means.
2. The activist wants to institute change based upon his own model of political correctness. A superimposition of one's flawed standards over those of others. We should not have any illusions about such activists. We know what is best, and we will force you to bow to it. This removes individual freedom of choice. It imposes collective standards on the world.
3. Humanistic religion is exactly the same. Religion is even more guilty of that self-righteousness and self-centeredness. The apostate church has so often turned to legalism.
4. It is the Christian activist who tries to impose Christian standards on the unbelieving world. How can you do that? How about being a witness to the grace of God in salvation? And a change wrought in the life of a mature believer.
5. This is 1000x better than marching in the streets and trying to legislate this or that. We need government and we need good legislation; but this will not solve the problems in our life. We are not legislators; we are not in positions of decision for government. But we are to be members of the pivot.
6. Very repressive governments have produced great Christian results in some times and places. We are the solution.
7. Blessing to a nation and societal change comes by one believer at a time, those who form a pivot.

This is the crux of what is wrong with Christian activism. This can be the focus of some believers. No leader can make good decisions without the backing of a pivot.

By Me, kings reign and rulers commit justice. Without Bible doctrine, you cannot make good decisions. Where are right decisions being made now? Spiritual growth for the activist is subordinated to political change.

Political Solutions

1. When right decisions and divine establishment fade in a nation, the pivot is not growing, it is failing. That should tell us about believers in this country who have taken up activism in this country.
2. When a nation becomes so weak and degenerate, that they tolerate immoral lying superficial leaders and elect them.
3. The nation will not be preserved by Christian activists.
4. A people who seek safety, comfort and material needs with freedom from responsibility and expects the government to cover their shortcoming and mistakes, and they do only what is right in their own eyes—this describes so many believers today.
5. No nation in that position can solve the nation's problems. Put your trust where it belongs. Jesus Christ is the only One Who can change this world, soul by soul. Activism cannot change the minds of leaders or of the population. There is no stream of consciousness involved; there is no wisdom involved. Activism means disregarding divine justice and sovereignty. We hear social justice today. And half the country has gone berserk.

The history of legalistic Christianity. The Christian revels in the justness of his or her cause and his or her human viewpoint. Divine establishment might be better; but the activist may not realize what he is actually doing. There is futility in what they are doing. If abortion stops tomorrow, how many minds does this change? Changing abortion laws is not the solution. Christians are adamant about that, just don't believe that is the solution.

We need to put the problems of this nation in the Lord's hands. The pivot grows and truly affects the nation. God honors the pivot and He uses evil against evil. You can speak what is true and vote; but recognize that the only hope for this country is our spiritual maturity and the Lord working His amazing omnipotent, omniscient sovereign will for this nation.

Christian activism shows no wisdom or discernment as to how to live the Christian way of life. We cannot enforce Christian morality upon an unbelieving population. One person at a time with the gospel and Bible doctrine, leading to the wisdom and discernment of Bible doctrine. That is our objective; that is our goal.

Believers need to live their own lives before the Lord. We use the norms and standards from the Bible; not from Christian activists. The only solution that works is the gospel for unbelievers. Divine wisdom and humility in believers.

Conclusion

1. The activities of the arrogant self righteous activist may cover but never solve problems. A swamp may be covered for awhile, but it never solves these problems. Have things been solved today?
2. The inevitable result is personal reform. When activism does not appear to work, it is pure angel and other mental attitude sins. Where does that take the believers in the Christian life?
3. The polarization and further alienation of individuals and groups.
4. The crusader seeks to fix by moral reform. It is not a renovation of thinking from doctrine in the stream of consciousness.

This is the practical application of the stream of consciousness. This is what it does for us on a national level. As an illustration, you do not need that card in your pocket all of the time. It is the execution of the Christian way of life.

Lesson #0317

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/28/2021 1Sunday

Bob considered all that occurs at Berachah as related to thanks and Thanksgiving. There are some who would like to do away with this holiday. Some groups believe this to be the beginning of genocide in the country. Protesting colonization; and some who think that we don't belong here.

This is simply a power grab by those who are dissatisfied and unhappy.

Bobby thought of Psalm 59 and all that it means in the way that it is presented. Bobby put us in 5 or 6 classes on epistemological rehabilitation for understanding the connection between the mechanics of Bible doctrine, which is the foundation of our spiritual life; which propels us through the spiritual life. Gaining wisdom and discernment. The Christian way of life designed to be the way of life for us. The whole process is illustrated by the Operation Z diagram. It is the spiritual life; and the results of the spiritual life. Operation Z simply reflects how we know. We know ἐπίγνωσις doctrine. Through the stream of consciousness we come to wisdom; and this is what we know. How we know and what we know; that is epistemology. We start out idiots or babies and the more that we learn, the more we grow. Problem solving devices. That begins and end the Christian life. This diagram is us, as we rehabilitate ourselves.

“Awaken to punish the nations; do not be gracious to those in iniquity.”

Psalm 59:5 You, LORD God of hosts, are God of Israel. Rouse yourself to punish all the nations; spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah.

David could pray for the destruction of his enemies. He is not fearful. He has grace and doctrinal orientation. He has a relaxed mental attitude which precludes making emotional decisions. He is not distracted by the enemies of Israel or by personal enemies. David will make it clear in his prayer that it is a very formidable adversity that he faces.

For us, David's adversity is all the better to see where David's dependence lies under the worst conditions. These conditions seem to be habitual to David.

We come to the next 2 verses, with David's enemies:

Psalm 59:6 Each evening they [David's enemies] come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

David compares his enemies to a pack of wild, snarling dogs. There was a different view of dogs in that day. We see dogs in a very different light. Dogs were identified in several ways in the ancient world. They were not always considered bad, but they certainly do not carry the importance or the affection that we have for them today. In some cases, in the ancient world, they were highly valued. In Egypt, there were dogs made into statues that were worshipped. Dogs were used to clean up under tables. But wild dogs were great pests in the city. During the heat of the day, they would lay around and sleep; but, at night they were rabid with hunger. Homeless dogs. They were the garbage cans of the city. There were no animal shelters. They lived and died on their own savaging ability. When they find something, they will overcome it. They howl and snarl. Being called a dog is a term of great derision. The dogs there were also considered insignificant.

David's enemies want to chew him up, just like these dogs. Night after night, they prowl, looking for trouble. They are sneaky, lurking under cover of darkness. They are savage in spewing their hatred and growl.

They belch with their mouths. Words gush out of their mouths; and the vicious things that they say is constant. It bubbles out like a spring, never ceasing. This is a dedicated enemy who never lets up. That is an enemy that David is suffering.

Vitriol and hatred between one political party and another; or different opposing groups. Hate-filled souls. How can there be compromise in Congress? If you compromise with evil, you become evil.

Bobby read about Flathead County in Montana. Beautiful county. What was a very quiet community of like-minded and tolerant people has become a hotbed of vicious divisiveness. It is a picture of the enemies here.

David's Enemies That He Faces

1. This phrase confirms the vicious hatred of the enemy (swords are in their lips).
2. Lips as swords signify vitriol, bloodthirsty words being spoken.
3. These words as sword slash, cut, stab, and puncture. These are swords, word, directed towards other people. That is the objective of David's enemies. They want him cut up and left as a bloody corpse.
4. These words are designed to inflict pain, to slice, dice and...
5. Implacability that never ceases to smear and devastate. China is our implacable enemy. We have internal and external enemies. These are not minor enemies to ignore or to dismiss. His enemies try to make him as miserable as possible. That is why they speak of him in these terms. Very open wounds that demand his attention. David is describing the tremendous pressure of his enemies.

This is a terrible, relentless enemy that confronts David. He is making an issue of these fierce, dangerous enemies. He is not whining or crying. He has had these attacks before. Bobby uses the problems in our country as illustrative. This is a counterpoint or a contrast. Not to our own plight. The more you see the problem, the more confidence that you have.

God's power over human antagonisms is unparalleled. This is the bottom line of David's lament. Confidence in the Lord's deliverance; confidence in the solution; confidence in our epistemological rehabilitation. It brings us through the crisis. This is what we use to flow through the stream of consciousness.

The great thing about this psalm is David's solution.

David and His Vicious Enemies

1. David describes the brutal nature of his enemy. You cannot miss it.
2. The more surprising is the way that the Lord does it, even in the worst circumstances. How on earth will God get us out of this mess? What can the Lord do in the face of all this? Anything and everything. There is nothing that He cannot do with us, Our next class will be about this.
3. God brings about deliverance and sometimes in very unexpected ways. This is what God does for us. Adversity and the deliverance that is needed at just the right time.

Psalm 59:6 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

Lesson #0318

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

11/28/2021 2Sunday

Israel became a nation when they were moved out of slavery by God and out of Egypt. So they moved out. Israel came to the great obstacle, the Red Sea. They began to complain and moan, God brought us here for us to die. God can do anything, which we should remember when considering our nation. Be that as it may, God parted the Red Sea. Again, these people seeing the Red Sea parted, were scared. Moses said, "Stand still and watch the deliverance of the Lord." David is in the same situation as Moses was. Moses had a nation to shepherd, that they were a client nation to God. God had freed them from slavery and God destroyed the chariots of Pharaoh.

David tells us what his enemies are like.

Psalm 59:6 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

These are nations. When you are in this circumstance, things can happen. David does exactly the same thing with his enemies bearing down on him. David does not suggest to the Lord, "Here is what I think You should do, God." Moses did not have helpful suggestions either. David said and Moses said, "Deliver." Both of them were willing to wait on God.

Don't we think, "If we could just get the right person elected...."

Stand still and watch the Lord deliver. We must claim these same problems with God's promises. Don't go activist. All activism does is exacerbate the problem. You take it out of the Lord's hands and you put it in your own incapable hands. We are gaining wisdom as doctrine flows through the stream of consciousness. Wisdom means that we make good decisions. We begin to understand the issues. Spiritual solutions versus humanistic solutions. We need to be faith rest warriors; not spiritual activists. Activism is part of the problem. Activism is not the solution.

Using Humanistic Solutions

1. The crusader's recall of Bible doctrine no longer operates. He has taken matters into his own hands. He stops the flow of doctrine when he is out of fellowship being frustrated, angry, implacable.
2. Doctrine is replaced with humanistic applications to personal and societal problems. If you handle personal problems in a humanistic way, you will do the same thing with societal problems and have the same consequences—failure.
3. In crusader activism, activism spins out of control. Mental attitude sins abound. You cannot help it. If you react to these problems, you are out of fellowship.
4. The Christian activist, in reaction to the sins and immorality in society justify the use of any means to gain an end...all for the cause of reforming the nation. The Christian legalist has this problem in his own life. You want to change others. The same is true in the national arena. You will justify any means to reform the nation.
5. You should be giving the gospel and relying upon the Lord. Rather than imposing standards which are impossible for unbelievers to acquiesce to. How can you impose Christian standards on unbelievers. You cannot even impose divine establishment standards on those who are against these things. Bobby gave the example. Let's say that Roe v. Wade was abolished. We would be happy that there is no more murder. Bobby submits that this would not change the mind of anyone. Legislation may impose something, but it does not change minds. Only epistemological rehabilitation changes minds. One believer at a time. That changes people. God honors His Word over and above any kind of activism. We need laws, we need the rule of law. Occasionally a liberal becomes a conservative or vice versa, but that does not change anything. Only the Lord Jesus Christ changes things.
6. The Christian crusader may cause great suffering on others. Abortion clinic bombings were a very popular pastime. But nothing could be worse.

Another thing that tarnishes the name of Jesus Christ is getting on the radio and tv and beg for money. In the name of Jesus, give us your money. Berachah Church and Bobby understands money, how it is to be taken and how it is to be taken. Some churches close for not enough money. Bobby was taught in seminary how to get money. The president of the seminary asked him one day how does Berachah Church solicit money? Bobby said, "We never do that." Here Berachah is, 60 years later, and we are still here. People who cannot relax and stand still and watch the Lord fill the coffers; and if He doesn't, He doesn't. Bob used to say, "If God does not provide, then we close the doors."

When we regain as believers, when we counterattack, rather than move to crusader arrogance, to get back on track with the spiritual life, then we restore our personal defense line. Rebound, faith rest and positive volition. Doctrine once again flows through the stream of consciousness. We reestablish our wisdom. We reestablish. Moses stood on one side of the Red Sea, telling these people to relax. Faith rest spoken; faith rest personified. We can place this nation in the Lord's capable hands. One believer at a time, not through propaganda and not through force.

David is confirmed when he says, "The Lord laughs at our opposition" in v. 8. In the whole scope of God's plan, our adversity is nothing. If the Lord laughs at this adversity, then why should we be upset? David knows that his problems will be handled by the Lord. We will never face the kind of adversity that David faced. Faith rest always worked for him and it will work for us.

These howling dogs show themselves to be arrogant and self-centered; they are overconfident in their propes and their strength. The powers that be or wish to be are overconfident in their humanistic solutions.

Look at the final phrase of v. 7: ...for "Who," they [the dogs] think, "will hear us?" They do not know about the omnipotent God Whom they oppose. Foolishness and failure is always a product of overconfidence and egotistical arrogance. There are overconfident loudmouths who seem to win all of the time.

Those Who Oppose God and Oppose Divine Establishment

1. S
2. With that type of attitude, the loser forgets the omnipotent, omnipresent God.
3. They include God in the category of the deaf and blind. God is not interested in what I am doing.
4. They reckon without know what God is capable of. They have no clue.
5. They underestimate what God will accomplish against them. Do they know what God can accomplish against them? We know that God will never be mocked. Opposition to divine establishment, opposition to Bible doctrine, opposition to Christianity. Those are ultimate losers. Even those who seem to be winning, do not ever think that they are just happy-go-lucky people. They can never seem to accomplish what they want. A grinding wheel wears itself down as well. Do not every take justice into your own hands; let the justice of God do its job. God knows their plans, their objectives, and He knows how to deal with them. God has and will continue to do exactly that.

God may also use these people for discipline, for individual believers and for a client nation.

The Enemies of God

1. The enemies do not believe that God exists. They do not understand Him at all.
2. If there is no God, how can He hear or observe their actions? They believe they have nothing to fear from those higher than themselves. The elites think that they are the ones who have the plan to solve world problems. "Just do what I say?" They believe that one set of sin natures can lead another set of sin natures to utopia. They can accomplish a lot, but when they oppose God, they are no better off than the dumbest person on earth. They think that things are getting better, but they are lying about it constantly. This is an apropos picture of these kinds of people.
3. Their monumental arrogance is revealed by their rejection of the Almighty.
4. They will, however, know failure, even if they never acknowledge God Who crushes them. They may hide it from themselves. They hide nothing from God; and God deals with them. These words directed towards David are sharp and offensive; their arrogant words are like slashing swords. But the sword will be turned on them.

W

1. Ultimately when the evil is turned against David, that evil is actually turned against God and His plan. Where is the win in that?
2. That is always a losing proposition. Then you can rest in it. If you know that someone opposes the plan of God, you know that they cannot win. They can wreak havoc, but they cannot win. They will be crushed under the heel of God. Ultimately, there will be defeat.

David faces the worst enemies; but they are really God's enemies. The conclusion is this, let the Lord handle these kinds of people in only the way that the Lord can do it. Do not get in the way of God's jet. You can, with the Lord, laugh at them. David's enemies think that no one is listening.

Psalm 59:6 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

Lesson #0319

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/1/2021 Wednesday

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

David is writing about his enemies. They like to talk and they are filled with hot air. They have swords for lips; daggers that fire out from their lips.

They are talking in clandestine terms, wondering how to get rid of David. And they ask, "Who hears us?" They think that no one hears them, but they are like a pack of wild dogs.

Who Hears?

1. In their minds there is no one to listen or to intervene on David's behalf. They do not think that anyone can stop them or stage a counterattack.
2. Their words are directed towards David and towards Israel. These words are sharp and devastating. They are design to remove David from the palace.
3. They intend to gain and maintain power by their own clandestine means, which they will then put into ruinous action against David and against the nation.
4. They will attempt to remove David, just as hostile nations will attempt to wipe out Israel. We can look back on the history of nation Israel and we can see this kind of activity against Israel. Today, it is Muslim nations which want to destroy Israel. Behind antisemitism is always the cosmic system. Israel as a nation still has a future. Israel has a future in the final 7 years of the age of Israel. The final entry of the Messiah. In the meantime, the kings of the earth will be arrayed against Israel. It is God Who constantly delivers Israel. The northern kingdom was annihilated by the Assyrians and has never be reconstituted. The whole history of Israel, that Babylonian activity, God preserved Israel. Israel is constantly in danger. This is David saying exactly that.
5. The little application: this is exactly the method of any revolutionary group; this clandestine group, like Marxist revolutionaries. We have had Marxists ever since. We see them here in Black Lives Matter and Antifa. Both groups are revolutionaries; their arrogant words are like slashing sword. But the sword will be turned against them. God will unleash His power and His sword on those who dismiss Him and His power.
6. When such evil is directed towards God people or persons, the evil is actually directed against God and His plan. They of course are directing their movement against people and against a nation, but ultimately, these actions are against God. That is always a losing proposition. Evil actually against God, directed against Him. Even if it is never recognized as to how they were crushed. Hitler probably had no idea why he was destroyed. But it was not the German people, as he said, but God, Who took him down. The Jews today are still preserved. Those who are antisemitic will find themselves on the trash heap of history.

There is no one human or otherwise, these people think, who hear them. Their authority is the highest in their own estimation. They do not see God as being a factor. There is nothing for them to fear from anyone who is higher than themselves. What monumental arrogance to reject the Almighty. They do not understand an omnipresent God. People would destroy this country for their own benefit and for their own power. When that power is illegally usurped, when revolutionaries would destroy whatever is in their way. God knows them and God knows their intents. God has always known what He would do about them.

God will first have a good laugh at the expense. Their puffed up folly.

Psalm 59:7 There they are, bellowing with their mouths with swords in their lips— for "Who," they think, "will hear us?"

To v. 8:

Psalm 59:8 But you, O LORD, laugh at them; you hold all the nations in derision.

God saying, "Do they really think that they can get away with their arrogant ideas? We can certainly understand God's viewpoint here.

God Laughing at David's Enemies

1. God is filled with mirth and amusement at the ridiculous and irrelevant notion that He does not hear or does not know or is not involved with His people. Arrogance to think that they can wipe out God's people.
2. David's enemies, personal and national, are a joke in God's sight.
3. But, the result of God's laughter will not be funny to those whom God laughs at.
4. God laughs at fools, right before His justice goes into operation against them.

God Scoffs at David's Enemies

1. This words has some bite to it.
2. Laag is the Hebrew verb here.
3. This verb can also be translated to laugh.
4. It is much more sinister in this context to those who are opposing God.
5. God mocks or derides those who think that He does not know them. "They think that I don't know what they are saying?"
6. In the human realm, it is cruel to mock a person for their shortcomings or their handicaps.
7. When God mocks or derides, it is righteous derision. It is something that no one wants to be the target of. This is not some sin like mocking someone who does not deserve it. God is not cruel. He has a purpose in what He does. Those who think they can act against His people are mocked by Him.
8. That attitude of God carries the assurance of true justice about to be unleashed, about to be administered. The boom is about to be lowered. The object of it will be crushed.

Bobby has spoken of Laura K. Tapping many times. She was severely handicapped, but she learned how to do certain things. Her mother insisted that she not go to a special school. She went to Spring Branch High School. She got mocked every day. She came off the bus in tears. It was a very horrible thing. She learned human nature; she learned about people in that way. And she was toughened up like none of us will be. Few understood people as well as she did. She was mocked and it was not pleasant for her.

This verse has a wider scope than just David's enemies. It extends to all nations who oppose Christ, who oppose the Savior. Islam is opposed to Christ, opposed to His Messiahship. God laughs at Islam. They believe that they will conquer and rule the world for allah. Christianity will never be defeated. We see this in history constantly. This is particularly true in the future.

Just as Christ destroyed the 185,000 at the gates of Jerusalem.

Psalm 59:8 But you, O LORD, laugh at them; you hold all the nations in derision.

Psalm 2:1 Why do the nations rage and the peoples plot in vain?

Psalm 2:2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD and against his Anointed, saying,

Psalm 2:3 "Let us burst their bonds apart and cast away their cords from us."

This is their counsel. We are independent from God. We don't need God, we will destroy His people.

Now to God's viewpoint:

Psalm 2:4 He who sits in the heavens laughs; the Lord holds them in derision.

God mocks His enemies. Those enemies who are anti-God, antisemitic, anti-divine establishment, God laughs at them. They do not have a chance. We have every opportunity.

Psalm 2:5 Then he will speak to them in his wrath, and terrify them in his fury, saying,

They spoke and now God speaks. He terrifies them in His fury. Christians die in very difficult circumstances. Those who follow Christ will always survive. How many nations have tried. It is encouraging to know that God laughs at such people. This attitude by God applies today.

God sees the evil and His plan cannot be foiled. If God is for us, who can be against us?

This is not to minimize what other nations can do to us, but this puts everything into perspective. Even though we are in the midst of great enemies who seem to be winning.

God and the Enemies of Client Nation Usa

1. Such crises as these do not threaten God at all.
2. If we are thinking with the mind of Christ, we should look at our enemies and recognize they are enemies of God. The enemies of a client nation will not survive. And believers in a client nation will continue to advance and represent the Lord on this earth. God will be victorious in the end. And we are a part of it.
3. God's thinking must be our thinking in times of trouble.
4. If they oppose God, God will deal with them.
5. For us, there may be very difficult circumstances, we may live through very difficult times, but we should never be threatened. We should not fear for our safety or for our lives. No fear. Not when we think with the mind of Christ. God looks at those who oppose Him and oppose us.

6. God scoffs at the most powerful human beings who oppose Him. God's plan will come to fruition, no matter what. They are always thwarted.

You will never see one who fights for power, gains it and uses it for evil. They will always be frustrated, angry and upset. Their plans always go awry. That is God's doing.

Man Cannot Taunt God

1. David calls out every day for some champion of Israel to come out and fight. But David says, who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should taunt the armies of the Living God? How could this guy taunt the God of Israel. God will not be mocked.
2. If this is true, who can taunt your faith or your Biblical norms and standards. Who can taunt the standards of the Living God. Don't worry about it.
3. Divine standards are inviolable when firmly implanted in the stream of consciousness. David went out and fought Goliath.
4. We do not have to plot ways to defeat such enemies. That is what Christian activism does. Let God do the fighting. Moses said, "Stand still and watch the deliverance of the Lord."
5. If you do that, then this is truly an exercise in the confirmation of God's power and care. Now you are focusing on the omnipotent rationale.
6. Even if God does not remove the problem, the problem people, the problem nation, then He has a reason. We forget that God's plan cannot be mocked or defeated; it cannot be overturned. No power on earth can do this. You cannot defeat God's plan; you cannot destroy the revolutionaries who are rampant among us today. They may even seem to succeed.
7. If God does not remove problems, then it may be a national or personal discipline. A client nation may no longer be fulfilling its responsibility.
8. It can also be a personal lesson to be learned by us.
9. If God does not remove the problem, then it can be suffering for blessing. God's plan marches on; and He is just pushing us into His plan.
10. God will always show us great and mighty things in times of trouble. Jer. 33:3 Call to Me and I will answer you. I will tell you great and mighty things which you do not know. God will take care of circumstances in ways that we could never do; and that we could never even imagine. He will show us. So we have to relax. God will show us these great and mighty things. Moses and Jeremiah understood this. Once we see His deliverance, we will be relieved and convinced of His power. And we will come to know the most marvelous results, knowing that He will do it.

We can depend upon God because He laughs at those who are against the plan of God. The spiritual life is the solution.

There is nothing else like this in the world. We can laugh at all of our enemies. They bring a weak game against us, because this is against God. God works for us and He shows us great and mighty things.

Lesson #none                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT                      12/2/2021 Thursday

Bobby's got vertigo.

Lesson #0320                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT                      12/5/2021 1Sunday

Psalm 59:9 O my Strength, I will watch for You, for You, O God, are my fortress.

David is leading the nation and he cannot afford not to be confident.

Many commentators understand the first address to be made towards God. But Bobby disagrees and the translators of the NASB agree with him. How did they get it right? They understand this phrase to be causal.

The strength is the strength of his enemies. Singular his, which is why some understand this to refer to God. But this can also refer to a category of people.

The singular does not keep this from apply to any enemy that we might have; and it would apply to an enemy—man or nation—towards him.

We want the ability to deal with a situation. David cannot do so. David reaches a point where his enemy is too strong for him to handle. He does have confidence in his own abilities. He's developed them over a lifetime.

We all know the human solution. When we are anxious, depressed. We get phrases of comfort, but these words contain no real permanent assurance in what they say. The exhortation for this type of perseverance is basically relying upon your own strength and ability. Or you use someone else's strength to see you through. When you are not even using your own human resources. You are very, very weak. That is a guarantee of a failure to solve problems. Even the strongest of us have no permanent solution when we depend solely upon ourselves. That is all human strength and viewpoint can offer. Temporary alleviation of problems. But what about enjoying life and having a relaxed mental attitude? You need resources for all of your problems. No relaxed mental attitude when you are under constant pressure and you fall back only on your own reservations.

The strength of the Lord is available to every believer, but this is related to advancing through the spiritual life. This doctrine must be flowing through the stream of consciousness. We must all pray; and it is a part of our spiritual life. Confidence in every aspect of life requires spiritual resources, and this is always David's fallback position.

This phrase is repeated throughout David's writings in many different forms. Many a psalm that David wrote has divine Omnipotence to the rescue. Many times David places his troubles squarely on David.

David's Faith Rest Drill

1. David is holding a vigil here. He is looking for God to come to his aid. This is because God does not immediately come to our aid. We must wait and persevere.
2. David has ceased striving in his own strength, to overcome this enemy. It is obvious that he cannot do this on his own.
3. David is waiting here for the divine response against his enemies. While waiting, he uses the faith rest drill. David has confidence because he claims the promise. Stronghold is a word that provides a rationale.
4. He claims the omnipotence rationale. God's choices cannot be thwarted.

David's Misgab

1. This means a secure height, a place of refuge; a place where he can have confidence.
2. This is a restatement of David's original petition. It started in v. 1 and it picks up right here.
3. This is a picture of a secure fortification. We might say that this is a castle in the center of a siege. This is a strong point; a place of last refuge. The castle keep. God keeps us in this safe place, and David can look down and see his frustrated enemies.
4. Nothing can get to this protected place. When we trust this, when we recognize this, that God can protect us, then we can have this confidence.
5. David is expressing this confidence that an all-powerful God will be victorious over his enemies. He has the Lord of the armies on his side, the God of Israel. The god who made a promise to Abraham. David is in the line of the Messiah. David is the first king in his line; the Messiah will be the last king in his life.
6. David has an unassailable relationship with the Lord. He is secure. It is his relationship that makes him unassailable. He depends upon this relationship.
7. His stronghold is his fellowship with the Lord. As believers in Jesus Christ, we have this same relationship. We all have the potential but we must stay in fellowship.
8. David is secure in his relationship with an unfailing commander and Lord. Nothing in the cosmic system can defeat the God of Israel.

God has a plan for all of us and we do not know when it will end. We have a secure place, a protected area. God's plan can continue for our lives. We may not like the circumstances we are in, and they are not going our way. These are an opportunity for us to utilize the doctrine that we have to advance. David is not upset; he knows that God can handle it.

If you have that fellowship with God, then you have confidence in our own lives.

Psalm 9:9 The LORD is a stronghold [= misgab] for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble.

Psalm 9:10 And those who know your name put their trust in you, for you, O LORD, have not forsaken those who seek you.

This is a relationship. We can claim promises and doctrinal rationales. We accept it and we trust in it. God does not forsake those who seek Him.

Occupation with Christ is our stronghold. Those who seek God; that is a guarantee. Believers always have this secure stronghold available. But they must trust in the Lord to maintain it. That takes faith and the assurance of Bible doctrine in the stream of consciousness. When we move away from our fortress, then we can utilize it. The fact that we can unequivocally depend upon God is elaborated on in v. 10.

Psalm 59:9 O my Strength, I will watch for You, for You, O God, are my fortress.

Lesson #0321

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/5/2021 2Sunday

David's strength always lay in God. He elaborates in v. 10 from v. 9.

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

The last verse was God's omnipotence; in this verse, it is God's grace or His steadfast love. God makes David look triumphantly upon his enemies.

God was previously a formidable fortress in which David could stay and depend upon. David is certain that the Lord can have victory over his enemies. God is working for him. Lovingkindness means what in connection to a God who is omnipotent. We don't think of a warrior as being loving. Here, God's lovingkindness is a part of Him being a stronghold for believers. He shows great lovingkindness to those that He is protecting. Deliverance is a part of the relationship between God and David. This deliverance may involve some crushing of the enemy; but God can has lovingkindness towards David.

God has things which motivate Him. Not like emotions motivate us.

Chesed is the word found here, translated lovingkindness. This denotes divine love in this context. There is not greater relational term between people than the concept of love. This is entirely relational. All of us have a concept of love. We may know what love means. When we say, "I love you," it has great meaning. God's love, as depicted by chesed, is a much more powerful love. A love between God and His people. It is greater than anything that we can develop on our own. His capacity for love is much greater than ours. It is incomprehensible to us.

It is hard not to superimpose our idea of love when talking about God's love. We must understand God's motives.

God's Love

1. David needs to claim God's love as his own.
2. This is an example of the love of God rationale for David to utilize. When you need deliverance, you apply the love of God rationale.
3. God's lovingkindness motivates Him delivering us. No enemy can assail us.
4. God's love is a guarantee of God's overwatch, His help, His care of David. David is never beyond the eyes or love of God ever. David has made many mistake. If God's love depends upon our worthiness, that is just like human love.
5. God meets us with Lovingkindness.

Bobby needs to stop and give us a doctrine of the Lovingkindness of God.

Lovingkindness of God

1. God is love. The quality of love is intrinsic to God. It is a part of His essential being or nature. It is an attribute which defines God. It is a part of the definition of God. This is an attribute which is way overworked and vastly misunderstood by Christendom. We are not born with the capacity to love. We are not love and often we have nothing to do with love. We must develop our love; the basis is an object. God's love is intrinsic.
2. Love is what God is. This is what God is as well as what He does.
3. This intrinsic love of God defined is this: the absolute virtue and perfect benevolence of God's thinking. That is Who He is. And His actions (that is what He does).
4. When God's benevolence and care is directed to you, it assumes the character of love. Love in the human realm is a very personal thing.

God's Attribute of Love

1. This moves God to communicate Himself to mankind. God is not obligated to tell us Who He is, but He does this from His love for us. God develops a relationship because we can know Him.
2. God's love is demonstrated in the fact that He reveals Himself to us. This has always bothered humanity. Most superimpose their own concept of God over God, because that is what they would do. We know the written word and the Living Word; and through these two things, we know God. Otherwise, we would just make it up as we go along.
3. The cross is the supreme evidence and the proof of His love. God sent His Son to become man and to die for us. That is love. There is no merit which we have to deserve this in any way.
4. When we come to know God through His communication of Himself, and that is our obligation, and we do that from searching His mind, we then in turn learn to love

God. We learn how to love God and we learn how to love in the human realm. Love is better understood if we understand God's love towards us.

5. We learn to love God and we gain capacity to love others as we learn to think like He does. We gain His thinking. We use His mind. This is what doctrine does for us.
6. 1John 4:19 We love because He first loved us. This is the relational aspect of His love for us. That is David's position in v. 10. David believes that God is his stronghold because God loves him.

God's Relationship with His Creatures

1. Love along with the attributes of righteousness and justice are the prime motives and cause for God's relationship with His creatures. This is where God meets us in life. We cannot separate these things out. Love is the motive and the cause. There is no emotional connotation in what God does. God's love is governed. If just one attribute is emphasized and others are lessened, then we are no longer dealing with divine attributes.
2. Perfect righteousness is the standard of God's love; it is the standard of His relationship with us. This gets very complex. The attributes of God are simple and can be easily named. But understanding how they interact is a whole other thing. We cannot leave any attribute out.
3. God's justice protects God's character in relation to man. God judges sin from love; what happened on the cross? God must condemn sin. But God's love did something about it. God does not love sin; but God loves us. God did something about our sin. Justice and righteousness are just as much present at the cross. Justice and righteousness guard the purity of God's love. They keep God's love from being emotional, sloppy, maudlin.
4. Love along with divine integrity (justice and righteousness of God) is where God meets mankind with benevolence, with care and with deliverance. Psalm 59:10 God's love is meaningless apart from His justice and righteousness. This makes God's love all the more dramatic and all the more incredible. Then we begin to understand exactly what we have and what we should use. God's lovingkindness meets us. Our attitude must be inspired by an object.

What Is God's Love in Relation to Us?

1. God's grace is integral to His love.
2. God's love does not require inspiration. How many poems are inspired by love? How many songs are inspired by love? But merit is not required even for God to be merciful towards us.
3. That means that God's love for us is given, regardless of our worthiness. That is something that we have a hard time with.
4. That is another aspect of God's love and benevolence that we do not ever think of. How do we deserve God's love? We don't. This reveals another incredible aspect of His love.

5. God always possesses love and He gives of Himself, whether or not there is an occasion or an object. God's love is never compromised by sin, human good, or evil. God's love is protected by His righteousness and justice. God loves us regardless.
6. God's love is intrinsic and it exists with or without an object of love. God does not need an object in order to be love. God's love existed before He created anything or anyone. It is just Who God is. It is His character.
7. This divine chesed is enduring, persistent and eternal. Psalm 100:5 For the Lord is good, His lovingkindness is everlasting and His faithfulness to all generations. God is faithful to us. Psalm 35: the earth is full of the lovingkindness of God. There is no place that His love does not penetrate. God's love lasts forever. In distinction, God's love is infinite and eternal.

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

We gain capacity to love all people by means of our understanding of God's love. We are mandated to love our neighbor, the same way that God loves sinners.

Lesson #0322                      Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT      12/8/2021 Wednesday

Psalm 9:9 The LORD is a stronghold [= misgab] for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble.

God is David's stronghold in the face of great enemies. He claims a faith rest rationale under these difficult circumstances. Divine Omnipotence rationale. God's power is that which protects him.

Satan's cosmic system cannot stand up to God. We have an armor that God provides for us. It is our armor in the devil's world. David says that he has a stronghold. There is the same meaning from the Old Testament. It is like a castle where there is one door in; and no one gets in if those in the castle do not want them in. Unassailable stronghold. David simply depends upon that strength. He knows that it is coming. He knows that it is about divine motive. The reason for God's omnipotence.

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love [or, loving kindness] will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

Lovingkindness from God

1. God's lovingkindness moves David and God looks to defeat David's enemies.
2. That is what the power of God and lovingkindness of God does for David. Complete deliverance and triumph in life. David is part of God's plan. What God does for David comes from God's lovingkindness. God's love is not an emotional love. When you mix love and emotion, then that goes up and down. You have highs and lows. That happens with human love; but not with God. God's love is entirely different from our love.

3. The divine motive for God meeting David and flexing His omnipotence in order to rescue David is His lovingkindness. David needs to claim this love for his own.
4. This is an example of two faith rest rationales combining. The omnipotence rationale and the love of God rationale. These assure us; they guarantee us that this is for our benefit. Love is Who God is. God can do nothing less than love us. God has to love us, because that is Who He is. He is love.

Lovingkindness comes from chesed, and we got the divine attribute of love of God in action. Bobby will continue this doctrine with a clearer description of love. Chesed is God's unfailing love. This is David's reason for confidence. Unfailing love will meet David.

Unfailing Love

1. Unfailing love describes God's personal relationship with us. This affects our relationships with people.
2. That is why David calls upon God's love here. God does not meet us apart from His love. He does not meet us apart from that.
3. God is absolute. All of His attributes are absolute. There is no flaw and no increase or decrease of any of them. God does not love us less because we fail Him; He does not love us more because we do a great job for Him.
4. Ideally speaking, our love begins to conform to God's love. The more God's love is unfailing, the more our love is unfailing. We also develop impersonal love towards us. There are moments in a human relationship when love does not carry everything. That is the flaw within us. But God does not have any of that in Him. We can sour on love; we can have bad experiences in love. We can be crushed by love. That can never happen with God. God loves me with this kind of love.
5. The love that God shows us is the true nature of love. Our love increases in his capacity. God's love shows us what love is.
6. God's love is a model for what our own love should be. From this, we develop capacity to love others. Some of the great marriages are based upon having the love of God.
7. God's love is His thinking and His motivation. God thinks in terms of love. It is the cause for what He does for us. Love means something else to God as well. Whom God loves, He disciplines. It is still motivated by love.
8. We can have the same thinking and motivation as we develop the mind of Christ in our own souls. That is the capacity for it.

We can only comprehend how God treats us based upon His revelation. We come to know God through His communication in doctrine. Remember, love is the benevolence of His thinking in His actions towards us. The plan of God is for our benefit. That is the love of God in action for everything. God cannot fail to love us. God is chesed. Giving His Only Son is God's epitome of love. His lovingkindness will meet us.

God's Never-ceasing Love

1. God's love is a never-ceasing love. We may claim to love, but tomorrow, who knows.
2. The love that cannot fail because God cannot fail. When you love someone, it is very easy to be disappointed by them. God never disappoints.
3. In short, unfailing love reveals the nature of our relationship with God from His perspective. If we have a great love relationship in this life, it is good to know what the other person's perspective of what you are. When you find that true friend to you, then you love that person, and it does not matter what they do. You may not like what they do, but that does not diminish your love. That is God's love. It never fails to be that way.
4. God's love meets us where we need Him the most. This is where we see it the most.
5. God's love assures His grace and benevolence. His grace and love are intimately connected. He loves us and provides everything for us.

David now claims that rationale of love for God to deliver him from his enemies. God's care and benevolence works for us under every circumstance.

This unfailing love is also David's motivation. David knows that God loved him in eternity past; and that God provided for him in eternity past. God's love was there far before the current situation presented itself. God's love was there before anyone existed. When there was no object, there was still love. When there is an object, God's love is expressed toward the object. We come to understand, that God's love is to our benefit in everything. This love does not waiver or change. David knows that God will provide for him in the near future and all the way into eternity.

David stands in awe of God's unfailing love for him. David claims this for his way out of these circumstances. This motivates his patience to wait for the Lord.

People say, where is God; why did God let this happen to me? That is blasphemy. God deals with us in every circumstance for our benefit. God's love for David is built upon God's unfailing love. David knows God; he knows the nature of God's love. He knows what the grace of God is.

David will survive and his line will survive. He knows that God's plan for him will be fulfilled. It is the same for us. We know God and his unfailing love. We can depend upon it. We cannot let God does. When we love someone, we don't want to let them down. We want them to always see us in the light. We don't want to let the Lord down. God's love is the impetus and the motivation for us to keep the doctrine flowing through and moving through our stream of consciousness. We gain our own problem solving device, the capacity to love God. Personal love for God, which is a spiritual life motivator. This is why it is a part of the problem solving devices. David recognizes Who God is and what He has done for David. God's love to David is so evident to David. This is why he speaks with such faith and assurance when he writes these words. David has enemies at the gates; and he writes down this psalm.

Psalm 84:11 For the LORD God is a sun and shield; the LORD bestows favor and honor. No good thing does he withhold from those who walk uprightly.

What is more powerful than the sun? There is also the glory of God. This is making a comparison to Who God is. The Lord God is a sun and He is a shield. This power and this glory; but He is also a protector and a defender. This is the same image as found in Psalm 59:9. God's love in action is not withholding any good thing from those who walk uprightly.

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

Psalm 59:10a A God of unfailing love will meet David...

Meeting David is not a handshake. This is not a meet and greet.

Qadam

1. Meet here is the Hebrew verb qadam,
2. Qadam means to go before, to go in front of.
3. It also means to act beforehand.
4. It is an ambiguous terms that carries the same connotation to prevent something.
5. Here, it means, to go before; to prevent, to obstruct.
6. Hence, the lovingkindness will go before David.

David is convinces that an unfailing, steadfast love of God would go before him, to defend him, to deliver him. The day will come when David will see his enemies and the enemies of his house overthrown.

David will request that God scatter them; and he will also request for God to destroy them. So, which is it? There is a reason why David says both. A very practical reason for us today. We can claim the same conviction that David has, when our cause is just and commensurate with divine establishment.

Lesson #0323

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/9/2021 Thursday

David knew that God would deal with his enemies. Now David makes a surprising request. He asks for God not to kill his enemies. David wants God to use His omnipotence to scatter rather than to kill his enemies. It seems like removing these people would be to David's benefit. So what then is the reason for David's magnimity regarding these killers. There is no question in David's mind what God might do to his enemies. "Here is what I think, God," David says. He does ask for God to bring them down.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

This is a bold request on David's part. He is telling God how to handle his enemies. Is he playing God? David understands something that we must understand. He knows that God's will must be done on earth. What God does is always to our benefit. He does not have to tell God what to do in this situation. The unfailing love of God is inaction. David has a good reason for making this request. He is not second guessing God nor is he demanding a certain thing from David. He has something in mind that is very important for us and for Israel to understand.

David has a reason for sparing the lives of his enemies.

Lest My People Forget

1. The people will forget Who their Deliverer is.
2. They will forget the God of Israel and go their own way. This happened in the history of Israel. He knows that this is a strong possibility. He is praying for his nation here.
3. This will happen in the history of Israel where enemies are destroyed. With enemies destroyed, Israel will forget the source of her deliverance. They will go about their lives and forget about God's place in the national entity. They could enter into idolatry as a result. The same problem of the southern kingdom. That is what they did. David knew that there was a danger of this. David knew that his people should not marry the neighbors. They would be affected in their walk with the Lord; they would chase after false gods.
4. If God simply scatters these enemies, then they are still around.
5. In a reduced state, the enemies are no longer an imminent threat. But Israel has a continuing reminder of what God did in the past; even in the immediate past. Israel already has a history to look to. Now with a scattering of enemies, they have a current history to look at.
6. They will know what God did in the past and they know what God will continue to do. They will trust in divine deliverance.
7. The enemy is still lurking out there. David defeated the Philistines on a number of occasions. But they were still out there. Remember when David got in trouble with Bathsheba? He did not go out there for war, as he should have. The Philistines continued out there, always a threat. Remember who it is who defeats the Philistines time after time.
8. For long term benefits, the enemy should continue to lurk out there. There was always that. David understood that the nation must remember. Long term benefit is what is on David's mind. It is like the necessity of maintaining doctrine in the flow of thinking, lest we forget and stray into reversionism. Forgetting the Christian life; forgetting problem solving devices, forgetting the things which matter in this life.

What is wrong with having a picture of the Lord Jesus Christ and gazing at it and thinking about Him. How do you worship the Lord Jesus Christ: in doctrine and in spirit. Not by means of a figure.

Israel have a real problem with idolatry. They started out with a golden calf after God got them through the Sea of Reeds. David knew the propensity of Israel, so he wrote this.

Why David Wants His Enemies Scattered

1. This lesson needs to be repeated over and over again. We have had many wars in our history and we have maintained freedom because of those wars. We can look back in history and understand the reason for them and the good results for them. We seem to be forgetting. We need a reminder of future enemy incursions. They may have been dispersed.
2. This is what David requests—scattering.
3. What better picture to see this former enemy being squelched and scattered by God. We are going to get into one of the greatest ones of those that has ever happened.
4. This is a faith rest rationale to the nation.

This is exactly what happened to the Soviet Union. Bobby remembers the Berlin wall coming down. A pivotal event which took place after a 50 year cold war. The eastern bloc and the western bloc. This was the fall of the iron curtain and the disillusion of USSR. Romania, Bulgaria, the Balkans, etc.

Bobby was in that area at that time. The Soviet Union left its soldiers in Germany for years after the wall came down. They could not afford to bring them home. They were a blight on the country. God scattered them. Communism today, Marxism, socialism is still with us. The teeth were pulled; it was scattered. We would continue to be aware of its evil presence in the world. There were still satalight nations which still clung to this old ideology which did not work.

Lutheran church and a plaque for the 95 theses on the front door. We have forgotten what the enemy looks like. God scattered the Soviet Union but we have forgotten.

We defeated the power of China, holding them back in 1951. They have been training for war ever since. They continue to challenge us. We have not learned our lesson, and we have not seen the scattered Marxist nations to understand what that means.

The other nations forgot how God scattered our enemies. Israel recognizes this problem today; and it is incumbent upon them to defend themselves. Israel today has seen their enemies scattered. They were vastly outnumbered for the 6 days war. Israel is still prepared to defend themselves. We need to be reminded about what God can and will do for us.

The United States today is on a path to leave Christ and get onto a path of secular humanism. As Marxism and socialism becomes ever more popular.

David knows that the enemies of Israel will continue to be many; and their schemes will continue to be many. Look at our history, how the United States has been delivered in history after war after war. We scattered and destroyed many of our enemies. Here we are reading and studying the same viewpoint. It applies to us just as much today as it did to Israel back then.

Now our enemies appear to be internal as much as external.

Application of These Principles

1. We need to be reminded or we so easily forget, what we have seen and what we have been taught. We are being taught Bible doctrine, wisdom, we are being given a picture. We need to remember it.
2. That is the importance of what Bob said. Repetition of Bible doctrine. To be reminded of where our strength lies; of who is our shield. Of who is our Protector.
3. Without inculcation and repetition, believers forget, particularly in times of crisis. We are in crisis today, and believers today cannot stand the pressure situations. Believers are searching today for solutions that do not work.
4. We must look to the Lord with patience for deliverance. Remember the Lord will do it; so we need to wait on Him. David is the greatest man in Israel's history, but he does not tell the people, "Just give me a sword and an army and I will solve the nation's problems."
5. We must be content with whatever means of deliverance that God chooses and whatever punishment (or not) that God metes out on our enemies and on us.

God knows what He is doing. He always raises someone up to represent Him. Bobby's conclusion is, scatter our enemies. Let's be patient and wait on Him; and let's be the pivot of mature believers.

How Does God Teach Us this Information.

1. To teach lessons in dependence upon Him. We cannot storm the Capitol or the White House. There is no activism that will change us. God may deliver us in military victory. We are talking about a military representative. Not a rabble of those who are trying to change the world.
2. God uses enemies and defeat to remind believers to look back on His past deliverance. God can do anything. His power is unlimited. How is God going to do it? We simply watch.
3. Look to God's power under any and all circumstances. This is not just poetic: God is our shield. No power on earth. Faith rest rationale of the power of God. It is undefeated. How God uses it is up to Him. We do not get our eyes on current or future crises. We don't have to. We have so many enemies at our gates.

Legislation is a good thing; we need the rule of law.

Believers must be reminded. We cannot call our own shots for the outcome of God's plan. It depends upon God. It is His will. That is always to our best interest and our best outcome. If it is not God's outcome, then it is not the best outcome.

The Application of Divine Wisdom

1. It is that application of wisdom is the very basis for dependence upon the Lord. This is why we gather wisdom in our souls. If you do not have this, then this is a bad time for us.
2. Nothing else is more sure than divine deliverance. David's solution is God.
3. Nothing else is more effective than divine power.
4. Nothing is more effective than God's unfailing love for our confidence. Very easy to get down; to get discouraged. Very easy. God is where we keep our eyes.
5. The results of God's will being accomplished for believers and for the nation depends upon the lessons that we learn and what we know.
6. The Lord rules and He always will rule. The sovereignty of God rationale.

There are people who think that they are the victors. People should not forget where their power and security lies. People will depend upon their own strength and humanistic schemes. It is not human viewpoint or humanism. Humanism, in its many forms, is rampant in this country. They correctly see the rejection of divine institutions; and they see the rejection of a moral code for living. They want to use legislation, politics and elections to solve these problems. Such things are necessary; but the real solution is ignored or forgotten. That is where a nation.

Final Points

1. When we forget and new adversity emerges, we have to learn the lesson all over again.
2. That is the hard way, to learn it all over again. Overwhelming problems with no human solution. The divisions in this country are unbelievable. It looks hopeless. Let's compromise. With what? With evil? We grow apart for many reasons.
3. When forgetting and rejecting becomes pervasive, it leads to something that none of us want to see: the fifth cycle of discipline for a client nation. This is for the benefit of the believers in that client nation.
4. God still delivers in the fifth cycle of discipline. God delivers a remnant of believers even in terrible times. God continues with believers to carry on.
5. God will do the same thing in the future, through His power and His sovereignty. The greatest attempt to destroy Israel in the history of the world will occur.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

What is God going to do? David asks that his enemies not be killed, but scattered instead.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

Scattering would be a victory. David is not demanding that God follows David's will. David is convinced that God will bring his enemies down. God has promised to do this to David. David asks God to spare his enemies of the ultimate judgment of death. Why would David not want his enemies slain? Wouldn't that be better for David and better for the nation? Not necessarily.

If God kills David's enemies, David is concerned that the people of God will forget who the Deliverer is. The enemy is gone; and danger is gone. There will be no reminder. They will forget the God of Israel and they will go their own way.

Scattering the enemies would keep God's power and His deliverance in the forefront of the thinking of His people. The old enemies are there; and they may still pose a future threat, if God is forgotten. So David realizes that the lesson to be learned, by way of deliverance. The nation must remember, there is deliverance but only by God.

Make this easy on us, lest we forget our Shield, our Deliverer. There is great application and encouragement to be found in this Psalm. In this moment we face the same forgetfulness in this country.

Bobby gives the example of the historical event that occurred 32 years ago an event of divine scattering; the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989. It separated East and West Berlin; and East and West Germany. Communist East and the free west. This wall coming down was a pivotal event in human history. Kids standing on the wall, cheering, jumping around, on the day the wall was taken down. The day before, had they stood there, they would have been killed. This marked the fall of communism in eastern and central Europe. Hungary, and other nations are free today. They could not wait to get the freedom to do this. Yet, communism, Marxism, socialism are still with us. We continue to be aware of its evil presence.

This tyranny is still with us in this world. This is a reminder to us. It can still rear its ugly head at any moment. At any time. We have forgotten the evil of the ideology of that sort of government. We need to be reminded of the poverty and the horror that was perpetrated in every nation where Marxism was tried. God scattered that soviet bloc so that we could see what the means. Yet we are embracing that same false ideology.

We have forgotten how to be a pivot. What do Marxists today want to do? They want to obliterate the past from our memories. Destroy our history. Do not teach what has been a blessing in this nation. They present the past as a curse. We are being driven to forget, my Marxism and critical race theory. We are not teaching reading and writing, but we are being given a stale ideology.

In our confused society today, we have forgotten the lessons of God's grace. David's objective is for us to recall. We have forgotten the concept of freedom through military victory. Today, we are transforming a formidable fighting force, and it is being changed to a social experiment, an imposition of the LGBTQ ideology.

We have to allow people to succeed and fail. Despite the great efforts of so many liberals, we have thrown all kinds of money at poverty, and there is just as much poverty today as there ever was. Our programs just increase poverty. Secular persecution of Christianity. We are accused of hatred because of Rom. 1:26. "You are a hater, a homophobe, an Islamaphobe; but those who make these allegations are the greatest haters. The believer does not hate Islamists or homosexuals. We will let God take care of this. We see this in many ways.

Did you ever notice that other religions like Islam and Buddhism are not under attack like Christianity? Religious falsehood is the avowed enemy of us. Why would Satan attack his own best scheme which is religion? Who are without doctrine and without wisdom. Religious legalism. Islam is one of the most legalistic religion; even Judaism.

These false religions fall right into step with secular America.

The problem of the wokes. If you disagree with them, then you are to be oppressed. Crushing inflation, rampant crime, race as a divisive political weapon.

Divine viewpoint thinking is what is hated today. Doctrinal principles which made us into a client nation. That which does this, those other groups want to remake the nation in their secular image. To remove the United States as a client nation. Lest we forget our roots.

There is no race and gender; but that is being used today to destroy us and the United States as a client nation.

David is saying, do not forget where you came from. God will scatter your enemies. The necessity for believers in Jesus Christ to grow spiritually and to continue to make this a client nation. They have not forgotten how to be good.

Divine discipline culminating in the possible destruction by means of the 5th cycle of discipline, if God takes it that far. We, as believers, must prepare for any eventuality. We can see the trends of history and see where we are. Do not forget where we came from and what our obligation is. God honors the nation where there are enough believers who are progressing to spiritual maturity. In the midst of political hysteria, where we realize that divine establishment is being forgotten, we have the divine rationales, the power of the Spirit, the inculcation of wisdom.

The result of forgetting is fear and loathing. Bobby has heard many people who are concerned about this country today. They want to take up arms, they want to secede. They want to do anything to get away from the evils that we see. We live in the devil's world. Do not fear it. We have all the resources necessary to overcome any fear. Simply by what we do in our own spiritual life. God will meet us with unfailing love and with deliverance.

What happens to confidence in the Lord as expressed by David in vv. 10–11?

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

We can bring down our nation faster than anything else. We uphold the client nation.

Bob taught Bible doctrine to thousands of people, throughout the world. There are many pastors who have taught the Word of God. There were only a few voices and there were just a few voices who listened to them. That is what is necessary.

This study is necessary for our spiritual growth. Scattering the enemies is so that we can remember them so that we do not forget Who the shield is.

Lesson #0325

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/12/2021 2Sunday

Bobby talks about John Wayne. He brought divine establishment principles to the screen. He was a calvary captain. He was handed a watch, for retiring. 3 words on the back of the watch, Lest we forget. You remember the wars and the killing and the comradery; and David writes, lest we forget in so many words.

The Advantage

1. David wants continuing reminders so that Israel continues to recognize God's omnipotent hand. His deliverance are to remain in the forefront of their thinking. They are to see the enemies and recognize, "That is what God did."
2. It is a continuous display of God's unfailing love towards Israel. Through our study of chesed, we know what that means. Everything that God does is to our benefit. Whether God blesses or disciplines. It all comes from God's unfailing love. For everything that is done, there is a cause. In Israel's case, it was a client nation, God on earth. The cause was for His client nation. For those that the Lord loves, He scourges every child that He receives. We should know that, no matter what happens in our nation, God's unfailing love never stops, and never decreases. The last book that Bobby edited is The Unfailing Love of God. We should know about this. We know what love means, even in human terms. It is important to us. It is important to have love for someone. We are willing to sacrifice for that person. God's love is so much greater than human love.

3. The bottom line, the destruction of God's bitter enemies may not be the best thing for His people, but their continuing presence is the necessary reminder to never stray from the source of strength and the deliverer. They are still out there; they are still a thorn in my side. This kept Paul humbled and focused. God may still scatter your enemies, and they are still out there and they still bother us. It is a reminder. Paul said, "This hurts, but I understand why it is here."

If the enemy is not destroyed outright, as we might wish, as God might do; then they are preserved for our benefit.

The 185,000 Assyrians who camped out at the gates of Israel; and the guy who stood up and warned the people to open the gates, or they would have been immensely brutal. But God simply killed them all.

The iron curtain coming down was an absolute failed ideology. We as believers have the ability to stay on track. Who is our Shield, Who can and will deliver us.

Our nation may fall. It may become unrecognizable. Bobby's job is not to scare us, but to prepare us for any eventuality. There may be some pain involved. No doubt, seeing things as they are, it will cause some pain.

Use them, develop them, they are for our benefit. God has given this nation great, great strength, and prosperity in any way. When you look at the history, we have had the rule of law, a vibrant military, a great president, and a working judicial system. The logic on the left is skewed. Justice should be blind; but the people are not always blind.

We have experienced great blessing in this country. Some places, their courts are entirely corrupt. The rule of law has been what our courts stand for. The police are necessary in our judicial system. And we want to let people out with no bail who are violent criminals. There are flaws, no doubt; we are not perfect. The perpetuation and maintenance of our nation, our checks and balances, the maintenance of freedom. These are blessings which other nations have never experienced and will never experience. Abject poverty, no rule of law, no justice. We have no conception of what we have. The forces of the cosmic system today. The lies and propaganda today by evil forces and Marxists. By the overreach of government, reaching way beyond what the Constitution requires, that is a real problem. By the critical race theory incursions into our school systems. Hate your race, hate your heritage, that is the heart of that theory. That foments hate and divisiveness. People claim they want to bring the nation together. It won't happen with critical race theory. We don't know what God is going to do. Better that he doesn't, so that we apply the resources which God has given us.

We study history so that we do not forget what has happened in the past. We have all sorts of problems like that; revolutionary functions and ideas. Revolution is thrown around today. They want to overthrow a client nation. Revolution always brings in something worse. Revolutions are never about helping people; it is always about power and tyranny. That is what we are seeing today.

We also see anti-establishment immorality today. We see today the suppression of Christian principles and doctrines; even by Christians themselves who reject divine establishment for human viewpoint. Many Christians buy into all of the propaganda of LGBTQ because that goes against current humanistic standards. Christians are doing that today, constantly. It is up to the pivot to be a part of the deliverance of the client nation today. We have no excuse. God always makes Bible doctrine available. Our churches are not very full today. Only if there are a bunch of programs to get people there. Christians want a community; they do not want spiritual growth. From Berachah, we broadcast all over the world. Doctrine can be heard online. Rick Hughes has a fantastic radio ministry. He can still sit in a little sound booth which he has and teach from there.

People listen to Berachah Church all over the world. Doctrine is available all over the world. The nation depends upon what the pivot does; and the pivot depends upon the doctrine in their souls. We may win some battles; and be economically in the world, and be so blessed in many other ways, but we will continue to have enemies as a client nation. The enemies that we see, are rampant. If these enemies were wiped out, tomorrow, a whole new group of them would rise up.

God has not scattered Satan's control of this world. His operation is fully engaged now. He will attack any client nation with schemes which will gut divine dependence. His schemes will never cease. He has nothing else. He is doomed and he knows it. He can give up, but he will never do that. His schemes will continue.

Lest We Forget.

1. Our potent enemies can bring pressure on believers and on the client nation. And they do. If you don't know this, you are not awake. Cosmic system pressure.
2. That should provide the impetus and motivation for continued reliance upon God and upon His promises and His doctrines and on the application of divine wisdom. That should be the direction of our thinking. Not, what can we do all about this? Bobby got a letter to be signed, and it was a great letter, but he did not sign it. What matters is what we are studying right now. Psalm 59:11 Lest we forget. He thinks divine establishment. But the key is the solution. Believers who want to be activists, who want to do these sorts of things, that is fine. Do not forget, do not become distracted by things like that. That is the watchword for us.
3. That is what the scattering of enemies by divine power is designed to accomplish.
4. To memorialize God's power and blessing of the client nation.
5. If that happens, the pivot shrinks. That is our responsibility. We are in the cycles of discipline today. That is why the client nation is incumbent upon us. If the enemies appear to be winning and the client nation seems to be deteriorating, that is when we should focus on spiritual growth. That is a wake-up call for us not to fear, not to panic, but to double down on Bible doctrine. The stream of consciousness in our soul must flow with Bible doctrine. God honors our focus.

Our nation has so many adversities and so many attempted humanistic solutions, we need to apply Psalm 59:10–11. God's care will protect us and let us look triumphantly over our foes. Don't ask for everything to be defeated. Our prayer is for the nation, the institutions, for those governing. Remember, all this adversity is a benefit to us. "Scatter them by Your power."

Today, our great enemy is China, which brings great pressure on us economically and militarily. People are no longer innocent until proven guilty. When a jury reaches a verdict, and if it is the wrong one, the whole place goes berserk.

Power and money are more important in service to government. They do not remember; they do not trust in the deliverance of the Lord. There are no tragedies in life. No doctrine in the soul is a decision that people make.

Is it the eve of destruction that we are on? Is this in the best interest of you and me? This is the hard way, the painful way; but sometimes that is necessary to purge out the evil. Israel went through some horrendous acts of discipline. It was necessary, in order to preserve Israel.

Psalm 59:10 My God in his steadfast love will meet me; God will let me look in triumph on my enemies.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

Lesson #0326

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT 12/22/2021 Wednesday

One week later; a week without classes.

Bobby has symptoms for a couple of days; and 10 days isolation. There is always a reason for these things. Bobby could not see the Lord letting this happen. That was Bobby's plan, not God's. He thinks that he knows the reason; he had time to consider why me and why at this time of the year? We know that the plan of God is perfect. It was hard to remain inactive. He began to realize that it was time to regroup and recharge; and time to consider some things that he had not taken time to do before. Namely the great relevance of Psalm 59 to current events.

Bobby took advantage of the time given him by God and he prepared for possibly a different sort of Christmas message.

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

He says, "Do not slay them, Lord, or else my people will forget." Lest we forget our experiences in life, forget those things which we have learned, forget those things that we know are certain. David is speaking of something that Israel should not forget. Lessons learned like bridges burned? We learn things that we should not forget. “There is a purpose for these people being here. Scatter them. Break their power through Your power.” And David means not to forget this. “Scatter them, reduce them.” We can never forget this. Lest we forget who has the power; lest we forget who we are in the plan of God. Lest we forget that God can do everything necessary to preserve this client nation. We really do not have much to worry about.

Let’s consider what Psalm 59 teaches for all future national adversity. We must look to the Lord as our shield; and we must not forget who our Deliverer is. We do not have human viewpoint solutions or human leadership solutions. Our solution is not our candidate winning the upcoming elections. Certainly we should vote. But these things are not our shield; nor do we depend upon them. The military is not our shield; our economic situation is not the key. None of those things are our protection. Nor can we solve our problems by running away from our situation here.

Our first and last line of defense, as David makes clear, is the Lord.

Remember Who Is in Charge

1. These other things all have their place. They do help; they can be brought to our aid and protection, but our focus in adversity is always the Lord.
2. David here does not call out his army here. The Lord rises to meet us. There is a place in our lives for the military and economics.
3. The love and the grace of God never fail. That is our defense; that is our shield.
4. The Lord can crush any enemy; destroying them or scattering them. There are all kinds of problems in the world today, with China and Russia. What are we going to do?
5. The Lord keeps them around as a reminder to believers to depend upon Him. Bobby gave an illustration of the Soviet Union as a leader of a bloc of nations; who would take away our freedoms. We agonized over this for 50 years. God scattered them in 1989. That ended the Soviet Union. They were economically crushed. God may have used our economy, but He did this for our benefit. He can do this anytime against any enemy against any person.
6. God can purge entirely entrenched evil, as He did with idolatry in Israel. It seemed that there was no going back. God crush idolatry in Israel. A lot of people had to die. Israel was taken out as a nation for 70 years, all for the evil of idolatry. The Lord being our shield does not mean that the United States will survive in a form like it is today. The client nation is not finished yet. Israel went down, and they rose up; they went down and rose up again. Today, in the US, we are going down. We do not fear or feel disgust. God never fails us. God never falters in His purpose to restore a client nation. He always works to restore us as a client nation.

How do we consider what is going on in our country? We should be looking at our shield.

God's unfailing love is ever-present. He bring the human powers on earth to their knees. Evil civilizations fall before Him. Evil is everywhere and it always has been; but the justice of God never fails and it is always the final word over evil.

A Conclusion from V. 11

1. God brings judgment upon enemies. We can learn from His power, His justice. History today is criticized. History is taught today in a very narrow way. Critical race theory has become a theme of history. Everything revolves around racism. There is only one correct perspective of history and that is the divine perspective. We must consider what has happened in history from the divine perspective. We see what has taken place in the OT and apply that. We must look at the time where we live for the divine perspective. God is perfectly capable of scattering our enemies. How He does it is up to Him.
2. If we have the right perspective of confidence in the Lord, we will recognize His work in history. That was God scattering our enemy. Now, Russia is on the rise. From the divine perspective, we should understand that God can scatter any nation, so that we do not forget who did it and why. The evil today is in Marxism. He has scattered it so that we do not forget it; but we are trending towards Marxism and people do not even know that they are doing this.
3. God has done it many times in the history of our nation, many times He has scattered our enemies. He also warned Israel many times to return to Him. That is what the cycles of discipline are all about. Rather than to return to false gods, as Israel had a tendency to do. A client nation gets more pressure from the cosmic system than any other place on earth. Satan's plans are brilliant. Socialism is a flawed system, but it sounds so good in the way that it is presented. God scattered this in front of us so that we can understand it.
4. We need to turn to Him. Our current condition in this country is a wake-up call for us as believers to get the right perspective, which is trust in God. And for the nation to realize. The more that Bobby sees the failure in high places, we know that God has placed these people in high places so that we can clearly see what they are doing. In the next few years, we will see a turning point in this nation. How will we view it? God can do just about anything that he wants. This is for our benefit.

The facts of divine deliverance in our history. The evil nations which have surrounded us in the past. All of our wars have been fought when we look back on them and evaluate what happened, we begin to see the hand of God at work in those circumstances. Look at what God has done. Nazi Germany was the threat of the world; Imperial Japan. God destroyed them.

The French and the British could not defeat Germany. It took the US to stand in. The future history of this country; where we are going and what the Lord will do. We must not put our confidence in humanism, in revisionist history, in critical race theory. We can see all around us the poverty of Marxist nations.

We look back in history and we can see the same problems then that we see today. We learn everything from history. Look at history from the divine perspective. The circumstances are the same because the devil's world is the same. History repeats itself and the divine perspective of history repeats itself. The culture is different, but Jesus Christ is the same. We can see increased crime; we can see the unrest, the moral degeneracy, the lies, the hatred, the divisions. Lest we become discouraged, do not forget that they can be destroyed or scattered by the power of God at any moment. God can punish our nation and scatter our enemies at the same time; or God can heal our nation. It is wisdom, divine wisdom. We live in a house of cards ready to tumble at any moment; but we will not tumble with wisdom and discernment in our souls. If we forget or reject Him and His Word, which many believers are doing. We are in no position to watch the deliverance of the Lord, or to expect any deliverance. We, as believers advancing to spiritual maturity have all the advantages.

David is not ordering God to scatter them; he is making this request. He requests on the one hand. Now he has another request. Now, David goes straight for the jugular in the next two verses.

Psalm 59:12 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter,

David speaks of sins of the tongue. Look at what he asks for:

Psalm 59:13 consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

This is way beyond scattering. This is annihilate them. He has left Israel behind. ...that they may know that God rules over Jacob. We have some peace as the result of the destruction of an enemy. David now prays for their total destruction. He prays so that the people on the earth observe this and be impressed with the power of the God of Israel. So they know that there is only One True God, the God of Israel.

Scatter or destroy. Two different results. Why is the United States called a superpower? We have destroyed and defeated many enemies. Behind it all is the Lord's work. Because of these 2 verses.

We are being attacked internally, to destroy what we stand for. By religion and by humanism. We have a new enemy. Internal and external enemies. So David prays that arrogant curses of God be destroy or removed permanently. Would it be nice to see all of those liars out there gone; all those who curse God, gone. Would that be good? Would they give credit to politics or to God?

Which way will we go as a nation? There are times when we might think about some of these things.

Tomorrow night a Christmas message.

Christmas message.

We celebrate the most important event of human history. The outside world does not see it in this way. We revere Him and we worship Him. He condescended to become true humanity. One Person with two separate and distinct personalities. In remembering this 1st advent of Christ, His life, death, resurrection and ascension. It begins on that first Christmas. People celebrate this in many ways. Some like religious movies, some like to see the lights on houses, some like the carols.

What is important that you remember in your soul is what counts. What you know of Jesus Christ is what counts. Communion service is a time of remembrance. We do not worship in figurines, high pagents. Many times the tree is seen symbolically as a tree. It is also under the tree where we receive all of the presents which you eagerly await. You enjoy the time, the gifts, the Christmas meal, etc. It is filled with joy and relaxation, sometimes which is not seen other times of the year.

We will celebrate a future Christmas as it should be celebrated; but not the Christmas that we celebrate during our lives.

Micah 4 prophecies the Messiah.

Micah 4:1 It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established as the highest of the mountains, and it shall be lifted up above the hills; and peoples shall flow to it,

This reminds Bobby of the 1st advent when people went to see Jesus.

Micah 4:2 and many nations shall come, and say: "Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob, that he may teach us his ways and that we may walk in his paths." For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

Jesus taught many things which were necessary. The basis for so many things that we understand about Christianity. Divinely inspired revelation. Here it says, He will teach us His ways, which will be the Millennium. He will teach us His ways so that we may walk in His path.

Jerusalem is the center of the world at this time. This is the place where the world wants to be.

Micah 4:3 He shall judge between many peoples, and shall decide for strong nations far away; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore;

The might nations here are gentile nation. Never again will they train for war. We walk about that today, but don't ever kid yourselves. China is training their military for war; and the Russians are doing the same thing. In the US, it is hard to say. Just a social experiment. The peaceful millennial reign of Jesus Christ. Everyone wants to think of Jesus as the Prince of Peace, but that is another time. He will fulfill this title in the 2nd advent.

Sitting under His vine and His fig tree means that we enjoy prosperity.

Micah 4:4 but they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and no one shall make them afraid, for the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken.

Micah 4:5 For all the peoples walk each in the name of its god, but we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever.

There will be others, unbelievers, following their own gods.

Micah lived at the time when the northern kingdom was destroyed and the southern kingdom was under attack. Israel was about to fall.

Micah switches back and forth between impending judgments and of the future, as related to the Messiah.

The first phrase is an uplifting phrase. In the last days takes the reader past the time that they were living in, which was nationally perilous.

It will come about, which begins a new prophecy. A new day. The new day is a contrast between the administration of the fifth cycle of discipline and a future recovery of the nation under the Messiah. The reason for the recovery is the grace of God. If Christmas has any meaning to us, it should be the celebration of the grace of God.

There are many customs which have arisen for Christmas, and some are wonderful and enjoyable. Trees, decorations, presents. Bobby enjoys the lights. We can find enjoyment in these types of things. But with grace orientation, we can have this sort of enjoyment every day. Every day is Christmas for us. We can stop every day and celebrate the grace of God at any time. This should be a celebration in our souls. Day by day Christmas. When the Prince of Peace comes and is ruling. That will be a celebration every day.

The Jews today probably enjoy Christmas, much like the rest of us.

There will be a time when the Jews are gathered together. They will become the subjects of the King. That is the day of the 2nd advent; of the promise of Christmas. What a future Christmas that will be.

The hills represent the many nations of the earth. The people will go to the highest hill, which will be raised upon all. Zion will become the highest point on earth, where the Messiah resides. This will be also the Temple where He is worshiped.

A child will be born to us...His name will be called Prince of Peace. This only happens in the Millennium. There will be no end to the increase of His government. There will be peace and justice for that point and into the future.

Jesus did not reign in the first advent, so we know that this is the second advent.

The ultimate gift for all of us to unwrap. Will there be a United States in the Millennium. That question has been asked many times. Will we be there to celebrate the Lord?

There are some nations which will be destroyed. Assyria will never be an empire every again. There are other nations, because of their evil, have disappeared from human history.

The Roman empire will be revived. There is speculation whether we will be the king of the west. Bobby also looks at our country today and thinks, "We will never make it." We may never stream to the mountain. That could all be changed by the resurgence of Bible doctrine.

Our national future is not really an issue. We will all be there. The reapture of the church will take place before the rapture of the church. If the United States still exists, it will be only unbelievers, because of the rapture.

At the end of v. 1, the other nations will stream to it.

Messiah in the Millennium

1. Nahor means to flow into from a subordinate place. Stream to it or flow into it.
2. Nahor connotes that all nations in the Millennium will be subordinate to the Jewish nations.
3. Therefore, Christ will rule all of the nations, including the United States (if we are in the end).
4. There will be no UN at this time. No world government. The only world government is operational on earth at this time. This is where Jesus will bail out on us.
5. When the Lord returns and is seated on the throne, then we will celebrate that moment.
6. Rejected before, the messiah is universally accepted; and He will be crowned as king.
7. What did not happen at the first advent will happen in the second.
8. That Christmas will be a worldwide event.

Today, many want to visit the Holy land and walk where Jesus walked. But in the Millennium people will come to see Jesus as a Living Person. That celebration will not include a tree. It will include animal sacrifices.

This is not barbaric. The Jews throughout their history sacrificed animals to represent the coming Messiah. Animal sacrifices in the OT Law are authorized for the Millennium. They are a fragrance of memory.

We will look back at the sacrifice by the Lord. This is a promised time for the Jews. There will be a memorial for the Christ. God's grace will be celebrated in Christ. Every day will be Christmas in the Millennium. Everyday, we will see the King of Kings on the throne.

He will teach us His ways thta we may walk in His paths. Jesus will explore His viewpoint and His ways. Another Christmas celebratin; Jesus teaching Bible doctrine.

We may or may not recall many Christmases from the past. For a cuple of minutes when Bobby was in the covid jail. There were some fragrances of memory. Good ones and bad ones, with family and without. There were many with many different circumstances. We have had good ones and not so good. And we have had different kinds of environment. We are not always home for Christmas.

Bobby remembers a story about Warren Span, he was a left-handed pitcher. He took out time for war. He was a tough guy. He would throw at your head and he would not mind fighting about it.

Once the other team was getting run after run on him. He was asked, "Warren is this the worst day that you have ever had?" He rmemebered being in a frozen kitch during the Battle of the Bulge. Bobby remembers one Christmas on the beach in Hawaii. He was alone on that day. It was a great Christmas. He did a tape; he got some sun, and and had dinner with some friends.

Most of us can recall at least one great Christmas. Especially in childhood. Or somet which turned out to be a nightmare. We forgot what Christmas represented. The greatest gift. The real meaning is the greatest gift. Not all Christmases are the same; and the people and circumstances do make a difference. If you had been taking in Bible doctrine, then this may be the worst Christmas that you have ever had. But you can have more enjoyment and relaxation than you have ever had in your life. You cannot enjoy, you cannot survive and you cannot be blessed without doctrine. In the future, we will be in the Millennium in a resurrection body. Everyday will be a great Christmas.

How then can you enjoy such a Christmas in the Millennium.

The key is the doctrine in the soul. We worship Him, not our bodies. Then it will be about the Lord Jesus Christ. We have the access to the very same mind of Christ that we will know forever. Do we take advantage of it?

Scripture tells us that You have magnified Your word above all Your name. A better translation might be, You have magnified Your Person and Your Word above all else. Those are the two most important things at Christmas.

We can have a great day for Christmas. The greatest gift for us.

At this moment, we know Him through His Word. Then we will know Him in Person and through His knowledge.

If you neglect or underestimate the importance of Bible doctrine now or in the future.

Am I part of the revolt against the true meaning of Christmas? Do I have the capacity to live every day as Christmas. Am I a mature believer or am I a grinch?

The development of a problem solving device, sharing the happiness of God. It is all about us, occupation with Christ.

If we don't have that, every Christmas will roll around and be miserable for us. Instead of walking in His paths. Whatever we do to recover from our woes, it will not work. It still won't help. Just one way and one answer. Take a page from the Millennium and celebrate the full knowledge and grace of God. Make the upcoming days a daily Christmas based upon spiritual growth and capacity for life. The capacity to have Christmas cheer every day. So when these holidays occur, we might really appreciate them.

Why will you enjoy the future millennial Christmases? The environment will be beyond comprehension to us.

Lesson #0327

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/26/2021 1 Sunday

The greater Son of David.

Now we will go back 1000 years previous to the Lord.

David first suggested that God scatter his enemies. But there is a short-term solution that David offers up.

David's option for God is, "Destroy them." This might be something that we all prefer. Destroy them or scatter them, is David's suggestion. Many of us like the idea of enemies being destroyed.

David is not praying for the fcd.

Psalm 59:12 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter,

Psalm 59:13 consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

David now prays in vv. 12–13 for utter destruction, so that the people all around will know what is happening. Jews have been persecuted almost unmercifully for centuries. The pogroms in Russia, terribly persecuted in Russia. We know about Nazi Germany. In the Arab-Israeli wars, 3 of them, with God pulling Israel out of the fire. We see God's hand in the history of Israel then and now.

When God curses Israel, the results are much better than before. We can make the same sort of applications today.

David prays that the arrogant curses of God and abundant lies now be exposed and removed permanently by God. "Don't let them get away with what they are doing; wipe them out."

David's Request of God

1. David cites the reason for and the means for God's judgment of Israel's enemies.
2. David's request for their removal is based upon the curses and lies that they perpetrate. Not because they are evil people. David is very specific here. Wipe them out for their curses and lies.
3. Out of the 7 worst sins from God's viewpoint. We see sins differently from God sometimes. We often hate one sin more than another. God lays out specific sins in Prov. 6:16–19. 3 of them are sins of the tongue.
4. Except for the maximum discipline of the sin unto death, there is no category of sins that bring more judgment than sins of the tongue.
5. These sins of the tongue, attacking David in Israel, are most destructive to those doing the blaspheming. Not David. What is more destructive; it is those doing the blaspheming and maligning.
6. A terrible end comes to those who blaspheme God or His plan or His people. "I will curse those who curse you." Not a good thing to curse Israel.
7. David has a good reason for his inhalation request. Gen. 12. These verbal sins against Israel. Ultimately, if these enemies are cursing Israel, they are cursing the plan of God. They would like to destroy God's people and nation.
8. The action that David requests must still be accomplished by god. It is up to Him. God's justice is justice. David is asking for the justice of God. "You take care of this, God." Let the justice of God handle it. Those who need that justice will get exactly what they deserve.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we are under attack. From within and from without. When they attack us, they are perpetrating evil. God protects Israel and His client nation as well.

Romans 2:1 Therefore you have no excuse, O man, every one of you who judges. For in passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, practice the very same things....

We see a lot of people judging others. "Everyone is at fault than me." We see a tremendous amount of judging today.

Rom 2:2 We know that the judgment of God rightly falls on those who practice such things.

Judging Others

1. The blindness of arrogance, pride means that people commit the worst of sin. They do it when... The first thing that we want to do is blast them right back. When we slander others and throw their lies right back at them, then we fall under these words.
2. They are guilty of the same sins that they charge others with. If they see you as their competitor, they might do anything to bring you down. Do not return fire. Do not commit the same sin.
3. This is one of the favorite tricks of those covering their own sins and inadequacies. Trying to slander an enemy; opposition. There are times when opposition is legitimate. Epitome of arrogance to slander. They assume the prerogative of God in their judging and plotting. Let God handle it. God's justice will fall upon them.
4. God disciplines us because He loves us. Verbal sins are the manifestation of mental attitude sins. This is where we fall down on our duty to represent the Lord in this world.

Romans 2:1–2 is all about our nation today. They operate in David's time, Paul's and our own. They charge us with the very sins which they themselves commit.

Anything which is antisemitic and anti-Christian, they are lies and under God's justice. We observe these tactics as working by evil prevaricators in our lives.

They charge others with hatred, sedition or racism, when these things are what they are doing. God will reveal such lies and judgments; and they will be trapped in their own lies and they will be judged by God. Stand back and relax; see what God does.

They hope to ban Jesus Christ from public discussion. We cannot say, "Merry Christmas" because someone might get offended, as if no one has rights but those who are offended. Those offended certainly do not include Christians. We are paying a steep price for these verbal attacks and outright lies.

Lesson #0329

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

12/26/2021 2Sunday

Psalm 59:12 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter,

Psalm 59:13 consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

David speaks of verbal sins and why verbal sins?

Verbal sins are the manifestation of mental attitude sins which are against and toward other people. They are what injure other people. It is pretty clear that, in our nation, we are beginning to see the results of these sins. It is clear that the nation at this time is crime ridden, economically challenged. The rule of law is being rejected; and criminals are released without bail. They get out and continue committing crimes.

Freedom is being curtailed of those who do not go along with what is in vogue today. And they try to pretend like nothing is amiss. They fiddle while Rome burns.

Nero was crazy, and he set fire to Rome and fiddle while it burned. The lies are perpetuating these things that are going on. That is why David prays. "Destroy them," David requests.

Caught is from the Hebrew verb laqad, which means the catching will be done by God, not by David.

Catch Them, Lord

1. This word means to be captured, seized, imprisoned.
2. So they will be caught captured and trapped by their own words. David wants them to be caught in their own lies.
3. They are to be permanently ensnared. And this is glossed over in the next news cycle. God catches them permanently in their lies.
4. God will not be mocked. Lies and blasphemy mock God. Particularly when they are directed towards God's people. When this occurs, God is being mocked.
5. David prays that their arrogant words be their undoing. That they be captured in their self-centered manipulation and plots. There are some arrogant people in high places today. They think they are infallible in what they do and say. We pray that their inordinate pride be laid bare for all to see. David prays for them to be trapped by their own lies. He calls for them to pay the penalty as the Lord sees fit. David knows that God will protect Israel and himself. God will scatter them or destroy them. "As Your will be done," in all of our prayers.

The Lord hears a prayer the first time. Relaxed mental attitude. You have the wherewithal to pray to God. David is making a request. Better be sure that these are God's enemies.

David understands God's plan for Israel so this is a legitimate prayer. This is not just because David wants Israel delivered; but he wants the world to compare God's sovereignty with those who think they should rule.

The first step in destruction is being caught in one's lies. We do not know how God will scatter our own enemies. As David prays, God is our shield and deliverer. David prays that they disappear, but also that they be caught in their lies.

There are certain commentators today who actually see the lies and reveal them. From that perspective, the lies are revealed. But who hears this? Everyone is not listening to it. The lies are being accepted or perpetrated.

Stay calm and stand for the truth. Stand back and see the deliverance of the Lord. The Lord works even in discipline. Just keep your own nose clean. Stand back and watch the Lord work, because He will.

We get so caught up in the problems of our own nation, and we don't...

These people are so evil and such a threat, that David prays for their utter removal. We may pray that the Lord remove the enemy or that His justice be done. People can accept or reject God's solutions. We see horrible things taking place, and yet, we must recognize God's solutions.

History is filled with illustrations of people who have been wasted, fallen, and removed from history. So many have fallen into ruinous defeat.

Haman in the book of Esther that God prevented and destroyed. He was the second most powerful man in that nation. He lied constantly about the Jews.

Germany rises from the ashes of WWI, but rises in evil. And by 1945, that nation was a smoking ruin. Some of the most beautiful churches were leveled. Many fell into the pattern of heathen atheistic nazism. There were death camps all over Poland and Germany; Jews were being gassed and destroyed. God went from that horror to today. God protects the Jew to this very day. For the sake of His covenant, God continues to protect the Jew. As you judge, you will be judged. That is God's promise.

The one that really got to Bobby, a person that he knows says, "We don't really know who the Jews are." That is a lie and a rationalization for being antisemitic.

God said, "I will bless those who bless you; and curse those who curse you."

Blessing to those who protect the Jews from the cursing of antisemitism. The cursing side on account of God's promise to Abraham reminds us of the validity of David's prayer. David understood the davidic covenant; he was a part of it. He can rest in this fact.

Our Prayer

1. Our prayer: we pray that God will expose such evil liars. Expose them so all can see.

2. Pray that the biased misleading propagandists of our nation and Israel will be seen as the liars that they are. They must see and understand divine establishment. Believers must gain wisdom from Bible doctrine.
3. We desire that truth be distinguished from humanist lies that permeate this nation.
4. Most importantly that Bible doctrine be once again be paramount in the lives of believers today.

Bobby does not want to speak against individual pastors. But they have a responsibility before the Lord. Bobby sat in chapel in seminary and he read the three words, Preach the Word. There does not appear to be a lot of teaching of the Word. Return to the mandate to teach the word. We must use problem solving devices to handle what is happening in this world. That is the means of the defeat of evil in the client nation. God does the heavy lifting. Evil can be exposed and removed, just as David calls for. Trust in God to deliver.

The greatest enemy of the United States today is China. Our children may need to speak Chinese before this is all over. They are a tremendous power with a tremendous military; we can be struck within minutes from the hypersonic nuclear missiles. Their army is probably larger than all the western armies put together. Are we ready for that? It is up to the Lord; and it bothers Bobby tremendously to see the military in the state that it is in. We do not depend upon any other human solution. We have the solution. When we hear the news and read the paper. Always keep in the forefront that God can solve all of these problems, by our shield, deliverer and our Lord.

Lesson #0330

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT 12/29/2021 Wednesday

Last class on Psalm 59 for a week or so.

David prays and asks for divine intervention. He asks for relief for those who would destroy David himself. He first asks for God to scatter the enemy, leaving them still alive and amongst the Jews. They remain as a warning. Israel will be reminded.

Recognize that there is a perfect example of this. Joshua led the second generation into the land (the first generation died off in the desert).

Joshua spoke to Israel after the people entered into the land. His vanquishing of the enemies of Israel. They crossed into the land and took it. Joshua and the Jews had to defeat the people there.

Joshua tells them, "Do not forget how the Lord went before you and vanquished your enemies, or it will not go well for you."

Joshua 23:6–8 Therefore, be very strong to keep and to do all that is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, turning aside from it neither to the right hand nor to the left, that you may not mix with these nations remaining among you or make mention of the names of their gods or swear by them or serve them or bow down to them, but you shall cling to the LORD your God just as you have done to this day.

They Israelites were not to associate with the remnant of nations which remained in the land, among the people.

Jos 23:9 For the LORD has driven out before you great and strong nations. And as for you, no man has been able to stand before you to this day.

Jos 23:10 One man of you puts to flight a thousand, since it is the LORD your God who fights for you, just as he promised you.

Joshua 23:11 Be very careful, therefore, to love the LORD your God.

Joshua 23:12 –13 For if you turn back and cling to the remnant of these nations remaining among you and make marriages with them, so that you associate with them and they with you, know for certain that the LORD your God will no longer drive out these nations before you, but they shall be a snare and a trap for you, a whip on your sides and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off this good ground that the LORD your God has given you.

They were not to intermarry with the heathen because they too often would go after false gods. This is not a call for diversity. This is a tacit warning to any client nation. Do not associate with evil nations, nations which worship false gods. Marxist nations, socialist nations, Islamic nations. That is an application of this passage.

Individual believers are not to be unequally yoked. Marrying an unbeliever has a tendency to distract from the Word of God. This is a distraction for the believer. Interesting that marriage can be one of the great distractions. You must be very careful when it comes to contemplating matrimony. Do not forget the spiritual aspect.

God is their Shield and Deliverer, but He leaves these other nations among them. He will not protect them if they desert Him. God must preserve the Jews, because He has made a covenant with them. But there will be discipline to those who desert God.

David prayed that God catch these enemies. These enemies are not to capture Israel. Otherwise, Israel will be trapped in their own desertion of the Lord.

Joshua warns them that they will perish off of this good land. That is the fifth cycle of discipline. If they did not follow this message of Joshua, that is what would happen.

Joshua 23:14 "And now I am about to go the way of all the earth, and you know in your hearts and souls, all of you, that not one word has failed of all the good things that the LORD your God promised concerning you. All have come to pass for you; not one of them has failed.

Now David writes:

Psalm 59:12 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride.
For the cursing and lies that they utter,

David can ask for God to destroy the people of Israel if they reject their God.

Psalm 59:13 consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

People will listen, because their God is God.

David's Prayer for Destruction and Scattering

1. David here prays for the total destruction, not just for his and Israel's benefit, so that the world will see the sovereign and omnipotence of God in action. It is not good to oppose Israel or their God or their man, David.
2. It is God who does the heavy lifting. David has done plenty of that. This is a solution not just for David but for all time. For all application.
3. David is not the source of deliverance, nor does he claim to be. He goes directly to the source of deliverance. David makes it clear that he requests scattering and destruction.
4. God uses people and circumstances for His purposes of deliverance. This deliverance was set up by the enemies. Why do we need to be delivered if there is no one attacking? We are also under attack? How can God show His power? We can only understand this by God's deliverance and His power. We need to pray for the deliverance through the things which are happening today. This is David's prayer and our application from it.
5. What David understands and claims is the potency and finality of divine intervention. We have witnessed this throughout our lives. Bobby can look back and see the deliverance of the Lord took place. When things happen to us, we look to the Lord first. Our first thought is always, what is the Lord doing? We cannot afford to not look to God. Whether the enemy succeeds in some of their objectives. So the evil of the poisonous tongues must be exposed and removed.
6. But the people must respond to God's sovereignty. God has placed Israel in a client nation status. We must respond with acknowledgment and then trust God for deliverance. It is easy to hear, to listen and to understand. But then it comes to application. Then it comes to trusting in the Lord when everything seems to be pointing in the other direction.
7. Trusting in God requires the wisdom of doctrine to make such application. We in this country today must realize the power of God to work circumstances in our favor, no matter how hopeless our situation might seem. He is working circumstances for His Own benefit. When we understand His plan and trust in Him, then we know that there are no circumstances where he is not working.

This passage has given Bobby a new perspective on adversity. It is not hopeless; it is never hopeless. This is the God of David, the God of Paul and He is our God.

Bobby brings up national problems now and again. Why does he do this? This is to make a spiritual statement. He mentions these things, not to depress us but for us to focus upon the solution.

1. Always remember that God can trap conspirators and slanderers in their own evil words and plots and lies and destroy them through it. They will be caught in their own lies, exposed by their own actions and words.
2. Evil may triumph for a time. In the meantime, before 2022, it is clear that they have some wins, despite being losers. They have a voice, a platform, they have a media, if they oppose our God.
3. The Lord is our Rock and our Shield. What trouble can defeat Him. When the justice of God is in operation, how can injustice survive. How many times has injustice been all over you, and God worked it all out. It has happened in many times.

We listen to people in high positions, and we hear contradictory statements, and they think that we don't hear them. They simply trap themselves in their own lies. Listen to them; listen to their anti-God rhetoric and their anti-establishment rhetoric. Anything which is anti-establishment is a lie. Then it is almost comical. I can't believe that these people say this stuff. They live in system of human power.

Bobby is in the 19th year. The Old Testament gives us so many great examples of how this works. The one which he taught so many years ago was the book of Esther. God worked for the people of Israel despite the 2nd most powerful man wanting to destroy Israel. He had the opportunity in the cosmic system to destroy the Jews; and he plotted to do this. The Jews could do nothing in their own defense. One woman, Esther, exhibiting courage and trust in the Lord. She said, "If I die, I die." The idea here is, "I am going to do God's will, regardless of the circumstances." God does use people in judging evil. Haman meant evil for the Jews and God turned it for good. God used Esther and her beauty. She used this when no one else could do it. She was used to curb the evil thinking of Haman. At the end of his plot, it was turned upside down and turned against him. He was impaled at the king's order.

God used the poisonous vicious Goliath who seemed invincible and who could do anything about him? But then came this short, young man. David learned about Psalm 59:12 in this incident. Goliath threatened Israel and the God of Israel.

If you keep your eyes open, you will see what is going on in this nation. If divine establishment is reestablished, if the rule of law is reestablished, then you will know that God is working for our future. Our future is in God's hands.

There is another example of this, the Rabshakeh, one of the most dangerous men in human history, and particularly dangerous to Israel. It is a great narrative which illustrates Psalm 59:12.

Communion service New Year's Eve

We are mandated by the Lord to continue with the communion. We will eat and drink with thought and with the reciprocal love inherent in the Bible doctrine in your own soul. We love because He first loved us. Our worship is based upon the Lord's unfailing love.

John 3:16–18 "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God.

God gives eternal life to those who believe in His Son. Given a choice, man would sin. Adam and the woman chose to sin by eating from the forbidden fruit. The standard of God's perfect righteousness was violated. Adam, as the federal head of the human race, made the decision to sin. Just as through one man, sin entered into the world, and death through sin....

God's love is not sentimental; nor does it change. God is bound by His perfect nature to keep His justice intact. We are unworthy of His love, because we are separated from Him. God's love went into action. In eternity past, knowing our future status of spiritual death, God's love made a personal relationship with Him possible. God provided His co-equal and co-eternal Son in the flesh. His Son is the primary example of God's love and our intense rebellion against Him. Our sin did affect how God's love was extended toward us. Love alone could not solve the sin problem. God despises sin. God can have no relationship with sin. He cannot love man and overlook our sins. He would have to deny His Own righteousness and justice. God's righteousness and His justice had to be satisfied, so that His love could remain pure and unblemished.

These 3 attributes worked in unison at the cross. All of our sins, previously condemned by the righteousness of God. Because Jesus was perfect righteousness, and since He did not have any personal sin or a sin nature, He could die for our sins.

The imputed sins were not our Lord's sins. They were as abhorrent to Jesus Christ as they were to God the Father. He accepted their imputation in His Own body. He sacrificed Himself for our reconciliation. What Jesus did was motivated by love. What other reason could there be for God the Father to place our sins on His Son on our behalf? It was this judgment and willing sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ which satisfied the wrath of God. God's wrath was directed towards Jesus rather than us.

What kind of love was this? It was a special kind of love. It is an unconditional love, a love that does not depend upon the merit of the object. Being spiritually dead, and relative righteousness at best, we have nothing to commend us to God. We do not have the ability to attract His love. Without possessing His perfect righteousness, we cannot meet His perfect standards. John 3:16 tells us that God loves us with His impersonal love. God does not need an intimate relationship with us to love us. God's impersonal love is the greatest love that has ever existed. Rom. 5:8, 10 God demonstrates His Own love for us, in that, while were His enemies, Christ died for us. Impersonal love and grace provided His substitutionary death on our behalf.

Justification means that we possess His righteousness. We are the objects of His personal love, even though we are still sinners.

We cannot help but reciprocate the love of God, and that is the ultimate communion with the Savior. We love because He first loved us.

Because of Jesus Christ, God is our Father and our Benefactor. We can enter into prayer at any point in our lives. He is no longer our enemy or the judge of our sins. We can be more at home with God than with any other human being.

This was the 45th anniversary of the institution of the military communion at Berachah Church.

It started several years ago when Bobby began dating his wife and she had questions about a passage in Proverbs 31. How could one woman every fulfill all of the qualities and characteristics in this passage, vv. 10–31.

For the humanist, the feminist, and the LGBTQ crowd and many who have followed in their thinking when it comes to gender. A further attack on gender distinction itself. We have them competing in women's sports and no one can say no, because there is no one strong enough to say no. Our society has become so silly as to not be able to distinguish between gender.

We will confine our study to this passage.

Introductory Points

1. Women are not ignored or treated as superior or inferior in the Bible.
2. In the climatic conclusion of Proverbs 31, the woman is elevated to a position of extreme honor.
3. Her status is not granted because of birth, wealth, or because she demands it.
4. It was earned through industrious productivity and diligent application of the principles of wisdom.
5. Her honor is based upon her relationship with and knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ.

There is so much in this passage, in an age when women are made to feel demeaned or the idea that a housewife is presented as a limited life. Both husband and wife make a valuable and important contribution to society, each in his own right.

This is an acrostic psalm/proverb.

More Introductory Information

1. She is presented in this passage.
2. The qualities given in this passage are achievable by all women. The woman is involved in many activities.
3. She has a fear and respect.
4. This fear or respect is all about authority-orientation. We all need it and the woman has a different perspective. It is a necessary quality because of the curse of Gen. 3:16. This transfers to marriage to being a responder as the woman's role.

Do not be intimidated by this woman's noble, capable and imminent woman. She is not being elevated to a demigoddess or a feminist ideal. She is still the wife described in Eph. 5. And the husband is still the head of the wife. Seems like she ought to run everything.

This is really good information for husbands to consider.

What we study will be the opposite of the woman that we studied in Prov. 15:4. That woman is just about the opposite

The Wife of Proverbs 31

1. The excellent and noble wife enhances everything about her husband.
2. But this is with her own accomplishments. She does not get her identify only from her husband.
3. She is exalted and revered for it, especially by her family.

We Need to Contemplate the Possibility of Such a Woman?

1. Does this really exist?
2. Does this describe qualities that every woman should attain to but will never get there.
3. Is noble wife simply a personification of wisdom. In the Greek Pantheon, the statue of a woman is used for wisdom.
4. Athena is the goddess of wisdom?

Who Is She?

1. She is totally connected to a life of wisdom.

2. She is what it means to be wise; to have wisdom. This is the epitome of what wisdom can do for a woman.
3. In that demonstration, she is nonetheless a real person. She is not a personification. She is not something to strive for. She is a real person.
4. She is not just an ideal or a mythical creature. She is capable of living these qualities and activities. This is not pie in the sky. This is for all women. These are attainable qualities for a woman.
5. She is certainly a woman to be emulated, to be modeled by others. This makes this woman a leader in her own right.

Proverbs 31:10 An excellent wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewel.

An excellent wife, who can find her? She is far more precious than jewels. She is a jewel among women. She is more rare than a 10 carat diamond and more valuable. She is the model of a diligent housewife, and this fits all the categories of women, married or not.

Women do not have to be married or have children in order to be virtuous. Boaz is the male protagonist in this book. "You are a woman of excellence," Boaz says to Ruth. A man will do anything for you. He will look after you. He will make certain that you are comfortable. If you understand this passage, you will have everything that you want from a man or from a husband, if he is any damn good at all. You had better pick someone who has these characteristics or is moving towards these characteristics.

Ruth was not married, she has no children. She was known by Boaz as being a woman of noble character. Women marry or not can attain to these qualities. Ruth is one of the excellent women of Proverbs 31.

There are 3 shades of meaning. chayil can refer to physical strength. In Job 20:15 this word can mean wealth. It can mean integrity of character. Exodus 18:21.

Boaz is a wealthy man in the story of Ruth. She was a woman who purposefully and could force circumstances to meet the needs of her mother-in-law. She did not lose her integrity or femininity.

Bobby had a friend for 50 years, she came to Berachah in the early 70's. She then decided to go back to work in geology. She worked for Shell Oil and she went all over the world to check fields to see if they were worth drilling. She never lost her femininity or her integrity. She retained all of these and her character.

The Proverbs 31 woman is not a manipulator nor is she demanding. She falls within the parameters of a Biblical marriage. The curse of the woman at the fall. Her desire is to have authority over her husband.

She accomplishes her purposes, not by becoming manly, not losing her authority-orientation. She is trustworthy, industrious. This is the woman that we need to see. Her respect and her love of the Lord does not waiver.

There Is Another Question Which Arises.

1. Some say this ideal woman is relevant only to Solomon's time and culture. That is a cultural interpretation.
2. If we take this passage only as culturally relevant, then...
3. There is a huge problem for all of us. Then all of the Bible can be pronounced irrelevant. You do it in one area, it can be applied elsewhere. This is a liberated woman in the best sense of the word.
4. So this chapter becomes entirely relevant for today. This passage to some think that this is just a passage for ancient times. The modern woman today thinks that she must dismiss the authority of her husband and the Bible.
5. The literal interpretation is the way to go. This is applicable to all women in all times.
6. It was written to encourage women to live up to God's paragon of female virtue and His plan. But what a model to live up to.

Lesson #0002

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/2/2022 1Sunday

Psalm 59 is on hold. This will be a short series on women. Bobby taught this during conference season. What marriage is, what it should be like.

Bobby has improved this from how he taught it before.

This is the greatest passage on the character and qualities of a wife, mother and woman. She is a ishah chayil. Translated as the excellent wife, a woman who is exalted, a woman of noble character. Her worth is far above jewels.

Proverbs 31:10 An excellent wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewel.

Bob's wife, when they were dating, asked him, what does it mean to be a Prov. 31 woman? This is something for all of us to understand. This helps us in what we should look for in a future wife.

You do not look for the right person, you try to be the right person, for when the other half comes along.

Don't react, because this is the context of this passage.

Bobby's wife, "Can this be attained?" There are so many qualities here; and so many activities found here. A woman of this caliber is priceless. A smart man looks for these qualities. These qualities in one person appears to be insurmountable. Is there such a woman who does everything and does it well.

In today's world, the idea that a woman can do everything, is feminism. Too often, in a relationship, something has to give. That is not what the passage intends. We need to understand how and why.

For the Christian woman, this is the most fulfilling aspect. These characteristics are very real and very attainable.

Introductory Points to Proverbs 31:10–31

1. This passage is not a daily to-do list. These are not done all in one week.
2. This occurs over the course of a woman's lifetime. How can you be these things? That is the answer.
3. We might say that these verses are a photo album. We look across our existence in this life.
4. This is to be applied.
5. This is a woman who is wise in action.
6. Her deeds are the practical application of life. The application of what it means for a woman to be wise, to be virtuous.
7. She is also wise and noble role-model for other women. She is a role model for women just beginning their advance in the spiritual life. To orient to the correct authority. A woman not oriented to authority is a problem.

More Points

1. The Christian wife performs these practical activities as she moves through the stages of her life.
2. Two things are necessary for a woman to become this woman: the passage of time and spiritual maturity.
3. These qualities and activities do not appear simultaneously. Becoming such a woman is a process. They are absolutely indelible. You cannot have one without the other.
4. She becomes a great one among all people, as her life and spiritual advance progress together. This is a two-column advance. Two columns converge on one objective. You grow spiritually and advance as a woman.

This woman's priceless value increases with spiritual age and spiritual IQ. Human IQ is measurable and we put a number to it. There are no dumb people in the spiritual life. Even if your human IQ is not high; even if you are handicapped in that area. A perfect example was a gal at T&P and she did limited things when it came to work there. She never missed Bible class, and she was able to serve the Lord in her capacity just as much as anyone else. Bobby always thinks of her regarding the spiritual maturity, even though she could never be married (and she was not).

Three Stages

1. Salvation and spiritual childhood; the apios.

2. Spiritual adolescence; we know more doctrine and we continue to grow. We are out of the legalistic stage. There is flexibility involved with spiritual growth and Bible doctrine.
3. Growing up, spiritual maturity. Supergrace life.

Let's begin with the formative childhood stage. Vv. 10–12 If she is married then she must focus on her husband. She is utterly faithful to him; constantly a crown of glory for her husband. That is not drudgery, slavery or subservience. A husband loves his wife as Christ loves the church. He looks out for his wife, no matter what, no matter what circumstances. She responds to his ability to be a husband. She responds because she is like-minded.

Trust

1. There is no real love without trust. If you do not trust the person, there is no love there.
2. Trust brings a person's virtue into focus. This is the noble person. The noble person is trustworthy.
3. Trust is the foundation of 3 qualities necessary for love: respect, confidence and deference. Those are the major qualities of love.

She continually asks, what good thing can I do for my husband today?. We do not need to hang together, moment-by-moment. The idea is, not to have the idea, I need to have some separation. One of the great things is the refreshment of a husband and wife coming together.

Vv. 13–17: The second stage of the progression. In her spiritual adolescent years, her family is growing. She is known as a selfless tireless worker. She is a manufacturer of family necessities. Logistics for the family. She can have a career but she must not forget family priorities. You must keep your priorities straight. A family suffers when the mother is absent for long periods of time. Especially in the formative years of a child. Women have a major role to play in the nurturing of a child. Parents spend a relatively short time raising children.

Bobby was going to say goodbye to his father in the office when he was off for college. And Bob said, "It has been a great 18 years." That was the end of that stage of his life. The whole idea is to raise the child to be independent.

The woman's hands are at work not just for her household, but she is gracious to others who are needy. You should not be guilty if you do not have time for volunteer work. When they get to a certain age, that is something else.

V. 22 speaks to the clothing that a woman wears. She wears clean, quality clothing. Well-dressed, fashionable and even elegant. We know that because she wears purple. She is a woman of noble character.

People Bobby has s at next to on a plane, sometimes need a shower. That is sloppy. Sloppy thinking. The woman does not neglect her grooming.

A wise and understanding counselor. She has wisdom; people listen to her. She is praised for these qualities. She is appreciated by them. She is devoted to the Lord, which is the basis of her security. She is shaping mature spiritual personalities. For time and for eternity. Bobby's mother was instrumental in bringing up Bobby in the right way.

Lesson #0332

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/2/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 31:10 An excellent wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewel.

Inevitably women would come up to Bobby and say, "How do you expect us to fulfill this?" This is a process. It is coordinated with our spiritual growth. They move ahead side-by-side. It is a process which takes place over the course of your lifetime.

Proverbs 31:10 An excellent wife who can find? She is far more precious than jewel.

A life of noble character, who can find? Her worth is far above jewels. This woman is priceless. As we know, the woman complements and completes the man. From the creation account, we realize this. Yet she was created after the man; she was created for the man from his rib. He has his rib returned in a completely different form. She was integral to his life. She came from the man; she was part of the man. Can you name a prices for an integral part of your body. You do not want to give them up. The woman arises up over all the precious things in your life. There is no better way to express her pricelessness than by imagining a part of your body that you would not give up.

The man trusts in her. She is trustworthy. She will have no lack of gain. She does him good and not evil. This is all the days of her life; and all the days of his life.

Proverbs 31:11 The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will have no lack of gain.

Proverbs 31:12 She does him good, and not harm, all the days of her life.

The Value of the Woman

1. V. 12 sums it up. There is no greater price. Not even your own body parts. She is a part of you. She must not be separated.
2. There is no lack of value; indispensable.
3. No other gain in life can equal her. So many think that having material things is key, but she is far more important.
4. Her husband trusts in her person and in her abilities. You trust the things that she does. How do you handle money?
5. He has no doubt of her character or of her achievements. He is never threatened by her excellence. She may be smarter, better than anything of her husband. Being threatened of her success is a problem of one's own ego.

6. The wise man recognizes that she will always be trustworthy. It gives the man a confidence which can be found nowhere else except with the Lord. It gives the man confidence in life. He does not have to worry about an ambush.
7. This is love-security, and that is priceless. It will always be there. There may be some ups and downs and some rocky moments; but things will not go south on you because she has a noble character. She will do everything in order to make it work. The husband can have no confidence.

Many men fall into a live which is not priceless. Both partners should be monogamous. But no woman can be priceless unless she is exclusive to him. No feelings of jealousy and distrust enter into the man's mind. This can be damaging to a relationship. This is one of the greatest problems to a marriage. There is no fear or envy in one's accomplishments. That is the ultimate relationship between one man and one woman.

This is the promise of the 2nd divine institution. One man and one woman. The same sexes can never have this relationship. They do not fit to one another. It is impossible. That is not the way that God designed it. One man and one woman in noble character.

The Noble Woman and the Man

1. The noble woman inspires the man. A man does not want to be a bum in the face of someone like that. You do not want to disappoint your family.
2. The woman's abilities are essentially. She is known by her husband to be outstanding, in her financial and domestic acumen. That is important to a man and to a family.
3. No one does it better for him than his woman. She is designed to be a helper. It is fulfilling for a woman to be that. They do not understand the roles of men and women. They cannot fulfill the Biblical norms in a marriage. Only a fool strays and ruins what he has. He gives her up for what? Better looks? A moment of pleasure? Is that worth it.
4. When she possesses all the virtues of honor and integrity and strength of character, she is the most beautiful and pleasurable of all people.
5. The spiritual advanced woman is of great advantage to her husband.

What is the ideal woman in society? It is defined by our society and what we see is not the ideal woman.

The Genuine Love of a Woman

1. The genuine love of a wife who seeks the good of her husband is as constant as passing time. You can trust it; it is constant.
2. She has a deep current of affection and care that runs through her nature. Bobby was once chastised for a woman for using the word affection rather than love. Affection has a relational concept between a husband and wife. You can see it. That is the most beautiful part of a woman; take that every time.

3. This soul-love is the love that does the man good all the time. The woman thinks on him; she concentrates on him. She does him good all the days of his life.
4. This is not just a temporal good, but a like-mindedness. There must be doctrinal compatibility. The spiritually mature is key.
5. This woman stimulates his higher faculties and growth. A great woman like this is a great stability for the home. A woman with noble character has influence. Within the family, the influence is so critical. For the husband, that stimulates and elevates his place in life. She is the motivator in so many ways. A woman like this of noble character—there is nothing like it. Today, women are taking over the family and the men are standing back and letting it go. Women don't make good men, and men don't make good women.
6. She contributes to help his character to help him. The helper is not necessarily one who cleans this or that. She improves his position, widening his influence for good.
7. This is the woman's importance. There is a step, something about her which is attractive. Her noble character comes out.

Bobby thinks of a song, if you want to be happy for the rest of your life, don't get a pretty woman to be your wife; but from my personal point of view, get an ugly woman to marry you.

Now we come to the beginning of the magnificent part of her household.

Tremendous influence and energy. Women often seem to have more energy than men. They have to in order to do these things. She works with her hands in delight. This presents her as an industrious, hard-working person. She is not a menial servant. This implies a large household with lots of work. No woman can afford to be idle, having no purpose but self-centered purpose.

The Woman's Contribution

1. The woman puts her hands to useful employment, willingly, cheerfully.
2. That is leadership for the woman for her young children.
3. Why is it leadership? They learn the value of hard work and a good attitude, which they need for life.
4. From this verse, we see that the woman is skilled at manufacturing. She finds the raw material, the wool and the flax, and she produces something. This is a primitive industry, sometimes called a cottage industry.
5. She learns to spin, like a seamstress or a tailor. We must interpret this in the time of it being written. Hard work is the issue.

Her Hand Grasps the Spindle

1. These are representative skills.
2. This is a basic skill of domestic activity.

3. This can end up being a money-making operation. We must apply this to today's world.
4. Diligence in universal pursuits. Do not leave her playing with dolls or video games the whole time.
5. Girls will learn that there are other line open for effort. True womanhood is not jeweled fingers or splendid attire or brilliant accomplishments. Diligent pursuit of these objectives which contribute to her family or her husband and to society in general. As the woman goes, so goes society. National morality is led by women. When women become immoral, society goes down. When women become less than noble, society becomes less than noble. This started in the 1960's with the free-love movement. In the past, they held up standards. We see very little of this today.

This wo

Lesson #0003

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/5/2022 Wednesday

The perfect woman and wife. None of us are perfect, including the woman discussed here. She certainly had a sin nature. This portrays a woman of spiritual maturity.

This is something truly to behold. She is a real person. This is not a personification of wisdom. She is a model even of the Christian wife today. These are not impossible standards to meet.

The Woman of Proverbs 31

1. She fulfills these qualities and characteristics over her lifetime.
2. She is becoming this wife and woman as she grows spiritually. This is not a current status; this is what the woman becomes. No one probably ever completely fulfills. Like the spiritual life, we progress.
3. These reforms do not occur at the same time. They do not happen all on one day or in a couple of years. These occur during stages of her life. We also have applications in our own time.
4. The development of her spiritual life coincides with the development of these qualities and activities. If your spiritual life does not develop, then these qualities do not develop.
5. She is trained in some areas; and she gains skill in others as she advances to spiritual maturity. There are spiritual skills which we gain in the Christian life. They are the resources of the spiritual life. How to use the faith rest drill. Those are skills which we utilize in the spiritual life. There are physical skills that we gain as well.

6. The more mature the woman becomes, the more closely she fulfills this description. She becomes an excellent wife, who can find. We are all looking. This is not a passage for a man to tick off things that his wife does and does not do. That is not the way to apply this. As a man, we have our own problems when it comes to growing spiritually. Our objective is to grow spiritually and to become this. As she grows, you grow together. You begin to see the qualities of her life and his life. This is what becomes a great marriage. Then, one day, you wake up and realize, "I am married to the Proverbs 31 woman."

Without trust, there is no love.

We have times when things are not going well; and the same thing is true of her.

Proverbs 31:11 The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will have no lack of gain.

Proverbs 31:12 She does him good, and not harm, all the days of her life.

Someone who intentionally does evil does not have problem solving devices. This describes his actions towards and with her husband. We get to the description of the details of her life. Now we get back to the nitty gritty.

Proverbs 31:13 She seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands.

The woman is industrious. She is not indolent or lazy. The first area of the household of her work, skilled at manufacturing. She finds raw materials. She finds them, called wool and flax. She has a primitive industry.

She is able to take raw material and turn them into clothing. This occupation was an important part in the life of a woman at that time.

Proverbs 31:19 She puts her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle.

There are useful domestic skills. So it is not this particular skill.

Girls should learn that there are lines open for effort and enterprise and these things are not limited. This is especially an area for leadership of children for the wife and the mother. But further, this woman works as a manufacturer. She also works as a merchant. Today, it is easy to get food from far off places. In the illustration, these ships do come to port with a huge supply of needed goods from toerhwise unreachable places. Unusual things, exotic and possibly unobtainable.

We have many goods produced in other countries. Today, we might name a merchant ship google or Amazon.

Application

1. The woman brings home a continual supply of goods. We understand the necessity of that.
2. She takes the time and effort to find unusual and interesting items and she brings them home after shopping.
3. This is a visible effort of caring for her family. NIV Study Bible a critical way. Too often kids are left to fend for themselves without a great deal of support. Terrible when the child has not support. Bobby's mother was concerned about his diet, and he had to eat vegetables. It is a great aspect of caring and making sure that the children understand that you are taking care of them.

Proverbs 31:14 She is like the ships of the merchant; she brings her food from afar.

Household management in v. 15. Women should look attractive. All men like that. Women should look well put together, but not at the expense of right priorities. The overall theme of these verses is right priorities. Putting together the things which are necessary for right priorities.

Today, sloth is a particular problem of men and women.

Bobby was traveling in a national park in Costa Rica, and he heard a thump behind him, and there was an animal which fell out of a tree, and it looked Bobby over. He fell out of one tree and wandered to the next tree to climb.

Unkempt, ungroomed, careless in their self-deportment, and we see this all around us. They creep along with no purpose or ambition. They have no Biblical standards.

More Points

1. The woman of Prov. 31 is exemplary and meticulous. In her grooming and her dress. Why? This is leadership for her family in an important area. Just clean and neat.
2. Also in v. 15, this woman's strenuous duty and priority is taking care of the logistics of her household.
3. She understands getting a good start on the day. She gets an early start.
4. The energy carries over to her family.
5. Husbands also appreciate such things. A man respects a woman with this kind of energy, and he wants to demonstrate for her the same energy and drive. All the things that children look up to in both parents. A good husband does not want to let the woman down. The Proverbs 31 woman is an inspiration in the home.

Priorities energetically pursued by a father and a mother. A child will come to see the value of these things. Bobby's life was happy go lucky until he found himself at a cement plant. Bobby saw both parents work hard. Bobby understood the value of hard work. He understood that was his responsibility. He also had to uphold the name of Thieme. He was not going to let his parents down. He knew what they expected.

Bobby drove across Mexico at age 16, but then, he understood the parameters of that trip. Some of those who were with him did not.

The Rangers have a motto, Rangers lead the way. Mothers in the family lead the way as well. He is not denigrating what fathers do.

The woman might have a maid today, or a nanny or whatever.

What about the single mother today? Priorities remain the same. Supporting the children financially and balance this off with leadership in the home as well.

God designed a man and a woman together to raise children. When a woman raises children alone, the children are at a disadvantage. There is a needed partner there to provide guidance.

A single mother requires a lot more discipline. It requires some tough love, something that a woman might not be able to bring to the table. A woman can be a Proverbs 31 mother and be a single mother.

Proverbs 31:15 She rises while it is yet night and provides food for her household and portions for her maidens.

Proverbs 31:16 She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard.

Here, the woman considers investments. But that is not the meaning here. It has a wider scope than simply buying and selling property.

Application of this Verse

1. This presents the excellent wife as shrewd in business. She does not have to strive to be the CEO in order to be a success.
2. She can handle money, little or much.
3. With it, she makes wise choices, even investments from her earnings, and we will figure out where those earnings come from.
4. She has an entrepreneurial spirit in her own right.
5. She is not necessarily searching for wealth; sometimes there is frugality involved here. She is wise in monetary manners.

She supplies clothes for her family and she sells these garments to others.

Proverbs 31:17 She dresses herself with strength and makes her arms strong.

Proverbs 31:22 She makes bed coverings for herself; her clothing is fine linen and purple.

What she does not use, she sells.

Bobby is reminded of some stories. She is starting a small business at her own home. She makes this clothing and she sells it.

There was a woman that Bobby knew. She got married and the husband had a great job and then he got laid off. He rolled into a ball on the couch.

She began baking bread and selling it. She did what she had to do for her family.

This woman made money as a whole seller. So she shows ingenuity and business sense with what she was doing; with what she had. This is very worthwhile in managing a household.

This woman knew how to handle money and she know how to run her household. She had her brain working and she thought and she made plans. She would think outside the box. Solomon concludes that we ought to be aware of. It is not unworthy for a woman to engage in an honest trade or to have her own business. The wearing of fine linens was a very common trade at one time. Property is always a good investment. She does this together with her husband. Her choices are wise and he is wise to listen to her. Husbands are foolish if they do not listen to a wife like this. Wise men recognize her for her skills. So how would she use this property?

Proverbs 31:16 She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard.

This is an agricultural economy. She has bought this land and now is cultivating it. She plants a vineyard. Now, that is something to sell. She works hard at it and she is successful. She produces the grapes which produces wine. She now has a crop to use for her family but also to trade on the market. She has now another product. At the same time, she shows leadership for her children with her hard work and how it pays off. She probably involves her children in some of these enterprises.

Proverbs 31:18 She perceives that her merchandise is profitable. Her lamp does not go out at night.

Lesson #0004

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/6/2022 Thursday

It is an occupation hazard, and you have a tendency to evaluate this passage as related to yourself and what you have done and not done. That is not the proper way to evaluate yourself. There are many avenues that a woman and a mother can take. We must evaluate this is the time that it was written. All of this coincides and is connected to grace orientation. These characteristics are related to a believing wife and mother.

Of course we are talking about a wife and a husband. This is pertinent to you, married or not. Bobby spent a long time single; and he has spent a long time growing. This allows you to better identify your opposite number. Whether single or married, your characteristics are still on the table for all of us.

We are currently looking at the details of this excellent wife of noble character. There are specific pursuits and she is not idle and she is not lazy. She is a leader in training her children and a leader in the home. Even her husband learns from her. A smart man learns, hears and observes. This woman is an example of how to lead. She has an impact in her home with her children and her husband. She is entrepreneurial in her own right. You do not have to be involved in all of these pursuits. She is mindful of opportunities that would improve her family's position and supplement family income.

In v. 13, she looks for wool and flax. She is motivated and making clothes is not drudgery to her. There will be a great reward for her attitude.

She brings her food from afar. That is a way to please her family. She brings in variety. She works at that. That shows her children and husband how much she cares for them. V.14.

She gets up early in v. 15. She considers a field and buys it. If she sees opportunities, she takes them. She manufactures things. She makes money selling the clothes which she makes. She supplies belts to the tradesmen. She works very hard, as a woman and as a wife.

she girds herself with strength and she makes her arms strong. Today, we might say that she hits the gym. It is good to stay in shape. It is not a bad thing to do. What she does in life is done with high energy.

Bobby thought of his own wife here. Norma works out and runs. Bobby enjoys the results. She has a natural energy. She directs that energy to keep in shape and she directs it towards her work as well.

Bobby supports her work and does not see it as neglect. Spending time working is not neglect.

V. 17 describes the energy of a person. Some of us do not have that kind of energy. Whatever energy that we have, we must utilize in the priorities in life. That is why she gets up early, before dawn. She works hard when she has the most energy.

Now the wife moves ahead in life, and her children are moving into adolescence.

In v. 18 she senses that her gain is good; her lamp does not go out at night.

The Wife in V. 18

1. This woman is looking back on her life to this point. She senses that she has done her job well. She has done well for her husband, her children.
2. Ta'am.
3. This means, to physically taste.

4. By inference from the physical to the mental, it means to perceive. She is thinking and she is perceiving.
5. This wife is perceiving and considering what has come before in her life. She is remembering.
6. It is good to be retrospective at times. Not dwelling on the past; and not guilty retrospection. Examining the progression of one's life and lessons learned is valuable. Where you have been has a bearing on where you are going.
7. She has learned by trial and maybe by error. She sees what her works have brought her; what her energy has wrought. Anytime a woman or man has the qualities of a mature spiritual life, it is fulfillment for him or her and for the family's expectation. It is a fulfillment for her. It is not drudgery.
8. However, she maintains her humility. She is not thinking, "I am really good at all this. Look at all that I have done." She is not self-centered. She has too much to do; too much to accomplish.
9. She knows her house is profitable. Her family has profited from her character traits and from her work habits. Self-esteem is a leader and a model of what a woman, a wife should be.
10. That is what her lamp does not go out at night means. She threw her heart into her work. She left it all out on the field. She did her best. Not gloating over, but remembering.
11. Her indfatiguable effort has brought family and monetary benefit. The spiritual life must be included. You cannot spoil a child if you give them a spiritual life. Giving a child things and on the basis of grace, they are not spoiled; they learn.
12. She finds from her retrospection that all is satisfying for her and she is gratified with her work and with what she has done. She never loses sight of the source. It has not been for her painful drudgery or grief. Malcontent is what secular women are told to be. Especially when comparing the traditional values of the Christian woman. But the noble wife, she goes to the top of the ladder when it comes to personal satisfaction. The feminists who laugh at this sort of woman, they will never know her satisfaction or the source...

She is also engaged in something else in v. 20. She extends her hands to the poor and to the needy. Now we are moving outside of the home.

1. She is now in a position to be involved in charitable activities.
2. She not only pays close attention to the needs of her maturing home; and she continues to work for her comfort and well-being. Her generosity now extends to those who are in need.
3. She does good at her own house; but charity begins at home and carries over to those on the outside. This woman has a compassion for the needy.
4. She opens her palms to the needy. This is a picture of opening her hands in an attitude of giving. She has the wherewithal to do it, without depriving her family. No one should deprive their family to give outside of the family.

5. This help does not mean just money. That is how we think of charity so often. Give, give and help everyone who needs it. The needy are not just poor financially. This includes help of all kinds, like help to the elderly. This is not about hitting the streets to find derelicts to give money to them. Often, that is just feeling good or you do it to feel good about yourself. There are plenty of people in this church or a neighbor who can benefit by grace. This woman has a testimony; a witness to them of grace orientation. This has an impact beyond serving in a soup line. That has no impact for the next day.

When doing something for the needy, the greatest thing you can do is give them the gospel. They need the truth, the ultimate solution.

Previously, her hand was diligent at work at making a product. She has obvious skills that relate to revenue. She now uses her industry in charitable ways.

Paul repeats this principle in Eph. 4:28. Paul seconds the motion. He must labor performing with his own hands what is good. The woman looks back and she sees that her labor is good.

this verse is not commending socialism. What we produce is our own. We have a right to it. No one should take money from some to redistribute it to others who do nothing.

This charitable woman has created some wealth, which is also a benefit to others. You create jobs and you create income. Out of the kindness of her heart, she offers of her means and of her time, to those who were in need around her. Charity should represent grace orientation. We should be the most charitable of all. Private charity and benevolence is a necessity in society. People who really need and want help. Indiscriminate government aid may help some, but it also encourages indolence. We are very wealthy and we have the poor as well. The poor often lose the incentive for self-improvement.

People of a nation become ripe for the fool's gold of socialism. It is true and inevitable that some will be left behind; they will be homeless and not catch up. There will always be poor, no matter how much charity exists. Much of the conditions of the poor revolves around bad decisions, mental illness. Kjl sometimes medication is needed for the mentally ill. Government welfare operates under the premise that poverty can be entirely eliminated. It morphs into control and dependency. If government is the source of your income, then they control you. That is socialism; that is not charity.

V. 21 she is not afraid of the snow for her household. Her family is all clothed with scarlet. A blizzard is a very dangerous thing. Those in northern Virginia spending the night on the freeway. It is very dangerous. It is very easy to get lost. Wes Knoble had to tie a rope to the house to keep from going off from the house in a snow.

1. Every family must face the snow and deal with it.
  2. The noble woman of this chapter does not fear it for herself or for the house.
  3. In fact, when catastrophe comes, be it weather, financial reverse, illness, death; this woman stands stable and is ready to comfort and to encourage. She herself may be very uncomfortable.
  4. Under these conditions she is a rock of stability. Stable as a rock. People can depend upon her.
  5. Even before such things happen, the household has been clothed with sables.
1. A double protection here.
  2. She has prepared her household well.
  3. She has supplied with teaching and leadership with what they need to survive and to thrive. Her spiritual life is a life of leadership. The spiritual life prepares you for adversity.
  4. Teach your children well but teach them the spiritual life.
  5. The wife is the perpetrator and the perpetuator of preparedness. She consistently demonstrates her spiritual maturity. Bobby had that throughout his lifetime. Bobby would not be here without it. They modeled that spiritual life and he knew that was the way to go.
  6. She is that rock whose refuge is the rock of Bible doctrine. She is a rock because she trusts in the rock.
  7. It shows to others and they turn to her because of her stability and strength. They also understand that the spiritual life is the priority.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/9/2022 1 Sunday

Bobby is looking to complete this study today.

This is a general statement of what every woman should strive to be. Most are not but some are. We should know what the Christian model for a wife is. The principles apply for all time.

An excellent wife, who can find? For her worth is far above jewels. She is not just an ideal or a personification of wisdom. Any woman who is advancing spiritually can attain this. In fact, she will. The heart of the husband will trust in her. Gain here does not necessarily mean that he will be monetarily successful or all the money that he has ever wanted. Everything about his wife is improved because he has trust.

She does him good and not evil all the days of her life. She is trustworthy. There is no love without trust. You must trust her and she must trust you. The virtue and integrity of someone that you trust. That trust is the key to their success as a couple. There is the second characteristic, that she is always a benefit. She is always advantageous to her husband and to her family in every way. She is then the consummate helper, ezer, as she was created by God to be. This is in spite of the sin nature. She is the epitome of what Genesis describes. She does her husband good and not evil all the days of her life. She holds in check the exercise of Gen. 3:16b. Her desire is for her husband's authority. But he will have leadership over her. Her desire is to usurp that leadership. She is a woman. She is the Christian wife who follows Eph. 5:32 and 33. See to it that you respect your husbands. The husband and wife keep to the roles which God designed of them.

There are duties and benefits that she will bring to her family. She is also able to comfort and to bring good counsel. A smart man listens to such a woman. She is charitable to those who are outside of the home, as per v. 20. She has prepared her family; and she does not fear for them. She has trained them in the spiritual life. She puts them in the hands of the Lord. So many times Bobby's parents put us in the hands of the Lord. Bobby survived and she survived.

In v. 22 we get a very personal look at this fantastic woman. She does not neglect herself in all of her busy schedule and duties. She makes coverings for herself. Her clothing is fine linen and purple. She makes clothes for her family and she also produces clothing for herself. She is not ostentatious. She wears fine linen and purple. That is a sign of stylishness and cost and appropriate. Linen, in the era, is a mixture of cotton and flax, both natural fibers. It was somewhat hard to find. Ships came into shore and they had some of these colors. The purple came from a Mediterranean shell fish.

What Does this Mean?

1. What an index is to a book, clothes and dress are to the wearer.
2. Index say what is in the book.
3. Clothes do the same thing. They can indicate what is in the soul.
4. Sloppy, dirty, slave to bad fashion reflects a sloppy, disorganized, unstable, anti authority soul. At the very least, bad taste.
5. What you see outwardly of the woman is what you may understand is in her soul. You have to think about what you put on every morning. There can be instability and a mindlessness about how one dresses.
6. Not always, but the clothes often indicates what is true of the woman.
7. One reflects the other. It is superficial. Bobby sits in the airport and notices the amazing clothes that some people. Bobby makes a point not to look like that. Well-dressed people often get a better service on the airlines. They judge and evaluate who you are. Do not judge a woman to be arrogance or extravagant if she wears nice and costly clothes.

Bobby realized that his wife likes to wear stylish clothes and she has a lot of them. Bobby had to build some extra closets for them. It seemed like she spent a lot of money here, but she discovered a store where she can buy designer clothes for a lot less. Bobby appreciates it. She never looks bad when she leaves the house. Appropriate clothing is not garish and it is not promiscuous. There is a time for promiscuous clothing, which is for the husband. Elegance and style does not require the spending of a lot of money.

Proper Dress

1. This woman has the right to dress well within her means. Never deprive your family because you want something. Your family comes first. The woman does not neglect herself.
2. In all likelihood, she made her clothes with her own earnings.
3. She was meticulous in presenting herself to the world. Why? What is the point?
4. Likewise, she is a model for her family, which is important for children to understand.
5. The clothes and sense of deportment reveals an organized mind.
6. Her neighbors look at her and they feel themselves in the presence of true nobility, but with humility. A person with a noble look and has great humility. She stands out, in a good way. That is important for a Christian woman.
7. Well-dressed is the polish on an already beautiful soul. Her look is a benefit to her husband's public life. V. 23.

Bobby has seen many pastors in jeans and scuffed up shoes and an open shirt. A tie is a sign of authority, and important for a person to wear for teaching. Clothes are important for what they say.

If you look like the ragamuffins in the airport, then you look like one of the crowd. As a believer, you have a mission and message.

Her husband is now among the gates when he sits with the elders by the gates. This woman's husband is known in the gates where the elders preside. They did not go to the city hall; this took place at the gates.

The Wife Reflects upon the Husband

1. Her husband was a prominent man among prominent men. He can move in any circle.
2. But she has contributed to that prominence by her own excellence.
3. So, her husband has derived civil benefits from his wife's reputation. She is known.
4. It is assumed by people that the head of a such a well-ordered household, the husband, is a worthy man. The wife is integral to that perception.
5. This noble woman is aggressive and she is competent. She looks to do good for her husband and of her family. She functions in a way that respects; and shows respect for her husband's leadership. This is what sets her apart from the rest of the world. She brings height and stature to herself and to herself. She is a woman with a beautiful soul, a spiritual life, and she is competent. She accomplishes the Proverbs 31 duties in a wife.
6. She is a woman to respect; and yet she gives deference and honor to her husband.
7. She enhances her husband's standing among those who are the leaders in the society. In the military, the military wife was necessary for the wife of a military officer. The wife has tremendous responsibilities for the family. The wife with a spiritual life.

She smiles at the future.

Advancing in the Spiritual Life

1. She reveals strength and dignity. Many of these things are things that society and humanism say that a woman should be. Yet they do not know how she can be this. From where? How?
2. Her strength shows even through her appearance.
3. She is a woman to be reckoned with. So many today get aggressive and try to show themselves to be above the rest, and it makes them less than what they could be. The woman maintains a spiritual life and an authority oriented.
4. Accomplishments, her financial success, her personal style, her personal loyalty, all contribute. At the end of the day, it is her spiritual life which sets her apart. Any Christian woman can have this. It is all about advancing in the spiritual life.

Advancing in the Spiritual Life

1. She smiles in the face of the future. She is a confidence builder for her husband and her children. She is the stability of the home. She smiles in the face of the future. The word of encouragement that a woman of doctrine can give.
2. She faces the future with cheerfulness and confidence. This is very much a leadership attitude and quality. She has many areas of leadership within the role of the wife and mother.
3. She is well-established in strength and dignity. She metaphorically laughs at whatever may come.
4. The laugh of a mature spiritual life. She projects a relaxed mental attitude under pressure. The life that has lived is the source of immediate smiles and satisfaction for her. They continue to be a source of satisfaction. She will have no regrets about what she has not done or what she has done. Many people think that they have somehow missed something in life. She does not feel that way. She will have no regrets in retrospect. She will have a memory of the noble past. Evaluate the present and look into the future.

She will be prudent in speech.

Solutions to marital problems from the human standpoint. We keep looking for new apps or that they might be more efficient. Bobby is going to present new apps related to marital problems. She sent into tech support for help with her husband.

Dear Tech supporter,

I upgraded from boyfriend 5.0 to husband 1.0; certain programs slowed down, like personal attention, conversation no longer runs. I have tried running nagging to fix these programs. Tech support: bf is an entertainment package whereas husband is an entire operating system. Install tears, guilt. Overuse of the tears application can cause the husband to default to beer, etc. Do not install mother-in-law 1.0, as it runs a virus in the background. And do not try to reinstall boyfriend 5.0 Husband may lack memory.

The evil propaganda and lies

David's Prayer for Deliverance

1. David is not the source of deliverance, nor does he claim to be. David has done quite a job in delivering himself and Israel. He has killed his tens of thousands, while Saul has only killed his thousands. David was God's man. He did many things to show Israel who he was. But he does not pray, "Let me rise up and destroy these people."
2. David knows that God uses circumstances and people in His plan. He has himself been used on a number of occasions.
3. David does not pray for personal strength to destroy this enemy. This enemy appears to be undefined. He cannot do anything about it, for whatever reason.
4. What David understands and claims is the potency and finality of Divine intervention. There is no question. We are favored people; and God often is willing to deliver us. Too often, our eyes are on national problems and not upon divine solutions. A divine solution for us is confidence, that God will achieve His purposes. Do not focus on the problems; focus on the solution. The real spiritual life solution is the confidence that we have in the Lord for what He will do. It is grace orientation; it is utilizing the other problem solving devices. We are occupied with Christ more than the circumstances which surround us. We look at these circumstances and we get disturbed by them. We talk about these various problems and we think that there is a political or social solution. The Lord's will and His deliverance comes in many ways and in many different packages. He does not necessarily do that things which we look for. We can apply the same thing in our personal life, all the time. God handles those problems. David is praying, "Handle it, because I can't." Our prayer is for God to handle the situation. Then we must trust Him. Even if we are in the midst of national divine discipline. People see so much discipline taking place, and we think that God is not at work. God's permissive will allows for the bad decisions of evil people, He does not all it to run amuck. His will is always in operation. His plan is always in operation, even though divine discipline may be taking place. Do not rule it out. We can only go so far in the --isms which oppose God...and God will put a stop to it.

The book of Hosea is fascinating, as it is all about God's love for Israel. Hosea was to marry a prostitute named Gomer, and she represented Israel. God had to discipline the nation that He loved. God still loved them; and Israel I still in existence. We may be in the midst of severe divine discipline.

One of the great historical examples from the Old Testament, and trusting in Him, when God removed an evil propagandist and destroyed a great army.

The Rabshakah was a title, not the person's name. He stood in front of the gates of Jerusalem and he was a perfect example of what David was praying about in Psalm 59:12-13. H stood in front of Jerusalem and blasphemed their God.

Psalm 59:12-13 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter, consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

2Kings 18-19

At this point, the northern kingdom is gone and the southern kingdom remains. 10 tribes were gone. They deserved the divine discipline which they received. God remained faithful to the city of Jews in the north. It was clear that Judah could not defeat Assyria, even after soliciting the ally Egypt. In the time of this, the Rabshakeh stood in front of the wall of Israel. A human king, the most powerful King in the world; but he is impugning the sovereignty of God. The Rabshakeh vocalized before Hezekiah. A seize in the ancient world was designed to destroy a people from the inside. The Rabshakeh also brought 185,000 soldiers with him. This might be the largest army in Old Testament and may in all ancient history.

Rabshakeh then began his speech, about the devastation to be brought against Jerusalem. He did this in a very obscene way.

2Kings 18:27 But the Rabshakeh said to them, "Has my master sent me to speak these words to your master and to you, and not to the men sitting on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own dung and to drink their own urine?"

2Ki 18:28 Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out in a loud voice in the language of Judah: "Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria!

2Ki 18:29 Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you out of my hand.

He promises this instead:

2Kings 18:33 Has any of the gods of the nations ever delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

This is the propaganda spoken by so many. Just give up and give in. Don't resist us. Don't worry about it. It will be great.

We see nations even today, who say, "Surrender and we will destroy you." This was the case many times with Nazi Germany. The Czechs just gave in, without resisting. They did the same thing with Austria, not a shot being fired. But when they went to Poland, Poland said, hell no. and that began WWII. This army was the most powerful army in the world. This is exactly what the Rabshakeh is doing. This is his threat. This is the epitome of the arrogance of power. The worst lie was still to come.

The Rabshakeh spoke Judæan so that everyone there could understand him.

2Kings 18:27–32 But the Rabshakeh said to them, "Has my master sent me to speak these words to your master and to you, and not to the men sitting on the wall, who are doomed with you to eat their own dung and to drink their own urine?" Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out in a loud voice in the language of Judah: "Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria! Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you out of my hand. Do not let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD by saying, The LORD will surely deliver us, and this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.' Do not listen to Hezekiah, for thus says the king of Assyria: 'Make your peace with me and come out to me. Then each one of you will eat of his own vine, and each one of his own fig tree, and each one of you will drink the water of his own cistern, until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive trees and honey, that you may live, and not die. And do not listen to Hezekiah when he misleads you by saying, "The LORD will deliver us."

This means that they will become slaves. "You may live and not die." They will work these lands as slaves. But, they remain alive.

This is a direct affront. "Don't depend upon your God. Give up!"

Rabshakeh and Hezekiah

1. This is the trap that Rabshakeh is setting up. Bobby thinks of the lies and propaganda in Washington, but they will catch themselves. What they say never happens. More people die from regular flu than with covid. Bobby got vaccinated and he got covid. So there is no guarantee that Do what we say, and everything will be okay.
2. Who will trap them? God will do it, as it says in 2Kings 19:34 "I will do it for David's sake." David's Greater Son would be the guarantee. What if Hezekiah went into the Temple with Psalm 59 to read.
3. This is a later example of the effectiveness of a prayer by David. David makes this prayer around 1000 B.C. And 3000 years later, this prayer can still be prayed.
4. This is a later application by Judeah. The psalms were sung and proclaimed for the people of Israel. This was the doctrine for these people. Hezekiah knew where his strength was. He humbled himself and went before the Lord. Hezekiah knew that he only had one solution and that was from God.

We have some real Rabshakehs in this country and they threaten us all of the time.

The Contrast

1. This narrative is a contrast between the fall of Israel in 721 B.C., who departed from Israel and had taken up with false god; and this is with Hezekiah. In the face of propaganda and power that he cannot defeat.
2. God does not desert those who are faithful. You cannot do that. God has a plan for us. We make the choice to stay in that plan.
3. In this case, Y<sup>e</sup>howah delivered for Judah, by destroying the enemy.
4. The outcome for Judah against the Rabshakeh is exactly what David prayed for in these two verses of Psalm 59. We may not see this in the United States; but it will happen in the Tribulation. What Christ will do in that future battle at His return.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/13/2022 Thursday

We are in 2Kings still.

David's prayer in Psalm 59:13 calls for the ultimate in deliverance from enemies. The ultimate deliverance is destruction. This is not simply a blood thirsty implacable request on the part of David. It is a call for a demonstration of the Lord's sovereignty and His power, and this needs to be demonstrated to all people to the ends of the earth. He is the only God, the all-powerful God of Israel. His people are under strong duress. God will show to the ends of the earth that He is God. Despite being apostate today, Jews will survive to the Millennium.

There are racial Jews, religious Jews, and there are regenerate Jews, those who have accepted Jesus as their savior. They are truly the people of God. God will not allow their destruction.

The Promise of God to the Jew

1. This promise is grounded in Genesis 12. It is a lie that we, as the church, have inherited the promises made to Abraham. God has never reneged on that promise.
2. God promised Abraham that he would be the father of a great nation. Blessing to those who blessed him and a cursing to those who cursed him. The Jew would have a future rule under the Messiah.
3. God will destroy Israel's enemies for David's sake. This preserves the line of David which culminates in the Messiah.
4. As David prays, that preservation may include deliverance by the utter destruction of an enemy. God is perfectly capable of doing that. This will happen many times in history. For the future of Israel and for the survival of Israel. David asks for this outcome, to destroy them. These psalms are for Israel then, and they apply to all believers even today. This model will be invoked 300 years later at a tipping point for the southern kingdom. There were two kingdoms of Israel after Solomon. Jerusalem was in the southern kingdom. Around 721 B.C., the northern kingdom was destroyed. They deserted the Lord and they became idolatrous. So Assyria administered the fifth cycle of discipline to the northern kingdom. 20 years later there was an army from the Assyrians at the wall of Jerusalem, led by their chief propagandist the Rabshakeh. He was the mouthpiece of the Assyrian king. The army and this man were designed to strike fear into the hearts of the people on the other side of the wall. He will describe in graphic terms what would happen to those who did not surrender. The inhabitants were doomed to eat their own dung and to drink their own urine. They would be destroyed and starved in a siege. He continued to terrorize the Jews with horrendous threats. All the people of Jerusalem understood what Rabshakeh was saying. That was the point. 2Kings 18:28–31
Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out in a loud voice in the language of Judah: "Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria! Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to deliver you out of my hand. Do not let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD by saying, The LORD will surely deliver us, and this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.'
5. The Rabshakeh promises them a wonderful land. Do not trust in the Lord, trust in us, and we will give you a land like the land you love.

Logically. Why would he take them from one land and give them a better land? Actually, they are going to become slaves. Many think that self-preservation and slavery is better than death. That is not the faith rest attitude of a believer. Hezekiah, as he listened to the propaganda speech, that there be no response to the Rabshakeh speech. And the people followed his orders.

The people were not very happy with Hezekiah's approach of no surrender. They liked what the Rabshakeh said. The Assyrian army was cruel and vicious. They were a powerful, strong and an efficient army. What the Jews heard scared them. "Take your eyes off God and think of yourselves. Do what we say and you will be better off. Do what we tell you and things will be better. Socialism promises things which it cannot deliver."

socialism enslaves, just as the people of Assyria would do. Who has the power; who is the sovereign power of the universe? The Jews had the problem; but Hezekiah did not.

One man have divine viewpoint in the crisis. It was not Hezekiah who delivered; it was God. That is the point; and that is the point that David makes. David was a great warrior but he was depending upon God.

2Kings 19:19 So now, O LORD our God, save us, please, from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you, O LORD, are God alone."

Hezekiah's Prayer

1. Notice that Hezekiah did not pray for personal or national deliverance. That is not his point. Hezekiah already knows that God will protect Israel. He knows the Abrahamic covenant. God will preserve this nation for His purposes.
2. There were many gods in the various nations. Temple prostitutes. That was idolatry and that is what Israel fell into. The Jews were not to intermarry because that would introduce idolatry into their homes.
3. His was a greater prayer than simply, O God rescue us. There was an understanding of God as Israel's deliverer.
4. This is a prayer of true motivation in glorifying God in whatever he decided. Hezekiah knew that God would protect him.
5. Hezekiah was likely very familiar with David's prayer in Psalm 59:13, because he essentially repeats this prayer. "All the kingdoms of the earth may know that You alone are God."
6. Hezekiah asked for God to use these circumstances. The most powerful army of that era was standing outside of the Jerusalem walls, and the Rabshakeh warns them of certain destruction. Hezekiah says, "Rescue us in such a hopeless situation." Hezekiah wants Israel to see and trust the Lord. Hezekiah is a great man here. He has it all together.
7. Hezekiah wants God to remind the Jews to never bow to a foreign king.

We do not have the enemy at the gates; so our prayers should be for God to glorify Himself by our deliverance. Both of David's prayers are answered. They would be destroyed in one sense and they would be scattered as well. The Jews needed to be reminded of all this. They needed to see that these would not trouble Jerusalem again. It was not to be the Assyrians to defeat Israel but the Chaldeans. But the Jews brought this on themselves in 586 B.C. Many people were used by God in order to preserve Israel even at this point in history. Daniel was a great man, up there with David and Moses. God used him in those circumstances. Israel will be preserved.

The kingdoms of the earth would be dealt with in a spectacular and an unmistakable way. And God will do this in a way not seen anywhere else.

What God Can do

1. God used this incident and what an incident that it was, to bring deliverance to Israel and this got Assyrian's attention.
2. If God can kill 185,000 soldiers in one night, He can deliver any client nation by His power.
3. Trust that the Lord knows what He is doing. He has a perfect plan. It will be fulfilled, just as His plan will include as we move forward in the Christian life. This is a moment when it is crystal clear.
4. Trust in the Lord and He will do it. God's plan will be accomplished. We can trust that. We just need to stay in it.
5. God will do what is right and necessary for those who trust Him.

We apply the various rationales, and that means that we are in the plan of God. It is a necessity, and it is not that hard.

Jesus Christ Controls History

1. Jesus Christ controls history for His purposes. He does not do this for our comfort and so that we can feel good. He will protect His people.
2. Jesus delivers the person, the people and/or the nation that is positive toward doctrine. Hezekiah is the one man who made the difference. Hezekiah: "I am nothing, but You are the King of Kings." Who controls deliverance and why.
3. But, God also punishes and even destroys the client nation that rejects Bible doctrine; and the nation whose believers are negative toward doctrine. The nation which becomes degenerate in many, many ways. If one man can make the difference, those who listen to Bible doctrine can also make this difference.
4. This happened to Judah's sister nation. The northern kingdom rejected God and went to idolatry. One man called out to God from the southern kingdom for deliverance and God delivered Israel. He placed his trust in Israel.
5. What if an entire pivot responded to danger in this way? That is all that it takes.

Jesus Christ Controls History

1. God uses circumstances and He uses people to control and facilitated circumstances to accomplish His plan.
2. God uses circumstances, good and evil, for benefit.
3. His will is never prevented from succeeding by evil in this world. It is always around us. It does not prevent the success of God's plan in this world.
4. His will is not stymied by the satanic schemes of the cosmic system. God uses these things for His purposes. God will use the evil, even the evil which we see all around us, to accomplish His purposes.
5. Application: Always look to the Lord first for the solution to problems, even and especially for national ones. In the time in which we live and the time in which Hezekiah lives. The cosmic system permeates society. It always has and it always will. Discipline for recovery and for our benefit, but never for evil intent or an evil outcome from God.

Closing Points

1. God is never responsible for evil at any time.
2. God may use evil for His purposes, and He uses the evil of an evil nation against them.
3. Evil is a trap. Humanism is a trap. Bobby has been laughing. Today we have seen women's rights, particularly in women's sports. But now, humanism says that transgenders should be able to compete in the female arena. Here is all of this work and now they cannot win. It destroys the sports. The transgenders are males with a little treatment. They can still outstrip in track, swimming and in all other sports. It is all unfair, and yet they only talk about fairness. Somewhere, people are not getting a fair shake. No matter how much government thinks that they can give equity and equality to, they can't.
4. In spite of everything, God's justice still abides and His love is always extended towards us. We always receive His justice even when we are treated unjustly.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/16/2022 1Sunday

The communion service January 16, 2022

We could never have a greater objective than to remember our Lord and what He did for us. Symbolic language is one way to gain a better understanding of this

The True Manna, the Kinsman Redeemer, etc. are symbols which help us relate to Him in human terms. What do you think when you see a flower, a sunrise, a mountain peak or millions of stars.

Psalm 8:1–4 O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory above the heavens. Out of the mouth of babies and infants, you have established strength because of your foes, to still the enemy and the avenger. When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is man that you are mindful of him, and the son of man that you care for him?

Romans 1:19–20 For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse.

Hebrews 1:1–4 Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. He is the radiance of the glory of God and the exact imprint of his nature, and he upholds the universe by the word of his power. After making purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, having become as much superior to angels as the name he has inherited is more excellent than theirs.

Ezekiel 34:29 And I will provide for them renowned plantations so that they shall no more be consumed with hunger in the land, and no longer suffer the reproach of the nations.

The flowers of the cactus were magnificent and magnified by the background of the Sonoran desert. These flowers often reminded Bobby's mother of Jesus.

He grew up before Him....He had no stately majesty....despised and forsaken of men...He was despised and we did not esteem Him.

Our Lord died, surrounded by a wasteland of humanity. He was a plant with nothing to commend Him. No appeal. For those who understood His purpose. He is the exquisite flower of the desert.

And the Word became flesh and lived among us.

Solomon called the Shulamite women the lily of the valley. We can see the lily in its glory; and we will see the Lord in all of His glory.

Another symbol of Jesus is the sun. Malachi 4:2 But for you who fear my name, the sun of righteousness shall rise with healing in its wings. You shall go out leaping like calves from the stall.

The sun is so bright that we cannot stare at it without permanently destroying our own vision. It shines day after day. He is our spiritual life; in Him, we grow; and without Him, we wither and die. The unbeliever without Him is lacking the light of salvation. Will he be illuminated by the truth? That illumination spurs saving faith?

Every day the sun climbs high in the heavens and makes things visible and it bears witness to the invisible. It brings evidence of the Trinity. Did you know that one ray of light contains all the colors in the universe. You can see it when one light beam passes through a prism and those colors are reflected. This is the revealing of all attributes of the Godhead; inherent to each Member.

This has particular application during the incarnation of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was the visible prism through which all the visible attributes of God radiate. This was revealed in the transfiguration. He was transformed before them and his face radiated like the sun. Every aspect of the sun; every beam radiating reminds us of the Son, Whom John spoke of as the True Light that enlightens every man.

There is another celestial body. Rev. 22:16 I Jesus have sent My angel. I am the Root, the Offspring of David, and the Bright Morning Star.

Why did Jesus chose to speak of Himself as the bright morning star. The most well-known, most admired, most viewed. It is the last star to disappear in the morning. The arrival of the morning star introduces salvation to all mankind.

Numbers 24:17 a Star shall come forth from Jacob.

The appearance of the Morning Star ushers in our eternal day of salvation. This will bring our glorious morning of salvation.

The image of the Good Shepherd. Shepherds were integral to the agrarian economy. The crowds who heard Jesus speak understood Jesus speaking of being the Good Shepherd, Who lays down His life for the sheep.

He feeds the flock; He searches for the lost sheep, He gathers His flock together. He arrives on this earth to seek and save that which was lost.

Ezekiel 34:11–14 "For thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I, I myself will search for my sheep and will seek them out. As a shepherd seeks out his flock when he is among his sheep that have been scattered, so will I seek out my sheep, and I will rescue them from all places where they have been scattered on a day of clouds and thick darkness. And I will bring them out from the peoples and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land. And I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the ravines, and in all the inhabited places of the country. I will feed them with good pasture, and on the mountain heights of Israel shall be their grazing land. There they shall lie down in good grazing land, and on rich pasture they shall feed on the mountains of Israel.

He will never leave or forsake His sheep. He gives us nothing less than His best.

The hired shepherd will not stand up against a predator or a thief. He will not stand up under pressure.

like the pharisees, there are many who deny the atoning death of Jesus Christ. Those who deny the Lord's sacrifice often reduce Him to the level of a near-helpless victim. They will claim that His offering was not salvation but just an example which should be emulated by us all. Jesus understood His death to be different. He understood that it was substitutionary in character. He was the reality of the animal sacrifices in Israel.

Matt. 26:27–28 tells us what He knew in advance: And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, saying, "Drink of it, all of you, for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.

while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/16/2022 2Sunday

We just completed a short study of the Rabshakeh and he was at the gates of Jerusalem, and he challenged Hezekiah and he had 185,000 troops to back up whatever he had to say. Bobby included this as this was so close to David's circumstances in Psalm 59. This is so that the world would know that the God of Israel was sovereign over all. "Destroy them in wrath, that they may be no more, that men may know the God rules in Israel all everywhere else."

2Kings 19:35 And that night the angel of the LORD went out and struck down 185,000 in the camp of the Assyrians. And when people arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies.

We would love to pray like this, but it is not going to happen with China or with the Russians. But this will happen during the Tribulation. God will destroy those armies coming into Jerusalem.

David's request, just like Hezekiah's request, was honored by the Lord. The Lord solved the problem of evil that had controlled David and Hezekiah by simply removing it. David's enemies were evil and God simply took them away.

We have similar evils threatening our own nation today. Evil is all around us. Just as it was during the time of David and Hezekiah. A question arose in Bobby's mind: as we think about the predicament of evil in this world, why doesn't God simply end evil? After all, He did away with 185,000 Assyrian soldiers. It seems that the Almighty could do just that...or could He? He does not wipe out evil.

Satan's contention when he was condemned, was, How could a loving God sentence His creatures to hell? The answer is, God's justice and righteousness must be satisfied.

Why Doesn't God Remove All Evil in this World?

1. To remove all suffering and all evil in this world, this would negate God's plan and purposes for the angelic conflict.
2. If God removed evil from this world, this would override all human volition and it would ignore the sin nature of man.
3. If that were the case, God would have to overlook the original sin of Adam. That is, compromise with sin. Could He, can He do that? God's Own essence limits Him in this area. God can do anything, but He does not choose to do anything. God's righteousness and justice must be satisfied.
4. God would have to forgive sin without His justice and righteousness being satisfied. God cannot do that. We are dealing with the essence of God in relation to evil. There was pure evil in 2Kings 18-19.

5. Sin must be atoned for; it cannot simply be overlooked. God cannot end sin and evil without resolving His justice and righteousness.
6. That would violate His essence and make Him less than God. This would make Him flawed by passively tolerating sin. Perfect righteousness cannot associate with sin in any way. His justice has to judge something or Someone.
7. God cannot resolve the Angelic Conflict, which is why mankind was created. If God takes away evil or sin, this does not resolve the conflict.
8. God cannot simply wipe out all evil or sin; or compromise with it. Man fell, just as Satan fell. Men are sinners. Could God say, "No sin, Adam. You cannot sin." But that would have resolved nothing, as Satan had already fell. Satan did choose against God, and that has to be fully resolved.

Man is responsible for the evil and suffering in this world; the sole result of the suffering and evil in this world. We attempt to blame circumstances and our mistakes for our bad decisions.

Good and Evil in this World and Human Choice.

1. Much if not most suffering in the world is caused by people, who inflict it upon themselves and upon others. Or antagonisms towards others.
2. It is the sin nature and the cosmic system that tempts people to commit sin and evil and to maintain it on earth. We maintain it, as well as its presence here. We maintain it in ourselves and in the circumstances which surround us.
3. Man makes the decision to indulge in evil. And sometimes, man claims, this is not evil. Even if humanism dismisses evil or rationalizes it, it is still evil.
4. Personal choice is still the cause when evil befalls good or bad people. I am a good person; why should evil fall upon me?
5. In this fallen world, God allows us to choose good or evil courses. It is on us.

Without being able to choose good or evil, we would not even be true human beings. God could have created men with no choice against Him.

The Idea of Removing Good and Evil as a Choice

1. Without a choice of good or evil, man would be soulless. Volition is necessary.
2. The soul consists of volition, consciousness, conscience and mentality. All of that would be forfeited if God wiped out all evil and sin in the world. We always have a conscience, no matter how we suppress it.
3. We could not choose for or against salvation; for or against Christ.
4. So what is the problem? If we don't have to choose for or against Christ? Would that make us immune to hell?
5. That would not resolve the Angelic Conflict.
6. The satisfaction of His justice and righteousness and the demonstration of His love resolves Satan's appeal. His appeal is, God is not a loving God if He condemns His creatures. God does not ignore sin and evil; but He does allow it.

7. There can be no salvation apart from redemption from our sin. Christ solved that problem when He died for our sins. He showed the greater love toward us in so doing. His paying the penalty defeated sin, right there. We have the option to believe in Him or not. That brings redemption from sin.
8. There would be no sin or evil in the world, had man not fallen. And there would be no purpose for us. We would not have resolved anything by our existence. For animals, they just act on instinct; and sometimes act on the basis of training. Animals were created for us, but they do not resolve anything. We are given a free choice and we must use it.
9. We must choose for or against Christ because we have that choice. Evil and sin differentiate that choice. We can stay in our sin or we can choose to defeat sin by faith in Christ. That is what overcomes evil in this world.

God did something about Rabshakeh; but God did not remove all sin and evil from the world. He simply removed one army. God uses evil for His purposes, although He does not promote or encourage evil.

What the Lord does at the cross opens the options for man for an eternal relationship with God.

The cross did not make evil go away, but it is a necessary step in solving the problem of evil. There will be sin natures in those entering into the Millennium.

What about those evil events over which we have no choice? What about national and regional disasters, where there is no choice involved.

What about Tragedies and Disasters?

1. There are no tragedies in the Christian life. Remove that word for your life. God uses what we call tragedies for His purposes. We can only understand such events in that way. What we make of these events is not a tragedy. He has a purpose in such events. So we do not sorry as one who has no hope.
2. In God's plan, these events have a purpose.
3. We live in a fallen world. God created this world in the garden. It was perfect; but at the fall, man and the earth was cursed.
4. The destructive nature of events and nature fall into that category. Sin entered the world and death through sin. Every action has a result. All of Adam's progeny have an effect on this world.
5. When Adam disobeyed, he took the human race down the road of sin, human good, and evil. In Adam, all die. 1Cor. 15:22
6. Thus disease, disasters, deformities in babies, things which are hard to understand, are a physical reflection of man's spiritual choice to reject God right from the beginning. We are imperfect; even our genetic structure is imperfect. Some of use are vulnerable to certain diseases and problems.

7. Ultimately in the Millennium, God will lift that curse and restore an environment reminiscent of the garden. We won't be a problem; but there will still be sin natures in the world for those who live during the Millennium. For 1000 years, those people will procreate, and some of them will reject Jesus Christ even in the perfect environment. These will culminate in one more revolution against God. Fallen man continues to produce evil.
8. Our positive choice for Jesus Christ ultimately leads us to the perfection of heaven. Finally, no sin, no death, no evil. That is our ultimate destiny. Jesus strategically defeated these things on the cross. We are bound for the perfection of heaven. Those choices, the rejection of Christ, brings the terrible consequences of the fires of hell.
9. Evil will be defeated, but, like Satan, it must run its course in human history.

God expects of us to act within His will.

So David, in adversity and suffering, surrounded by evil, is confident that God's plan will come to fulfillment. He has no illusions about evil in this world. He understood cause and effect? David's prayer in Psalm 59:13. David's prayer, that parallels Hezekiah's prayer, is a demonstration of an even greater result than just for us in His plan. Hezekiah prayed, "Now, O Lord, deliver us from his hand." David, "Destroy them in wrath; destroy them that they are no more...that men will know that You rule to the ends of the earth."

God is glorified in the protection and defense of David and Hezekiah. These are remedied by the wrath of God. This delivers us; this indicates God's care for us.

Lesson #03    Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT    1/19/2022 Wednesday

Psalm 59:11 Kill them not, lest my people forget; make them totter by your power and bring them down, O Lord, our shield!

Psalm 59:12 For the sin of their mouths, the words of their lips, let them be trapped in their pride. For the cursing and lies that they utter,...

Back in Psalm 59. David's prayer is that God consume His enemies. We are to pray for our nation, our leaders. Regardless of the direction of our nation. We have all the resources that we need. What we see today may simply be the divine discipline that we deserve. We are still a client nation and what God does in the future for us is for the benefit of the client nation.

We know that the justice of God is always in operation, and this is for those who oppose Israel as a nation. David says consume them in Your wrath, so it will be known throughout that you are the God of Jacob. In v. 11, David says, scatter them; and in v. 12, David says, crush them. These are two of God's options. He is praying for one of two options.

God does respond to our prayer. Nevertheless, we make our requests known to the Lord, and then we sit back and let Him determined what to do. David knows that if deliverance is to come, it is likely to come in one of these two ways. Or God may choose to leave the enemy in place for His purposes. God may dissipate our enemies and He is certainly capable of destroying our enemies. Deliverance depends upon God's will.

The Options Which God Has

1. If God scatters, David will be able to see God's purpose and deliverance. If they see the enemy scattered, they will have good reason to trust in the Lord and not to forget Him. The enemies are still at large and they are in the background. They are ineffective against Israel. God has scattered them; He has dissipated their power.
2. If God destroys the enemy, there is another reason. That is recognition of Y<sup>e</sup>howah by the world.
3. If God leaves them in place, it may be for discipline or for a further lesson in divine dependence. If you watch the news today and you get upset and you see things are completely evil. This should bring you to the point of more divine dependence. We should be mature believers, able to handle whatever is to come. Able to have a relaxed mental attitude.

There is a bill in Canada which says that you cannot disagree with covid edicts and the like. A number of pastors were arrested for assembling and put into jail. They have placed God and Bible doctrine ahead of government edict. If we are told not to teach the Word of God. Bobby did reduced the gathering in the past over covid. But it is God's charge to serve the Lord, no matter what. You can never hide from the Word of God to protect yourself.

We may have to make decisions in the future which are quite difficult.

The answer to the prayer in v. 13 will reveal God's sovereignty over Israel and His power over the events of this world. God's permissive will may allow the evil in this world to further His plan. God can use evil just as much as He can use good. He can use evil in this world against other evil and for the furtherment of His plan.

We studied the Rabshakeh and Hezekiah and the downfall of Jerusalem, with a massive army assembled. And God destroyed them. The most powerful empire in the world took note. God used the evil of that empire to glorify Himself. God allows this to run its course. This reveals even more that we should remember.

Psalm 59:13 ...consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

This is a direct statement that Jesus Christ controls history.

God Is in Control

1. If God is in control, than He controls what happens in His realm. Overriding all of that, Jesus Christ controls what happens in His realm.

2. He shows dominion even over evil doings. God has preserved the church from the first century right down to today. Persecution has been massive, just as it has been against the Jews. Satan directs His forces against us.
3. And God rules with perfect justice over all evil. This is the payoff after an entire class on evil. God allows evil to run its course. But, remember God is not the origin of evil nor does He sanction it. Sometimes, it looks so hopeless. All of the things which happen in this world.
4. His rule extends to the entire world. Even over evil. That rule is not only over believers, but to unbelievers as well...in several ways. God works circumstances to that unbelievers will hear the gospel, if they are positive. God has even used demon-possessed people to bring along His purposes. The reign of 12 years of Hitler was taken down by God, and for the world to see. The Jews are still alive and kicking and they always will be.
5. God destroys certain evil, which is a temporary respite from evil circumstances. It was an opportunity to make the Lord's presence and power known.

We can remember in our own time the United States opposing Marxism. God has provided that destruction of the enemy for us to view. Now, Marxism raises its ugly head in our own midst. This is an opportunity for God to make His Presence and Power known.

There are times when Israel's history has been bleak, to scatter the enemy, so as to relieve the immediate pressure. We don't know the times that the Lord has in His plan. How will this work itself out? Only the Lord knows.

The world then will know that any nation that attacks Israel and there are dire, dire consequences for doing that. That is one of Satan's great strategies. This will continue all the way through the Tribulation. We can always depend upon God to deliver Israel. David prays for that one option for their destruction.

David mentions destruction twice in v. 13, which suggests that he likes that option a little better. David always leaves room for the sovereign choice for dispensing His justice towards us in our degeneracy.

Won't it be nice when God dispenses His justice and we get to see it and recognize it. These things which are evil, God will use for His purposes. God does not entirely destroy evil in the Church Age or in the Millennium. There will still be people in the Millennium.

All believers to begin the Millennium. The people can see and know Jesus, on His throne, and some of the children of these believers will still reject the Lord. Negative volition is powerful.

Kalah means to annihilate, to consume, to finish them off. God is being mocked in this country today. The most dangerous place for believers today is a nation that we abandoned a year ago. Here we are a client nation deserting Christians in another nation. That is where we are. That is how far down we have gone. We hear all kinds of excuses for it. The curses and lies which they utter. They deny the Lord, and He is not to be denied. Do not be deceived, God is not mocked. Sins of the tongue sow destruction. David's prayer for annihilation is legitimate before the Lord. We are sowing destruction around the world.

We have a great pastor, Jim Meyer, in Ukraine. And the Russians who are there are thinking about going in. If Ukraine falls, what happens next? Taiwan. We are not defending this client nation and our opportunity to spread the gospel. We would abandon Christians and missionaries. All we hear are lies. David's prayer for annihilation is understandable. God's justice will be pointed right at them. It is pointed at them because of their verbal arrogance. Today in this country, we have incredible verbal arrogance. God's justice will be poured out upon them because of their verbal arrogance. Just as with that later incident of the Rabshakeh. Here is David asking for God's justice to be poured out against the enemy. Will God do it now? Absolutely.

The application should be obvious. Vicious, verbal blasphemy. When believers do not know Bible doctrine, they do not know the difference between humanism and Bible doctrine. That is sad, because that contributes to the fall of a client nation. Discipline could certainly be against our nation.

Divine Discipline

1. We see that the eyes of the world must behold the work of the God of Israel.
2. The world surrounding Israel must understand that when they oppose Israel, they oppose Almighty God and His chosen people as well. That is not a healthy thing to do with anyone.
3. Gen. 12:3 God curses those who curse Israel. David knows the Abrahamic covenant. David knows that there are vicious cursors against Israel.
4. Antisemitism invites divine punishment and destruction and divine deliverance. In Psalm 59, it is about antisemitism.
5. This punishment the truth since the formation of Israel.
6. The future Great Tribulation is the worst exhibition of hate and liquidation attempt of the Jews in world history.
7. It too will fail. When the King of Kings and Lord of Lords destroys these persecutors. The rise of antisemitism in our nation today. In Dallas, an Islamic man took over the synagogue. God's protection is still operating. God never forsakes Israel because of His covenant to Abraham. He never will. That is the overwhelming case for rejecting any case of antisemitism. Nations and people move into the realm of cursing.

History records the cursings. Economic, political, social and even total destruction, based upon viral antisemitism. The fall of the Assyrians and the Chaldeans. The Spanish inquisition was against Jews. The Spanish nation to this day has not recovered. Spain drove the Jew out and they have been a 3rd rate power ever since. Russia produced a booklet called the protocols of the elders of Zion. It is completely false. Written by a Russian monk at the insistence of the czar who hated the Jews. Russia has been punished in so many ways. They were a poverty-stricken nation since WWI and WWII. They were antisemitic. The Dreyfus affair, and he was tried and convicted and imprisoned and this revealed the antisemitism in the armed forces and in the nation. They were destroyed in both world wars and they are inundated with Islam today. Nazi Germany after WWII, there was hardly a brick still standing. Bobby visited Dresden and still portions of that city are a smoking ruin. That is the price of antisemitism. The client nation which does not provide a haven for the Jews, fails; and they will pay a steep price in divine discipline. Islam today is the avowed enemy of Israel. They are the most vicious of religions today. They have been defeated and humiliated by Israel in many wars. This is because God protects His people. Never become antisemitic and do not think that they are the cause of all problems in the world.

The world needs to be aware of the price and the dangers of attacking Israel. There is a universal application that the world should take note of. Know that God rules.

Psalms 59:13 ...consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/20/2022 Thursday

Psalms 59:13 ...consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

There were many enemies of David and many enemies of Israel. Israel had a future and the psalms which he wrote were for Israel and Israel's future. David can write that it will be known to the ends of the earth. He certainly did not know the kind of communications which we have today.

This information is important to us that Israel has a future. A millennial kingdom will occur and Christ will sit on the throne. It will be known to the ends of the earth. The entire world will be aware of the Lord's return. The world will know this. And He will destroy the armies of the world. The world must recognize the power and sovereignty of Israel. It is Christ Who is the Greater Son of David. It is Christ Who is spoken of in the Old Testament. The enemies must be clear concerning the price of attacking Israel. This is against the plan of God and the purpose of God and His plan. They may not realize it, but this is exactly what they are attempting to do. But God will preserve Israel for the future; and the world will know this. The world should take note of. They know that God rules.

Maschal

1. Rule is the Hebrew word maschal. Especially with verbs. They can have very different meanings depending upon the context; but these are verbs that God has chosen.
2. This means to have dominion, to gain control. Socialism is gaining control over the lives of people.
3. This emphasizes God's sovereignty over the world. David knows this to be true.

4. David also knows that this will be demonstrated to the ends of the earth. Where have people not heard the name of Jesus Christ? The people in Israel knew about the Messiah. When He came, they put a name to Him. He will have dominion; He will be in control.
5. This certainly implies that the immediate surroundings of Israel will know who controls Israel's destiny. That is the omnipotent king, the ruler, the One Who has dominion. They will realize that the God of Israel is God. Will they accept that or not? Those who were outsiders could accept the God of Israel and be saved. This was a presentation of salvation to the surrounding peoples. The Old Testament is a history of what God does for His people.
6. God controls the course of this world; including results of unbelievers. We are aware of the Angelic Conflict. That is a battle before the forces of Satan and the forces of God. Do you recognize that Satan does not have a chance. He wins little battles now and again. But the outcome of the Angelic Conflict belongs to God. He controls it for His plan. His plan marches on in history despite of Satan. All of his strategies have been blunted and defeated, as the times move inevitably closer to Satan's entire demise. Don't be concerned. God is in control.
7. Even the cosmic system ultimately completes God's ends and purposes. That is an omnipotent and sovereign God. We cannot control our enemies; but we might get a little victory here or there. We must recognize that God will defeat the cosmic system, every time. We may not see it; it may not be the way we want it; or it may not occur when we are watching. In the end, it will all be destroyed.
8. God is more than capable to work the circumstances of this world so that He controls this world. God knew every move that Satan would make before He made it. And God is all-powerful.

God knew the history of the world. God is in control and He made known to the surrounding world as the protector of Israel against her worst enemies. The Philistines were always engaged in war with Israel. God used the Philistines to introduce David as the succeeding. Bobby never gets tired of the words of David as a very young man. And this 10' tall Goliath, a huge man, one of the greatest warriors, screaming at Israel. "Send someone out to fight just me." But no one took him up on it. David hears this.

David said to him, "This day the Lord will deliver you up into my hands. And I am going to remove your head from you. And I will give the dead bodies of the Philistines this day to the birds of the skies and the beasts of the field, that all the world may know that there is a God in Israel." David is saying, "Look at me and look at Goliath." The Lord does not deliver by sword or by shield. "The battle is the Lord's and He will give you into our hands." Saul did not depend upon the Protector of Israel. He spent all of his time chasing David.

Israel, Saul, David and God

1. Saul failed where David succeeded against the Philistines. David's focus was on the Lord; Saul's focus was on Saul and power. Essentially, Saul opposed the Lord.
2. By the removal of Saul and the replacement by David...

3. That all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. The battle is the Lord's.
4. God demonstrated Himself and His purposes to the world right here, if they were paying attention. Some were; some were not. Sometimes there were good kings and sometimes there were not.

Israel will not be reassembled until the Tribulation.

Psalm 59:13 ...consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

Dog is usually not a pleasant term.

Psalm 59:14 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:15 They wander about for food and growl if they do not get their fill.

David returns to dogs to describe his enemies.

David Repeats a Previous Verse

1. V. 14 is a word for word repetition of v. 6. He is not writing a narrative.
2. Whenever there is repetition in poetry, it is like there is a refrain. It is for emphasis. David is emphasizing this. He had a tendency to do this as a poet. Quite often repetition is used to emphasize. The beastly degraded nature of these enemies. We now understand what it means to be these dogs.
- 3.
4. They are vicious debouring people filled with sins of the tongue.
5. They are vociferous, hateful, howling, and noisy in spewing their bile and their attacks. Their words are snarling, teeth-bared.

How foolish they are, is David's emphasis here. They have a very bad character. They will realize too late what God has in store for them.

Dogs in Psalm 59

1. This describes the dogs as wandering about looking for food and growling.
2. This is an image of insatiability in producing evil. They just live to do it. What a picture of the cosmic system. What a picture of the enemy of David and of us. Insatiable evil. Satan disguises himself as an angel of light.
3. These dogs are looking for morsels of food to devour.
4. They are ever on the prowl. Mongrel dogs are always wandering, always looking for an opportunity to do more evil.
5. If they do not get it, if they cannot get their fill of food, they are not satisfied. Very important to understand about evil people. They are never satisfied.
6. They growl in angry disappointment. Lun is the word for growl.

Bill O'Reilly used to call people leftist loons. In this case it could be true. This basic meaning is to murmur, to grumble. That could be the result of being a loon. In this context, there is a stronger connotation that murmuring or mumbling.

What Does it Mean for These People to Growl

1. These people growl when they don't get what they want. They have no satisfaction.
2. They are not happy; they are never satisfied. They are slanders, their plots are prevented from succeeding. God is David's protector; God is David's help. How will they make any headway? They are frustrated and dissatisfied.
3. What they do not realize is, they are growling at God.
4. They are growling their hatred toward God.
5. How lost are those who oppose God. These are like waves that break against a jetty. The waves are relentless, but they always break apart. Just like Marxists and their political machinations today. How many times do they need to break on the jetty? How many times do they have to push their jetty? They do not get it, even being completely frustrated. When their ideas and their machinations are shown to be foolish and ridiculous. They still do not get it. You wonder. But they do not back away. They double down. They have nothing else.

Do not envy those in power today who are evil. They are unhappy and frustrated. Do you think that these people in Washington with all their ideas are happy people? They are never satisfied; because their humanistic aims can never be fulfilled. But this is their life and this is their inevitable end. They defeat. They are dogs. They can do more than scrounge in the streets. When they are ineffective and all they have as a growl.

Maybe we should understand this as an irony. These dogs rule the night, looking for victims; and they are unsatisfied and can do nothing about it. They are outcasts, able only to growl and whine for that which is not forthcoming.

They will be frustrated and they will be destroyed. Their lives are destroyed long before they lose them. Anger, implacability, hatred. That sounds like Washington DC. They are destined never to see or to taste what they most desire. They are nothing more than attack dogs. They claim to have solutions and they have nothing.

They the dogs wander about looking for food. If they are not satisfied, they growl.

That is all they do; it is all they can do. They are avowed enemies of the omnipotent God.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/23/2022 1Sunday

Psalm 59:13 ...consume them in wrath; consume them till they are no more, that they may know that God rules over Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.

There is no question about what David is requesting.

In v. 14, David repeats an image of a dog that he first used in v. 6. These dogs are prowling and wandering. Beastly, degraded nature. Dogs were not pets then as they are today. These dogs were not necessarily nice at all. They are vicious people, barking and howling in their attacks against David. They spew their hatred against David and against Israel.

Psalm 59:14 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:15 They wander about for food and growl if they do not get their fill.

These dogs growl in hunger and they are not satisfied. They are never satisfied. Bobby's dog was a scrounger and they were known for scrounging. They were royal dogs and they were hunted to be killed like the aristocracy. Bobby's dog could get to the nearest bag of food. He pushed a chair over near a table so he could get up there to get some food before Bobby stopped him. There was never enough for these dogs to eat. They had to keep looking they had to keep prowling. Their howling was the attitude of David's enemies when they did not get what they want. They are not happy or satisfied with any circumstance. They get what they want temporarily; but in a short time, they want something more. God has a plan for David; he protects David.

David's enemies do not realize that they will not succeed because God is with David. These enemies of David are hostile towards God. These are evil men. They slink around in the darkness, terrorizing like a pack of wolves, but without their admirable qualities of wolves.

This is a good description some of our political class today. Good has become evil and evil has become good in this country. They verbally attack other groups of people in order to seize power in order to tyrannize. They attack the very people who stand for freedom. They are failing. They are trapped animals, which makes them all the more dangerous. The growl; they bare their teeth, as their plight becomes more dangerous.

Bobby has watched the news with title IX. They have fought hard to get equal time and equal money for women's sports. They have fought hard for transgenders and for women's sports. The dogs do not know what to do; so they try to figure it out. They cannot admit that they face defeat, just as Satan will never admit defeat.

There are so many dogs in society today. Few things more sinister than the greatest government in the world can stop climate change if we pay more taxes, but cannot stop a virus.

Their new villain is the American working class people, who are called the ignorant unvaccinated. The solution is to fire them from healthcare and to lock them in their homes until they comply. Even deny them hospital care until they get vaccinated. Pressure to conform by exclusion. This is the solution by our government.

You might be disturbed that our president said, "For unvaccinated we are looking at a winter of severe contamination and death." They want draconian measures to shut down the virus.

At the same time, they do not mention how many of the vaccinated are getting covid. Or how the omicron virus is much less deadly. Some nations, like Spain and Portugal and considering calling the virus an endemic disease. They are going to classify this as another illness, to treat it just like any flu. Is there actually some rational thought about this? It is just another disease.

Bobby's point here is, we can see the confusion and lies which are emanating from power-mad leadership. New methods for government control. The government will tell you what to do and you will be better off for it. The real question is, are the unvaccinated more of a threat than the vaccinated? Anyone can get it and we can be carriers, as we now know.

Bobby got covid and he was vaccinated. So he offers this example not to take sides on vaccinations, that is our choice; or it should be. And it always should have been like that, just like a flu shot. The bottom line is, not whether or not we are vaccinated.

There will always be howling dogs out there filled with lies and filled with misinformation, and they claim that science is on their side. Whose science is it? Many changes have occurred when it comes to conclusions about things like masks. Science is not God, although the humanist touts science as if it is God.

The dogs want to manipulate and to gain power. As believers, we should pay attention to our spiritual lives, so that we can counter the onslaught of the barking animals.

While the evil ones are howling, growling and snarling, the upright ones praise the Lord. The fangs of the wicked will not touch us; the growls from the cosmic system is always around us. Don't think that it is not present. We have volition and we can use volition. We should. When that volition is removed, it is tyranny. Our government is not entirely tyrannical, but there is overreach. The illustration of howling dogs.

Psalm 59:14 Each evening they come back, howling like dogs and prowling about the city.

Psalm 59:15 They wander about for food and growl if they do not get their fill.

Then David gives us a contrast. He puts the dogs, his enemies, in the Lord's hands.

Psalm 59:16 But I will sing of your strength; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love in the morning. For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress.

The psalms were set to music and they were sung. They were done as a counter to the growling dogs. The dogs present their strength, but a strength that is frustrated and it is not real strength. God will sing of God's grace in the morning. David gets up thinking about God and about His grace.

We are all in the midst of the pandemic. Taking or not taking it is not the issue; the issue is the dogs who growl and snap. David has mentioned already his faith rest rationales; and God is his shield and his stronghold; and God is our only shield and stronghold. God is our actual strength. We must understand the rationale behind it. Otherwise all of the barking dogs creep in. The strength of the Lord. A beautiful and a strong contrast between the relaxed mental attitude of David on the one hand; as opposed to the frustration and defeat of the dogs.

Has the pandemic been solved? Where is our strength? Many people think if they get covid, and they think that they are dead. What does covid mean, what does the flu mean, what does cancer mean to any believer? It is nothing, it is just a barking dog. We have the solution; and David sings it. It is in his soul. He begins in this verse with a contrasting conjunction.

David says as for me...

1. This refers to the howling dogs.
2. The contrast is this. Rather than fret or worry or let the dogs get to you, David sings. He makes a joyful noise. Singing is an uplifting activity. It relaxes us or it hypes us. It has an effect upon us. Here, it is a good effect. It should prepare you for what you are going to here. Outside are the barking dogs; inside are the songs of God. There is no rock band up here. Singing is a way to prepare us, to focus us.
3. That is what God's strength gives to David. It allows him to sing praises to the Lord. He believes it. He has faith in it. David knows what that means.
4. God's strength and love motivates David to verbalize God's blessings and help. He is not down on the enemies; David is focusing on the solution.
5. David's singing gives all credit to the Lord where it belongs.
6. David is king; he is the most powerful man in Israel. There are still the barking, growling dogs. He always recognizes where his strength lies. He demonstrates it in song. He rejoices in the solution rather than whining about the problem.
7. His singing is a great demonstration of strength. David has written so many songs about God; and in situations like this he has many psalms which he can sing. David put the poetry of the psalms to music. The psalms were to be sung.

Psalm 59:16 [But \[or, as for me,\] I will sing of your strength; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love in the morning. For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress.](#)

Lesson #03                      Acts 16 Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT    1/23/2022   2Sunday

Psalm 59:16 [But \[or, as for me,\] I will sing of your strength; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love in the morning. For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress.](#)

David sang praises to the Lord. He was reminded of where his strength was. It helps us to remember all that God does for us, by care and such.

The great Apostle in the New Testament was Paul. Paul went on missionary journeys. He prepared for the second one and he chose Silas to go with him. Once they left Jerusalem, the first stop was Galatia. This is modern-day Turkey. They moved from there to Macedonia, and later to Philippi. That was a woman who kept hounding Paul and Silas. Paul cast out that demon. It seems that this woman was a fortune teller. She was a medium for those who wanted to know the future. There was something else involved. When the demon came out, this caused a furor in the town. This woman was a moneymaker for her master. She was a very lucrative medium. People knew her far and wide and they came to her to hear their fortunes being told.

The dragged Paul and Silas to be judged before the chief magistrate.

Acts 16:20 And when they had brought them to the magistrates, they said, "These men are Jews, and they are disturbing our city.

Acts 16:21 They advocate customs that are not lawful for us as Romans to accept or practice."

They claim that Paul and Silas were violating Roman law, which they were not doing. This was an economic antisemitic tirade from these men. Jews have a talent for making money, and people often resent this.

These charges are false. These men are like the dogs. They are liars; they are howling dogs. They are bent on revenge for loss of revenue. It is often about money; and the crowd got all stirred up. They were being tried in the court of public opinion. Paul and Silas were beaten and thrown into prison, which was a hellhole.

Acts 16:25 About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them,...

Act 16:26 ...and suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's bonds were unfastened.

Paul never ceased evangelizing or proclaiming the Word. Paul's strength was with the Lord. And he was reminded Who his strength was. This is the way the Christianity was originally spread. Under the worst of conditions. Paul's strength from the Lord was so obvious. It attracted the attention.

Paul and Silas are in chains in a horrible prison. They are praying and singing hymns of praise to god. They were probably in great pain. You would think that they would be complaining but they were not.

The other prisoners could hear what they were singing. They had just been beaten and unjustly thrown into prison. They do not protest or howl or curse the magistrates of that city. They instead prayed to the Lord and sang hymns indicating great happiness in the Lord. When you sing at a time like that, there is no reason other than faith rest. This is the same faith rest that David displays many times in adversity. Paul and Silas knew that God may deliver them at any moment, or not. What was prison time and persecution, in comparison with serving the Lord. It is all right here. These were nothing but circumstances.

Suddenly, there was a great earthquake, and all of the doors were opened and everyone's chains were unfastened. There is no doubt that God performed a miracle here. God can control whatever He has created. This is a divine deliverance. This is what David asked for on many occasions.

You would think that Paul and Silas would stand up and make a run for it. This did not happen. This entire incident got the attention of the entire prison. It shook the prison to its very foundation. Prisons are filled with mostly criminals.

The criminals heard singing. They waited and they listened. Paul and Silas showed that they had something that no one else had. Paul and Silas added their vocals to the earthquake. They sang for the same reasons that David sang. Paul was a Hebrew of Hebrews; he knew the psalms. He may have even known the music for the psalms.

People who would never listen were now listening.

Psalm 59:16 But [or, as for me,] I will sing of Your strength; I will sing aloud of Your steadfast love in the morning. For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress.

Paul and Silas focused upon God. God knew what was going on; He knew what was needed; He knew what was righteous and just.

Even before Paul was converted, he saw Stephen who was martyred. Yon Hus had an incredible ministry; and he was proclaiming the word 100 years before the Protestant revolution. He sang the praises of the Lord while they burned him. The church was entirely corrupt.

Our nation was founded by believers. The Pilgrims came to escape religious persecution. The history of the Pilgrims is amazing. They were persecuted in England, then by the Dutch, then they went back to England and were persecuted once again. So they came to America. Undoubtedly, this will continue in the future.

We are beginning to see more and more persecution. We have been free to be believers, to evangelize, to attend church. But how long will that go for?

Bobby can find many examples of persecution which has occurred in history. And the church expanded.

We know that Christianity spread; to China, to India. It came to the United States as well. What we did was promote the gospel of Jesus Christ. We are in the devil's world and things happen that should not happen. You must look at history from that example. Paul and Silas made a difference in the history of Christianity. This spreads under so many examples. How we handle adversity is how others perceive us. Paul was not worried about his circumstances, even though they were brutal. His singing represented the faith rest attitude. God used their attitudes in what followed that earthquake.

When the jailer awoke. The jailer drew his sword, to kill himself.

Acts 16:27 When the jailer woke and saw that the prison doors were open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped.

Acts 16:28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, "Do not harm yourself, for we are all here."

Acts 16:29 And the jailer called for lights and rushed in, and trembling with fear he fell down before Paul and Silas.

Acts 16:30 Then he brought them out and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

Acts 16:31 And they said, "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved, you and your household."

Acts 16:32 And they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all who were in his house.

No one walked out of the jail.

Paul and Silas Conclusion

1. God used this attitude of Paul and Silas.
2. God did this for the benefit of one man and many prisoners at this time.
3. Praise to the Lord in times of adversity has a profound effect. This can be done using faith rest.
4. The believer exudes strength where, in human terms, none is warranted. Believers lives matter; that is what matters.

Our lives matter in glorifying God, not ourselves. What we do signifies our trust in God's unlimited strength for deliverance. We have more than others. Grace orientation, problem solving devices, that engender confidence in adversity. Strength. The strength of integrity and character. The strength of caring about other people. Putting other people first. He could have allowed that jailer to fall on his sword. Paul's #1 priority was to share the gospel with that man.

Lesson #03

Psalm 59 Wisdom in the OT

1/26/2022 Wednesday

:26

The danger of the dogs, the devouring men of bloodshed, the conquering men, when David was right in the middle of it. This could have been written by David in retrospection, and praising the Lord for getting him out of that destruction; or....

It was about God's strength, His omnipotence and His unfailing love.

This great psalm is concluded in v. 17:

Psalm 59:16 But I will sing of your strength; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love in the morning.
For you have been to me a fortress and a refuge in the day of my distress.

Psalm 59:17 O my Strength, I will sing praises to you, for you, O God, are my fortress, the God who shows me steadfast love.

Some Conclusions from this Psalm

1. God is David's stronghold.
2. The enemies of David were so many. They came from royalty, from his own house, they came from everywhere. There are very few people who had more pressure than David. David was the father of the Messiah; he was the line of the Messiah.
3. God places David in a high tower; inaccessible to his enemies. Psalm 61:3 You have been my refuge,
4. His address to God in this last verse ends with an attribute of God. The loyal love that never fails. That love was extended to David and also extended to us. The grace of God and the love of God are together in all of the wonderful things that he does for us. He is praising the God Who loves him.
5. That love is a great motive for strength and courage under pressure. Bobby cannot imagine the adversities that Paul faced and what he did. Hatred against Paul; stoned. Paul understood the love of God. It began with the gospel of Jesus Christ. He understood...the love of God came to him loud and clear. The same thing is true of David. That is his motive for his great strength in life. What a great motive and motivator that love is. That is what David is praising here. That is what mature believers should always understand, about the power and the love of God. It is always with us. There is no adversity that could not defeat us. Not even death defeats us. Death is victory. Death is a final consummation of God's plan for us. It is victory for us. Imagine Joe Canon standing in front of the Lord right now. That is victory over death. The same thing when we are alive. Great men of the faith, but so are you. God has a plan for us, just as He did for them.

David's confidence is contagious and it should be. Our benefit and motive for. We should identify with the problem solving devices that David uses. Faith rest to begin with. Grace and doctrinal orientation. David has faith rest for sure and a personal sense of destiny. He knows who he is in God's plan; he knows that he is the king of Israel and he knows his purpose. So do we. He is motivated by the unfailing love of God. He has personal love for God. He shares this love of God in the worst of circumstances. That is contentment in life. He is occupied with Y<sup>e</sup>howah. And he says it over and over again in so many ways.

What else do we learn? It laments the evil oppression of Christians. It is all around us and it is getting more prevalent every day. We depend on the strength of the Lord and His unfailing love.

David's strong emphasis and understanding that he is innocent. He has done nothing to deserve the attacks of these enemies. We can have everything great, and suddenly we face adversity and malice from unexpected quarters. What we did not deserve and what we did not elicit.

God scattered or destroyed those antagonists on behalf of David. This psalm tells us everything that the Lord does for us. If you remember nothing else.

Many of you cannot seem to help from getting your eyes on the national problems, on socialist inroads, on civil unrest and even revolution, on the encroachments on our freedoms, on lawlessness, on the division in our country. When you see these things and they bother you, review this psalm. David faced imminent destruction. And the Lord delivered. We may be delivered and it is obvious. Problem solved, right in front of you. And we might not know where God solved the problems.

This is where our faith in God's unfailing love. You do not have to worry about tomorrow. There will be problems on every day. You do not have to be concerned about that today. Let God handle those things in the future.

It is okay to pay attention to the problems around you. Do not abandon your spiritual strength. We always want to get our eyes on our problems. Do not abandon your spiritual strength. Too often we spend more time examining and complaining about our problems. This is a mistake the Psalm 59 should correct.

Summation of Our Study

1. God will reveal His power and sovereignty over the earth by destroying arrogant and malicious people who would bring harm to you or to a client nation.
2. Whenever evil is removed, and justice is affirmed, God's sovereign power is confirmed. You want answers, solutions? There is a great way to discern them. God let's evil run its course. God's justice does not sleep. We see things happen that we thought would never happen. God works those circumstances. He does not remove all evil. When it is all said and done, His sovereignty is confirmed.
3. Psalm 59 is for God to protect the innocent and to destroy the evil ones.
4. This is the principle which brings confidence and courage to our lives.

One Little Caveat

1. The destruction of evil power over the affairs of mankind reveals God's sovereignty over the affairs of mankind.
2. When this happens, we praise God for His deliverance and for His control of history. It may not appear that He does control history for our benefit.
3. Only with the final judgment will complete justice come to pass on earth. There is still evil, this is still the cosmic system, and this is still Satan's domain. Never again will this be relinquished in any way to the forces of the cosmic system.

4. There is a current relevance to all these principles. There is also a certain future in eternity. That window on eternity is a motivator. We can draw legitimate prayer requests and applications.

God's Omnipotence and Unfailing Love

1. Believers should pray, as did David, for peace and safety.
2. Believers must trust in God's unfailing love to care for us, to benefit us, to deliver us. We can call upon His unfailing love.
3. Believers must find confidence in the omnipotent and God's sovereign control over events in Satan's world. Satan seems to be overwhelming us.
4. We must always give the glory to God in deliverance. There are deliverance for other people as well. Those who are sick, those who are a part of Berachah's ministry. In prayer meetings, we often see the answers to these prayers. It is always a good idea to know how and what to pray for.
5. David was innocent of wrongdoing in this case and he did not deserve the hatred and persecution of his enemies. This innocence is critical to our understanding. We must be sure not to have any culpability in our bad choices, our lack of discernment, etc. We must be sure to examine our spiritual lives. Then trust that the Lord's justice will vindicate us, deliver us and protect us. Our main problems we bring on ourselves. Rebound, keep moving, get back with the Word.

What a great chapter this has been to understand our security and deliverance and exuding trust in the Lord. We should have no doubt in the Lord.

We will have to move on from this chapter to another. Bobby is going to pick up another psalm, a shorter psalm with only 8 verses. Psalm 121.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

1/27/2022 Thursday

This psalm is not tied to a particular time, person or incident.

Introduction to Psalm 121

1. We can title this psalm, the Lord is the Guardian.
2. The title is from the context. Keep, keeper, protect, guard are words in this psalm.
3. These translations all come from the same Hebrew root word, shamar, found 6x in this psalm.
4. Shamar basically means, to keep, to watch, to persevere; to guard; guardian.
5. In the context, the Lord is the Keeper, the Protector, the Preserver, the Guardian of this context of a very special group.

Pilgrims in Psalm 121

1. A general definition for pilgrim: one who journeys, but journeys specifically to a sacred place for religious purposes. That gives us an overall idea as to the meanings.
2. In our context, these pilgrims are on the road to worship in Jerusalem. The dwelling place of Y<sup>e</sup>howah.
3. In their journey, the pilgrims are encouraged or blessed by this psalm. This is a pilgrim psalm.
4. The writing of this psalm was prompted by the concern of the pilgrims for safety on the road to Jerusalem. The terrain, bad roads and bandits. The roads were not very safe in those days.

How We Would Apply this Psalm

1. The Lord is the guardian of our lives as we move through the journey of our physical and spiritual life. From salvation to departure from this life and residence in heaven. We can make that application.
2. We are pilgrims in a dangerous land, with cosmic system pitfalls, people, and
3. Along the way are many haters, persecutors, and other various enemies of Christ who mean us harm.
4. We need a bodyguard and we have One, as pilgrims on this journey. The Lord Jesus Christ cannot be defeated ever.
5. He will defend us through any and all adversities. This is the message of this psalm, practical in the time that we live. Defend us through anything. We are facing a lot. We see so many things going on right now. So many things which are anti-establishment. Government encroachment in so many ways. The rule of law is leaving us for the rule of the strongest and of the power seeker. None of this should be a worry to us.

This psalm is somewhat familiar or similar to a very famous novel. When Bobby realized that this book was about a pilgrim, it reminded Bobby of Pilgrim's Progress. This is regarded as one of the most significant work of religious fiction ever written. One of the most entertainment allegories of faith ever written.

Psalm 121 is not fiction. Bobby did not get Pilgrim's Progress when he first heard it. It was explained to him by his mother. She used the book to explain the spiritual life through that book in simple Christian terms, in doctrinal terms.

A book report on Pilgrim's Progress. It used to be read in schools. It was one of the most widely read books in the English language. One critic wrote, there is not book in English except for the Bible to have so much influence on so many writers.

Novels have to be interpreted. We can come up with almost any kind of a meaning for most books. Pilgrim's Progress is progress from this world to the world which is about to come. This was written in every entertaining terms Bunyon had been imprisoned when he wrote this. He was jailed for reasons of Christian persecutions. He held religious services outside of the established church of England. This was the English form of high church and it is very ritualistic. 1509–1557 by Henry VIII. He brought a new denomination into existence in order to divorce his wife. Catherine of Aragon. He wanted a male heir. Elizabeth I would be his heir, who was a great queen. He wanted to marry Anne Boleyn. He went to the pope and asked for an annulment. The pope said no. You have no reason to annul this marriage. Henry formed the church of England in order to get away from the Catholic church. There had been a reformation in Switzerland, France, in other places as well. This would have been the beginning of the reformation in England.

God works in ways that we have no idea of. This is a man who wanted a divorce and separated himself from the Catholic church, but not very far. The archbishop of this church was willing to give him the okay for the divorce. Here is a political event that the King of England used for God's purposes. The pilgrims in the United States was the long-lasting effect which came from this. Bunyan was right in the middle of all this.

The church of England called itself a reform protestant and reform Catholic church. Today, this is the Episcopal church. John Bunyan knew the Scriptures

Then an autobiography. Bunyan was certainly a part of the reformation. And he ended up in prison again.

Pilgrim's Progress has a realistic backdrop...and there is a set of harrowing journeys through the celestial city. Christian is the name of the person in the novel. There are monsters and spiritual terrors. He was confronted by worldly wiseman, talkative, ignorance and the demons of the valley of the shadow of death. These are adversities that any of us face in life. In this pilgrim's journey, Christian is joined by two friends, hopeful and ...

Bobby is using this book as an illustration of the psalm we are studying.

Pilgrim's Progress and Psalm 121

1. Pilgrim's Progress represents the spiritual life for believers in Christ; and so does Psalm 121.
2. It is a representation of the spiritual life in the sense that Jewish pilgrims of this chapter are looking upward to the Lord for safety. That is the very first verse. Not down to some human being; not down to a weapon of war.
3. His journey is that of a pilgrim's progress, facing adversity with the absolute support of the Lord. This is the plan of God for any believer. The application is, this is the plan of God for any believer, wherever our spiritual life takes us. God is always with us and always supporting us.
4. Psalm 121 is the journey of every believer; every believer who trusts in the Lord during adversity.

Determining the exact circumstance of this psalm is only speculative. No author is named, no situation is listed. Some commentators say that this was written in post-exilic times. The return of the Jews to the land after 586 B.C. 3 groups. 516 B.C. with Zerubbabel and 458 B.C. under ; and the third one under Nehemiah. That timing would make sense in the context of wandering pilgrims in a world of hazard. This is what they would experience after the second Temple was completed under Zerubbabel. It was the replacement for Solomon's Temple.

That could have been that time frame. Freedom through military victory covers the building of the wall under Nehemiah. It could have been written at any time that pilgrims journey to Jerusalem. That is a much more general viewpoint.

Solomon's temple around 1000 B.C. and lasted for about 500 years. Pilgrimages were made during the time of these various festivals. Bobby thinks the general viewpoint is better.

The particular occasion or the time of writing cannot be fixed.

Psalm 121

1. A collection between 120–134 (this is one of this group and Bobby will cover more than just this one).
2. These psalms are known as psalms of ascent. That is found in the prologue of this psalm.
3. The meaning of ascent is unverified from the text.
4. One option is, the pilgrim's song. Although the exact designation of Psalm 121, the general reference of the psalm is very apparent. A journey to Jerusalem for the 3 annual festivals.
5. The pilgrims came from many places outside of Jerusalem to participate in these holy days. Some may have been converted and had become believers allied with the Jews (they became Jews). The Apostles spoke in tongues because there were so many pilgrims in Jerusalem who spoke different language.
6. The pilgrimage was a must-do worship moment during a Jewish convert's lifetime. It was a bucket list item, if you will. Dangerous and expensive.
7. You can understand why such a journey could take place by almost anyone at almost anytime in a person's life in Israel's history. Who cares, it does not matter. It is the subject matter which is important. This is a broad, broad occasion. This also made sense to us as well. Many believers in the past wrote novels like Pilgrim's Progress, taking their inspiration from the Scriptures.
8. All this means is, there was a major flow of pilgrims to Jerusalem at festival times and at other times as well. Who does this kind of thing today? Many religious Jews want to go to the wailing wall. Many Christians want to go to Jerusalem to see the historical sites. The muslims want to go there or to Mecca. A bucket list trip for them; a part of the 7 pillars of faith for Islam. But, to believers, this is simply an historical trip.
9. The objective of the pilgrims was to converge upon the Temple, the place appointed by Y<sup>e</sup>howah to be the central sanctuary of the nation. Why was it a place where pilgrims would travel. It is where God had promised to dwell among His people.

Where the Shekinah Glory dwelt. The dwelling Presence of Jesus Christ. It was a localized place.

10. So if anyone lived under the instruction of the Mosaic Law, and were part of Jewish believers, Y<sup>e</sup>howah's people this would be the place where people would trek.

What does ascents mean here and the other psalms?

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

1//2022 1Sunday

Bobby has to consider an introduction for each new chapter that he teaches.

Hermeneutics is the only method for interpreting the Scriptures accurately. What is it that God wants us to know? What is He saying to us in this divine revelation. Too often, people do not use this method. This method works for our edification. The hermeneutical process is fundamental. This includes translating from the original languages. It was written in Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. It is necessary to understand the culture of the time that this was written. We must pay attention to every word and line in the text. There is one more thing which is critical. Always, understand and take account of the context in which something is written. Without context, interpretation is nearly always wrong. Correct interpretation requires hermeneutics. This is what Bobby does when he sits down at his desk. This does not preclude the importance of the Holy Spirit for interpreting or the gift of pastor-teacher. Unfortunately, it is very subjective in the minds of those who give their interpretation. Apart from the hermeneutical method,... It is important to introduce every new chapter to get the background. See the reasoning for such interpretations.

People sometimes listen and wonder, where did he get that? Or they would say, that is his interpretation; that is not mine. If you do not understand, then you have nothing to metabolize. You do not gain wisdom and you do not grow spiritually. This is closing the loop. With all this in mind, let's begin the introduction to Psalm 121:

The Context of Psalm 121

1. The context is the journey of a Jewish believer or a convert. This is a journey of a believer to take part in the festivals.
2. He can be labeled a pilgrim. One who journeys to a sacred place for religious purposes.
3. The reason for writing this psalm was prompted by the concerns of the pilgrim for safety on the road to Jerusalem. There were many hazards on the road to Jerusalem. The pilgrims who made this journey were concerned about safety.
4. This is the security solution to this dangerous journey. What recourse do we have with all of this danger on the trip?
5. It is the deliverance and protection of the Lord for this man; and for all travelers on the road.
6. The Lord is the guardian for the person on the road.

This is why this chapter is a follow-on to the previous chapter.

The Lord is the Guardian would be a good chapter title. Keep, keeper, protect words are found in this chapter. 6 times the same word is found in these 8 verses. Shamar means, to keep, to watch, to preserve; to keep; guardian.

God is the keeper, the protector, the Guardian of these Jewish pilgrims. This is a necessity both for them on the road, but also for all of us. We are all pilgrims in a foreign land, with enemies all around us who would do us harm. We need a bodyguard to negotiate our road. We need a guardian for our spiritual life, and we have Jesus Christ, Who cannot be defeated. He is the guard Who will not let us down. He will defend us in all adversity.

However, this introduction has certain limitations. We do not know the exact circumstances. We know the general situation, but not the exact one. No specific author and no specific circumstances. There is not mention of any of these things. However, many try to do this. Some claim this is the beginning of the nation; or to the Temple being built; and even to the second Temple. And even the time of Jesus. We have enough understanding of the circumstances and the critical information to get great information from it. This psalm is one of 15 psalms called the psalms of ascent. That is the prologue of this text. Psalm 120 to 134. All of those are psalms of ascent. This is an important clue. The general reference of the psalms is apparent. This is a pilgrim's psalm but that word is never used and will not be used. This is the pilgrimage made for the 3 festivals, which were to be attended by Jewish believers from all over. This was a must-do worship time. A bucket list type of thing. Even if done only once. This could have been going to any of the two temples. During most of Old Testament history, beginning at 1000 B.C., there was a Temple in Jerusalem. The Presence of Jesus was a localized thing in the Temple in the Holy of Holies. The place for the glory of God in Israel. This is a place that they needed to go. God had promised to dwell with Israel.

The Journey and the Temple

1. It is the Temple location which has a bearing on the prologue nomenclature. Song of ascent.
2. The Temple stood on a hill in Jerusalem. Today, this is the place for the Dome of the Rock. That is why it is so contested today. There will be a war if the Dome of the Rock is taken down. There is no Temple.
3. The Temple hill was a part of the complex that made up the city of Jerusalem. Jerusalem was built on a series of hills. There were others.
4. Thus the hills of Jerusalem became synonymous with Jerusalem itself.
5. Hence we have the designation songs of ascent. You ascend up a hill. Going up to Jerusalem is what is meant here, specifically to the Temple in Jerusalem.
6. That was the objective of the journey, to go to the holy city to worship God on the hill.
7. The destination of the Pilgrim's journey is always the sanctuary of the Jewish nation.

8. It would be the only place to turn to for a pilgrimage. This fits very well with the prologue. If you logically put all of these facts together, that is what makes the most sense.
9. The journey is predicated on many dangers on route. Hence the song of ascent is a song of encouragement. A psalm of looking to the Lord for protection.
10. The trip is punctuated with a desire for help from the Lord for a safe journey. They will continue to ascend to the objective. These psalms were written at a time for people to move on their journey. They were not incorporated into a single book for a long time. It was not cononical at that time. All of the psalms were assembled as being a part of the psalms.

The 15 psalms became Temple liturgy. They were cited as liturgy. That is a ceremony or a reading or a recitation of the psalm; and it was also put to music to be repeated. It liturgical use or public use, the comforting promise to the people is obvious.

Application of Psalm 121

1. The Lord required His people to come and worship Him in the Temple. He would protect them en route. There was a commemoration by this psalm.
2. The Lord would watch over the faithful pilgrims on their journey to Jerusalem.
3. When the liturgy was recited in the Temple or in any place of worship, it carries a message that the Lord will watch over, not only the pilgrimage but throughout.
4. The message of the psalm concerns divine protection under the worst circumstances.
5. Application: divine protection on our journey of life. God's protection is there even when he was being pursued.
6. This is a deliverance promise made to the Jews, demonstrated many times to so many people in their walk as believers.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

1/30/2022 2Sunday

Bobby does this introduction so that all of this and the context of the passage really brings the whole thing alive. We are talking about real people. This is not just text or ideas. The writer of this, this author of this is someone who made the journey. We must understand the position that he was in. Bobby has been on some dangerous roads when he was in the service. Where was his strength; where did it lie? A real person undergoing real adversity. That is why the context is so important.

This is poetry. All of the psalms are poetry. Why would this be written in poetry? The words they sometimes are hard to figure out. There are parallels in Hebrew poetry and this is used for dramatic, grammatical effect. It truly has an effect, a device for that effect.

The passage makes a interesting grammatical switch. There are 3 pronouns, my, he, your. My eyes; He (the Lord); your Keeper. This may be a dialogue taking place while traveling to Jerusalem. Or this writer might be speaking to himself. He addresses himself in the 1st person and he addresses a companion in the 2nd person. He is encouraging himself on the pilgrimage. That is essentially how this is used liturgically. We are reminded and encouraged by the person with the message. So the pronouns are very important in understanding what we are reading. The change in person is not clarified in this psalm. Sometimes, it is obvious; but in this psalm it is not.

Some scholars believe that there is an actual conversation between two speakers. It allows for another adaptation. Antiphonal. This speaks to the usage of this psalm and it became a liturgy (a message, a ritual, a repetition). In this case, it means to sing or recite something. Like the Word of God is alive and powerful. This has a purpose and it reminds us why we are here and why it is important. That is what liturgy is important.

Imagine two groups; one sings a question; and the other sings an answer. It is done again, and it is a great way to hold attention in liturgical regurgitation.

Doctrine addresses all of our problems. No matter what the problem is, there is something in doctrine for us and for our problems. We all have them in this area.

Israel used this all of the time. They learned to apply this psalm from that antiphonal liturgy. This represents concerned believers who receive words of encouragement in the liturgy. This is a very practical doctrinal teaching.

Narrative Summary

1. Incident: this is the journey of Jewish pilgrims to Jerusalem. The further away, the more dangerous the journey. If you were in Palestine, 1 or more nights on the road.
2. There was a certain time frame. This was heavy traffic; and also the most dangerous time because of that.
3. They could take comfort that the Creator of the Universe and the Protector of Israel would protect them as they travel.
4. As a simple application, the same is true of all believers as we move through adversity, personal or national.
5. It is a critical message for our encouragement and our confidence in the Lord's help and protection. At times, that can be a very distant or fleeting thought. When you need it, the protection of the Lord will become a very important concept.

My Help Comes from the Lord

Psalm 121:superscription A Song of Ascents.

Psalm 121:1 I lift up my eyes to the hills. From where does my help come?

Our help comes from the heavens.

Psalm 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

If God made the universe, then we can certainly depend upon Him. This is the concern of the traveler who needs help. By this question and answer, we can see a question and response.

Maybe he is sitting at his house or in the middle or at the end of the journey?

God's Protection for the Pilgrim

1. In the first two verses, the pilgrim expresses his need.
2. He says, I will lift up my eyes, which expresses his anticipation and his intense contemplation of his need for this journey. He is looking up.
3. After all, the way to Jerusalem is full of danger; and so is all of life. You face danger all of the time in the ancient world.
4. The way to Jerusalem is full of danger and so is all of life. This is a great verse as a soldier to have this in your hip pocket. God is my Help, my Protector, my Keeper.
5. So this man consoles himself that the Lord, the All-powerful Creator of All Things, can and will help him to arrive safely in Jerusalem.
6. Thus God is glorified in the process by giving Him the credit for safety and security. We don't always know that God is protecting us. If this is not an encouragement, then you cannot be encouraged.

He asks for help and he receives it. This is a great verse to quote in the beginning and in the end.

He is going on a journey to worship the Lord, which is true of all Jews. He needs to apply Bible doctrine along this trip. This is a good passage to take with you on any trip. It is dangerous out there on the road. Even going across town in Houston.

A Fortiori Reasoning in this Psalm

1. If God can create and heaven and earth, then can He not protect you or you and the people on a journey to worship Him? This is God's plan for this pilgrim. Can He not protect inside the plan of God?
2. We have a fortiori logic here. If God has already done the most for you, can't he do less as well?
3. This is a logic which draws a conclusion from greater truth. If the greater is true, then the lesser is true.
4. If the greater evidence is true, then the lesser evidence is true as well.
5. There is no great illustration of God's power than the creation of the universe. It came into existence in 7 literal days.
6. If God can create the earth and heaven, then here is the logic: He can protect a pilgrim on His earth.
7. So let the journey begin.

This Journey Is a Fulfillment of God's Plan

1. We are on this journey, fulfilling the plan of God in our lives? Will He not protect us on that journey.
2. God created all of this to further His plan.
3. We are cogs in God's plan. The logic is, God will sustain and protect us, as we are cogs in His plan.

The pilgrim is going to the divine place, the divine objective; so we can depend upon God to take us there. There are times when it appears that we are uncovered in life. There is no apparent protection. God never fails to protect us, even if we die. God's plan for us is over, even to bring us home. Even injury. God protects us even in that. There was a man in this church and he was disfigured even in surgery. God has used him in wonderful ways. He has encouraged all of us in his actions and his attitude. God is always our Help and our Keeper. No matter what happens to us by way of adversity.

In many ways, we are alone in this life. We make decisions alone. What we do in life as a believer in Jesus Christ in fellowship and advancing to spiritual maturity, we are never alone, no matter where anyone else is.

We cannot afford to miss what God has for us here.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2//2022 Wednesday

In order to have confidence in the Lord's care and to receive encouragement through adversity. We need encouragement. We need to metabolize God's Word in our souls. This is a revelation of God's protection; a proof of His guardianship for us.

The setting of Psalm 121 is a pilgrim on route to Jerusalem. He needs to trek to Jerusalem for only one reason, to attend the 3 sacred festivals in Jerusalem. And to worship the Lord in the Temple. A bucketlist thing to come to the Temple and worship the Lord in the Temple complex.

The road to get there was unsafe. With that in mind, he begins with vv. 1–2 to ask a question and then to answer it.

Psalm 121:superscription A Song of Ascents.

Psalm 121:1 I lift up my eyes to the hills. From where does my help come?

The pilgrim's objective is to ascend to the Temple in Jerusalem (Jerusalem is built upon 5 hills).

Psalm 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

The pilgrim's help comes from the Lord. There is a caveat to that, that means His help is incredibly potent; in fact, omnipotent. The pilgrim claims the omnipotence of God as his faith rest rationale. He needs to start this trip with an application of Bible doctrine. The heaven and earth that God created. It is a logical conclusion that His power can protect a person on a journey. Our Lord can protect a pilgrim on the earth. A simple logic; and it is an encouragement for protection. The dangers were very many, or the pilgrim would not address them at this moment. There were slippery paths, deep valleys, no guard rails, no police, the ancient world roads were often corridors of crimes. Banditry robbery.

There were no state troopers; and this guy might even have to face the danger of wild animals at this time. No doubt this led to traveling in caravans. They banded together in order to do this.

Ships were sent to England, one-by-one and they were often picked off by submarines. So they banded together in convoys. There was still the problem of the wolves in the water. A caravan of ships verses a pack of submarines. The bad guys increased the size of their gangs, and this began to increase on a larger and larger scale.

Bobby has heard the same type of thing about 10 between Houston and Austin, where they will look for stranded motorists. Car jacking is even bigger than before. Vast increase in car-jacking and a crime problem due to defund the police movement. People can be victimized by any number of crimes.

This passage has special application for the time during which we live. Police cannot be everywhere at the same time; and some groups denigrate them considerably, making everyone more vulnerable to crime.

Likewise, the danger is all around us as well. Even those you would never suspect are capable of criminal actions. Teens are committed car jacking and murders; suicides. Many of our election officials deny the increase in crime, which is right in front of their eyes. Bobby is trying to give us a picture of what this pilgrim faced. So it was an all-out war on these roads. There was a great need for protection in that era.

Criminal activity can happen to any of us, and it can be very unexpected. People are so often oblivious to this sort of thing.

Above all, we must trust the Lord for protection. We have no idea when and where crime may strike. The fact is, we have what is known as a wall of fire principle. This is a way to understand protection that believers have.

Wall of Fire

1. The wall of fire is a metaphor for God's certain defense and protection of believers.
2. God surrounds believers and forms an impregnable fortification and refuge. We may not even know when he is taking care of us.
3. This is a faith rest rationale to apply all of the time. Keep a relaxed mental attitude under pressure. This is a great way to do that. Who can protect me? The Lord can protect me.

4. Historically, the wall of fire was a promise to Israel of protection throughout her history. God made this promise to Israel. Exodus 14:24 at the morning watch, the Lord looked down on the army of the Egyptians (this is when an army is ready to fight). God looked down through the pillar of fire and cloud. This is where the Lord resided with Israel. The Lord brought the army of the Egyptians into confusion. The Lord had a plan for the Jews; they were a fledgling nation at that time. Only when Joshua trained them did they become battle ready. God protected them because He had a plan, a mission for them.
5. That is the historical concept as related to the wall of fire. They survive between 586 B.C. even to 444 B.C.
6. God overrules the cosmic system by His will. His will supercedes the cosmic system. That is true both personally and nationally.
7. The wall of fire is in operation to protect from those who threaten to interfere with God's plan.
8. His wall of fire exists for when we are carrying forth with the plan of God.
9. The wall of fire principle was there at the trip of a pilgrim.
10. We too have this same wall of fire in our lives. Israel had it; individual Jews had it; and we as believers have it.
11. God keeps the door of His will open for us by His help and protection. We can depend upon that, in whatever direction that we go.
12. That is the source of a relaxed mental attitude in danger, adversity and pressures. We have the protection revealed right here in Psalm 121

From that time on, God would be protecting them. It was reiterated at other times. It was given to Zechariah as well, when the Jews returned to Israel from Babylon. Nebuchadnezzar leveled Israel and took the Jews of the southern kingdom out of the land for 70 years. Zechariah 2:5 God's protection of Israel in the return of Israel to Israel. (Do I have the correct book there?)

Jesus is the continuity of the protection of God for Israel. I will be the wall of fire around Israel.

We are not spiritual Israel in this age; we are the church; we are the body of Christ. Believers come out of every nation. God's people then and God's people then. In the Church Age, the race is not an issue; it matters not.

Zerubbabel built the Temple; Ezra came back as the priest; and then Nehemiah came back and built a wall of protection.

The protection for God and our lives and all of the things that we must accomplish in His plan, it is all there. All of the things necessary are there for us to continue with His plan.

We can get discipline as well when we are working against God's will.

Robbers and robbery were threats to believers of that era. The hills and mountains provided cover for gangs who would hide out there. They were always ready and often ambushed any travelers coming their way. So a wall of fire was a necessity and a comfort to them.

Our Lord addressed this issue of the wall of fire in Luke 10:30, 36 Jesus replied, "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell among robbers, who stripped him and beat him and departed, leaving him half dead.

Our only real protection is this wall of fire concept. Many traveled to see Jesus in Jerusalem. He traveled these roads of Palestine as well.

When Paul was on the road for his missionary journeys, he faced many problems. When was Paul safe? All the time; in order to achieve his mission. Too many prisons, too many shipwrecks, too many difficult circumstances.

From where comes our help? We will all ask this question at one time or another. The source of all help is the divine wall of fire. And only there.

A word for tomorrow. Ezer, from Gen. 2:18.

Lesson #03                      Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT                      2/3/2022 Thursday

No class; weathered out.

Lesson #03                      Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT                      2/6/2022 1Sunday

Have you ever called out, O God help. This request has an edge and it comes across like a demand, as if He was unaware of your situation. Believers do not demand action from God; we wait on God and on His timing. This crying out, O God is the opposite of using the faith rest drill.

Our concept of God's help is often severely lacking.

When we ask God for help, there should be confidence in God's absolute ability to help us and to keep us, but this is within the limits of His plan. There should be the unassailable faith and conviction.

Psalm 121:1 I lift up my eyes to the hills. From where does my help come?

V. 2 is a statement of assurance. The psalmist knows that God will answer his prayer.

Psalm 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

This concept of divine help is often abused by believers. To see exactly what it means, we must understand what the word actually means; a mature confidence in God's protection. So what exactly is divine help that we find in these first two verses?

Help is the Hebrew noun ezer. This noun is no stranger to us. Gen. 2:18 used of the woman who was created after Adam and for Adam. That is what she was called. She was designed from the beginning to assist Adam, to be his companion in all of his tasks. She was what he was lacking in his life.

Ezer as Adam's Rib

1. Ezer means more than something that was lacking in Adam's life. It means more than just something or someone lacking in Adam's life. She is more than just an assistant. Such have made women second class citizens. Men and women are equal in God's eyes, but they have different roles.
2. She is a part of Adam created from Adam's rib. She was returned to him to complete him.
3. From an integral part of his body, the woman became an integral part of his life. In return, he became that for her. There was no replacement and no substitute. Not even a canine.
4. God did not make a man for a man or a woman for a woman in the first marriage. The gender distinctions are Biblical clear. No human laws, no hatred, no persecutions will change what God has assigned.
5. The word ezer connotes correlation, association and fulfillment in connection to the woman that God created for the man as the ezer.
6. Ezer here is used of the Lord, the Creator, in this context.
7. The same concept is still true, that God is an integral part of the believer's life, especially in the sense of association and deliverance. He helps us through life. That is God as the ezer for all of us.

God as Our Ezer

1. Ezer is also used for divine intervention by an omnipotent God. Divine intervention; who is my Helper? Remember the context, the pilgrim going on a journey. He is looking to the Ezer for help.
2. This is what God does for them that they cannot do for themselves. What a great concept. There are so many things that we cannot do for ourselves.
3. God protects us in circumstances that we have no control over.
4. God provides more than simple assistance. Without God, this pilgrim would not be safe at all. This is an entirely dangerous road.
5. This man's first line of defense, as ours is, is always omnipotent God. This is the wall of fire. A protective wall for us. My help comes from the Lord. His confidence comes only from the Lord.

The next expression tells us why. The Lord is the maker/creator of heaven and earth. Why does He do this? This is the attributes of omnipotence and omniscience. God created the entire universe, and everything in it and everything on it. He is an All-powerful God capable of all things. The pilgrim can call upon God for anything. God can provide the protection of any believer.

How encouraging that the God of the Universe, all of His attributes are directed toward us.

The theory of random evolution brings absolutely no comfort, no security, no help in time of need or at any time. How many people think, at any time, call upon the laws of evolution. The idea that we are just mammals; or just a step toward an unknown future. Or we believe that we could be wiped out because the environment. We are evolving to something that may or may not be better? Those who think in this manner, that engenders no confidence in the future or hope in an eternal future, nothing like that. We are one speck in an infinite universe and then we are gone. Does that encourage you? That is the cosmic system substitute for God.

This is why Bobby is teaching human viewpoint versus divine viewpoint. There is no help and no comfort in materialism. The All-powerful Creator of heaven and earth can also protect this very pilgrim. If God made the ground the pilgrim is walking on, can He also protect him?

Reasoning Protection from God

1. Since the omnipotent Lord creates the earth, He has control of all that happens as well. God is perfectly capable of protecting us.
2. That is a source of complete comfort and encouragement. We are protected by the God Who made everything. Technology works because God's laws work. We overlook all the bad sides of man's advancement.
3. This doctrine of creation and omnipotence is so relevant for application in the faith rest drill.
4. If the pilgrim is faithfully following the mandates of the Lord, he goes to Jerusalem to worship God at the Temple. The festivals are doctrine; the sacrifices are doctrine. Is this not a part of the plan of God. We are here minus the sacrifices doing the exact same thing.

God provides whatever is necessary to get us along the way.

What does the Almighty do for this traveler? What can we expect from the Lord in the travel through life. This help can be found nowhere else.

Vv. 3–8 addresses the rest of the expectations. The psalmist uses other words with a similar connotation.

3 words which come from shamar, a very important in studying this chapter. It means, keeps, protects, guards.

Bobby was working out; and there is someone who knows that Bobby is a pastor. He asks, what are you preaching tomorrow? The man said, that is one of the most important subjects that there is.

Is it relevant for us today? It is. This represents God's wall of protection.

Vv. 3–6 he develops what the Ezer does. We might associate them with our lives.

When do we not face danger and adversity. That is a danger to our spiritual life. Great application; and we can overcome the fear of real danger and imagined danger. What can we imagine? What drives us crazy on American news? Are we knowledgeable about what might happen or do we have unfounded fears?

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/6/2022 2Sunday

Psalm 121:3 He will not let your foot be moved; He who keeps you will not slumber.

The Trip Hazard

1. The slip of the foot is an image conjuring injury or death. Tripping or stumbling.
2. At the least, it describes just walking and putting a foot in the wrong place.
3. So he is referring to an injurious moment or any bad circumstances which may happen along the way that might befall a traveler along the way. This is not a hard image to understand, for anyone who has done walking or riding in some area. You might walk through heavy brush and you make a misstep and step on a rattlesnake. The can change. The lack of balance when working on a building. Or a hiker who slips and falls. A mountain climber who puts his foot on a wrong place. Or an older person who trips and breaks a hip. All these persons in these circumstances know the possible danger of that one little step in the wrong place. These things do happen. We all make a misstep in life. These missteps happen. But all believers are protected for the plan of God.
4. Also a slip of the foot could be a metaphor for taking a wrong turn in a dangerous area. Everyone in Chicago knows that you do not go to the suothside. You do not want to take the wrong exit. Sometimes it is deadly. Carjackings, shootings, drive-by's, etc. But this can happen in any city, day or night; or wherever you take a walk or drive into trouble.

In our context, the pilgrim is facing a long walk to Jerusalem. Some long roads, some small roads.

A Slip of the Foot

1. A slip of the foot is a misstep along the road. It might just take one. This can easily be metaphorical to us. A bad decision.
2. This misstep can occur at any moment. It can be surprising or something that you saw coming. It describes a circumstance that describes danger or death.

3. The misstep is metaphorical for taking a walk into hazardous jeopardy.
4. This is a synecdoche, one part for the whole. The part is the foot, standing in for the pilgrim. It is the whole person that we consider. The slip of the foot can be lethal.

Bobby came across an older book that illustrates this concept. Church Rob In the Arena, a Memoir of Love, Politics. He married the daughter of Lyndon Johnson. That is how he became known. He was a Marine corp officer who fought in Vietnam.

In Vietnam, there were many nights where you could not see a thing. You could not tell the difference between opening and closing your eyes. The night goggles were not used until Operation Gulf.

They crossed into a region called Arizona territory. One Marine who walked point, a vulnerable position that had to be rotated several times. He stepped on a sleeping Vietnamese soldier. It was so dark that no one could see who they were shooting at. This one misstep could affect that entire company.

The Marines who were killed, they were not protected. Could that footstep been avoided? Had the circumstances not collided all at once to produce that one step. Even though people died and were wounded. The Lord protected some of those who died or were wounded. Many came home from Vietnam; 50,000 did not.

The time of death is not a slipping foot; nor does this negate the protection under any and all conditions. A believer being killed is not a random act. This is the Lord taking that person home. As long as the believer lives on this earth. We can make decisions that can take us out.

Our protection is still there under discipline, but it is coming from a different direction. He needs protection and he needs some firepower.

The Lord will not allow a sip of the food in some circumstances. Nathan. In general, this means to give, to put, to set. The name Nathan means, a gift. In this context, it means, to permit. With the negative, it means that God will not permit.

The No-slip Principle

1. The context is the Lord not permitting the interruption of the believer not permitting this to occur. He will not allow, because God has a plan that He wants us to fulfill. This does not mean that nothing bad will happen to us. God will protect us. We will not be removed from this life until we have fulfilled God's purpose for us.
2. God can and will protect life and believer's purpose in life. God will permit nothing short of that. Protection can mean that God has saved our lives or has save us from injury.
3. God's plan in Psalm 121 calls for this pilgrim to journey to Jerusalem. The pilgrim recognizes the no-slip principle of divine help. Always dangerous to drive on ice or to walk on it. We get protection and then it is time to go home. It is just the right time of God's choosing. The Lord keeps us from slipping under any conditions. That is what He communicates in this verse.

The principle of divine help is in our lives, for the maturing believer. The maturing believer is moving forward in the spiritual life. He is moving into his purpose in the plan of God.

God does not protect us from sinful thinking and sinful actions. We choose that. God will not permit the foot to slip. We can pray for that help.

Bad Decisions and the Slip of a Foot

1. Bad decisions can be categorized as a slip of the foot; we might call it that.
2. The repercussions of which God does not protect; discipline. We receive the results of the bad decisions that we make. These decisions determine the life that we lead. They lead us down a path that God does not approve of. These are all there for us to experience. God keeps us from all these problems. Yet, we are often the problem in this way.
3. God still preserves believers for recovery to carry out His purposes.

There is a change of pronoun. We have the first person in vv. 1–2, but it changes to a you in the verses which follow (maybe not in v. 4?). Anytime there is a grammatical shift, we need to pay attention to it.

Many commentators, and Bobby reads them and they are not dumb. Sometimes their theology is offbeat. Many of them translate this phrase as a future tense. He will not permit. God's protection never breaks down. He is never asleep. That is a guarantee of no slippage. If you have a bodyguard and he is on break or off shift, then he is not much of a bodyguard.

The grammar defines what God does for us; and how He protects us from stumbling. Or He protects us in executing the plan of God.

Psalm 121:3 He will not let your foot be moved; He who keeps you will not slumber.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/9/2022 Wednesday

From Psalm 59 and from the first two verses of Psalm 121, the advancing believer; and even some other types of believers, can expect the Lord to guard, to protect and to keep them in their lives.

Psalm 121:1 I lift up my eyes to the hills. From where does my help come?

Psalm 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

What can we expect? The psalmist develops the help of the Lord.

These are experiences that this man has had. The writer is trekking his way to Jerusalem; to go to the Temple. We do not share this exact same experience, but we do travel and we do face difficult circumstances.

Psalm 121:3 He will not let your foot be moved; He who keeps you will not slumber.

Shamar occurs 6x in this short psalm. God will not sleep when watching over us.

God will not allow your foot to lose its footing. This might also be translated as an optative; which is a wish or a desire. Commentators and grammarians can go either way with this. May He not permit your foot to slip is the way to do the optative. Notice that the pronoun in vv. 1–2 is 1st person. Here is where grammar matters. The pronoun in v. 3 is the 2nd person.

Some Grammar for V. 3

1. The pilgrim is speaking for himself in the first two verses. My help comes from the Lord is a statement of fact.
2. The switch to the 2nd person in v. 3 would appear as if someone is now speaking to the pilgrim. A second person appears to come into the picture.
3. When we speak to another person, we might express a wish or a desire for that person. I would like this for you. We might say, God bless you. You have no way to say, God is going to bless you, because God might be disciplining that person. If you say, may God permit blessing to you, then you are expressing a desire that God bless this person, leaving it up to God. Use the optative the next time you ask for God to bless someone.
4. If v. 3 is optative, then one pilgrim is speaking to another. He is desiring or requesting that God protect that person on this journey. May the Lord protect you, may the Lord help you.
5. If a future translation, then v. 3 becomes rhetorical, meaning the pilgrim is speaking with himself. It is written this way for us to understand that. A personal conversation with oneself. That would be a rhetorical use.
6. The one pilgrim is applying Bible doctrine and he is encouraging himself along the route. So, he is talking to himself or to someone else.
7. Bobby's take: he likes the future translation because he likes the doctrine for himself. So the 2nd person is a rhetorical device.
8. However, in either case, the statement remains true. God will not permit harm to the pilgrim on the journey. That is the great thing for us to realize. We had better be convinced that God will help us. He will always help us.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

V. 4 switches to the 3rd person singular pronoun, which is He, a reference to God. God keeps Israel. We know that is a fact. He has disciplined Israel as well. But to do so, God will always be alert.

God Protects His Own

1. This is a confirmation that God will protect His Own.
2. The Lord will not be indifferent or disregard this pilgrim. That is His encouragement on this trip.
3. The Lord will always be alert in the protection of His Own. God loves us and He never stops protecting us.
4. This pilgrim speaks with confidence, based upon encouragement from the principle of divine protection. That is the principle of this entire chapter. He is confident in that. The experiences that he has on the road in which God will protect him.
5. God will not permit the foot to slip on the journey through our lives. This protection for a believer in the Old Testament also applies to us.

Foot represents the whole person. It is important because this whole person who is represented by a foot will not slip. The foot is us walking through life.

What Does it Mean to Slip?

1. Slipping refers to any accident or slipping along the way.
2. However, this principle does not mean that God keeps us from making wrong decisions or from sinning. We retain our volition for good or for bad.
3. In our context, God prevents outside circumstances from defeating, injuring or even killing the pilgrim. This does not mean that the pilgrim won't die or that we won't die. Even in death, we are still protected. We have dying grace at that point.

This does not mean that we won't have injuries or illness. Do not get sidetracked by us not getting what we want. Why am I not be protected from them? We don't know how God is protecting us here.

We have a sin nature and we can decide to sin. Succumbing to our own volition, we choose to slip the foot; we trip ourselves, whether it is inadvertent or not.

God disciplines us and protects us to keep us in the plan. This does not mean that God prevents bad decisions or sinning.

All things work together for good can include us making mistakes, bad decisions, sins, etc. God will make all of this work. When we are in reversionism, we don't love God. Whether we are in or out, our protection is still there.

Here is a guy going into nothing but danger, and yet, he is doing what God has told him to do and he knows that God continues to protect him.

The Divine Protector will be vigilant in His care. Such help will require attention that He gives every step of the way every day. He does not misplace us, He does not slumber.

God's immutability guarantees that He will protect us. He says that He will, and since He does not change, then we know that He will.

The concern for this pilgrim is very easy to understand. Even today, this is a treacherous journey in Israel, given the unrest there and the terrorism; and antisemitism is on the rise as well. Israel is a tiny country, maybe 30 miles across and 100 miles long. The dangers for the psalmist still exist today.

Some people cannot make a decision. They do not know which way to go. Here, we know, move out, move ahead, go forward, march. Let the rest fall into place.

Bobby's wife has been 12 accidents; twice with 18-wheelers, but she escaped without serious injury.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

This may be taken as a future or an optative mood. What may happen or what will happen. There is no falling asleep at the switch. God does not sleep. He does not need sleep; He never rests. The loss of protection.

Psalm 121:3 He will not let your foot be moved; He who keeps you will not slumber.

There are parallels here. Where are we safe? Crime is on the rise. Where are the safe places when you are sleeping. That is your most vulnerable time. God's guard mount never ceases.

When we sleep, when we are not alert. During that time, God's protection continues without fail.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

Psalm 4:8 In peace I will both lie down and sleep; for you alone, O LORD, make me dwell in safety.

Sleep deprivation is a strong difficulty for the soldier. But God provides this assurance that we are safe. This is a practical promise that we can use. This are solid statements of protection, in our most vulnerable time.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

This parallels the verses quoted.

At times for Israel, protection and intervention given by angels. He will command His angels concerning you. We have protection from the wicked. This is comforting when we think of this nation under cycles of discipline. No harm will overtake you. No disaster will come near your tent or your house. They will lift you up. You will tread on the lion and the cobra. You really don't want to walk on such. Because He loves me, I will rescue him I will protect Him, for He acknowledges My Name. That is what we do as we advance spiritually. There is nothing in life from which we are not protected. You need something in your mind to use.

The Lord may protect you through unexpected supernatural events. We may pray for deliverance and protection. Through circumstances of life in which the Lord was clearly at work. Gen. 12:10–20. God can protect us through the agency of other believers. Leaders who were kings and priests. People can be the Lord's instruments for guidance and protection. This promise was basic to Israel as the first client nation. It is part of our protection as well.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/10/2022 Thursday

The promise of divine protection the word shamar occurs 6x in 8 verses. This was so basic to the well-being of Israel. From the very first formation of client nation Israel.

Numbers 6:22–27 Moses was given directions how to bless Israel. Moses was the mouthpiece of God for the first generation of Israel. Moses spoke to the Lord and then gave these words to the Israelites. The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord would keep or protect His people. They needed to hear this from Moses. Likewise, when we come to Psalm 121 concerning divine protection for this pilgrim's journey to Israel, it is based upon the same doctrine of protection and blessing. This was a continuation in the blessing and protection of Israel.

The optative interpretation, "Let me tell you how you should be protected by God." That pilgrim could certainly speak the same words with the same effect that Moses did. That is the continuity of Scripture. His Word is the same, yesterday, today and forever.

David remembered what God told Israel to say. Do not fear, because God will protect.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

This is the truth and certainty of protection. Numbers 6:22–27 parallels what we are studying.

God, on many occasions, God intervened for Israel. Angels were given charge of certain people. God Himself operated with divine intervention. God may protect Israel through unexpected supernatural events, like Judges 5:4. One of the most disputed ones was God stopping the sun for a day. If God created the universe, could God not do that? There is no natural explanation for a supernatural event. God is God and He has power over nature, over death, over illness. He can do any of it. This includes a protection of His people. God works through circumstances. We may not always know it or understand it. But God does work through circumstances. God can move circumstances about in order to work His will. Gen. 12:10–20. God also works through the agency of other believers.

One friend of Bobby's saw an angel on a bus and that the angel disappeared. Bobby won't argue the point, but we don't see angels today. God can act naturally and supernaturally, but we do not know that is taking place. We do know a drought and a flood; good things come from that. From evil can come good.

Great military battles in history have been won or lost on a small event, of a small group of soldiers, a minor tactic; and that can turn it all around. God will intervene for Israel during the Tribulation in a major way.

God may directly intervene for certain situations. Sometimes this can take the form of healing; God still heals. We may not know it. It can be a miraculous cure and it may be a very natural cure. There is no guarantee that we ever will know. We still know that God protects us in ways that we have already studied.

We may pray fervently for God to heal, and we should pray for that; and God can intervene there. We can know that our prayers are answered.

God does provide for us all that we need personally to carry out His plan. He always has this for us. Fellow believers may offer or affect circumstances with their words or with their actions. These things may coincide for us.

Bobby has heard that, he has taught something, and it was exactly what they needed to hear in order to deal with a problem or to solve a problem. That is God working through circumstances as well. The interaction of all these events, controlled by God, for us, speaks of His unfathomable omnipresence and omnipotence. An all-knowing God. There is nothing that God does not know. He is present everywhere at all times; and He is present in us at all times. Every single one of us has God's presence. The Shekinah Glory permanently indwells us. We have all of that. All of it is part and parcel. If He knows us, if we can do it through His power, what can He not do by way of protection? There are no limitations.

God's Protection

1. According to Psalm 121:4, this is in clear contrast to v. 3.
2. In fact, we can understand v. 4 as presenting a response to v. 3.
3. In v. 3, we should ask, could God be guilty of allowing our slipping of the foot? Could God slumber or disregard the pilgrim for a time?
4. Of course not.
5. To ask if God can or cannot do such a thing, answers itself.
6. God watches every step that this pilgrim would take. This protection is for his entire life.
7. Every step of our life is under God's protection, however He does it; whatever He does.
8. It is unthinkable that God could, at any time, even for a moment, be taken off guard by some circumstance, fall asleep, or allow the foot to slip. Unthinkable. We have the guarantee of this psalm. Protection is always there.

The pilgrim may be thinking of times along the journey that would best illustrate divine security. That would be the most vulnerable time, which is night time. They will have a camp several nights; and when they do, they will post sentries to guard the pilgrim. This is when the thieves operate at night. The guards are not alert.

In contrast, the God of Israel does not fall asleep on guard duty ever. When the night closes in, he is always there. So it makes sense to say that God never slumbers.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

Conclusions Based upon V. 4

1. This construction expresses another emphatic truth of divine protection. Indeed, He Who keeps you. An unerring confidence in the Lord.
2. The pilgrim here is precisely answering the question of v. 1b. From where does my help come?
3. Of course the answer is, first given in vv. 2–3; so v. 4 is an obvious follow-on.
4. V. 4 affirms the answer of vv. 2–3.
5. V. 4 is a direct and finalized confirmation of the truth of divine protection. We will see how we know that.
6. The affirmation from v. 4 is even more emphatic. It has built up from the previous verses. It is a process of building up.
7. We know this because of the grammatical construction, the double use of the Hebrew negative. The two words that the negatives connect. Slumber and sleep.
8. He will not sleep and He will not slumber.
9. Here the psalmist is so definitive it is not going to happen ever. No sleep.

Why use two words that mean the same thing. Sleep, slumber.

Why Are Two Words Used?

1. These words are used as a rhetorical device.
2. These synonymous words are repeated with the negatives for even greater emphasis. Indeed, no sleep, no slumber.
3. There can be no doubt of the reality of divine protection.
4. This is the clincher. V. 4 clinches the lesson.
5. The main verb clarifies the reason for the two synonymous words + the negative.
6. The verb shamar demands emphasis because of the subject. It is he who keeps and protects Israel. This is not confidence in human protection, which is never entirely protection.
7. This is a declaration about God and His dependable protection.

There can be no doubt as to God's protection, as He never sleeps and He never slumbers; and this is true for Israel and every believer in Israel. One pilgrim has unending protection and care. Every step is one of confidence.

God's Protection and Our Confidence.

1. We can have unending confidence that God never fails to watch over us. That is a faith rest rationale. God never fails.
2. However, God might protects us, He has an infinite number of ways to do it. Bobby did not think that he would get covid, but there was a reason; and it was for God's plan and purpose. God knows what we need by way of protection; even a break in our lives.
3. Our life is in God's hands. We press on for His purposes and His plan. If God be for us, who can be against us?
4. The more that we advance in the spiritual life, the more certain in our minds becomes His protection. In retrospect, it often becomes clear.

Bob knew so many workaholics in the military. That was their choice.

What about this nation? What about Israel? Are there still Jews on this earth? Can we make an application to us? Of course. God still protects a client nation for His Own purposes. Personal protection is never withdrawn from us.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/13/2022 1Sunday

Communion Service February 13, 2022

Titus 3:3 For we ourselves were once foolish, disobedient, led astray, slaves to various passions and pleasures, passing our days in malice and envy, hated by others and hating one another.

Titus 3:4 But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared,...

Titus 3:5 ...He saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to His Own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit,...

Titus 3:6 ...Whom He poured out on us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior,...

Titus 3:7 ...so that being justified by His grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

This passage overflows with the truth of the love of God and His plan of salvation.

Titus was a point man, a troubleshooter. He was a superstar of the gospel and Bible doctrine. His life was one of toil and danger. He fits the description, a lamb among wolves. He was to go to Crete, the largest island in the Mediterranean. There were about 100 cities in Crete and many local churches, and man of those in complete disarray. Titus had a long and difficult task before him.

Titus was despondent and discouraged; and Paul knew exactly what was needed. How could Titus be down and out with this knowledge of this passage.

This is a canvas of intense beauty. Man's need of salvation. He and Titus were previously disobedient, spending their lives in malice and envy. They were both former Jews and gentiles, and they had lived in a lost condition. Titus needed to remember this and to get some perspective. Paul's point is, they were much better off now than they had been before. Using himself and Titus, Paul speaks of man outside of Christ. Paul's portrait leaves no room for the gaming of God. Not one of us measures up to God's perfect standards. We have not evolved into more acceptable creatures to God. Our technical advances cannot save us. We are spiritually dead human beings. As long as we live with a barrier, we cannot scale. Corruption prevails in our thoughts and in our actions.

Man must become a new creature, a new creation, from a source outside of himself. We all stand in this most critical need. The Holy Spirit uses that revelation to convict the unbeliever of his position in Adam. This is God making the gospel real and perspicuous to the unbeliever. Paul also reveals the origin of salvation, which is v. 4.

Titus 3:4 But when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared,...

Salvation is God's work and God's work alone. Salvation is from heaven with God alone as the source.

Romans 5:15 But the free gift is not like the trespass. For if many died through one man's trespass, much more have the grace of God and the free gift by the grace of that one man Jesus Christ abounded for many.

This was the free gift of God, the gift of His Own Son. Do any of us deserve having the agency of God to save us? We have no merit before God; not any. This love of Jesus Christ is unconditional and it is based upon God's perfect character.

"Salvation is from the Lord," Jonah said.

Titus 3:5 ...He saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to His Own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit,...

In Christianity, God acts on our behalf. Man has nothing to offer to God. We are condemned from birth. Man cannot attract, on his own, God's love. Man's good deeds do not inspire God. Man's pathetic attempts to reach God through his relative righteousness. Man must take on God's righteousness in order to be acceptable before Him. If God's requirement for perfect righteousness must be met.

If God can set His righteousness aside, then He is merely winking at sin. This would reduce God's righteousness to man's level and destroy all respect for Him. Man cannot make the payment himself. A sinner cannot free himself from the slavery of sin. This must be done by an outside source; One Who pays the price for manumission. God's righteousness precludes all merit except for His Own. Christ opened the way to God without compromising His righteousness. He freed us forever from the slave market of sin. We are now free to appropriate the grace of God.

Titus 3:5 ...He saved us, not because of works done by us in righteousness, but according to His Own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit,...

The expression of faith alone in Christ alone means the Holy Spirit must be involved.

We become a son of God in Christ, activated by our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, whereby men and women are born again into the Kingdom of God through the imputation of eternal life. Regeneration is a sovereign and immutable work by God.

Paul reveals another benefit by faith alone in Christ alone:

Titus 3:7 ...so that being justified by His grace we might become heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

A justified person has met all of the standards of God. His flawed nature is not removed; but God's righteousness is credited to him. He is worthy of God's personal love.

God gives salvation, regeneration, justification for those who lack the ability to provide for their own poverty stricken condition, which is every human being. Like any inheritance, it is the toil of the giver, the source of the wealth. All of the work is on the side of God. How does the person take a hold of this gift? Faith alone in Christ alone.

Acts 16:31 Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved. How can Titus not serve the Lord gladly, knowing already what Christ has done for us. God has not called us to leisure, idleness, retirement; but a meaningful life of service to our Lord. However, we wait for God to place us in the position to do so.

It is profitable for every man to live by this message, to live is Christ and to die is profit.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/13/2022 2Sunday

Psalm 121:3 He will not let your foot be moved; He who keeps you will not slumber.

The pilgrim goes to the Temple for the feast day; and God will not slumber when it comes to protecting and guiding the pilgrim on this journey. The same thing is true of us today. We have total protection. God will not fail in watching over us.

We have the same confidence in v. 4

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

The Church and the Client Nation

1. Although the church is not associated with a national entity (along the lines of Israel); believers are to be found in all nations, genders and social strata.
2. Nations in the Church Age may still be designated as client nations. Not a union of church and state.
3. These gentile national entities are set apart by God for specific reasons. First as a repository of divine truth. God's truth is preserved and taught.
4. It is also a nation where the gospel is freely communicated; where doctrine is widely taught. In the first century, there were many martyrs in the Roman empire. It was a client nation, despite the persecution. Doctrine was taught all over the Roman empire. Nations are not necessarily Christian nations. There are nations with believers in them who honor the Word of God.
5. There is missionary activity, extended to positive volition throughout the world.
6. A client nation is going to have believers who are growing spiritually.
7. From mature believers in the nation, blessing by association overflows to the gentile nation. There is stability, prosperity, freedom and protection. This nation has been protected from sometime, from outside forces and those on the inside. Now we have both sets of enemies at the gates (and behind the gates). We are part of a gentile client nation.

In v. 4, it is nation Israel which is addressed.

Psalm 121:4 Behold, He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.

God is the 3rd person, in how it refers to God here in vv. 4–5. Israel's God does not rest, He does not eat, He does not take a break.

Vv. 2–3 the pilgrim; v. 4 is the nation.

The psalmist is presenting a contrast between the God of Israel and the pagan gods of the people who surround Israel. On the larger scale of national security, the use of slumber is in contrast to the gods of their heathen neighbors. Israel often got involved with these gods.

When crops failed and vegetation dried out, the fertility gods were thought of then as failing to guard against that. They were not sustaining the prosperity. The heathen thought that their gods had gone off duty or they fell asleep. The God of Israel did not slumber.

The sleeping gods let the famine sneak up. The land was cursed and it was dead. The fertility gods had to be reawakened. Their attention had to get their attention, so they used the fertility cults in order to get the gods to pay attention to them. The God of Israel never slumbered. He always blessed His people and the blessings never ceased.

The psalmist makes certain that the entire nation understood that they fell under this protection.

God and the Client Nation

1. What a marvelous statement of protection in v. 4. A universal statement.
2. Persecution and antisemitism will never prevail against these people. This is true even today. In 1933–1945 Hitler had the greatest army in the world, but he kept killing God's people. The protection means that God will preserve His people. He has and He always will. Both northern and southern kingdoms were wiped out in discipline, but the people did return to the southern kingdom. His people will enter into the Millennium because they will survive the Tribulation.
3. The Abrahamic covenant remains. This covenant has never been rescinded.

If God is the Protector and Guardian of all Israel, then how could God fail in the comparatively simple task of guarding a single member of His people. If God can protect nation Israel, can He not protect you?

This is a fortiori logic. This draws a logical conclusion to strengthen confidence in God's guardianship. Bobby covered this recently in this same chapter. This logic draws a conclusion from strong evidence. From the greater evidence to the lesser evidence.

A Fortiori Logic

1. The greater evidence is God's protection of nation Israel. "I will not sleep, I will protect Israel.
2. That is the greater evidence of protection of individuals.
3. If God protects the nation, He will protect the individual.
4. If God can protect the nation, can He not protect us in the plan of God?
5. This a fortiori contrast is a reaffirmation of guardianship and protection...especially for the individual. If the greater, then the lesser.
6. If God protects the nation, He certainly protects the individual citizens of the nation.

We lose our protection when we are taken out under the sin unto death. When we die, we are going home; we are going out under eternal life.

Now we go back to the individual believer, returned to the 2nd person.

Psalm 121:5 The LORD is your keeper; the LORD is your shade on your right hand.

This is a very personal relationship. The Lord is involved with the believer as his Guardian. Some may think of a keep like a jailer or one who locks up another or who protects society from this person. That becomes a very personal relationship. In our nation, we seem to have forgotten about the protection of the individual.

Some major cities are so crime-ridden so that it is unsafe out on the streets. We need a Keeper; we need someone to help us out. We need lots of help.

God is the Keeper of Satan; He locks the door; He locks the gate.

We are protected by God in ways that we do not even know about. The Lord protects all of us; He is our Keeper.

God Is Our Keeper

1. The Hebrew word keeper is shamar again.
2. Since this noun is used in v. 4 for the nation, the a fortiori logic should be confirmed.
3. We know what it is: God is the Keeper of Israel; He will be our Keeper as well.
4. God is the overall protector of all believers. God does not sleep; He takes care of His people.
5. This assures the modern pilgrim of God's care and protection.
6. That fact is true for the rest of this chapter, vv. 5–8.
7. There can be no doubt that God is all of those things which signify His protection.

The second phrase of v. 5:

Psalm 121:5 The LORD is your keeper; the LORD is your shade on your right hand.

The Lord Himself, and none other, is the shade on our right hand.

God, the Maker of heaven and earth.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT 2/16/2022 Wednesday

Psalm 121:5 The LORD is your keeper; the LORD is your shade on your right hand.

The Lord is our keeper, in terms of protector. Shamar is the word found 6x in these 8 verses. There is a fortiori logic. God will also be the Keeper of His people. If God can take care of the nation, then He can take care of us. We cannot forget that He is our Keeper and our Guardian.

God's keeping and protection is in constant operation. He never slumbers. He is always alert. The opposition is prevented from succeeding and sometimes just eliminated from the scene. Whoever has the power of havoc in your life, he will not stop you from taking your place in God's plan.

Where is God's protection? I need it and I need it now! We all have the assets; it is a matter of trust on our part. God's plan cannot be halted by harm planned or executed by opposition or execution. Don't worry about how God is going to protect us. God controls our life and He controls the plan of our life. Everything He does is to move us forward in His plan.

Now the second line:

Psalm 121:5 The LORD is your keeper; the LORD is your shade on your right hand.

This second line deals with the extent that we can depend upon God. Yehowah is repeated in this verse. That emphasizes that the Maker of Heaven and Earth, Covenant God of Israel, Who promises protection to the nation. He made promises to David that his line would survive in nation Israel.

Genesis 12:2 And I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you and make your name great, so that you will be a blessing.

This is an irrevocable promise. Some think that the covenants to Israel are passed over to the church. God made this promise for Israel to be a great nation; and the church is not a nation. All believers in Jesus Christ is the church. Israel will be regathered at the Tribulation after.

7 years, Satan will attempt to destroy Israel. God's promised kingdom to Israel. "I will make your name great, and you will be a blessing."

Antisemitism views Israel as a curse upon the world; exactly the opposite of what is in Scripture. They are a blessing to the world; they were a client nation. Israel began as a theocracy, ruled by God. Believers are scattered throughout the earth.

The history of the Jews—they have been a blessing to any nation where they have resided. Spain, at the time of the inquisition was one of the richest nations on earth and one of the most powerful nations in the world. At the time of Inquisition, the Jews were persecuted and driven out. They have been a 2nd rate European nation since then.

V. 5b is a parallel phrase to v. 5a. Shade is a bit of an obscure word. This word is synonymous parallel; they correspond.

Shade* Is Tsel.

1. Tsel means shadow.
2. This does not allude to some ethereal presence like a ghost that is not real. Such a presence of mystical power, and they often allude to a mystical presence. It is a mystical notion of a harassed unbeliever or a believer in reversionism.
3. Jesus Christ is with us and in us as believers.
4. This is an invisible reality that every believer possesses.

5. This shadow presence is a very real, but invisible presence.
6. The point is, the Lord shadows this pilgrim. He sees every movement; every step of this pilgrim. The pilgrim is never outside of the presence of the omnipotent Lord.
7. This meaning, as the shadow of God over a person, coupled with Keeper, they confirm the image of a shadow or a type of protection available at any time.
8. This is the protective covering of God in all adversity. That is the parallel. This tells us even more about how God protects us.

Imagine a big of shade in the desert on a very hot day. Shade is so important when we are hot, dry, debilitated.

Later in this psalm, we have, the sun will not smite you by day.

Meaning of Being on the Right Hand

1. This refers to the nearness of divine protection.
2. This prepositional phrase completes the verse with the location of the shadow which is our Protector. The shadow does not slumber; the shadow does not sleep. We always have this protective covering.

This is a phrase will well-known significance to Israel. They understood this psalm.

On the Right Hand, as Found in the Bible

1. The right hand was a description of God's protection of to the 1st generation of Israel. This is the Exodus generation. They died in the desert. Exodus 15:12 Stretch out your right hand and the earth swallows your enemies. That is the protection of the first generation. Why did they not believe it? Why did they not trust God? The promises were not sticking to their souls. Whatever could be done wrong, this generation did.
2. The right hand is also the place of a guardian. Psalm 18:35 You have also given me the shield of Your salvation; and Your right hand upholds me.
3. The right hand of God is a guarantee of safety and strength. Isaiah surely I will protect you and uphold you with My righteous right hand. Isaiah 41:10
4. Psalm 49:9 the right hand is a place of honor.
5. The resurrected Christ is not on the right hand of the Father.

How Is He a Protector from That Vantage Point?

1. Jesus has completed His commission.
2. At this place, He received the title of King of Kings and Lord of Lords. We often think of kings and lords as protectors.
3. In heaven, He still acts as our Protector at God's right hand.
4. Jesus makes intercession for us, as our High Priest. Because Jesus Christ lives forever, He is One Person forever. He has a permanent priesthood. The priest intercedes between people and God. We confess to a priest and he intercedes between us and God. The specialized priesthood is over, when Israel went out of existence. Therefore, as our High Priest, He is able to deliver completely those who come to Him.

5. From the right hand of the Father, as our intercessor, the Lord protects. He advocates for us during our lifetime. He is our lawyer. When you are in trouble, you need a lawyer; you need protection.
6. Every believer is within his much more grace care of God. Rom. 5:9, 10.

As this pilgrim moves through the countryside, he continually holds to these verses.

Quite often, the Jews in their religious ceremonies, they repeat things. If you see Jews at the wailing wall; and they are nodding and repeating. This psalm is read and repeated in synagogues. These verses constantly repeat in this pilgrim's thinking. This helps to concentrate on the Lord. What do you do in adversity? Do you think about the adversity? Does fear come into your soul. Are you anxious about this? Why not think about the mantra of vv. 4–5. It aides in your concentration on the Lord. It is to encourage the pilgrim along the way.

Now there is concentration where concentration is necessary. That is the application of God's Word under pressure. We need a mantra; we need a bunch of them.

Sometimes singing is a better way to remember things; the psalms were meant to be sung; they were poetic hymns.

The psalmist is not trying to convince himself; he is reminding himself. We are remembering what the promises are. Vv. 4–5 are what this man remembers.

How Shade Relates to V. 6

1. The author uses the shade image in an obvious way in v. 6, as it is related to protection.
2. The sun will not smite you by day or the moon by night.
3. This is a covering for the pilgrim on the road. The shade is his cover.
4. We can understand the image of shade as being protection from the sun.

Bobby saw this and it is easy to understand the shade needed from the sun. But what about the moon? How does the moon smite the pilgrim? And why does he need shade from shadows?

Bobby has done a lot of walking in the forests at night as a Ranger. You never forget the shadows. You see everything in the shadows. When the moon is full, there is more light.

These verses go together.

Psalm 121:5 The LORD is your keeper; the LORD is your shade on your right hand.

God is both the Keeper and He is the shade. The two predicate nominatives used here, one being a real connection; the second being a representative analogies. These are two descriptions of the Lord. Keeper describes the Lord; and this is parallel to shade; and these words have a synonymous meaning. Shamar is keeper, which is the theme of this entire chapter. One is an analogy. The Lord is our keeper and He is our shade. The image is one of a shadow.

An image that represents the Lord and that image is a shadow. God shadows this pilgrim, watching his every movement. Wherever we go, our shadow goes along with us. God is like an umbrella of protection that constantly goes with us. This is confirmed in v. 6. The sun will not smite you by day. God protects this pilgrim. He does the same exact thing for us during our lifetime. This helps to explain the sun in v. 6. Why do we find the moon here? Why do we need protection from the moon? How does the moon strike the pilgrim and why does the pilgrim need protection from shadows?

Psalm 121:6 The sun shall not strike you by day, nor the moon by night.

What Is the Meaning of V. 6?

1. Why is the image if shade used as protection from moonlight?
2. Clearly in this context, the sun and the moon is presented as an image that represents danger to the pilgrim.
3. We understand this because the words sun and moon form the expressed subject of the verb to smite.
4. We are in danger of being struck by the sun and moon?

Bobby considered many superstitions which go along with the moon. The legend brings clarity to a certain nighttime danger. The nightmares of the night. What is more frightening than the night? But having said all of that, that is not the meaning of v. 6.

The Explanation of the Danger of Sun and Moon Is Quite Simple

1. The bright light of the sun appears throughout the day and the moon throughout the night.
2. This image of sun and moon conveys the extent of time during which danger is present, which is 24 hours. This is the extent of time during which danger is present.
3. That is what happens in life: adversity, under the sun and moon.
4. They coincide, with the idea of day and night. This is all of the time.
5. These both indicate a full day. Over and over again. Sun and moon.
6. There is a constant danger to this pilgrim, both day and night, at all times, throughout the entire journey, to and from.

7. The pilgrim here in this verse is being guaranteed shade, protection, at all times, day or night.

The need for constant protection is confirmed by the violent verb, to smite. Nakah is a common word in a military context, to strike, to attack, to defeat. This can take place at any time. Night attacks can be a very destructive attack. Some of these attacks are often done at night. So the moon presents a very dangerous nighttime opportunity. A sneaky little attack. The attack when the people are most vulnerable, asleep. Especially on the roads through Palestine. The day time can be better prepared for as you can see your enemy coming. God protects this pilgrim at any time from any danger. God does not sleep. This is another encouragement. Their journey often took more than one day or one night. These pilgrims need protection at night as well as at day. This should be a comfort and encouragement to us as well. We are provided a lifetimes of protection and care.

The caveat is...we have to trust God in His omniscience and omnipotent protection. This is a very special verse for those in the military. Regardless of the mission, the believer has the divine guardian who never sleeps.

This is part of what a soldier thinks of. It is bad enough in the daylight hours.

The Japanese were particularly good at night. They could slip into a foxhole and slit the throat of the American there. As a soldier, this verse makes a great deal of sense and is very encouraging. Fear does not intervene.

Our cowardice will be tested, at some point or another. Those who think divine establishment are sometimes afraid of everything that is happening, given the mess that the United States is in today. Whatever one's physical condition, God still uses us for His purposes. We are always under attack and the plan of God must be completed under adversity. That is what this verse promises, is protection, despite all that is happening.

Shamar is used 3 more times in these final two verses, as seen below bolded. .

Psalm 121:7 The LORD will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life.

Bible doctrine in the soul carries over to all of our physical life.

Psalm 121:8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore.

Anti-phonial usage. One person sings or says a line and it is answered by another line. This lines would be sung by the pilgrims on the road.

3 further reassurances in vv. 7&8. Guardianship over the pilgrim and assurances for all the believers in life.

The change for shamar is going from a participle to is use as a verb.

The guard never goes off duty. He is available day and night. V. 8 suggests a much longer period of time. There is a future duration in v. 8. There will never be a time when the Lord does not protect us. The ultimate in reassurance in our life; and it confirms something, which is an afterlife. We are protected even after death.

Psalm 121:8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore.

The thing that we fear the most is death and we are protected from that.

Our Protection Continues

1. Day and night, and from this time forth and forever both represent every possible harm occurring at any time and throughout a lifetime.
2. It means that no harm befalls in eternity. Another description of heaven. A lot of the descriptions of heaven are just made up, like the pearly gates and the streets of gold. We have protection from the past life.
3. From the moment of salvation from departure from this life and beyond, we have protection. Everything.
4. God never ceases throughout our lifetime. That should be comforting; it should be reassuring. We can gaze into the future and say, "That protection never leaves. It extends even into eternity.
5. Heaven is our ultimate protection.
6. No matter what happens or when, we are under the protection of the Creator and God of the Universe.

There is no real security in life except what we have in Psalm 121. There are no gaps in the coverage. We have an iron-clad protection coverage in the plan of God. God knows every circumstance. God knows where He wants us and He knows how to get us there. When we move in that direction, God protects us in every moment in this life.

Our life is much simpler when we have an understanding of Psalm 121.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/20/2022 1Sunday

Next Sunday for a business meeting.

The final two verses summarize the entire chapter. 3 uses of shamar in vv. 7–8:

Psalm 121:7 The LORD will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life.

Psalm 121:8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore.

Our souls are kept safe by having Bible doctrine in them. We must have Bible doctrine and be in fellowship. There are the final note on divine guardianship is found in v. 8. These are a reassurance to us.

V. 7 summarizes this psalm.

Psalm 121:7 The LORD will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life.

There is a much longer duration found in v. 8:

Psalm 121:8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore.

This is the full sphere of man's activity. When the sun rises; and the person takes up daily activities. In the evening and until the person returns to bed and ceases all activities. We have protection for this entire time period. Day and night.

The Time Frame of Application of this Psalm

1. This covers the totality of a person's activities in life. A whole category of time not presented previously in the earlier part of this chapter.
2. This category denotes the whole life and occupations of a person.
3. What lays between the two terminal points, rising from sleep and returning to sleep. From now and forever. That is a whole new perspective on protection.
4. Other psalms include protection even during sleep. Why do we need protection then? How about a break-in in the house? Your spouse snoring. I call out to the Lord and He answers me from His holy mountain. I lie down and sleep; I wake again because the Lord sustains me.
5. There is nothing to which the care and support of the Lord does not extend and cover.
6. There is no sphere of influence of life that is not touched by His protection. What a steady reassurance that we have every day and night and forever.

Bobby has slept many times under the stars in all kinds of weather, including Alaska. When a person is in the military, you sleep in strange places and you are not always protected while you are asleep. People may be on guard, but people are fallible. Even King Saul had this protection. David came upon Saul while he was sleeping and he cut off a piece of his clothing instead of cutting his throat.

We Have Things to Remember about God's Protection

1. God's will is an overriding factor when it comes to being protected.
2. Our mindset and our volition are certainly involved. Or the condition of our spiritual life may have something to do with it as well.
3. Whether we think that we are protected or not, whether we have doubts or angst. "Where are You, God; I don't deserve this." We are protected for the purpose of continuing God's plan for our lives. God protects us all of the time, but for the reason of His plan for our lives.

4. We may not receive the height of protection and care. Do not expect freedom from all illness, injury and pain. That is what we might call full protection; full coverage.
5. God's protection of believers in this life is His plan.

How many times have you heard someone say, "My loved one is ill, terminally ill, or in an accident. Where is God? Where is our protection? He does not love me because 'I am not getting what I want.'" Bobby looks for a time to speak about that, when they are a little less vulnerable. Protection does not keep up from all difficulties and problems in life. God uses these things for His plan and purpose. We may survive something that is barely survivable. We may be terminally ill. God will protect us in whatever way so that He will carry out His plan for us. Whether we feel uncovered or vulnerable; let down or alone; because seemingly bad things are happening to us. God's plan for us is never stymied or thwarted in any way.

When you get to the point of trusting God's protection, then things are greatly improved.

If we have this protection, why do bad things happen to us? Especially when it comes to believers who are growing and maturing? God does protect us and guide us under these circumstances. Even if we do not understand how and when this protection is happening.

We live in an evil, fallen world. This world runs smack into good people, including us. We live in a fallen world, in which bad things happen, things which are beyond human control. We cannot control an earthquake, where is God? We live in a world where natural disasters happen. God is in control. He turns evil and adversity to our advantage.

We get old, we become infirm, we get sick. Can God stop all of these things? Of course. We are a part of the Angelic Conflict. God cannot simply overlook sin also. God is not going to say, "Okay, I will do everything that everyone wants Me to do." God is not the Author of sin. Discipline is for our protection. God's discipline is one of the great protections in this life.

God Is in Control

1. Controlling circumstances falls under the category of God's guardianship. He controls human history and various circumstances to have things go that way that He wants it to go.
2. God is in control for a greater purpose in our lives beyond our own personal comforts.
3. Remember that God protects us for His great purposes for our lives.
4. God does it His way, which is not our way. Isaiah 55:8. God knows by His omniscience all of the moving parts. He knows all of the future possibilities.

Right now, we are told that the Russians are about ready to charge in and take the place. Jim Meyer is training pastors there; there are pastors going out and teaching doctrine from this seminary. There is an entire Russian army ready to invade. But God protects those for His purposes, even if this involves one of the most powerful armies in the world. Jim knows that this army could roll through Kiev at any time.

What about When We Sin? Do We Lose Protection?

1. Even under those conditions of being carnal, even being reversionistic, God still protects. He keeps us. Part of our protection includes the protection of our salvation. This is forever; we have that security. Once we are saved, there is that aura of protection.
2. When we are in reversionism, He moves us back through divine discipline, so that we might resume the accomplishing of His plan. He may discipline us, but, at the same time, He is protecting us—to accomplish His plan and His will. When you get your rear end kicked, that is from God to further protect us.
3. We are secure in our salvation forever. Even during that time that we are in reversionism, or simply carnal, God will continue to protect us. It seems that God is no longer our guardian. Discipline is designed for us to return to fulfil His will for our lives. Discipline is for our protection which take a different form. God gives us time to return in obedience to His will. It is protection, as He moves us toward fulfilling His plan. Always He cares and He keeps us. 1Peter 5:7. Put it in the Lord's hand, and see that His protection is there.

Lesson #03

Psalm 121 Wisdom in the OT

2/20/2022 2Sunday

Bobby would like, in many cases, to know more about the background of each psalm. Psalm 121 is not that way. A relaxed mental attitude is a great security in life.

The next psalm that we will study will have a great deal of historical background, and it makes it very interesting and very personal.

Psalm 121:7 The LORD will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life.

Psalm 121:8 The LORD will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore.

You just wish you know what happened to this guy on his way to Jerusalem. He is making the application that we are studying. Events may certainly happen to him, which are not to his likely or to his expectation. He will reach Jerusalem as God wills that he do. Even though unpleasant things may happen to him along the way, which makes this chapter very applicable to us.

We do not know exactly what God's will is for us in this life. Bobby knows exactly what he needs to do on a day-to-day basis. If we are advancing spiritually, we are in His plan. So we have this protection, whether or not we arrive, our objective is based upon His decisions. Our plan may not be where we want to go. This can be a problem for a day-to-day life. Nevertheless, we have some protection. We can trust God's plan that it will be fulfilled somewhere in our life. That is our choice. It may appear that God is failing or falling down on the job, because things are happening to us that we do not like. That is where the trust factor is so critical. We must not waiver in our trust. Fear is abated and a relaxed mental attitude results. So now, under those circumstances, we are ready for any journey with the full knowledge that God is control of our life. He protects us. He can do no less for us. This is as much a promise as any promise in Scripture. The Lord's care extends to all our lives. He is omnipotent in all events. He will keep our soul.

Soul in v. 7 is the Hebrew noun nephesh. It means, in a general way, life, living being, self, human life, spiritual life. The soul is the seat of all that life. That soul is the seat of life of every human being. Human beings, created in the image of God, gets that special protection. God gives us life; we are living beings. We are soul life. We receive something which is not granted to any other living thing on this earth. Because we have this soul-life, we can execute to plan of God for our lives. There is a wider scope to all of this. Trusting those facts defines the life of a believer. God protects us as well that we might participate in the Angelic Conflict. One of our protections is against the cosmic system. God's protection is concentrated toward us allows us to fulfill that purpose. We know the protection that we have. We know what God gives to us.

We take blessing to mean that we are flush, our portfolio is full, we have a house and kids, etc. We may not have this stuff tomorrow, but God continues to protect us for a purpose. Whether in adversity or whatever, these things define our life. We need to summarize and apply what we have learned. This does not tell us how God clarifies this protection.

The pilgrim that we know may have confidence. While making his way to the place of God's plan, where the Lord wants him to be, where he is journeying to thank the Lord and this pilgrim has the confidence that God will see him to his objective and back.

All Believers May Confidently Trust the Lord That God Protects us

1. Like the pilgrim's journey in Jerusalem, so is the journey of the believer today and tomorrow. This is how this passage applies to us. We are on a journey.
2. This could refer to a place of worship. For us, it is traveling on the freeways of Houston, to learn doctrine and to worship. That is where we should be. Do you have protection to do that? The drive on the freeway may be as difficult as the trip to Jerusalem.
3. This can refer to any spiritual activity, such as the ordinary service of any believer. How we serve the Lord and glorify Him, regardless of circumstances.
4. What else? To travel and to evangelize. Those involved in the prison ministry. One guy travels to all sorts of places.
5. Bobby travels to conferences where people go crazy on planes. There are places where Bobby goes, it may not be safe. But that is another way that Bobby is protected, in order to teach Bible doctrine.

6. Rick Hughes travels the highways to evangelize and to teach Bible doctrine in schools. He has been protected for years. He is to accomplish his mission.
7. Missionaries who have this protection, who travel to all kinds of places. We have missionaries all over the world that we support; all over the world. Believers will build confidence in their safety. Both in the written word and in the teaching of that word.

Sometimes through the communication of Bible doctrine through other persons. Encouragement. That is why Bobby encourages us to attend Bible class in person. There is encouragement being in a group. So many people wish to be in a group. It was hard for Bobby to put his teaching online. 1000–1400 hits each day to his site. Believers will be protected throughout the difficulties of life.

The faith rest rationale on his journey to Jerusalem, as well as to our own spiritual journey, there is a reduction of application for us. It is when believers are advancing on the road of the spiritual life, where they can confidently apply Bible doctrine to their daily life and the rationales for faith rest. That is part of a relaxed mental attitude. There can be no confidence for the believer, even though the believers has it. When the believer is not advancing on the journey of the spiritual life. We have the protection, but not the confidence.

Where is that in the New Testament? Matt. 29:20 Jesus teaches them to teach all that is commanded them, and surely I am with you to the end of the age. Romans 8:38–39 For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

We are moving on to another psalm with another connection to protection. This psalm speaks of protection, but from a complete different set of circumstances. We are going to have circumstances in this psalm. This is a Davidic psalm, and there is something in his life that we know about. We have it. David is not on a journey this time. He is on the run, which means there is adversity built into this. He needs protection from another kind of adversity, from the violence of war and from fear.

David writes this when he is at war with his son Absalom. He continues to love Absalom, but Absalom despises him. They are in physical conflict. David had to go to war against his own son. The king of Israel was about to go to war with his own potential successor. This is not unusual for a family of royalty.

David has been promised a Greater Son, and David needed to continue carrying out God's plan for his life, despite the circumstances. Confidence in the midst of despair and misery.

Psalm 3 Introduction

1. David briefly expresses his cry of distress.
2. But he has confidence in God's protection.

3. This is a prayer psalm in a time of total desperation. David was the king and his life affected the entire nation. This was more than just a personal problem. The nation is in turmoil. David has a personal problem and he has a national problem. His entire life has gone to pieces.

The personal and corporate problems are intertwined here. There is personal protection here and protection for a client nation. Absalom wants to take the throne. Absalom has great ambition. Absalom is the one that David must fight; and David knows that it is God's plan for him to remain king. Absalom wants to change all of this. His favorite son. David has the relaxed mental attitude and this protection depended upon the faith rest drill. Some people would want to give up and go hide somewhere.

This is a new perspective for us. Protection for our person and for our nation. We will see one of the greatest faith rest drill examples in the entire Bible.

Lesson #0353

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

2/23/2022 Wednesday

Bobby chose this psalm, in part because this is an excellent follow-on to what we have just studied. Divine protection back in Psalm 121. This is a theme of protection, but it is a different context. It is a new perspective on the need for the protection of the Lord. Here, the new perspective is personal and it is also national. It requires protection and requires for us to understand. It certainly has great application to us.

David is not on a journey to Jerusalem; but he is on the run from Jerusalem. He is going in the opposite direction. This is another kind of adversity. Traveling protection. David has a similar protection, but more by way of adversity.

This psalm was written during one of the lowest places for David in his life, the Absalom revolt.

The same things happen in the courts of kings. Here, it is different, as David is the king of a client nation, the first client nation to God. There is something different about that. That makes it more interesting. We are also a client nation. We do not have a king, but our rulers are becoming more and more ruler-like every day.

Bobby is going to go through the revolt briefly. Bob did a much more in depth study. Bobby is teaching the historical context.

David had a harem then. The Law demanded monogamy. But in the ancient near east, every great king had a harem. It was a status symbol for kings at that time. In the best traditions of the ancient near east, he had a harem.

David had trouble with women. He liked women very much. There was a large family that David had; and Absalom was one of David's first sons and one of his favorite (if not the favorite). David ended up having to fight his most favorite son. Absalom was bent on killing David.

This will help for us to understand exactly what David is going through. When we study this psalm, we will see a man so trusting in the Lord, one who utilized faith rest. He has failed so much, and yet, he knows that his trust in the Lord is not misplaced. David never felt helpless; he never complained that God left him.

The superscription tells us.

Save Me, O My God

Psalm 3 superscription A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

Some scholars give little credit to the superscription. They brush them aside or they see them as added later, after the fact. Some of them just ignore these titles.

The historical setting is said to be David fleeing from Absalom. Some scholars object to this on several grounds. David's confident tone seems to contradict David's misery when he was feeling Absalom. Is that really true?

Is this Really about David Running from Absalom?

1. Psalm 3:1–2 is the lament over David's terrible circumstances. They reflect the anxiety and the deep concern of David. He is on the run from the son who wants to kill him.
2. The psalm then turns to confidence in these difficult, lethal circumstances. David has been kicked out, removed from his throne, and he still sees God's protection as there. This is a certainty to Bobby that this happened at this time.
3. The psalm is also an example of the power of using the faith rest drill, which is utterly uplifting for any believer facing adversity. If David can survive this using the faith rest drill, what can't we survive? What is the solution? Get out there and carry a sign? Our solution is the faith rest drill for our situation here. This connects David to the Absalom revolt. David has total loss here. This is a Job moment for David. David is a man who had everything, but is experiencing a loss of fortune, family and kingdom.

Absalom is in hot pursuit of his father to annihilate him. The superscription becomes so important. It is the link between Psalm 3; this teaches us a critical lesson in protection. We have a nation divided; a nation in civil war, at war with itself. God does not forsake David. He blesses the believer who trusts in Him. That should be us. That is what David intends to communicate in writing Psalm 3.

We don't know if David is in camp writing this, sad at the circumstances. Maybe he did this to speak to those with him. Maybe he wrote this in retrospect.

This all begins with the Bathsheba affair. It was adultery—maybe it was consensual and maybe it was rape. Then David murdered Uriah the Hittite. That was the beginning.

God commissioned a prophet Nathan to reveal the consequences of David's sins. It was a blistering revelation.

2Samuel 12:10–12 Now therefore the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.' Thus says the LORD, 'Behold, I will raise up evil against you out of your own house. And I will take your wives before your eyes and give them to your neighbor, and he shall lie with your wives in the sight of this sun. For you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel and before the sun.'"

Adultery

1. There are always repercussions to adultery. People think they get away with it; no one gets away with it.
2. One result is the destruction of capacity for love. Your affections are given to another, betraying your spouse. You lose capacity to love.
3. Adultery is the denigration of love. Some people fall in love with someone else. They put aside their spouse. If this person who is supposed to love one person, then loves someone else. Do they think that they are trustworthy? What one person does once, will they do it again?
4. There is the inevitable result of being caught. So many negatives.
5. This was David's plight all from the Bathsheba affair. There would be a great repercussion to David's entire family. And even murder as David perpetrated on Uriah. It will come back to haunt David and that will include murder.

God made an irrevocable covenant with David. 2Sam. 7. Even though David was a man after God's Own heart; and even later, he is called a man after God's Own heart. David failed to go to war. He was the commander of his army. He should have gone to war, but he stayed back and let his generals handle it. This was in front of all his kingdom.

To whom much is given, much is required. David got double discipline. One night on David's rooftop which became an obsession with this woman. How much better would it have been to follow the Lord's requirement and simply go to war. There were so many things that resulted from this discipline. God's justice abides and David asked for it, making some really bad decisions. David would suffer intense discipline. Yet he recognized God's protection. David failed just like the rest of us. His charge was to lead the client nation, and he failed badly.

He decided to be with Bathsheba instead. David would pass through one sorrow after another.

Jeremiah 2:19 Your own wickedness will correct you and your apostasies will reprove you. Know therefore, and see that it is evil and bitter for you to forsake the Lord, your God.

This is applicable even to David in the condition that he was in; and the mandates and the national responsibility. It was a warning to the individual, even to us. We cannot forsake God's Word; we cannot live in apostasy. We will get the same treatment from the justice of God.

David and His Adultery

1. David's adultery and murder led to an extended time. All of that right in front of the entire nation.
2. David forsook the Lord; he lost his fear and his respect for the Lord. He openly flaunted his sins. Flaunting their lack of divine establishment. They are supporting such sins.
3. Thus David involved himself in flagrant evil and the bitterness that followed. Flagrant evil and the bitterness which follows.
4. David's apostasy becomes the Lord's reproof. What he did became his own correction. David was already down the road in this condition before Bathsheba. Not going to war was the first step. 2Sam. 11. That is when David forsook the Lord's purposes and found nothing but trouble. He was just loitering in the palace.

He was standing on his roof and saw Bathsheba bathing on her roof. He had Bathsheba brought to him. This began the adulterous and murderous series of events which led to the great family revolt. They befell David in 2Sam. 11–12.

David would recover, but there would be years of suffering and the complete demise of his family. The results are not contemplated, Particularly repercussions on the children.

Who Was Absalom? This Favorite Son at the Center of the Revolt

1. Absalom was like a movie star in Israel. He was like a sports hero.
2. Absalom had charming manners. He was quite handsome. He had ingratiating ways. He had a fake humility.
3. He had all the outer trappings of greatness in the kingdom. A great exterior.
4. He was the great favorite of the people of Israel as well as the great favorite of his father. He was highly regarded in Israel.
5. Absalom also liked to demonstrate his attractiveness and greatness. He loved pomp and ceremony and great pageantry. He loved the approbation; he liked being in the center of it all.
6. He also lived with great style and much wealth, befitting a king in waiting. This is exactly how he viewed himself. He drove a chariot with 50 men running in front of him.
7. He was a privileged and a spoiled child.
8. He was very ambitious for the throne of his father. That is what drove Absalom. It was the magnificence and self promotion which captured the imagination of Israel. He was arrogant and self-centered. He had a serious blind spot. An overestimation of himself.

Absalom was not alone in all of this. Other children in David's family also had their sins, but without David's recovery and faith rest.

Email from Jim Meyer. They woke up to 3 great explosions. Robby Dean is there teaching a module. Trying to find a way to get him out of there. Martial law, gridlock. Phyllis, Jim's wife, is also quite sick with bronchitis.

David wrote Psalm 3 as a model for trusting the Lord in great disaster. They are facing violence and war, just as David was facing in this psalm.

Many talking heads on this invasion on television. This invasion will affect us in the US. Economics, etc. Inflation, gas prices, and possible conflict. We are seeing an eerie beginning similar to Hitler's aggression. He annexed Austria. There was a weak response from the other powers in that realm. Hitler wanted to gather all German-speaking people under his rulership. Hitler was born in Austria. This was Hitler's first move, and Europe did nothing. So Hitler continued his aggression. He demanded a portion of Czechoslovakia. He demanded it, as there was a large population of Germans there; the same thing the Putin is saying today. Hitler was encouraged by the lack of response.

Neville Chamberlain went to Munich to negotiate with Hitler. He was looking for a diplomatic solution. Chamberlain steps off an airplane, and he says, "I have a treaty with Adolf Hitler, and we will have peace in our time." Hitler shortly later, went into Poland and took it in two months. The same thing is happening right now in the Ukraine. A weak response from those who opposed him.

Russian under Putin will occupy Ukraine. China is watching; and we have a treaty with Taiwan to respond in case of Chinese aggression. We will do very little about any of this apart from some half-hearted sanctions. History repeats itself. Will a general war in Europe break out? We have troops sent to Latvia and Poland. What will happen? There seems to be no resolution or any action being taken at this time. What a time to be studying Psalm 3. The same thing is happening there. David was facing violence and civil war against his favorite son, Absalom. This all was a result of David's dalliance with Bathsheba and the murder of her husband. You cannot appease bullies, and they will just continue to bully. Absalom's half brother, Amnon, had a great desire for Tammar, who was Absalom's and Amnon's half sister. He hatched a plot to have sex with her. It is a story of lust and obsession. Amnon should have been punished by David for his crime. But David did nothing. Tammar was raped. Absalom decided to take matters into his own hands, rather than to appeal to his father. He plotted to murder Amnon. He waited for two years for just the right time to get his vengeance. Absalom should have applied the Mosaic Law at this point. If he planned to be king, he needed to follow the rule of Law. Vengeance is mine, says the Lord. That is the proper application for Absalom.

In due time, Amnon's food would slip. The day of his calamity was near. Never underestimate God's justice and the rule of law.

What Absalom Should Have Done

1. Absalom should have realized that God's justice could handle Amnon.
2. The Law is what Absalom should have applied to Amnon's case. How can he be the king of Israel and ignore the Law?
3. Absalom's arrogance and his bitterness intervened and he became the avenger, not God.
4. That is what set Absalom on his downward spiral. He gave himself over completely to wickedness, lawlessness and revolution.

Absalom had a massive bbq for all the family. This was after 2 years. Amnon had no idea about his brother's hatred. There was no remorse in his thinking. So he did not expect anything to happen at this bbq.

There is nothing more vicious than family bitterness and hatred. Some of the worst things in courts are families fighting over money and inheritance. It plays out to the bitter end. They do not want to settle. Some of these can be truly vicious.

Absalom has this big party with several rounds of drinks. And Amnon overindulges, as Absalom knew that he would. He got pretty drunk, which was Absalom's plan. The servants kept pouring every time his cup was empty. 2Samuel 13 when he was drunk, he was cut up by Absalom's servants. This set the revolt of Absalom in motion.

David heard about this assassination. He thought that all of his sons had been murdered; but this added to his horror and desolation. Absalom, after the murder, in order to avoid punishment, he fled to Geshur, which is in the land of his maternal grandfather. He stayed there for 3 years. In the meantime, David began to miss Absalom. He longed to see him, despite the heinous crime. Maybe by now, David rationalized what happened. He could rationalize lawbreaking; and we do that today, rationalizing great crimes in the United States. He was ready to overlook the wickedness. David displayed his weakness here; which were his children.

The next part of this drama involved Joab, one of David's greatest and most loyal generals. Joab understood David and his heartbreak over Absalom, and feeling David's pain, he decided to bring Absalom back to Jerusalem, but for David's sake. It is possible that Joab did not even like Absalom. So he made a bad decision.

This is all the preamble for what was taking place. David would not see Absalom; and he would not allow him to enter into the court. David seemed to want it both ways. David loved Absalom, but he had to do something to show his displeasure. Half-hearted measures to stop a steam roller.

The XL pipeline was cancelled immediately. We import a tremendous amount of oil from Russia. Bad thinking. Keeping the pipeline open would have kept us from buying gas from Russia.

A king, a leader, must uphold the law. David's duty before the Lord is to uphold the Mosaic Law. David failed with Absalom in the same way that he failed with Amnon. Both crimes needed to have been dealt with. Since David ignored the law, the situation escalated. The rule of law is being ignored.

David sort of forgave Absalom, but it was a halfway measure. This was not good enough for Absalom. Absalom was pompous, he loved pomp, and the people loved him. He was a favorite before the Amnon incident; and still a favorite. The people overlooked this, as Amnon deserved what he got.

Beautiful hair, beautiful children, men idolized him and women swooned over him. How often do we see this?

Children of a president getting away with all kinds of debauchery. Absalom is a party to a deadly soap opera, with dramatic vengeance being the plot. Soap operas are all about getting even.

Absalom needed to be seen with his father. Absalom had to call on Joab a couple of times. Absalom was all in to fulfill his ambitions. He burned down Joab's fields. Joab agreed to meet with Absalom. Absalom demanded that his father receive him.

Joab remembered what Absalom did and he would avenge this later on. Absalom was a brat with no character; and David was blind to Absalom's bad side.

Absalom began to show up regularly with David in the court. They Absalom wasted no time to show up in court.

There are a great many Absalom's on the Hill and in the White House and maybe elsewhere. He made grandiose promises to the people.

Absalom wanted to alienate as many people as possible from his father David. Some of David's closest advisors began to side with Absalom rather than with David. These were sycophants. The forgot that David...

Similar intrigues are occurring today in our capitol.

Night and day, Absalom schemed against his own father. He refused to let Providence run its course. That would have taken humility and Absalom had none of that.

It began looking good for Absalom; but that changed. Power-lust and mental attitude sins are not a good combination. The motivation is all wrong.

During all of this time, David is under discipline from what he had done. Even under discipline, God still protects His people. David knows and expects protection by the Lord and he will get this. God would put David back in place to fulfill God's plan.

Bobby read an email from Jim Meyer involving the invasion of the Ukraine. He and his wife and Robby Dean are all there. They are attempting to remove themselves from there. They have reached the border.

There are pastors that he was training; we know that the grace of God extends to them.

Bobby considers the similarity of the similarity between the flight of these 3 believers and Psalm 3, where David is facing deadly circumstances. He is the specific target of these circumstances. He is also in flight from Jerusalem. His capitol in Jerusalem is under attack by his son Absalom. Absalom is ambitious, arrogant, self-centered, filled with power lust.

We have traced Absalom's rise to power, beginning with his great personal charm and his extreme good looks, his ostentatious displays of grandeur; and he attracted a great many people to him for a whole host of superficial reasons. Absalom was that. He was the superstar of Israel.

After he had gained great notoriety, his ego took over. There were circumstances which were conducive to this. His half-brother Amnon raped Absalom's sister, Tammara. Absalom had a BBQ in order to have Amnon killed.

Absalom returns to Jerusalem with the help of Joab. The people accepted his return, but David would not see him, because he killed Amnon (who David should have punished).

Absalom got Joab's attention by burning down his fields; and that got Absalom a hearing before David. He made grandiose promises to the people.

He asked his father's permission to move to Hebron, which was where King Saul had lived; it was his hometown. Absalom thought that this region was ripe for revolt.

Ultimately, in Hebron, Absalom turned much of the kingdom against David. All of the tribes of Israel assembled there under his banner. Hebron was only 20 miles from Jerusalem; so the end appeared to be near to David. Absalom's troops were ready to march on the capitol, with the intent of killing David.

God had a different plan, which was to place Solomon on the throne.

There were many internal enemies which David had. They were ingrates and turncoats and their own ambition was tied to Absalom.

Ahithophel was David's most brilliant advisor. He gave David great advice. His counsel was to attack David while he was trying to leave and David would be in a very disorganized state.

When David hears that Absalom is marching toward the capitol, David panicked and he left the region. David went with some who were still loyal to him. He still had troops intact; and he still had the nucleus of his own army there.

Consider that David in his sin did not go out to war with his army. God is making him go out to war with his own army.

There were lines of loyalty were being drawn and people had to determine, whose side am I on? Some of David's supporters remained in Jerusalem, but they pretended to support Absalom. They were spies in the midst of Absalom's Jerusalem. As a result, David had a constant flow of intelligence coming out of Jerusalem. They informed David of all Absalom's antics. God provided what was necessary for victory. David continued to take in this intelligence. The more you know about your enemy. The better off you are in countering the enemy.

We see so many things in our nation which greatly bother us. Do not think that God cannot turn the tide in our nation. Bobby believes that God is working in this nation right now. God can turn many of these circumstances to our benefit. These things could be used to preserve our nation or to discipline and preserve us. In this Absalom revolt and how David won the day.

One of the most terrible revolts was something that the prophet Nathan warned David about. 2Samuel 12:11. This is what Absalom did when he entered into Jerusalem, and had sex with 10 of David's concubines.

"Thus says the Lord, I will raise up evil against you from your own household. I will even take your wives from before your eyes and give them to your companion." Absalom fulfills this prophecy.

Ahithophel gives advice to Absalom. Absalom follows his advice. "Sleep with your father's concubines. All the people will hear that you have made yourself obnoxious to your father."

This would make Absalom's supporters more resolute. There is no going back at this point. Absalom cannot make any of this up to David.

There was a tent pitched up on the roof. He rapes his father's concubines. All Israel knew exactly what he was doing. This publically humiliated David's concubines and David. "I have just raped your concubines; what are you going to do about it?"

This was a signal; it was not all about sex. This was a signal to David, an irrevocable act of betrayal. There would be no way to end the hostilities at this point. Even the worst was yet to come to David. The war began against his own son. 2Samuel 18 was the war.

Absalom should have followed the rest of Ahithophel's advice. In war, time is of the essence. How many battles have been lost simply because of bad timing. Opportunity must not be squandered over not taking the proper opportunities. Absalom was very popular and superficially great; but he was not decisive like his father. David, given time, organized his army, and broke them down into 3 smaller armies. Joab was wanting to settle his score with Absalom. Also Abishai and Hittai.

Absalom's army was routed and 20,000 of his men were killed. Many of them were caught in the pursuit in this rugged terrain. All of these were casualties in a civil war, brother against brother, Jew against Jew. That is the waste that went on here. Absalom had everything. He just was not the king. Why do this to the nation? Power lust drives men. Putin is no different from Absalom. He is driven by power.

Absalom was among the dead; and Joab personally killed him. Absalom's body was buried into a great pit and it was covered with a large pile of stones and sticks, marking the grave of a criminal. This was revolutionary activity against God's man. Joshua 8:29. No one knows where his grave is. He has nothing more to do with history.

David was the leader of this client nation; not Absalom. Revolution always replaces one government by a much worse one.

We have examples of this with the French revolution and Russian revolution. The czars were bad, but Stalin was so much worse.

This was one of the most painful times in David's reign. Jeremiah 2:19 Also true in Judah when Nebuchadnezzar came in and leveled Jerusalem as well.

Christian and Jewish persecution on the rise; and believers lose sight of spiritual growth through the intake of Bible doctrine. A civil war is occurring right now in the United States. Christians have lost sight of the protection and care of the Lord. Substituting political activism for spiritual growth.

Activism is the opposite of a spiritual solution. For argument's sake, assume you are against abortion. Will the nation be less distracted as a client nation or more unified because of the repeal of that law? The nation will descend into greater turmoil. A division will persist and it will grow even more violent. That is the problem when activism takes precedence over Christian growth.

In 1863, Lincoln spoke the Emancipation Proclamation. But it still took a war to continue to settle this out.

A client nation places the spiritual life first and not social change. There were many social evils in the Roman empire. But the gospel and spiritual growth is what changed Rome and made it a great client nation. That is how a client nation operates. You do not serve the Lord if you neglect spiritual growth or living the spiritual life in the way that God designed it. But this is something that must be learned. You cannot ignore the metabolization of Bible doctrine. As we grow, we perform a service for our country.

Business meeting.

Lesson #0357

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/2/2022 Wednesday

Jim Meyer in from Ukraine. It is the largest country in Europe, the size of Texas and Kiev is the size of Houston. The people love freedom and they want to keep it. There is often a great price to pay. They are facing overwhelming odds. Putin wants to intimidate the people so they will give him whatever he wants.

There are many Christians in the Ukraine. They do not need American pastors in Ukraine; they need Ukrainian pastors. Jim wanted to stay, but when the war came, he recognized that he would be a burden to the people there. They need to focus on their own families and churches. He made the decision to leave and it was the right time. Heard a loud explosion right outside his window at 4 am; it certainly gets one's attention.

They quickly packed and drove out using back roads and dirt roads. They traveled for 26 hours to get to the border. Had to stand outside in freezing weather for many hours. Ukrainian men were expected to stay in Ukraine to fight. Frightening journey in some cases. On one dirt road, they saw tanks in a field with the barrels smoking. Knowing that they are praying for them gave them great comfort. The Father has been pleased to hear our prayers.

Zelinsky is their president, a Jew, elected by the people of Ukraine, who had a history of being antisemitic previously when a part of Russia. He is a man of courage. He was a comedic pastor, playing the president in a comic series. Jim is proud that he did not pack up a suitcase filled with money and leave. "I need ammunition; I don't need a ride."

the leaders there who have taught the Word of God are a great testimony there. Bible doctrine in the soul that comes from knowing and hearing the Word of God. Jim's heart is heavy for the people of Ukraine.

Jim told people before he left. God knows where you would be and He knows what you need. Use the suffering to glorify the Lord. What they are to focus upon is, how can I glorify God in this circumstance? What we are doing here has an impact there.

We are all members of the family of God and we all need one another. We are being prepared by the Word of God for whatever is coming in America. We may even have war in this nation.

Why are we hearing that message right now? The message that God will protect us under any and all circumstances. Think about the God Who made those promises, the One Who is All-Knowing and All-powerful and omnipresent.

Things in this country are not what we would like them to be. Adversity is coming our way and Bobby teaches the doctrine of protection and care and keeping of the Lord. Sometimes it is just academic. There is nothing like these moments to know that this is real; this doctrine is real. Doctrine has a purpose in life. This is so that we can trust in these times of difficulty.

If you heard the State of the Union address, we know that everything is not well. There are many aspects in our nation which are simply propaganda. We may be in serious trouble. We may not see what Ukraine is facing; but maybe our children will. The people in Ukraine are in the middle of a crisis. Jim survived, meaning that God has a plan for him still.

We are all alive; which means that God continues to have a plan for us.

Psalm 3 is so timely. What is happening in the Ukraine is what is happening in Psalm 3. Jim was in the same sort of harrowing situations as are found in Psalm 3.

3 days of introduction on the Absalom revolt.

Some scholars think about this superscription in Psalm 3. Some of these scholars object to the superscript. They don't think that David was in the situation described in Psalm 3. But is that true? Can we say that the superscription is correct? Absolutely.

David is not focusing on the circumstances of Absalom's revolt; he is focusing on the solution instead.

David's spiritual optimism during Absalom's revolt.

Psa 3:2 ...many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

2Samuel 16:7–8 And Shimei said as he cursed, "Get out, get out, you man of blood, you worthless man! The LORD has avenged on you all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose place you have reigned, and the LORD has given the kingdom into the hand of your son Absalom. See, your evil is on you, for you are a man of blood."

Psalm 3:3 But you, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head.

David's head was down during the revolt; but he, at the same time, is confident that the Lord will protect him. Scholars say, "How can David be confident in this crisis?" Are you kidding me? That is exactly what makes this so real. David lifts his head.

2Samuel 15:30a But David went up the ascent of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went, barefoot and with his head covered. God raised up David's head. David was still confident that the Lord would lift up his head. The sadness of the situation and the great hope which is in David's soul.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

How many nights have been sleepless for us regarding what will happen the next day.

I will come upon him while he is sleeping and exhausted, so that all the people with him will flee. Then I will strike down David. This is the advice of Ahithophel. "Now is the time to take him," Ahithophel told Absalom.

Absalom failed to advance.

Psalm 3:6 I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.

This is exactly what is happening in the Ukraine.

2Samuel 17:1 Moreover, Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Let me choose twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue David tonight.

In order for the Ukrainians to remain free, they have to turn back the Russians, which seems impossible. Fear is not ever the solution to anything. Fear is what kills us. Fear is how we lose freedom. Our government wants us to fear covid, the border, everything. And they make a point of it. We do not fear, even though armies come against us.

Psa 3:8 Salvation belongs to the LORD; your blessing be on your people! Selah.

2Samuel 19:1–2 It was told Joab, "Behold, the king is weeping and mourning for Absalom." So the victory that day was turned into mourning for all the people, for the people heard that day, "The king is grieving for his son."

David's Attitude During the Absalom Revolt

1. We get the idea what David was enduring when writing Psalm 3.
2. His proper attitude brings deliverance of him, through it all. How inspiring of what God can do.
3. We do not know when David wrote this psalm. Was this a long time later; was this immediately after; or is this written during the days of this revolt. This reflects an attitude under pressure.
4. In Psalm 3, David pays tribute to God's grace and protection, despite David's set of bad decisions.
5. In fact, because of his failures, God's grace and mercy and protection was even more pronounced. Our great grace from God comes, despite our many failures.
6. David's many experiences with dangerous situations in life taught him that, despite his bad decisions (or good ones), God was always there for him. David was told what would happen as a result of his sin. But God did not desert him. God did not forsake Jim in the Ukraine.
7. This psalm is a celebration of God's grace and protection under the worst of God's circumstances. The pressure on David was enormous.

We pray for the people in the Ukraine and for the leader of Ukraine. It was victory or death. William Travis said that at the Alamo. It seems like Zelinsky must know Psalm 3.

God Delivers David in the midst of Adversity

1. This gives us insight as to how God uses trouble to focus David during this period of time. He failed to do the right thing under these circumstances. There is opportunity in trouble and adversity.
2. You can hear the contrast between the adversity and the confident attitude in Psalm 3. It is simply a summary of the horrors of the Absalom revolt.
3. David moves from a lament to faith rest in the final 6 verses in this psalm. One promise that David could not get away from. David had a covenant from God. His line would produce the Messiah. Once he fulfilled his life, God would take him home. He needed to take confidence in the plan of God.

Save Me, O My God

Psalm 3:1 A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son. O LORD, how many are my foes! Many are rising against me;

David reviews the crux of the problem.

Psalm 3:2 many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

Many want to slay David David's enemies were increasing; and many of Davids great allies in the past were joining up with Absalom. Many of the people in the tribes of Israel were now solidly in the camp of Absalom. The deck is stacked against David.

Absalom was handsome and very personable. People followed him. He was the Pied Piper of Israel. Most importantly, David was a man after God's Own heart.

This uprising was not a small band of revolutionaries. Not like small communist cells within a nation.

Adversity is always a test . Where do you turn the first time problems arise. Your second thought ought to be, what does the Lord have for me here. Wait for the door to open; and now you just walk through it.

Lesson #0358

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/3/2022 Thursday

Save Me, O My God

Psalm 3 superscript A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son;

Psalm 3:1 O LORD, how many are my foes! Many are rising against me;

Psalm 3:2 many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

David focuses on the solution, not on the crisis. These first two verses summarize where David is at this time. David's enemies are rising up against him.

Many are saying of David's soul, there is no deliverance of him before God. God has deserted him. God is no longer on his side, that is the accusation because of David's sins. This is not true, but this is what is being said. This situation occurs based upon some missteps made by David. We can look at what happens in other courts, and understand what is happening in David's court. There is nothing new here; but this is Israel, the first client nation. Revolt is often a way for Satan's cosmic way of ending a client nation.

Many sons or brothers in the realms of kingdoms have worked to undermine their sovereigns. Ruling a nation is not easy. All the authority resides in the king, and this gives him much responsibility. The wise wielding of power by a sovereign. It is much harder when a people decide,

Czar abdicated the throne of Russia; and all of those in royalty were killed. That is what Absalom wants to do to David.

English history is filled with examples of what is happening in the Absalom revolt. We can start in the Norman conquest of England who invaded England and conquered them. Kings and queens have had to fight off rebellions since then. Sometimes a family cognit.

A major rebellion in England took place in 1215. Richard the Lionhearted (Richard I) he spent a tremendous amount of money. Widely unpopular. He got into a hassle with the pope and his brother got involved in a bad war. Jonathan wanted to replace him. A large number of people rebelled against their king. Called the first war of the barons. A war between kings and nobles. They forced John to sign the Magna Carta. John signed it, being forced to.

A rebellion against John again until 1217. It continued when John's son, King Henry III, finally agreed to abide by the magna carta.

The second major revolt. This would arise in the next century. Henry III's son and...

Edward and William Wallace, the main character in Braveheart. He was drawn and quartered. A family squabble fought between two branches of the ruling house of England. A series of kings would be descended from the first of the house, the Tudors, the Hanovers, the Stuarts. Queen Victoria began the group of Sax-Coburg.

This latter was problematic. It was a German name. It was then changed over to.....

The nobles were empowered more over the kings. The houses of Parliament were then formed.

The English Civil War, very similar to Absalom and David.

Cromwell was the leader of the roundheads, a great soldier, and he fought in the English civil war. He would bring religious freedom into. This civil war was about the separation

The last revolt. What happened to David and Absalom has been repeated countless times. When David wrote these first 2 verses, this is exactly what was taking place in his family. The Irish revolt. They hated being under England's thumb and they rebelled.

During WWI, the Irish figured that they could separate themselves, as England was so busy at this time.

The difference between our civil war and others is, it was not about removing the government, but separation. The freedom that was involved. Hundreds of thousands of Americans died so that slaves could be free.

The subject is the Irish revolt. The leaders were executed, but this revolt continued for years. Lord Mountbatten was killed by an explosion on a boat fishing.

It is rare for a king to go through an entire dynasty without a power play. It is usually all about power.

The Absalom Revolution

1. David opened the psalm under these conditions, with a cry,
2. This is characteristic as a lament psalm, because of the first 2 verses. Changes in the final
3. X
4. There is a great intensity of David's appeal.

Psalm 3:1 O LORD, how many are my foes! Many are rising against me;...

David says, "O Lord," and then writes out 4 lines. David notes and is amazed at the growing opposition. He is having a hard time imagining what is happening.

The First 2 Verses for the Absalom Revolt

1. There are two similar words in v. 1: increasing and rising up.
2. The repetition puts an emphasis on the size and scope as to what is happening. Great emphasis on the size and scope of what David is facing.
3. \
4. this is a major threat that has suddenly arisen. This is a hopeless situation. This was father against son; psalm a general sense of evil doers. Those increasing evil doers were very hostile. They were more than Ever-doers they were bent on pain and destruction. That is who these adversaries. David was God's man; he was the designated line of Christ. He is the one to whom the covenant was given. David is comparing the evil doers to a 1st advent. David did not fear them; he relied upon the Lord.

David hopes for the evil doers to fall. He has confidence in that. Hence he has faith rest. They will destroy his father.

Absalom is organizing to destroy his father. He's got everything going for him.

Psalm 3:2 ...many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

This Is a Propaganda War.

1. "We're going to be okay in America."
2. They might have put it another way. David's activities have aroused the ire of God.
3. God has removed David's blessing and shifted it to Absalom. I will fix everything.
4. These are lies, but typical of revolutionaries. They know that David is God's man, so how do they attack him? They go after his false.
5. David did not deal with Amnon and give Tammar justice. Absalom attacks David for faults that are his own. Who murdered his brother? Who stirred up revolution? V. 2 is pure propaganda.

David's enemies are speaking directly into the depths of David's being, questioning the efficacy of his trust in God. How can he trust in God when God has deserted him? This is why David cites what they are saying about him. These are exactly the kind of lies that go along with power lust. Lies are always connected with power lust.

One great example is Adolf Hitler and his propagandist Goebles. We have so much propaganda going out and it is confusing. What are lies and what are truth. You need discernment from Bible doctrine and divine establishment. What an assault upon a man of God. David is a king who was chosen by God. Kings were all powerful at this time; they could do what they wanted. David looked after his people in a way that most people do not. Their attack on David and it is exactly wrong what they say.

They are proposing that the Lord has deserted David. And they say that David has done things to forfeit God's Presence.

God has a national plan for Israel in the future; and we as church will not usurp God's plan for Israel in the future.

This propaganda has become a cover and a justification for Absalom. It is a justification for revolution. Absalom does not want to assume that David is deserted by God. Absalom simply wants to use this propaganda to get what he wants. Those with Absalom want David removed and they know that all of this stuff is false.

These verses represent of was going on then and what is going on in our country today.

Ukraine will expose some of these lies and some of the weaknesses of our leaders; and it will open eyes as to what freedom means and what being a client nation means.

Could David change these lies? No; he did not even try.

Lesson #0359

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/6/2022 1Sunday

George Mueller passed.

Uneasy is the head that wears the crown. We may think of them as the most powerful and unassailable power. In ancient Rome, the leaders ruled by the divine right of kings. What could be more powerful than being set in place by God.

In Europe, they claimed appointment by God, as confirmed by the pope. In reviewing the history, such as the English monarchs as we studied, palace intrigues, civil wars, foreign wars, etc., many rule with an iron hand. Nevertheless, many were removed from their position. By the end of WWI, all of the crowns of Europe were killed, removed, abdicated, etc. Exception was England. Russia lost their Czar. The most powerful were vulnerable. In Israel, God actually sanctioned the monarchs and Israel ruled as a theocracy. The house of David was to rule over Israel; and his Greater Son was to rule over Israel forever.

The first king, Saul, had his own problems, and he committed suicide. Many other kings of Israel who were violently removed. Asa and Basha fought all the days of their lives. Basha was one of the most violent kings. Elah was killed by Zimre, who then took the throne. He was overthrown by Omri. The Queen Jezebel, her flesh was eaten by dogs. Not a very good ending.

Two other kings were removed by the Assyrian and Chaldean invasions. So even the kings of Israel had their problems. Deadly conditions were even a part of David's life.

We have already covered the details of the Absalom revolt. David will regain his throne, as is God's will. This was a very painful time for David. The devastating situation of the Absalom revolt. The worst time in history of David's rule. How my adversaries have increased. Many have risen up against me.

Psalm 3:1 O LORD, how many are my foes! Many are rising against me;...

Psalm 3:2 ...many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

V. 2 is the propaganda used against David. Propaganda, by its very nature, is a lie. They kept saying, "David is finished; his rule is over with." His injustice has aroused the ire of God, were the things said by the lying enemies of David. They propagandists failed to mention that Absalom committed many of the same sins and acts.

If you tell lies long enough, they fill the air with lies, the people will come to believe them. Lying about David and whitewashing Absalom's career.

One of the greatest propagandists of the 20th century was Joseph Goebbels. The Russians have lied about why they have attacked the Ukraine because there are untold resources in this land. Metals, minerals etc. are all over the Ukraine. The lie is they need to unify the Russian population in the Ukraine.

Our own media perpetrate and perpetuate many lies in our country. Our own politicians are on a part with Absalom's supporters. We are being led to believe that hatred, rioting, and destruction of property is social justice. Or that defunding the police will reduce crime. A good many people in this country spread these same lies. The collusion between Trump and Russia was a lie. Some politicians continue to blame Trump even today. They overlook the problem of our oil dependence on Russia. We halted much of our own production a year ago and now buy oil from Russia. The threat of sanctions and our administration knew of the imminent attack and did nothing. We are even told that there is great success from our current present. All propaganda.

Same thing occurred with Absalom and his supporters spread lies. But God still supported David and protected him. God does not rescind his covenant with David, despite his failings. Or the wrong idea that we replaced Israel because of Israel's failure. That is false; and the same sort of propaganda argument. God does not rescind His promises. Israel has a place in God's future, and it will continue in the Tribulation and Millennium.

There are many lies today. When you do not correctly interpret the Bible, you are involved in propaganda. All of Scripture is correct. We do not get to pick and choose. Both are true; God never stops loving us or forgiving us. But that does not mean that there is a revocation of things which God calls sins.

We can understand what these people are saying about David and how these lies were rampant. Just as people in this country believe many lies. The covenant made by God with David remains in effect. What David is quoting about his enemies in their lying propaganda. "How can God still support David?" There were worse things that David had to endure.

Psalm 3:2 ...many are saying of my soul, there is no salvation for him in God. Selah.

There Is No Deliverance for David in God

1. This was meant to undermine support of David and to undermine David's confidence as well.
2. David is being mocked by his enemies. Also remember that David, as God's anointed man, was put in place by God. Mocking David means they are mocking God's will as well.

3. Why are they mocking him? This is to misrepresent God's grace and deliverance for David. Do not ignore God's grace or denigrate God's grace. Look out. Much of the propaganda that we hear today is from humanism.
4. The propaganda is, David should capitulate and admit his failure and then move aside and die.
5. Does David have enough faith to continue. David has trusted in the Lord in all of this adversity.

if one political group tells you how terrible the other group is, you know they are doing the exact same thing. Propaganda often involves blaspheming God, as we read in v. 2. The same is true of humanists. They claim there is no God and that the Bible is wrong. We must say that the Bible is wrong in this area. Sooner or later, propaganda is discredited and debunked.

Ukraine is a crisis case in point. The lies are being exposed.

Lies about God

1. David's case will be stated; and the propaganda about him will be refuted.
2. God will not be mocked by propaganda and lies. We can be certain of this. Bobby gets made when he hears someone using Jesus to raise money. When you see the name of Jesus denigrated like that, how hard those people will fall. Many have done just that.
3. Divine will can never be defeated by humanistic bias or political machinations. David counters this in his own soul. No one can defeat God's plan.
4. David will confirm his support from God and he will do that is the rest of this chapter. Bobby will dedicate this to George Mueller.
5. God will deliver David from this deadly situation. David is apart of that plan. You cannot be removed if you are a part of God's plan.

We will see in the next 6 verses the reply.

Lesson #0360

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/6/2022 2Sunday

Bobby makes the comparisons from the information in these verses with stuff taking place today. We see the horror of the Absalom revolt from David's perspective. This helps us to see how David was thinking.

The propaganda is, David has been deserted by God.

How do you get certain people into office? Propaganda. Absalom was attractive with a great personality. But he was being built up as the one to replace David.

When Absalom lived in Hebron, he continued to make promises and they believed these promises. Absalom was able to sway people. He was a manipulator. Absalom was as dishonest as any person could be. And he was not sanctioned by God as the next king. Many of our leaders today are no different from Absalom. They have no divine establishment thinking. This tells us exactly what Absalom was like.

Absalom was David's blind spot. He could not separate the son Absalom from his evil actions. We have to be able to recognize Absalom's evil actions. David tolerated things that he should have corrected long ago. David was bound up in a promise. The promises made to David was also a set of promises to Israel.

We are in a civil war right now. We have never been so divided as a nation. Do not think that there will be a partisan coming together? How can you compromise with evil? In Israel, the nation was compromising with evil. Absalom was evil and his objectives were evil. Absalom was David's blind spot. He was a challenge to the nation's faith.

What a picture that this is of David's Greater Son, the great future king of Israel. The people of Israel rejected David just as they would reject their own Messiah.

The plan for Jesus Christ was to die. David's plan was to continue as king. God had the plan for David's line to continue.

There is a little word at the end of v. 2. It is the first appearance of that word in all of the psalms.

çelâh (סֶלָה) [pronounced seh-LAW]. This is time for us to stop and contemplate.

Selah

1. Selah is a place in a song.
2. We are to contemplate the words, the meaning and the application. There is a lot for us to digest in these two verses. Bobby has tried to connect that with an application to today's world.
3. The author might be saying, think on that, consider what has just been said. There is something very important that is being said. All Scripture is important.
4. Selah is the divider between the lament of David and the praise and thanksgiving to the Lord for His keeping and care. The rest of these verses have an even greater impact. That is a worthy pause to contemplate.

Before we begin the next verse, let's pause for a moment. A principle of prayer that David is using here. We know that the Lord knows what David's situation is. God knew about every single detail; and He knows the outcome.

If God knows everything, why do I need to pray? He is eternal, omnipresent with sovereign control of all things. If God already knows the questions from the answers, why should we have to repeat our answers from Him? Why ask for an answer that He knows all about it.

Why do we need to pray at all? Why do we do it anyway? If He knows the problems, the circumstances and the end? Why did we pray for Jim Meyer to get out of the Ukraine. The simple answer is, God requires prayer and He honors prayer requests. David prays for guidance, for protection, for deliverance.

The New Testament confirms this mandate in 1Thessalonians Pray without ceasing. This means that we pray on a consistent basis; on a time schedule. There is a time and a place; pray without ceasing; pray consistently.

Philippians Be anxious for nothing. But in everything, by prayer and supplication, with Thanksgiving, let your requests be known to God

Bobby was encouraged by that all of these prayers had an effect. This confirms to Bobby that he has this kind of relationship with the God of the universe. By divine requirement, we must bring our personal situations before God. Cite the problem, and you cite it as a preamble to making your requests known. That is the reason for prayer. Our request should be to the point and we should be specific to the Lord. We certainly pray to thank the Lord for all He has given us; His protection, etc. The purpose for David's prayer, is citing the problem and making the request. God hears and He answers. God certainly answers in the affirmative in the Absalom revolt.

When Jim Meyer came back, he wants to return to the Ukraine. He does not know if he can return there or not. He was training pastors. Jim is alive. He has weathered that storm and he knows that God has a plan for his life. He will return if God opens the door for him.

David gets to observe God at work on his behalf, despite terrible pain and terrible difficulty. If David is still alive and even though he is terribly hurt by Absalom and his revolt. It is all about how God is working and why.

David as sad as he was, in mourning, still returned to Jerusalem and assumed the throne.

Our Prayers to God

1. In citing our problems to an omniscient God. It becomes clear to us what we should request of Him. Citing the problem in order to formulate a request.
2. This is what God is hearing from us. Make it good and acceptable. Make it a request, more than O God, help. Remember the circumstances and consider what God's plan may be for us. Request the logistic.
3. In observing the results, we understand the power of God in answer to our prayers. We make a request and it comes to pass. We have to be encouraged that God removed Jim Meyers from a war zone. Bobby thinks that the war will expose the propaganda that we are exposed to. Jim prayed to get out and God made a way for him. Maybe to show us what it means to fight for freedom. Maybe to expose lies. We can pray for the Ukraine and for God's will to be done.

That is always the reason, attitude and format for our prayers.

Our Own Prayers

1. We cite the problem and we make the request; and then we step through the door that God opens. When a car is sent, you get into the car and get out.
2. You make the request to the Lord based upon the problem, even though it may hurt. David had to request that he defeat Absalom. David knew God's plan for him; and Absalom had to go. He made the request and Absalom went. God's plan moved on.
3. Once the request is made, put the problem in God's hand with confidence that He will do what is necessary for His benefit. Claim it and use it.
4. You can always cite Psalm 3 as your encouragement.
5. David prayed for deliverance and we should do that as well.

David will cite the solution and he will make the request. This is the format for us. Maybe we are under stress and maybe it is all very emotional, but we still act. Our relationship with the Lord and doctrine is connected. Request for a miracle is not a faith rest request. God I am sick; heal me right now. The request for a person who is ill is not for a miracle, but for the Lord to use them, if this is the final days of their life. Serve God to the very end; do not worry about your life. You personally need to pray and that you recognize that you are here to fulfill God's plan. Even in the final moments of your life, this is what you are mandated to do.

A final praise to the Lord and a request for mercy for God's people, Israel. Not only for the situation there, but there is also the bigger picture. David prayed for the client nation Israel. David has another reason for citing the problem. Next time.

Lesson #0361

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/9/2022 Wednesday

We saw the advancement of Marxism and socialism during the Vietnam War; but things seem to be more disconcerting today; and that the match could be lit at any point. Bobby is struck by the propaganda and the lies which he hears in the news. With doctrine in our souls, we can recognize many of these. So many politicians are pointing fingers and leveling blame, which helps no one. It could not be a more propitious time for us to be studying this psalm. Bobby chose this psalm way before anything was happening in the Ukraine. It is time for another lesson in the protection of the Lord.

David is being chased through the countryside by his son; and he was out to kill David. He had advisors who used to be close to David. Many people of Israel had turned against him. His family was disintegrating before his eyes. This also reveals something else to us and the reason for it. David continued to rely upon the Lord and upon the Lord's protection. Few of us will face this adversity and pressure that was on David at this moment.

This psalm has a wider audience. Israel the nation needed to hear this; but Israel at this time is divided in a civil war at this moment. But this psalm is for Israel in a future time. Clarity and deliverance for them. In the time in which we live, let's not forget what God is capable of. Our care and keeping.

David is dramatically presenting the pressure which he is under, and the adversity which he finds himself in. We can have this as well. David's thoughts in Psalm 3. He is awaiting God's protection and God's solution. What else can he do more than wait on the Lord?

David's Thinking When He Is Being Pursued

1. The first two verses set up the rest of Psalm 3, as a contrast.
2. A contrast between the extreme difficulty that David finds himself in.
3. And his confidence in divine care and deliverance. How can he have such confidence at this time.
4. David expresses the same confidence that we exhibit in our own situation and prayers by faith resting and relying on the promises of God and then waiting for God's plan to unfold for us. We think that God will protect us from harm and pain. God is waiting for us to fulfill His plan; and sometimes His plan contains some pain and harm coming to us.
5. David's confidence will be reflected in vv. 3–8. It will be a practical application for us; and it fits.
6. David finds the encouragement that he needs to face this crisis. That is why we need to find the encouragement from this passage for ourselves.

As David has done here, we are able to utilize faith rest and we are able to do what... It is never a time to faith rest when you have circumstances way beyond your control. That is what makes this psalm so critical.

You may go to the pump tomorrow and find that you are paying $20 for a fill up. Everything is affected by the price of gas/oil. Agriculture has higher expenses, truckers have higher expenses. Prepare yourself and do it with Psalm 3–8.

Psalm 3:3 But you, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head.

The shield about David is God's glory. We have these problems and we hang our heads down. But God is the absolute contrast to all those people who want to devour David. Their propaganda and hatred. Our country is filled with hatred. Why do you think we are so divided.

Our Civil War was both sides hating each other. It was brutal. We do not understand that 50,000 men died in 3 days at Gettysburg. In the knowledge of God's Word, David addresses God with confidence.

"You, O Lord, and Only You." David does not mention his own prowess. He is facing death by his own son's hand. It is amazing that he looks to the Lord as his only shield.

There is no greater image anywhere than that. David knows it; and we should know it. But David does not dwell on this situation. He is looking to the solution with optimism and not pessimism. It is the shield defense that takes David. Some believers have all these platitudes until it hits the fan; and then those platitudes disappear. Most people fall apart and blame God for the circumstance that they are in. David believes in what he says; and he trusts the Lord implicitly. This keeps David from failing or falling.

A parallel passage to this one commends the believer to use the same shield. Eph. 6:16 In all circumstances take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming darts of the evil one;...

The Shield of Faith

1. The shield of faith is the armor of God. There is a special
2. The shield in v. 3 is a metaphor for the spiritual divine defense against all cosmic system attacks. That is what makes this so universal. Both Paul and David are saying the same thing. The shield is the common denominator. The shield requires faith in order to use it.
3. This metaphor is taken from the literal armor from a soldier and what he used. Paul saw many Roman soldiers. He was saved by Roman soldiers on many occasions. It was used by the Roman infantry as its major weapon of battle. Almost every army used these shields. The Hebrew shield was called the Mogan. Today, it is synonymous with the star of David.
4. This is why Paul used the shield as the metaphor for the believers defensive armament against those fiery missiles. It was substantial; and it was big. Attached to this shield were two leather straps. One through the soldier's forearm
5. You can see the analogy. Paul means that nothing can touch a believer under the protection of God's shield of faith.

In the time of Paul, the Roman shield was shaped like a door. It pretty much covers the entire body; and it was a double thickness of wooden planks; joined together with the hide from bulls (some gorilla glue). Wrapped with canvas and covered with s... It was fit with an iron cover and it deflected the more destructive blows, and from stones and javelins.

The Romans would lock shields; and soldiers were told to kneel behind it for complete protection. There were many commands for the use of these shields. There was also a manual of arms for every soldier to know how to use it. Likewise, the believer must know how to wield the shield of faith

Our manual is doctrinal instruction for the spiritual life. We also have a manual of arms for the operation of our own shield. The Roman soldier was drilled the shield reduced the casualty rate; the loss of the shield often meant the loss of life. So it is with our spiritual life. Our fellowship means that we have tossed our protection. If you are out of fellowship, the spiritual life is non-operational. Our spiritual life is not functioning apart from the Holy Spirit. We also use grace and doctrinal provisions. It is our protection; but we cannot use it without this protection in this life.

Paul's audience understood these things perfectly. They knew exactly what Paul is talking about.

The early Christians had more adversity than we can ever imagine. We do not have this same kind of flak. Now, we are starting to get it. It is becoming more real; because what is coming means that we may need to use the shield of faith. God issues one shield to each one of us;

The Shield of Faith

1. Figuratively, the shield of faith stands for the faith rest drill. We must learn the drill.
2. The instruction for its use are found in the Christian drill manual, which...
3. Our field manual is the Bible.
4. Our shield of faith is the faith rest drill.
5. This comes from the promises of God and the doctrine in our souls. David utterly and totally believed it.
6. He shield is always effective for the defense in the combat of spiritual warfare. We are constantly...
7. The cosmic system cannot penetrate this shield of protection which is provided by the Lord.

Human viewpoint takes over divine viewpoint when we leave the shield in the garage.

David is being forcefully removed from God's plan. He needs the only protection available to him that can deliver him. Truly, at this oment, the deck is stacked against David.

David comments this faith-shield to anyone in difficult circumstances and he testified here to its working. It precludes from him fear and discouragement. He must defend himself on the battlefield. He must give his army full tactics; and that he does not make mistake in all of this. That requires thinking under pressure. He needs to make good decisions without.

What is on David's mind? His mind is focused; he has knowledge and trust in the Lord. He can do his job.

What makes faith rest so critical?

Psalm 3:3 But you, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head.

Lesson #0362

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/10/2022 Thursday

In real difficulties, what do people depend upon? The more liberal of us fall back on the ultimate goodness of people, that everything will be okay if we just let things run their course; and change the circumstances. Or the government will make things right. Or relying upon the dubious human viewpoint advice of others. Some ignore the problem and just let things play out.

As believers, we have a different option than the rest of the world does not have. The option is to lean on the Lord for His solutions. Trust the Lord, which is the only foolproof solution in a crisis. Yet some many do not have a relaxed mental attitude or any grace under pressure. They just have words, but there is little meaning. It just does not work out when it hits the fan.

The assurance of the Lord's help and His rescue and a true mental attitude under pressure. An option that the rest of the world does not have. It is the spiritual life option. When the spiritual life option comes into play, it does not matter whether the adversity goes away or not. The objective of all the other human options is to make the problem go away. But the believer's problems sometimes do not go away. We should know in our study of divine wisdom, adversity is an opportunity for the believer. It accelerates spiritual growth for the believer. Human solutions versus the spiritual life solution. Take away versus deal with it. We can put our trust in the Lord, even though it may not be the cancer that we are looking for, it is the best answer. That is why we trust the Lord. It is all connected with a relaxed mental attitude in your life.

Psalm 3:3 But you, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head.

The Shield Promise

1. The shield is a metaphor for God's support.
2. David is truly in an existential crisis. His son wants to kill him; he has lost popular support. He puts his trust in the Lord.
3. In our terminanology, the shield is a shield of faith; and it stands for the function of faith rest. David describes the Lord's protection as a shield.
4. Our understanding comes from the promises of God and the doctrine in our souls.
5. Paul uses a shield and David uses it; and both describe their situations. David uses it as a metaphor for the military solution.

The key in the spiritual life is God's Word. Our problems for the Lord depend upon the faith-rest technique. This is simply a way for us to put our trust in the Lord.

The Shield Is a Great Analogy for All Dispensations

1. The shield is universal throughout all dispensations. God makes promises to all people and throughout all generations. Our faith rest is even greater than what David has. The plan of God was in operation for David and he trusted that plan.
2. The mechanics for this is the faith rest drill.
3. The faith rest drill puts the shield of faith into action. We all have the shield; we just have to put it into action.

4. It is how our faith becomes effective in our life. The arrows of the cosmic system are many and they are varied. Those arrows would destroy a believer's confidence if they got through our shield. We studied the Roman soldier. Like that, the believer uses the shield of faith by using the strap attached to the shield. When used properly, our shield is impregnable. We have a shield that is impregnable. It does not matter. It does not matter if they go away.

This is the defense which David uses in this psalm. The rationale is the divine protection rationale. He has seen this during the worst experience in his life. He has used the faith rest drill many times and He has seen it work all of those times. David used a shield in battle many times. He used the shield of faith and the other shield as well. David knows how to use it. We have to learn to use the drill in order for our shield of faith to be effective.

David knows that his covenant is still in effect and it remains so. David will have a line and it will be perpetuated, all the way to the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. Mary was descended from the line of David. Joseph too was descended from the line of David. They were both descendants of David. David clung to this promise. He knows how to use this shield. Trusting on the Lord to ask Him to

The Faith Rest Drill and the Other Problem Solving Devices

1. Without the faith rest drill, we cannot use other problem solving devices in the soul. They are not activated without the faith rest drill.
2. The function of the faith rest drill provides cohesion and coordination for all of the problem solving devices. It is basic doctrine.
- 3.
4. Faith rest cannot operate without rebound and filling of the Holy Spirit. We do not learn doctrine we do not apply promises without rebound and the filling of the Holy Spirit. Faith rest is the transition from empowerment to everything else.
5. Once that fundamental empowerment of faith rest is in place, then the shield of faith is wielded by the maturing believer.
6. The straps on the shield (metaphorically) are doctrinal orientation (knowing Biblical promises and their meanings) (this means that we are oriented to the simple things); the other strap on the shield is grace orientation. This is the confidence that the Lord always has our best interests in mind.
7. Faith rest is the basis. These are all intertwined
8. The shield of faith is as close to you as the doctrine in your soul. The adversity is not inside of Berachah Church. The adversity is in the outside
9. Grace orientation is confidence that God always has our best interests in mind.
10. The filling of the Spirit
11. The Roman shield; and there are the straps.
12. With grace and doctrinal orientation, which certainly adds to faith rest, then the rest of the problem solving devices spin off from faith rest. As we become adept at using the shield of faith. Other problem solving devices are also used. They come along with it.

We have more and more promises; and we have a greater understanding of why we are able to trust in the Lord. We trust the Lord by learning doctrine and applying it.

The problem solving device diagram. It goes through the soul. If those devices are in place, it deflects all of the arrows. It is called the FLOT. We are; our problem solving device is the faith of grace.

Trusting in the Lord

1. Lifting the shield of faith by David (or by anyone) provides at minimum a general sense of protection in life.
2. It also provides a tranquility and contentment under pressure. That is a by-product of the shield and the faith rest drill. That is what a relaxed mental attitude is.
3. Then the rest of the...
4. This is trust in the Lord. That is what the application of the faith rest drill is.
5. Now we can survive and thrive against all aggressive action of the cosmic system. We don't even know half of the time. When it hits us, we can still deflect it. Those missiles challenge our spiritual life; and might lead to our spiritual defeat. The shield is the key to our spiritual defense; and then it guides our spiritual advance.

Defense is holding and reorganizing until we are able to go on offense. Our trust is not in activism; our trust is in the faith rest drill; in Jesus Christ; in Bible doctrine.

So we now understand the use of the term shield, that it is a metaphor of warfare. Physical and spiritual warfare.

Psalm 27:3 Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war arise against me, yet I will be confident.

This is the definition of the shield of faith. That is existential. It does not get any worse. The enemy is rising against him. The cosmic system is rising up against him. A final brutal battle of this civil war is looming over the head of David as the storm clouds gather. But David is not afraid.

You do not have to put no fear on a bumper sticker; you are no fear under pressure. When that is a reality, our souls do not fear. We trust. Is this confidence misplaced, as so many under adversity have wondered. How could God put me into this situation? As if they had nothing to do with it; or as if they do not live in a fallen world. Where is the Lord; where is God's love? Is He really looking out for me? Are His promises real or are they empty? So many say, "I lost my faith when so-and-so died in a terrible way." "I lost it when Russia invaded Ukraine." The right question, is what is God doing during this adversity? How is He working here in my life? What is the faith-rest technique I can use here. Everything is for my benefit when I live the spiritual life. Instead, believers question their faith; they give up and on God.

Human viewpoint solutions are not our solutions. You are failing to lift the shield of faith. This is the exact opposite of the faith rest drill. This moves one into a spiritual defeat. They question God's plan and His purposes.

A person who drops everything that matters in the spiritual life. He sets down his shield in the face of a charging enemy. Lay down that shield and you have just capitulated to the cosmic system. Such people are being routed. The pipeline of spiritual resources is being cut off because their grace orientation is left behind. Never put it down.

Here is David—outnumbered, outgunned, the target of his son's evil intent; and the nation's ire toward David. He has only one sided against so many antagonists; but what a shield he has. We may fail to utilize the shield, but the shield never fails. How stupid it is to drop it.

David and the Shield

1. God's promises are the glue just like the glue that holds the shield together. The glue which strengthens and holds the believer together. Sometimes, we just fall apart.
2. Once that glue adheres, it does not separate. It is solid.
3. The shield never alls apart in the emidst of spiritual warfare. Your spiritual weapons never fail. How do you take care of your shield? Faith rest drill.
4. Thus David's faith is never misplaced. He straps on his shield and is always in position.
5. Our defense is never porous or

Communion Service

We concentrate on God and our thinking about God is our love towards Him. Our attention focuses upon Him.

You need to have something in your soul which understands God.

Between the cross and Christ's return at the rapture of the church stands the ritual table that memorializes Him. We live in the age of the table, looking back on the cross. Ultimately, seeing our Lord institute His kingdom after the 2nd advent.

1Corinthians 11:23–26 For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way also he took the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

We know nothing about the physical attributes of the Lord. Our memory does not center upon His person visage or upon the miracles which He did; but upon Who He is and what He did on the cross.

Jesus came to this world in order to die for our sins. The blood is a symbol of the punishment which the Lord took in our place. It all centers on those 6 hours on the cross. We should be profoundly appreciative that the Lord agreed to this. These rituals are to be continued until Christ was sacrificed on the cross.

The Lord's Table is an analogy which looks back on the cross. The Lamb of God Who takes away the sins of the world.

We will not have to continue the ritual when we come face to face with the Reality.

This ritual is our unbreakable association with the Lord through the cross. Since there is one bread, we who are many, are one body. For we all partake of the one bread, which is Christ. We who have accepted Christ by faith alone. United in Christ in the two deaths and the burial, we share in the victory on the cross.

When we believe in Jesus, the sin nature is crucified with Him, retroactively. Our old self was crucified with Him, that our body of sin might be done away with, that we may no longer be slaves to sin. This places us, believers, in a position to break free from the sin nature; and from the depravity in this world. We also commemorate freedom in Christ. His sacrifice releases us to the freedom of grace. This commemorates a separation from sin; and from the evil of Satan's cosmic system. 1Cor. 10:21. We cannot partake of the table of the Lord and the table of demons. Heb. 2:14b through death He might render powerless he who had the power over death.

We think with divine viewpoint rather than with human viewpoint. Thinking with human viewpoint is a communion with the influence of the cosmic system. That is Satan's realm and his realm alone.

In our communion, we have separation. No believer can overtly mock God's grace in the work of His Son. That is cosmic system thinking. 1Corinthians 11:30 ...for this reason, many among you are weak and sick, and many have died.

People, out of fellowship, participated in communion. When a believer self evaluated, rebounds, these judgments will be removed and communion takes on its intended purpose. Divine viewpoint is our communion with Jesus Christ. We are to have the mind of Christ implanted in our souls in order to take part in this ritual. Likemindedness is common with Him. It is not just these few moments which allow us these intimate moments of fellowship with the Lord.

1Thessalonian 5:9–10 For God has not destined us for wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, Who died for us so that whether we are awake or asleep we might live with Him.

Every moment that we advance in spiritual growth is another moment of spiritual communion. This last, not just in this world, but later.

We set aside all of our life and thoughts and focus upon the Lord.

Experiential communion:

1Thessalonians 4:16–18 For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord. Therefore encourage one another with these words.

When we give up these bodies of mortality and put on immortality. We will experience in the reality n heaven. We will then be eternally present. . Occupation with Him will be by sight. The reality of a real future.

Ironically, this looking forward is also a looking back at His past work. His death and resurrection secure our eternal lives. Not only do we commemorate what Jesus did, but we look forward to the future.

We are giving a sermon by this ritual. As often as we eat the bread and drink the cup, we give witness to the Lord. What we proclaim on a recurring basis through communion is a memorial to His death.

Jesus died for sinners; He died for all. Unlimited atonement.

We are all equal in the taking of the bread and the cup. We are all unified into one body and by His one death. This collective, shared meal is unity and eternity. This moment is a mental concentration about the sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ. Bobby gave us 8 meanings for the communion.

George Mueller left us to be with the Lord. He has been memorialized by a number of people since he passed. A memorial this Friday.

We are mandated on this earth to glorify God. You have been bought with a price. Redemption is the price of our salvation. He concludes. Therefore glorify God in your body. He died for us; thus we glorify Him. What does that mean to glorify God?

Of course, many believers propose and undertake various works. Many of these include some form of human works. In other words, what should I do and what can I accomplish? Glorifying God through morality and what I do and don't do. I cleaned my life up, does that not mean, crucifying the old self.

We may even become Christian activists. These attempts may end up doing exactly the opposite when it comes to glorifying God. Bobby cringes when He sees what other people do in the name of God. Sometimes, there is legalism, sometimes there is legitimate Christian service; but often with the wrong motivation. What methods may end up glorifying God? Most of these methods end up glorifying God.

What Is Glorification of God?

1. We do not glorify God by anything that we do. Greatest misnomer in the Christian life is the idea that we do something to glorify God.
2. God is glorified by what He does through us.
3. God is glorified when the believer reflects His glory. The reflection of the Shekinah Glory. We reflect that glory; and hence we glorify God.
4. We do this by using the resources that God provides for us. It begins with the filling of the Spirit. It is not what we do, but what God gives to us.
5. We do that when we grow in grace and knowledge of our Savior. We testify in our words and actions. This is the result of our spiritual life, based upon what God gives us to live this spiritual life.
6. God is glorified when we use His promises and the problem solving devices and all of His resources, especially in adversity.
7. God is glorified by our relaxed mental attitude in life that derives from our advance to spiritual maturity and divine viewpoint in our souls. Isn't that what David has done? We can all identify with David's mistakes; and some were way over the top.
8. Nevertheless, David is glorifying God in his situation.

In v. 3, God is glorified by David depending upon Him as his Protector, as his Deliverer.

Psalm 3:3 But You, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head.

David and the Lord as His Shield

1. We might translate my glory as the source of glory.
2. David can only reflect the source of glory. David has plenty of human accomplishments; but he does not give himself any credit here. He is a reflection of the source, by using the source of the shield of faith. That is the protection that God has given him.

3. When David is delivered by the Lord, as the Shield, then God is glorified. How many times has David said, the battle is the Lord's. God works through us; we do not work for Him. This is what humility means as well. Giving God the glory. That is what we are here for. The believer's mission is to glorify God. Any time that we use the resources, we do that. He also is our Defender and Protector.

God is the glorious ruler of His kingdom. The Scripture tells us this. We know that His glory is manifested in us in various ways. Using His resources, we can navigate this life, including the shield of faith. That is one that all of us can use. We need to use it all of the time. We have mosquito bite adversity and we have massive adversities. Jim Meyer faced massive adversity in Ukraine. Jim Meyer told us that God brought him out of there. This is what glorifies God, that we testify as to what He has done for us.

We can have eternal life simply by what He has done for us.

David is a great soldier in the Lord's army; he is serving the Lord in doing that. He is a great combat leader in the fight, but never in his own glory. God delivers the victory in battle. If anyone had a right to be proud of what he accomplished, it would be David.

David's Human Glory Versus God's Glory

1. David's human glory and his accomplishments in life are great, but those things are fleeting. We may remember him being chased by Saul, or standing up to Goliath. If we remember him properly, it is David utilizing the shield of faith. David saw to it that God always received the glory.
2. Right here, David uses faith rest and it glorifies God.
3. God's glory is eternal; our own glory is not. At best, someone gets a statue or a few paragraphs in a history book; or even a few biographies written about him. But, after a time, those things are gone. We have an eternal glory that cannot be lost. We will share in that glory. The glory of the rewards have everything to do with our spiritual life on this earth; how we advance and how we glorify God on this earth.
4. That is the glory with which David wants to be associated in all of his life. He sinned, he made mistake; yet he was always a man after God's Own heart. That is the emphasis in David's life.
5. David glorifies God in this life, when he lifts the shield, and reveals God. You do not step outside of a jet and push it to make it go faster. God is the One Who opens doors; or gives us what we need when the door opens.
6. When the shield of faith delivers David, in this hopeless situation; David has been de-throned. He is out of Jerusalem. He has been deposed by Absalom; and Absalom wants to kill him. David's brilliant advisors are now helping Absalom. David has all of the resources which he needs right now. He is in a hopeless situation.
7. When God protects and keeps us, it is to His glory.

8. You want to glorify God, which is our obligation. If we do, then use the faith rest drill under pressure. No matter what, you have problems and adversity. Whatever it is, utilize the faith rest drill. There are promises for every circumstance that we will ever meet in life. No one may know that you utilized various spiritual assets, but God knows. We advance in the spiritual life and we pick up the shield of faith.
9. We demonstrates God's power and ability. His deliverance from every hopeless situation. The source of glory.

David uses another metaphor. The One Who lifts my head. We sometimes see this confidence and we stand against adversity with confidence. We may see ourselves as weak, who stands in adversity with confidence. No different from the positive believer. It is easy to see someone with great physical strength who are heroes in this life. But that does not matter. What matters is, we glorify the Lord in whatever we do. What matters is the source. That is a witness for the salvation of the Lord.

The opposite of this metaphor, of the Lord lifting up the head, is the head hanging down in loss or in defeat. The source of that defeat is ignorance or rejection of the shield of faith for the believer. The Lord lifts his head and God protects him with the shield of faith. This is the image that we present to the world.

David has not won any battles yet. He is in a really bad, tough situation. He is going to utilize what God has provided for him. This glorifies God. Though war rise against me [very few things are more difficult that war; no soldier wants to go to war; there is no glory dying with your face in the mud], I will be confident. God is the source of deliverance in all of these things, head held high.

No one liked going on parade, because there was so much preparation. But it was a beautiful sight. Heads straight, eyes to the front, marching in synch. This is how Bobby views the people of God. When the banner is fluttering in the breeze, what is glorified? The unit, in Bobby's case the 14th infantry. It is the organization in which these soldiers find themselves. We are soldiers in the Lord's battalion. We glorify the unit, we glorify the Lord in the overall Angelic Conflict. That is what the shield of faith is all about. So often, the Lord has done all of this for the Lord.

Bobby loves the study of David. Bob covered the life of David in only the way that Bob could do. What a great example he is for all of us. So why not us now? In the more terrible time of his personal history; just as this might be the worst moment in our generation.

What is going to happen in the Ukraine? Will we be involved? Will we have a no-fly zone? Stand back and see what the Lord does. He is not asleep. God controls history. Think about what He is doing in all of this. We are glorifying God simply by our attitude. Recognize that we lift up our own shield of faith. When it is time for us to depart, we can lower the shield of faith.

Living the spiritual life is not that hard and it makes living in this life simple. We have so many more things to learn about David.

Psalm 3:3 But You, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the Lifter of my head.

Lesson #0365

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/9/2022 Wednesday

Psalm 3:3 But You, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the Lifter of my head.

This is a very simple verse, with a simple parallel concept. It is the Lord Who provided David's shield. Eph. 6 Paul calls it the shield of faith. The second metaphor is God lifting up David's head. Lifting the head is an expression of trust in the Lord and victory over the enemy. The position is a very precarious one. David is a long way from deliverance. He had essentially lost everything. He was similar to Job in the first chapter. David's greatest remaining asset is trust in the Lord, which trumps everything else.

Psalm 27:3 Thought war rise up against me, in spite of that, I will be confident.

The soldier never knows if he will survive a battle; nor does he know if he is going to win the war. The Ukraine is still putting on quite a show. The actual events on the ground does not breed confidence. That is an attitude of confidence. The Lord is the one Who lifts up our heads, when we are dragging, distressed and depressed. He lifts up our eyes heavenward. "Where does my help come from?" It comes from the Lord.

Depression often follows; you are down because things did not go your way. You have had a difficult time; a difficult way. Depression and defeat are a part of our lives. When you utilize the shield of faith and you know how to use it. You deflect the fiery darts of the evil one. The Lord is the One Who leads us to victory. Why not why for David? Even in the most terrible times of his leadership.

War has risen up against him; and they have him outnumbered and outgunned; and his best advisors belong to Absalom.

David is grace oriented; and he does rely on the shield of faith. You know that the Lord protects because He is gracious to all of us. His grace is sufficient for every aspect of our lives. God can crush the enemy. Absalom desiring to kill David is motivated from the pit of hell.

The Lord can crush the powerful, the mighty, the otherwise untouchable. How can this ever be solved? How can the client nation be delivered in all of this? Even though war surrounds me, I will not fear it. That should be our attitude in everything. David, it is amazing that he can say this. The world seems to be falling apart, I will have confidence. With doctrine, you can say this.

The humanists and the atheists and the antagonists, they are confident of their victory. They do not reckon with the God of the Universe. They can only see systems of government which they believe will save. They cannot see anything else. They cannot overrun or defeat God's plan. How can you not be confident in the Lord? God is not lifting up our heads when we succumb to hopelessness and defeat all around us. Even by the gains of our antagonists. There are many hostile nations in the world today. But no matter what Russia and China do, we lift up the shield of faith. We have the resources to do anything. The worse it gets, the better that it is for us. We understand suffering for blessing. Add in adversity for blessing. We all do. God can do anything at anytime anywhere. The wonderful thing for us is to be able to watch. This is our own personal benefit. No matter what newscast you watch, they do not have the confidence that it will work out to their best interest. Even our national problems will work out to our own benefit. If you are upset over the cost of gas; and there are personal repercussions. But, in the plan of God, lifting the shield of faith, we recognize that God is in control. Bear in mind, there is nowhere else to go. You can expect everything when you offer up a prayer to the Lord. A little prayer, a little confidence. God answers prayer. We have more power in speaking to the Lord than any of our congressmen or Senators. David is going to use it and we will see him using it.

We need to learn to trust Him for our fear and for our defense. Psalm 121:1–2 I will lift up my eyes to the mountains, and where will my help come from? My help will come from the Lord.

There will be many casualties and there will be hard times. Our enemies are potent and they are crafty. Our antagonists do not know who and what they face. During the time of David, they believed that they opposed David. They even believed that the Lord was against David. They cannot win. Those who think they are victorious, the anti-establishment people. They are hopeless and frustrated. Watch how empty they are, when they face eternity in shame. They are just as defeated, even when they appear to be winning on every front. They are just as defeated as the master that they serve. They are humanists who reject God and His Word. All that is left for them is the cosmic system.

Satan promotes humanism in the human race. With all of his brilliance and schemes, he cannot win. If he cannot win, how can his servants win? Don't sweat the enemy. They are miserable. They complain, they whine, they cry, they scream in anger; they riot in the streets. They will never be satisfied; they will always riot. Humanism never gets them where they want to go. We need to use prayer and wait on the Lord. David is sorrowful; and he knows that he made mistakes, and he is sad about his son, Absalom.

Nevertheless, David is confident, even more so than his enemies. He waits on the Lord for his deliverance. When the smoke clears, David will be in mourning for his son. But he will not be in despair or in defeat. We sorrow, but not like those who have no hope. We can have the same attitude today. God has brought the victory. God gets the glory; and David understands God's purposes.

David will see Absalom again. He is sad, but he can pick up and move on. He can move back into the palace and continue from there. David already has applied this information.

We know it can be done. We are well-aware of the solution. What else will work better than simply depending upon Him.

The solution works better than anything else that we can conjure. Do we have a military strategy to work with Russia? Are there means by which to achieve peace by talking?

Economic pressure will not solve the problem of man's total depravity. It exasperates that. Wars get exacerbated when people don't get what they want. In the Pacific, the Japanese needed oil. They did not have the oil; we did. That is how it started. Economic. We put sanctions of Japan and they bombed Pearl Harbor. Is there economic strategy today that will defeat the Chinese? No! Can we fight a two front war against the Russians and the Chinese. There is something for us to worry about it. And we do worry about it.

Human Viewpoint Solutions for National Problems

1. Is there a logical argument that will dissuade the socialists, the internationalists from the objective of changing the United States forever? To alter their model of poverty? If there was, they might change.
2. Is there a strategy of political Christian activism that will restore the client nation? Or a divine establishment government? Will those things restore the nation?
3. Activism does not change the man's sin nature.
4. Activism is, at best, a temporary halt to problems; at worst, more divisiveness in the society. The activism represents the ideologies; and the ideologies have never been so divided before.
5. When the rule of law is superceded by activism, the client nation loses its power and its impetus. A client nation must live by the rule of law. Freedom is maintained by the rule of law. The growth and actions of believers are the driving force that enacts and directs the activities of the client nations.

We are still sending missionaries, because that is the function of a client nation. God preserves and protects such a nation, no matter the power of the enemy or the odds of defeat. That is what David is facing and what we are facing. What is the solution? God lifts our heads and provides the shield of faith.

God Will Defeat the Enemy

1. There is no human saviors which can save the ur. The environmentalists will save planet earth. They will bring equality to the human race. No person can save the human race.
2. Only the individual believer can change the direction of the nation. Client nations start with individuals. The gospel is proclaimed and people believe in Christ. People clean up their acts. God honors the believer the spiritual growth of believers in a nation.
3. We are individuals may be the instrument of change for the nation. It takes one at a time.

4. It is God's omniscience, sovereignty, love which defeats what we cannot defeat on our own. God defeats any enemy.
5. God is the only One we can trust unequivocally. We can trust other people from time to time; but at the end of the day, all of us have sin natures. There are times when all of us look out for #1. God never fails.
6. We as a client nation are in the Lord's hands. We as believers can do only one thing. We can wield the shield of faith in defense. That is what we do. No matter what happens in the future, we always have this sure defense. Though war rage on around me, I will be confidence.
7. Faith rest and problem solving devices are always available for our use. All the while we are being protected by the shield of the faith rest drill. This is our chance to take part in defeat of the enemy nation.

A soldier knows that, he may die in that next few days or months. And fear is much closer for so many. Many believers have made their peace with that. If my life is sacrificed, then so be it. That is faith rest. The Lord is my Protector.

David was installed as king of a client nation. That was his faith rest rationale. God covenant with him as king. So David's focus was on the Lord and His shield. And he did not focus upon the problem.

Lesson #0366

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/10/2022 Thursday

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

Crying simply means that David was using a very loud voice. The tone of the chapter changes from v. 3. David made a two-part statement of confidence in v. 3. He also said that the God is the One Who lifts his head.

David has, in this way, addressed God. David takes some action in v. 4. His action is lifting his voice upward to God. He speaks loudly, crying out to the Lord. Why, the Lord can hear David, no matter how the prayer is delivered. David does this for the people around him.

David Openly Prays to the Lord.

1. When David calls to God, it is a moment of leadership in a very dark time. David has a smaller force, and there are many hostile Israelites. David is their leader, and what does David know? You have to consider the morale of your troops always. Troops with a good morale are troops who will fight harder.
2. This the moment when David's trust in the Lord is openly apparent.
3. He reveals where his strength comes from. "I am praying and I will get an answer from God's holy mount." David is saying, "Relax, I am the leader and my confidence is in God." David is God's man. They know that David is ready and the Lord is behind him.

4. Remember the propaganda that God has abandoned David?
5. David also reveals the reason for confidence in this situation. David, at the end, says, Selah. That means, stop, consider what I have just prayed; pause and reflect on the importance of his words. This is a part of his leadership of his army at this particular moment. He will answer this prayer. These men are not out on a limb being cut off. The great morale building is knowing that God is on their side.

We should listen to David at this point and take heart in prayer, in times of great adversity in our times. David is expressing his unassailable confidence in God's ability. God's answer is always there for those who seek Him. It is always as close as talking to the Lord. This is another reason for David's great optimism. David says, "I will ask the Lord and He will show all of you great and mighty things." This is a very powerful statement. This is a critical proposition for those who are leading.

This is a pivotal moment, when David lifts his voice and everyone hears him praying.

The Importance of David's Prayer/the Shekinah Glory

1. David places himself directly upon the holy mountain of the Lord in prayer.
2. In doing so, he enters into the throne room of God, which David also realizes is presence on earth as well as in heaven. Very important with regards to Israel and Israel's God.
3. Like all of Israel, David is well-aware, as we should be, where the dwelling presence with God resides. We cannot pray for what David prays here.
4. The Lord's residence is in the holy Temple in Israel (well, the Tabernacle here).
5. The residence of the Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy of Holies where He dwells between the cherubim on the Ark of the Covenant; this where He is. There is a little problem here; David is not in Jerusalem.
6. The Lord to whom David cries is the Shekinah Glory. This is Jesus Christ; it means the dwelling Presence of God with Israel. This is the same Shekinah Glory Who brought the sons of Israel out of Egypt. This is the Presence in the cloud and fire pillars to lead Israel. David knows where God's Presence is.
7. This is the dwelling Presence of the Lord Jesus Christ throughout history.
8. Israel knows the Presence is with David.
9. David is approaching the Lord on that Holy Mountain, as if he were in the Presence of the Lord in Jerusalem.
10. David is approaching the throne of grace, which is the Mercy Seat of the sanctuary.
11. David's cry is heard by David's troops and by the Lord.

This would be a morale boost. David, through answered prayer, confirms that God hears him.

He is louder than the propaganda voices of his enemy. The Lord is now presence somewhere else. There is a dispensational difference, but we still address the same God in the Church Age.

This prayer life is well-established in the. David. David was pursued by Saul,

David's Prayer and Expectations

1. In times of trouble, countless times, David calls upon the LORD. He calls on the Lord for strength, for His presence.
2. So many times in the psalms, David speaks of the Lord as his shield. See how many times this comes up.
3. Clearly, David is adept at concentration
4. The more we utilize prayer in . What does he do?
5. David looks forward to what the Lord will do. So many times, David praises God for the solutions.

David faces a life-threatening adversity. Fear is on the shoulder constantly.

Fear

1. Fear must not be allowed to ignite other mental attitude sins. When you give in, you cannot focus on anything.
2. Fear incapacitates things.
3. Decisive action from David.
4. Fear can easily escalate, very quickly. And this happens a lot. Once this takes
5. Fear can incapacitate a believer and this can stop a man in his tracks.

We need to know what fear looks like.

Escalating Fear

1. The more you surrender to fear, and it escalates and perpetuates fear.
2. The more you perpetuate fear, the greater your capacity for fear. Now
3. The more fear takes over, the more it has power in your life.
4. When you take...
5. The more you live by fear, the greater
6. The more you live by fear, the more you cower than you are afraid.
7. Human solution is no solution. For the believer, there is no other solution a
8. Replace with some aspect of the faith rest drill.

Paul warns Timothy, "Do not live a lifestyle of fear."

David is expressing this with a public prayer. Fear is a sin.

When you are afraid, you are thinking of injuries and harm that can come to you. Bible doctrine nurtures humility and confidence. Fear does not give power to any part of the spiritual life.

We can fear physical death all we want.

fear can prevent the use of the faith rest drill.

Using faith rest in adversity gives...you are not a coward when you accomplish these things.

Fear in the Life of the Believer

1. Fear could affect David in the coming flight.
2. Fear is a guarantee of making bad decisions.
3. Controlling gear keeps the I
4. We should face things head on, and not avoid them.
5. Not allowing fear to control is the genesis of and promotes the effectiveness of faith rest. LIII the effectiveness of the spiritual life under all conditions.
6. Fear controlling the soul. You must have the spiritual life or Fear is controlled by David be knowing and considering history. He knows the history of Israel. He knows about Israel of the ...

Psa 56:4 In God, whose word I praise, in God I trust; I shall not be afraid. What can flesh do to me?

Psa 56:5 All day long they injure my cause; all their thoughts are against me for evil.

That last phraes the Bobby has quoted many times. What can mere man do wo me. what can man do to me? You do not have to fear that.

David loves Absalom and wants to kill David.

Moses is a great person in Israel's history. Get your eyes on God and not on your opposition.

This is a defining incident.

v. 28 where can we go up? The people are bigger and taller than we are. The cities are large and of rtitufied to heaven. Some hyperbole here. We have seen the sons of the anakim we are afraid of these people. Do we allow fear to drive us? Or do we depend upon God?

V. 29 then I said to you, "Do not be shocked or fear them. The Line of defense your God

David knows what the Lord can do. "Just as God did for you in Egypt." What can mere man do to Israel? Look who is fighting for you. "Watch and see for yourself. Get your eyes on the Lord and see for yourself." God is able to grant victory.

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

Lesson #0367

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/20/2022 1Sunday

We can do today only what David is doing here.

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

This is a loud and public prayer. He did not go back to his tent and speak quietly. David wants to be heard from those in his vicinity. In the second half of this verse, he reinforces the fact that God will and has answered.

Enemy propaganda from Absalom was abundant. We get a little inkling of this from v. 2, where he spreads the idea that God no longer wants David as king. And what David has done is touted. David is being propagandized in v. 2. The Lord hears David and God is still with David. God still has a plan for David and David will be victorious and he will return to the throne of Israel. Does he know that he will win the battle? He is outnumbered; he is outgunned.

All of David's people know... Almost any leader who wants to boost morale will say that "God is on our side." That is not always true. God is on the side of any client nation; and God is on David's side. Absalom is a usurper of David's throne.

David's Public Prayer

1. In prayer, David calls on the Lord's presence. God is with us. The Lord will guide us through this situation. He calls upon the Lord's protection
2. David knows that, without the Lord, fear will overwhelm his ranks. They don't know what is going to happen. They don't know what is going to happen in the future. They need this morale boost. God is with them.
3. Precluding fear is the key to his leadership in this situation.
4. Prayer promotes faith rest in David and his followers. There are times when our mind is so clouded due to fear and anxiety, that is a time to pray.
5. Fear could intimidate David and the effectiveness of his men in the upcoming fight. He knows that something needs to be done here. Leadership needs to be decisive; they know what a good decision is and when it needs to be made.
6. Fear is a cause of muddled thinking. Along with this is bad decisions. Fear is a natural result. When it overwhelms us, then we make bad decisions. The key is, what is in control? Fear or you?
7. Good decisions based upon clear and calm thinking is the result of prayer and faith rest. That is what David is offering here. Prayer for his people and prayer for his nation and prayer for the coming battle.
8. In prayer, David and his men look to the Lord and they rely on him. How can I rely on the Lord when I don't even know what I am doing? How do you redirect your thinking when you are muddled, confused or fearful? You claim a promise, like, at what time I am afraid, I trust in You.

9. David's prayer is, "Let's wait on the Lord and watch Him deliver us."
10. David and his men have a relaxed mental attitude in the Lord. The Lord becomes their shield. The shield of faith. Remember who the real shield is.
11. The spiritual life can produce results under crisis conditions and this is how. We should be familiar with prayer before the crisis strikes. That is what training troops for combat is. It is repetition so that, when you are in the situation, you respond, you do not react. You respond to your training. You drill and drill and drill; and then you do what you are trained to do. The spiritual life is truly automatic. When you lose control; and then you will make the wrong choice, make the wrong decision and go in the wrong direction.

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

David needs to be a leader, to have confidence in the Lord. He should not appear to be confused, disoriented, etc. Men who see that are not going to follow him. Faith rest in the crisis is courage under pressure. Fear must be defeated.

Bobby has been talking a lot about faith rest. It is just a system of thought. It is what goes on in your mind where you recall doctrine and wisdom in your soul. Operation Z. Understanding promises. Utilizing the wisdom and doctrine in your soul. David is a master at this. He has managed one crisis after another.

Psalm 56:3–4 When I am afraid, I put my trust in you. In God, whose word I praise, in God I trust; I shall not be afraid. What can flesh do to me?

This is a practiced attitude. David was by himself watching the sheep. No father there. He saw an animal go after his sheep, and when he saw a lion, he was afraid. David went after the lion and he killed him. He put his trust in the Lord. This was practice. Then David did the same thing with Goliath. Then David was chased around the countryside with Saul.

What we are studying is a crisis at the end of David's life. David puts his trust in God, whose Word he trusts. Then David is emphatic. I will not be afraid; so what can mere man do to me? The point is, what really can they do to you when you trust the Lord? God is protecting us in so many ways, when we don't even know.

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

David asks the strength to make the correct decisions.

David knows his history and he knows Moses confirmed this ever-present problem.

Moses sends out 12 scouts to check out the Land of Promise. He is doing what any good commander would do. He sends out his spies.

Deuteronomy 1:28 Where are we going up? Our brothers have made our hearts melt, saying, "The people are greater and taller than we. The cities are great and fortified up to heaven. And besides, we have seen the sons of the Anakim there."

Israel was in total fear of what they were facing. The people are bigger, badder and taller than we are. Very tall walls; very well-equipped.

"On top of this, we saw the sons of the giants." These would be very similar to Goliath. "We cannot take these guys; this is huge."

Deuteronomy 1:29 Then I said to you, 'Do not be in dread or afraid of them.

They are big and tough and trained. Israel has no training at this point; and these men are professional.

Deuteronomy 1:30 The LORD your God who goes before you will himself fight for you, just as he did for you in Egypt before your eyes,...

God has done this sort of thing countless times before Israel. "God will go before you and fight on your behalf." This is Psalm 56:3–4. Don't be afraid. Get your eyes on the Lord and off the problem.

10 men came back with a report of fear. 2 of them were ready to organize and go in and take the land. Fulfillment of the promise of the land would come with the next generation led by Joshua. David knows the national history of his people.

David knows that God is with him just as God is with Moses.

Deuteronomy 1:31 ...and in the wilderness, where you have seen how the LORD your God carried you, as a man carries his son, all the way that you went until you came to this place.'

Deu 1:32 Yet in spite of this word you did not believe the LORD your God,

Lesson #0368

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/20/2022 2Sunday

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

We do not know what David's prayer was or exactly what God said in response. Holy mountain is a metaphor. What does holy mountain have to do with anything. This means something to those who are hearing this publically. This is a metaphor with something else. We might ask, why does David use a metaphor here? Why isn't he just straightforward and tell us what it means?

This is poetry and great literature. Sometimes literature uses specific language and metaphors and other figures of speech. This is what makes some literature great.

David is praying to the Lord and he is saying, "I have gotten a reference from His holy mountain."

The Holy Mountain

1. The seat of the kingdom was God's holy dwelling place. The kings ruled from Jerusalem. This is where the King of Kings ruled from. Deuteronomy 12:14 14:23 15:20 all make this statement. God's chosen dwelling place? Isn't God omnipresent? Why would He be in one place?
2. David speaks of God's place in the Holy of Holies. The Temple was not yet built; his son would do that. There was a sanctuary in Jerusalem; and there were the things in the Holy of Holies that we read about. The Holy of Holies was the resident place of God for Israel.
3. Zion was the holy mountain; and Zion is a term for Jerusalem. The place of God's early place of habitation. Zion is used derogatorily today.
4. The Lord's presence in Zion confirmed Israel's status as God's chosen people; a client nation to Him. Israel is the first client nation. When David says, "I get an answer from the holy mountain, so I am praying about the presence of God on His holy mountain." The dwelling presence of God with Israel and "I have gotten instructions; I have gotten guidance from Him." Everyone in that army understood exactly what David meant here.
5. God's presence on earth at Zion, His place of residence, where He resided. David and God's thrones are both in Jerusalem. The dwelling presence of God throughout history. The manifested Person of God throughout history is the Lord Jesus Christ. He was present with Israel. He is the Greater Son of Israel. This is why metaphors are so important. Look at we can put together with it. What King David needed to have. He got an answer from God's holy mountain.
6. David called upon God to rescue him from His holy mountain. The earthly king is calling upon the King of Kings for his rescue. David is the father of the Greater Son asking God for rescue. A beautiful picture. These people understood exactly what David was talking about. God's presence was never limited to a hill or a temple or a tabernacle. For Israel, his localized presence guaranteed Israel's protected status. This is designed for those who are following David for their confidence, for their putting fear aside. Absalom should have remembered this. Absalom's ambition and self-centeredness truly over.

David's Prayer

1. David expressed in his prayer to be in God's Presence in His protective arms.
2. He prayed the same thing for Israel as well, to be protected at this terrible moment. But all of Israel as a client nation. He is citing the Presence of God's Shekinah Glory for all of Israel. That is what makes this so poignant.

3. David draws comfort and assurance from what God has done. He has picked up the red phone and tells the people, "I got an answer." David does not know how he would be delivered. Just as Moses did not know many things that would occur but he knew that God would take care of him.
4. When deliverance comes, all of Israel would know—David's followers and those who are trying to overthrow him. Israel was as divided then as the United States is today. We are not in a shooting war yet; but there is a great division. David is the king of the client nation. "Israel rally under your King," David tells them. Paul would later write, Pray without ceasing. Pray on a continuous basis. David continually asks God and God continually hears him. David takes comfort that God continually hears. This adversity in all adversity.

God answered me from His holy mountain; that the rest of the prayer will be what God answered. People were praying all over for Jim Meyers and his wife to get out of the Ukraine. When we pray, God is going to give us an answer. Don't give up on prayer. God has another plan; and he works things out through the problems that we have. People get soured on prayer. The fact that God did not answer it in your way, recognize that He has a better way. That is the connection of prayer with faith rest. We must be aware that an answer will come. In the meantime, faith rest.

Psalm 3:4 I cried aloud to the LORD, and he answered me from his holy hill. Selah.

It is this confidence and assurance that brings on David's next statement in v. 5. David falls asleep.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

David expresses here an inner peace in 3 emphatic verbs. I laid down, I slept and I awoke.

David's Last Hours Sleeping

1. This is the high point of David's faith in this psalm.
2. The emphatic I means the grave circumstances in which David finds himself is counteracted by his enablement to rest safely and securely. What a contrast. An army is gathering against him. His own son wants to kill him; he does not have the resources that his enemy has. Yet he lays down with a good sleep.
3. An untroubled sleep knowing the next day will be the test.
4. Lying down and sleeping is a wonderful expression of David's confidence. Confidence in God's response in prayer. God gives an answer. David offers a response given to his prayer. Prayer and faith rest. David shows amazing trust and amazing reliance in God's protection.

Bob came up with the terminology of problem solving devices—and faith rest; and someone asked him, why isn't prayer a problem solving device? You pray and then you faith rest. What good is prayer without trusting God for an answer (faith rest confidence). Pray and relax; that is the point. That is David's point here. Get a good night's rest; take it easy.

All too often we become worried, fearful, anxious about events and circumstances in our lives. Faith rest does not mean life is never going to touch us. The first human response to hardship and suffering may be to consider a scheme to relieve the pressure. I will do this and the pressure will be off.

Dealing with difficult people. Human solutions that we come up with to deal with problems, fear and difficult people. Bobby: adversity is a test; and any test in our life is a time for us to utilize the spiritual resources which we have. To see the deliverance of the Lord. To get a good practice in it. Testing is simply that; a test which we need to pass. David is telling us how. Prayer and faith rest.

These human methods which we come up with many times lead to sleepless frustrated nights. Persistent in one form or another. We may solve the problem; or it may be solved; but another problem will crop up. This is how our lives go as human beings. We will never be free of adversity. Too often, as believers, our own plans should not come before the solutions, prayer and faith rest. Faith rest brings all these other problem solving devices together. We start with faith rest, which bring grace and doctrinal orientation together. The rest of the problem solving devices just fall into place. We rely on that knowledge that David was so certain of. We know that God will deliver us. Can we not sleep securely knowing that the Lord will sustain us.

When we get into bed at night, we cannot sleep due to the problems. And nothing works, even if you take your tylenol. You cannot fall asleep if you are worried about tomorrow, which is true of any of us at any time. I hope that you can answer this for yourself. Sleep comes with a relaxed mental attitude and the confidence of the Lord's answer. We have even more presence of the Lord with us than David had. How can we have a sleepless night, knowing about all of these other things? Yet you still cannot fall asleep. David provides answers to sleepless nights and worrisome days.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

Lesson #0369

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/23/2022 Wednesday

We have David facing almost 20,000 soldiers who are all bent on killing Absalom. David is aware of that. So he invokes the Lord as his shield. This is a faith rest function at this time. He gives a prayer. In truth this is the only thing that makes sense after a prayer and faith rest. He lies down and sleeps.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

Under these conditions, he has done everything that he can do. This is very close to the time that will happen. This is also leadership on David's part. This is the solution to sleepless nights and worrisome days. We relax and let our minds go blank. With a relaxed mental attitude, we sleep, with the confidence of faith rest. When we have a sleepless night, we just take it before the Lord. We come up with a promise that covers it. There is no concern in David's mind for the future. He has no concern about it.

David Prayers and Faith Rest

1. David was a spiritually mature believer. Faith rest was a well-oiled device in his spiritual arsenal.
2. He has a time of prayer over the moment or over the next day or year or lifetime. All of those times they we pray about or in.
3. What does that do for him? It brings peace to his soul.
4. Prayer is not a problem solving device.
5. Once you have made the request, what do you think after that? It becomes a part of the faith rest rationale. We have a promise from the Lord.

Bobby recognizes faith rest and prayer are very close. This does not denigrate prayer at all. Prayer is asking the Lord, and we get an answer and we always get an answer. The problem solving device in our own soul is faith rest. We trust the Lord to answer this request. We utilize this as a part of the faith rest rationale. We fall asleep in prayer and in peace.

In peace, I will lie down and sleep. Few people are able to do this when under life-threatening adversity. Many things are life threatening. We could be at war tomorrow; and it is a matter of concern and even fear. Faith rest is all about handling a fear like that. “You alone, O Lord,...” That is an absolute need and an absolute mandate for faith rest. We cannot depend upon the Lord alone.

You pray for safety and then leave in the Lord’s hands. We can certainly think about our problems and we can solve them. Our blessings can easily be missed when we do not depend upon the Lord alone. But we do not work out our own iffy faulty solutions. Then God works out His Own plan in our lives. Bobby has seen many times in his life, and he did not think he could handle the direction of the ministry; and it turns out when Bobby put it in God’s hands, it was handled in a week. Bobby had a people problem; a direction of the ministry problem; and God handled it in a week (when Bobby worked on it over a period of 2 years). We do what we can, but the Lord is the final arbiter. David is telling us just how to do this. To recall a promise that fits the situation; then we sleep well and sleep secure and then get up refreshed.

This is the content of David’s prayer. “You sustain me.”

An Interpretive Translation

1. We might consider an interpretive translation.
2. As for me, last night, I laid down and slept a great sleep.
3. This morning, I woke up, with the same problem, but with a much better attitude.
4. That is the solution, whether the problem goes away or not.

All that Bobby can do is make the best decisions that he can, as the president of the ministry, and then put it all in the hands of God. If we are not in leadership, then we are followers. The same principles hold true for all of us. Trust God. Pray about it and let it go. Watch what He will do. That solidifies the faith rest rationales.

David's experiences are not a personal achievement. This was all based upon what God has done. "I used the power of positive thinking" or "I read a self-help book" or "I got counseling." God's grace and God's faithfulness manifested to David.

David's confidence is reflected in the Hebrew verb sustain.

Samak

1. This is the key to David's faith rest.
2. Sustain or to support, to uphold. The range of this verb
3. We are certain that this is what the Lord does.

We lose someone close to us; especially when a child is lost. Very difficult to hold onto faith. Or people die in ways that are unexpected or difficult ways. All of those things we sometimes question. When we say this, we are not trusting in the Lord or in His plan. Even in death; even in tragic death. He supports and sustains us. There is something that we must learn.

When there is a tragic death, that calls for questions and answers. The tragic decline of R. B. Thieme, Jr. is the reason that Bobby is teaching. There are no exceptions.

This psalm is very personal to every one of us. A new day may be problems on every side of us, pressing in on us. Like David, we must make a constant movement away from those personal troubles. God does not necessarily deliver by changing our circumstances. He will handle it at the right time in the right way. You fail to advance in the spiritual life and these problems are put in our way to guide us to advance. We reconcile these problems in our souls; and then we sleep.

God gives the support and victory. This psalm reflects a spiritual progress; a maturing advance. This is necessary for every day. Every day there will be something in our life which is not going right.

Paul had a thorn in order to keep him on the right track; and to be patient with the people that he is teaching. Sometimes pain directs us away from arrogance. Bobby hates My Way by Frank Sinatra.

God gives us the support of victory day after day after day. We must consciously move. We get anxious; we even get fearful.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

We renew our faith rest every morning.

Psalm 3:6 I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.

Examining Psalm 3:6

1. This verse should be read in one breath with v. 5.
2. This represents David's attitude, the moment that he awoke. The times that we think about it and mull it over. And we wake up two hours later and it is the same thoughts, the same problem.
3. David made it through the night, relaxed, sleeping, even as the enemy drew closer. Problem is not getting better; it is getting worse. 10,000 people are gathering around him to kill him.
4. If the conclusion of v. 5 did not read as it does, that the Lord sustains him even in sleep, then what would v. 6 be? Bravado or cheap heroics. There are likely many people in Washington who have no idea what to do. This is why we need faith rest; the world is lost.
5. When David wakes up, is he looking out the tent at his troops? He is looking upward; not down to the enemy forces. He is convinced that his trust in the Lord is never misplaced. David can only be sustained by God; not by his earthly resources. He slept peacefully based upon the Lord.

It does not matter who is lying, who is using propaganda, who is not telling you the truth. One day could completely blow your mind. The first thing that we should do is claim a promise.

Plenty of Christians say, "I am going to trust in the Lord," but a few hours into the day, and that trust is gone.

What good does worry do? Does it change anything? It is in the Lord's hands. If it is not, then there is nothing that we can do. That is nothing more than a failure of faith rest.

Upon awakening, David is ready to face the day. He is refreshed and emboldened. He knows full well that he faces thousands of enemies. It is just another day for David. He has seen this all before. It was his faith resolve and divine wisdom that produced in David the hero of the hour.

Goliath is the great example of this. Israel's army hid in their tents. David showed the first signs of a leader, calm assurance under pressure. It was also what he said. David knew where his strength came from; and he wanted Israel's army to recognize this. This became David's lifetime motto, the battle is the Lord's. His heroism came exclusively from Psalm 121:2-3. My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth. He will not let your foot be moved; he who keeps you will not slumber.

David Facing the Challenge

1. The day will come when we will die.

2. God will take him home when his purpose is done. Why worry about it?
3. David is not going to meet this moment with an attitude of fear.
4. A coward dies many times; the brave man dies only one.
5. What makes a truly brave person? It is what is in the soul. Not physical strength or bravado.
6. There is no greater hero than David when apply faith rest from his spiritual life. That is what makes a hero. No matter what happens, we trust in the Lord.

Psalm 3:6 I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.

Psalm 3:5 I lay down and slept; I woke again, for the LORD sustained me.

Psalm 3:6 I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.

These two verses should be read together. If God defends us while we are asleep, then a fortiori logic tells us that God will protect us while we are awake.

David finds himself where the army of Absalom is bent on his death; and this might cause others insomnia. But David sleeps. He is able to trust the Lord.

Exhaustion is the worst time for a soldier to function. David, as their commander, cannot be tired himself.

David's Attitude under Pressure

1. David is confident. The #1 necessity of a commander going to battle. Confidence in your troops, your logistics, etc. He is not confident in himself, but confident in the Lord.
2. The life of faith rest is one of knowing certainty of the protection of the Lord under all circumstances...even the seemingly hopeless circumstances. That is even more critical. Where can you go when that is what you face? But hopeless situations are the ones more tailored to faith rest.
3. That protection marks the difference between despair marks the difference between despair, uncertainty and intrepidity. Faith rest is not just passive. David is thinking about the promises of God and he knows that God will protect him. But faith rest is active as well. He needs the courage of faith rest in battle.
4. It is either a good night's sleep or a night of pointless, sleepless worry to no purpose. David needs to be rested for the next morning. We know that we have a tough day ahead of us and we can only concern us with the outcome. The outcome is up to him. Whatever the outcome is, we can still understand that the Lord has a purpose in all of it.

5. So David has a good sleep.

What can mere man do against me? Many people can be against me; yet we have the protection of the Lord.

David Is Exercising His Faith Rest

1. We see David totally reliant upon God. This is why Bobby chose Psalm 3. So easy to get our eyes on things which are happening. David is totally reliant on this situation.
2. David knows that God can be trusted in everything, including this overwhelming problem which faces him. We trust God for the small things. But the big things hit and suddenly, we are not relying on the Lord. We are going to let Him take over. David is faced with going to war against his own son. At war with him and that child wants to kill you and he has the ability to do it. That is a pretty terrible situation. So what else can you do in the worst of circumstances. We might trust God to get us to work safely; but what about the really big pressures?
3. David is clear in his mind that no one else but the Lord can rescue him. He is going to go to war and do his best; but only the Lord can win this war. We always do the best that we can before the Lord, and we put the rest in His hands. If you are using faith rest and continually growing, going in the right direction, that is what we do. Everything that David does is another step in faith rest.
4. David now puts his faith in the Lord's actions. David is satisfied. Whatever God is going to do is good for us.
5. David relies upon the Lord to fight the Lord's battle. God does not deliver by spear or sword, it is his battle. David and his army will do the fighting with the enemy.
6. The final outcome with this day's battle is in the Lord's hands. We may do the work, but the Lord is in control.

David puts his trust in the Lord's actions. He has claimed the promise and now he waits for the Lord's actions.

Bobby thought about this. The question has been asked. What if our nation was under attack like Ukraine was? Bobby knows that many of us would fight for our own family. We see the images of Ukraine and we see the horror of it. It is mud and blood; and it is not pretty. Would you rely on the Lord for the final outcome? David is in this situation. We are seeing the same situation in reality. What would you think? What would your thoughts be?

To Live Is Christ and to Die Is Profit

1. To live is Christ; and to die is profit. The movie Patton. One of his lines, we will be victorious or no one will come back alive. Death just sends us to heaven, so why do we fear it?
2. That is where courage comes from. If you don't fear death then you don't fear life.

3. The circumstances when you claim promises like that, are no longer overwhelming to us. Too many things are piling up on me. In war, there is only one thing to handle—whoever is in front of your rifle. This is how a soldier thinks in combat. I am going to fight until I am dead.
4. This is the courage that every believer must have in the spiritual battle that we fight. And we are in one every day. Each one of us. We need to exhibit courage.
5. In the end, the battle is always the Lord's. God's purposes will always be served; and this will be His outcome; His plan and His purposes. Our actions serve Him to His glory.

Bobby can see David. He exhibits no anxiety when he comes out of his tent. He walks over and looks at his generals. He got a relaxed mental attitude; there is courage; so he can stand before his troops with the confidence of a great leader and he can instill confidence in them. There are always other believers around you and they wonder how you are handling them. How can you encourage them? David will have a relaxed mental attitude and he will give some instructions. There will be an operations order. Calm as he can be, David can instill confidence in his troops and he can testify to it.

David's strength does not come from his genius, his personal courage. It comes from God. David now has a clear and rested mind and he is ready for the task ahead. The military campaign for the restoration of his kingdom.

David exhibited some fear when he was in Jerusalem. But now he has been transformed. He is a man of courage with a relaxed mental attitude. Panic for some people. Where do I go next? Then back up and realize that you have nothing to fear and nothing to lose; and nothing to be panicked about. To live is Christ and to die is profit. Faith rest works when you apply it; when you calm down, when you utilize prayer (more than, O God, help!).

It is easy to say calm down to those who are upset. But when he have the option of the faith rest drill, then we have something we can replace our panic with.

Three people on staff on in serious health situations; but their attitudes are fantastic.

Someone recognized at Berachah that he is under adversity and suddenly, the doctrine makes sense and can be applied. David was a man after God's Own heart. It is the reason that we find in Psalm 3. He is not afraid; and he does not speak not in a tone of triumph. David is not speaking from arrogance. Faith rest does not give us arrogance. It is a humility; humble trusting confidence. David's faith in the Lord accepted and applied by Him. That is what the mature spiritual life does. We have a real God Who looks after us. God sometimes becomes very abstract to us. But it is reality. God is real and He does these things which we study.

David Uses Faith Rest to the Maximum

1. Faith rest, David's means to a relaxed mental attitude, is specifically designed to be used in problem solving. The filling of the Holy Spirit is the power that we need.

Faith rest is the springboard to all problem solving devices. It is designed to be used in adversity.

2. In adversity and problems that our faith grows. Our faith is not static. Our ability to use it also grows. What a moment it is when you realize the potency of all this. We have a gold mine of strength.
3. Some of David's most dangerous moments are when he trusts the Lord to the fullest. David had terrible moments in his life; terrible failures. His life always fulfilled the plan of God for this reason.
4. That means David has used faith rest to the maximum. When you can do that, that is a real breakthrough in the spiritual life.
5. Each time in his life, when it was necessary to use faith rest, is a step to a greater use of faith rest. Bobby wonders how David got Bible doctrine as a young person. Saul was jealous of David and David needed to use faith rest as Saul chased him all over the country. We will not be the king of the United States; but our life is exactly the same as David, in the sense that we glorify God on our own stage in life.
6. When David needs faith rest at his worst hour, it becomes his finest hour in service to the Lord. What a great thought that is; what a great understanding of what the spiritual life does for each one of us. The application is very simple. He accelerated his faith rest by the pressures on him in his life.

Adversity Has Benefits

1. Adversity has benefit to the believer.
2. Our adversities are opportunities for us. This helps us to accelerate our spiritual growth; to use faith rest.
3. In repetition, we learn to utilize to the maximum the faith rest that we used before. David used it many times in the past and he continues using it.
4. The dire circumstances is when our need to trust in the Lord is the greatest. That is the benefit. The harder it is, the greater that it is. It is spiritual muscle. We build it. It is a well-oiled machine.
5. With consistent growth and the constant practice of faith rest, we can handle any adversity.
6. We must concentrate on the doctrinal and wisdom resources that we have inculcated into our souls. Maybe we should have some of the promises of God firmly implanted in our memories in order to utilize the faith rest drill to the maximum. When it is empty, we have nothing. We can only fall back on our own resources.
7. Adversity is a training ground for developing faith rest skills. Any process that we use, any drill that we have, must be drilled into us. We learn drill and ceremonies in the army and we do it over and over again until it is second nature. We keep using faith rest until it is rote in our souls.
8. The more severe the adversity, the more faith rest skill is developed; and the greater capacity that we have to handle more adversity. Are we prepared for the Ukraine war here? That is the extreme. There will be overwhelming problems in the future.

9. The greater the capacity to handle adversity, the greater the opportunity to glorify and to serve the Lord.

Bobby has been camping on faith rest, but we develop the other problem solving devices as we continue to grow.

Psalm 3:6 I will not be afraid of many thousands of people who have set themselves against me all around.

Lesson #0371

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/27/2022 1Sunday

David's training puts him to the most difficult moment. He says,

Psalm 3:7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! For you strike all my enemies on the cheek; you break the teeth of the wicked.

Summary on Psalm 3:7

1. v. 7 is the beginning of David's petition to the Lord.
2. The faith rest drill is what is the Lord and what are His promises. What can He do and what will He do?
3. David has express confidence in the Lord in vv. 3–6, which we have seen in the worst of circumstances. We have no right or reason not to be confident.
4. David petitions the Lord for action. This is not a mandate; it is a request. It is based upon the principle of God's care and keeping.
5. On the fact that David's assurance and reliance on the Lord has never failed him. David has failed the Lord on many occasions; and he has suffered severe discipline for it. But God has never failed to be protective. Who here has not made some grievous mistakes? If David could do the things that he did, God can continue with His plan.
6. V. 7 expresses David's confidence. V. 7 is a progression of David's thinking, while under pressure.

Then we have David's expression of fearlessness under these circumstances. In v. 7, David calls upon God to take over and to leave David and Israel to victory. The victory will be on David's side. He is ready for whatever comes.

At this point, Psalm 3 picks up speed. We move to a climatic finish. David's intense words are wake up, God!

Wake Up, God

1. God waking up is an anthropomorphism.

2. This metaphor is as if God has been sleeping. He is up there with a cloud as a pillow and David wakes God up.
3. God would then spring into action on David's behalf. God does not sleep; He does not need sleep. Anthropomorphisms are used to explain God's thinking and actions.
4. David uses this metaphor to appeal to God's infinite power. Saying this suggests that Absalom is about to attack.
5. When we wake up in the morning, we are ready to do whatever needs to be done.
6. David's call is the desire for immediate and swift intervention by the Lord. There is not time to waste, David is saying. David could always caveat his prayers with, If You will. This anthropomorphism indicates a quickly coming event.

David prays for Absalom's uprising to fail. The nation will be brought back together after a civil war. That is not easy to do when there is so much rancor. David prays for the entire nation to come back together. There is a prayer for the defeat of evil types; but David prays for the return to a nation. Who is David going to govern with such a divided nation? David's request is for immediate help.

David confirms this with the second line.

Psalm 3:7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! For you strike all my enemies on the cheek; you break the teeth of the wicked.

David refers to God as my God. David has a very personal relationship, which we have as well. This is the very thing that David's enemies spiritual advance, God would not do this. David let's God handle this. His enemies will soon find out whose side God is on. God does take sides in war. Every nation at war will claim to have some relationship to a higher power. Nations claim for God to be on their side.

David's Prayer for His Client Nation

1. God's plan calls for a client nation to continue its mission. David knows that God will protect a client nation in war.
2. God favors the obedient client nation that represents Him in this world.
3. God generally opposes those nations and people who are in conflict.
4. Yet, God's plan may also call for an apostate client nation to be disciplined. A larger portion of Israel will suffer a defeat.
5. God uses such a defeat as a wake up call for a return to client nation status. We pray for our nation and we pray for its deliverance. We pray for our nation's leaders to make good decisions. We pray that our nation return to divine establishment and to the rule of law. We are individually a part of this. We must do our part for the client nation. God uses a defeat like that to wake up a nation. God loves all people; and Jesus died for every one of us, no matter what race, gender, creed or location. That is the ultimate in love. God offers salvation to all of us. But Bobby is not referring to individuals here.

6. This is a reference to the special place that God has for a client nation. All people and nations have a plan under God; but He also has particular treatment for client nations.
7. God is not on the side of a nation which oppose a client nation.
8. God is opposed to the nation which is against a client nation.

Our nation has been blessed throughout history; and we have been opposed by many nations on many occasions. In the spiritual realm, we are preserved as a client nation. We are still doing these things, but they are opposed, internationally and from within.

David knows that he is the king of God's chosen nation, Israel. Absalom is a usurper; he is not the true lawful king. Absalom is a usurper; and David has the confidence of deliverance. This is why he so petitions God. Absalom is in direct contradiction to the Lord's plan. He knows the propaganda of Absalom is false. This fact will be borne out to all when Absalom is defeated and Absalom dies. That is a part of David's very difficult prayer.

David does not want to pray for the death of his son, but there is a bigger concern here. The plan of God is preservation of the client nation under David. David is still God's man. People get emotional and they follow a dynamic leader. A good number of people have followed him. Israel must bow to the knowledge as to who David is.

Israel will continue to be a client nation; and David will continue as her king. Since Israel is under God's protection, then David is also under God's protection. This song would eventually be sung in the Temple. A confirmation of David and Israel's purpose. What are we studying centuries later? What God the Holy Spirit meant for us to understand. These things are not just important to Israel way back when, but they are important to us today. David's failures are forgiven; Israel's failures are also forgiven. The promise of God is not negated by the failure of one or many people. It may be withheld by the failure of an entire nation. National discipline may be the result.

We are failing, in part, as a client nation today. We can still recover, even though that possibility seems to look less and less likely each day.

David's Circumstances and Client Nation Usa Compared

1. No doubt, God might use great upheaval like this revolt to humble nations and a people. We are watching today a nation being destroyed by an enemy of this nation. We are watching our leadership confused and unable to make a decision and unable to do the right thing in the moment. This tells us that we need to pray and to relax. It also means that God is using upheavals like this. We have gotten very fatheaded in history and we need to recognize just who we are.
2. We need to rebound as individuals; but also as a nation. Our nation needs to rebound to divine establishment...

3. And believers need to refocus on the plan of God for our lives. David woke up from his sleep, and he does not spend time worrying about what he is going to do. Then after approaching God, we goes to doing what he needs to do.
4. We cannot survive as a client nation without divine establishment standards and the rule of law. We do not survive in anarchy.
5. David's hopeless situation and yet, he is confident; and we should be confident as well.
6. Adversity interrupts David and client nation Israel. Are we as a nation facing this as the future. Do we watch the news, get upset, and then go to work out of fellowship, is that the way to go? David shows us the way.

Psalm 3:7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! For you strike all my enemies on the cheek; you break the teeth of the wicked.

Lesson #0372

Psalm 3 Wisdom in the OT

3/27/2022 2Sunday

Psalm 3:7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! For you strike all my enemies on the cheek; you break the teeth of the wicked.

What we pray always has an impact. And never more do we need to pray for our nation. This is not the first time such a prayer has been made by David. He has prayed this many times in his life. Many times in Israel that this was necessary.

David has a penchant for asking God to wake up.

Psalm 68:1 God shall arise, his enemies shall be scattered; and those who hate him shall flee before him!

David says, "Let the Lord's enemies be scattered; and let those who hate Him."

True Christianity is always persecuted. Believers advancing to spiritual maturity have always gotten opposition. People always point to the Crusades. Many of the kings wanted the plunder under the guise of freeing the holy land from Islam.

We defend our nation when it is necessary. The enemies of God Himself. Those who oppose God's client nation are enemies of God. "Let them flee from before You."

Make room for the punishment by God; and we then get in God's way. Pray and watch for results. We do not simply sit on our hands, but we know that God brings results. We go and do what we need to do, but we need to let the Lord be a part of the equation. We need to keep our focus on the Lord and His results. This prayer is a prayer request and a plea to God to come and deliver His people. David says, "Scatter them" (but that is up to you, God).

The confidence of David making this request. This is a prayer of great trust. This is David's singular request. He is under the faith rest drill at this point. So many people would be under a different influence...panic or chemical substance.

A Few Points on Psalm 68:1

1. This prayer sees and expects the march of God to victory. It takes David right along with it.
2. This prayer looks forward to the defeat of all opposition. That defeat is solely the work of the grace of God.
3. David may be the instrument of God's purposes, but God is still in control of the purposes. David must insure that he is within the parameters of God's plan. That is a positive answer to prayer. That is what we must insure.

We need to know what God's plan is; and we learn this by gaining wisdom. David came before us as a great believer. David knew what God expected, despite the fact that he failed from time to time.

This is related to Moses' prayer, when the Ark of God went ahead of them.

Numbers 10:35 And whenever the ark set out, Moses said, "Arise, O LORD, and let your enemies be scattered, and let those who hate you flee before you."

Numbers 10:36 And when it rested, he said, "Return, O LORD, to the ten thousand thousands of Israel."

Whenever Israel moved, the Ark went before them. Notice Moses' words: "Rise up, O Lord, and let Your enemies be scattered and let those who hate You flee from before you,"

Moses faces many circumstances that David faced. Moses is the first great leader. So David looks back on Moses and what he said and wrote. David was the student of a great man in Israel's history; and a student of God's actions within the history of nation Israel.

Why not? The prayer is effective. Moses was applying the faith rest drill. The Ark was a symbol of the Presence of God with Israel. Like the pillar of cloud and the pillar of fire (by night).

Before Israel went to battle, the Ark of God went before them. This would lead the people into the Land of Promise. Moses took the people right to the Jordan River. Here, it was right up to the southern desert south of Canaan.

Moses sent spies out to look over the land; and they found that the land was filled with powerful enemies, including giants. Thus the promise of God to defeat the many foes and to give the land to Israel. It was a terrible situation for Moses. God would defeat these enemies. It would be done under Joshua's leadership, not under Moses'. The people failed

The people forgot that they were a client nation which God had blessed with a land, promised originally to Abraham. So they would not go forward under Moses. David and Moses offered up the same prayer. In Moses' case, his prayer was postponed. David got immediate action.

The Lord hears. He answers these prayers, but in different ways. David did not want certain things, but David got what he requested. If we need to rescue our nation, what do we pray for? Where does the current direction of our nation fit with divine direction, client nation principles, and Christian teachings?

Biblical marriage is one man/one woman. Family is under attack as well. Single parent families are the push. Nationalism, and we live in an age where people are enamored with internationalism. A client nation falls within the parameters of divine establishment and divine institutions. A client nation will be preserved, even through all of that, by fulfilling the functions of the client nation. Missionaries, evangelism within the nation, a haven for the Jews. All of these are functions of a client nation.

Do you expect no more riots, no more weird legislation, no more leaders who have no idea what they are doing. What God does is for the benefit of this client nation; and it could hurt. But, as a believer, we need to be in the right place at the right time, no matter what the circumstances.

How apropos for David to utilize the same prayer and promise that Moses did.

David's Prayer and Moses' Prayer

1. The prayer of Moses in Num. 10:35, under a stressful situation, Moses faced the giants in the land and the fortified cities; and Israel had not been trained as warriors. This might be why they did not want to go into the land. But the Presence of God is everything. Even if the nation is not ready, even if we are not ready, you might as well get on board, because God exercises His will.
2. God's Presence is with His anointed man.
3. The prayer highlights the Lord rising up, in contrast to the many opposing David.
4. The Absalom rebellion was an uprising against God. God chose David to lead the nation. He did not choose Absalom.
5. A revolt against the choice of God was Absalom's plan. That is not a winning strategy. It is never a winning action for a nation to desert God.
6. The uprising was on the wrong side of Israel's history and destiny. Being on the wrong side of God's plan means that you are in trouble. Therefore, we should not get upset with what is happening. Remember, these people are God's opponents. God will not be mocked and His people will not be destroyed.
7. David's prayer is appropriate to the situation. It is brutal but appropriate; it is Imprecatory, but the right prayer.
8. This is a model of confidence and reliance upon God's actions and His answers.

This prayer can be achieved only if God works through His people. David as a talented and brilliant warrior cannot operate on his own. He needed to hoist the shield of faith. There is no other way when you are facing any sort of enemy. We do not have to be upset or sending emails to everyone you know about the terrible things happening in the United States. It is nice to know, but that should not be your focus.

When you receive these emails, remember, that is interesting; and then remember who is in charge.

4/10/2022 1Sunday

We are still in Psalm 3. You never know what you are going to find when you begin a book or a chapter. It boggles the mind as to all that there is there. We are going to complete this psalm today and we will start a new increment. Not going to tell us, since we may have to rebound.

The final verse is a benediction. It is the closing part of a prayer or of a message. This is what David is doing. He is ending his prayer.

Psalm 3:8 Salvation [or, deliverance] belongs to the LORD; your blessing be on your people! Selah.

David will declare that all deliverance is from God, and that will include his own deliverance. It is not going to be a force of arms, political maneuvers, economic sanctions, which will save David or any nation; nor will it be anything that David does.

David may have repeated this prayer before going into battle. He wanted to remind them that they would have the victory that day in battle. The second line is a picture of the generosity on the part of David. We know the history of David being deposed and being in exile; any selfish concerns do not blot out the faithful king's sense of responsibility to all the people. This is something that Absalom will never have. "Your blessings be upon Your people.” This is David’s prayer not just for his supporters, but for all Israel. David is a shepherd of the Lord’s people, just as he was a shepherd of his father’s people as a very young man. God knows all about His people, His covenant, and the interactions. David shows that he wants the nation healed and restored and brought back as a client nation to God, as it was designed to be. What David receives, he wants his nation to receive as well.

Would that our own leaders might listen and learn from this great king. We as a nation need purging of evil from our midst. If you do not realize this, we may not have much doctrine in our souls. We are not to bring an Absalom revolt against our own government. Let the Lord handle the purging in His Own way; and this may mean that discipline is put upon our nation.

There is plenty of activism. Discipline of the nation is also one way for God to purge a nation of evil. Activism may be in God’s way and outside of His plan. How much better than to let the Lord work? There is no comparison between God’s plan and our plan. May we live through this time remembering David’s prayer for the nation. This is God’s will and purpose for us as a nation. A large part of Israel will fall under divine discipline. Many of them are going to die.

20,000 of Absalom’s are chased and there was a slaughter of Absalom’s forces; and of Absalom himself. This may be a part of a solution for us into the future. This is a grim thing to say. We all want our nation to succeed; a moving away from our leaders who care much more about their own power. The divisions that we have in the nation; and this is the worse situation that we have ever been in since 1860. The bloodiest war ever fought on this continent. We can see the devastation. If you want war, you have to realize the pain and suffering involved and the death which is involved. This is exactly what happened to Israel at this moment. What may happen may not be easy or pleasant for us at this time.

Jim Myers and another believer in Ukraine. Great persecution taking place there; Satan does not like positive volition and this may be closely related to what is happening there. Whatever happens, live through this with patience. Psalm 121. This is how we serve the Lord in whatever circumstances that we find ourselves. This is when we use these two psalms in adversity. Psalms like this are needed at this moment.

This is a true picture of the Great King to come. The final prayer of our Lord on the cross. “Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing.” David prays for all the nation. The Lord prays for all of us. The protection for the plan of God in this life; the protection that we have from this moment until we reach heaven and eternal life.

This chapter closes with the word, selah; which means, think on this psalm; contemplate on this psalm.

What other applications can we make? This is a basic truth of Christianity. When we face many adversaries, we can pray with confidence. Our study of this psalm has shown us that the key to confidence comes from a personal knowledge of the character of God; and

Who He is. The fact that God has a personal plan for us. Our study has shown this. The effectiveness for each one of us. For any believer growing spiritually, fear and despair are not a part of our vocabulary. David used faith rest toward the One Who would protect him under all circumstances. God would place David back on the throne where he belonged. David showed to us that victory and deliverance can be provided even in the worst circumstances. In in the United States which appears to be on the brink of national disaster.

How do you know that evil is among us, that decisions are made that are detrimental to us. We have to see it, and we have to understand the divine institutions; and divine establishment. Most importantly, the standards of Bible doctrine in your soul. That is the great discriminatory. God's character.

In this midst of all this, David prayed for deliverance. The manifestation of David's confidence that he slept through the night, without worry. He put it in the Lord's hands. This psalm requires a conscience movement of these troubles from our own shoulders onto God's. We take our mind off our own problems and enemies and moving them into concentration and focus on the Lord. When our concentration on Him is greater than our concentration on our own problems. If you can sleep easily with all of those problems, then you consider why you are able to relax. Consider the source of your relaxation. This is why faith rest is a primary problem solving device. Then your spiritual maturity is manifested in life to the maximum.

After a good night's sleep, you have a cause for gratitude and trust. God is a perpetual sustainer. Our attitude ought to be, I cannot wait to see how God will choose to resolve this problem. There are problems which we cannot solve, but God can. Then a relaxed mental attitude in that day. Remember, in all of this...

Our Prayers to God

1. We do not pray for God's actions against other people in Imprecatory prayer. "God, wipe them out!" But that is not our prayer or David's.
2. Pray against the evil that they speak and against the evil that they do.
3. Also pray for positive volition in people that the Lord will work circumstances so that people are positive. That is the immediate solution. "Where did that come from? How did you do that?"
4. Pray for insight into the truth of divine establishment and Bible doctrine. To bring to mind those things which you need. Bobby's prayer is for God to bring to his mind the insight, words and teaching that we have. God works through people in fellowship to what is necessary for the plan of God.
5. This psalm is to be used in the daily spiritual life of any believer. Keep it near you; mark it well.
6. We approach current affairs, foreign and domestic, with the relaxed mental attitude expounded in Psalm 3. We emulate it. That is our job.
7. With this psalm firmly in our soul, there is only courage and faith rest to be applied

8. The shield of faith, which Bobby spent so much time on, is in full operation when Psalm 3 is in operation in your soul. Commit your way to the Lord. Keep growing and keep on understanding the Lord and His plan. Trust also in Him and He will bring it to pass.

Proverbs 3: 5–6 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him, and He will make straight your paths.

Solomon knew the prayer. God will make your paths straight, meaning that He will lead you in His plan.

We must always remember that God is on our side, with regards to protection and deliverance.

This and other psalms are adopting and adapted for our use in the Church Age. David's experience in conflict and this was adapted for use. The terminology for battle and war, which is all a part of this circumstance.

Paul was particularly adept at the usage of these techniques.

Psalm 3:8 Salvation [or, deliverance] belongs to the LORD; your blessing be on your people! Selah.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

4/10/2022 2Sunday

We will return to the psalms. Now we are going back to the book of Proverbs. We will explore some of the most practical standards for believers. We will study 2 of the most prominent subjects, sex and money.

One of the commandments tell us not to have sex outside of marriage. We don't know sometimes why God limits us in this way. We need to know the side effects of adultery. This should be at least something to consider.

Proverbs 5 Introduction

1. vv. 1–6 is a sex talk between father and son. Solomon having a talk with his son about sex.
2. Vv. 7–14 The final price of infidelity.
3. Vv. 15–20 the alternative; the delight of marital love.
4. A reminder that sins are ultimately an issue with the Lord. They may have repercussions with other people.
5. So beyond our own reaction, remorse or guilt or lack thereof, we cannot escape God's consequences vv.21–33

6. We find in Proverbs 5 the distinction between the immediate pleasures of a specific sin and its long-range consequences to our lives. This is something which so few consider.

So many people think only 2 minutes ahead in life. They do not consider everything else that might be involved here. Too many ignore or wish that this chapter would just go away; but this reveals God's standards. There is a reason why there are prohibitions. Yet, the rule of law is important for everyone. These laws keep us out of anarchy. This also keeps us out of soul anarchy. It is because it is to our best interest. The road to happiness, the road to fulfilment, all wrapped up in the mandates in Scripture. There is no other way to think about it.

We are Americans like our freedom, and we don't like others to tell us what to do. But we as believers must be authority oriented. We may not like it. God and His standards will not be mocked. There are always damaging issues to be reckoned with. Either immediate or distant. Whatever we do that is right has benefit.

There are reasons for adultery or promiscuity which this chapter addresses, which seem very difficult to reconcile. It does not cover every contingency. We consider child sexual abuse. This may lead to a number of things. This can lead to promiscuity or to frigidity. But this is not the fault of the child.

There are people who want to loosen up these laws; and adultery or promiscuity can become a way of life. That can be repaired, even though it is a very difficult road. Sometimes it may even require medication, to bring a person back to their faculties. With rebound and spiritual growth and ridding oneself of guilt, even these problems can be dealt with and they can be overcome. No problem is too great in human life that the application of Bible doctrine.

This chapter does not deal with specific situations. But there can be solutions for past abuse, no matter how terrible it is.

One other modern politically charged subject, which may be a stumbling block to some women. Why is the focus on the adulteress and not on the male players? They might say, men are the real problems, why are women singled out here?

This may arouse some sensitivities. We must consider the context. Let's give equal time to male jerks. What about the playboys, the love 'em and leave 'em types? Scripture does not leave them alone. No question that men have many problems in this area. One overarching principle, it is a big mistake to criticize the material covered. Scripture will cover that other things elsewhere. Don't get hung up about what you think should be included here.

This chapter makes obvious distinctions between men and women. There is no confusion of gender in this chapter. There are men and women and nothing in between.

Facts of the case: The boy in this context hears the results to himself of bad decisions. This is personal, and with application. Although this is wisdom which applies to any and all boys and men. It still has a personal bring to it here. Still pitfalls of a man's physical, sinful. This is a very necessary instruction for boys and men. Women should also be happy for this instruction, and men who are not involved in adultery, this is important. The overarching view of male and female relationships. Those relationships are long-term consequences which must be considered.

This chapter does not paint all women with the same brush. This is what a young man must look for. This can be a benefit to the woman and she can see what integrity looks like. For the boy to recognize the relationship. What are God's standards for her.

The context of this chapter, a father speaking to his son. He is educating his son about women. All of us who had a relationship with our father. A man of wisdom should make clear these circumstances; talk about these circumstances. This is Solomon talking about women. He knew 1000 of them, or more. Solomon is doing the explaining.

There are a lot of single mothers out there. They may have to speak to their sons about themselves and about other women. God gives a child a father and mother so that he can hear both sides of the issue. Girls understand boys sooner than most boys understand girls. Boys need some help with how to treat girls with help and consideration. What we have in this chapter is Mrs. Robinson. She is the cougar. That is what the woman is in Proverbs. She seduces the young man. This is all about that.

The loss of divine institutions; and it starts right here. Shouldn't a girl get the same instruction as this? Of course. But with the dangers of sexual activity. Women need to understand their roles as responders. The adulteress of this chapter is an aggressor. A woman is designed to be a responder, not the aggressor. Men need to have a bit put in their mouths and to reign them in. We men are aggressive and that can become overaggressive very easily. Solomon, this is what happens when you are over aggressive. What will happen? Where will it lead? This is good instruction for all of us. Trouble begins with men and women when they do not know the roles; and today these roles are being reversed. This is even encouraged in our society. Makes it difficult for us to have certain standards and how they differ from the society in which we live.

Wisdom for the woman must include a protective discernment and the drives of men who are natural aggressors. The woman needs to know how to spot the self-centered male aggressor. This is encouraged by all the media that we have. Failure to exercise good judgment; or early pregnancy. This can be a drastic change in direction for an individual. It certainly makes a change. We are designed to have children in the confines of marriage. We need to understand that.

All too often a modern talk today is about birth control. This is often what the talk is about. "I know you are going to do this, so let's get you some protection here." But there is no discussion of the problems of sex outside of marriage. There are many unseen repercussions for those involved in promiscuity. It is more than, don't do it because I say don't do it. There is a little knowledge, a little information, a bit of a frank talk. This is what Solomon is doing for his son. He is presenting him with knowledge that he will need in the future.

A universal and timeless study; and yet what can be one of the greatest things in life.

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT    4/13/2022 Wednesday

Bobby taught the teen class for about 10 years. At the end of his time there, he decided to teach the Song of Solomon. He felt that there was information important for teens. Bobby called the series "Sex, Drugs and Rock 'n' Roll."

Proverbs 5 is a father-son talk. It is very explicit about the dangers of the adulterous woman. A specific sin and its long-range outcome. If a person is wise, using the divine wisdom, and he will hear the consequences of the adulteress.

The immediate problem is political correctness. But this should not be a problem as this is the infallible Word of God; and this should not be a problem for women in Berachah. Why is one promiscuous woman singled out here. Why aren't the male players addressed here? The Bible addresses the dangers and pitfalls associated with such men. But this chapter has a specific focus. Women have much to learn from this chapter when it comes to men. Also remember, this chapter does not paint all women with the same brush. All women with integrity are naturally excluded, even when there is a past involved.

This helps a young man determine what to look for in a woman. The woman has the same situation. This helps her to understand what integrity looks like in God's eyes. The specific answer to the feminist is the context. There are 3 parts to the context which answers this question.

The Context of Proverbs 5

1. The boy applies this to himself. This is very personal. Its basic theme is to address the man's sinful inclinations and the dire results which go with it.
2. The context of this chapter specifically. This is a father speaking to his son. He is educating his son about women. Something the boy needs to learn about. There are things the boy needs to know before getting involved. We have no idea what kind of talk has occurred. In many cases, today, this has not happened.
3. Boys today need to know how to re-reat a women with respect. What should a boy watch out for and how far can you go? Do girls need this talk as well? Of course. The girl needs the talk from the standpoint of a responder. The woman is a responder as God has designed her to be.
4. Wisdom for the woman includes developing a protective discernment, including the motives and the drives of aggressive men. How to spot and how to avoid the self-centered womanizer. The lifelong repercussions of not doing this. Pregnancy outside of marriage, and this limits the woman's options considerably.
5. Why male and not female:

- a. Wisdom in the Bible is portrayed as a woman.
- b. The seductress in this context may also be a metaphor for false religion. It is not just about this boy and what he should and should not do; it is also a commentary on apostasy and false religion.
- c. The woman is the opposite of a woman of wisdom. Hence the adulterous label.
- d. She is the seductress of false religion, luring people away from the Lord and Bible doctrine by her siren song.

This was a great problem in Israel. It is why Bobby is talking about false religion here. This is why Jews were not to marry foreign women who worshiped idols. They would be unequally yoked. In this case, they were worshipers of idols. They were the phallic cults at the time. The metaphor of watching out for the adulterous woman corresponds to a nation being seduced by a false religion. God had to severely discipline Israel for this.

Many parents avoid these talks. Many reasons. It may be embarrassing to address. Or a parent may think he is a legalist or tyrant for addressing this. Laying down rules. Or they feel like tyrants for mentioning or imposing moral standards on children. There are no set of rules which are inviolable in our society. This shows. Parents have a very difficult time laying down the law, making rules and enforcing rules.

A parent may feel hypocritical for telling children not to do what they themselves did. Forget this and put aside the embarrassment for the child. The warning of pitfalls is never hypocrisy. Your own sins have cost you and you know the price you paid. With doctrine, you can always recover and you can move past. Why do you want to see your children repeat what you have done. Give them a chance to make good decisions.

Some of you have moved way past this; and some of you are grandparents. But this information is never too late. You never know how the Lord will use wisdom in your soul. This is just another increment that people need to know.

Train up a child in the way that he should go, and when they are old, they will not move from it.

These issues which we are studying are critical when it comes to bringing up a child. If they do not follow this wisdom, you have done your job. You have given them what they need. Proverbs 5 is a good place to start with any child.

When a child makes mistakes, they know where to go for guidance. Children may not return to Bible doctrine, but they may move towards divine establishment. Give them what they need to be on the right path. This can be true even if they never return to the pathway that you have given them. A happy marriage can still be found. You can have happiness in marriage by choosing the right one and doing/not doing many things.

This chapter is not about austerity or oppressive rules. It is wisdom to promote the best possible life. Not without problems, but with a way to handle problems. Always let the child know that they can come to them with any problem. Too many parents make it difficult for a child who has made a terrible decision. Always keep the door open. That goes for spouses as well. That is how you gain trust and show love. Even when the children have gone astray.

Loving your child means you want to protect them from making the same bad decisions which you made. Maybe, just maybe, even use yourself as an example. Sometimes hiding your past is not the best thing to do. Honesty between spouses is also important. This also helps bring a couple together, when they understand who they are and were. Kids need to hear the experience of the parents.

When children resist your instructions or your rules, it is always difficult to watch and to deal with. Especially as they get older and the repercussions become worse. Stay with it; do not give up on them. Proverbs 5 is the antidote to all of this. Bobby applauds parents and grandparents who have done this.

So many kids have no knowledge of standards outside of their own making; or outside of the standards of society. They will fall into all of this without the principles of wisdom. They will experience the dissatisfaction of life as a result. It shows more love to impose standards on your children. With no instruction in morality, wisdom, children are guaranteed to become losers.

Solomon is speaking to his son in this chapter and Solomon made many bad decisions with women. He had a harem of 1000 women. Who better to speak of the pitfalls than a man who knows all of the pitfalls so well. He has seen everything. He is revealed to his son some of his own story.

Solomon's greatest love he lost, the Shulumite women of SoS. There is no greater happiness than a marital situation that works. It does not always work; it is not always easy. This is what we need. One size does fit all. If you have important wisdom, you cannot afford to withhold it from your children.

Many women are just like men. They are clueless just like men do. They just do what they see on television and movies. There is so little wisdom to be found there. In Hollywood and real life, there relationships last for a very short amount of time.

There are dangers are Lotharios who are fast moving, slick talking, who make lots of booty calls. There are too many women answering the phone. So, what are you looking for? Integrity. What is in their souls. We have better have wisdom in our own souls.

How about character and integrity for a long-term benefit, for a lasting, satisfying benefit. The player has little or none of that. They are attractive and they have good lines. The seductress has the same signs as the male counterpart.

A person of wisdom recognizes where this goes immediately. What do you do when you hear the old line that you have heard so many times before? Wisdom is important in all of this, male or female.

Many of the dangerous types are older and they target younger women. Do not react to what you hear. Stay objective.

After this, we will move on to money. Solomon is the wealthiest man of his era. He had the most opulent court in the world. When the financial wizard speaks, we should listen. Sex and money are misunderstood today. Financial entanglements. He will also talk about laziness as well.

Preview of Coming Attractions

1. It is unworthy company and unreliable words that are two major enemies that trip the wise and make them foolish. We can have wisdom and we can turn foolish. We may not all face the seducer or the seductress. But we all certainly have money problems.
2. Choosing the right companions for life, leisure or business is a dominant theme in the pursuit of wisdom.
3. Honest and forthright people with integrity are always the wise choice. But we must make the wise choice.
4. The adulteress woman would be sneaky and dishonest. But she represents a bad companion and lying words or seductive words.
5. It is the same with a bad business partner or a bad business venture.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

4/14/2022 Thursday

It is Easter Sunday coming up. Also a special message.

This chapter are words of wisdom to a son from his father. The book of 1Kings says that Solomon wrote 3000 Proverbs and 1000 psalms. Solomon was quite talented, who was wiser than his son David. Solomon was the highest of the high. They are not included in the Old Testament. However, Solomon is the father in Prov. 5. We are told that Solomon's wisdom exceeded that of all those in the east and in Egypt. Solomon's interest and research covered nearly every aspect of knowledge from zoology, botany, philosophy, human nature. Solomon was very interested in human relationships.

Those who know nothing about Solomon know him as the wise man. Solomon requested knowledge from God. God said, "I have given you a wise and discerning heart. No one is like you and no one will arise after you." Therefore, what Solomon has to say is critical for us to hear. This is wisdom of a discerning heart, which is what Solomon requested from God.

There was a question asked. Who is the son to whom Solomon is speaking to? Is he a future king of Israel. We do not know to whom Solomon was speaking. It is certainly a fact that a man, male, boy, teenager is receiving this instruction. But don't we all need such instruction.

The Audience for Proverbs 5

1. This proverb is not meant for any one person. It is meant for every man.
2. This is why, as a writer, using a variety of vehicles to get across some information. Solomon is doing that right here. He uses this effective father-son genre. This would be a logical vehicle for him to use.
3. This is a vehicle for Solomon to teach every son. That is why the son is not named. Solomon is teaching all of us.
4. This is what every father should teach his son. Now fathers have the wisdom and this is why it needs to become clear to the reader.

The death-dealing dangers of consorting with a person outside of wedlock.

Recognizing What Adultery Really is

1. Since this chapter is specifically about adultery, we know immediately that adultery is a lie from the beginning. There is nothing honest about adultery.
2. If you think that you have found the right relationship with a man or a woman based upon adultery, remember, you found that person by cheating.
3. Nothing prevents a person without integrity from cheating again. Too many people go this route and they find their soulmate through adultery. This is a lie from the beginning. Don't think that the adulterous person won't get tired of you.
4. If you think someone who cheated to get you won't cheat again. Adultery begins with a mental attitude. It is a sin; but most overt sins begins with an attitude. A dishonesty. It is contagious and it is something which does not go away once it has been satiated by one person. The attitude is still there; the recklessness is still there.
5. Know why and how to avoid such pitfalls and traps.

Solomon is telling us in a 5 stage presentation the 5 stages of adultery. A lot of this, the poor kid does not get. The intent of this chapter can be plainly stated. Nothing in life so clouds judgment. This includes homosexuality, transsexuals, and normal sex outside of marriage.

Marriage and the LGBTQ Community

1. Marriage in the Biblical sense is not possible for the LGBTQ people. No matter how the relationship is packaged in humanistic, cosmic system terms, it is not possible. Even though today, this marriage is accepted and promoted.
2. Love is not an issue in same sex marriage. They said it is, but it isn't.
3. The issue is the Biblical standard for marriage. Saying "I love this person" is not good enough.

4. Nowhere in Scripture, is such a relationship honored. These are described as perversions which bring divine discipline. Sodom and Gomorrah was destroyed for the widespread perversity in that city. We see this being promoted in every corner. Some churches; in the courthouse; the rise of the LGBTQ community. They have as much power in the country today. They are being heard and their policies are being implemented. J
5. Marriage in the Bible is clearly one man with one woman. No exceptions. True from the beginning in the garden and throughout human history.
6. All of these activities by people in the LGBTQ is fornication.
7. There is no commensurate parallel of Biblical marriage and the marriage of two men or two women. There is no moral equivalent. We must fall back on what the Scripture says. From the humanistic view, their logic makes sense.
8. Same-sex marriage or adulterous relationships can never be equal to or as satisfying as the Biblical standard for such activity. This never provides what the adulterous couple and same sex couples think that it will. They turn themselves over to their own perversity. There are no exceptions.

We all know very nice people who are homosexual. That does not mean that we treat them badly. No matter all their good qualities, they are perverse.

If Bobby said this in front of some groups, he would be accused of using hate speech. We live by the standards of Scripture, which define absolute right and wrong. Otherwise, we come up with our own right and wrong. Today, what is right, used to be wrong; and vice versa. People make up their own standards.

As Christians, we do not hate anyone, including anyone in the LGBTQ community, as they claim that we do. When it is severe enough, we face divine discipline. But we still do not hate them.

Hatred as a Mental Attitude

1. Hating anyone is a mental attitude sins; and we cannot afford this.
2. Hating is ignoring the divine mandate for impersonal love towards all mankind. This supercedes any attitude that we might have toward anyone else.
3. Hating launches a life filled with bitterness, discontent, anger, all outside the spiritual life and reversionism.
4. In those cases, happiness and an relaxed mental attitude can never be achieved by a believer who is out of fellowship.

We may wonder, how can such people who are destroyi us in Washington, we cannot afford to even hate them. It is a waste of energy for them to do what they can to sell them. Our society today has been turned upside down in these endeavors. All o this has been fruitless and a detriment.

Sinners need Jesus Christ, not a correct of their morality. Real change only happens when a person grows spiritually.

When you are thinking about these things from the past, also remember, how far have I come, from those things in the past. Maybe that will help you to recognize the power of Bible doctrine in your life for the better.

This has been made into a crusade for freedom and liberation; but Jesus says, the truth will make you free. Freedom and the truth of the Word of God; this is the only way to have true freedom. It is a personal freedom; and we can have freedom even in a tyrannical society.

But sexual perversions are the road to slavery in the soul.

Homosexuality and Freedom

5. Homosexuality and lesbianism is slavery, not freedom.
6. This is slavery to the sin nature. We have areas of weakness and trends of the sin nature. People are not born lesbians or gay; but these are trends of their This activity is enslavement to the sin nature. This is a constant state of sin nature control.
7. It does not matter the declarations, the legislation or the movements.
8. It is described in the Scripture as sin. It is sin and it is degeneracy; it is never freedom.
9. There is another aspect to this. This is severely punished by the Lord. Gen. 18:20 19:4 Romans 1:26 1Corinthians 6: 2Peter 2:6 Jude 7.
10. The homosexual and lesbian can never be liberated by promotion of their sins. They strive for it, but they can never have it. No Christian should ever attack anyone physically or mentally or emotionally. Only the truth of the Word of God can liberate any individuals. We see freedom disappearing from our country as the attacks on Christianity are ramped up. Freedom does not exist; and we are losing it, just for those reasons.

As Christians, even though we are not to attack or persecute anyone, we are able to speak the truth about this or any other subject, without it being a direct personal attack on anyone. Do not make it personal. Do not get bogged down in arguments about humanistic viewpoints. Stick to Biblical principles.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we can take a stand and do no other. The hatred is always on the other side. Our answer to the LGBTQ question is always scripture. It is always, what does the Scripture say.

Let's move back to adultery in general.

Adultery

1. The colossal compromise of adultery, no matter how we think it may solve our problems, it will not. It will not solve sexual or espousal unhappiness. It skews our values. It has to.
2. Our moral and spiritual standards are lowered or dropped. They have to be.
3. It causes us to stagger through life like a drunken sailor. We are looking for something which is just outside of our grasp. Adultery is fool's gold. Also known as iron pyrate. It shines and looks very valuable, but it is worthless.
4. Nor will indiscriminate sex solve the problems of unhappiness, loneliness or lack of fulfilment.
5. Nor will it ever give true and maximum pleasure, which is God's design. It may seem new and exciting, but you are still you. In the long run, this is what is true. This is the long-term aspect of all of this. The Scriptures are never wrong. Adultery will never cure anything.
6. Promiscuity and adultery simply cause other problems. This does not solve self self-centeredness.
7. There is also the loss of true sexual pleasure and satisfaction with the right person. Those are bad results.

This can all be overcome with spiritual growth. This takes away time which could be used in the right relationship. Building capacity to love takes time. You begin the relationship with a higher capacity to love. Just follow the standards of wisdom and doctrine in this chapter. The spiritual life is designed to move past where you have been before.

Sex was designed by God. It was designed by God for marriage. If you have been involved in that sort of thing before or even right now, these principles are critical right now. This is to get you to get past these mistakes. Proverbs is designed to correct all of these things. Proverbs 5 is ahead of us.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

4/17/2022 1Sunday

Communion April 17, 2022

It is best to have the understanding of the communion.

Who is Jesus Christ? He is God but He is man. In one Person; and these natures are inseparably united. Jesus had all the assets of God, but He was totally subservient to the plan of God. At the same time, His divine nature was....

Almighty God in the form of a person. Jesus came to die. That in itself is astonishing. As God, He could not die. But as man, He could. Otherwise, we are doomed to eternal condemnation. The Lord's mission and objective was to take away the sins of the world. What did He have to do with our sins? Nothing; and as God, He could have nothing to do with any sin. That is what Jesus accomplished. He took all of our sins upon Himself on the cross. Why would He do such a thing? Only perfect man could be an acceptable substitute for God for sinful humanity. God's justice had to be satisfied before we could have any relationship with God. God's grace is amazing grace, provided that Jesus is the go-between man and God.

Romans 5:8 While we were yet sinners, Christ died as a substitute for us.

1Peter 2:24 He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By his wounds you have been healed.

Because Jesus died as a substitute, a spiritual death, sin is no longer affixed to us. All the punishment went to the humanity of Jesus Christ; and all the grace comes to us.

John 3:16 "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life.

One simple act of faith alone in Christ alone is all it takes. The cross is not the end of Christ's work for us. After the Lord died spiritually, then He died physically. He dismissed His Spirit. He was placed in a tomb, and that was He was supposed to stay. But He was resurrected and is seated now at the right hand of God. What more can the forces of evil do, if the One they have killed does not stay dead.

His resurrection is indispensable part of the gospel.

1Corinthians 15:32 What do I gain if, humanly speaking, I fought with beasts at Ephesus? If the dead are not raised, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

Death is presented as inhalation. If this is true, why not turn to a hedonistic life. Live life just as we please; think of no one else, as life will soon pass, with nothing to follow. That's grim.

1Corinthians 15:14–17 And if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain. We are even found to be misrepresenting God, because we testified about God that he raised Christ, whom he did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised. For if the dead are not raised, not even Christ has been raised. And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins.

Death could not hold us. Our freedom from sin was...

Acts 13:36–39 For David, after he had served the purpose of God in his own generation, fell asleep and was laid with his fathers and saw corruption, but he whom God raised up did not see corruption. Let it be known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you, and by him everyone who believes is freed from everything from which you could not be freed by the law of Moses.

Easter celebrates that Christ has risen. Jesus is the firstfruits from the dead. The death and resurrection of Jesus Christ is the supreme fact of human history. This is the totality of the magnificent work of the Lord Jesus Christ. Who provides out salvation.

Millions have proclaimed His resurrection and have affirmed that He was raised.

Skeptics ask, does he really live? No doctrine is more hated than the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. There are those who call this a myth perpetuated by His distraught disciples. Some like Thomas would not believe unless he could see it for himself.

In 2000 years history indeed distorted and exaggerated. Some have said just His Spirit arose, which is just a compromise. Then celebrate Easter like anyone else.

When someone passes away, he leaves his work and ideas behind. Even though dead, his words and works remain with us. These things are left in the visible world. That is NOT what Jesus leaves behind.

Some who do not altogether reject Jesus, they speak of Jesus as a great leader, as a prophet of His time Who just left a mark behind. They conjure no personal relationship, as the Bible unequivocally states.

Shortly after the resurrection, the Scripture provided proof in the statement of Acts 1:3

Jesus appeared many times after the resurrection. 500 witnesses. That would have been accepted in any court of law, so point proven. But what about proof for those today? How can they be convinced? How could we be convinced? Let's now approach that problem.

During His public ministry, the Savior said, "You are Peter, and upon this rock I will build My church, and the gates of Hades will not overpower it." The church continues to be constructed. To this moment, the gates of hell have not prevailed against the church, though every effort is made and will continue to be made.

The keeping power of the Living Founder of the church; and in our continued existence. Without this, the church would have disappeared long ago. Nor could it have borne fruit as it has. We do not serve a dead man. We are founded on the Living God.

Another proof comes after the crucifixion and burial. The disciples, after this, returned to their various occupations. They were a much discouraged and disillusioned group of men. They felt that it was all over. After observing the death of Christ, they had embraced a false hope. But the news of the resurrection revived them and brought them together in new confidence. All that Jesus had said came to them in truth. These disciples went everywhere, jeopardizing their lives. They organized countless believers to perpetuate the glorious truth of Jesus Christ. It was the constant reiteration of the resurrection which caused the gospel to spread. The Romans killed thousands of Christians, and Christianity kept on growing.

We are certain that if Jesus Christ has not risen from the dead and appeared to His disciples, they would not have gone out as dedicated messengers. All were martyred except John. Who would gather to hear a message of a dead Christ? But hundreds and thousands were willing to hear about a Living Christ. Without this resurrection, there could be no Christianity, no church. It all hinges upon this fundamental truth.

1Corinthians 15:14 And if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain.

But the Lord has arisen.

Another great evidence is the Bible. It stands or falls upon the truth of the resurrection. The Scripture would be a total loss to us. If Christ has not risen, a large share of this book would be untrue and unworthy as a revelation of God. If any part of the Bible is wrong, then how could we hold to it?

The Bible is the infallible Word of God. It has survived through thousands of attempts to eradicate it. The greater part of the New Testament deal with the resurrected Christ. The 4 gospels present Him as He was; everything else presents Jesus as He is.

Why would anyone want to dedicate their lives to a fictitious Person? The Bible has continued unscathed because it proclaims a Living Jesus Christ. Death is death for us. When the gospel of a crucified and risen Christ, and a message is believed, then those who express that faith become regenerate.

If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. Behold, new things have come.

Christ in you, the confidence of glory.

This is not faith in a nation hero or in brilliant men or women who have done great things. This is faith in a Living Savior. Mary Magdalene wept when she came to an empty tomb. But how sadder that this would have been if His body was still there. The stone was moved aside to let the world see that He has risen. We celebrate today the truth of Christ's resurrection, the truth of our salvation. We have life because He lives. We have eternal assurance because He was resurrected.

Some have come to Berachah because it is Easter; and others have come, simply because this is where we all come on Sundays.

We are all adopted into the family of God. Our adoption is great news on this Easter Sunday. We are adopted in the spiritual sense as sons and as daughters of God. We did not begin our lives as members of God's family. We were orphans at the moment that we were born. Excluded from the life of God.

The Spirit Himself testifies that we are adopted. Heirs also and fellow-heirs with Christ. We have all the benefits and privileges of a family relationship. Including those inherent to God the Son.

It is a wonderful thing to be adopted into a family where there was no family before. With all the rights and all the advantages which are our heritage. This is not signing a bunch of papers, but we are adopted by faith alone in Christ alone. The immediately imputation of Christ's righteousness. We are in a state of righteousness by a simple act of faith; and then we are baptized by God the Holy Spirit and placed in infinite union with Christ. We share everything that Christ is and all that He has. By adoption, we are fellow-heirs with Christ.

1Peter 1:4 ...to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you,...

After Paul had persecuted Christians, Jesus appeared to him and knocked him off his horse (donkey?). Paul was sent to open the eyes of others to see light rather than darkness. An inheritance to be sanctified in Him. That is what Paul would preach.

As an adopted family, we are in union with Christ, and we have become heirs to His resurrection. An adult takes into his family a child who is not his own and brings him into his family, to make his child a part of the new family. Adoption is very common and a very important part of our society today. They should be fulfilled today. For those who are helpless and hopeless. This association brings love and care and standards of law and of freedom; and for Christian families, parents teach the gospel of Jesus Christ. This is a part of their responsibility.

This is also very important in the Roman world. Their adoption was based upon a Roman act of an aristocrat. An aristocrat would adopt someone who they saw as worthy of carrying on the family name and fortune; and these things were passed down to the aristocrat. The highest honor to that son; the future heir of the estate. This is what adoption means to those adopted into Jesus' family. We have the promise of a future as adopted children of God. We have the firstfruits of the Spirit, awaiting eagerly our adoption as sons and the redemption of our bodies. We know from other verses, Acts 10:43, that Jesus provided redemption for His Own. 1Corinthians 1:30 we receive redemption when we receive Christ through faith alone in Christ alone. When we trusted the resurrected Lord for salvation, we are redeemed for our sins. Indelibly connected to the resurrected Jesus Christ. We have thanked and praised Him ever since.

We still possess a sin nature; our bodies are still corrupt. We are still in bondage and we need deliverance. The redemption of the body is a part of our adoption. Our adoption is not complete at this time. We also have to have an experience called a redemption of the body. When is our adoption complete? Many think, not without cause, that we are fully adopted at salvation. We are that positionally. In the fullness of time, when Christ sent forth His Son so that we might receive the adoption as sons. The cross is the basis for that. We, as Church Age believers, believe in that after the cross. We receive that adoption as sons. That is the judicial aspect of our adoption. We are born again.

We are children by birth, or by the second birth. He has a legal and guaranteed eternal relationship by faith in Christ. Once we are born into the family of God, we cannot be removed.

Adoption also is related to the redemption of our bodies. We must undergo that experience, a bodily change, and that is in the future. Our bodies are still in a corrupt state. This is when our adoption is complete. This will happen when we receive in incorruptible body, a resurrection body. We can connect our adoption to our eternal inheritance and to His resurrection and to our resurrection. Our bodies will be fully redeemed and fully adopted and fully restored at that time.

For our citizenship is in heaven, so we await the resurrection. Our bodies will be transformed from its humble state to the resurrection glory of the Lord.

Subjecting all things to Himself includes death. We conquer death as a part of our inheritance. We will be transformed, including a physical change in our bodies. God will change our bodies so that it conforms to His body in the resurrection. This transition from the grave to the new body, it was very different. Ours will take on the eternal aspect guaranteed by His resurrection. Adopted children as fulfilled in our resurrection.

1Corinthians 15:51–52 Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed.

Our body will be resurrected, changed and delivered. Then is our adoption complete and the inheritance which is undefiled is realized in our new resurrection bodies.

At the resurrection, all of these old things will be done away from. And He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and there will not longer be any mourning or crying.

Ephesians 1:5 ...He predestined us for adoption as sons through Jesus Christ, according to the purpose of his will,...

The redemption of all believers has always been a part of God's plan. We are not equal with Christ, but we are in union with Him and this is confirmed in v. 11. In Him we have obtained an inheritance, having been predestined according to the purpose of Him who works all things according to the counsel of his will,...

Jesus is the firstfruits of the resurrection. But each in his own order,...

At the return of Christ, the adopted receive their inheritance. The resurrected Christ will return for us. For the Lord Himself will return from heaven with a shout and the dead in Christ will rise first, then we who are alive and remain at the coming of the Lord and meet the Lord in the air. That is the moment that we will receive our inheritance.

Next will be the church, and we do not know what that will take place. The Scripture tells us that is imminent.

If we miss the resurrection to eternal life, then we will be resurrected to eternal condemnation. All humans will be raised from the grave. One to eternal life and one to condemnation.

The closing message, believe in the Lord Jesus Christ before it is everlastingly too late. What an easy way to receive the greatest inheritance.

Lesson #03                                  Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT      4/24/2022 1Sunday

We are still prefacing Proverbs 5. There are many objections to what is found in this chapter.

The dangers of sexual promiscuity, particularly adultery in marriage.

Vv. 1–6 is between father and son and the discussion is adultery. Perhaps the son is about to be married or is getting serious about a woman, and, for whatever reason, Solomon sees a good reason to warn the son about the superficial attractions in a relationship. There are principles applicable to our own lives.

Adultery as per Proverbs 5

1. There is a moral and spiritual compromise with adultery. These standards disappear or are just dropped.
2. No matter how we think this might solve our problems, it colors all of our value judgments, it solves nothing; but it exacerbates our problems.
3. Adultery is an attempt to find happiness just outside of one's grasp. No matter how good it seems in the beginning, it heads down a path of despair.
4. Instead of fulfillment, promiscuity or adultery cause a host of other problems for future male/female relationships. It affects the future. This is not isolated that you just blow it off and move on.

Adultery indicates self-centeredness and a lost capacity for personal love. A diminishing of true sexual pleasure and satisfaction with the right person. A strong and fulfilling marriage, staying within the confines of Biblical marital instructions, that maintain faithfulness in marriage, that build a trusting relationship in life. It is something to be strived for; and it is something to grow into. Violating that relationship sets it back. This has a powerful impact on everything and everyone around. That is the corporate witness of everyone around. It is the environment for raising the next generation. Divine establishment is critical in a client nation. Critical for parents teaching doctrine. It is worth every possible effort, as Solomon understands, to guide his son. This keeps us from falling into this bottomless pit, which is what Solomon himself experienced. He describes his own effort to achieve happiness through pleasure and sex.

Ecclesiastes 7:26 And I find something more bitter than death: the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and whose hands are fetters. He who pleases God escapes her, but the sinner is taken by her.

Ecclesiastes 7:27 Behold, this is what I found, says the Preacher, while adding one thing to another to find the scheme of things—

Ecclesiastes 7:28 which my soul has sought repeatedly, but I have not found. One man among a thousand I found, but a woman among all these I have not found.

There is no fulfillment or pleasure in any of this. This is a rather strong statement. He is bitter, but that is his experience in life. His sexual conquests failed to provide what he was looking for, the right woman, someone he could fit into his life.

A man and a woman complement each other in every way; but Solomon never had this to stand by his side as the king. In SoS, he probably found the right one, but she rejected him. Solomon understood. Down through the ages, man has frequently rejected right man for a right woman. Other things are prohibited.

This was Solomon's downfall; and it was devastating to him. There is hardly anything worse in life than that situation. Solomon is imparting knowledge to his son.

Ecclesiastes 7:29 See, this alone I found, that God made man upright, but they have sought out many schemes.

Solomon, from all outward appearances, was the most desirable man in the world. He was handsome and wealthy. At some point in his life, he took advantage of this situation, and he became a collector of women. People collect all sorts of things; for Solomon, it was women. He traveled throughout Israel and beyond the track down and claim the most attractive and exotic females for his harem. He was the ultimate man when it comes to disregarding the laws of faithfulness. One the woman was in the harem, she was stuck there for the rest of his life. 700 wives and 300 mistresses.

Solomon took a lot of time assembling such a harem; and this distracted him from being a king. Solomon blatantly rejected the mandates of the Lord concerning sexuality, adultery, and he took the foreign wives who were prohibited by the Law. Moabites, and many others. 1Kings 11:2 tells us he held fast to these women in love. This was despite the command not to associate with foreign women.

People often point out that the Bible speaks of sin. The Bible never approves of sin. We know what it does and what it leads to. They will surely turn your heart away after foreign gods. Solomon's wives turned his head away from the wisdom of Bible doctrine.

God predicted that these wives would turn Solomon's heart away from God. He began to follow the practices of the heathen around him.

1Kings 11:3 He had 700 wives, who were princesses, and 300 concubines. And his wives turned away his heart.

When you hook up with a woman who is outside of Bible doctrine, they will turn your head away. They will lead you away. Can you recover? Solomon did and he writes Proverbs 5. More is not better. 1 is the correct amount.

1Kings 11:4 For when Solomon was old his wives turned away his heart after other gods, and his heart was not wholly true to the LORD his God, as was the heart of David his father.

Solomon practiced syncretism. One foot in and one foot out. You cannot substitute and combine. It always leads to where Solomon is in this context.

We have just studied David and he was at his worst. Solomon did not follow the heart of his father. David got out of fellowship, but he always returned. Solomon did not return as his father had. The central cause was all these women.

1Kings 11:5 For Solomon went after Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

1Kings 11:6 So Solomon did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and did not wholly follow the LORD, as David his father had done.

Solomon was an expert at failure in this area. When you make these kinds of mistakes and recover, you are surely the expert in this realm. This is why he warns his own son. Solomon had spent his life involved with seductive women.

It does not take 1000 women; it can be just one.

All of the great kings collected a harem; and this was a status symbol among the kings. But this ruined his greatness. He did not need to act like the other kings of the near east.

1Kings 11:7 Then Solomon built a high place for Chemosh the abomination of Moab, and for Molech the abomination of the Ammonites, on the mountain east of Jerusalem.

1Kings 11:8 And so he did for all his foreign wives, who made offerings and sacrificed to their gods.

Unequally Yoked

1. This is why the Scripture prohibits being unequally yoked to an unbeliever. It prohibits promiscuity and adultery. That too is being unequally yoked. Sex is an intimate act which does yoke you to that person.
2. Adultery is always a strong influence and never adds to the spiritual life of any believer. It detracts every time. You are out of fellowship, first of all. It is harder to recover. It becomes addictive. 2Corinthians 6:14 Do not be bound together with unbelievers. What partnership is there between lawlessness and godliness? What partnership is light with darkness. Marriage is the greatest relationship on this earth. Destroying marriage also destroys family.
3. Being attached to reversionist believers, who are not like minded, can be very detrimental to your spiritual status. There is no true intimacy, even with the believer who does not have doctrine in the soul. That is for men and women.

Power and good looks can be very attractive. And this is true of men who are responders, as so many men have female souls today.

Solomon forsook the true God of Israel. He was sucked into the thinking of outside nations. He found only bitterness to be with such women. This was a nightmare. Can you imagine 1000 women in one palace under one roof? Can you imagine so many women desiring Solomon and to further their own aims?

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

4/24/2022 2Sunday

5–10 minutes missing,

There are women who are conniving seductresses. Solomon was arrogant and habitually out of fellowship with God, and he got trapped many times. Some might say, what a way to go! I would like to experience some of that. This ruins the greatest relationship that can be had in life. This kind of relationship between husband and wife cannot be found anywhere else in life. It is worth preserving and understanding where the pitfalls are. This is a recollection of a horrid result of adultery.

Illicit Sex, David and Solomon

1. Sex is designed by God for unity and intimacy. That is not found on a one-night stand. It is designed for one man and one woman in marriage. Gen. 2:24 Eph. 5:31.
2. To engage in adultery or premarital sex is to destroy the virtue that makes sex and marriage wonderful. It is not destructive for all time. You have one strike and maybe more against you.

3. Because of Solomon's decadence, because he so consistently tried to gratify his prurient desires, Solomon lost the sense of responsibility to God and to his people. The spiritual life and his kingship. It did not make that much difference to him. This certain detracts from other parts of life.
4. He lost the genuine love found with the relationship between one man and one woman. To miss out on this is guaranteed by doing what Solomon did.
5. Promiscuity destroyed Solomon's ability to have true love. This is true when you pursue happiness in any field. It will never result in that which you seek.
6. Like David, his father, whose kingdom, for various reasons, was in disarray, was just about destroyed. Adultery almost destroyed Israel. Solomon went the same route, and put the kingdom in a greater disarray. Solomon is regarded as the greatest love of his day, but he was a first-rate failure in this realm. Ecclesiastes indicates that he was still seeking and he did not find. One woman in life is the fulfilling and satisfying relationship. This is the complete relationship. It is an expression of unity, truthfulness and love. True intimacy. It can be found nowhere else. Love is not sex and sex is not love. Solomon tells his son, "Do not do what I did."

Solomon will leave no stone unturned; no foolish mistake. Solomon's son needs to listen.

Warning Against Adultery

Proverbs 5:1 My son, be attentive to my wisdom; incline your ear to my understanding,...

Proverbs 5:2 ...that you may keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge.

Discretion is virtue; discretion is doctrine, discretion is making good decisions. Solomon himself had failed to have discretion. Solomon knew the value of wisdom through experience. The spiritual life must come first.

If someone shakes their finger at you and says, "Do not do this..." people respond with, "You tell me I cannot do this, and I will go ahead and do it." That is the anti-authority approach of our people today.

Today, people make morality to be whatever they want it to be. Adultery is the worst relationship that a man and a woman can have together. Discretion is the name of the game. The absolute standards can be found in the wisdom of Proverbs 5.

Similar topics covered in Proverbs 7.

Proverbs 7:4 Say to wisdom, "You are my sister,"...

Your Sister and Wisdom

1. Sister is a metaphor for wisdom.
2. Know wisdom as well as you know your sister. She is the personification of wisdom.

3. Your sister knows you and she has no agenda but your best interest.
4. From sister-wisdom, you can get good advice.
5. Sister-wisdom can see what is happening. Family knows one another. They know the strengths and weaknesses of others. It is easy for family members to see the family member weakness coming out. We can translate this to wisdom from a family member.
6. Your sister-wisdom is objective, where other women are subjective.

Proverbs 7:4b ...and call insight your intimate friend,...

A wise woman can be very objective. "I can tell you what his agenda is..." Wisdom demands that you evaluate and that you have discernment. To keep him from an adulterous relationship.

Foreign women led Solomon down the wrong path; and they flattered him. A woman can lead someone like Solomon down the road of idolatry. Then it is a long climb out. "Do not get entangled to a foreign woman."

There were women who came to Berachah Church, found a husband, and then lured their husbands away from the church. They fell into the wrong situation of their own choosing. Any woman can seduce a man easily. If she is interested in him... Some men will not consider the effects of being married to the wrong person. Two strikes against the marriage before you even get into it.

Proverbs 7:5 ...to keep you from the forbidden woman, from the adulteress with her smooth words.

Proverbs 7:6 For at the window of my house I have looked out through my lattice,...

This is what the seductress can do to the naive boy.

Proverbs 7:7 ...and I have seen among the simple, I have perceived among the youths, a young man lacking sense,...

The seductress can pick out such a man and lead him astray. This is as prevalent today as in any era.

Proverbs 7:8 ...passing along the street near her corner, taking the road to her house...

He comes to the fork in the road, and he is ready to come to her house.

Proverbs 7:9 ...in the twilight, in the evening, at the time of night and darkness.

Whenever he can get to her, he will go. Morning, noon and night.

This is also a very clandestine meeting. If a relationship must be kept secret, then there are problems with it.

Proverbs 7:10 And behold, the woman meets him, dressed as a prostitute, wily of heart.

This woman knows what she is doing; and she knows how to seduce him. That is the man's downfall.

The rest of Proverbs 7 describe the seduction, which we will examine later. Proverbs 9:13–18 also covers this sort of material. The Bible is very explicit.

Proverbs 5:1a My son, be attentive to my wisdom;...

This is calling attention to the son, much like the drill sergeant might be to his recruits. "You have got to hear this, because it is critical to your future."

Proverbs 5:1b ...incline your ear to my understanding,...

Young men often close their ears to fatherly advice. Solomon knows more than anyone else on this subject. No one has had more bad experience than Solomon. Solomon's son has no wisdom as his father has. Kids think that they know more. They think that their parents are outdated and ignorant.

Final Points

1. Divine wisdom has no expiration date. It does not matter the era or the culture. It is still true and it is still wisdom.
2. It is never outmoded by progressive time or relative human standards.
3. It stands against humanistic, relativistic, progressive standards.
4. The standards of divine wisdom supercede all current notions and ideologies.
5. Most of the false teaching today is cosmic system driven and in direct contradiction to divine wisdom. Without knowing truth, they blunder their way through life. They never have the fulfillment or love that God has designed for them. Children can best learn correct standards from their parents.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT 4/27/2022 Wednesday

Doctrine is always applicable.

Solomon begins chapter 5 with an urgent request; more like a demand, as he is talking to his son, and he wants his son to listen carefully. He is going to give his son a lesson concerning critical knowledge of the opposite sex.

Sex education has always been a big topic as to when and how it should take place and the schools have taken over that application. Sex education needs to be taught at home rather than by a teacher who may not have the wisdom to teach what he is teaching.

Proverbs 5:1 My son, be attentive to my wisdom; incline your ear to my understanding,...

Solomon is teaching what he knows from his own experience and mistakes. No one knows more than Solomon does on this particular subject. He has been through every circumstance with women than anyone could possibly go through. His decisions have been fraught with personal problems that resulted from his mistakes.

Proverbs 5:2 ...that you may keep discretion, and your lips may guard knowledge.

Discretion is the purpose of the whole lesson, that Solomon's son might exercise discretion in this particular area of life. This is a world that very few people really understand. This is a rare commodity among men today, easily subjected to attractive women (even those on television).

Discretion

1. Discretion is mzima.
2. This means purpose, discretion, device.
3. This refers to practices or patterns of life.
4. The practices, the patterns of a person, the patterns a person develops reflects the way that person thinks. The practices of our life are based upon our thinking. Discretion means both.
5. This is the full extent of thinking and acting with discretion. It begins with the thought process and it extends... Wisdom guided by discretion.

Discretion means, positive practices for this young person, which would be to this young man's benefit. What does the practice mean?

What Is the Practice of Mzima?

1. Mzima is linked to knowledge and reasoning skills. Discretion requires a reasoning skill, step-by-step as to what you are going to do.
2. Within the whole of Proverbs 1–8, mzima is parallel to sound wisdom and understanding.
3. Thus is a wisdom which guides one's life from harm. You can end up in some very dark corners in life without discretion.
4. Discretion ranks as one of the key terms for wisdom by the author.
5. Mzima is wisdom applied and wisdom resident in your thinking.

Solomon demands that his son hears and makes good application. Solomon's son, being a young man,

Proverbs 7. The principles of wisdom may keep you from an adulteress. Solomon wants to keep his son from a foreigner. This is primarily used for women who worship other gods. This is the reason for the need of discretion. Solomon compares this discretion to a sister. Wisdom is often portrayed by the metaphor of a woman.

“Listen here, boy, to what your sister says to you,” is sort of an interesting way to put it. This is a good analogy for good advice to this young man.

Solomon does not want his son to make bad decisions and then live with the repercussions of those decisions. Wisdom here is portrayed as an older sister, with the younger sister.

Wise consideration for her dummy brother. Her consideration translates to words.

Proverbs 5:2b ...and your lips may guard knowledge.

Natsar

1. This means to watch, to guard, to keep.
2. Thus lips guard knowledge. They keep knowledge ready for use.
3. They act at just the right time.
4. This knowledge is kept in the soul for just the right usage. Reserve knowledge; understand that knowledge.
5. It is kept in order to respond with a wise choice to temptations. This is about temptations.
6. And it is kept in order to make good decisions in the face of provocations.

The point is, for this boy, just an outright no when the temptation is there. What are the results of failing to reserve this knowledge?

You keep wisdom in your soul for that split second of decision. There are times when you can mull over a decision and consider it from many different angles. There are times when this sort of decision must be made in a split second. That temptation will happen in a flash. When you say no, then you are acting on the basis of discretion.

Otherwise, you wobble, when you are uncertain or you are unable to decide what to do.

Some have had to make decisions rather quickly. Bobby will give an example. A quick and wrong decision and there is pregnancy involved. That kid is with you for the rest of your life. Good or bad. Many are children who have children; and they are not taught the repercussions of those immediate decisions. Decisions of emotion and passion.

Repercussions of Adultery or Fornication

1. Adultery is an attack on marriage and family. One of the great problems in our country is an attack upon marriage and family. Quite often, there are fatherless or motherless families. Children need both.
2. Sometimes, a spouse is no damn good.
3. Children face damaging circumstances as a result in the home. They are raised without discretion or wisdom.
4. Adultery often results in broken marriages, divorce and insecure and damaged children. One bad decision necessary to overcome the emotion of the moment.

5. Children having children.
6. When widely indulged, adultery rips apart the moral and ethical fabric of society. We see that today.

There is a loss of honor because the believer has a loss of the plan of God. There are other backlashes, which will be covered as the verses come up.

It is not always easy to resist the allure, or this instruction would be unnecessary. If you are a grandparent or a surrogate parent, this instruction is very necessary. The next verse forces the student to choose between the speaker's wisdom and the wiles and charms of the seductress.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of a forbidden woman drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil,...

The adulteress is probably a strange; and perhaps he is looking for love in all the wrong places. In the case of the Jews of Israel, the temptation may be with the go. Materialism is one of the major problems with with spiritual life. We are more interested in money or things or pleasures than in the spiritual life. But the greatest fulfillment comes with the spiritual life.

The adulteress may be looking for a little fun or to find what she believes is missing from her life and marriage.

Jeremiah is a prophet to the whole nation. Jeremiah gives an Old Testament warning of this.

Jeremiah 7:8 "Behold, you trust in deceptive words to no avail.

Jeremiah 7:9 Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear falsely, make offerings to Baal, and go after other gods that you have not known, the New Testament provision, 2Corinthians 6:14 Do not become bound together.

What partnership has righteousness and lawlessness?

They may have lots to attract you, how they look, their attractiveness, how they sound and a great personality. What do they offer you? The #1 aspect is a like-minded person. Unbelievers for the believer are foreign women. They chase anything except the plan of God. If you marry such a one, you have an obligation to them. If you are yoked with the wrong thing, there will be a divide that cannot be overcome. Sometimes, two people marry, and one becomes a believer. The best circumstances is one believed with another.

The unbeliever has darkness. They may be moral and wonderful people; and everything that you have ever wanted except for that one area. But too often, this verse is ignored.

We must remember what Paul writes to the Corinthians and warns us. You cannot be bound together with an unbeliever and have the greatest relationship in life. It can only be completely fulfilled a believer with another believer. Nothing drives a believer into the cosmic system than this sort of situation. Illicit sexual activity is one of the fastest ways to get into this situation.

The Attraction

1. These two metaphors, honey and oil, describe her temptations.
2. Solomon says to pay attention. There is no other counter.
3. The woman is sweet and smooth with her words and intriguing to anyone who meets her. That counts for a lot. When interest is piqued, you want to pursue.
4. It goes without saying that she has a very strong attraction to her target and this must be resisted.
5. This makes her very dangerous to the vulnerable. No wisdom is no discretion.
6. But like honey, there are two sides to this metaphor. Like honey, she is sticky and hard to escape.
7. Her smooth oily words are a slippery slope. Her words, her mannerisms, etc. that send this boy over the edge. That is a very attractive situation.
8. Her lips are metaphorical for her speech. Oil and honey pour from her mouth with a marked sensuality. It is who she is.
9. Her methodical words lead to sexual desire for her.
10. Her flattery and coquettishness will precipitate the intimate actions which she desires. She has the means and she has the skill.
11. Without keeping the deterrent of wisdom and discretion, a man will fall prey to her charms and it will happen before he knows what hit him. A weakness for being seduced. The right person the right tools the right circumstance, and temptation.
12. Bible doctrine and a great marriage protects from this. A great marriage means you do not want any of this.

Bobby is not painting everyone with this brush; but every women has such capabilities.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

4/28/2022 Thursday

Bobby talks about the Hall & Oates song, Maneater.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of a forbidden woman drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil,...

1. Oil and honey describe the seduction of the temptress.
2. She is irresistible to the man; every man has vulnerability to seduction unless he has a way to counter it in his soul.
3. Believing men need discernment.

A person needs to know why. Solomon is telling us about the repercussions; why we should not be seduced under these conditions.

The Venus flytrap, which is analogous to the adulteress. The flower dies after capturing 3 or 4 insects. This is a good picture of the seductress and her prey. Dead souls after their entrapment.

Proverbs 7:10–27 is a word picture of sexual adultery. This is also very biographical.

Proverbs 7:10 And behold, the woman meets him, dressed as a prostitute, wily of heart.

Solomon is setting up the context. She is introduced here as a woman who is out and about. She is dressed like a harlot; and she is meant to seduce. She has a great exterior and she is cunning of heart.

The Proverbs 7 Woman

1. She is smooth and she is practiced in her intent.
2. She gives away nothing of her immediate plan. She starts slow.
3. Just her appearance draws attention and she knows it. Just dressing this way gets attention.
4. She opens her quest with a clever, cunning approach.
5. Except to the wise man, her motivations are unknown.
6. She is, in essence, lying in wait. She is bent on capturing the attention of some young man. She is looking for a young man gullible enough.

First impressions can be accurate.

Proverbs 7:11 She is loud and wayward; her feet do not stay at home;

The Woman of Proverbs 7

1. She is also rebellious. She defies authority.
2. She is boisterous and she likes to party; and she is very unconventional.
3. She is a nonconformist; a free spirit. Always something to look out for.
4. She is no longer a responsive woman to her husband.
5. She is not under the leadership of her husband. Her husband has no control over her; he is unable to lead her.

6. She wants attention and approbation. The promise of an unending good time to her potential companions.
7. Such a woman has a restless soul. She is not interested in any stability. She is very likely well-to-do. She probably has servants.

V. 12 tells us that she is a lurker.

Proverbs 7:12 now in the street, now in the market, and at every corner she lies in wait.

The woman is well-turned out. She has the best clothing. She is in the street and in the squares. She is looking for targets of opportunity.

This woman is also very selective. She does not take on just any man. She is a predator.

She follows certain steps in her conquest.

Proverbs 7:13 She seizes him and kisses him, and with bold face she says to him,

With v. 13, she begins the steps of seduction. She knows the effect of a passionate kiss. She has taken the initiative and she takes the first steps.

Proverbs 7 Woman

1. A woman of this type, her kisses do not mean what this naive kid think
2. The man may feel flattered, as this woman is interested in her.
3. She has lost her capacity and ability for love.
4. For her, this is a game.
5. Discernment says that there is nothing real or trustworthy about this woman.
6. This boy is a fresh face; he does not know this routine. She is excited by the chase and her victory over this boy.
7. She follows those passionate kisses with an offer. She offers a flattering invitation. The kisses were just a come on. She makes it an obvious vocal invite.
8. Now, in order not to seem too brazen, she concocts a cover story. She presents herself in a different and more wholesome light. She covers her perverse cahvater
9. She will sometimes ask, "Are you a Christian?"

Proverbs 7:14 "I had to offer sacrifices, and today I have paid my vows;

She claims to be a believer here. She is going to or she already has done so.

Offering Priest Offerings

1. These are ritual offerings. This is a part of her allure. A peace offering.
2. If this boy knows what a peace offering is, he should question her. A true peace offering.

3. The sacrifice of a bullock is the picture of what Christ did on the cross. This was a testimony to the offering of Jesus Christ. Today, she would say, I am a good Christian.

Proverbs 7:15 so now I have come out to meet you, to seek you eagerly, and I have found you.

She will use blasphemous for her entrapment. What she is doing is a lie. If she did sacrifice, it was a meaningless ritual. She covers up her evil intent with a religious background.

If you are interested, talk about their faith, etc. "You're a Christian? How did you become a Christian?" You may discover that this person is like-minded; or maybe that she is not.

it seems innocuous. of course, she wants to share a meal.

The man becomes ritually unclean for 7 days. This does not prohibit sex, but this is an hygienic law for the Old Testament. There is also a ritual cleansing.

Why does she bring something like this up? She reassures him that she is ritually clean; and that she is okay for sex for the Mosaic Law.

She could also be involved in a fertility cult. He may assume that she is sacrificing in the Temple, but that may not be true. If she made the appropriate offering, then she needs a male partner to consummate the ritual as a part of the cultic ritual. This could be a religious reference and a sexual religious act.

This boy needs to be aware of what all of this means. If he discerns, he needs to stop and think. Bobby is going to save the final stages for Sunday.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/1/2022 1Sunday

We are in Proverbs 5:3. We find the divine viewpoint about adultery in this chapter. It is destructive to one's emotional and spiritual life.

We are studying what to avoid.

This birds and the bees talk always seems to come from the mother, which means for the boy, this will be an abbreviated version. Solomon is doing this the right way. He is being explicit and he is making certain that his son understands exactly what he is talking about. We should speak to our own sons like Solomon does.

Most parents place a lot of rules on their teens. They know that the things that they are prohibiting are dangerous; and they prohibit these things to protect. The same thing is true in Scripture. But rules without an explanation are less effective. It is natural for teens to question the authority of their parents.

Beginning early, the child should understand the reasons for these rules. They should understand that these things are for their benefit. Otherwise, it is easy for them to give in to wrong societal standards or to peer pressure. This is why Biblical standards are so important. They are absolute standards. If we know the standards of Scriptures, then we know what prohibitions should be imposed, and why.

These prohibitions are for the person's protection and for his future benefit. The idea is not to curb fun. You can certainly have a good time within the parameters of standards. It is not to suppress one's freedom. Real freedom is lost when bad decisions are made. We see freedom being lost, not gained. Adultery or fornication is the fast track to a prison of one's own making. The damage done by adultery or fornication can be immediate or continue into the long distant future (often it is both).

Who and what is the adulterous woman?

No doubt, Solomon spoke to his sons about many things. Here, in Proverbs 5, this is all about an adulterous woman. He talks to his son about looking out for these things. The answer to all of the questions is Proverbs 5. First there is a problem. If the man is vulnerable to seduction, and most men are, without a reason not to be.

Sexuality is so misunderstood in our nation today; that we need to have the correct standards so that the destructiveness to this boy and his future will not occur. The boy will need the reason what to do or what not to do.

The short answer is found in v. 2. It is the concept of observing discretion.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of a forbidden woman drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil,...

She is seductive, she is alluring; and she is hard to resist.

Proverbs 7:10–22, which contains the facts and the stages of this woman's modus operandi.

Proverbs 7:10 And behold, the woman meets him, dressed as a prostitute, wily of heart.

She is not a prostitute, but she has a very sexy look. She also has a cunning plan in mind. This is in her thinking. The man is interested, based upon her appearance. She knows exactly what she is doing—she knows her charms and she knows how to use them. This is the first step of the seduction. Find the target and appeal to him.

The first step for the man is to look and to think.

Proverbs 7:11 She is loud and wayward; her feet do not stay at home;

She is boisterous and rebellious.

Proverbs 7:12 now in the street, now in the market, and at every corner she lies in wait.

She can be found. Expect it. Know that this will happen.

She is anti-authority. She is rebellious. This thinking can be contagious, to those trapped in her web. They reject the same prohibitions. They do not mind breaking convention. The whole process is breaking.

The watchword when Bobby was young is, "Question authority; don't trust anyone over 30."

we understand from this verse that she wants to roam; she has a restless soul. She is not a streetwalker. She is simply on the move, all over town, frequenting all the right place.

Proverbs 7:13 She seizes him and kisses him, and with bold face she says to him,

v. 13a is the first step. What is more passionate than a kiss. Obviously, something had to come before. They have met, they chat, and they get to know one another. At some point, she kisses him.

The Woman Uses Religion

1. Now she captures him speaking about something religious. She sounds great, "You go to church."
2. So she presents herself as an upstanding citizen, and not what appears on the surface. She is covering her surface activities with a religious reference.
3. She covers her evil intent with a religious cover. She is just like a pharisee with the Lord Jesus Christ.
4. This is designed to put the boy at ease. "She is a pious woman; this could not be a seduction." The boy might be thinking, "She is a real religious type." So he is relaxed about all of this. This works well if the boy has not been properly instructed. This boy should have been thinking. Many times Christians will go out on a date and they will ask one another, "Are you a Christian?" and when they hear "Yes," sometimes that is the end of the questions. But you should ask more. "How did you become a Christian?" Sometimes, we do not want to know more if we are strongly attracted. It is easy to know the subterfuge if you ask the right questions.

This religious angle makes the woman seem safer. She must have some integrity if she is religious; if she goes to the Temple to worship. How could she be religious without being trustworthy?

The boy has not detected at this point, the different agenda. It is moving in that direction. She is the epitome of lying hypocrisy. Nothing that she says can be believed. It is like what happens so often in politics. Someone accuses a politician of doing something that they themselves do.

This gal reminds Bobby of someone who speaks the name of the Lord, but uses this for prestige and money.

Interestingly enough, this woman has money. But she is looking for sexual activity and self-gratification. She uses religion to cover this objective.

Proverbs 7:14 "I had to offer sacrifices, and today I have paid my vows;...

She tells him that she just came from the Temple.

This verse seems very purposeful. She is seeking this man in particular. He has all the qualifications for her purposes.

This man's standards are being bent right here. If she knows him, so much better for her purposes. It all depends what "you" means, in context.

We have a Mrs. Robinson situation. Mrs. Robinson is an older woman who follows the pattern found here. This is what is called a cougar. If this is a generic you, this means that someone is going home with her. That is her intent. She gets right down to the core of her seduction.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/1/2022 2Sunday

The first stage is the meeting of the two, where the woman dresses provocatively. Then a talk, and then the covering of religion. She says that she just went to the Temple and paid her vows.

On a cover like this, especially on the first date, you want to ask questions. You ask, "Are you a Christian?" Rather than leave it there, there is more to ask.

A text that Bobby just receive, "Before marrying someone, make them use a computer with a slow internet just to see who they really are."

Proverbs 7:15 ...so now I have come out to meet you, to seek you eagerly, and I have found you.

In v. 16, we get to the actual seduction.

Proverbs 7:16 I have spread my couch with coverings, colored linens from Egyptian linen;

Things are very clean.

Proverbs 7:17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

There are scents, nice smells. The 4th step is the obvious inducement to this boy for sexual activity. She is describing her bedroom with alluring terms.

This indicates to us that she is not a poor person; and she is not a prostitute either. These are expensive goods only found in expensive homes of that era.

Her husband is likely a prominent and wealthy member of society, which is why she is able to move around town with such ease. The wealth does not make as much difference to her. Material things are not enough for her, as she is seeking more from the arms of another man.

A woman's soul cannot be bought. Money can't buy love. A wealthy lifestyle is very important to many. Marriage for money brings more problems of a different type. The problem here is, when a woman marries for money or for material things, it is obvious that is what she has done. Adultery becomes a very real and strong possibility. She cannot be fulfilled with money. There will always be something missing in her soul. A woman who marries for money will not have the right soul connection. She is bored and in need of attention. That is the trade-off. He is busy making money and chasing other pursuits and she is called the trophy of his success. That is never enough for a woman. It is nice to have, but it is not the relationship that a woman wants/needs.

The wrong choice in marriage or for the wrong reasons can intensify this strong desire to find satisfaction and fulfillment and approbation and attention in the arms of another man. But what she finds is a corruption of her soul, of her morality. For the believer, this is a corruption of the spiritual life. This takes the woman or man into self-induced misery. Divine discipline goes along with it. This situation is a guarantee of pain in life. She has honed her provocative skills to a fine art.

The woman becomes hardened and enured to her circumstances. She is no longer feminine. She has taken that road. She continues her bad decisions into the future. She could care less. It is all about herself and self-gratification.

Her initial bad decision of marrying the wrong man which piles on a string of bad decisions.

It is not at all impossible. That is not how these things happen. If you are a father, you might also want to consider speaking in this way.

Fathers should also speak to daughters in this way. It is good for children to hear both sides of the perspective. When parents agree, the kids are more likely to listen. When you implant wisdom, then you have done your job; and the children then make their own decisions after that.

Solomon is being very graphic and very specific. This woman has married the wrong man for the wrong reasons, and things have snowballed to this point. But a believer can recover from any of this.

Proverbs 7:18 Come, let us take our fill of love till morning; let us delight ourselves with love.

The woman goes in for the kill. She has described her bed; now she tells him to join her. She tells what she intends for him to do in bed. This is a direct proposition for an intimate encounter.

This is still the moment of decision for the young man. He might enjoy things to this; and he may like the approbation and the attention from this attractive woman. Now it is the moment of decision. She will not take no for an answer, and it is a moment of decision for the boy. He needs to pull up wisdom and doctrinal occupation. He needs to say no and where there is not an opening. You cannot be wishy washy in a decision like this.

Drink our fill refers to a total immersion and the sheer enjoyment of one another sexually; but there is no real love involved here. This is an invitation for prolonged sex.

The Word for Love Is Dod

1. It means, beloved, lover, uncle.
2. In this context, dod is not an attitude between a husband and wife. This is not for the right man and his right woman.
3. This is a misnomer for love; this is a phony love. This is only about a physical acts.
4. This is a close relationship, but the boy is not related to her in any way. This liason is meant only for a husband and wife. This is a far place from love.

Soul Love

1. What is soul love? It is the soul's attitude. The soul is immaterial. This is the soul's attitude of affection, admiration, devotion. This is also virtue love. This is what true love really is.
2. Soul love is a love characterized by virtue. Not be seduction. It is based upon virtue in the soul.
3. This love toward other people is manifested by benevolence, respect, honor, esteem, harmonious rapport. There would be rapport in bed, but that does not last past breakfast. Harmonious rapport exists, whether you are together or not.
4. That is true love. This is an attitude, thinking and not dominated by emotion. Seduction is possible when emotion is in control. This is why thinking and attitude are important to have before the act of sex.
5. Emotion as love is the precursor of adultery and fornication. Who cares how you feel? It has nothing to do with soul love. But it is not love. It what leads to what is going to happen to this young man in the bed of this woman.
6. This soul love is the precursor for a wonderful, sexual love between a husband and wife. Sex is an expression; but it is not as love in itself. People want to believe that having sex is the same as love. If you fool yourself that it is love, then you have nothing. If you have the soul love, then you have the right attitude and the right connection. It is an expression of all that you think.

More Points

1. Adultery cannot be an expression of soul love.
2. By its very definition, adultery excludes soul love.
3. Marriage should be a representation of both integrity of soul and faithfulness; truthfulness. No faithfulness or truthfulness in adultery.
4. Adultery is exciting. Sex is exciting; but it is charged with sinful lust and intense emotional longing for someone other than your spouse. It is lust, not love.
5. Cheating is not virtuous. It may be called love, feel like love, but it is not love.

We can easily hoodwink ourselves by saying, this is true love.

Adultery and True Love

1. True love cannot coincide with adultery.
2. Adultery is always tainted by selfish motives.
3. Adultery is only an expression of some self-centered motives; that is all that it can be. It is all about you; not about the other person.
4. Soul love, virtue love is not selfish. It puts the other person first. Sometimes, this is called sacrificial love. Jesus' love is sacrificial love. The marriage vow is sacrificial love.
5. Adultery indicates a lack of character, a lack of stability, a lack of contentment, inadequacy, arrogance, and certainly a set of bad choices. If you have to make this decision, adultery is always the bad/wrong choice.
6. It is an obvious betrayal of a spouse based upon self-deception.
7. It is always a disaster for both spouses and families. No exceptions. It often has a wider, detrimental effect every further than family.

Momentary pleasures are not worth the log-ranger consequences. Virtue love is what God designed for husband and wife.

You see both sides of this. We have the overview of adultery versus soul love in marriage. You may not yet be convinced. Solomon will make this clear.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/4/2022 Wednesday

Proverbs 5 and 7 are parallel in the topics which they cover. Adultery, fornication and seduction (which is what is covered specifically here). Every author of Scripture provides wisdom. Bible doctrine is the source of wisdom.

Solomon is providing wisdom. Solomon teaches him to preclude what happens to vulnerable young men. Foolishness and indulging in wrong behavior.

Proverbs 5:3 is being taught to us through Proverbs 7.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of a forbidden woman drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil,...

These are the stages of a seduction. Men also seduce; just as women do. What we are studying is an older woman and a younger naive man.

The seductress first gets the attention of the man.

Proverbs 7:10 And behold, the woman meets him, dressed as a prostitute, wily of heart.

Proverbs 7:11 She is loud and wayward; her feet do not stay at home...;

This is something the woman does as a practice.

Proverbs 7:12 ...now in the street, now in the market, and at every corner she lies in wait.

She sees him; she makes certain that he sees her. She engages him and entices him with seductive conversation.

Proverbs 7:13 She seizes him and kisses him, and with bold face she says to him,

She makes a bold move here. She grabs him and kisses him. There is no hint here. This is the hook that leads to him being trapped in her web.

Proverbs 7:14 "I had to offer sacrifices, and today I have paid my vows;...

But she tells him, "I just came from church; I just came from the Temple and have paid my vows." She presents herself as a pious woman with no ill-intent, intending to put him at ease. This calms him down, and he sees her as a faithful religious type. But she is the epitome of lying brazenness.

Proverbs 7:15 ...so now I have come out to meet you, to seek you eagerly, and I have found you.

She claims to be looking for him, appealing to the male ego.

Proverbs 7:16 I have spread my couch with coverings, colored linens from Egyptian linen;

Proverbs 7:17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

She has identified herself as a woman with refinement, good taste and money.

Proverbs 7:18 Come, let us take our fill of love till morning; let us delight ourselves with love.

She has described her bedroom and makes it clear that it is a wonderful place to be. She is going for the kill in v. 18. Here, she is down to it. She is very specific. She is straightforward seduction at this point.

Love and delight match up with honey and oil. Straightforward words of love and seduction.

Love here is connected to the physical act of love. The man or the woman might say, "I love you" during the act, but this is not an expression of soul love. Any physical activity...the boy will be a love, but this is not love. Soul love is not sex love.

Real soul love is directed toward the spouse; sexual love is directed toward oneself and one's own pleasure. Adultery is a self-centered feeling of pleasure. Soul love, unlike this physical love, is not dominated by sexual love. Emotion is subjective, self-centered and emotion drives

Soul Love

1. Soul love or virtue love, is what God designed for marriage. Designed for husband and wife, which precludes adultery.
2. Soul love is the true, satisfying, non-deteriorating connected. Physical love deteriorates. It can get worse, it can get uninteresting. It can get old. If the emphasis is on the physical act, then it can become non...
3. Soul love has to be learned. It has to be developed. That requires time. If you immediately jump into bed with someone, you immediately change the equation. Now there is an entirely different relationship. No possibility of soul love. It takes time and getting to know someone. Love requires knowledge.
4. Soul love requires a wide range of familiarity. Familiarity of a person's qualities; good character, compatibility. Compatibility starts with Bible doctrine. A person's qualities, character. You need to work these things out first.
5. Soul love is the key to the genuine demonstration of sexual love between husband and wife. Sex is a demonstration of love; it is an expression which comes from the soul; and that is when sex is good.
6. Never forget spiritual compatibility and like-mindedness is meaningful for every area of life, including sexuality. It has been said, I have to try the horse out before buying it. But if you have soul love, then it will be developed.
7. Unadulterated sex is the demonstration of soul love. One-night stands or extended affairs do not indicate soul love. Participants can convince themselves that it is real. Sex is not love; especially illicit sex. It does not breed love; although it may breed something else. Illicit means that it is not the right relationship; not ever.

Proverbs 7:18b ...let us delight ourselves with love.

She is explicit and this can be deadly. Possible that the young man cannot say "no" by this time.

The Hebrew Noun for Caress

1. This is one of the words for love.
2. It is parallel to God.
3. Both refer to a sexual
4. This is not real love.
5. Prov. 5:19 gives us a clue to this negative usage of this word.
6. Proverbs 5:19 a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated always in her love.
7. This love has a range of meaning. Proverbs 5:19 is a husband and a wife. They are stimulated and enlivened by the sexual expression of their love. Sex in its divine design is the expression here. That is what gives it the true and lasting qualities just named.
8. Adultery is an adulterated form of this word. The context in Proverbs 7 is outside of marriage, so it is not soul love.

The woman will try to get the boy's mind at ease.

Proverbs 7:19 For my husband is not at home; he has gone on a long journey;...

she tells him that there are no impediments to their love. If the boy understood the sign and danger of what was happening, he would have run in the other direction. She confirms the illegitimacy of what she wants to do.

The husband is not at home. Many a phone call has been made, "The coast is clear, come on over." But now her appeal is bold and exciting; and apparently safe.

"No complications" is never true. Never think you are getting away with something.

Proverbs 7:20 ...he took a bag of money with him; at full moon he will come home."

He will be gone for a month. He has money with him. Not only is this a one-night stand, the promise of more meetings during this same time period. He can spend days and nights with her. Adultery can be addictive. It is exciting; it is different.

"My door is wide open whenever he is not here."

The accepted standard is, they can get away with it. This is based upon Certainly God knows all of this. Adultery is not hidden from Him.

She does have a bit of a reputation. She is out in the street with some seductive clothes.

People talk; they speculate; they gossip. Perception is reality to them. And never so much so as situations like this. There is certainly the appearance of impropriety. She dresses provocatively. Her clothing is a whole lot different when the husband is gone. All the signs of hanky panky. This boy is one of many conquests.

By accident, Bobby found out about stuff, and you never know who knows and who will find out. You think you are in the witness protection program. You are not. Even though there may be no eyewitnesses, appearances do matter. Spending inordinate times apart away from the spouse, especially in private social conditions where it is just two of them, it is careless and dangerous. There is always the opportunity that something can happen; and the prying eyes who assume something is taking place.

Whenever you have a meeting like this, it should be with a companion. Bobby would never talk with a female alone in his office. Too many things can be inferred or said. Just don't put yourself in that situation.

It may all be innocent, but it is a bad visual; and this can lead to speculation or marital deterioration.

She says no one will know, but that is simply untrue.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/5/2022 Thursday

Christians have become so distracted by the abortion issue and the saving of children. Christians are mandated to grow spiritually. We are failing as believers in Jesus Christ in the client nation. Our spiritual growth is far more important than any social issue. What we appear to be in, is a civil war.

Our mission in this world is not to solve crime or to fix society. As believers, we are not policemen; we are not activated by political issues, but by spiritual issues.

We have been studying Proverbs 7:10–27. The adulteress who has truly mastered the art of seduction. There are stages by which she puts into action her cunning plan.

She gets the attention of the man; she takes the initiative, being the aggressor, (the kiss being a promise of greater things to come). The third stage is a bit of a detour, where she takes a position of legitimacy. She cites her religious affiliation. She appears pious, intimating that she has a spiritual side. She makes certain that her target sees her in this softer light. She must present herself as someone who is worth spending time with. She is also a lying hypocrite. Stage 4 is she turns on her sensuality, even more so. She describes her bedroom and her bed. She paints a picture of the joys that await this young man, if he follows along. In stage 5, she reveals her final objective in all of this.

There is one more circumstance to reveal in v. 19.

Proverbs 7:19 For my husband is not at home; he has gone on a long journey;...

If he is worried at all, she reassures him that there will be no repercussions or scandal. Now, this is not true. If he thinks about this with his mind, the hidden, sneaky clandestine get together should reveal that this is a bad choice of companions and activities.

The boy is not thinking about what she just said, but he does not stop to think about the husband's position. He would make the husband a cuckold. A man who fails to please his wife, so she has to go elsewhere. This is a great blow to the man's ego. Unprotected from the mockery, scorn, etc. Ultimately, the husband will find out, and this will be harmful to their marriage. That repercussion in itself should give someone of integrity a moment of pause. There will be repercussions, in spite of what this woman says. Someone in this situation is going to get hurt.

The unfaithfulness and the embarrassment. It can lead to violence, a revenge affair, murder, etc. There are only a few reasons why people murder: money, sex, hatred. When this happens, adultery is one impetus for murder and violence.

A loser is not someone who fails. A loser is someone who does not learn from their failures. This boy, having been seduced, thinks of none of these repercussions. If there is no wisdom or discernment, then Solomon, a man of experience, has to tell his son about these things. Women will be after Solomon's son. He will be a target. This would happen to him. Guaranteed. The question is, what are you going to do? This is a question that wisdom must answer.

Proverbs 7:20 ...he took a bag of money with him; at full moon he will come home."

Dad presents a worse care scenario in v. 21.

Proverbs 7:21 With much seductive speech she persuades him; with her smooth talk she compels him.

She reads her target and she knows how to manipulate. She can easily out think this young naive man. She seduces him.

Now it is time for the boy to make a decision. Suddenly, he follows her, which is the response that she wanted. He is no longer thinking. No thought; no wisdom.

Her lips drip honey and she is smoother than oil.

Although this was stimulating, it was not real. For many men, an orgasm seems to be enough. You can get all the other stuff at home, but that other thing keeps on attracting.

Adultery Overriding Soul Love

1. Soul love or adultery takes precedence.
2. Adultery overrides any vestige of soul love. Emotion crushes it.

3. The illicit sex becomes everything else, like drugs or alcohol. The reason for sex is supposed to be soul love; but this bypasses soul love.
4. The results are always destructive.

Adultery Is Anti-authority

1. The boy has given up his future for this affair.
2. He has accepted her authority over him. That is what this seduction is. Over the Word of God now. Accepting this authority is anti-authority, as it rejects the wisdom of Bible doctrine.
3. This is the root problem in every adultery. Bad decisions result in ignoring wisdom in the decision.

This boy is a long ways from the temptation of Joseph. He became a slave in Egypt due to his brothers. Potipher's wife took a real shine to Joseph. She began to seduce Joseph and he said no, over and over again. She blamed Joseph for trying to rape her, so he was thrown into prison. Adultery would have had Joseph in a trap of his own making. Joseph went into prison and he went all the way to the prime minister position in Israel. Joseph resisted, and the plan of God marched on with him in place Adultery is a rampant problem in the United States and even among pastors. This diverted the pastor from his main objective, which was to teach the Word of God.

Proverbs 7:22 All at once he follows her, as an ox goes to the slaughter, or as a stag is caught fast

The failure is emphasized.

The Destruction of Adultery

1. Solomon gives a clear picture of the destruction of adultery. We know that it can be tempting. One of the strongest pulls in the cosmic system is this. Satan can get to believers very easily by this. It is not just physical; it is spiritual as well.
2. Using the metaphor of an ox led to the slaughter, the boy was compared to a dumb animal, like those slaughtered on the altars of Israel. Thousands of oxen were slaughtered on the of Israel.
3. Even those animals had a purpose, to represent doctrine to Israel. They fulfilled it.
4. This ox of a guy represented nothing but foolishness.
5. Anything outside of God's design is not fulfilling and it is not love.
6. This boy is fooled by circumstances.
7. A criminal in jail has severely limited options by his bad decisions. We see the graphic results of his folly.

We see the graphic results in v. 23.

Pro 7:23 till an arrow pierces its liver; as a bird rushes into a snare; he does not know that it will cost him his life.

Picture a naive young man in all of this. This boy is similar to an animal, trying to escape.

The woman has made a kill shot. Sometimes, as a bird hunter, sometimes you wound them, and they are flapping around, but they are done. Solomon is saying, "Make good decisions, but keep yourself clear of this fiasco."

Pro 7:24 And now, O sons, listen to me, and be attentive to the words of my mouth.

Solomon says, "Hear me now."

Solomon Speaking to Many Men

1. It appears that Solomon is now speaking to an entire classroom. More than one person.
2. He has moved from his son to the larger category of all men, saying, my sons. That is how important this is.
3. Solomon knows that this type of temptation is universal. It is not limited to certain types. It can happen to anyone at anytime.
4. Anyone can fall for it.

Pro 7:25 Let not your heart turn aside to her ways; do not stray into her paths,

Solomon warns them all.

Pro 7:26 for many a victim has she laid low, and all her slain are a mighty throng.

Many are the victims and numerous are her slain. Her conquests are nothing special to her. One man is just another notch in her belt. You mean nothing to her. You are just one more.

Pro 7:27 Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

Her house is the way of the grave, descending down.

Adultery is a sin; it is one of those things that happens all these times. It inflicts absolute rebound; a matter of getting back into fellowship. You must also understand, there are certain sins with repercussions that last. This sin has repercussions which last. We can overcome it.

Remember the warning of this final verse.

Proverbs 7 was very graphic about the pitfalls and what could happen.

Let's go back to Proverbs 5.

Proverbs 5:4 ...but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

This does not mean that an adulterer will spend eternity in hell. You cannot lose your salvation by committing adultery. Adultery causes a special brand of problems. That is where we are going with Proverbs 5, and brand which are specific to adultery.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/8/2022 1Sunday

Proverbs 7 has revealed an adulterous woman, her progression of tactics, what she has done in order to seduce a young man.

Proverbs 5:3 presents the woman as one of oil and honey. She is an expert seducer.

Proverbs 5:3 For the lips of a forbidden woman drip honey, and her speech is smoother than oil,...

Recognize that this information has great application to men as well.

Proverbs 7:27 Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

This is very graphic. The metaphor here as the way to Sheol, is a result of consorting with this married woman. What does this word Sheol mean in this context? We need to know that Sheol is used many times in the Old Testament. It occurs 16 times in the psalms and 17 times in the other literature writings. This can easily be misunderstood. Hellfire and brimstone sermons can be given, that adultery can send you to hell, but this is wrong.

Sheol Uses in The Old Testament

1. It is related to the grave and to the abode of the dead. Included in this as a place where souls are dealt with. Sheol has compartments, which includes paradise, where believers reside who died in the Old Testament.
2. It is also related to a great sin. It can refer to a sin which has great repercussions. Some sins have great repercussions. Some sins, we name them, and we can move on. However, even with rebound, the results of sin can linger. Sheol can refer to a sin of that nature.
3. As a metaphor, sheol can be used for greed, murder, jealousy (SoS 8:6), for general troubles in life (Psalm 88:3).
4. It represents the ultimate end of both the righteous and the wicked. The way of sheol.
5. For the unrighteous, the way of sheol is the way of punishment. It is the place of a dead existence, even for those who are living. Sheol has a particular meaning as related to death and punishment, when it comes to Israelites. This is a way to actual punishment in life, as though the person is already in the grave. It begins with a number of wives and it ends with a terrible apostasy in him and with Israel as well. Israel was punished in the fifth cycle of discipline for idolatry, which is spiritual adultery. They turned to Baal worship and the like. A parallel to physical adultery.

6. Sheol may represent the sin unto death. You can see that Sheol is speaking of a person who is still living. An adulterous woman who is still alive. Not referring to a place of death, but what happens to her in this life.

The Way of Sheol

1. No joy or happiness in the way of sheol.
2. It is the death of marriage, and the breaking up of a family. Even if a marriage is held together, the family is still torn apart. This punishment can ruin the greatest relationship in life. Some would beg to differ on this one. "I married hell." God designed the greatest relationship to be husband and wife. Adultery is the destruction of that relationship.
3. In fact, there are levels of self-induced punishment to ...to the long term effects. The children are the most deeply affected.
4. Other physical punishment might include revenge, violence, even murder by an angry husband. Things can get really nasty under certain circumstances.
5. The adulterer could also die from poverty, venereal disease, or spiritual and emotional guilt and anguish. That can lead all the way to suicide when a person recognizes the results of what they do in the time of passion. These things are true for men and women.
6. The woman is the highway to hell. Not the hell brought on by the rejection of Jesus Christ; but the hell that begins with a terrible marital relationship.
7. The believer also remains out of fellowship for a lengthy period of time due to adultery.

This next verse goes on to describe this woman as bitter as wormwood.

Solomon uses another metaphor for this woman in v. 4:

Proverbs 5:4 ...but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

Wormwood is a variety of plants that grows around Palestine, which plants are very bitter.

Wormwood

1. Wormwood is used as a comparison; the opposite of the lips of honey. That is what it seems, but they are bitter words.
2. In other words, what appears to be sweet ends up being a bitter experience. That is always true, no matter how long it lasts. Even when one spouse leaves the other for the other is not a solution. This solves no problem in life.
3. Wormwood is used as a metaphor for bitter results, as here with adultery.

4. There is a sweetness insofar as the tryst have an alluring glamor. There is something on the other side of the fence that appears to be very attractive and tempting. A sweetness in that way.
5. But, afterwards, it has the flavor of bitter anguish always. If we recognize that at the beginning, it might be better to not to do this. Adultery doubles the problems.
6. Once again, the way of punishment is found in wormwood and sheol.
7. The idea of a self-inflicted punishment in life comes from wormwood, which is as bitter as death. Wormwood is not a poison, although that would be a good analogy. Rev. 8:11 it is pictured as being poisonous. Drinking water with wormwood kills some people.
8. Hemlock is a deadly poison found in ancient times. As recorded by Plato in 399 B.C., hemlock was involved in the death of Socrates. He was sentenced to death by an Athenian court for corrupting the youth with his philosophy. Socrates had to facilitate his own death. He had to kill himself. He was to drink hemlock. Today, this punishment might be called a lethal injection. The effort and the effect was the same, similar to wormwood in Revelation.

Wormwood is the bitterness in life related to adultery. This adulterous relationship is wormwood to the participants. It can have a deadly affect on the soul in life. A metaphor for Solomon's description of death. He does not know that it will cause him his life.

A life of bitterness, a life of penalty, a bitter pill to swallow for a little pleasure. A tremendous effect for something that is fleeting. That is what this young man will ingest. This is a great description of what adultery is.

Proverbs 5:4 ...but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

We hear this metaphor when it describes the Word of God. It reveals the issues of the heart or the soul of the believer. It leaves our soul open and bared. It compares our life to Bible doctrine. It opens us up. The Word of God is the greatest influence for thinking. It cuts both ways. It opens the solution to all of that.

The Two-edged Sword in Proverbs 5;4

1. The two-edged sword of v. 4 also cuts deep.
2. This is an entirely different sword but with a different effect and a different sword.
3. It is no longer the sword of wisdom that cuts into the soul .
4. The two-edged sword in this verse is not to the boy's advantage, but to the detriment of his soul.
5. For the boy to listen to the seductress and follow her words, is to be opened up by this sword.

Now we are studying a mother who is being associated with wormwood, a two-edged sword, and Sheol.

Proverbs 5:4 ...but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

We are currently on the two-edged sword. Peh = two-edged sword; it literally means, mouth.

The Two Edged Sword

1. We can translate her sword as a two-mouth sword.
2. Flattery on the one hand, but that conceals the bitterness of sheol as a part of her seduction.
3. The liaison brings pain and destruction.
4. It is as if the sword slashes the victims to death.
5. It is not a pretty picture, leaving the bloodied carcass.

This advice is also applicable to women and girls. Men can be predators as well, always on the prowl. Following this path of seduction is to perpetrate soul-death.

There is no respect in adultery. Respect for a woman's husband is the ultimate in love. There must be trust and respect. Where does trust go when there is adultery. If neither party does not care, adultery would be adding a mess to a mess.

The man has not paid attention to his vows, loving the wife as Christ loved the church. A sacrificial love, which means forgoing other women, even though there would be a great temptation. There is fault on both sides when adultery occurs. Disrespect, lack of love, unfaithfulness; the two-edged sword works both ways. They are liars who will be unfaithful. This road is addictive and it is the way out. Many people take their unhappiness out on someone else. They think that they will find their happiness in someone else, but they are simply taking their unhappiness with them. When a relationship begins in unfaithfulness, then it remains related to unfaithfulness. When it doesn't work, will the man be tempted by someone else? Some have made it work; some who have found their partners by adultery; but most of these people are Christians who apply the Word of God to the situation. The woman heard words of flattering conversation. We hear these words all of the time in any place where men and women gather. Both women and men have to become discerning in this area. With discernment, it is not hard to pick out and to avoid the seducer. Without it, anyone is susceptible for an adulterous relationship. It is all a promise out there; and it is seduction, a can of worms. Without discernment, without doctrine, they become open to adultery.

We are talking originally about the woman, the wife. The habitual seducer is corrupted. She is a damaged person. Such people do not have to remain damaged. No matter what we do that is damaging; no matter how far we sink to our sin nature, there is recovery. There must be a substance and the right motivation for such change, or the change will only be temporary. Until the vow is forgotten. "Conviction is for church. Now that we are out here, it is a whole different world.” The only real realm of change is Bible doctrine in the soul. The root problem of the victim is the lack of wisdom. Rooting out of bad choices is the realm of divine wisdom. Wisdom and bad choices do not coexist.

The Solution

1. The solution to adultery or to the temptation, is to overturn the challenge of the sin nature and bad decisions. We all have trends; we have lasciviousness as one. We have legalism as the other. Whichever way we are the most tempted.
2. How is it done? Filling one’s soul with the Holy Spirit and metabolization of Bible doctrine. Growing spiritually is how a change of thinking takes place. Anyone who has grown to spiritual maturity can testify as to the changes in our own lives.
3. Motivation to change is objective, not subjective. Subjective change is temporary.
4. Subjective means, refraining from adultery by will power, by positive thinking, which comes from the inside of you. That allows for you slip back into former patterns. That is the extent of your resources. In that sense, it is subjective.
5. Objective is relying on a power outside of yourself.
6. Objective is the power supplied by God through the power of the Holy Spirit so that Bible doctrine is applied in your thinking and in your decisions. That is how you break the pattern. That is how you make a permanent break from your sin nature. That is what discernment is. The sin nature sends us right into the temptations of the sin nature and we start doing what we should not be doing. This is the path of sheol, the two-edged sword, the bitter wormwood.
7. The spiritual change is what brings good decisions. These are decisions which are in line with the will of God. Simply start with His mandates. There is one good decision. Any of His mandates are His will. What will put me out of the plan of God. Well, that is no good for me. I know what I can’t do. So you stay in His plan as you move forward in spiritual maturity. In that mode, making good decisions for His purposes. You are then open and ready for the Lord to use you. In whatever His purposes are called for.

Proverbs 5:4 ...but in the end she is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.

She makes it seem like this is an escape from our mundane lives, but we are going to be tasting wormwood. We now have a warning. We know what the problem is in this area and we have a choice.

It is easier to never be married than to live with the wrong woman. Then you have the built-in temptation to commit adultery. Punishment, anguish, wormwood; the two-edged sword will slice your spiritual life into ribbons.

Her victims end up in remorse, anguish, sheol and death.

The next two verses continue this description.

Proverbs 5:5 Her feet go down to death; her steps follow the path to Sheol;...

Proverbs 5:6 ...she does not ponder the path of life; her ways wander, and she does not know it.

This woman is so steeped in all of this that she does not even know that anything is wrong. That corruption is contagious. Incredibly contagious. When Solomon speaks of this woman, he uses the same terminology in v. 5: death and sheol. This repetition has a finality that is striking. What is more final than death or the way of sheol? It looks to the end, and not to the beginning. This woman hastens to take herself and her victims down. Anyone sucked into this follow her, who runs to sheol; she runs to the grave.

The tough part is, her words are plausible; they are seductive. Her ways are chameleons. Her colors change. She can adapt to her environment and she fools the unsuspecting, who do not see who she really is.

Association with the Adulteress.

1. The ending of such an association when she is finished with her prey is always dark and desolate. We all meet people who are attractive, with whom we have some compatibility.
2. There is no satisfaction, no fulfillment, no love and no true companionship with the seductress. "I went down this road and we have some good compatibility." This is because we have rebounded and we have recovered. Mistakes that we make can always be corrected. This does not mean that mistakes do not carry with them problems as well. But without rebound, dark and desolate. No one is happy in a soap opera. Our society eats that stuff up. "See, it's normal." "But is not normal."
3. There are bittersweet memories of passion on the one hand and betrayal on the other. No matter who it is, there is always betrayal. Even though there is passion involved.
4. Her well-polished devices of prurience are not substitute for a relationship between a right man and right woman. All those things that the divine institution of marriage provides.
5. What at first seems beautiful and inviting snatches the naive from the paths of wisdom into the depths of sheol.

V. 6 has an intensification of all this.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT 5/11/2022 Wednesday

We find sheol associated with the adulterous woman.

Proverbs 5:5 Her feet go down to death; her steps follow the path to Sheol;...

Sheol is a compartment for the dead, where there are believers and unbelievers. The unbelievers are in Hades; and believers are in Paradise.

This is a metaphorical reference. A reference to one who has a marital relationship which is broken by adultery. This is a relationship that is not working well. Sometimes, broken beyond fixing. However, in the Christian life, nothing is broken beyond fixing. Any problem or difficulty in the Christian life can be worked out.

Grace and doctrinal orientation and other skill fix the believer's life.

The seduction that this woman brings to the life throws in some misery and self-induced misery. The loss of focus in living the Christian life. Also a loss to any solution in this situation.

The woman hastens to take her victims down. She runs to sheol. She exists in a grave of misery. Anyone who listens and indulges her will, she takes down to sheol. There is not satisfaction in it, no love in it, no stability in it. Bitter memories of passion and betrayal is a part of adultery. The sex relationship cannot match the RM/RW relationship.

Now we come to v. 6, which is the intensifying of this.

Proverbs 5:6 ...she does not ponder the path of life; her ways wander, and she does not know it.

She does not consider who she is or what she is doing. She is unstable.

The Adulterous Woman Not Pondering Her Path

1. V. 6 describes how she does not think. She is emoting and reacting. Bobby gives this information so that we can recognize it when it is taking place. This sort of thing could happen to anyone at anytime. It is never too late to learn.
2. This woman does not consider any short or long-term considerations to her acts. It is just play time; just recreation time.
3. She has passed the point of self-evaluation or personal criticism. This has a general reference to all of us. We often do not self-evaluate ourselves. In fact, assessing ourselves and this woman is a threat to us personally.
4. She cannot afford to see herself as she is. She can't. No one likes to see ugliness in themselves. Deep down we know who we are. We know our problems. We do not want to see the dark side of ourselves. It is a critical of thoughts and intents of the heart. This woman will not change.
5. She just puts out of her mind anything that might contradict her promiscuous desires or objectives. It happens, she does it, and she moves on. No big deal. That is how she reacts to sin in life. Rebound handles this. We certainly sin, and rebound takes care of that problem. The more that we grow, the more that we can look at ourselves and see where the sin nature takes us; and that Bible doctrine has the solution to it.
6. Her desire to seduce may even become an addiction, which is no longer a thought process, but just a reaction and a loss of control, regardless of the cost. The cost is never taken into consideration. Only the moment.

7. She does not recognize her own instability, and that is her trip down to Sheol. She is unaware that her life counts for nothing. As believers in Jesus Christ, our lives must count for something; that something being the plan of God. It is not about your station in life; it is all about who you work for. Our life, as a believer, is worth everything.

This woman's objectives in life are all physical objectives in life; it is all about physical stimulation. She is looking for a good time, looking for what she cannot find at home. She is a wanderer. She does not stay at home. She is a restless soul. We are restless souls, just looking for a good time and looking for someone to share it with. For her, she wants this on her own terms, which is not the spiritual life.

Men do this just as well. Many men will take what she gives and take their own trip to sheol. This is a soul in reversionism. A soul which is hard as nails. A soul that cannot respond. A soul that has no capacity for life.

There is nothing wrong with having a good time with a good companion. We all enjoy this. But there are limits and standards. Her life is characterized by secrecy and debauchery. But the sword has two edges. Fun is not what it appears to be.

According to Verse 6...

1. This woman does not even ponder her ways. This means, you have to be pretty hard; pretty far gone.
2. She does not care about the end product of her actions, either for herself or for others. That is a hard person. Realize how little capacity for love that is. So many people are hurt under those circumstances. Everybody; does not care.
3. She lives in the moment and for the moment. A very limited view.
4. Any repercussions are beyond the scope of her attention. That is when you know that you are pretty far gone. You do not even think about it any more.
5. Her reality is a life of self-indulgence and dissipation; but there is always a price to pay, always. No matter how they think, or what they think, there will be a price to pay.
6. She is entrenched, hardened, enured to the way that she lives.
7. She is self-destructive. Not suicidal; but in her own soul. She lacks a conscience or she has scar tissue built up on her conscience. She does not have the guilt to evaluate her life.
8. She has no conscious understanding of the far-reaching magnitude of her action.
9. Unfortunately, this translates to her victim that gets lost in her seduction and takes on her characteristic.

The really sad part, she does not recognize just how unstable her life has become. She thinks that she has a wonderful life, that others secretly wish that they could pull off themselves. They do not see the problems, discontent or unhappiness.

When pleasure is not there, you are on a constant pleasure seeking trip. It is like searching for gold. You don't find it that often. But it never supplies what you expect it to supply. Her life comes crashing down with events that she cannot control.

The sin nature enslaves us. The spiritual life brings freedom. You will know the truth and the truth will make you free. If she is a believer in reversionism, this is the call to recovery. The worse that it gets, the worse the discipline. The more that it is designed to bring the believer to recovery.

There is only one place for true refuge and that is Bible doctrine. But to consort with her and to indulge the sin nature, is to share her weakness. She has to have the false approbation that comes with it. She needs the confirmation that she is a person worthy of flattery.

Women can despise men because they see men at their weakest. Sex workers see men at their worst. Women are designed to respond to a man's strength and stability. The person we are talking about never sees that.

What satisfies the woman with wisdom? Finding a man of virtue and character who is not led around by her whims. This comes from Bible doctrine; that provides the greatest strength.

When you are looking for a certain type of person. When pleasure is in control, what are you going to find? Someone who is like-minded. For men who follow, but cannot lead, then you find them at the men's club. She wants to lead, but she is not satisfied. The woman is never happy when she is unable to respond to a man.

We have an entire society of people in marriages and they are unhappy. We have no doctrine in the souls; and no divine establishment in their thinking.

The results of her activity is not just self-destructive, but this brings down everyone around her.

Following Such a Woman

1. When following her, they will wander off the path of a stable and establishment lifestyle
2. They squelch the truth of the spiritual life and they move into reversionism. Sexual reversionism.
3. Friends may also be influenced by the seeming success of her seductive charms. This is contagious. This is contagious of those who hook up with her.
4. Without wisdom, they will choose the same lifestyle with exactly the same results.
5. This portends a life of sheol, discipline, including self-induced and divine discipline for a loser.

Lives are ruined at this point. There are other unintended consequences for her lovers, and this takes out innocent bystanders, like the children, who are neglected or ignored. Her motherly example for them is instability or immorality; and very destructive for them as children growing to adults. It is not the end of the world, although many people see it as that.

This can be child abuse and it can be very difficult on the children. Her life of capriciousness and heartlessness to everyone in her periphery. We can see this in any bar or social club.

There are other aspects to the stimulation, which can include drugs and alcohol. We are not going to find our right man or right woman in that way. Those are empty souls struggling to make any sense of life. This is a foundational premise. Struggling to find meaning in life outside of themselves. They cannot defeat the sin nature; and they struggle to overcome sin, which cannot be done in humanism.

There are those who believe in the sin nature; but man is fallen and he will always be fallen. What we see in humanism are all sorts of ideologies. The sin nature will not be overcome by man. Man is saddled with the sin nature.

The overemphasis upon self is the basic mental attitude sins which promotes all over mental attitude sins. Also the overt sins of promiscuity and approbation lust. The only really safety for ourselves is the wisdom, discretion and discernment that we have from Bible doctrine. That is the only way we can defeat the sin nature.

Proverbs 5:6 ...she does not ponder the path of life; her ways wander, and she does not know it.

Hence we have an admonition coming up with v. 7....

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/12/2022 Thursday

Solomon provides some admonitions, beginning with v. 7:

Proverbs 5:7 And now, O sons, listen to me, and do not depart from the words of my mouth.

It is critical that you do listen, because you cannot metabolize unless you do listen. This is the key to all that we should be doing. Do not depart from the words of my mouth.

Bible doctrine must not be ignored. We must listen after we have studied those verses. The son/student must give consent to these verse. How easy it is to fall into the trap of this adulterous woman. If you do not have doctrine, there is only confusion. Without absolute truth, you will still be confused in certain areas. Easy to fall into humanism, as we are bombarded with it.

There Is Also Something to Note Here:

1. The author shifts to the plural, sons. He did this in Prov. 7:24 as well.
2. It is as if, in making this shift, that he focuses first on one person, his son; but now, it is as if he is focusing on a classroom of kids.
3. The author addresses a wider audience. This is no longer a father/son talk.
4. Who would this be? Anyone who might hear, listen, read. Also to us, as we are also studying these words of wisdom. Our interest is immediately locked in, cautionary device gains momentum. It must be considered as a mandate for the life of these young people and old fools as well.

Often, the man should be included in all of this, as he is.

There are older men who look for the trophy young; or they simply chase a young woman. The women want a sugar daddy situation. Just as there is no soul-love between the original adulterous woman and the boy; and the same is true of older men and very much younger women. It is never satisfying; and this often opens the door for a young woman to open the door to adultery.

Proverbs 5:8 Keep your way far from her, and do not go near the door of her house,

Listen up and do not even go to the door to her house. The invitation is to go right through the door into this woman's house. Do not go in the front door or the back door either. Once you go inside, you can more easily make a bad decision (or many).

The woman who is attracted to a stranger, the male seducer, and she may be in the place of the young man, naive. She is invited to go over to his house or apartment. It works both ways. Come over for a drink or a sneaky glass of ecstasy. Do not be fooled by a well-build, handsome guy. You can talk anywhere. You do not have to be in the man's house or the back seat of his car. The older man is more likely to be married. And many women never ask whether the guy is married or not. Seducers do not flaunt their marriage. If he becomes very insistent, then obviously, he has more than talk in mind. It is easy to figure out his motivation, and then you can decide, do I go or stay. Many younger women fall prey to such a man. Teaching and understanding and learning these things are critical for discernment. So if you are a parent or grandparent, you need to be aware of this, because it has never been a more dangerous world for a young woman or a young man. What do we see on every program, television or movies? Seduction; and nearly always on the first date. The most conservative is the so-called third date.

As we study this, we realize just how far this is from our thinking. It is easy to drift off course. It is easy to lose sight in our culture today. Even easier for a young girl. You are a target. You have a bulls eye on your back, constantly. Isn't this what people work for, sex and money?

Bobby listened to the commentators today on college football. It has been completely taken over by greed. It is on the road to becoming a professional sport. Some men out of high school are being offered millions of dollars to some, tens of thousands to others.

Every commentator talks as if this is okay, and that there is nothing wrong with this. These people have no standards but materialism. That overrides all of it. Our society is eaten up with the opposite view.

The advice of Solomon holds true for the woman as well. Do not fall for the handsome man who has money or seems charming or has some power.

Darryl Royal used to say, when you pass, 3 things can happen, and 2 of them are bad. Same thing is true when it comes to falling for seduction lines. This is the worst way to begin any sort of relationship.

The First Contact

1. If a first contact between a man and a woman is to be worthwhile, it must start with knowledge and exploration of the soul.
2. What is the first thing that you must figure out if you are finding out about someone? Do they have any integrity or virtue?
3. It may take some time, and that is a good thing. There is no such thing as love at first sight. How can you love someone that you don't know? Over here at Second Baptist a lot of that is taking place, because a woman sees a man in church and who looks good. This is the superficiality of the world today. Take the time necessary to know someone.
4. If a person is not really interested in you, he or she will not hang around, the longer that you wait. It is no big loss. It is a good thing when someone loses interest and leaves. Have your night of crying and get over yourself. Even if you think they are the one, still let them go if they want to. Take that time to assess.
5. You must decide, discern whether or not this person is actually interested in you or if this is simply a wham bam.
6. Another thing you must know, can he or she be trusted. If you cannot trust someone, then you cannot love them. You must be able to discern this. This is a big part of courtship.

Making too many bad decisions. And you get out of this by taking in Bible doctrine. Listen to what I am telling you, my son.

There is only one way to get to that great relationship, and it is not by putting the physical stuff first. That is to learn the hard way. Sometimes, we do not learn from that kind of experience. Only a momentary pleasure, which means nothing.

But there can be a hardened heart; or the weakening of good standards. The romantic relationship is a very narrow road.

Remember the most important aspects regarding this. God is not mocked. That is the road to ruin. No greater ruin than days and nights of going with the wrong person. At time, the debt of adultery or fornication comes due, and the discipline is harsh. Sometimes the discipline is harsh, even a lifetime of discipline.

These are a few of the results of failing to heed this advice.

The Warnings of Solomon

1. Solomon's warning is universal, even if directed just toward his son.
2. It is a grim warning for all male/female relationships, particularly the romantic kind.
3. At the same time, it contains the doctrine necessary to realize the fulfillment and happiness the Solomon wants for his son.

Solomon is setting up his son here. He is giving him all the negatives, but he will show his son the right way. There are universal results for the adulterous woman.

The next two verses list 4 very negative results:

Proverbs 5:9 lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless,

Proverbs 5:10 lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner,

Your Vigor Is Given to Others

1. The first loss is hode
2. Giving away the dignity or majesty as a king might possess
3. Glory and honor go together.
4. Further, hode is a description of mankind who reflects those qualities by advancing to maturity in the spiritual life. These are qualities which we can have as well.
5. An unbeliever can have these qualities, who live a life of divine establishment and the divine institutions and who is concerned with the principles of right and wrong. Today, these principles of right and wrong change almost daily. Those are not standards. We find such standards in marriage, in the rule of law.
6. Now in this case, hode is the description of the loss of hode in a person. This is the failure of Solomon

The Loss of the Young Man

1. As a young man, he gives away the flower of his youth.
2. He grows up way too early and way too worldly. They lose their childhood too early.
3. A bad pattern leads to a jaded attitude in the future, one in which the good treatment of women by a man is severely lacking. A seduced young man has an entirely different view of women and he becomes jaded.

There are 5 reasons for this loss, to be covered on Sunday.

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/15/2022 2Sunday

Many a person has been destroyed by adultery. The Word of God has a way of hitting us right between the eyes on every subject. It corrects our course when and where we need it the most. When doctrine is metabolized, we are able to resist the temptations of the sin nature. That is what Solomon is warning his son about.

If a person does not have the discernment to avoid adultery, they will have to deal with Mrs. Robinson, and vv. 9–10 tell us the end result. We need to ask, is this worth it?

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless,...

Proverbs 5:10 ...lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner,

There are 4 losses given here.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless,...

Your vigor is given to a woman who is unworthy and unscrupulous. There is no misunderstanding how the Scriptures see this. Your integrity, your manhood, your potential, simply because of a lack of discretion and a lack of discernment.

It is a dangerous world out there, particularly if you make the wrong choice or choices out there. This boy has given his manhood to this woman and she has taken it. The life that this person has known to this point has changed. This is one price of adultery.

There is a second one in the case of this boy. When someone is a leader, it makes a difference. This young man is being groomed to be a king. He could use the quality of hohd, the glory and majesty of a leader who would sit on the throne of Israel. This would be true of any client nation. Solomon is warning his son because of what his son is going to be. Solomon lost it all, including this particular one. However, Solomon regained it as well.

Nothing is a total loss, in the Christian life. No matter how stupid you are. A total loss can be turned into a gain. When you orient to Bible doctrine, when the wisdom of metabolized doctrine is in your soul. That is when you begin to have discernment. Good decisions based upon truth. The Lord will then redirect your life when you recover. When you make bad decisions, options in your life close down. But when one avenue closes due to bad decisions, God opens up other avenues in His plan. We are never unrecoverable in the plan of God. Even though we are talking about destruction here, as long as we are alive, it is not over. We simply have a redirection. God's grace gives you a redirection.

Now, the sin unto death can take you out. But, until your last breath, you can recover.

Giving your vigor to others can mean the loss of good health; or the loss of prosperity. Anger, bitterness, can all take you down dangerous road. There is also giving bigger to others can mean a loss of financial status, loss of economic well-being. Some relationships at work can get you fired. This vigor can also refer to sexual potency. Your sexual potency is given to the wrong person, to people who are arrogant and self-centered. They do not make good lovers, good companions and they do not make good husbands and wives.

Just as Solomon was grabbing his son, he is telling him, listen up, boy. You had better listen here.

Only the right woman should receive the full vigor of her husband; and the right man should receive the full vigor of his wife.

Hohd can refer to the loss of quality regarding to believers in relationship to God. God gives His glory, His honor. But fellowship can be lost. The dwelling presence of God within man. Moses entered the Tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting; and he met God there. And his face would glow as a result. We also know that no one can see God. He is just too much for us. Moses saw the Shekinah Glory in some way. So did all of those who lived during the incarnation. Only once could they see His glory. Then we have the age in which we live now.

We know Christ in you, the confidence of glory. We reflect the glory of God as a believer and this is from the indwelling of Christ. This is living the spiritual life and applying the mind of Christ. Then the believer reflects the glory of Him. The loss of fellowship, carnality, can be the loss vigor.

Loss of vigor can be the maladies in this life brought on by sin; the loss of potency in this life.

Everyone has made bad decisions here; and we reap what we sow. In spite of all that, and even when that continues, we can rebound, we can recover, and we keep moving in the spiritual life. Despite all of these problems, God leads and directs us. Your life stabilizes; there is a contentment in life. We are not concentrating on the problems anymore. Now we begin to understand what our life is really about. It is not about our problems. That is the wisdom that we have in our soul.

There are political activists and they never get what they want, and they are always unhappy.

The Loss of Vigor

1. The loss of vigor is connected to the incapacitation of the spiritual life.
2. It brings a spiritual poverty, destitution as it certainly did for Solomon. Solomon was the richest man in the world, he was the wisest of the wise. The Pursuit of Happiness is all about Solomon. This is the man of the greatest wisdom ever. He was a guy who had it all and he had made tons of bad decisions. You have to be warned about these things in order to have discernment.
3. The end result is a denigration of life in general. All of life. No part is left untouched by your bad decisions and by your loss of vigor. This 4 results are devastating.
4. Solomon lost this vigor in his pursuit of sexual pleasures. Solomon kept bringing them in. There were 1000 of them. They destroyed so much of his life and leadership; and Israel paid a price for this. Solomon actually chased foreign gods. As a leader, this affected the spiritual life of his nation.

It is now Solomon's hope to preclude this same loss in his son. He counsels his son to maintain a spiritual life punctuated by wisdom. So that good decisions and happiness are characteristic of his life.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless,...

The second general loss in v. 9, your hears given to the cruel one. This woman can make further demands on this man's time and effort and his life in general.

Today, such an affair can cause an unplanned pregnancy, a disaster in the life of a young person; and compounded by the continued bad decisions to continue the affair outside of marriage.

This is cruel because it narrows future decisions for the woman or the man. They might be discovered, and neither one of them wanted this. A child causes a complete change of life. There are adjustments to be made. A single parent has narrowed options. Especially a girl; and this can be a responsibility that she is not ready for. Much of the burden of a child falls upon the girl; and this is so often a child having another child. They are totally unprepared. They have no clue as to how to raise a child, who then perpetuates problems in our society. Adultery reflects the thinking of those involved. How is authority-orientation going to be translated to children who need it? Parents, children have ing children are not ready to be parents. What about a child brought into this world in these circumstances, being the child of a boy and an adulterous woman.

One more problem Bobby is going to address. People use abortion as a form of birth control. We want abortion so that we can continue to be promiscuous. A lack of wisdom that plagues people. Devastating repercussions of that kind of lifestyle, no matter what you think about abortion. The root of all this is a spiritual problem, which never seems to get addressed. It is about activism. That too is a failure to train children.

There is this other side of it. Abortion is seen as control of one's body. How about before pregnancy? What about controlling your body then? That is Biblical. If people do not listen and learn, they no longer value the viewpoint of God.

One of the problems that we have are with children and believers who remain out of fellowship.

Roe v. Wade could spark a civil war.

No matter how you think about abortion, right or wrong, death or life, consider the decisions before you get there. Consider control before you get to that point. Only God can solve this problem in the country. The repeal of legislation will not solve it; the continuation of legislation cannot solve it. What is the solution? The solution is in us. It is the spiritual life. Continuing this nation as a client nation. Nothing has ever been perfect in this world. There is us and the rule of law. Both of these things are being undermined today.

Proverbs 5:10 ...lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner,

Bobby was once asked, what does the Prince of Peace have to do with the military? The people who have joined the military and have died for our freedom, and they reflect, in a small way, what Jesus did, to pay for our sins and to pay for our freedom.

One of the best known memorials to the fallen soldiers is the tomb to the unknown soldier. There are unidentified soldiers from the Wwi, WWII, Korea?, and Vietnam wars. Every soldier from each of those soldiers in that tomb have been awarded the medal of honor. This was done by an act of Congress and bestowed by the President of the United States on behalf of Congress.

The Vietnam soldier was exhumed later based upon DNA testing.

One of the traditions is to read Medal of Honor recipients. Denny Branson. Near France in 1918, a WWI soldier. He fought for two weeks prior to the armacist agreement. He had to advance without cover and from an exposed position, compelling the enemy to surrender. After receiving first aid treatment, he was ordered to the rear. He remained on duty. His regiment, the next day, resumed their attack. He joined the company E, who captured the village. He was again wounded. The mission was accomplished because of him. He died in 1957 at age 62.

Continuing our study. Rick Hughes did a wonderful job in filling in.

It is the grace of God in aging. This is a subject that people would prefer to ignore or to avoid, even though they know that it is inevitable. Many of us are at that stage of life; we can feel it. Time passes very quickly as you get older.

Bobby thinks of David's last words in Psalm 37:25 I have been young, and now I am old; but I have not seen the righteous forsaken. God never forsakes His righteous ones.

These subjects are not that far apart. David is warning about this as his son grows up. As he grows older, he looks back at his monumental sins with women and his recovery. He knows the value of this wisdom. He passed this along to Solomon as he got older; and Solomon passed it along to his own son.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless [or, cruel one],...

Proverbs 5:10 ...lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner,

The four great results. The vigor is given to another; and your hears are given to the cruel one; strangers will be filled with your strength; and your hard-earned goods will go to the house of an alien.

Giving you vigor to others. Spiritual power sapped by a spiritual bloodsucker. This young man gives away the flower of his youth. He grows up way too early. He grows up to worldly wise. He gives in to a woman who is unscrupulous. His moral compass is taken. This describes a man who comes to lack integrity and virtue in life. It is a bad pattern to set. This will ead to a future jaded view of life, and failure in marriage. This is a trend which we see all too often today. They do not understand the wisdom from proverbs 5.

Even if we understand this wisdom, we have an obligation to pass this along to your own children and your grandchildren. This goes against everything that we hear in this country. Too many think that freedom is doing whatever we want, no matter who it affects. Adultery affects a lot of people.

A third loss is a loss of health or a loss of prosperity. It can also include giving sexual vigor to others. By giving this to the adulterous may preclude the pleasure of love and fulfillment in the future. This can also be a cause for impotence at a later time. Only the wife, the tight woman, should receive the full vigor of her husband in sex and same for the wife.

Second half of v. 9, your years are given over to the cruel one, meaning her cruel actions and manipulations after the seduction will become a cruel master in life. This is exemplified by more bad decisions and more bad results. They are perpetuated by the cruel one. She will make further demands on. This severely limits future options for this young man.

What Are These Limited Options?

1. He may miss his right woman. They may be ships passing in the night. He may be too distracted to recognize.
2. He may lose opportunity in life because of his preoccupation with this affair.
3. In fornication, unwed pregnancy that leads to premature parenting and financial hardship.
4. It leads to a loss of education and professional limitation. Results of one bad decision.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless [or, cruel one],...

You span of years. In this context, there is a marked forfeiture. Instead, the time is given to the cruel one who wastes it or abuses it. She sends the boy down the wrong road. One or more acts of adultery take a normal formative time away from the young man. This is not a pleasure palace but a limitation of life. What then do these bad decisions actually remove from this. It takes away the center of his or her life.

Some of the Things Which Are Lost in Adultery

1. This takes away the span of years during which they are young and vigorous and fresh and optimistic in outlook.
2. He or she might lose what might be called their normal maturation. Adultery can supercede that.
3. He also loses many options and possibilities that were in front of him.
4. Instead, he becomes worldly wise before his time; and certainly, jaded and pessimistic about life and about women. Much greater implication than going to bed with a married person.
5. They are children without a good perspective on the world. They have not been taught.
6. This loss of innocent affects the attitude and viewpoint of the young person for the worst. What we see today called child abuse compounds this problem. This certainly affects the person in the future. Adultery has the same affect.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless [or, cruel one],...

A loss of honor and respect of others. One loses years of one's reputation by a bad decision. Honor, respect, reputation will be lost, to the fatal attraction woman. She is pitiless. Cruel one in exploiting her prey. It can also mean that the husband will deal ruthlessly and mercilessly upon her young lover. He may be robbed of prosperity and even his health. Many a husband are shot or harmed the adulterer. He opens the door to many future disastes. Many portions of Scripture which point this out.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

5/29/2022 2Sunday

A WWII medal of honor recipient on Okinawa. Bobby's fathi-in-law. He never met him. He was very quiet about it. They rarely speak of these things, since others would have no idea what their life was like.

Seymour .... 1945 in Okinawa. He was leading an attack against Zebra Hill. 5 pill boxes stopped them. Then he attacked one pill box and destroyed it. He had killed 20 Japanese and destroyed 3 machine guns. He located the final dfense, and made a one-man assault, killing 10 of the 20 killed there. He ran across 100 yards to join a support platoon. He began another one-man drive, hurling granades on another defense position, killing half of them

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless [or, cruel one],...

We are covering the first two results. A young man who gets involved with a seductress. We have somewhat defined what this means. By the choice of adultery or for adultery. When this young man gives in to to this woman's advances, there are results.

The Old Testament also defines what some of these results are. One of the tenets of the Ten Commandments is you will not commit adultery. The Mosaic Law also provides a punishment for the male or female adulterer.

Leviticus 20:10 "If a man commits adultery with another man's wife or with his neighbor's wife, both he and the woman must be put to death for their adultery.

The punishment reflects the damage done to others. This is not the punishment prescribed in our nation. Divine viewpoint principles come from the Mosaic Law. All that time that this person is building some semblance of integrity, One slip, one bad decision, and he can be deprived of many things in his life. This can affect friends and employment and many other things. Don't ever take this lightly. When it gets this kind of attention. All sins are the same in God's eyes. The violate His integrity; His standards. Sin in our lives has a greater or lesser repercussion. Adultery has great repercussion. That is what makes this particularly difficult, because of the many results.

Don't every think that adultery is going to remain hidden. Don't think that it will remain hidden to the rest of the world. What may have been done in the distant past can be discovered at any time and used against the adulterer. It comes back to haunt, and ruins the present and the future. Such activity is more acceptable. In some places, it is even expected. Violates of divine standards cannot be mocked.

Bobby has many illustrations. He was a company commander and one of his NCO's seduced a female soldier. She accepted his advances because he took her off to Disney world. When she revealed this incident to her first sergeant. Bobby was required to take action. This was a violation of resurrection and law. Promises made to her in trade for sex. He received the specified punishment. He was an E7 with 20 years of service. He was relieved of his duty and he lost any chance of promotion, after 20 years. His bitterness and anger were unleashed upon everyone involved. He lost everything for one weekend of sex. But he was aware of the regulations and the repercussions. He had to take responsibility for what he did; and he did not learn a thing from what he did. Blind to his own culpability and what he did.

Likewise, such is the impact of such a bad decision. So many people will not accept their own bad decisions. For the believer, to move on and keep on moving..

Solomon, the author, has a concise knowledge and knack for presenting the worst possible scenario about anyone make this bad decision. Where there is no discernment, there is a headlong rush toward the bad decision. The spiritual life always provides the chance to recover. This is a difficult one. We continue in the plan of God. Solomon did not have to go very far from his own home to know about this. He was right in the middle of this. David's adultery with Solomon's mother. Despite all of the repercussions, David rebounded and moved ahead. Adultery was not the end of the line, but it was the beginning of recovery. Solomon witnessed all that has happened with his father and mother. His wise advice had the reality of authority.

However, we might have failed, that wisdom can be shared with others. Then it has a reality of experience and authority. Wisdom and discernment coming from reality.

The third general loss is found in v. 10.

Proverbs 5:10 ...lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner,

Adultery Infringes upon the Production of One's Own Labor

1. In this context, kowach is exerting oneself, to put out a big effort.
2. The hard work that a person gives in life. This fulfills his or his family's needs in life. Any drive to succeed requires hard work. Someone who works hard for what they have.
3. In other words, the logistics of life, food shelter clothing. All of the things that we have in life. The necessities, the logistics, and we in the United States have so much more of.
4. This may also include family inheritance, which exemplifies generations of hard work. Family companies; little businesses, hard work which can be squandered.
5. The strength that is lost is the production of one's labor.
6. The seductive woman is a part of this.

Proverbs 5:10 ...lest strangers take their fill of your strength, and your labors go to the house of a foreigner, the 4th result. The labors may fly out the window and go to a foreigner. The wealth or gain will go to one who did not earn this, other than by nefarious seduction. It goes to the house of a stranger who did not labor for these things. If this is the case, great material loss, great financial results. There are great repercussions for one bad decision.

So families then are deprived of what is rightfully theirs by one simply act. Today, this can include a lawsuit, brought on by the innocent party. The one injured by the other two parties. This could be the cuckolded and irate husband.

According to the laws of Texas, a suit can be brought for adultery, if there are intentional or reckless infliction of emotional distress. In order to win that lawsuit. The person must prove that the marriage was happy and that love actually existed between the spouses. This is a very subjective suit to win. The plaintive argument is that the adultery destroyed the love and the marriage. The defense that there was no love; that is the counter argument. It can be brought. You can imagine what dragging this through court can be like. There is a possible loss to both parties. Certainly the loss of reputation and status of all parties. So often, no one wins in lawsuits. If you have sued someone in a car accident, this is so often a roll of the dice. What really matters is, what happens to everyone involved in such a lawsuit. The time and money spent. It is all loss of resources by one bad act. Hard-earned goods go to the house of an alien. The monetary gain is depleted or destroyed by the adulterer.

There can also be criminal threats, as a part of the adulterous act. Blackmail can be a part of all this. That is another way to send one's assets to the hands of an alien.

When the foolish participant is ruined in some of these ways, there will be great regret for not heeding the warnings of this chapter. In vv. 11–14 we can see what happens to the persons involved.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/1/2022 Wednesday

Adultery is the subject for the first portion of Proverbs 5. Our study is not so much on the sin of adultery, but the results of adultery. That is what we are trying to understand. We know that adultery is forbidden in both testaments. It is also very destructive to those involved.

Proverbs 5:9 ...lest you give your honor to others and your years to the merciless [or, cruel one],...

Leviticus 20:10 "If a man commits adultery with another man's wife or with his neighbor's wife, both he and the woman must be put to death for their adultery.

We will give our vigor to the adulteress; and ou

Results of Adultery

1. A young man gives up his vigor, his dignity, his honor in this adulterous situation.
2. He gives up the flower of his youth. He grows up too quickly. He develops an attitude which is not divine viewpoint.
3. That loss of vigor also represents the strong possibility of loss of health; job, salary.
4. Adultery lessens or reduces the capacity for sexual pleasure in marriage and love.
5. The loss of vigor is related most definitely to the incapacitation of the spiritual life.

The cruel one is the adulteress.

Options Limited by Adultery

1. Her actions and manipulations after the seductio become a cruel master.
2. She makes further demands on his time, goals, dreams in life.
3. The adulteress woman and the act of adultery limit his future options in life. It is amazing how the grace of God can open up new options in life.
4. Any further prosperity that hardwork can bring will be curtailed by the cruel one. Her manipulations and her demands.

She Scribes and Pharisees His Desire

1. The results of sins have various and different actions. Because of the results, some sins can have a greater affect than others do.
2. The strength that he loses is the produce of his labor.
3. The strength of his production is sapped by others, the woman here.
4. This woman who takes his energy and his strength; he will not be able to fulfill his family's needs in life. There will be a gap in what he is able to do for his loved ones. Adultery can cause an interruption or a loss in life such that everyone suffers.
5. Any further prosperity that hard work can bring will be curtailed.

All his hard work will go to someone else. He opens the window by the act of adultery this act affects many others besides those who are involved in the act of adultery. There are indeed consequences to the act of adultery. These ought to give a deterrent to those who want to commit this act. Consideration of this should be some portion of the thinking.

When the foolish participant is ruined as vv. 9–10 describe. There will also be regrets from not needing the warnings of Proverbs.

Proverbs 5:11 and at the end of your life you groan, when your flesh and body are consumed,

Groan here is the Hebrew verb nacham.

Nacham

1. This is not just some hidden, private grief.
2. This is a louse wail of lamentation.
3. It is the vocal pain and despair of intense mental suffering. That suffering is caused by the remembrance and results of the folly of adultery. It appears to have no remedy for the man who is trapped in it.
4. It is remorse; self-abnegation. Self-loathing that is overwhelming.
5. Nacham indicates a grim future viewpoint and one without doctrine and without wisdom. This is a person who has reached a point of terrible pain.
6. It is a foreloan, bleak outcome of bitter regret that is going to cause great distress to the adulterer. Emotional, mental and physical distress. This happens after the damage of adultery. When it is over; these results begin to happen.
7. Proverbs 28:15 has the same verb Like a roaring lion and a charging bear, so a wicked ruler is a threat to poor people. A scream of anguish from the sounded soul of her paramour.

Eze 24:23 Your turbans shall be on your heads and your shoes on your feet; you shall not mourn or weep, but you shall rot away in your iniquities and groan to one another.

Nacham in Ezekiel

1. The reason for the groan.
2. The cause is the adultery and the groaning is the effect. Rotting away in the iniquity of adultery.
3. There is nothing to do but to mourn the situation. To express is publically. If you think that you can hide the adultery. Even if you think that you can, you cannot hide the results.
4. The people will be grieving for their city Jerusalem. This is a reference to spiritual adultery. Spiritual adultery is chasing false gods; idolatry. They have certainly forsaken the Lord; they will groan at the results.

Eze 24:21 'Say to the house of Israel, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the delight of your eyes, and the yearning of your soul, and your sons and your daughters whom you left behind shall fall by the sword.

Your sons and daughters, whom you have left behind, will fall by the sword. Pride, desire the Temple was a sign of their own importance; they believed it to represent the favor of God. They confused it.

Berachah Church has stood for 60 years. What distinguishes Berachah Church. The teaching of the Word of God. It was taught by Bob. It was built in 1959. The whole purpose for this building is the teaching of the Word of God. Imagine if the building itself was more important than the teaching? That would be Israel was to be revealed as a chosen people. Yet they were impressed by this building. The Chaldeans would be allowed by God to destroy the people and destroy the hol... Who knows what happened to the Ark of the Covenant? How could the people not experience great nacham. A false worship; spiritual adultery. They rejected what the Temple was.

The Temple would be destroyed; and the people were humbled by the Chaldeans. They could return and not speak of a building, because it had been destroyed. It was slashed to pieces by the two-edged sword for their spiritual adultery.

God allowed them this destruction to reorder their priorities. Christians need a respective of their priorities. Bobby sometimes is unable to step back and think about the larger picture. Bobby thought about our country and Christianity in our country. Where are we spiritually in this country? What is important? The key is spiritual adultery. Is our country truly reconcilable? The way that Christians are acting and reacting. Will we see discipline like we have never seen before. It seems like a strong possibility that the spiritual adultery in our country has gone too far. This is why we need to know spiritual adultery and physical adultery. We need to get the connection.

Nacham

1. Nacham conveys an elemental animal cry of anguish. This is a terrible moment; an animal cry.
2. This is when the guilty find themselves guilty, displaced, homeless. There is a destitution of soul. Homeless without Bible doctrine and wisdom in the soul. Homeless from that which is our home. Where do you live? Not in the building of Berachah Church but in what is taught there.
3. The cause of this displacement will be the fifth cycle of discipline for spiritual adultery. Is it coming. If you review the cycles of discipline. Look at our economy right now? It is in the dumps.

There is a news program called The View. Today, someone said, the shootings in Uvalde is Christianity. This is because Christians look down on those people who are not Christians. That is garbage. This person was reacting to Roe v. Wade. All that will happen is abortion will go back to the states. Don't get upset by all of this. Recognize it for what it is. Physical adultery and spiritual adultery go hand in hand.

The physical adultery comes before spiritual adultery. Nacham was the interim between the actual adultery to the spiritual adultery.

Do not be overly optimistic about our nation. We celebrate Memorial Day. But where is freedom today? Physical and spiritual adultery are rampant. We may live through the intense groans of the anguish and intense groans of our nation. What we need is spiritual revival. We as believers will hold our nation together.

There are good intentions. Let's clear out the swamp and bring back the old values of our nation. This is our nation today. We must not fall for that. We cannot afford spiritual adultery any more than we can afford physical adultery. Think of it in terms of spiritual adultery; and in terms of the groan of nacham.

If you love your country and do not want to see it fall, then you must always stick to the Word of God; you must continue in grace. You cannot get your eyes on a building.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/2/2022 Thursday

Spiritual adultery is something that every believer can be involved in. Physical adultery involves smaller numbers. Both have consequences. A pastor who is caught in adultery, and it happens all too often; and this can affect the entire congregation. The church often splits as a result of that. Many believers who desert the Lord for false pursuits fit the bill for spiritual adultery. These are believers who are deserting the Lord.

Old Testament Israel and its spiritual adultery, which was a national problem. They abandoned the Lord and chased after false gods. This brought the entire nation under the fifth cycle of discipline. In our own nation, we have plenty of that to observe. We know that the dollar is an idol in the United States; and some people pursue money and possessions.

Like Israel, we have our own phallic cult in this country. We have a proliferation of pornography; and societal promotion of homosexuality and other types of perversion.

Spiritual growth by believers is being replaced by political activism, which is another idol. It distracts believers from the Lord. There is a great promotion of humanism in churches today, which is another form of idolatry. The results of all of this is found in Proverbs 5:11–14. Spiritual adultery is certainly an application from what we are studying.

Proverbs 5:11 and at the end of your life you groan, when your flesh and body are consumed,

Spiritual and Physical Adultery

1. These in v. 11 are the ones who experience disaster. Terrible disaster, when they fall for physical and spiritual adultery.
2. The words flesh and body stand for the entire physical body. This means the soul and the spirit.
3. This underscores the fact of a total physical exhaustion in a person. Sometimes, this is called a breakdown. A physical breakdown can be connected to a mental breakdown. It can be exhausting. It saps the spiritual energy.
4. This aggravates cowardice and fear in life. Those involved in adultery live in fear of discovery. They do everything they can do to dodge discovery. When you depart from the study of the Word of God, you are in constant fear. You exhibit cowardice in this life. You exhibit cowardice.
5. This is the condition for the anguish of nacham. This defines it.
6. Nacham represents a person's drained and hopeless outlook; followed by hopeless despair.
7. This is the attitude of depression in a person and in a nation. There is a great depression in our nation; in every area of life. People are depressed with what they see. Both political spectrums want power and they think, if they have power, they can ram through what is necessary. The political solution is idol worship. We bow at the idol of politics. We have obligations; but more important is spiritual growth. We have the obligation to witness for the Lord Jesus Christ. This has more impact than and congressman, senator or president. We have the greatest power on this earth.
8. The consuming of flesh and body is the description of the result of physical adultery when the full impact of that disaster becomes apparent.

Bobby is teaching this is more than telling us not to commit adultery.

Nacham pictures the complete destruction by those who engage in this activity. The ruin of the soul and the suin of the body.

The one who commits adultery with a woman is lacking sense. He who destroys himself, does it. This is soul destruction.

More Points

1. Involvement in adultery, especially many times with many partners also brings the same results.
2. It shows total self-centered arrogance, stupidity and degeneracy. But this starts from within.
3. It is insanity to pursue physical or spiritual adultery, which has been experienced in the past.
4. That is the power of the pull of adultery, once it has a hold. It reduces the conscience. It becomes addictive, making the addiction wear down your volition.
5. A destruction of self, inside and out. It is a lie. It leads to a hardness of heart and a callousness to those who may be affected by these bad choices.
6. This sin is total self-absorption. Ephesians 4:19 describe the actions and soul destruction of the adulterer. And they, becoming callous... This is a very bad result of adultery.

More Points

1. Adultery can destroy RM/RW.
2. It destroys any vestige of compatibility with a spouse. It is buried in the it destroys the meta-identity of the mind of Christ in your soul.
3. The two become incompatible without any meaningful change; and without sexual response to one another.
4. In fact, Adultery can cause a complete loss of interest in a spouse. No soul love is expressed.
5. Neglect and indifference of the spouse is the result
6. Personal pleasure and approbation are the only objectives of a callous sensualist
7. They become hardened and impervious to their own stupidity. They do not even recognize it. And they are indifferent to the pain of others.

Once a person commits adultery and continues in it, they enter in a soul type of slavery. There is momentary pleasure, but nothing more than that. There is discipline and self-induced misery. That is where adultery takes you.

this often starts with I am dissatisfied with my spouse. Adultery is never the satisfying relationship that we hope for. Adultery is addictive; and those who commit it often and they operate with a soul filled with corrupted standards. Building on corrupted standards is not a good relationship. When the thought process is corrupted, they make bad decisions.

More Points

1. Having become enslaved to their own appetites, they give themselves over to
2. The door opens to deep degradations. The end; the problem, the destruction.
3. So they live their lives possessed by their own sinful

4. The antinomian trend is out of control. That is what callousness does.
5. They walk down the path of .... It cannot be the right thing, but we are making it the right thing. It is adultery or sex outside of marriage.

Adultery Is Emotional Revolt of the Soul.

1. In emotional revolt, the soul responds, but only to physical stimulation.
2. The response to physical stimulation is entirely emotional. It is simply a reaction to excitement. That is emotionalism.
3. It has nothing to do with a
4. In emotional revolt, there is no thought process. Expecially when reacting to the stimulus of adulterous seduction.
5. Thus, emotional revolt becomes animal-asdic.

Animals are instinctive. They are in the moment. We appreciate something because we evaluated it. We have had a thought process that takes us there. No animal ha only a reaction to stimulation. It is animalistic. No thought involved. Emotional revolt is involved in the choice for or against adultery.

The temptation is there. The conscience stands back. One is emotional revolt. In emotional revolt, this consideration does not that is the difference between the animalistic choice for adultery and abstaining rom it. The thought proceed. There are no defenses set up with the soul is youhaveignorr.

This is applicable to every type of sin that comes our way. emotional revolt leads to adultery. Reverse process reversionism; and when you turn towards it.

Proverbs 5:11 and at the end of your life you groan, when your flesh and body are consumed,

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/5/2022 1Sunday

There have been many preachers who adjust their tie and then talk about sin and sometimes they pick a few sins to camp out on. Bobby is picking a particular sin. Bobby is teaching us this, for the results we all sin; and we have to deal with the results of the sins which we commit. Bobby is teaching Proverbs 5 on adultery, a sexual sin. It is also a sin that is driven by emotionalism. We hear about the emotional aspect of it. Adultery places us into a state of carnality, without the Holy Spirit. In fact, the spiritual life of the Christian is nullified. But the believer recovers via rebound. No sin is unforgiven after rebound. Christ died for all of these sins. But there are repercussions. Even the sin of adultery is forgiven. We still move forward. In examining the effects of adultery. There is special place for adultery, being found in the Ten Commandments. There were problems from this sin in the life of David and Solomon. It seems to have a special place in the area of carnality and recovery. It is not just harder on an individual; but it has a devastating effect on others. Once indulged, it becomes a very persistent sin. It is a hard habit to break because of the emotional and sexual aspects of it. Once the emotions take over, it is hard to be objective about that sin.

Objectivity comes from Bible doctrine applied properly from the soul. Adultery tends to be something which is very charged and it can be a very subjective experience. The other sins are similar. The intimacy of the marriage loses its luster. It disappears after a year or so. One spouse is on the prowl when this happens. Subjectivity and emotional control of the life.

Reversionism is a retreat from the spiritual life. A sin or a series of sins is involved. There is humanism which we find all around us. That eventually renders a believer indistinguishable from the unbeliever. It is the lifestyle and the way of thinking. That is the result. Any sin does this.

The reaction of some form of excitement and stimulation. It has nothing to do with the right place for emotion in life. We enjoy emotion in our souls. That emotion is an appreciation of something of value, of virtue. Emotional control, there is no evaluation from doctrine resident in the soul. Doctrine resident in the soul keeps bad emotions in check.

We have each trend to a greater or lesser degree. A believer in emotional revolt comes to a point where they are no longer bothered by their sins. This is a problem in society today. There is no clearcut definition of sin today. "If I want to do it, it's okay." We begin to think in exactly the same way. For many people, they are no longer bothered by their sins.

Rebound is designed to get you back into fellowship. It is not a license to continue doing what you want to do. Adultery has a draw like very few others (along with other sexual sins). This is why Solomon is thundering away at his son with all of this.

We all have a conscience. But for some people, this conscience is no longer operational. A soul filled with corrupt standards. Corrupted and subsumed under emotional reactions. Adultery can take a believer further into a stage of reversionism, beyond emotional revolt. To reverse process reversionism. It means to face in the opposite direction of the spiritual life.

What is destructive is accepted and practiced. And some do not even practice the rebound technique. Adultery is an open door to that. Once started, once involved, then reverse process reversionism is the result. Hence the added emphasis of adultery in Scripture. Certainly it can be engaged in a few times. And some make the decision, this is no good; get me out of here.

And you groan (and scream and lament) at your final end, when your flesh and your body are consumed. They might be in a bad marriage, a bad match; and they find someone that they see as their way out or as better.

This warning needs to be heeded by the young man. If he does not catch on, he makes this...

Proverbs 5:12 [and you say, "How I hated discipline \[or, *instructor*\], and my heart despised reproof!](#)

Now forget adultery for a moment. Bobby presents the materia; but then it is up to you. These verses are most a confession of an anti-authority lifestyle. If the Word of God is being taught, do not ever think that it is antiquated. The wrong attitude takes us down a bad road. The ruined libertine who chooses for adultery, admits that he is not without warning. Today, people can be unteachable. "Nobody can tell me what is right or wrong. I make my own rules."

All Bobby can do is sand up here and say what is going to happen. You can blow it off. You can say, "That has never happened." Wait. If you mock the Scriptures, then you too will have regrets. The boy should have appreciated the doctrine which he was being taught.

Many sit here and thinkg about it. How many people have sat in Berachah Church and have rejected what they have heard. We need to listen and evaluate what we hear. We have minds and thought processes. The Scripture hits these thought processes very hard. Do not reject the Word of God because of a personality. The Word of God being taught to your soul, and you think it is crap, then you have a problem.

This boy gives no heed to the standards being laid down. He will be left with nothing more than self-reproach. "Sure wish I hadn't done that." That is what vv. 12–13 say. Instruction from the pulpit got in the way of what the kids wanted to do.

The very thing which would have precluded that aftermath of his bad decision. Now it is clear that he will face the consequences of his sin. He did not listen or learn. The sin here is very powerful. Especially if you come to a place where it is no longer right or wrong in your own thinking.

Proverbs 5:12 and you say, "How I hated discipline, and my heart despised reproof!

Proverbs 5:13 I did not listen to the voice of my teachers or incline my ear to my instructors.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/5/2022 2Sunday

Bobby was watching Dateline, and they look at particular murders. It was about a man who lived in Montana in Darby. An idyllic little town. He went to a wedding of friends and he had an affair over the weekend and his wife found out about it. The wife made him miserable for 2 years and then she killed him. Sin is sin; but some sins have a greater effect on others.

Solomon's son apparently had given into adultery and he did not listen to his father.

Proverbs 5:12 and you say, "How I hated discipline, and my heart despised reproof!"

Proverbs 5:13 I did not listen to the voice of my teachers or incline my ear to my instructors.

Now he is saying, how did this all happen? How did come to pass in such a senseless way? Emotional revolt of the soul. Someone is seduced in a moment in time. Dear old dad tried to tell him what happened. Some people can look at us, and tell what we are going to do, and they warn us, and we ignore and go ahead and do it. All he can do is confess to his own stupidity. The fool rejects his father's discipline. He who regards reproof is sensible. Sensible is someone who looks before they leap. The fool rejects what his father says.

All he had to do was listen and follow the sage advice. Bobby can hear the cry of so many, why didn't you guide me, why didn't you warn me to voice the entanglement? God did, but you did not listen to him. Saying that means that you are playing the blame game unfortunately, everyone falls into this category at one time or another. Looking back, someone wishes that a wise parent would warn us. Who knows us best? Our parents. They know our personality, our weaknesses and strengths. When we make these terrible mistakes, we wonder, why didn't they tell me? Ask yourself, let's say that they told you; would you have listened to this wise advice? You still would have made that bad decision regardless of warnings. This boy was wishing that he heard the instruction. There are times that Bobby should have listened to Bob. Bob gave sage advice. But he ignored his good advice and paid for it. You have to be spiritually prepared to hear wise counsel and to accept it. That requires humility. You have to recognize that there is someone who is smarter than you are. The dumbest person with Bible doctrine is smarter than you are.

When doctrine is suppressed or ignored, when you see a good pair of legs or a sparkling personality, you are destined to become a fool. If you never learn from your mistakes, your head is going to be sore all of your life.

Will you learn that you need good advice? Bobby can give advice, some wise and some not. But what he teaches is wisdom. All we have to do is listen, learn and apply. This young man did not listen, he did not learn and he did not apply.

Vv. 12–13 is about one who has set aside accurate teaching. When temptation pounds on the door, all of our good intentions fall apart.

Temptation and the Plan of God

1. Thinking doctrine replaces the weakness of emotionalism and the trap of bad decisions. This young man looks back and he recognizes his own bad decisions. Thinking doctrine replaces the weakness of emotionalism.
2. With doctrinal wisdom, the motive for rejecting temptation is crystal clear. So often people look at a sin, look at a temptation, and they like the sin. It is tempting; it can be lots of fun. But they do not see the result; or they ignore the warnings about what might occur.

3. Living in the plan of God takes precedence over the pull of seduction. This means that you understand the plan of God. How do you live the Christian life without understanding God. If you cannot answer some basic questions, you don't know what you are supposed to be doing. Living the spiritual life is great pleasure. It always is. That is what people do not realize. You have to consider. That is what wisdom does. You look at the whole perspective. The Christian life is the greatest life that any person can have. Marriage, done in the right way, is a much longer and sustained pleasure.
4. The bad repercussions that will occur as an aftermath are foreseen by discernment. Bobby is not going to get involved with any of us directly. This boy did not listen to the legitimate advice which he got from his father. With the knowledge and foresight, such decisions actually become easy.
5. What does the Word of God say? What principles from the Word of God can we apply? We first have to realize that God has a plan. God has a destiny for us. It is more than a day by day thing. Our lives are destinies. When you have a personal sense of destiny you are beginning to grasp the concept of the spiritual life. Doctrinal application must not be suppressed for pleasures in the moment. The only lasting pleasures is found between the rm and the rw in marriage. Adultery and fornication are fool's gold. God's plan for the rm and rw cannot be beat. Sex is response to love between the right persons.

There is no pain like the long fall into adultery. Listen and learn. The alternative is pain, suffering and no satisfaction. No love and no contentment. One of the great mistakes made, insofar as adultery is concerned. Murder is usually a result of problems with sex and money. Sometimes, these go together. Instead, many have long nights wondering, what would happen if I just listened to wisdom.

The boy will also tell us just how bad it got. V. 14.

Proverbs 5:14 I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation."

The boy is now seen as an outsider from his family and friends. The latter is true; both are true. This person made the front page of the NY Times. His shame became public knowledge and this almost completely ruined him. How far does this go? Is this ruin before an entire nation or just before a small group? This is obvious an audience. The size of the audience is not known.

As your spiritual life continues to grow, you make fewer bad decisions. That too is painful. What is one of the greatest complaints in life? Bad decisions limit future options.

The word assembly and congregation here heighten the damage of adultery. He has to admit that this is serious business. Adultery is never hidden. By definition, it is clandestine; but somehow, the partner finds out. It does not seem to stay hidden. This adultery can become quite notorious. Its exposure can be unlimited. People love to talk and gossip about sex scandals. We find such things on the news lately. What have we watched lately? Johnny Depp and what happens in his house. The scandal is as big as his persona is big. Even if only a few people know, that, it is still problematic.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/8/2022 Wednesday

Jim Meyer after class. No Bible class this next week.

It is very clear that adultery is not limited in scope. There are longterm and short term problems with adultery.

We find out that Solomon's warning fell upon deaf ears. The son despised the reproof. There was a wider devastation. We might see the effects with what follows.

Proverbs 5:14 I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation."

His ins and shame has become public knowledge. Always, there is room for recovery. He says, "Almost I was ruined." Anyone tempted here. Adultery is no respecter of persons. It affects people everywhere. Many congregations have been destroyed for this one reason. Every person has a sin nature, including pastors. Pastors still fail; and believers who are aware, must realize that it is not the man but the message. The church itself is also at stake. The doctrine that the members of a church should be able to recognize that this is the failure of a single man. Churches have split up, because they could not handle one person's failure.

This young man reveals that he was almost ruined personally. He was ruined in the midst of the assembly. Assembly and congregation reveal how notorious failure can be. The exposure can be unlimited. Saying assembly and congregation means ruin on a very large scale. This is very important counsel for the son. Leadership is important.

These words are not used for two different bodies but interchangeably to refer to a single group. It could refer to something as large as the nation. Here, we have two nouns.

Two very different Hebrew words. One word could have been used. The LXX is close to the Hebrew Bible at the time; but also close in time to the Greek used in the NT era.

Ekkesia = kohol. In our context, this is Israel, not the church.

Kohol and Edah

1. This is a congregation looked upon as being assembled or called together in one body. It obviously needs to be a body in the nation of Israel.
2. Then edah is looked at from the viewpoint of a group having been assembled.
3. These two verbs refer to a body of people, size unknown, already assembled. He is ruined in front of a body of people. Even if this is not the whole nation, this is still a very large audience. The size of the audience would usually depend upon the prominence of the adulterer.

4. These words used together stand for a single assembly, especially convened for some definite purpose.

This is a court; an assembled courtroom.

The maximum penalty for adultery could be death. This was front page news. This is why the young man says that he was ruined in front of the entire assembly. These are the things that will happen. The wide variety of damage can include alienation from friends and family, financial loss, residual affect extending out into the future.

The justice of the Mosaic Law is the greatest system of justice. Guilt or innocence had to be determined, lest some injustice be done. This seems very foreign to us, trying and convicting a person for adultery.

Adultery under the Mosaic Law

1. Why is adultery a crime in Israel under the Mosaic Law? It is not just a sin like other sins.
2. This is because of the far-reaching, devastating impact.
3. This also had a spiritual effect on Israel. Parallel to Israel being unfaithful to God.
4. Gomer being unfaithful to Hosea, illustrating Israel. Gomer was a prostitute.
5. Before God, marriage is sacred and not to be broken. Adultery breaks that down.
6. Adultery is treated as an attack upon divine institution 2. This also takes into account the Genesis account as well. God brought the woman to the man.

When adultery is rampant, this goes hand in hand with the spiritual deterioration of the nation. They interact with each other, adultery and spiritual decline.

When evidence is lacking, the prosecutor had to handle things in a different way.

Numbers 5:11–30 gives us the full procedure of investigating adultery. Why just her; why is she the one being investigated. This is a personal marital problem. The only question is, is she guilty. But this is not applied to the man.

In the Mosaic Law, the wife is under the authority of the husband. The violation is not just the act of adultery, but this is also a violation of the man's authority. The woman is by this rebelling against God's design.

When the woman was seduced by Satan, she violated her position; and she also seduced her own husband to go against God. When Adam fell, so did the entire human race.

Wider repercussions for the sin of adultery. This has to be taken under consideration. The woman repeats the violation forever after. After the fall, God's love and His Law did not go away. The man's authority must be retained as a necessity. It mirrors the fall in spiritual advance.

The man has 51% of the marriage. But we are studying about the female version of adultery. The reason for her trial is not just for adultery. She rebelled against that position where the marriage bond is not respected, the society begins to fall apart. Our confused society is all about the breakup of marriage and family. A reflection of the anti-authority attitude.

This is very much a disputed project, especially today. People claiming that the Bible is anti-woman.

Jim Meyer and his wife Phyllis

He's been a missionary for 30 years, but they had to leave there. In this case, Jim has been able to see a lot that has taken place. A tremendous impact on the people there. They are in a situation where they will have to apply it. If you can survive the charge of the mosquito, you can deal with the charge of the elephant.

100 day war so far. Tremendous destruction. Some cities are 90% gone. Places where there is no water, electricity, natural gas; some without food and medicine. Russians have bombed hospitals and churches. Just destruction unrelated to winning a war or to winning a battle. God has a plan and it is moving forward and things are not out of control. God has seen today and tomorrow and He has made provision for His people. He uses man's depravity for His Own purposes. God has protected His people there. Of all the people that Jim ministered, no one killed; and those in the military, only one has been wounded.

Info. today. Yuri. If God has a plan for you to live another day, and you will live. These are ambassadors for Christ. They are evangelizing people around them. People are very concerned about eternal destiny. Tremendous opportunity for evangelism. Some are going to the front lines to teach Bible classes and to go to the front lines.

Testimony to the Word of God, people have been displaced. Many have gone to western Ukraine and others to surrounding countries and as far as France, Germany, England. They go out and take the gospel with them. There are ministries being established in five other countries. These people are not whining. "Okay, God brought me here. What can I do now?"

One man from their Bible college was handed a congregation of 200 in a foreign country.

God is using even this horrible situation for His Own glory. They were faithful in hearing and learning the Word of God.

There are no Nazis trying to do things in Ukraine. There is corruption there, of course. They are fighting for their homes, lives, wives and children and freedom. They are getting a hearing there. Jim has been in many other countries and no one is listening. Go to London today. What were great churches of the past, today they are mosques, sikh study centers. Ukraine has great spiritual potential.

Jim Meyer just recently went to...? He will be teaching sound doctrinal messages. People are looking for political solution. We need spiritual solutions. .

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/9/2022 Thursday

In connection with our study in Proverbs 5, Bobby began to explore a legal case in Israel. The case concerned an unfaithful wife; and there was a connection with Proverbs 5. The instruction of Solomon was meant to preclude such a seduction.

Centuries later, the exact same law is being taught in Proverbs as was taught in Exodus. We are seeing this from the husband's point of view. The example is Numbers 5:11–30

Proverbs 5:14 I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation."

This describes a situation which has taken place in public. Now, this may seem unfair to the woman, who may be innocent. This seems an unusually harsh for the woman.

The Protection of the Woman from a False Accusation

1. What seems to be harsh and unfair is anything but
2. This is for the benefit of the woman who will be tried.
3. This law made better the harsh realities for a woman in surrounding areas.
4. She could be divorced in the ancient world on the mere suspicion of unfaithfulness and an unscrupulous husband could use a false charge simply to get rid of her. That would leave her destitute with few options going forward.
5. Without protections like Num. 5, a woman had no protection under the Law.
6. The woman, by this law, could prove her innocence.

Background Information

1. Infidelity in Israel was understood to bring defilement to the camp.
2. There was something else about it that was important.
3. It was considered to be symptomatic of unfaithfulness to the Lord.
4. This could not be tolerated by God. This was one of the Ten Commandments. Adultery is one of the commandments because of all the results of it. It is the expression of the breach of a relationship between God and Israel.

There is something to see in Ezekiel. Physical adultery was parallel to spiritual adultery. The king was not to have any connection with spiritual adultery.

Ezekiel 16:15 "But you trusted in your beauty and played the whore because of your renown and lavished your whorings on any passerby; your beauty became his.

Physical adultery is symptomatic of physical adultery.

Ezekiel 16:35 "Therefore, O prostitute, hear the word of the LORD:

Ezekiel 16:36 Thus says the Lord GOD, Because your lust was poured out and your nakedness uncovered in your whorings with your lovers, and with all your abominable idols, and because of the blood of your children that you gave to them,

Ezekiel 16:37 therefore, behold, I will gather all your lovers with whom you took pleasure, all those you loved and all those you hated. I will gather them against you from every side and will uncover your nakedness to them, that they may see all your nakedness.

Ezekiel 16:38 And I will judge you as women who commit adultery and shed blood are judged, and bring upon you the blood of wrath and jealousy.

God is going to expose the adultery. But adultery requires clandestine activity. The connection between physical and spiritual adultery. "I will just you like women who commit adultery."

this very much describes where the United States is today.

What we read here is harsh, to say the least. But this is God comparing the physical adultery with the spiritual adultery of Israel. We have great adultery from God in the United States.

The Wife under the Authority of the Husband

1. In the time that this was written, a wife was considered to be the possession of her husband.
2. This law put the woman equal to the man.
3. The wife was clearly under the authority of the husband.
4. A wife's infidelity was a direct offense against her husband.
5. Likewise, adultery was rebellion against God's design for man's authority in marriage.
6. Adam was the leader and he took responsibility. Adultery is an attack upon the 3rd and 4th divine institutions.

The leadership of the husband is an important principle.

The sin of adultery is of course can be violated by a man. It is a blatant rebellion against her husband and God's roles for them in marriage. Her rebellion is an example of false gods and Hosea metaphorically presented Israel as God's wife. Hosea My people are destroyed for lack of understanding. God promise to forget the results of spiritual adultery. This affected the client nation and brought punishment for the sin.

God is involved in the outcome. God is the Decider. Any sacrifice was given before the Lord. This brought attention to guilt how this was done is explained later.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/12/2022 1Sunday

Communion June 12, 2022:

Paul exhorted Timothy to never forget the Lord.

Bobby so appreciates that he was required to memorize some Scripture. He did not appreciate it at the time, but he appreciates it now.

One cannot overemphasize the importance of remembering the Scriptures even at a young age. All that we love is bound up in our memories. Yet, memory can be lost in this life. It is terrible to watch this deterioration. The greatest calamity is not the loss of memory; but what a curse memory will be for the unbeliever who chooses not to believe in Jesus and he passes into death.

The example of the rich man who is in agony. Abraham tells him, "You received good things in life and Lazarus did not have these things." In the pit of hell, there will be memory. There will be consequences for rejecting the Lord; and they will remember this for all eternity. The believer will not experience any of this.

It was written by Isaac Watts in the late 16th century and early 17th century. He wrote many hymns. He wrote about memory. He understood the power and significance of a memorial in the soul. Our memory is the sweet savor of Him. No other person but the Lord Jesus Christ is more worthy of our complete focus and confidence. We are not called to remember Abraham, even though he is the father of Israel. We are not told to remember John the Baptizer, even though Jesus called him the greatest born of woman. Paul did not say, "Remember me" but "Remember Jesus Christ." It is not difficult to find reasons why we should remember the Lord Jesus Christ. We are not to think of Jesus as He is portrayed in artwork; nor are we to see Jesus as simply an example of goodness in an evil world.

The Bible points to the teaching and doctrine of the Lord; and His prototype spiritual life.

Let's focus our memory on a few specifics.

Paul commends two things to our memory of Christ: the resurrection and .

If Christ is not raised, your faith is in vain. This leaves us empty.

Jesus' resurrection is fundamental to the teaching of anything in the book of Acts. Jesus put death behind Him, never to face it again. Because He lives, we live eternally. As we think of His incarnation, the Messiah. We must also see Him as a lowly Servant. He appeared in humility, not in imperial glory. Mark 10:45 the Son of Man did not come to serve, but to serve and to give His life as a ransom for many.

The Lord's humility is quite amazing. He took on the form of a helpless infant. We get the understanding of God coming down for us. This is what we see, the Lord serving us. The life that He lived is the measure of all true living. He did not find His happiness in prosperity or mindless pleasures. His joy was found in service to us; and giving of Himself for our salvation. Without His death and resurrection, our faith is in vain.

This is the humble and joyful attitude of the irreplaceable Servant of all mankind.

We must never forget His exalted Deity. They all go together. God the Almighty, the Creator of the universe. Every word that He spoke indicates that Jesus understood Who He was. If He did not understand His absolute Deity, why would He say, "I and the Father are One." Or "I am the light of the world." Or "While I am in the world, I am the light of the world." No one else could make such a claim. He was both Servant and Lord.

The religious Jews of Jesus' day were enraged because of His claims of Deity. "For this cause, therefore, the Jewish leaders were seeking all the more to kill Him, because He was breaking the Sabbath and He was calling God His Father, making Himself equal with God." The Jews said, "For a good work we don't stone You, but as a man, you make Yourself out to be God. That is blasphemy!"

Man may question Who Jesus is, but He spoke in unequivocal terms of Who He was and what He was going to do. Any minimizing the deity of Jesus Christ is to reduce Him to the level of man. It took God the Son to mediate; and it took no less than perfect man to satisfy the righteousness and justice of God. No one could do this unless He was greater worth than all man.

At the time of His birth, an angel appeared to Joseph, saying, "And she will bear a son, and He will save the people from their sins." From the book of Hebrews: For it was fitting that we should have such a High Priest. For we do not have a High Priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses.

Jesus screamed, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" The Father had to turn His back from that imputed sin because the Lord was spotless. These were not His sins for which He was dying; He was taking our place. The Lord has caused the iniquity of us all to fall on Him. But now, once, at the consummation of the ages, He has been manifested to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. Christ, also, having been offered once, to bear the sins of many.

So how can we say that Jesus did not die spiritually? He did not die as just some martyr. He is not just some example of courage, a great martyr to emulate. He took down the barrier of sin between us and God.

He will also appear as the Destroyer. He appeared for the purpose of destroying the works of the devil. The hour is coming where Satan will be bound. Later, the great deceiver and all unbelievers will be cast into the Lake of Fire forever.

The cosmos is due for a complete overhaul. The Lord will take the throne as the King of Kings.

Death is a great fear of mankind; beyond the dark shadows of death, the glory of our resurrection is clear. "After a little while, the world will behold Me no more."

but now has been revealed by the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, Who has abolished death.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/12/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 5:14 I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation."

Adultery has widespread effects. Certain bad repercussions from this sin, which reach many people. "I am at the brink of ruin."

Ruin is the Hebrew noun, ra' (עָרָה) [pronounced rahg'], which means evil, bad. Rotherham suggests calamitous for Joshua 23:15. Strong's #7451 BDB #948.

The calamity of the woman who pursues the young naive man, who she leads down the path of adultery. The Mosaic Law states that any adulterer is in the line for severe punishment. Our context is the woman; but there is equal justice under the Mosaic Law. This is the only law in the ancient world which has equal justice. If there is a man who commits adultery, with his friend's wife, the adulterer and adulterous will surely be put to death. Adultery has maximum impact upon others. There can be an impact on the entire society; upon a nation. It can have a heinous effect on the society. The maximum penalty is death, which we have a hard time imagining.

Adultery and the Penalty

1. Why is this punished by death? This is the payment for the great evil done to the many.
2. This also represents how God views the sin, specifically because of this impact.
3. Symbolic of a greater problem which is in the nation.
4. What is that problem? It is connected to spiritual adultery. Physical adultery and spiritual adultery go hand in hand.

5. We do not have an example of this punishment being carried out. This could be administered by the authorities.
6. The pharisees called this to the attention of Jesus. They were attempting to trap Him; to discredit Him in the eyes of the people. This was a woman who was caught in the act of adultery. They brought her to Jesus to judge her fate. She had already been shamed by her public revelation. They wanted to see if Jesus would adhere to the Law. The trap was, would Jesus forgive the woman or condemn her?
7. Jesus did not apply maximum punishment. Jesus knew that the woman had suffered enough? He showed His grace and mercy to all.

What Jesus did was an analogy, as He would forgive all sins based upon the cross. We are all under a death sentence and He will forgive all mankind for all manner of sin.

There is a problem with adultery; but he also showed grace and mercy when He was asked to do so.

All in all, the act of adultery carries as much ignominy and shame as any sin can. This is something that must be avoided. There will be ruin for adultery. How should we take this? This is certainly not a religious trial, a ritual trial to determine guilt or innocence. Nor is the death penalty on the table for adultery today in our society. We are no longer under the statutes of the Law. The evil results would be just as true today as then. A person's entire life and all a person's associations, a spouse. Even a larger group would likely find out about this secret dalliance and lives will be shattered.

It can happen that a act of adultery is less well-known, but there are still consequences. We are never without pain and suffering to ourselves. In this example, the boy was fully discovered. However, that does not mean that God does not know. All of those around that person may be affected. It is the same principle with spiritual adultery. God makes very clear what He thinks of the physical adultery. Punishment, even the sin unto death, may be the result. The Lord does not approve of adultery during any age.

There can be a legal problem or a legal case. An offended husband or wife may even file charges. The encompasses a lot of notoriety. Children always suffer greatly from this act. A man spoke to Bobby about an adulterous situation where a son's father has another son in China by another woman. He is affected by something that his father did in China. You are only one step away from the front page of the NY Times. The repercussions are dramatic for this young man. The public damage done by adultery is also related to a person's place in society. If a person is not a public figure, and the damage may seem to be on a smaller scale. Public figures have a much different problem. They usually are not. They are more likely to be the target of seduction because of their power and influence. This has a much greater effect over many more people.

When it happens, if it happens, there can be even more notorious results. Sometimes used as a political assassination. This is Solomon's son and his sin will be known throughout the land.

Since this is a sin that can be rebounded, why belabor it so? A number of thank yous in Dallas at the Bible conference there.

Two major concerns kept coming up in Bobby's mind. This verse is the summation of vv. 1–13. This will color everything which follows.

Adultery is one of the most ruinous of human sins. It combines mental attitude sins with the over sin of adultery; and you throw in the wagging tongue of others. It affects so many with pain and distress.

Adultery is one of the quickest ways to bring misery upon oneself. This destroys marriages and families. It also had a national consequence. This is why this prohibition is found in the Ten Commandments. Because it is such a wide and easy temptation, it is one of the easiest to fall for and one of the worst in its results. How many people's careers have been destroyed by this with an extra-marital affair. When an attempt is to hide it, there are consequences ruined by the assembly. Many in Congress of resigned over such an acts.

The Lord never overlooks this. God will not be mocked by anti-establishment society. Adultery is a corruption which leads to a greater corruption. It can promote government graft. The Lord disciplines or removed leaders who flaunted evil. It moves from physical adultery to spiritual adultery. Where physical adultery is rampant, so is spiritual adultery.

Pastors are often fired for adultery and they are unable, for the most part, able to find work in the same realm. Many pastors have been forced out of this ministry and often are never allowed to come back into the ministry; and it is unfortunate, as that pastor may have much to offer. Grace orientation must be a part of all this. Some pastors are required to confess publically. That is not recovery before the Lord. This is true of other believers who are forced to stand up before the congregation and confess their sins. This is not a true rehabilitation nor is it a lesson learned.

The recovery is viewing the result and making changes within your soul. Rebound and correction of the spiritual life is good enough for God; but not for some legalists.

Fratritization in the army often destroys careers. The shattering and soul-destroying effects of adultery is the point here. It can rarely be kept secret; and it is never secret before the Lord.

Adultery grinds on the soul until exposure is actually a relief. But also, when it is made public, adultery brings personal shame, humiliation of loved ones, etc. Foolishness, a waste of time. Plus all of those wasted days and nights of folly which will be remembered by the participant (s) and the others affected by the sin.

If there is recovery, the memory of the disgrace is a recovery from further results. This sort of thing can happen between rm/right woman. Faith rest and the application of problem solving device. This is where the spiritual life is so valuable. If you are with your right man or right woman, there are no greener pastures out there. Adultery will never put you in a better position to live your life. Using the spiritual life is a much better option. Divorce has tremendous repercussions. These are just a few of the negative results of failing to heed the advice. Adultery is the #1 killer in this area.

It also has application to all types of sin in our lives. There is also ruin for physical adultery. Throughout Proverbs, the stranger harlot is mentioned. She is not a Jewish but a foreigner who...

Spiritual adultery is seen all over; and physical adultery is minimized in so many other countries. It is not uncommon today for marriages to be destroyed. Where there is a lot of physical adultery, a nation can be brought down. It often results in spiritual adultery. They even got involved in child sacrifice, in fertility cults, with priests and priestesses.

To deliver you from the strange woman, from the adulteress who flatters with her words, who leaves the companion of her youth and forgets the covenant of her God, for her house sinks down to death and her tracks lead to the dead. This is the link between spiritual and physical adultery.

Clearly, we are in trouble as a client nation. The loss of our freedom, the ruination of marriage and family in this land; it is rampant. Internationalism; when we become apostate, we go the way of internationalism. That is also prohibited in a client nation. The problem with all of this, along with the physical act of adultery, and the spiritual consequences, not just to us, but to the nation as well.

Proverbs 5:14 I am at the brink of utter ruin in the assembled congregation."

Now Solomon changes from graphic warnings about adultery to the joys of fidelity. The enjoyment of sex in marriage. This will be the subject of what is coming up.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

This is a contextual metaphor. What to do, within the context of this subject.

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 5:15 Wisdom in the OT                      6/19/2022 2Sunday

We are moving into the doctrine of sexuality. What a great message for father's day. Men perfect their lines to seduce a woman or two; and this is certainly apropos to either gender. But now we will talk about the opposite approach from adultery.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

There are two metaphors here. Every man has what he needs at home, if he will just partake of what he needs at home. The men of Israel were influence by foreign women for adultery; v. 15 says stay at home, where the waters of refreshment flow.

This is what Solomon indulges in at this point, as he introduces this subject to his son. This is one of the most appealing stanzas of poetry found in Proverbs.

The Cistern and the Well

1. The cistern and the well are all about important possessions.
2. The cistern collects rainwater, which would be pure water.
3. The well collects water from a fresh underground spring.
4. A constant supply of good water is retained. That is the basis for the metaphor.
5. These two nouns describe a most desirable and prized location for life. This is life-giving water. This is his; it is on his property.
6. This refers to the man's home; to his wife. His right woman. The right woman for him. What a contrast to the polluted well of adultery.

The Right Woman as the Well or Cistern

1. The woman, the wife, described in v. 15, is the most precious advantage that a man can have.
2. She is described as clear, clean water to a parched and dry land. Invaluable, life-giving.
3. She satisfies the thirst of her husband when there is nothing else that will
4. She is the life saver. No man should live without his own cistern.
5. If she is unavailable, it is better to live without than to have the wrong polluted well. There is an element of patience here. Finding the right person is not key; but becoming the right person for the woman that God brings into your life.
6. She is the epitome of what God designed for a man as his helper. Fulfillment. All those aspects that a man lacks on his own. This is why Adam recognized that he was missing something in his life. The man and woman were incomplete without one another.
7. That is the water that flows from her to her husband.

We look at the exterior and we forget to look into the soul and spirit. When we have all of it, this is a beautiful woman or man. We can drink our fill and satisfaction. This is a beautiful principle.

No more metaphors. Let's have some plain language. Previously, we dealt with illicit adultery. In the context, this represents sexual activity with and from the right person; rather than from the wrong woman in adultery.

The Wife and Who She is

1. This verse describes the pure, clean unadulterated pleasure of sex with one's own wife.
2. She is the pure and fresh water from the cistern. She is necessary; she is life-giving. She quenches the thirst; she fulfills the need for companionship.

3. She provides intimacy and pleasure that can be found nowhere else. Especially in adultery.

Sometimes this rings hollow in this culture, where adultery is expected or tolerated. Ruin in many forms. This is the principle being communicated to this young man from his father. Sex is designed to fall within certain parameters, with the right woman. We must use wisdom and discernment to find her. Patience is involved. No panic. Choose wisely. Do not marry on the basis of sex before marriage. The right choice will encompass pleasure. If you simply go after pleasure, that is a false criterion. Too many people get married on a wave of emotionalism. They overlook qualities that they are blind to. They will come out, but maybe too late. Adultery or premarital sex is not drawing water from your own well. She cannot be unless she is the right one. If she is the right one, then marry her. She is your pleasure in life. She is the one designed for you for the rest of your life.

Find the wife that fits you and draw from that well and that well alone. That takes discernment and wisdom in making the right decision. Only then does the woman become your own cistern and well. To have and to maintain your own well and your own cistern requires a permanent relationship.

Compare to the culture today. Living together without marriage does not constitute that personal cistern and relationship. Parents have difficulty to explain why living together is wrong. It may supply companionship; a roommate with benefits; or a misguided trial run for marriage. It seems to make premarital sex acceptable. "We are not being promiscuous." Moving in together is simply fornication. It does not end well, ever. People do get married finally. But in so many cases, the emotionalism blinds them still. Playing house does not mean that it works. You may think, he does not know what he is talking about. Bobby does, because this comes from the Scriptures. This gives you a choice; so what you know is wrong or do you follow the instructions found in the Bible.

Isn't living together a commitment? This is not marriage as the divine institution. This is a relationship with a quick walk away; and plenty of scars. It carries with it misery, which is unnecessary.

Bobby looks out over the audience. He sees acceptance by some; rejection by others. Some don't want to believe it or they are already involved in it. Bobby's intention is to give us options. One option is the Biblical way; the other is our own way. If you choose the latter, buckle your seatbelt, you are in for a bumpy road.

There is a problem with this sort of thing. Our #1 problem in the United States with regards to divine establishment. It is marriage and family. Marriage is taken lightly. Family is taken lightly as well. One of the problems today with children is there are no parents or only one parent, and they are parented by their friends or by a gang. It always comes back to this issue. Children start out in life with divine establishment principles. Nothing is demonstrated to them. They will start out with a corrupted set of standards. So you have a teenager walking into a school and killing. Where do they learn their standards? In front of a screen. They are not learning from parents who teach divine establishment standards.

They say, “That kid was insane.” But Bobby would be willing to bet that his background is totally lacking by any standards. God gave father and mother for a reason. Each comes with something that child needs. Parents need wisdom as well, and it starts right here. It starts with how you view family. It is the same with homosexuals or lesbians who adopt children. Homosexual marriage is degenerate anyway; and these false standards are passed along to the children. These standards matter and if you won’t have them, you cannot communicate them.

Living together does not require commitment or standards. This is fool’s gold. This can quickly turn to emotional revolt.

Marriage and Objectivity

1. One must have objectivity. People do not like objectivity in romance. If you have no objectivity, then you have no discernment. You only have emotion alone. You need wisdom in finding the right partner. That takes some maturity. The real cistern of marital happiness. Love is a feeling; love is how I feel about this person. There is no such thing as love at first sight. That is subjectivity. You do not love one unless you know them. Sometimes when you get to know someone, you cannot run away from them quickly enough. Love is connected today with sex. If it is good sex, it must be love. Marriage, adultery, compatability—are not up for consideration.
2. So then, marrying making that one your own cistern and well, is the one from whom you draw fresh water. Not stagnate polluted water.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT 6/22/2022 Wednesday

The focus was on adultery; but now there is a shift to the correct Biblical standard for sex, which is the relationship between husband and wife only. Solomon is making a stark contrast between the happiness and enjoyment found with one’s spouse as opposed to anything else.

There is no greater relationship in life than husband and wife. Adam was alone. God brought a woman to Adam to complete him, and that was a great relationship. If we understand the principle of the sin nature.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

This is a contrast from drinking from someone else’s well, as we had in the previous section. This was written in a desert climate, making water a very precious commodity. The cistern is a collector of rainwater and a well collects water from a fresh underground spring.

Cistern and Wells

1. These two writing metaphors. Describe a most desirable and prized possession of this man.
2. It refers to his wife, his cistern. Here, this is his right woman. She is the woman best suited for him.
3. She satisfies the thirst of her husband when there is nothing else that will.
4. This verse describes the pure, unadulterated, clean and uncorrupted nature of pleasures only with one's own wife.
5. She provides personal intimacy in so many areas of life that can be found nowhere else. Marriage becomes a burden for some people. They wish that they were still single. They find reasons to stay separated. They do not realize that this is the greatest relationship in life; and, unfortunately, it is not always that way. If that is not the case, it is up to you to make it work.
6. Adultery or premarital sex is not drawing water from your own well. It is not your possession. If she is single and the right one, then marry her. That is a natural state for men and women.

Choosing the Right Person

1. One must have objectivity and wisdom when it comes to finding the right person. You must use your objectivity and wisdom.
2. Objectivity requires thought and application of wisdom. You are able to recognize the right person with the right criterion.
3. Subjectivity is emotionalism. The emotional feelings that people get about the opposite sex. The wrong one is chosen under those conditions. In subjectivity, mistakes are usually made. Even though many of us have made mistakes in the past, particularly for bad decisions. Doctrine corrects those failures and those attitudes. Spiritual wisdom. Good standards means that you can make good decisions. It is our job to become the right person, not to find the right one. If you are ready, God brings the right one to you. Too many, believers who should know better, seek a wife or husband in a frantic search. People who look for the eligible, but the chances of finding the right one there is close to 0. Like-mindedness or a doctrinal orientation. That should be #1 on your list. It is not your only criteria. Personality, attraction and other things are important, but nothing is more important than the spiritual compatibility.

Bringing the Right One

1. When you advance spiritually, you develop patience in this realm. Much different than the desire to get married.
2. You also understand that the Lord brings the right one to you at the right time. You often leave out of your thinking, are you the right one yet?
3. Your age does not matter. Bob used to say, no one should be married before the age of 30.
4. Remember the examples of the men of Israel who chased after foreign women. Harlots of false religion. If you go out with someone and you want to know, go further than ask, "Are you a Christian?" Then ask, "How do you know if you are a Christian?" You can get some very interesting answers.

5. The idolater is the unbeliever. The reversionist Christian; the Christian who is not interested in Bible doctrine or spiritual growth.
6. That person is immediately disqualified as a potential mate. They lead the believer in the wrong direction.

Instead of chasing, prepare yourself by spiritual advance. The right one fits you in every area of life. The right one fits like a glove, as the original woman was with Adam. That is much more than just about sex. When it is right, the sex is satisfying and exclusive.

Sex Between Right Man and Right Woman

1. Good sex is the expression of and response to the love between the right man and the right woman.
2. Good sex lasts for a lifetime, when a right man and right woman grow together in a marital relationship. When you have the whole package, that does not matter either.
3. Sex gets better as the relationship grows. Some say it is the same old thing; but that means the relationship is not growing.
4. A complete mature growing relationship becomes something which is so great, found nowhere else.
5. Sex is just a by-product of that relationship; it is not the end-all. This is why sex goes stale, because the relationship is not growing. Then there is the thought that something looks better on the other side of the fence. This is the way that God designed marriage and sexuality to be.

Why would a man or a woman want to go somewhere else than their own well. But they do and they do this all the time.

Bobby has heard it said many times for those who understood right man/right woman. Misunderstood, I'm married, but I don't have the right one. That might be very difficult. You can be unequally yoked. The person to marry; the person you married was your choice and your responsibility. It may have been made in a bad state or for many bad reasons. This is why wisdom is so important; and that is why waiting is so important. Let the Lord and His Word guide us. In a bad marriage, you must apply doctrine to deal with dissatisfaction and your attitude. There are many adverse circumstances in life. This is just one of them. Doctrine fills the gap. Resisting the temptation to jump to something else.

Adultery as a solution that is not a solution, but a problem-maker. Nor is divorce the answer, with certain exceptions. Exceptions like desertion, adultery, physical abuse. The plan of God marches on in the life of every believer. That is the focus. Many people have looked for another person, because they think their marriage is bad. Bad decisions never lead to right decisions.

You may have the right one, but you are not the right one yet. In any case, you work with what you have.

You must drink from your own cistern in order to consistently maintain the water that never stagnates. That is the ideal of marriage that is attainable. The principles of marriage. Today, people look at marriage and they say it is an impossible institution. That is because they bring all the wrong things to the relationship. Examine yourself for any solution. If you are going to try to control and manipulate your spouse, good luck. Your relationship will get even worse.

If you are single, be discerning in your choice. Be patient and continue to grow. Discernment should be from spiritual wisdom, not from desperation or sexual desire.

Drinking from One's Own Cistern

1. Drinking of the fresh water refers to sex in marriage. The context dictates what is taught. Adultery is sex. Drinking of the fresh water is sex in marriage.
2. It carries the connotation of satisfaction of a natural desire. It is a natural desire. It is a natural drive. The monks of the middle ages did everything that they could to suppress it. Marriage is designed to satisfy the natural desires.
3. That fulfillment of desire is permanently and unforgettably connected to a man's wife. It is directed to a lot of different places these days.
4. This does not include lesbian or homosexual relationships. They do not fit the Biblical definition of marriage. These people can be married before the state; but they are not and cannot be married before God. God does not honor such a union ever.
5. Only one right man and one right woman in marriage have the sanctions of God. God designed marriage. Our nation is in trouble because of the rise of the LGBTQ union. It is unbiblical to have two men married. We are not persecutors of lesbians or homosexuals. We do not hate them. Our job is to witness to them, not to speak evil of them. As a believer in Jesus Christ, you need to remember that. We have an obligation to bring the gospel to all unbelievers.
6. So drink the fresh water that satisfies and fulfills.
7. That is the overall meaning of this verse.

Bob went to the Astros game last night. All kind of rainbow flags which is a little nauseating. Glad that he brought her to the game, and not any of the rest of the guys.

Pleasure and satisfaction cannot be found in adultery. There is no fulfillment in an adulterous relationship. It is so much more fun and pleasurable than the marriage, so they think that it is good and right. But what you leave behind is a shambles. Children and families are ruined by this. You have not honored your obligations before the Lord.

There is no true fulfillment in the arms of an adulterous woman. The promise of great compatibility in her arms is a great lie.

God created sex; and He created it for the first man and first woman. The deceitful pleasures of sexual sins.

Bobby is totally shocked by the wisdom that is missed here.

Why does Solomon punctuate this lecture with rejoice with the wife of your youth. That is where the great relationship is. The only you marry and you stay with for the rest of your life.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/23/2022 Thursday

All Proverbs 6 is all about sex, the right and the wrong ways. This is a chapter on the principles of sex connected to marriage. It is the demonstration of loves towards a spouse, vv. 15–18; and adultery which is destructive, vv. 1–14. I was in utter ruin in v. 14, and drink water from your own cistern, v. 15. Those are the two aspects prominent in this chapter.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

Marital love and its expression in sex counters the ruin in adversity. Bob has given the basic doctrine of adultery. What Solomon is doing here is counseling his son. “I am telling you, son, that you must spend your sexual energy at home, where it belongs.” That is where you will find the greatest contentment and satisfaction, no matter how alluring adultery is.

This is a message for all of us.

Sex and Love in Marriage

1. That satisfaction and fulfillment of marriage is satisfaction and fulfillment is based upon the quality of the marriage, which is through the advance of the spiritual life.
2. This is the husband and wife growing together spiritually, who will know the true divine design for marriage is. Our Lord has provided for our every need in that status.
3. An added bonus will be true intimacy; real intimacy, including the expression of that intimacy in sex.
4. Sex is designed to be an expression of exclusive love for one person. It is reserved for that one person and that person alone.
5. It is a zone of intimacy. This is not just the act of sex, but the soul intimacy in every aspect of life. Everything involved in a great relationship. Sex then is a zone of that intimacy. Castle walls that cannot be breached by the outside world. That makes it exclusive and special.
6. So it is the ultimate moment of privacy and physical connection.
7. Anything less is corruptioini and a loss of true intimacy.
8. Violation of these standards is the loss of the ultimate intimacy of life. The one counterpart in your life. Marriage is not exclusively designed for procreation. It is a very real need of husband and wife and it builds an iron-clad bond like no other. The way that God designed it.

There is no bond formed in adultery. It is, at most, an emotional attachment. They are two restless souls looking for something that is not there. A frantic search for happiness.

That describes Solomon. Solomon knows this very well. He tried to find this happiness with many, many women. He was miserable in all of these pursuits. The marital bond is what God designed for the husband and wife. Sex began in the garden of Eden with the very first couple.

The Garden of Eden Design for Man and Woman

1. In the garden, there was just one man and one woman. Adam knew immediately who she was and he was completely captivated. In the garden, there were no tohers.
2. That is still the perfect design for optimum sexuality
3. Adam was not presented with two or more women; just one. That is the real meaning of rm/rw. This is the one that God designed for us. It does not matter where the two live. At some point, you will run into the right one. As we go through this doctrine of sexuality. Many Christians miss that right one. The Lord will always bring that one to you.
4. The intimacy that God designed for Adam and the woman can be found by anyone married to the right person. The pleasure involved will be all that it was designed to be. It was designed for a bond between a husband and wife which cannot be found anywhere else.

The Unfaithfulness of Eve

1. We know that failure of that first marriage, because of mental unfaithfulness due to the serpent, there was a disconnect. A mental unfaithfulness.
2. The woman was unfaithful to God's mandate not to eat of the forbidden fruit. God said don't eat of it. The woman was unfaithful to that mandate.
3. In that, she was also unfaithful and authority-disoriented to her husband. She entertained the authority of Satan.
4. She committed a spiritual disaffection which certainly affected Adam. This fall looks forward to the fall of Israel, serving other gods. The connection of spiritual adultery with physical adultery with devastating results.
5. We were all condemned when Adam and the woman were condemned for spiritual adultery. Israel began with the physical adultery with foreign women and eventually became spiritual adultery as a result. We need a Savior, the only One Who can bring us back to God.
6. The refreshment and fulfillment of intimacy and sexual pleasure can certainly be corrupted and often is. It was in the garden and it has continued after that.
7. It was with Adam and the woman with mental attitude and emotional sins.

8. That was coupled with the temptation from an outside source, beginning with the mental attitude sins and then temptation from an outside source. The woman responded to the outside temptation of Satan, but they responded to the wrong person and the bond is broken in that way. It can be recovered.
9. That intrusion steals the long-term satisfaction and fulfillment with a false sexual expression. The expression the woman who provides adultery.
10. When there are enough casualties among believers,...

Underlying all of this is spiritual adultery. It is under the surface.

Some Uplifting Points

1. We have in v. 15 the idea of a right relationship.
2. Sexual responsiveness in marriage increases or decreases as the quality of the marriage increases or decreases.
3. The overall quality of marriage and sexual responsiveness in marriage influence each other.
4. Therefore, the quality of marriage and the quality of sexual response are mutually dependent. You will not have one without the other.
5. When the marriage is solid, based upon divine wisdom and spiritual growth. It is developed in devotion, esteem, admiration, consideration. Those qualities in marriage coordinated with spiritual advance; now we are talking about the great bond in marriage.
6. Then the sexual pleasures increase exponentially, in tandem with those developed and spiritual love marriage. These all go together. You will not find a great sex life in a lousy marriage.
7. These virtuous characteristic must already be formed before pleasure in sex is most favorable. Relaxed. Enjoyable. And entirely fulfilling.

A right woman responds not just to physical attraction and good technique, but to all of those qualities of respect toward her. She must also have the capacity to appreciate those qualities and recognize them for what they are and to value them. The woman who is not advancing spiritually will not value the spiritual advance in her partner.

Emotion is an appreciation for what you have. That is what Solomon is telling his son. Too much premarital sex can dull or remove an objective viewpoint. That happens often today. Do not despair if that was your life experience. There is some gain which can be made, but only with spiritual advance. That is the key to gaining and lasting intimacy. This cannot be duplicated by anyone else. The right man with the right woman will express the greatest intimacy. The adultery affair is no substitute. Always, there remains a restlessness. The frantic search for it when it is right under your nose.

What Bobby is saying is not a popular viewpoint. In the 1960s it was called free love, but it was not free and it was not love. It was an excuse for illicit sex. Unequivocally sexual responsiveness is related to spiritual maturity. This is why Christians should have the best sex as they advance to spiritual maturity. Without any reservations; unchanged in their responses.

Counseling comes from doctrine which is taught from the pulpit. The quality of marriage is based upon a number of principles.

The first principle for quality sexuality...a mutual perception and metabolizing of Bible doctrine. The development of Bible doctrine for discernment. You must have discernment in this area to meet God's design the distractions and temptations outside of marriage are nullified.

How to Deal with Problems in Marriage

1. Sexual responsiveness does not thrive or survive on continued conflict in marriage which is unresolved.
2. The problem solving devices are the spiritual solution. You can only change yourself. You must apply problem solving devices to yourself. The divine solution is the only solution. Impersonal love is often the way to maintain personal love. If the personal love is not there, the expression of love, sex, will also be terrible.
3. When problem solving devices are employed in marriage, the quality of the sex life improves. This allows for the sex life to get better. The personal love has gotten stale. This is why some men or women look for a way out. They do not understand this doctrine and believers have no excuse. If you are single, listen carefully. You must make a good decision.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/26/2022 1Sunday

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

The quality of sex in marriage is based upon 4 principles.

There needs to be a mutual perception, metabolizing and interest in Bible doctrine. That is the development of spiritual maturity in both spouses. A solid Christian marriage is based upon spiritual advancement of the two participants.

Ephesians 5:22–33 the responsiveness is based upon the spiritual growth of the husband. He is mandated to love his wife as Christ loved the church. That includes the attitude of love and the expression of love.

It is considered a liability in the age that we live in. It is the Biblical prerequisite for entering into marriage. In spite of the prevailing culture today, the requirement is virginity. That is not a very popular idea in society today. The choice for premarital sex is not preparation for marriage today. Sex then take a primary position in choosing a partner and that is a formula for a failed marriage. This has been proven far too many times.

The spiritual life can alleviate guilt, anger, fear and the other mental attitude sins which result from the abuse. The choice for premarital sex is a sin. As believers in Jesus Christ, sin is very much in existence. The choice for fornication is not the introduction for a great marriage. Rather than sexual experimentation, the preference is virginity. This is based upon the spiritual and virtue love categories. It is about personal love and impersonal love; not sexual experience. God's design for marriage is sex within marriage.

Virginity precludes another attack on marriage, the ghosts of past lovers and past experiences. This is not conducive for a good relationship between husband and wife. Sex with one person while thinking of another is not intimacy. It is unfair and insulting with the rm and the rw. It is, however, not a problem from which there is no recovery. Recovery of the spiritual life and continuous spiritual advance solves every other problem in life. This is what problem solving devices are all about. So it can help to recover problems from the past. It is the divine solution for every problem including that one. Contrary to popular opinion and relative human standards of wisdom. Virginity, a word people hate to hear, is the optimum condition for sexual fulfillment. It is not repression; it is not sexual repression.

What an irony it is that the future success of sex in marriage is based upon the virginity of both partners. Innumerable marital problems have been caused by sexual experience prior to marriage. They are always searching but never finding real fulfillment. These problems are very common for today.

The conventional wisdom is, the more sex that you have, the better lover you will be. Sex is not about technique. This brings a nation toward personal and national deterioration.

SoS 4:12 A garden locked is my sister, my bride, a spring locked, a fountain sealed.

It is the cistern and it is the well. This is a sexual image. This is an image of sexuality locked away until the proper time. An image of fidelity and virginity. This is the chastity belt passage. This evokes fresh water about to flow. Experiencing a wife who is reserved for him and no one else. Bobby is simply pointing out the best understanding of marriage prior to being marriage. Sexuality is not the natural state of man. Man is not an animal, even though many see us as just a higher form of animals. But we are not animals who seek sex with the nearest person who is in heat.

The player, the promiscuous male, the sexual predator. He is often called an animal. Sex for them is just a pastime; a game to be played. An empty passing of he time. This is a principle for believers and unbelievers alike. A nation which adheres to divine establishment principles goes up.

How does this promiscuity affect a nation? It affect marriage and family.

Sex is not designed to be something without intimacy. What a loss of real pleasure with one person.

Now we come to the third principle, that God gave sexuality to husband and wife to enjoy intimacy with one another.

It is a lie that having sexual experience is helpful to a marriage. This is not the case.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/26/2022 2Sunday

The second principle was the principle of virginity, and that is commended by Solomon in SoS. She brings to the husband herself and no other baggage with her. Promiscuity has been the attitude since the 1960s.

The third principle is, God gave the husband and wife sexuality to enjoy between themselves. Sex outside of marriage is prohibited. Sexual experimentation with others is not a good experience or good practice. That is defining sex as a mere mechanic. Certainly a pleasurable mechanic in marriage. Practicing within marriage is where the enjoyment of sex occurs. Not outside.

We should be taking in the principles of Bible doctrine. Practice makes perfect is just the propaganda of today's culture. The player is all about numbers; how many notches can I get on my belt. That is the source. It is a source of accomplishment for such a person. Ultimately, nothing gets hidden in intimate relationships. The player's objective with multiple partners negates pleasure with just one person. Unstable marriages produce unstable children. Every child emulates their parents in one way or another. That is a rampant problem in our society today.

Christians have left the spiritual life. And our society is hurting from the function of the family. What we see in the streets is exactly what we get. Parents and children who have no standards. Children would just as soon tear the place down as much as live in it. The souls and the attitudes have been destroyed by this divine establishment problem.

Some may say, it is too late; I have been down this road for too long? Why didn't someone speak to me about these principles of marriage? They may decide that they can never have what God has designed for great marriage and great sex. Because of the state of our society, many fall into this category.

Any believer can have the full extent of what God provides. No matter how many mistakes that you have made in the past. The full extent of God's grace begins now.

The fourth principle for a quality marriage, which begins after promiscuity has been a previous norm in one's life. There is also something else here. We develop restraint. We can still be tempted. Moving away from an unconcerned or a cavalier attitude toward sexuality. That attitude must be removed from one's thinking. When spiritual growth or qualities for marriage, these principles are necessary. The great quality of for physical love and enjoyment of passion in marriage. It is not out of our reach. There is no failure which is too great. There are effects which last from bad decisions. The Christian life is designed to overcome these bad decisions. A development of papacies, regardless of mistakes in the past. Marriage is never an easy institution. It is not easy to accomplish marriage as God has designed it. Marriage has incredible rewards as well. This incredible blessing and reward can be found nowhere else. With the right person and in the right way. But sex outside of marriage, fornication or adultery, has many pitfalls and does great damage. In fact, the damage can occur even if you are with the right person. Marriage presents many opportunities for choices. Cheating in marriage is just one of them. Highly destructive to marriage and life in general. The whole package, marriage, sexuality and everything that goes with it can be ours. Marriage with the right person is always salvageable. No matter bad it seems. It can be saved, when you know these principles and follow them.

Sex is the monopoly of marriage. Marriage should be the privacy zone where sexual intimacy flourishes. Sex was invented by God. It is not something to be afraid of.

There are 6 overall reasons why sex is connected to marriage. Six reasons why God created sex.

The Interdependence of Husband and Wife

Sex causes an interdependence between husband and wife. 1Corinthians 11:11–12. Nevertheless, in the Lord woman is not independent of man nor man of woman; for as woman was made from man, so man is now born of woman. And all things are from God. This is the illustration of interdependence.

1. From the creation of man and woman, interdependence was the design.
2. Neither are husband and wife complete without the other, even though they have different roles in God's plan.
3. The activity of sex in marriage represents this interdependence, companionship, fulfillment. Both are dependent upon the Lord for discernment in this area.
4. This defines the best state of human mutual needs and the need for God and His plan for us. This is the interdependence between husband and wife. We need each other as husband and wife. This is part of God's design for interdependence. That is the great part of interdependence.

God Provides

1. Remember in the garden, that Adam got lonely. He wanted a helper, a companion, someone to fulfill him and to meet his needs.
2. As always, God responds to our needs. Prayer is a part of that. God knows exactly what we need. He waits for us to need. God provides a woman.
3. A human being with a soul is Adam's counterpart. She is in the image of God just like Adam. She is the man's counterpoint. She completes him.
4. God created for the man the woman who satisfies Adam's incompleteness. He was wandering through the garden, but he was not completely happy or fulfilled. God supplied exactly what he needed.
5. There was the first marriage. God was there to officiate. God did this. He brought the woman to the first man. One man and one woman is God's design. The second divine institution was born at creation. What would follow, at some point, was family.

6. Therefore, the need for completion for Adam was solved; and it was solved by marriage, by one woman. This is for the woman as well. Adam was created first; and then the reflection.
7. Adam's completion was then consummated by the physical union. What came first? Consummation came second. Neither the man nor the woman had previous experience.
8. All of this represents mutual interdependence. God knew that this was part of the human need. The physical aspect was representative. The divine design for fulfillment and completion in marriage. By the physical union, they establish invisible walls around that relationship; and this is a bond that cannot be broken. The interdependence designed by God cannot be duplicated by any others. There is no greener pasture. We do not always understand or get God's design. Marriage, sexuality. What is sexuality and what does it mean; that in today's society. Ask and LGBTQ person what it is and you will get nothing but confusion. The sooner that you get this in your head, the sooner you can understand. You cannot ever discount; no matter what foolishness or degradation. As long as we are here, we are not finished. Just look forward. Bobby is giving us the greatest marriage counseling that we can have. Every marriage counselor has a different view and a different take on marriage and how to make it work. But from a human viewpoint, it does not last. The principles here are forever.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT 6/29/2022 Wednesday

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

This tells us that we are to confine our sexual relationship with our marriage partner. The reasons for the prohibition is what we have been studying.

God created sex for 6 reasons, all of which are tied to the marriage state.

6 Aspects of a Sexual Relationship in the Bible

1. God created sexuality to represent a principle; the principle of interdependence between husband and wife. 1Corinthians 11:11–12 this began with man and woman in the garden. Neither are complete without the other. We certainly have different roles in life. Those roles are the foundation for interdependence. Leader and responder. The mandate is obedience or respect. Sexuality illustrates this interdependence between the husband and wife. Their physical relationship demonstrates the divine design for marriage. The man completes what the wife does not have; and vice versa. They are incomplete without each other. They are able to execute the divine design for marriage. By the physical union, they establish the wall around the marriage. This wall cannot be breached from the outside. This relationship cannot be duplicated by others nor can it be found outside of marriage. Friendships between men, women; but there is nothing like the marital relationship.

Principles

1. Sex is an illustration of the interdependence of husband and wife. If you have been married for a long time, you should understand this interdependence and what it means for that relationship in life.
2. That is why God initiated the marital state. It is the condition for fulfilling the needs and wants between husband and wife. We all have needs and wants. What Adam and the woman had satisfied them.
3. Interdependence also presents the picture of a Christian man and a woman in marriage depending upon the Lord in marriage. We are in union with Christ and there is certainly an interdependence between us and Christ.
4. Marriage is the second divine institution; and this interdependence fulfils the design of the next divine institution, which is family.
5. All members of a family are interdependent upon one another, especially children to parents.
6. Both parents are mutually dependent upon each other when it comes to raising children. Each one, male and female, brings something to the child's nurture, for raising that child, for orienting them to life. All the things necessary for them in their formative years. They march in lock-step, ideally, when it comes to raising children. When you begin to think about having children, you should have a long conversation about how the children should be brought up in the Lord. It will be very critical in doing that.
7. Thus male/female interdependence is linked with the mutual interaction and intertwining in sex. Sex and interdependence influence each other. They are two sides of the same coin, if you will.
8. Sex is the picture of interdependence, being the natural state of man and wife. And also the condition for true sexuality and a family unit. Sex represents an interdependency on one another in a relationship. Similar to an infantry platoon in combat. Each member of the team has a job to do for the entire unit to be successful.

Next Group of Principles

1. As this interdependence grows, sex gets better. The husband and wife advance from their honeymoon relationship, and they get to the compatibility and rapport stage, which is what marriage was designed to fulfill.
2. That is when trust and faithfulness peak. As it should with rm/rw.
3. The optimal physical performance is the indicator of the coalescence of souls. That really defines interdependence. Sex is just an indicator of that.
4. Sex in marriage emphasizes interdependence. Each spouse has a responsibility to one another. The wife is to respect her husband and to follow his leadership. One is a leader, one is a follower; one is a leader and one is subordinate.

5. That interdependence in roles is the divine design, as revealed in Ephesians 5:21–23. Everything necessary for a successful marriage is found there.
6. The interdependence of one spouse to another emphasizes a believer's total connection and dependence upon God's plan and .
7. The temptations of the cosmic system are resisted, turned away in the coalescence of the believer's soul with doctrine. Faithful trust and sexuality in marriage.
8. The husband or wife's faithfulness to the plan of God becomes a solid rock, which is protection from the cosmic system in order to execute the plan of God, just like the bond of marriage is protection from adultery. Our dependence upon one another is a protection there.

Now come to the second reason that God created sex. It is a picture of the unity and the sanctity of marriage.

Unity and Sanctity of Marriage

1. Unity is portrayed by the uniting of husband and wife in intercourse.
2. So God invented marriage to be a special relationship of union between one adult man and one adult woman. God designed it this way from the garden. This relationship includes sexuality.
3. This is confirmed by the one-flesh principle of Ephesians 5:31 "Therefore a man shall leave his father and mother and hold fast to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh."
4. V. 31 pictures the unity act of sex. It is a unity which transfers loyalty and trust from the first nuclear family leave father and mother to a second nuclear family, which is the new marital relationship. The consummation is the demonstration of that union.
5. In marriage, the second family is formed. Illustrated with Adam and the woman. They must have been perfectly matched because God created them that way
6. Sex is thought of as a very physical act. It is not often thought of as the bond that it really is, which is part of the performance of the act. On the other hand, sex outside of marriage is uniting oneself to the wrong person and the wrong family. This breaks the bond between husband and wife. 1Corinthians 6:16 Or do you not know that he who is joined to a prostitute becomes one body with her? For, as it is written, "The two will become one flesh." This is anyone outside of the marriage bond.

Principles

1. Sexually uniting with anyone outside of marriage, adultery or otherwise, falls outside the warning of 1Corinthians 6:16 anything outside of this is union with the flesh of someone who is not right for you.
2. The one flesh principle with the wrong person. Any sex outside of marriage is another marriage???

3. It is unprincipled and destructive to true intimacy to sexuality as God designed it. Recovery is always right in front of you. Even with a mistake, you move forward, beyond, outside of the wrong relationship.
4. This two or more physically uniting with others is the epitome of unfaithfulness and betrayal in marriage; and, just as bad, the perversion of the divine design of marital intimacy. That is also the problem with premarital sex.

3rd reason the principle of equality between husband and wife in marriage is also illustrated by sexual relationship.

The Scripture tells us that the husband and wife have different rules in marriage. There is no equality in those roles. The husband is the authority in marriage; the leader. In leadership roles, there is a hierarchy. The husband can exert his leadership, but only in virtue love. This is not a skill that you learn. When you develop virtue love in your soul, you. As Christ loved the church. Who is head of the church? How do you lead husbands a wife. Sometimes it is called sacrificial love. Any good leader but those under him ahead of himself. First it is the mission and then it is the soldier. The soldier comes before the leader. Such a leader never eats before his men eat. He is always concerned about how they are doing. Virtue love. No equality in that hierarchy.

Respect is the highest form of love of a responder to one's leader. It is a voluntary obedience. It is not a duty or a chore; it is voluntary. This is how we follow the Lord Jesus Christ, because we understand what He has done for us. This is the husband and wife; that is their relationship. That is a leader and follower relationship.

However, the roles of husband and wife never indicate inferiority or superiority in marriage. If that happens, you have a disaster. There is no excuse for tyranny or role reversal. We are equal as human beings, but our relationships are different.

Sex and Equality

1. In sex, there are no roles; no leader and subordinate limitations.
2. In sex there is an equality found nowhere else in life.
3. Sex represents the partnership between husband and wife. That is the interdependence aspect of it.

How Sex Represents Equality in Marriage

1. In the sexual relationship, the authority of the husband is set aside.
2. The husband carries no authority in the sexual relationship.
3. Instead, there is the reliability of response and counter response.
4. The husband and wife can initiate and respond in equal parts.
5. Thus an equality is demonstrated by the sexual activity between hm and rw.
6. Marriage is a partnership where each person has a part to play.

7. The equality of marriage is demonstrated in the bedroom as an unbreakable partnership. This helps you to understand what makes for good sex between a husband and wife.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

6/30/2022 Thursday

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

Bobby is covering the doctrine of sex according to the Bible.

History has changed on the basis of sex. Cleopatra and Rome, as an example.

God brought the woman to the first man in the garden. We have previously noted the destruction that ensues when sex occurs outside of marriage. The altering of history because of that problem. It is critical to understand the place of sex in God's design for husband and wife.

for what reasons did God create this incredibly powerful need and want in human beings. God always has a great purpose; and this is always for the best purpose of His creation; and it is not different in sex and marriage.

God Created Sex for the Interdependence for Husband and Wife

1. Neither is complete without the other.
2. Sex is the picture of the husband and wife's interdependence on each other, for pleasure, for intimacy, for companionship, for raising children.
3. It is the picture of interdependency from the roles of husband and wife in the plan of God.
4. Their physical relationship reveals the divine design for fulfillment and satisfaction in marriage.

God Made Sex as a Picture of the Unity in Marriage

1. This is the one-flesh principle in Ephesians 5:21 And for this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and he and his wife will become one. Sex represents the union from the first nuclear family to a second nuclear family. It is a transfer; that is what the consummation is.

There is a representation of equality of husband and wife. Equality is not present in the roles of husbands and wives; but it is in the marriage bed. The role of the husband is leadership and he is to love his wife and Christ loved the church. The leader who loves initiates. The wife is to follow the man's leadership; and this is called obedience in other passages. This does not mean that the woman is some kind of slave. When the husband loves the wife as Christ loves the church, the wife willingly gives her obedience as a response to the husband's love. This is a leader/subordinate relationship.

Equality is demonstrated in the marriage bed. That is why Proverbs speaks of your own cistern and your own well.

The Equality of the Marriage Bed

1. There is no leader or subordinate with regards to sex.
2. There is an equality found nowhere else in life.
3. So sex represents the partnership in the light of husband and wife. In the sexual relationship, the authority of the husband is set aside. He carries no authority in the circumstance. There is an equality demonstrated between the right man and the right woman.

This is why feminism is so wrong and so destructive.

Feminism and Marriage

1. Feminism is a role reversal in marriage.
2. The wife loses respect for her husband, see to it that you ...the marriage bond breaks down.
3. Sex no longer represents unity; it represents a battle for supremacy.
4. Feminism promote sthe woman leading to the husband obeying. The society promotes role reversal; and promotes the destruction of the bond. We see marriage being broken everywhere.
5. Or the woman does not need a husband. She is self-sufficient; even when it comes to raising children.
6. In this case, their roles are interchangeable. We see male transgenderers competing all the time.
7. LGBTQ is attempting to end gender altogether, with one gender becoming the other gender; and same sex marriages.
8. Feminism is anti-divine establishment and anti the divine design for husband and wife. All of it is being undermined. The sex is used for a war or self-gratification.
9. We see the breakdown of marriage in society today. Most of the problems that we see in our nation today is based upon broken families.
10. If marriage principles are not present in both souls, then the equality in bed means nothing.

1Corinthians 7:3–5 The husband should give to his wife her conjugal rights, and likewise the wife to her husband. For the wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does. Likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does. Do not deprive one another, except perhaps by agreement for a limited time, that you may devote yourselves to prayer; but then come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

Sex is an important part of marriage that should no be neglected. It represents a bond and bonding in marriage. It is all the qualities that marriage should possess. You sometimes set sex aside for spiritual things. You can come together again. This keeps you from being tempted by Satan due to your lack of self-control. The husband's role is authority over the wife, but fulfilling it in love and understanding; in order to fulfill the divine design for a successful marriage.

Sexual Equality

1. Sex is the equality demonstration of husband and wife.
2. In the function of sex and marriage, there are two authorities and two responders.
3. The wife has complete authority over the husband's body. This is not true in Christian marriage for the typical roles of husband and wife.
4. Where two authorities coalesce in sex, there is equal authority, which is no authority.
5. There is an equality here outside the divinely appointed roles and duties of husband and wife in marriage.
6. Sex between husband and wife transcend the rules of authority and obedience.
7. In sex, there is a demonstrated equality of intimacy, a leveling of the playing field, so to speak.

Sex in Marriage

1. This intimacy represents the proper balance between authority, love, respect and obedience between husband and wife. When that is out of kilter, then you have a problem in marriage and in the bedroom.
2. The wife has just as much right to initiate as the husband does to respond in sex. This is what sex means to us as a Christian husband and wife. To many marriages lack the proper satisfaction that goes with marriage.
3. The coalescence of the souls and bodies at the same time. Sex is not love; a mistake and a misunderstanding today. When two people marry and there is no love, the sex is not good. It may be for the honeymoon but not after that. When the passion leaves, adultery becomes tempting.
4. Unity and equality in marriage when it comes to sex. If you camp too much on the authority of the husband and the obedience of the wife, it becomes too lopsided. Leadership and response is not limited to one gender in sex.

Another Principle

1. Sex in marriage is a vacation. Leader and responder.
2. The sexual freedom between husband and wife is a break from their roles. It is a break in the marriage. It was a completion for husband and wife in the garden.
3. Sex becomes a recreation time; relaxation for both parties.
4. It is a change from the usual authority and obedience in marriage. Everyone needs to let their hair down. Everyone needs a vacation from their everyday activities. Why do you think water is used as a metaphor? It is a refresher.

5. Be certain that equality and interdependency in sex does not threaten the authority of the husband; it strengthens it.
6. The wife willingly gives herself to her husband in sex as she does follow his leadership.
7. She trusts him not to abuse his authority. The example of a company commander and his troops.
8. The husband gives her deference, honor, esteem, admiration, and consideration. The smart man considers his wife's opinions. A Christian woman who is growing has wisdom. The junior partner sometimes knows better than the senior partner.
9. Thus the divine roles of marriage, leadership and response, and the equality element in it are both demonstrated in sex.
10. Each spouse has something the other needs for completion. They both willingly take that response and role reversal for others.

Sometimes the word sacrificial; that is the kind of love a husband should have for his wife. Christ died for the church. The payoff is the response of the wife.

Using sex to manipulate by either spouse destroys the balance; the equality of marriage. The bond and unity will be destroyed and disappear. Sex is for fulfillment and maintenance of the marriage. When the sex breaks down, that is when infidelity is the greatest risk.

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water from your own cistern, flowing water from your own well.

Mark

Mark and his wife in 2018 went back to some of the former soviet states.

He worked with Jim Meyers for 5 years and only knows him from overseas. It was a very good time. He goes back and forth to Ukraine and established a church in Olympia, Washington. Ministries all over the world due to the Word of God seminary (?).

People in Kiev; ministries there. People they have known for many years. Worked in one church for 25 years. Bought a home in Ukraine with the plan to move there. This came to a halt with the war. Very serious battles fought near his home. Serious battle for over a month. One man's apartment of a man was taken over by soviet soldiers as snipers.

I think he is talking about a pastor there? The second floor was blown up. They had just remodeled their church. His family has left; and this is very typical. The men have stayed back; and the families have left. Examples like this all over the country.

Several pastors and others who are on the front lines. Some are operating drones.

Someone else whose church is packed on Sundays. Growing ministry. Wants to know when he is coming back.

Churches teaching Galatians; getting away from legalism. Light bulbs started to come on when they got to the 3rd chapter. Chaos during this war situation.

Some churches are no longer meeting; but some are.

One guy teaching every day for a few hours to refugees, believers and unbelievers. We are seeing some of the fruits today. Ukraine is the breadbasket of the former Soviet Union. Total religious freedom in Ukraine; and that is very hard to find. This is the target. Satan wants religious freedom to go.

Whenever we get back, Ukraine is going to be a whole different place. His home and Jim's home are both standing.

Russians should have realized from their own history. Kiev saved Moscow in WWII. A bitter slow slog for the Germans to go through Ukraine. The problem was Kiev. Hitler ordered a huge encirclement. It took almost everything the Nazis had to take Kiev. Biggest tank battle in Ukraine 1941 for 3 months. Largest encirclement around Kiev during WWII.

Teaching Romans, and Hebrews, and Proverbs. So few people understand the cross. So many people get saved and they sometimes just have some sort of God experience.

Seminary might be 10 and 15 enrollment. Evangelism in Kazakhstan.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/3/2022 1Sunday

No class Wednesday

Bobby spent 10 years protecting freedom, and this is very close to his heart along with the song we sang.

There have been years of unrestricted teaching of the truth of Bible doctrine from this pulpit. Our religious liberties are being attacked. Freedom is always a word that elicits a profound response who hold it near. There are those today who would destroy freedom simply for an ideology. Our Congress, people who are confused about freedom. People must live under the jurisdiction of their... The outcome of their decisions affect us. Bobby sees with nostalgia the freedom that we have enjoyed in the past. We see intimidation in the streets today, where freedoms are threatened.

Sex, with all freedom, there are also responsibilities. LGBTQ has been running wild. A woman's womb is deciding policy for the entire nation. We are studying freedom within parameters.

We are building a doctrine of the divine viewpoint of sex. Within this doctrine, there is freedom. Outside of this doctrine, there is confusion. Today, we are supposed to accept all sorts of aberrations of marriage. This is an infringement of our freedoms regarding marriage.

Sex is a demonstration of virtue love and respect. That is the care, the deference, the devotion toward our counterpart. We give our spouses a certain amount of freedom; yet many people do not understand this. Sex outside the parameters of marriage is confused and misused. They think that it is a fight for liberation. In love, there is liberty. There are 6 other general reasons for sex between a husband and wife.

Many see the marital bonds of marriage as being slavery. We are studying is freedom; it is correct freedom. Freedom is not found in divisiveness. Freedom is being attacked.

1. The interdependence of husband and wife. Neither one is complete without the other. The so-called open marriage. Adultery is accept as a part of marriage. Interdependency of fulfilling the roles of husband and wife are so necessary and so revealing as to what marriage really is. The woman was brought to Adam to complete him.
2. Sex is a picture of the oneness of marriage, the sanctification of marriage. The oneness of a nation which is not divided by ideology. One side of the equation wants to repress the other side. Marriage should be a unity; the one flesh principle. For this reason, a man shall leave his father and mother and joined to his wife, and the two will become one flesh, united. The permanent marriage and family union. This also reflects the unity of a nation which values freedom.
3. An equality established between a husband and wife. Our nation seems to be trying to establish an equality, bringing the have-nots up to a higher place, and the haves to a lower place. There are roles in life for husband and wife. The leader and the responder. That is a hierarchy of authority that exists. Freedom works only if there are leaders and levels of authority. In marriage there is also equality demonstrated in the marital bed.

Equality

1. There is no superiority or inferiority between husband and wife. We are all made in the image of God. Hence, there is an equality between man and woman.
2. In the marriage bed, there is equality; no inferiority or superiority. There is no free love (meaning love with no responsibilities). Free love is not a liberating concept. This simply forces a person into a series of bad decisions.
3. Both husband and wife are having the same goals.
4. Marriage is a partnership in many ways. The junior partner has plenty of input. A partnership in a common marriage. There must be a partnership in doing that. They each bring a unique perspective for the child to see.
5. In the sexual relationship, the authority of the husband is set aside. This is set aside for the complete freedom to express.

6. Instead, there is flexibility in response and in counter-response. The woman was brought to the man, as the helper and responder. That is how God designed it. Either of them can initiate and respond. This softens and categorizes the authority and obedience roles in husband and wife. The husband has to wield his role with understanding the tenderness.

1Cor. 7:3–5 The husband should give to his wife her conjugal rights, and likewise the wife to her husband. For the wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does. Likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does. Do not deprive one another, except perhaps by agreement for a limited time, that you may devote yourselves to prayer; but then come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

The husband is to love the wife as Christ loved the church. That is a tall order. For the woman, she is to respect her husband.

Marriage is a bond that must be maintained through the sexuality of union. But, the spiritual aspect is an exception to this. But then, come together again.

If the sex in marriage is what God designed it to be, adultery will be resisted. The intimacy of husband and wife is enough. You don't have to go outside.

The Intimacy of Husband and Wife

1. In sex, there are two authorities and two responders. They have both roles.
2. The wife has complete authority over the husband's body. The husband has complete authority over the wife's body. You turn yourself over to your partner bodily.
3. Where two bodies coalesce in sex, there is equal authority. Therefore, there is no authority in the sexual relationship.
4. In marriage, either partner can initiate sex with the other. What they partners do, this must be agreed upon. Anything of a sexual nature is okay, except injury and including more than two people. Premarital fornication. Intercourse is not the only type of fornication; and the children need to know that. It is not up to Bobby to delineate this; that is up to the parents.

There are sexual acts which are not Biblical. Sex with the same gender, sex with a minor, sex with animals. Pederasty and this is actually being promoted. Prostitution, pandering. Sexual sins related to evil, which includes the phallic cult and demonism and demon cultic activity related to sex.

A Practical Conclusion:

1. The husband must not demand sex. Tyranny and brutality have no place in marriage. Only tenderness and .
2. Nor should the wife withhold sex in order to get her way in some other realm.

3. To embrace that distortion of sexuality in marriage is to denigrate the equality in sex and marriage. Battle of the sexes.
4. A perversion of sexuality as it represents the equality between spouses. That is always a disaster.

Summary Conclusion

1. Indicative of the interrelationship of husband and wife in every day life. God provide this for....

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/3/2022 2Sunday

Announcement of no class; the reason is that his wife is having surgery. Stay tuned.

Authority without freedom is tyranny; freedom without authority is anarchy. We have many marriages today which are nothing but anarchy. Those are good statements for our nation. We see a great deal of anarchy in our nation today.

Virtue in Marriage

1. Thoughtfulness, tenderness, self-control.
2. The virtue love of the husband portrayed by the act of sex just like the whole institution of marriage is an expression of the virtue of the Christian life.
3. The lifetime relationship between husband and wife in marriage, their physical lifetime union, is a relationship that points to our spiritual life relationship with Jesus Christ. The union in marriage is comparable to union with Jesus Christ. In life, our union can only be with Jesus Christ.
4. Sex in marriage is that relationship where husband and wife give priority to personal virtue love. It is not just a physical act.
5. Sex is that expression between husband and wife of their attitude of love, since there is no male/female role in sex (as each has authority over the other). An expression of virtue love.
6. For that reason, sex demands the highest function of personal love. We can connect it here with the spiritual life. What gives you capacity for personal love in life? It has everything to do with your personal love for the Lord; it has nothing to do with your physical prowess.
7. Husband and wife must demonstrate a special virtue love directed toward each other. That means, a coalescence of their souls and bodies at the same time. Self-centered arrogance and self-gratification can never be virtuous in a relationship between husband and wife. That is forbidden in the Christian life.
8. The right attitude of virtue love is the only condition necessary for the successful union of husband and wife. What about the mechanics and all those things that tell you make for good sex. The right attitude for virtue love is the only condition necessary for husband and wife. You can learn the other things and you will as your relationship progresses.

9. The virtue love is inherent to the spiritual life. If you don't have virtue love in marriage, you do not have it anywhere else. Virtue love is necessary in the Christian life, in marriage, in friendships.

Virtue Love in Marriage

1. Virtue love is a precondition for sex in marriage. Before you get married, you need virtue love in marriage. That gives you capacity for love and for sex.
2. In that mode, the husband and wife are very thoughtful of each other in their intimacy. You will not see that in movies or television today. They will graphically portray sex, but not virtue love.
3. Any focus on self-gratification in sex is failure in virtue love. Sexuality done right is gratifying for both. Virtue love demands that the husband have self-control, which is also a general virtue in life. It is a fruit of the Spirit in Gal. 5:23.
4. Self-control is a sexual virtue in marriage and it reflects virtue love. That is why self-control is important.
5. Virtue love demands that the husband makes certain that the wife is satisfied in her response to him. All of those attributes that make up virtue and thoughtfulness for her. The wife's bodily frustration carries over to her soul; even antagonism. Possibly moves into the realm of adultery and divorce. Counselors have made millions of dollars trying to fix this.
6. Without self-control, there is no virtue love being expressed in the sex act. Self-control When sex and marriage is...self-control is looking out for your wife in every aspect of your marriage. That is not just for the sex act.

Consideration someone else besides just yourself. You take on the thinking of Jesus Christ and you are able to perform. Now you have a solution. Now you are thinking about someone besides yourself. All the things which God designed that makes sex great; and is not just the physical, but everything that goes with it.

The joy, the love and the contentment which are only found in the spiritual life.

The fifth reason is to represent the privacy of marriage; the intimacy of the entire relationship. Marriage is only between the husband and wife.

Marriage Is Private

1. Sex is not a public activity. Always a private matter between husband and wife. No talk among friends about sex lives.
2. Marriage is a trusting and faithful bond that is built in privacy, just as sex is done in privacy.
3. It is to be kept within these confines which precludes adultery. That is outside of the privacy of marriage. Extends the privacy of marriage to another person. That privacy is lost; that bond of marriage is lost. The intimacy is lost.

4. It is the privacy and the security of marital sex that bonds husband and wife like nothing else. If you add all of what Bobby has given us, we begin to understand the physical union between husband and wife. This is why marriage is enough. This is not just a sex talk; this is so that you might understand God's design for sex and marriage. We ought to know what it means and how to do it. Bobby is not talking about mechanics but the coalescence of soul with body.
5. The privacy inherent in sexuality is privacy; and letting others know takes it public. Bobby once talked to a girl whose mother knew what happened in the bedroom. Bobby asked, "Are you out of your mind?"
6. That privacy is the environment for engendering complete reliance, trust and certainty, which is so important between a couple. A promise of faithfulness to that one person. Trust and faithfulness are cornerstones of a good marriage.
7. The privacy of sexuality reflects the ... of marriage.
8. You cannot help but learn something when you study sex. The privacy of the marriage bed is also indicative of the believer's privacy before the Lord; to live the spiritual life before the Lord. To live in accordance with spiritual growth and application; fulfilling an individual plan for us. A believer who is faithful to the Lord to His mandates and to His doctrine, reflects the privacy of the priesthood of the spiritual life. We have a plan in marriage, and that includes just the husband and wife and no one else. It is only you and her.

God also uses marriage in order to produce the family and to continue the human race.

I am fearfully and wonderfully made; and my soul knows this very well.

This precludes evolution. This represents the forming by God. To the emergence of the human soul outside of the human womb. This is an amazing creation of God in the first man and woman. This process was not a development that took place over billions of years as a progression of life forms. We are made by God.

It is hard to imagine that people believe that we are the random production. That is simply a rejection of God's creation.. The apparent corrupter of humanity. The sin that reigns in our mortal body. We are reproduced by procreation; and reproduction includes a sin nature. That is a part of the genetic structure which develops in the womb. Our sin nature comes right out with us.

Communion:

Philippians 2:8–11 Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Isaiah 45:23–25 By myself I have sworn; from my mouth has gone out in righteousness a word that shall not return: 'To me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear allegiance.' 'Only in the LORD, it shall be said of me, are righteousness and strength; to him shall come and be ashamed all who were incensed against him. In the LORD all the offspring of Israel shall be justified and shall glory.'

The name of Jesus is the most wonderful name; and the most hated name as well.

Native Americans have names associate often with animals and the person who possesses that name. Nicknames given to sports figures.

We all have family names, often with a background. Names with specific meaning.

The most significant name in human history is given to our Savior. Men must be saved through a name, the name that must represent a person. Salvation comes through a name. Good and noble deeds cannot save a person because redemption comes only through a name.

Acts 4:12 And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved."

Jesus is a divinely given name. It originated in heaven. He came from above. His name is that powerful and that controversial in our world today. Even pastors who mention the name of Jesus in the pulpit seem almost apologetic, despite Jesus being the only name by which we must be saved.

Acts 8 is the story of the eunuch who was reading, standing in a chariot and reading Isaiah 53, which is about Jesus Christ. Philip joins him and Philip explains that meaning.

We must remember that the name of Jesus is a divinely significant name. He was born into this world with a definite relation to sin. He came to save men from the penalty, power and presence of sin. Salvation cannot be by human reform or good deeds; but by a name.

It is not hard to convince people that they are sinners. Too many think that Jesus wants us to do a bunch of good things and He would save them.

We need no other fitness for salvation than being an unsaved sinner, that we all are.

the name of Jesus is also the name of forgiveness. Of Him, all the prophets bear witness that, through His Name, everyone who believes in Him receives forgiveness of sins.

Sin is behind all of our troubles. That is the basis for every problem that we have.

The man who was very sick with palsy, yet he was forgiven of his sins in Mark 2:5. His deepest need to salvation, not his affliction.

The free gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Jesus' name is justification. People want to feel justified.

It is not before the state or before other men that we need to deal with sin. All sin is against God.

Justification is given as a gift of God's grace to anyone who expresses faith alone in Christ alone.

3 logical steps

1. The person believes in Christ.
2. God the Father credits righteousness to that person.
3. God recognizes His righteousness in the believer and pronounces him justified.

Some see justification as just some theological term with no application to the spiritual life. This is the source of our peace and our assurance in the Christian life.

And we exult in the hope of God. Without faith in His name, we cannot stand justified before God.

Where 2 or 3 are gathered in My name, I am there in your midst.

Successful prayer is done only in His name.

Despising the shame. That you would not grow weary.

This is the culmination of the history of Jesus all the way to the rapture of the church. He came to His Own and those who were His Own did not receive Him.

Our Substitute bore our sins, relieving us of the burden of sin. God sees us in Christ once we have believed in Him.

In the past 18 years Bobby has tried to teach something with communion. Bobby was flipping through the television and came across an evangelist and people were getting worked up and shouted the name of Jesus Christ. It was all emotion.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/10/2022 2Sunday

6 General Reasons Why God Created Sex.

1. Interdependence.
2. To present unity; it is the picture of the oneness of husband and wife. Ephesians 5:31.
3. Equality. In marriage, there is one leader and one follower. In bed, this organization is suspended temporarily. Husband and wife are partners moving towards the same objectives in life.
4. This portrays the virtue to be found in the Christian life. Capacity for love.
5. To represent the privacy and sanctity of marriage. Marriage requires a faithful bond which is done in privacy.
6. Procreation, probably the most amazing thing that God has provided for us in life.

We are fearfully and wonderfully made by God. This represents the formation of a person. No other creature is spoken of in this way. We are made in the image of God. The equipment is given to the first man and first woman. The whole process to the emergence of a human being.

As we now know, God did not design sex strictly for reproduction. There is something else in the making of children, where the sin nature is passed along by the male to the children. Man's fall caused the sin nature. God ensouls human life, but the sin nature is passed down by the man. The corruptor of humanity.

The Passing along of the Sin Nature

1. It is not God who produces a sin nature, even though God designed and created the reproductive process.
2. That nature is part of the biological process of procreation after the fall. We pass it along to our children.
3. That is the process of passing the sin nature from one person to another. We each have a sin nature with trends, with weaknesses and strengths. We have our own sin nature, and it is very similar to our genetic structure.

4. It is sex that forms the corrupted body; but also forms the potential of human life, including the soul. In every case, God ensouls the human being. God creates the soul; and we pass along the sin nature.
5. This is a wonderful and fearful process. It is an amazing thing. Today, we know exactly how it happens.

Romans 1:20 For His invisible attributes, namely, His eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse.

Their excuse is, this is just a random process. From nothing to us. All of what God is, is clearly seen in the whole process. The working of the human body is a revelation of Who and What God is.

Marriage and Evolution

1. The exclusivity of Biblical marriage among human beings is prohibitive of the theory of evolution. Inanimate objects somehow give birth to the complexity that is human life. God is the Author and the Designer. Things which are intricate require a designer. Marriage is prohibitive of that theory.
2. Only human beings have such a concept of formal marriage. As it was designed by God as a divine institution. This is from the very beginning.
3. The concept of and procreation inside of the marriage bond is not an evolutionary process. Marriage is a divine creation; just like humans. We have a soul; we have a mentality of soul; we have volition. We develop concepts.

There are legalists in the Christian world who see child bearing as being the only reason for sex in marriage. It is just too close to fornication and adultery.

The pleasure of sex is necessary for the relationship of marriage. Raising children ought to be in a loving relationship.

The Bond of Sexual Union in Marriage

1. Procreation is secondary to the first priority of the marital relationship; that is love and the expression of love. Procreation is secondary.
2. Children did not happen until after the fall.
3. Sex for recreation took place within the first marriage before children and before sin. Man was incomplete without woman. The sex completed both of them and bonded both of them.
4. It is the enjoyment of recreational sex which expresses the bond of love in marriage. Virtue love never fails. 1 Corinthians 13.
5. That is important for the interdependence and unity and equality and demonstration of virtue love. That is why procreation is last on this list. It is not a demonstration of those things.

The answer to this question is, of course, no. There should be no water in the streets. This is sexual contract with the wrong woman; the polluted springs of water rather than fresh water from one's own well.

The analogy is a heavy rainstorm which falls down on the dusty streets. The water picks up the dirt and trash as it continues to flow downhill. The water was entirely polluted immediately. There are a number of flwing streets. This is a message from father to son; and this is about sharing one's seed with libertine women and this may even include prostitutes as well. These women have been partners with many men.

Solomon, Telling His Son, Do Not Look for Love in the Wrong Places

1. The point being communicated to this young man is, don't give yourself abroad to the strange women described.
2. A stranger is a woman found in a public place without prior knowledge of her.
3. Abroad is a reference to anonymous locations. Bobby heard one policeman say, if you want to avoid violent crime, avoid bars after midnight. This can include unknown and strange women.
4. Thus abroad indicates strange women and strange men, coming together and many bas choices being made.
5. Do not let your sexuality be dispersed to such women.
6. Don't let your sexual activity be consummated in the streets. This means, having sex with any woman who is uou

In the context, there are streets that they go to.

Many commentators take this to mean male bodily fluids which impregnate. But producing children is not the emphasis in this passage.

Streams of water refer to those with whom these waters are spread. It should not be in the men's club. This is not limited to men. Both genders do this today. No liaisons with strange women or men; and no illegitimate children as a byproduct, which is a huge problem today. So many children produced with no father in residence. God designed a child to be raised by a father and a mother. So many children without parental supervision at all.

This is difficult for the children and for the nation. Do not become a baby daddy even though a woman may have a number of reasons. Hollywood does this all the time; and this is emulated by those people without money. This is attractive to some men who want the pleasure, but not the responsibility.

We have had good classified as evil, and vice versa.

A great problem today is raising children who have no standards and they will not follow divine establishment principles. Believers are not following divine establishment standards. Parents without doctrine cannot teach their children any doctrine.

Sex is for one couple, one man and one woman.

Proverbs 5:16 Should your springs be scattered abroad, streams of water in the streets?

Proverbs 5:17 Let them be for yourself alone, and not for strangers with you.

Introductory Points to V. 17

1. This is not longer metaphorical language. This is plain straightforward language which cannot be mistaken as to its meaning.
2. This verse confirms what we have learned elsewhere.
3. These verses must be taken in context and understood in context.
4. Husband and wife are the only legitimate partners for sex.
5. V. 17 says the same thing in a straightforward way about streams in wrong places.

Interpretation in Context

1. This may look back on the streams from the previous verse.
2. This could also refer to the result of the sexual union, which is a reference to children.
3. Both sexual desire and their product of that desire could certainly be the meaning here.
4. The focus here is on children, as the subject of this verse.
5. Children must be yours alone; conceived only with your wife.

Implied is to steal a man's seed to have a child. Having illegitimate children (today, that is not a phrase spoken of).

This does not sanction live-in roommates with benefits; or a committed relationship that is outside of a marriage commitment. All of those are precluded from producing children. They fall under the category of adultery or fornication.

Let's not forget children having children, and these are bad decisions for the children. This limits their options of life. The resultant children have no choice in where they are. They are just there. They come into the world totally disadvantaged. They are there based upon the bad decisions of two people.

When the parents are believers, there is a better chance that they turn out well.

We have the information to have the best life that any person can have. Children do not ask to be brought into the world based on the bad decisions that two people make.

Proverbs 5:17 Let them be for yourself alone, and not for strangers with you.

Proverbs 5:17 Let them be for yourself alone, and not for strangers with you.

The pronoun them is a reference to the children as a result of an out-of-marriage union. Some women are selfish, desiring to have a child without a father. To do so intentionally is a travesty. A father brings a perspective to marriage which is different from the mother. To miss the perspective of one leaves out some of the rearing that is necessary.

Boys need a father's influence to be men; and a daughter needs guidance from her father when it comes to love. A young woman knows that she has love from her father, so that she does not need to bring home a stray. No other man should be involved sexually with one's wife.

The temptation can be great, even when away from the home. There is a repercussion to that which is very unsavory, for the wife, the husband and especially for the children. It never ends well. You can recover from it. But it can be a long process. We can recover from any problem in life. This is what believers do in order to advance spiritually. But the repercussions continue and they can be very difficult for children.

Promiscuity or random intercourse throws confusion into the whole thing. Even suspicion that the woman has been with someone else, this can be as damaging to children and marriage as much as anything else. The wounded husband may view the child in an entirely different light. That is devastating to a child. It is very likely that a child becomes cognizant of such a circumstance.

People avoid marriage sometimes. And so many children are born outside of a marriage. Paternity dna can turn up evidence that a child was conceived outside of wedlock. There are problems for the marriage and for the raising of children as well.

1. Problems with a solid marriage, for sexual response as trust, faithfulness and virtue love. And for the procreation and raising of children. Divine institutions are critical for the raising of children. Especially the importance of growing spiritually.
2. The nation is affected adversely when divine establishment and Bible doctrine is not taught.
3. None of these choices are easily possible when the child is born out of wedlock.
4. Integrity is compromised and that is not understood today. Some parents just get after whatever they want and figure that their kids will do the same. No integrity at all. But this has a negative effect on all involved.

Two generations have gone through prep school. If they are simply dropped off, the kid understands that. There are parents they other way. They make the kid listen every day whether they want to or not. At conferences Bobby runs into people who listened to Bob from an early age. Bobby did have to go to church on Sunday, but he was given the choice whether to go or not during Bible class. Children have to make their own decision. To listen or to ignore.

As the children go to prep school or continue to go to Bible class or Sunday class. If you have fulfilled that, giving the children the foundation, it is up to them. Sooner or later, you have to let a child spread their wings. That is a part of life.

For unbelievers, there is the training in divine establishment.

Instead of spreading it on the street, keep it as a part of the family. Confine yourself to your wife or to your husband. No one else needs to be involved.

Children Need to Be in a Faithful Marriage

1. Children must be produced in the proper context. Not just, we're married so we can have kids. Children must be produced in the proper context. When couples are faithful to each other and there is the union. Children need to be produced in this context.
2. When you are faithful, there is no doubt as to the origin of your children. If there is a doubt, it can affect the attitude towards the children. Quite often, there is a rejection and a punishment.
3. There will not be creeping doubt between the spouses, which affects the sanctify of marriage.
4. Doubt and lack of trust is a sure erosion of the marriage bond. The bond must be maintained.
5. Where there is integrity in the soul of a father, there is a natural and vested pride in offspring; and a drive to care for and to teach your own children.

Some parents have children right off the bat; and sometimes, couples really need time to decide what life should be like. These are important logical principles when it comes to raising children. This is the way that God designed it.

The scum desert the wife with child; and the greater scum not only deserts them, but takes the woman's resources as well.

Where there is doubt in the marriage, there are problems for the child.

How do we solve it? We simply make it legal. We make a crime legal; and we do not talk about sin. We just normalize something which is fundamentally wrong. We have normalized LGBTQ. We have normalized racial strife.

The child did not choose the circumstances that they are born into. The younger generation thinks what they do because of how they are born and raised.

it takes time for capacity for love to develop. As we grow spiritually, we are equipped to live our lives.

1. As a man should not dip water from his neighbor's cistern or well, so he should not have sex with anyone other than his wife. The best sex is at home, if it is developed right; if virtue love is a part of it.
2. The husband should have his physical needs met by his wife and he must meet hers as well. They requires learning for both of them. They learn how to do this together. Ghost lovers, those from the past, and this colors the marriage. Learn together. That is how it was designed. You can have plenty of experience with the right one.
3. In the right family unit, there is love; and that is necessary for a child. That is nurture. The love that you express in every way.
4. If offspring are not produced for whatever reason, take it from the Lord as that is the way that it should be. And perhaps, God wants you to adopt.
5. Sexual desire should be controlled and channeled into one's own wife. That is the only circumstance and environment for producing children. That solves a huge number of problems.

The Blessing of Children

1. The use of the word wife tells who the fountain is. They are parallel terms.
2. A fountain is a personification for a wife.
3. So, fountain and wife denote the same person in this verse. We learn the interpretation
4. She is the fountain just as she was called the cistern in v. 15.
5. The image here indicates that the blessings spoken of is a wife who is fruitful in producing children and who is rendered happy by being the mother of her husband's children. Children in Israel was a sign of blessing. Not a blessing when the parameters of this verse are violated.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT 7/20/2022 Wednesday

We have covered adultery and sexuality; and next, we are looking at money.

Proverbs 5:18 Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice in the wife of your youth,

1. The right course of action is to find fulfillment in marriage. It is the right course of action, which is blessed with children.
2. The blessing indicates that marriage, sex and reproduction is God-given. A gracious gift from God. Therefore, a man should rejoice in the wife of his youth.

Why Should a Man Stay with the Wife of His Youth

1. This wife was the first choice. The one you showed discernment in your choosing and the one you have give your youth, energy, virility, all of those things.
2. She is the one who knows her husband best of all. It is wonderful that a woman can love people like us.

3. This is the person in whom the husband can find the greatest blessing in. The greatest blessing in this way.
4. So from the vigor of her youth, she has shared the passion, the excitement, the satisfaction, the contentment and shared the joy and the hardships in their bond. No other person does this for us. The man and the woman complete one another.
5. In other words, the experiences of the married life of a divinely blessed relationship encompasses a mutual support through the good times and the bad. This is something to rejoice about; not a ball and chain. That terminology reflects no capacity for love or life.
6. Rejoice because the two enjoy the finest relationship in life. There is no relationship like this at any time in any place.
7. In other words, rejoice because you have fulfilled God's design, which is total blessing. There is no other relationship like it.

To deal treacherously with her like abandonment or adultery. There is a penalty to treating this wonderful blessing badly.

Malachi 2:13 And this second thing you do. You cover the LORD's altar with tears, with weeping and groaning because he no longer regards the offering or accepts it with favor from your hand.

What Is the Problem Here with the Foreign Wives?

1. In context, these tears are of men who have married the daughters of a foreign god. They are groaning because things are not going well.
2. They have divorced their wives in favor of foreign women, which means unbelieving women. You do not marry foreign women, because they will lead their men in the wrong direction.
3. Hence, for these men, their offerings to God are hypocritical.
4. And so they are unacceptable before the Lord because they are meaningless. Their sacrifices and hypocrites themselves are unacceptable before the Lord.
5. This indicates that their offerings are not accepted, because the offering is meaningless. This means that you are outside of the Lord's favor. You are not a part of the client nation.
6. They are now being disciplined and punished for their sin. This goes to the very heart of who Israel is. Israel represents the God of Israel.

Malachi 2:14 But you say, "Why does he not?" Because the LORD was witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, though she is your companion and your wife by covenant.

God has been a witness between you and the wife of your youth. That is the woman with whom you should rejoice. But you have dealt treacherously with this woman. You have the wonderful blessing and you have thrown it away.

The covenant which you have thrown away is the marriage agreement. In the ancient world, the parents often drew up a covenant between their children to be husband and wife. The wife is to be a great blessing, but she has been wronged.

This verse can refer to a larger group of adulterers. Israel is being judged because of this spiritual adultery.

Mal 2:15 Did he not make them one, with a portion of the Spirit in their union? And what was the one God seeking? Godly offspring. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and let none of you be faithless to the wife of your youth.

Some Explanation of the Spirit in this Verse

1. The phrasing indicates the work of the Holy Spirit in the life of a married couple.
2. The Holy Spirit has not had any impact on this man or upon Israel, which is what the Holy Spirit does for us.
3. The Holy Spirit's influence has no part in this life. He has no virtue; he does not even have remnant of the Spirit.

God desires the unity, not separation and divorce. The husband must control his attitude; to be inline with God's Spirit and His Word.

God hates divorce and He hates the treachery of the adulterer. This is a warning not to do it.

Choose your partner wisely, so that you do not stray. This is no joke.

God judges, punishes and disciplines for that. There is nothing happy about it. The adultery never pays off; it always ends badly, even if she is a replacement for the wife. It does not get better because you take yourself with you. Gain capacity for love, and then you have a chance.

Malachi 2:16 "For the man who does not love his wife but divorces her, says the LORD, the God of Israel, covers his garment with violence, says the LORD of hosts. So guard yourselves in your spirit, and do not be faithless."

Hebrews 13:4 Let marriage be held in honor among all, and let the marriage bed be undefiled, for God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterous.

If you are a believer, you are going to heaven; but heed the warning.

Summary Points That We Are Studying

1. These three passages clearly state that marriage is to be monogamous and it should preclude adultery. Those words can hurt. They are designed as a caution. If you are not married, then make your choice wisely and show discernment.
2. There is discipline and suffering for those who violate this design.

3. Marriage is the status for expressing love through sex and for producing children.
4. We are also to raise these children in a loving family environment. They may not be easy to deal with, but we have to raise them in the best way that we can.
5. Raising children within a marriage.
6. Marriage is designed for a lifetime. From youth to death. This does not mean that you marry when you are young. The youth refers to your marriage being young.

It can be difficult; and you set the path for them, and they may return and maybe they won't. Continue to pray and be there and represent these principles to them. They see examples in your lives.

The lifespan in that period of time was shorter. Children were produced earlier in the productive years.

Proverbs 5:19 a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated always in her love.

This is the presentation of beauty and from the man's point of view. The woman's attractiveness with overtones of sexual desire.

Interpreting Proverbs 5:19

1. The opening word is in italics, as; because it is not present in the original text. It is added in order to better explain the verse. Here not good.
2. If you remove that word the expression follows. Just a loving hind and a graceful doe. It continues the thought from v. 18.
3. Leave out the as and link it with v. 18.
4. This phrase and the whole verse should be attached to v. 18. It could be just one verse.
5. The phrase provides both a description and another reason to rejoice in the wife of your youth.
6. See how this works: Rejoice in the wife of your youth, a lovely deer and a graceful doe.
7. The beauty of the woman; and it is very physical.
8. This is an attitude of love directed to the husband.

This is the image of beauty and sexual love. Natural shapeliness and beauty. A hind or a gazelle possessing all of these qualities, grace, poetry in motion, shapely, fluid movements. They have a great strength and endurance that is admirable.

The one in which he finds the fulfillment in his desires. The man is enamored with her. She has these tremendous qualities which he admires; and that should not change as their lives continue. He should pursue her like a buck pursuing a deer.

Proverbs 5:19 a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated always in her love.

Breast in the Hebrew is dad and it means breast. It represents something beyond the female anatomy. Solomon uses this in several places, especially in the Song of Songs.

Song 4:5 Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, that graze among the lilies.

Song 7:3 and many other passages in Song of Songs. Solomon is describing the beauty of his wife; a simile. These are two dissimilar things or objects. The picture of the two fawns is the soft coat of the fawn. A very soft fawn. Solomon is visualizing the softness of her breasts. The attractive figure of his bride has kindled the desire in him. A beautiful poetry of love. There is some eroticism here; or a physical aspect here. This is the husband desire for his wife. This is the way a husband and wife should be.

This is the way the man thinks. Exactly the same connotation; a reference to a physical desire. Same image written by the same man. Solomon uses it and he uses this with his son. As you would suspect, Hosea uses a woman's anatomy for a similar desire, but for adultery.

Hosea 2:2 "Plead with your mother, plead— for she is not my wife, and I am not her husband— that she put away her whoring from her face, and her adultery from between her breasts;

Recall that this is all about marrying a prostitute named Gomer. It represents all Israel.

He links breasts with adultery and sexuality. This relates to Israel and her spiritual adultery.

Now we understand the imagery of breasts in the Old Testament. It can refer to sexuality, good or bad.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/21/2022 Thursday

Proverbs 5:18 Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice in the wife of your youth,

The fountain matches up with the wife.

Proverbs 5:19 a lovely deer, a graceful doe. Let her breasts fill you at all times with delight; be intoxicated always in her love.

These two verses can be treated as a single verse. These words describe a wife, as a deer. They are supple, sinuous, poetry in movement; they also have strength and endurance. Based on this new description, they have another way of rejoicing in the wife of their youth.

There is also a reference to the breasts of the wife. It is not surprising that Solomon uses another word in this verse to describe the results of the passionate phrase that he uses. He uses the word shaga. shâgâh (שָׂגָה) [pronounced shaw-GAWH], which means, to wander, to go astray; to err, to transgress; to commit a sin unknowingly; to reel through wine, to be intoxicated. Strong's #7686 BDB #993.

Shaga

1. This word means to err from the way; that is its basic meaning.
2. Based upon our context, this cannot be the meaning here. Words can have more than one meaning.
3. Here it should be translated, exhilarated. This demands a positive response.
4. This would be a physical response.
5. Solomon mentions a part of the anatomy that catches a man's attention. This statement, beauty is in the eye of the beholder. This is the eye of one man speaking of the wife of his youth. He loves her look. There is someone for everyone.
6. There is another way to translate this word.

There is a translation in the Latin vulgate. They have the reading, let her breasts inebriate you. This is a permanent attraction; so that the risk of adultery is lessened.

Solomon's Words

1. Solomon, by this figure of speech, has describe the enchantment of the husband by his wife. She bewitches him in every way.
2. She entralls and influences him.
3. The husband should also be intoxicated with the woman's inner beauty. That which never fades.
4. That means that she has wisdom in her soul as well as being physically attractive to him. That is the makings of a great marriage. The man listens to his wife; he is interested in her. We need both viewpoints in a marriage in order for there to be good decisions.
5. The expression here is of an intensity of love connected with a feeling, an emotion of a superabundant happiness.
6. In her love, delight yourself continually and you will be daily delighted.
7. This concludes physically and soulishly.
8. The physical must always reference the soul aspect.

Now we are getting to a place where we can put together the entire chapter. What excuse can be given for adultery? Bobby says none. There is no reason apart from personal self-gratification for the moment. This was Israel's problem.

Why on earth would you desert the God of Israel for all of these foreign women? The One Who has brought you to Canaan and has given you this land? This is a loss of focus and a misunderstanding of what is going on.

1. Adulterous and foreign women are parallel.
2. This includes personal adultery
3. Foreign women are heathen idol worshipers. They brought spiritual adultery to Israel. Why would you do this? Why would you get involved in adultery when you have this great wife of your youth? Why would Israel do this when they have the Lord. This holds true for the deviations of our nation as well.

We are steeped in spiritual adultery. We have opted for humanism over Christianity. Many churches have pursued a syncretic doctrine.

The relationship between husband and wife is a bonding which continues over an entire lifetime. You are still exhilarated with the wife of your youth. Spiritual adultery with foreign women leaves no time for the worship of the one true God of Israel. It is no different with spiritual adultery. That leaves no time for the worship of the true God. There can be no love, love for or worship of the Lord when the men of Israel are attracted to foreign idolatrous women. Nor can there be progress or bonding with the Lord when there is no spiritual advance. The believers are distracted and otherwise occupied with their own pursuit of strangers with an evil religion. How many times have people fallen in love with strangers. People that they actually know that they don't have a like mind with.

How many people in Berachah have married someone outside the church? Inevitably, they are led away. They have left the church for that. That happened to Israel and that is happening to the United States of America today.

There can be no maintenance of the client nation when there is no bond between God and Israel. Just as there is no bond between husband and wife.

Solomon repeats this verb in v. 20, for a purpose.

Proverbs 5:20 Why should you be intoxicated, my son, with a forbidden woman and embrace the bosom of an adulteress?

This time, shaga is in contrast with its previous use. It is used in two ways, which is part of the poetry of this passage.

Shaga

1. Shaga presents a striking contrast between the wife of his youth and the adulteress.
2. This is first used for the expression of love.

3. In v. 20, it reverts back to its most basic meaning. Why should you, my son, err in the wrong way with an adulteress?
4. This refers to a mental confusion; a foolish delirium with the wrong woman. Why should you err with an adulteress. A captivation which has clouded the judgment of a nation that falls for spiritual advance.
5. There is an insanity present which may stretch out into the near future.

Bobby is amazed with the leadership of this country. They have erred in their ways. Their thinking is clouded and humanistic and ideological. That is the spiritual advance that we see today in our country. It is an ideological adultery taking place in our country today. It places human beings before God. Man is the Savior; man is going. If you understand the Scriptures, you know that there is only one Savior.

So many people in this country think that we are the ones to look up to. Humanism.

We are infatuated with the plan of God. We can appreciate many things in the human race. But we should focus upon the second phrase has the Hebrew noun chêyq (חַיֵּק or חַק) [pronounced khayk], which means bosom, hollow [portion of a chariot], lower [bottom] [portion of the altar]; midst. The idea here is this is within Job. Strong's #2436 BDB #300.

This embrace of adultery is like a drug, a strong potion, once it is imbibed in. There is no real comparison here between the two. Solomon says, "Son, you have a choice between the wife of your youth. She will be a never-ending source of wonder. Compatibility; or you can run off with someone who is meaningless. You get what you ask for.

Proverbs 5:21 For a man's ways are before the eyes of the LORD, and he ponders all his paths.

There is not a single thing that you do that the Lord does not see.

Proverbs 5:22 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin.

Proverbs 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

This is the final punctuation of this chapter. This is what is wrong with the world today. It is the sin nature. We are fallen. We are a degenerate race. There is nothing good about us. In the end, we have that nature and it cannot be corrected on our own. God is the witness and the judge of mankind. Whatever you do, you will be watched and judged by the Lord.

What we have here is a theological argument by Solomon against sin and adultery. He cites God's omniscience, His omnipresence and His justice when it comes to citing the sin of man.

Points

1. Those who embrace evil are characterized in this chapter and God knows all about them. There is a price to pay.
2. You cannot escape from his all-knowing. He sees and He knows.
3. Or the Almighty hand of discipline and judgment comes down when it is necessary.
4. The eyes of the Lord are in every place, watching.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/24/2022 Sunday1

There are many basic problems in our life today. The basic problem is that all of us have a sin nature. And we have all had it, because of the sin nature and what we do. The spiritual life that is offered to believers is negated by the believer who is out of fellowship. Sin violates the standards of God. Wrong decisions are going to be made; divine establishment will be ignored; and all of that is sin; and it comes from our own nature. The final few verses of this chapter address these things.

Proverbs 5:21 For a man's ways are before the eyes of the LORD, and he ponders all his paths.

Proverbs 5:22 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin.

Proverbs 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

We are plagued with the sin nature and there is nothing that we, as people, can do about this condition. Our sin nature is uncorrected by human endeavor; yet humanism places all of its hopes on the human nature. What is good for man and what is evil? As a result, mankind, through his own efforts, can save himself...according to the humanist. But only if the smart leaders are listened to by the masses, to be led into peace and prosperity. What a silly hope that is. Where is the evidence of this?

Many are convinced that we can save ourselves. All of Scripture contradicts this fundamentally. We can see amazing technology in the past 50 years. We thought that the internet would help us, as we could now all be in contact with one another.

The human race needs something outside of itself. We need Jesus Christ and...

The human race is depraved and we are only saved by Jesus Christ. Our sinful world does not change, despite the best efforts of the human race. There is progress today in the human race, so people seem to believe. Usually, unintended consequences. That is the human race. That is who we are. Jesus Christ offers the only alternative to humanism and the only one that works.

We have eternal life; and we can have a transformation in life that no one else has. We can change our thinking from human viewpoint to divine viewpoint. Does this make us sinless? Of course not. The real change in man's soul is Bible doctrine.

Those who embrace evil, in adultery, cannot elude the all-seeing eyes of the Lord.

Proverbs 5:21 For a man's ways are before the eyes of the LORD, and he ponders all his paths.

God's Eyes

1. The eyes of the Lord are in every place watching.
2. This is an anthropomorphism. It is used here of God.
3. This is figurative language that assigns physical characteristics to God which He does not possess. We understand what eyes are and what they do.
4. God does not have eyes like we do. He sees all and He knows all. We have a personal God.
5. God is omnipresent; He is everywhere and He sees everything.
6. No creature is hidden from God's sight. No one escapes His notice.
7. How does this happen; the definition of omnipresence. God occupies every bit of space in the entire universe all of the time. He is everywhere at once so His eyes see everything at once. To us, that is very hard to understand. We might see the analogy of God being like a computer.
8. Jesus knows everything about us and all the circumstances in our lives. And God knows all of this in eternity past. This is a localized understanding for our own benefit. This is a fantastic theological point of view.
9. People love to hide things and they think that they can. But they cannot hide anything from God.
10. God's justice is absolutely fair. Justice in a courtroom may or may not be fair. Sometimes the jury gets it wrong. Sometimes the facts are not evidence. In God's case, there is nothing which is obscure. There is never a falsehood in His thinking; and there is no injustice in God.
11. God not only knows everything in real time, but He knew this in eternity past. God is the absolute historian and the absolute prophet. That includes all of our sins and He judges them rightly, justly, fairly.

This is certainly true of the national sins of Israel. There is also Israel's spiritual adultery. In Jeremiah's day, Israel was mired in spiritual adultery.

God made the same announcement.

Jeremiah 5:1 God speaks to Israel as He did to Sodom. "Run you\* to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem and see now and know and seek in the broad places of it, if you\* can find a man, if there is any who does justly, who seeks truth and I will pardon her."

Just find one person, and I will spare this city.

Jeremiah 5:3 O Jehovah, do not your eyes look upon truth? You have stricken them, but they were not grieved. You have consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction. They have made their faces harder than a rock. They have refused to return.

We see the faces in our country and they are as hard as rock. There is only absolute truth and the faces in the United States are hard as rock, just as they are described here.

2Kings 19:16 Incline your ear, O LORD, and hear; open your eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to mock the living God.

Sennacherib is the greatest ruler of this point in time, and he has been sent to reproach the Living God.

2Kings 19:17–18 Truly, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste the nations and their lands and have cast their gods into the fire, for they were not gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone. Therefore they were destroyed. So now, O LORD our God, save us, please, from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you, O LORD, are God alone."

God will always spare some; but the justice of God reveals Him to those who are left. People will still reject Him. Many see these things and recognize that there is something greater than the people and the circumstances.

The Rabshakeh was taunting God. Sennacherib sent him to taunt Israel. He brought 185,000 soldiers to destroy Israel and said, "Your God cannot save you."

The Lord saw that King Hezekiah recognized that only God could redeem him. And the next morning, 185,000 soldiers were destroyed.

We should know that God can and He will deliver us, even if discipline is necessary. Bobby believes that the discipline is already here. We can look around and see it.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/24/2022 Sunday2

Job 34:21 "For his eyes are on the ways of a man, and he sees all his steps.

God's justice is in operation at all times and He sees everything. God's justice is appropriate and it is designed for our correction. It is designed for our benefit.

Hebrews 4:13 And no creature is hidden from his sight, but all are naked and exposed to the eyes of him to whom we must give account.

God's Omniscience

1. There is nothing hidden from God's eyes.
2. There is no possibility of any act of adultery or immorality or mental attitude sins being hidden from God. People cannot see our thinking; but God can.
3. Some of our worst sins are mental.
4. Since God sees, He knows and He disapproves. That is a negative rationale. Sometimes people don't want the discipline. This is true also for the adulterous evil nation. We get it the hardest. God warns us of this. Jeremiah 16:17–18 For my eyes are on all their ways. They are not hidden from me, nor is their iniquity concealed from my eyes. But first I will doubly repay their iniquity and their sin, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their detestable idols, and have filled my inheritance with their abominations."
5. Hananiah warned in 2Chronicles 16:9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to give strong support to those whose heart is blameless toward him. You have done foolishly in this, for from now on you will have wars." Here is the punishment. This is not about one man; the king represents the nation. War is a curse. It brings hardship, it brings death,.. We have not experienced how destructive war can be since the Civil war. Our soldiers knew what this destruction is like firsthand; but we don't. This is a part of the 4 cycles of discipline. I will set My face against you so that you will be struck down before your enemies. This is military disaster. This is against an client nation to God who fails. You can go through the littyany of client nations who turn against God and they endup in this situation. Hosea was told to marry a prostitute, a picture of spiritual adultery. If you think marriage is tough? Marry prostitute. They do not consider in their hearts that I consider all of their wickedness. Now their deeds are all around them; they are before My face.

There have been many preachers who could thunder away with these passages. God seeks correction for us, but always in love. For who the Lord loves, He disciplines. We will all get discipline for we are all His children. The problem is always abandonment of Israel's first love, Who is God.

This national spiritual adultery is severely reprimanded and punished by the Lord. The history of Old Testament Israel is proof of the Lord's thinking on spiritual adultery. We will be the leaders of this nation.

What is it that the Lord watches and weighs and considers? What evil does His justice contemplate? Certainly, spiritual adultery. The abandonment of Bible doctrine. Whoring after something other than God.

We are in the midst of a wave of spiritual adultery.

We see the proliferation of humanism, Marxism, socialism, all of these replacing the doctrines of Christianity. These are idolatrous movements.

The racism that permeates our national conversation which divides us. The God of equality. The only true equality is being in Christ. That is the only equality. Now we can strive for equality of opportunity.

A third wave of spiritual adultery is the rise of radical revolutionary organizations: ANTIFA and Black Lives Matter; with riots in the street. An organization is corrupt because they have no law and order. They look to replace the rule of law and divine providence.

The fourth is the divine institutions, which are being disregarded and they are disappearing in our society. The god of human progress is replacing. The greatest problem on earth today is our earth. But God guarantees that it will not be destroyed. Until then, we cannot destroy this earth.

The fifth problem, the loss of freedom, of personal decisions and the controlling of our lives by big government. That is the new god to whom we turn for salvation and deliverance. Government will deliver us; they will make things right; they will bring in justice.

The sixth form is the tyranny of intimidation. The wokes who despise Christianity. They worship power. If only they are in charge, they will change the world into their own image. Sin natures cannot solve man's problems.

The seventh spiritual adultery, divine institutions, like marriage. We see the promotion and the rise of LGBTQ as the road to human liberation. If they are free to do what they want, then we are all free. They are replacing Jesus Christ.

A friend of Bobby says, "I am a Diophobe. I am afraid of God if we descend in a nation." What has God done to nations who have descended into sexual deviancy.

The destruction of the human family. The god of progress; the god of humanism.

The 8th spiritual adultery is nationalism. We now glorify globalism and greed. Follow the money to find the corruption. Just ask those who are in college football. TV contracts; more money. So often there are unintended consequences.

We deal with some of the worst nations on earth in our commerce.

The Worst Ones

1. Christ and Christianity itself is under attack.
2. It is being suppressed in the public forum by atheists, Marxists, even the government at times and sometimes, even the courts.
3. The gospel is being squelched and being rejected by so many in our society.
4. Christians are mocked for believing the Bible. Churches are failing to teach doctrine. That is spiritual adultery in the worst place. This is what ruined Israel. Substituting activism and humanism and church programs. These churches are being abandoned even by believers. We do not compete with the outside world.

We provide Bible doctrine at Berachah. People want to mix humanism with a little theology.

5. The nation embraces all sorts of distortions, degeneracies, politics, and so on and so forth that replace Jesus Christ. Christ is less and less prominent, and for what? All of these gods discussed.

The negative effects reach into families and into nations. The issue began with his son and guidance for his son. But it is much greater than that.

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT    7/27/2022 Wednesday

Secrecy is often used to hide a variety of sins; and the very fact that we want something hidden, suggests our own culpability. When we hide something like that, we are often wrong and we know it. We ignore that God sees all and He knows all. His justice is exercised toward us.

God sees all; He knows all; and He is absolute justice.

God's Justice and Our Behavior

1. A person's ways are in clear view of the Lord. He does not ever overlook what we do; not one thing; not one moment of our life is hidden from Him. We can even hide things from other people for all of our lives. Even if we were able to keep some fact or part of our life is hidden to others, the Lord knows everything about that thing. There is nothing which can be hidden.
2. The Lord examines, but He is also involved in the correction. The Lord disciplines; and that is for our betterment.
3. The Lord has a special method by which He handles us, when we are out of line. He has a special method.
4. Not only does He allow self-induced misery for us in our aberrations, which we can document in Romans 1:26; and God turns them over to their own aberrations and their own degeneracy.
5. God also is the instrument of our discipline. For reproof and for instruction in righteousness.
6. Recovery is as close to any one of us as rebound. We must advance by metabolizing God's Word. The is the fulfillment of our recovery. It is by divine discipline that we are restrained in this life. We are just like children because we receive corrective punishment for our wrongdoing. Correction often requires discipline. Children learn to avoid punishment by doing that which is right. In Israel, the problem was idolatry. But we have a number of our own false gods in the United States, #1 being humanism.

We may correct some problems, but the results of what we have done can carry on into the future, which is why it is... The sin is handled; the...

It is not only true, that the unbelieving wicked will not escape the wrath of God in eternity. God watches everything that believers do here and now. God knows all, sees all, is everywhere at one time; and everyone of us is under His scrutiny at every moment. It is our own sins which ensnare and trap us. We receive corrective discipline so that we might recover. Based on the universal statement...Solomon passes on the final fate of the physical and spiritual adulterer.

It is still a frantic search for happiness, which is often a loss of fulfillment. When we ignore the spiritual side of life, then we have something missing for all of our lives. The greatest relationship in life is between the believer and the Lord. The second greatest is between one man and one woman.

This is a summation of the life and times of a reversionist.

Proverbs 5:22 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin.

Proverbs 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

These are two rather grim sounding verses. These are indeed sad verses about sexual straying and sexual gratification outside of marriage. Iniquities will capture him. Secondly, he will die for lack of instruction. Thirdly, he lives in the wilderness in the greatness of his folly. He can do nothing else.

The Trap of the Spiritual Adulterer

1. The picture is of a rat caught in a trap of his own making. He decides that he likes it in there.
2. He is seen here as a wicked person captured by his own iniquities. There is a capture in it.
3. This is the same for a believer who is captured in physical or spiritual adultery. Those who ignore doctrine; who reject doctrine.
4. The adulterer is depicted as a man who lives and dies without knowing, without understanding, without instruction.
5. In v. 25, he is fully depicted as a man who will be judged. We are paying a dear price in this country for the failure to understand the divine institutions. We see the loss of nationalism. Great corruption in our country.
6. For the believer for his ignorance of the divine design for marriage, some the same results for the unbeliever for the greatness of his folly.

The verb is intoxication; inebriation; a poisonous intoxication. This harmonizes with the justice of God as He sees the sin. Fools perpetuate their own misery. A fool by definition is ignorant. He is ignorant about life and about capacity for life. Ignorant about the meaning of life. The meaning of lie for the unbeliever. Pure folly to live a life apart from...

We will take these phrases apart for better understanding.

Proverbs 5:22 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin.

The crime show that Bobby reads. The victim is often tied up with cords or... The results of adultery, people are tied up and killed.

The Results of the Adulterer

1. The adulterer is caught and bound up in his sins.
2. Once enmeshed, the adulterer lives in a prison of his own making.
3. His sin is self-perpetuating.
4. In other words, the one who indulges with this kind of sin always becomes entangled in it. He is ultimately ruined as v. 14 tells us.

Dealing with the Sin That You Are Being Disciplined For.

1. Rebound.
2. Cease and desist the sin.
3. What that requires is a continued flow of doctrine through the stream of consciousness. Only doctrine in the stream of consciousness can break those bonds.
4. What happens when you have the flow in the stream of consciousness? You develop your conscience; a storehouse of doctrine and wisdom.
5. You also develop a spiritual thought process to resist the temptation.

The More and More

1. A sin run wild.
2. This sin often repeats itself.
3. Sexual sins are often repeated.
4. When indulged, they release the endorphin in a person which provide pleasure. They are certain...
5. Adultery has a strong pull of obsession and compulsion. The more one gets, the more excitement, the more that one wants.
6. This is the ticket to ruin; a life bound by the cord of that sin.
7. We need rebound.
8. Particularly problematic for this sin.

There is that stimulation and that is the pursuit of ruin.

He will die for lack of instruction. This boy gave no heed to instruction. He did not listen to the teaching of Solomon, his father. There is a divine design for marriage and children.

Job speaks of his family; they die, but they die without wisdom.

In our time, there is nothing but irresponsibility; and there is anarchy. They do not understand marriage or family. This affects nationalism.

Marriage, Good and Bad

1. Without instruction, there is no counsel or . Counseling is not trying to correct the problem ...there is no counsel apart from the wisdom of Proverbs 5.
2. No counsel so marriage and its vows have no real meaning. Sometimes we must learn these things the hard way. The solution is learning the principles from Proverbs 5.
3. The man's pursuits outside of marriage always preempt wisdom. Sexual obsession has no counsel or wisdom. It suppresses both.
4. This person will experience the wisdom the comes with oi
5. Marriage and family and sexuality boundaries; necessary for the relationship inside the marriage bond, which includes the response and bond of sexuality. Nothing but misery.

The Adulterer Does Not Know

1. This person, this adulterer, does not understand that there is only one woman who can fulfill all of his needs. That is critical.
2. He has many women who fulfill one need, temporarily. That tis the fundamental difference in our nation today.
3. The player is not a happy person; they are without contentment; and they are on the search again for the next conquest. They love the chase, but are ignoring the consequences. What a punishment this must be, like wealthy people who think that wealth would make them happy.

When the world tells you that sex is happiness, they are flat out wrong. It can be part of a healthy relationship, but that is where the world is wrong. They think that wealth and sex are the best things to have in life. Happiness does not depend upon your circumstance.

Such a person ends his days in bitterness and futility. What is this all about. Why did I do these things? What did I do? What did I accomplish?

No Satisfaction for the Adulterer

1. The sin in which the adulterer delights are the links which will chain him to unhappiness and dissatisfaction for all of his life.
2. Having refused or ignoring instruction in his life, he will die without wisdom or discernment. No fulfillment; no contentment. No happiness.
3. This person never finds what he is seeking for because he does not know where to look or even what he is looking for.

So many parents let their children raise themselves. No capacity for love or for life. This is exactly what chapter 5 is telling us. Arrogance is key to the libertine or the player, but it will never make him happy or content.

The humble man puts his wife first and get his pleasure from that attitude and from her response. There is very little of that in the outside world.

Proverbs 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 5 Wisdom in the OT

7/28/2022 Thursday

These last two verses end this chapter. It is about physical adultery, but there is application to spiritual adultery.

Proverbs 5:22 The iniquities of the wicked ensnare him, and he is held fast in the cords of his sin.

The adulterer is trapped here. The ties that bind him to the failure of his life. Over the course of his lifetime, he did not put himself under the authority of accurate teaching.

For the man, there is one woman who fulfills all the needs of her husband. There are links which chain him to unhappiness for all of his life.

Proverbs 5:23 He dies for lack of discipline, and because of his great folly he is led astray.

The final phrase describes the end of this man.

Shaga

1. It is hard to contemplate the depth of meaning or the terrible significance of this verb when it is so weakly translated as to go astray.
2. When it was in v. 19, we translated it intoxication.
3. Here, it means to be so dead drunk that someone just staggers. Something that we have all seen.
4. Put that in perspective with the greatness of his folly, and this is a graphic end. He is in the final gasp of his life. He is a man of existential folly. Greatness is ironic. Too much alcohol renders one incoherent. He is left wondering, what is life all about? What is my purpose? He continues stumbling in the dark. We have a nation of people doing that. We have so many Christians having no clue as to how to live the Christian life. They are bound to their folly by confusion.

There is a crescendo end this chapter. He has reached his utmost limits. He has scorn wisdom. He is like the drunkard who is oblivious to the dangers.

Summation of Verse 23

1. We understand that judgment in one form or another is inevitable from this description of bewildered folly. Going astray as this chapter has described.
2. Death is the expected result of the actions taken in this chapter. The physical adultery becomes a drug; it is self-perpetuating.
3. It means that life is robbed of its roots of disloyalty. All the things that we must be, fail in the face of adultery. Spiritual adultery is no different.
4. Physical life may struggle on, but the guilt, the compromise, the secrecy and the general failure inherent in adultery are a walking, living death. It never ends well. There is nothing good that you can say about it.
5. There is also rebellion against instruction; against learning self-disciplined control.
6. This is a mistake from which it is hard to recover, apart from instruction. Instruction is important in all of life. There are people who read the Bible for themselves and they pull out a few commentators and read them. But they give you such a wide range of interpretations. Bobby is gifted spiritually and he can look at these commentators and he can tell who has something to say and who has nothing to say. Wrong instruction is no better than no instruction. Instruction in Bible doctrine and in divine establishment is the only way to avoid spiritual adultery. This instruction is your life. It is so tragic that so many believers in Jesus Christ, and there are many who have accepted Jesus as Savior, yet they have no idea as to their place in the spiritual life. If you are a lawyer, or any other profession, instruction is imperative.
7. It sets a pattern in life which makes anyone susceptible going his or her own way. That is moving around in the dark.
8. That means stumbling into the cheap and easy short-term path of pleasure, divine wisdom precludes sex with a variety of men or women. Such is an overdose of massive folly.

A final application of this chapter for today Today, we face countless opportunities for going astray; which is amplified and glorified in our society. We can travel all over, which widens the field for prurient possibilities. We live in a massive city which makes anonymity our life, the greatest danger is the internet. How many social media sites are there for everything? There is all kinds of ways to avoid pregnancy today, which makes it seem like there are no negative results.

Today, a moth is paid according to her number of children. Adultery makes smaller waves than a pebble in a windswept pond. According to Proverbs 5, there are great per percussions.

There are all kinds of evil results from sexual activity. There are consequences to the individual and to the nation.

A friend sent a statement to Bobby, a statement which was sage and insightful. If a person objects to or speaks critically of the LGBTQ group, they are called homophobes. Why, you are anti-freedom! "I am not a homophobe. I am a Deiphobe, I fear God." We adhere to the laws of divine establishment. We understand the destructiveness of sex outside of marriage. The destructiveness of ignoring adultery. This is something that we live in the midst of. We are totally accepting of this degeneracy. There are men who strive to be wealthy so that they can have as many partners as possible. They use their wealth and it attracts. It is still all about adultery and fornication. It is destructive to our nation.

Believers and the Homosexual

1. We are not anti-homosexual, in the sense of fearing homosexuals or homosexuality. We do not fear or hate individuals ever. All are souls for whom Christ died. We have no necessity to hate anyone.
2. The practice by individuals and the promoting of LGBTQ on a national scale, is a dangerous and destructive circumstance. We cannot as a nation promote degeneracy and expect that God will leave us alone. Client nations which have arisen and client nations which have fallen, for just these reasons. They cannot handle freedom. You cannot trample other people and say, "That is my freedom." That is not freedom but anarchy.
3. Sodom and Gomorrah is our witness before the Lord. We know what the Lord does. We are not anti-individual LGBTQ people. God handles that; we do not need to handle it. No amount of persuasion by LGBTQ people will change the Lord's view. That is in His hands, not in ours. It is a terrible thing to fall under the wrath of God. Speak against evil, but do not ask evilly against people because of their sins. Our sexual choices must be with our own partners, one man and one woman in marriage. The choice occurs before marriage; it is consummated in marriage; and after that, there are no more choices.

Whatever attracted people to one another to begin with can be recalled and rekindled. The grass is not greener on the other side of the fence. The fence is there for a reason. Rejoice in the wife of your youth. That should be your objective.

The Believer and His Witness and Adultery

1. As long as the Lord is in heaven, our ways are always before the Lord. The attributes of God are in view there. He sees us and He knows us. He is absolute justice.
2. We are called as believers to be loyal to each other, to our spouses and to our families; that is divine institution #2 & 3.
3. We witness to the entire human race the loyalty and the grace and the faithfulness that the Lord has for us.
4. Christian husbands and wives are called to be a faithful corporate witness for the Lord in the cosmic system. This does not work if you are involved in adultery. You are no longer faithful. No more corporate witness.
5. Adultery destroys that witness. It is unfaithfulness. It goes beyond the sexual act.
6. Thus heeding the call by the Lord, or not, has consequences which are undeniable.
7. Proverbs 5 has proven the principles.

Proverbs 5 is under attack from every direction in our society.

This Chapter Has Impact Beyond Believers

1. Home and family have impact which is of first importance. We cannot violate these institutions.
2. The sanctity of the marriage and home is absolutely insisted upon in the Bible and is to be guarded involitably.
3. The status of the home affects the state and especially the client nation. If wwe depart from these divine institutions, we affect the enation.
4. Marriage and family are the surest guardians of internal peace. We see absolute turmoil in our country today. We think it is all about the politics and the ideology, but it begins at home. It is parents who teach anything or nothing. The kids hear any wind of doctrine, and they simply buy into it.
5. The sexual degeneracy and evil thinking in our nation today has deeply contributed to marriage, family and nationalism.
6. The degeneracy contrives to the breakdown of marriage, the family and even of the nation.
7. The state of the nation is sexual, marital and moral confusion. Even those who realize that there is something wrong with the direction of the nation cannot tell you what it is.
8. All this has led to marital collapse, broken families, displaced children and a general breakdown of society. In the end, violence in the streets and maybe worse.

Stay away from adultery and drink from your own well, Solomon advises his son.

To live according to divine design, do not subordinate teaching and value to instinct. If the temptation is there, remember that it never ends well. The nation must adhere to the biblical model.

The path of righteousness does not pass through your neighbor's bedroom.

The next increment will be another very practical subject, into the area of money. Proverbs 6. Solomon is one of the wealthiest men in the world. We will need to listen. He will teach his son about debt, cosigning, how to handle a business and stay out of trouble. Then we will talk about laziness and sloth. The one who earns money and keeps it; and the one who cannot earn money.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

7/31/2022 1Sunday

There is so much to learn and only so much time. Bobby has to decide how much to teach on one subject and when to move on. This must have occurred to Solomon, as Proverbs 6 has many subjects.

Bobby was going on to Austin and his father coming out and shaking his hand and saying, "Son, it has been a great 18 years."

Solomon realizes that he only has so much time to teach his son and so much to teach. What carried Bobby through many odd ideas from college; he was carried by the teaching from Berachah.

The teacher must be concerned, does the student listening to me? Or is the student distracted by other things? Teachers are tempted to load more upon their students than there is time for. This can be frustrating to a teacher who wants their students to learn. Especially when this is a subject of truth.

Bobby has been cited for giving too much information; or for going too slow. Spending too much time on a verse or a subject. We just need to keep on listening and concentration. Every time you hear the same subject, you have a different perspective and a different background.

Bobby knows that he needs to repeat subjects that are very important. Incultation demands repetition. These subjects are critical in the times that we live.

It is easier to lose your money to scams every single day. There are so many high risk speculations and investments. Underneath all of what this chapter teaches is, the Lord approves of stability and good money management. He approves of good business practices.

A surety is a monetary guarantee to insure the payment of debt and obligation. Normally a judge grants bail with a surety of paying a certain amount. That money is a pledge that a person will appear in court at a designated time. This concept of surety has been the financial downfall of many people. Trapped by their own bad decisions to take on debt that they should not have taken on. Vv. 3–5 is the solution to this problem. The penalty could be the surety that you have taken on. These verses teach us how to avoid financial stupidity. Bobby is only going to cover vv. 6–11. Malice may not be covered; Solomon talks about adultery again. He must have believed in repetition of that subject.

We have to understand what is meant during the time that this was written and then apply it to us today.

Practical Warnings

Pro 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

Surety

1. Surety is taking responsibility for another's debt. We know this as cosigning.
2. We connect surety with some kind of pledge.
3. It is a pledge to pay, a pledge to provide money to cover someone else's debt, which is recognized here and warned against. V. 2 warns against it: if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth,

4. This is assuming debt which is unwise.

We need to look deeper into surety in the time that this was written. What is the problem of debt under these circumstances? Everyone here is in some form of debt. We may have a mortgage, a credit card debt, a car loan. This idea of surety has not changed at all.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

7/31/2022 2Sunday

Practical Warnings

Pro 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

Solomon is speaking to his son, perhaps a teen. Giving a pledge or giving a surety is what is being talked about here. Similar to cosigning for someone's debt.

ʿārab (בָּרַעַ) [pronounced gaw-RAH<sup>B</sup>V], which means to take on a pledge. There is an exchange or an interchanging with another person. This is taking on debt which must be paid back. Taking on the obligation of covering another person's liability. In some cases, paying interest on that debt. Sometimes a high interest rates.

The first speaks of putting up security for a neighbor; and the second is doing this for a stranger. These two phrases are synonymous parallelism. The same idea, the Hebrew verb in the second phrase is a different verb.

kaph (כַּף) [pronounced kaf] is the palm of the hand, and this would be like sealing a deal with a handshake. It is the pledge of good faith. A handshake is understood as an equivalent to money. One is a word picture of the other.

Who Makes this Pledge?

1. We understand the pledge in the financial sense to mean, to put up security for someone else.
2. It means to underwrite another person's debt; or to be the guarantor of a loan.
3. So the person pledging surety is the one guaranteeing payment on a load or on a debt. You have a debt; I will guarantee it.
4. The pledge of a cosigner today is the pledge to repay the debt of another person, should they not pay or be unable to pay.
5. There should be a security which goes with the pledge. Deuteronomy 24:10 property put up to secure a note. This could be a mortgage or something of comparable value. Today there is hardly anything by way of restrictions.
6. In the deal, a default on the debt would result in the collateral being forfeited. The lender has this guarantee. This is certainly a part of the financial danger. If a person defaults on a load, the collateral would be seized by the creditor. Today, the creditor could foreclose on a house. An example is found in Nehemiah.

7. If the collateral did not cover the full amount of the load, the one who provides the surety is on the hook for the remainder of the debt. In the meantime, the debtors may have to sell the children into slavery. The Mosaic Law sought to prevent this from happening. Example in 2Kings. Slaves at that time were collateral. Your family might end up being collateral.

This is a financial deal which requires great discernment and wisdom. Today, even though no one is going to be sold into slavery, this could have a terrible effect on family.

You need to know about the risk here. Analyze their character and honesty. This is why lenders want to know everything about you. Appraise the borrowers' ability to repay the loan. Are you cosigning when they have no real ability to repay? You know in the end you will have to recover. If you know this to be the case. Parents sometimes cosign loans for their children. You better analyze your own financial position. Can you afford the debt without depriving your family. Can I really afford this? What will happen if...? Be very careful to weigh all of these factors, especially when the borrower is a close friend or family member.

To prevent problems like this, the Mosaic Law was written to protect the financial well-being of the citizens of Israel. The Mosaic Law covers so many aspects of life. There are certain provisions that we would never take on, but God gave these to Israel.

These laws protected against usury. This is lending money at unreasonable rates today; but that is not the OT understanding of this word. It was considered wrong to exploit other Israelites. Exodus 22:25 "If you lend money to any of my people with you who is poor, you shall not be like a moneylender to him, and you shall not exact interest from him. This is grace all the way in Israel. Leviticus 25 In case a countryman of yours has difficulty paying his debt, you are to sustain him. This is not a welfare state; this is an individual thing which is done. Leviticus 25:35–37 "If your brother becomes poor and cannot maintain himself with you, you shall support him as though he were a stranger and a sojourner, and he shall live with you. Take no interest from him or profit, but fear your God, that your brother may live beside you. You shall not lend him your money at interest, nor give him your food for profit.

There can develop animosity between people for applying debt requirements. A pastor perpetrated a ponzi scheme in his church. He was a pastor and a financial advisor. Using the name of Jesus Christ is the worst way to make money. It is a despicable crime. Theft was occurring in the name of Jesus Christ. When the pastor could no longer sustain the illusion of making money, he decided to buy a failing bank and put their money into this bank. The bank failed. He then took all the money and left. He took $40 million. Interesting interviews with those who were bilked. One lady, who was part of his church and she was grace oriented. "You know, I have forgiven him. It was only money." Her life was her spiritual life. She took it as from the Lord. She understood what this passage is teaching. It is only money, but that does not relieve anyone from the responsibility of managing this money.

Exodus and Leviticus passages prohibit what we call usury. Also, interest itself should not be charged to a poor person. It would only hinder their progress toward recovery. You want them to get back on their feet. This can cause a division among people. The rich get richer and the poor become poorer.

God's generosity was to be seen as an example. Bobby understood this grace attitude from this woman who was bilked over her money. Such a great attitude.

Ponzi schemes are rampant; and someone associated with Berachah bilked people of their money. Show wisdom and discernment.

Pro 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT                      8/3/2022 Wednesday

Bobby might begin and end class by saying, "Do not get into debt."

Pro 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

Surety is a financial term. The first 5 verses will deal with this.

Definition Surety

1. Surety refers to a monetary guarantee given to insure the payment of debts and obligations.
2. It is what a person does who take responsibility for another's debt. Similar to a cosigner situation.
3. A pledge to pay someone else's debt. This has been the downfall for many people.

Pro 6:2 if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth,

Essentially, this means that you should not assume debt for someone else. That is very unwise.

The Hebrew verb is arab, which means to take on a pledge, to give a pledge or two exchange. These are parallel circumstances. Pledging security to pay another's debt. In this verb, it is understood that the pledge is made with the flat of the hand. Caph, used here metaphorically for something like a handshake to close a deal. Making a pledge by means of a contract. Too many loopholes which can be found in a complex deal. In essence, surety is guaranteed by a handshake. One person is a guarantor of a loan or a debt.

The Mosaic Law says a lot on this subject. Solomon is simply putting the information from the Mosaic Law in an applicable form. There is an attempt in the Mosaic Law to protect poor people from being taken advantage of. Loans with interest to fellow Israelites was not allowed. Everything in the law represented something that God provided for Israel.

This did not prohibit business loans from having interest. This could be done with foreigners. Even under these prohibitions, not everyone stayed out of debt. Debt is not easy to sidestep. This is true for a personal debt and a national debt. The latter is a huge problem in our country today.

The Mosaic Law had another provision for those who could not get themselves out of debt. Deuteronomy 15:1–3 31:10 sabbatical years; and also, the year of jubilee. This was a time when debt was forgiven. This was only applied within Israel. It did not apply to loans being made to foreigners.

All of the monetary policy in the Old Testament reflected the grace of God. These special years is a perfect picture of indebtedness. A picture of God's forgiveness. When debts are forgiven, that is very much a picture of grace.

The Mosaic Law is very much about God's grace. There was a problem that it was only used sporadically. Many did not want to forgive such a debt. There was discipline to Israel for this.

Nehemiah reintroduced the Sabbatical year in Nehemiah 10:31. We have no laws quite like those in the Mosaic Law. Truly fascinating laws.

Old Testament Provisions for Debt

1. The creditor was warned to respect the dignity and property rights of debtors. That was a legal warning to debtors in Israel.
2. How would they respect the dignity and property? By not barging into a house to seize the debtor's pledge. Deuteronomy 24:10?
3. Out of compassion, they were not to seize that which was essential for survival. Deuteronomy 24:6, 12, 13

Lending Without Interest

1. Lending without interest was required.
2. It was bestowed by the gracious persons of Israel. Psalm 15:5 37:26 112:5 Ezekiel 18:7–8, 17
3. The wicked do the exact opposite; sometimes exorbitant interest. Ezekiel 18:13 such people deserve death or exile.
4. The Law does not regard all interest loans as sinful. This is the Mosaic Law. Israel lived under the Mosaic Law; but we don't. Grace principles in your own monetary handling.
5. The Law also prohibited some interest so that it would not lead to injustice. Socialism is one of the greatest injustices that has ever existed. It is stealing taxes from one person to give to another. It is just theft.

6. Failure to provide for these needs could result in civil unrest. This is what we are seeing today.

We see just how critical grace is to the law. The law was to prevent injustices; but not to promote socialism.

Proverbs recommends that people avoid debt. Why should you avoid debt? A borrower becomes the slave of the lender. Proverbs 22:7 Some debt is necessary in modern society. People have car payments for most of their lives.

Always a policy of Thieme's family to stay away from debt; and to pay as you go. If you want something bad enough, then save for it and buy it.

So one must be careful not to incur debt; or debt for recreation purposes. Or debt to obtain items which are unnecessary for your life. Things which cannot be afforded on what you make. Some people have massive credit card debt. Some people survive on credit cards.

A personal guarantee for a loan, especially for strangers, where there is no penalty for lack of payment, is just asking for trouble.

Some people in Berachah have these great deals they are offering. Do not do this in Berachah. Take them to lunch. It is sad to see Christians bilking other Christians. It happens all of the time. That is what is being warned of. Be careful. Just because someone is a Christian, that does not mean that they are honest. Some people have learned this the hard way.

We are warned not to become a cosigner for risky debt; or a loan for loose women. Not sure what that means.

Many times, people have cosigned for other family members and they have gotten killed for it.

Avoiding Surety

1. The warning in Proverbs 6:1 is not against borrowing or lending. Economies run on this. What is the warning against? It is against surety.
2. That means being held accountable for a debt incurred or charged to someone else.
3. That is assume the financial liabilities of someone else.
4. Why is it prohibited? It brings hardship on others and on yourself. The slavery of debt on God's people by their fellow countrymen is a form of slavery.

We Have the Word Neighbor, and it Is Problematic

1. Neighbor occurs first. Some have said that pledging surety for one's relatives or friends; and in some cases, that is true.
2. The appearance of the parallel term stranger in the second line negates that idea.

3. Stranger here does not refer to an alien.
4. It refers simply to one outside oneself. That is a large group of people.
5. Neighbor in conjunction with stranger probably means anybody. That includes family members and friends. Family members or not can be misfits; they can be dishonest. It is not a matter of being blind to such people. Those closest to you can get the most from you. If you have doubts, do not go down that road.
6. There are some whose debts should be avoided, no matter what. It is not wrong to lend to a family member; especially the trustworthy ones. Charity certainly does begin at home. Do not become the source of continued welfare. That is another problem with families. It is very hard when your children do not seem to be doing anything in their life. Do not become the provider for a family member. Some people never are self-sufficient and children use their parents under these circumstances. We have to evaluate.

Help, charity, a helping hand; sure. But you have to be wise about this.

Deliver yourself from your neighbor suggests that surety should be avoided. There is a time to loan, as there is a time under the sun for everything. Bobby has thought of many times of the things which he did right and he did wrong financially.

Pro 6:2 if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth,

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/4/2022 Thursday

Pro 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

The pledge is a slap of the hand, which is similar to shaking hands on making an agreement to take on someone else's debt.

Choosing to Provide Surety

1. No one is under obligation to provide surety. Some people think that they are regarding someone that you are close to.
2. Yet, it is sometimes done as an impulsive act of generosity. It can be impulsive but it can also be the result of generosity.
3. Or, you are under no obligation to succumb to the pressure of a repeated plea from someone in the family. You may want to, but you are not obligated to.
4. Such a person may be very hard to resist.
5. All factors must be considered before agreeing to it. It has to be more than feeling you are obligated; thinking you are obligated; or being talked into it.
6. A rash act of generosity might take a lifetime to repay. What are the real consequences for doing this? What are the consequences to others as well?
7. No doubt that others will suffer due to your error in judgment.

8. This warning by Solomon does not mean that doing this is wrong.

Providing a Surety Is Not Prohibited

1. This is not an absolute unqualified prohibition of surety.
2. This is wise counsel.
3. There are some occasions when becoming surety for another is actually demanded, but the laws of charity or care for someone's future welfare. Principles must be considered and taken into view. But within limits.
4. In other passages of Proverbs, the author has laid down maxims regarding this practice. Proverbs 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed is he who is generous to the poor.
5. Suretyship is spoken of in our passage in terms of condemnation. There are consequences to bad decisions in this area.

Not Always Going along with this

1. The restriction is cosigning anything with an exorbitant rate of interest. Counsel anyone else not to do this.
2. Do not cover a fool's debt. A fool has a propensity of getting into a financial mess. Throwing good money after bad.
3. If the person is untrustworthy, which includes family. You would know if family is trustworthy or not (those who are close family, at least). Never participate if there is a shadow of a doubt. That is discernment.
4. You may enter into such an agreement in ignorance or perhaps you are conned. Caveat emptor; let the buyer or cosigner beware. Compulsive cosigning is foolish.
5. Do not rush when someone says, "This deal won't be available for very long." They are pushing; they are pushy.
6. That urgent call can lead to a financial fall. Hasty debt. Quick decisions in this area is never wise.
7. The maxim to apply is to proceed at your own risk. All of these seem rather obvious, don't they?
8. Many people have been bilked by a family member looking for quick capital. Many try to support a Ponzi scheme. This happens among family members and among church members.
9. The cosigner takes on the same risk and debt of the borrower. They are only as good as their word.

Some people can be in debt for years over this.

Integrity is always the name of the game in this realm. Unfortunately, there are some who seem to have integrity but they do not. Big money sometimes causes problems that never existed before.

The most valuable piece of property in all of Houston is where Berachah Church sits. This can cause all kinds of problems.

When you start to throw millions of dollars in front of people and getting involved in contracts and deals, you have just put temptation right out there in front of a lot of people. You must have wisdom and discernment in these things.

Do not be dazzled or have your head turned when hearing great return numbers. There are a lot of ways to juggle books.

One of the greatest problems is, there is risk, and if you cannot afford the loss, then you cannot afford the risk. A family member debt which is defaulted on has to be paid by a surety. Financial ruin can be on the horizon; and a family can split wide open over money.

Discernment demands that you carefully investigate any investment, even when promoted by a family member or by a family friend.

Bobby sees Christians bilking Christians all of the time. Some investments are taken on without any investigation. Bobby has seen it in the past. When Bob found out about such things, he came down with both feet.

Vv. 2–3, Solomon advises to do everything possible to get out of it.

Pro 6:2 if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth,

Pro 6:3 then do this, my son, and save yourself, for you have come into the hand of your neighbor: go, hasten, and plead urgently with your neighbor.

Never give control to someone else when it comes to your own financial situation. If you have given control, then you are trapped, even as a surety.

This Could Open up a Myriad of Problems

1. Do not assume a debt that you cannot repay.
2. Do not deprive your wife or children by assuming a debt that you cannot cover. This shows discernment.

Since you have come into the hands of your neighbor, go humble yourself and see if you can get that money back. You are trapped by a pledge that you should have not made in the first place. You are now hampered by self-imposed obligations. You are under no obligation to offer surety when you did it. You obligated yourself, for a number of different reasons. But now, you are in their hands, affected by whatever financial adventure of misadventure that person attempts. Sometimes this means admitting bad judgment; poor discernment.

Final Points

1. Nevertheless, to extricate oneself from a bad decision often requires you to humble yourself for personal wrong doing or stupidity.
2. Behind the concept of humbling yourself is throwing yourself at the mercy of the debtor. This is why wisdom and discernment is necessary.
3. You are throwing yourself on the mercy of the debtor. You are being trampled upon and ridiculed. Something that no one wants to experience.
4. Humbling, which may also mean to prostrate oneself, in other words, swallowing your pride, putting aside your ego. It needs to be an entire submission; throwing yourself at the mercy of your debtor. You do not grovel; you do not beg. It is not easy to admit to or to do.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6:1–5 Wisdom in the OT

8/7/2022 1Sunday

Solomon deals with financial situations. In the time in which we live, there are many ways in every way to go into debt. There are many scams out there and Ponzi schemes and ways to lose your shirt. The problem is something that we should pay attention to. It is a problem of surety. It is a taking responsibility for the debt of another. Or if you have a partner in business, you have a responsibility for things that he might do.

Cosigners may have inadequate resources; and require you to sign for them.

Proverbs 6:1 My son, if you have put up security for your neighbor, have given your pledge for a stranger,

Proverbs 6:2 if you are snared in the words of your mouth, caught in the words of your mouth,

Proverbs 6:3 then do this, my son, and save yourself, for you have come into the hand of your neighbor: go, hasten, and plead urgently with your neighbor.

The man approaches with soft words rather than with a confrontation. It is an unsustainable burden in your life; and you must make this clear. A good, well-reasoned case must be presented. That is humbling to go to this other person, as the cosigner is at the mercy of the debtor. The humbling experience is the only real way to correct this situation. This is a lesson learned. It is a forced humility to bring the arrogant or the senseless to their sense. But it also requires applying some real humility. A recognition by you of a bad decision; and then you need to remove yourself from it, if possible.

There is no guarantee that you will be let off the hook. This is why cosigning should be considered so carefully. What kind of character do they have?

Demonstrating humility and admitting culpability is the best way to gain release from agreement.

This has a similar parallel to a person in a bad marriage. To be released, the cosigner should importune your neighbor, the one to whom you are bound financially.

Rahab means to act stormily, boisterously, arrogantly.

How to Approach this Problem

1. The idea here is to be fierce, to rage. How does this fit in with humility.
2. In this case, all of this means is to press one's plea with great vigor.
3. Be emphatic in one's plea; while at the same time, expressing humility.
4. The appeal should be firm, but emphasize the principles of grace and graciousness. This is why humility and grace go together. The people have the pledge.
5. The best way is to approach the task with humility, but purpose not to take no for an answer. Do it firmly and politely.
6. Be wise, be firm, be thoughtful. Make a logical and well-reasoned presentation. Do not go into this with great emotion.
7. Emphasize the right principles of grace and doctrinal orientation. Be persistent and be insistent. It is a messy business. Solomon is saying, this is your only choice.

This requires some spiritual maturity on your part. Well-reasoned arguments come from doctrine in the soul. If you have the spiritual wherewithal to handle it.

Proverbs 6:4 Give your eyes no sleep and your eyelids no slumber;

Getting after it

1. Don't wait a minute; get with it.
2. Have a sense of urgency; do not put it off.
3. Waste no time in pressing the appeal. Why is time of the essence? Before the money is lost; before they foul up the deal.
4. Do not stop until there is some resolution. Don't be confined to one spasmodic effort and give up. You need to have some dignity in this as well. Be a mature person. Don't go in crying.
5. Plea insistently, diligently, to prevail upon the debtor. First of all to fulfill his obligation to pay his debts. Secondly to release the partner, the cosigner from the pledge. Pay the debt or let's split.

You cannot afford to be locked into a financial circumstance which will easily ruin you. They do not care as long as they have your backup. Friendship is not always a good reason for partnership, investment or surety.

Discernment and wisdom are important as far as we have lived.

If the debtor does not service the debt on time, the surety. Things can be taken from the person under obligation. He is liable like his family to be reduced to servitude.

The reason for the caution and warnings. Do not fall into this trap. The solution is wisdom; doctrine. Make good decisions. When you make bad decisions, your future options can be severely reduced.

Perhaps the overall understanding ought to be, make good business decisions.

Consider this expense of energy; and consider this as a goal to accomplish with a goal of urgency to accomplish it.

Psalm 132:4 I will not give sleep to my eyes or slumber to my eyelids,

David will not stand down until he takes care of this project. In this case, it is about the building of the Temple.

There is no stopping until the mission is accomplished. You may be famished, bone tired and mentally exhausted; but you continue until this mission is accomplished.

And so we see that this whole passage is about moving on from this debt.

Two last images of urgency are given by Solomon.

Proverbs 6:5 save yourself like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter, like a bird from the hand of the fowler.

Solomon gives a final thought on this subject; a sense of urgency.

The person entrapped by this surety agreement. Full attention must be given to this debt. If not escaped, this would be a cause of great suffering. Such is Solomon's financial advice is made to his son.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/7/2022 2Sunday

People are concerned about the economy; about the election coming up; and there is debt accrued. Many things taking place in our country. Now that we have studied the principles, how do these things apply today? By application, we are a debtor society; but we know debt can be a dangerous circumstance to be in. Some debt is necessary to live or work, like auto loans, business loans, house loans.

We all want things that we cannot afford, things which are not necessary for our life, so we incur debt in order to buy things that we cannot really afford. The bank's surety closes on your house and your credit is in shambles. Many people find themselves taking 6 or 7 years to get out of this circumstance. We never pay something down; it is over our heads. Debt is often the way that we live today; and this may fall upon our children. Do not incur unnecessary debt; live within your means. Common sense, but so many do not live by that.

People allow greed and envy to drive their financial decisions. Do not make bad emotional decisions. Failing to heed the wisdom of these verses.

There is another huge problem, which is our massive national debt. No one seems to pay attention to it. At this moment, our nation debt is 30 trillion dollars.

1 trillion seconds is 317 centuries. This is astronomical and we are 30 trillion in debt. Yet, that is exactly where we are as a nation. How does a nation get into such astronomical debt? It is easy for our government. It is the way that they do business. When the government has a deficit, most of it is covered by the government taking on more debt. It is very similar to a person using a credit card and never paying the full card balance each month; and debt accrues. You just keep your head above water by paying a fraction of the debt. This is not sustainable. That is what we do as a nation in deficit spending. We cannot do this personally, but the government does it interminally.

We keep spending, and the federal debt grows. This began with FDR, who brought the beginnings of socialism to this country. How do we survive and not default like individual would? It is a giant Ponzi scheme. Some agencies take in more revenue than they need to pay out. So that surplus is seized. What is done with this money? These agencies take this surplus and they invest it in US treasuries. This transfers the excess funds, and the government spends it in whatever way they want. Then taxes must go up. This is the way to go into debt. You tax and spend. That is the exact purpose of the massive spending bill before Congress, which is the inflation reduction act. It is a continuing debt act; and it will do nothing for inflation. It provides billions more dollars to the IRS to get more money. The debt continues to arise due to the excessive spending of the government beyond what they are taking in. The government is pledging surety for itself with no consequences except to us the taxpayer. The government has no money; so we are the one's who are in debt. Foreign nations only hold $7 trillion of the debt. Much of the rest of the debt is owed to SS and to pension funds right here in the United States. The US citizens own most of the national debt. We have essentially cosigned with a spending monster of a government. This goes up every day. If the government defaulted, it would be us who default. Almost half of the debt is held in trust. Current and future retirees would be devastated. We have felt these effects before. You have heard that SS is broke. It is not really broke; it is just borrowed all of the time.

A nation which is in debt is always in danger of defaulting. Will the United States default; is that possible? Are we too big to fail? Our excessive debt would suggest the possibility of default.

There are two way the United States could default. By not raising or suspending the debt ceiling. The Congress controls how much debt we can have. And this can be increased by a simple vote in Congress. This is voted on and agreed to almost every year. And we agree to spend more money and to incur more debt; which means to us, a tax increase.

The second way is not paying interest on treasury bills and bonds. These are the safest investments; they are as safe as the US government. But these have very low interest rates. The government could simply decide to stop paying interest. The value of these treasuries would plummet and devastate the economy. When the debt ceiling is reached and extended. That is always a battle. It is a can which gets kicked down the road.

If the ceiling was never raised, the US treasury department could not sell bonds to bring in income. They would have to choose between federal salaries, the interest on the national debt or to pay SS recipients.

So what if the nation did default with this massive debt? A default would hugely impact the economy and the people of the United States. This could increase our debt exponentially and prices. Complete default could be catastrophic. US investments might not be considered safe and some government programs would be deeply impacted. So many different federal payments could end. This could shut down businesses; the US could enter into a deep depression as a result.

All of this is happening now. Even without default. That is how precarious all this debt is. A dangerous game our government plays that we do not think about very much. It all depends upon the tax and spend rate.

This is our government; and this is our money. This is an illustration. Do we spend in deficit mode like our government? You are playing a dangerous game. We are doing what Solomon warned against. A government which sees no financial limits. We can vote, but no one seems to want to balance the budget or lower the debt. Both parties do it.

Remember, God's discipline comes to a people through financial disasters. We are seeing this now as the cycles of discipline. So many things are happening economically that have never happened before. Economic crisis can be painful and devastating, as a nation continues to degenerate. It can be economic terms as a result of many other failings, like spiritual and moral. And our government is not listening.

Proverbs 6:5 save yourself like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter, like a bird from the hand of the fowler.

Solomon's advice is, stay out of debt. If you cannot afford to risk the money, then don't do it. The top consideration. Your own financial well-being. With your great financial acumen are you destroying your family and its future? Bobby is teaching these two chapters so that we have wisdom and so we know how to resolve some of these problems.

The economy of this country is not the end of the world. If I can get the right people into the White House, that will fix it. What about the people of the United States? They need salvation, they need correct doctrine, they need to understand divine establishment principles.

We are going to go in another direction, but money will still be involved. A subject from surety into the next few verses, where vv. 6–11. We will study the sluggard. There are a great many sluggards in our society today. We have so many who look at work as a maybe. Some realize, they do not have to work.

Communion

Tailoring has been with us since the garden. Adam and the woman did not have a profession tailor to outfit them.

Adam and the woman were no doubt an outstanding example of human beings. God cannot create imperfect things. They were easily the most enlightened people and the most brilliant people of the earth, apart of Jesus Christ. No one has had a better environment than Adam and the woman had.

We cannot imagine the beauty of God's handiwork in the garden. The tree of good and evil in the garden. The tree represents a rejection of God's mandates. Adam and the woman were ignorant of evil and of human good. As long as they remained without arrogance, without rebellion, they enjoyed the blessings poured out on them. These things were a pleasure to them. The woman ate of the fruit of the forbidden tree. Therefore, just as through one man, sin entered into the world, and death through sin. And death spread to all men. They were now fallen, separate from God. They lost that human spirit that they were created with. They became aware of good and evil. They faced a cosmic system that no one new before. They quickly adopted a plan concocted by Satan himself. Prior to this, they had not recognized their naked state. Their eyes were opened. They saw reality from a different viewpoint. Seeing their nakedness revealed that they were in a fallen state. They understood what disobedience was like. Satan then helped them to see their nakedness. They were ashamed of their fallen condition. They sensed a need which they had never known before. They pulled some leaves off a fig tree and sewed them together. In all of their brilliance, they had become so guilt-ridden that they did not turn to God over their helplessness. They did not rely upon God's grace and mercy. Instead, they assumed that if they could cover their nakedness, then assumed that they would be acceptable to God. This was the first act of humanism. They tried to fix the deficiency in themselves with needle and thread. They are now unable to meet God's standards. Their relationship to God was broken. They sewed together the fig leaves; but it did not remove their sin nature. They needed another kind of covering, something that they could not make with their own hands. They were subject to God's justice. That was their true nakedness and their shame.

In the garden, the fig leaves were the work of Adam and the woman in the garden. They were very proud of what they had put together. We will bring our works of human good to God in the final judgment, and they will be burned. People will boast of the things which they now do; they quit this and that bad habit; and they have followed the golden rule and the Ten Commandments. But, by the works of the flesh, no flesh will be justified. No one could keep the law. Through the law, mankind discovers their failures. The attempt to keep the Law does not provide a sufficient covering. Adam and the woman sinned and they tried to cover it up themselves.

Man dressed himself in relative righteousness, but this is not enough. God must reject this. Behind their approach was the thinking of evil. They decided, if we are adjusted to one another, we will be righteous before God. Their first act was one of human good; an act of humanism. This reality hit them full on the moment that they walked into the garden. God came to them in the cool of the day; and they hid themselves.

God made garments of skin to clothe them. Notice that God was the tailor. He made the provision. He saw their need that they did not see; their need was a real covering; redemption from sin. Genesis 3:15 is the first declaration of the gospel. God provided them with a different cloth to cover them. The skin provided was much better than leaves.

Where did these skins come from? This required the death of the animal who formerly sported that skin. The covering of the animal skin made Adam and the woman acceptable before God. The death of the animal and the taking of its skin that made them acceptable before God. This covering was based upon the shed blood of an animal. The bloodless fig leaves were not satisfactory to God, because Adam and the woman produced them. Their attempt at humanism. Man's bloodless work could never cover up their sins. God alone produces the atonement. Christ's blood is the true covering for sin. There must be blood, there must be the correct covering, and it must be a work of God. Hebrews 9:22 without the shedding of blood, there is no remission (of sins). This was the picture of atonement drawn by the animal sacrifices.

Leviticus 17:11 the life of the flesh is in the blood and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your souls. This is the picture of redemption by the blood. Israel understood that this was the ritual of atonement. Adam and the woman removed these leaves and put on God's covering. The real atonement for sin is not animal blood; nor is it literal blood. The Lord's shed blood is a metaphor for his spiritual death. His substitutionary spiritual death was what was necessary. The attempt by man to reconcile; the real solution was the blood of Christ so that mankind could be redeemed. All we need to do is accept the blood of Christ.

This communion tests us whether we have the doctrine to appreciate what God has provided.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/14/2022 2Sunday

Being a sluggard means being lazy and it leads to financial ruin. We have been studying surety. Laziness is derived within a person. The lazy person must escape himself in order to avoid ruin. Disaster is averted by a change of thinking, a change of motivation and then a change of action.

The persuasiveness of the cosigner; the release takes the cosigner from indebtedness. The industrious person moves on from the debt, whether released or not.

Laziness requires a person to change his thinking over a period of time.

Laziness

1. When a lazy attitude is adopted, it is not easy to overcome. It is difficult. It is a pattern which has been set.
2. This is a pattern, a trap, similar to that snare of adultery.
3. The lazy person looks for a way out rather than an actual solution to the difficulties. How do I get out of this?
4. Laziness coincides with a give-up attitude, if the path is too hard. Too willing to throw up the hands and say, "I can't do it."
5. Laziness is a quick road to nowhere in life. A long-term ruin. Lazy people can get away with it for awhile; but there are many repercussions in life. To shed laziness involves a process. The effort begins when one realizes the disadvantages of this attitude. Without work, prosperity begins to escape him or her. The lazy person is not a fulfilled person. Winning the lottery does not fix anything; but many people think that life would be great if it happens. That is the attitude that it fosters. Left behind; no human self-esteem. This is part that God has mandated to mankind. We are not to be indolent. We are not to be lazy. There is no reward for no work. This is what happens with the abuse of government welfare programs. There is no incentive to remove oneself from these roles. Why work if there is enough to live on and indulge laziness. It can change at any moment, as government can change at any moment. Without imagination, without productivity; and there is a general decline in a nation. Today, it is hard for any business to even find employees. Productivity is down and there are many excuses. COVID has ruined many a person today who have used that for an excuse. Laziness is the underpinning for a socialist mentality. Someone will do something for me; I don't have to do anything. That is what these verses seek to accomplish.

There is a change of thinking and a change of motivation leading to a change of action. The lazy person has no drive and no need to do anything. That Solomon teaches this indicates that this sort of problem can be overcome. The lazy person tends to follow the easy road, the path of least resistance. Instead of pushing harder, the lazy person quits.

If one does nothing, it cannot be discovered that they have not developed skills and have no motivation in life. They are lacking because they are not learning anything in life. So they do not try. Then they are embarrassed by any failure.

Proverbs 22:13 The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside! I shall be killed in the streets!"

Why is his conclusion even a problem? Who wants to go into the streets and work with a lion in the streets. We must interpret the Bible in the time during which this was written. Lions were, at this time, very commonplace. David fought a lion and they often lived on the edge of the city. They could not come into the cities with walls, gates and guards. They might enter into the town out of curiosity. People get way too close. These animals are just doing what they do.

The lion may wander into town because they see some prey there; and they are on the hunt. Any person in the way just might have an unpleasant, even deadly encounter. Animals sometimes get older and they can no longer go after prey that they used to go after.

One of the famous stories of man-eaters occurred in Kenya. There were two lions who hunted men building the railroad there. Whenever a lion strolled into town, the alarm went off and everyone went indoors. Business stopped; and anything to be done out of doors stopped. They waited for the lion to leave. It would be shocking to step outside your doors and run into a lion. It is prudent, not lazy, to avoid a lion. The problem with the sluggard is, "There is a lion in town." He uses the lion as an excuse to not leave the house and to go to work. This would be a legitimate excuse; but this excuse is used by sluggard at any time for not meeting his obligations. For not meeting the necessities of life.

He reveals his cowardice in a time of laziness. COVID may have been a legitimate reason at one time; but it is now used as an excuse. "I had better stay indoors." The government will try to take care of you. It is the same principle; an excuse; a justification.

Bobby heard about a construction worker whose tools were stolen and he decided not to work after that. He quit and let his family support him. It was an excuse. That is criminal laziness.

The same thing can happen when the sluggard has been injured. He never seems to get over the injury. This is so true in the army. Some keep going back to the infirmary; and there were great numbers of those.

"The lion ate my sheep." PTSD is offered to almost anyone who gets out of the service. Some say, "I just can't do this anymore." What did David do when a lion took a sheep? He took care of it; and David killed both the lion and a bear. This is what happens when someone is dedicated to their job and to what they do. In the military who face death in what they do. Often cowardice and laziness go together. Fear become another excuse for the sluggard. In the sluggard's mind, he has a reason for shirking his duty.

A lazy parent teaches his children to be lazy. They shirk their responsibility and they teach this to their own children. This is such a problem in our country today. The lion represents an excuse not to participate in normal life. Lazy people find a reason to default on their responsibilities in life. In prison, there is a lot of idle time; and that fits their personality.

The only way to cure criminal behavior is for criminals to believe in Jesus and to change their thinking as a result.

‘âtsêl (אֶתְסֵל) [pronounced gaw-TSEHL] which means, slothful, sluggish, lazy; sluggard.

Idle people must find something to occupy their minds. They find tv shows to keep them mindless television programs. There are many forms of laziness. Some people may be physically lazy, but not necessarily mentally lazy. They will use their minds, but they do not act on their ideas. They cannot maintain their focus. That is inertia; and that is a type of laziness. They become easily bored and they never get anything done.

The Hebrew word is intense. You must truly understand the essence of laziness. What are the means and what are the results. We must compare the principles. Why is the kid still living at home and he is 30 years old? Maybe your kid is lazy because you are lazy.

The greatest counseling system is coming to church. Do not use the excuse, “I don’t like my work; and I am not going to do it.”

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT    8/17/2022 Wednesday

A letter from a 50 year old friend of Bobby’s. She sent a letter from a man which is straight to the point. I read you plan to restore racial justice to the American Medical Association. You hold my family, my colleagues, to be held responsible for what was done 400 years ago. How dare you join the countless camouflaged communists by conflate equity with equality. Equity is often forced by at the end of a gun. You talk about the taking of the land from the Indians and ignore the fact that virtually every population has done this. Every civilization has conquered and has been conquered. Ignorant, hypocritical and insulting to Americans. You have abused your position by promoting a socialist agenda. Dr. Gonzalez wrote this and wrote several books, including free-market healthcare.

We are here for Proverbs 6:6

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

These verses should have an impact on us as we learn doctrine. These are principles universal to the human race. They draw a line between success and failure in life, including the Christian life. Further, they are the Christian view of work. We are mandated to work in this world. After the fall, God mandated work in order to eat.

You cannot be a sluggard and have any wisdom at all.

Sluggard is 'âtsêl (γῆλ) [pronounced gaw-TSEHL], which means slothful, sluggish, lazy; sluggard. Strong's #6102 BDB #782.

Lack of Self-discipline

1. This word further means, someone who is lacking in self-discipline.
2. Really, the principle of laziness is all about a lack of self-discipline.
3. The sluggard is unstable, has no will power, no self-restraint; not a self-starter; things which all require self-discipline.
4. The sluggard is not properly instructed or motivated to have a good work ethic.

This lack of self-discipline often starts with children in the home. A parent who did not make a child follow the necessary instructions in life; no outward discipline to solve the inward discipline. People learn how to avoid self-discipline and avoid things that they do not want to do. Enforced discipline, parental discipline. This is the forerunner of structure in life. Letting a child find his or her own way; where they navigate their own way. We don't want to influence you. That is an excuse for no instruction by lazy parents. That is a formula for a lack of self-discipline.

We as believers must have absolute standards from the Scriptures. The Christian life demands a spiritual advance by which we develop standards and live those standards to a greater and greater degree, the more that we advance. That requires self-discipline in order for us to be in Bible class. Letting a child find his or her own way is a ridiculous statement. This confuses them. They do not have a good work ethic later in life.

Lethargy and Self-discipline

1. Those who grow up without self-discipline are lacking in contemplative ability. Concentration power. It is hard for them to focus. It takes self-discipline to focus for any length of time.
2. They are full of excuses and self-vindication.
3. They are without motivation to do anything except recreation or inconsequential activity.
4. Many who have no self-discipline are content to allow others to support them; to take care of them. An undisciplined society results in a massive welfare program. They are lethargic, unless this is something that they want to do. It is easy to have self-discipline if it is something you want to do.
5. Such people are aimless, without a purpose or an objective in life. You can look at this and tell, "This is what a parent should do; it stabilizes them." Doing things that you do not want to do is so much of life.
6. Those without self-discipline rarely consider their future. They live in the here and now. Tomorrow will take care of itself. Believers do live one day at a time.

Having no self-discipline turns into a miserable life; and it is a loss of any advantage in life; and a loss of future success. The lazy get left behind by their peers. Many mental attitude sins stem from being left behind. Especially if it is their own fault. No one wants to take responsibility for that.

Focus of the Mind

1. The highest aspect of self-discipline is the ability to concentrate.
2. This means the ability to focus on the task at hand. If you are a daydreamer, you cannot focus on the task at hand.
3. Also, a high characteristic of self-discipline, is to make consistent decisions to do what needs to be done to accomplish the task. Easy to put it off until later.
4. And, no self-discipline is the determination to avoid any distractions that hinder that accomplishment.
5. Self-discipline includes certain traits that we can isolate. Objectivity, not subjectivity; focus on the task, not on yourself. Teachability.
6. Self centeredness...
7. This is the springboard for many false justifications for laziness.

For some, it is an art form to avoid work. In college, people found a myriad of excuses not to study. They failed to learn anything. They failed in the very reason to attend college. No enforced discipline. There was no enforced discipline. Many followed the habits that they learned early in life. They did not study; they did not go to class.

Bobby had a roommate in his Sophomore year; one was a close friend and they studied together. Another roommate never studied. He often went to class the first day, then he went to the fraternity house. Barely made class the next day. He did this for about a week; and they never saw him again. He never went to class.

Do the Tough Stuff First.

1. You have to get to a point of self-discipline in order to succeed and to actually really enjoy life. Those who are self-disciplined enjoy life more.
2. You get your obligations done first. This is the epitome of self-discipline. Do what you must do first. The hard stuff is not left hanging over your head.
3. Then you can enjoy the downtime, because you took care of the tough stuff.
4. That is the divine design for life, for work, for enjoyment, and for optimum service for the Lord.
5. Laziness is not our calling.

Believers in Jesus Christ are mandated to a life of...

Bobby confesses. He has a problem with self-discipline early in life, especially in studying for school. He liked to save the hard things for the very last moment. It was not pleasant when the time for testing came around. Bob understood what Bobby piddly. He was an expert at finding things to do when he did not do things that he should be doing.

Bobby caught on to self-discipline in college. With self-discipline college was a breeze.

The biggest excuse is, "I don't have time to do this or that."

Priorities

1. Do the priority tasks first and spiritual growth should be the first priority.
2. What you do for a living comes second to spiritual growth. You cannot shelve that responsibility. Gen. 3:19.
3. You will enjoy everything else so much more. No contrast means life can get boring.
4. Apply discernment to all of life. Self-discipline is our lifestyle; our mandate.

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/18/2022 Thursday

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

There is a principle of life that God has something for all of us to learn.

The Ant

1. There is wisdom in the ant. They have more wisdom than the sluggard.
2. God's lower creation contrasts the industry versus indolence.
3. The ant is organized like you would not believe; presented as the highest wisdom of this area of work
4. The sluggard is called upon the view this little insect. They are rather interesting. Solomon says, "In observing the ant, you will see everything but sloth." Also, "You don't, to your detriment." Most would rather step on one rather than emulate it. They will do whatever it takes to complete their work even if you stand in front of them. They are not aimless; their movement always has a very specific purpose. They are in constant search for some kind of food, following the pattern of Genesis 3:19. They communicate with each other as well. They have a work ethic second to none. Most ants live on the ground (although some live in trees in the tropics). They communicate by leaving a pheromon trail. This scent is central to their work. The better the instruction, the better that you should work. They are working for the colony, for the group. This trail is marked by this scent who lets the others know, follow this trail. When they return to the colony with the food, then more ants come out to get more food. They tear it apart with the little mandibles.

More Points on the Ant

1. When the food source is exhausted, no new pheromon trails are marked.
2. And so the scent slowly disappears and it is no longer followed.
3. But they do not stop foraging; and when they find food, the process begins again. It never ceases; they are on a 24 hour shift.

4. We must work for the same reason. There is a reason. To feed ourselves. By the sweat of your face, you will eat bread; you don't work, you don't eat. Until you return to the ground. There is nothing known as retirement. There is no retirement in the ministry. Bob just wanted to collapse right there at the pulpit. It never ceases like the ant.
5. That is the divine mandate for human beings. Ants lead the way.
6. Work is our lifeline to survival. When Adam and the woman sinned, Adam got this full in the face. If you want to eat, then you have to work. That was necessary and it is still that way.

Ants are not deterred from their working tasks in any way. If there is a blockage, then any ant which find a new route lays out the pheromones again. That is working together for a common goal. This is what you do in a company or in any office. We work for common goals. Isn't that what the body of Christ does in fulfilling God's plan? Now we know what the ants are doing. They are not confused, frustrated or lost. They are organized and working hard for a unified objective. They do not quit ever.

If you step on these ants, for whatever reason and if you kill a few of them, others will be back in a very short time doing exactly the same thing. They are not discouraged by obstacles or disasters. They are highly successful. They don't fail. If you move ahead, you are successful.

Ants have colonized almost every land mass on earth. Antarctica and inhospitable islands. They thrive in most ecosystems because they are patterns of industry.

Ants are successful because of what they do and how they do it. They modify their habitats. He is successful because he can tap available resources. The ant is successful because he defends himself. They are ferocious in defending their territory. This is a diligent effort on their part.

Ants have a division of labor; communication between individuals, and the ability to solve complex problems. These parallels that have long been an inspiration as a subject for study. Solomon studied many things, besides women.

Watch the ant and be wise.

We are not on a 24 hour shift; we are not working 24/7; but we still must work hard, and this is success. These parallels with human society which inspire study. What do you need to notice in ants; what are we supposed to draw from this illustration? They are powerful workers. They are able to lift 10 to 50x their own weight. Each ant carries a load of food quite a distance to the colony and they don't drop it.

To copy an ant means to copy logistics. This is what happens when a truck brings groceries to a grocery store and we go get it.

Ant housing, the ant hill. They are marvels of engineering. The flooding tonite does nothing to an anthill. Just a little more work. They are quick to repair their domiciles.

We used to be able to get an ant colony solarium. Drop a piece of meat in there and you could watch it disappear. The ants are quick to repair. They do not stop until the thing is repaired. They show up on time, they show up and work all day, they do the right work and the work gets done.

It took a great deal of effort to get rid of the ants around Berachah. They are tough and they never give up. If you step in an ant hill, you should observe how quickly they swarm you. They are good soldiers in an attack. Their weapon is a bite or a sting. They will sacrifice their own lives in defense of the colony. It is hard to miss. They moved quickly and with a purpose. That alacrity is a symbol of their work ethic.

Lessons to Learn from the Ants

1. Solomon holds up the ant for imitation by the sluggard. It is a great example.
2. The sluggard should take note of this tiny but powerful insect. Learn the lesson of the ant.
3. His work ethic exceeds most other creatures.
4. And so Solomon might say, "Sluggard, get moving in life just like the ant."
5. The objective here is to learn from what you see. Ants are often like garbage cans; they clear up the environment.

Solomon has more to say about the ant. He does not stop with this one illustration. There is more.

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

Proverbs 6:7 Without having any chief, officer, or ruler,

Leaderless Ants

1. Each of these people refer to some rule of some type.
2. V. 7 indicates that the anti is leaderless. It does not have an officer, chief, ruler.
3. The anti operates independently. No one guides his work; no one critiques his work.
4. He is responsible for his own activities and the outcome. Only death will stop his production.
5. The ant never fails to produce. We fail to produce; we get lazy. The ant is our imitation. Life is a production. There is a contrast. You must have a contrast in life. Things are always better with a contrast.

The sluggard wants no part of this work and diligence. The sluggard has his own brand of independence. He directs himself independently to do nothing. No one directs him or her. No one has dominion over him or her. He is anti-authority. "I don't want anyone to tell me what to do.” Under those conditions, he has complete freedom to do nothing; but freedom demands responsibility. Otherwise we are locked in to freedom. For the sluggard, this is his excuse. Marching to the beat of his own drum. He won’t follow the path of others. No plan exceeds his own; including the plan of God.

That person is a reversionist. No spiritual life. Too lazy to come to Bible class; too lazy to apply doctrine. He bows to no authority. The ant is totally different. The ant is a source of rebuke to the sluggard. The ant is dedicated to the task. It is to the benefit of the whole colony. The colony does not eat unless they all work.

Final Points on the Ants

1. The ant colony dies if each ant does not do his own part. Each part is part of the whole.
2. If every ant decided to fend for himself. I found this bunch of food, and I will stay here and eat. They cannot survive alone. The ant is instinctual. It does not have a sin nature.
3. If all people were sluggards, what would we be? Poverty stricken. We would have nothing. This is a socialistic society. People point to them and say, “Look how successful that they are.” Our lives are not dedicated to everyone else. We have similar goals as believers in this world. We need government. We need people to look over our shoulder. The ant acts on the basis of its instinct.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/21/2022 1Sunday

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

Proverbs 6:7 Without having any chief, officer, or ruler,

The most common way to communicate ideas is the metaphor, which is a figure of speech, used in so many of the great novels. Two unlike objects are compared. One is substituted for the other. A very common type of metaphor is a comparison between humans and animals. A person is compared to an animal in order to reveal one of the traits of the animal. This may give us some insight into a person. Jesus is compared to a lamb; He is called the Lamb of God. A person compared to a dog positively or negatively.

The Bible has many metaphors of this type; some are complimentary and some are not. He instructs those to observe the ant. The ant is energetic; it looks to succeed and to complete a project. The sluggard is to observe the productive ant and to learn from its actions. The illustration is even more effective. But the ant society is something to focus on as well. The ant has no governor; there is no government. He functions independently. He is a self-starter without peer. He never fails to produce. Only death stops the ant from working. This is what the sluggard does not desire or pursue. No one has to tell the ant what to do. This is even more effective when their society is better understood. They have a never-ending mission. The ant society has full cooperation between ants without a hierarchal instruction. His industrious work comes first.

Ants

1. The colony dies if each ant does not fulfill its part.
2. If every ant decided to fend for himself, none would survive. They work for the common good.
3. Likewise, if all people were sluggards, all would be poverty stricken. There would be no economy.

There are queens, males and workers; and each cast has a specific responsibility. The worker ant, all of whom are female, and their sisterhood is responsible for foraging, caring for the queen and the young, they police conflicts in the colony, and waste disposal. Colonies of ants do not mix; they fight. The male ants are fertile and they have wings and they mate with the queen. They do not last very long. Never a shortage of ants. The queen is an adult, a fertile ant; she is the reproductive ant; and there are a number of queens in any colony. They are the mothers of all the other ants in that colony. The colony is coordinated for survival. This is what Solomon used to make a doctrinal point. Each individual ant knows what its job is. They do it without direction, guidance or any regulation. That is the key to the verse that we are studying. There are no slackers, no deadbeats. Work to them is instinctive.

We could say that the ant is totally self motivated. The sluggard ought to be similarly motivated to work. Fewer people today willing to start at the bottom and work their way up. We have this problem today. This is very practical.

There is a job that every gender does. Work is not just for an ant. This has a great application to us. The individual knows his job and works without governance. No overseer, no governor, no CIA and no FBI. He completes his job with a single-minded purpose to the end of his life. Ants do sleep. They need ant naps when they can. They sleep quickly and they get back to work. The queen sleeps longer.

The Christian sluggard who has no desire to advance spiritually. How easy it is to show up for church, sing a few hymns listen to a 20 minutes sermon and go home. We are a workman that does not need to be ashamed. We have a job to do, even those who are retired. People retire for a number of reasons. Do not retire from life. Find something of value to do. Based upon your abilities and health. There is something that we can do in the Christian life. Do not sit on your hands, vegetate and die. Our society retires too many people from life.

Proverbs 6:6 Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise.

Proverbs 6:7 Without having any chief, officer, or ruler,...

Then we come to v. 8, where the sluggard must change its actions.

Proverbs 6:8 ...she prepares her bread in summer and gathers her food in harvest.

Solomon turns etymologist here. He studies insects and there is much to learn from ant-life. The ant finds and carries its food back. Many of the ants are foragers, the ones which we see. They never cease to visit the grocery store of their surrounding environment.

Solomon was well-known for his great wisdom. His great wisdom included studying the natural world. He was a scientist of his own time.

We know that God the Creator knows all of His creatures. Solomon, when he wrote this, was divinely inspired. The ant illustration is the exact best one to use. Even though Solomon did know all of the ant behavior? Probably not. Today, this metaphor is even better than it was in Solomon's day. In specific terms of division of labor and food gathering. The Holy Spirit guaranteed that what Solomon writes is accurate.

The Bible is not a textbook of science or history. It is about the spiritual life. It contains scientific accurate, which is accurate. The Bible is not a textbook on ants or etymology; but it is still accurate.

His invisible attributes; what do we learn? His eternal power and divine nature.

People often think about evolution; they do not think about God.

So that they are without excuse...

The ants' activity of carrying morsels of food. The ant carries 10x to 50x its body weight. That is easy for us to observe, if we take the time to look.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/21/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:8 .....she prepares her bread in summer and gathers her food in harvest.

Bobby's uncle on his mother's side specialized in the study of insects. Bobby is familiar with this, as he was the dean of science in Arizona. His specialty was beetles. He had a collection of beetles and he preserved them, hundreds of them, a museum quality collection. Bobby's favorite uncle (all of his uncles have passed away). Beautiful colors. He is hoping that they went to a natural museum.

Bobby sometimes helped him collect these beetles. They lived in cowpies. They got into the ones which have been on the ground for awhile. He always kept a snake or two around and he would start every class with a demonstration. He would grab a scorpion in a cage because he knew how to grab them. We can visualize Solomon as an accurate studier of ants. His observations are so correct. Solomon used the technically correct gender for the worker ant. Even though he was not aware. He used the correct gender of the ant.

Proverbs 6:8 ...she prepares her bread in summer and gathers her food in harvest.

This is exactly what Solomon is doing here. These are non-reproduction ants. It is no wonder that Bobby thought about this.

The feminine gender is used.

If this ant is so industrious, so a creature which is blessed with so many more tools and brains, ought to have a greater semblance. The human ought to have a greater work ethic and superior accomplishments.

The Ant and the Sluggard

1. If the single ant, with no one to urge, direct or supervise her, is so industrious. So many people, if they are not watched, get little done.
2. The ant should provide an example.
3. The ant provides every incentive to awaken the sluggard from his slumber. This is for the 35 year old who sits and home and does nothing.
4. The ant works for the colony; which the sluggard does not do.
5. The anti fulfills her duty to the economy; she is productive.
6. The sluggard should listen to the urgent advice of others, but he doesn't. The sluggard is not listening; he does not take advice; who does not take direction. Parents nurture their children in Bible doctrine, ye they go their own way. But if you train them in the way that they should grow, they may return to the Christian life and become productive.
7. The person, the sluggard, in emulating the ant, will gain ethics. He will be admirable in his ethics.
8. He will develop some dignity as a person. A sluggard has no such dignity; he is worthless to society. If someone is a sluggard and they look at this passage. The sluggard should carefully heed and look at the example of the ant. This is Solomon's illustration in vv. 6-8. We should be planning things done now in order to prepare for the future. The ant prepares; the sluggard does not. A lazy person does not learn doctrine.

If you are here learning doctrine, you are probably not a sluggard. Learning to apply is even harder work.

Genesis 41 is an example of this. This represents the assembly of a client nation. God said, "I will make you a great nation, a great people." This is the beginning of the covenant being fulfilled.

Joseph was Jacob's favorite sons. The concocted a story where he is dead, but they sell him into slavery to Egypt. There was no preparation for famine among the sons of Israel. They did not gather or store supplies by Jacob's family.

For a long time, Joseph resided in prison, victimized by an angry woman. He was very talented and a hard worker. He became very advanced in the household, and Potipher's wife accused him of rape, when he did not touch this woman. It was a great injustice. God

Nevertheless, Joseph ended up in prison. God had plans for him even in prison. He still had some things to learn while he was in prison.

The opportunity came in Genesis 40. There were two other men in prison with Joseph. The chief cup bearer and the chief baker. These were very high officials. They had displeased the king, and they were put into prison. Both of them had dreams, which God places into their subconscious. Joseph's interpretations of their dreams were perfectly given by Joseph. The cup bearer was returned to the palace. Joseph saw the opportunity to get out of prison, when the cup bearer to remember him, to correct the injustice done against him. But the cup bearer promptly forgot all about Joseph. Joseph was still stuck in prison. Joseph needed one more lesson to grow from.

God would deliver Joseph; not the baker. Joseph needed to learn this lesson. Joseph needed to learn this and grow from it.

God implants a dream in the subconscious of Pharaoh. Dreams were a common way for the prophets of God to receive revelation from God. Many prophets of Israel received revelation in this way; and some of this became a part of the Old Testament.

One of the great problems in the time in which we live is prophecy. Those who become new prophets and receive new revelation from God. Here, God will use interpretation of these dreams to deliver Joseph (as God will do for Daniel).

None of the wise men were able to interpret Pharaoh's dreams. God's plan for Joseph calls for him to come to the palace.

The Dreams of Pharaoh

1. In the interpretation we see the importance of industry when preparing for the future.
2. That was the theme of Joseph's interpretation of both dreams.
3. One dream predicted 7 years of plenty in the land. The other predicted 7 years of severe famine in the land.
4. God's revelation in this dream demanded a response.
5. The Egyptians needed to go to work like ants.
6. Solomon probably picked up on this idea in Exodus.

There was a carrying through for the next 7 years during the 7 good years. This would benefit Jacob and the family of Joseph.

Solomon and the Sluggard and Advice on What to Do

1. Solomon now interprets Joseph as following the pattern of the ant industry.
2. Solomon was aware of this history.
3. Solomon was applying this incident of Joseph's story to the failings of the sluggard.
4. The sluggard must consider his future because hard times were coming.

All the literal in the Old Testament teaches about looking wisely into the future and preparing for that. That is found over and over again. The sluggard is woefully unprepared to survive.

Joseph was prepared to get the job done. It was a huge task ordered by the Pharaoh. God turned cursing to blessing using Joseph's hard work ethic. Israel was preserved in this.

God's plan was to preserve Israel during a terrible time in the land.

Many centuries later, Daniel was chosen by God, to deliver. Joseph does what is necessary. In our country, honest work gets a person ahead.

Hard work for the offices just down on Allen Parkway. Not a lot of hard work ethic in the United States today. Many sluggards in the US.

The sluggard has a few problems. His laziness is a detriment to himself and to his family. He is she is a terrible example for children. Sluggards often produce sluggards. There must be preparation for the future.

Closing Points

1. Solomon now takes up the dangers of poverty; and its certainty for the person who remains a sluggard.
2. It is also a call for the sluggard to awaken from lethargy and to become ant-lie.
3. There is a warning as to the dangerous consequences if the sluggard remains heedless of the warning.
4. In other words, sluggard, you have better find some motivation to get moving, or your lifetime will be one of poverty

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep?

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

V. 9 is designed to censor laziness in a clear manner. The result of the sluggard's long sleep. I passed by the vineyard and it was completely overgrown by thistles and its stone wall was broken down. That is the picture of the sluggard. Man was never meant to be idle.

Principles

1. Those who do not work are said to lack wisdom. Those who do not want a job, this applies to them.

2. The application is to work. Earning one's daily bread.
3. Work should be a major activity in life that reflects good sense to accomplish.
4. It is never wise to be idle in the face of divine instruction. Sometimes it cannot be helped, but you never stop looking.
5. We know that there are repercussions for the sluggard, short and long-term. There is always welfare today; or hanging around on a corner. There is a statistic on this; the one no longer looking for work. Not to work in God's economy is never a good decision. Wisdom demands work. An ethic of labor commensurate with God's design. You work as unto the Lord.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/25/2022 Thursday

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep?

When you indulge yourself, it is very self-centered; and you also typically make excuses for not doing what you should be doing.

Assumption the work is occurring around the sluggard; but he is not participating in it. Everyone during the harvest all participate during this time; even the children. This was survival during that times when this was written. This is continued until the cycle starts up again. Even children could not afford to sleep in to be sluggards. He who gathers in summer is a son who acts wisely. He is sleeps in the summer acts shamefully.

There are those with no motivation in life, but are just flat out lazy. Along with laziness goes thinking that is erroneous. The son in Proverbs 10:5. We can take the son to be several different ages herre.

There were no child labor laws then. If the son could work, then he worked. The children were not under some taskmaster. They were under the supervision of their parents; and their jobs would have been commensurate with their size and relative abilities. Hence there was no shame among them; no slackers among the family. Everyone, including the children, learned about work. This was part of the maturation process for children. Today, we don't have that sort of thing. Often today, children are required to do family chores; but often, those chores also have another purpose, to keep a child from being lazy. The child is to learn a sense of responsibility. Copartnered requires the child to do something. This is preparation for a greater effort. A training session. A work ethic must be understood.

But the sluggard is sleeping. He folds his hands in an attitude of rest. A late riser; hard to get out of bed.

Proverbs 22:13 illustration where people stayed in doors when the lion was out and about; but the sluggard stayed inside all of the time. He certainly expects to eat in order to live. He will have to live off the work of others. If you are lazy, don't think that others don't notice. They are fully cognizant of your laziness. Co-workers certainly notice that.

In the military, who gets a job done and who does not.

The Sluggard

1. For the slacker, the sluggard, there is contempt and disrespect. Not here when needed; not in residence when necessary.
2. But the sluggard resents this contempt and disrespect. He resents it and sometimes disputes it.
3. The sluggard actually has great vanity, even though there is no reason for it. They think more highly of themselves than they ought to think.
4. The sluggard does not like to be reminded of his weakness or failures, of which there are many. He is a weak person and a failure.
5. A person like that begins to justify self with excuses. He must justify self in order to have any semblance of respect.
6. The sluggard may cry foul or prejudice as a cover; they cover themselves. They are caught in their sloth. They call foul.
7. They try to intimidate with charges of injustice. Bobby has had to fire people who were lazy; who contributed very little to the organization.
8. That is the pattern of the sluggard; to avoid responsibility; to elude discovery and to cover their laziness. That is their M.O.

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep?

Why are you dodging your responsibilities. The answer is simply their attitude; they do not follow the principle of the ant.

This can be the parent getting their sleepy child out of bed. Some people have to be urged to get up. Some will present manipulative reasons to stay in bed. And some parents allow the child to get away with this. A child must become self-motivated. When you get out the home, you have to be self-motivated to work or to go to college. There was no enforced discipline so there was no self-discipline.

One excuse a child may offer up is a physical malady. Sometimes, these children get away with it. One friend's child missed so many days that he did not graduate from college. Young people could always find the energy to do what they wanted to do. Just not for the things they did not want to do.

Some children have money as a trust fund baby; but they never use any of their potential.

The Sluggard

1. The real sluggard does not respond to correction. The Christian life is a correction. It is a change of thinking. As you mature spiritually, you correct your ways of thinking. It is possible that the believers can see the reason to make such a change. The real sluggard do not.
2. He is obstinate, recalcitrant and even militant.

3. The sluggard prefers to sleep. Their thinking is all about, what can I get away with?
4. Or they might do something entirely unrelated to productivity.
5. To make an effort to avoid useful activity, they just don't do that.
6. He escapes either diligence or responsibility in life. That is a tell-tale sign of a sluggard. They will not do this because it requires extra work. You have to do something beside looking out only for yourself. The sluggard cannot lead, because they are self-centered. The sluggard will not be followed to the latrine. They are not inspirational.

Timothy Leary encouraged people to tune in, turn on and drop off. There was Jack Keroack encouraged people to simply drop out of life. Those were the beatniks. Dobie Gillis. A seemingly harmless teenage drama with Maynard. Maynard would cringe every time the word work was used. They were called hippies in the next generation. Bobby calls him O'Leary. He was a proponent of being a sluggard. That generation became the counter culture of values. We are paying for that today. Hippies have taught their children well to have no value in work. Out of dissatisfaction, many have dropped out of work. Such people have no good sense.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

The Sluggard in V. 10

1. After pointing out the fallacy of not working; so now he uses effective irony in v. 10.
2. He mimics the sluggard's speech pattern.
3. This reveals the sluggard's pastime.
4. Sleep is a metaphor; which is a lackadaisical do nothing life.
5. In the 3 repetitions for similar words for sleep, we find a repetitive action. This is the way the person lives; he sleeps through life.
6. This is the consistent action of the sluggard.
7. And it is a consistent way of thinking without any work motivation.
8. The consequences of having no motivation, little self-discipline, will be seen in v. 11, which is a hard-hitting verse.
9. There is also here a tone of contempt in this verse. A consistent delay of everything in life. I will do it tomorrow. I still have time
10. Always something hanging over their heads and they don't take care of it.

Too much sleep denudes a person of motivation. Bobby's mother used to say, the early bird gets the worm. The potential for success means that you cannot stay in bed all of the time.

The Poverty of Spirit

1. There is certainly a poverty of spirit, of motivation and of physical activity for the sluggard. The mostly likely to not succeed.
2. The sluggard is trapped in a poverty of options for the future.

3. The more the sluggard is idle, the narrower are his choices in life. Choices are narrowed in time spend in laxity.
4. Idleness means that a person is not making good choices.
5. They are choosing to do little or nothing.
6. They allow things to happen to them, but with little input into the process. They do not think; they are not motivated.
7. They are without regard for any real accountability or dependability. If people cannot depend upon you, you are a sluggard.
8. He has a life dedicated to self, to having fun, to enjoying entertainment; Solomon and his frantic search for happiness. He tells us in Ecclesiastes that there is no peace in that. We have a generation or two who have taken up that particular attitude.

The ideology of the sluggard, socialism.

The End of the Sluggard

1. Like adultery, nothing good comes from it.
2. Even the fun loses its luster.
3. Greater effort is needed to self indulge and to entertain the sluggard; bigger and better things; more and more entertainment.
4. They get bored very easily. They have no purpose, no reason to get up in the morning. This is how some retirees live. Man is not made to be entertained or to be idle at the expense
5. The sluggard's fun actually becomes work. His life of indolence becomes the norm; commonplace for him.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

8/28/2022 1Sunday

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep?

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Sluggard appears to be the way of the United States; but it is an antiquated word. It is necessary for us to grasp the full meaning of this word.

The Sluggard

1. Sluggard means you cannot focus; you cannot concentrate. The sluggard has no interest in a subject or subjects which really matter.

2. No motivation to work; no self-restraint. Sometimes they need to be kicked to get moving.
3. The sluggard is not properly instructed to have a good work ethic.
4. The sluggard makes a lot of bad decisions which limit future options in life. Idleness means that a person is not making good choices. They are choosing to do little or nothing in life; they are choosing to do what they feel like doing. Or they allow things to happen to them, but with little input in the process.
5. The true sluggard is a lazy thinker, who follows the path of least resistance. No motivation for meaningful activity.

The Sluggard and the Spiritual Life

1. The sluggard is characterized by negative volition.
2. They are characterized by apathy, indifference or ignorance of Bible doctrine.
3. Characterized by the lack of application of wisdom.
4. Human viewpoint; no divine wisdom.
5. The sluggard has no desire, no thrust, no push to learn or to grow. They are content to be what they are where they are with no progress.

Solomon calls the sluggard out for his lethargy and his worthlessness. We hate to call anyone worthless, but they have no participation in the plan of God. There is no plan and no future for the sluggard who continually sleeps. They are to be roused from the doldrums, from inactivity. Do not waste so much time in life.

Bobby looks back on his life, you realize how fast it all moves. It was just yesterday when we were a young person. Why waste that time. It is all too short; all too precious. Solomon is warning that there is no time to waste.

In v. 10, Solomon mimics the sluggard's modus operandi.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

In the Three Repetitions, We Find this Following:

1. These three words are repetitive. A repetition of action; a habit of doing nothing. This is not just a one-time thing. It is a habit.
2. The sluggard fails to progress in his life; a life of procrastination; a life of indecision.
3. He consistently delays any productive activity; and he does it with all kinds of excuses. This begins in childhood, when children try to get out of doing things. You cannot be successful in life apart from having self-discipline.
4. The sluggard has no regard for anyone except himself.
5. The sluggard cultivates a life dedicated to self; to entertaining self as well; to seek out pleasure; to have fun.

It is a routine that requires self-discipline. People do not like routine; it is something to be avoided. It may not be fun, so it requires self-discipline.

Take for example a person who is lazy and does not work, but has a family. The sluggard does not mind the suffering of his family, if he does not have to work and have a routine. He can find a million excuses. Sometimes, it just means desertion. Fathers who have wandered off.

How much satisfaction or pleasure is it to do whatever you want, whenever you want, totally disregarding routine and self-discipline. But there is not much by way of satisfaction. It actually gets old; it gets boring. It becomes a frantic search for happiness. There is the situation of what can you do apart from your sluggardness?

Going Through Life as a Sluggard

1. The sluggard's fun becomes work, as his life of indolence, pleasure-seeking, becomes the norm. This is what he does. This is his vocation. Puttering around the house will no longer have the attraction that it once did when it was a hobby.
2. Doing nothing of value becomes the drudgery of searching out meaning in life.
3. For the unbeliever, there is no meaning in life apart from work. Ecclesiastes 5:18. The sluggard cannot find any meaning and happiness apart from work. For the unbeliever, happiness comes through work.
4. Even the activities to fill the time of emptiness becomes just routine. Everything that you do in life ultimately becomes a routine. Not finding something to do in life, dodging work can both be routines.
5. What was relaxation is no longer an activity, merely for enjoyment, diversion. It becomes a vocation, even though it is not work. The sluggard has the problem, what do I do now in order to get up in the morning. Retirement turns to a point of life ending, because there is no purpose or value in life; you are out to pasture just to die.

Retirement

1. Don't work so that you don't have to work in the distant future. Do not work only for retirement. I can't wait to get my pension. You can retire in 20 years in the military. Go in at age 18 and be done with it by 38. The statistic is, these people are often dead in a short time.
2. Working for retirement is working for a non-existent objective. Retire from what? Life? It is an unknown.
3. Even if you do retire from one profession or job. Even if you do retire from one profession or job, you retire from age or infirmity; the principle is, find something to do that is worthwhile. Find a new objective. This should be no problem for a mature believer in Jesus Christ. God's plan never ceases until we do. God opens doors for service to Him throughout your life.

Bobby has watched Rick Hughes for many years. He spent so many years on the road traveling to so many schools. He has put many miles on his cars. He teaches them the gospel and fundamental Bible doctrine. For some of the kids, this is absolutely novel. His travel today is very limited by his health. He cannot do all of that anymore. When one door closes, another door opens. His radio ministry is having a great impact throughout the United States. No longer not in just the southeast.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6:10 Wisdom in the OT

8/28/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

It is always interesting to hear various retirement stories from people in Bobby's office. So many police officers who talk about nothing but retirement; but you get to that point, and what you do is great for a week or two; but you cannot do it everyday and enjoy it. That is true in every area of life. Any activity done repeatedly falls under the category of routine; even laziness requires a certain amount of routine. Rising in the morning with idleness for the most of the day. The aged feel useless and discarded in their lives. We need a purpose; an objective. We already know what our objective is. The door will open for us.

The younger person, inertia means no movement in life. What seems so inviting becomes a boring routine, and it is self-perpetuating. When you have the repetition of doing nothing, that becomes self-perpetuating. Routine in life as others move forward in life. So many young people look forward in life. The sluggard will have no basis for achievement in life. Those who lack confidence have self-imposed and self-perpetuating passivity. The sluggard gives up way too easily. Then there is just more emptiness. All play and no work is disaster. No self-respecting ant did that. The sluggard becomes trapped in a fool's paradise, then envy enters into the picture. Even when they have put forward no effort to accomplish anything. Envy comes into play; they never think that it is their own bad decisions which takes them to this point. The sluggard wants his part, even though he has done nothing to contribute. The attitude of sharing in someone else's hard work. Socialism does not work because it does not take into account human nature. Socialism breeds more sluggards; poverty-stricken people. Poverty of soul. Without motivation. Socialist system provide no incentive in life. Those who work hard to not receive the fruits of their labor. Higher and higher taxes to be redistributed to those who do not work. This gives others no incentive. Why should I work if I am giving it to someone else? Why should I work, if I can get it for free?

Socialism is unnatural to a human being. It breeds an overactive sin nature. The opposite is capitalism. Under capitalism there is incentive for hard work.

Equity is not incentive for hard work. Equal outcomes does not work. You cannot hand out prosperity.

Hard Work

1. Stability in life and self-esteem come from hard work. Spiritual growth helps you to understand your place in the plan of God.
2. One of the most stable aspects in life is the routine of a job. The routine of employment. Without employment, there is nothing to do. You don't know where the next meal is coming from.
3. To succeed motivates a person to get up in the morning. This anticipates success based upon one's efforts. Hard work breeds success; success breeds success. We have got to work to eat.
4. It is the objective work that motivates a person to continue in a routine. It is satisfaction at the end of the day for a hard day's work.
5. The stability and motivation of believers and unbelievers alike. The satisfaction that comes from a hard day's work and what it accomplishes. Even if it seem trivial to you.
6. This routine of hard work makes all other aspects of life more attractive and more enjoyable. The development of the right attitude is the beginning of a good work ethic. The more trivial is seems, the harder you should work. It is your standard and your satisfaction. We do our work as unto the Lord. Even in sweeping a floor, we represent the Lord.

A vacation is a break in the routine, and this allows you to rework your motivation. Bob broke his routine by going to a conference. That was a vacation for him.

Respect has to be earned in life; except when it comes to the grace of God. We cannot have respect in the Christian life without that. Respect comes with doing something; it comes with hard work.

Faith Rest and Spiritual Outcomes

1. If you are sitting around doing nothing...you are waiting to seek and find a job yourself. You are misusing the faith rest drill and grace orientation.
2. You are sleeping, folding your hands, and you have disregarded the need to awaken and to actively seek the door that the Lord will open. There are other times when you have to seek work.
3. God will go it, but you must all be involved in the process.
4. Where is faith rest in this? You faith rest the outcome of such a search. Then you depend upon the Lord and His plan to lead you in the right direction.
5. Patience does not mean inertia. It includes moving forward and waiting God's results. Matthew 7:7 Pray, seek, knock

Moving Ahead

1. Pray without ceasing asking for open doors
2. Look for divine guidance through the circumstances you are in
3. Knock on a few doors and let the Lord open one.

4. All the while, trusting, faith-resting that God will do it; and it will be given to us. What could be more important, even if it is not your optimum job. If God is in it, that is your optimum circumstance. It is given to us by God; get your eyes on whether or not you are doing the plan of God.

All work is in God's plan. Not working is not a part of God's plan.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 8/31/2022 Wednesday

estsel = sluggard, idle, unmotivated, pertinent for us to understand; this happens all around us all of the time. They are doing nothing of significance; they are tired; they have a life dedicated to entertainment, to seeking pleasures, to seeking fun; the frantic search for happiness. They are trying to find things which will make them happy.

Some want to enter into the highest position. They have enough arrogance to think that is where they should be. There are those who are working only for retirement in order to do just the things which they want to do. No redeeming value to anyone but themselves. This requires searching for a new meaning in life. A reason to get up in the morning. God did not design man not to work. Never put yourself by choice or circumstances to do nothing of value apart from personal desires. That puts you far from God's plan.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

The ant is the polar opposite of the sluggard. The sluggard wants to sleep. V. 10 is his motto.

The Stability of Hard Work

1. It is hard work from which stability in life and human self-esteem are desired.
2. One of the most stable aspects in life is the routine of work; the routine of a job; the routine of employment. It is one of the most stable aspects of life. This is the life of believers and unbelievers.
3. It is that which motivates a person to get up in the morning there are people have no reason to get up in the morning. They no longer have any motivation to get them up in the morning. There is nothing which is pending. There is no routine.
4. Routine anchors and balances a person in life. If we spin out of control, we have no real anchor in life.
5. This routine of hard work makes all other aspects of life more attractive. Taking a vacation is a break from the routine.
6. A strong work ethic helps you to enjoy your hobbies and interests. When that hobby becomes your life, then it becomes a work routine and you do not enjoy it near as much. If there is no contrast, you cannot enjoy the time off or hobbies.

7. There is a change in routine for a contrast; and that is the contrast needed to appreciate life outside of work.
8. That change allows for maximum rest and rejuvenation and entertainment. Enjoy it to the maximum. Relaxation has no meaning for the idle person.
9. But also, the contrast renews motivation to continue to press ahead in life. If there is nothing being accomplished in life, then there is not objective in life. So many people who think that work is the worst thing in the world. For the Christian, this life based upon a strong work ethic is demanded by God.

Points

1. God's plan is a process that include a progress of circumstances; a progression of circumstances. You have to prepare; you have to be prepared.
2. That process may include work that you don't like doing in life. That is a training ground.
3. His grace given to us is like God working with Joseph. The grace of God provides you the resources and the things necessary.
4. Actively seek the doors that God opens. God does open doors. You still do it as unto the Lord. As you grow spiritually, your opportunities expand.
5. The Lord will do it for you; but you are involved in the everyday process. Matt. 7:7 seek and knock is our part in the process.
6. You then faith rest the outcome of God's plan and His timing. You rely on God to lead you in the right direction at the right time and place of its choosing.
7. The emphasis here is on leading you in an activity; He leads us in our activities; not standing around doing nothing. Explore your options. If you are in a dead end job, do that job to the best of your ability. Explore your options; this is how God opens doors. We are not dead in the water as believers.
8. Patience in the plan of God does not mean inertia. God is not a headhunter Who wakes you up after finding you the job you are after. We are always involved; do not forget that. The spiritual life is a wonderful thing; the plan of God is a wonderful thing; we live and work in the plan of God. God's grace is always in operation. It is a wonderful life. You have to understand what it means. Work is the routine that gives you purpose and balance in your life. Any job is a circumstance for you to serve the Lord. You have a doctrinal attitude; and you have a work ethic. Also, this gives you the opportunity to speak with others.

More Points

1. Whatever work you are involved in, God's plan is in operation.
2. You have to also realize that God may leave you in a place where you do not want to be for His purposes. That is where faith rest kicks in.
3. God also may change your circumstances by opening other doors.
4. He will advance us into a position where He can use us the bes.
5. Your obligation is to work; not to fold your hands and rest. That is a part of His plan. No sleeping in indolence. Not waiting for your ship to come in.

More Points

1. A person's work ethic has consequences. Lower your work ethic the more narrow your options.
2. The bad work ethic is the sleep or slumber that brings ruin.
3. A well-established routine of work is the divine effort what.

What do you think of yourself, if you are a sluggard.

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

We see people today people who are weak and aimless. V. 11 is hard-hitting.

Bobby does not mind us using a computer.

More Points

1. Poverty and need are the inevitable circumstances of the sluggard.
2. Poverty and need convey the utter destitution and desolation of the sluggard.
3. There is a twofold aspect to the destitution:
4. It is certain; it is going to happen.
5. It is irresistible; the ways of the sluggard lock us in to poverty and need. There is no way out. You can have a lot of money and still have poverty of soul.
6. Poverty advances on the sluggard with great swiftness. It advances with swiftness which cannot be denied. This cannot be done to cause the sluggard to make any changes. It is hard for him to have authority-orientation and self-discipline. But this change can be done.

Two similes in v. 11.

More Points

1. Poverty is like a vagabond.
2. Need is like an armed man.
3. Simile is when there is a comparison of unlike objects.
4. These describe the poverty condition of the sluggard.
5. These words speak of emptiness.

Poverty will come in as a vagabond; also as an evil traveler, a dangerous assailant. This makes perfect sense, in parallel with armed man; need, poverty.

More Oints

1. The vagabond is a traveler with and evil intent or purpose.
2. In that case, the meaning of this re
3. Poverty comes upon him and it leaves him destitute.
4. It is as if he has been stripped of his money by a dangerous assailant.

A victim of his own bad decisions; and decisions which, the poverty of the sluggard is like a vagrant. A vagrant is a description of such a person. These vagrants are poverty personified.

Squalor, human waste, needles, places where they surround the building. The problem is here; but not as out of control as in other cities. Some of them are dangerous. They may resort to crime. That has certainly happened.

The Homeless and the Thief

1. It is not just the homeless. You look at them and you feel for them. You do not know what they have done to get into that position. It is just bad luck, or drugs and bad decisions.
2. Whether homeless or not, they can be classified as a sluggard. They live off the gain of others
3. The thief is inherently lazy.
4. Directly related to his divine attitude the constant life like this. Poverty rules the sluggard, just as it does the vagabond.

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/1/2022 Thursday

Apparently, Bobby mentioned Joel Osteen and Babylon Bee said he was putting out a redacted Bible. He thought it was a real article.

In the final verse of the sluggard, which is v. 11, Solomon paints quite a grim picture. He reveals the inevitable and certain outcome for a person who is lazy.

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

The Similes of V. 11

1. These two phrases each contain two similes.
2. This is a figure of speech which is a comparison of unlike objects connected with the word as, like. Both are persons.
3. These similes are used to make the condition of the sluggard more emphatic. But now we need to visualize what it means.

4. Each phrase compare a state of poverty or need with a certain type of person; a person that we have all experienced; and know their characteristics.
5. This is called a personification.
6. A personification is a figure of speech where an inanimate object or an abstract idea are endowed with human qualities or actions.
7. In the first phrase, a vagabond is a personification of poverty. The comparison indicated by the simile, so that they go together here. The personification tells us something about the comparison of the sluggard. We get a vivid understanding of the cost of the sluggard. That is like the poverty of the vagabond.

A dangerous assailant or an evil traveler or an vagabond. We know these people very well. We call them vagrants. They are the unnamed homeless persons sitting or sleeping on the sidewalk or in an encampment. They are the picture of inertia or idleness. We see them passed out, surround by filth and human waste. They have become a blight on many major cities. No one knows what to do with them. They are everywhere. They are given food, or shelter, or they try to; but they do not have a clue as to how to change the person from a vagrant to a productive human being.

These homeless make the simile here so easy to understand.

Not all sluggard will become physical vagabonds; in one sense, they are all a halack who are impoverished. That is a great poverty, even if they do have some employment. They often cannot hold a job because they cannot submit to authority. They are very anti-authority and they have no work ethic (the sluggard and the vagabonds). They cannot and will not work. No drive, no motivation, no work ethic.

This is a descriptive epigram about poverty overtaking the sluggard, as though he were inert. There is something called being lapped; the slow runner is passed by the fast runner. Sooner or later, it passes them up and embraces them.

There are homeless people who have mental problems; and some actually want to work. Some are drug addicts, they are drug dealers, they are alcoholics, by choice. They have no place to live. They are homeless. This lifestyle is attractive to some who are lazy and a misfit. There was one such person in Berachah. Many people tried to put him up, feed him; and he wanted to be on the street. No work ethic and he did not want to be under the authority. He never slept on the property. He chose poverty. He is a vagrant; it caught up with him and he liked it.

So many of those that we see on the street today fit the condition in soul and condition. This description enrages the advocates for them. In Seattle and Portland, businesses cannot even operate, as the homeless are allowed to live in front of the business. They would never put them to work or find them jobs because they don't want to work. They won't even clean up after themselves. They harm themselves and they are harmful to others. Regardless of what condition they are in, regardless of whether they live on the street or in a mansion. They are a corruption in our society. They are here to stay. Many do not value work as a virtue. They do not see it as something as necessary.

A change of thinking can change them. Many do not want to change and will not change. They refuse any sort of rehabilitation. This first simile is very however.

Proverbs 6:11 ...and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Poverty is a continuation. The sluggard is never satisfied, never satiated, never complete. They are missing something in their souls. The sluggard is never admired and has no self-respect. What is there to respect? They cannot look at themselves and find anything to respect. When you don't work, you have no stability. No equilibrium, no human self-esteem. You have no spiritual self esteem either. You have no personal sense of destiny in generation of promise.

This need is a life of emptiness and instability. Even the person who has all of the material things that you could imagine, but still has the poverty of soul. Wealthy people can be just as idle as those in the street. One must work to maintain wealth and to provide jobs for the wealthy.

The Mogen

1. Armed is the Hebrew noun magen.
2. This word is sometimes spelled mogen. It is used as the symbol of Israel. It is a symbol for Israel.
3. It signified in Jewish literature, God as the protector or shield of David.
4. The basic meaning of this word is shield.
5. The need of the sluggard is the need of the man war.
6. It is not the sluggard who is the shield. It is his need, his poverty that is being compared to a man of the shield.
7. The warrior who is continually defeated is the armed man who is need.
8. So shield is a military term for a person fully equipped for battle. Resistance against the warrior is useless.
9. Need or poverty is the powerful warrior, against whom the sluggard is helpless. Wrong attitude.
10. In the condition of a sluggard, those who try to overcome the need fail. They are doomed to become overwhelmed with...
11. We are talking about believers and unbeliever. The unbeliever has no way to change this. You develop the lack of a work ethic. Rehabilitating from it is nearly impossible. The believer can get out of it.

The Armed Man and the Sluggard

1. The need is like this armed man.

2. The need or the armed man attacks the sluggard and he attacks with great force.
3. Just as an unarmed, untained opponent can do in front of weaponized trained person.
4. Solomon is telling his son, this is what happens when to follow this out.
5. Poverty is pictured as a powerfully armed man. As long as he is in that condition, soul and internal, he can; he will take down the sluggard all the way. This is inevitable. He cannot resist the armed man.
6. The sluggard alone is responsible for this condition.

The same warning is found in Proverbs 10:4 A slack hand causes poverty, but the hand of the diligent makes rich. Negligent in work. The diligent hard worker will be rewarded. There are many rewards beyond financial success. That is what some consider rich to mean. The rewards, duty, honor respect. Acalades, promotions, we spend a good bit of our lives in work; and much less time in our avocation. And we deal with many people. This is a part of the satisfaction. That could result with reward in heaven.

Rewards

1. It can be monetary compensation, which is certainly important. Remuneration is part of work.
2. A comfortable living without need or necessity. Most of us have some sort of a comfortable living. Even those in poverty are in pretty good shape.
3. Producing an excellent job in one's profession is reward.
4. This is the self-satisfaction of doing things right. Raising up stable and normal young people. The reward to be accepted and esteemed among colleagues and friends. You can never discount this satisfaction from work. Not everything is purely material.

Pro 13:4 The soul of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied.

The sluggard has cravings, deep-seated desires. Especially material things. He reaches for these things and he cannot attain them. Even if he hits the lottery, this is not a reward. People think that is the ticket to happiness and life. As soon as someone wins the lottery,

The person who says I will stay the way and keep my job; that would be wise.

The need that goes unfulfilled. For the believer, we may have desires and we do not. As believers, we have an entirely different perspective. We do not have to lose our perspective on life. There is no chance of the sluggard recognizing the deep cravings which he has.

Nothing Comes to the Sluggard

1. Because of his attitude and slack hand.

2. He will not do that necessary for success.
3. Need will always capture him, defeat him, and bring him to the state of vagabond.
4. He develops a terrible.
5. What he wants always eludes him.
6. Not true for the believer.
7. What he wants is forcibly removed from him by an entity more powerful than himself. The armed man that brings consistent need or poverty.
8. The armed man might take away by crime and/or socialism; and the man of need cannot escape. He embraces socialism. The sluggard is a socialist. This is one way to retain need. Individual theft or corporate theft.

Proverbs 6:11 ...and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/4/2022 1Sunday

We are seeing less of a work ethic today.

Bobby wants to look at the lazy, undisciplined sluggard from a different point and then close out this study.

These people are self-destructive and they are a blight on personal relationships and on business relationships. A huge number of vagrants in our cities. People have no idea how to deal with all of the homeless in our cities. There is a great deal to learn from what we are studying. The indolent fools are easy to understand; and we can recognize their lack of motivation. We can also look at ourselves and evaluate our own motivations.

As we are able to apply divine viewpoint wisdom, we are able to stay away from those who are sluggards, who are bad influences. We sometimes make bad decisions and we should be able to recognize those people who are detrimental to our lives. Proverbs provides a full description of such people that Solomon is warning his son about.

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep?

Proverbs 6:10 A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest,...

Proverbs 6:11 ...and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

Proverbs describes here and elsewhere the sluggard, the lack of their motivation and lack of action.

Proverbs 13:4 The soul of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied.

The sluggard gets nothing and so, he craves everything. He has cravings, he has needs, he has desires. He has a desire for many things which he wants but cannot achieve. The sluggard gains nothing but a continuing need and a state of poverty. These are brought about by his own bad decisions and his own thinking. He never learns anything. He wants, but he has no solution.

Proverbs 6:11 and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

The armed man is the need of the sluggard and he enforces his poverty. He cannot escape the domination of poverty. He is in a perpetual state of destitution by his own thinking and his own lack of motivation.

The soul which craves something, but can never have it, by their own doing.

Even a helping hand cannot improve his condition. He is, in fact, his own worst enemy. He craves what he cannot have.

Summary Points

1. The diligent, the one who works hard, gets fat.
2. Fat here means to be satiated, full; a metaphor.
3. Expatiated and satisfied with his or her life. That is the celebration of labor day.
4. Thus, in being fat, we are reminded of the reward mentioned in Proverbs. Gratification, happiness, satisfaction. Many are not happy with their work, yet it beats anything that the sluggard has. This is what we are mandated to do. We should not hate to get up in the morning. We thank God for each new day. This includes are labor.

If a person receives none of the intangible rewards in his soul, but resents the hard work, that is immaturity. The complainer is the sluggard, even if he is employed. You do not have to be unemployed to be a sluggard. Since work is an inherent part of God's plan. It is not to be denigrated or complained about or shunned. Success does not mean wealth. The sluggard is the man of shame and poverty.

Proverbs 20:4 The sluggard does not plow in the autumn; he will seek at harvest and have nothing.

He does nothing so he has nothing. This analogy fits so well. This was an agricultural economy dependant upon a good harvest. To these people, it was necessary for them to plow. Individual farming what was necessary. For their own families for their own table. They need to act at the appropriate time. A direct application of Genesis 3:19.

Genesis 3:23 ...therefore the LORD God sent him out from the garden of Eden to work the ground from which he was taken.

Reading between the lines in Proverbs 20:4 If you are diligent, the harvest will come in and it will be enough. It may not be more than you need; it may not be the wealth that you want. But it will be enough. But,, the alternative is having less than nothing.

Proverbs 24:30 I passed by the field of a sluggard, by the vineyard of a man lacking sense,...

Proverbs 24:31 ...and behold, it was all overgrown with thorns; the ground was covered with nettles, and its stone wall was broken down.

Here is a man who does not think right; he has no motivation; he does nothing. It was completely overgrown. Nettles all over. Thorny; plants that should not be there. His stone wall was broken down. No fences, no cultivation.

The sluggard does not work at all with his hands; and he has nothing that he can pay a hired hand with. No sense at all. Foolish.

The sluggard does not look very far ahead. The dire results of his failure to do anything. He can see where he will end up. He will be and he will have nothing. He will be in need; he will be in poverty. He indulges himself, finding what he thinks is happiness in self-indulgence. His land is growing nothing; he does nothing; he has thorns and thistles. Unwanted plants; a perfect metaphor for a life that is devoid of hard, concentrated work. A thorny, unproductive life. It is not just him, but his family which depends upon him. Having nothing, doing nothing.

Broken families is one of the greatest problems in the United States.

In the larger picture, there is bankruptcy and destruction for the sluggard nation. Too many sluggards and the national economy suffers. Right now, we are in a recession, maybe heading for a depression. We are teetering on the brink of a real disaster. There are more and more sluggards out there. The field of the nation is beginning to be nothing but nettles and thistles. We are trillions of dollars in debt. It is a debtor society; a sluggard society.

Not working turns a sluggard into a beggar. The most obvious one is the street person, the vagabond. The cause has been a process of bad decisions from a sluggardly soul.

Closing Points

1. The sluggard is at fault for not working as he or she should. Bob sees mostly men in the street, but there are women as well. They are at fault. They make a series of decisions to withdraw from the mainstream of society to do their own thing, to march to a beat of a different drummer. To tune in and drop out. Letting pleasure and laziness supercede good sense. Using drugs and alcohol to fill their emptiness. Once they are addicted to drugs and/or alcohol, their decisions are bad. Sometimes this take place early in life.
2. Instead of working, the sluggard becomes self-indulgent, concerned only for himself and his desires. He hates the successful, for it reminds him of all that he lacks.

3. He is self-centered lazy and lacks any self-discipline. That is the root cause of poverty. It takes self-discipline to work day after day after day.
4. So the sluggard is halak; a vagabond. The conquest; the armed man.
5. A strong work ethic is anathema to him; he cannot conceive of it. It has been developed in him. He develops this in his soul.
6. The sluggard proposes that the world owes him a living. The sluggard socialist. His mentality is, someone else will take care of me. He expects something else to take care of him, like the government. The taxpayer pays the bill. He continues to fall into a ditch of his own making. He ends up foolish and dependent upon others.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/4/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:11 ...and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

We have become a victim society. And people, later in life, continue to be victims of their childhood. If you cannot find a thing to be a victim about, someone can probably find a way to call you a victim.

The sluggard is not a victim; he is not a victim of circumstance. He is not under low wages, or racial discrimination or climate change or war or bad home life; or any other excuses that society might give. Some of those might be contributing factors; and some may be defined as poverty.

The sluggard is not the victim at all. He is the sluggard, not willing to work, not willing to put himself out there, not willing to overcome handicaps or other difficult circumstances. It is just too hard for them to reverse course. The sluggard wants someone else to do the heavy lifting for them. The sluggard continually makes excuses for himself. He did not have the opportunity to succeed; that he is a victim of all the circumstances. Especially those who bring themselves out of abject poverty.

What Does it Take to Escape Being a Vagabond?

1. This requires a change of thinking. The victim thinks like a victim; he blames everyone but themselves. How do you do this? It is not easy.
2. This change requires a spiritual renovation; a spiritual solution. You renovate your thinking based upon the thinking of Bible doctrine.
3. Then proceed to develop a hard work ethic. As doctrine changes your thinking, you begin to contemplate passages like we are studying. We begin to realize what the Lord requires of us. This country is one place where poverty can be overcome with hard work. You can live without being a sluggard. But the sluggard will not take advantage of the United States and the potential blessing.

The sluggard remains in poverty and need by choice.

How Should We View the Hard Work That We Are Mandated to Do?

1. Work is God's design and it originates at the fall of man. God's design and mandate should not be hated or despised. This is for believers and unbelievers. There are plenty of sluggards among believers and unbelievers.
2. We have no right to dislike work or to shirk it or to remain unemployed by choice. Many people today have just stopped looking.
3. We must actively seek employment, even if it is not readily available; we must not give up. We do not throw up our hands and say, "Everyone else is on welfare; so why not me?"
4. Even if the employment is not your desired work, the job you are most suited for and would be the most interested in. You still do it.
5. You still remain employed, like it or not. You can look for new work while still employed.
6. It is never right to not work. I don't like my boss or my fellow employees. Never wise not to work. Not working while looking for your right job can easily become an excuse not to work. Pray, seek, knock. The ant knows that working is necessary to work to survive. No different for mankind. Work is the mandate of God; and a part of his plan. Divine wisdom demands you work; and you work with a great attitude.
7. We do our jobs as unto the Lord. That should preclude a bad attitude. We are always in His service wherever we are.
8. That is the greatest prosperity in the Christian life; being in the Lord's work in life in general. The real prosperity or life is the Christian life; that is the greatest life of all.
9. Service to God, which is divine good, is the source of the greatest and most awesome rewards. You never know what kind of activities will present themselves in your everyday life. People have such bad attitudes at work. Some would rather be anywhere else.

There were a number of people at the cement plant from Berachah. One person would read his Bible on break; but then he began to extend his break into work time. That guy turned out to be a pastor and a pretty good one.

There is a book coming out the Bible doctrine dictionary. 10 years in the making. An amazing reference.

Bobby is closing this out. Solomon pursues the subject of the sluggard to its final and miserable end. Destruction and oblivion. Remember the surety; he leaves that undetermined.

Surety

1. The surety may escape the consequences of his act. There are ways out of that.
2. Solomon presents no such statement of relief to the sluggard who remains a sluggard by his own choice. It is a more difficult circumstance and more difficult to overcome.

3. Being a sluggard is an attitude driven by years of practice, habits and thinking.
4. Surety is a situation or circumstance which can be changed in a moment. Getting out of debt is not that hard, comparatively speaking.
5. The faulty attitude of the sluggard is much more difficult to subdue. It is not a quick process. If you look back, there has been a gradual shift of thinking. This is a day-by-day process. It does not change one's thinking overnight. It is like athletics. Whatever you are good at, it takes practice; lots of practice.
6. A change of thinking is the most difficult change that a person can attempt, if they even try. Many people are content to think the same way all the time.
7. How we think is habitual; a constant unless it is acted upon by a source greater than ourselves. People cannot change their thinking because they cannot get out of their own way. They get a self-help book and they change some minor things for a few days. But divine viewpoint can change you for a lifetime.

The doctrine of the ant becomes a reality in the life of a believer. One of the smallest creatures that there is, and one of the most hardworking. We see many in our nation refusing to work. There is no solution for such a decline. A great distance between the haves and the have nots. People used to come to our country to work hard; and today, many come to take advantage of welfare benefits. We have an increasing national poverty except for humanistic, social justice solutions, which are not solutions. There is no solution in that. Our society becomes more and more divided. We are seeing both pushing and pulling each other, green and need, pulling our country apart. The solution is spiritual. Exposes bad decisions, bad motivations and bad actions. This engenders a permanent change in life. This includes jobs which may be distasteful.

This is the very practical application of this chapter, money and its acquisition of same.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/7/2022 Wednesday

The topic is the evil troublemaker; and there are a lot of them anywhere you go. We can recognize some of them. We can see the obvious ones. The dishonest ones; the liars and cheats; and others who are not quite as easy to identify.

Sometimes we cannot help but interact with such types; they are unavoidable. Understand what your obligation is, what you can and cannot do with troublemakers. They are called worthless, wicked troublemakers.

Introductory Points

1. In this age in which we live, there is the question of the existence of evil at all. Many question whether that exists. This is surprising to us; but those who believe that have a humanist ideology.
2. They refuse to blame people or their decisions or their actions.
3. In their view, there are only manifestations of evil which are blamed on environment and circumstances; but they do not blame people themselves.

4. In their view, there are external factors, beyond one's control, which cause evil to occur. For many of them, it is a matter of circumstances.
5. That removes the possibility of inherent evil in the heart of mankind. They cannot agree that the heart of mankind is evil. Again, it comes from circumstances and external circumstances. Logically, if there were other factors in life that could have prevented this great evil.
6. These few verses are the exposure of the evil that lurks in the mind of mankind. It is not external at all.
7. We all have a nature, a fallen nature, a nature that we inherited from Adam from the very beginning. When Adam sinned, we all sinned. It is passed down to all of us. We have a nature which produces a temptation to evil. We sometimes accept it. We are not inherently good as a people. This is why the humanist thinks that man could evolve into a person who is not a creature of war. The underlying premise is that man is inherently good. Fix the environment and life will be great.
8. There is not excuse other than our own will and the bad decisions that we make in the face of temptation and circumstances. We have no excuse.

Do we still commit evil as believers? Of course we do. We still sin.

Herein is presented the sin nature of man and its evil results. Only one person has been born without sin.

Proverbs 6:12 A worthless person, a wicked man, goes about with crooked speech,

They spread their perversity. They are worthless, wicked and perverse. These are all pejorative words. They are certainly despised by God.

There are five phrases: winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, points with his fingers, continually devises evil and spreads strife. This can be found in vv. 13–14.

The first three seem okay, pointing, winking and signaling. We have to keep these thoughts within the context. The second two phrases are unquestionably wrong. And prior to this, they are wicked, evil people.

The Five Phrases and Evil People.

1. All five phrases are characteristic of an evil person who is to be avoided. These are not to be close friends, spouses, etc. It is worrisome that someone with doctrine hooks up with such people; and most of the time, they are influenced in the opposite direction.
2. These three verses do point out various behavioral features by which an evil person can be identified. There are many other sub-categories.
3. These characteristics are ones that Solomon holds up as a warning to others.
4. These verses make certain controversial principles very clear.

5. There are evil people in this world who choose to be evil and choose to do evil. There is blame by others to just circumstances.

Proverbs 6:13 winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, points with his finger,

Proverbs 6:14 with perverted heart devises evil, continually sowing discord;

More Points

1. Where there is sin, there is evil. And some reject sin as a true Biblical action. How can you say there is no sin when it is all around you?
2. It is people, individuals who are sinners. Aren't we all sinners?
3. Sinners perpetrate all kinds of evil. So have we all.
4. Evil is the result of sin. People think that mental attitude sins do not affect anyone else. And they do affect other people. There are mental attitude sins which have the reactions of others.
5. Evil is the result of sin. Genesis 8:21 this goes back to youth. We have always had this nature. In Adam, we all die. Don't take this that evil is inevitable and you will always perorate evil.
6. It is not circumstances, it is not environment, it is not racism or any other external fact which creates sin and evil. It is us.
7. People themselves are depraved and we create the evil.
8. That is the Biblical picture of the fallen human race. Save the planet by not drilling for fossil fuels. It is impossible for man to live in peace.

When you are growing spiritually, you can resist some sins.

A thought began with Hitler that he became antisemitic. A lot of people sinning produces a lot of evil.

The satire of Joel Osteen's ministry. Many leave out portions of the Bible because it does not fit the worldview that they have.

Some passages are not quoted, like Romans 1:26. If you do not accept all of the Bible, you end up with evil. When we pick and choose, all we get is the result of human good.

If we inherently good and evil is all external, then there is no need for the gospel.

People know who they are; even if it is hidden from others. People can delude themselves with a facade of good works, but if you are honest, you know your own sins, weaknesses and failures. We know them, all of them.

How can the Bible condemn me or anyone? When we remove some Scriptures, it all becomes evil. You cannot hide sin and then encourage everyone. The gospel is the greatest encouragement.

When the Scripture says it, we are bound to teach it. Or how about marriage between one man and one woman only.

There Is a Sin Nature and We Do Sin

1. Scripture reveals the evil side of mankind. It has to. We cannot simply pick and choose. We do not get to redact what we do not like.
2. Scripture reveals the evil side and that character does not fit with the theorized progress of human evolution. But we are not.
3. Man is not getting better. That is what the humanist refuses to see. But how can you look around this world and say we are getting better?
4. Humanism becomes their only encouragement in life. Can you imagine being encouraged by everything going around you?
5. If they reject Christ, they must substitute; they accept only positive humanistic thinking.
6. Many prefer and uplifting message that man can save man. We cannot.
7. God is not paramount in their thinking. They are debates to the cosmic system and opposed to the Word of God.
8. Thus the divinely inspired Scripture is rejected as truth. All of Scripture is what God intended for us to know; and none of it should be excluded.

Bobby challenges us to listen to the news and see if you can spot the redactions.

Bobby notices the headlines. He looks at the headlines. Pastors battle skyrocketing pandemic. From a publication called Religion. The article coincides with what Bobby taught last night and tonite.

Many pastors do not want to be controversial. So they exclude portions of the Bible. They are actually teaching untruth. We like to compare Scripture with things that are taking place today.

What happens to us is, we become spiritually self-sustaining. We do not become dependent on circumstances in life. Teaching doctrine is a solution to individuals and... A staggering 42% of pastors have considered leaving the ministry. Bitter divisions about COVID and politics. Pastors are looking for human counseling, where they should be teaching that which makes the believers spiritually self-sustaining. We are in a real divided politicized world. Pastor feel pressured to take positions on every imaginable topic. Unprecedented numbers of pastors are thinking about leaving. Abandon their profession. What do they think they are doing? Why are they in the ministry in the first place.

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/11/2022 1Sunday

Eucharist September 11, 2022

But how can a man be just before God? (From the book of Job).

So many think, being nice and doing good things; being nice to one another.

Joseph came to buy grain in Egypt. Joseph's cup was placed in the sacks of grain. Soldiers were sent after them. They were brought back. "What is this deed that you have done? Don't you know I practice divination?"

the brothers did not know how to get out of this dilemma. But they could not; they stood condemned before Joseph. Only Joseph had the solution and the key and the authority to find them innocent. Unless Joseph showed mercy, could the brothers.

We are condemned for a sin which we did not commit. When Adam sinned, we all sinned. We all stand condemned before God. We also have a genetic sin nature inherited from Adam and we stand condemned before God.

Ultimately, the brothers were exhonorated, but not through anything which they have done.

The good news is, all men can be justified in the eyes of God. When a believer in Christ was justified, the believer receives justification before God. We must be acquitted and accepted as if we had kept the Law. The government may pardon a criminal.

the Bible is very clear and leaves no doubt as to the source of justification. Joseph's brothers could only be justified by him. They could not justify themselves.

The pharisees were listening to all these things and scoffing, and Jesus said, "You justify yourselves, but what you are is detestable before God." It is hard for man to learn that he is not capable of doing one thing proud selfish arrogant human nature rebels. It is pitiful to see men and women attempting to be saved by their own good works. If Abraham was justified by works, he has something to be justified by, but not before God.

Our righteousness is imputed by God. Abraham accepts what God does for him; Abraham is credited with righteousness. Abraham is found free from the guilt of sin and justified before God...not by what he has done. God acquits only those who are in need of it.

But to the one who does not work, but believes in Christ, his faith is credited to him as righteousness. God justifies the ungodly. Being justified by His grace, we would be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

There must be a basis for God declaring us righteous. Romans 5:9 much more than being justified by His blood, we would be saved by the Christ. The demands of God's righteousness have been met.

Christ became legally responsible for our sins. Through this substitutionary atonement, Christ provided us with His righteousness by taking upon Himself our punishment. God is free to justify the sinner. God is therefore free to impute His righteousness to us; and God is free to reconcile us to Him forever.

The Lord's personal righteousness is credited to our account. And this is not because we have earned or deserve it. It is never any self-righteousness that we add.

The resurrection of our Savior from the grave is the proof that our sins have been forgiven and the God the Father accepts from God the Son His substitutionary work.

We often do not comprehend the importance of the truth of resurrection. This reveals that God is for us. It is consistent with His Own justice.

Proverbs 6:12 A worthless person, a wicked man, goes about with crooked speech,

Democrats and Republicans find one another as being wicked and worthless. Almost everyone can agree that those who have gone down in history as evil or wicked. Others are so classified for being sexually immoral. Some wicked are arrogant concerned only with themselves, at the expense of family and friends. \

2Tim. 3:2-5 For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, proud, arrogant, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, heartless, unappeasable, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not loving good, treacherous, reckless, swollen with conceit, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having the appearance of godliness, but denying its power. Avoid such people.

If you get involved with such evil and criminal, that influence will certainly bring you down. Our passage defines specific characteristics. We are to stay away, avoid, shun. A worthless person is the one who walks with a perverse mouth, who winks with his eyes, who signals with his feet or points with his finger.

Beliyyal. The first word for worthless in v. 12. Bobby likes the translation troublemaker. The there is aven, the word for wicked.

Points on V. 12

1. Aven means, trouble, sorrow, wickedness, wrongdoer.
2. A grammatical point, because of its location in this verse.
3. The two adjectives are side-by-side, and they describe a person, one type of person. So they are grammatically parallel.
4. That means, worthless and wicked have the same basic connotation, even though they are different words.
5. We will call this person a Belial-aven man. He is directly connected to the evil of the cosmic system.
6. The cosmic system is Satan's system which opposes God in every step of the way. The cosmic system is evil.
7. It is a system of evil propaganda; lies and humanistic deceptions.
8. In other words, this is a person with a perverse mouth. One of the characteristics of the worthless wicked man.

A Description of this Person

1. He will speak the lies of the cosmic system to whomever will listen.
2. He is the counselor of evil and corruption.
3. He is the spreader of all that is anti-God.
4. He also has a malicious tongue filled with approbation and power lust.

5. He has a vicious competitive streak. There is competition in school, sports, etc.; but this person has a vicious competitive streak that is indicated by boasting and self promotion. They will tear down others as well.
6. He promotes self my maligning, judging and gossiping. Often they are hypocrites.
7. This is a firmly established troublemaker with a lying tongue who is also a false witness who utters lies; and a spreader of strife. 3 of the 7 abominations belong to this person. Lies, deceptions.
8. Overall, this perverse mouth is an agent of destruction. Sins of the tongue. Very concentrated.

We all occasional indulge in sins of the tongue; but this person does this regularly and constantly. We might find this person in certain positions of government. They lie to their constituencies. They maintain their power through deceptions and conspiracies. They stand against the rule of law. Anarchists, marxists, socialists. They attack Christians and Christian doctrine. They counsel ruin, and they dupe fools. He is a lying recruiter for the cosmic system. He is a herald of humanist propaganda. This may be done consciously or unconsciously. The Christian can have the same mouth; this is when the believer has no doctrine and no wisdom. This is not limited to the realm of secular society.

This is found in the denominations which incorporate humanism or syncretism. They will redact Scripture or they will try not to offend anyone. In essence, they are accusing God; and God sees it as degeneracy. Bobby is a reflector of God's standards. Our world is filled with such people who speak and teach lies. We see this in education today. There is a constant battle for the souls of children today. It goes on and on in our society. This all comes under the category of the perverse mouth.

Proverbs 6:13 ...winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, points with his finger,...

There is a wink between those. There is a malicious sign. But there can be an evil part to this. Sometimes an evil connotation as well.

The Wink

1. Winks is the Hebrew verb qarats.
2. It means, to pinch, nip, compress. It is the compression of the eye, which we call a wink. It is a bodily movement.
3. The wink is a type of sign language directed toward a coconspirator.
4. In this case. It is done as a sinister sign. A trait of the Belial-aven person.
5. This sign is a signal to others of a deception, which goes right along with others of the same persuasion.
6. It may be a signal of a disruptive plot, developed through a lie, through a perverse mouth.
7. A plan that is shared between one or two people which is deceitful and must be kept under wraps. A little wink; a knowing wink. Under the table. Truly a plot; injurious to others.

8. To any look or gesture that is put on; and is therefore, put on, a form of duplicity.
9. It is a way of making unpleasant hints or suggestions.

Solomon reveals in Proverbs 10:10 he who winks the eye causes trouble.

This is a parallel meaning to what we are studying. It designates a person who is a troublemaker.

This is a sneaky gesture. It is underhanded. It excludes those who are not cognizant of what activities are actually going on. This includes the person to whom the wink is directed. A sneak is a good word for this winker. This usually indicates some cowardly, backstabbing activity. We may have been the subject of someone like this. The person with the perverse wink. They might roll their eyes in disapproval. Little clandestine gestures. The others may see this and get the gesture. They hide behind some sweet facade and they present a righteous exterior. Many people are like this.

Others use their eyes to spy to find dirt on someone else. And when they find some violation that they are looking for or they make up something; and they wink when they say something and those who are in agreement agree. This conspiracy even in churches. We are in a church for spiritual growth. We should be encouraging; not backstabbing.

Mental attitude sins are sometimes projected by these signs. Churches have split thousands of times for a perverse mouth and a silent wink. So many troublemakers; those hidden sins, that can do so much overt damage to others. These winkers. They only look at the outward appearance. They locate others around them who also have a perverse mouth and they work together to destroy others. This is a part of the insidious character of the worthless-wicked person.

Today some say, everyone has some value. Maybe they are winkers in one respect and do good things on the other side. There are worthless people in this world. This describes who they are.

We are sinners with a sin nature. The only thing which takes us out is to grow spiritually and to utilize rebound. So many churches have split. Berachah has split up in the past.

Bob received many attacks in the past from the Belial-aven types. If you are the object of something like this, don't worry about it. Do not sweat it. Unless you decide to retaliate or you become their opponents doing the same thing. We can also ignore what they do and triumph over them by doing nothing in return. They are your protector. God is our rock. He does this through your soul.

All of these terms are going to be defined by the Thieme Bible doctrine dictionary. All in about 2–3 weeks. They have worked on this for 10 years.

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/18/2022 1Sunday

Bobby leaves Berachah Church 8x a year to teacher. Each group is unique and each one has a thirst for the Word of God as we do. He was in Michigan. There were some younger ones at this conference in Michigan. Many of those kids were 3rd generation of families a part of the Michigan Bible church. They have been brought up by their parents to love the Word of God.

Have you ever been called worthless, perhaps because you have repeatedly failed to do what you were supposed to. Were you a procrastinator. Some might be called worthless for not demonstrating good character. Or have you ever called someone a sluggard.

If you have never said anything like this, you may have thought it. Criminals may rightly be called worthless and even wicked, because of their criminal activities. Worthless is belial. The word for wicked is aven. Worthless and wicked. We can designate this one person based upon these two words with a hyphenated term. They can be called the Belial-aven; such a person being a scoundrel, good for nothing, etc.

This designation is elaborated on in vv. 12b–14. He is also described as perverse in his heart; he spreads strife. The perverse mouth of v. 12 is the person who seeks the lies of the cosmic system. Every part of the cosmic system is a lie, even if it reflects human truth. This person also has a malicious tongue. The perverse mouth also promotes self; gossips about others, maligns others. He is a firmly established trouble-maker. A lying tongue; a false witness who spreads lies. The first characteristic of this man is, he counsels ruin and to dupe fools without discernment and without wisdom.

The next character asdic. He winks with the eyes, qarats. In our context, qarats refers to any look or gesture that is put on, that is pretended, that is phony, that is divine establishment captive, Double dealing; even treacherous. It is a way of making unpleasant hints or suggestions a wink always includes two people. The person who initiates it and the one who receives it. This winking person represents a devious, secretive underhanded hypocritical dishonest person. The wink in Proverbs 6:13a is a sneaky gesture, which is one of the worst of words. That excludes those who are not privy to its means or activities. It is meant; the sneaky person hides the nefarious purpose that he is plotting. It is always inclusive toward the one receiving the wink. Sneak is a good description of this winker. He works behind this other person's back. Cowardly, backstabbing type. They often build up themselves and it usually indicates a signal of self-righteousness as well. We are both this way and we are better than anyone else around us. A special elevation in life. This is not a nice circumstance, as it may appear at first. The sneaky person is projecting something; mental attitude sins by their winking gesture.

These wingers are very arrogant. They are mean-spirited. They are inordinately competitive. They will best you in any way that they can. They are very superficial. Bobby is describing something which is very unattractive. These people are easily offended in the self-righteousness. So many people easily offended today. They are self righteous. They are better than those who offend them. So they gesture a lot. So many babies today in the realm of politics and culture. People are apologizing for speaking the truth. There is nothing in the world that should offend you. We understand the sin nature.

Bobby taught in Michigan the failure of David. It was an abject fear that led him to some problems in his life. There are many offended people in this world.

Bobby had a friend whoh was a sneak. It took him some time to figure this out. He learned this the hard way. They are the ones who betray confidences, allegiances, friendship. While using these confidences, they ingratiate themselves to other people. A backstabber, a hypocrite, a snake.

Teens who resent their parents and they hate the rules and mandates. These are designed for their future. They must have enforced discipline so that they might later apply self-discipline in their own lives. Their sneakiness cannot continue. It becomes a pattern, a habit in life. The rebels become snakes, making fun of their parents behind their backs, winking at their friends. Sneaking around against their parents' wishes. There is a steep price to pay for such a person's disobedient lifestyle. The parent is at fault if they do not explain the reasons for their rules. Teaching children this is teaching them what is right or wrong in life. You must also exhibit love at the same time.

Ephesians 6:1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.

Ephesians 6:2 "Honor your father and mother" (this is the first commandment with a promise),

This is a law that comes from the Lord. This obedience is of the Lord. Children do not come by this obedience naturally. Parents have to teach and exhibit authority-orientation. Something that few children are learning today. Sometimes using fair and loving discipline when necessary. This is something that many are not doing today.

Bob always said, "It hurts me more than it hurts you." Bobby did not believe it then; but he knows that is true now. Bobby knew that his father cared about him. Children do not come by this naturally.

Exodus 20:12 "Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. Deuteronomy 5:13

Loss of land and loss of life occurred as a result. The generation of rebels who faced Moses when he wrote this. Prep school does not substitute or replace doctrinal teaching at home.

Romans 1:28–30 And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done. They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips, slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents, we see these depraved minds over and over again in the streets of America. Slanderers, haters of God, those who reject Bible doctrine. Ignorant, hateful, boastful.

These Who Are Disobedient to Parents

1. These are the sneaks who give conspiratorial winks to their partners in crime in favor of anti-authority.
2. They appear to be obedient, but they are liars and hypocrites behind the scenes.
3. These are confused, depraved people who bow to no one in authority, not even God.
4. That is what anti-authority arrogance does. Teens are in the rebellion mode of their lives. Regardless of the outcome, parents must teach. There are plenty of winkers in this life. They are worthless and they are wicked.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/18/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:13 ...winks with his eyes, signals with his feet, points with his finger,...

We have so many sneaks in our society today. They have no integrity; they are sneaks, politicians who wink at their fellow legislators concerning their lies. We will hear all kinds of ideas, promises and lies. There are plenty of sneaks who do not mind saying one thing, and doing another. The internet is made for sneaks. It can all be done without being to identify the source.

Cat fishing. An example of someone who is very sneaky. The anti-authority children. Kids also are sneaky and they are bullies and they bully other kids. They do this in a way that cannot be seen. They exert control over other kids. They wink at others in their circle of friends, who approve of the bullying. They too are sneaks. Now there are cyber-bullies. And those with winking eyes as children who frequently carry this over into adulthood. They continue winking in their office cliques, church cliques, social cliques. The winker is a self righteous person, who often takes offense at anyone who challenges them. They are winking trouble-makers. They insinuate things which are not true. The winking is done silently; with deadly overt results, although it may not be seen.

These winkers are mimes, using body language of ridicule, and they attack with attitudes of contempt, inordinate competitiveness. These are the Belial-aven persons. They bring pain and suffering to all in their periphery. In their misery, they like to see others in the same misery that they are experiencing. They feel better about themselves in a moment. It cannot last. They are miserable people. They can only get so much juice out of making others miserable. They are so familiar with the subject; they live in it; they wallow in it.

My son, avoid these winkers; they are not your friends. If they ridicule others to you, then they will ridicule you to others.

On the one hand, they wink to you; and at the same time, they wink to ridicule you. Character matters a great deal when it comes to friendships. Especially the close relationships. A way to failure in life is bad company. Who are your kids hanging out with. Bad company influences bad decisions, and bad decisions limit future options.

Then the Lord saw that there was wickedness on all the earth...

Maybe other pastors should remind their listeners, rather than just encouraging and uplifting, they should make their listeners aware of those who will do harm. The health and wealth gospel; God will give you your heart's desire, if you just do what He wants. God gives you His plan, whatever this entails in His service.

Pastors should preach this simple proverb. The one who winks his eye produces evil; and the one who knows him should depart from him. When he is with you, he will speak to you with great flattery. In the end, the winker will slander you. He is your enemy because he leads you away from the spiritual life to whatever else that person is into.

Especially people traps. They can be the worst of traps. You do not recognize those who point and wink. All pastors should have a little Solomon in us. And we should know that there are evil people who mean us harm. Everything is not going to be rosy and happy. Our life is not exactly what you want; but it is what we want when we reside in the plan of God no matter the circumstances.

The spiritual life is not outcome driven. It is attitude driven. It is not about good or bad circumstances. It is about a relaxed mental attitude toward life and the application of wisdom to life. It is your attitude toward life regardless of the circumstances.

Adversity is inevitable; stressing out is optional. You need to have the attitude of the spiritual life. We can deter...

So many people who think that you feel something and that is the driving of the Holy Spirit. The mechanics are necessary. So many do not know that this is a way of life. They are woefully ignorant. They are not taught. They do not know the spiritual life. It is all about how they feel and the outcome.

The great heroes of the Bible. The great men and women of the spiritual life. Lives filled with difficulties, yet they have a message of hope and blessing. Moses 40 years of adversity and people teaching. David had monumental failures in his life bringing difficulties to him. Hosea, who had to marry a prostitute. Isaiah had to preach to an entire nation about their downfall. Esther and what she went through. Being brought into a harem and the dilemma of the destruction of her people. Paul lived through tremendous difficulties.

We have the ability to live through adversity and do fine. Our lives are attitude driven.

Now we understand the winking of the Belial-aven type. What about their feet? He also signals with his feet.

Proverbs 6:13b ...signals with his feet, points with his finger,...

The feet are the instruments of moving for a person. They indicate activity.

Signal Is Malal

1. Literally, malal means to rub, to scrape.
2. Scraping the feet is a sign or signal that the feet make. It is a sign or signal of the Belial-aven type.
3. It is the sound that the feet make when moving over a surface.
4. Thus, the Hebrew lexicon suggests that he speaks with his feet, by its movement. What does that mean with regards to evil? What do the feet say? Obviously, Solomon tells us that the feet of the troublemaker has a message that we need to be aware of.

What Running Means

1. We can clarify the meaning by going back to Proverbs 6:18, feet that run rapidly to evil.
2. This is the signal that is exclusive to the feet. It cannot be understood in any other way than the feet.
3. This is how the feet speak to us. They run, in a certain direction.
4. In this case, toward evil. The feet always move toward evil; toward worthlessness.

Final Points on Feet

1. It is a rapid movement, immediately attracted to and swiftly pursuing trouble.
2. This is a person quick to follow the lusts of his sin nature. This is all manner of evil. They run to any of it.
3. Their life will be characterized by a lack of self-restraint.
4. They have a strong inclination for inciting defeat, treachery and wrongdoing. A quick march to trouble.
5. Wherever there is trouble, that is where they show up.
6. They rush headlong into sin. Always looking for trouble to stir up or to be involved in. They want others to be followed. They are like organizers like a mob, inciting the mob to a feverish pitch. "Here is the cause," and the cause is evil. We have seen a lot of this. Inciting and moving toward evil. Leading them to a mindless activity that they would never consider. They are stirring up trouble. They are anti-the rule of law. They are destructive. They are the consummate quick troublemakers, always moving in the wrong direction. Always away from the spiritual life.

7. So many people who have been positive toward doctrine have followed feet that which run to evil and they go right with them. Others are led by them, and they don't know where they are going. They have left their spiritual life behind. Solomon: do not follow those feet!

You need to have discernment in order not to follow such feet.

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT    9/18/2022 Wednesday

The worthless person, the wicked person (Belial-aven). Solomon in vv. 12–14 is warning his son to stay away from this sort of person. And so should we all. Solomon knows to do this is a recognition of such a person's qualities and characteristics. We need the discernment; we need a criteria to exercise discernment. Solomon uses 7 descriptive phrases, so that anyone paying attention knows to avoid such a person. He will give you much more trouble than you reckoned for.

Recognizing Such a Person

1. This is the one who speaks the lies of the cosmic system. He is a liar; with a perverse mouth. You can turn on almost any newscast to see the mouthpiece for the cosmic system.
2. This person has a malicious tongue that maligns, gossips and judges others. That is perverse and he is nasty.
3. He counsels the paths to ruin. Unable to distinguish the path of unrighteousness. This is when you cannot find the path of the spiritual life.
4. They have no wisdom to distinguish such a one. If you don't stand for something you will fall for anything.

The second characteristic is, this guy winks with his eyes.

Winking

1. Winking is a message being passed, a secretive gesture between two knowing conspirators.
2. Therefore, in this context, the winking person represents a devious, underhanded, hypocritical, dishonest person. Also a sneak.
3. The sneak hides whatever nefarious purposes that he is plotting. Never out front; always hidden.
4. He works behind another's back. Who has not had such a person behind them.

Teens are often sneaky; and they will sneak away to places which are potentially harmful. They associate with other sneaks. They sneak out to find those same associations. Certain politicians wink at their co-conspirators as they sell others on their fakery. A lot of winks and a lot of empty promises. If you have enough discernment, you know they cannot keep these promises.

The internet is made for sneaks and bullies. Wherever there is a group of like-minded, self-centered people; they are the winkers who insinuate things which are not true. They reveal their own mental attitude sins. You take part in this when your sin nature moves in the same direction.

The Third Characteristic Is, *He Signals with this Feet.

1. Feet are the mode of movement for each individual person. An army moves on its feet.
2. So metaphorically, the person reveals himself by the movement of his feet.
3. This is a person who quick steps to evil a double-time march.
4. Proverbs 6:18 he has feet running rapidly to evil.
5. The feet follow the lusts of the sin nature to all manners of evil. The feet direct the direction.
6. Wherever there is trouble, that is where the feet make haste to show up.
7. They rush headlong into sin, always looking for trouble to stir up.
8. They tempt others to follow. "Follow my lead" or "follow in my footsteps." There are so many with this type of running feet.

Marxism thrives where people are moved by the evil philosophy of revolution. The emotional dupes; the loss of freedom; and so many believe that if we could just institute this system, that we could make it work in this country. It is a flawed system; a humanistic system that will never work.

Socialism is just a slightly less viral form of communism. The socialist believes in the collective; and it rejects individual freedom. Our nation is being stirred up by trouble-makers in order to gain and maintain power. They divide and they destroy as they go, whether they know it or not. Such is the dilemma that we face as a nation.

A call for consensus is misleading; they want divisions and chaos and separation. They believe that the United States is an evil nation.

Their fundamental truth is, everything is relative; there are no absolutes. The means that they use are justified as a means to an end.

Bobby was talking with Gary Watson in Michigan; the conclusion being, as believers in Jesus Christ, advancing, we have a front row seat, a rocking chair to watch all of it unfold. We can see exactly where the feet are running or where they are going. We have a front row seat to history; so we can enjoy it.

There are Belial-aven even in church congregations. They are also very quick on their feet to stir up divisiveness in church congregations. Some want to get rid of the pastor or others in leadership positions. We do not run to activism; we should be running to Bible doctrine; and the Belial-aven types run away from it.

If you know history, we know that we have one slaughter after another taking place. And we are not involved unless we are soldiers, airmen or seamen.

These are emotional types, and they want to be emotionally reinforced.

Believers can also get involved in so many things. But when you are involved in these movements, this is syncretism; doctrine mixed with something that is humanistic. Believers can also be involved in criminality. The ends never justify the means. They're quick to acid discord among believers or in the nation at large. Their fast movements give the gullible, those who are ignorant, without wisdom, without considering the motivations feet running to evil is thoughtless movement. Their legalism fits well into the category. These people can be readily identified by their feet; and should be avoided.

Fourth description: who points with his fingers. No doubt, you thought of the one-finger salute. The pointing is not a vulgar momentary burst of emotion toward someone who irritates you.

What Does Pointing Mean?

1. The Hebrew verb yarah. That is how it is translated
2. It usually means to throw or to shoot as an arrow.
3. You want someone to pay attention.
4. Some gesture with the fingers.
5. As a metaphor, for revealing a cogent point for argumentation
6. They are in some way instructing you, pointing it out.
7. Yarah also came to mean to teach; pointing something out.

1. The trouble maker is pointing directions down the road.
2. Thus pointing is a picture emphasizing the trouble that he
3. Leading the way.
4. Not only that, but teaching the way of trouble, which he is all too familiar with. You learn a subject much more if you instruct in it.
5. He wants to run to it and take others with him.

Bad company wants to lead you in the wrong direction.

There is a pointing away from the spiritual life. Even if this has a good reason. When you point, you are pointing in the wrong direction; and you are also setting aside the spiritual life in order to follow these wrong things in the wrong direction. Be careful that the one you marry does not push you in the wrong direction.

Aren't we all searching for happiness. But this is beyond the ability of others to resist. It can be very subtle.

1. The finger is deceptive; will packaged for sale. Very attractive.
2. Because so much of the temptation seems so innocuous, so every day, so normal, so conventional in the time in which we live. It is even more subtle. It is also so accepted by society. It has become so mainstreamed.
3. It is promoted by much of society.
4. Anything that relegates the spiritual life to second place or third place is cosmic system thinking. Are you strong enough to resistg.?
5. Discernment and wisdom are necessary in order to resist that wrong direction.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/19/2022 Thursday

The wicked man points with his finger.

The Air Force academy has abandoned the words man and dad. In the Bible, the masculine gender is used, when the reference is to both genders. The word to point is to stretch out the hand for the purpose of pointing.

The Finger Pointer

1. Pointing is a figurative picture, emphasizing moving to trouble down the road and to a place of trouble, in the direction where the fingers lead.
2. So not only pointing toward this place is this person, but they are teaching the way of trouble, which he or she is all too familiar with.
3. Thus, he is quick to point out trouble and quick to run to that trouble and even faster to accompany anyone who would go with him.
4. The finger pointer is the recruiter for the cosmic system. He is recruiting; the leader in humanist, anti-God, anti-divine establishment propaganda. It is a propaganda mill; it is the mill that spins evil. With think of Satan and his plots as always evil, terrible. Satan's plots and machinations is often designed for hood. This is his world and he wants to govern it; he wants to rule in the place of God. He wants to show that he is capable of ruling like God. But everything that he tries, every scheme, always ends up evil and a failed attempt. This finger pointer is a recruiter for this system.
5. He can be very convincing; his fingers are very convincing fingers because his attractive lifestyle points the way. That is hard to resist.
6. He is also a charismatic example.
7. He knows very well how to connect with the trend of our sin nature. He is an expert at it. He knows how to point the way; he knows what your weaknesses are. He takes advantage of them.
8. His directions are hard to exist. He presents such an agreeable charming exterior; happy circumstances. That reflects Satan's exterior. These are a facade; they are not real; they are not true.
9. That is the incidious and deceptive nature of the cosmic system that this finger represents.

Doctrine points in the opposite direction. It points to wisdom. To doctrinal decisions. Once you are led away from doctrine, there is no other way to go than the direction of the pointer. It must not be ignored or put aside, even if these are legitimate pursuits that are necessary in life. Making a living, recreation, raising a family. But anything that relegates the spiritual life, whether legitimate or not in the human realm. This does not make any of these things wrong; it is simply a matter of priorities. The spiritual life enhances every area of life. The spiritual life is the attitude for that routine of work.

Discernment is necessary to resist the pointing finger. Without this discernment, we will follow the Belial-aven person.

The Belial-aven Person

1. The Belial-aven person will send the naive, the ignorant, the unsuspecting; or a willing subject in the wrong direction. He will give them bad directions. Your GPS is all screwed up.
2. And he will teach the fool the ways of evil. It is not only direction, but it is instruction of how to get there.
3. He initiates the gullible into a perverse world.
4. Or he will reinforce that wrong route.
5. The finger pointer will participate in the ruin. Partners in crime, if you will. They don't just say point; they say follow me.
6. That is where the feet running rapidly to evil combines with the pointing finger, the result is inundation in the cosmic system.

The Meaning

1. The troublemaker's fingers call attention to what should have been left unnoticed and untried.
2. The finger is suggestion at its worse.
3. This is a choice. The finger points out a phost of pleasures; and they become bad choices. Those choices are not easily overcome or removed. It is not easy to retrace on that road.
4. When the soul takes in the garbage of the cosmic system, it is not easily emptied or scrubbed.
5. Doctrine will always accomplish recovery. It will always put you back on the right way. It is a painstaking fight against a pattern of the sin nature which you do again and again.

The worthless-wicked one is the road sign to evil and wreckage. He points the direction of your weakness; the direction your sin nature wants to go. Our sin nature is susceptible. As an example, we might think of children who are experiemtning with narcotics. The parent knows the possible results of this experimentation. The kids may justify it by saying, everyone is saying it cool. The friends point the way to a train wreck. They think, why not follow them. What harm would it be to try it? Bobby saw many of his friends who wanted to become part of a group. They were willing to. Peer pressure. The fool points the way and the fool follows. There is always the possibility of addiction; and there is always the possibility of fetal. Drug addiction is epidemic today. It is a finger pointing in a certain direction that kids are willing to follow.

The soul emptiness. Drugs, alcohol, and sex, which follow the same pattern. It may be called recreational, which is a misnomer and a lie. None of it is recreational it is destructive, no matter what it is called. And all other pleasurable things become more pleasurable after taking drugs. Pleasurable destruction is pointed out. Why shouldn't I grab that pleasure; it is so commonplace today. Single parenthood is the norm.

All of this is seen in the movies all of the time. Society promotes random sexual activity. And it has become the standard for identifying love. Many people get married because the sex is good. All of this is evil pointing for repercussions in life. Many who go down this path of addiction either do not return or it is a long time for them to come back from their addiction.

1. To reject the direction of the sign posts of the cosmic system highway. But that takes something. It is not easy to do.
2. It take prior knowledge to identify the highway and a prior knowledge of Bible doctrine to have discernment and wisdom.
3. The soul filled with subjectivity and emotions is a soul in danger of falling for self-centeredness.

Bobby wonders if Solomon explained this stuff in greater detail. These are great metaphors; they describe how easy it is to make a bad decision and to go down that way.

Too many Christians neglect and ignore that guidance of Bible doctrine. It is easy.

The staff said, do not mention any pastors name anymore. Too many do not teach Scripture; or they leave out scripture that they don't want to cover.

Outside pressures from the cosmic system that we all face. It leads us into bad decisions.

Making the Right Decisions

1. Show strength of character when you are under pressure, even when you must stand alone—especially today. When you are steeped in Bible doctrine, you stand out. How you think and what you say stands out.
2. That is developing moral courage. It is the ability to make good decisions, even when no one else does. To stand alone. You develop an inner happiness. Bible doctrine or the wisdom of divine establishment. A client nation has a lot of divine establishment.
3. That development of moral courage is a must for living the spiritual life. It is the result of the spiritual life.

The spiritual life is making the right decisions. Moral courage and is the right approach to cosmic system temptation. Those who say, "I need someone to be with me because I cannot stand being alone." Loneliness can be particularly difficult, especially being away from Berachah Church. There is very little like-mindedness the families of believers have to take up the slack and teach truth; and let the Lord handle the rest. Loneliness often points you in the wrong direction. Otherwise, you will follow a finger somewhere and it won't be good.

Kids will have many invitations to make bad decisions. But there is that alternative. There is misery and discontent leading to more bad decisions.

Bobby saw 30 or 40 kids in the Michigan conference. That is a positive sign. That is pointing a finger in the right direction.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/25/2022 1Sunday

The most obvious of the 3 descriptions of the worthless, wicked man. He winks with the eye (deception); his feet move in the wrong direction, that people follow; and the one who points with his fingers. He gives a direction to go. Someone, a friend, an acquaintance, a family or anyone else associated with you, can direct you toward the evil thoughts and activities of the belial-aven person. There are many things in life that we might enjoy, like making a living and recreation. Anything that distracts from the priority of the spiritual life, is someone pointing in the wrong direction. And certainly any susceptibility to any of the temptations of the sin nature. Not only is this person pointing the way to a worthless wicked attitude; as a road sign to trouble. They present a picture of a pleasant, enjoyable lifestyle. It seems to be an attractive lifestyle, but it is a facade. Push the gullible into his perverse world. The Belial-aven person points the way and leads the way. The one who follows this course has no resistance.

A prior knowledge of doctrine through spiritual advance. That is our only resistance. A soul in danger of succumbing to the pointing finger. Too many churches are not providing enough information to resist the pointing finger; in fact, so many point the direction out with the church's finger. Hence reversionism characterizes following the finger. The cosmic system recruiters. That pressure produces emotional instability and leads to bad decisions and bad actions. Children are the most susceptible. We are paying a terrible price for 2 generations who have been pointed in all sorts of wrong directions. Going down these wrong roads can have lifetime effects. The danger of peer pressure leading them, rather than their parents or an adult with good standards. We see this in the breakup of the families; the destruction of the 2nd and 3rd divine institutions. Children grow up with no one who is an adult to guide them. They get involved in all sorts of problems and pressures. Or parents who do not teach. It is parents who must teach authority orientation today; along with love. These are the things which must be taught. This must be done in love. Such children follow the fingers pointing in the wrong direction.

Bobby was born into Berachah Church. As a teenager, he grew up in Berachah as well. He had some friends in Berachah, his teen friends at that time. Some of them pointed down to the road to drugs. The drug craze; the acceptance of drugs in society. These were kids in the church. They refused the teaching that they needed. Their parents were often preoccupied with other things. Or they were anti-doctrine themselves. Those kids had parents who were critical of the ministry at Berachah. So the kids rejected it as well. They were more interested in what others teens were dealing with at the time. Bobby can think of 4. One addicted to heroin; one became homeless and died in the streets; one committed suicide, one messed up his mind with LSD. All of them were believers in Jesus Christ, but they did not have doctrine in their souls. They took the road to disaster and that is exactly what Proverbs 6:16 says. The finger pointed down the road to disaster.

We all know that some kids will try things. It seems inevitable and there were so many things to try. So many fingers pointing to so many evil opportunities. Those with discernment, who follow the fingers pointing towards Bible doctrine. If they go the wrong way, they will recognize the doctrine which is in their souls. There are people in this congregation who followed the right road as a result.

Doctrine always points in the correct direction of living the spiritual life. Problem solving devices overcome any bad decisions while maintaining spiritual momentum. Those who don't know any of the right ways; the fingers point to garbage and that is the direction in which they go. They follow the lead of the strongest troublemaker.

Some grow up this way; and they have no proper direction. Watch the election to see where the finger is pointing.

It is okay to walk into your child's room and check it out and find out what they are doing. Until they are trustworthy, you have to keep an eye on them. You have to explain what you are doing. Teach applied wisdom to them.

When you exhibit your authority, you also show them love. Let them understand that this is all about love. They can understand it. Without an explanation, there is no learning process.

If you reveal that you have wisdom, then people will look to you for wisdom and guidance. That also provides a meaningful way to provide the gospel to those who recognize this in you.

They will use the spiritual resources which you have and then make good decisions based upon spiritual strength. From 1965 for a few years, sat in the teen class, it is a perfect example of how to lead very impressionable kids with Bible doctrine. This is the warning of Proverbs 6;13.

Believers sharing the happiness of God is a problem solving device. This continues to grow as the believer grows. Not affected by circumstances. In the world, circumstances drive happiness; and in the spiritual life, doctrine in the soul is the key to happiness.

Finger point is a way used by politicians to blame others. Bobby hopes we have the discernment to know who is truly at fault; or what about the problems themselves. Pointing the way is the direction to the problem. The problem is, where does it go. Cosmic system is great discontent; for the Christian life, happiness is not maintained by circumstances. As in, you will be happy if you have this or do that. For the believer in Jesus Christ, happiness is an attitude. It is sharing the happiness of God.

Teens are so impressionable; and they are so confused about what brings real happiness and what happiness is. And so they search for it in many different ways and many different ways. For teens, it does not come from parental disobedience (which some think that is key to their happiness). They too often just follow what their friends do so in rebellion. It is not the road to their independence. It is not the life of permanent happiness or contentment, but it is the way of turmoil, beginning at a young age and it carries over into adulthood. No authority-orientation is a difficult attitude to overcome. It starts early and it starts in the home. It begins with the authority of the Word of God. This is the divine norms and standards implanted in the soul. We have it when it is implanted there. When the bad decisions begin to mount up, then we have that to fall back on.

There is the entrenched notice that the right circumstances or people will make a person happy. This is indicative of the thinking of teens and some adults. This is the person who follows the belial -aven person.

True Happiness

1. True happiness is not made or manufactured by us.
2. Happiness is a persistent attitude in life derived by spiritual advance. That is the only way for true contentment. It is all in the soul.
3. The believer should never confuse real happiness with various stimuli in life. Real happiness is not about stimuli. They might be enjoyable for the moment, but they do not sustain us in day-to-day living.
4. These things are fleeting and temporary. They are dependent upon fun or exciting events; or outward conditions. It is stimulation; momentary. Such a search often finds the opposite of what was intended. No doubt that stimulation and pleasure are a means of temporary happiness; but they do not take you through anything in life.

The cosmic system has no spiritual life. It offers nothing. It is simply based upon conditions in the world. What can Satan do or foment. Nothing to do with a spiritual life. Counterfeit religion is still dependent upon conditions. Christianity is not about the conditions around you; but we have a relationship with God. Satan's propaganda is something that we see every day: money, public acclaim, material things, sex, travel, health; the roads to happiness. Every one of those is false. What is your attitude with day-to-day living, despite all of the things that we have or do not have. What a frantic, futile search that is. They become weak, confused and unstable, susceptible to the whims of that person. That is not the way to possess real happiness. A release of...? You can only be stimulated for so long. Then it is, move on to the next party, the next event, the next objective. But happiness becomes elusive as the stimulation decreases. That is when the disillusion begins. Those things no longer deliver happiness. There will be too much downtime of no stimulation, no parties; and they find the details of life empty. So the searchers just face the unexciting routines of life. No stimulation there. The search goes on, ever more frantic in the same direction.

Stimulation, routine, stimulation, routine. That is not happiness. Most of life is routine. The spiritual life is the source of true happiness in life for the believer.

Jesus Christ demonstrated for us the idea of happiness of the spiritual life. He was alive for 30 years; He had routines in life. He had happy times; stimulating times. Fixing our eyes upon Jesus, the Author and Perfecter of our faith.

Ironically, the very things that appear to be happiness, are the very things that can make a person most unhappy. This is often demonstrated by those who have much, but are desperately unhappy.

How many Hollywood stars have everything, and they are miserable or they commit suicide or they get into drugs. They are empty, even though they have fame, fortune and anything that they want.

You carry true happiness in your soul, wherever you go. Circumstances do not make you happy; attitude makes you happy. It is not the power of positive thinking, as some pastors teach. It is all about your spiritual advance. That is where your attitude comes from.

So many believers have the security of eternal life; but so many of them grope through this life just like an unbeliever. They go in whatever direction they are pointed to. A tranquility of soul characterizes the believer every moment in this life. Nothing in this life can equal that. Even if you had all those things. The working of the mature believers problem solving device to share the happiness of God. What else can be offered in this life that is better for the believer in Jesus Christ?

There is only one way to respond in the bad times; to sit on the porch of your house, a front row seat to what is going on in this country today...not to be upset, but to be interested in what is happening.

We have a few months of elections coming up; lies and promises. Watch it and it is a test of our spiritual condition. Our spiritual life will be tested.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 9/28/2022 Wednesday

The world is filled with worthless, wicked people. Based upon what we have studied in vv. 12–13. Why would any believer want to go down that road? Without question, it is attractive; it is attractive to many, including believers. It is a very tempting bait for any of us. Satan has many temptations. Satan will offer us money or anything. If money is a driving force in your life, pleasure, social life, sexual life—all kinds of stimulation. Inside the cosmic system, then they are Satan's tools. There are many temptations to lure us into Satan's cosmic system. Doing so is going with the flow. People have no idea what their purpose is in life. Anything that excludes the spiritual life is Satan's plan of the human race. Anyone, believer or unbeliever, can succumb to the temptations of the sin nature. It is a tough thing for those who are searching for some form of happiness in life; and they search for it. Happiness becomes a fleeting and a futile search. Happiness depending upon the circumstances or the person. People and circumstances can give us moments of joy, moments of happiness. True happiness resides in a persistent relaxed mental attitude in life. It has everything to do with your attitude in life. The believer should never confuse true happiness with the various stimuli in life. These things cannot sustain us in our day-to-day lives. Circumstances that make us happy are fine; but that is only intermittent.

The Search for Happiness

1. The search for stimulation in life, those things which make us happy, those things that give us joy—often the search finds the opposite of what was intended.
2. Without question, stimulation and pleasure provide the means for temporary happiness.
3. But those happy circumstances do not carry you throughout life. There is plenty of adversity which is adverse to happiness.
4. You can only be stimulated for so long; and then you must move on to the next party, the next event, the next thing to stimulate you.
5. In the meantime, happiness becomes elusive and it fails to satisfy. When we are truly stimulated, that is fun and it makes us happy. It can be a high; but there will be a low.
6. What a person seeks as happiness fails to deliver. The disillusionment with life follows. So many people who appear to have everything in life. Houses, cars, fortune, fame, all of it; and there are those who turn to drugs. Their social lives are a frantic search for happiness. And so many who see psychiatrists or commit suicide.
7. This is what brings on a frantic search for happiness. But in that constant search, there is going to be too much down time. No parties, no pleasurable activities in which we can find permanent fulfillment or satisfaction. People find that the details of life are not what they are touted to be so many think. If I could just be in that house, that ideal house. Inside can be found the routine of life. This will not be enough stimulation to suit them. The frantic search for happiness becomes more intense and eventually more depressing.

It is the routine that we spend most of our time in, that is real, true, persistent happiness. People have contentment because the contentment is found in their souls. That is the difference. That is the difference between the mature believer and the rest of the world. There is the attitude of joy. This happiness of God; the incredible enjoyment of stimulating activities and routine. This is called the happiness of God. It is available only to believers in Jesus Christ. So we should take advantage of that.

This world looks at Christians and decide that we are dull and there is no happiness because we are not doing bad things. We are learners of Bible doctrine. We think with the mind of Christ. Christ is a very interesting subject. Jesus had moments of great happiness during His life. Good times with His friends and family. This culminated in the most awful experience in history. Jesus never lost the contentment in His soul, not ever. It is the working of the mature believers problem solving devices which allows him to share the happiness of God.

Having the Happiness in the World

1. Sharing the happiness of God is this, the enduring state of inner peace, confidence and contentment that results from knowing God. Being inculcated with His thinking. We are to have His thinking.
2. As believers, we have available to us the very mind of Christ from the Scriptures. This is the most unique book in all of human history. It is not a textbook of science and history, although those things are in it. It is a textbook of God, composed over a millennia and 40 authors, and they agree on it. What is amazing is, it is divinely inspired. Any other way is just making up whatever. To know God is to love God in all of His attributes. This is the greatest life that we could know.
3. This is the same thinking which brought Jesus peace, tranquility, and contentment during His entire 33 year life on this earth, including the agony of the cross.
4. Therefore, this unhappiness is unrelated to any detail or happiness in life. Who would be happy on the cross? No one. Many believers were put in the collisium and torn apart by animals.
5. This is when the believer, having this contentment and happiness, know how to get along with humble means and how to lve in prosperity.
6. So Philippians 4:11–12 is a statement of contentment in whatever circumstances.
7. This inner happiness is described in 1Peter 5:8. An inexpressible joy. It is in your soul and you know when you have it.
8. It is experienced to the maximum by the believer who reaches spiritual maturity. That knowledge of the Lord is how we have a spiritual life. This is how we share the happiness of God. Contentment and satisfaction. Best demonstrated...spiritual autonomy.

Spiritual Autonomy

1. Spiritual autonomy is living by one's own independent thinking based upon divine viewpoint.
2. With divine viewpoint being paramount in our lives, the mature believer can can apply Bible doctrine. More consistently in adversity than adversity.
3. Spiritual autonomy strengthens the believer's self control and self-restrain and that word poise (which Bob taught Bobby). For years, Bobby would be asked, "How's your father?"
4. When Bible doctrine instructs and points the way to the plan of God, and believers depend upon it.

5. Doctrine points in the opposite direction of the cosmic system. Where the worthless wicked person points, Bible doctrine points the other way.
6. So that is the application of doctrine. Sharing the happiness of God; sharing the happiness of doctrine in all circumstances. In spiritual autonomy, we can share the happiness of God. It is ingrained in our souls. It is just who we are.

Poise, you don't fall apart, you don't break down. What a concept!

Bob was castigated for calling believers names, like reversionists. They are as likely to turn other towards evil as unbelievers.

Job 15:35 They conceive trouble and give birth to evil, and their womb prepares deceit."

Colossians 2:8 See to it that no one takes you captive by philosophy and empty deceit, according to human tradition, according to the elemental spirits of the world, and not according to Christ.

All the rules and regulations that they added to the Mosaic Law. They were the opposition to the grace of God. Paul knows about what he speaks, as we was a major legalist at one time.

Not according to the traditions of men.

2Peter 2:14–15 They have eyes full of adultery, insatiable for sin. They entice unsteady souls. They have hearts trained in greed. Accursed children! Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray. They have followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved gain from wrongdoing, reversionists have been pointed away from the Christian life. They are not taking in Bible doctrine as we are. It becomes less and less valuable; less and less important to them.

Satanic doctrines, the doctrine of demons, the demented path of Old Testament Israel. These passages can refer to national leadership as well.

Isaiah 3:12 Those who guide you, lead you astray, and take you down wrong paths.

This is a description of political leaders.

We are not evolving into better people. There will never be world peace. There is no utopia. God preserves the planet; we do not. Underneath all of this are people who want power.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

9/29/2022 Thursday

No class

At this point in our study, we have examined some horrendous examples of these trouble makers. We have combined two words, the belial-aven to refer to specific types. The most sinister, the most vicious and most malevolent is the false teaching of that future time of the Tribulation. The future dispensation of the Tribulation. This is the yet-to-be completed dispensation of Israel. The dispensation of Israel occurred prior to the 1st advent of Jesus Christ. When Israel in the Abrahamic covenant, that was the promise. They were the first client nation to God.

The Age of Israel began at the Exodus, when the children of Abraham left Egypt. This time ran to birth of Jesus Christ. Then, for 33 years, there is the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union; and now, we are in the dispensation of the church, which has gone on for 2000 years. No one knows just how much longer this will continue. When will this end? It will end when the Lord decides for it to end. Jesus will return to receive us; and then occurs the dispensation of the Tribulation.

We are going to study some of the worst Belial-aven types in the Tribulation. Daniel 9:24, when Israel was in Babylon, there was this prophecy. 490 years where God would allow for Israel. The very week of the crucifixion was the end of the 483 years, and there were 7 years remaining in the dispensation of Israel.

Palm Sunday ended 483 years. There are 7 years remaining on the dispensational clock for Israel. At the end of the Church Age, the Age of Israel will be continued and concluded. The 2nd advent is when Christ would return.

Jesus warned of this tribulational wicked teachers. They would guide many down the path of falsehood. For false Christs and false prophets will arise, who will lead astray, if possible, the elect or the believers. "But take heed; I have told you all of this in advance."

all Church Age believers will be present during this 7 years. No one knows the time that the rapture will occur.

Do not think that Jesus is about to come, and this will be our escape. We are not looking for a way out; we are looking for a way to serve the Lord. The rapture is certainly something that we look forward to. It could happen today; and perhaps 1000 years from now.

The Tribulation will commence with no believers in Jesus Christ at that time. Not a single believer on the earth. There will be no restraining ministry of God the Holy Spirit. No operational client nation at that time (1Thess 4:17-18 & 2Thessalonians).

Once the Tribulation starts, the first half of the seven years, there will be relative peace on the earth and relative prosperity. There will even be some religious tolerance. At the same time, there is tremendous evangelism at that time.

Mid-Tribulation, Satan and his demons will be cast down to earth; and they will go after the Jews. If Satan can destroy God's promise, then he can show God to be flawed. This is why Jews have been persecuted throughout history.

The final 3.5 years will collapse into the worst time of human history ever. One thing which makes it so bad, there will be wicked evangelists of Satan will be out in force. These attacks are mainly going to be toward believers. Those who point to evil. If you think there is false news today and false doctrine in churches; but this will be overwhelming. They will be blasting the world with false information. They are cosmic system pawns who point the way toward destruction. This will be utter destruction. The Lord will return and wipe them all out. Their false claims will be accompanied by charismatic words and miracles. Similar to those performed at the 1st advent. So the tribulational phonies will point their fingers in the exact wrong way. Yet all of the miracles will come from the hand of Satan and his demon-possessed minions. They will be hard to resist. They represent the great pleasures and attractiveness of the cosmic system.

They have failed to understand the doctrine which God has given; and these fools can be directed toward all things false.

What Lessons Have We Learned from this Passage?

1. We must refrain from being conduits of evil which adversely affect other believers. That is the great danger that we might become a propagandist for the cosmic system. Winking, walking and pointing.
2. Bobby is not urging people to become a legalist; or hypersensitive or highly judgmental. Or to use your voice and time to lead others in Christian activism.
3. Leading activism is tantamount to winking, walking and pointing toward the cosmic system. That is the great propaganda in the churches today.
4. Do not entertain deceit or hypocrisy. Propaganda leads to mental attitude sins. Much propaganda is based upon mental attitude sins. We will point the way for other believers to follow the wrong paths.
5. Your signals, your finger pointing, your influence on others must be by wise words, discernment, that derive from what we have been taught from Bible doctrine. From what is inculcated in our soul.
6. Do not direct others down the paths of humanism, the influencers of the rest of the world. We have no reason to point any believer down the path of humanism. We are far beyond that.
7. We must maintain divine viewpoint while rejecting human viewpoint. After all, what common ground do believers have with unbelievers? Or what harmony does Jesus Christ have with the cosmic system. We have nothing in common; we have truth and they have falsehoods.
8. We point the way to truth rather than the falsehoods of this world.
9. Do not become embroiled in the cauldron of mental attitude sins, which so easily encumber other believers. If you do, you cannot effectively use faith rest. Why do you want to turn those away... The cosmic system types cannot solve problems; or they solve them temporarily but things crash down on them. Our circumstances are based upon a new attitude in life. The change is who you are. We can live with a relaxed mental attitude. We can only preclude being influenced is to have truth ingrained in our souls. Using problem solving devices, and being led by the Word of God. This is becoming spiritually autonomous. Based upon our wisdom and discernment. We do not need the pointer. We know which way to go.

V. 14 continues with more obvious characteristic of the Belial-aven man.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/2/2022 2Sunday

The final verses about the belial aven person. 3 general descriptions of the troublemakers.

Proverbs 6:14 ...with perverted heart devises evil, continually sowing discord;

Initial Points

1. Solomon moves from the external conflicts to the internal ones.
2. He moves to the heart, which is the center of all this trouble making; treachery and wrong doing. The heart is the mentality of the soul.
3. The descriptioni of the heart, which is the center of thought and attitude, results in actions. The devising of evil.
4. It is perverse. That word carries a lot of baggage.
5. It shrouds the heart in darkness and evil. Satan's cosmic system. A heart of darkness.

Perversity is tah<sup>e</sup>pukôth (תַּהֲפֹּקֶת) [pronounced tah-h<sup>e</sup>-poo-KOHTH].

What is perversion. Very little today is thought today as being perverted. We think our freedom is the ability to chase after any perversion that we want. Freedom must have a set of standards in order to survive. Today, it is, do whatever you want. What feels good, do it. What feels good now, may not feel good later. There will be repercussions and that is natural. God turns them over to their own desires. It is a perverse, perverted dead end.

This coincides with pointing, and various other kinds of movement.

There are some perversions today that many would agree on. Most would agree that child molestation is the very definition of perversion; and sexual acts with a minor. Homosexuality is promoted today as being a viable lifestyle. Anyone with a negative positioni is slapped down immediately. Perverted acts of perversity all begin with a thought. All perversions begin in the mind of the person. They do not happen by happenstance. It foments in the mind over a period of time. Perverse imaginations; which is a lack of real standards. That promotes these perverted acts.

Bobby is told by others in the prison ministry, that the general predators never change their thinking or rarely change it. Therefore, they have these urges for all of their lives. These are the most incorrigible of criminals. They are the most devious of them all. A criminal profiler that Bobby has read. These sexual predators. It does not matter how much time they spend in prison. They are back on the hunt. Much criminality is based upon perversion of thinking. Our laws are often altered to remove certain acts as crimes, in order to make such thinking more acceptable. Eradicate crime by making it legal or by not enforcing it. That thinking is a perversion of justice. We are degenerate in many ways. We are degenerate in many ways. We are inherently fallen human beings. Those who control it are those who have standards to override these notions.

A perverse thinker is a person who thinks with the standards of cosmic thinking. Rejecting Bible doctrine and embracing humanism.

Going along with defunding the police promotes criminal activity; with no governance of law. There are some types of perverse thinking, which involves devising of evil.

Devising Evil

1. The nourishment of mental attitude sins like jealousy, malice, hatred, certainly stirs up evil and perversity toward others. This the precursor of devising evil.
2. This perverse heart carries us one step further in the annals of evil.
3. Now it is not just thinking but plotting and executing evil. Begins as a thought and continues as an action.
4. To devise is the Hebrew verb chârash (שָׂרַח) [pronounced chaw-REHASH]
5. We go from the thought to the plot to the action.
6. This is a plot resulting in some deed of evil. Thinking evil leads to wrongdoing. This is the one who has the perverted heart and devises evil; and then spreads strife wherever they go.

Devising Evil

1. Jealousy is often a reaction to someone or something. Or you don't like them because they have what you don't.
2. Bitterness often travels with jealousy.
3. They begin the devising of evil. Defaming activities. A wagging tongue; a slashing tongue.
4. Jealousy may lead to plotting the demise of another person; gossiping, lying, winking the eye and pointing the finger; maligning.
5. It is those sins of the tongue which intend to remove a person as a rival or as an opponent. You go behind their back to remove them in a perverse way. This happens where one person covets the success of another. Lawsuits are often filed based upon slander and defamation of character. Murder-suicide; an even worse outcome of jealousy and anger. A pure evil act of self-centeredness. There are many results of perverse thinking.

Another mental attitude sin, hatred of a person, group, or even a nation. Same circumstance of evil. Hatred is rampant today. It causes bodily injury to the object of one's hatred. This can be of an individual, a group or toward an entire nation. This can lead to many conflicts at home, in the military, or anywhere there are more than one person. It works out in actions. Hatred is an underlying cause of malice. Going postal is hatred. Hatred of another race is a matchpoint of violence. Hatred of Christianity results in violence. Marxist revolutions are fueled by hatred. This gives rise to plotting to destroy the nation and groups of people in the nation. This can be violence in the streets and the loss of freedom.

We must also remember that hatred can be an overused word as well, when it becomes used as a political tool. The real hatred is on the side of those who accuse others of hatred. Is there racial hatred? Of course there is. The result of such blanket hatred is the loss of freedom. The woke mentality. The Belial-aven of the political world. The list of mental attitude sins that devise and execute evil is endless. Evil devised from such a heart and carried out. His heart or her heart is a workshop to fabricate, to prepare the covenant of evil.

Thus, wherever the Belial-aven person goes, he spreads strife, he sows devisiveness.

Strife

1. Strife is the noun madown.
2. It means contentiousness.
3. So it fits with the understanding of thoughts of evil converting to contentious actions of evil.
4. That is provoking two parties to discord, argument, verbal conflict. Here we find the verbal abuse of society today. It may also convert to physical conflict and violence. Here is the process. This is exactly what we see today in our nation. This is the process of losing freedom and the nation. It comes from cosmic system activities. This defines politics today and their results. The politics of hatred. Contentiousness in the nation. It also leads to violence in the streets. It leads to general criminality and dishonesty in our society.

Bobby's wife tells him every dishonesty being the foundation for the lawsuits. They will go on the stand and lie to get it to pay it off. I want mine because everyone else wants theirs. Based upon hatred of those who have. V. 14 defines exactly that.

A question for the contentious saved for Wednesday.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 10/5/2022 Wednesday

This is very applicable, this study of wisdom; very applicable to our society today in the United States.

We have studied 7 characteristics of the Belial-aven person. The final characteristic is, he or she spreads strife; madown. The practical aspects of this single Hebrew noun today. There are so many things to explore today.

Madown

1. It means contentious.
2. It is contentious as an activity. Perversity in the heart and devising evil. It fits very well. The person a perverse heart is thinking evil.
3. Strife is converting those thoughts from evil to evil actions.
4. That means the contentiousness provokes two parties to discord, to argument, to conflict. Every day in our lives, there are verbal arguments. You can turn on any news and there are verbal arguments; and sometimes, this turns into physical conflict. This is a description of our national condition today.

This leads to contentiousness in our government, in politics, in economics, in ideologies, and among people in general. This is on many levels with many issues.

Who is right and who is wrong in their contentiousness? Both cannot be right. Only divine establishment and divine viewpoint holds the truth. All else is relative. Human viewpoint is relative. There is never wrong in divine truth. All else is cosmic system propaganda. Satan is the father of lies. His system spreads strife. The cosmic system is the definition of contentiousness.

What the political left spreads today, socialism and even Marxism is purely human viewpoint. Bobby will spend some time on this word as related to Marxism and socialism. It is all about human viewpoint. Marxism survives. It is an ideology of contentiousness. It is all about strife; it is all about striving. The political left is spreading that today. That contentiousness is the perverted of freedom. It is an attempt to impose that ideology with no dissent. The strife of humanism can never lead to the salvation and deliverance of the human race. That is the overall premise of humanism. Anything without God cannot save or deliver the human race.

The thinking of this Marxism ideology is translated into activities into separation type behavior. The greatest enemy of Marxism is Christianity. No good crisis is allowed to go to waste. That is the name of Marxism. You use a crisis in order to gain power and ascendancy.

Humanistic Strife as an Outgrowth of the Sin Nature

1. For these humanists, strife is good. We think of strife as being difficult and divisive. But for the humanist, strife is good. They are propelled to tyrannical power.
2. They believe strife can be used for the good of mankind. This is the opposite of Proverbs 6:14. Some want to use it for their own purposes and their own power.
3. The sin nature of mankind always precludes the result of good happening as a result of strife.
4. The sin nature itself, which we all have, as we are all in Adam. We all have Adam's nature. We are fallen therefore. All the human race is that way. We have a marked advantage. We can advance to spiritual maturity is a change of thinking. We grow spiritually and gain divine viewpoint. Strife is not our goal.

5. The sin nature is a nature of contentiousness and strife and Marxism cuts it loose. That is the brilliance of Marxism. They use our sin nature against us. This is why it will never succeed.
6. Likewise, the perverted thinking of Christians is manifested quite often in Christian activism. That translates to the divisive strife, the protests, the confrontational activities in the streets.

Abortion as an Example

1. Note the strife which has come out of Row v. Wade. It was just kicked back to the states. It has been a Christian activist crusade to appeal this law.
2. No matter which side you are on, Bobby is not trying to make the argument, there is no doubt that the fabric of the nation has been further torn to pieces over this issue. It has become a political football.
3. We see verbal confrontations, mass protests, assaults at an even higher intensity, and this is used as political ammunition. That is a result of the appeal; it is strife.
4. Strife over this subject has been going on for years. They used to blow up abortion clinics. Something confused Christians did.
5. We have a appearyric victory.
6. It appears to be a success but at an unacceptable cost.
7. What damage; divided even worse today. We have a church which has lost its true mission. Many churches have gone after political change, and this is a failure.
8. In fact, strife further divides and plays right into the hands of cosmic system thinking. There was a professor in Portland who attended every anti-abortion rally and he got arrested many times and it did no good.
9. Christian activism accomplishes nothing. We are not a political entity. That should not be our purpose.

When we attempt to change the world as attempted by Christian activists, they are in a free fall. There is no Christian growth happening. God does not honor such tactics of activism. There is no Christianity in it. The besmirching of the Lord Jesus Christ in a humanistic crusade. Does this attract people to Christianity? The is no doctrine in that. Even against the great Roman empire, Jesus was not an activist. He was not political. Jesus faced the Roman authorities; and they chased Him down; and they arrested Him.

The Lord's great enemy was the legalistic religion of the Jews, the pharisees and the sadducees. Only the spiritual solution of the cross could remedy that legalism. The humanist, the Christian activist is...

The Purpose of Christians

1. Our purpose as Christians is not to attempt to change the cosmic system. Many Christians want to change the evils of this world. This is putting the cart before the horse. Using humanistic means is the mistake.

2. This is not the road down which we should go. The Word of God defines our mission as believers. One man helped to end slavery in England; but this was not his thrust. He did not destroy the government or the church; but his focus was on the Greek language, stuff which we still use today.
3. Humanistic changes to the cosmic system are always an impermanent futile attempt. Only Jesus Christ is an eternal change. Only Jesus can effect a humanistic change.
4. We retreat from divine mandates if we are involved with humanism. So many people in this world think that humanism is the only alternative for the human race. To them, there is nothing else. They think that only humanism can change and fix the planet. Marxism is humanism. Bobby will explain to us how someone can believe that Marxists think that they can fix the world.

The world is filled with humanists; and they will never reach their ideals. They think that they will progress to a human utopia.

The Failure of Humanism

1. Thus humanism and those who want to reform the human race will fail.
2. It is inevitable. It sounds good; they have some good programs. People are not smoking as much because we convinced them not to. They have taken up drugs instead.
3. Humanism rejects God and Christ; they have to. They oppose God in every respect. Anything which is opposed to God is humanism. The human race has nowhere else to go except to reject God.
4. Humanism cannot overcome the sin nature of man; they cannot save mankind. They are promoting tremendous strife in order to get what they want.
5. Only Christ can change mankind. You have no way to change and nowhere to go except humanism.
6. God's plan both personal and for the church and for the client nation is the only real progression in this imperfect fallen world. God is perfect; His plan is perfect. When we follow His plan, we are on the right road.
7. God's plan is to change us from inside out.
8. Only God through His Son can change the souls of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Real change is not from activism. Real change is individual change. That is the only permanent change...what happens in your soul.
9. Humanism can never achieve permanent results for utopia for the human race. They can never reach this goal. All of those ecologists, they think that there is something that they can do to save the human race. They will never see the end of it. There may be a pyric victory.
10. In the end, it only produces evil results. The cosmic system has evil results because it comes from evil people.
11. Even if there is a temporary change, seemingly for the better, evil then just takes a different direction. That is what evil does.

12. Christian activism, although touted as sanctioned by God, still fall under the heading of humanistic change. How futile to try to change the cosmic system; that is your spiritual life? Get with doctrine and grow up.

God wants to use us in His plan; so we must get out of our own plan.

Humanity is not moving toward a more even-handed, coexisting society. How are people that dumb who think that Judaism and Islam will coexist.

The humanist philosophy is embodied today in the evolutionary ideal. Humanism permeates our society today. It was written by Karl Marx in the last century and it is embodied by the idea of thesis and antithesis. In summary, this is a method of strife.

Strife supposedly brings progress in the human race; it is an evolutionary process; a process of change. Bobby really wants to get into this. It is the very definition of strife today. We see this happening in our country today; and this is in opposition to everything that we believe. In the end, it will be a system of persecution of Christianity.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10//62022 Thursday

madown = strife, contentiousness. It is a Hebrew noun which encompasses so much real world application. There is war, power politics, and government, there is crime, there are those who strive to attain wealth, sometimes tremendous. There it is often swirling around us. As believers in Jesus Christ, we are in the believer vortex. Strife comes directly from our sin nature. The greatest strife will be in the future, the Tribulation. The very word speaks of strife. The history of the world ends with this terrible 7 years of strife, broken by a 1000 year reign of peace. Peace will be the order of the day; not strife. Before the final conflict.

At the end, the Gog&Magog revolution.

Human philosophy explores the nature of expeecine of the world. Any human philosophy; many philosophers. Any human philosophy must always take into account the conflicts and strife which are a part of human existence. We can classify this as pure humanism and of religion. John Locke who mixed some philosophy and religion. One of the most striking philosophies of pure humanism, which is diammetracally opposed to Christianity, and it is Marxism. It produces a government that we know as communism. The government that it fosters is communism. Human philosophy is just another system of human viewpoint or cosmic system thinking.

These and Antithesis.

1. Thesis and antithesis of a term of conflict. Marxism is all about conflict. They are a spreader of strife. Hegel, Engle and Karl Marx.
2. In summary, it is a method of conflict of strife, which Marx calls striving. From his view, the world is always in conflict, always in strife. The epitome of the spreader of strife. Today Marxism-socialism is being accepted in so many corners of America.

3. That philosophy will eventually engender a progress or moving forward for the human race. It is called evolutionary. It is about us becoming better, becoming more evolved.

Thesis and Antithesis

1. thesis and antithesis is a philosophical, historical human evolutionary advancement. The beginning statement is your thesis. The thesis tells the others where you are going or what you are going to attempt to do.
2. The negation of that thesis in Marxism is called the antithesis. A statement and the opposite of that statement. There is a place where they are and where one ought to be.
3. What is derived is a synthesis. Where the two ideas are reconciled. They form a new and better understanding. That is the progress. That is where it is; and you put these together and you have a progression.
4. This understanding is what is supposed to bring progress in the human race. This is all based upon strife. The progress is being born of strife.
5. The human race progresses to a higher and better level. We go to a better place, which is why this is called evolutionary.
6. So this whole theory of thesis and antithesis is solely a human method of viewing progress in the human race.
7. This is how man will reconcile all the differences. Synthesis is the way this is done.
8. By a continuing striving conflict, contentiousness, that will ultimately resolve all human differences; all conflict in the human race. This is the idea of developing a utopia; that all races get together. That there is understanding; equity in diversity. It is a Marxist concept. The thesis is the starting point of Marx's philosophy.

More Thesis and Antithesis

This is what is going on in our country today. They believe that their strife will save mankind.

1. Marxist philosophy is the antithesis of the deliving humanity from oppression. Did you know that you are oppressed. In Marx's view, there is class; and that class is brought about by capitalism.
2. What is the outcome? It is a revolution. There is the historical progress.
3. Moving from slavery to feudalism. Feudalism is a system of the Middle ages; which was all about... Part of Marxist theology is they are anti-God, anti-church to the core.
4. From slavery to feudalism to capitalism to communism.
5. Communism is a system of equity for all people. The great leveler. No more class. Racism is being used today.

6. Marxism is the goal. That is whole point of using racism. Can Marxism fix it? Absolutely not. This is the epitome of a humanistic solution. There is neither slave nor free in Christ Jesus. There is neither Greek nor Jew. That is who we are. The fallacy is, there is no real synthesis, but eventual capitulation to communism. Those who oppose it will be destroyed. There is only conquest and tyranny.

The result of a humanistic scheme is spreading strife. It become necessary to force its synthesis. And then it begins another cycle of... Eastern Europe were under the heel of Soviet Russia. They were oppressed by Russia. They went straight to capitalism. There were differences in wealth and classes. What is more impoartnt, tyranny or freedom? Equity or freedom? Marxism has persecuted Christians wherever it is found.

The unbeliever has the solution of a revival of divine establishment principles.

Principles

1. God's justice is handle to perverse thinking and the strife which fills the nation.
2. His discipline will be used for recovery. This is often our recovery.
3. The other side of that is, the removal of a client nation status, the downfall of a client nation which has become degenerate.

The imposition of...

The purveyors of strife. Such spreaders love to come between friends. The jealous people; they remove others by slander or by gossip. Or destroying unity. Every church has a few spreaders of strife.

Bob was very good about removing the spreaders of strife. They break up partnerships and marriages. The emblems of the problems of our nation today. Bobby wanted us to see the strife that we have today and where it comes from.

Marx launched one of the most perverted systems of government ever known. Antifa and Black Lives Matter are both pushers of Marxism. There are more and more socialists in Congress, being elected to bring this very system into our nation. There are maybe 10 or more congressmen who do nothing but spread strife.

We have develop the 7 characteristics of the Belial-aven person.

What is the result to the worthless wicked person, who fits this system. The terrifying results are found in v. 15:

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

People get so entrenched in humanism so that there is no healing.

Principles

1. Punishment and destruction of the wicket-worthless person, then you know there is justice in this world. There are complains about racial injustice and economic injustice. God's justice against the cosmic system. Vv. 12–14 is the system.
2. There is comfort and tranquility in the knowledge that the justice of God is always in operation.
3. Even when human justice fails, and it does; and when tyranny seems to prevail; and it often seems that way. No one gets away with anything. They get away with everything. No one catches any of them. The justice dept never indicts the right people. No one gets away with anything under the justice of God. The justice of God takes action when it interfere with His plan.
4. That is what the Belial-aven person is and what he gets for his trouble making.
5. Sins have repercussions, punishments. That is always true. No one gets away with anything. God's justice knows how to do it just right.
6. Great sins have great repercussions and punishments, both personal and national. Marxism is a great evil; and proponents of it are great sinners. They oppose everything that God is and everything that he does. This person who spreads malice and deceit, he will be destroyed.

When you see all of these injustices, sit back, relax, and watch the Lord work. It is beautiful. Whatever the justice of God metes out, it is perfect. This is why Solomon gives us these passages. "Don't get in the way of God's justice. Take heed; take the warning."

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/9/2022 1Sunday

Communion Service

The concentration is going to be upon the forgiveness of our sins.

Was forgiveness of sin delegated to the Apostles? Can men stand and proclaim the authority to forgive sins? Can a denomination pronounce people free from their sins?

John 20:23 Whose soever sins you remit, they are remitted to them; and whose soever sins you retain, they are retained.

Jesus commissioned His disciples to go throughout the world. And He provides them with the power to do this.

John 20:21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be to you: as my Father has sent me, even so send I you.

Joh 20:22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and says to them, Receive you the Holy Ghost:

Is there anyone living today who can prove that he is in the apostolic succession? Will he has jurisdiction over other men's sins?

The healing of the paralytic man who was let down. Jesus said to him, "Son, your sins are forgiven." In Mark 2:7, they ask themselves, "Who can forgive sins, but Got alone?" And this is true. They claimed that Jesus blasphemed, and they were wrong there; but only God can forgive sins; and they are correct in that regard.

Whatever forgiveness that we receive is miraculous. This can only be a divine intervention. This is who Christ is. Only he can be the intervener.

Jesus allowed the sun to stay risen for a longer period of time. But the forgiveness of sins eclipses this and all other miracles. Jesus is able to forgive. How can any sinful man forgive sins? Jesus was the only sinless man Who could forgive sins.

The forgiveness of sins requires suffering, even though we can overlook sins against us, and think no more about it. We can do this because we have no nature which demands justice. We may think that this works to our advantage. The reasons for man forgiving are not the same as God's. God demands a complete accounting for sin, or His righteousness and justice would not stand.

But He was pierced through for our transgressions; He was crushed for our iniquities. Can anyone else accomplish this? Sin demands suffering; it demands the blood be shed; life be taken. According to the Law, all things are cleansed with blood. Without the shedding of blood, there is no forgiveness. In the realm of mankind, blood does not result in forgiveness; blood often results in more blood. But a blood sacrifice is necessary to propitiate a just God. The Levitical sacrifices were violent and bloody; and they reveal just how forgiveness is needed. God requires a blood sacrifice, which is the meaning of the cross. Jesus' suffering redeemed man from the slave market of sin. Can any other human being take away our sin? No way.

Jesus gave thanks and then said in Matt. 26:28, "This is My blood given for sins." There was mine, which represented the Lord's blood. The death was an analogy by which the Lord brought us forgiveness to all of us. At the moment of faith, we are justified. That righteousness qualifies each one of us for an eternal relationship with God. Thank God that salvation was accomplished for us.

People do not realize that all sin is against God and that God must judge. The sins that we commit affect others for certain. Sin makes rebels out of us; and we are far worse than we are willing to admit.

Those who were wronged by David might have forgiven him; but sin had to be forgiven by God. Since sin is against God alone, then He alone has the right to forgive sins.

How can any human being assign to himself the power to forgive sins? We all know how to obtain forgiveness from those who have offended us. But people must come to the true source for forgiveness; and not to us.

Luke 24:46–48 And said to them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. And you are witnesses of these things.

We fall short of the righteousness of God. The Law of Moses shows us that. It is without a doubt that it is God Who forgives and God Who...

It is safe to say that only God can forgive man. The Apostles could not forgive sins. But they were given the responsibility to proclaim God's forgiveness through His Son. Where God alone forgives sins, those sins cannot be retained even by Him.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6:15 Wisdom in the OT

10/9/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

The 7 characteristics of the Belial-aven man.

This is quite a serious verse when it comes to punishment. We know about justice in this world. Justice can be perverted; courts can get it wrong. God does not get it wrong. When tyranny...

The man of lies and deceit will experience sudden calamity.

What about Calamity

1. Ed is the Hebrew noun, an dit means, calamity, distress.
2. It means destruction; a destructive action.
3. Then there is a second operative word for the end of the worthless-wicked person. There is shabar.
4. Shabar is also a very strong verb. It means to break into pieces. This means that a person wants your demise and he is going to do it for you.
5. Shabar contains the connotation of a thorough destruction. A noun and a verb, both of which point to destruction.
6. This person will be destroyed or, at least, ruined in life. He is ruined in the way that hurts him the most. Whatever it is, God's justice is always just. In a worst case; this person may receive a sin unto death from God. If his evil is too great, to a client nation or to an individual believer. Either result...

We should pay close attention to v. 15. It is only a question as to when and how God will do this. These are very strong words. "Son, never get involved in the way of the Lord's discipline." But also, don't try to put in your own punishment. Make room for the justice of God in your soul. That frees you from so many mental attitude sins. Recognize that the justice of God is at work. Do not incur God's wrath toward you.

It is easy for any of us to want to step in and destroy the evil that we discern, especially if this is against us or affects the nation that we love. Let God's justice play out in all of these circumstances. The justice of God in difficult time, in times of great injustice, in times when things are going very badly, make room for the justice of God in your soul.

Many Christians have pushed aside the justice of God and they are going to hit the streets and legislate and they stoop to the level of their cosmic system opponents to legislate, to retaliate, to act against their enemies in the same way. We cannot forget the justice of God and He administers His justice. God has not forgotten us nor has He forgotten his client nation. He will act against such evil. It is really just how and when His justice will be administered. It is all at once and sometimes it is a really big bang thing. We might be very glad but we need to always make room for the justice of God in the way that the justice of God will act. When it comes to us...

The Application of God's Justice

1. We are imperfect and we are sinners blind to our own faults. We know that they are evil; but we never seem to evaluate ourselves.
2. We do not have all of the facts. None of us do. In a court of law, testimony provides an eyewitness; and another comes in and contradicts those facts. The jury must decide which to believe, as they do not have all of the facts. God's justice is based upon having all of the facts.
3. When will God do it? How will God do it? And acknowledge that He has all of the facts.
4. We do not know the total perspective on the plan of God. We do not know the other side either. We know what the plan of God is for each one of us. We sometimes have an inkling of it. But we do not always know what the plan of God is in history; but the overall picture is. God has facts from throughout the entire world.
5. God's justice sometimes uses evil as a corrective punishment. Now Bobby is speaking of the cycles of discipline. God may use these cycles for correction. We earn and deserve what we get from His justice.
6. We do not often realize the internal and painful conflicts of those receiving divine justice. We like to see results; we like to see the activities of divine justice. We want to see them get their comeuppance. We may not see the internals. Since we do not know these things, we may not even think that they are receiving divine justice; and we may think that they are getting away with all this. Don't think that they are.

7. Some of the worst punishments are out of our sight.
8. We do not know the full extent of any divine punishment. It is happening. Whatever His justice demands, His justice executes.
9. We may not even recognize what God is doing that is divine punishment; nor will we understand its full impact on the plan of God.
10. God's justice is total and it is perfect. It is immutable and it is never failing. We fail all of the time. God is perfect and His justice never fails.
11. It is absolutely necessary for the continuation of God's plan in human history for His justice to function. We want to be a part of His plan. As believers we must be a part of His plan. Each one of us are cogs in God's plan. We must be cognizant of our place; and we must allow for His justice to prevail in all things.

Bobby used to always tell a friend of him, and he was very upset of personal injustice. Bobby would say, "You do not know what is going on inside of them; but the justice of God is at work." That is a faith rest rationale. It does not matter whether they do these things to me. God knows how and when to administer His justice. Maybe I should relax and let this happen.

Bobby can give many examples in his own life when he wants to retaliate. He can get upset and filled with mental attitude sins.

If we expect God's justice to work and we see it; and we had nothing to do with it. It is wonderful to see the working of the Lord in this world and in our life. It is certainly not what we did for God, but what He has done for us.

The justice of God rationale is extremely important, especially right now. We have a front row seat to that. Relax; enjoy the show, even if it is hard to watch. It may involve certain aspects of our own lives.

Stand by, relax and watch it all happen. And do not forget that the justice of God destroys as well as delivers. A client nation can be removed; but we want to always be on the right side of God's justice. All of this has happened before in the annals of divine history. Ultimately, the victory belongs to God's justice. Always. God does punish and He does destroy the terrible evils in this country. Nazi Germany was crushed. How long did it take? 13 years + the 5 years of WWII. In the end, the victory always belongs to the Lord's justice. We may not always recognize what the victory is. God always punishes the perverse people, the spreaders of strife. His objective of the Angelic Conflict. God's plan marches on. He should also be there. We should accompany Him. That takes the understanding of His grace and His justice. That means sharing the happiness of God and having a personal sense of destiny in this world.

Our destiny is linked to God's justice. For us, there is only the justice of God. It is justice. So believers will survive the onslaught of evil and we will survive to serve Him as it unfolds those who are against them. They riot and they destroy. They are looking to destroy an America with some multi cultural society. Many want to defund the police and take them off the streets. Replace them with counselors and social workers. In many places, police have become very ineffective. Very low morale in many police departments. Social justice now overrules established law. These radical anti-establishment types are the worthless wicked types that we have been studying.

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

There will be no healing due to the entrenched degeneracy; locked in humanism.

No matter the circumstances of crime and injustice in this world, there is justice. There is divine justice. His justice is total, perfect, immutable and never failing. Sometimes there is injustice in our courts. Sometimes, there is injustice to those simply trying to live their lives. There are no mistakes and no injustices with God. He punishes and He destroys; and the perverse thinking.

No one gets away with anything. I see Congress getting away with criminal activities all the time. And those who are not criminals seem to be indicted and being chased by the department of justice. What about God? God is still there and there will be a price to pay. The objectives of God are never stymied. Believers will thrive through the destruction as it unfolds around us.

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

God's justice has descended upon this client nation. Corruption and tyranny is gaining traction all around us, whether you recognize it or not. Good has become evil and evil has become good. This is in our schools in our media.

Everyone has a choice. Either succumb to it and become a part of it; or seek another avenue, which is found in Jesus Christ and in the Word of God. This is the wisdom of the Word, the renovation of your spirit.

When people do not do that, we see the results that we see today. It will be the justice of God which must act and we may have to experience, as believers, the crucible of societal discipline. Our economy is inflated, our military is a social experiment, our borders are gone. Our government is making decisions they believe is good for the world, and not necessarily for this nation and people.

We are watching the rise and fall of the Roman empire at our doorstep. The proliferation of evil around us should not cause us to be fearful or anxious. Will we retake Congress; will we retake the Senate? I am going to put my trust in a politician, in the Supreme Court, or in those who participate in activism.

The proliferation of evil is an opportunity for believers in Jesus Christ. This is an opportunity first. There is more hopelessness in this country; more fear, more anger, more hatred than we have ever seen. And there is less tolerance than ever before. It is a very grim picture. Those who are winning are still unhappy. Are they happy and satisfied? They never will be. They will never reach their objective. No one on the right is happy either.

Believers can accelerate growth, leading to a relaxed mental attitude. Bobby has been teaching about fear and a relaxed mental attitude in his conferences.

Trusting in God

1. The fact that God punishes means that Christianity will prevail. Religions have come and gone; empires have come and gone; Christianity remains.
2. God's Word and will will always conquer the cosmic system. Knowing this allows us to relax.
3. His justice always acts against the machinations of Satan and His plan and defeats it. What do we have to worry about? At what time I am afraid, I will trust in You.
4. We can realize God's love for us as He delivers us and He acts as our Savior and deliverer. David wrote these words when he was being pursued; and he killed their greatest warrior, Goliath. Our only real defense in the Angelic Conflict. Our look and our viewpoint in life is not dependant upon circumstances.

Bobby is a Christian for one reason. This is because it is truth; because there is no other religion, no other ideology, no other person than Jesus Christ. Jesus is either the truth; or it is an absolute lie. Jesus is Who He claims to be; or He is the greatest liar Who ever lived. He would have led millions of people down the road of a lie.

We stand on truth; not upon activism.

Too many Christians want to push aside the justice of God; and use our own humanistic tactics, our own strength; and we will do it all in the name of j. This is how they present themselves to the world as Christians. It is not our objectives; it is God's objectives. Accomplishing God's objectives does not include humanistic actions or thinking. All that is outside of the plan of God will fail.

If we move forward with humanistic solutions, then we will have great anxiety. If we are anxious, we should question our spiritual advance. God has turned this country over to its own degeneracy. You want degeneracy, then here is part of your judgment.

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/16/2022 2Sunday

Everyone sees injustice everywhere. It is the rule of law. If it is ignored, there is chaos, tyranny, anarchy. Believers everywhere are confused, angry, frustrated, with all that we see around us. When we take that attitude, you have become worthless in the plan of God. This is because many believers have embraced humanistic solutions and have become wicked in their humanistic thinking. Look at the intense activism, Christian activism regarding Roe v. Wade. Since 1973 Christians have been fighting for decades to repeal Row. They had gotten involved in so many humanistic approaches. On and on; and today, we are in exactly the same shape as we were before the activism. The repeal was not a victory. Bobby says this is a defeat of a human problem which they have not solved. But they have neglected the Christian life in order to participate in this activism.

Believers have neglected the Word of God. They do not understand how God works in this world. Things are not working the way that it works. What do we do about them. You can vote; just do not put your hope in politicians. We have had that. That is not the real solution. We are the true solution by utilizing the spiritual life. We have a solution that is beyond humanism; it is a permanent solution. Humanism offers no permanent solution. That is what God honors. We are the key to the client nation. We try every humanistic means, but God despises humanistic means. We are leaving no place for the justice of God to work.

How Muddled Are Christians at this Point

1. The fingers of Christians are pointed toward humanism or humanistic methods. Fingers pointing in the wrong direction.
2. Believers should be pointed toward Bible doctrine and standing by and watching the Lord's justice in action. Injustice, riots, saving the planet types, the great degeneracy that we see everywhere. LGBTQ is the first order of business for so many. What are we as believers to do? Take up arms in revolution? Absolutely not. Stand by and watch the Lord's justice in action. All of these things happening in this nation is Romans 1:24. We are in this world, but we are not of this world.
3. We want to push God's justice aside and then we want to administer our own form of justice. We just need to wipe out this other people. We just need to gain ascendancy over the current politicians. We have done this before, but has it solved all of our problems? God's justice in action. We want to push it aside.
4. We must be patient. That is the tough one. "I want to fix this now; I want to be rid of socialism now." Be patient; let the love of God handle it.
5. This all requires a relaxed mental attitude and a trust in the Lord that is derived from spiritual advance. Psalm 56:3 At what time I am afraid, I will trust in You. You learn to trust in God by knowing Him. You do not love a person at first sight. You must know a person in order to love them.
6. All humanistic solutions are misguided. They exclude discernment and wisdom from Bible doctrine. They promote emotionalism. People who are emotional make mistakes. Personal fouls, illegal movements. Thinking without emotion and they do not do this.
7. Humanistic solutions exclude the certainty of divine intervention. In our own lives or in our nation. If we want to solve the problem, go right ahead. Or you can trust God instead. The power and love and sound thinking. Do you really think that God will let this nation deteriorate and die without firing a single shot? Do you think He will let degeneracy run rampant without involvement? Look for His justice; expect His justice. God's justice can be brutal; it can be difficult to see. We don't know but it will happen.

God's Justice

1. Recognize, His justice is already in motion.
2. You can see God's justice when you understand the five cycles of discipline. God loves His people; but he still disciplined Israel. He turns us over to our own degeneracy and then He adds to it.
3. Notice that the punishment in Leviticus 26:16 will be sudden. Just like Proverbs. Bobby always enjoys watching the news. He finds it interesting to think, how is the justice of God working in this situation. How is God using China and the Ukraine and others in our own nation? Then we begin to understand how God works in a client nation. We have everything to do with how He works in a client nation.
4. The general timing of divine judgment. When it hits, it hits unexpectedly and hard. Our nation was headed in a certain direction and then 9/11 happened. It put us on the same page, on the same side. We were put back on a path that we needed to be on. Did we handle it correctly? That is debatable. What does God do for us? Judgment, suddenly and with great impact. Can you pick out today what is hitting us so hard in our nation? Innumerable things. The humanists think that these things are good; and they promote the very issues that God will punish.
5. Many evils of humanism have become good in this nation. These things are not hard. Whatever departs from divine wisdom.
6. But evil and those who perpetrate it will fall under the umbrella of Proverbs 6:15. Even if client nation USA collapses, we still have a deliverer.

Those you despise are the ones you may need to evangelize. How many times have we been placed into jail? Such people think that they are doing God's work. Paul went to prison for proclaiming the Word of God; not in a political protest. God's plan for us is to live the spiritual life; growing, witnessing, prayer, serving Him inside of His plan. God is waiting for us to do that.

Are you doubling down on Bible doctrine?

We are not to embark on a mission to crush the evil in this world. The Satanic cosmic system cannot be defeated by human means. Only God can do that. No matter who tries to destroy, God protects His Own.

Bobby enjoys military history and church history. Psalm 33 was about the deliverance of God's people. Believers are ignorant today. They do not know anything about God's attributes. They are ignorant of the power of living the spiritual life. God blesses those who fulfill His plan, apart from humanistic thinking and humanistic methods.

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 10/19/2022 Wednesday

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

This is the justice of God at work upon the Belial Aven person. God's justice cannot be denied when rebellion, tyranny, corruption become the norm in a client nation to God. God will punish and even destroy wicked people and even client nations which fail. We look at what is happening around us and we wonder, are we in line for discipline; or are we in the middle of discipline.

Satan wants to rule over the human race; and Satan does not want to rule over no one. But whatever he produces is evil and destructive. He cannot produce anything other than the wicked-evil types. This is Satan's objective for the cosmic system. He tempted the woman; she tempted Adam, she fell and he fell. He entices people to the characteristics of Prov. 6. Satan has hatched innumerable schemes. The Nephalim is one of his schemes, described in Genesis 6. They polluted the human race that God could not enter into the human race as a man. Then there was the tower of Babel, which was an international movement. They were, by their own effort, to reach God. First attempt of man to redeem himself.

Satan had to go after Abraham. He wanted to keep the nation of Israel growing as God wanted. All of these various empires tried to defeat Israel and polluting it with religion. The central attack on Jesus Christ by Satan; and this represents some of his greatest activities. The justice of God has to work in this world to punish and destroy the opposition.

The five cycle of discipline were instituted by God's justice. The cycles of discipline were designed for Israel. Deuteronomy also describes these cycles. But these cycles can be applied to any nation which is a client nation. Used to destroy an incorrigible person or people.

The swift and sure punishment upon those who have turned against God.

Proverbs 6:15 ...therefore calamity will come upon him suddenly; in a moment he will be broken beyond healing.

There will be no healing. There are several ways to interpret this. It can refer to a soul so entrenched in humanism so that there is no recovery of divine establishment thinking or of the spiritual life. For the believer, the means that human viewpoint is so incorporated into their thinking the scar tissue is in full destructive mode. The devastation of the spiritual life. And there is plenty of that taking place today.

Those who think that they have accomplished something when it comes to Row v. Wade; but they have accomplished nothing. Believers have become dedicated to this political idea. People think that this is the greatest evil on earth. The greatest evil today is Satan and his schemes and we stand against them. We do not make a dent by attempting to change the devil's world. Our weapons are defensive and we have resources; but whole churches get involved in political movements.

The unbeliever who dies in unbelief. An unbeliever who has died and he finds himself in Hades, and he begs for water from Abraham. He begs from Abraham just a taste of water. He cries out, "Have mercy on me!" They want someone or something to save them; and they want anything and everything to save them other than Jesus.

Many people, including Christians, try to rationalize God's justice, saying that hell is just a metaphor for punishment. But hell is not a metaphor. The Bible is what is real.

The one man has gained the whole world, but he lost his own soul. Lazarus received bad things, but he will be given great blessing. Lazarus depended upon the Lord. Lazarus had nothing in his life; and now he has everything. Those in paradise can't come into torments to pay a visit. None may cross over from there to us. This is eternal. This is separation. This is no hope. Our only hope is Jesus Christ in this life. If we reject God's Son, then we have what we read in Luke.

1. Healing in v. 15 + the negative lo.
2. It means, no cure, no remedy; nothing can be done.
3. Mark reflects a hopeless situation without recourse; nothing can be done. It is done; it is irrevocable at this time.

Fragmentation Grenades

Fragmentation grenade. There was a white phosphorus grenade; and it is bad stuff; it gets on you and you cannot get it on you, or it burns right through you

1. This compares spiritual failure to the fragmentation of steel when a grenade explodes. It is a piece of steel which surrounds a charge.
2. By analogy, even believer is a walking grenade with the potential for a fragmented life.
3. Arrogance and human viewpoint.
4. The believer pulls the pin out of the grenade by human viewpoint. We have churches which are completely fragmented.
5. By succumbing to the sin nature temptation and indulging the cosmic system, the believer explodes, shatters the spiritual life; along with divine viewpoint and spiritual discernment. It is gone. We need spiritual discernment in the time in which we live. As we grow spiritually, we learn to recognize it and to avoid it. Do not blow up.
6. In a complete capitulation to the cosmic system, the believer cannot be put back together again.
7. But if the believer goes back to spiritual advance. Once fragmented, you cannot put Humpty Dumpty back together again.

8. Only through the power of the Holy Spirit and inculcated doctrine do the pieces come back together, and wisdom resumes. When you begin to advance again, the pieces come back together, then you can begin to advance again. This describes recovery from a fragmented life.
9. A Syncretistic believer who mixes doctrine with humanism is also a fragmented believer. This believer talks a good fight, but the solutions are humanistic.
10. The fragmented believer is due to failure in the spiritual life. They will be a slave to the cosmic system. They will have no rewards in the cosmic system.

On the other hand, the unbeliever is doomed to a fragmented life; a life of self-pity, failing, even with human success. They never develop a relaxed mental attitude from the faith rest life. We don't want to dwell on hell; Bobby does not want his worst enemy in hell. There was a great price paid for believers and unbelievers both.

If you are relying on human solutions, then you are fragmented. What are you depending upon; what are you looking for in solutions. The only solution lies in your spiritual life. And the grace of God toward us. Otherwise, we are fragmented.

On election night, when you watch the returns, what is your attitude going to be? Or are you interested in what the Lord is going to do.

This life is miserable in many ways. But God has made some great provisions for us. But this world is the devil's world, and it is filled with garbage and crap. It is a futile life from which there is no redo. There is no mulligan.

Proverbs 6:17–19 are warbugs of specific sins. They are very specific in every category. But we are not going to cover them, as this has been done on several occasions by Bobby.

We are going to pick up vv. 20–23; but we will not pick up adultery once again.

Proverbs 6:20 My son, keep your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.

Observe the commandment of your father. This is a mandate. There is no choice here.

Many interesting moments with Bob. Bobby realizes that he had an intent was for Bobby as his son. He always recalls the teen class. 1965 and 1966. The class of designed for teens; and this was designed, in part, for Bobby.

We see very little authority in the homes today.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/20/2022 Thursday

An anonymous letter to Bobby; and he thinks that they were upset about something. They asked the difference between Christian activism as over against Christian activity. There was a definition of Christian activism in the Bible doctrine dictionary. The use of illegal or Biblical unauthorized methods to spread Christianity; or an attempt to change the country's moral state. This is designed by Satan to preoccupy believers with activities outside of the Christian life. An attempt to enforce a Christian standard over the society. Campaigns to change a society into a more Christian one. These actions launched against evil actually alienate the unbelieving world by making a mockery of Christianity.

Proverbs 6:20 My son, keep [or, observe] your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.

Believers have a major obligation toward their own children. This is critical to their life. No child without Christ-honoring parents; no child can raise himself without rules, parameters and the expeditious exercise of authority. Children need to be authority oriented. No one is a law unto himself.

Solomon has warned his sons of the sins of the worthless wicked person. "Do not follow the ways of their evil, which will bring you down. Instead, follow the instructions of your father or your mother. Your mother and I will lead you in the way that you should go; we teach and you follow." This includes children subjugation to authority. It is critical that parents subject their children to parental authority. The discipline must be measured; it must fit the crime; it must be done correctly and it must be done. To the critical qualities of authority-orientation in all other aspects of life.

Parents are laying the foundation for success for the rest of their children's adult life.

Parental Discipline

1. Parents should not be discouraged when children resist or even reject their teaching or their authority. Children will always resist authority; but they must learn it.
2. Parents must continue to fulfil that responsibility. You cannot let up and you cannot give up.
3. Mothers and fathers seem to have a propensity for teaching. It was advice and Bobby eventually realized that his parents were right.
4. Don't beat them over the head with doctrine. Do not force it down their throats, as many well-meaning parents have done. Bobby was not made to come to Bible class, but he was given principles when he was young. After a certain point, you have to allow your children to make some of their own decisions.
5. If you force it on them, it will bring them to a point of reaction. It is important to teach early in life.
6. If there is a reaction, a rejection, an ignoring, we, as parents, must live the spiritual life in front of your children. The children need to be able to see the results of doctrine in their lives.
7. This is teaching combined with leadership. You give information and then you live that information. The worst mistake parents can make is to drop your kids off for prep school, and go and get coffee. You must lead them as well as tell them.

8. In those cases, parents must become subtle in doctrinal inculcation. They must maximize opportunities for teaching...for when children face difficult, and confusing circumstances. Kids have their own volition. When the time is right, you have to pick your spots.
9. You must work your wisdom into the times when they have searching moments. They will hear even if they temporarily reject or rebel.
10. We know that the Lord works through circumstances so that a child will have the opportunity to understand the wisdom of parental training. They may reject it for a time, but the information is there. You taught them in the way that they should go.

Now for the very first time, Solomon will introduce the mother into this chapter. She must have a very important impact on the child's life. Her teaching would be as important as Solomon's teaching. The mother has wisdom to be learned. The son is not a little child any more. Children should value their parents highly. This should include learning later in life. It was the parents who would teach the Mosaic Laws to their children. They should be reverent for it. The Mosaic Law was very clear about that.

You are worse than an infidel unless you honor your parents.

One of the Ten Commandments is Honor your father and mother, which was directed toward everyone, not just children. There is no specified time limit.

Why Is this So Important?

1. This is important so that a person might live a long life and that his days might go well.
2. Deuteronomy 5:16 Also, that your days may be prolonged and this it may go well with you on the land that your Lord gives you.
3. A prolonged life and a good life.
4. This command was also critical for the existence of nation Israel as a whole.
5. God gave Israel that land; and it was a great land that God gave to them.
6. Nebuchadnezzar conquered Judah; and took them out of the land. But they were allowed to come back into the land. They were severely punished for departing from the mandates of God.
7. This emphasizes the importance of divine institutions #1 & 2.
8. We have children who are entirely anti-authority. Problems with young people in the streets. Many of them commit suicide. Many take drugs. These are unhappy souls.
9. God honors those who honor Him and who honor parents. This is the same with the spiritual life as well.

Mark 7:10 For Moses said, Honour your father and your mother; and, Whoever curses father or mother, let him die the death:

Application of a children to learn authority-orientation from parents

1. Jesus was quoting the Mosaic Law. This is not something that we should necessarily follow this today.
2. It is a divine principle and the Lord punishes when it is violated; even to the point of shortening a miserable life. Those who are not authority oriented will live miserable lives.
3. That kind of life is to be expected in a recalcitrant adult. No authority over me; that is arrogance. I am my own boss.
4. Children be obedient to your parents in all things. We have 3 or 4 generations who do not teach authority-orientation. We saw it on the college campuses.
5. Children are obedient from their souls from their authority oriented thinking instilled by parents. This is why this must be instilled and taught. This must become a part of their thinking.
6. The rebellious child hurts himself; and it hurts the parents to see it.
7. Children are obedient from their souls which honor and respect their parents. We are a mentor. We are a mediator between God and our children.
8. This is well-pleasing to the Lord (when it comes to obeying and respecting our parents).

When it says, Be obedient to your parents in all things; does this mean to reject other authorities, if that is the teaching of the parents? This would put a child at a great disadvantage in life.

There are thousands of men and women in prisons all over this country who hate authority. They do not respect the law at all. The cause can be laid directly to the feet of their parents (if they had any). Too many wander the streets without parental authority. When parents reject God's truth and follow the path of anti-authority, anti-law, false religion or even atheism, it is a stumbling block for children.

Humanism is being taught today; that is being taught the cosmic system. Sometimes parents see that their kids are entertained, but they don't want to raise them.

We have several generations of falsehood and the breakdown of the family. No acceptance of anyone's authority but their own.

Colossians continue, Fathers, do not exasperate your children, so that they will not lose heart.

A child's obedience must be centered in God's commands.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/23/2022 1Sunday

We are in v. 20. Solomon was teaching his son how not to go. V. 20 tells us that the mother and father are the proper teachers for children.

Proverbs 6:20 [My son, keep \[or, observe\] your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.](#)

Solomon places equal emphasis upon the teaching of the mother. This requires authority-orientation on the part of the child. That authority-orientation is how parents are honored. Honor is not saying nice things about your parents; it is not causing your parents to be pleased with you.

In the commandment, there is nothing by way of explanation as to what this commandment means. Honor your father and your mother so that your days might be long in the land that the Lord gives you. This indicates just how important this commandment is.

When a child responds to parental authority, this is a proper response to controls, rules and teachings; especially the teaching of the wise mother. The long and prosperous life. It is incumbent upon parents themselves to be authority oriented. They must fulfill their responsibilities to their own children. This will allow the child and the adult to live their lives to the fullest. The father provides leadership and the mother teaches. Instruction by unbelieving parents includes nurturing, like divine establishment, morality, integrity, the guidance of conscience, and protection from the pitfalls of life. There are all kinds of temptations out there.

From believing parents, the same things are true; but also the gospel and Bible doctrine must be taught.

There will be a price to pay for the recalcitrant.

Many of us watched the generation of the 1960s, and they developed into a very rebellious generation. The following generations have paid the price for their anti-authority that this generation perpetrated. Anti-authority is an evil today which has become a good. It begins in the home with anti-authority parents who fail to teach any authority-orientation. We have 3 generations who are knocked off their game because of the Baby Boomers.

Humanism rejects all divine authority. More importantly, they reject divine authority. There is less and less doctrine being taught, because it is absolute and authoritative. Those who say, "I am my own authority," is anti-authority.

A child's response comes down to what is retained in the soul. When parents fail, what was not taught in the home was taught elsewhere. It used to be that the schools back up the parents. But now, they work against the parents.

Unfortunately, there are children who endure parental abuse, with little and no training from the parents. They are filled with anger and hatred and revenge motivation. Too many children in this circumstance of abuse and even from good homes, have become the Belial-aven types.

Bobby wonders what will happen with the next few generations.

Then Bible doctrine must be applied to life and to the mental attitude. The authority of Bible doctrine, which is where authority begins in the adult who believes in Jesus Christ.

Raising Children

1. God provides one man and one woman as the family unit. This is what Solomon says.
2. One male father and one female mother constitutes the divine institution. The stabilizing and teaching institution.
3. Parents are to raise their children to be responsible, independent as adults, and principled. They need to be filled with divine establishment ideals; and Christian virtue from Christian parents. There is more to this than hauling the kid to prep school.
4. Parents must exemplify these principles in their own lives. Never do as I say not as I do.
5. Children can see and visualize the results of the Christian life. They may not even recognize what they are seeing. They can compare this with others who only apply humanism to their lives.
6. Discipline.
7. Teach authority-orientation, a good work ethic, respect for others, personal responsibility, those are also the divine establishment duties of parental teaching.
8. Christian parents instill divine wisdom necessary in the life.

When children do respond and learn, that is honoring their parents. Their compliance, even mumbling, groaning and disobedience, brings a great life. Eternal life is not possible unless they believe in Jesus.

Bob would ask Bobby every day, "How do you go to heaven." Bobby's mother had a different approach. Both parents have this responsibility, even if your children do not turn out well.

A well-trained child will be a good citizen. They will have a foundation to live a future successful life. Some may reject the Lord, but there is their life. But you have done your job. It is the best you can do for your children. His or her compliance brings success.

The Child Being Raised to Be a Good Citizen

1. Good parenting carried over to the 4th divine institution, which is the nation. Our country is moving to day toward globalism. Our leaders are making those kinds of decisions. That comes from lack of authority-orientation and lack of divine establishment principles lack of understanding the divine institution principles.
2. Children developing into good citizens of the nation. Lovers of freedom with responsibility.
3. You will not become entitled and arrogant. So many in our country are that because they lack good parenting.
4. Respecting the rights of others.

5. Adhering to the rule of law. The anti-authority generation rebels against the rule of law. This is why we know parenting is not good in this nation.
6. Submission to the authorities over us. Those who are Christian activists who want to make others adhere to Christian principles. Believers in the 1st century did not try to change the Roman empire. More importantly, Jesus did not try to reform the Roman empire or the establishment of the Jewish religion. We do not force our principles upon others. Activist churches besmirch the name of Jesus Christ. It is not because their principles are wrong; but the problem is their priorities. It is God who changes things. Proclaiming His Word from the pulpit. This is what the client nation is made of.

Parental Influence over Children

1. Both mother and father as the basic family unit are designed to give children a balanced perspective on life.
2. That perspective is not all feminine and it is not all masculine. A family unit is a mother and father.
3. If mothers are the only authority, what is born is a matriarchal society, which is not a stable society.
4. Emotionalism is more pronounced in children and there is no offset to it. Our society today is filled with emotion and sensitivity.
5. Discipline is not well enforced in a single parent home.
6. In many cases, the parent is absent trying to support the children. There is no family unit. Not a village, not a single parent; but a mother and a father.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6:20 Wisdom in the OT 10/23/2022 2Sunday

This verse appears to come out of nowhere in the context; but it is packed with great doctrine. Bobby is struck by the dichotomy and the unity here. The two verbs, one to command and the other to teach, which is very significant when it comes to the roles of parents in the lives of their children.

Proverbs 6:20 [My son, keep \[or, observe\] your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.](#)

Division of Parental Labor

1. The father commands; he is the head of the house. He is the final authority; the one to lead the family. He is not a tyrant; not one to whip the family into shape. Leadership is a skill; this is a skill that is developed. How are you a leader? You must know what it means, you must develop some skills in that realm. The father is to command, indicating that he is to lead.
2. The mother teaches. This might be an easier word to learn. There is this dichotomy between the mother and father. The verbs found here are different. The mother teaches with authority. She has authority.

3. The mother teaching with authority provides a certain responsiveness and sensitivity found in the feminine character (if she is feminine; if she has not been confused by the interchangeable roles of men and women). The teaching that the woman can command as much as the husband. It does not matter any more. But that is NOT what this passage says. This teaching so departs from the conventional thinking today. Our families are in the worst shape that they have ever been; and this principle is being ignored.
4. The mother has authority over the children; especially the younger children.
5. The woman is under the authority of the husband. In every wedding ceremony Bobby always gives the Biblical secret to marriage.
6. There is a chain of command in the nuclear family: husband, wife and children. There has been an obvious breakdown in authority-orientation in the family.

Wherever there is leadership, there must be followers. This is true in the military; this is true in business, this is true in the family. That is the conventional wisdom. The result is, the children are confused. Too often there is that breakdown in the families today. Men become resentful and even brutal. Women become shrill, unhappy and unfulfilled. This ends in divorce quite often. They are not following the Biblical principles and the family breaks down, the family breaks down, and the children suffer. God knew exactly what He was doing when creating husband and wife. The chain of command of two parents is so necessary for teaching authority-orientation and for a balanced outlook in life. There are two perspectives in life, male and female. No matter how confused society is, there are two different outlooks in life. God created a man and a woman and their natures are different. When there is that reversal and when that is blended together, it is a disoriented influence on the children. Children today get upset when their parents don't call them by their right pronouns.

Bobby is about to give the doctrine of mothers.

We need to be prepared. This is not popular feminist thinking, which seems to rule our country today which has done such damage to marriages and to family; turning the rules of husband and wife upside down. Feminism is opposed to divine establishment. Humanism confuses everything about man and woman.

Some families are led by a woman, the headship of the woman is sometimes by choice. Mothers raising children alone. The working mother has little time to raise their children. Single fathers are no better under this situation. Mothers and fathers are no longer central to raising children. Feminism teaches exactly that.

The father is integral to the family unit. The assumption of the passage is that the mother teaches Bible doctrine to the souls of her children. That is the critical aspect of the mother in this situation.

General Principles in Parental Training

1. By divine design, parents act as a mediator between God and children. This is especially mothers in the early times of the child's life.
2. What parents give young children receive. What the parent says, the children believe. today, we are told that we do not tell the children what to believe.
3. Children become part of their parents, in more ways than genetically. They are a part of what the family thinks and communicates. Children mirror their parents.
4. Christian parents must contain in their souls the grace of God in Christ. Nothing is more important than teaching grace to your children. Children need to understand that they are not the center of the universe. They need to understand Who is the center of the universe. Children think they are the center especially if the parents indulge that.
5. This passage singles out the mother's role in inculcation. It singles out that role. It is easy to say, why does she have a bigger role? The Bible tells us so; and the Bible contains divine principles. It is well understood what Christian parents impress on their children.

What the Parents Teach the Children

1. The very first ideas and habits a child has are impressed upon the child by his parents. What are you impressing upon them?
2. Parents give direction, spiritual and temporal life; and first and foremost, spiritual life.
3. Parents give substance to the good character throughout life.
4. In the very impressionable years, mothers have a very important influence. Early on, parents have overwhelming influence on their minds. They must use this for the purposes of the children. We must be careful regarding infringement on the principles taught to the children. Even if children do not follow the spiritual life, they will still be blessed by the principles taught by the parents, even if they reject these principles early on.

Mothers Teaching Their Children

1. For the very young children, this spiritual training is the role of the mother. 3rd time Bobby has said this.
2. For children, this spiritual life is the law of the mother. They unequivocally accept it as their guide. What you implant in your children is what they accept. So present His truth.
3. This is the teaching that converts the children to Christ as it is poured through the mother's words into the child's consciousness. You have the greatest influence early on in a child's life.
4. What an honorable place to be, at the mother's mediation of the truth. She brings God's will and purpose to her children. What could be greater than that?
5. It is a critical ministry that our Lord commends to the mother. Just as the Lord pays attention to children and their spiritual life. The mother is given the ability and that commission.

6. The mother is the conduit for instruction in the words of God. The mothers inculcate this doctrine into their souls.
7. Mothers are gifted with the ability to teach spiritual principles to their children.

Bobby's mother instilled principles in his soul that he could not have gotten from his father. Those teaching in prep school have that gift. Teach on the level of the child. Even if they decide later to reject it. You have given them the foundation, the basis for making decisions later in life. The children may admit later, maybe they had more wisdom than I realized. Bobby would be forever grateful to his mother for teaching him so many principles. She disciplined Bobby more than his father. She had a Bible club and the children came to hear her. 30 or 40 kids came to hear Bobby's mother. She wrote 35 volumes still used today. This falls under Proverbs 6:20. His mother's teaching guided him throughout his life and kept him from committing a lot of self-damage as a teen.

In the most pliant times of life, the child is molded primarily by the mother. Both took on the task of authority-orientation. How many times is there the guidance of the mother early on which taught Bobby during times of confusion. Kept him away from the cosmic system snares of life. That is our responsibility as a parent.

The housewife has a great ministry. Children without maternal attention are under immediate disadvantage. The soldier needs the basic training; it is a necessity. No one succeeds without the proper training; and this is so true for the spiritual life. Children do not raise themselves.

What a child learns or loses or a mother's teaches when it is rejected or forsaken, slips away into the distance and leads to disaster. Hebrews 2:1. Children have no chance without it. A mother has a captive audience and must take advantage of that, because time passes very quickly. This gives the child every advantage to learn. The mother's teaching will be the soul companion of the child all of his days.

Do not forsake the teaching of the mother. How wise is that? Do not ignore or reject. Retain it. This is the key to so much.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 10/26/2022 Wednesday

Bobby suggested that we check Christian activism in the new dictionary. An out-of-state question about being a poll watcher. We are citizens of this city/state/country and we should vote for the candidate which is closest to the divine establishment principles. It is fine to serve in the military. Any activity like poll watching is reasonable. Taking any opportunity to speak against evil; but not protesting and yelling. The differentiating feature is, Christian activism is the imposition of Christian principles over unbelievers. This besmirches the Person of Jesus Christ. We are not to change unbelievers or try to change the world; we simply change ourselves. Christian activism is imposing our values on someone else.

Proverbs 6:20 My son, keep [or, observe] your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.

The question about spending so much time here. The wisdom. The anti-parental bias in the schools. Parents have every right to see that their children are properly educated. Our best defense against brainwashing is proper teaching at home Bobby is shocked by what they are hearing or doing. Gender confusion; LGBTQ hearing about things which we never heard of in high school. Their peers are involved in it. It is easy for you children to become confused by the peer value.

There is very little authority-orientation out there as well. And the schools actually teach anti-authority. Previously, we learned authority in school. Obedience of children honors the parents. This initiates a longer and more prosperous life. The very fact of honoring parents is a basic.

Many of us have grown children; and the childhood phase is over; but a believer's wisdom is still needed. Doctrine should not be ignored. You can be in contact with other parents and you may have the right principles to share with them. If you have doctrinal principles in your soul, the Lord uses them.

Let's now draw from ore doctrines concerning what we have studied.

Having a Mother and Father

1. Mother and father, both are needed. They bring two differing but necessary points of view to their children. Both viewpoints bring a child to maturation properly.
2. Mother and father present two outlooks on life; a masculine and a feminine and they are not the same.
3. They present differing attitudes and perspectives in life.
4. They do not differ in principles or in goals. Just different positions in life that are not interchangeable. Today, they are thought to be interchangeable.
5. Working together, parents provide insight from different perspectives into people and relationships. What are good and bad decisions.
6. Also, who to embrace as friends and intimates. Parents must be careful who their children are associating with. You really must pay attention to that today.
7. Who to stay away from as dangerous; who will point you in the wrong direction. The pointing finger that Solomon speaks of. Who will inhibit spiritual growth. You should be able to recognize kids involved in drugs or those involved in anti-authority approaches to life.
8. Two parents provide discipline to reinforce these perspective if necessary. They approach authority from two different directions. We have different discipline from the parents.

Too many parents want to give their children everything without teaching them anything. It is the spiritual life taught or humanism will come flooding in. If you do not teach, something will come in to fill it in. Kids believe things which are unbelievable.

Teach the absolutes of Bible doctrine to be followed by the absolutes of life. Life must be understood not to be so relative. Relativity is necessary to be understood. There are no absolutes and no truth. Relativity brings confusion. Good standards must be from absolute principles. Standards need to come from biblical knowledge and doctrines. Information that will not be compromised under pressure. We do not fold under pressure because we have these pressures on us.

Mothers are truly gifted at training very young children. The positive response of the child is paramount. The position of strength is always doctrine in the soul. Friends, associates and even a spouse requires compatibility when it comes to Bible doctrine.

Honoring Parents and Children

1. We see learning and following instructions as children as having advantageous results later in life. This is something that parents cannot forget. The advantage is teaching them and making certain that they understand authority-orientation. It starts with Bible doctrine implanted in the souls.
2. Children advance to spiritual maturity under their parents. They will advance to a certain level of spiritual maturity. It is wonderful that children are able to recite Bible doctrine and follow it.
3. This is the principle behind Deuteronomy 5:16 concerning with honoring the mother and father. This gives us a long and lasting life.

Children may rebel; especially in their formative years. It happens to all kids in a greater or lesser degree.

Children Developing by Means of Two Parents

1. The develop compassion, tenderness, fairness, honesty, assertiveness and boldness.
2. Gentlemanly manliness; justice, care, authority-orientation.
3. There are many other perspectives traits and attitudes come from mother and father. This is especially true in the Christian home. They learn from how the mother and father treat each other in the home. Children have a very difficult time with parents who fight often. Life is a war for such a child.
4. The home is the starting point for developing something, the maturing process of the children. Out of control children need authority-orientation. All of this begins and grows with Christian doctrinal teaching by parents.

Do you see just have important Christian teaching is from parents.

Tragically, we see so many single, broken homes in thie country.

The Missing Father from the Hom

1. Sadly, so many women go without a husband for her family. The child loses the critical input of the father. The father has half the growing process in any child.

2. The children miss a father's viewpoint.
3. But mothers only results in the emotional, overly-sensitive, feminizing of America.
4. This is an anti-American attitude in this country today.
5. There are too many absentee fathers whose teaching is critical. How a man should act toward a woman and what a woman should not accept.
6. So the children suffer as does the nation.

There is a bigger problem. Same-sex homes where adoption of children is much more prevalent today. Having two women or two men does not replace a mother and a father. It does not matter what they call themselves. No balanced view from such parents. Children get a very skewed viewpoint from such relationships. There is a built-in degeneracy to that relationship, which the child sees and grows from. They are raised in unfavorable conditions from the beginning.

How can Bobby say all of this with so much confidence when there is so much opposition to it. The Bible describes such same-sex relationships and the lifestyle as being perverted and unnatural. The same degeneracy is presented to children in that same-sex home. This is certainly not a vogue opinion today. Current values is the exact opposite of this.

The gender confusion and LGBTQ is promoted everywhere, on tv and in the news. Romans 1 is one of the most hated passages in the Bible. Their physical sexual activities dishonor their own bodies. God allows them to fall deeper and deeper into this sin and degeneracy. They pay a high price for their perversion; and Christians are often blamed for their maladjustment.

How are their bodies dishonored by same sex acts.

Romans 1:26 For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. For their women exchanged natural relations for those that are contrary to nature;...

They are not harmed by the outside opinions. They destroy themselves and their own bodies.

Romans 1:27 ...and the men likewise gave up natural relations with women and were consumed with passion for one another, men committing shameless acts with men and receiving in themselves the due penalty for their error....

Romans 1:28 And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a debased mind to do what ought not to be done.

There is no happiness in the cosmic system. It all ends up in evil. God gave them over to a depraved mind. See what great aspects of life you are going to experience—not. Do you think that life is well-lived if everything that you do is wrong.

Romans 1:29 They were filled with all manner of unrighteousness, evil, covetousness, malice. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, maliciousness. They are gossips,

Some of what they are, is described here. These things go with all manner of unrighteousness.

Romans 1:30 ...slanderers, haters of God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents,...

We do not oppose them directly; but what they do is wrong. They are haters of God. They hate God and they hate us.

They are able to develop their own evil into the mix.

Romans 1:31 ...foolish, faithless, heartless, ruthless.

This is hard-hitting. This is not just sexual degeneracy. It is a degeneracy of actions.

Are these the right attitudes or values or qualities which should be passed on to children? Should they follow their parents into same-sex degeneracy. Look at who these people are. There are very nice, pleasant people who are homosexual or lesbians. Their souls are blacked out to the maximum. Cross them and see what happens. How can their be honor in a child who is brought up with such dishonor. Only a child can escape this by the truth of doctrine.

Over 50% of the children born today are born out of wedlock. They are learning garbage and nothing but garbage. This includes things which they learn in schools. We cannot change these people to Christian principles. You can only speak the truth to them.

Rom 1:32 Though they know God's righteous decree that those who practice such things deserve to die, they not only do them but give approval to those who practice them.

Lesson #03                      Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT                      10/27/2022 Thursday

An appreciation letter for the dictionary. "This is a salute from our pastor and from him to us.. What a dedication to Jesus Christ and the Word. He will hear, well done, good and faithful servant. The full accurate teaching of the word, take it and eat thereof.

Bobby was asked, "Are you here to write the systematic theology of R. B. Thieme, Jr.? And Bobby always answered no. His teaching did not lend itself to systematic theology.

A Summary of Proverbs 6:20

How do children honor their father and mother?

1. By listening to instruction and obedience to instruction from the parents in the realm of divine establishment, the gospel and the spiritual life. This is the instruction that children should have. Children are sponges, especially ages 3–5 and older. They hear what you say. They may not follow it later in their teens, but it is still there in their souls.

2. Regardless of the teaching, respect for authority, even if the authority is misguided, authority-orientation is valuable in life. Authority is everywhere, whether we like it or not. We have it at work and in almost every other aspect of life. It comes in so many ways and we cannot live without it. The best means for honoring parents is gaining the knowledge of truth, integrity, and spiritual advance, which comes from the parent's own spiritual advance. It is hard for the children to advance when the parents have not advanced. They may not advance as an adult, but they can advance according to their own mental capacity. It is amazing what children can say and recite.
3. If parents do not lead their children in the spiritual life, the children become maladjusted or confused, sometime even criminal. There is no question the tendency of mankind and especially of youth to rebel. To participate in the mistake and the poor judgment and the sins which are described. Especially when the parents demonstrate nothing but cosmic system living. That circumstance is the desire of the cosmic system. It starts one person at a time. It works both ways. A client nation is dependent upon people believing in Jesus Christ. The opposite is true for the destruction of a client nation.
4. The way of life and safety and fulfillment for children is to be secured and adjusted by following the precepts of parents. Security and adjustment are the products of obedience to parents. No doubt, your experience is directly dependent upon how you taught your children and how you approach your children, to bring them along in the spiritual life. You know if you were a success or failure.
5. The way of life, safety and fulfillment is to be secured and adjusted, whose mandates and rules point out the perilous aspects to life. Also point the way to morality, to divine institutions; to divine establishment. To a doctrinal perspective. If the parents have any. In teaching, you learn so much. The more you teach, the more you have to know. When you have to teach children, you will find your own understanding increase. You know what they need; and you should be ready for their questions. If you can teach it, then you know it. It is critical for children; and it is critical for everyone in life.
6. Pointing the way to the gospel and the spiritual life to your children is a great privilege. The most important thing you can do for your children.
7. Even if children reject, especially due to outside influences, there is no substitute for what you do for them. Every day, think about what you can do to help your child to advance.
8. When children listen to doctrine, they have all that they need for future success. They have a foundation for good decisions; for capacity for life; for fulfillment. We will all have bad circumstances in life.

You can trace our generations and the degradation in divine establishment and in simple knowledge of the Scriptures; or a knowledge of morality. Standard norms of the past, where are they today?

Too many parents today do not have the understanding or the principles in their souls about divine information. What do such parents do with their children? What can they say? Many of them say, "I will let them make their own decisions and their own choices as children. I want to give them complete freedom." Let them be influenced by everything and everyone in the world except for the child's parents. Children who have nothing to obey. They can choose to do anything that they want.

When children are left on their own, they pick up ideas, many of which are designed to brainwash children to believe cosmic system principles, like gender identity or critical race theory. The thoughts, the whims and peer pressures of others around them; and ridiculous ideas that only kids can come up with.

The parents teach the wrong paths in life, disadvantaging their children from the very beginning. And parents without Bible doctrine do no better.

Preview

1. Children are instructed to obey, they must be led in the right direction. Obedience to the wrong direction is a problem.
2. There must be a good example from parents of leadership with integrity with a virtuous character, with honesty and morality and most importantly, a spiritual life.
3. When this is the parental foundation for leadership, parents are the critical ingredient for spiritual maturation. Obedience is the critical ingredient for spiritual maturation.
4. Bad parenting this allows for children to grow up well-adjusted.
5. Raised without parental leadership, norms and standards, will struggle throughout life. The principle remains the same. Teach, teach, teach; and then let the chips fall where they may. Your responsibility is to continue to pour in the truth into their souls.
6. Without teaching are entitled, insecure, angry, hatred for the world and their parents, volatile, emotionally erratic. These are some problems when children have no foundation.
7. Even in this condition, and angry, emotionally erratic, if children find Christ at a later time, as adults or a teenager. Bob would never tell what his life was prior to believing in Jesus, which is at age 18. But it is never too late. There is no one who understood Scripture more than Bob did. You can overcome environment. That is what Bible doctrine does.
8. Then developing the advantages of doctrine, they will have peace, contentment, capacity for life, faith rest and all the other happinesses and problem solving devices, that go with the advance of the spiritual life.

Bobby heard about all kinds of aberrations in seminaries. What he learned at home was the solid foundation to distinguish truth from untruth. Parents who are steeped in evil and corruption, which so many parents now call good. The world calls many evil things good.

Some parents leave their children to their own pursuits or to raise themselves or leave them to the guidance of others. They have nothing when it comes to capacity for life. Nothing about love. Even relative happiness.

There are no real family values; and there are few nuclear families. Parents who are exposed to divine truth and they reject this later in life, then the children will be affected and follow the same road. Unless, of course, the guidance of Bible doctrine is followed.

The Degeneration of Parents and Children

1. Children who did not learn by teaching and obedience to their own parents, who rebelled, and who stayed in rebellion against their parents, who continue in disobedience and in recalcitrance, and who follow the paths of the wicked society around them.
2. As adults, they will disdain the authority of law; they will believe in some other thing; and they will reject all the normal things.
3. They pass on their evil characteristics to their own children.
4. This constitutes the demise of a nation. The mandate is to listen to your parents. This is why Satan opposes this. This includes believers who do not learn or they reject Bible doctrine completely. 2Timothy 4:1 they will listen to deceitful spirits and doctrines of demons.
5. The doctrine of demons is the road to all anti-freedom aberrations. Socialism, Marxism, general rejection of the rule of law.

Children are bombarded through evil media influence. They see nothing of a normal family. These children are adrift in a sea of humanism. We see faulty or no teaching; and terrible examples of parent. There is not honor in following dishonorable parents. But when the instruction is from wisdom and the child hears and obeys divine instruction, they will fulfill v. 21 and honor their father and mother.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6:21 Wisdom in the OT 10/30/2022 1Sunday

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

Bobby goes back and reviews some of the major traps which we face in this world. Solomon provides a solution to all of these problems, and he states it simply. The key is instruction in wisdom; and the retaining of this wisdom in the soul. These things must be firmly placed into the soul and not forgotten. We call this the metabolizing of the truth of Bible doctrine. Here it is called binding tight on the heart, so that the teaching cannot be lost. The teaching of the Word of God is what we are doing.

Binding Bible Doctrine to the Right Lobe of the Soul

1. This binding and tying is a representative analogy; and it is a very good one. It does not get any clearer than this. There is an absolute reality to this.

2. It represents inculcating doctrine into the soul. It is the left or the right lobe of the soul. This is the whole scope of the Christian life.
3. Doctrine must remain present in the thought processes. It must be kept there. However, you tie it in, tie it, bind it.
4. This doctrine becomes available, at any time, anywhere. It is the very essence of who we are and what we must do.
5. This is used, the doctrine and application for this to fall back on. Under pressure, under temptation; it is all taking place in the souls of children. This begins with teaching in the home. It can be done by listening to the teen series. Be wise about the teaching. There are times for strong teaching; and there are times to teach with authority and to teach in other ways. You have to demonstrate the

How can you give a doctrinal lesson based upon what is happening in this child's life right now? Situational teaching. Even a devotional type reading or prayer at bedtime. One good way to teach your children is the exercise of memorizing Bible verses.

Memory is strong in a children. It comes from a very young age and we develop these skills, problem solving devices, and principles early on. We would choose Scripture which is basic to the Christian life. You might even offer a reward for accomplishment. This will do you good as well. You will re-familiarize you with these promises. Reviewing promises bolsters your own faith rest. We run across verses like this just when we need them. Faith rest is critical in your life. Implanting this in children gives them such an advantage. Even if they are not children.

Bobby as a student in his 30's had to memorize key verses. It is harder to do as you get older; and it was a requirement for graduation. Bobby's mother also had him memorize verses and they did that together.

Early Teaching of Children

1. Memorizing promises puts Christian kids in the position to use the faith rest drill.
2. How can anyone claim a promise if it is not known to them; if they have no promises. Children remember. Bobby uses verses that he learned at age 6 and 7.
3. Claiming promises means bringing them to mind exactly when they are needed. Choose promises that are easy to apply. They might be one line or two lines.
4. Memorizing is one way of inculcating doctrine. We don't do this, but children do. This is essential.
5. You must also explain what these verses mean. This is a way for you to teach at the same time. What does this tell you about God, salvation? However it is done, Bible doctrine must become a permanent part of the thinking of the child. There are other ways to learn Scripture in addition to memorization. We often shield our kids from the world; but we cannot do this forever.

When any believer at any age has sufficient wisdom, they can meet and defeat the attack of the cosmic system. For the children, it is much more clear.

Kids can learn to recognize truth, evil, Bible doctrine, etc. It must be found to their souls just as it is affixed to our souls.

This doctrine can become the identifying factor of a believer, like the soldier's dog tags, which identifies the soldier in life and in death. This doctrine returns quickly when you rebound and begin to move forward again. There is an interesting analogy in the time that this verse was written.

Tying around the neck at this time, and this was like an amulet being tied to the neck. It was an ancient way to ward off evil or evil spirits.

The Metaphor of Wearing Something

1. This metaphor of binding and tying is more likely to refer to the general wearing of some identifiable ornament. Today, this is done by those who are superstitious or those who are involved in witchcraft. We do not think of this so much for us.
2. The ornament becomes part of what a person wears like a certain style that identifies a person. Bob had a seminary professor who had one jacket and one tie.
3. These are ornaments which possess great value; value attached to that person. Such value that, if you took it to a pawn shop, you might get some money for it. It is like truth attached to a believer's soul. Whenever you see your favorite necklace, your favorite ring, something that is always with you.
4. This verse means to bind doctrinal truth around the neck.
5. That is what doctrine in the soul does for you. It becomes readily identifiable. You think differently from others. When you apply it to life, it is unmistakable. How you live and how you apply it.
6. It stands out from the thinking of others. You have a beautiful expensive necklace on; and someone else has paste jewelry. It stands out to someone who can tell. What you live and what you show to this world is identifiable. This is what believers are sadly lacking today. This is what children need so early in life. They face so much evil deceit from so many directions. From every possible direction; even derelict parents. We see so much degeneracy coming upon this nation.
7. There is no substitute for teaching at home. Good doctrine; preparation. Prep school prepares the kids for coming into the auditorium.

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

10/31/2022 2Sunday

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

The jewelry worn is seen to be permanent. It is the responsibility of every believer at the moment of salvation, every believer is ignorant. "I am now saved; I have eternal life; now what?" Tons of people would like to get you started out. We are all ignorant children in the spiritual life; and we need the correct teaching. So much of R. B. Thieme, Jr. ministries handles the question, after salvation, what? We need that instruction and we need to bind it into our souls. And we let it flow as we continue to learn. We need the instruction which binds Bible doctrine in our souls. It is not what are we doing now for the Lord; what am I doing to please God. What you learn is the foundation for what you do. Once your learn grace orientation and doctrinal orientation, then what you do is service to the Lord.

Wisdom for discernment must be indelibly etched in the soul. Too often, without the proper teaching, there is an acceptance of human viewpoint; and the thinking of the cosmic system thinking. Science brings us many things which are true, which tell us something about the world around us; and brings to us medical solutions. Science did not invent any of these things. Science studies what God already put into motion. There are many falsehoods which come out of science. How do we know the difference? We may have a rudimentary knowledge from school. How do we know what is true or not. Many different opinions about what is true or not? We must bounce this information if it is tied to our soul. The Word of God is absolute truth; and what science presents is true if it agrees with Bible doctrine.

Many believers are synchrenistic. How are Christians so involved in Christian activism. We know what the Christian life is and we have discernment. For most of the world, life is very confusing. We don't know what to think or what to accept or what the future holds. We may be worried about a nuclear war right now. The only certainty that we have in this life is to have truth and to discern it.

Our Certainty and Guidance

1. The teaching of wisdom to or for the believer is a command. It is a divine law. It is our Constitution. To violate it is to violate the Christian life. Social justice in the Christian life is human viewpoint mixed with divine viewpoint. But the law of God is the spiritual life.
2. It is the necessity, binding this doctrine in our soul, in order to survive in the devil's world. That is, to live the spiritual life. It is impossible to do this in the devil's world without Bible doctrine.
3. There are too many pitfalls to negotiate without the direction and stability gained by truth and wisdom. Watch the political situation today and discern truth from lies. An interesting exercise.
4. Doctrine is the bedrock of discernment of good and evil. Without it, you cannot discern the difference today, because good has become evil and evil good. Today, people cannot even recognize evil.
5. The bottom line is, doctrine must be bound into the soul. Now we understand the importance of it. This is a metaphor for nurturing the child in the way that the child should go. That is all that we can do. Prepare them for life by facilitating their spiritual growth. They have a life after salvation, and we have a tremendous input after that. That is a successful childhood which leads to a successful life.
6. Divine establishment principles; rule of law principles. They were not being suppressed. A responsible life in the nation and in the world. What happened? Where are we?

Back when the education system was complemented by the teaching at home. Now, parents are being excluded from the education system. That is Marxism. Public education is a good that is now being used for evil. Children are not learning academic subjects in school. They are learning how to distinguish their true gender, how to hate the police, and critical race theory. And parents are discouraged and excluded from having input into the child's teaching. Parents should back off, according to some school boards. Don't interfere and do not contradict. This is what happens in Marxist and socialist nations. Indoctrinated children into the state system. That is education from the cosmic system. We used to teach kids how to think; not to indoctrinate them.

The Justice of God and the Client Nation

1. Look out for the justice of God. You can look for it or look out for it. God's justice never ceases; it never stops.
2. God will not let perversion rule the client nation without discipline for correction. That is always the reason for punishment from the Lord.
3. When there is no correction, God can and will bring destruction of a client nation for their degeneracy. God did this both to the northern and southern kingdoms. The church today are God's people. We are a client nation representing God on this earth. God preserves us. We are His people. We of the church are God's representatives on earth. If the nation no longer functions that way, we do.
4. God disciplines to rid a nation of overwhelming perversion. The history of Sodom and Gomorrah and the reason for it. God will not let perversion rule.
5. There must be a return to following His Word and His mandates and depending upon Him. This is for believers. Unbelievers cannot depend upon this. We must fulfill the work of a client nation.
  - a. This is a nation which is a repository for divine truth. That is what Israel was. They were a repository for the Moses and the prophets taught. Today, client nations to that for divine truth.
  - b. The gospel is freely communicated within the client nation. That is also under attack. It cannot be communicated now in the schools, in the military or in any organization of the government.
  - c. Our charge is to take the gospel and take it to the ends of the earth. Widely taught with a positive response. That is also under attack. Doctrine is taught in this auditorium where pastors are teaching it around the country. These are often small churches. Jim Meyer says there are doctrinal churches, but they are small churches; and they are older. There are plenty of churches with huge congregations where doctrine is not taught. No doctrine is being taught in depth. A client nation teaches Bible doctrine in depth.
  - d. Missionary activity extended to areas of positive volition throughout the world. We sent out missionaries. There are not as many as there used to be and it is harder to get into some particular nations. We as a client nation should never be deterred from this.

Are we still a client nation? Yes, but we are declining. It is up to the Lord to discipline, to punish and to determine what the future is for us. When the downward trend of evil gains strength, the client nation goes down. Satan's policies are destructive and very tempting, but they cannot win. We are on the winning side.

What was once good is now evil. Family, marriage, nationalism, Bible doctrine teaching, spiritual growth. So many think only in terms of humanistic thinking. There is a general rejection of Christianity. Divine discipline is upon us; a wake up call. Economy is retreating on all fronts. Interest rates for houses is as high it has ever been for decades.

Illegal drugs and alcoholism is on the rise. Diversity has become the humanistic savior of the nation. Get as many different races in the country as possible. People are afraid that this earth is being destroyed by man. The climate change warriors will save the planet. We are a nation of sluggards. The have-nots want what we have; so they embrace socialistic solutions. Yet people are so disappointed in life when they find their materialism unsatisfying. Their pursuits are not satisfying their wants.

The manifest destiny of the client nation is lost. All the more important for believers to bind doctrine around their necks and into their souls. Bobby does not bring up politics to tell you who to vote for. We hear these things so it will be incumbent upon us to recognize the solution and act on it.

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 11/2/2022 Wednesday

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

The pitfalls of evil are found in Proverbs 6. They are the destroyers of the spiritual life; and this is what Solomon is teaching his son. This is generally good wisdom throughout the book of Proverbs. If his son does indulge in some of these things, he can expect some serious problems. His calamity will come upon him and harm him suddenly. "You must listen to me, or what comes out the other end will not be pretty."

The question is How? Solomon leaves more for his son behind than simply divine establishment. The Jew at that time did not know the name of Jesus Christ, but they knew who Y<sup>e</sup>howah was. He is manifested in the Old Testament in many ways. Bobby is speaking of every dispensation of believers. Solomon does leave his son with human resources and morality alone. He provides the spiritual solution and that is the only solution. The two verses that we are studying is central to Proverbs.

Do not forsake the teaching of your mother. His mother has obviously already done some teaching in this regard.

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

The commandments of divine establishment, the doctrinal precepts and whatever else is commanded by God to learn, that information must be a part of your thinking. These are your true resources. So many other things are said to be helpful but they are not.

Principles for Vv. 20–21

1. There is some doctrinal teaching with the rule of law and divine establishment. These things are Law and they are also wisdom. These things are indelibly connected.
2. These verse indicate that obedience to the Law is not a matter of option or a personal choice. There are many today are simply let out of jail after disobeying the law. When the population does not buy into the rule of law, freedom is lost.
3. The mention of both parents as authoritative sources emphasizes the importance of home life and nurturing. Divine establishment and doctrinal truth in a relative world. The only absolutes that you can teach your children come from the pages of the Word of God. These other things change constantly. There are precepts which are facts. Often they diverge in many directions. In Bible doctrine, this is not the case. Bible doctrine is the absolute. Everything else that you hear in this life is relative. Maybe it is truth, maybe it is not. Who knows? But God's Word doesn't lie; God does not lie; He does not fool us. He tells us exactly who we are. Solomon mirror this, "This is absolute truth; you need to do this; you should not do that."
4. There is also a reminder that school today, as important as it is, for education, reading, writing, math, science is not substitute for instruction in Bible doctrine at home.
5. Children need the spiritual life; they need to know what the spiritual life is. They need to develop virtue, integrity, divine establishment. The do not hear anything more apart from human viewpoint. In school, they are just getting propaganda. Even if your children are rebellious and recalcitrant, our response is to continue to provide for them doctrinal information. This kind of information that Solomon gives them in Proverbs 6. If you tell your son or daughter of these things today, it is in direct contradiction to the relative wisdom taught today. We must fulfill this responsibility.
6. We must have personal time with our children and there are mountains of anti-authority material and falsehoods. This is driven into their souls.
7. Parental instruction cannot be surrendered to a few classes in church.
8. Do not forget your obligation to teach and to present a different pathway for the cosmic system which is all around. By and large, most of America goes to public school and most of the things being taught there are against truth.
9. The metaphors of tying and binding are great metaphors. These depict the tenacity with which wisdom must be taught and obeyed and become the central part of the thought process. Daily intake of Bible doctrine. Right now, everyone has their eyes on the election. If you keep your eyes on that, and that is the focus of your life, then realize that your priorities are wrong. You have to offset all of this stuff in the world today.

10. These binding and tying metaphors are the constant role of wisdom; all of it. This is what v. 22 emphasizes. It strengthens the teaching of mothers.

In the Mosaic Law, there is a command. It was God's law dictated to Moses. The greatest codification of Law ever given. The principles of this law is still applicable today.

Deuteronomy 6:7 you will teach these laws diligently to your sons and you will talk to them when you sit in the house or when you walk around with them.

Teaching Children

1. This emphasizes the meaning and teaching of the Mosaic Law. Even unbelievers in Israel were under the Mosaic Law. We teach the children to hold to the rule of this law. Israel was the union of church and state. God did rule Israel.
2. They needed to inculcate the legal, moral and spiritual codes of the law. This would be like teaching the Constitution in our high schools and the declaration of independence. It was called civics when Bobby was in school.
3. The same is true of teaching Bible doctrine to young people today. How are
4. It seems clear that this teaching of the Law is accomplished best in a formal training session at certain times and places (like a Bible class). This must take place in your home. However you do it, do it. The spiritual education of Israelite children was paramount as a mandate of the Law. Solomon stated the Law in a bit different way. Moral legal and spiritual education; especially for his own son.
5. Also, out of concern for the well-being of children and their future, the all-important subject of wisdom made God and His Word a natural topic of conversation between believing parents and children. This is a natural topic for us to discuss with our own children.
6. Teaching might occur at any time in any place when circumstances require training in wisdom. Wise advice and counsel for children. Bob could see when Bobby was going off, and he listened to him because he respected him. Some children were very rebellious; Bobby was not. Even if he did not want to hear it and he did not do it. Bobby listen to both of them, even if he violated the things mandated for him to do.

Hearing from the mother and the reinforcement of the father. The father has a teaching role in the child's life as well. Fathers have a great input in the raising of children.

Many times this stuff goes out the window because families are so broken.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

There are three metaphors here. Here is what the payoff is. This is for a child and a young adult. They guide, they watch over and they talk to a child (or a young adult). This will be interesting to take each one apart. These are specific benefits of the teaching and the binding of wisdom. Thus these benefits are close companions all the days of the life of the hearer and the adult applier of wisdom.

Also the verse metaphorically describes when these things are to take place. Only three conditions are specified, but these apply to the whole conduct of life. The teaching will be during the day, when a person is awake; or when they lie down to rest. That is the extent. It is pretty broad.

Children Holding to These Teachings.

1. These are important verses. this verse promises direction, guardianship, and words of wisdom in time of need.
2. They become part of the soul and the life. When the precepts and doctrines of the parents are heard, inculcated and obediently observed. There is some choice involve. When inculcated and obediently observed. What a great result. That is teaching the children to live.
3. It is this obedience to wisdom taught by parents that bears the beneficial result. This is what the father does, for son and daughter. It would be harder for Bob to discipline a daughter than a son.
4. These times represent wisdom application during the course of a full day. Wisdom application over a full day or a lifetime. Here is the motivation to keep the commandments. Binding the teachings around the neck so they cannot be lost. If they are tied around the neck.

That is a whole life insurance policy. This is beyond valuable; which needs to be taught early and often. All this teaching when it is learned sticks to the memory of a child through all the changes of life. Children go through incredible changes. What remains? The changes themselves change their thinking and changes their lives. But it does not change their souls or their thinking. They have a grounded viewpoint which is... We get to see how well these things are applied in all circumstances. All of this teaching sticks to the memory.

It is imperative that this young man listen to his mother's teaching. Fathers know what predatory males look like because they may have been one. The man's perspective is so important. That is particularly important teachings by the father.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

11/3/2022 Thursday

vv. 20–21 tell us exactly what the solution to these problems is all about. We have spent a lot of time on these topics.

Proverbs 6:20 My son, keep your father's commandment, and forsake not your mother's teaching.

Proverbs 6:21 Bind them on your heart always; tie them around your neck.

Obedience to parents in authority-orientation and doctrinal implantation in the soul are what is involved in this tying a note around your neck. That is exactly what Solomon says to do, but here, the neck is the soul, the heart. The result of the doctrinal teaching, the commandment of the father, is found in v. 22.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

This is what happens when the parents teach and the children obey. All 3 of these things are good. The first result is the young person listening and metabolizing doctrine. What they have taught by way of doctrine includes the doctrine which has been taught. When you walk about, they will guide you.

Walking in the Spiritual Life

1. Walking often refers metaphorically to the overall course of one's conscious life.
2. It is a movement forward as a person moves through life. You walk forward, not backwards or sideways.
3. There is no progress in the spiritual life without this walk; without this forward movement; without spiritual growth. All of that is included in the concept of spiritual growth.
4. Walking is a continuous process throughout childhood and adulthood which produces the continuing elevation and application of wisdom, so that we can observe evil of the world around us. This guides us through the sins and temptations warned in Proverbs 6. A guide is needed to provide specific direction. Something to follow very closely; to depend upon; that never waivers. A compass which points out the exact path to take. When Bobby was in Ranger school, he functioned based upon the map and the compass. The leader would look at the map and there would be a compass man. Then they would move out in single file in the dark; and they did not want to break contact with the rest. You followed the compass and the guy in front of you. It was your guide. That is exactly what this is. When you bind this around your soul, you have a compass. These would be the wise parental precepts applicable to all circumstances in life. The worst thing for a Ranger would be to get lost. An immediate flunk. There would be no equivocation. Now navigation is much easier.

it is nostalgic to look back on what is taught to you as a child. The concepts for living the spiritual life and the regular life. The solutions were always there for all those problems and all those mistakes that you make.

Wisdom Walking and Honoring Parents

1. Wisdom walking through life is here personified and identified. That is especially by the early teachings of the mother. Not to exclude the teachings of the father.

2. Hence wisdom will so guide and control that the son or the daughter will act in a manner that honors the parents. This is a part of what we have been studying. Obeying your parents is honoring them.
3. Parental words of wisdom are the spiritual sight; it opens eyes that will preserve son or daughter from the darkness of evil around us. So we as a parent had better have some wisdom; we have better have something to teach. There is still someone younger in your life who needs teaching, who needs information,

One of the greatest things to happen to a parent is to see their child respond to Bible doctrine.

We may have heard a daily walk or walking with the Lord. There are Christian publications which have words like that in the title. There is nothing wrong with this term and it is used a lot. Used correctly, it talks about the believer's spiritual life. We walk in the plan of God for our lives. We do so by advancing in the spiritual life. One of the major uses is in Ephesians 2:10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them.

We have everything that He is; and we also have the ability to walk. We are His workmanship for good works. This is so that we would walk in them.

Walking

1. God saved us and He regenerated us; in fact, he gave us 39 irrevocable absolutes. Bobby decided to tell us that we can find these things. 40 things given to us at salvation; one of them is revokable. We have everything that we need to walk. We are standing there and the next thing that we need to do is to start walking.
2. In this way, we are His workmanship. God has formed us. God makes us what we are. We grow up. It is God's grace that we grow. We are God's workmanship. This is so that we can walk in this life.
3. So this is the plan of God for all believers and it was, according to Ephesians 2:10, ordained in eternity past. This is to walk in His plan. We do not walk in Jesus' footsteps, which is silly and often superficial. Correct walking is with Bible doctrine in our souls. We can emulate what Jesus thought. We can serve Him in the way that we should do.
4. Philippians 3:17 Brothers, join in imitating me, and keep your eyes on those who walk according to the example you have in us. This is a follow the leader type passage. Walking is doing what I do, but it is also thinking.

Understanding Philippians 3:17

1. Following Jesus.
2. He is a living example. You are going to get doctrine in this epistle and you are going to live as I have told you. Men like Timothy and Barnabas followed Paul. He was an example to them. Bobby sees this as a Ranger patrol, and Paul is the compass man.

3. Paul is commending to them the pattern of the spiritual life. Emulate the walk of our spiritual life so that it will be the walk of your spiritual life. We live by God's Word; we live by Bible doctrine. We see results as well.
4. It is forward movement that is the result of hearing and obeying the Word of God that Paul preached. That is exactly what parents do in a microcosm. Hearing and teaching the Word of God as Paul did.
5. Today, the spiritual life of mature believers are good examples of this walk. One can observe the gait of the spiritual walk in maturing believers. How he strives forward with positive volition.
6. It is encouraging and motivating to advance in the same way with the same results. Solomon has experienced the results that he has been teaching his son. And he has seen the other side as well. He knows the right and the wrong path and has been down both of them. There are many other passages in the New Testament which represent the walk in the spiritual life.

There is also a negative walk; a reverse gear. If the believer is negative to doctrine, we have Philippians 3:18–19 For many, of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, walk as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction, their god is their belly, and they glory in their shame, with minds set on earthly things.

Many dispute this conclusion that they somehow walked out of the salvation. That is wrong. That is an assumption which runs against the context of this verse. This is a warning to Christians. If you do not continue in it, you are walking backwards.

Paul and Negative Volition

1. Paul warning against walking backwards. Paul is describing reversionism.
2. So intense is Paul's concern that he was compelled to figuratively weeping over their condition. This got to Paul; this saddened him. Knowing what they had and how they walked the other way.
3. Believers rejected the means of spiritual advance. They rejected the Christian way of life. They did not walk out of being in union with Christ. We cannot lose salvation, but we can walk in the wrong direction.
4. These are believers but they did not walk in the spiritual life. What do you get out of rejecting the spiritual life. Maybe you attain some material things, but what do you have? You revert; you go backwards. You lose what Paul says that you can have. It is sad.
5. They have rejected the principle of grace. If you are not walking with the Lord, you are not grace oriented. You are humanistic. If you don't stand for the spiritual life, you will fall for anything that is secular and humanistic. The work of the Lord Jesus Christ on the cross epitomizes grace orientation. If you are not doctrinally oriented, you are an enemy of the cross.
6. So now what is left? They walk in legalism instead of the spiritual life; instead of rebound, what do they do? Human good works.
7. Therefore, in these cases, they became enemies of the cross.

God loves the grace oriented believer. That is the correct motivation. Others walk in antinomianism. This can be all sorts of things. They walked away from the spiritual life.

When Bobby began to teach in Berachah Church, there have people who left and rejected the teaching; or they have drifted in another direction. Going to another church for more and better doctrine. That is okay.

If you stay with doctrine, you will bind it around your neck and you will move in accordance with God's will. Walk in the instructions which you have received. To be guided by a father's command; and a mother's teaching is the initiation to living the spiritual life. And to be guided by it. That is the wonderful part of it.

The next phrase was baffling to Bobby. There is a command related to sleep.

What this Is Not

1. This does not refer to learning from dreams. Many people think they get things from dreams.
2. Dreams are entirely subjective, which divine wisdom is not. Divine wisdom is the opposite.
3. Divine wisdom is the epitome of objectivity. This is focused on the very mind of Christ.
4. Dreams are not moments of doctrinal education any more than they foretell the future. So many look to dreams to find answers. There is a whole psychological schools founded on dreams.
5. The truth is, conscious learning and thought processes determine the believers behavior. That is his walk.
6. One perceives doctrine and uses it with full awareness. Not from a dream.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

11/6/2022 1Sunday

Do we understand what Bible doctrine does for us on a day-to-day basis? We know that we have been mandated to grow spiritually. We also know that doctrine, divine revelation, is the only way for us to know our Lord. All that we know about God comes from Bible doctrine. There are many benefits for a mature believer or a maturing believer. Wisdom from the teaching of doctrine provides protection in life; protection from cosmic system attacks; from the attacks and disasters of human viewpoint and from the various temptations to sin...from time to time or for a prolonged basis. Bible doctrine also provides a new way of thinking; a change of attitude, which is different from the cosmic system and even from the religious world. The mind of Christ becomes our thought process.

A definitive statement in Proverbs:

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

In this context, they refers back to the teaching of doctrine from a mother to a child or to anyone. It also refers to the command, the leadership, the authority-orientation, which the father has as well. In the first phrase of v. 22. You will understand that walking about is a metaphor for the spiritual life. Step-by-step, moving forward in life. At any time in your walk in this life, you have guidance from Bible doctrine that is unerring that fulfills the plan of God for your life. We have an absolute, unerring GPS that never leaves us doubting our direction in life. Wise discernment is our daily guide. It is discernment for good decisions each and every day. It is also a recovery from bad decisions.

When you sleep, they will watch over you. Bobby asks, how can the words of wisdom watch over a sleeping person. How does this work? Most of what we learn is connected to conscious moments. Sleep is not a time for recalling such wisdom.

What Is the Connection?

1. The key here is shamar.
2. It means to keep, to guard, to watch, guard duty at night, to observe.
3. In this verse, it is translated to watch. Based on the context, it would seem to indicate a nightwatch while sleeping.
4. Guarding, watching, observing are all activities which require someone to be awake. It must mean someone to watch over me, as found in the song by George Gershwin.
5. It has been proposed that this is a guardian angel walking over you. But this does not really fit the context. Bobby's mother taught him that he had a guardian angel; and this is the reason, in many cases, why we are still alive today.

What Is the Actual Teaching

1. There must be a cognitive thinking for the one sleeping.
2. That cognition comes when one is about to sleep; or preparing to sleep after a day of walking with the Lord.
3. Sleep is the termination of walking; the end of the spiritual advance for the day. It is a conscious moment for awake and asleep.
4. So there is cognition before one falls to sleep; and that is the point here. So what does this doctrine protect us from?
5. Fears, concerns and terrors can keep us awake at night. Nightmares can wake us up; and we can wake up terrorized. Sometimes, you just cannot turn your mind off.

Principle

1. There comes a confidence, a relaxed state of mind that sends us into sleep.
2. It is this knowledge of care and protection of the Lord that produces the right attitude for a good night's sleep.
3. That peace exists at night, especially for a child. Especially from the mother and father who teach the child and they review this. Parents know about these fears and they must help to offset these fears. If you do have concerns and fears, what a better way than right before bedtime. A relaxed mental attitude is the result. We are reminded of the doctrine in the soul. We could look at the faith-rest book.

4. Then there is rest in sleep. Sleep is not always restful. The application of faith rest is that night watch, the assurance.
5. When a believer with such confidence in the Lord awakens in the morning, they can look forward to that day. They can get up in fear.
6. The doctrine that puts us to bed is the doctrine by which we walk during the day. Same results. Faith rest.

This promise is a perfect illustration of faith rest. This is what David, the great warrior; he still had great fear in his life. Psalm 27:1 Whom shall I fear?

God Watches over us

1. Certainty and confidence come with the knowledge that the Lord is watching over us, even as we sleep. God does not go on break.
2. God's protection is always over us. We may be confident in that and sleep in peace.
3. The understanding of a guardian angel, who works during our conscious hours and during our unconscious hours. They are always on guard. Psalm 121:4 Behold He Who watches over Israel will not slumber or sleep. No matter how good or how bad things are.

God watches over us for our benefit. And when we need correction, God is there for our benefit. He does this for the survival of the client nation and for the believers who are a part of that client nation. Shamar tells us what God does for us on a daily basis.

Illustrations

1. David made the first statement, confident in sleep. Psalm 4:8 In peace I will both lie down before sleep, for the Lord watch over me. David thinks this as he is about to sleep, David applies Bible doctrine. This is a promise that David can sleep on and did so many times. David ran in fear sometimes when he should not have; he also made some bad decisions. Yet he can lie down and fall asleep.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

11/6/2022 2Sunday

One of Francis Scott Key's second verse. That is what we sing in Berachah.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

We can have confidence when we go to sleep. We can depend upon the promises of the Word of God. We are looking at this moment. David says, "In peace, I will lie down." This is true most of the time for David. He quotes it and he applies it.

Solomon says essentially the same thing. This is the great tradition of Bible doctrine. Sleep guardianship. When you lie down, you will not be afraid; when you lie down, your sleep will be pleasant. We have a peaceful, refreshing sleep. So that sleep is uninterrupted by thoughts and anxieties, etc. Solomon is assured that the Lord will watch over him.

The third example, using our Lord as an illustration. Matthew 8:24 Jesus was asleep during this storm.

Matthew 8:24 And behold, there arose a great storm on the sea, so that the boat was being swamped by the waves; but he was asleep.

Matthew 8:25 And they went and woke him, saying, "Save us, Lord; we are perishing."

Matthew 8:26 And he said to them, "Why are you afraid, O you of little faith?" Then he rose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.

Matthew 8:27 And the men marveled, saying, "What sort of man is this, that even winds and sea obey him?"

Who can sleep when the waves are coming over the bow of the boat? Jesus Christ can. And we can do that same thing. Jesus Christ had the greatest faith rest of anyone Who ever lived. Jesus exemplified faith rest as a man. He challenges His disciples to join Him in this rest, in this attitude of faith rest. As David said, What do I have to fear? Can you imagine being in a boat with the Lord Jesus Christ and being upset? Storms can be very fearful things. If you have been in any ship in a storm at sea. The ocean is the greatest power on earth. This is raw power. We are just a minuscule tiny speck before the greatest power of the earth. Galilee was famous for great storms suddenly happening. The Lord's sleep became a metaphor for a relaxed mental attitude in adversity. Certainly He was asleep; that was real. His disciples were scared to death. His answer was, peaceful rest. The Lord reprimanded His disciples for their lack of faith rest. "What are you men afraid, you men of a little faith?" Christ understood the principle of being watched over while sleeping. He understood the means to do this. This is faith rest from doctrine in the soul.

The 4th illustration. Proverbs 19:23 The fear of the LORD leads to life, and whoever has it rests satisfied; he will not be visited by harm. We have that promise and we can relax and we can sleep satisfied.

Childhood Fears and Parents

1. Even childhood fears can be put to rest with the knowledge of divine protection. This is really rather easy for parents and children. The children can recognize our attitude. This is a teaching moment every night.
2. The secret is respect for and certainty in the Lord's promises. What a perfect opportunity when you are with your children at night, to review some of these promises or to review a story. And to explain it to them.
3. That brings confidence to them. Fears are unfounded and can be put to the side. This does not mean that fears can be put aside. These can be put aside because the fears are replaced by the promise of God.

4. The child will know that he or she is cared for by the reassurance of their parents and/or what the parents teach by way of doctrine and promises.
5. The parents affirmation is a relaxing moment for the child. It is reassuring that the parents are there. When parents are there, they are mediating the doctrines of God through the child. It is a relaxing factor for the children. The child accepts the spiritual knowledge, because it comes from those that the child trusts implicitly. This is the child's source of confidence by word and by example.

Teaching children something that the parents do not believe or do not practice, then it does the child no good. When the parent has doctrine and Bible doctrine in the soul, when the parents apply this in their life, that is a tremendous teaching tool for the parent.

Bobby has a great example of this; and he has great confidence in what he is teaching. What his mother read found the right material for his age level. Knowledge and training of going to sleep in, hearing his mother's voice as the last thing he heard. He can still remember what was read to him. She made sure that this was present in his soul.

Bobby was talking with Rick Hughes about Bible doctrine. Rick told him that he is doing a great job. Parents, even Christian parents, are not teaching Bible doctrine to their children. What we see is quite often appalling. The parents give them play stations and send them to their rooms. Rick spends time in Christian schools with Christian kids. They have nothing to hold onto. There are many problems that these kids face.

Something else can be said, "When you sleep, be assured that our divine protector watches over you." But what about when you wake up and go through the day? You can have the same assurance.

Some do claim that God speaks directly to them, special guidance etc., it is not true. God gives to each one of us knowledge equally. He speaks to us through His Word that guides us.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

John 1:2 He was in the beginning with God.

John 1:3 All things were made through him, and without him was not any thing made that was made.

John 1:14 And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

The Living Word leaves for us the written Word.

Hebrews 1:1 Long ago, at many times and in many ways, God spoke to our fathers by the prophets,

Hebrews 1:2 but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world.

God spoke to men in a variety of different ways, inspiring even the disciples to write the New Testament. In the last days, He has spoken to us through His Son.

The Word of God

1. Christ is the new source to all believers today. Those words of truth that we need were also recorded in the gospel. All of these were recorded for us.
2. So the Living Word, Who was Christ, was among us, presented the spoken word while He was on earth. He spoke the Word of God, He spoke doctrine.
3. Through the inspiration of God the Holy Spirit, which we now have, and so did the Apostles. The Apostles left the recorded inspired word behind. The Holy Spirit worked with the authors of the NT. The things which they wrote was indeed what we were to learn.
4. God communicated through these men whom He designated, who became the Apostles and they went from there. We have His Word. We walk with His Word. We have His Word when we sleep. We can sleep in peace, every day we have exactly what the Lord gave us.
5. All those direct communications of the past are replaced by God's Word, which is now in writing. There are contentions today from many who claim to receive direct revelation especially from God.

What about these people who claim to hear information directly from God? Every cult which has ever existed began with the idea that God speaks directly to one person.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT 11/9/2022 Wednesday

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

The elections were a test of a mental attitude. There is that time when we are sleeping; and doctrine will watch over us. How did you sleep last night? How do we apply doctrine when we are unconscious? We are watched over by Bible doctrine.

Walking about and being guided is the guidance of the spiritual life. As the believer advances to maturity; but that does not occur during our sleep.

David has lived through circumstances that we will not encounter in that volume. In peace, I will both lie down and sleep, for You alone make me to dwell in safety. (Psalm 4:8)

1. When David lies down and before he falls asleep, He trusts the Lord. This has everything to do with how we rest.
2. David is able to let go of all those problems and difficulties and fears; and he sleeps peacefully. He gets a good night's sleep. He is not fitful or restless. Doctrine is applied.
3. David is secure in the knowledge that he is in the Lord's hands during a very vulnerable time. David, in many circumstances, was in a combat situation. Many times in the military, one will sleep and one will remain awake. We can rest in peace with God. We are assured of safe and secure sleep by applying the things which we have been taught. What relaxes you? What technique brings the relaxed mental attitude? It is faith rest; and we apply the promises which God has given us.

Proverbs 19:23 The fear/respect of the Lord (and His Word, which is a protection for us) leads to [the spiritual] life, with the result that one may sleep satisfied, untouched by evil. The next day comes in v. 22. We have been walking in the spiritual life; we wake up, and they will talk to you. Our movement during the day is called walking. Then the description is talking. When we wake up and begin moving through the day, there will be talk; we will hear the voice which guides us. Some do claim that God speaks directly to them.

1. God gives to each of us knowledge equally.
2. He speaks to us through His Word, through Bible doctrine.
3. He speaks to us through the mind of Christ. It is equated with Bible doctrine implanted in the mentality of the soul.
4. Through what is implanted in our souls, we are guided in life.

Hebrews 1:1–2a God, after He spoke long ago to the fathers through the prophets. In these last days, He has spoken to us in His Son.

1. What does this mean? God spoke to many like Moses, Abraham, David. Writers of the Old Testament; the Old Testament prophets. But Jesus Himself is the new source of communication to all believers.
2. He spoke to His people during the incarnation. During the time that He is on earth, He communicated the truth to those who listened. This is recorded in the gospels.
3. We had them along with the writing of the divinely inspired writers of the New Testament (like Paul, John, Peter).
4. That is today what is retained in our souls and this is what speaks to us as we walk in the spiritual life. That is the talk that we hear when we wake up.

We hear the doctrine in our souls. Those who claim to receive direct revelation from God, it is entirely subjective and false. Acceptance on their claim is dependent upon that person's work and personal confirmation. There is no tangible objective proof that God is speaking. The voices in their head is not God's voice. If we accept this, then we must accept that as special revelation from God. They are charlatans. This is not doctrine; this is not spiritual information. This is the foundation of every cult that has ever existed. What the people have in mind is often what they want or desire. Any claim of divine revelation is wrong; it is a wrong, if it contradicts what is in the Scripture. Most of the time, they just want to get people to do what they want them to do. God does not speak to us today directly.

Paul had direct revelation; he had direct contact. We do not need anyone new talking to us giving us new revelation.

1. God speaks to us today. Previously, God has given direct revelation. He speaks to us through His written Word alone. This is the thinking of the Living Christ. This textbook comes from God. Religion is made up by whomever as they go along.
2. The canon of Scripture, all 66 books found in the Bible written by 40 different authors over a period of three millennia.
3. All the theological subjects that we need have those provided for us. There is only one way to know the essence of God; the only way to know His attributes. Anything else is of our own conjuring.
4. Divine words to individuals are no longer needed and they are not taking place.
5. Divine revelation is now closed to any further addition. Mohammed said he had new revelation from God that we did not have.
6. Divine revelation is no longer needed. God no longer guides us through the new revelation. We have all that we need.
7. Anything that contradicts the Scripture from those who claim direct contact with God is false.
8. Believers no longer need direct communication from God, as His Word speaks to us. Anyone else is a self-serving huckster.

This phrase is metaphorical. ...and when you awake, they will talk with you. This requires some dedication on our part. Self-discipline. We are being taught pneumatikos, and God the Holy Spirit teaches this information to us and transfers this to the left lobe of the soul, which is where we have academic knowledge. We contemplate it. Then we believe it, and it moves to the right lobe of the soul. The pastor and the Holy Spirit act in conjunction to teach divine revelation to us. There is the means of walking, which starts when we wake up. The Word speaks to us, guides us, by what is bound into our souls. That is the wisdom and discernment taught to us.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you.

This completes v. 22, portrayed by several metaphors.

The final verse that we will study from this chapter is...

Proverbs 6:23 For the commandment is a lamp and the teaching a light, and the reproofs of discipline are the way of life,

This chapter has been a litany of pitfalls that the young person should avoid. With v. 23, we go right back to the metaphor of the lamp.

PRACTICAL DIVINE WISDOM #476

November 10, 2022 (Thursday)

Pro 6:23 For the command [is] a lamp, || And the Law a light, || And a way of life [are] reproofs of instruction,... (LSV)

It doesn't matter one bit who won and who lost. We are ultimately governed by the Lord Jesus Christ and by His Word. There is nothing that can touch us that has not happened before. There is nothing new under the sun. You can enjoy, at this particular time, the things that are going on all around you.

The final verse in Proverbs 6

Believers need light. We all need light. Satan rules this world and the darkness that he brings to this world is only cut by the light that God's Word brings to this world.

Proverbs 6:23 For the commandment is a lamp and the teaching a light, and the reproofs of discipline are the way of life,... (ESV)

This chapter has been all about the pitfalls of life. If we listen as well, we will be enlightened and able to avoid the traps for believers who are tempted by the sin nature. The light referred to is the source of all light in this world. The doctrine of light in this chapter makes Solomon very aware. Doctrine illuminates our perception of life. How do we see this world? What is our worldview? The worldview of humanism is all around us. We as believers have an entirely different perception of this world. Bible doctrine is the exact opposite of humanism.

Solomon is teaching all of these things so that his son will be delivered from the smooth tongue of the adulteress. But this is also parallel to smooth seduction of the world. You will be hoodwinked by the woman just as the cosmic system will fool you as well.

A woman can ruin a man as fast as anything else in this world (and vice versa). Someone who is positive towards Bible doctrine. And she makes all of the right noises about doctrine and about loving to be here; and he thinks that it is a match made in heaven. When they marry, the true colors come out. She is not interested and she bends him in the same direction. The darkness always seems to pull the light out of the other person. Often this is a ruinous relationship.

Divine wisdom is a guard and a guide. A lamp and light.

The Metaphor of Light

1. The metaphor of light in Scripture almost universally speaks of guidance. If you are stumbling around in the dark, you do not have any way of seeing your way around. This reminds Bobby of Ranger school. He follows two small reflector strips on the guy in front of him.
2. We are to be illuminated especially away from the trip wires and the dark pathways. Wisdom is the flashlight that never turns off. This provides us with the path that we must take. This illumination illuminates your thinking. We have the mind of Christ. This must be implanted in our souls.

3. Light is the objective and the security. There is nothing darker than a cave with no light. When you think about getting out of there, you have no idea where the front door of the cave is. The believer without doctrine has no idea how to get around in this life.
4. Light directs the walk of the spiritual life, giving us purpose and motivation.
5. It exposes any dark threats, sins, or enemies to the spiritual life.
6. And light reveals the perils of the temptations of life.
7. These are the two favorite wisdom words: lamp and light, which set the spiritual life on its correct course. The commands illuminate the way in which we should go.

The Lamp Metaphor

1. The lamp provides just enough peripheral light. When you turn on a flashlight in the dark, you cannot see on either side of the light; or very far.
2. So the lamp is a very personal type of illumination and it is held up by the persons themselves. So they do not trip over obstacles in the way.
3. This is exactly what Solomon means; enough illumination to walk us down this
4. Following these commands of Solomon are the commands of discernment and wisdom. A lamp is used many times in Scripture. It avoids the traps of the cosmic system.
5. The lamp must shine in every singular situation. It is for the purpose of illuminating the wrong and right way to go.
6. When the lamp is followed, it guides. We make good decisions along the way. If you hung it in your house, it illuminated enough so you could move about. Commandments are your lamps. And all of these harmonize with God's will.

The Lamp of Enlightenment

1. The commandments are the lamp. They are the laws and precepts of God in their entirety. Whenever you think of doctrine, it is our light.
2. In this context, the lamp refers specifically to the Mosaic Law.
3. The Mosaic Law contains the spiritual code for Israel and the spiritual life for every individual Jew. They must be aware of those laws.
4. It enlightens to the hope 28:30 it enlightens the whole system of the spiritual life.
5. The lamp is our guide in the spiritual life. Shining within the confines of God's will and His mandates. When His will and mandates shine on the path, that is the right path.
6. This lamp is foundational to everything that we are and everything that we do in this life.
7. Lamp is the metaphorical illumination necessary for every individual believer to execute the plan of God. That is what the lamp does. This is foundational to everything that we do and all that we are in this life.

8. The lamp of the Word of God is the illumination of God to us and the way that we are guided in this life and our personal needs of guidance and faith in the spiritual life. It is all being illuminated. It illuminates everything that we have.
9. The light enlightens our conscience, our norms and our standards. The mentality of our soul; our volition.
10. The lamp of the word reveals the need for positive volition in our individual souls
11. This provides for the mentality of the soul, a clear thought process of doctrinal application into our individual lives. We apply the mind of Christ; we apply the light of the world. It is our thought process for the application of Bible doctrine.
12. It reminds us of the direction that we must take in our individual plan. This is what we follow in living the spiritual life.
13. The lamp enables believers to walk in the Christian way of life. Remember what the lamp stands for.

this is the metaphor for everything in guiding and executing the plan of God.

What about this metaphor of light? How is the light connected with the teaching?

Lamp Versus the Light

1. The light and the lamp are similar, but they are not the same metaphor.
2. Unlike the lamp to the individual believer, light is a general reference.
3. Light is used in a corporate way; it is for all of us.
4. It is like the sun; light and sun go together. The sun shines on us all equally.
5. The sun shines on everyone at the same time, equally. We all receive the same light of doctrine equally if we are positive to it.
6. What we do with that light is the individual variation of the lamp. This gives all of us the greater perspective of the spiritual life. That perspective is certainly for our individual lives; and God's individual plan for each of us.
7. The light relates the big picture of the plan of God for this world. This enlightens our worldview in this big world.
8. Such light dispels the overall darkness that we encounter in this world of humanism and the cosmic system. The Bible describes the cosmic system as darkness. The only reason that we can describe that darkness is because we are taught by the Word of God. Then we have a worldview of wisdom, which protects us and guides us through the darkness.
9. The light contrasts to the spiritual battle of the angelic conflict; and the ruler of this world, the prince of darkness. You don't know how dark he is unless we have the light. We don't know about the traps that he sets unless we have the lamp to illuminate it. This is the spiritual life in metaphor; the importance of it.
10. The light reveals the mission of believers in God's overall plan. What are we doing? What is our purpose? Somebody has got to know why we are here. The light of Bible doctrine defines that purpose.

11. There is something else that it reveals. It reveals the place of the client nation as God's representative on this earth. Who are we as a nation? What are we destined to do as a client nation?
12. The light reveals great theological concepts; church instructions of future things; the big picture.

The light shines on all and it comes in the form of Bible doctrine. It illuminates all of our souls equally. It can be applied consistently.

When WWI broke out, Lord Gray said, "The lamps are going out all over Europe." When the lamp is out in your soul, it is a dark period in your soul. When you are going, you do not know. You have to keep it lit. It is easy for the Christian to run off to some religion or cult. When the light falls on all of us equally. We have the same light in our souls. This light shines equally. Is there any question as to why doctrine must be taught and learned? It is the light of our lives. The precepts of our Lord; that is Bible doctrine. The precepts of our Lord are right and correct, making our heart glad that we have it. The commandments of the Lord are pure. The illumination by God is our spiritual sight.

Psalm 27 is a fantastic psalm. The Lord is my light and my deliverer.

With the Lord, this is no one to be afraid of.

Psalm 36:9 For with you is the fountain of life; in your light do we see light.

Psalm 119:105 Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.

There is also the light of correction. There is a light of correction that puts us back on the right path. This is for where we are in life and how we get there.

Lesson #03

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

11/13/2022 1Sunday

Communion Service

The Holy Spirit is our teacher and mentor

He Who establishes in Christ and has anointed us is God. This is reminiscent of kings or prophets being anointed. It was rare for any man to be to be anointed for more than one office.

The man Melchizedek was anointed a prophet, king and priest.

Luke Jesus being a prophet

Hebrew Jesus being a High Priest according to the order of Melchizedek.

Revelation 1:3 reference to Jesus as our king.

All believers share in all that Christ is and we have everything that He has. This anointing has provided us our exalted position and our relationship with God through Jesus Christ. It becomes easy to understand Because as He is, so also are we in this world. This defines us.

A prophet speaks for God to mankind. God would speak through Moses all the words that God commanded him. Acts 3:22 Moses speaking of raising up a man a prophet like Moses.

Jesus was like other prophets who revealed God's Word and His instructions. As God, Christ came from the very presence of God the Father. No one has seen God at any time. Jesus has explained God the Father. Jesus did not speak with originality.

As a predictor, Jesus said, "Take heed, behold, I have told you everything in advance." Jesus spoke of what was occurring and what was ahead.

The most revelatory words by Jesus will bless. Although we cannot predict the future, we must present His message.

We speak, not as pleasing men, but God. Spreading the gospel of the Person of Jesus Christ. We speak and we live the truth of Bible doctrine, reflecting that which was presented by Christ.

The Bible is not so much a story of mighty men, but of little men with a great message. We were commissioned to go forth with the Lord's saving gospel.

Second, Christ is a priest. He represents others before God. Hebrews 3:1 Therefore, holy brothers, you who share in a heavenly calling, consider Jesus, the apostle and high priest of our confession,...

Jesus intercedes and advocates for us. He does not enter into a Temple made with hands, but in the throne room of God. He functions as a priest on behalf of every one of us.

There is also the Lord's immutability. Some were sympathetic and faithful; others failed in their work. However, death claimed all of them.

Christ pleads our cause before the Father. We are justified, but we continue to sin. Christ took on humanity and He tasted humanity, human weakness. Christ beseeches the father that we might be protected from Satan and his minions.

We are a people of His own possession.

The Apostle Paul in 1 Timothy 1:2-3 (wrong passage)

We as royal priests have not been acting as intercessors. He bought and paid for us by His death on the cross. On a day yet to come, Jesus will return as King of Kings, Lord of Lords. God promised David that His throne would never lack a leader.

Luke 1:32–33 He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. And the Lord God will give to him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of his kingdom there will be no end."

Romans 8:17

When He appears, we will be like Him.

Lesson #0478

Proverbs 6 Wisdom in the OT

11/13/2022 2Sunday

Veteran's weekend. Bobby lived in Chicago for a year, PhD program in Trinity. Flew out of Chicago. O'Hair field connection with Veteran's Day. A description of what he did in WWII.

Divine discipline in Proverbs 6:23c ...and the reproofs of discipline are the way of life,

If Israel followed the same pattern, then a nation was in for serious discipline. The question arises, how does this discipline relate to our client nation today? What do our recent elections reveal about discipline.

George Lumare in the American Spectator. The American people are electing the politicians that they deserve. They are demagogues appropriate for a propagandized people. It is easier to get elected as a self-indulgent woke person than as a person with a serious sense of morality. It is nearly impossible to teach young people the dangers of liberalism. It does not matter if the politicians are qualified. One person was a stroke victim; and he fit their ideas. America has not suffered enough. We are headed for even greater problems. Can the USA be restored? Only by changing the culture, which requires a change of thinking.

If Christians are not restored to Bible doctrine, discipline will be increased. This election is a reflection of the Law of volitional responsibility. Confused believers are a large part of the problem today. Too many Christians are involved in activism. Do not blame the leaders who are elected but blame those who elected them. As the believer goes, so goes the nation. We are the culture that matters.

Divine discipline is initiated when individual believers remove themselves from the spiritual life through bad decisions. They are not utilizing the spiritual life.

Discipline from God

1. We get discipline personally, which we should be concerned about. We are also disciplined as a nation.
2. That is our way of life as the first phrase of the verse tells us. Discipline is our way of life.
3. There are times when we are out of fellowship, outside the plan of God, outside the life mandated for every believer; outside the way of our life as a believer. That is where discipline comes in. That is when we can expect and receive discipline.
- 4.
5. God obliges us with reproof for our benefit.
6. We must be redirected to that life through reproof.
7. Reproof is scolding for the wrong course that we have embraced; and it can become the school of hard knocks.
8. Discipline from the Lord is a teaching moment. We should be sitting in Bible class. This is our way of life. This is our way of life when we are outside that plan. It is all part of God's design for us.
9. Therefore, that reproof for discipline is always the divine direction for recovery of our way of life. Hebrews 12:6 is a NT view: For those whom the Lord loves, He disciplines; and He scourges every son He receives. How could reproof or discipline not be for our benefit? Hebrews 12:6 is a quote from Proverbs 3:12 For whom the Lord loves, He reproofs; even as the father reproofs the son whom he loves. David took his lumps. David tried to set Solomon straight.

God loves the son whom He corrects. The Lord treats us as children whom He disciplines. This is so that we can execute the spiritual life. Discipline is not a bad thing. It is certainly not a bad thing when the Lord disciplines us. God disciplines for our recovery. We are in the right place to see what discipline really means and how it works out.

This information applies to both dispensations.

Divine Discipline

1. Discipline facilitates enlightenment; the living of the spiritual life. Bob thinks of discipline as something that we are aware of so that it does not hurt any more. Those who are stubborn seem to like the pain. Still directed toward recovery; some of us, it just takes longer for us to get there.
2. Reproof for discipline is instruction for spiritual life recovery and advance.
3. The light of instruction shines on those who are reproofed.
4. The light also reveals the love from God to His wayward children. 2Timothy All Scripture is inspired by God which is profitable for reproof, instruction in righteousness...

All the benefits of divine discipline are named in that verse. Instruction in righteousness is of great profit to us. This is the same good discipline that any good parent gives to his child. It is training for life, for all kinds of life. Never complain about the adverse circumstances of life. Evaluate them. Apply what you know and you will advance in the spiritual life. Never complain about it.

Benefits of Discipline

1. It is the disciplining of the Lord that shines a light in the darkness of sin and spiritual failure.
2. Reproof for discipline contains all the elements of light, of truth, of doctrine that will change the believer's direction.
3. The light of this doctrinal teaching reveals the wrong path that a believer walks. Discipline is the way to learn if you are not doing it the easy way.
4. The light provides a clear, irradiating sight. Direction.
5. It sets the believer who response to...
6. Light versus dark; discipline on a client nation.

The people want this bad leadership; this is where their thinking is. Do not mind divine discipline, as it can only be for good. It is to the benefit of the client nation. If the nation and the believer will heed and recover. That will change a culture.

We will never be a Christian nation; all people will not follow Bible doctrine or divine establishment; but enough will so that we will stop being propagandized.

We are being warned of the sins and failures which remove us from the plan of God. The worthless persons and the wicked man, and the sins that God despises. These are just some of the major dangers that we face as believers in this world..

We have the solution in Proverbs 6:22 When you walk, they will lead you; when you lie down, they will watch over you; and when you awake, they will talk with you. We need desperately to cut through the darkness which is destroying us. It is God Who disciplines us. We need confidence in God's plan. It is doctrine for spiritual advance or discipline for spiritual advance.
